'I Stand Here A Convicted Man'

So spoke Jimmy Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, referring to the Supreme Court decision upholding his 1964 conviction on charges of tampering with a Nashville, Tenn., jury. Hoffa addressed a rank-and-file gathering at midnight.

Teamsters Throttle Truck Transportation In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Rebellious rank-and-file Teamsters curtailed transport in this Midwest commerce hub today in a display of support for their leader, James R. Hoffa, and anger at the Supreme Court decision that may send him to jail.

But Hoffa hurriedly acted to cut short the 24-hour walkout of truck drivers, Teamsters officials said, by calling for a mass "back-to-work" rally at 10 a.m. EST in Detroit's Cobo Arena.

The Teamsters chief was scheduled to fly to Detroit from Chicago after Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh appealed by telephone and telegram for Hoffa to intercede.

HOFFA WARNED
Cavanagh had warned Hoffa, who was in Chicago on union business, that the proposed day-long refusal to work would cripple Detroit. Some 45,000 Teamsters work in and around the Motor City.

The walkout appeared limited to over-the-road, or long-distance, truck drivers. Through-out Detroit, short-trip drivers of bakery, laundry, food chain and other trucks reported for work as scheduled, without noticeable absenteeism.

CAMERA SMASHED
There were unconfirmed reports that other cities might be similarly struck, but truck traffic appeared normal today at major terminals in other states.

BRIEF KICKING
After a brief pummeling, in which Quinn was kicked several times, they let us go.

PRORATION HEARING
The allowable also exceeds every month since May 1959, when, under the now discarded daily shutdown procedure, a 12-day producing order—the equivalent of 38.7 per cent—permitted a maximum production of 3,499,999 barrels a day.

CONTINUES STRONG
Two major purchasers of Texas crude oil asked for a higher allowable than the current 36.5 per cent factor, but only Sinclair Refining Co.'s nomination exceeded the January allowable.

BARGAIN RATE!
The Herald's Holiday Discount Rate is now in effect—but for December only. You can order the paper for all next year, delivered to your home, for only $19.95

Tito Plans Visit To Canada In '67
MONTREAL (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito plans to visit Canada next year and to bring 1,000 of his people with him to see the 1967 Montreal World Fair, Yugoslavia's commissioner-general for the fair said Wednesday night.

CASUALTIES RISE
In other developments: — U.S. headquarters reported the strength of American forces in Vietnam rose to 368,000 men last week, an increase of 6,000 over the previous week. Most of the increase resulted from the arrival of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade.

Statewide Oil Allowable Hiked
AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission boosted the statewide oil allowable Thursday to a record 37.5 per cent of potential for January.

PILOT RESCUED
During the raids, more than a score of MIG21s and MIG17s were encountered and a MIG21, downed an Air Force F105 Thunderchief 50 miles southwest of Hanoi. The pilot was rescued.

Coppolino Life Asked As Case Goes To Jury

Hanoi Victim Of Communist Ground Fire?

SAIGON, South Vietnam — Hanoi may have become a victim of its own defenses against bombing raids, American military sources said tonight.

The Communists charge that American planes bombed the North Vietnamese capital Tuesday and Wednesday. Official U.S. spokesmen said the targets were rail and truck yards five and six miles from the city's center.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had no evidence to confirm Communist reports that the American planes bombed nonmilitary targets and inflicted civilian casualties in Hanoi itself.

EXHAUSTIVE TESTS
Doctors told today's conference that exhaustive tests lead them to believe the main tumor is either in the cell lining of the lung or the end of the ducts of the pancreas — "both difficult areas to identify."

MEMORIAL GIFT TO FUND
Regardless of how far they have been from Big Spring, each year for a number of years Col. and Mrs. Charles H. Pierce, formerly stationed at Webb AFB, have sent a gift to the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND, in memory of their late son, Bob. Bob Pierce was a student in Big Spring High School when the family lived here, later lost his life in an automobile accident.

Doctors Try To Boost Ruby's Sagging Morale

DALLAS (AP) — Doctors treating cancer-stricken Jack Ruby started injecting drugs today and trying to shore up his sagging morale.

NO IDEA
The cancer is thought to be centered in Ruby's lungs or gastro-intestinal tract, physicians indicated Wednesday.

MEAGER START
He is survived by his widow, Lillian, and two married daughters, Mrs. Ron Miller and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Defense Says Lady Scorned Dreamed Rap

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP)—Dr. Carl Coppolino's first-degree murder case went to the jury of 10 men and two women shortly before noon today, with the state again demanding the life of the defendant for the life of retired U.S. Army Col. William E. Farber.

LOVE AFFAIR
The reference was to Farber's widow, Marjorie, who was engaged in an illicit love affair with Coppolino at the time of her husband's death.

TURNED TO HATRED
"If I can't have him, nobody can," Bailey said in portraying what he felt was Mrs. Farber's attitude.

CHARGES DENIED
Keuper said he recognized that the jury might decide to give Coppolino a lighter sentence if they found him guilty.

Ector Oil Cut Asked
AUSTIN (AP)—A Cities Service Oil Co. representative asked the Railroad Commission today to curtail the allowable in Ector County's Harper - Devonian Field, dropping the production factor to 4 per cent Jan. 1.

Death Claims Walt Disney

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Walt Disney, who built an entertainment empire based on a mouse named Mickey and won a reputation as the movies' most versatile creator, died today. He was 65 ten days ago.

DREAMS TO REALITY
Disney was a stubborn conformist who brought his imaginative dreams to reality. In the 1965 annual report of Walt Disney Productions to shareholders and employees he wrote: "We're interested in doing things that are fun—in bringing pleasure and especially laughter to people."

Peking Power Struggle Delayed By 'Guards'

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Confusion generated by Red China's "proletarian cultural revolution" may be delaying a showdown in the Peking power struggle, but recent events point toward two strong factions bracing for a decisive test of strength.

Evidently there is discord among the supporters of the cultural revolution themselves and the young Red Guards who are their instruments for violence. They seem to have much difficulty sorting out their friend from enemy.

Speeches by Premier Chou En-lai hint at a test between "the people" — by which he means the ruling party group — and "enemies of the people," meaning those suspected of opposing Mao Tse-tung and Defense Minister Lin Biao.

Up to now these have been appearing on Red Guards posters and in Red Guards papers. The signal that a big clash is in the offing likely will come when the attacks are taken up by the powerful central organs of the Chinese Communist press.

WHO WILL WIN?

Accounts broadcast by Peking and those of foreign Communists in China disclose that there are still hundreds of thousands of Red Guards from the hinterland in Peking whose stay has been extended. They must be staying on for some specific purpose.

All this indicates the clash is getting closer. But who will win?

The Soviet Communist party press has been singling out Lin Biao, as well as Mao, for criticism. Evidently, the Russians figure that Lin Biao has the inside track and regard him as the heir upon whom Mao has decided to confer his power. But the Russians also appear to believe that the issue is yet to be decided.

Anderson Reports On School Plans

CREATES ANXIETY

But the question of just who are people and who are nonpeople or enemies of the people seems to be creating anxiety among party members and officials, as if they were having difficulty determining which leaders could speak with authority and which could not. This is also reflected lower down the ladder among the Red Guards. Some attack certain officials while others defend them.

However, assaults on high-up leaders have been intensified.

When the current construction program is complete, Big Spring will have a good, modern and functional education plant capable of serving 2,500 young people.

There won't be "gingerbread" on it, but it should be as functional and complete a plant as there is in the area.

On other fronts, the school construction program under the master plan is running into grave problems occasioned by rising costs and limited funds. Sam Anderson, superintendent, told the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting in the Settles. He was introduced by Larson Lloyd.

The school building will represent an investment of nearly four million dollars, including a vocational training center which was added to the plans.

Now under construction is the Moss Elementary School in the College Park area, and its 12 classrooms in reality can be converted into nearly 20 classrooms if necessary. Additions have been made to Kentwood and Marcy schools, and extensive improvements are slated for Runnels Junior High, Bauer, Boydston and Cedar Crest schools. There also remains the matter of altering the athletic plant and field setup on the high school campus, Anderson said.

He traced development of the Big Spring schools from status as an independent school district with a five square mile area in 1902, and with a principal and six teachers, to a system that today has millions of dollars invested in plant and employs well over 300 teachers.

The business of education no longer is elemental and strictly 3-Rs, but it is complex and costs run high for plant and personnel. Still, Anderson said he concurred with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce assessment that "education is an investment in the future." Anderson added that "good education is expensive, but poor education is much more expensive."

Fire Razes Reno Hotel

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A fire swept through a half-block-long building near Reno's gambling casinos Wednesday, destroying a hotel and five businesses.

Fire Chief Wagner Sorensen said there were no major injuries. Several firemen suffered cuts and bruises.

Two young Canadians and several firemen helped evacuate the hotel's elderly residents and guests.

Flames broke out at 4 p.m. Sorensen said his men had it under control shortly after 6 p.m.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately known. There was no estimate of damage.

Destroyed were the 40-year-old Wyn Hotel; the Nevada Novelty Co., which operates gambling and vending machine routes; a cocktail lounge; a pool hall and news stand; a tailor shop, and a printing company.

Catarina: Town Unique

Editor's Note: Catarina never had a chance to fulfill the vision of its founders as the meticulously planned town of West Texas. It stands dusty and largely neglected except by tourists stopping for coffee before hitting Mexico.

CATARINA, Tex. (AP)—Catarina is a town unique: It never got the chance to fulfill the fantastic visions of its millionaire founders.

The meticulously planned city was to be the dream city of West Texas and the arid desert typical of the border was to be green and prosperous with small irrigated farms.

Former President William Howard Taft and Missouri Pacific Railroad President L. W. Baldwin were two of the biggest supporters.

DEPRESSION HITS

Then came the depression. The country recovered but Catarina never had a chance.

Today its elaborate mansions are clogged with weeds and vines. Its original Model-T Ford fire truck stands with tires flat and water hoses rotting in the frame shack that once was the fire hall.

And the few people who hesitate in the ghost town are only grabbing a cup of coffee before traveling on to Mexico, a few miles away, or to Carrizo Springs 20 miles north.

The 160 residents are mostly involved in operating the service stations that line the main street or else labor on surrounding ranches in the still-arid mesquite brush country.

TAFT DREAM

Catarina's future was the dream of Charles P. Taft, brother of the ex-president who married Ann Sinton of Dimmitt County. Her father owned a huge ranch from which the Catarina project was carved.

Engineers laid out paved boulevards, put in a fire and water system and a school and designed brick buildings.

In the speculative excitement of the day, Baldwin chartered a special Missouri Pacific train for prospective customers and excursionists to ride to Catarina and invest in the future metropolis.

Charles Taft and his wife built a winter home there and frequently entertained the former president and the West Texas elite.

CLUB DESERTED

But the hopes of the developers were thwarted. Taft and the project developer, Charles F. C. Ladd, found water conditions prevented a natural extension of the lush Winter Garden growing area any further west.

That eliminated their dream of wealthy small irrigated farms on the fringes of Catarina.

Gradually the weeds crept closer, the small farms reverted to wild ranch land and the speculators gave up.

For awhile Taft's elaborate pillared mansion was the home base of a private hunting club. Now it is deserted, the paint peeling and brush encroaching on all sides.

Catarina's elementary school houses fewer than 100 pupils, most of them children of ranch workers.

The scorching West Texas sun slows all movement, and the dreams of the millionaire speculators appear unreal.

Tech Regents Boost Pearce

LUBBOCK (AP)—The Texas Tech Board of Regents Wednesday approved promotion of Dr. William M. Pearce to the newly-created post of executive vice president of the Lubbock school.

Pearce is currently Tech vice president for academic affairs. He will be succeeded by Dr. S. M. Kennedy, dean of the school of arts and sciences.

The directors also passed a resolution supporting the recommendations of the Texas College Coordinating Board, which has recommended tuition increases for state-supported colleges.

J. J. Fritch Construction Co. of Dallas was apparent low bidder on a contract as general contractor for Tech's proposed business administration building. The bid was $3,359,914.

Jury Resumes Deliberations

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A jury resumes deliberations today in the 13-year-old murder case of Ernest Rufus Fuller, on trial because a jury ruled him sane when he shot down his wife in 1954.

Fuller has been a resident of the Rusk State Hospital since his wife was killed in 1954.

The 10-man, two-woman deliberated for six hours yesterday, but failed to reach a decision. The jury resumes deliberations at 8:30 a.m. today.

Fuller, 41, spent nearly 13 years in a mental institution after a jury ruled him insane at the time of his first murder trial in 1954.

Doctors at Rusk ruled him sane last October, however, and returned him to custody of the court.

The state contended Fuller was sane when he shot his 25-year-old wife with a rifle during a family argument and asked a penalty of life imprisonment. Fuller's attorneys said the 12 years Fuller spent in the mental institution "would be the equivalent of a lifetime in the penitentiary."

Fuller pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the charge.

Texas Highway Bid Tabulated

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Highway Department tabulated a low bid of $213,734 Wednesday from Fred Hall and Sons of Valley Mills for a construction project in Limestone and Falls Counties.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sorry about this, Roy Rogers, but your son and namesake wants to pattern his acting career after John Wayne.

The lad is only beginning to act in films but he knows where he wants to go.

"I want to be like John Wayne," said Roy, gazing across the Paramount commissary at the veteran star, lanned from a movie location in Mexico.

'RATHER BE MYSELF'

"If I wanted to act like dad, I could. But that would just be an imitation, and I don't want to do that. I'd rather be myself, which is what John Wayne has always done. No matter what the role is, he's still playing John Wayne, and that isn't bad. People like what he is.

Roy admitted that day may be far off. He is now 20, a muscular 6-foot-3 at 200 pounds, and he's willing to learn. So far his only experience has been in plays at Chatsworth High School in the San Fernando Valley.

"That was enough to make me decide I want to try acting," he said. "But I'm not counting on it entirely. I've taken an examination at a tool and die plant, and I qualified for a job."

TRIGGER MOUNTED

If the acting doesn't pan out, I'll have something to fall back on."

As you might gather, Roy had a practical upbringing. He was the son of the cowboy star and his first wife, who died as the boy was born. After Rogers married his costar, Dale Evans, the family grew to nine children.

"But even though there were nine kids at home, none of us lost our individuality," said Roy Jr. "Dad always urged us to be ourselves and develop in our own ways."

Life among the Rogerses was spent mostly on the range — at the ranches in the San Fernando and Apple Valleys. All of the kids took turns at riding Trigger; in fact, the famed horse sometimes carried six at a time.

Whatever happened to Trigger? He died last year, and Roy Sr. had him mounted for display in a future Roy Rogers museum.

'Minimum Wage' Passage Seen

EL PASO, (AP)—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith predicted Wednesday the Texas Legislature will pass "some sort of minimum wage" in its next session but said the "federal government has taken care of that matter pretty well."

Smith told an appreciation dinner for state senator-elect Joe Christi that it helps to have friends in the legislature.

Smith told a news conference at El Paso that the most important issue facing the Legislature in the coming session will be the passage of a statewide water control plan. The most controversial item, he predicted, will be the overhaul of the much-amended State Constitution.

Cotton Growers Vote Funds To Battle Synthetic Fibers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton growers have joined those in the wool industry in assessing themselves for funds to battle synthetic fibers for markets at home and abroad.

Growers voted by a narrow margin in an Agriculture Department mail referendum last week to assess themselves $1 a bale, beginning with the 1967 crop, to finance a broad program of research and market promotion.

Notes tabulated Wednesday night showed the proposal was approved by 68.2 per cent of those voting, just slightly over the necessary 67.7 per cent.

The count, as reported by the department, was 181,204 for and 84,342 against. The last Congress authorized the referendum.

LOSING GROUND

For several years, wool growers have been making payments for a similar program under Agriculture Department guidance. Their contributions are taken from government incentive payments made to wool growers and sheepmen.

Both cotton and wool have been losing ground for many years to manmade fibers, such as rayon, nylon and the like. Often these products have undersold cotton and wool.

CHEAPER COTTON

The new program is designed to find ways to produce cotton cheaper to compete more effectively with the synthetics. It also will seek to develop new and better cotton products and promote their use in markets in this country and overseas.

The $1 a bale checkoff, which will be made by ginners, is expected to raise around $10 million next year. Wool checkoffs have been about $1 million a year.

The new program was hotly debated in cotton areas. The National Cotton Council, an industrywide trade organization, urged its approval. But some leaders of the Farm Bureau Federation fought it. They opposed government controls of the program as well as limiting of the financing to growers.

CHECKOFF

The program will permit any grower to request his checkoff back.

In other proposals submitted at the same referendum, growers approved the continuation next year of marketing quotas on both upland and extra long staple cottons. These quotas are designed to help prevent overproduction.

The vote on quotas for upland cotton was 272,831 for and 24,781 against for a favorable majority of 91.7 per cent. Quotas require the approval of two-thirds of those voting.

On the extra long staple cotton, a minor specialty type, the vote was 1,361 for and 295 against quotas, for a favorable majority of 82.2 per cent.

Spaniards Say 'Si' To Franco

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco emerged today from Spain's second national referendum in 30 years with smashing support for his government reorganization plans and new strength from which to negotiate Spain's future relations with the rest of Western Europe.

More than 17 million Spaniards—85 per cent of those eligible to vote — apparently said "si" in the nationwide vote Wednesday on Franco's program which may lead to a democratic monarchy for Spain.

BACKERS AMAZED

Even Franco's staunchest supporters were amazed at the result. Although the government utilized press and propaganda facilities to the fullest to muster support and relentlessly muzzled opposition forces calling for a voters' boycott, the most optimistic prevailing prediction was a favorable response from 80 per cent of those voting. Instead 96 per cent of those voting voted yes.

FOES UNHAPPY

The heavy pro-Franco vote was likely to dismay potential opposition groups seeking an early end to the 77-year-old dictatorship.

It was expected to have an equally strong effect abroad, where complaints that the Spaniards are denied liberty as it is known in some democratic countries has kept Spain from membership in the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

BARRIER REMOVED

The landslide government victory removed the last barrier to implementation of Franco's plans to amend Spain's organic laws as a guarantee of the future when he steps down.

Highlights of the program include separation of the heads of state and government, which Franco is expected to put into effect early in January; a detailed plan providing for his succession by a king or regent, which is not likely to become effective so long as Franco, 74, remains in good health, and provisions for broadening the elective membership of the Spanish Cortes (legislature) and Council of the Realm.

'Breakfast At Tiffany's' Flops

NEW YORK (AP) — "Breakfast at Tiffany's," the season's most awaited musical, has flopped before its $1 - million guaranteed opening on Broadway. Producer David Merrick called the sudden closing "my Bay of Pigs."

Over $1 million in tickets had been bought for the show, an adaptation of the Truman Capote story. The money, Merrick said, would be returned. Merrick said he expected to take a $400,000 loss.

BORING EVENING

"Rather than subject the drama critics and the theater-going public to an excruciatingly boring evening, I decided to close," Merrick said Wednesday.

The show, starring television performers Mary Tyler Moore and Richard Chamberlain, had four preview performances in New York after weeks of tryouts in Boston and Philadelphia. It was scheduled to open of the benefit audience walked out. Applause was thin and laughter scarce.

The only big guffaw came embarrassingly unwanted — when the script had a woman detective punch Miss Moore, playing Capote's hoyden Holly Golightly, in the stomach. Scenes, performers, dance sequences, and songs indicated in the program were not presented.

Capote, not involved in the production, disclosed reservations about it but said the show was "a really faithful adaptation."

Howard Cotton Growers Vote Against Assessment

Howard County cotton farmers have rejected a proposal they be assessed $1 per bale for their cotton—the money to be used to pay for an extensive and expanded program of research and publicity to broaden the uses and demand for cotton.

Early in a referendum conducted early this month and canvassed Tuesday, the vote was shown to be 186 for the cotton promotion and research plan and 216 against it.

In the same referendum, Howard County farmers approved a marketing quota for cotton by a vote of four to one. The vote was: for the quota 392; against the quota, 76.

Howard County farmers have regularly endorsed the quota plan each year for many years.

Gabe Hammack, with the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said that the vote here was a "relatively heavy vote." He estimated it at 55 per cent of the cotton growers and landowners who were eligible to vote.

The vote was canvassed by the County ASC Board. It will be rechecked by the ASC staff and the final report sent to the state.

Hammack said that if the promotion and research plan is approved nationally, the Howard County farmers would be bound by the final outcome.

Ordaz Submits Record Budget

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz has sent Congress a record balanced budget of $4.44 billion for 1967, more than 3 billion pesos ($240 million) than was budgeted this year.

The president said the budget emphasized rural needs, including increased agricultural production, better living conditions and more industries in underdeveloped areas.

Nearly 41 per cent of the budget is for economic development. More than 37 per cent is for social and welfare services, including 24 per cent for education. Defense expenses total less than 10 per cent.

On the extra long staple cotton, a minor specialty type, the vote was 1,361 for and 295 against quotas, for a favorable majority of 82.2 per cent.

BARRIER REMOVED

The landslide government victory removed the last barrier to implementation of Franco's plans to amend Spain's organic laws as a guarantee of the future when he steps down.

Texas Producers Give Plan Wide Approval Margin

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas cotton farmers voted with their fellows in other states Wednesday to approve a $1 per bale assessment on cotton for a research and promotion program.

The Texas vote was 54,239 to 25,637 in favor of the assessment, the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service reported.

The American Farm Bureau Federation had opposed the assessment.

Texans also went along with the rest of the nation in approving the 1967 cotton marketing quota referendum by a vote of 76,337 to 8,598. This will continue the cotton marketing program on cotton acreage planting allotments.

Nine West Texas counties voted 708 to 106 to retain federal quotas on long staple cotton production. The counties are Brewster, El Paso, Culberson, Hudspeth, Loving, Pecos, Presidio, Reeves and Ward.

Reds Up Defense Spending

MOSCOW (AP) — Accusing the United States of "criminal aggression in Vietnam," the Soviet government today announced an increase in its defense spending for 1967 of 1.1 billion rubles — $1.22 billion at the official exchange rate — or 8 per cent more than the 1966 figure.

Finance Minister Vasily F. Garbuzov announced a defense budget next year of 14.5 billion rubles. The announced figure for 1966 was 13.4 billion rubles.

Western experts believe the announced defense spending figure is only about half the total Soviet defense expenditure in any one year, and that the rest of the military funds are hidden in other parts of the budget.

WAR DANGER

Addressing the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's rubber-stamp Parliament, Garbuzov blamed what he called the aggressive actions of U.S. imperialist circles for the defense boost. He said that due to U.S. policy "the international situation is aggravated and the danger of a new war is increased."

"The Soviet Union, devoted to its international duty, rendered and will render all-around support to the heroic Vietnamese people fighting for their freedom and independence," he added.

FANNING FLAMES

He did not mention Red China. Informed sources here believe, however, that China has become a major concern of Soviet military men and one reason for greater defense spending.

The government also issued a statement denouncing the United States for "fanning up the flames of the aggressive war against the Vietnamese people."

Referring to Communist charges that U.S. planes bombed Hanoi, North Vietnam's capital, Tuesday and Wednesday, the government said "these new crimes cause further aggravation of the international situation."

COMMON SENSE

"If those who shape the U.S. policy," the statement continued, "they would realize that nothing will help the U.S. military break the will of the courageous Vietnamese people for freedom and independence."

In conclusion, the statement said: "The United States government, which aims at further expansion of the war in Vietnam, should not forget the warning served by the Socialist states at the Bucharest conference early in July."

At that conference, the Warsaw Pact powers agreed to send volunteers to Vietnam if Hanoi asked for them, and pledged "growing and many-sided moral and political support" for North Vietnam, including defensive weapons and economic aid.

The statement in general followed the form of similar ones issued in the past two years when there were new developments in the Vietnamese conflict.

Troops Find Arms Cache

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Troops occupied the campus of Venezuela's Central University Wednesday and, using mine detectors, found a large cache of arms.

Witnesses said snipers opened fire when the troops began moving among the buildings. The soldiers shot back. One soldier was killed.

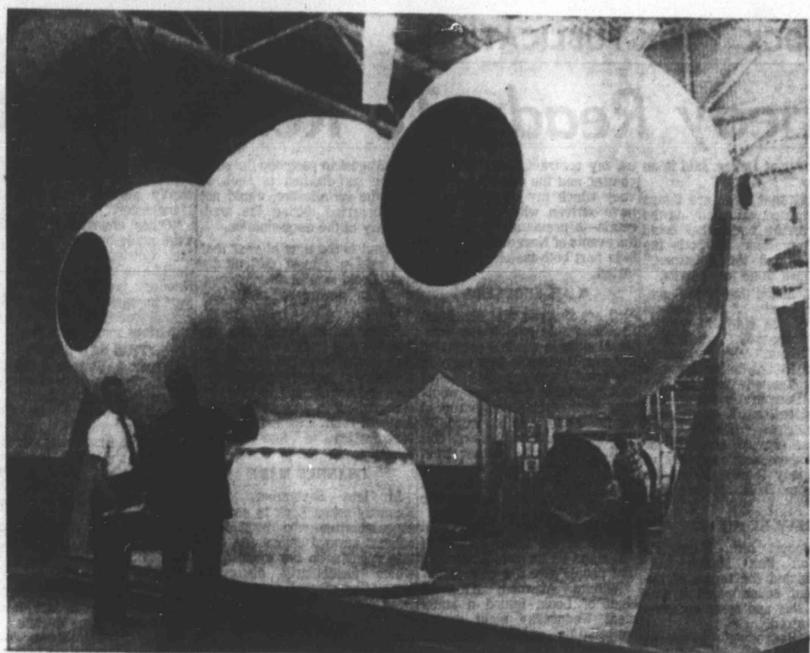

Informants said the troops discovered an arsenal. One witness said police confiscated a quantity of arms in an apartment near the midtown campus. Authorities barred newsmen from the area.

The seizure of the university followed a wave of terrorist attacks in past weeks against government officials, police and military officers, and American property. One army officer has been killed.

Under a suspension of constitutional guarantees announced Tuesday, the government has authorized arrests without warrants, curtailed political activity, partly censored the press, and assumed the right to rule by decree if it considers that necessary.

Although the government has long accused the university of harboring Cuban-aided terrorists, the campus had traditionally been immune from police and army invasion. An official statement said university authorities requested government intervention because the campus had become a base for a terrorist group.

George Kapo, 28, an American engineer teaching at the school, was arrested near the campus early Wednesday, apparently, his wife said, because his beard caused suspicion. Deputy Interior Minister Luis Vera Gomez said later Kapo of Mahanoy City, Pa., would be freed "immediately."

Fresh Norther Cools Panhandle-Plains Area

By The Associated Press

A fresh norther cooled the Panhandle-Plains sector slightly today while it was almost summery in extreme South Texas. By early morning the weak new Pacific front had pushed southward along a line from Lubbock to Roswell in southeastern New Mexico.

Temperatures dipped to 27 degrees at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle and then climbed a dozen degrees as the wind whistled at up to 40 miles per hour in gusts. It started stirring dust before daylight.

The mercury dipped to 30 at Amarillo and Lubbock. South winds warmed the lower Texas coast and Brownsville, with the help of cloud cover, recorded 64 degrees at the same hour.

It also was cloudy in parts of Southeast and North Texas. Skies were clear over the rest of the state.

A little cooler weather was forecast in most areas tonight and Friday along with a chance for light showers in the central and northeast sections. It was expected to stay windy through Friday over the north half of Texas.

'Stage 67' War Film Unusual

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's "Stage 67," which has had a zigzag course this season, moved in a new direction Wednesday night with an extraordinary documentary film. It told the story of the Battle of the Bulge, the German breakthrough through Allied lines in the winter of 1944-45 that ultimately turned into a German defeat.

This war documentary was unusual for two reasons. First, it told the story of "The Brave Rifles," in terms of the fighting men rather than by charts or by the recollections of generals. Secondly, it was produced, directed and written by Laurence E. Mascott, who fought and was wounded that winter and who felt deeply about American fighting men.

CLIMACTIC BATTLE

Mascott's film centered on what he called the climactic battle of World War II, the struggle that made famous place names like Bastogne, St. Vith and Malmedy. It was Hitler's desperate and almost successful gamble to reverse German fortunes by hurling 250,000 German troops against 100,000 Americans. That was merely the frame for the story of the exploits of some quiet heroes.

He illustrated the adventure of four men — "just a squad of guys" — who with a single gun held off a German tank column long enough for other soldiers to destroy a crucial bridge. They all died beside the gun.

DIES IN FOREST

He told of a young officer who got three guns into position at the head of an enemy column then organized troops into guerrilla bands to terrorize the rear. He died in a snowy forest.

He told of many others, naming names and home towns. "The GI fought magnificently because he had to, and he would die for his country if he had to," Mascott wrote. He also wrote about the luxury of dry socks and warm feet and even looked with sympathy upon the face of the enemy.

The film was nominated for a 1966 Oscar.

Bob Hope's comedy special on NBC Wednesday night demonstrated that while travel may be broadening, it takes more than a junket to a Mexican film festival to make an interesting TV program.

Withdraws

Pennsylvania Governor William W. Scranton tells newsmen at a news conference in Harrisburg that when Jan. 17 comes next year, the day he leaves office, he is going to withdraw from an active leadership role in politics on the national as well as state level. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Iraqi Plane Smacks Bus

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Iraqi air force training plane crashed into a bus near the Iraq-Syria frontier Wednesday, killing all 25 passengers on the bus and the pilot of the plane, Baghdad radio reported today.

The broadcast said the crash occurred inside Iraqi territory, 44 miles from an Iraq Petroleum Co. desert station.

A spokesman for the bus company reported the victims were all Arabs.

The spokesman said the bus driver and his assistant escaped with minor injuries.

He quoted the two survivors as saying the aircraft was the last in a four-plane formation which flew past the bus at a "very low altitude."

They were also quoted as saying they were knocked unconscious when the plane dived into the vehicle "with a deafening roar."

Mrs. Kennedy Ready To Relive Her Grief

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy says she is prepared to relive her grief and shock after the assassination of her husband in order to legally block publication of a book about the tragedy.

The outlook for her is horrible, she said.

The book, which the Kennedy family had authorized, is "Death of a President," by William Manchester. It describes the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963, and the events in the days immediately afterward.

Mrs. Kennedy calls it "tasteless and distorted."

"HORRIBLE" "As horrible as a trial will be," she says, "it now seems clear that my only redress is to ask the courts to enforce my rights."

Her attorneys said they are preparing papers seeking a temporary injunction to stop the book's publication and would file them in two or three days. Summonses already have been served on Harper & Row, book publisher, and Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look magazine.

The magazine, which reportedly paid Manchester $650,000 for the serial rights to his book, scheduled publication of the first article for Jan. 10. Harper & Row plans to bring out the book next April.

'UNFAIR' REFERENCES

The impending lawsuit, and a mention of "inaccurate and unfair references to other individuals" in a statement by Mrs. Kennedy about Manchester's book, may throw some light on long-standing reports of friction between the Kennedys and President Johnson. It assertedly began on the plane that brought Kennedy's body from Dallas to Washington after the assassination.

A friend of the Kennedy family said Manchester's book depicts Mrs. Kennedy as having been "upset because LBJ kept the plane on the ground too long in Dallas, waiting to be sworn in as president."

Another version of this incident is that Mrs. Kennedy and Kenneth O'Donnell, special assistant to the assassinated President, boarded the plane and ordered the pilot to take off at once. Johnson reportedly countermanded the order.

EMBARRASSING

Sources close to the Kennedy family said Manchester's book contains "other things that involve LBJ which are distorted and unfair."

Last Nov. 22 — the third anniversary of the assassination — Malcolm M. Kilduff, press aide in charge of the presidential changeover at Dallas, said in an interview: "I think that there are things that happened, especially on the plane coming back, that could be embarrassing to both the Kennedys and the Johnsons." He declined to go into details.

Kilduff added that in the emotional intensity of the moment "some of the old 1960 wounds were reopened, rehearsed, thought about." This apparently referred to the bitter struggle between Kennedy and Johnson for the Democratic nomination for president that Kennedy won. Nevertheless, Kilduff said, "Johnson showed concern for Mrs. Kennedy and members of the Kennedy family during the flight from Dallas to Washington."

MAY BE AIRED

To support Mrs. Kennedy's contention that Manchester's book violated the terms of the agreement under which it was written, this and other episodes may be aired.

Mrs. Kennedy's statement said in part:

"Look magazine, Harper & Row, and Mr. William Manchester have repeatedly made clear that only legal action can alter their insistence upon publishing at this time — without regard to accepted standards of propriety and good faith, and in specific violation of my wishes, my contract with Mr. Manchester and the dignity and privacy which my children and I have striven with difficulty to retain—a premature account of the events of November 1963 that is in part both tasteless and distorted.

'I AM SHOCKED'

"I am shocked that Mr. Manchester would exploit the emotional state in which I recounted my recollections to him early in 1964, and I am equally shocked that reputable publishers would take commercial advantage of his failure to keep his word. To the author and publishers, this book will be only another transient chapter in their work; but my children and I will have to live with it for the rest of our lives."

Manchester said, "I have confidence in the book. I think it will stand on its own. I ask only that people give it a chance."

William Attwood, editor-in-chief of Look, issued a statement Wednesday night saying cancellation of the scheduled publication now would amount to "censorship of history." He said Look intended to go ahead.

POSTPONEMENT OKAYED

Attwood's statement said: "To keep the record straight, the public should know that Mrs. Kennedy asked Gardner Cowles, editorial chairman of Cowles Communications, Inc., last August to postpone the start of the serialization in Look so that the serialization would not be occurring during the anniversary of the assassination.

"That is the time of year that she said was most difficult for her. Look agreed to postpone in accordance with her wishes."

"Two weeks later, she requested that Look's serialization be reduced from the seven installments originally contemplated. Look agreed to this second request in deference to her feelings and rescheduled the serialization to four installments."

CHANGES MADE

In late September, Mrs. Kennedy asked Look to see her representative who wanted to suggest several changes in certain episodes in the manuscript which particularly distressed her. After several conferences, Look sent an editor to England to discuss these changes with Mr. Manchester who agreed to a number of changes in the areas which were particularly troubling Mrs. Kennedy.

"Then Mrs. Kennedy asked Cass Canfield, chairman of the executive committee of Harper & Row, to meet with Gardner Cowles to consider some further changes. These were considered with great care at two editing sessions lasting over many hours. A majority of them were finally agreed upon with Mr. Manchester.

"Other changes or deletions were made by Mr. Canfield and Mr. Cowles which they felt would also avoid distress for the Kennedy family without in any way impairing the accuracy or completeness of the author's important manuscript."

'THIS SAD STORY'

Harper & Row said the firm had made four sets of substantial revisions to the book at the request of Mrs. Kennedy and other members of the family.

After the first series, the firm said in a statement, the Kennedy's officially notified them "members of the family will place no obstacle in the way of publication."

The statement said, "Harper & Row has done its utmost to comply with the wishes of the Kennedy family and deeply regrets their present attitude."

A source close to Mrs. Kennedy, who called the dispute "this sad story," gave this version of the events that led up to it:

"Early in 1964 it became apparent to Mrs. Kennedy and other members of the family there would be sensational versions of the assassination. They were getting many queries."

FELT OBLIGATION

"Mrs. Kennedy felt an obligation to speak to history. So, for the double reason of taste and history, it was determined to serve the national interest in one good accurate account."

The source said a "memorandum of understanding" spelled out the terms under which Manchester, selected by the family, would write the book. It was signed by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and William Manchester.

It is dated March 26, 1964, and contains 11 clauses. The Kennedys consider two of these have immediate bearing on the case.

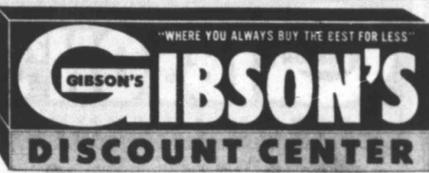

One reads, "The completed manuscript shall be reviewed by Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy and the text shall not be published unless and until approved by them."

The other reads, "The book may not be published before Nov. 22, 1968, unless Mrs. Kennedy designates a prior date and shall be published at a date thereafter as shall be mutually agreeable to the contracting parties."

Mrs. Kennedy, the source continued, then gave Manchester two long interviews in early 1964.

NOT SELF-CENSORING

"She was in a state of grief, of course," the informant said. "She was not self-censoring but relying on his agreement not to publish anything that would be offensive to her."

Alms Of Flour Hold Off Starvation

With the third crop failure in as many years threatening millions with starvation in India, the crippled and disabled are being supplied with free wheat flour while it lasts. This is the scene in a village in the Mirzapur district of eastern Uttar Pradesh as flour is measured out to the patient waiters. A crash government program to sink thousands of wells equipped with diesel pumps is one of the measures being tried to alleviate the situation always facing India. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Voiding Of Death Sentence Leaves Ruby Seemingly Doomed By Cancer

DALLAS (AP)— Jack Ruby, who stepped from the shadow of the electric chair only two months ago, faces a different kind of death now.

Ruby apparently is dying of cancer in Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

The sharp-dressing former strip joint operator, once described as a man on a lifelong search for class, seems doomed by a malady that respects no status.

Should Ruby die in Parkland, yet another thread of irony would be woven into the tangled story surrounding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

RIFLE FIRE
Kennedy was pronounced dead at Parkland after he was cut down by rifle fire in a motorcade through the city.

Two days later, Ruby fired a pistol bullet into Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as the assassin. Oswald was being transferred from the city to the county jail.

Oswald also died at Parkland. A Dallas jury returned a death sentence against Ruby on March 14, 1964, after a tempestuous month-long trial that culminated in a fiery denunciation of Dallas by defense lawyer

Melvin Belli of San Francisco. CELEBRATED CHAPTER
The Ruby trial and subsequent legal proceedings stand as one of the most celebrated chapters in Texas court history.

A jail break, not connected with the trial, developed one afternoon as the prosecution of Ruby went on down the hall in the courtroom.

One escapee had fashioned a bar of soap into the shape of a gun and painted it with black shoe-polish. He marched a woman hostage by the closed courtroom door and down a flight of stairs as scores of spectators, waiting to get in to the trial, looked on in terror.

STORY FLASHED
Several days later, newsmen flashed the story of Ruby's being sentenced to the electric chair.

Many observers predicted even then, though, that Ruby would never be executed. Some said "people in high places" would see to his circumvention of such a death. Others said it was simply not in the cards.

Ruby's lawyers set out on a long path of appeals, both in state and federal courts. They claimed that hundreds of errors had been made at the trial. The question of who was his lawyer following his conviction almost turned comic. A score or so of lawyers entered the case from time to time, but most of them either were fired or quit the case.

BELLI FIRED
Belli was discharged. Lawyer Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., remained on the fringes of the case, saying Ruby was insane and unable to discharge him, and filed several briefs.

Only Phil Burleson of the original defense staff remained with the case.

At the trial, the witnesses included learned psychiatrists, law enforcement officers, ex-boxer Barney Ross and a pregnant strip-tease performer known as Little Lynn who had hysterics when she got caught up in the jail break excitement.

On Oct. 5, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, the highest in the state for criminal justice, reversed the conviction. The court cited inadmissible testimony by a police officer, and also said the fact that the trial was not moved away from Dallas also constituted a reversible error.

BOND PLANNED?
It was then decided that Ruby's second trial would be held in Wichita Falls, a medium-sized city 140 miles northwest of Dallas. Judge Louis Holland spoke of February as a probable time for the retrial.

There was talk then that Ruby's lawyers might try to gain his freedom on bond but they apparently never filed such papers. He had been in jail since Nov. 24, 1963, the day he shot Oswald.

Then Ruby was taken from jail to Parkland Hospital on Dec. 10. The tentative diagnosis was pneumonia. Ruby had complained of chest pain and difficulty in breathing.

Extensive tests were made

Contract Ratified

WAXAHACHIE (AP)—A new three-year contract covering 170 employees of Owens-Corning Fiberglass, Inc., here was ratified Wednesday by Local 201 of the Glass Bottle Blowers Association. Details were not disclosed.

and doctors announced the next day that he had cancer.

'NOBODY FROM GHETTOS'
Parkland physicians would not say flatly at that time that Ruby was dying. But they did say the cancer was too far advanced for surgery to cure it. Only drugs could be used.

One doctor said Ruby might live "two weeks or five years."

Physicians disclosed that the cancer had spread into Ruby's lymph system, which meant it was widespread throughout his body.

They said Ruby took the grim news well and was "trying to maintain his composure."

Prospects for a second trial all but vanished with the news that the 55-year-old Ruby had cancer. One district attorney spokesman said, "We don't want to prosecute a sick man."

Tonahill said Ruby frequently told him:

"I'm just a nobody from the ghettos of Chicago."

IN WHITE HOUSE RANKINGS

Resignation Of Moyers Will Lead To Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The resignation of Bill D. Moyers as White House press secretary will lead to changes in the ranking of White House aides and mark the end of a gradual 100 per cent turnover in top White House staff jobs.

Moyers, leaving Feb. 1 to become publisher of the Long Island newspaper Newsday, was regarded at one time as the most powerful and influential of presidential aides. He some times was referred to as being "first among equals."

With his departure, three other special assistants — all getting salaries of $30,000 a year — seem almost certain to be ranked as the "big three" of the White House staff. They are W. Marvin Watson, Joseph A. Califano Jr. and Walt W. Rostow.

Another high-rated special assistant, and the most recent addition to that elite roster, is Robert E. Kintner, former president of the National Broadcasting Co.

In time, Watson, Califano or Kintner could emerge as a new "first among equals." Rostow hardly could be expected to figure in any such competition because he is a specialist in foreign affairs — too narrow a base on which to build a position of pre-eminence.

Watson is physically closest to the President. Occupying an adjoining office, he is appointments secretary and resident specialist in political matters.

Califano, a young man who once was troubleshooter for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, often plays the same role for Johnson. He also has a major hand in shaping new legislation.

Rostow, a State Department graduate, is Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs. He occupies the desk and does the work of McGeorge Bundy, who resigned last February to become president of the Ford Foundation. In announcing Rostow's appointment, Johnson insisted he was not a replacement for Bundy.

Dr. Williams To New Post

Dr. G. Edward Williams Jr., chief, radiology service at the VA Hospital, has accepted a similar position at the VA Hospital in Lake City, Fla.

In his new appointment, Dr. Williams will be actively associated with the University of Florida Medical School at Gainesville and plans to establish a radiology residency program at the Lake City VA Hospital.

Dr. Williams first joined the Big Spring VA Hospital as staff physician in March 1960. He transferred to the Dallas VA Hospital in January 1961 where he completed three years' residency in radiology, following which he returned to Big Spring.

He was recently certified by the American Speciality Board of Radiology. While at the hospital here, Dr. Williams established a radioisotope unit. A native of Clarksdale, Miss., he attended the University of Mississippi where his pre-med training was interrupted by five years of military service. After receiving his M.D. degree at the University of Tennessee at Memphis, he returned home to Clarksdale and was engaged in private practice for nine years before joining the VA.

He and his wife, Pat, a registered medical technician, daughter, Jane Ann, and son, G. Edward III, will be leaving Big Spring Dec. 22 in order to spend the Christmas holidays with her family in Memphis before embarking on his new assignment. Mrs. Williams has been active in the Heart Fund Drive and served as chairman in 1965.

'If' Sums Up Auto Mood

DETROIT (AP) — With reports on year-end prospects in from three of the nation's four major automakers, the mood in the industry appeared today best summed up in one word — if.

That was the theme of review-outlook statements Wednesday by Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., and Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors Corp.

They closely followed the tone of an earlier year-end statement by Frederick Donner, chairman of General Motors. The year-end statement by Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend was due late today and was expected to make the industry uncertainly unanimous.

Traditionally the most outspoken of the auto chiefs, Ford talked with newsmen at his annual review-outlook meeting of his hopes for labor peace in the upcoming contract year, resurgence from a current sales slump and renewal of consumer confidence.

He injected a new cause for uncertainty when he became the first top auto executive to predict that some safety standards that may be required by the federal government in 1968 models would make it impossible to build certain cars, forcing some plants to close down.

Ford added that no matter what the government finally requires when it publishes its list Jan. 31 of the safety features mandatory for 1968 models, the consumer will have to bear the cost.

The automakers have until Jan. 3 to reply to the 23 safety standards suggested last month by Dr. William Haddon, first highway safety chief, under the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

Chrysler and Abernethy — whose companies Wednesday joined GM and Chrysler in announcing holiday-season production cuts to balance lagging sales — also talked of consumer confidence as a major factor in their hope for another year when sales would approach the nine million of this year, the industry's second best.

The record sales year was 1965 when 9.3 million cars were sold.

"While some causes of uncertainty remain as we move into 1967, continued growth in population, incomes, gross national product and government spending at all levels is adding new weight on the demand side of the economic scale," said Abernethy.

Picked Up Here, Man Is Wanted

Albert Glenn Graham, arrested by police officers on a traffic violation last week, has been transferred to county jail to await extradition to Wichita, Kan., where he is wanted on a warrant charging forgery.

Assistant Police Chief Leon Hull said the man had agreed to be extradited.

Detective Sherill Farmer said authorities in Alliance, Neb., had placed a "hold" on the man on a similar charge. Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo., officers dropped their case against the man for jail break, Farmer said, however, Washington state may also ask for a hold on the man on a probation violation there for grand larceny.

Commission Continues Stacy Dam Application

AUSTIN (Spl) — The Texas Water Rights Commission today continued on a day-to-day basis the application of San Angelo to be a sponsor in negotiations with the U.S. Corps of Engineers for development of the Stacy project on the Colorado River.

The action came at noon after two hours of testimony before the commission. Fred Conn, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, testified for the applicant, and State Sen. Dorsey Hardeman served as attorney for the applicant.

Two other applicants, the Lower Colorado River Authority and the Colorado River Municipal Water District, also asked to be named a sponsor.

Jim Gleason, manager for LCRA, asked that his agency be designated as sponsor, contending that LCRA actually had title to the water rights on the river. State Sen. Charlie Hering represented LCRA and the City of Austin at the hearing.

The CRMWD has offered to make municipal water available to the City of San Angelo when a need is shown for it. O. H. Ivie, CRMWD general manager, testified in response to questions by William Wilson, attorney. He called attention to a statement that the district — which is building a dam at Robert Lee — had filed with the commission and interested parties, which concluded that present plans for development of the

A. D. Blount, owner-operator of the Big Spring Pet-A-Zoo, helped welcome the March of Dimes poster girl, Donna Hill, to Midland Wednesday afternoon.

Blount took several animals from his unique indoor zoo to the airport to greet the young lady, including his chimp, the baby tiger, and other animals. He also gave the little girl some baby rabbits.

Jerry, the chimp, and Donna got along handsomely, Blount said, and the animals and people gathered at the airport had a grand time. Donna promised to show the rabbits to President Johnson, whom she will meet later this month.

Fire Escape Visit Fatal

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A man who, police say, was in the habit of visiting his girl friend by way of the fire escape, fell three stories to his death when he lost his footing Wednesday night.

Police said Ervin Bacote, 23, apparently slipped on the ice-coated platform as he was about to open the window.

Detectives said Hazel Rosewell, 23, looked out the window at 3:30 a.m. today and saw the body on the concrete pavement below.

She told police that Bacote often would visit her by climbing to the roof of the building and entering her apartment from the fire escape.

'Blues In Night' Director Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor-director Richard Whorf, who distinguished himself on Broadway and lately directed such television favorites as "Gunsmoke" and "Beverly Hills Cop," died Wednesday in a hospital after a heart attack.

Whorf, 60, often associated with Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontanne on Broadway, appeared in productions of "Taming of the Shrew," "Idiot's Delight," and "Banshee."

His films included "Blues in the Night," "Keeper of the Flame" and "Assignment in Brittany."

Big Spring Man Sought

Shirley Lee Williams, about 32, of Big Spring, has been charged with the Monday robbery at gunpoint of an Abilene service station operator, according to Leo Hull, assistant police chief.

Hull said Abilene officers found a car there which had been stolen from the Hopper Auto Sales last Friday, and it had fictitious license plates. After talking with Hull, the officers took a picture of Williams to Beeler Joe Parsons, the robbery victim, who made an identification.

Charges were then filed in justice of the peace court in Abilene, but Williams has not been taken into custody. Hull said the service station lost between $80-90 in the robbery.

Test Shows Mail Jams Overcome

NEW YORK (AP) — A recent test of the U.S. postal service showed a generally efficient performance on first-class mail deliveries throughout the nation.

Letters airmailed between two points in different states, including coast to coast, stood better than a 99 per cent chance of reaching their destinations within two days.

Duplicate mailings — one Zip-coded and one to the same address without the Zip code — arrived simultaneously in every case.

POOREST PERFORMANCE
The bulk of the airmail between major east coast cities and major cities of the far west was delivered the day after posting. Airmail from the east coast made it to Juneau, Alaska, in two days.

In point of elapsed time between posting and delivery, the poorest performance was by two airmail letters from San Francisco to Miami and from Los Angeles to Bryn Mawr, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb. Each took four days. Los Angeles to Juneau, and Seattle, Wash., to Juneau, took three. All the other test airmail was delivered in two days.

WORKERS HIRED
The Associated Press began the test on Nov. 17. That morning, major bureaus posted more than 500 letters either to other AP bureaus or to suburban addresses of staff members in other cities.

Coincidentally the postal service, alerted by a massive mail jam in Chicago in October, had begun hiring the first of 150,000 temporary Christmas workers a month early, using $30 million of funds previously budgeted for expenditure later in the fiscal year.

As of Dec. 6, said a post office spokesman in Washington, all mail jams had been overcome.

The spokesman attributed the improvement mainly to a new system of daily reports to Washington from 74 major post offices, the points of origin of 48.9 per cent of the nation's mail. On the basis of these reports, the Postal Bureau of Operations is able to head off mail pileups.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Fred T. Holland retired last year as a teacher in an elementary school here, but he still loved to be with children.

Holland, 66, got a job this season playing the part of Santa Claus at a department store. Wednesday night Holland collapsed on the job and died before reaching a hospital.

Tough Task

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Verne Lindsay, a painter at the Utah State Capitol, was assigned recently to paint "no parking" on the wall of a tunnel through which vehicles are supposed to pass, but he found the task a little difficult.

He had to squeeze between the wall and a parked car.

New Mexico Town Reborn

TYRONE, N.M. (AP) — This sleeping giant of the century's early copper industry is stirring with the promise of a multimillion-dollar awakening.

Tyrone's orderly array of buildings and its white, moorish-style railroad station were set at the foot of Burro Mountain during a copper boom that started in 1915. It crashed six years later when the price of copper fell.

Phelps-Dodge Corp. abandoned its underground mining operation, but continued to maintain much of the town's buildings, with the help of a few residents who remained in Tyrone. The town has attracted tourists, artists and lens fans through the years.

Now Phelps-Dodge plans to spend more than $100 million to reactivate the town in preparation for an open-pit mining operation. Residents of Grant County are excited about the promise of a new major employer.

The company said that when the mine is in operation, there will be about 1,100 men on the payroll. The resulting demand for trades and services could create thousands of other jobs in the area.

Phelps-Dodge says it will take three to four years to construct facilities and get the mine into full production. There will be the task of bringing water from the nearby Gila River and building a railroad track, probably from Separ, near Lordsburg, on the Southern Pacific line. The ore will be shipped to a smelter at Douglas, Ariz.

Voice Of Baptist Standard Retires

DALLAS (AP)— Still holding that "anyone worth his salt will stand for what he believes," the Rev. E. S. James has retired from the editorship of the Baptist Standard.

The Rev. Dr. James, now 66, was the voice of the Standard, the newspaper for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, for 12 years.

The Standard's weekly circulation of 370,000 makes it the largest of the 25 state Baptist papers. James was succeeded Oct. 31 by John J. Hurt of Atlanta, editor for 19 years of the Christian Index, the paper of the Georgia Baptist Convention.

WRITING REWORKED
Writing 2,000 editorials and 6,000 answers to letters between 1954 and 1966, James gained wide recognition for his forthright stand on issues.

But words did not always roll easily from his battered typewriter, the keys of which he punched with one finger of each hand.

Many manuscripts were worked and reworked until the early hours of the morning as he strove for the better word, the more precise phrase, that distinguished his articles.

Not all Standard readers always agreed with what James wrote but most would say that he made them think more deeply about the central issues confronting organized religion today, especially race relations and the separation of church and state.

TELL THE TRUTH

"Mother and Daddy taught me to tell the truth, be honest and pay my debts," James says.

He applied this homely stricture to the editorial pages of the Standard, calling the shots as he saw them but always making it possible for readers to state their views in the paper too.

A native of Butler, Okla., James was born on March 1, 1900, one of six children. He was not converted to Christianity until he was 21, the age at which he was baptized.

'ALL I HAD'

Shortly thereafter, he says, he became aware that "God wanted all that I had." He began trying to preach.

After graduation from Southwestern Oklahoma State College at Weatherford, James taught school for six years and served as pastor of several small Baptist churches, including those at Leedey and Custer City in Oklahoma.

He left the school room in 1928 and took the full-time pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Liberal, Kan. Two years later he came to Texas and served seven years as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cisco.

EDITORSHIP

He was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Vernon from 1937 till 1954, when he moved to Dallas to assume the editorship of the Standard.

James was elected a vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1962, and helped preside at the 1963 convention in Kansas City.

He was invited to advise President John F. Kennedy on church-state matters, and attended the President's funeral on invitation of the family.

Howard Payne College and Hardin-Simmons University have honored James with doctor of divinity degrees.

CIRCULATION JUMPS

He says his greatest satisfaction over the years has been the opportunity to witness "the determined stand of grass-roots Baptists in defense of the wall separating church and state." The Standard's circulation grew by some 90,000 during his editorship.

Pupil Found Tied, Gagged

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Kenneth Wayne Glasgow, a North Carolina State University student, was found tied and gagged but alive early today in his dormitory room on the Raleigh campus.

Police said they did not know if the incident was connected with Tuesday's death of Raymond P. McCauley, another student. Authorities have speculated that McCauley's death was a suicide.

Glasgow, 18, was quoted by police as saying that he was grabbed from the rear by a person "of great strength" and tied up shortly before midnight. The youth said all he remembers is hitting the floor.

Another student found Glasgow tied and gagged with a plastic bag rolled and tied around his mouth. There was a note on the inside of his door. The note said: "You are next Glasgow."

McCauley, 19, a sophomore from Charlotte, was found in his locked dormitory room bound and gagged with an extension cord tied around his neck Tuesday. An autopsy said he died of strangulation.

Cuban Revolution Edges Into Yule

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban revolution is edging into the Christmas season. Havana radio, monitored here, is caroling the Castro revolution's birth instead of the birth of Christ.

Another radio carol proclaims: "Cubans, you are progressing with dignity. Glory to liberty's dawn."

Fidel Castro's takeover occurred about a week after Christmas 1959.

Dodged Sniper Fire Daily

By The Associated Press

You don't often think of a sailor as dodging sniper fire, but in the Vietnam War you expect the unusual. Ask Engineman J.C. Daniel Moravec, a Texan at war.

"We got shot at almost daily by snipers," says Moravec, a bachelor from Ross, near Waco. His job was to keep a utility harbor craft running up and down Vietnamese rivers supplying GI's in combat.

'PROTECTORS'

"The men and I couldn't see exactly who was firing at us," says Moravec. "No one on our boat was wounded or killed while I was there—probably because we had 'protectors.'"

Moravec said the "protectors" were American planes which continuously flew in areas near the rivers, keeping enemy war parties from launching any effective attacks against the supply boats.

CHIEF ENGINEER

Moravec was stationed with

Dodger

Naval Support Activity, a supply dump at Da Nang and was chief engineer on the boat which ranged deep inland with guns, ammunition, food and other equipment on daily runs.

"I wouldn't mind going back there and running supplies up and down the rivers," says Moravec. He hasn't decided whether he will make the Navy a career.

"Whether I stay in or not depends on what's going on by the time this tour is over, two years from now," says Moravec.

School Named HST

LACKAWANNA, N.Y. (AP) — The city's new $1.2-million elementary school will be named for former President Harry S. Truman, the board of education says.

Other schools in this city south of Buffalo bear the names of Washington, Lincoln, McKinley, Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt.

A LOVELIER YOU

Give Clothes Needle Before Last Minute

By MARY SUE MILLER

To look one's best during the holiday whirl takes more than a bit of forethought. Doubtless you have already planned what you will wear for festive events and have set aside time for beauty basics.

But what of the little details? That's where an oversight — a loose button or split seam — is most likely to occur. And when you fail to discover it until you dress for an occasion, it shakes you. Last-minute repairs lead to flurry, jitters and a botched job.

Sometimes the damage cannot be repaired, and you have to wear it. What a setback to a confident appearance! Why not check now, while there's time? Be sure to cover these checkpoints, for they are most often overlooked:

1. Along with the above-mentioned buttons and seams, check for broken stitching in hems, rips in linings, missing or wobbly snaps and hooks (particularly loops at tops of zippers). Incidentally, how's your supply of thread? Is it color-matched to your wardrobe?
2. Examine shoes for worn heels, scuff and spots. Put handbags to the spotless test, inside and out. (There are aerosol cleaners for every sort of lining.)
4. Have you enough stockings to get by until Santa arrives? 5. Are your kerchiefs pristine? White kid gloves cleaned? Costume jewels sparkled with dry suds? If not, you know what!

Death Claims Author Adair

TEMPLE (AP) — Garland Adair, who was curator of history at the Texas Memorial museum in Austin until he retired in 1959, died Wednesday. He was 77.

Also known as an author, Adair played a major role in raising funds to build the museum. One of his ideas brought in $151,000 for the project—the coinage of Texas Centennial silver half dollars which sold for $1 at the exposition.

In addition, Adair drafted legislation designating Austin an exposition city and thus qualified for $300,000 federal aid.

Published volumes by Adair included "Austin and Comodore Perry," "John Garner Cartoons" and "Under Texas Skies."

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Gladys Adair of Austin; two daughters, Mrs. Robert J. McLean of Austin and Mrs. Reese A. Mathieu Jr. of Houston; a son, J. Garland Adair of Waco, and six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The funeral service was set for 4 p.m. today in Austin. Burial was to be in the state cemetery.

Mental Health Of GIs 'Good'

DI AN, Vietnam (AP) — The mental health of American soldiers in Vietnam is better than civilians back home enjoy.

That's the opinion of Capt. Jimmie R. Clemens, psychiatrist of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division. The Dallas, Tex., doctor says he has found a much lower rate of seriously sick or psychotic people among the GIs—despite the threat of death or maiming, plus loneliness or boredom—than in the general population of the United States.

Clemens sees about 100 patients a month from among the division's 16,000 men. Most of them show up at his cubbyhole hospital office with minor emotional problems, some of them for follow-up interviews. That is less than one per cent.

GOOD MORALE

Among his monthly callers "only two or three are psychotic, a much lower proportion than you see in stateside practice."

The soldiers, of course, are not typical of the general U.S. population. Most are young. They are usually buoyed by good morale. And when they falter emotionally, they receive prompt attention, on the scene.

Both psychiatry and the U.S. Army's attitude toward emotional and psychiatric ailments have progressed far since World War I, when soldiers who broke up were called victims of shell shock.

In World War II another name was battle fatigue. Late in that war, psychiatrists began realizing and correcting a mistake.

'HEAD SHRINKER'

The mistake was to take men with psychiatric problems out of their units, at the front or elsewhere, and send them to rear area hospitals. That, Clemens said, broke a familiar tie and began a divorce.

World War II taught that farther the soldier was sent back for treatment, the less likely he was to return to duty.

By the time of Korea, psychiatrists were treating men as close as possible to the physical scene of their troubles.

That policy is being continued in Vietnam. Medical companies have enlisted men especially trained in social work who can spot emotional symptoms and begin early first aid.

Soldiers, like others, often find it embarrassing to be referred to a psychiatrist. The stigma that "having to see the head shrinker means you're nuts" is still strong, Clemens said.

"There's still resistance to admitting that one's emotions can become tied up just as can a stomach," he observed. "But if we handle a man's problems right here, he gets to feel that he's not so sick after all. And when we send him back to his unit, he feels that whatever was wrong with him mustn't have been too bad."

 West's opening bid of one spade was passed around to South, who properly doubled to announce strength and elicit some information from his partner. North responded with two diamonds and South made a try for game by bidding two no trump—observe that he has 18 well distributed high card points and a fitting value in partner's suit. North accepted the invitation and proceeded to three no trump.

West opened the five of spades and South won the trick with the jack. The king of diamonds was cashed; however, when West showed out, discarding a spade, a complication arose for the declarer.

East was revealed to have a diamond stopper and although nine tricks were still in reach—two spades, two hearts, and five diamonds—South found that he could not run North's suit without first letting East in. The ten of diamonds was led and passed around to the jack, as West disposed of another spade.

Inasmuch as his partner appeared to have no further interest in developing his own suit, East decided to look elsewhere for tricks. Clubs appeared to offer the best prospect, and in order to smother dummy's ten, East switched to the queen of clubs. South followed with the deuce and West signaled encouragement with the eight.

East continued with the nine of clubs which held as declarer played the five and West the seven. A third club enabled West to score both the jack and ace and send South down to defeat.

Declarer was admittedly the victim of unfavorable distribution and an alert defense, nevertheless he could have assured his contract at the outset by merely anticipating the potential pitfalls and then taking appropriate measures for self-protection.

The only holding he fears is four diamonds to the jack in East's hand which may enable the latter to gain access for a play thru South's club holding. In order to prevent this prospect from ever bearing fruit, declarer must make his first diamond play from dummy.

At trick one, South should put up North's queen of spades in the expectation that West has led away from the king. When the queen holds, a diamond is led next and the nine is played from the "closed hand. If West has the jack, he is welcome to it, for declarer now is assured of nine tricks. With his left hand holding is safe from any direct attack.

When West shows out on the first round of diamonds, the wisdom of South's safety play becomes apparent, for he is now in position to run 10 tricks without surrendering the lead.

Rockefeller Picks Chapel

CHICAGO (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV and his bride-to-be, Sharon Percy, have chosen Rockefeller Chapel at the University of Chicago as the site of their spring wedding.

The Gothic-style chapel was donated by the bridegroom's great-grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, whose philanthropy made possible the founding of the university.

The announcement of the choice was made Wednesday by Miss Percy's parents, Sen-elect and Mrs. Charles H. Percy. They said the decision was made Sunday after Miss Percy, 21, and Rockefeller, 29, attended services in the chapel.

The wedding is set for April 1. Rockefeller of Charleston, W. Va., was elected as a Democrat to the West Virginia Legislature in the Nov. 8 election. Percy, a Republican, was elected U.S. senator from Illinois.

A Devotional For The Day

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. (Jeremiah 23:5)

PRAYER: We praise Thee, our Father, for Thy wisdom in knowing that all men could be drawn to Thee only by Thy assuming human form in Jesus Christ. We thank Thee for appearing on this earth with Thy message of redemption. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Need More Municipal Revenue

Many reasons can be given why the state of Texas must grant its cities a broader tax base with more diverse sources for increased revenues. Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League, recently focused on just one—but a very important reason—the soaring indebtedness of Texas cities.

Generally, Texas cities' bonded indebtedness is still fiscally sound enough to command favorable interest rates. That is, bonded debt is not so far out of line with the tax base as to be alarming. However, the statistical handwriting on the wall is a warning to be heeded.

Gross debt of Texas cities, Matthews reports, rose from $1.4 billion in 1960 to nearly $2 billion in 1965, or 37 per cent. During the same period, urban population increased little more than 10 per cent, and the cities aggregate tax base 32 per cent.

What is happening, Matthews explains, is this: When a city's population doubles, its costs more than double (not including the added boost of inflation). Larger city systems have to be more sophisticated, and cost more. At the same time, the normal increment of tax income does not double. Thus, the fiscal gap widens. How to fill it?

Obviously cities are largely filling that gap by issuing bonds for essential public works, including a good many that might better be financed from operating budgets at less total cost. Cities also are looking increasingly to Washington to fill the gap. They also need more state aid, as for highway related street financing. But most of all they need more tax income, from sources other than the property tax on which all other local governmental units must now almost entirely depend.

The 60th Legislature, with the governor's help, should strive, however, to improve and broaden municipal tax structures. The alternatives are sharply increased federal-state aid and further city debt increases toward the fiscal danger point.

Problem Of Austerity

School trustees are being boxed between limited funds and rising construction costs as they seek to pull all the loose ends of the school master plan expansion together.

This is no enviable task, for many original plans are having to be cut back or in some cases cut out. It will be a near miracle, if costs continue to rise as they have within the past year, if the board is able to approach the goals. The brightest ray is that the major end of the project, which has involved upwards of four millions of dollars, is in the high school until which is virtually all under contract and slated for completion next autumn.

Still, several of the improvements contemplated at several elementary schools undoubtedly will have to be pared. There also is the matter of revamping the athletic plant into a new campus plan. While the latter is important, we hope that it will be confronted with the same need for austerity as the elementary school improvements. To the extent that it fits into the physical education program, it is on a par; to the extent that it serves spectator interest, it should be delayed.

A War With Communism

WASHINGTON — Many people in America unfortunately continue to harbor the illusion that the United States is at war just with North Vietnam and that this is incidental to a "civil war" between two segments of a small country in Southeast Asia. As a consequence, organizations like the National Council of Churches and other groups keep on urging that the United States call a halt to the bombing even without any agreement in advance from the other side that it, too, will observe a cessation of fighting for the length of the truce.

BUT THE TRAGIC facts which surface now and then come to the surface show clearly that the United States is, in effect, at war with the Soviet Union as well as Red China and that, without the consent of Peking or Moscow, there will be no ending of the war in Vietnam.

Thus, for example, the United Press International transmitted on Monday a dispatch from Saigon which reads as follows:

"Russia has supplied Hanoi with 100 new MIG jet fighters, more than doubling the size of Communist North Vietnam's air force, it was disclosed today.

"INFORMED SOURCES said the Kremlin shipped the fighter planes to the Hanoi regime in recent weeks.

"The sources said the shipment included a mixture of the older MIG 19 jets and the latest delta-winged MIG 21s.

"North Vietnam now has an estimated 200 MIGs—a mixture of the models 17, 19 and 21—on station, most of them apparently poised around Hanoi and Haiphong."

ONLY TWO DAYS ago, moreover, Foy D. Kohler, who recently returned from four and one-half years service as U.S. Ambassador in Moscow to become deputy undersecretary of state, revealed that the Kremlin is more interested in weakening Western unity than in finding an accommodation with the West.

Mr. Kohler explained the administration's policies in a speech before the Florida American Legion, and said that the objective was not necessarily to obtain an "immediate accommodation with the Soviet Union." But, he declared, there is hope eventually for "an Eastern Europe of more independent states, with governments more responsive to domestic needs and pressures, participating more fully in a larger structure of bilateral and multilateral East-West cooperation in Europe—a cooperation that includes also the United States and the Soviet Union." While Mr. Kohler saw some encouraging trends, he also noted some "retrogressive" incidents.

THE NET EFFECT of Mr. Kohler's speech is to confirm what has long been suspected—that much of the talk about a Soviet negotiation to bring a truce or a peace agreement of some kind to end the war is at present meaningless. Instead of hints of closer trade relations between the United States and the Communist bloc in Eastern Europe, it would seem more logical to be hearing demands in Congress for a trade embargo.

REGRETTABLY, some of the European nations are not helping the United States in its crusade for peace in the world. Secretary of State Dean Rusk is in Paris this week to try to get more help from America's allies through NATO. But while he may obtain a little more moral support, there are no outspoken declarations to indicate that the Western European countries are willing to recognize the basic problem involving the entire world which has actually emerged in the Vietnam war.

Under existing circumstances, it is difficult to see how there can be any disarmament agreements or any letup in America's military preparations. (Copyright, 1966, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

Leave-Us Alone

NEW DELHI (AP) — American intervention in Indo-Pakistan affairs is more dangerous than that of the Communist Chinese, K. D. Malaviya, a Congress Party member of Parliament told a public forum.

He said relations between the two sub-continent neighbors could improve only if the United States, Britain and China left them alone.

Was Money Reason Moyers Resigned?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill D. Moyers got $30,000 a year as President Johnson's press secretary and after his brother committed suicide last September, Moyers was also a very hardworking Johnson aide. He was 39 when he died.

Moyers is 32 and his brother, James H. Moyers, a widely liked but much more conspicuous man, was also a very hardworking Johnson aide. He was 39 when he died.

Bill Moyers, with chronic ulcers and bright blue eyes, has been in a kind of Johnson alter ego. He labored endless hours. He got involved in all kinds of White House business, foreign and domestic.

HE COULD speak with great confidence about what the President had on his mind which, in this case, took some confidence. He was always on hand and totally dedicated. And he was always so cool, so composed, that after watching him for months you'd ask yourself: "Does anything bother him? Does anything get under his skin?"

BUT HE has a wife and three children and almost from the time he became Johnson's press secretary in July 1965 — he had been with Johnson almost continuously since 1959 — there were rumors this was just a stepping stone.

No one ever seemed to know for sure where he wanted to go but only that he was ambitious. There were rumors, unconfirmed, that he'd like to be an ambassador, that he'd like to go into politics. In either direction Johnson — so long as he was in the White House — could have been a big help. But the months passed, Moyers stayed, so did the ulcers, so did the fixed salary of $30,000, and there was the brother dead at 39, and as it turned out, he was seriously thinking of doing better for himself, at least financially.

WEDNESDAY came the news: He was leaving Johnson and the White House to become publisher of Long Island's Newsday, the country's largest suburban daily, with a circulation of 415,000.

Although the salary wasn't disclosed, it can be assumed Moyers will get a lot more than $30,000.

The news of Moyers' new job was hardly off the wires before the Washington guessing game began: "Was money the real reason for his going into publishing or did he have inside information that Johnson would not seek a second term and that now was the best time to make the best kind of deal he could for himself?"

Actor Can't Handle Booze

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Steve McQueen is a high school dropout who can now ask and get $750,000 a picture and a big handful of the profits.

"I only made the ninth grade," said Steve, who subsequently got his higher education in the well-known school of hard knocks.

McQueen loves to recall the wandering roustabout years of his youth. During those years he worked as a tanker deckhand, a lumberman, a farmhand, a carnival barker, a ballpark pen salesman, a television repairman. He also served a hitch in the U.S. Marines and became a top-ranked racing driver.

"ALTHOUGH I'm a city boy at heart, I like farm life," he said. "Working with animals gives you a great feeling of right and wrong. Farmers are dead-shot honest people.

"You can learn a lot of odd things on a farm, too. For example, I learned that pigs like to eat coal. Just why, I don't know. But they'll eat all the coal you carry to them."

It was while drifting from job to job in Greenwich Village that Steve became interested in acting.

"That was in 1950. Steve lived in a $19-a-month walkup apartment and earned — when he could find work — $1.15 an hour repairing television sets.

"THERE was a cook in a little restaurant who would trust me for up to $30 worth of veal cutlets and beer. He gave me a nickname — 'Desperado.' "It wasn't too hard a life, but all I really miss from those Greenwich Village days is the obscurity I enjoyed then. Those are the good old days for me.

"What difference has success made in my life? Well! — Steve chuckled drily — "somehow I seem to have more friends."

McQueen is built as trimly as a middleweight boxer. He believes in keeping himself, as well as his racing cars, perfectly tuned up.

"Self indulgence is a bad thing for a man," he observed. "Many people who win a little success have a tendency to forget the importance of their body. You can buy a new car but you can't buy yourself a new body if you wreck the one you have.

"I BELIEVE in exercise, eating good, and not jouncing too much. I like a little Mexican beer or white wine, but I don't go in for the hard booze. Can't handle it."

Steve has a simple philosophy of life:

"If a man doesn't have obstacles, he begins to decay. A man ought to do the job he likes. If he doesn't, he's twisting his own head."

Steve has any fears, poverty isn't one of them.

"If I ever blew what I've made, I figure I could do it all over again," he said. "But I don't waste money."

"They say I'm a little tight, and I suspect it's because I throw pennies around like they were manhole covers."

To Your Good Health

First Steps Toward Getting A Hearing Aid

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: This letter is to inform elderly people — or others — that hearing aids are not always a benefit. I have had a sad experience, spending several hundred dollars for an aid which is of no benefit.

I used to think hearing aid people were like a doctor — one could have faith in their advice. This is not true! Many are salesmen pressing for a sale. They seemingly hold out a promise to the hard of hearing. Their words are carefully chosen.

I would warn anyone: Do not buy a hearing aid if it cannot be tried out first. There are a few companies where this can be done. — MRS. G. N.

Your warning is worth heeding, although it is only fair to add that there are sharpshooters selling all manner of products, from vacuum cleaners to house repairs.

There are so many ways of evading laws that we must be on our guard against unscrupulous operators. (The Better Business Bureau is always interested in finding out about such trickery.)

When it comes to hearing aids, my advice is to see your doctor first, and if he suggests going to an ear specialist, by all means do so.

Some hearing problems are best corrected by surgery. Others cannot be helped that way, but can be improved with a hearing aid. Some hearing defects are such that no method can help, and the patient is best advised to learn lip-reading.

An ear specialist is qualified to decide which is best for you, and if he recommends a hearing aid, he can see that you go to a reputable firm.

In my experience there are hearing aid companies which are eminently fair and responsible, and measure your hearing needs with skill.

They do not, however, take the place of your doctor.

Dear Dr. Molner: I had a bad pain under my heart all night and in the morning broke out with a strip about two inches wide from the breastbone around to my spine. It looked like red raspberries. The doctor said it was shingles. What causes this? — V. C.

It is a virus infection of a nerve trunk. It usually looks as you have described it, and may look like red raspberries but is a whole lot more painful. For more detailed explanation, probable duration, and an outline of what can be done, I suggest reading my booklet on shingles. You can obtain a copy by sending 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of The Herald.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim

Why Not Do Something?

Perhaps the time has arrived when we should start thinking of what might be done about redevelopment of the North Side, rather than concentrating on why we can't do anything.

TUESDAY EVENING, a delegation of North Side residents once again appealed to the Big Spring City Commission to help "clean up the North Side." Quite rightly, I think, Floyd McIntyre pointed out that the children living in some areas of that portion of the city will be adversely affected by the environment they find all about them.

Some years ago, an urban renewal program was proposed to do something about the situation, and it was defeated as most voters apparently felt that the problem might better be done by local interests. It has been quite a while since that vote was taken and so far, local interests have not made much progress in launching any kind of rehabilitation program.

TUESDAY NIGHT it was pointed out that the city guided a clean-up campaign during the summer months that had good results. But the facts are, there are still lots covered with debris and rotting garbage; and this program did nothing to eliminate derelict buildings that stand abandoned as a danger to health and safety.

True, the city has a program of eliminating such buildings and it has pushed this program often. But it has not totally solved the problem; indeed, it has only scratched the surface.

THE DELEGATION Tuesday was told it would take time and they were given little hope in the matter of immediate relief from a serious problem. So far as I know, there is no program on the drawing boards anywhere designed to systematically upgrade the residences, businesses or community of the north side.

WHY AREN'T the same standards set for businesses and residences on the South Side applied to the North Side, one of the delegation asked. Why indeed? Commissioner Jimmy McRehead called for a review of this "double standard."

Problems of proving ownership of some of the hazardous property was mentioned as a stumbling block to getting something done. And I suppose, there are many reasons why our community cannot tackle the problem and move toward a general improvement program.

OUR COMMUNITY has had task forces of businessmen before who have tackled what seemed to be insurmountable problems and found an answer, to all of our benefit. Why could not this problem be handled in the same way?

The large majority of the residents on the North Side want their side of town to be improved and need the help of the rest of us. The city administration already has many of the tools necessary to get something done — the hazardous structures ordinance, the weed lot ordinance, the building code, and many others, all vigorously applied.

A PROGRAM aimed at 20 years from now is not going to do the youngsters growing up there today much good. It will have been too late. Someone said the most ambitious program begins with the first step.

Perhaps we have reached the time when someone should take that step. I think we can count on one thing — if we don't do it ourselves, someone else might come along and do it. And they'll do it their way.

Bobby And The Segregationist

WASHINGTON — You don't have to write about Senator Robert Kennedy every day during this vacation period, but with the President and Congress away—what else is there? When Bobby's in town, Bobby is all.

He arrived late the other day for the Government Operations hearings on ghettos, and he left early—but he stole the show. Floyd McKissick, national director of "Black Power" CORE, was the first witness.

THE TESTIMONY went pretty much as expected, except for McKissick's stress on Black Power and Negro nationalism (which he unfortunately likened to that of prewar Germany), and for his insistence that the whole Civil Rights effort had been a bust.

Senator Kennedy couldn't sit still for this last. As Attorney General, he had launched the omnibus Civil Rights bill in 1963, and now he found himself confronted with a segregationist—a black one.

KENNEDY, along with Ribicoff, began to scold McKissick for his racism. Kennedy said the Democratic primary elections of Madox (Ga.) and Mahoney (Md.) had been caused by a backlash to Black Power and violence. Never in memory had the former Senate Caucus Chamber held such a scene—a Negro leader being tongue-lashed (mildly, it's true) by a pair of Democratic liberals.

But when McKissick left the table, and Chairman Ribicoff called the next witness, there was a melee in the center of the room. Kennedy had slipped from his seat, apparently unnoticed by the chairman, and had met McKissick with a comradely hand-clasp in mid-floor. They stood like figures on a pedestal until the men with the hand cameras clustered around and the McKissick fans poured from their seats to join the tableau.

BOBBY IS ALL. The ghetto hearings have been his from the start. One day when he wasn't present, he sent a list of questions which he had asked Ribicoff, the true instigator of this inquiry, to read. It is only when Kennedy leans forward to question that the reporters lean hard on their pencils, and only when Kennedy pokes at the Administration's sorry performance of over-promising and under-producing that the news begins to churn. Yet it is Ribicoff, with a squeaky election coming up in 1968, who has taken the political risks and has offered the new idea of a Communist-type corporation to finance slum-housing.

NOBODY THUS far has quite said so, but the emigration from the cities by white people and industries is restoring a historic American phenomenon—the "ghost town"—and one of these days somebody in the witness chair is going to recite the legend of King Canute. The rise and fall of economic tides cannot be commanded to stop, and no amount of legislation is going to save the cities when their day is done.

A Man Has His Rights—No?

WASHINGTON — My friend Murray is the managing editor of one of the largest newspapers in the country. When the President of the United States gets mad he calls Murray, and Murray just shrugs it off.

My friend Jocko is one of the top criminal lawyers in the United States. In a courtroom he is a tiger, making both judge and jury sit up and listen in hushed respect.

My friend Harry heads a billion-dollar trade association and his word is law when it comes to the censorship of motion pictures.

MY FRIEND Sam is chief of protocol to the most powerful nation in the world, and he is on a first-name basis with almost every head of state.

My friend Sydney is the press secretary to the leader of a country that numbers over 190 million Americans in population.

All these friends have one thing in common. Their wives get angry when they watch pro football on television.

Last Sunday, Murray, Jocko, Harry, Sam and Sydney were invited over to my house to watch the Washington Redskins play the Dallas Cowboys in living color on TV.

EACH OF THEM said he'd be delighted to come and was looking forward to the afternoon.

At 3:45 p.m. Murray arrived. "It's good you came early," I said. "The game doesn't start until 4."

"I have to leave at 4," Murray said. "I just wanted to see the kickoff."

"But Murray," I said, "you can't leave that early. It's going to be a good game. I'll call your wife and tell her you'll be home at 7."

"Don't do that," he shouted. "She doesn't know I'm here. I told her I was going out to buy her a Christmas present."

"WHAT KIND of a man are you," I said, "that you won't even stand up for your rights to watch pro football?"

"I can watch pro football any time I want to," he said angrily. "But I'd rather spend the time carrying beds upstairs and listening to my kids fighting in the living room. Wouldn't anybody?"

Before I could answer, the phone rang. It was Jocko. He was whispering. "I can't get out of the door. She says if I go time to go over to your house to watch pro football, I have time to paint the playroom."

"What did you tell her?"

"I SAID I had only one day a week to relax and I wasn't going to spend it messing around in the basement."

"What color are you going to paint the playroom?"

"Light green," he replied and hung up.

Just then Harry came in. He threw his overcoat on the couch.

"Did you have any trouble with your wife?" I asked him.

"Are you kidding? I have a wonderful wife. Anything I want to do is fine with her. She's a jewel, the dearest woman a man could have."

"Where are you going?" I asked him as he started putting on his coat.

"JUST TALKING about her made me homesick. I think I'll spend the afternoon with her instead of watching the ball game."

"That means she wouldn't let you stay?"

He put his muffler around his throat. "Let me know what the score was."

Sam was the next one to arrive. He didn't seem to be worried a bit, until the phone rang. "Is Sam there?" his wife wanted to know.

"I'm not sure," I said. "I'll look around."

Sam picked up the phone. "All right, all right. A loaf of bread and two quarts of milk. Well, what did you think I went out for?"

SYDNEY DIDN'T even bother to call, so I found myself watching the game alone. But not for long.

My wife came in and said, "As long as no one is here, you can carry down all the toys from the attic for the Salvation Army."

There may be a lot of hawks in Washington, but when it comes to watching pro football you'll find nothing but doves in every home.

The Big Spring Herald

4-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Dec. 15, 1966

HYPNOSIS TESTED

'Silliest' Rabbits Smarter Than Chicks

Editor's Note: Hypnosis long has been a stage act, and any fraud psychology major can perform it. Psychologists and other doctors have played around with the technique and found some uses. Now rabbits may add their hare's worth.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Rabbits so far have largely confined their efforts to eating other people's gardens and improving their cultural image through folklore and cartoons. Now they have moved into that area somewhere between medicine and psychiatry. It could have been the chicken that got the honor except that when a rabbit is at his silliest, he still is smarter than a chicken.

The rabbit's contribution may be through hypnosis. For that is what Dr. W. R. Klemm, Texas A&M University associate professor of psychology, is doing to the rabbits—putting them into a trance. He believes something new may be found from the rabbits about human brain activity.

PAIN REDUCER

Klemm says a future application of hypnosis to humans might be in a reduction of pain in minor operations as has been done now and then, particularly in dentistry. Hypnosis reduced pain in animals, he says, and if hypnotic trances could be made more effective they might abolish pain altogether.

"I've done most of my work since 1964 on this project with domestic New Zealand white rabbits and chickens," Klemm says. "Chickens can be hypnotized easily, but they have less of a brain than rabbits."

FAST TRANCE

Klemm says rabbits can be hypnotized in about five seconds by turning them on their backs and holding them still. This results in a trance of about a minute, but too short a time for sufficient testing to be accomplished.

Klemm made a box-like chute which helps in extending trances up to one hour. Rabbits are put in the chute on their backs, and it is the researcher's belief that the animals interpret the sides of the chute as a person's hands.

Klemm's research is supported by a $24,503 Health, Education and Welfare Department grant. "One of the problems concerns parallels with human hypnosis," says Klemm. "Nobody knows much about the mechanisms of human hypnosis."

MILD SHOCK

Tests by Klemm indicate hypnotized rabbits can process information in a manner similar to hypnotized humans. One such conditioning test used by Klemm involves the sounding of a tone followed by a mild electrical shock. "After repeating this process eight or nine times, we found that the heart rate changed with the tone, indicating the rabbit had conditioned his reflexes to expect the shock immediately after the tone."

The scientist says the heart rate change in hypnotized rabbits is higher than in un hypnotized rabbits, indicating that hypnotized rabbits are less distracted by outside influences.

Rabbits subjected to behavior tests after being aroused from trances show they suffer no after effects of hypnosis. Both sleep and awake electrical brain activity is present during a trance, Klemm says.

Klemm plans to use a portable digital computer to compile data in the projects. Alligators also can be hypnotized, but that is one project that Dr. Klemm has vetoed emphatically.

Oil Compact Extension To Be Asked

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Congress will be asked next year to extend the interstate oil compact agreement another four years.

Perfection of the ninth extension request will be one of the first tasks of Gov. Paul Johnson, D-Miss., who Wednesday became the first governor from the deep South to be elected chairman of the 33-state commission. Congress established it in 1935 to serve as a forum on oil and gas conservation matters.

The current extension expires next Sept. 1. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., is expected to sponsor the new request in the Senate. Johnson was authorized to select a House sponsor to succeed former Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., who resigned last year to become a federal judge.

Johnson was elected to succeed Gov. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., at the concluding session of the compact's annual meeting.

Johnson's first vice chairman will be A. L. Porter Jr., director-secretary of the New Mexico Conservation Commission. Jerome McHugh of Denver, Colo., was elected second vice chairman.

The compact renewed a plea that the federal government limit natural gas imports and take no action that would weaken, undermine or circumvent the Interior Department's mandatory oil import control program.

The resolution also renewed a request that Congress clarify the authority of the Federal Power Commission to control the wellhead prices of natural gas sold into interstate commerce.

Next year's sessions will be held June 12-14 at Denver and Dec. 11-13 at New Orleans. The 1968 meetings will be in Mobile, Ala., and Miami Beach, Fla.

New Records Set By Pearl

SAN ANTONIO—Chiff "Slim" Proffitt, Pearl beer distributor for the Big Spring-Slaton area, attended the 1967 Pearl Brewing Company convention, held in San Antonio.

During the business session, it was announced that both the company and its Judson Candies subsidiary eclipsed their previous 12-month company sales records during 1966.

Based on results from the first 11 months of the year, 1966 sales of Pearl beer, Country Club malt liquor, and Goetz beer are projected at approximately 1,794,000 barrels. Forecasts indicate Pearl's 1966 volume will exceed 1965's record sales by more than 82,000 barrels of products, an increase of nearly 5 per cent.

In 1966, the wholly-owned Judson Candies subsidiary also has enjoyed its most successful period in the candy firm's 67-year history.

Sales for the year will be more than $250,000 greater than 1965's, an increase of more than 12 per cent.

This year's convention was a gathering of Pearl beer and Country Club malt liquor distributors and Judson candy brokers from throughout the nation.

The conclave was dedicated to H. B. "Pat" O'Brien, senior vice president - marketing consultant, who has announced his retirement after 36 years' service, but who will continue as a member of the board of directors.

In his report to the group, Albert J. Range, executive vice president, announced that in 1966 Pearl beer has again become the largest selling beer in Texas, a position it has now held for 13 consecutive years.

Comes now the biggest night of the season for junior college basketball here.

LEE LEONARD

HCJC, 7-3 on the year, is the host school for a unique double-header starting at 7 o'clock in the Jayhawk Gym.

Clude Lawrence Thompson, Roger McGlothlin, Mike Ward and Chris Dowell.

Dallas Baptist, coached by Dennis Walling, builds its attack around Dave (The Rave) Nash, a 6-9, 240-pound sophomore from St. Louis, Mo., and 6-4 Wendel Hart, a Garland, Texas, product.

The Indians played in the Garden City, Kan., tournament last month along with HCJC and finished second to champion Cameron, Okla. The Baptists later beat Cameron, however.

Roland Named Top Freshman In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Roland, a 1965 All-America back from Missouri who received a big bonus to sign with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named rookie of the year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 15 league cities.

Roland won in a close vote over Tommy Nobis of Atlanta, the two-time All-America from Texas.

Duke Coach Won't Compare Cagers

Is Lew Alcindor, the fabulous 7-foot-1 1/2 inch sophomore who has played only three varsity games for the top-ranked UCLA Bruins, a better college basketball player than Bill Bradley, the Princeton All-America who got all the raves only two years ago?

Charles Parks sank two free throws in the last 48 seconds to give Idaho State an 87-85 victory over Rice in the second game.

North Dakota scored a major upset in beating Chicago Loyola 83-92 at Grand Forks, N.D., behind the sparkling 35-point performance of Phil Jackson.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hort

Breckenridge started five senior lettermen against Big Spring in the Canyon Reef Basketball tournament last week-end, yet the consensus among the Steers was that the Buckaroos were the weakest team the locals have faced all season.

A documentary film is now being shown in parts of the world which raises some doubts about the manner in which Jack Dempsey achieved victory over Jess Willard for the Heavyweight championship of the world 48 years ago.

There is supposed to have been some evidence uncovered that a bolt fell out of Dempsey's left glove, which one of Dempsey's handlers kicked off the ring floor.

Willard, who will be 85 later this month, always did maintain that he was hit by something other than Dempsey's fists.

Dempsey, who was and is a proud man, quite probably will offer a firm rebuttal in some form or another if the story ever is projected nationally.

In the old days of boxing, a tool resembling a bolt was often used by unscrupulous fighters and was called a "load." This was gripped in the palm of the boxing glove, invisible to spectators, opponent and referee. It was considered easy to discard after a bout.

Former Western lawman Bat Masterson, who in later life became a sports writer, wrote this about the fight he witnessed:

"The right hand punches did not cut and lash Willard like those delivered by Dempsey's left.

The object, whatever it was, appeared on the mat and was brushed away after the first round, in which Willard hit the deck seven times. Willard fought the next two rounds without being decked. Jess failed to come out for the fourth, however.

The film probably never would have been released again had it not been for that mysterious object on the mat.

It seems to me that, for two teams so far removed from Paradise, neither the New York Yankees nor the Houston Astros have done enough bartering at the bargain counters.

The Yankees are still acting as if the other teams have to come to them for help. They got rid of some of their high-priced help, true, but they took on players who have yet to prove they can play big league baseball.

Houston has needed fence busters. They may be hard to come by, but they can be had. Give the Astros some big sticks and their attendance at home would again likely climb back past the two million mark.

Ross Black, coach of that New Mexico JC basketball team that handcuffed HCJC in the semifinals of last week's Odessa basketball tournament, is a brother to Tommy Black, the former HC athlete.

As a matter of fact, Ross coached his brother in high school.

Pro golfer Doug Sanders has a "piece of the action" in the move to build the most pretentious golf project in the history of Oklahoma near Tulsa.

More specifically, the proposed Shamrock Country Club, as it will be called, is located south of Broken Arrow on a 12,500-acre tract jutting into a bend in the Arkansas River.

Sanders will be pro of the plush course when it is opened.

Physical education experts will tell you its advisable to learn to swim.

Six Texans Are Included On Senior Bowl Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Six Georgia tackle George Patton, Texas college players and one from Arkansas were named Wednesday to the 28-man South team for the 11th Senior Bowl football game Jan. 7.

The South will be coached by Otto Graham of the Washington Redskins.

The North, averaging 224 pounds per man and led by Michigan State's 278-pound All-America end Bubba Smith of Beaumont, Tex., will be directed by Coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings.

Terry Southall of Baylor, the Southwest Conference's leading passer, and Bob Davis of Virginia, Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year, will direct the South at quarterback.

The South will have four All-America players, including

Ponies Nudge Olympic Team By 96-74 Tab

Southern Methodist upheld the Southern Conference international basketball reputation Wednesday night but Rice could not do the same in intersectional competition.

The Mustangs, leading by only three points at halftime, broke loose in the second half for a 96-74 victory over the touring Mexico Olympic team.

Rice fell in the last 48 seconds 87-85 to Idaho State in the first round of the Bluebonnet Classic at Houston. Ninth ranked Houston won the other game 97-66 over Centenary.

Charles Parks scored the winning points for Idaho State on two free throws after the Owls' Bill Doty sank a free throw to tie the game at 85-all.

In the remaining seconds Rice had another opportunity to even the score but Doty, who tallied 31 points, and Greg Williams misconnected on a pass.

Parks and Ron Boone had 22 points apiece for Idaho State, which meets Houston tonight. Jim Hubenak got the same for Rice. The Owls play Centenary tonight.

Mexico, ending a 14-game tour of the United States that began Nov. 16 at San Angelo, Tex., appeared wary in losing its seventh game.

"The boys were very tired," said Lester Lane, the American coach who was taken to Mexico to get a team ready for the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City.

"It was the last game and they wanted to get home to their families."

Lane, former Olympian and University of Oklahoma player, said he felt there were only three teams in the world better than his for the coming Olympics.

"I think I can see us finishing only behind the United States, Russia and Yugoslavia," he said.

Charles Beasley scored 24 points for Southern Methodist. The outside shooting of Mexico's Arturo Guerrero, who scored 20 points, was applauded by the crowd.

Stanton Has Series Sweep

STANTON — Stanton entertained Coahoma boys and girls here Tuesday, but congeniality didn't extend to the hardwoods.

Stanton boys won 56-36 and Stanton girls 65-44. In the B game, Stanton made it a sweep, 66-50.

The Stanton boys now are 16-0 for the season, probably the best record in this area. Thursday Stanton will begin its tournament with 12 schools entering 16 teams. Play begins Thursday at 12 noon Favorites in the boy's division are Lubbock Dunbar, Stanton, and Tahoka; in the girls division Stanton, Coahoma and Flower Grove.

Green Bay Ace Named MVP In Pro Circuit

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Bart Starr remembers 1956 as the year he was overwhelmed with the opportunity to be able to make a professional football team.

Ten years later, the Green Bay Packers' quarterback has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by The Associated Press.

"I was grateful just to be drafted the year I started," Starr admitted. "I had been hurt my last two seasons in college and was a little dejected."

From Alabama, Starr was the Packers' 17th draft choice but in five years had won the starting quarterback job.

He won the MVP honor by a wide margin with 19 votes to six for runner-up Larry Wilson, the St. Louis Cardinals' blizzing safety. Don Meredith, the Dallas quarterback, had four votes and Cleveland's Leroy Kelly had three.

Starr was obviously pleased with the honor but looks forward to the NFL championship game and hopes his club will be facing the American Football League title winner in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles.

"We'd like to have that problem," he says referring to defeating the AFL.

Recuperating from rib injuries suffered in the first half last Saturday at Baltimore, Starr doesn't know if he'll play Sunday in the regular season finale against the Rams at Los Angeles.

Coach Vince Lombardi has indicated he'd like to rest his quarterback and the Packers already have won the Western Conference title.

"It takes awhile to get well, or to get better," Starr said. "But I'll be ready for the NFL championship."

Mavs, Yearlings Play On Road

Four local junior high school teams visit San Angelo for games tonight.

Goliad's two contingents will be tangling with Lee Junior High. The first game there gets under way at 6 p.m.

Big Spring Runnels goes to Edison Junior High for two encounters. The eighth graders square away at 6 p.m. there.

Goliad's eighth won the recent Big Spring High School tournament here and will carry a 7-1 record south with it.

Steers To Clash With Goddard Hi

ROSWELL, N. M. — Big Spring is one of two District 2-AAAA basketball teams entered in the Roswell Invitational Basketball tournament, which starts a three-day run today.

El Paso Austin and Odessa Ector open the show at 1:00 p.m. while Big Spring tangles with Roswell Goddard at 2:30 p.m.

Roswell High and Midland High square off at 7 p.m. while Clovis High and NMMI High have it out at 8:30 p.m.

If Big Spring wins its opener, it returns to competition Friday night.

Midland is one of the favorites in the lower bracket while Odessa Ector is given a lot of consideration in the upper bracket.

Ector, incidentally, is coached by a former Big Spring athlete, Gordon (Moe) Madison.

Big Spring carries an 11-2 won-lost to New Mexico with it. The Steers have lost only to El Paso Jefferson and Hobbs, N. M., this season.

Midland yielded to Hobbs, 102-74, in Hobbs earlier this week and saw its record drop to 3-3. Midland's attack is built around Mike Mason, Cecil Jennings, Robert Jackson and Jody Mayes.

Ector integrated its school the past September and immediately benefitted from the athletic talent that enrolled. The Ector standout is Clarence Redic, who does everything well on the basketball court.

Little is known of the New Mexico teams in this area. None is believed to be as strong as Hobbs, however.

The Steers departed yesterday with coach Don McDonald to get in a little practice for the meet.

Probable starters for Big Spring include Wayne Johnson, Richard Green, Danny Clendenin, Charley Tubb and Robert Jackson.

This tournament winds up pre-conference activity for Big Spring. The Steers go to Midland Tuesday to open 2-AAAA competition with Lee's Rebels.

Turkey Shoot Is Upcoming Sunday

The Mesquite Gun Club's annual turkey shoot will be held on the organization's shooting range seven miles west of Vincent starting at 1 p.m. Sunday. The shoot will continue through 6 p.m.

Competition will be held in shotgun, 22 calibre rimfire and high-powered rifle.

Certificates will be given to winners for dressed turkeys.

Anyone in the area is eligible to take part in the event, annually one of the biggest programs the gun club stages all year.

Those interested can contact Jimmy Felts, Vincent Route, Coahoma.

Season At End

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York harness racing season ends tonight at Roosevelt Raceway. It will reopen Jan. 3 at Yonkers Raceway.

Hadl Named Week's Best

NEW YORK (AP) — "Sometimes," says San Diego quarterback John Hadl, "I wish I had five footballs out there."

And that's the way it may have looked last Sunday as Hadl completely befuddled the New York Jets in a 42-7 victory, completing 14 of 27 passes for 240 yards and two touchdowns while scoring once himself.

That brought the 26-year-old former Kansas star The Associated Press' Offensive Player of the Week award in the American Football League. But it probably didn't satisfy Hadl. Nothing does except perfection.

"My responsibility as a quarterback is to utilize our entire offense and exploit the weaknesses of the defense," Hadl points out. "I want to make the right call or throw to the right guy every time. I know you can't. But theoretically you can."

Theoretically, Hadl probably came as close as you can against the Jets, according to Coach Sid Gillman. "It was Hadl's best game of the year," Gillman said. "His play calling was perfect."

Despite perfect play calling and the fact he's always near the top in the passing statistics, Hadl always seems to be overlooked when it comes time to vote for the league's all-star team.

"I think it stems from the fact I was mainly a runner in college," Hadl explained. "Because of that I think I've had to overcome the feeling that I'm erratic. But I'm proving every year that it's not true."

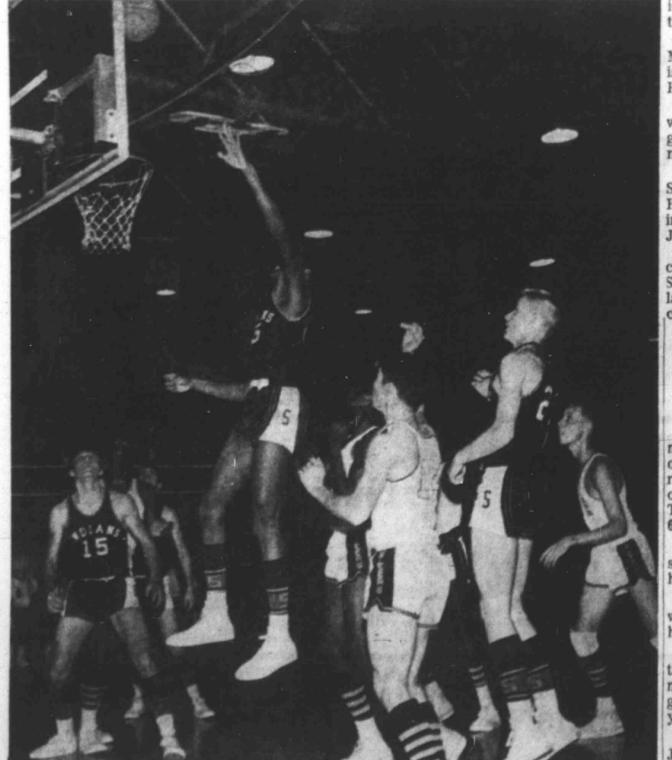

Buckeyes No. One Lure In Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes finished with the largest home attendance among the 616 college football teams in 1966 for the ninth straight year, it was revealed today with the release of a survey by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The Buckeyes, despite a drop of 1,856 spectators from 1965, topped the list with an average of 81,400 spectators for six home games. Michigan State was second with an average of 71,125 followed by Michigan 68,933, Louisiana State 64,350 and Nebraska, 63,764.

Notre Dame, the national champion, was sixth. The Irish drew an average of 59,075 for five home games.

Seven teams showed increases of more than 10,000 a game. They were Tulane, up 17,452, Colorado 13,292, Alabama 13,219, North Carolina State 11,865, Rice 10,407, Nebraska 10,186 and Clemson 10,041.

Everybody Gets Into Act

Players of both the Big Spring and Seminole basketball teams await for the ball to come down as the Indians' Eddie Malone puts it up in Tuesday night's game here, won by Big Spring, 62-52. No. 15 is Jay Anderson, Seminole, while Robert Jackson, Big Spring, is immediately back of him. No. 14 is Charley Tubb, Big Spring; No. 21, Steve Stanley, Seminole; while the boy at the extreme right is Danny Clendenin, Big Spring. The Steers are in Roswell, N.M., for a tournament today. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Barton apparently went to sleep, officers said, and the truck ran off the road, trapping him inside.

Iraq Expects To Be Paid Full Royalties

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The semi-official Iraqi press today said that Iraq expects to be paid full royalties by the Iraq Petroleum Co. even though the flow of oil to Mediterranean ports has been cut off.

Syrian Foreign Minister Ibrahim Makhos, visiting Baghdad, continued his government's pressure to induce Iraq to nationalize the company's assets following Syrian seizure of the firm's pipelines and other property in Syria.

Despite newspaper hints and Syrian claims of Iraqi support, the Iraq government has yet to make any official statement of its position following the stoppage in the oil flow, now in its third day. Baghdad radio said the Iraqi newspapers not only demanded that the company pay full production royalties but also that it increase production.

"It cannot use excuses to stop implementation of these commitments because the interruption in the oil flow is not a compelling circumstance for stopping payment of royalties," one newspaper said.

The Syrian government demands that the firm pay $10.5 million in additional royalties for Iraqi oil crossing Syria by pipeline during the first nine months of this year. Makhos said in Baghdad that his government would not make the same demands of Iraq if the latter decided to market its oil on its own.

'Snake' Triggered Austin Blackout?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Workers probed gingerly through miles of power cable and massive generating equipment today, trying to find the cause of a power failure that left 70 per cent of this capital city without electricity for almost an hour.

Officials said the cause of the blackout, which began at 9:55 a.m. (CST) Wednesday, could have been anything "from a snake to an insulator."

NO INJURIES

There were no injuries as a result of the sudden power failure. Traffic lights blinked to a stop, but traffic was light.

J. C. Blankenship, superintendent of electrical production for the city-owned power system, said a search was being pressed for the cause because officials are "concerned it could happen again until the real villain is found."

Spokesmen said the "villain" could be anything from faulty insulation to a snake or small animal that got into the interlocking power system. The restoration of power was spotty, with some parts of the city dark for 10 minutes. Others were without power for 40 minutes.

All but four of the city's 20 power substations were knocked out, along with the main power generator near the downtown area. Parts of south and east Austin kept their power. Emergency generators were brought into operation at the city's four hospitals.

WASHINGTON HIGHLIGHTS

Volunteer Army Concept Challenged By Hershey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the nation's Selective Service System has challenged the volunteer army concept advanced by some as an alternative to the military draft.

"This volunteer business is overdone," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey told a National Press Club luncheon Wednesday. "I don't want a mercenary army."

In defending the present draft system, Hershey said, "We've got to make up our minds whether we want to be defending this country or not." He said there should be no alternative — particularly in a time of war when everyone owes a debt to his country.

"If the country ever gets to the point where the average person doesn't believe in defending his country," he added, "we're done for. We've had it."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports the output of the nation's mines, mills and factories declined during November for the second time in the last three months.

The Federal Reserve Board's newest index of industrial production confirmed again the slowdown in the economy. The index dropped to 158.3 per cent of the 1957-59 average last month, three-tenths of a point lower than October.

The drop in industrial production, coupled with a slowdown in the growth of personal income and declines in retail sales and wholesale prices, would appear to lessen the possibility of a tax increase next year to help fight inflation.

FOOTNOTES

The Treasury Department says it borrowed $169 million from the Federal Reserve System last week but repaid the money on Monday after selling some tax anticipation bills.

Acting Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark announced creation of a communications network that will tie the FBI's vast crime files to police departments across the country.

House investigators have subpoenaed 17 staff members of the Education and Labor Committee for an inquiry aimed at the committee's chairman, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y.

Mosquito Control Money Is Needed

AUSTIN (AP) — To fight Texas-size mosquitoes, local mosquito control districts need Texas-size financing and Texas-type independence, the Texas Mosquito Control Association says.

The association ended Wednesday its fall meeting in which delegates unanimously recommended a state constitutional amendment that would give them what they say they need.

Local districts get their money now from county commissioners. Most counties already are up to the maximum, leaving little money for bigger mosquito control budgets.

The amendment would give the districts their own taxing authority, up to 25 cents per $100 evaluation.

The new president of the association is William A. Moon of Dickinson.

Officers elected Wednesday are President-elect James J. Lamson of Orange, who will take office in 1968; Vice Presidents Robert Barnett of Houston and J. G. Foyle of Orange, and Secretary-treasurer James Dickens of Austin.

The spring meeting will be held in Houston May 3-4. The fall 1967 meeting will be held in Austin Dec. 13-14.

Creating A New Dish Depends On Reasons

By JO ANN PHINIZY

Creating a new way to cook an old dish doesn't always spring from a spark of originality. Sometimes the mother of invention is to avoid another cleaning job.

Such is the case history of a baked steak cooked by Mrs. W. P. Edwards Jr., 806 W. 14th. "I'd just finished giving the stove the cleaning of its life," she said. "There was nothing in the house for dinner but steak and I had no intention of getting a single spot of grease on that stove.

So I baked the steak and added a fancy swirl of wild rice just before it was done."

Since the whole idea worked so well, Mrs. Edwards has since added several variations to the scheme.

These days, she marinates a large, thick-cut sirloin steak in a half cup of port or Sauter-Bordeaux cooking wine for three or four hours. The steak is placed in a covered roasting pan and seasoned to taste. She cooks it about two hours, depending on how you like your steak done, and serves it with wild rice sprinkled with mushrooms or chopped onions.

TIME SAVER

There's another time saver Mrs. Edwards has devised. She often combines the process of thawing meat with marinating. "Saves hours," she says. "And the liquid also speeds up the thawing process."

"This business of changing the usual way of cooking things has great appeal to Mrs. Edwards. She found a Brownie recipe that "does anything."

"When we are tired of counting calories," she explained, "I make a pie crust of my Chocolate Drop Brownie recipe. After it has baked and cooled, fill it with ice cream covered with shaved chocolate."

Mrs. Edwards frequently finds herself in the role of a transient cook. Edwards, who is a rancher in the Garden City area, often needs an extra "kitchen" hand around round-up time.

As Mrs. Edwards explained, the main idea there is plenty of food, piping hot and on the

Festive Menu Sparks Gaiety

Fragrant slices of toasted raisinbread with an interesting cream cheese topping become the festive highlight of a beautiful holiday brunch. A swirl of crimson strawberry jam dramatizes the snowy white cream cheese accented with orange peel. Serve raisinbread this way with spicy sausages for a festive menu.

HOLIDAY RAISINBREAD

1/4 tsp. grated orange peel
2 tbsps. orange juice
1/4 cup strawberry jam

Good Buys Include Walnuts

Here's the long and the short of it — so far as U.S. nut production is concerned.

You can look for more almonds, filberts and walnuts this year than last, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. But there'll be a shorter pecan crop, especially on improved varieties. Production will be down by about 25 per cent from last year.

The peanut, a legume which we often think of as belonging to the nut family, will be less than last year by about four per cent. However, this year's crop is about 25 per cent above average.

The history of the filbert dates back to Homer's day, at least. That rod of Circe's was a hazel twig. Early settlers brought large thin-shelled filberts from Europe, but these and later plantings succumbed to frost, fungus and the hot American summers. Not until the late 1800's did the filbert find a home in the United States. Felix Gillet, a French nurseryman, established some European varieties in California. Gillet sold seedlings to growers in Oregon and Washington, creating the foundation for our filbert industry.

The culture of the Persian (English) walnut is almost immemorial. The Persians may have bought it from early Chinese traders. The Greeks took it to Rome. And the Romans carried it with them all over Europe. It has been cultivated in England since at least 1562. Not until 1867, however, did the Persian walnut take foothold in the New World.

These nuts usually add to all the luster of holiday baking. They'll combine deliciously in your baked goodies with raisins, reported plentiful during December by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Nutrition Goes With Fish Dish

For a bargain package of powerful nutrition, canned salmon is a good choice for your December shopping list.

From every nutritional standpoint — high protein value, strong vitamin and mineral content, easy digestibility — salmon is good food. It's especially recommended for those with weight and circulatory problems. And it's economical and so easy to serve!

An extra plentiful supply of canned salmon is available this season, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. For the first time since 1954, canneries turned out more than four million standard cases in 1966, and there was a sizable carryover from last year, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports.

Canned salmon is the basic ingredient of many glamorous dishes and tempting salads. It's also delicious just as it comes from the can, or with a sprinkling of salt and pepper, some minced onion and mayonnaise. Salmon sandwiches made this way are favorites for lunch boxes.

Most recipes suggest using the whole can of salmon, including the liquid, bones and skin. That's because these are good sources of iodine, phosphorus, vitamin A, vitamin D and the B group vitamins.

If extra weight is a problem in your family, you'll be glad to know that an ounce of salmon has only 37 1/2 calories.

The type of fat found in fish is readily used by the body, so fish can be eaten safely by one whose bloodstream tends to become clogged by cholesterol. The "unsaturated" or soft fats found in fish do not congeal at low temperatures.

This is why oil-laden fish can move freely in cold water, and it means that you can use fish to provide vital protein and energy without contributing to high cholesterol levels in the blood stream.

New Sandwiches Improve Lunches

If you're in need of new sandwich ideas for lunches, try these. They're made with meat to provide the energy children need for busy school days or adults require for daily work.

Mix deviled ham with sweet pickle relish and mayonnaise and spread on whole wheat bread.

Grind cooked or canned ham with minced cucumber and horseradish sauce. Spread this mixture on rye bread.

Grind leftover beef or pork roast with celery and hard-cooked egg. Mix with mayonnaise and Worcestershire sauce and spread on enriched white bread.

CELEBRITY RECIPES

Thomas E. Dewey Gives Good Brief For Berkshire Soup

DEWEY was three times governor of New York and twice a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

He first won fame as special prosecutor for the Investigation of Organized Crime in New York. Later elected district attorney of New York County, he racked up 72 convictions in two years, including Lucky Luciano.

You might say that some of the nation's biggest crooks landed in the soup as a result of his legal lading.

But now that the governor is in private practice, the soup he likes best is really a velvety creamy smooth and as delightful a way to start a meal as any you'll find in a week of search ing through exotic cook books. It is quite simply prepared but does require the cook to pay attention.

Rich and hearty, the Governor's Berkshire Soup can easily become the mainstay of a nourishing noon lunch, too. With a sandwich, its satisfying goodness will carry even hyperactive youngsters through a busy afternoon.

To begin, cook a finely chopped onion in a quarter-cup of butter for five minutes, stirring constantly. Then add half a bay leaf, 12 peppercorns and two tablespoons of flour and cook two minutes more, continuing to stir.

Add two and a half cups of canned tomatoes, juice and all two tablespoons of sugar, a teaspoon of salt, a half-teaspoon of ground pepper, and two cups of boiling water. Simmer for 20 minutes.

Add a cup of canned corn, either whole kernel or cream style, and cook 10 minutes more. Then force through a strainer, being thorough about it, so that all that is left in the sieve will be a few corn skins, the bay leaf and peppercorns.

Just before serving, add two egg yolks which have been slightly beaten and diluted with a half a cup of cream. Do this off the fire so the egg yolks won't scramble and spoil the looks of your soup, if not the flavor.

For an added touch you might sprinkle a bit of chopped parsley over the top or garnish with a few oven-crisped croutons.

Stuffed Celery

When you are stuffing celery, use ribs that have deep grooves.

Grapes Top List Of Good Buys

If Aesop's wily fox were not alive today, he'd never need to say, "Sour grapes," to rationalize his disappointment.

It's been such a good grape season, he'd surely find all he could eat well within his reach — and as pleasing to his palate as to his eye.

Shipments of table grapes to local markets are still running high, reports the Consumer and Marketing Service.

The crop promises to run only slightly below last year's record and a fifth larger than average, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

November is one of the peak months for Emperor grapes, which come mostly from California.

Emperor clusters are cone-shaped but longer than Tokay, and not so compact. The berries are uniform, large, light red to reddish purple, normally with seeds.

The berries are firm, neutral in flavor with thick skins. The stems are thick and berries adhere firmly, so they are good "keepers" and "shippers."

Emperors are important because they ripen late, stretching the grape season through the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Also, large quantities are held in cold storage to extend the marketing season well into spring.

Dear Abby

Lacking In Manners

DEAR ABBY: Last Sunday we attended church in a small college town where our daughter is a student. The young couple sitting directly in front of us did everything except kiss each other in fond embrace. Clearly, they were having a date, and it made no difference that they were in church, surrounded by serious-minded adults who had come to hear the church service. My husband could feel my seething just by looking at me, and my daughter implored me with her eyes not to say or do anything, so I chickened out and said I would write to you. What would you have done? CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: I would have prayed to the Lord to send those ill-behaved young people some much needed manners, judgment, and self-control.

DEAR ABBY: At the end of your column it says, "Troubled? Write to Abby."

Well, I am just troubled enough to write to you about this problem, which irks me no end: When I invite friends to dinner, some will say, "Don't go to any trouble."

Exactly, what do they mean by this? Do they wish me to serve them TV dinners in their original containers? Or do they expect me to take them to a restaurant? Those are the only two ways I can think of to entertain guests without "going to any trouble."

I am a good cook, and my friends know it, so they should realize that I most certainly shall go to considerable trouble in preparing a company meal. And the next person who tells me not to "go to any trouble" will not be invited again!

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: You appear to be all steamed up over a colloquial expression. Your guests were trying to tell you not to "knock yourself out," another expression I am sure you understand, but would not be expected to take literally.

DEAR ABBY: Please, please print this letter. It might make a few girls think twice before begging for a wedding ring.

I fell in love with Mark when I was 15. He was 17. I fought with my family because I wanted to quit school and get married. Mark wanted to go to college, but I talked him into taking a job in a parking lot so we could get married right away. We ran off and got married and broke our parents' hearts. I got pregnant real quick so our parents wouldn't have our marriage annulled.

Well, Mark wasn't really ready to settle down so when he'd spend an evening with his buddies, I'd get mad and jealous. Then we started fussing at each other. He couldn't stand my whining so he left me. Now we're getting a divorce because he says he missed out on his youth and it's my fault. I still love him, but his love for me has turned to hate.

Please, Abby, keep telling young girls to finish high school and let the guys grow up before they start nagging for marriage. I am 16 years old, pregnant, and in six months I'll be a divorcee. Sign this.

Billie Sue Sechrist, 26, was crushed under the vehicle after being thrown out at a point about 1 1/2 miles south of Plainview where workmen are tying a new loop into the highway.

Bobbie Hutcheson, also hurled from the car, suffered serious injuries.

Wives Of Civilians May Visit Saigon

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—The U.S. Embassy announced today that wives of American civilian officials stationed in Vietnam can come to Saigon to visit their husbands during the Christmas holidays.

Deputy Ambassador William J. Porter directed that wives but no children could visit in Saigon from Dec. 23 until Jan. 3.

Some 2,000 wives, children and other dependents of U.S. officials were ordered out of Vietnam in February 1966, as a safety precaution. Many of them live in Bangkok, Manila and Hong Kong.

Brandt Declares:

NATO Cracks Might Provoke Red Attack

PARIS (AP) — Foreign and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization met without France Wednesday and heard a warning from Foreign Minister Willy Brandt of West Germany that cracks in the alliance could provoke the Soviet Union into a fatal miscalculation.

Making his first appearance in allied councils, Brandt told NATO's "defense planning committee" that a first-rate conflict within the Western camp could lead Moscow to misinterpret the West's basic unity.

The "defense planning committee" is a euphemism for NATO minus France, a situation arising from President Charles de Gaulle's withdrawal from the integrated military structure.

NOT IMPOSSIBLE

Brandt, referring to the recent study of defense needs by U.S., British and West German officials, conceded that an attack by the Soviet Union is not now likely, but he warned that it is also not impossible.

The ministers were meeting to put the planning and management of their nuclear defense in the hands of an inner-core group of six or seven nations.

RUSK TALKS

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Secretary George Brown of Britain discussed Vietnam over the breakfast table.

Rusk gave Brown an account of the military and political situation as seen from Washington and Saigon. Rusk flew into Paris from Southeast Asia Tuesday.

At Thursday's NATO meeting, Rusk is expected to call on America's allies for greater backing of the war effort in Vietnam.

British sources reported Brown went into considerable detail over prospects of enlisting Soviet help for the process of making peace in Vietnam.

NUCLEAR STRATEGY

Brown returned from Moscow recently. He conferred there with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and others on Vietnam.

The Russians gave Brown no sign of change in Communist terms for a Vietnamese settlement. But Brown and his advisers thought it significant that the Russians are prepared to discuss all aspects of the situation. This attitude contrasts with the refusal in the past to discuss Vietnam with Westerners.

In their session, the working partners of NATO plunged into the task of providing political guidance to their nuclear strategy.

Oil Production Hits New High

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Oil and lease condensate production hit a fourth consecutive all-time high last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

The average was 8,460,535 barrels per day, up 83,070 from the previous week. For the year the total is 2,854,104,000 barrels, compared to 2,676,600,200 last year.

Oklahoma produced 633,640 barrels a day last week, up 35,950, and Texas averaged 2,909,450 daily, up 29,275. Louisiana production increased 6,425 barrels per day to 1,949,000.

Ex-Premier Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, 65, the last non-Communist premier of Poland, died Tuesday of a heart attack in his home. He became premier in 1945 and was the leader of all Polish anti-Communist political factions in the 1946 referendum and the 1947 parliamentary elections.

He points out that since the Bible clearly divided people into sheep and goats, and put the goats on the left, right-handers have acted as though all left-handers were to be despised.

200 MILLION IN WORLD For instance, there are an estimated 200 million left-handed people in the world.

He names a lot of them, from Charlie Chaplin to Paul McCartney.

GIANT CONSPIRACY

Left-Handed People Deprived Of Rights?

LONDON (AP) — What do you give a left-hander for Christmas?

How about a left-handed book?

There's one on the market this year called "The Left-Handed Book, An Investigation Into the Sinister History of Left-Handedness."

It was written by left-hander Michael Barsley, who has been doing his research for 14 years.

The author maintains there is a centuries-old conspiracy to deprive left-handed people of their rights as citizens.

He points out that since the Bible clearly divided people into sheep and goats, and put the goats on the left, right-handers have acted as though all left-handers were to be despised.

200 MILLION IN WORLD For instance, there are an estimated 200 million left-handed people in the world.

He names a lot of them, from Charlie Chaplin to Paul McCartney.

One of the world's greatest geniuses, Leonardo da Vinci, was left-handed. On the other hand, so was Jack the Ripper.

There is one chapter on whether the water in a bathtub goes in a right-hand or left-hand circle when you pull the plug.

AGAINST NATURE "Under ideal conditions water north of the equator swirls away anticlockwise, to the left. Water south of the equator swirls happily away to the right."

The author agrees with Thomas Carlyle that right-handedness is the oldest institution in the world.

"Upon it," he says, "much human activity has been based, and nearly all religious practices have been founded. The Biblical quotations in praise of the right-handed are echoed by the Koran and the Torah. "But to be left-handed is not the deliberate choice of the individual. Whether hereditary or acquired, it becomes manifest in early childhood. "There are some who think that a child who insists on using his left hand in defiance of parental or tutorial disapproval is being wilful or cussed. But this is to deny something which, to the left-hander, is the obvious and easiest way of doing things — going against nature."

4-C Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Dec. 15, 1966
