Questioned In Slaying

James Lee Collins, 18, Erlanger, Ky., was questioned by police late Sunday night in the slaying of an Indiana state trooper. He surrendered after he held a couple captive more than five hours. He was charged with first degree murder. The picture was taken from a building across the street from the city hall. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Trooper Slaying Suspect Charged

GREENSBURG, Ind. (AP) — A teenager hunted in the slaying of a state trooper held an elderly farm couple captive more than five hours before surrendering Sunday without resistance. James Lee Collins, 18, Erlanger, Ky., was jailed on a preliminary charge of first-degree murder. A companion, James W. Sprinkle, 29, Newport, Ky., died in the gun battle which killed trooper William R. Rayner, 30, Greensburg. Lawrence B. Ernestes, 78, and his wife, Christine, 76, said they were confronted by the youth when they returned home from church.

appearance. He even scraped mud off his shoes." Ernestes said Collins acted tough at first, but "finally came around after an hour. I pointed out the difference in our ages, and said to him, 'Surely you don't need a gun to defend yourself against us.'" The youth then unloaded the shotgun and put it down, Ernestes said. Mrs. Ernestes cooked bacon and eggs. "He ate well," she said. Ernestes said the youth told him, "Listen, old man, you've treated me nice. Come dark, I'll slip away. You won't be the worse for it."

CARS COMB

When the couple's son, Henry, 52, and his wife, Ruby, 52, stopped by 5 1/2 hours later, the elder Mrs. Ernestes signaled that something was wrong. The daughter-in-law darted from the house, ran down the road and flagged one of the dozens of police cars combing the area. Collins and Sprinkle were absent without leave from the Louisville, Ky., Community Guidance Center, a supervisory institution for parolees. Authorities said they were in a stolen car with Sprinkle driving when Rayner stopped them early Sunday on Interstate 74 about three miles east of here.

Ernestes said Collins met him and his wife outside their home, holding a shotgun he had found inside. He was wearing some of Ernestes' clothes. UNLOADS SHOTGUN The couple was ordered into the house, Ernestes said. When he refused, Collins struck him with his fist, then prodded him with the shotgun. "I think he was pretty nervous," Mrs. Ernestes said. "His own clothes were wet and dirty," she added. "He did everything possible to help his

Planes Raid Hanoi Area

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. warplanes returned to the Hanoi area with clearing weather over the Red River Valley today and attacked the Ha Gia fuel storage area 14 1/2 miles north of the North Vietnamese capital, a U.S. spokesman reported. It was the first air strike around Hanoi since heavy strikes in the area last Tuesday and Wednesday. The U.S. Command said foul weather had forced U.S. air raiders to concentrate on North Vietnam's southern panhandle. In the South, the United States continued beefing up its troop strength with the arrival of a guerrilla-trained brigade of the 9th Infantry Division — the old outfit of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Vietnam. He was on hand to greet them.

HOMES BOMBED? Ground fighting tapered off to small-scale skirmishes. In the new raids in the Hanoi area, a U.S. spokesman in Saigon said, initial pilot reports indicated all the ordnance from the U.S. planes hit in the target area. The pilots reported sighting Communist MIG jets in the area of the fuel dump, but preliminary reports disclosed no exchange of fire. The raids last week set off a series of Communist charges that homes were bombed in Hanoi, killing women and children. The United States denied that any bombs fell on the Communist capital. U.S. officials speculated that the Communist ground fire — missiles and aircraft shells — may have fallen on the city. Also there was a possibility U.S. bombs and rockets fell accidentally on nonmilitary targets, as frequently happens in aerial warfare.

RAIL TARGETS The raids last week were five and six miles from the center of Hanoi, spokesmen in Saigon said. The targets were railroad and truck depots, though Communist broadcasts insist the Communist Chinese Embassy and the Romanian Embassy in Hanoi were damaged.

Ruby Claims No Conspiracy In Killing

EDITOR'S NOTE — Gravelly ill of cancer, Jack Ruby lies in a guarded room in Parkland Hospital, where slain President John F. Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald died before him. Herewith is an exclusive picture of Ruby's thoughts in his last days, in what may be his last statement for history.

By BERNARD ZAVIER DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby in his dying days still insists there was no conspiracy involved in his killing of Lee Harvey Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy. Ruby, fully aware he is dying of cancer, wants to take any scientific test to prove for history there was no conspiracy. "Jack has told me a dozen times or more he prays to be given a final lie detector test so people will be convinced that there was no plan on his part, or conspiracy of any kind, to kill Oswald," said Ruby's brother, Earl, a Detroit businessman. "It is his last wish."

Earl Ruby and Elmer Gertz, Chicago lawyer and member of the legal team which on Oct. 5 won a reversal from the death sentence for Ruby, described Ruby's plea to do anything to erase any doubt that he acted alone in shooting Oswald. They had seen Ruby an hour earlier in Parkland Memorial Hospital where Ruby, under guard, is undergoing treatment. This is the same hospital where the mortally wounded president and Oswald were taken. Gertz and Earl Ruby were asked whether Jack Ruby has any regrets about killing Oswald and thus making impossible a trial, perpetuating for all time the feeling that the full story of the assassination will never be known. "NOTHING TO HIDE" "He has regrets, but they are not so much about Oswald," said Gertz. "These are regrets about the havoc caused to his people." Ruby, a Jew, is known to feel that his action reflected poorly upon the Jewish people. "Jack reads the newspapers and magazines and watches television and is aware of the controversy about the Warren report and all the books and articles which are constructing incredible stories of a conspiracy in which he is claimed to have had a part," said Gertz. "He says, 'How can they think I am hiding anything or protecting anyone else? There is nothing to hide; there was no one else.'" As he lies gravely ill, he still maintains — according to Gertz and Earl Ruby — that "I never met or knew or saw Oswald until I saw him in jail, and I never knew Officer Tippit." Connally Eyes $100-Million New Revenue

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally said today the 1967 legislature may have to find ways of raising more than $100 million in new revenue.

At the same time the governor told a news conference he hoped the new revenue would not have to include an increase in the present two per cent state sales tax. "When I make my address to the legislature I will have specific recommendations for new taxes, and also for some new spending not in my budget," Connally said.

The governor stressed that his estimate of more than $100 million new revenue included the $65 million gap between his 1968-69 budget submitted to legislators last week and the expected income for the next two fiscal years.

PRESS SECRETARY Connally also said William F. Carter, public information officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety since 1959, would become his press secretary on Jan. 1. Carter will succeed George Christian who left Connally's staff to become a White House aide and will become press secretary to President Johnson Feb. 1.

Connally refused to say what other state spending he would ask outside his recommended budget which calls for expenditures totaling $911 million from the general revenue fund, in the face of only $847 million estimated income.

The governor did say the emergency appropriations he will ask on the opening day, Jan. 10, probably would be less than $10 million. There has been speculation he would ask approval at once of appropriations for state participation in the 1968 HemisFair at San Antonio, for Texas water development, for the Texas College Coordinating Board, and to help increase nursing training facilities.

UNDECIDED Connally said he had not yet made up his mind if he would ask an increase in state college tuition, as recommended by the coordinating board.

He also said he had not decided if he would make a specific recommendation concerning public school teacher salaries.

He said he was meeting with a delegation of Texas mayors again today and would make some specific recommendations to the legislature designed to ease city financial problems. Connally said he had not changed his stand against the state allowing cities to levy their own sales tax although he was still studying the problem. Connally said he would ask again for four-year terms for the Texas governor — "whether it applies to the incumbent or not."

U. S. Asks UN's Thant To Arrange Cease-Fire

Young Yanks Plead Guilty

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Two young Americans pleaded guilty at the start of their trial in a Leningrad court today to violating Soviet currency regulations.

Buel Ray Wortham of North Little Rock, Ark., also pleaded guilty to stealing an antique statue of a bear from a Leningrad hotel.

The currency charge against Wortham and Craddock M. Gilmour Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah, carries a possible prison sentence of three to eight years. The maximum sentence on the theft charge is three years.

Wortham, 25, and Gilmour, 24, were arrested Oct. 1 as they were driving to Finland. Gilmour was released Dec. 1 on bail of more than $11,000 but bail was denied Wortham. The trial is expected to last three days.

This is because Soviet legal procedure requires, regardless of the plea, a round for the prosecution to present its full case, then a round for the defense, after which the judges retire to write their lengthy summation of the whole trial by hand. In trials involving foreigners, the Russians try to display the meticulous nature of their legal system as a defense against any criticism.

The indictment charged that Wortham illegally exchanged $35 and 35 Finnish marks for 75 rubles while Gilmour had Wortham change $30 for him for 45 rubles. In effect this meant that the two paid about $75 for rubles worth $132 at the official rate.

The indictment also accused Wortham of taking a statue of a bear from his hotel and trying to remove it from the country in his suitcase. After the indictment had been translated into English, the woman judge presiding, Nina I. Isakova, asked the defendants how they pleaded.

Tahoka Murder Suspect Quizzed

DALLAS (AP) — West Texas police have questioned a man held in Dallas in the Dec. 8 shotgun death of Tahoka, Tex., businessman Maurice Bray.

Dallas police said Sunday Tahoka Police Chief Jack Miller questioned a man jailed here. Miller, officers said, made no move to file charges against the 30-year-old man.

Bray, a former Southern Methodist University football player, was found shot to death in the garage of his Tahoka automobile dealership. Dallas police said the man questioned here spent the night at a hotel across the street from Bray's agency the night of the death.

LEE ROGERS NEW PRESIDENT

Two Former Mayors Will Guide C-C For Next Year

Two men long active in community public service will be at the reins in guiding the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce in 1967.

Elected Monday noon at a meeting of the C-C board of directors were Dr. Lee O. Rogers, president; and George Zachariah, vice president. Coincidentally, both are former mayors of the city, both have been leaders in many civic and public development programs. They, with new chamber directors, will be formally presented to the membership at the annual banquet January 15.

Re-elected to serve another term as treasurer was Clyde Hollingsworth. Named as new directors were Don Womack, Texas Electric Service Company district manager; Dr. Robert Henry Johnson, dentist; Dr. Milton Talbot, pediatrician; Harry Sawyer, local manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and Billy W. Jones, president of Big Spring Savings Association. They replace Chester Cathey, Jack Irons, Garner McAdams, Joe Pickle and Winston Winkle.

Holdover members of the board, under a rotation system, are Dr. John H. Fish, G. I. Jones, George McAllister, Bill Pollard, R. J. Ream, Jack Cook, Larry Crow, Clyde McMahon Jr., Paul Meek and Jerry Worthy.

Rogers, virtually a life-long citizen of the city, succeeds John Currie. Rogers has practiced as an orthodontist here for more than three decades, and has contributed much time and effort to community upbuilding. He served several terms on the City Commission, several years as mayor. He was the city's chief executive officer when the Five-Year Master Plan program was conceived and executed. Dr. Rogers also has been campaign chairman and president of the United Fund, and currently serves on the board of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Zachariah also was a veteran city commissioner and succeeded Rogers as mayor. He, too, has been a perennial leader in the American Legion, and has worked extensively in the area of aiding crippled children, helping organize and direct a unit here, and helping originate the present Rehabilitation Center. He is currently a director of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and has been state president.

Court Seeks For Airport Authority

Howard County Commissioners Court today dispatched a letter to Sen. David Ratliff and Rep. Temple Dickson asking their support in enactment of an enabling act to create a Howard County Airport Authority.

Under a recently approved amendment such acts can be passed by the legislature creating county airport authorities to acquire, maintain and improve county airport facilities.

The letter assures the two legislators that the county lends "full support to your efforts in the passage of the proper enabling legislation."

The letter explains: "If the Howard County community is to maintain a progressive position in the area of providing facilities for air transportation, considerable expansion and improvement of the Howard County Airport will be vitally necessary in the near future."

"After studying various means to bring about such expansion and improvement, it is the feeling that this best can be accomplished by the creation of a Howard County Airport Authority as has been made permissible under the new constitutional amendment approved in Nov. 1966."

The letter then urges the lawmakers to help the county get the enabling act approved by the legislature. All of the commissioners signed the letter as did Lee Porter, county judge.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The GIs in Vietnam are getting ready for a Christmas invasion, and some of it should be fun. Bob Hope commands the largest task force of invaders, but the bare legs and jokes of his troupe will share the spotlight with Billy Graham, Francis Cardinal Spellman and several congressmen. Evangelist Graham and the Roman Catholic archbishop of New York both have scheduled trips to military installations and will conduct some religious services. Hope left Los Angeles Friday with his 69-member fun company for his 15th annual Christmas tour and his 25th journey to entertain American servicemen.

DISC JOCKEY Hope's troupe also includes Phyllis Diller, Joey Heatherton, Anita Bryant, Les Brown and his band, and the Korean Kittens. They will perform in Vietnam, Guam, Thailand and the Philippines. Gen. Earle Johnson, U.S. Army chief of staff, also will be in Vietnam this week. But the average soldier will be a lot more interested in Chris Noel, a 26-year-old disc jockey who is in Saigon to attract attention for her program. Her 36-24-36 dimensions, mini-skirt eight inches above the knee, green eyes and blonde hair attracted considerable attention on the street Sunday. She will be on the armed forces radio all this week.

EYES PEELED Author John Steinbeck also is visiting with troops and four members of Congress are expected to remain for the holidays — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Reps. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., George W. Grider, D-Tenn., and Lera Thomas, D-Tex.

Although both sides have proclaimed 48-hour cease-fires for Christmas and New Year's, some of the GIs will miss the visiting VIP's because they will be on watch-posts with eyes peeled for an unwanted Viet Cong visitor.

Goldberg Says United States To Cooperate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today asked U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to take whatever steps are necessary in trying to arrange talks on a Vietnam cease-fire.

A spokesman for the secretary-general said U Thant already had been seeking a cease-fire but that he would study the U.S. request closely. The request was handed to the secretary-general by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg during a 20-minute private meeting. Goldberg pledged full U.S. cooperation in any cease-fire efforts.

LEJ'S DESIRE The U.S. request was contained in a letter which stressed the desire of President Johnson for an end of the Vietnam conflict, and the U.S. hope that the secretary-general might be able to take a useful initiative. Goldberg said a cease-fire could be the subject of preliminary discussions.

"I herewith reaffirm our commitment to that proposal," Goldberg declared, noting that both Pope Paul VI and Thant had appealed for a cessation of the hostilities.

HONORABLE PACT "Our objective remains the end of all the fighting, of all the hostilities and of all violence in Vietnam — and an honorable and lasting settlement here, for which, as we have repeatedly said, the Geneva agreements of 1954 and 1962 would be a satisfactory basis."

He concluded as follows: "We turn to you, therefore, with the hope and the request that you will take whatever steps you consider necessary to bring about the necessary discussions which could lead to such a cease-fire."

BOMBING HALT "I can assure you that the government of the United States will cooperate fully with you in getting such discussions started promptly and in bringing them to a successful conclusion."

A U.N. spokesman said Thant "will have this document under close study." In response to a question as to whether the secretary-general was not already seeking a cease-fire, the spokesman replied: "Yes. He has been trying to get a cease-fire and to bring about a solution on the basis of his three-point proposal."

This included an immediate cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam, a gradual de-escalation of military actions by both sides and participation of all parties, including the Viet Cong, in peace negotiations.

331st Officers Tapped For Major

The 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, under the command of Col. M. W. Shareck Jr., has five members today named as new majors in the Air Force.

Capt. Richard L. Davis, George A. Ball, E. M. Bunn, Joseph A. Murphy and John S. Albach Jr. received notification this morning of their upcoming promotions. Not all will immediately don the gold leaves, however. The promotion board, which meets annually, considered thousands of officers for the promotions, and the dates of rank will be scattered over the next 12 months.

Capt. Davis is a veteran of 15 years service in the Air Force. He is a Korean veteran, having served as wingman for the late Col. James Jabara, World War II and Korean ace. He presently serves as assistant operations officer for the squadron. He and his wife, Lois, live at 88-B Ent.

Capt. Ball is an Askov, Minn., native with 16 years service. Wearing the patch on his shoulder which states "100 missions, North Vietnam, F-105," he is a new member of the 331st. Ball received his commission after graduating from Aviation Cadets in 1959, having served as an enlisted man. Capt. Ball, his wife, Lois and their three children live on North Albrook in Webb Village.

Capt. E. M. (Mel) Bunn, who recently achieved 1,000 hours flying in the Mach 2 F-104 Starfighter, received his commission in the Air Force through Aviation Cadets in 1956. After serving as a controller in a Canadian radar site, he joined the 331st in 1963. He serves as squadron gunnery officer and was recently named to receive the coveted Air Defense Command "Master of Air Defense." Capt. Bunn and his wife, June, have one son, Gregory.

Capt. Joseph A. Murphy, Upper Darby, Pa., will complete 14 years service in March 1967. After serving as a fighter pilot in the 332nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron in Thule, Greenland, he joined the 331st in May 1962. Prior to entering the service and receiving his commission through Aviation Cadets in 1954, Capt. Murphy attended Pennsylvania State in University Park, Pa. He and his wife, Beverly, are the parents of three children, Mark, Terry and Michael.

Capt. John S. Albach Jr., training officer of the squadron, graduated from Grinnell College in Iowa in 1954, and was awarded his commission in the Air Force. While assigned to the 331st, he participated in the Dominican Crisis. He, his wife, Lloyd, and their three children reside at 57-B Chanute. Prior to his assignment to the Webb based squadron, he served on the battle staff of the Phoenix Air Defense Sector in Arizona.

Tools Stolen From School

Yeggs made a big haul at the high school Friday night, carting off some $200 in hand tools from the auto mechanics classroom, according to John Smith, principal.

Detective Sherrill Farmer said entry was gained through an unlocked window. However, he said all the tools had stenciled identification on them and might be easy to trace.

Burglars broke a door glass to enter the Phillips 66 station, 200 Benton, Friday night, taking $7 in pennies.

Mrs. Dick Beard, 811 Andree, reported a 1959 model car taken from her home.

John P. Stanley, 406 1/2 Dallas, said a stereo unit and nine tapes were stolen from his locked car while sitting in the carport of his home.

Mike Pederson, Abilene, said a suit valued at $35 was stolen from his room at the Sands Motel Saturday night.

Brutal Stabbing Suspect Jailed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Police arrested a suspect today in the mutilation stabbing of a 77-year-old San Antonio woman, found dead in her public housing unit apartment Sunday.

Officers said charges would be filed today in the slaying of Mrs. Violette O. Rowland, who died from 37 stab wounds.

Homicide detectives said a man was arrested and admitted the slaying. Officers said the suspect had been advised of his rights, booked and held for murder charges.

Mrs. Rowland's body was found about 10 a.m. Sunday by her grandson, Jack Elliott, 27, of San Antonio.

Elliott said he came to her apartment to return her car, which he had borrowed. Mrs. Rowland lived alone, police said, and always kept her doors locked. Officers found no signs of forced entry.

Elliott said he saw Mrs. Rowland alive at 10 p.m. Saturday when he borrowed her automobile.

Police said the room in which the body was found showed no signs of a struggle, except for two overturned drinking glasses.

Wounded Man Files No Charges

Leonardo Moya, Ellis Homes, has refused to file charges against the man who cut him on the face and neck Saturday night. Although he identified the man and officers have witnesses, apparently no charges will be filed.

The injured man was taken to Medical Arts Hospital where numerous stitches were required to close the wound. Moya could give no reason for the assault.

Answer Due Today In Vote Contest

Ray C. Nichols, county commissioner from Commissioner Precinct No. 2, will file his answer today to a contest against his re-election lodged in 118th District Court by Winston Wrinkle. Wrinkle was his Republican opponent in the November general election.

Nichols' attorney, Lanny Hamby, said the answer is being prepared and will be handed to Fern Cox, district court clerk for filing, before closing time at the office today.

Wrinkle, in his motion to contest the election of Nichols, cited that the latter had been declared winner by only eight votes. He further charged that

Thief Grabs Wrong Auto

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP)—Stealing Christmas trees doesn't pay—especially when you try a getaway in a police cruiser with policemen as chauffeurs.

A 16-year-old Dearborn youth found this out—the hard way—Sunday night.

With pals parked in the rear of a store in a white car, police said the youth sneaked around to the front of a supermarket, grabbed a tree and scampered back.

But a white Dearborn police cruiser had pulled up in the rear and the sneak-thief's pals had vamoosed.

Panting, the 16-year-old ran up in the darkness and said, "Let's get out of here before the cops come." The cops, it turned out, were in the front seat.

The tree went back, youth delivered. The youth was police-delivered into custody of his parents.

Coahoma 4-H Girls Entertain

COAHOMA (SC)—Members of the Coahoma 4-H Club furnished entertainment to residents of Bennett House in a Christmas good-turn Saturday. They sang carols, and Elaine Webb played a piano solo as did Phyllis Wynn. Gloria Webb was costumed as Frosty the Snowman as the group sang the novelty tune by that name. Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Donald Webb and Mrs. Phil Wynn.

Police today were checking on a 14-year-old Latin American girl's story that she was raped Saturday night. She gave officers the name of the man involved, and officers were gathering statements.

WAYNE OGLESBY

Oglesby Is Ordained As Minister

Wayne Oglesby, a native Howard County boy and currently a student in Howard County Junior College, was ordained as a Baptist minister on Sunday at the Midway Baptist Church.

His father, the Rev. Dan A. Oglesby, pastor of the church, preached the ordination sermon.

Wayne will become pastor of the Baptist Church at Bradshaw and will soon leave Howard County Junior College to re-enroll in Hardin-Simmons in order to be nearer to his pastorate.

His home church—the Midway Baptist Church—called on ordained ministers and deacons of the churches of the Big Spring Baptist Association to compose a council for the ordination services.

The Rev. Clyde Campbell, of Hillcrest Baptist Church was moderator; the Rev. J. W. Arnett was clerk. Rev. H. B. Graves Jr. of Coahoma directed the examination period and Wayne's father then delivered the ordination sermon.

There were 15 other ministers and deacons on hand to fill out the ordaining council. The new minister is a graduate of the Coahoma High School where he was a player on the football team. He is in his first year at the Howard County Junior College. He was born in Howard County.

He also was winner of the first Zale - Herald Youth Achievement Award.

Kennedy Book Publishers Try To 'Patch Things Up'

NEW YORK (AP) — Spokesmen for two publishers involved in the dispute with the Kennedy family over publication of the book, "The Death of a President," disclosed today that efforts are being made to settle the matter out of court.

The disclosure followed a statement by William Manchester, author of the book, denying that he had broken faith with Mrs. John F. Kennedy or that he had taken advantage of her confidence in him. The book is about the assassination of President Kennedy.

"There are continuing efforts to patch things up," said a spokesman for Harper & Row, Publishers Inc., which plans to bring out the 300,000-word hard-cover book in April.

"Every effort will be made to work things out," the spokesman said. "There are always the author's rights and her rights."

PERSONAL MATTER

Asked if the aim might be to reach some understanding on the separation of deeply personal matter, which Mrs. Kennedy seeks to keep out of the book, from what is considered history, the spokesman replied: "I think that is pretty accurate."

A spokesman for Look magazine, which plans a four-part, 80,000 word serialization of the book starting with the Jan. 10 issue, said:

"Discussions between the lawyers representing the two sides in the dispute are continuing."

The New York Times reported that in Washington, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., brother of the late president, charged that Manchester "now intends to go ahead in violation of the word of his agreement, the spirit of his arrangements and despite the pain he knows it will give Mrs. Kennedy."

In his statement, issued through Look magazine Sunday, Manchester said:

"It has been said that my work is being published prematurely and that magazine serialization was not contemplated by the Kennedy family. This is not so. In the summer of 1966, authorization was given by the family for publication of the book in early 1967, to be preceded by serialization in Look magazine.

"It has been said that I have broken faith with Mrs. Kennedy; that I took advantage of her confidence in me and that I recorded too faithfully her words and emotions. I do not believe this to be so.

"I DID NOT"

"Mrs. Kennedy gave me 10 hours of interviews; I did not, indeed could not, have conducted these interviews without her voluntary cooperation. Mrs. Kennedy herself did not ask to see the manuscript and still hasn't. If she had, I would, of course, have given it to her.

"John Kennedy was my president. To suggest that I would dishonor his memory or my association with him is both cruel and unjust. His standards of excellence have guided me throughout this work.

"I believe John Kennedy, who was himself an historian, would have wanted his countrymen to know the truth of those terrible days, and I have dedicated myself for nearly three years to reliving and reconstructing them so that the truth could be faithfully and accurately recorded."

A hearing on Mrs. Kennedy's suit to block publication is set for Dec. 27. The defendants — Manchester, Harper & Row, and Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look — are scheduled to file written briefs Thursday in reply to the suit.

In her suit, Mrs. Kennedy charged breach of contract, invasion of privacy and infringement of her copyright by unauthorized use of her name in advertisements and promotion.

Christmas Spirit Is Spread Thick

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With delicate animation of the characters and a chilling narration by Boris Karloff, "The Grinch Who Stole Christmas" lost nothing and even gained something in its transition from the printed page to the television screen.

The grotesquely imaginative drawings by Dr. Seuss came to life in the half-hour Christmas fable on CBS Sunday night. It was one of the rare children's shows that are really interesting to adults.

It was a pretty grim tale, how that "nasty fellow who slithered and slunk" hated Christmas and went into all the happy homes in Whoville Christmas Eve disguised as Santa Claus and stole all the evidences of the holiday — gifts, feasts and even the trees and their decorations. The trouble with the Grinch, it was explained was simply that his heart was three sizes too small.

HAPPY ENDING

But there was a happy ending. The Whoville folks, undaunted by the loss of the presents, welcomed Christmas anyway. And the sour old Grinch suddenly realized that "maybe Christmas doesn't come from a store — maybe Christmas means a little bit more."

There will be another of what CBS calls "family fun shows" on the network early this eve-

Likes 'Men, Not Daisies'

Anna Klym, 20, a Russian-born naturalized American from Iowa, says she has decided to give up her studies at Leeds University in Leeds, England, and return to the United States, where, she says, "men are men, not daisies." Miss Klym's views on English men, published in the Leeds University student newspaper stirred up a row among the students. English men "have no sex appeal," she wrote. She has spent a full term at Leeds since breaking off her studies at the University of Iowa. (AP WIREPHOTO by cable from London)

Stock Market Dip Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market losses deepened early this afternoon following a sharp decline by General Electric which unsettled the list. Trading was moderately active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down sharply, losing 10.69 to 796.49.

Weakness in GE spread to other blue chips which are influential in the closely watched Dow average.

A weekend statement by GE President Fred J. Borch that the company's 1966 earnings would fall somewhat below last year's record level was linked with the weakness in GE stock.

The GE statement came as a surprise to Wall Street.

Book Editor Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Irita Van Doren, former editor of the New York Herald Tribune Book Review, died Sunday after a brief illness. She was 73.

City Employees In Short Supply

DALLAS (AP)—City Manager Scott McDonald says the city is having to work under makeshift conditions to compensate for a shortage of city employees available.

"A great deal of engineering design work is being contracted to compensate for the shortage of engineering personnel in the water and public works department," he said in a recent report. "The other departments are just having to do the best they can with the personnel available."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠106 ♥K10 ♠A53 ♠Q1082
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—A bid of three no trump strikes us as a reasonable gamble. Having protection in three suits and a maximum raise, you should be willing to risk the spade suit in the quest for the shortest road to game.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠106 ♥K1054 ♠Q62 ♠95
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Dble. Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Our vote is for a raise to two no trump. While normally such a raise denotes a holding of eight points (or seven points with a five card suit), we choose to raise with a point less than is normally prescribed because a take-out double followed by a bid of one no trump will usually indicate a hand that is slightly better than an ordinary one no trump overall.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K97 ♥AJ642 ♠K103 ♠74
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—This hand is just a shade too good for a rebid of one no trump, and yet it is not quite strong enough for a jump to two no trump, which is forcing to game. We suggest a raise to two spades, the normally we avoid doing this with only three trumps when partner presumably has a four card suit. If partner rebids, we will then try three no trump on the next round.

Q. 4—As/South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A8 ♥A10754 ♠J ♠AQ102
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—In order to determine the best final contract, a temporary bid is in order and the suggested call is four clubs. If partner re-

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQJ952 ♠4 ♠AKQJ ♠47
The bidding has proceeded:
East South
What do you bid?
A.—Your first duty is to make a bid which is forcing to game. The only one available is a cue bid of two hearts. Regardless of partner's response, you will then embark on a Blackwood bid to determine the number of aces he holds. An immediate four no trump call might be misunderstood.

Q. 6—Both sides vulnerable. You are South, and hold:
♠AK1082 ♥7 ♠AK53 ♠J97
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
What do you bid?
A.—Double. You should be able to take at least four tricks against a club contract, which with partner's expected three, will come to a 500 point penalty. With no sign of a fit, you should resist the temptation to bid two spades.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠843 ♥QJ9862 ♠102 ♠95
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass 3 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Partner has a powerful hand with values distributed in all suits. You may be sure, therefore, that he has some reasonably good heart support, and the proper bid is four hearts. A no trump contract might not work out well if the enemy is able to shut you out of your heart suit.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠KQ85 ♥5 ♠A986 ♠KQ43
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♠ Dble. Pass Pass Pass
What is your opening lead?
A.—The opening lead of a trump is clearly indicated. Your partner by leaving in the double has predicted that your side will win more tricks with hearts as trump than will the opponents. It is, therefore, important not to permit declarer to win tricks with any of his low trumps, and the extracting process must be started at once.

Young Father Shoots Self

KERMIT, Tex. (AP) — A young father, armed with a 12 gauge shotgun, barricaded himself with his two infant children, his estranged wife and her mother and sister in a house Sunday and threatened to kill them, police said.

The only shot fired was the one the youth, Gary Nordman, 21, used to kill himself, Patrolman Paul Forest said.

Nordman and his wife, Gloria, 19, were discussing a possible reconciliation at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jean Cranford, when the young couple started arguing, Forest said.

Mrs. Nordman and her children, LaRonda Gail, 18 months, and Gary Jim, 7 months, made their home with Mrs. Cranford after separating from Nordman.

Mrs. Cranford, 45, tried to call authorities from her home, Forest said, and when Nordman stopped her she ran across the street to a neighbor's house to notify police.

Forest said Mrs. Cranford returned to her house and while her other daughter, Gail, 17, distracted Nordman the two mothers fled with the children. Deputy Sheriff Bill Sage and Police Sgt. C. M. Wilkinson, the first officers to reach the house, said they called to Nordman to "come out and talk it over."

A suit on a note, originally set for jury trial in 118th District Court last week, was being tried today before Judge Ralph Caton.

The case is styled Harold Letcher vs. William Blanchard.

Rich Oklahoma Oil Man Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Frank Buttram, 80, who built a fortune in oil and built the profession of petroleum geology along with it, died Sunday.

Born poor, Buttram was a millionaire before he was 32 and his oil company made him one of the nation's biggest independent oil men. His philanthropies and civic works made him one of Oklahoma's most honored citizens.

He had been inactive, professionally and in civic work, in recent years. Services are set for 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City.

Buttram was convinced that petroleum geology would be important. He turned down a chance at big league baseball to get his degree.

He was born in the Chickasaw Indian Nation April 2, 1886, now Love County, Okla.

Buttram stuck with his college work, and worked for the Oklahoma Geological Survey for a living. A bulletin he published for the survey—"The Cushing Oil and Gas Field"—made him famous and gave petroleum geology its biggest boost ever.

RUBY

las policeman J. D. Tippit was slain by Oswald when Oswald fled to the Oak Cliff sections of Dallas after assassinating Kennedy.

Gertz and Ruby said that Jack Ruby today acts like a man who wants to remain alive long enough to be convinced that others believe beyond question that he "acted out of overwhelming emotion and without malice and without premeditation."

They said Jack Ruby keeps referring to his movements the morning of Sunday, Nov. 24, 1963, when drawn by curiosity, he entered the basement of the police and courts building, and "on impulse and the purest of chance, shot Lee Harvey Oswald."

BEWILDERED "And he is bewildered that it is not plain to every one that it was a million-to-one chance that he would stumble into a situation in which it was even possible that Oswald could be shot," said Gertz.

Gertz and Earl Ruby said Jack Ruby has no recollection of the moment he shot Oswald. "That is a complete blank in his mind," said Gertz. "When he goes over every detail of his movements, he comes to that point and it is a blank for him. He does not deny he killed Oswald, but he has no memory of it."

Gertz said one of the ironies of the case was that police were absent from the street, allowing Ruby to commit a minor traffic offense to get to the Western Union office.

ILLEGAL TURN "If Jack hadn't made an illegal turn on Main Street to go into a parking lot in order to be closer to the Western Union office," Gertz said, "he couldn't have been in the basement at the precise moment police were transferring Oswald."

"He was going east on Main and made the illegal turn rather than go around the block. He was going to the only Western Union office open that morning to send some money to an employee in need, and when he passed the ramp leading into the basement of the police and courts building, he saw a large number of newsmen there, and thought that Oswald had just been moved."

"He keeps going through these steps, telling how he went into the Western Union office and waited his turn to send the money order. The receipt for it was timed off at 11:17 a.m. then he walked at normal pace about 350 feet back to the ramp where he had seen all the people.

"He says he just started walking down the ramp."

"NO ONE KNEW" Could Ruby have known Oswald was being transferred at that moment?

"No. He swears to this day he did not. And the fact is that no one knew," said Gertz.

"The transfer had been announced for 10 a.m. but no one knew — not anyone in the police or the press — because Capt. J. W. Fritz was still questioning Oswald. To say that someone informed Ruby of the time of transfer suggests that there was complicity on the part of the police or other law enforcement people.

"But that fact is that no one knew nor did anyone have any set time to make the actual transfer except for the announced time of 10 a.m. As the record bears out, the change in transfer time occurred when Capt. Fritz decided to interrogate Oswald again. Only Capt. Fritz knew when he would be through with the examination."

NOT PLANNED "When you reconstruct this, taking the time Jack left the Western Union office, and the time Oswald was shot, which was 11:21 a.m., you can see that there was perhaps only a period of 30 seconds, perhaps even less, during which Oswald could be shot by Ruby."

"Only the most disturbed mentality could think or believe there was a plan engineered so that an assassin would have an unmet, unknown period of a few seconds in which to do his job. It would have to be a plan, also, in which there was no hope of escape."

Jack Ruby, himself, says — according to Gertz and Earl Ruby — "would I leave Sheba in the car if I planned to do such a thing?"

CARRIED GUN Sheba was his favorite dog. Many persons testifying about Jack Ruby's life said he treated his dogs as though they were his children. After he shot Oswald, his first concern was for Sheba. He asked police to attend to her. But he made no mention of money also in the car.

What about the pistol? "Jack always carried a gun, for he sometimes had large sums of money. That morning, he had $2,500 in cash," said Gertz. "It was a weapon registered in 1960 with the police. He had been arrested twice before for carrying an unregistered gun."

Doctors have not said how long they think Ruby can hang on to life.

Collisions Plentiful But No Serious Hurts Result

Officers investigated nine automobile accidents during the weekend, none involving serious damage or injuries.

At FM 700 and Scurry, Chester A. Cain, Webb AFB, and Linda Jolene Land, 605 E. 18th, were in collision. In the 1700 block of Johnson, Earnesto E. Limon, 1706 Johnson, and Gary Bennett Yockey, 2206 Johnson, crashed.

Bobby Joe Campbell, 1615 Canary, reported a collision at Fifteenth and Gregg, with the driver of the Jeep involved leaving the scene. At Second and Gregg, Julius Bailey, 801 1/2 Pine, and Catalina Vasquez, Box 1012, ran together.

Drivers wrecked at Parkway and Wasson Road, were Gussie C. McElroy, 1700 Laurie, and Larry D. Marek, Webb AFB. In the 700 block of West Third, the collision involved Donald R. McEvers, 508 Johnson, and Raymond E. Digby, 205 N. Benton.

The city of Big Spring, pressing the county commissioners to liberalize its contribution to the support of the program for rural fire protection, says that the department has made 14 more rural runs in 1966 than in 1965.

The county commissioners were told the department had made 60 rural fire runs this year compared with 46 for the year 1965. Total fires in the city limits increased for the current year from 372 to 385.

The city said its total fire department budget for 1965-1966 was $380,599 compared with $325,315 for the 1964-1965 budget.

The county commissioners have taken no action on the request for the county to sweeten its annual payment for rural fire protection.

She Sees A Glowing Future

Bonnie Cashin, designer born in Oakland, Calif., stands in front of sketches and photos of some of her creations at an exhibition in London today. She foresees the day when humans "will wear very, very little clothes — probably nothing." In the distant future, she believes, chemists will develop "some sort of marvelous substance that humans will rub on their skin." And, she avers, people will have a sort of chemical glow about them — a golden glow, a green glow, a pink or blue one. Asked whether people will have to wear something, she replies: "No. Why should they?" (AP WIREPHOTO by cable from London)

Paratroopers Won't Forget Viet Rodeo

AP THANH LAM, South Vietnam (AP) — The paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade won't forget the big rodeo in War Zone D.

A battalion of the brigade's 503rd Infantry, moving through rain forests 50 miles northeast of Saigon, happened onto a well-hidden Viet Cong camp at the edge of the Cay Gao rubber plantation.

Their normal search and clear routine was interrupted by mooing in the jungle. They found six critters tied to a shed just as Viet Cong shooting broke out.

As soon as the firefight broke off and the enemy fled into the jungles, it was decided that the animals — used for hauling carts of weapons and supplies in the V.C. camp — should be rounded up and taken by helicopter to a friendly village of Chinese Nungs.

BIG BULLS

The big fiesta of the bulls was on.

It took a whole platoon from Charlie Company half a day to head off the critters at the pass and drive them to the landing zone. In the absence of bull whips, trail ponies and similar horse-opera gear, the paratroopers used web belts, rattan branches and ropes to make the dogies git along.

Weapons platoon drew the assignment of wrestling the bulls to the ground and tying them into cargo nets so they could be sling-loaded beneath the helicopters.

30-YARD LOSS

Those bulls were full of fight. The troopers tried to trip them, knock them down with football blocks, jump on their heads, pull their tails — anything to get them into the cargo slings.

Spec. 4 James Blue of Dallas, who had done some rodeo riding down in Texas, got a hammer lock on one and wrestled it to earth. When Spec. 4 Dave Atkins of Houston attempted to saddle-bust one of the varmints by sitting between the horns, he was tossed for a 30-yard loss, and the runaway broke for freedom through the defense perimeter.

Spec. 4 Ronnie Stute of Overton, Nev., and a couple of other American Indians in the outfit joined the Texans in organizing a sort of seven-blocks-of-granite formation in which paratroopers fell en masse on the angry bulls as soon as they could be brought down.

MOMENT OF TRUTH

"If it wasn't for those Indians and Texans," conceded one novice rodeo performer, Spec. 4 Eddy Baggs of Jacksonville, Fla., "we never would have got those bulls out."

The 335th Helicopter Company, appropriately nicknamed "the cowboys," fluttered in to airlift the moaning, groaning cargo off to waiting villagers of Bai Ham.

The Nungs immediately proclaimed a peace fiesta and demonstrated their enthusiasm by butchering two of the critters.

Lt. Larry J. Smith of Virginia Beach, Va., leader of the rodeo-qualified weapons platoon, summed up the paratroopers' moment of truth: "You expect to take a certain amount of bull in the Army, but this is a bit on the much side."

People Will Wear Next To Nothing?

LONDON (AP) — "In the future," said American designer Bonnie Cashin, "human beings will wear very, very little clothes — probably nothing."

Then what will become of the people in Miss Cashin's profession — the designers of clothes? "Oh, the world won't need us," she replied. "We'll become architects, chemists, scientists."

GOLDEN GLOW

"Chemistry will have more to do with design than the people whom we now look upon as designers. What will develop will be some sort of marvelous substance that humans will rub on their skin," he said.

"This substance will have a dermatopic control, so that a lot of clothes won't be needed. People will have a sort of chemical glow about them — a golden glow, a green glow, a pink or blue one, whichever one you want."

'PAINT OUR BODIES'

"I would really like to come back to earth in about 100,000 years and take a peek.

"We won't grow old. I think we'll just go off — after the age of 150 — like old elephants and disappear. Our bodies will not deteriorate.

"I really believe that, through science, we will control the shape and temperature of our bodies and that we'll paint our bodies again, like the so-called savages do.

Actually I think some savages are pretty sophisticated."

Miss Cashin, a native of Oakland, Calif., is a winner of many awards for clothes designing. She has a show currently in London of photographs and sketches of her designs.

Parrot Pablo Polishes Phrases

MOSCOW (AP)—Pablo the parrot spoke four languages—none of it fit for polite conversation.

His problem was too many years at sea, the Soviet labor newspaper Trud reported today. It said Pablo had learned about four dozen phrases in English, Greek, Spanish, and Russian but hardly any of them could be printed in a newspaper.

Reporting his conversion to acceptable talk, Trud said the black parrot had been bought two years ago by a lady, Dr. T. Morozova in the Black Sea port of Odessa.

She gave Pablo a new vocabulary and spent two-hours a day teaching him.

Now Pablo is completely reformed and greets guests by saying, "Pablo is a very good boy," Trud reported.

Faces Charge In Woman's Death

BOSTON (AP) — Douglas Huot, 25, a bank employe and part-time student at Boston University from Portland, Maine, has been charged with murder in the beating death of Elizabeth Orrill, 23.

Police found Miss Orrill's nude body about 5 a.m. Friday when they entered her first-floor apartment in the Back Bay section after receiving a report of trouble. They said Huot was administering mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

TEXANS AT WAR

Pilot Recalls Black Sunday

By The Associated Press

Twice in one day—he calls it Black Sunday—Capt. John A. Nasche, a Texan at war, flew into Viet Cong ambushes.

"There were lots of Purple Hearts that day," says Nasche of his 16-hour nightmare in the delta flatlands of Vietnam April 12, 1964.

"We started out at 4 a.m. on what we called a milk run, where you don't get shot at," he says. "It was supposed to be pretty safe."

COPTERS BLASTED
The first ambush came as Vietnamese government troops poured from the 18 helicopters in Nasche's flight into an area thought to be free of Viet Cong.

"Every helicopter received bullet damage," says Nasche, 31, of Fort Worth, who now teaches at the helicopter training school at Ft. Wolters in Mineral Wells.

In the afternoon, during the second ambush, one pilot lost a leg, a crew chief was killed and all the aircraft were hit again. There were many minor injuries.

BULLETS COUNTED
"We were returning home when we received a call from an American ground adviser under attack. He had 57 Vietnamese wounded he wanted to take out."

"The minute all 18 ships were on the ground the VC started dropping in mortars. I could hear the bullets hitting my helicopter."

Nasche later counted nine bullet holes in his craft. "One hit the control rod and cut half of it off. If it had hit more in the center, a crash would have been imminent."

Continental Buys Georgia Bus Line

DALLAS — Three Georgia based bus lines—Southern Stages, Inc., Atlantic Stages, Inc., and Southern Transit, Inc.—have become a part of the nationwide Continental Trailways System. The announced purchase price by Continental Trailways was quoted approximately $2 million and the transaction was submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval.

The acquisition of three successful southern companies with a total of 1,060 route miles will bring the total route miles of Continental Trailways to over 68,000 through 43 states and Washington, D. C.

Ambushed

Capt. John A. Nasche, Fort Worth helicopter pilot, was ambushed twice in one day as he flew into an area in Vietnam which was supposed to be free of the Viet Cong. Nasche said there were "lots of Purple Hearts that day" as all helicopters in the flight received bullet damage. (AP WIREPHOTO)

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Acting Postmaster Anthony Facas recently answered one of the 200 letters received at the post office addressed to Santa Claus.

He wrote: "Dear little friend, your letter makes me glad that you are good. Santa is coming to visit all good little girls and boys. Here's love, Santa."

But at the bottom of the letter, Facas added: "P.S., Mr. ZIP will help me find you. You are my helper, too, when you use ZIP code."

Mental Health Unit Is Lauded

BEAUMONT (AP) — State Rep. Will L. Smith lauded the Beaumont Association for Mental Health for its role in "re-mov-ing mentally ill patients from padded cells into hospital beds."

Smith, from Beaumont, helped write legislation which provides for adequate treatment for the mentally ill. He applauded the association's efforts in helping obtain one of two state Community Retardation Centers for this city.

"The results are," said Smith, "that patients are being treated in neurological centers rather than being locked in the county jail awaiting transfer to the state mental hospital at Rusk."

Walt Disney, A Loner, Rarely Relaxed

Editor's Note: Walter Elias Disney was a very special man, even in Hollywood. Headquarters for cartoonists, his career was unique. And Disney, the man differed materially from his public image. AP columnist Bob Thomas, author of two books about Disney and his methods, writes knowledgeably about the famed movie innovator in five stories beginning today.

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What kind of man was Walt Disney? Everyone knows the public image. It shone forth every Sunday night on his television show as he genially introduced the entertainment that his studio had concocted. He was folksy, down-to-earth, the perfect picture of anyone's favorite uncle.

The Disney image was also projected in the films he made over a 40-year period. Almost invariably they were sunny, optimistic and wholesome — completely suitable for family audiences.

Rarely did he swerve from that formula. Parents gasped when a modern couple sipped martinis in a Disney film, "The Parent Trap." His venture into sexy scenes began and ended with a sequence in "Bon Voyage" when a Parisian prostitute engaged Fred MacMurray in a bit of banter in front of his teenage son.

NEVER AGAIN
"That was a disaster," Walt admitted later. "You should have seen the mail I got over it. I'll never do that again."

His public appearances and his movies tended to create a somewhat antiseptic image of Walt Disney. Behind the image was a human being, a man of rare talent but possessed with normal feelings and frailties.

He was no prude. His boyhood on a Missouri farm provided him with a realistic attitude toward sex. But he felt that it had no place on the screen.

He was a taskmaster. He expected of his employees the same loyalty and zeal that he applied to the studio; when they failed him, he fired them.

Yet Disney was quick to reward merit and achievement. Many of his employees continued on the staff for decades; one of them, Ub Iwerks, began cartooning with Walt in Kansas City in 1920.

POLO PLAYER
Walt rarely relaxed. Occasionally he had a drink with key personnel after the day's work was finished. More often he would pack scripts and reports into his brief case and head for home, where he spent the evening reading or watching films.

Only twice did he seek interests outside his studio life; each time he was forced into it. During the early 1930s, he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown from overwork. "Find a hobby," his doctors told him. He found a vigorous one: playing polo with such figures as Will Rogers, Spencer Tracy, Darryl Zanuck and Charles Farrell. But the hobby didn't last.

After World War II, Disney again approached the brink of exhaustion as he fought to reshape his product to the peacetime market. This time he took up the hobby of miniature trains, and he plunged into a home railroad with his usual vigor. Out of it came his ideas for Disneyland.

Next: The source of the Disney genius.

DEAR ABBY
Better Give Than Receive

DEAR ABBY: Now that Christmas is nearly here, I want to air something that has irritated me for a long time. It's people who don't send Christmas gifts anymore. Instead they send you a tacky card informing you that "a gift in your name" has been sent to THEIR favorite charity. That way they don't have to bother shopping for Christmas gifts, and all their "gifts" are listed as a deductible expense on their tax return. Pretty cute, if you ask me.

"WISE" IN NEW HAVEN
DEAR WISE: Sorry, but I disagree. I think one of the more civilized practices of recent years is donating to charity instead of sending extravagant gifts to people who already have more than they need.

Knowing that a contribution to a worthy cause has been made in my name would be "gift" enough for me. He who takes but never gives may last for years, but never lives.

DEAR ABBY: Seven years ago I did a terrible thing. I had an affair with a man. His wife sued him for divorce, but they went back together again, thank God.

My wonderful husband forgave me, and we moved out of town. I have found God now and am leading a good life.

I am a teacher's aid at school. When school started last fall I found out that the wife of the man I had the affair with is our student counselor. She can ruin my whole life by telling the other teachers about my past.

Should we move again? The dear Lord knows I have suffered enough for my sins. I am getting very nervous over this. Please answer soon.

DESPERATE
DEAR DESPERATE: Hands off the panic button. Stay where you are for the present. In all probability she will not disclose your past because of her husband's role in it. Forget it and continue to lead the good life.

DEAR ABBY: We have some friends whose teenage son was killed recently. Wanting to be of some help, I fried three chickens, wrapped them in aluminum foil and sent them to their home in a large cardboard box. I thought that poor mother had enough on her mind without worrying about returning a fancy platter or tray.

A friend told me that I shouldn't have sent the chicken over that way—that it looked like I didn't "trust" the family to return my platter. Was I "wondering wrong"?

DEAR WONDERING: In my book you were extremely considerate to have sent the chicken in a disposable container. (Others could learn from you). But I am wondering what kind of "friend" would be so unkind as to plant such a preposterous notion in your mind?

CONFIDENTIAL TO PAMELA P.— wherever you are. Please contact your mother to let her know that you are well. She is sick with worry. No

Says Medicare Estimates Are Far Too Low

AUSTIN (AP)—The president of the Texas Hospital Association blames general economic trends and congressional decisions for spiraling hospital costs.

David H. Hitt, associate administrator of the Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas, writing in "Texas Hospitals," the THA magazine, criticized "grossly low cost estimates" used by Congress in financing Medicare.

"The Medicare law offers so many benefits under such complicated conditions that, at best, the total estimated cost is more a guess than a computation," Hitt said.

News Must Make Ivan Ivanovich Sad

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
An AP News Analyst

Ivan Ivanovich has had a bit of bad news.

The Russian man in the street suspects he must put aside some of his dreams.

He will be given to understand "the U.S. imperialists" in Vietnam are mostly to blame. He also will get the idea that Red China is partly to blame, too, and he will resent that even more.

Those who know Russians well say that when the Soviet regime announces an increase in the military budget, Ivan can only feel a pang of dismay. This reaction is instinctive. Higher up the social and educational ladder there is more sophisticated knowledge of what goes on. This generates a clash between intellectual elements and the conservative faction of the Communist bureaucracy, and division along these lines appears to extend all the way up to the summit of the leadership.

NEW STRAINS

Thus, the Soviet budget announced last week can cause new strains.

The budget includes the biggest increase in defense spending in four years and the highest military spending rate in more than a decade.

The government concedes there will be shortages in some raw materials, which probably means military industry will get a bigger share.

There may be fewer television sets, radios, refrigerators and the other things Ivan was buying or planning to buy.

Ivan will suspect that gradually things will cost more, too, despite a government effort to keep the lid on retail prices. It is decreed now that industry must be profitable. Somebody has to pay.

SOMEBODY PAYS

Recent visitors to the Soviet Union report a widespread awareness that high party and government leaders are concerned about worsened relations with Red China.

The ordinary Russian, these sources report, sees Red Chinese attitudes as rank ingratitude for past help.

PRESSURES BUILD

The pressure for more military spending is awkward. The leadership has been trying to raise living standards. The plan has been to boost the over-all minimum wage to 60 rubles a month by 1970, to double collective farmers' incomes, which are the country's lowest, and to boost industrial wages by 20 percent. All this is expensive in a country with a labor force of 100 million whose government bears all the cost.

The things Ivan Ivanovich wants are high priced. A television costs a month's wages, a refrigerator more than that. He has been buying things on the installment plan through credit extended by state stores, but perhaps that will be slowed down, too. Installment buying in 1965 reached about three billion rubles worth, and since there is a shortage of quality goods, there is additional danger of inflationary pressure.

Prices probably will be going up in any event.

Ivan is not interested in figures. He knows from public announcements that something is being done and that the money will come from his pocket. It must make him sad.

Fog Hinders Air Traffic

Blinding fog spread across much of Texas today, stopping air traffic at Houston's big airport and hindering air travel as far north as the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The Weather Bureau said visibility at dawn was down to zero at Austin, Mineral Wells, College Station, Wichita Falls, Lufkin, Tyler and Longview.

Early morning lows ranged from the 20s in the west to the 40s in the east.

It was the second straight day of fog for the state and the formations were thickest in Northeast Texas and the eastern sections of North Central Texas.

Love Field at Dallas and Greater Southwest International Airport between Dallas and Fort Worth reported a slowdown in air traffic. "They can still take off and land, but we're leaving it up to the pilots and airlines," said a Love Field traffic controller.

The banks in South Texas also brought traffic on the Houston Ship Channel to a near standstill.

Sunday's accumulations burned off before noon and temperatures took unseasonably warm climbs.

The hottest spot in the state Sunday was Junction, with 73 degrees. Temperatures were mostly in the 60s and ranged down to a low maximum of 58 at Galveston, Abilene, Brownsville, Midland and San Antonio recorded 72s.

A Devotional For The Day

You are no longer strangers and sojourners, but you are members of the household of God. (Ephesians 2:19, RSV)

PRAYER: During these special days, O Lord, grant that we become more sensitive to others and their needs. May our hearts be more open to the Holy Spirit, as He works through us and those we encounter. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Dramatizing Food Problem

President Johnson is being widely criticized for temporarily delaying grain shipments to hungry and crisis-ridden India. But the Washington word is that he deliberately took this shocking action at a critical moment to dramatize to the world that the other richer nations must do more to help the poorer ones and that the underdeveloped countries must exert far greater effort to improve their own agricultural output.

The lesson may have been harsh. But it was urgently needed. The appalling fact is that the southern hemisphere is losing ground fast in the capacity to feed itself, and catastrophe appears nearer than the underdeveloped nations will admit to themselves or than the other advanced nations will recognize.

The story is depressing. Asia, Africa and Latin America, which exported 11 million tons of grain annually before World War II, are now importing 31 million tons. And that is not enough to maintain, much less improve, the substandard diet of rapidly increasing populations. The world added 65 million people this year, with no over-all increase in food production, and it will add another 70 million next year, again with no foreseeable food-output increase. The world for six years now has been consuming more grain than it produced—largely from the once vast U.S. surplus which is now about gone.

This year the United States shipped nearly a fourth of its total grain crop to India to prevent famine. That was enough to sustain some 40 million Indians, but it did not appreciably improve that country's subsistence diet. The United States cannot keep that up indefinitely without sharply hiking its own food costs. Food price rises in the underdeveloped countries are now causing inflation—along with a drain on their exchange reserves—that is blocking sorely needed industrial and public-works development.

There are only two hopes: The short-range solution of more advanced-nation aid to the hungry countries, and long-range massive efforts to improve food production rapidly in the underdeveloped countries, coupled with efforts to slow down their excessive population growth. And if the President got this point across, his seemingly callous action—more scary than actually damaging—was fully justified.

Open Meetings

While we have no desire to intrude into matters of personnel or otherwise interpose our opinions, one way or another, upon public boards, we do question the propriety of the Big Spring School board in holding an unannounced or secret session to deal with the matter of a coach.

The selection of personnel is within the province of the board and the administration. The matter of open meetings is of transcendent importance. Those who serve on public boards are servants of the public, which is entitled to unrestricted access to information. Closed sessions may seem expeditious, but, in our view, seldom if ever wise.

David Lawrence Experience For A President

WASHINGTON — The tendency to overlook the obvious is no better illustrated than in the discussions going on now among the Republicans as to who they might select as a presidential nominee in 1968. Who, for instance, in the Republican party has had the necessary experience to take over as a President of the United States in these troublous times?

Thus, the governor of a state, no matter how spectacular or how articulate he may be in a campaign, could in the next two years—while he is deeply enmeshed in state affairs—hardly learn enough about national and international problems to make at once big decisions such as confront the chief executive of the United States.

ABOUT THE only Republican at present with an experience in presidential problems is former Vice President Nixon, who spent eight years at the side of President Eisenhower. But even Mr. Nixon has not had since January 1961—a period of nearly six years—the opportunity to become intimately acquainted with the inner currents and background information of the presidency as of today. Nor do the Democrats—if President Johnson is not a candidate—have anybody, with the possible exception of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, who is currently familiar with the inside of important policies.

THE MAN in the White House is kept in touch every day with the confidential reports and intelligence summaries that come from all over the world. He must be well posted also on the many aspects of domestic questions relating to pending legislation and the execution of existing laws.

Theoretically, any member of the cabinet would be a logical candidate for the presidency on the ticket of the incumbent party. But unfortunately each cabinet secretary is merely the manager of a single department of government.

THIS WEAKNESS in the American system is all too apparent. In Canada, Great Britain and other countries with a parliamentary establishment, the departments are actually run by deputies who are career men. The cabinet officers themselves form a group of advisers to the Prime Minister. No important decision is made without giving them a chance to express themselves and, in order to do this, they are kept closely informed right along on all phases of governmental policies.

Even the opposition party sets up a "shadow cabinet," which meets constantly and formulates its own position on various questions. It receives information from the party in power, particularly since these leaders themselves are as a rule members of the legislative body.

MANY TRAGIC errors have been made in the United States because of the unfamiliarity of an incoming President with the background of the executive office on critical questions.

It is a curious thing about American politics that the actual qualifications of an aspirant for the office of President are not examined carefully. Much more attention is given to utterances either criticizing the incumbent administration or promising beneficial measures to the public. The real capacity of a potential nominee to deal with legislative questions, budgetary problems and the like get little consideration in the course of a campaign.

A NOMINEE for the presidency can be elected—and many have been—even if he has never served a day in the executive or the legislative branch of the federal government. A few former governors are in the Senate today. Oddly enough, however, nobody is even suggesting that governors ought to serve at least one term in the Senate before they can qualify to make a bid for the presidency.

206 Days Of Racing

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky will have had 206 days of horse racing this year when the 1966 season closes at Latonia Dec. 17.

'AND BESIDES THAT—THEY SHOOT REAL BULLETS'

James Marlow LBJ Has Rough Going All The Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — What kind of President Johnson will there be in the White House in these final two years of his first full term?

He seems different from the Johnson of most of the first two years.

For months now this extremely vigorous and aggressive man, an arm-twister and master politician, has been operating within a kind of half-light. He has been seen, he has been heard, but only occasionally.

This in itself is extraordinary. It is a switch from his earlier White House days when he would take to the airwaves two or three times a week at the drop of a bomb in the Dominican Republic.

WITHIN the past few months a change seemed to set in. Instead of devoting every possible minute to campaigning for Democrats who needed all the help they could get in the November elections, he went off to Manila and toured East Asia for a couple of weeks.

It was a trip which, it seems reasonable to believe, could have been made earlier or postponed even until 1967.

Last week Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa told newsmen that Democratic state executives attending the National Governors Conference at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., were almost unanimous in blaming Johnson's unpopularity and his administration's programs for the party's poor showing last November.

THIS ISN'T the only rebuff for Johnson. He has seen the public opinion polls show his popularity going down. Yet he seems to be doing no more to help himself, in a public relations way, than he did to help his party.

This doesn't add up. He is being criticized — although why this has started at this time is not at all clear — for the "credibility gap" in what is said by himself and his administration. Johnson, an extremely sensitive man who in the past has hungered for public approval, smarts under this kind of criticism. But he isn't taking any action, at least publicly, to meet this, either.

And the cost of the war is bound to force him to cut down on domestic programs which, without the war, could be expanded. He has rough going all the way. But other presidents have had rough problems, too.

Hal Boyle Bottle Up Imbibing Impulse

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

When Thomas Jefferson was in the White House, his Christmas turkey cost 75 cents. Ducks then sold for 30 cents each.

During his first year as president, Theodore Roosevelt didn't allow a Christmas tree in the White House. As a conservationist, he didn't approve of cutting down trees for mere decoration. Later he accepted a Christmas tree that, it was carefully explained, had been chopped down to thin out a toadstool forest.

ARE YOU suffering from the holiday blues. Your ailment is called cherephobia, which is "a morbid aversion to gaiety." On the other hand, if it is only the chill weather that has you downspilled, you are simply a victim of cheimaphobia, "fear of the cold."

Americans spent $125 million on guitars last year, five times as much as they did in 1955.

Young people getting married today may wonder what their chances are of celebrating a golden wedding anniversary. Well, the outlook is that one out of three couples will make it. But a generation ago only one of five couples had so hopeful an outlook.

To Your Good Health Keeping The Holiday Egg-Nog Safe

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: What about egg-nogs? Aren't they good for people? You always advocate cooking eggs.—MRS. C. N.

Yes, and I'll keep on advocating it. Raw egg is such an ideal material for growing germs that laboratories use it for that purpose—raising germs used in vaccines, for example.

Many an egg has no harmful germs, to be sure, but keep in mind that if no germs were present, an egg would never spoil. And eggs do, including unbroken ones.

Some germs can penetrate the shell. Germs can enter through tiny cracks, too. Sometimes the prevalent salmonella organism gets in. Cooking destroys the germs. But live salmonella is the cause of "food poisoning" and diarrhea.

Egg-nog? Yes, it is a nourishing concoction and I like it, especially at holiday time. I find it easier and less expensive to order it from the milkman. Besides, the dairies pasteurize it, which takes care of the germ problem. It keeps longer, too.

For folks who insist on making their own, the best method of home pasteurizing is to mix it thoroughly, then bring it barely to a boil and let it simmer for 10 to 15 minutes. That will pasteurize without curdling it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it necessary to give a child a bath every day? I have read that it is not necessary and can even be harmful as you wash away body oils.

Now I read in your column about a mother asking if it is all right to have children bathe morning and night. You answered yes, it is good hygiene. Please straighten me out.—MRS. L. K.

Somehow the word "wash" was changed to "bathe."

Washing morning and night is good hygiene. I don't know any way of getting statistical evidence, but an enormous number of upset stomachs, cases of pinworm, and more serious ailments unquestionably would be avoided if all children were brought up so that it is second nature to wash their hands before eating or putting fingers in their mouths.

But two baths a day are a lot of baths, and with a skin tending to dryness, it can lead to itching and skin irritation.

The right number of baths for children is the number necessary to keep them clean. In hot summer weather a bath or shower a day is usually right. I don't object to one a day in winter unless skin irritation results, but if a child stays reasonably clean, one or two or three baths a week will keep him smelling all right.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Put The Barb Into America

I think if I had it all to do over again, I'd move to London or Paris, change my name to Vladimir Spencor and spend my life writing articles that harpoon Americans.

Don't get me wrong. I think this is the greatest country in the world. A lot of things might be wrong with it but it sets the example by which the rest of the world lives.

However, Americans are very self-conscious about themselves and relish the chance to listen and read criticism aimed at them by residents of other lands.

THE MARKET is there and booming for foreigners ready to take a verbal or an editorial poke at us Americans. The men and women who have done it and made a mint of money in the process are legion.

They range from profound thinkers who have ridiculed Americans' pre-occupation with sex to artists who don't appreciate our kinds of architecture and mode of dress.

Charles Dickens, the celebrated English novelist, brought the Americans of the 19th Century up short by referring to them as "windbags, swindlers and assassins."

GEORGE BERNARD Shaw, the Irishman with the bent for dramatic writing, contributed toward his sizable fortune by constantly holding the people in the U.S. up to ridicule.

Americans trample each other at the chance to wine and dine these acid-tongued individuals, knowing full well that their reaction is going to be anything but complimentary. They return home to apply the lash at things Americans, all the while aiming their diatribes at the American market.

American males have been described as mortals devoid of a sense of humor, dull and gloomy in character and possessing atrocious manners and the visitors from other lands haven't treated the American women too kindly, either.

AMERICAN WOMEN, insist some of the analysts from the continent, are "totally lacking in social graces, unlettered and hopelessly immature."

An eminent English author named Francis Trollope once bluntly said of America:

"I do not like America, I do not like Americans. I do not like their manners, I do not like their opinions."

Americans in our day and time go to Europe, throw money around as if it is going out of style, and for their pains get roundly insulted by the French, the English, the Greeks and all stops in between.

THE RENOWNED writer, Oscar Wilde, after being told once that a free-loading acquaintance had been given the funds to visit our shores, acidly remarked:

"Of course, if one had enough money to go to America, one would not go."

Wilde's esteem in America, as well as those of others highly critical of our manners and mien, has grown with the years.

Holmes Alexander Death Of A Lady

WASHINGTON — In God's mercy, my mother, your life ended last week. Some of it was blithesome and some of it was made greuous by the loss of a daughter and son in their bloom and by the crippling imprisonment of your long illness. But when your spirit drifted to sea, it was as if, in John Donne's image, a part of the mainland had joined what was everlasting, both as to humanity itself and your country's history.

NOBODY IS still alive to remember the original of that tinted photograph which showed the mischief-eyed, auburn-haired girl in the cascading dress of white tulle, who stood like a promise of indelible youth in her father's garden. Nobody will have recollections of the gay wedding, described in the yellowing clips of the family scrapbook. That lovely old Episcopal Church was a bower of Southern smilax, mountain laurel and white masses of chrysantheums. The Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese had been brought to reinforce the rector of Trinity Church.

LIKE A MILLION other brides, before and since, you walked trustingly into a life's story, and you could not skip the pages as young girls do to see how the tale would end. But the past was there about you in your youth, more of your country's history than you were old and wise enough to know. Your father, the ex-lieutenant fought well, but later endured the irony of being stationed in the Union Occupation at Winchester, Virginia, where he had attended the Shenandoah Valley Academy, and where he had so many Confederate kinsmen. One of them, Dr. Hunter Holmes McGuire, took the young officer into his home. The war that your elders discussed from the time of your birth in 1878, in the mountain counties which are now West Virginia, was one in which loyalties were often demarked by the crease of the family tablecloth.

YOUR FATHER'S father, a physician before he was a soldier, had been president of the Wheeling Convention which seceded from Virginia after Virginia seceded from the Union. Your mother's father, Jacob Beeson Blair, was Congressman of the (restored) Commonwealth of Virginia, as the break-away counties were called. The scrapbook tells how your grandfather, taking with him the young girl who became your mother, scooped a great story for his constituents on the morning of New Year's, 1863.

"I presented myself at the White House" (your grandfather told a reporter), "but found the doors locked. I raised a sash of one of the large windows, gained an entrance and went straight to the President's room."

THOSE WERE less formal. I ess guarded days than ours, for President Lincoln smilingly reached into a drawer and handed over the signed bill that created the new State. Then he shook hands gravely with the child, my grandmother, who never forgot what the President said: "I'm glad to meet a little West Virginian."

Born when the nation was recouping from its internal war, dying while its youth fights many thousands of miles away, living through years of treasured joy and rending sorrow, you had a life, distinct of itself, yet not essentially different from the lives which millions of mothers' sons have watched with love, with awe at what the human spirit is sometimes called upon to bear and with helpless pity at the last.

John Cunniff Skiing—Sport And Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — Upon us now is a season commonly referred to as winter by some but more often as the ski season by somewhere between 1.5 million and six million Americans.

Since nobody knows the definition of a skier, the estimates vary widely. The people who operate the ski areas say, however, that at least two million individuals ski regularly and often.

As the definition of a skier broadens, however, so do the figures.

MANY PEOPLE, for example, buy ski clothes and never ski, spend money on transportation to ski resorts but then sit in the sun, wear ski boots merely for the secure feeling they give when rested on the bar's brass rail.

In some statistics, however, all these count as skiers. This leads to the distinction of skiing as a sport and skiing as an industry. The latter is, of course, larger.

So rapidly is the skiing industry growing now that it threatens to encompass much of fall and some of spring as well as all the winter months. Even in summer, in fact, ski movies have a popular following.

FROM THIS growing activity and its related pastimes, the retailers of clothes and equipment, of transportation and room and board, expect to earn $750 million this season. This is the industry's own estimate.

The figure goes up about 15 percent each year and, based on reportedly higher sales of clothing and equipment early this season, may grow at an extreme rate of 20 percent this season.

Skiing is not the most violent of sports but it is, unquestionably, one of the more violent participant sports. The industry, however, does not boast of its busted bones with the same enthusiasm as it brags of sales.

IN JUST one weekend early this year at least 450 skiers were injured badly enough on New England ski slopes to need medical treatment, many of them with broken bones. These figures are a minimum, for the survey was far from complete.

An estimate comes from a casualty insurance company that about six of every 1,000 active skiers on a given day will be injured and that about 55 percent of them will be beginners.

Although the economic loss may be small in many of the accident cases, it can run into thousands of dollars and the loss of months of work. Ski injuries often are twist injuries, resulting in displacement as well as fracture.

IN MOST instances individual or group insurance policies pay much of the medical bills for, generally speaking, the insurance companies consider skiing accidents no different than other accidents.

A dispassionate attitude also exists among participants. At a large New York life insurance company last week the activities committee made plans for a ski trip to upstate New York.

Said a spokesman: "Why should we be worried about injuries? Last year we had four girls injured in bicycle accidents in Bermuda. We didn't have that many from skiing."

How Do They Fly?

NEW DELHI (AP) — In response to a question, Aviation minister C. M. Poonacha told Parliament the government could NOT at this time provide a flying club in Salem, in south-central India, with an airstrip.

"How then does the club operate?" asked Arjun Arora, a member of Parliament. "Do they fly aircraft or kites?"

Poonacha asked for time to study the situation before replying again.

WHAT MOST PEOPLE DON'T REALIZE IS THAT CERTAIN DRUGS SUCH AS MORPHINE AND COCAINE CAN HAVE A VERY USEFUL EFFECT IN THE RELIEF OF PAIN AND ANXIETY... BUT THEY SHOULD ALWAYS BE PRESCRIBED AND CONTROLLED BY A PHYSICIAN.

LSD IS A POWERFUL HALLUCINOGEN! IT MAY SOMETIMES PROVE TO BE ONE OF THE MOST USEFUL DRUGS! BUT IT'S GOING TO REQUIRE MUCH ADDITIONAL RESEARCH BY DEDICATED PROFESSIONALS... NOT AMATEURS WHO ARE TAKING IT FOR 'NIGS'!

Big Welcome For Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys returned home from New York, with the Eastern Conference championship of the National Football League in their hip pockets, and held a party celebrating their conquest. It was the highest finish ever achieved by the Cowboys in seven years of NFL membership and it put them into a playoff Jan. 1 with Green Bay, the Western Conference champion, to decide the league title.

There was quite a gathering at the airport Sunday night when the Cowboys, who had finished the regular season with a 17-7 victory over New York, came home.

Coach Tom Landry said there were no injuries of note in the game with the Giants although Bob Lilly, the all-pro tackle, pulled a muscle on the first play and saw no more action for the day.

Quarterback Don Meredith didn't get into the game at all. He had headaches from a hard tackle by Sam Huff of Washington Dec. 11 and consulted a specialist in New York.

"He was pronounced ready to play but I held him out of the game against New York since I didn't think he would be needed," said Landry. "He will be ready to go Jan. 1 and so will Lilly."

The Cowboys take today and Tuesday off, return to practice Wednesday and continue to work until Saturday when they take off for the Christmas weekend. They return to practice next Monday.

Landry wasn't exactly satisfied with Dallas' play against New York but said he just couldn't get the Cowboys up for the game since Dallas had clinched the Eastern Conference title Saturday when St. Louis lost to Cleveland.

They did get the passer for a loss nine times to set a new league record. The Cowboys did this 60 times during the season—three more than Baltimore in 1964 when it set the record.

Sale of tickets to the championship game in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 go on sale Wednesday at a single location—the Women's building at Fair Park. At Fort Worth they will be on sale at the Central Ticket Agency.

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Landry and his Dallas Cowboys have a healthy respect for the Green Bay Packers but refuse to be overawed by the team that must beat Jan. 1 in the Cotton Bowl for the NFL title.

"I definitely think we have a chance to beat them," said Coach Landry after his Cowboys barely escaped with a 17-7 victory over the last-place New York Giant in their regular season finale Sunday.

"We had good success with them in two preseason games the last two years and played them a good game last year in regular season," said Landry. "Green Bay is a fine football team, so are we."

"Our job is not to make any errors because you know they don't make many mistakes," said Landry who led the Cowboys to an Eastern Conference title in its seventh year of NFL competition.

"Everybody said my five-year plan was a little bit late," said Landry with a grin. He could afford to laugh because his Cowboys clinched the Eastern title Saturday when St. Louis lost to Cleveland. Their finale with the Giants was a meaningless game.

Dallas did pull it out on a six-yard run with an intercepted pass by defensive end George Andrie, a 41-yard TD pass from Craig Morton to Bob Hayes and a 10-yard field goal by Danny Villanueva.

Donnie Anderson Scores For The Victors

Rookie Donnie Anderson (44) of the Green Bay Packers charges into the end zone from two yards out for a first half touchdown against the Rams yesterday in Los Angeles. The

New Mexico Cries Foul As Success Is Fleeting

By The Associated Press
Just when the New Mexico Lobos persuaded folks to sit up and take notice, neighboring New Mexico State came along and pulled the rug out from under them.

New Mexico finished second by a second in the family squabble that left the Lobos crying foul and probably sent their No. 5 college basketball ranking tumbling, too.

"The timer took the game away from us," said Lobo Coach Bob King after his club lost on the road to New Mexico State 62-61 in overtime Saturday.

The Lobos led 61-60 and had the ball with four seconds left when Ben Monroe was called for charging. Ernie Turner of State, now 4-4 sank two free throws after time ran out to sink the Lobos.

OTHERS FALL
"The game was definitely over when the foul occurred," King said, "and everybody knew it."

"I don't think there's any question about it," challenged Lou Henson, New Mexico State coach. "The foul occurred and the buzzer sounded."

The Lobos were not the only ones among the nation's Top Ten to run afoul.

Kentucky, No. 4, and Brigham Young, No. 7, each lost twice last week and second-ranked Texas Western was beaten by New Mexico.

Hoping to take advantage of such bungling, Louisville, No. 3, won three games; North Carolina, No. 6, won twice; Houston, No. 9, rolled to three victories and Cincinnati, No. 10, won twice.

KENTUCKY FALTERS
Kentucky continued to have its problems as the Wildcats, 2-3, fell below .500, outside of losing an opening game, for the first time in Adolph Rupp's 37-year career at Lexington. The Wildcats lost first last week to North Carolina 64-55, and then Saturday to Florida 78-75 as Gary Keller scored 25 points in a game that was tied 20 times.

Brigham Young, 3-2, lost twice on the road, 85-83 to Seattle in overtime and 92-76 to undefeated Oregon State Saturday. Oregon State will join Kansas State and Penn State Thursday and Friday in the Kentucky Invitational Tournament.

Texas Western, 6-1, rebounded from Friday's defeat to nudge previously unbeaten Kansas 71-67 in overtime at Chicago the next night.

MINERS IRATE
The Miners get another chance to take out their wrath against Wichita State at home tonight.

Louisville made it 6-0, all at home, as Westley Unseed popped in 31 points Saturday to pound Dayton 96-81 after earlier week victories over Tampa and Bellarmine. This week should be tougher for the Cardinals, who meet St. Louis Wednesday and LaSalle Friday, still at home.

North Carolina, 5-0, is favored to grab the Tampa Invitational tonight and Tuesday against Columbia, The Citadel and Florida State after beating Kentucky and then routing New York U. 95-58 Saturday.

Houston, 8-1, breezed past San Francisco 90-74 Saturday, readying itself for Washington Tuesday night.

Cincinnati had little trouble beating Western Michigan 74-48 before tackling Colorado Tuesday and Texas Christian Thursday at home.

UCLA and Lew Alcindor returned to action Thursday at Colorado State before hosting Notre Dame on Friday. Michigan State plays at Loyola, La. Tuesday and Tulane Wednesday.

Washington State, 6-1, rebounded from Friday's defeat to nudge previously unbeaten Kansas 71-67 in overtime at Chicago the next night.

South Moves Back For Share Of Grid Honors

By The Associated Press
The south, after being shut out for a year, returned to winners circle in Texas schoolboy football this season.

Bridge City and Sweeney won state championship to give the south half the titles and shunt east Texas to the sidelines after it had taken two championships in 1965.

The west rolled along with a repeat performance of two championships as San Angelo captured Class AAAA and Sonora blasted its way to the Class A crown.

BOBCATS BEST
San Angelo whipped fighting Spring Branch 21-14 for the top prize and it was a most opportune time. Because San Angelo was composed predominantly of seniors and Coach Emory Bellard will have quite a rebuilding job next season.

Only three starters will return at San Angelo. Spring Branch loses heavily but has better prospects of going back to the finals than San Angelo.

Bridge City also won at the right time. It beat McKinney 30-6 for the Class AAA championship with 22 seniors who had played together since the eighth grade. The big man was Steve Worster, who ran for almost 250 yards, scored three touchdowns and set up a field goal. It was mighty Steve's last game as a schoolboy.

McKinney also had a senior team and 10 offensive and nine defensive starters will be lost.

GRANBURY LOADED
Sweeney beat Granbury 29-7 for the Class AA title but Granbury has the best prospects of making it to the finals again next year. Sweeney won't be entirely bereft of stars but it won't have as many good men as Granbury, which loses only six players from its 36-man squad.

Sonora climaxed an undefeated, untied season with a 40-14 victory over Schulenburg for the state Class A championship with Laney Cook, its left-handed passing quarterback, as the big man. Cook departs but don't shed too many tears for Sonora. Laney's brother, J. V., was the backup quarterback and Coach Jerry Hopkins figures he'll step in very well come next fall.

If J. V. needs help there's still another Cook on the team. He's Jess, who played freshman football the past season.

Forsan Girls Almost Take Eldorado Tourney
ELDORADO — Forsan played almost flawless ball until the last few seconds of the final game, but a momentary lapse broke a tie and cost the girls the championship. Eldorado won it 31-28 in a battle of potent defenses.

Before that Forsan had racked up three opponents by wide margins.

Both Forsan boys and girls teams will go to Klondike Tuesday evening for the last games until after the holidays. The Klondike girls are one of the few teams to beat Forsan lasses, who now are 16-4. Forsan boys are 8-6.

In the opening round of the tournament here, Forsan measured Comstock 61-31, then took Lakeview 46-24 before overpowering Rock Springs 49-28 in the semifinals.

Forsan led in the final game until 45 seconds of the end when the score was knotted. Forsan played for a stall and a last second shot, but a pass went awry and Eldorado scored. Forsan then fouled in an attempt to get the ball, but Eldorado hit the free toss and iced the game away.

Molly Condon was named an all-tournament forward, and Deryl Dunagan and Valynia Conway were selected as all-tournament guards.

South Moves Back For Share Of Grid Honors

By The Associated Press
The south, after being shut out for a year, returned to winners circle in Texas schoolboy football this season.

Bridge City and Sweeney won state championship to give the south half the titles and shunt east Texas to the sidelines after it had taken two championships in 1965.

The west rolled along with a repeat performance of two championships as San Angelo captured Class AAAA and Sonora blasted its way to the Class A crown.

BOBCATS BEST
San Angelo whipped fighting Spring Branch 21-14 for the top prize and it was a most opportune time. Because San Angelo was composed predominantly of seniors and Coach Emory Bellard will have quite a rebuilding job next season.

Only three starters will return at San Angelo. Spring Branch loses heavily but has better prospects of going back to the finals than San Angelo.

Bridge City also won at the right time. It beat McKinney 30-6 for the Class AAA championship with 22 seniors who had played together since the eighth grade. The big man was Steve Worster, who ran for almost 250 yards, scored three touchdowns and set up a field goal. It was mighty Steve's last game as a schoolboy.

McKinney also had a senior team and 10 offensive and nine defensive starters will be lost.

GRANBURY LOADED
Sweeney beat Granbury 29-7 for the Class AA title but Granbury has the best prospects of making it to the finals again next year. Sweeney won't be entirely bereft of stars but it won't have as many good men as Granbury, which loses only six players from its 36-man squad.

Sonora climaxed an undefeated, untied season with a 40-14 victory over Schulenburg for the state Class A championship with Laney Cook, its left-handed passing quarterback, as the big man. Cook departs but don't shed too many tears for Sonora. Laney's brother, J. V., was the backup quarterback and Coach Jerry Hopkins figures he'll step in very well come next fall.

If J. V. needs help there's still another Cook on the team. He's Jess, who played freshman football the past season.

Forsan Girls Almost Take Eldorado Tourney
ELDORADO — Forsan played almost flawless ball until the last few seconds of the final game, but a momentary lapse broke a tie and cost the girls the championship. Eldorado won it 31-28 in a battle of potent defenses.

Before that Forsan had racked up three opponents by wide margins.

Both Forsan boys and girls teams will go to Klondike Tuesday evening for the last games until after the holidays. The Klondike girls are one of the few teams to beat Forsan lasses, who now are 16-4. Forsan boys are 8-6.

In the opening round of the tournament here, Forsan measured Comstock 61-31, then took Lakeview 46-24 before overpowering Rock Springs 49-28 in the semifinals.

Forsan led in the final game until 45 seconds of the end when the score was knotted. Forsan played for a stall and a last second shot, but a pass went awry and Eldorado scored. Forsan then fouled in an attempt to get the ball, but Eldorado hit the free toss and iced the game away.

Linesman Has Rough Time

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Vince Lombardi hopes his football season lasts another month. So does Tom Landry. But Gerard Bergman may have just about enough for one year.

While Lombardi's Green Bay Packers and Landry's Dallas Cowboys looked forward today to their National Football League championship date Jan. 1 and a berth in the Super Bowl two weeks later, Bergman looked back on the most harrowing five minutes of his NFL officiating career.

San Francisco fans, angered by a wave of penalties in the 49ers' 30-14 loss to Baltimore Sunday, took it out on the officials — with Head Linesman Bergman the primary target — in the closing minutes.

IRATE WOMAN
First, a woman fan dashed from the stands, lifted the linesman's penalty handkerchief from his back pocket and raced away. Then, after the officials ended the game 30 seconds early while fans pulled down one of the goal posts and swarmed over the field, Bergman was pelted with whisky bottles and knocked dizzy as he made his way to the dressing rooms.

Two Baltimore players and another official finally helped Bergman reach his quarters after he had been struck on the head twice by bottles.

There were 12 penalties called against the 49ers and nine against the Colts — for a total of 192 yards — in the fiercely played game for second place in the Western Conference. Four touchdown passes by Johnny Unitas won it for the Colts, who'll meet Philadelphia in the NFL Playoff Bowl at Miami Jan. 8.

EAGLES IN BOWL
The Eagles earned the Eastern Conference berth in the Playoff Bowl by outscoring Washington 37-28 to finish in a second-place tie with Cleveland. They'll go to Miami because the Browns were there more recently — in January, 1964.

Elsewhere, Gale Sayers returned the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown and then shredded Minnesota's defense for 197 rushing yards as Chicago drubbed the Vikings 41-28 and Bill Nelsen passed for 344 yards and two touchdowns in Pittsburgh's 57-33 romp over Atlanta.

Buffalo Has Real Incentive
By The Associated Press
Hanging on a wall in the Buffalo Bills' dressing room is a facsimile of a check for $25,000. Measuring about two feet by four feet and made out to John Q. Buffalo Bill, the check refers to the extra money each player on the American Football League champion could earn for the AFL title game and the Super Bowl with the National League champion.

The Bills can make the check negotiable. The Boston Patriots can't.

Buffalo and New York created that situation, the Bills beating Denver 38-21 Sunday after the Jets upset Boston 35-28 the day before.

The Bills' victory gave them their third straight Eastern Division title, one made possible when Boston lost. If the Patriots had won or tied, the crown would have been theirs.

Now the Bills will host Kansas City in the AFL championship game Jan. 1, with the winner expected to get about $6,000 a man. That winner then will advance to the Super Bowl in Los Angeles Jan. 15, and a victory there will be worth at least $15,000 a man.

In other final regular season games Sunday, Kansas City defeated San Diego 27-17 and Miami edged Houston 29-28.

In the National League, Dallas downed New York 17-7, Philadelphia stopped Washington 37-38, Green Bay trimmed Los Angeles 27-23, Baltimore whipped San Francisco 30-14, Pittsburgh crushed Atlanta 57-33 and Chicago whipped Minnesota 41-28. Cleveland walloped St. Louis 38-10 Saturday.

Jurgensen Sets Two NFL Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington quarterback Sonny Jurgensen broke two National Football League season passing records Sunday in the Redskins' 37-28 loss to Philadelphia.

He established records for passes attempted and passes completed.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL DEAN WILLIAMS

Wedding Solemnized In Home Ceremony

Miss Brenda Kay Sellers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Sellers, Garden City Rt. and Michael Dean Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde S. Ryan, 1212 E. 18th, were married Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The couple stood before a massive arrangement of white stock and magnolia blossoms as the ceremony was conducted by the Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple Church. "The Lord's Prayer" was played as the prelude.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street-length bridal dress styled with a ruffled lace cage over a bridal satin sheath. Her veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of petals outlined with seed pearls and iridescents, and she carried a white Bible topped with white glamelias showered with satin streamers.

Mrs. Lorin S. McDowell III

was the matron of honor. She was attired in a white silk suit and wore a white glamelia corsage.

Benny Joe Sellers, brother of the bride served as best man, and Lorin S. McDowell IV was the ring bearer.

RECEPTION

Anniversary Noted With Open House

Mr. and Mrs. John Annen, No. 6 Coachman's Circle, observed their silver wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hendrix and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rowe, of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, Coahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hagood, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. Everet Whatley and Miss Suzanne Whatley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Don Crockett, Maj. and Mrs. F. W. Ethun, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Apple and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wheat. The Annen's daughter, Vickie, presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Annen was attired in a cocktail dress of apricot chiffon over peau de sole and wore a corsage of white gardenias. Annen's boutonniere was a white gardenia.

A floor-length silver cloth covered the refreshment table, and the centerpiece was a silver urn holding red carnations and banked by red tapers in silver candelabra entwined with holly. Red and green napkins were inscribed "John and Nancy, 1941-1966."

Holiday colors of red and green were used in decorations throughout the Spanish-type home. A railing in the entertaining area was draped with garlands of spruce and pine, and the greenery was used with red bows and ornaments at the fireplace area. The green tree was dotted with red velvet bows, and Christmas elves were placed near the entryway.

Mr. and Mrs. Annen were married in Fort Worth in 1941 with Dr. J. M. Price, then pastor of the First Baptist Church and president of the Southwest Theological Seminary, conducting the ceremony.

Rugged Fabrics Add Extra Use

When buying upholstered furniture, look for fabric that is rugged as well as attractive. Avoid fabrics with long, floating threads if the furniture is to get rough treatment. These threads tend to break and sag.

BRENDA GRISWOLD

Miss Dorothy Atchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie White, 3301 Eleventh Place, was named DeMolay Sweetheart Saturday evening during a dance held in the ballroom of Coston Country Club.

The presentation of the crown and a dozen red roses was made by E. A. Fiveash, DeMolay district governor, and Miss Atchison was escorted by James Worthan.
