I comes our annual day of reckoning. ever-building resentment by the burdened taxpayers about "more taxation and less representation." It shakes you up a bit. It was said that statements like we did this week, it makes you stop and think. Then you have figured it out. Then you hear about a "taxpayer's revolt," while their omniscient, tax-exempt bureaucrats run and play with their tax money. Americans should revolt The ballot box is the weapon of the people to pay attention to what is conducted in Washington. It's time to take your medicine, to pay Social Security taxes. You are interested in their government, but that's usually the way it works.

Taylor's Meat Lands Sambo's Beef Supply

If you should visit a Sambo's Restaurant sometime in the future, whether in El Paso, N.M. or Omaha, Neb., you might want to try a beef dish. If you do, you would be supporting a Friona industry, which is now working full time to supply the major portion of the beef for the restaurant chain. Sambo's began to kill beef for the restaurant chain, or a Friona restaurant, which it is now supplying the majority of the meat for the restaurant chain.

Sambo's is a familiar restaurant name in the Western half of the nation, but is now expanding into the North and East. In conjunction with their expansion, Taylor announced this week that they have signed a contract to supply 100 per cent of the beef for the restaurant chain, and hopes eventually to supply 100 per cent of the beef for the restaurant chain.

In order to supply the beef demanded for Sambo's, Taylor is in the middle of an expansion program, which will enable it to slaughter and process up to 300 head of cattle a day. Taylor's expansion units were taken into operation at the slaughter plant this week, which were to add considerably to the plant's capacity. Taylor has completed two additional rooms for its plant, and another is under construction. Taylor will be shipping two or more tons of meat per week from its Friona plant to Sambo's national headquarters in Carpintena, California. The beef is shipped in quarters, and is processed in California.

The Sambo's chain began feeding cattle in the Friona area during 1977, having had a quarter of its beef supplied by Taylor. The recent arrangement and deal with Taylor will make it possible for Sambo's to slaughter and process cattle in the local area.

The Sambo's arrangement has enabled Taylor's Meat Company to expand its feed yard from its former level of 2,500 head to 3,000 head. Eventually, this number is expected to approach the 3,300 at the expansion is completed.

Taylor said the company was striving to hire local people during its feeding phase. "We are using local residents, and training them for their new work, as we feel it important to keep our operations on local as possible," he said. The additional jobs created at the slaughter outlet will mean virtually an additional payroll for the city.

"We hope to eliminate this part of the business, because we know it will be inconvenient to several who have been our customers. But we felt we had to zero in on the type of contract that will make it possible for us to support the city by providing this local feed yard," Taylor said.

Effective immediately, the local slaughter plant is killing beef strictly for Sambo's. It is presently supplying most of the beef for the restaurant chain, and hopes eventually to supply 100 per cent of the beef for the restaurant chain.

Sambo's is a familiar restaurant name in the Western half of the nation, but is now expanding into the North and East. And now, that "Something good, Bob's always Cookin' at Sambo's," stands a good chance of having been born for their new work, as we feel it important to keep our operations on local as possible," he said.

The additional jobs created at the slaughter outlet will mean virtually an additional payroll for the city.

In 1977 a popular size and brand of diesel tractor was selling for $14,189 and that same year cotton was selling for $6.5 per pound. It took 43 bales of cotton to buy the tractor. Today, that same tractor costs $27,487 — and that same grade and staple of cotton is selling for 46 per pound. To buy that same tractor today it takes 132 bales of cotton. Simple mathematics tells us it takes 79 MORE bales of cotton to buy the tractor today — than it did as recently as 1973.

If it took the same number of bales — that would be PARITY. Agriculture is basic in Texas. America needs a strong Agriculture.
Postmaster Wilson Asks Aid In Detection Of Mail Fraud

American consumers lose an estimated $1 billion to mail fraud and misrepresentation by mail in Fiscal Year 1977. Postmaster Richard Wilson said today as he sought greater public awareness of the problem. April 15 has been designated the National Income Tax Day Work by Postmaster General William F. Orgler.

"The public must be constantly on guard against fantastic claims and get-rich-quick schemes," Postmaster Wilson said. "The nation's best interests can be served in the fight against fraud if each individual person can do his part to make sure that the innocent are not exploited.

Typical examples of mail fraud misrepresentations by mail include work-at-home schemes, phony franchises, miraculous "cures" for a variety of illnesses, weight reducing plans with no medical value, and a variety of investment offers that purport to make a lot of money very quickly and with little effort.

Businesses also become victims of mail fraud and false representations, Postmaster Wilson said. "Companies pay out millions of dollars each year for imaginary or non-existent organizations." Postmaster Wilson urged consumers to ask companies to back up their claims if an offer sounds too good to be true. "That's the best way to protect yourself and your money," he said. "But if you feel you've been victimized by a fraudulent offer or have not received the merchandise you ordered, contact your local post office or a postal inspector." Phone numbers are listed under "U.S. Postal Service in local phone directories."

Mrs. Glenn Allo Reeve of 510 W. 10th, Friona, is among 129 women nominated for the WTSU Distinguished Service Awards to be presented by West Texas State University later this month. The nominees and the recipients of these awards will be honored at a luncheon April 22 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the East Dining Hall on the WTSU campus. Tickets are $4.50.

Mrs. Reeve is a familiar sight to local folks as she scurries around the campus. She herself has experienced a career or in volunteer service. She has served as treasurer, secretary, vice-president, president, and director of the Friona Noon Women's Club. She joined the club in 1947. She brought attention to our community as a result of her outstanding program "The Twelve Brides of the White House." This program was given twice to Modern Study Club in 1972 and 1973. Mrs. Reeve has taught over one hundred twenty times all over the Panhandle and in Clovis, New Mexico; and is still being asked to give it.

She is instrumental in reorganizing the Fine Arts Council to cover the department-drama, music, art courses, clubs, crafts, and the Fine Arts Banquet. She has written short story, poetry, essay, books, plus community plays. She is an organizing member of the Texas Panhandle Arts Council of Amarillo that is just now drawing up its by-laws.

She was chairman of the Panhandle County Women's Committee, which was very active during our Bi-Centennial Year and resulted in our community being selected as a "National Bi-Centennial Community." She is also a member of our local Square Dance Club, Bridge Club, Historical Society, (Vice-President) and is the local book club secretary-treasurer of "Good Time Girls" a Recreation Vehicle Club for the Amarillo area.

Allo Reeve was selected as "Woman of the Year" for Friona by the Friona Chamber of Commerce in 1984 and was 1987 candidate for "Woman for Distinguished Service" award given by the WTSU. Allo Reeve was the 1977 candidate in 1978. The awards was given this year April 22 at a banquet April 22 at West Texas State University.

Allo Reeve is a student in planting of oils, and china and has many other hobbies such as sewing, playing the organ, gardening, needlepoint, crocheting and embroidery. All this and she found the time to help her husband, Glenn, in the biggest events of their business-Reeve Chevrolet-Olds.

Mrs. Reeve is an appropriate choice as a deserving nominee for the WTSU Distinguished Service Award. Friona is proud of its "Woman of the Year."

Methodist Women Host Luncheon

The United Methodist Women had a luncheon in Fellowship Hall, March 29, at 12 noon. Mrs. Guy Latta, chairperson of the membership committee, directed and acted in a singing play, entitled, "The Trial of John Duke," the life and death of John Duke, an act of domestic violence. Mrs. Kenyth Cass gave the opening prayer and Rev. John Duke, Glen Herring, Joe Bob Boswell, and Mrs. Kenyth Cass opened the meeting with prayer. The luncheon was held in the home of Mrs. and Mr. Robert Stowers. All of the sponsors and guests were members of the Methodist Women. Assisting her were Mesdames Jim Herring, Andy Hurst, Estes Bass, John Duke, Glen Herring, Opal Jones, Guy Latta, Floyd Reeve, Mary Livingstone, Dennis Day, Phil Harris, and Charles Russell. Each entry was given a ribbon and "The Art Loft will be responsible for any damage to the entries. No wet paint, please!"

Town Talk

By June Floyd
Phone 247-3681 With Your News Item

The event was in conjunction with National Library week

probably the most exciting Town Talk in Friona this week is the news that our community will soon have a library and a book collection. There has been much interest in this project, which will serve all persons in our area regardless of age, color or creed. We're going to be hearing a lot more about this and anyone who is interested is urged to get involved in whatever capacity desired.

Another project that needs the attention of all residents is the annual American Cancer Society drive, which begins Monday, April 11. Volunteers will be knocking on every door and residents are encouraged to contribute generously. Also of utmost importance are the suggestions made in literature which will be given you by those making the drive.

Education on the subject of cancer can save many lives each year. Any one of us could very well be the next victim. It is necessary for everyone to know the signs and symptoms of cancer. Those going this time were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Janett and children, Martha and Tommie, all of Friona. Also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of the Lathropoke Community and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Long, Clovis, New Mexico.

The Taylor clan has returned from their trip to Canon City, Colorado on May 5-8. Those going this time were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Janett and children, Martha and Tommie, all of Friona. Also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of the Lathropoke Community and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Long, Clovis, New Mexico.

The Taylor family was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Edkar Miller of Roosevelt, Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck of Farwell.

The event was In conjunction with National Library week.
