RAIDS PROVISION ATTACKED BY U.S. SENATORS

No-Knock Narcotics Vote Called

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitterly fought provision allowing no-warning police raids of homes where narcotics are suspected of being used was called up today for a Senate vote. The provision was denounced in the strongest terms by opponents, led by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., who said it was a flagrant violation of the Constitution's Fourth Amendment protection against unreasonable search and seizure.

provision, but would not actively defend it in debate. Although Dodd said he didn't think the no-warning measure was dangerous to basic constitutional rights, he indicated he did not want the entire bill, aimed at curbing illicit trafficking in narcotics, to flounder over the provision. However, Ervin, a former judge on his state's Supreme Court, left no doubts about his feelings. "This section permits federal narcotics agents to act like burglars and enter a house by stealth or by force," Ervin told the Senate in earlier debate. But Dodd, in a statement reflecting Justice Department thinking on the subject, said the provision "should not be considered part of a television script that conjures up visions of kicked-in doors, sinister police invading residences in the dark of night and other apertures characteristic of a police state." "The only cases where a no-knock warrant may be judicially authorized is when notice of authority and purpose would either lead to the destruction of the evidence sought or place the officers executing the warrant in danger of bodily harm," he said. Ervin, in introducing—with nine other Judiciary Committee members—an amendment to eliminate the no-knock provision, said he believed the right to privacy was indeed in jeopardy. He said the bill requires federal agents "to swear to facts that are false at the time they are sworn to—that the householder will destroy the suspected narcotics before the agent gets in." The Dodd bill generally calls also for a sweeping overhaul of the penalty system for drug abuse with stern penalties provided for professional dealers in hard drugs and lesser sentences for persons convicted of simple possession of marijuana. It also enables the Justice Department to set up a schedule differentiating between types of narcotics, drugs and dangerous substances and the degree in which they are to be restricted from public distribution. And it calls for creation of a commission to consider the nature of marijuana and its long term effects.

Bombers Pounding Viet Supply Depots In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their heaviest raids in nine months overnight, attacking North Vietnamese supply depots inside Laos, across the frontier in the A Shau Valley and farther south along the Cambodian border. About 60 B52s, four fifths of the Strategic Air Command's bomber fleet in Asia, flew from bases in Thailand, Guam and Okinawa to drop nearly 2,000 tons of explosives. The targets of the raids were North Vietnamese supplies being moved into South Vietnam.

TRUCKS SIGHTED The raids on Laos and the A Shau Valley were ordered after trucks were sighted in the valley for the first time in more than a year. American bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery attacked the trucks and a warehouse. The U.S. Command said 14 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed, but heavy enemy machine-gun fire kept American spotter pilots from assessing the damage to the trucks and warehouses.

year, heavier than last year." They said however, that enemy movement always increases at this time of year because it is the dry season. "They are maintaining this option of launching an offensive," one source said. "Whether they are going to exercise it or how they're going to use it remains to be seen." Pointing out that the Tet festival of the lunar new year comes in two weeks, on Feb. 6, one source said the U.S. Command expects to see an increase in enemy offensive activity, "but the current pattern of enemy actions makes it clear that he wants to avoid attacks that might result in large numbers of casualties. Increased action was reported today in all four military zones of South Vietnam. The U.S. Command said there were 29 enemy rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. today, about half of them in Tay Ninh Province north of Saigon. Three Americans were reported wounded, and South Vietnamese casualties were reported light. Allied ground and air forces claimed 161 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in a dozen fights during the 24 hours. Five Americans were killed and five wounded. South Vietnamese losses were reported as seven wounded. One unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade had five men killed and four wounded in an ambush on the coastal plains. Only two enemy soldiers were reported killed. In Da Nang, meanwhile, U.S. Marine sources said most Marines who have served nine months or more in Vietnam will be among the 12,900 Leathernecks being withdrawn from Vietnam by April 15. In previous Marine withdrawals, the cutoff time was 11 months. Exceptions will include men with special skills—chiefly aviation—for whom replacements are scarce and men who extended their normal one-year tours in Vietnam six months. American troop strength in Vietnam increased last week by 4,700 after a three-week decline, the U.S. Command reported, but it still remained well below the current ceiling of 484,000. The weekly summary put the U.S. strength at 469,900 compared to 465,200 the previous week. U.S. spokesmen said American troop strength fluctuates from week to week and that the rise last week was an "administrative adjustment" reflecting replacements for troops on normal rotation after their year's tour in Vietnam.

Romney Won't Rule Himself Out Of Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Housing George Romney expressed hope today that Michigan Republicans could agree on some candidate other than him to run for the Senate this year. But Romney declined to take himself completely out of consideration for the nomination to oppose the incumbent Democrat, Sen. Philip A. Hart. "Our department's new housing and urban programs are at a critical state, and the national program for voluntary action is about to be launched," Romney told a news conference. "As a result, at this particular time they require my complete attention."

"Hopefully there can be agreement on someone else as a consensus candidate who can command the wide support needed to win the election," he said. Romney was asked why he did not categorically rule himself out of contention. "I don't think any human being can know with absolute certainty what future events will bring," he replied. The former Michigan governor said also that his wife Lenore is not an active contender for the job. "She will not be a consensus candidate unless they cannot unite on someone else," Romney said. "Only in that event will she consider it."

Mrs. Romney has been mentioned as a possible candidate by House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, among others. Michigan Republican leaders will meet later this week in St. Clair in an attempt to agree on a candidate. Romney declined to endorse anyone else specifically for the nomination, and said he would not attend the consensus meeting this week.

Jet Trainer Crash Victims

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Capt. Kenneth M. Stallings Jr. and 2nd Lt. Allison S. Berry of Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock were killed late Saturday night when their T37 twin jet trainer crashed. The crash came near the end of a routine training flight from Reese AFB to Randolph AFB at San Antonio via Cannon AFB at Clovis, N.M. The aircraft was last in radar contact at 10:15 p.m. Saturday and the wreckage was discovered by a rescue helicopter from Randolph about 11 hours later. Berry was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Berry of Atlanta, Ga. He had been stationed at Reese AFB since August, 1969. Captain Stallings was survived by his widow, Julie, and their two children, all of Lubbock, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Stallings Sr. of Olive Branch, Miss. An Air Force board was appointed to investigate the cause of the crash.

DRAFT RULING Student War Protesters Win Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 2 today that local draft boards may not strip student war protesters of their deferments and reclassify them 1A as "delinquents."

"We do not find any indication," said Justice Hugo L. Black, "that Congress intended to allow the draft boards to deprive otherwise qualified students of their deferments" for opposing the Vietnam war and giving up their draft cards as an act of protest. The ruling, which drew objections from Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Potter Stewart, follows hard on the heels of a high court ruling last Monday that said draft boards may not accelerate the induction of war protesters already in 1A category. The new ruling bars classification to 1A from any deferred or exempt category. Student deferments comprise one such group. The government rationalized the massive reclassification of war protesters by saying they were not being punished for their actions but were being declared delinquent for not having draft cards in their possession. But Black said Congress, in writing draft law, clearly intended to give students a deferment and "did not specifically provide or in any way indicate that such deferred status could be denied because the registrant failed to possess his registration certificate."

Pioneer Gas Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — Pioneer Natural Gas Co., which serves 61 West Texas cities, said today it should be allowed to charge industrial users a lower rate than the domestic users' rate. The cities have argued that all customers should pay the same rate. Pioneer, seeking Railroad Commission permission for an increase in its "gate rate" from 28 to 35.50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, noted that its service to industries is interruptible — it can discontinue service at any time to make sure its domestic customers have continued service.

Two Young Deaf Mutes 'Never Had A Chance' In Hotel Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Two young deaf mutes who died in a Sunday morning fire that routed hundreds of guests from the downtown Conrad Hilton Hotel "never had a chance," said Chicago Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn. Efforts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by firemen failed to revive the two 17-year-olds. "The smoke got them before we opened the door," said Quinn. The fire on the ninth floor of the 25-story hotel sent 19 persons to hospitals and necessitated first aid treatment for 20 other persons in the hotel. The 2,341-room Hilton, one of the city's largest hotels, was the headquarters hotel of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Divers Recover Carbine Used To Kill Yablonski?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Attorney Robert B. Krupansky said today divers have recovered a .30-caliber M1 carbine from the Monogahela River but said he had no information it was one of the weapons used to kill United Mine Workers official Joseph Yablonski, his wife and daughter. Krupansky, who will convene Tuesday a grand jury investigation of the slayings, said the weapon was found in the river about five miles from the Yablonski home in Clarksville, Pa., scene of the killings Jan. 5. The Washington Post and Cleveland Plain Dealer reported that FBI ballistics tests had proved the gun was used in the slayings. Krupansky also said he had no information on reports that a civilian diver Saturday pulled from the river a bag containing ammunition and wire cutters. "They may have, but at least I have no information yet," he said. Both the Post and the Plain Dealer said divers were continuing to search for a .38-caliber pistol believed used by Yablonski's killer. The river search was started Friday by FBI agents and civilian skin divers. Five U.S. Navy deep sea divers with full equipment later arrived at Fredericktown, Pa., near the scene of the search.

Wrong Way Drive Proves Deadly

SNYDER, Tex. (AP) — Jack C. Garrett, 47, of Lubbock was killed today when his car struck a construction barrier on U.S. 84 about 11 miles north of Snyder. Highway patrolmen said Garrett, a dairy owner, was driving on the wrong side of the divided highway.

Long Lines Of Refugees Growing In Number Daily

LAGOS (AP) — Fallen Biafra's homeless Ibos must get back to their villages before the spring rains, or Nigeria could be faced with a refugee problem akin to that of the Palestinian Arabs, an American relief coordinator said today. "This is the yam planting season," he said. "Unless the seeds are put in before the rains begin in April, the people from the war zones will be dependent on relief supplies until the fall of 1971. If these people can get their crops in the ground now, there will be a harvest to feed themselves in September. If not, they will be refugees for another 20 months, existing on relief supplies. In that time a refugee psychosis could develop, saddling

$75,000 Libel Judgment Review Denied Publisher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Publisher Ralph Ginzburg was denied today a Supreme Court review of a $75,000 libel judgment won against him by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. Goldwater had sued Ginzburg and Fact magazine for libel over an article during his 1964 presidential campaign that contended Goldwater had a paranoid personality and was unfit for the presidency. A U.S. District Court jury in southern New York returned a verdict for Goldwater awarding him $1 in compensatory damages and $75,000 in punitive damages. The 2nd U.S. Circuit Appeals upheld the verdict and lands beyond the Niger River, in the war-devastated northeast corner of the Eastern Region. The expert refused to be quoted by name because the federal government, through hourly radio broadcasts, tells the refugees in the bush to stay where they are until food reaches them. Already, according to government figures, 600,000 displaced persons are in refugee camps, a jump of 20 per cent in the week since the war ended. Long files of refugees, growing in number every day, are streaming down the roads. Some relief workers think it will swell into the millions. Yams are a main staple of the Nigerian diet, especially in the rural villages. The great yam growing areas were the Ibo a half now, it still has less than 4,000 people and no municipal services. Only a handful of Ibos has returned to the northern cities of Kano and Kaduna, from which the Ibos fled after the Moslem majority massacred thousands of the Southerners in 1966. Until then the aggressive, ambitious Ibos held most of the government jobs in the northern lands bordering on the desert. The mood of bear-hug brotherly greetings and official calls for reconciliation that marked the first days of peace shows signs of turning sour. Crowding about victory has replaced reconstruction and reconciliation as a main editorial theme in many newspapers; columnists are recommending a public loyalty oath before Ibos are reinstated in government posts.

Snag Develops In New County Policy

County Commissioners ran into conflict this morning over a work policy set last week preventing employees from drawing salaries on the first day of sick leave or any time they are absent only one day for sickness.

Commissioners disagreed whether to apply the policy to all county employees or only to Road and Bridge Department and library employees.

"I don't think we have the right to set the policy for all departments," Simon Terrazas said. Bill Tume agreed with him. "I feel elected officials should set their own policies concerning time off for their employees," Tume said.

Ray Nichols said he felt if the policy were only applied to one or two departments it would be discriminating against some county employees.

"If we don't have any legal jurisdiction I think we should ask the elected officials to follow this policy," Bill Crocker said.

Judge Lee Porter said the commissioners have the right to set salaries in all departments, but commissioners hire and fire employees of the Road and Bridge Department and the library only.

"If we can set salaries, I think we can set the hours to be worked," Porter said.

Commissioners recessed shortly after noon until 1:30 p.m. today, when they were to resume discussion on the policy.

Earlier this morning, commissioners gave Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, permission to give travel advances to out-of-state witnesses in the trial of Rae Bourbon, charged as an accomplice in the murder of A. D. Blount here in December, 1968.

Bourbon is scheduled to go on trial in Brownwood Feb. 16, and Wayne Tollett, special investigator for the district attorney, appeared before the court to request the move.

"Since the case is being tried in Brownwood and the subpoenas have been issued from there, it will cause problems if we have to appear before commissioners court every time a subpoena is issued," Tollett said, appearing for District Attorney Wayne Burns, who is out of town.

The check for travel advance has to accompany subpoena papers, Tollett said. The state of Texas will reimburse the county for the advances, which were $162 per witness for the trial of Bobby Chrissio last September here.

"Of course it will have to be refigured for Brownwood since we have to pay 10 cents per mile and the mileage will differ," Mrs. Black said.

The county also pays out-of-state witnesses $10 per day and in-state witnesses $5 per day for the number of days they are detained by the trial. Tollett said five witnesses from out-of-state are anticipated.

Commissioners accepted a low bid of $1,031 from General Electric for a car radio for the sheriff's department. Mrs. Black and Sheriff A. N. Standard verified the low bid included all specifications. Other commissions of Precinct No. 1 in the upcoming May 2 primary.

Riordan updated his list of those officially filed with him as of this morning as follows: Omar Burston for reelection to the U.S. Congress; Roy Lee Ford and Ralph L. Mahoney, legislative representative; Fern Cox and Evelyn Hale, district clerk; Pauline S. Petty, county clerk; Frances Glenn, county treasurer; Harvey Hooper, county judge; Bob Wheeler, Jeff Grant, Jack W. Buchanan, and Bill Tume, county commissioner; Precinct No. 4; Harold A. Sherrill, L. (Ed) Edwards and Joe T. Swinney, county commissioner, Precinct No. 2; Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, Precinct No. 2; C. J. Lamb, justice of the peace, Precinct No. 1; Leon Ward, constable, Precinct No. 3; and Ralph Baker, county surveyor.

Riordan said that no one has yet filed for the offices of state senator or district judge.

The Democratic chairman also compiled a list of important dates affecting the upcoming election period as follows:

Feb. 2 — last date to file for a place on the ballot.

Feb. 10 — county chairman mails statement of assessments to all candidates.

Nov. 3 — general election.

Nov. 3 — general election.

Joe Swinney Enters Race In Precinct 2

Joe T. Swinney, former mayor of Coahoma, announced today he will be a candidate for county commissioner of Precinct 2, subject to the Democratic Party primary May 2.

A resident of Howard County 25 years and of Precinct 2 for 15 years, Swinney is in the chain link fence business, and formerly was employed at Cabot Corp. 16 years.

"It would be my pleasure to serve the people of the county," he said today in making his announcement. "My candidacy does not indicate that the present commissioners have not done a good job, but I feel qualified to serve as county commissioner, after having been mayor of a city. I am familiar with the problems, such as roads. If elected, it will be my desire to serve the public."

Swinney served one term as mayor of Coahoma. He is youth director of the Coahoma Church of Christ, past president of the Coahoma Lions Club, and a member of the Band Boosters, Quarterback Club and Volunteer Fire Department, all of Coahoma. He is a member of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 826.

Swinney attended public schools at Stanton. He and his wife, Melva, make their home in Coahoma, with their three children, Marlene, 16, a sophomore in Coahoma High School; Carey Dean, 14, eighth grader in Coahoma Junior High School; and John Allen, 2 1/2.

Several Howard County Sheriff's deputies are in Midland today beginning a week of schooling for certification to comply with a new state law which requires a certain amount of law enforcement training each year.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said this morning that the school, being taught by the Texas Department of Public Safety, is of no direct cost to the citizens of Howard County.

The officers attending the sessions, which will continue on alternate weeks until state requirements are met, include the women of the department, also.

Sheriff Standard said the sessions also correspond to requirements of the Texas Committee on Law Enforcement Officers Standard Education.

The missing seven dollars was reportedly taken by a man who apparently hid in the store until the attendant locked up for the night. The man allegedly took the money, in change, and then left himself out the back door. He was arrested in Dumas on a motorcycle theft charge.

Routine Agenda On Tap For City Commission

Consideration of two bids to codify city ordinances, and two requests for zone changes head the City Commission's agenda for its regular meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the commission room of City Hall.

Bids from the Municipal Code Corporation of Tallahassee, Fla., and Management Research Corporation of Houston will be considered a second time by the commissioners, to determine which company will get the job of codifying the city ordinances passed since the last codification in the summer of 1968.

At a meeting late last year, the commissioners asked City Attorney Herb Prouty to contact both companies and find out why there is a difference between the $508 bid by Municipal Code Corporation and the $359.25 bid by Management Research before taking action on the matter.

Jay Cunningham is requesting a zone change in the 600 block of East Third to permit him to operate an indoor milling operation in his feed store. The planning and zoning board approved the change at their last meeting on the condition that Cunningham meet certain standards concerning dust and appearance in the operation to which he agreed.

Hosea Banks requests a specific use permit to operate a nursing home at the corner of Northwest Seventh and Wyoming. This measure was also approved by the planning and zoning board at its last meeting after Banks told the board he had agreed to comply with state health regulations and had received tentative approval for his plans from the state health department. He intends to provide living, dining and recreational space for 13 elderly persons in what is now a vacant building.

Also on the agenda is consideration of the status of the city-county airport zoning board, a resolution lauding departed public works director Ernest Lillard routine consideration of the city's unpaid vouchers, and third reading of the paving ordinance.

The hoodlums apparently got in after noon Saturday, for a teacher was in the building then and nothing had happened.

Vandals wrought havoc on three rooms of the Coahoma elementary school over the weekend.

They may have gained entrance through a window, then scattered furniture in two first grade rooms, tore up a film strip, wrote filthy language on boards and sidewalks, broke crayons and left the water running in the sink. In a second grade room they glued everything in sight, then tore up 12 stacks on the roof.

Howard K. Mogg, 24, Canyon was arrested by the Howard County Sheriff's office Friday on a warrant from Lubbock which charges defrauding an innkeeper. He is currently being held in the Howard County jail on $500 bond set in Lubbock.

Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard said today that a young man is being held in connection with the Friday night robbery at Pinkie's North Store. The missing seven dollars was reportedly taken by a man who apparently hid in the store until the attendant locked up for the night. The man allegedly took the money, in change, and then left himself out the back door. He was arrested in Dumas on a motorcycle theft charge.

Deputies Attend Midland Classes

Several Howard County Sheriff's deputies are in Midland today beginning a week of schooling for certification to comply with a new state law which requires a certain amount of law enforcement training each year.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said this morning that the school, being taught by the Texas Department of Public Safety, is of no direct cost to the citizens of Howard County.

The officers attending the sessions, which will continue on alternate weeks until state requirements are met, include the women of the department, also.

Sheriff Standard said the sessions also correspond to requirements of the Texas Committee on Law Enforcement Officers Standard Education.

AMONG THE BEST — Wyatt Cooper, New York publisher, and his wife, Gloria Vanderbilt, both made the 1969 international best dressed list. The Coopers join the parade of often-talented, often-beautiful and almost always-rich people who were named.

FASHIONABLE COUPLE — Robert Sakowitz and his wife, the former Pamela Zauderer, were named Sunday to the 1969 international best dressed list. The Houston-couple are shown at their 1969 wedding reception in New York. The poll was taken among 2,000 people in the fashion and social worlds.

Best Dressed List Becomes 'A Little More Democratic'

NEW YORK (AP) — Here it is. The parade of often-talented, often-beautiful and almost always-rich people who have made the international best dressed list.

The list is the result of a poll of some 2,000 people in the fashion and social worlds. Names of those chosen for 1969 were announced Sunday by Eleanor Lambert, publicist and co-ordinator of the poll.

Over the years, the selection has become a little more democratic. A men's category has been added. The ranking system has been eliminated. Blacks have been honored, albeit in "token" proportions. This year Harry Belafonte was selected over men like Mayor John Lindsay of New York and Baron Alexis de Rede, both of whom are more "social" in the Establishment sense.

Five men and one woman were chosen to the Fashion Hall of Fame as "perpetual symbols of excellence in dress." They are film stars Cary Grant and Douglas Fairbanks; Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh; Dean Acheson, former U.S. Secretary of State; Angier Biddle Duke, former ambassador to Spain and Denmark, and Baroness Philippine de Rothschild of France.

The women on the 1969 list not professionally connected with fashion are:

—Mme. Ahmed Benhima (wife of the Moroccan ambassador to the United Nations). She likes designers Dior and Gres.

—Mrs. William McCormick Blair Jr., Washington, D.C. (wife of the former ambassador who now heads the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts). She wears Givenchy's creations.

—Mrs. Wyatt Cooper (Gloria Vanderbilt) of New York. She is dressed by Adolfo.

—Mrs. Kirk Douglas, Beverly Hills, Calif. (wife of the actor). Molly Parnis fashions suit her.

—Mrs. Ahmet Ertegun, New York (wife of the music publisher). She is another Adolfo fan.

Others in this category include: Mrs. Robert Evans (Ali McGraw, actress); Mrs. Patrick Guinness, Paris and Lausanne, Switzerland; Her Highness Princess Salima, wife of the Aga Khan (former Lady Sarah Crichton-Stuart); Mrs. Graham Mattison, Paris (Brazilian-born wife of the American financier); Mrs. Charlotte Niarcho (former Charlotte Ford); Mrs. William Rayner, New York; Mrs. Charles Revson (wife of the cosmetics manufacturer); Mrs. Robert Sakowitz (former Pamela Zauderer); and Mrs. Harilaos Theodoropoulos (American-born wife of Greek shipping magnate).

Women best dressed in the fashion world are: model and socialite Marisa Berenson, fashion photographer Berry Berenson, Mrs. Robin Butler, Mrs. Oscar de la Renta, Mrs. David Evins, Lady Pamela Harlech, Mrs. Thomas Kemper, Mme. Minouche Le Blan, Eve Orton, Mrs. Renny Saltzman, Mrs.

Frank Schiff and fashion model Veruschka (Countess Vera von Lehndorff in private life).

The men in private life who led the way in 1969 are: Gianni Agnelli (head of the Fiat Company of Italy); Adolphus Andrews (San Francisco businessman); Harry Belafonte; Gianni Bulgari (Rome jeweler); Michael Butler (producer of "Hair"); James Coburn (film actor); Wyatt Cooper (New York publisher); Frank Gifford (New York sports broadcaster); George Hamilton (film actor); Jean-Claude Killy (Olympic skier); Baron Eric de Rothschild (member of the international banking family) and David Susskind (television personality).

NATTIEST DRESSERS — By the looks of the international best dressed list for 1969, the young and adventurous are gaining ground. Shown above are some of the 26 women and 26 men chosen from a poll taken of socialites, designers and

Edith Head Labels Her First Line 'Airport Look'

NEW YORK (AP) — Edith Head, Hollywood Academy Award winning costume designer, has shown her first line of clothes for the American woman.

Miss Head, who has dressed stars in over 1,000 movies, adapted the new line from clothes she created for "Airport."

Wearing an orange brocade dress and jacket, she greeted guests at a dinner for the New York Couture Business Council, Inc. fashion showings. Her skirt was about three inches above the ankle.

"Is it a midi?" she was asked.

"It can't make up its mind," she answered, holding on to her purse, an old hand warmer, once filled with coals on winter nights.

Labeled the "Airport Look," her new line is made from Hyston Fibers, Inc.'s Trivera, a polyester. It is wrinkle-free and able to take on the qualities of fabrics like wool, silk or linen.

Miss Head's current movie project is designing Mae West's clothes for the movie "Myra Breckinridge." But so far, she's enthusiastic about doing clothes for the public.

Another of the day's events for the Couture Business Council's National Press Week was a Vogue-Butterick Pattern Company fashion show of 1970's silhouettes.

A Devotion For Today . . .

When thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do . . . that they may have glory of men. (Matthew 6:2)

PRAYER: Lord, let me be prompted to kindly actions, not for show or self-benefit, but for love of Thee and genuine concern for others. In Thy name I ask. Amen.

Victory For Conservationists

The Nixon administration demonstrated its interest in conservation by reaching an agreement with Florida banning the construction of a huge international jetport near the Everglades National Park.

Conservationists had been fighting the project for years. Its proximity to the primeval Everglades, they argued, would disturb the ecology of the area by driving off many common as well as rare species of birds and animals.

It seemed for a time that the protests of conservationists would not be heeded. The jetport was to be the most modern one in the world today, one that would accommodate supersonic airliners as well as subsonic planes.

agreement a victory for conservation which "affirms the need to conserve our national heritage; it does not deny the need for new airport facilities in Florida."

The Dade County Port Authority at the same time announced that it had acquired another site for the jetport, located approximately 45 miles west of Miami and nine miles north of the Everglades. There it plans to construct an airport with runways six miles in length to accommodate the supersonic jets of the future and less conventional aircraft.

Conservationists everywhere will rejoice over this victory. Citizens everywhere should be thankful that a unique wilderness area has been preserved for this and future generations of Americans.

Congress Needs Fiscal Reform

The second session of the 91st Congress opened with leaders promising that it will do better than the first session in handling the dozen or so major annual appropriation bills.

And it probably will, for it could hardly do worse than last year's record poor performance. The first session did not complete most appropriation bills until months after the beginning of the current fiscal year to which they applied, leaving departments and agencies to struggle along on emergency funding and handicapped on budget planning.

Three appropriations — for the Labor Department, Health, Education and Welfare Department, and foreign aid — were passed over to the current session for completion even as Congress receives the administration's recommendations for the next budget.

Also Congress should act more expeditiously on appropriation bills this session because this is an election year, a double incentive. Members will want to adjourn in time to campaign for next fall's general election, and they will hardly want to go to the voters with another poor fiscal performance fresh in the public mind.

However, even if appropriating is speeded up this session, it is still unlikely that the process will be completed before the beginning of the next fiscal year July 1. And it will hardly mean that the basic problems of congressional budget handling have been solved.

That will require reforms that this session of Congress is not expected to undertake. These include adjusting the fiscal year to the calendar year to allow more time for fiscal legislation and reorganization of congressional budget handling. Whatever may happen this year, the 1969 mess will stand as proof that congressional budget procedures are in dire need of a thorough overhauling.

Nursing Homes Quit Medicare

By GAYLORD SHAW
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of the nation's nursing homes have quit the medicare program. Many others still in the program refuse to accept new medicare patients.

A nationwide Associated Press survey disclosed that more than 500 nursing homes have withdrawn since extended care provisions of the federal health care program began three years ago. In the last six months alone, Social Security Administration figures show, 295 extended care facilities have dropped medicare voluntarily.

said, others signed up so the net loss was only 50 — from 4,900 certified extended care facilities July 1, to 4,850 Jan. 1.

There are about 25,000 nursing homes in the nation, but not all can qualify for medicare's extended care program because of such requirements as around-the-clock licensed nursing care.

MEDICARE DOES not pay for custodial nursing home care. Rather, it was designed to pay for short-term stays in nursing homes for patients recuperating after discharge from a hospital.

To qualify, a patient must require skilled nursing care on a continuing basis. He also must enter an extended care facility (ECF) within two weeks after leaving a hospital where he had remained at least three consecutive days.

On a typical day, 80,000 elderly nursing home patients across the country are having their bills paid by medicare. The average stay in a nursing home under medicare is 50 days. The average monthly claim is $365.

Medicare pours about $450 million a year into nursing homes, but this is less than half of the more than $1 billion paid nursing homes annually by medicare, the state administered, largely federal financed program of medical care for low income people of all ages.

MEDICAID, in general, pays the bills of elderly patients who need less intensive, but longer-term nursing home care.

In a few states, medicare is more controversial than medicare. In Ohio, the number of nursing homes participating in medicare increased 16 during 1969 and now total 212. But nursing home operators in parts of the state are talking of boycotting medicare in a dispute over benefit levels.

"Medicaid isn't worth a hoot," said Rowland Lutz, administrator of a large Columbus home. "We do not take medicare patients." In contrast, Lutz said, "medicare is not a problem with us."

BUT HUNDREDS of other nursing homes view medicare — not Medicaid — as causing bigger headaches.

In Georgia, for example, a poll conducted by one nursing home administrator showed 21 homes had quit medicare, 18 planned to quit unless there were changes and 27 said they planned to withdraw, changes or not.

In Louisiana, 130 signed up when the program began but only 73 are still in the program. In Texas, 260 homes handled medicare patients last May but only 220 do now. In Oklahoma, 20 of 47 homes originally certified have withdrawn — "just kind of dwindling away, one or two at a time," one official said. In Kansas, 76 homes were certified at first, but 20 have dropped out.

SOME OF THIS impact is canceled, however, by enrollment of newly built facilities in the booming nursing home industry.

Government officials trace the industry's discontent to a crackdown on misuse and overuse of medicare's benefits.

Not so, say nursing home administrators. Their dissatisfaction results, they contend, from retroactive denial of benefits, staggering paperwork and low rates.

The AP survey turned up no instances of elderly patients being suddenly turned out of nursing homes. But many administrators said their homes no longer accept medicare patients, though still qualified under the program.

"THE NATIONAL trend of nursing homes to drop out of medicare's extended care program" was cited this month by Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, when he launched congressional hearings on nine home problems.

But a Social Security Administration spokesman said, "there's no trend. The number of homes in the program goes up and down."

Although 295 homes quit the program in six months, this official

Will you please explain what Isaiah means by the "treasures of darkness?"

G.L.

The word "darkness" usually refers to solitude, separation or affliction. The human spirit is usually at its best in times of trial. Security and prosperity never develop the soul — they often tend to shrivel our spirits. Study history and you will find that adversity brings out the best in people. A smooth sea never made a skillful mariner, neither does steady prosperity and success qualify us for usefulness and happiness. The martyrs of ancient times, in fortifying their souls against outward adversity, acquired a strength that was super-human.

This age needs to rediscover the "treasures of darkness": the art of meditation and solitude. We need to guard against softness and drift of conformity. The soul's muscles are best conditioned in the gymnasium of discipline.

'CAN I BE OF SOME ASSISTANCE, SIR?'

Hal Boyle Sunday Sermon Too Long?

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The average American motorist now drives 10,000 miles annually. That's a long way to go to find a parking space.

In the 18th century colonial days, erotic literature was given short shrift. Books and pamphlets deemed to contain material that was morally or politically offensive were usually publicly burned. And if they were particularly offensive, they were whipped before being destroyed. A spanking good novel had to be read in secret.

Manhattan should be the easiest place in the country to get a physician. It has 419 doctors for each 100,000 residents compared to only 50 per 100,000 for the nation as a whole. The national shortage of doctors is now put at 10,000.

Do you think the world is suffering now from too much worship of youth? The situation promises to be worse by 1986 when 30 per cent of all the people on earth will be less than 15 years old.

The water you use to cook potatoes in tonight may be the same as that which helped float Cleopatra's barge along the Nile River centuries ago. Water rarely dies. The chemical bond that unites two atoms of hydrogen and one atom of oxygen to produce water is almost unbreakable.

Quotable notables: "If my husband would ever meet a woman on the street who looked like the women in his paintings, he would fall over in a dead faint." — Mrs. Pablo Picasso.

If you rarely or never order a preferred brand of liquor when drinking at a bar you may be an alcoholic, says Dr. Luther Cloud, president of the National Council on Alcoholism. Alcoholics are glad to get any kind of liquor.

Reading is the greatest tool to learning, but about one child in seven, educators say, are handicapped in acquiring this essential skill.

Icebergs may be towed in the future to supply water-short communities. Eighty per cent of the world's fresh water is held in frozen Antarctica. Oceanographers believe that massive icebergs, despite the problem of melting, could be towed to ports where needed at a cost less than it now takes to desalt sea water. Do you think your minister's Sunday sermon is too long? The record length one was preached by Clinton Locy of West Richland, Wash., in 1955. It lasted 48 hours and 18 minutes, and at the end eight members of the congregation were still in their pews.

It was Samuel Johnson who observed, "I never knew a man of merit neglected; it was generally his own fault that he failed of success."

John Cunniff Problems In Construction

NEW YORK (AP) — Is the construction industry mired in trouble or is it an enterprise modernizing itself to participate in the great building boom expected during the 1970's?

The answer may depend upon your point of view, because both aspects of the question are now visible.

The worst is described in a new study by the National Industrial Conference Board that shows the industry is growing at a rate of only 2 per cent a year while the economy has been expanding at a 4.5 per cent rate.

The significance of such sluggishness is that the nation depends on this industry for rebuilding the cities as well as providing new homes, schools, hospitals, roads, sewers, reservoirs, shopping centers.

It is, in other words, the industry that must be relied upon to accomplish the most massive environmental reconstruction job ever attempted, while facing the challenge of the most massive new building demands ever made.

While great hopes are held out for the industry, the NICB study shows that it is presently being strangled by soaring costs, restrictive building codes and labor union practices and a lack of large, efficient companies.

These problems can be translated into higher costs. Since 1958 construction prices have jumped 40 per cent.

Some of the finest building products available, mainly innovations brought to market in the past decade or so, are denied usage, primarily because of old fashion building codes. As a result, efficiencies often are sought elsewhere, resulting in a reduction of quality.

Wages have soared in this industry but productivity hasn't. While output was increasing recently at an average of 3.6 per cent a year in the private economy as a whole, it was rising by only 2.5 per cent in contract construction.

One of the biggest failures of the industry, one shared equally with government, is the absence of sound ways to channel money into the industry at times of great need. Because of tight money, an industry that is supposed to produce an average of 2.5 million housing units a year is, instead, producing about half that number.

The NICB study blames much of the inefficiency on a lack of large firms. By tradition, this has been an industry of many small, local contractors who, because of their inability to buy in volume, must pay premium prices.

cutting of certain nerves in the lower back — also is sometimes used, if necessary, the purpose being to let the blood vessels relax and carry more blood.

Buerger's disease doesn't necessarily lead to hardening of the arteries, but that isn't saying that such trouble won't develop, or may not already be present. The heart and other organs can be affected by Buerger's disease in some cases, although not to the extent one expects with generalized hardening of the arteries.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

To Your Good Health Buerger's Disease And What To Do

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain Buerger's disease and how it reacts. Only thing I know is that it occurs between the ages of 40 and 45 and it is a shrinkage of the artery.

What are you supposed to eat and drink? I mean the do's and don'ts. After a period of years with the disease result in hardening of the arteries, and will it affect the heart? — A.L.K.

Well, the disease occurs earlier than that, too — usually among men, and in the 20s, 30s and 40s.

Rather than a "shrinkage" of arteries, call it a chronic inflammation of arteries, with the risk of clots and ultimately shutting off of blood vessels. That leads to its technical name, thromboangiitis obliterans.

It occurs in the extremities, most commonly in the legs, but can involve the arms. Coldness and aching are the first symptoms. Over a period of years if the condition is not treated, gangrene is the usual result with the loss of toes or more.

Proper treatment will prevent this, but may or may not prevent all of the other symptoms.

The cause is not known, but one factor stands out like a sore thumb: the vast majority of patients are heavy smokers.

Diet has no effect on the disease. The absolute "do" is to quit tobacco. Quite a few patients show prompt and considerable improvement within a few weeks after they stop smoking.

Buerger's exercise (alternately raising and lowering an affected leg or arm from horizontal to vertical, and holding each position a minute or two) helps promote circulation which, of course, is what you need.

In addition, sometimes physiotherapy is required, also to help circulation. If spasm of the blood vessels is part of the picture, drugs may be used to relax them, and in selected cases nerve blocks can be helpful. Sympathectomy —

cutting of certain nerves in the lower back — also is sometimes used, if necessary, the purpose being to let the blood vessels relax and carry more blood.

Buerger's disease doesn't necessarily lead to hardening of the arteries, but that isn't saying that such trouble won't develop, or may not already be present. The heart and other organs can be affected by Buerger's disease in some cases, although not to the extent one expects with generalized hardening of the arteries.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Building Attractive Communities

In our hurry to build a barbecue grill in the back yard and buy a color TV set, maybe we're overlooking the good life.

Perhaps we're doing far too little planning in our new communities. There's a sameness about most new additions that is almost suffocating.

Europe represents the old and we denote the so-called new but civic planners in Europe put our builders to shame with their inventiveness and their refreshing initiative.

In some of Scotland's new suburbs, parents can send their children to school without fear of danger from cars. Why? Thorough planning has separated vehicular traffic from pedestrians and from vital areas like schools and shops. The results: Kids can now walk to classes without crossing a single street.

In Europe, at least one park is built close to every new neighborhood. In America, we are prone to look upon such areas as wasted space.

In Europe, you can reach picnic areas in 15 minutes time from your door. Here, you may drive to such places in that time but invariably the vandals have been there first and such places are not kept in good repair.

The United States is the world's richest nation but that may be the source of our trouble. We work for the fast buck rather than long range, hoping someone else cleans up after us.

The United Kingdom, a far poorer nation than America, shelters a million inhabitants in 30 new towns. One new community in England, called Harlow New Town, boasts attractive water gardens near its heart — show pieces which any American would envy.

Wellwyn, another new community in England, looks like a posh suburb but instead is a community where lower and middle income people shop and work. Designed kiosks take the place of billboards, which have been ruled out. Welcome green areas dot the middle of the commercial center.

The job of creating attractive new areas here invariably becomes complex because costs start to zoom, zoning laws are changed to favor those with political clout, taxes get out of balance and building codes are violated.

Subsidized housing is needed, simply because many underprivileged people would not be able to pay for minimum standard housing. By the same token, standards should be set up whereby those types of buildings must be maintained.

The 'State Of The World'

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has decided wisely that he will have a separate address on the "state of the world" about two weeks after his message on the "state of the union."

FOR NOT ONLY are the two subjects intertwined through the dependence of domestic appropriations on the size of expenses incurred in defense commitments abroad, but the policies of the United States cannot be defined without taking into account international as well as national questions.

The state of the world today, fortunately, is much better than it has been for several years. The basic problems have not been resolved, but there is more hope and a more optimistic atmosphere about the approach to them than has been witnessed in a decade.

NO CONCRETE agreement to terminate the Vietnam War has been reached, but a change is to be noted in the attitude of all sides toward finding some means of living with this problem. The communist countries which have been supporting North Vietnam now are convinced that the United States, although gradually withdrawing its forces, is prepared to help defend South Vietnam again if a crisis should develop. This doesn't necessarily involve the sending in of troops. For the "Vietnamization" of the war has brought about the build-up of a substantial military force which can defend South Vietnam provided it has the supplies and the technical advisers from the United States, and these can be made available without committing American manpower.

AS SOUTHEAST ASIA approaches an era of stability, there is a significant attempt being made to find some sort of understanding between the United States and Red China, which has played an influential part in encouraging the North Vietnamese. The Nixon administration has evidently determined that it will make every effort to convince the Peking regime of the desire of the United States to establish friendly relations with mainland China, though at the same time retaining its present intimacy with the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa.

THERE ARE, to be sure, a great number of factors involved in stabilizing the Far East. The United States is anxious to see the Nationalist Chinese continue to develop Formosa, but some kind of coalition ultimately with the Red Chinese leaders on the mainland is a possibility. If China could become once more a friend of the United States, this would change the entire situation in the Pacific from one of uncertainty to stability.

Perhaps the most significant factor in Asia is the development of an entente between Japan and the United States. The visit of the Japanese premier to this country a few weeks ago and recent conferences have indicated clearly that the United States favors a closer working arrangement with the Japanese for the improvement of the economic welfare of the peoples of the Asian continent.

AS TO THE REST of the world, the United States has some vital problems to solve in Europe. The future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is uncertain. The Washington government wants to withdraw as many troops as it can from Europe and place on the free nations of Western Europe the responsibility for their own defense. While there is a mobile American fleet and an adequate supply of missiles that can be fired from submarines, the Western countries need have little fear of nuclear war.

Latin America is relatively peaceful. Internal conditions in many countries are not satisfactory, but the United States is working harder to contribute to better economic progress there.

Nixon Pilfers Demos' Ideas

WASHINGTON — As Congress went back to work in this election year, one day's publicity for Nixon administration proposals in the so-called "social" field emphasized the problems faced by the Democrats in making a voting-booth record.

Five of these proposals made Page 1 in the Washington Post: A $236 million Federal fund to help states and cities fight street crime; doubling housing programs for low- and moderate-income families during 1970; uniformed cost accounting standards for preparing and administering government contracts; a Comsat-type corporation to rescue what's left of railroad passenger service; ending pollution of the skies by commercial airlines by 1972.

THREE PROPOSALS landed on Page 1 of the New York Times — Nixon's plan for a minimum income for the working poor; the railroad plan, and the proposal for the new accounting standards for government contracts.

This collection of headlines reminded Congressional Democrats — especially those up for reelection — of a circumstance they already had privately and uneasily acknowledged. It is that Nixon has seized the initiative, either with new ideas or with proposals snatched from the Democratic grasp.

TO BE SURE, they are all just that — proposals. And it is Congress that disposes. But for the Democrats to oppose these programs would be in effect, like coming out against motherhood and the divine right of J. Edgar Hoover. Every politician has to be against crime, at least publicly. He has got to be against pollution and government waste. He has got to be for more housing, more welfare and better railroad passenger service.

MEANWHILE, The President has even deprived the Democrats of whatever election-year points they might have scored on the Vietnam War issue — at least for the present. He has done so by the simple expedient of taking over the position long advocated by the doves in both parties. He is bringing men home from Vietnam, he has reduced American casualties, launched Vietnamization of the war and put pressure on Saigon to do business with the Communist National Liberation Front.

SO FAR, Nixon's attempts to curb inflation have been a failure. But even in this area, Republican candidates have material for campaign speeches. After all, Nixon inherited the inflation problem, created by the policies of Kennedy and Johnson, and while he has tried to pare the budget the Democratic Congress has sought to fatten it.

ALL THIS having been said, Nixon still has a record to make before November. He knows he'd better deliver. And the Democrats will have campaign ammunition in their cries that he is still not doing enough to solve domestic problems, as the brawl over the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments' budget has revealed.

But the President is in pretty good shape. He has stolen some of the Democratic thunder by pilfering some clearly is to lead, and to force the Democrats to follow him or relinquish their traditional role of the people's champion.

DOES NOT LEAD TO WAGE-EARNER QUITTING HIS JOB

President's Proposed Welfare Reforms Can Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 18-month-old experiment using the basic principles of President Nixon's welfare reform proposals indicates the administration idea can work, says the test director.

A telephone interview of the experiment is designed to determine how working people not earning enough to support their families behave when given supplementary funds.

In calculating payments needed to bring a family to that level, the first $60 a month of earnings would not be counted. Above this amount would be a $1 reduction of federal benefits for each $2 earned. Able-bodied adults in families assisted would have to accept suitable jobs if available or job training.

Watts indicated that although the evidence is not all in it can be said at this point "a program can be applied and administered for the working poor . . ."

The tests, which started with 75 families in Trenton, N.J., and now involves 700 families in several states, also indicates, Watts said, "we can rule out some of the wilder hypotheses—either that everybody quits his job or that everybody works twice as hard."

"It doesn't turn them green or anything like that," he said. "They can go on about their business pretty much as they always did, but with a little more money."

The tests, funded by the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, were started before Nixon took office. But, Watts said, "the experiment includes a wide variety of ranges, wide enough to include those the administration is thinking about."

Watts said he does not know what the Ways and Means Committee will do with the Nixon plan. He said it will probably be the middle of March before the committee makes a final decision.

Although Watts expressed approval of the basic Nixon plan he said "it can be improved. I think the benefit levels will have to be changed in time."

Chairman Of American Party In Texas Resigns

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The chairman of the American Party of Texas, citing problems which he said began with the George Wallace presidential campaign, announced his resignation Sunday.

Bard Logan of San Antonio also said he sees little hope for an active third party in the future.

He said eight other party officers attempted to resign with him at a state executive committee meeting in Austin Saturday but that a resolution to accept their resignations was tabled.

Logan said he didn't leave the executive committee meeting "in a huff" Saturday. "I was just through," he said, "when you're through, you're through."

Speaker Pinpoints Modern Problems Of Enforcement

Some 200 law enforcement officers from over the state are in Big Spring today for the Texas Police Association's regional meet, hosted by the Big Spring Police Department at the Ramada Inn.

He continued, "The sinister hand of crime has reached into the very heart of our citizenry, affecting them both as victims of criminal acts and as parents of juvenile offenders."

At noon the officers were winding up a discussion on law enforcement training in Texas, conducted by several distinguished officers from all areas of law enforcement and a panel on "Chemical Testing in Traffic Control."

The officers were identified as 2nd Lt. Allison S. Berry of Atlanta, Ga., Capt. Kenneth M. Stallings Jr. of Lubbock.

Jerry Don Frith of Vernon was killed and three persons in their car ran off U.S. 283 and struck a tree about eight miles north of Vernon.

A two-car collision on Texas 63 about three miles west of Jasper Saturday night killed Nettville Smith, 51, of Jasper. There were five injuries from that accident, but none were serious.

The commission approved, at the suggestion of commissioner George Weeks, a proposal to paint center stripes on Thorp road and to post "no passing" signs at regular intervals along the road which has been unmarked in the past.

Gossett spoke of the widening fear among the populace that the streets and sidewalks of cities are not safe and expressed the belief that many citizens are being aroused with the knowledge that "We are living in one of the most shameful times that our country has ever known. On every hand we see disregard for the law and for the rights of others — we see wanton disrespect for peace and social order."

He said officers must maintain the highest standards of integrity in order "to merit more each day the confidence and the support of our citizens which, in my opinion, they are now prepared to give to the law enforcement community."

The state branches of law enforcement are now converting as quickly as possible to modern and more efficient methods of keeping records and enforcing the law, and called on local departments to do the same.

Two persons were arrested for driving while intoxicated during the weekend, one by the Howard County Sheriff's department and the other by a Texas Highway Patrolman. One man was released when he posted a $1,000 bond set, in the absence of a justice of the peace, and the other was released on $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter. Formal charges are pending on both Big Spring men.

Domingo Abrego, 21, of San Benito was killed and Guadalupe Flores, 17, critically injured Saturday night during a drag race, police said. Car Chased, Man Is Held

A high speed automobile chase on city streets Sunday afternoon resulted in injuries to four people and the arrest of a 47-year old Midland man.

Police issued 11 traffic citations to Norman Coglin Wood, 1010 Weatherford, Midland, following the chase which began at 5:37 p.m. when Sgt. Jack Boyd said he attempted to stop Wood's car after it allegedly ran a stop light on Eleventh Place, near Big Spring High School. Officers said they pursued the car after it failed to stop and turned on Austin Street. The chase continued at speeds up to 70 miles per hour down Austin, Eleventh Street and FM 700 until Wood's car was in collision with an automobile driven by Mary Carolyn Hammon, 2303 Marshall Drive, near the intersection of FM 700 and South Gregg.

The injured included the driver of the Hammon car, her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Hammon, her brother, Sammy, and her sister, Gloria, all of 2303 Marshall. All were treated for minor injuries and released from Cowper Hospital Sunday night.

Police said the citations were issued for speeding, running stop lights and signs, driving on the wrong side of the street, and reckless driving. Wood remained in city jail this morning pending action on his case.

DWI Charged

Two persons were arrested for driving while intoxicated during the weekend, one by the Howard County Sheriff's department and the other by a Texas Highway Patrolman. One man was released when he posted a $1,000 bond set, in the absence of a justice of the peace, and the other was released on $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter. Formal charges are pending on both Big Spring men.

Traffic Panel Plans To Wait

The city traffic commissioners took action on three proposals before them at the regular meeting this morning in City Hall, but decided to await developments on the question of the troublesome traffic light at the intersection of FM 700 and Goliad.

ARAB, ISRAELI FORCES CLASH ON ALL FRONTS OVER WEEKEND

Jets Hit Egyptian Mortar, Antiaircraft Positions

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets struck for more than an hour today at Egyptian mortar and antiaircraft positions along the central sector of the Suez Canal following a weekend of fighting on all Israel's fronts.

The Israelis denied reports that the Arabs shot down three Israeli planes and attacked a radar station Sunday.

Members were injured and that the ship was towed safely to shore. Cairo claimed that Egyptian guns hit one plane, and it was seen "plunging in flames into the gulf."

On the Lebanese front, Tel Aviv said its southern border settlement of Zarrit suffered no casualties in a mortar barrage fired by Arab guerrillas in Lebanon Saturday night, while Beirut said two Lebanese civilians were killed and two wounded by an Israeli artillery attack on the southern border village of Aita Chaab. Each side claimed the other started the shooting; Israeli sources said there was a 30-minute exchange of fire.

Also in Lebanon, a spokesman for the Trans-Arabian Pipeline Co. reported that saboteurs blew up a valve house on its pipeline from Saudi Arabia to the Lebanese coast but the flow of oil was not interrupted. The company is owned by Arabian American Oil Co., and the pipeline has been hit several times by Arab saboteurs.

Saudi Arabia said Israeli planes made two attacks Sunday on Saudi forces stationed in Jordan south of the Dead Sea, while Jordan reported four Israeli fighters attacked Jordanian positions at the south end of the Dead Sea Saturday night with rockets and napalm.

The Saudi radio said three Israeli Super-Mystere jets were shot down; Israel said all its planes returned safely. The Jordanians said their forces suffered no casualties.

Tel Aviv spokesmen also reported two attacks by Syrian gunners against an Israeli paramilitary settlement on the occupied Golan Heights but said there was no damage.

POZA RICA, Mexico (AP) — Fourteen Mexican newsmen and five other persons were killed Sunday when a plane carrying them on the campaign tour of presidential candidate Luis Echeverria crashed into a hill near Poza Rica, a coastal town 130 miles northeast of Mexico City.

There was one survivor, a newsman who was seriously injured.

The five other dead included the four crewmen of the Con-vaire 240 and a doctor from the PRI, Echeverria's ruling Revolutionary Institutional Party.

The plane, owned by the Federal Electricity Commission left Mexico City's International Airport with seven others carrying the candidate, party officials and other newsmen and photographers.

It was just three minutes away from the Poza Rica airport when it crashed into La Vega Hill, 40 miles north of the town.

It's Basketball For Fat Deputies

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — To overweight Silver Bow County sheriff's deputies, the start of a new year means basketball practice.

One deputy, who said he was glad he was thin, said there would be enough men there to make up a team.

The monthly meeting of the 36th Lone Star District Order of the Arrow Chapter of Big Spring was held recently to make plans for an OA Work Weekend at the Scout Ranch in Davis Mountains in February. During the meeting Dennis Day was elected treasurer.

Enlightened Policies Dealing With Teen Moms

WASHINGTON (AP) — School officials are developing more enlightened policies dealing with the growing numbers of pregnant teen-agers, including keeping them in school and assuring the medical care, according to a report to a conference on adolescent parents.

The weekend conference also was told the change in policies, including an end to punitive expulsions, results in a lower dropout rate for girls, much better health for mother and baby and fewer repeat pregnancies. Pregnant teen-agers were "an unserved population until a few years ago," Dr. Dorothy Lyons, a Los Angeles physician who began a pioneer program to help them in 1962, said during the "Parenthood in Adolescence" conference.

"Most had been kicked out of school and sent to a home or relative," she said. Few got regular medical attention or nutritional advice, she said, heightening the risk which teen-age mothers already face in birth. Their births frequently were premature and premature babies are more susceptible to mental retardation and deformities, Dr. Lyons said.

And the newly delivered mother who was allowed or who chose to return to school was a rarity. At least 50 per cent of the female dropouts from high school are pregnant, she said.

Followup studies on the 350 girls in the seven Los Angeles special schools show nearly all return to graduate, many go on to college when they might not have before, and some use scholarships which they had been awarded before they got pregnant. Equipped with more information about themselves and family planning methods, Dr. Lyons said, most do not become pregnant again soon. This is a medical victory, since rapid successions of pregnancies in young women tend to produce deformed children, she said.

"We keep them in the classroom right up to delivery," she said. "They may have their first labor pains there. They come back 10 days after delivery and stay for 6 to 8 weeks and then return to the regular school," Dr. Lyons said.

76ers Win High Scorer

By The Associated Press
You would have thought they were pitching marbles into a washtub the way the 76ers and the San Diego Rockets were putting the ball through the hoop at Philadelphia's Spectrum.

In their greatest offensive show ever at home, the 76ers out-bombed the Rockets 150-131 in a National Basketball Association game Sunday.

Archie Clark of the 76ers was the chief marksman, hitting on 15-of-18 shots from the floor and finishing with 36 points. Wally Jones added 31 for Philadelphia, while Elvin Hayes poured in 27 for the Rockets, who lost their sixth straight.

In other NBA action Sunday, New York edged Boston 102-96 Milwaukee whipped Atlanta 131-116, Los Angeles took Phoenix 118-106 Cincinnati topped Baltimore 129-122, and Chicago downed Detroit 120-111.

Cazzie Russell came off the bench to key a New York drive that gave the Knicks a 44-32 lead in the first half and then, with the score tied 79-79 early in the fourth quarter, came off the bench again to score three straight baskets and put New York in front to stay, 85-81.

Russell finished with 25 points. John Havlicek topped Boston with 24.

A national television audience watched Milwaukee stay five games behind first-place New York in the Eastern Division and cut Atlanta's Western lead to three games over second-place Los Angeles.

Flynn Robinson scored 33 points and Lew Alcindor 31 for Milwaukee, which broke the game open in the third quarter as Atlanta went 6 1/2 minutes without a field goal. Joe Caldwell led Atlanta with 22 points.

Jerry West gunned Los Angeles to a 111-101 victory. West finished with 25 points and 10 rebounds. Alcindor had 22 points and 12 rebounds.

Spencer Haywood may be Best Player In ABA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Spencer Haywood, a 20-year-old athlete who had two years of college eligibility left last year when he turned pro, may already be the best player in the American Basketball Association.

He looked head and shoulders better—literally, when jumping—than many of the more experienced players Saturday as he and Denver Rockets teammate Larry Jones led the West to a 128-99 victory in the ABA All-Star game.

The 6-foot-9 rookie was named the game's most valuable player after scoring 23 points, taking 19 rebounds and blocking seven shots. Jones, the first 5,000-point scorer in ABA history, scored 30 points to break an All-Star game record.

Rookie Paces Rocket Drive

Oscar Robertson did his thing for Cincinnati and to Baltimore. The Big O hit 14-of-25 field goal attempts and all 13 of his foul shots for 41 points, handed out 15 assists and grabbed 10 rebounds.

Rookie Paces Rocket Drive

There is a two-word definition of the word rejuvenated in the case of the Denver Rockets: Spencer Haywood.

The big rookie, a key figure in Denver's drive toward the top of the American Basketball Association's Western Division, scored 28 points and grabbed 26 rebounds as the Rockets topped Dallas 127-118 Sunday for their 15th straight victory.

A Denver victory in New York next Friday would tie the league record of 16 set last year by Oakland, now Washington.

New York beat Eastern leader Indiana 96-83, Washington took Miami 113-106 and Pittsburgh downed Carolina 108-101 in other ABA action Sunday. Saturday, the West trounced the East 128-98 in the All-Star game, with Haywood voted the Most Valuable Player.

New York held Indiana to its lowest point total of the season and blanked the Pacer's All-Star guard, Bob Netolicky—the first time in two years he has been held scoreless. Walt Simon led New York with 21 points. Mel Daniels topped Indiana with 28.

A pair of foul shots by Mike Barrett and Rick Barry's field goal clinched Washington's victory over Miami. Barry finished with 25 points, while Don Freeman poured 33 for Miami, which announced after the game that Willie Murrell had been traded to Kentucky for cash and an undisclosed draft choice. Murrell did not play Sunday night.

Bowling Meet

The Big Spring Bowling Association will hold an open meeting for all the local ABC members at 7 p.m. today in the conference room at the Bowl-A-Rama. All ABC members at Webb AFB and at the Bowl-A-Rama are urged to attend. Al Todd, representative of the American Bowling Congress, will be on hand to answer all questions or discuss any problems.

Spencer Haywood May Be Best Player In ABA

The threat of a players strike existed until shortly before the nationally televised game. The player dressed after ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph promised the league would recognize the ABA Players Association if it represented a majority of the players.

Haywood discussed his controversial jump into the pro ranks Saturday, saying, "I would do the same thing over again. It was the right decision."

The ABA allowed Denver to sign Haywood under a "hardship clause" in league rules. He said he needed money to help his family.

GRIPS SWC FIRST PLACE Baylor Hands Razorbacks Worst Whipping In History

By The Associated Press
The burnt Arkansas Razorbacks will tell you Baylor is for real.

FLYING BLIND? — Not really. Danny Clendenin (No. 20) of the HCJC Jayhawks seems to have his view blotted out as he connects with a two-pointer from directly in front of the basket in Saturday night's Western Conference game here with Clarendon College. Others in the picture are George Tilley (30) of HC; Tony Moya (45) and Roy Potter (23), both of Clarendon. Howard County won the game, 81-66. The Hawks return to action here Tuesday night against Frank Phillips College of Borger.

Maravich Continues Attack On College Scoring Record

By The Associated Press
Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State continues his assault on the college career scoring record tonight, needing only 69 points to replace Oscar Robertson as the all-time leader.

Maravich, who averages 47 points a game, could possibly break the record at home tonight against Tennessee, but it would require a super effort against one of the nation's top defensive teams.

It is more likely that Maravich will bridge the gap between second place and immortality and top the 9,273 total achieved by Robertson at the University of Cincinnati when LSU hosts Mississippi Saturday night.

Maravich whipped into second place, 21 points past Elvin Hayes on the all-time list, by scoring 55 for a 2,905 career total in LSU's 109-96 loss to No. 2 ranked Kentucky Saturday night.

At San Antonio, meanwhile, little St. Mary's of Texas surprised Hayes' alma mater, Houston, the nation's seventh ranked team, 76-66 in one of the most notable upsets of the season. St. Mary's, a college division standout, overcame an 11-point deficit and dealt the Cougars their second loss in 14 games.

Elsewhere, top-ranked UCLA whipped Wyoming 115-77 at Los Angeles with Curtis Rowe's 25 points and Sidney Wicks' 24 leading the charge. However, UCLA Coach John Wooden directed his post-game comments to the Pacific 8 Conference game at Seattle where Washington and Washington State bogged down in a showdown struggle in Washington's 37-36 loss. St. Bonaventure ranked fourth in The Associated Press poll, kept pace with UCLA and Kentucky on the dwindling unbeaten list by pounding Canisius 62-49 and No. 5 New Mexico State, 76-71, stopped Texas-El Paso 90-77.

No. 8 Marquette, 13-1, beat Xavier of Ohio 82-73 and No. 10 North Carolina State, also 13-1, nipped Duke 77-76.

No. 3 South Carolina; No. 6 Jacksonville; No. 9 North Carolina; No. 12 Illinois and No. 20 Notre Dame were idle.

downed St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, 63-56. No. 13 Ohio University, beat Kent State 77-68; No. 15 Southern California shellacked Arizona State 108-95, and Iowa, tied for 18th with Louisville, romped past Tennessee Tech 96-68. Louisville bowed to Drake, the Missouri Valley leader, 86-75. Kansas State, tied with Duke for the No. 16 spot, lost 66-60 in an exhibition scramble against Athletes in Action, a strong but unheralded club team.

Yancey Wins Golf Tourney By Stroke

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "If I'd known Jack Nicklaus was shooting a 65," said Bert Yancey, "things might have been different. I might have taken the big apple."

But Yancey, blissfully ignorant of the charge being mounted by the awesome Nicklaus, calmly cut out a final round 69 Sunday and won the $25,000 first prize in the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

Yancey finished with a 279. Nicklaus, who moved past 15 players on the final day with his sterling, seven-under-par effort, had to settle for second, one stroke back at 280.

But the $14,500 check for second pushed Big Jack's career earnings past the million-dollar mark. He joined Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper—who had some difficulties on the final round—as the only players in the game's history on the exclusive list.

Nicklaus started birdie-eagle, toured the front nine at the oceanside Pebble Beach golf links in a six-under-par 30, moved into a share of the lead with a 20-foot birdie putt on the 15th, then parred in.

Yancey, a tour regular for seven years who had won five previous pro titles, bogeyed the 11th, where he was buried in a trap, about the same time Jack birdied the 15th.

Following his tee shot on the par-3 17th, Yancey asked his caddy about Nicklaus.

"I got pretty tight when I heard that 65," Yancey said. "Jack's a Big Bear." He promptly missed his birdie put, but tapped in to remain one ahead.

"It was just one of those days you hope for," said Yancey, who led or shared the lead all four days. "I woke up feeling good, smooth and I couldn't wait to get at 'em."

Only Nicklaus made it close. Bobby Nichols and Howie Johnson were four shots back in a tie for third at 283. John Jacobs, Don Massengale, defending champion George Archer and Paul Harney were tied at 284.

Palmer had a final round 79 and was far back at 292. Casper was disqualified when his caddy, who had his clubs, failed to arrive at Billy's scheduled tee time.

Bob Rosburg and San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie took the pro-am title with a best ball of 252.

Decisions On Pilots Expected Tuesday

OAKLAND (AP) — A group of American League club owners reportedly is swinging behind an attempt by civic leaders and officials to keep the Seattle Pilots' baseball team in the Pacific Northwest.

Mayor Wes Uhlman and other executives held a special meeting Saturday with theater owner Fred Danz in advance of a Tuesday hearing at which owners are expected to reach a decision about a proposed shift to Dallas-Fort Worth or Milwaukee.

What was described by Uhlman as "a strong faction of owners" is opposing to approving a sale which would return at least $8 million to Pacific Northwest Sports Inc., which got the franchise a year ago for about $5 million.

Seattle has filed "a specific performance suit" asking that Pacific Northwest Sports be required to fulfill its five-year lease agreement.

Meanwhile, Ewing M. Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals, said Sunday that there will be no bidding war between Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth interests.

Kauffman will chair a four-man committee Tuesday when the owners meet.

"The price is $8.8 million," Kauffman said in a telephone interview to Milwaukee. "We've done this so that Daley and the Sorianos will make less than half a million profit. They don't deserve a prof-

Keino Roms To Mile Title

By The Associated Press
Kipchoge Keino, Kenya's flying policeman, kept looking for Marty but he was nowhere in sight—during or after their much heralded mile encounter.

Keino, the smooth striding 1968 Olympic 1500 meters champion, who said, "I kept looking over my shoulder for Marty," was never threatened as he romped to the mile run title in 4 minutes, 0.6 seconds at the Philadelphia Track Classic Saturday night by a 50-yard margin.

Marty is Villanova's Marty Liquori, the U.S. top miler, who was never a threat, finishing a badly beaten third, 30 yards behind runnerup John Baker of Maryland. Liquori was caught in 4:08.9 to Baker's 4:05.7.

In another indoor meet Saturday, the Albuquerque Jaycee Invitational, Australia's Ralph Doubell and Kathy Hammond came away with world records.

Doubell, the 800 meters Olympic champion, erased a seven-year mark in the 1,000 yards run, winning in 2:05.5, eclipsing New Zealand's Peter Snell's mark by five-tenths seconds.

Miss Hammond of Sacramento, Calif., lowered the women's 600-yard run record to 1:22.7, breaking the old standard of 1:22.9 set by Lois Drinkwater of Phoenix, Ariz., last year.

Runnels Has Cold Streak

Runnels ran into some cold shooting and lost out in the Sweetwater junior high basketball tournament Saturday. They dropped the first to Travis of Snyder 32-26 after leading 13-6 at the half.

In the second round, they clipped Sweetwater 27-15 with Stanley leading with eight points. In the consolation finals, Runnels couldn't buy a bucket the first half and was down 12-4 at the intermission. The boys warmed in the third and got hot in the final quarter, but it was too late. Albert Smith made the all-tournament team, Runnels played without two regulars, Everisto Pineda and Randy Marshall.

Runnels entertains Travis at 5:30 p.m. today. Tourney boxes:

Cancer Cure Cancels Deal

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Indiana chapter of the American Cancer Society has signed a 10-year office lease with a clause stating the lease can be canceled if a cancer cure is discovered.

The realty firm which handled the transaction said, "The right to cancel a lease is typically objectionable, but the landlord will be thrilled to cancel under this monumental turn of events."

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter signed "MORRIS' WIFE." She complained because after her husband had been elected president of his lodge, someone said, "I heard Morris accepted the presidency of his lodge. That was real nice of him. I heard nobody else would take it."

My heart goes out to Morris. Here in Aschaffenburg, Germany, there are not many men named Morris who have recently been elected president of their lodge. Only me! Inasmuch as I happened upon this "honor" by default, my wife has been the recipient of many curious (if ignorant) inquiries, since the letter signed "Morris' Wife" appeared in your column.

I think all the Morrises around the world should form a "MASTER MORRIS CLUB," wherein all men named Morris who have become lodge presidents may gather once a year to exchange views and share experiences. A prize could be offered to the Morris who could come up with the most novel reason for refusing the nomination for re-election next year.

In order to keep the club truly exclusive, gentlemen named "Maurice" need not apply. Sincerely,

MORRIS M. MANION, ASCHAFFENBURG, GERMANY
 DEAR MORRIS: Your sense of humor is delicious. And the fact that there is a Morris in Germany who still has a sense of humor is indeed a revelation. But please, no international clubs for Morris. I'm published in Rome, Ireland, Mexico, Tokyo, Thailand, Spain, Brazil, Canada and America, too!

DEAR ABBY: I am 15, and right now I am being punished because I told my mother that if she can't see what everybody else can see, she must be blind.

I have twin brothers who are seven years old. One is an average boy but the other one (I'll call him Mark) is not right. In the first place, he never learned to talk right. His speech has improved some, but it's far from normal. My mother keeps taking him for therapy, but she won't admit there is something wrong with Mark. That kid can't tie his own shoes, ride a bike or even blow his own nose. My mother does everything for him, and she gets mad if anybody says he's not normal. She says, "There is nothing wrong with him. He's just slow." Abby, he is like a two-year-old.

My father doesn't say much because he doesn't want to upset mother. I can't wait until I am 18 so I can get out of this house. The strain is awful. I keep wishing there were some way I could help Mark. Have you any suggestions?

MARK'S SISTER
 DEAR SISTER: It probably hurts your mother to "admit" that something is wrong with Mark. The chances are she not only realizes it, she's doing everything she can to "help" him. You can help, too (and minimize the strain at your house) if you quit harping on it.

DEAR ABBY: A few days before Christmas, our young son called from San Francisco to tell us that he was back from Vietnam on schedule. We were shocked when he told us that he wouldn't be spending Christmas with us. He had decided to spend it with some friends, instead.

I know that parents write bitterly about such capers, but the generation gap is nothing new. Despite his absence, we had the happiest Christmas ever, and our son was happy with his friends. Our parental needs are only emotional, but after a year in the Orient, his emotional needs for his friends are far greater.

Santa, and "The Man" who flies above the highest jets have returned stateside, our boy doll, all in one piece. A bit worse for wear, fatigued, restless and somewhat cynical perhaps, but with two arms and two legs. It can walk and talk and dance! Don't give us that "Santa is dead," routine. "Virginia," we may be temporarily impatient

Chick Inspection Change Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government panel says safety no longer requires federal inspectors to reject chickens containing cancer viruses.

The panel has recommended a change in poultry inspection standards to limit condemnation to chickens that might look disgusting.

Department officials are awaiting an opinion from the surgeon general before making any decision on the recommendation of eight veterinarians and animal disease specialists.

The panel's report involves two forms of poultry viruses—avian leukosis and Marek's disease—usually lumped together as leukosis.

Virtually all birds harbor the virus in differing degrees. When the virus gets out of control, birds become diseased. Some die. Those which survive often develop lesions and tumors as an after-effect.

Traditionally, inspectors accept the tumors as evidence of excess virus and reject the chicken.

Under the proposed new standard, only chickens whose internal organs showed the disease was active would be considered unsafe for humans.

A bird with tumors on one wing, for instance, is now considered unsafe. But the new recommendation says it would be safe to cut off the wing and use it in such products as hot dogs while selling the rest of the bird as cut up chicken.

Leukosis is the major cause for rejection of frying chickens by federal inspectors. Of the 176 million fryers slaughtered under federal inspection in November, inspectors condemned two million for leukosis.

Dr. J. Spencer Munroe, a New York University professor who injected an artificial leukosis virus into monkeys in 1963 and found the animals developed tumors, said he has some doubts about the recommendation.

But Dr. Caro E. Luhrs, the Agriculture Department official working closest with the specialists on the recommendation, said later research has superceded Munroe's findings.

'Coordinator' On Trustees Agenda

Consideration of sponsoring a narcotics coordinator for Big Spring and Howard County is among the agenda items listed for Tuesday's meeting of the Big Spring Independent School Board of Trustees. The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. in the portable classroom building behind the administration offices on Eleventh Place.

Employing a narcotics coordinator is one of the suggestions made by the recent session of the Howard County Grand Jury called back from its regular October session to investigate local drug traffic.

Other items to be considered at the meeting Tuesday include review and action on administrators' contracts, review of revised disciplinary policy, discussion of an education program for teachers in secondary schools on drugs and narcotics, and miscellaneous reports.

Chamber Board Features Nun

PORTLAND, Main (AP) — A Roman Catholic nun has been named a director of the Greater Portland Chamber of Commerce.

She is Sister Ann Cochlan, executive director of Portland's Mercy Hospital.

She is the second woman to be appointed to the chamber's board. A chamber spokesman said she is believed to be the only nun on a chamber board in the nation.

Showdown Seems Imminent On Education Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill President Nixon plans to veto. Although both chambers had the House moved toward final approval of the bill, covering the current fiscal year, the House $19.7 billion education money had to act again today to veto.

Bridge Test

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠KQ108 ♠7 ♠KJ73 ♠A954
 The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 1♣ Pass Pass ?
 What do you bid?

A.—While we are normally inclined to permit the opponents to play a hand at one, in this case we believe that a pass is clearly indicated. The opponents are playing at your best suit, and it may prove that if you give them another chance the opener might be in a position to show a second suit in hearts.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠QJ9764 ♠2 ♠53 ♠AKQ6
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1♣ 2♥ 2♠ 3♥
 What do you bid now?

A.—On the basis of values held, a four spades bid is indicated. However, for strategic purposes we recommend a bid of four clubs. This is to elicit the best opening lead from partner if the opponent subsequently jumped to five hearts as a sacrifice bid.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠AKJ102 ♠QJ ♠9 ♠AKQJ2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1♦ Pass 2♠ Pass
 2♥ Pass 2♠ Pass
 3NT Pass ?
 What do you bid now?

A.—Partner's rebid of two hearts is known to the trade as a "reverse bid" and designates a powerful holding for, after this bid, responder, if he wished to return to diamonds, would have to climb to the three level. When North subsequently jumped to three no trump, he indicated that his values were principally high cards, that he had more than a mere 12. You have 18 high card points, which means the opponents will be lucky to have as much as a queen, and a bid of seven no trump is in order.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠A ♠42 ♠QJ1043 ♠QJ742
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South
 1♠ Dbl. ?
 What do you bid?

A.—This is rather a good holding opposite an opening bid and contains sufficient high card values to warrant a redouble, but such a call is not the preferred strategy with this type of hand. My policy in all doubtful cases is to act at once. A pass amounts to burying your head in the sand. The suggested call is an immediate bid of two diamonds, and it is likely that you will have an opportunity to show the other suit at a reasonable level, giving a reasonably accurate description of your hand.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠KQJ84 ♠KQ1063 ♠AQ ♠8
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1♣ Pass 1NT Pass ?
 What do you bid now?

A.—Despite the fact that partner may have a relatively weak hand, you should insist upon a game contract. The recommended call is three hearts. This hand has an original valuation of 20 points and partner has promised at least six in high cards, so that enough values are on hand for a game.

Q. 6—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
 ♠Q8432 ♠A104 ♠K95 ♠83
 What is your response?
 A.—Two hearts. This hand is not strong enough to justify two forward moving bids. In support of hearts, it is worth only nine points and, therefore, comes within the limit of a single raise.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠102 ♠AK1084 ♠K94 ♠J83

 1NT Pass ?
 What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. Partner's free bid of one no trump indicates a good hand which should normally measure 14 points. Your hand contains 11 which is sufficient for a game contract.
