'TRIGGER MAN' IN THREE 'EXECUTIONS' HUNTED Ex-Big Spring Officer Slain

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The "trigger man" in the "execution" shooting deaths of three plain clothes deputy sheriffs was at large today with four other men undergoing questioning about the bizarre slaughter in the Trinity River bottoms Monday evening.

WANTED MAN

"The trigger man is the one we want," said a grim Dallas County Sheriff Clarence Jones. "He was last seen Monday night in a maroon and white Ford. He's 33, 5-feet-6, and about 145 pounds.

"It would be an understatement to say we want him bad. We have no idea which direction he's headed in, but I sure hope your border towns get the description."

Authorities charged an ex-convict, Rene Adolpho Guzman, 33, of Dallas with murder in connection with the case.

Gusman, who remained at large, had served prison terms totaling 18 years, Jones said. The sheriff said Guzman's record included charges of burglary, armed robbery and robbery by assault.

Five deputies were involved in what Jones described as "A needless killing... an execution."

One deputy, Wendell Dover of Ellis County, was in fair condition at Parkland Hospital.

A. D. McCurley, about 50, was the Dallas County deputy who lived to tell what happened.

Shot to death in a fusillade of revolver fire were Dallas County Deputy Sheriff Donnie Reese, 30, and Sam Infante, 32, and Ellis County Deputy Sheriff A. J. Robertson, 59, of Waxahachie.

Reese was a patrolman on the Big Spring force from April to July of 1962 and lived at 2004 1/2 Johnson. He submitted his resignation to the department July 3 and moved to Dallas to be with his father and mother.

He attended a Department of Public Safety T-38 Crash and Rescue course at Webb AFB from April, 1962, to May. Reese worked for a private detective agency prior to coming to Big Spring.

"Don was a good patrolman when he was here at the department," said Police Chief Jay Banks.

It all began at 5:30 p.m. when Infante, Robertson and Dover went to a West Dallas home to question some men about a burglary.

'COME IN'

They telephoned the Dallas County sheriff's office, asking for a blank consent form in lieu of a search warrant.

Reese and McCurley answered the call. They knocked on the door and a voice inside said: "Come in."

McCurley said they entered (See MURDER, Pg. 2, Col. 1)

TEXAS HOUSE Vote Of Confidence?

AUSTIN (AP) — The House refused today, 110-35, to force a committee to send to the floor a resolution inviting state officials mentioned in a federal securities investigation to tell their side of the story in public.

The decision was regarded by many as a vote of confidence in Speaker Gus Mutscher, one of the officials involved.

"This certainly ought to show the feeling of the House on this kind of demagoguery," said Rep. Charles Jungmichel of LaGrange, one of Mutscher's allies.

Scattered hand-clapping met Jungmichel's remark.

Rep. Neil Caldwell of Angelton, sponsor of the resolution, moved to force his resolution out of the House Administration Committee.

The measure was referred to an unfriendly subcommittee last week after a brief hearing.

"I think this resolution has as good a chance in that subcommittee as Pappy O'Daniel had last time he ran for governor. It's ludicrous," said Caldwell.

Caldwell's resolution would invite Mutscher, Gov. Preston Smith; Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah; Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth; Dr. Elmer Baum state Democratic chairman; and former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr to explain their side of the securities case.

Jesuits Ask Permission To Reorganize

HOUSTON (AP) — Strake Jesuit College Preparatory asked a federal court today for permission to reorganize under the federal bankruptcy act to protect its assets from creditors.

The petition was filed by the Houston Educational Foundation, the corporation which has been operating the school.

The foundation said the reorganization is necessary because officers and directors acting on the advice of Frank W. Sharp of Houston executed various notes, mortgages and other indebtedness totalling millions of dollars "for which the petitioner received no benefit."

The foundation said it has assets of $10 million and liabilities and short-term obligations of approximately $8.5 million.

The petition was filed in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge Carl Bue Jr.

My Lai Murder Trial Of Lt. Calley Resumes

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The judge in the My Lai murder trial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. said today a psychiatric examination during a month-long recess showed that the lieutenant "is normal in every respect."

Judge Reid W. Kennedy made the statement during a continuing argument over psychiatric testimony that the defense wants to present.

Calley, 27, a platoon leader in the assault on the Vietnamese village of My Lai nearly three years ago, is charged with murder of 102 unresisting Vietnamese civilians.

When the trial adjourned Jan.

18, Dr. Albert LaVerne had said that it was possible the lieutenant's mind was affected by secondhand marijuana fumes. The psychiatrist said it was possible the marijuana smoking of others in the vicinity might have affected Calley, a nonuser.

NO-JURY SERMON

But today, defense attorney George Latimer said he was dropping that line as a defense.

During the recess, Calley was examined at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington by a sanity board of three Vietnam-experienced psychiatrists. The results of that examination were given to both sides, but the judge withheld any of Calley's own statements from the prosecution to prevent self-incrimination.

The psychiatrist issue was to be taken up again in another no-jury session later today.

In another matter, Kennedy asked the U.S. attorney to consider contempt proceedings against John Sack, a contributing editor of Esquire magazine.

Sack, who has published two parts of a three-part series entitled "The Confessions of Lt. Calley" refused from the witness stand to turn over an estimated 60 hours of taped interviews to the prosecution.

He claimed protection under the 1st and 14th amendments.

Calley is expected to take the stand in his own defense sometime this week.

Calley's trial was recessed Jan. 18 after a psychiatrist testified Calley was "like an automaton, a robot" who could not disobey an order to kill everyone in the village. The order, witnesses testified since the trial started Nov. 12, came from Capt. Ernest Medina, the company commander.

The prosecution demanded and received, permission to have Calley examined by Army psychiatrists, to be ready with rebuttal to the defense claims. Calley spent a week at Walter Reed Army Hospital for the examination.

COVER-UP

Richard B. Kay, one of Calley's two civilian lawyers, said he would try to bring before the jury the fact that the Army has cleared five remaining enlisted men from charges that grew out of the killings.

In clearing the enlisted men Jan. 21, the Army said it was "acting in the best interests of justice."

Blocked U.S. Tax Inquiry For 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator investigating alleged corruption in military recreational funds said the State Department blocked U.S. tax investigations in Japan for more than three years during the troop buildup in Vietnam.

Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., a member of the investigations subcommittee conducting the probe, said the ban prevented Internal Revenue Service agents from studying finances of Americans dealing with U.S. service clubs in Vietnam.

The only exceptions were by special orders, Gurney said. The ban was imposed July 22, 1966, and lifted Oct. 8, 1969.

Gurney said the IRS now has three agents permanently stationed in South Vietnam investigating several hundred tax cases.

"The fallacy in this senseless arrangement was that an unscrupulous vendor, or vendor's agent, could be in Vietnam, supplying our military forces through the clubs and spot exchanges, engaging in kickbacks, bribes, payoffs and other forms of tax evasion," Gurney said.

For all practical purposes, he said, the IRS was forbidden to enter the country and attempt to collect taxes or gather evidence for possible prosecution.

College Construction Bond Proposal Stalled In Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — A $185 million college construction bond proposal was stalled in a Senate committee today after Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth protested it was like "handing over a blank check."

Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston estimated the ultimate cost would be twice the amount of the maximum bond issue, or $370 million, when the interest was added over a 30-year period of paying off the bonds.

The Senate Finance Committee agreed to send the House-passed measure to a subcommittee for two weeks.

LET'S WAIT

Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall said he would like to wait until at least Gov. Preston Smith makes his new tax recommendations Thursday.

Chairman Frank Erwin Jr. of the University of Texas regents said the bond proposal was based on the assumption that the legislature would not raise enough in new taxes to finance construction at eight schools created by the legislature two years ago.

"We're tying ourselves to a blank check for the next 30 years," Kennard said. He objected when Erwin tried to compute quickly what interest charges might be.

"It would be about—" Erwin said, and Kennard interrupted: "I don't want any of this 'about' business."

'ABOUT' BUSINESS

In a special message to the legislature on another subject, Smith said he preferred adopting guidelines for existing agencies on environmental issues, rather than establishing a new super-agency.

The bond proposal, which passed the House 134-12, provides that the University of Texas can issue up to $150 million in bonds for seven new campuses and Texas Tech at Lubbock is limited to $35 million for its new medical school.

The House adopted a resolution inviting the governor to address a joint session at 11 a.m. Thursday and give his second set of recommendations for new taxes in 1972-73. The Senate approved the resolution Monday.

The UT bonds would be for the medical school at Houston, dental school at San Antonio, nursing schools at El Paso and San Antonio, and general campuses at San Antonio, Dallas and Odessa.

Barnes said he talked with Smith last week about suggesting new ways to raise taxes to pay for operating state government and Smith conferred with Speaker Gus Mutscher Monday.

FREE, BUT NOT SO EASY — Leonid Rigerman and his mother, Esther, leave the U.S. Embassy in Moscow today after receiving their American passports. Action culminated a five-month effort to persuade Soviet authorities that they are entitled to American citizenship. Rigerman and his mother plan to leave for the United States later this week. The State Department ruled that Leonid, born in Russia, was an American because his parents were. Mrs. Rigerman was born in Brooklyn.

'Hot' Marijuana Caper Includes Trip To Church

GEORGE WEST, Tex. (AP) — Two men from Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, remained in jail Monday after officers said marijuana stashed under the hood of their pickup truck caught fire.

Officers said a tangled sequence of events also included a trip to church.

Live Oak County Sheriff Sam Huff gave this account:

About 125 pounds of marijuana in one-pound packages was hidden in the truck, including some 52 pounds under the hood.

Some of the packets under the hood came loose as the truck passed through town Sunday and fell on the manifold, catching fire.

A passer-by notified firemen, who in turn alerted the sheriff's office when they discovered the cause of the blaze.

Two men in the truck, meanwhile, had abandoned it and had gone to a local church, where Sunday morning services were under way.

Deputy Sheriff Chris Ybanez arrested two men later as they were hitchhiking out of town.

England Strike Affects U. S. Mail

Mail to the British Kingdom has been halted, with the exception of military mail going to APO offices in New York or San Francisco, due to an embargo placed on the outgoing mail from the US, according to Big Spring postmaster, Frank Hardesty.

A nationwide postal strike crippled the English system, when 220,000 mailmen and postal workers walked off the job Jan. 20, demanding 15 per cent pay raises.

"Any mail going into the British system is being halted and also mail coming from England into the U.S.," said Hardesty. He said the embargo will not be lifted until the strike in Britain is settled.

Unity Between City, County Breakfast Discussion Topic

By LINDA CROSS

A note of unity sounded today when county and city commissioners held a 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting to discuss areas in which the two governments could cooperate for the benefit of the taxpayers. Fire protection and participation in the Council of Governments were the items discussed.

As a result, city fathers are seriously considering fire protection aid to the rural areas surrounding the immediate Big Spring area at no additional cost to rural or city taxpayers.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell proposed that the city furnish fire protection for rural areas within a five-mile radius of the main fire station in return for the library, courthouse and airport services provided by the county. According to Mitchell, the volunteer departments would continue to answer calls beyond the five-mile radius and would take care of all grass-fires.

PROTECTION

"This would assure the Big Spring State Hospital and industries located outside the city limits of adequate fire protection," said Mitchell. He added that this type of backup service could be provided at no additional cost to the city in men and equipment.

"We've got to start doing things for one another with the tax dollar," said Mitchell. Later, he added, "We're offering help for help. In return for fire protection, the county would help the city with other services."

'SWAPPING'

It was pointed out that one area in which the county could assist was in road maintenance and paving within the city limits by providing equipment that the city does not have.

Mitchell also told the city fathers that Midland County used such a "swap" arrangement. City Commissioner Eddie Aciri also told the assemblage that Midland County road crews reciprocate by paving and repairing city streets.

"The big objection to such a deal is the legal standpoint," said City Commissioner Wade Choate. "We'd have to have a contract," he added.

"Everyone in the city pays about $10 a year for protection. Those outside pay absolutely nothing," said Commissioner Garner McAdams.

"Where would Big Spring be without the farmers and ranchers?" asked Mitchell. He added that about 95 per cent also maintain residences within the city, and that all pay the city sales tax.

'GET TOGETHER'

McAdams rejoined that for their sales taxes they received the use of city streets and parks.

"I think we should get together. We get to arguing about who pays the taxes and who benefits from them. In reality, we are all plucking the same goose, so to speak. If fire protection would bring in more industry, it would also bring in more tax money," said Commissioner Bill Crooker.

"I agree that anything we can do together for the benefit of the people is the reason we are where we are," said Mayor Arnold Marshall.

Commissioner Simon Terrazas said that the two commissions needed to "break the ice and get started," to find ways that the two could assist one another.

TAX PROBLEM

Mayor Marshall and Judge Mitchell both stated that neither government could afford additional taxes, and that the only recourse was to pool available resources for mutual benefit.

"The finest thing that has happened in many years has occurred at this meeting," said Choate. "We have all realized that we are all part of the same thing," he added.

The need for prompt action on the part of the county in connection with joining the Council of Governments was discussed. The city commission enacted a resolution a year ago stating its desire to participate in the West Texas program for county and city governments. The Council is an advisory board in which regional governments can band together in order to obtain financial help for local programs.

According to Mitchell, the item will be placed on the county commission's agenda for action at their next meeting.

During this morning's meeting, it was pointed out that the hesitancy on the part of Howard County to join the council has caused Ector County officials to consider banding with counties to the west, thus weakening the alliance in this area.

WANTED FOR MURDER — Rene Adolpho Guzman, 33, shown in this police mug shot, has been charged in the slaying of three deputy sheriffs in Dallas yesterday. Guzman is still at large.

MURDER

The house and the three other officers were tied up in chairs with two Mexican-Americans holding guns on them. However, McCurley was allowed to tie Reese's arms and he left the bindings loose.

The newly arrived deputies were disarmed and bound. McCurley gave this account of what happened:

A third Mexican-American entered the room and began to talk in Spanish with the other two men. After the conference, McCurley said the third man made a negative motion indicating he wanted nothing to do with the officers.

Later, the five officers were ordered into a squad car with infants at the wheel and the other four crammed in the back seat.

NO REASON TO KILL McCurley said the two men forced infants to drive toward the Trinity River bottoms. McCurley said infants, who could understand the gunmen's conversation, indicated the men meant bodily harm.

Infants tried to ram other cars three times, but each time one of the men showed a gun in his stomach, McCurley said.

Once they reached the river bottoms infants said in English to his fellow officers: "This is it. They're going to kill us now."

Everyone piled out of the cars with Reese's bonds coming loose.

"It just came loose," McCurley said Reese told the gunmen. "There is no reason to kill us now, you have our guns."

But one man answered, "No you can identify us." With that, McCurley said Reese took a swing at one of the gunmen who held two pistols. Reese missed and the gunmen began firing.

Reese was cut down. McCurley dove over a bank that sloped some 20 feet to the edge of the river. He stumbled and scrambled away with bullets whizzing by.

HOLLERING, SHOOTING As he ran McCurley said, "I could hear hollering and shooting up above."

McCurley found his way to a highway and flagged down a motorist who took him to a service station. A Dallas city squad car pulled up and took McCurley back to the scene of the shootings.

They found Dover in a daze and took him to Parkland. Other sheriff's deputies arrived and found the bodies of the other three officers.

Officers picked up four men without resistance for questioning several hours after the slayings.

Reese and infants were both well known in criminal investigation," said Jones. "They were upstanding gentlemen in the community."

Phoenix Man In Custody Here Ronald Leo Sowers, 24, Phoenix, Ariz., was transferred by city police to Howard County Jail Monday. He was in custody before noon today in lieu of $1,500 bond set by Municipal Judge John R. Coffey.

A charge of burglary of a vending machine has been filed against Sowers in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's Court.

Hunger Strike Sparks 'Silence'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A city councilman went to the county jail in hopes of talking to the sheriff Monday but had to settle instead for a meeting with the prison chaplain in the minister's car.

Councilman Ford Nielsen and a small group seeking to discuss a hunger strike by prisoners were not allowed inside the jail.

Nielsen said he still hoped to meet with Sheriff Bill Hauck to discuss the strike, which a small group of prisoners began last Thursday in a protest of jail conditions and rules.

Picketers supporting the protest said anywhere from 26 to 200 prisoners were refusing to eat. "The prisoners say more and more are joining the hunger strike," a picket leader said.

Nielsen said he understood from the chaplain, the Rev. Christian Kehl, that the number of strikers was not very large, however. He gave no figures.

Nielsen and the group, including a Negro community leader and some clergymen, were referred to the Rev. Kehl when they arrived at the jail.

Nielsen said he was invited to go to the jail by some clergymen. He said he had understood that a "very quiet meeting with the sheriff" had been arranged.

The Rev. Kehl told Nielsen and the others they could not come in the jail, but he agreed to talk with them in his car.

The Rev. Michael Smith, spokesman for the group, said afterward that they may try to meet the strike with county commissioners.

Sheriff Hauck, who says the strike has dwindled to a "handful" of inmates, told newsmen Monday that no one had contacted him about the meeting and that there would be none.

"If anybody wants to meet with anybody, the chaplain is the man to see, but I'm not allowing any crowd of people to be in there and meet with the prisoners," Hauck said.

The group had hoped to meet not only with Hauck but with the striking prisoners. Chief jailer Jesse Dobbs asserted: "There's not going to be a meeting and no demands are going to be met, today or tomorrow or any other time."

"We're not going to force them to eat," Dobbs added. "But if they choose not to eat, that's their business. We appreciate it — they're saving on our grocery bill."

Docket Call Held Today

Docket call was set for 2 p.m. today in 118th District Court to schedule three criminal cases and six civil cases for trial.

Criminal cases on the docket include Vernia L. Williams, 44, Corpus Christi, habitual burglar; Preston Lee Wood, 20, 1505 Gregg, theft over $50; and Charles P. Oldham, 27, Box 361, Anahuac, theft by baillee. All three were indicted by the Howard County Grand Jury Jan. 28.

Among the civil cases on the docket is a $97,664 damage suit filed by two Big Spring policemen. Ronald B. Brown and James Ray Daniel have filed suit against Frank James Hawkins Jr. in connection with an accident that occurred March 25, 1970, in the 800 block of East Fourth. Daniel is asking $80,414 in damages, and Brown is asking $17,250.

John E. Nutt is asking $60,000 in damages of C. C. Red Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Steiner are asking $25,000 in damages of A. L. Hole; Jo Ann Bauer and Myrtle Keele are asking for a total of $25,000 in a joint damage suit against J. R. Farmer; and Paul Richard Peterson is asking for $1,553.87 in damages from Dorothy Foster Smith.

Also on the docket is a suit on a note filed by the State National Bank against Curtis C. Kelley and Robert Foote.

Steferino Guevara, 304 South St. Mary, Stanton, was treated for minor injuries and released from the Malone and Hogan clinic after a two-car collision Monday.

James Leslie Lloyd, 1601 Wood, was the driver of the other vehicle and apparently escaped without injuries. An Alert ambulance took Guevara to the hospital at 5:26 p.m. The collision occurred at East Third and State.

Hearing Slated On Right-Of-Way Condemnation proceedings will get underway in Odessa Wednesday morning for right of way needed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District for its Odessa-Ward County water line. The land involved is on the Shoe Bar Ranch and includes about five miles of pipeline easement.

The jury of view commission will be empaneled to hear testimony in the case. The district has one other condemnation suit set for next week in Monahan for a shorter tract in Ward County.

62 PERSONS DIE Fifty city building inspectors surveyed damage Monday from the quake that killed 62 persons, injured more than 1,000 and caused damage estimated as high as $1 billion.

Hugh Gillis, who is in charge of Red Cross shelter operations, said the shelters were "one-stop service centers" where families gather before moving in with friends or receiving money for a week's supply of food and motel or hotel bills.

Police warned residents whose homes have yet to be looked over to watch out for persons posing as building inspectors. They said there were reports of imposters charging $15 to $20 fees. The city's inspectors do not charge for the service.

Most dwellings designated as unsafe will have to be demolished, said Harold L. Manley of the city Department of Building and Public Safety.

called wondering if they should evacuate," a police spokesman said.

"After each shock we get a lot of calls. People are worried and that last one shook us pretty good."

Six emergency Red Cross centers were helping evacuees find shelter after they left their homes or apartments in the valley 10 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

The Van Norman Dam in the north section of the valley continued to hold. It was badly cracked by the big quake, but the water level was lowered to reduce pressure on the dam.

Labels President's Proposal To Share Political 'Cop-Out'

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — An AFL-CIO official said today President Nixon's proposal to share federal income with the states was a political "cop-out" which would threaten to starve some of the nation's educational programs for funds.

"It's a real cop-out," Walter Davis, AFL-CIO education director, said of Nixon's legislative plan to funnel some $5 billion a year back to states and cities.

LOSS OF FUNDS Davis said it could lead to loss of funds to some educational programs that now get their money through specifically earmarked federal aid.

"Politically, Nixon's revenue sharing plan would give a pot of money for local politicians to struggle over as to whether it goes to a school lunch program, vocational education or something else," Davis said in an interview.

"What Nixon is saying to them is, 'I don't want to be involved in political struggles locally; you guys take the money and fight it out among yourselves,'" he added.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council took up educational matters today after Monday's opening criticism of Nixon's revenue sharing proposal and his plan to consolidate the Labor Department with other agencies.

"Many health, education, welfare, housing manpower and anti-poverty programs already approved by Congress have never received full funding," said the council.

The committee also approved a "good compromise" between those who like the early primary and those like the House Election Law Study Committee — that wanted an even later primary.

"You've never campaigned in the summer, have you?" asked Republican Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, who did not vote on the measure in committee.

Primarys were held in July prior to 1960. The legislature moved the first primary back to May so Lyndon Johnson would have Texas' Democratic nomination for U.S. senator before seeking the presidential nomination at the party's 1960 national convention.

Advocates of the later primary stress that a candidate who is nominated in May faces a six-month campaign before the November general election. They also contend political interest would be easier to sustain between the primary and the general election if the primary date were later in the year.

OK Bill To Move Elections From Spring To Summer

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Elections Committee approved today a bill moving primary elections from the spring to late in the summer.

The measure now goes to the Senate for debate. First primaries now are held in May, with runoffs four weeks later, in June.

The bill, by Dallas Sen. Mike McKeel, would set the first primary on the Tuesday after the first Monday in August. Runoffs would be the Tuesday after the first Monday in September.

McKeel called the measure a "good compromise" between those who like the early primary and those like the House Election Law Study Committee — that wanted an even later primary.

"You've never campaigned in the summer, have you?" asked Republican Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, who did not vote on the measure in committee.

Hunger Strike Sparks 'Silence'

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A city councilman went to the county jail in hopes of talking to the sheriff Monday but had to settle instead for a meeting with the prison chaplain in the minister's car.

Councilman Ford Nielsen and a small group seeking to discuss a hunger strike by prisoners were not allowed inside the jail.

Nielsen said he still hoped to meet with Sheriff Bill Hauck to discuss the strike, which a small group of prisoners began last Thursday in a protest of jail conditions and rules.

Picketers supporting the protest said anywhere from 26 to 200 prisoners were refusing to eat. "The prisoners say more and more are joining the hunger strike," a picket leader said.

Nielsen said he understood from the chaplain, the Rev. Christian Kehl, that the number of strikers was not very large, however. He gave no figures.

Nielsen and the group, including a Negro community leader and some clergymen, were referred to the Rev. Kehl when they arrived at the jail.

Nielsen said he was invited to go to the jail by some clergymen. He said he had understood that a "very quiet meeting with the sheriff" had been arranged.

The Rev. Kehl told Nielsen and the others they could not come in the jail, but he agreed to talk with them in his car.

The Rev. Michael Smith, spokesman for the group, said afterward that they may try to meet the strike with county commissioners.

Sheriff Hauck, who says the strike has dwindled to a "handful" of inmates, told newsmen Monday that no one had contacted him about the meeting and that there would be none.

"If anybody wants to meet with anybody, the chaplain is the man to see, but I'm not allowing any crowd of people to be in there and meet with the prisoners," Hauck said.

The group had hoped to meet not only with Hauck but with the striking prisoners. Chief jailer Jesse Dobbs asserted: "There's not going to be a meeting and no demands are going to be met, today or tomorrow or any other time."

"We're not going to force them to eat," Dobbs added. "But if they choose not to eat, that's their business. We appreciate it — they're saving on our grocery bill."

Docket Call Held Today

Docket call was set for 2 p.m. today in 118th District Court to schedule three criminal cases and six civil cases for trial.

Criminal cases on the docket include Vernia L. Williams, 44, Corpus Christi, habitual burglar; Preston Lee Wood, 20, 1505 Gregg, theft over $50; and Charles P. Oldham, 27, Box 361, Anahuac, theft by baillee. All three were indicted by the Howard County Grand Jury Jan. 28.

Among the civil cases on the docket is a $97,664 damage suit filed by two Big Spring policemen. Ronald B. Brown and James Ray Daniel have filed suit against Frank James Hawkins Jr. in connection with an accident that occurred March 25, 1970, in the 800 block of East Fourth. Daniel is asking $80,414 in damages, and Brown is asking $17,250.

John E. Nutt is asking $60,000 in damages of C. C. Red Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Steiner are asking $25,000 in damages of A. L. Hole; Jo Ann Bauer and Myrtle Keele are asking for a total of $25,000 in a joint damage suit against J. R. Farmer; and Paul Richard Peterson is asking for $1,553.87 in damages from Dorothy Foster Smith.

Also on the docket is a suit on a note filed by the State National Bank against Curtis C. Kelley and Robert Foote.

Steferino Guevara, 304 South St. Mary, Stanton, was treated for minor injuries and released from the Malone and Hogan clinic after a two-car collision Monday.

James Leslie Lloyd, 1601 Wood, was the driver of the other vehicle and apparently escaped without injuries. An Alert ambulance took Guevara to the hospital at 5:26 p.m. The collision occurred at East Third and State.

Hearing Slated On Right-Of-Way Condemnation proceedings will get underway in Odessa Wednesday morning for right of way needed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District for its Odessa-Ward County water line. The land involved is on the Shoe Bar Ranch and includes about five miles of pipeline easement.

The jury of view commission will be empaneled to hear testimony in the case. The district has one other condemnation suit set for next week in Monahan for a shorter tract in Ward County.

62 PERSONS DIE Fifty city building inspectors surveyed damage Monday from the quake that killed 62 persons, injured more than 1,000 and caused damage estimated as high as $1 billion.

Hugh Gillis, who is in charge of Red Cross shelter operations, said the shelters were "one-stop service centers" where families gather before moving in with friends or receiving money for a week's supply of food and motel or hotel bills.

Police warned residents whose homes have yet to be looked over to watch out for persons posing as building inspectors. They said there were reports of imposters charging $15 to $20 fees. The city's inspectors do not charge for the service.

Most dwellings designated as unsafe will have to be demolished, said Harold L. Manley of the city Department of Building and Public Safety.

'Baby-Faced Killer' Draws 2-5 In Cell

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge H. A. Garcia sentenced Albert Garza Jr. to a 2.5 year prison term Monday after an all-male jury convicted Garza on a charge of murder without malice in the slaying of a fellow Bexar County jail inmate.

Garza and six other persons were charged with murder in the Aug. 9, 1969, beating, kicking and stomping death of Michael B. Perkins in the Bexar County jail at San Antonio.

The case was transferred to 138th District Court here on a change of venue from San Antonio.

Garza, 22, asked that the judge pass sentence on him instead of the jury. The jury had deliberated about four hours and 25 minutes before returning the verdict.

Court appointed defense lawyer Jack Skaggs of Harlingen said Garza would not appeal the verdict. Garza also waived the ten-day waiting period to allow Judge Garcia to sentence him immediately.

Garza wore a broad smile as he chatted with Skaggs and co-defense lawyer Hector Yznaga of Brownsville. He had testified in his own behalf, claiming he never touched Perkins.

Prosecution lawyers described Garza as "a baby-faced killer" as they asked the jury in closing arguments to find the San Antonio man guilty of murder with malice.

Although Garza and his lawyers appeared happy at the verdict, a prosecution lawyer expressed displeasure.

"It appears to me that juries in Cameron County are not as concerned with enforcing the law in Bexar County as juries are in Bexar County," said Asst. Bexar County Dist. Atty. Charles T. Conaway.

A spokesman for the Cameron County Sheriff's office said Garza would likely be sent to the Texas State Prison at Huntsville today.

He is also to serve a six-year term for a burglary conviction in San Antonio.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Doing what will gain you the favor of a higher-up is fine this morning, but don't confide in others. Keep plans secret. Prepare how to get projects working most efficiently and successfully.

Bill To Curtail Drunken Driving

AUSTIN (AP) — The director of the Department of Public Safety has urged a legislative committee to approve a bill that would say a driver is presumed drunk if his blood contains .10 per cent alcohol.

"We think the DWI problem is the most serious problem that we need to get control of," Col. W. E. Speir told the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee Monday.

Some questions were raised about changing the burden of proof with such a presumption. "The public is ready," said George Perry of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association. "They are tired of being abused by the abusive drinker."

Speir said an average man reaches the .10 level if he consumes five beers in an hour.

Rep. Don Cavness of Austin, sponsor of the bill, said a frightening statistic from the breath tests conducted by the DPS since the implied consent law was passed two years ago was that 2,771 out of the 31,000 tested had .24 alcohol in their blood. "That's knee walking drunk," Cavness said. "He doesn't know whose car he's in."

Rep. Billy Williamson of Tyler jokingly said he learned a different test for intoxication: "He is drunk who is on the floor and cannot rise to drink some more."

"Where'd you learn that, Billy?" another committee member asked.

"Baylor," Williamson said with a laugh. He is a Baylor grad.

The Cavness bill was referred to a subcommittee, as was a bill that would give Texas its first general trespass law.

Only illegal hunting on posted property may be prosecuted under present trespass law.

Quiz GI Held 17 Hours By Kidnapers In Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A Texas airman kidnaped and held 17 hours by suspected leftist extremists was undergoing questioning today by U.S. Air Force investigators while Turkish police hunted the kidnapers.

Sgt. Jimmy Ray Finley, 24, an air policeman from Fort Worth, Tex., walked back to his base Monday night, apparently none the worse for his experience.

He was "dead tired" but unharmed, American officials said.

The Air Force gave no details of what he reported. But speculation in Ankara was that the kidnaping might have been the work of a group of leftists wanted for two recent bank robberies in the city.

The five-man gang is led by former Istanbul University law student Deniz Gezmiş and has been at large since its first successful bank raid Jan. 11.

Officials would say only that Finley's abductors were believed to be leftist extremists, active for the past year in terrorist attacks against American servicemen and their families.

Turkish police said at least three men took part in the kidnaping about 3 a.m. Monday at an American installation on the outskirts of Ankara.

FORCED FINLEY The kidnapers entered the base apparently undetected and forced Finley into a truck while he was on guard duty. A few hours later the pickup truck was found empty and abandoned, its motor still running and with a flat tire 10 miles outside Ankara.

The kidnaping jolted the American community in Turkey.

"It's been building up to this," said a U.S. diplomat of the spreading wave of anti-American violence in Turkey. There have been bomb attacks against U.S. installations and Americans have been roughed up, insulted and threatened.

"We had our fingers crossed kidnaping wouldn't spread to Turkey, but here it is," said a security officer at the U.S. Embassy in Ankara. He said for more than a year special security measures have been taken to protect several thousand American civilians and servicemen in Ankara.

Turkish police have reinforced Turkish troops guarding U.S. installations. Americans are not allowed to carry weapons for guard duty. Turkish police also are stationed at the residence of the U.S. ambassador.

PX PROSPERITY

Anti-Americanism first appeared in 1964 when many Turks resented the lack of U.S. support in their dispute with Greece over Cyprus. It has intensified with the growth of extremism in Turkish universities in the past two years.

Factors observers consider responsible for the current anti-Americanism include the presence of 30,000 Americans in Turkey with their special privileges and PX prosperity; the spread of leftist ideas after the military revolution in 1960 and liberal constitution of 1961, and a propaganda campaign by the Soviet Union to exploit anti-Americanism.

Occasional offensive behavior of Americans also has roused nationalist feelings. A drunken U.S. serviceman at Samsun on the Black Sea coast defaced a Turkish flag in another incident, a U.S. officer was given a speedy transfer to America without trial after his car ran into a marching unit of Turkish troops, killing several.

Couple Recites Vows In Lutheran Church

Miss Elizabeth Ann Graumann and Capt. James H. Swisher exchanged wedding vows in a military ceremony at 3 p.m. Sunday in St. Paul Lutheran Church. The Rev. O. R. Graumann, of Fresno, Calif., uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Forrest M. Swisher of Alexandria, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Graumann, 1903 Nolan.

Altar decorations included vases of white chrysanthemums and pompons accented with taper candles in a branched candelabrum. Mrs. Frank Long was organist, and the bride's brother, Keith Graumann, was vocalist.

The bride was attired in a floor-length, Empire-style, white satin gown, with a stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves. The bodice was accented at the waist with a wide band covered with lace. The chiffon overskirt was appliqued with lace, and her chapel-length veil was held with a band of orange blossoms bordered with pearls and crystal beads. She carried a cascade of feathered white carnations and English Ivy, centered with white orchids.

Maid of honor was Miss Brenda Mize, attired in a long red peau de sole Empire gown, with scooped neckline and long silk organza sleeves. Her headpiece was a red velvet bow with a short veil, and she carried a white fur muff with oval clusters of red carnations and satin ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sara Joanne Swisher of Alexandria, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Phyllis Hagen and Mrs. Richard W. Burke. Their gowns were the same as Miss Mize's, and they wore Dior bows in their hair.

Serving his brother as best man was Dr. Charles L. Swisher II of Lewiston, Maine. Groomsmen were Patrick Truchio, Alexandria; Capt. Roger Thomas, New York; 1st Lt. Michael Straup, Colorado Springs, Colo.; and F. Myron Swisher, Alexandria. Sabers bearers were Capt. Thomas Power, Capt. Jackson Roberts, Capt. Robert Shannon and 1st Lt. William A. Higgins Jr., all of Webb AFB.

The flower girl was Karen Crandall, attired the same as the bridesmaids. Douglas Marwitz, was ring bearer. For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride wore a navy blue dress and coat with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Ceremony Performed In Abilene

Miss Zoanne Wolff and Tommy Dean Pitts were married at 2 p.m. Saturday in the first United Methodist Church at Abilene with the Rev. Lloyd Mayhew, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Wolff, 1317 Westridge, Abilene, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. A. F. Pitts Jr. of Ackerly and the late Mr. Pitts.

The bride was attired in a white street-length, sleeveless dress fashioned with cowl collar and tie belt. A graduate of Trans-World Airlines hostess school, she attended McMurry College and is now employed by the City of Abilene.

Pitts, who graduated from Sands High School, received a BBA degree in marketing from McMurry College in May and has just returned from four months' duty with the National Guard at Fort Dix, N.J. He is associated with Conrad Enterprises in Abilene where the couple will reside at 2883 N. Second.

Out-of-town persons attending, other than the bridegroom's mother, were his brother, Richard Pitts of Albuquerque, N.M., and Miss Rita Jones of Knott.

After a reception in the couple's new home, Mr. and Mrs. Pitts left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., El Paso and Juarez, Mexico.

CACTUS CHAPTER, ABWA

Mrs. Noel Hull Wins 'Boss Of Year' Title

Mrs. Noel Hull was named "Boss of the Year" by Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, during a bosses' night banquet Monday at Brandin Iron Inn. She was nominated for the honor by Mrs. Frank Mullican and Mrs. Zula Reeves, with the announcement being made by Jeff Brown, a former recipient of the award.

Mrs. Hull and her husband operate Hester's Supply Company. She is a past president of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club. As a church leader, Mrs. Hull is director of the Pre-School Department, College Baptist Church, and now serves as state supervisor of the pre-school activities, conducting seminars in such cities as Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco. In addition, she has been on the faculty of Gloria Baptist Assembly in New Mexico for the past two summers.

In the past, she has been Mother Advisor for the Order of Rainbow Girls and has served on its advisory board, as well as being active in the Goliad and Kentwood PTA units. One of Mrs. Hull's hobbies is bowling, for which she has won numerous trophies. Mrs. R. T. Winn, chapter president, introduced Mrs. Ruth Hampton, mistress of ceremonies. The history, growth and creed of ABWA was given by Mrs. T. A. Proctor, after which a vocational talk was given by Mrs. Clarence Trantham, RN, office nurse for Dr. M. W. Talbot and Dr. Jack Woodall. Guest speaker was Roger Brown, local attorney, who detailed legal rights won by women during the past 150 years.

Honored guests were three of the ABWA scholarship, loan or grant recipients: Kathy Shaw, Texas Tech; Mrs. Ted Thomas, Angelo State University; and Faye Ringener, Howard County Junior College. Unable to attend were Kathy Wright, HCJC; and

MRS. NOEL HULL

Kathy Conley, Texas Tech. A gift of appreciation was presented to Erwin Hill, husband of a member, for his assistance to the chapter.

Dr. J. Grooms Advises: 'Reach Out And Touch'

"Deep inside every person there is something valuable," said Dr. Jordan Grooms, district superintendent of the Methodist Church, Monday to the St. Mary's Guild, St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

"God puts each of us here for a purpose," Dr. Grooms continues. "Love binds our hearts together, but a lot of the time we do not take time to say to a person, 'I love you.' We should say to ourselves, 'slow me down, Lord; I'm going too fast.'"

"We must learn to reach out and touch. Touching is reaching out to know, to explore, to believe and to love. One has to feel something to have a deep appreciation for it. That's the only way to become a part of it."

"But touching is reaching within, also. Something is supposed to emerge from us, and when that happens one starts to believe in himself."

Mrs. C. E. Lennox, vice chairman, presided. Hostesses were Mrs. Pat Murphy and Mrs. Guy Dillingham. Mrs. Murphy also gave the devotion. The next meeting is at 2 p.m., March 15 in the church parish hall.

Install gas air conditioning now?

You should be so foxy

PIONEER

NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Installing GAS air conditioning now means you'll beat the rush that always comes with the first hot or dusty spring day. While everyone else is waiting for the overworked installers you'll be cool, calm, and collected.

GAS air conditioning cools your whole house quietly and efficiently. You'll save on repairs, too, because there is no compressor to break down or wear out. And, GAS air conditioning cools your whole house for what you might have been paying to cool just two or three rooms before.

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer and tell them you'd like to find out more about installing GAS air conditioning in the winter. A representative will tell you what it will take to include it in your present forced air heating system. You may be able to use the same ductwork for heating and cooling. It costs nothing to get a complete survey of your home or business.

Ask about special Winter Terms.

Rock Festivals Bill Hits Bumps

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Health Department should have the right to regulate sanitary conditions at mass gatherings such as rock festivals, Rep. Don Cavness of Austin told a House committee. However, a bill introduced by Cavness regulating such events raises serious constitutional questions, said Rep. Sam Coats, a member of the committee which heard the bill Monday. The bill would require a permit for a large group meeting for more than 12 hours outside a city's limits. After an hour's hearing, the bill was referred routinely to a House governmental affairs and efficiency subcommittee, as were three other bills. Cavness' bill would require a rock festival's promoter to post a $50,000 performance bond, and the local county judge would have the right to grant or deny a permit.

FREE SPEECH "This seems to raise serious constitutional questions as to free speech and right to assembly," Coats said. Cavness said the bill was meant to give the State Health Department the right to set minimum health standards for such gatherings. "Will we have any of these outside concerts if this law passes?" asked Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez of Hidalgo. Cavness said he had no objection to deleting the reference

Prime Rate Reduction Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Four big New York banks today cut their prime lending rate by one-quarter percentage point for the fourth time this year. The reduction to 5 1/2 per cent from 6 per cent was initiated by Bankers Trust Co. and Chase Manhattan, First National City and Chemical Banks followed. The cut in the prime rate—the interest banks charge to their biggest and most creditworthy customers—came after the Federal Reserve Board's approval Friday of a reduction to 4 1/2 per cent from 5 per cent in the discount rate of 11 of the 12 district reserve banks.

ONE THING Even so, the governor says he believes strongly that "the people are entitled to an explanation." "One thing you've got to remember," Office Green, the governor's executive assistant, had said earlier, "is the governor's inherent trust in people and his intense loyalty to his friends."

EVERYBODY IS EDGY "This has had a paralyzing effect on the legislative process," adds Robert Spelling, an aide to Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. "Everybody is edgy and jumpy, just like it was the week of the session instead of the first part." Barnes also has not been a central figure in the stock case although depositions taken by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission did mention his name.

POINT OF VIEW All this began to happen on Jan. 19, but the story—from Smith's point of view—goes back to a night in 1957, when he first met Dr. Baum, an Austin osteopathic physician and state Democratic Executive Committee chairman.

Panel Calls For Hearings Into Stans' Penn Interests

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the Senate Commerce Committee has called for immediate hearings into Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans' interest in a major Penn Central subsidiary and his role in government efforts to shore up the failing railroad. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., urged convening of the committee "at the earliest possible date to hear Secretary Stans' explanation of matters which on their face seem to indicate a strong possibility of impropriety."

THE FACTS Hartke is third-ranking Democrat on the committee which approved Stans' cabinet appointment in January, 1969. Hartke commented in a statement following disclosures by The Associated Press that Stans owned $318,000 worth of stock in Great Southwest Corp. on June 12, 1970, at the time his department was involved in administration plans to grant Penn Central $200 million in federal loan guarantees. The railroad, which owns 90 per cent of Great Southwest, filed for reorganization under

It could not be learned whether Stans still has an interest in Great Southwest, a Texas real estate firm. Although at one point Stans indicated precise knowledge of the number of shares distributed to his blind trust, he said at another point in an interview conducted with written questions and answers that he didn't know what was in the trust. "It is impossible to escape the conclusion," Hartke said, "that had the administration succeeded in carrying through the Defense Act loan (guarantees) to Penn Central last June, the value of Secretary Stans' Great Southwest holdings would have been a couple of hundred thousand dollars higher than they are today. If he feared to risk a three club bid, he might at least have called two no trump which would present partner with an opportunity to rescue himself into any long suit which he happens to hold.

Good Time To Fix Policy

The unit system of county roads is back in the news as a result of an exchange in the Howard County Commissioners Court here Monday.

Commissioner Bill Crocker proposed that roads be improved or built on the basis of traffic counts. He said there had been an unequal distribution of improvements in another precinct.

Without getting into a hassle over the division of work and materials as between precincts, it does appear that the primary justification of roads is use. The traffic count, while not a final determinant in all cases, is a potent indicator as to the need for improvements to a road. Conceivably, geographical and other considerations could make a low-count road eligible when it fits into a system or serves an area which could not otherwise be reached. By and large, however, roads are made to serve traffic, and the greater the traffic, the more important the road.

Perhaps it is well that the matter has come up at this particular time, for the county road supervisor, Hollis Randell, a veteran with the Texas Highway Department, was putting in his first day on the job Monday. He correctly asked the court to develop a policy since he said he would look to the court as his source of instruction and authority.

This makes sense. What is needed is a statement of county road policy, and basically there is only one answer to that—the unit system. Officially, the county operates under the unit system, which means that all equipment and all manpower is pooled and then assigned where the work is most needed.

This makes for more economical and efficient operations. Experience has shown here in the past that the road dollar has gone further under this plan of operation and that it has yielded more new permanent roads.

At least, this does away with the factor of "my precinct" in road matters. There is no such thing as "my precinct," but rather "the precinct I represent." Since all of us pay for the roads, we can say "our county" and "our roads."

The issue will be clarified and simplified and helped immeasurably if the court enunciates a policy and then charges Mr. Randell with responsibility of administering it.

Ought To Be Clear

Mr. Justice Hugo Black had some pointed things to say in refusing to review the case of Cheley Karr, an El Paso Coronado student who had contested the school's right to suspend him because of long hair.

In short, Justice Black said that lawyers should stop bombarding the Supreme Court with motions contending that such things as the length of hair placed the nation in crisis.

Then he went on to say that some things are basic — such as the right of an equal educational opportunity. But certain regulatory powers are left to localities and states.

Moreover, our Constitution has sought to distribute the powers of government in this nation between the United States and the states. Surely the federal judiciary can perform no greater service to the nation than to leave the states unhindered in the performance of their purely local affairs. Surely few policies can be thought of in which states are more capable of deciding than the length of hair of schoolboys." That ought to be perfectly clear.

Saucy Society

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

William Keeler, editor and weekly columnist of the Wyalusing Rocket, Wyalusing, Pa., must be a delightful man. He puts out the sort of society column that is surely the envy of every women's editor in the country.

Well, here, read his effort which appeared on Feb. 4:

"Many were in attendance on Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Grace Quackenbush to Mr. Elwood Zandt. The church was beautifully decorated with winter bouquets of live-forevers. A reception for nearly 200 was held at the Grange Hall following the ceremony. The day was perfect in every respect except for an incident that occurred when the bride threw her bouquet to her attendants and Alice and Ethel Sangee got in a tussle over it. Alice fell on top of Ethel and suffered a badly bruised left knee and skinned her right elbow. Ethel, who finally claimed the larger portion of the bouquet, is now confined to her bed with two cracked ribs and a splintered clavicle.

Fordham Augue returned home Sunday afternoon after having been reported missing by his wife. Ford went to Harrisburg two weeks ago to attend the Shapp inauguration and was not heard from until he arrived on a bus at Laceyville and called Flora to come down and get him.

Harold Bakeley's car stalled last Friday night as he was driving home from work and he had to walk the remaining two miles distance to his home in the sub-zero weather. He suffered frostbite of the nose, ears, fingers, toes, and other extremities.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Dwight returned home Saturday night after a three weeks cruise to the Caribbean. They report having a marvelous time. They also report that on their second day out of New York they spied Miss Amy Zlich walking on deck and the next day ran into LeRoy Dingle in the ship's pharmacy. Later the Dightws thought they saw LeRoy and Amy walking hand-in-hand on a secluded beach at St. Thomas. Everyone on Jester Hill thought LeRoy was attending a diarmen's conference in Syracuse and Amy was supposed to be attending a Sunday School teachers' workshop in Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. George Amesworth have had their kitchen completely remodeled with new built-in cabinets, refrigerator, electric range, microwave and a dozen new small appliances. It was all done with the life insurance from George's late wife, Erma. The entire new kitchen is just the way Erma would have wanted it."

See what I mean? Now, that's the sort of fearless reporting that keeps circulation managers happy.

Incidentally, the column is called "Jester Hill," and the pitted people who live there are figments of Mr. Keeler's educated imagination. With pixie pen — and compassionate concern — he has given life and personality to each of the residents of his mythical township.

So much so, that regular readers can hardly wait to see what Harold Bakeley has been up to this time!

Some Silly Talk

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — The case of Henry Kissinger, which is being debated in high White House and Cabinet circles as well as at every cocktail rout intown, suggests that we the people may have forgotten how to conduct a law suit.

A NUMBER OF administration stalwarts, including Secretary of State William Rogers and Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney, are unhappy about Kissinger's public approach to the kidnap-bomb plot charges against the Rev. Phillip Berrigan and five others, including two other Catholic priests and a nun. The six are accused of plotting to kidnap Kissinger, national security affairs assistant to the President, and to blow up the heating systems of Federal buildings here.

Kissinger, the Nixon administration's official swinger, was quoted by Time magazine as remarking that "three sex-starved nuns" wanted to seize him. The fallout in the corridors of power has been tremendous, with sides being chosen up all over town.

IT IS KNOWN that both Rogers and Romney, a straightlaced Mormon, have let Nixon know they regarded the Kissinger quip as unfortunate. Robert Finch, a Presidential aide and former secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, is said to be annoyed. So goes the report, are Herb Klein, director of communications, and Ron Ziegler, White House press secretary.

THERE ARE even reports, savored by Kissinger's numerous governmental and political enemies, that Nixon will give Henry the sack. This would seem to be wishful thinking. The President has total respect for Kissinger's acknowledged high competence in a complex field.

But the whole sordid business is unnecessarily unfortunate. Unnecessarily because it is not the sort of issue that should be occupying the thoughts of important people. In-dochina and the economy are quite sufficient to drive these men up the nearest wall.

INDEED, the tragedy is that a case under the jurisdiction of the courts should be discussed at all by anyone in government. So far, Father Berrigan and the others are merely accused; their innocence has to be assumed right up to the moment the verdict is returned. Tasteless jokes about the case of government VIP's — and Kissinger is not the only culprit — seem to suggest a guilty verdict is inevitable.

NONE OF THE defendants is entitled to special treatment because he is of the religious community. A clergyman's cloth or a nun's habit does not confer immunity from the laws. But neither should they be subjected to special, vulgar harassment by persons in positions of power.

In such an atmosphere, the gloomy question is whether either Berrigan & Co. or the government can get a fair trial.

Student Change

Marquis Childs

PRINCETON, N.J. — At the time of the Cambodian invasion more than 3,000 Princeton University students and faculty in Jadwin Gym roared out their anger at the war and the Nixon Administration. It was part of a protest that boiled over on campuses across the nation, triggering violence and counterviolence.

THE OTHER DAY when news of the Laos invasion finally broke, anti-war leaders sought to organize a protest rally. It drew about 300. The difference was a rough measure of the great change that has occurred in the attitudes of the young in little more than six months. University administrators and students with whom this reporter talked agree that a profound change has taken place, but they differ over what the change means.

President Robert Goheen believes it is somewhere between disillusion bordering on despair over the failure to have any influence on the course of the war and a mature realization that student activism is not the answer.

STUDENT ACTIVISM may be restrained by the recession as middle-class unemployment cuts back on student allowances and even student enrollment. Certainly, the recession has had a sobering effect on the private universities. Princeton's deficit this year will be $2.5 million, up from last year's $1 million. Columbia University faces a horrendous deficit of more than $11 million.

STUDENT MILITANTS, the revolutionary changes on almost every campus — coeds at Princeton, for example — have turned off many alumni. Their giving, one of the main pillars of support, has fallen off at most of the universities at the same time costs are soaring along with demands for new and more complex forms of education. The result is an urgent search for ways to cut back.

ALTHOUGH MOST students are skeptical, Goheen believes a revolt could be triggered by another expansion of the war, as happened after Cambodia. If, for example, the President found it necessary to ask Congress to revoke the ban on the use of American ground troops in Laos it would in all likelihood set off a new crisis. The young, for the most part, do not think so. They are turned off.

THE PAT ANSWERS are in the past. If a half-million of us showing up in Washington in the Mobe can't change anything, what's the use? They may for the moment be turned off. But they are far from being uncommitted. They are serious, concerned, deeply doubting, yet searching for a belief. When the alumni come back in June for their boisterous, traditional "pee-rade," the contrast with this concerned generation could hardly be greater.

Health Insurance Plans

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The national average cost of maintaining a hospital patient for one day rose from $9.50 in 1946 to more than $81 last year, is expected to reach $93 this year and to top $105 in 1972 and $110 in 1973.

Those are averages. Costs in excess of $100 a day already are reported in some hospitals, pricing medical care beyond the reach of millions. And some of the factors responsible for past increases seem to defy correction.

Making the picture more grim, there is not only a shortage of doctors but a maldistribution as well, and the same may be said of medical care. Some facilities and services are duplicated while others are unavailable.

Moreover, diabolical ingredients in the present formula for medical services seem to frustrate the efforts of cost cutters.

Unlike industry, for example, hospitals very infrequently obtain lower costs by employing new machinery. The machine might improve health, but it generally will require the services of new, highly trained personnel.

Another example: Health insurance plans often encourage unnecessary hospital stays by specifying that work paid for must be done while the individual is a bed patient rather than an outpatient.

And consider how wasteful it is that the entire emphasis is on illness rather than health, on correction rather than prevention, on remedies for ailments that might have been avoided through recipes for health.

So bleak is the picture that one is impelled to believe that the future can only be brighter. Perhaps so. At least one man who believes the corner has been turned is Dr. Edwin Crosby, head of the American Hospital Association.

"I'm an optimist," said Crosby as he described "Ameriplan," a proposal by the association for restructuring the "delivery" and financing of health services, mainly through establishment of health care corporations.

Such units would take responsibility for the health of individuals living in specified areas, providing them with five essentials: health maintenance, primary care, specialty care, restorative care and custodial care.

Although the functions of such corporations are still related in broad terms they would, in general, be able to control duplication of services in an area, route patients to correct facilities, coordinate purchasing, and install cost-cutting incentives.

Work would be contracted out to doctors and institutions with an eye not only for the best care but the greatest efficiency. The patient's needs and the area's facilities would be coordinated.

No such corporations now exist, and in fact a federal law would be required before they ever became a reality. As envisioned, medical schools, hospitals, insurance companies or others involved in medical care would develop the corporations, with financing coming as before from fees, insurance programs and government aid.

An Optimist Is . . .

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The hardest criminals to reform aren't murderers or safe-crackers but "paperhangers"—those who make a career of passing bad checks. Almost as soon as they are released from prison, they often borrow a pen and start writing their way back behind the bars again.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember when the ambition of every railroad man in America seemed to be to own a solid gold ring set with a big red ruby.

Appearances are sometimes deceiving, but not in the case of any woman over 40 who throws away her maxiskirt in favor of wearing the new style "hot pants" in public.

Any smart secretary soon learns that the best way to keep a temperamental boss from raising cane is to sugar him up. Most occupations have areas of moral blindness which enable their members to do a wrong thing without feeling bad about it. The usual excuse is, "If I don't the other fellow will—so why should I be a sucker?" It is this attitude which permits many policemen to accept free meals and small bribes for overlooking minor law violations.

The custom is so widespread that among cops it is traditionally referred to as "fair loot" or "honest graft."

The joys of modern office life fall on some girls when they discover it isn't nearly as much fun learning to program a computer as it is to program a husband.

An optimist is a fellow who tries to borrow money from the guy at the next desk on a Monday.

least he's not henpecked.

One of the puzzles of life is why, when you call the right number, nobody answers or the line is busy, but when you dial the wrong number there is always somebody there to become annoyed and bang the receiver in your ear.

If all the housewives in America were wealthy enough to buy caviar by the tubful, they'd probably still tell their husbands that all they had for lunch was a tuna fish sandwich.

Now and then you meet a person who can recite the alphabet backward as well as forward. I always feel sorry for him, because I feel he must have had a painfully shy and lonely childhood and was forced to figure out this odd way of showing off to others.

You're probably not the executive type if you're so dumb you have to put your foot in your mouth before discovering you've got a hole in your shoe.

The TV Blackout

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — A week ago Sunday New York City had a blackout which caused all nine television stations in the area to go out for several hours. This created tremendous crises in families all over the New York area and proved that TV plays a much greater role in people's lives than anyone can imagine.

For example, when the TV went off in the Bufkins' house in Forest Hills, Long Island, panic set in.

The phone rang and Mrs. Bufkins heard her sister in Manhattan tell her that there was a blackout.

SHE HUNG UP and said to her husband, "It isn't your set. Something's happened to the top of the Empire State Building."

Bufkins stopped and said, "Who are you?"

"I'm your wife, Edith."

"Oh," Bufkins said. "Then I suppose those kids in there are mine."

"That's right," Mrs. Bufkins said. "If you ever got out of that armchair in front of the TV set, you'd know who we were."

"Boy, they've really grown," Bufkins said, looking at his son and daughter. "How old are they now?"

"THIRTEEN AND 14," Mrs. Bufkins replied.

"I'll be darned! Hi kids."

"Who's he?" Bufkins' son Henry asked.

"It's your father," Mrs. Bufkins said.

"I'm pleased to meetcha," Bufkins' daughter Mary said shyly.

There was an embarrassed silence all around.

"LOOK," said Bufkins finally. "I know I haven't been much of a father, but now that the TV's out I'd like to make it up to you."

"How?" asked Henry.

"Well, let's just talk," Bufkins said.

"That's the best way to get to know each other."

A Devotion For Today . . .

Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them. (Mark 6:34)

PRAYER: O Thou source of love and compassion, infuse into our beings Thy spirit, deepening our concerns for humanity. May our helpful outreach enable our fellowmen to sense Thy deep, abiding love. Through Jesus Christ. Amen.

Serves The Best In Pizza, But That's Not All The Menu

Just because you don't like pizza is no reason to strike the Pizza Hut off your list of favorite restaurants. And for those who do like pizza, the Pizza Hut serves the best in town.

The Submarine Sandwich, consisting of Canadian bacon, salami, cheese, lettuce and the special Pizza Hut dressing, is a recent addition to the menu, but at 89 cents it already has captured the hearts of pizza lovers, and haters, all over.

The Pizza Hut has just been remodeled to provide its customers with a more pleasant atmosphere in which to dine and greater efficiency. Three ovens now bake the delicious pizzas that have made the Hut famous.

"We can get your pizza to you in 15 minutes from the time you order it," says Charles Nieman, manager. "If we're really busy, it may take 20 minutes."

Nieman has been cooking pizzas for two years and states without reservation, "We can make better pizzas than anyone else."

Pizzas are the Hut's specialty and its menu includes mozzarella cheese, green pepper, sausage, mushroom, pepperoni, the pizza supreme, onion, anchovy, hamburger, black olive, Canadian bacon, jalapeno and shrimp pizzas.

PIZZA HUT ... for the best alone or in any combination you wish.

Pizzas come in two sizes: the 10 inch plate and the 13 inch size. While waiting for your pizza or as a complete snack in itself, try the Hut's Italian salad for only 40 cents.

If you like beer with your pizza, the Pizza Hut serves light and dark Budweiser and Michelob.

All orders can be prepared to go. If you are in a hurry, just call in your order and by the time you come by for it, the pizzas and drinks will probably be ready.

The Pizza Hut is now looking into a delivery system that will greatly increase their service to their customers.

Planning a party or just tired of cooking, call the Pizza Hut at 263-3333 for an experience in good taste.

Now Blue Lustre Saves Housework

No busy housewife can afford to spend long, hard hours giving her rugs or carpets a thorough down-on-hands-and-knees scrubbing.

Now she doesn't have to bother with that arduous task in order to have clean, spotless rugs. Blue Lustre has come to the rescue. This modern weapon against the tracked-in dirt caused by inclement weather has become a potent ally in the fight against grime.

Safe as water for any fine fabric, and so mild it may be used on orientals, Blue Lustre has foaming action that penetrates and cleans deeply, holding in suspension every last particle of dirt.

It can then be vacuumed away when the carpet or rug is dry after shampooing. Blue Lustre is also perfect on man-made fibers used in kitchen and outdoor carpeting.

One-half gallon cleans three 9 x 12 rugs. Carpet colors are restored to their original brilliance. Carpet nap is left open and fluffy — even in the well-worn traffic lanes. But best of all, the dirt is gone!

Blue Lustre is odorless, contains no soap and leaves no residue to cause rapid resoiling. The Blue Lustre shampoo machine is lightweight, easy to carry and easy to use.

Big Spring Hardware carries Blue Lustre and the handy shampooer can be rented for one dollar a day with a purchase of the shampoo.

If dirt has you down on your hands and knees, get up and try Blue Lustre. It's an easy way to do a difficult task.

Ultimate In Machines Available At Graham's

The ultimate in desk top figuring machines is now available at Graham's Office Machines, 417 E. 3rd. The amazing machine is the Olivetti Logos 270 calculator.

The Logos 270 is an electronic printing calculator employing an integrated circuit whose large capacity, electronic speed, simplicity and ease of operating make it a desirable tool in solving all arithmetic operations.

Some other features of the versatile, easy-to-operate machine are its ability to automatically reset, provide division equals, perform automatic squaring, per cent and square root.

Also featured on the Logos 270 are the decimal control button and the three independent accumulating registers.

A wide variety of Olivetti-Underwood electronics in portable and office models are on display at Graham's. Versatility and futuristic design highlight these models and all are available at value-packed prices.

If you are shopping early for that spring graduate, the portable Olivetti "Valentine" typewriter is a perfect selection and economical at $54.50.

It is sturdy, compact and features the margin, line and ribbon control of the larger typewriters. At Graham's you will also find the Underwood Studio 45, well suited to the busy homemaker's correspondence and club work or the businessman's away-from-the-office work.

The Studio 45 has four touch-selections, keyboard tabulation, horizontal and vertical half-spacing and easy erasing with the paper in the machine. It can be carried easily in an attractive, durable case and costs $84.50.

Graham's is the authorized dealer for R. C. Allen cash registers, selling and servicing a fine line of machines for any store or shop. It is also the dealer for an excellent collection of fast, dependable Olivetti calculators.

As well as the Logos 270, Graham's has the Logos 250. Other calculators include the Divisumma 24 and 26, which automatically perform the four basic arithmetic operations and allow combined operations without re-entry of intermediate results.

Save on clerical labor costs and step up letter and inventory production by dropping by Graham's and asking about these new machines.

Goes Dateless

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I was a little girl, my mom used to paint pictures of how many boy friends I would have when I grew up. What a fantasy! I am convinced that the decent girls don't have a chance anymore because of the vast majority of promiscuous girls. Boys don't like to spend money on girls who won't shell out. Mom always used to say (and still does) that a boy respects a girl who doesn't sleep with every fellow in town. That's true — boys respect them, but they don't date them.

I'm the type of girl boys might marry — 10 years from now. So what do I do in the meantime? I am getting bitter dered about this for several years and have finally decided to ask you.

My husband and I were in the Army in Hanau, near Frankfurt, Germany, a few years ago. The Army arranged special programs for the men and their wives. One night they had a "Dear Abby" night, and announced that Dear Abby would be there in person to give a talk and answer questions from the audience. We were anxious to see you in person, so we went.

The "Dear Abby" who came out on the stage was a slim, dark-haired, tall woman — about 6 feet tall! I never imagined you as being that tall.

DUBIOUS

DEAR DUBIOUS: She was an impostor. I stand 5 feet nothing in my stocking feet, have never smoked, and have never been near Frankfurt.

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for "Milwaukee Doctor" who wrote to say that poor posture in teenage girls could be a bone deformity. If my parents had been more alert when I was younger, I wouldn't be wearing a brace to correct my spine at age 16. It would have been corrected by now.

IN A BRACE IN CHI.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: I have won toward boys because they are dating other girls like mad while I go to the movies with girl friends.

I was talking to my brother about this and he said I was wrong. But I say I am right. I am a living example. Two of my girl friends are really sharp and cute, but they are just like me — dateless. Why? Because they're decent.

EUDORA, KAN.

DEAR EUDORA: Sorry, but I vote with your brother. When a guy wants his way with a girl he will give her a line, but she can depend on her brother to tell her the truth.

DEAR ABBY: I have won

Those Initials
Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard so many people say, "So-and-so had a D.N.C." "J.C." I don't know what the initials stand for, so don't understand what it is about. I hate to ask anybody because everyone else seems to know what it is, and I hate to look ignorant. —F.R.—F.R.

Well, never ask, and, never find out! And don't be too sure that "so many people" know what the initials stand for, either.

I isn't "D.N.C." you see. It's "D. n. C." or "D. n. D. and C." meaning "dilation ana and curettage," and I'll explain plain that for you.

It's a procedure use used quite frequently by gynecologists for a variety of purposes, sometimes for diagnosis of avarious "female troubles" and sometimes as a corrective measure.

Sometimes, either because of unexplained vaginal bleeding or pain, it is necessary to find out what conditions exist in the uterus. That's one use of the D. and C. Some of the inner surface tissues are scraped off so the cells can be studied.

The "D" stands for "dilation." Instruments are used to dilate the neck, or entrance, to the uterus. (The uterus, as shown in pregnancy, has a tremendous capacity for expansion, but it has to be expanded gradually.)

Then, when it has been dilated sufficiently, other instruments are used to scrape off

("C" for curettage) some of the tissues. Examination of these often gives an immediate answer as to what the trouble is and how to correct it.

Another use of the same procedure is required following a miscarriage, if some fragments of the afterbirth remain attached to the uterus and need to be removed.

Or, for yet another example, the D. and C. is one of the methods used in abortions, which now are legal in some states. The fertilized egg attaches itself to the inner surface of the uterus in its early stages and can be removed by the curettage (scraping) process.

So, you see, the D. and C. is used for a pretty wide variety of purposes.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I find your booklets very informative, especially "Lost Secrets of Reducing." I have lost 78 pounds in the last year by following your advice. I didn't need pills or any other "crutches."

Now I wish you had a booklet on hyperkinetic children. I have to go to my son's teachers every year to explain his condition and to help them understand it. I have some clippings to take along, but a booklet would sure be a help. —Mrs. M.A.D.

As for hyperkinetic children — I know there are a good many who have to overcome this problem. How many, I'm not sure. I'll have another column on this subject in the next few days, but I don't know whether enough people would want such a booklet to warrant the time it would take to write it. I'll consider it, though.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need to Know About Them." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Steerettes Grab 5-4A Debut Win

ABILENE — The Steerettes of Big Spring High School buried Abilene High under scores of 15-2, 15-0, here Monday night in the District 5-AAAA volleyball opener for both teams.

Judy Bair scored eight points in the first game for Big Spring while Kay Caffey proved a server with a deadly touch in the second game, ramming home 13 points.

At the net, Marv Alice Terrazas was outstanding for Big Spring, which is now 8-1 on the year.

Big Spring also won the JV match, 15-13, 15-3, at which time Leticia Trevino counted 16 points for the winners.

Up front, Debby Irwin and Melodie Burchell were impressive for the Steers.

Big Spring returns to play in Big Lake Thursday evening.

Big Spring captured first place during the weekend in the Crane Invitational tournament.

In addition, the team placed Mary Alice Terrazas on the all-tournament team as a spiker and Teresa Griffin as a set.

Big Spring beat Crane varsity in the finals 13-11, 15-10. Ann Brown was the leading server, while Terrazas and Vicki Annen were outstanding at the net.

Oilers Blast Wooten Quint

Tompkins Oil turned back the Wooten Lyons, 104-96, and the Civitan Club trounced First Federal Savings and Loan, 93-50, in YMCA Adult Basketball League play here Monday evening.

Wooten pushed Tompkins all the way and trailed by only a two-point margin, at 50-48, at half time.

Johnny Scott scored 34 points, Delnor Poss 25 and Robert Evans 24 for Tompkins while Ronnie Taylor had 21, David Yeats 24 and Terry Wooten 22 for Wooten.

The Civitans led by wire to wire in their game. They built a 44-26 cushion at half time.

Danny Clendenin tallied 26 points and Leonard Jansa 16 for the Civitans. For First Federal, Steve Tidwell and Danny Parchman each counted ten.

Yearlings Sweep Double Header

Big Spring Runnels swept the boards in two matches with Lamesa Junior High here Monday evening.

The eighth graders won, 15-2, 15-7. Pam Weber and Sally Graves each scored 11 points for the Yearlings while Sonia Dowling and Fern Newton were outstanding up front.

In seventh grade play, Big Spring's margin of victory was 15-8, 15-11. Olga Valencia tallied seven points and Liz Warren five for Runnels. Set Elsa Hernandez played well for Runnels.

The Yearlings go to Snyder Thursday to play Travis, at which time they will be after their third win of the year.

Ranger Defeats Waco Cage Team

WACO — Ranger College edged McLennan Community College, 77-75, in a Texas JC Conference game here Monday night.

The win was the 17th in 27 starts for Ranger this season. In conference standings, they are tied for second place with a 9-3 mark.

UNLESS HE IS TRADED, HE SAYS Zepp May Not Play

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Bill Zepp wants to be traded and infielder Larry Brown is sure he's going to be traded. Both are among a healthy number of unsigned major leaguers who could give baseball general managers a few headaches over the next few weeks.

Zepp, who was born in Detroit, and still lives there, has a problem because he works for Minnesota. He would prefer, of course, to work for Detroit and has suggested as much to both the Twins and Tigers. So far, however, no deal. And Zepp says unless the Tigers and Twins can get together on one, he won't play baseball this summer.

Some of the other holdouts don't come on quite that strongly but they make no secret of their unhappiness with the contract terms the GMs have been offering.

Brown, Cleveland's veteran infielder, wants $34,000—$5,000 more than the Indians are offering. "I'm sure they'll trade me," said Brown, "after all that has happened. All I can do in the meantime is sit and wait."

The Indians also have major numbers problems with pitchers Sam McDowell and Dennis Higgins, outfielder Vada Pinson and catcher Ray Fosse.

McDowell wants $100,000. "I don't want to talk about it much now," he said, "but it sure looks like I'm going to be late. It's up to the club. I'm very anxious to get to Tucson and get ready but I absolutely won't go until the day I sign."

Higgins, resisting a cut from $30,000 after a 4-6 season, said he was offered $15,000 as a sporting goods representative, "and I'll take it before I'll let go."

Hill Measures Cisco, 85-79

HILLSBORO — Powerful Hill County JC, bidding for a spot in the Region V Basketball tournament at Big Spring next month, knocked off Cisco College here Monday night, 85-79.

The win was the 19th in 22 starts for Hill County Cisco slumped to 14-12. Hill hit 21 of 22 free shot offerings.

the Indians cut my pay." In Baltimore, Dave McNally and Boog Powell, are among the unsigned. McNally, always a tough bargainer, could be shooting for $100,000 after his third straight 20-victory season. Powell's Most Valuable Player Award could earn him close to that amount too.

National League MVP Johnny Bench has been talking about a $500,000 three-year contract but he isn't the only problem the Reds face. Pete Rose is reportedly asking $250,000 for two years and Tony Perez thinks $110,000 sounds very nice. Bob Tolan, out indefinitely with a torn achilles tendon, says he wants no part of a provisional contract based on how much he can play in 1971, which the Reds have offered him.

Gilmore, McDaniels Dismantle Defenses

By The Associated Press

It was fun and games time for two of college basketball's big men Monday night and their teams' victories proved it. But for Kansas, it was a nailbiter down to the last 23 seconds.

Jacksonville's 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore hit 22 points and had 23 rebounds as the Dolphins defeated Florida State 100-75; and 7-foot Jim McDaniels scored 26 points and grabbed 25 rebounds in Western Kentucky's 83-65 victory over East Tennessee.

Perhaps the teams were relaxed since neither has to face the pressure of being in the top five schools in the latest Associated Press poll. Jacksonville retained its No. 6 slot and the Hilltoppers fell from No. 7 to ninth.

DOWN AT HALFTIME

The Jayhawks trailed 35-33 at halftime, gained the lead at 52-0, then held on for life, victory and their elevated spot in the poll. With 23 seconds remaining, Pierre Russell hit two foul shots to give the winners a 71-66 advantage.

The top four teams in the poll were idle. UCLA retained its No. 1 position, and Marquette, Southern California and Pennsylvania followed in the identical order as last week. The Bruins pulled 15 of 31 first-place votes with Marquette 14, USC and Kansas, one each.

South Carolina and North Carolina each jumped three places to seventh and eighth, respectively, while Duquesne advanced to No. 10 from position 12.

In other action among the Top 20 teams, Kentucky, which dropped from No. 8 to 12th place, defeated Georgia 107-95; Tennessee, up from 14 to 13, was upset by Florida 66-55; Notre Dame's Irish, bounced from ninth place to 14th, walloped

Valparaiso 100-75; No. 15 Utah State was stunned by Denver 96-74; and Eastern Kentucky edged No. 17 Murray State 82-81.

Florida State staged a late rally against Jacksonville after trailing 48-37 at the half. The Seminoles closed to within 74-73 before Gilmore hit two field goals and two free throws with five minutes left to play.

It was Gilmore's clutch baskets and rebounds that saved the Dolphins but it was junior guard Harold Fox's 16 points in the first half that gave the winners the 11-point halftime advantage. Fox was leading scorer with 25 points.

The Top Twenty teams with first-place votes in parentheses and total points awarded on a 20-18-16-12-10-9-8 etc. basis

Hawks, Texans Clash Tonight

Howard County JC's high-flying Jayhawks learn tonight how well they play under pressure when they meet South Plains College in a Western Conference bragan scheduled to get under way at 7:30 p.m.

Biggest crowd of the season likely will be on hand for the tussle. Late callers may have to stand, because South Plains is steamed up over this one and will send a huge delegation here.

The Hawks would have been in the catbird seat had they been able to knock off NMJC in Hobbs last week. Had they won that one, they could have put a nail in the South Plains Coffin with a win tonight. However, the Thunderbirds rallied in the final second to edge the Hawks, 100-98, and deadlock the race.

South Plains and Clarendon share first place with the locals and Amarillo is only one length back of the three schools in the tightest Western Conference race in years.

South Plains has some sort of a whammy over the locals. In two outings against the locals this year, the Texans have won twice.

The contest is especially interesting, in view of the fact that South Plains is coached by

D. E. (Buddy) Travis, who was at the helm of the local college for 11 seasons.

Albert Moore is no longer with South Plains but the Texans have a new scoring ace in Tommy Jordan, a freshman from Pennsylvania. In the last game between the two clubs, Jordan scorched the nets for 33 points and South Plains won by 11 points.

Hyman White, Bruce Munday, Gene Perry and Terry Zorger are other threats for the classy South Plains team.

South Plains losses in league play have come at the hands of Frank Phillips and Clarendon, both on the road.

Overall, HC will be seeking to improve upon a 20-9 record. South Plains is 18-8.

Howard County will again lean heavily upon the rebounding ability of battle wise Decell Lewis and Lawrence Young, the polished floor game of Melvin Perez and Kenneth Neal and the all-around play of Archie Myers.

The Hawks did a great job stopping the veteran Perry last time out but Jordan murdered them with a great shooting performance. They may have to take chains onto the floor if they hope to win tonight.

This is the first of three rugged tests awaiting the Hawks this week. They have to go north to tangle with Clarendon and Frank Phillips. Only a sweep of the three games could insure their continued hold on the top spot and that may be too much to ask of any team.

Coach Harold Wilder, however, wants his boys to play the opposition one game at a time. He says the Hawks can't afford to look-ahead to any opponent, not with a bunch of spoilers like the Texans in town.

DECCELL LEWIS

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
WEBB EWANK, coach of the New York Jets, discussing his team's success in the recent draft.

"We were able to get some of the finest athletes, yet we were still able to fill our needs. I'm very satisfied. We feel we were able to strengthen those areas where we needed help, like at punt and kickoff returns, and we added depth to both the offensive and defensive lines and to the secondary. In John Riggins, our No. 1 pick, we think we acquired the best running back coming out of college. He is bigger and faster than the others available and he'll be an insurance for Matt Snell's Achilles heel, which is coming along fine. He has power and good speed. And don't forget, he's durable. He's never missed a day of practice or a game and he only fumbled once and he recovered it himself. John Mooring was the best offensive lineman we had at the Senior Bowl and he's the best line prospect we saw in all the movies. Too, in Riggins and Mooring, we got the two guys we rated No. 1 at their positions, so we feel we're lucky."

AL MCGUIRE, basketball coach at Marquette University:

"I'm not an average coach. I say things I shouldn't. I go berserk. If I were a university, I'd never hire me. The officials know who the home team is, and are conscious of the crowd. That's why I like to let them know I'm there, too, watching them. Anything can happen in basketball, but it's more likely to happen on the road. You've got to be on your toes. If winning weren't important, nobody would keep score. I try to work upstairs, in a boy's mind. My job is to take these diamonds in the rough and polish them, then take out the selfishness and dissension and put the individuals all together, in kind of a family relationship. We try to make the team, we, we, we, instead of I, I, I. Then I have to instill the killer instinct, the pride in winning and pride in ourselves. The process never stops. I tell them, 'Hey, there's only one ball. I can't use two balls. I can only use five men and one ball.'"

JACK HARTMAN, basketball coach at Kansas State, giving instructions before a recent game to his nine-man squad:

"Spread out, so they can't get us with one shot."

JACK TWYMAN, ex-pro basketball player turned TV play-by-play announcer:

"I'm 6-4 and when I first came into the NBA I played center. Kids just get taller and taller. Red Auerbach (general manager of the Boston Celtics) told me there are 28 college kids over seven feet tall who will be eligible for this year's draft. The improvement in shooting is amazing. Twenty years ago, Dolph Schayes led the NBA by hitting 38 per cent. Last year, the top 11 shooters in the NBA hit over 50 per cent. And the players are so much more agile. When we covered the All-Star Game a few weeks ago, I watched Lew Alcindor bring the ball almost the length of the court, then dribble it behind his back. When I played, I bounced the ball twice, then shot it, passed it or kicked it. I signed my first contract for $7,500."

BUBBA SMITH, defensive lineman for the Baltimore Colts discussing Duane Thomas' so-called fumble that turned the last Super Bowl game around:

"I couldn't believe it when the official started pointing toward our goal. Dallas' Dave Manders was on the ball, but our Billy Ray Smith was screaming, 'Our ball, our ball!' and it worked. If they had scored then, I don't believe we would have been able to come back."

DICK YOUNG, New York writer:

"Joe Black has been sounding out Negro ball players about chipping in to honor Jackie Robinson with a banquet and a scholarship in his name and he is appalled by the cool reception he receives from most of them — those who came later and benefited without a struggle. I tried to tell them that without Jackie, if somebody else had been chosen to be first and blew it, chances are none of us would have had anything out of baseball. 'They say to me, 'So what, he got paid, didn't he?'"

Jayhawk Queens Seek 2nd Victory Here At 6 Today

VIRGIL JOHNSON

HCJC's Jayhawk Queens seek an elusive key to success in a basketball game at 6 o'clock here this evening against highly respected Weatherford College.

The contest precedes the important Western Conference struggle between HCJC's Jayhawks and South Plains College of Levelland. Early callers can see two games for the price of one.

Temple College bombed HCJC's girls, 73-33, here Saturday night, handing the Queens their sixth defeat in seven assignments.

HC had its most productive period in the final eight minutes, when it scored 15 points.

Virgil Johnson was the only Queen to hit in double figures. She scored 14.

STEERS TRY ODESSA HERE

The Big Spring Steers, who have slumped badly in the last half of the 1971 District 5-AAAA season, hope to salvage something in their final home game at 8 o'clock this evening.

The undertaking won't be easy, since the guests will be the Odessa Bronchos. Not only are the Red Hoses one of the hottest clubs in the league but they're spoiling to average a 62.54 loss suffered at the hands of the locals in Odessa last month.

Coach Ron Plumlee will likely start a lineup consisting of Randy Womack, David Carter, Mike Randie, Richard Bullard and Jesse Olague.

TV units of the two schools square off at 6:15 p.m.

Coahoma Fems Seek 23rd Win In Playoff Battle

COAHOME — Coahoma High School's girls carry a fine 22-6 won-lost record onto the floor here tonight in their Class AA playoff game with Canutillo. Tipoff time is 7:30 o'clock.

In district competition, the Bulldogettes finished at 8-1 and defeated the only team which edged them in district play, McCamey.

Coahoma has averaged 49.4 points a game this season, compared to 32.7 for the opposition. In 28 games, they have counted a total of 1,303 points while the opposition has managed 917.

Twila Wall, with 455 points and a 17.0 point norm, is the leading scorer on the team. Then comes Pam Patterson, 372 total and 14 average; and Theresa Beal, 241 and 8.

In Theresa's last nine games, the freshman has averaged 15 points a game.

Coahoma's fourth forward is Sally Echols, who has 107 points for a four-point mean.

Twila is the only senior in that group. Miss Patterson is a junior, Miss Beal a freshman, Miss Echols a soph. Soph June Sterling and freshman Sherry Griffin are other forwards on the Coahoma team.

Only eight teams have managed to score 40 or more points on Coahoma, so tenacious has been the Coahoma defense. Only two have tallied 50 or more. McCamey managed 54 the first time around against the Bulldogettes while state champion Wylie counted 52.

In the second and third games against McCamey, the Bulldogettes limited the Badgers to 37 and 39 points.

Cathy Evans, Connie Howell and Phyllis Wynn are the starting guards for Coahoma while Mary Padron, Cindy Parrish, Sandra Howell and Cheryl Hulme alternate with the regulars in the back courts.

Managers of the Coahoma team are Mischa Read and Cheryl Bohannon and coach Leatrice West says she couldn't get along without the two.

"HE'S BEEN HERE OVER AN HOUR AND HASN'T DONE ANYTHING WRONG. HE'S UP TO SOMETHING!"

Action Hot, Heavy For Chopper Pilots

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Maj. Jim Newman and the pilots were sitting around their briefing room—a big metal supply container—talking about Sidonio and his little bird's latest brush with death.

CWO Robert Sidonio, 21, Ridgefield, Conn., had been shot at three times in two days over Laos and was hit twice by his tiny OH1 observation helicopter had made it back both times.

Conversation broke off as the radio crackled. Lt. Martin "Slim" Pickens, Orlando, Fla., was coming in weak, but he seemed to be saying "air burst" and "maybe a chopper blowing up."

EXPLODED

Newman jumped for the radio and his pilots for the door. Pickens came on again to report a big CH47 Chinook supply helicopter had exploded in the air, and gave the map coordinates. Newman raced for his command ship and the Cobra gunship pilots dashed past him, and in what seemed like seconds, Charlie Troop, 2nd Battalion, 17th Air Cavalry of the 101st Airborne Division, was on the way.

There are no Chinooks in the cavalry, so it wasn't one of their own. But that didn't make any difference. Laos, in a week and a few days, has been a nightmare for everyone's helicopters.

LITTLE HOPE

Within minutes they were over Laos. Sidonio—skittering over the treetops in his agile little observation craft—reported an enemy shell burst in the air near him. He thought he wasn't hit but it turned out he was—his ship riddled with holes for the third straight day.

The Cobras turned to attack the North Vietnamese gun positions and fired all of their rockets before they reached the burned spot on the ground that had been the Chinook.

A crash like that—followed by fire—offers little hope of any survivors, but Newman, 36-year-old troop commander from Fayetteville, N.C., wanted to be sure.

So they escorted Sidonio back to Khe Sanh, rearmed the Cobras and put a platoon of Vietnamese troops—the Black Panthers of the 1st South Vietnamese Division—aboard UH1 Slicks.

JUNGLE-WISE

These jungle-wise troops are being used to secure downed helicopters and recover the crews, alive or dead. The cavalry has its own platoons for that, but they're not allowed in Laos. So they stay at Khe Sanh, filling sandbags and gripping about the Army using crack troops—themselves—for menial chores.

In a few minutes, back over Laos, Charlie Troop's ships dodged between the locations of known 51-caliber and 37mm guns and the Black Panther, or Hac Bao in Vietnamese, went into the crash site by helicopter. Vietnamese probed the ashes and recovered the remains of five of the six Americans who had been aboard the Chinook.

On the way home, the Cobras spotted an enemy truck loaded with ammunition, destroyed it, and shot up four enemy gun positions.

PILOTS MISSING

Not a bad day for Charlie Troop. Not as bad, for instance, as the three days earlier, when four Cobras and four Slicks went down, two Cobras destroyed, two pilots missing and two hospitalized.

That was the day when Newman couldn't find a clearing big enough to land and pick up his wounded gunship pilots, so he went into the jungle instead, clipping the treetops with his rotor blades, while a cable was lowered, then nursing the damaged ship back to Khe Sanh with the wounded men aboard.

The next day Capt. Chuck Yehlow, a 25-year-old West Pointer from Waukesha, Wis., took a 51-caliber slug in his Cobra's rocket pod and they had to call the demolition squad to disarm his pod.

Civil Defense Meet Slated

At least two local men plan to attend the annual Civil Defense Conference in Austin. Big Spring CD Director W. D. Berry and Assistant Chief of Police Leo Hull will represent Howard County at the Feb. 22-23 conference. More Big Spring representatives may attend the conference, said Berry, "but we don't know just who."

Mayors of Lubbock and Corpus Christi will talk about the disasters in their cities and the decision-making and problem-solving techniques used in the disasters. Keynote speaker is Tom Reavley, associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Plans To Tap Alaska's Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is opening hearings on plans for an 800-mile pipeline to tap the rich oil fields on Alaska's North Slope, a project fought by natives and environmentalists.

The Interior Department scheduled hearings today and Thursday on an application by Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. to construct the 48-inch-diameter tube from the North Slope to the warm-water port of Valdez on the Gulf of Alaska.

A related hearing will be held

Wednesday by the Senate Interior Committee on claims by 55,000 Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians to ancestral rights to much of Alaska's land.

LAND CLAIMS

Alyeska officials say the native land claims must be settled before construction can start.

The pipeline is blocked by two temporary federal court injunctions, one obtained by conservationists and the other by an Alaska native village in the pipeline's path.

The conservation group claims the pipeline, across federal land, would violate the government's environmental protection law. They claim friction of the rushing oil could melt the frozen ground, buckle the pipeline and flood the land with oil.

In addition, the group contends, the proposed pipeline would disrupt migration of Alaskan animals and destroy the native life style, they say.

$500 MILLION

The injunction granted the native village is tied in with claims before the Interior Committee.

Official subject of the committee hearing is a bill by Chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and other senators including Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, and Mike Gravel, D-Alaska. The measure passed the Senate but not the House last session.

It calls for federal payment of $500 million to Alaska natives for land they claim. In addition, the bill would provide up to $500 million in royalties for minerals and oil found on the land and give the natives clear title to 10 million acres of land.

PLUS CASH

Testimony also is expected on bills proposed by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., and by Reps. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., and James Haley, D-Fla. Kennedy and Harris plan to introduce a bill they say is backed by the Alaska Federation of Natives. It would give the natives 60 million acres of land plus the cash and royalties of the Jackson bill.

Present law gives the state 90 per cent of mineral royalties from public lands in Alaska.

Proposed Regulation Of Utilities Muled

AUSTIN (AP) — Arguments over proposed state regulation of telephone and other utility rates in Texas will resume March 1 before the Senate State Affairs Committee.

After long public hearings on two consecutive Mondays, two bills proposing the state regulation of electric and gas utilities in addition to telephones.

Before being sent to a subcommittee, an effort to amend Wilson's bill was defeated 8-5. The amendment would let cities choose whether or not they wanted to be covered by the state telephone regulatory body.

LIVING AND THE DEAD — The bodies of wounded and dead South Vietnamese soldiers are sprawled along Route 9 in Laos. The troops taking part in the thrust into Laos, were ambushed by the North Vietnamese about 10 miles west of the Vietnamese border.

U. S. Aircraft Losses Continue To Increase

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today announced the loss of five aircraft in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, and an increase in small-unit fighting in South Vietnam. The toll was 22 Americans killed, 23 wounded and one missing, the Command said.

U.S. military officials also warned there may be more American air strikes against surface-to-air missile—SAM—sites inside North Vietnam to protect B52 bombers flying raids against the Ho Chi Minh trail just inside Laos. The warning came after attacks Sunday and Monday on SAM sites.

ALONG THE TRAIL

Farther south along the trail through the Laotian panhandle, there were indications that the 11,000 South Vietnamese troops trying to cut the network on the ground were bogging down due to stiffening enemy resistance, heavy anti-aircraft fire and poor weather limiting U.S. air support.

South Vietnamese headquarters in Saigon said the most advanced column of troops had pushed about 14 miles westward into Laos at last report Monday after eight days. But Lt. Gen.

Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the operation, said some reconnaissance troops were at Chipone, a key North Vietnamese transshipment point 25 miles west of the border.

The U.S. aircraft losses announced today included:

—A big CH47 Chinook helicopter and an F4 Phantom fighter-bomber in the Laotian panhandle. The helicopter was shot down with five crewmen killed and a sixth missing. It was supporting the South Vietnamese troops. The Phantom, attacking the enemy supply trail, crashed due to unknown causes, and the two crewmen were recovered in good condition.

SHOT DOWN

—An Army UH1 helicopter shot down in northeastern Cambodia, with one crewman wounded.

—Two other helicopters crashed in South Vietnam with seven Americans killed.

The U.S. Command said 10 other Americans were killed and 21 were wounded in half a dozen enemy attacks, three of them against units of the 9,000-man U.S. force in the northwest corner of South Vietnam acting as a blocking force for the South Vietnamese in Laos.

The U.S. Command said American helicopters have flown 5,600 missions into Laos in the past eight days. These missions include gunship attacks, resupply, medical evacuation, command and control and troop lifts. About 10 South Vietnamese helicopters are flying resupply missions compared to the hundreds of American aircraft.

Heavy cloud cover and rain limited U.S. air support to the South Vietnamese today.

Military sources said the drive had not made as much progress as anticipated.

The South Vietnamese would not disclose how many fire support bases they have set up in Laos, but Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported from the northern front that more than half a dozen are in operation.

Novelist Dies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jack Weeks, 63, novelist and copy editor of The Miami News, died Sunday, apparently of a heart attack. Weeks, author of six novels, was a former editor of Newsweek magazine.

Author Ford Hit With Murder Rap

HUMBOLDT, Tenn. (AP) — Author Jesse Hill Ford faces arraignment Wednesday on a first-degree murder charge in the shooting death of a young soldier.

Ford was indicted by a grand jury Monday on charges he killed Pvt. George H. Doaks Jr., 21, of nearby Trenton last Nov. 16.

The 42-year-old author remained free on $20,000 bond. He also faces a $250,000 lawsuit filed by Doaks' widow.

Doaks, a Negro, was shot while sitting in an automobile in the driveway of Ford's home. With Doaks at the time was Alie V. Andrews, a distant relative.

Ford told police he was afraid the persons in the car intended to harm his son when the latter returned home from a friend's house.

Ford said his book, "The Liberation of Lord Byron Jones," had resulted in some hard feelings among Negroes and whites in the community.

He said both he and his son had been harassed after publication of the book. It deals with the murder of a Negro undertaker who was trying to divorce his wife, who was having an affair with a white police officer.

On the night Doaks was slain, Ford said, he grabbed his rifle after spotting the car in the driveway, ran toward the vehicle and fired a warning shot into the air.

Then, Ford said, he ran up to the automobile, smacked it with the rifle butt and yelled: "Come out. The police are on the way, you are under arrest."

The automobile started away, Ford said.

"I fired the second shot in hopes of stopping the car. I did not aim. And the instant I fired, the car stopped," he said.

Miss Andrews testified at a

Mrs. Houser Judge At Music Festival

Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser of Big Spring and Frederick Thiebaud of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, will be judges when the Central West Texas Music Teachers' Association sponsors a Bach, Sonatina and Sonata Festival Saturday at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

Two hundred students of teachers in Abilene, Snyder and Stamford will participate.

The festival is not competitive. Students perform privately for a judge and are rated in accordance with individual performances. They must play selections by J. S. Bach, C.P.E. Bach or other members of the noted Bach family, or they may play a movement of a sonata or sonatina by another highly recognized composer.

Mrs. Houser, pianist and teacher, studied with Inez Brasseur at the Cincinnati Conservatory and at the Memphis Conservatory. She is a graduate of Chicago Musical College and did post graduate study with J. Paul Stahlo and Rita Present, and at the Paris Conservatoire. Before coming to Texas, she taught at Hellman College in Mississippi and holds life certificates in performance and teaching from the state of Mississippi. She established a studio in Big Spring where she teaches with two assistant teachers and three, student teachers.

Mrs. Houser serves as judge for National Guild, Federated Music Clubs, concerto, sonata and sonatine contests, music festivals, scholarship awards and piano work shops.
