Whirlwinds Have Petersburg For Friday Night

Petersburg High school, with a good team and a yen to even up old scores, while proving their football squad is entitled to Class A rating will make a hard foe for the Whirlwind football squad of Floydada High school tomorrow night at Westerfield.

Coach Gresham is expecting anything but a push over. His boys still feeling keenly the sting of the crushing defeat at Littlefield last Friday night, are in battling mood themselves, and will be out to win.

Gresham will have some near-cripples in his squad when the whistle blows and C. L. Berry will be out of the line. The boys were still sore and beat up Monday but had begun to get back into form in yesterday afternoon's work out.

Looked Bad at Littlefield

The boys looked bad at Littlefield Or perhaps, it was because Littlefield's big experienced squad just kept pouring it on with no substitutions or mercy shown. Anyway the score was 85 to 0. The coach there is credited with a desire to make a state record for scoring this season, with aspirations for AA rating in the Interscholastic League.

Other School Games

Other squads in District 3-A fared better than the Whirlwinds did. Lockney at Petersburg won a tie Ralls had an open date as did Spur Crosbyton Chiefs won from Idalou Paducah lost to Memphis.

USO Drive Opens in Co. Monday For War Chest

County Chairman E. L. Norman this week announced that the same quota as last year for Floyd county has been set up by the state committee for the USO Victory War fund campaign. The amount is $6,240.

"With people showing a let-down and an inclination to concentrate on home problems, get their boys back home and established in civilian life once more, it is going to be a big task to get them to realize they still have and will still have months from now, scores, even hundreds of boys still in uniform all over the globe. And that the needs of these boys for remembrance from home, for cheer and entertainment is going to be equal to their needs although in a different way perhaps, during the war," said Mr. Norman.

"On this account we are going to have to work harder and put more pressure behind our efforts to get funds to carry on for the next 12 months, than we have ever done. I know the people of Floyd county are going to do what they think is right in this campaign and I hope they will be liberal and quite liberal."

Campaign Opens Monday

The campaign will open Monday morning. Committees have been named and Norman is asking that they take up the work and carry it through with enthusiasm. He points out that the let-down here is the same kind of let-down as the boys in foreign service will feel, only that in those far-off places the boys will have little to keep their minds off their troubles and keep their morale up.

Red Singletary Dies in Prison

An official message from the United States War Department was received recently by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Singletary of Bell, California.

Edrow (Red) Singletary telling of the death of their son, Pvt. Edrow (Red) Singletary, who died May 22, 1942, in a Japanese Prisoner of war camp on the Philippine Islands of Malaria. Mrs. H. F. Pratt of Route 3, Floydada, sister of the deceased soldier received the message here last week.

Edrow lived here until eight years ago in the Pleasant Hill community where he attended school. He entered the army March 17, 1941, and sailed for overseas in October of the same year. He was taken prisoner during the Battle for Corregidor. The family never heard from him after he left for overseas. Brief bits of news were received twice. Once telling he was missing in action—and again the War department notified them that he was not listed as one of the prisoners. On August 23 the family received the death message from the War department.

The deceased soldier is survived by his parents, the sister here, and another sister, Mrs. Earl Stockman of Miami, Florida and two brothers Bill Singletary of Huntington Park, California and Clyde of the parental home.

Mrs. Broughton's home is in Los Angeles, where she is a bookkeeper for an insurance firm.

Southeast Floyd, and East Plains Get Rainfall During the Week

Major portions of the East plains in Crosby county and a considerable area of southeast Floyd county had showers that made wheat sowing moisture Friday of last week and again Tuesday but feed and stubble land around Floydada and in the rest of the county was still without moisture this morning.

With hundreds of Floyd county men coming home from service in home and foreign areas, now trekking in at the rate of two a day, McDermott post, American Legion, last week polished off their plans for a campaign to raise funds for an adequate home for the boys.

Walter G. Collins is chairman of a building committee that is charged with the leadership in the campaign for funds, and he said this week that in every community in the county likely to be interested the proposal would be offered in the belief that strong support will be given the plan.

Other members of Collins' committee, named recently by W. B. Henry post commander, are J. M. Wilson, J. C. Wester (treasurer for the building fund, E. L. Angus, B. K. Barker of Floydada, and F. M. Dougherty, of Dougherty.

Others who sat in on one or more of the meetings of the Legion's committee were Mayor F. C. Harmon of the City of Floydada, E. L. Angus, president of the Chamber of Commerce, O. P. Rutledge, vice-president of the Rotary club, and J. H. Reagan, Home service officer of McDermott post.

In a statement submitted to the people of the area through The Hesperian this week, a plea to make adequate provisions for the homecoming boys is made. Lessons from their own experience returning home from World War I are presented in the hope that their ideas will be adopted and that the backing they get will be general and generous.

"We believe we know what the boys would like for us to do and we think their chances of re-habilitating themselves in their former surroundings will be helped immensely if they do not have to go through a good many of the discouraging experiences their fathers did 25 or more years ago," said Mr. Collins. "These boys are going to find some way to associate themselves together and we have here for them a ready-made foundation on which they can build and will be glad to build. The fact that our own organization still find use for a Post and a meeting place a quarter of a century after our war was fought and won is proof that this new building also will serve for a long period of usefulness."

Probable Cost is $16,000. Present estimated cost of the building the Post wants help to build is $16,000. It will be on the present Legion site adjacent to the present building, which also will be re-fitted and used, and the new building will join the Boy Scout building on the north. The building they propose, the committee is convinced, will be practical for the purpose. Features of its arrangement and furnishing are suggested by past experience.

Members of McDermott post point to the fact that American Legion's policies and aims have stood the test of time. (See CAMPAIGN, last page)

Floyd Horton is Liberated, Wires from PI

Pfc. Floyd Horton son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Horton three miles east of Lockney, has been liberated from a Japanese prison camp, and was in Manila at the time of communication with his parents last week. Mrs. B. C. Patton, sister of Pfc. Horton, lives in Floydada.

Young Horton joined the army in January of 1941 and was serving in the Philippines when the war broke out. He was last heard from in October 1944. At that time he was in a prison camp in Shukoku, Japan.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Monday morning, September 24, 1945, finds us with no rain and the southwest wind still filling her big cheeks and blowing sand down the dirt roads and into the house. Last night we watched the bright flashes that cut the eastern horizon in two and almost felt envy of the fortunate ones who we supposed were getting the blessings of rain.

The windmill is fixed but the pipes had to be pulled. Holes were found in one joint and both valves needed replacing. Now we have plenty of water but the garden burned up for the want of it. The other afternoon just before the darkness descended like a black cloak over the earth, it looked like rain. The cloud was coming with the blowing of thunder trumpets and the glittering of lightning swords. I hurried to the garden grabbed a hoe, which was dull as my mind is this morning, feverishly cut the weeds and grass from a section of ground, raked them to one side and just as the last light was fading, I sowed my turnips and mustard. Aching and sweaty and tired I came in and waited for the rain to fall on my newly planted plot. The cloud sprinkled stingily then passed on, another hope gone a spot of ground dry as ever.

Friends are still coming to see us. Mr. Spikes surprised us all by raising up on his left foot for a few seconds, progress indeed. Gave us all courage. Many days will pass before he walks with crutches but he is improving. He has so many pretty cards seems almost like Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller of Cone came yesterday and Mrs. Fuller brought me a smooth white rock that her daughter, Margaret, brought from San Pedro. This brings me a bit of the California sunshine and the feel and sound of the ocean washing the pretty rock ever smoother and whiter.

All the years we have lived here have passed me by one for review lately. The hard bad years have lost their grief and disappointment. We wonder why they worried us so then. The droughts were not so bad the hail storms not so destructive the physical pain not so severe. The sweet seems sweeter, the good lights up all like a wonderful light and we bless each year as we look while it passes again.

"This is an interesting bit from Genevieve Chandler's story, 'Woman Such a Weak Thing,' in the summer number of Southwest Review. 'The July sun baked the faller pine trees, releasing hidden fragrances. The rutted road following the path of least resistance like the humans that traveled it, ran crooked mile through the hammock and between the river and the sea. Narrow. The road was just wide enough for Uncle Monday's cart or which was borne what was left of Cootsie and her baby. With the eye of faith, Bacca was seeing into Heaven. She and Jake plodded along followed by Mom Melia, M-r Hagar, Reverend Pinnacle, and the others in his flock. A dark shadow passed over the yellow-pine box. A bald eagle soared across the blue basin towards the sea. Jake followed Bacca's eye and watched the white head and fan-shaped tail. 'You reckon we'll fly just-like that when we try on us wings?'"

With a vision of Cootsie's flight plain as a picture out of the Bible Bacca said: "Man, that eagle can learn from the angel." The road took them into the bowels of the river swamp. In this cool greenness was one hot spot. Through an opening the sun's rays focused on the yellow sand mounted by Cootsie's grave. A procession of six black men moved under the long moss streamers, bearing the pin-box in which Cootsie would rest till that 'gettin-up' morning. The Gabriel would blow his trumpet and sweep the stars from the sky like peas into a basket."

"Way down near the Waccamav an Ivory-billed woodpecker tapped his message 'God is good! God is good!' and stumbling along in her black dress, veil and gloves, Bacca said: 'He sho is!'"

At the grave-side the friends huddled around Jake and Bacca under a mossy oak. The Reverend read some words. Uncle Monday prayed. "You got to pack up and move! When your call comes to go—Oh when."

And all the people shouted, Oh when?"

They trimmed the grave with gal lairdias and prince's feather, striped canegrass and red monthly roses. Bacca planted a root of cane grass at the head for a marker. Mom Melia smiled and said:

"Ain't that pretty now? That's just the way I want to be put away." Jake and Bacca plodded home in silence. Again he felt the need of hot food and a place to flop. He growled aloud as the cabin came in sight. Bacca whispered "What 'is Jake?"

"Bacca, you a Christian woman."

Bacca didn't say he was a Christian man.

"Bacca you was faithful to Cootsie."

Bacca didn't say that Jake was faithful. "Bacca I been scared you and me would never snore under nary 'nother quilt together no more; but Bacca, you needin' perfection!"

And Bacca nodded: "You all I got, Jake. Woman such a weak vessel."

The Home Front

(Edith L. Wilson)

A great variety of foods, varying from pickled eggs to corn bread can be canned successfully for mer overseas, experience of Texas women has shown. In a list of suggestions and recipes compiled by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, help is offered women who wish to ship foods more unusual than cake and candy.

Last year chili, tamales, barbecued meats and pork sausage proved popular with men in the service. All of these should be canned in a pressure cooker. One general rule is to use as little fat as possible in canned meats—otherwise they may taste rancid.

If you wish to send cured bacon and ham, you may pack them tightly in cans and cover them with oil. No processing is necessary.

Cheese has been sent in several different ways. Some women have cut the size of the can, wrapped it well in waxed paper and sealed the cans. Others have rolled it in melted paraffin before sealing it. Now about that corn bread. One secret is to line the cans with butter paper and fill them three-fourths full. Follow the steaming and processing time required for fruit cake.

Steamed brown bread is a favorite, and so is banana nut bread. Moist cakes, such as date loaf cake and apple sauce cake seem to stand long journeys better than the drier kinds. Incidentally, don't try to can cream pies and custards, that simply won't be successful.

INSURANCE FIRE

We farmers don't have all the money in the world behind our FARMERS UNION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY because we have given millions of dollars to high financial interests in other states, (Yes millions) by paying a rate that is higher than is necessary to pay decent operating expenses and pay losses.

The Old Line Companies show you their financial statements with the millions on them, but don't kid yourself into believing that you can get it back by giving them some more through insuring through them again and paying their "DOUBLE" rate.

Personally we make our own money farming the land ourselves and we pay our own advertising. Financially speaking it don't make any difference to us where you spend your INSURANCE money. We SINCERELY WANT you to spend it with our own FARMERS UNION COMPANY and know you will save money on the premium you pay. We have paid every loss in full. The laws of Texas says you are safe. We know that we continue to pile up money that belongs only to our policy holders in Texas. Pretty soon we expect to reduce our premiums still lower, as Colorado Farmers Union have done.

I'll give $25 to the first person that will get me the following two sworn statements from any Old Line Fire Insurance agent in Floyd County covering the last 5 years—(providing he writes 100 or more policies per year).

1st: I want to know the total amount of money he has collected from policy holders in the 5 years and paid into the companies that he represents?

2nd: I want to know the total amount of money these same policy holders have received back as losses in these same 5 years? What percent do you guess?

I think that is the proof that we need to know that their "DOUBLE" rate is too high and proof that our rate of $6 per $1,000 per year is perfectly safe for our policy holders when you realize that none of the money we collect, pays dividends or interest to any PREFERRED Stock Holder or money lender in this or any other State.

You should realize that it is to the financial interest of Old Line companies and their agents operating in this State to try to create distrust in our own Texas FARMERS UNION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, and try to break us, in order that you must pay their "DOUBLE" rate to "THEM" if you want your home protected against FIRE etc.

Butane heating and electric lights are taking most of the Fire hazards out of our Rural Homes (Thank goodness). Fire Insurance Rates should and will go down. Help me get the records and I will prove it to you.

In the meantime, insure with, and help build your own FARMERS UNION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, IN TEXAS FOR TEXANS. Stay wide awake and do your own thinking. We will have a lot to offer in the next few years. Keep your property protected.

Why pay more than $6 per year per $1,000 100% protection on your home and property? SEE—

 Margaret, how's the sailor? You know—James.
 Bill Hale, women remember courtesy and news travels. Beware! That also goes for you D. F.
 My, my, it's a Lubbock girl for John Ray Tribble. Let's hear more about this.
 June Finley seems to be out in front of all these little Junior girls in trying to snatch Pete McGee.
 Mary Eunice, you must stop winking at Claude Gene Hammit in Miss Sweptson's English class and concentrate on your study!
 We wonder who he is, Syble? That boy you're corresponding with, D. tell.
 Which boy is it gonna be, Jean? We're wanting to know. The sailor is o. k.
 Nancy, what do we hear about you totting a football around? His name is Fred, isn't it?
 Hey, Virginia Fritzel, you said your boyfriend (Bobby Thier) was cute as what? I didn't understand.
 Leo, don't tell me you have lost your affections for that Lockney dame? Gee whiz, what's the matter?
 Kenneth Finley also seems to think the Freshman girls are okay-deaky. Getting young ideas, eh?
 Seems Hazel Patton is trying to make Bobby McGuire forget that other girl. In case you don't know the other girl's name I'll tell you NOTRE DAME! How he loves her (Notre Dame).
 Something's cooking up between Ruthie and Louie which spells romance. First, they're sitting across the aisle from each other in the study hall. Next, they're caught sitting together in the show. This is just not purely coincidental. It's the real McCoy.
 Why is Jo Muncy so dazed? Couldn't be a certain Junior, could it?
 How about those plans for the other Saturday night, Randall? Did you accomplish anything?
 Jane, your correspondence with foreigners might land you a hubby one of these days. How's it coming?
 You're not trying to make Bill jealous are you Martha? He's gonna be if you don't explain. This walking (or strolling—should I say?) to school with Newton Dale Johnston—what about it?
 They say a Senior boy really does some classy flirting in band. A Freshman girl is involved. The boy happens to be an F captain. Need I say more?
 I HAVE MY EYES AND EARS WIDE OPEN.

Take this as you may
 It's just plain gossip
 So watch out...
 I'll see you next Thursday! (Tootle Doo).

FFA Delegates in Area Meeting

Earl Edwards, Edward Landers and Billie Joe Sandusky are delegates to the District F. F. A. meeting at Plainview this afternoon, September 27, at 5 p. m.
 The area officers are to be selected from the delegates from Tulla, Cotton Center, Hale Center, Plainview, Floydada and Abernathy. They are to plan their work for the coming school year.

FASHION OF THE WEEK

If you see girls running around with a chicken foot on, a red ribbon, and a queer looking sign on their back—also a bar of Lifebuoy soap, don't get excited. It's only pledges to the Social club. The poor girls cannot (and if they do-murder for them!) speak to boys for a whole week.

FHS to Perfect Its Fire Drills

One of the aims of FHS this year is to perfect its fire drills. We plan to have at least one fire drill each month.
 The state inspector comes every two years; and since he didn't come last year, we are expecting him this year! He grades the school on three things. They are:
 (1) Recognition of alarm. Three bells is the signal for a fire drill return is two bells, and to halt is one bell. After halting three bells means to march out of the building and two bells is the signal to return to the room.
 (2) Orderly clearance of building. In marching out the pupils are to walk as rapidly as possible without running and no talking.
 (3) Assembly of pupils in safety zone. The safety zone is fifty feet from the school building and any fire plug. We have had one practice. The first time the pupils did nicely for the first try. The second time they made an improvement. If the inspector gives us a good grade, it will lessen the insurance.

FOOT BUILDING GETS GOING DURING SUMMER

The halls of FHS have been used and varnished by Mr. Moore and Mr. Whitsett, who worked the entire summer. The pencil marks have been removed, and the walls have been cleaned and painted. The gum was found on the floors around the building a campaign is now going on to combat chewing.
 The building looks nice now. Let's keep it that way.

THIS WEEK'S PERSONALITY

Football is in the air, and that is the current interest in Floydada now, so for this week's personality I chose one of our captains. Our personality must know every nook and corner in Floyd county since he has lived in Lakeview, Pleasant Hill, and now at Center. He received his grade school diploma from Center.
 Our personality plays football, and also loves to box. His favorite topic of conversation is always football, but then that is a main characteristic of every boy in high school now. He plays quarterback for our team and does a very good job of it, too.
 Our personality says his favorite time is loafing around the drug store guzzling milk-shakes. His favorite food is banana pudding and he dreams of it in his spare time. His pin-up girl is Joan Leslie and you will find him at all movies, seeing them from the school corner.
 His sister says he is just plain handsome, but I don't think he is too handsome. He has a girl at Plainview and I warn you! If you try to kiss him about her, you will get a sore face.
 Be sure that by now you all know who I am talking about. Yes, Melvin Robertson is the only one who knows all of this. He is sort of a shy fellow, about 5 feet, 7 inches in height with very black hair and brown eyes. He says he weighs 130 pounds. He is just a little bit of a guy. If you see a boy of this description daily wearing levis, with a shy smile, you will know it's Melvin Robertson and I know he is one of the little boys in Floydada High School.
COME TO PEP RALLY!!

Now Move this Scene Abroad

FOUR YEARS AGO—before the Japs hit us at Pearl Harbor—this drawing appeared in an appeal for the U.S.O. It showed our men from the training camps, on the streets of an American city, with nowhere to go and nothing to do with their spare time. In those days, before the shooting war, men easily became dejected. The U.S.O. was a Godsend then.
 But, now that the shooting is finished, our army faces the same problem—only many times worse.

Change the scene of this drawing from Middletown, U.S.A., to Germany or Japan. And change the boys from green, homesick recruits to tired, heartsick veterans of months of mortal combat. Men doing occupation duty, men still recuperating from wounds. If ever they needed a lift to their spirits, these men need it now.
 General Eisenhower is so aware of this problem that he has asked the U.S.O. to quadruple its entertainment program for our men still overseas. Fifteen hundred

U.S.O. entertainers are now abroad including 16 complete acting companies. They are playing to two million men every week. But to continue this work on such a huge scale, and to support the hundreds of U.S.O. Club Houses, takes money—your money.
 The U.S.O. is one of the principal services of the National War Fund. You support this great fund by giving to your local war chest campaign.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Mrs. Ewen on Thursday Evening

Mrs. Bob Ewen, nee Gracie Waller was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Wednesday evening September 19, at 8:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. E. C. Carter, 516 West California street.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Carter and were registered in the brides book where Miss Bennie Ruth Jackson presided. Mrs. L. D. Britton and Miss France Field served punch and cake from a satin embossed covered table.

The centerpiece was a miniature bride in the bridal gown, with streamers draped from the skirt and caught in bows at each corner of the table. The candelabra bearing white candles and red roses was placed at one end of the table and the punch bowl at the other end of the table. Plate favors were pink asters.

Candles lighted the guest rooms and cut flowers served as decorations.

Ford-Ferguson Has Aggressive Dealership Here

(One of a series of stories presenting personnel of local business establishments, who are adding to the industry and prestige of the community as seen through the eyes of the Hesperian Reporter.—Ed. Note.)

Floyd County Tractor company and Ferguson equipment under the management of Earl Hogge is enlarging quarters and personnel to capably handle the supply of tractors which are expected soon. Due to strikes the machines Mr. Hogge has been expecting have been delayed, but it is hoped they will be available quite soon. Business outlook is very bright, with fifty or more signed orders on hand now with more coming in, Mr. Hogge said.

Mr. Hogge has been reliably informed that Ford is coming out within the next year with a 4-row tractor, with the Ferguson system of equipment.

Is Native Texan
Mr. Hogge moved the Ford Tractor agency here from Garland, Texas in October of 1943. He formerly was located on Main street moving in April 1945 to the present location on West Missouri street. He has been in that business since its organization in 1939.

Mr. Hogge is a native of Texas born at Wylie, in Collins county. He was employed in the bank there, also served as secretary of the school board, and was at one time mayor of the town. He with Mrs. Hogge and son, Earl, Jr., live at 127 West Kentucky street.

W. M. Herring shop manager, has been with Mr. Hogge since the beginning of business here in 1939 moving here with them from Garland. Mr. and Mrs. Herring and three children live on Wall street.

Here From South Plains
Another member of the personnel and who is rather recent is Bill Barbee, mechanic, who joined the Floyd County Tractor company four months ago. He formerly operated a service station at South Plains. Mr. and Mrs. Barbee and two children are now living in Floydada. He is a native of Floydada.

Earl Hogge, Jr., has been associated with his father in the business and is in charge of the parts department.

Another member is "Champ" Thompson (colored) mechanic helper who has been with the company for the past four months. He is also a Methodist minister and lives in Floydada.

USED CARS INTO TRACTORS

Not all "used" cars and trucks go to junk dealers and scrap piles. Some are converted into homemade tractors for farms that do not require the heavier factory built equipment. In one county, at least, the 24 home-made tractors outnumbered the 22 factory models in service. This is one of the points brought out in a study of farming in the northern cut-over regions. In 1940 the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment station made a survey of Carlton County (in northern Minnesota not far from Duluth) as an area representative of the cut-over region.

The first of the home-made tractors were really home-made, with individual farmers exercising their ingenuity in adapting old automobiles and trucks to produce the power units needed for farming small and moderate acreage. Just before the survey, local blacksmiths and garage workers had turned to building these machines in idle time, and had them on sale at from $50 to $100, at prices that fitted the needs of the buyers.

SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS CAN CURB INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Although the term "infantile paralysis" strikes terror into the hearts of parents each summer, the chances of children becoming infected with this dread disease are exceedingly remote.

While more than 50,000 persons in the United States die each year of tuberculosis, and more than 15,000 of cancer, the total number of infantile cases reported in any one year is less than 10,000, according to an article in Good Housekeeping magazine.

And this total could be substantially reduced if parents would take cognizance of a few fundamental facts set forth in the article, which "When symptoms appear put the patient to bed and isolate him at once. Call a doctor."

"Doctors recommend that parents avoid removal of tonsils and adenoids when infantile paralysis is prevalent in the community."

"The virus of infantile paralysis is widespread in sewage and polluted water. Practice cleanliness. Avoid crowded swimming pools and bathing beaches during outbreaks of infantile paralysis."

"Teach children the importance of clean water, clean food, clean milk, and above all, clean hands when eating and drinking. Keep food away from flies. They have been shown to carry the virus."

"The infantile paralysis virus is widespread, but only a minimum number of those exposed are infected. Less than half of those infected are paralyzed."

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Pace have returned to their home at Baumont Texas, after several days visit here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. King and other relatives.

CITRUS IN SOUTH AMERICA

South America has a variation of the North American story of Johnny Apples, but in Paraguay it was oranges rather than apples that were planted. In the current issue of Agriculture in the Americas an article on Citrus in Latin America tells of how, during the Paraguayan War, General Lopez commanded that oranges be planted on all estates. He also encouraged people, whenever they ate an orange anywhere in Paraguay to plant the seeds there.

"The orange trees which still grow wild throughout the forests of Paraguay are a source of refreshment to weary travelers, who delight in stopping along jungle trails and refreshing themselves with sweet and juicy wild oranges," says the article.

"Travelers on the broad yellow waters of the Amazon River have an equally delightful experience when the boat pulls up along the jungle-covered banks and they go ashore to gather sweet orange from trees growing wild. In the Amazon forest, oranges do not color well but remain green like the jungles that hide them."

In Brazil large-scale commercial production of oranges has developed, and to a lesser extent in Cuba, Mexico and Argentina. It was from Bahia, Brazil that the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1870 imported selected grafted seedlings of oranges. In the United States these came to be known as the Washington Navel variety, and became the parent stock of the early California orange industry.

"RETAIN" IS CAPITAL BUILDER

The word "retain" used as a noun is getting a new lease on life. Dictionaries list the noun as "obsolete," but it is an active and constructive word in many cooperative circles. The "retain", a percentage of the selling price of products, is used to build capital. The Farm Credit Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture tells of the "advantage of the retain" for this purpose, as applied by four cooperatives engaged in canning corn and peas, three in Minnesota and one in Wisconsin.

Nearly ten years ago the St. Paul Bank for Cooperatives helped these groups to organize. The four canneries had a total net worth of $140,150. "At the suggestion of the bank, stockholders and management agreed to a retain of 20 percent of the amounts due patrons each year, to be added to this capital." This policy has been followed. At the beginning of the 1944 season, FCA reports, the four co-ops had a total net worth of $660,407.

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

Ye poet sings of "falling dew." He means warm air kissing cooler grass and flowers—leaving moisture. It didn't drop from heaven. Same process causes frost . . . and another cold-weather truth is this: a Winter change now to Conoco Nth motor oil will fortify your precious car's engine with internal OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATED lubricant is closely bonded to working parts by the magnet-like action of Conoco Nth oil's added ingredient. OIL-PLATING resists draining down to the crankcase at every stop! And the OIL-PLATING retained by inner surfaces is ready—faster than instantly—to avert the grinding wear of bone-dry Winter starts. Fighting corrosion along with other wear, OIL-PLATING means plain protection against carbon-sludge-breakdown! Today then get Conoco Nth oil—patented.

Reconversion keeps Long Distance busier than ever

Long distance lines, which rushed through messages for the army, navy, and war industries, now are loaded with calls important to the nation's reconversion.

Businessmen—as they switch from war to peacetime production—are making more calls than ever before. Individuals, too, are using long distance more often as they locate new jobs and new homes in other cities.

These important calls have added to the load on crowded telephone circuits, a load—believe it or not—unequaled even in the busiest days of the war.

And servicemen—even though the war is over—still need to make hundreds of long distance calls every day from army camps, debarkation points, separation centers, and hospitals. Their calls home are just as important as ever.

So if the operator says, "The circuits are busy," and your long distance call is delayed, we hope you'll understand.

Thanks for your patience.

Enlarged Legion Quarters Needed for the Men Who are Returning to Civil Life From World War II

McDermett Post No. 118, American Legion

To the People of Floydada and Floyd County:

A thousand or more Floyd County Service Men are coming back home in the next several months to take up once more the Duties of Civilian Citizenship interrupted by the demand of their country's peril. Already a number of them are back home and they are making every effort to get into step, to take up their jobs once more, to re-learn the ways of civil life.

To tell you the truth most of these boys will find it hard to get back into the swing of things. The town and the country and the conditions which they find upon their return are different. "The town is not the same," the people have "changed." They will crave association with men who have been through the same mill through which they were ground. Members of McDermett Post know because they have been through the experience.

THESE SEVERAL HUNDRED BOYS WILL WANT TO GO INTO SOME KIND OF AN ORGANIZATION THAT THEY CAN CALL THEIRS. And this organization, we propose, should be the American Legion, which has worked for the service man through all these years and as their own, its devotion solely to the service man and the welfare of his country, without selfishness and without fear. These boys will be the Bulwark of our Country's Business, Church and Social Life during the next several decades. They will decide the Fate of America, the Trend of its Political, Social and Economic life.

WHY NOT LET'S ALL JOIN HANDS AND MAKE ADEQUATE PROVISION FOR THEIR ASSOCIATION together at McDermett Post.

We can do this with a few thousand dollars by using the present building of the Post in Floydada, enlarging and re-modeling it. McDermett Post's membership has made a study of the needs based on their own past experience. We have a plan that has been worked out in detail and which will be offered to you. You can help our newly-returned servicemen to find a Welcome and a place they can call their own. We believe the people will want to do this for our Servicemen of World War II, many of whom already are enrolled in the ranks of the American Legion and many others of whom will want to do so as soon as they return.

What American Legion Stands For . . .

(Preamble to Constitution in the Congressional Charter)

For God and Country, We associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

- To Uphold and Defend the Constitution of the United States of America;
- To Maintain Law and Order;
- To foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent Americanism;
- To preserve the Memories and incidents of our Association in the Great Wars;
- To inculcate a sense of individual Obligation to the community, state and nation;
- To combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses;
- To make right the master of might;
- To promote Peace and Good Will on Earth;
- To safeguard and transmit to posterity the Principles of Justice, Freedom and Democracy;
- To Consecrate and Sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

Without bragging—looking solely at actual accomplishments and actual records of what the American Legion has stood for—it can be truthfully said that America is a better place in which to live than it would have been without this stalwart supporter of Preparedness, of our country's needs and of the service man's needs and rights. And it is inevitable that the men of this Second World War II will take over as time goes on, that they will step into the shoes of the men now at the helm. We ask you to help us insure that when they take over it will be on the Firm Foundation of Good Americanism. Please help us do this—NOW.

Hundreds Like This

Are returning to Floyd County, their homes and associations of a former day.

Leaving behind their fallen buddies but with the memories of their experiences deeply etched on their hearts, they resolutely turn toward home.

And What Shall They Find Here?

We hope it shall be a whole-hearted and sensible Welcome and an invitation, through acts as well as words, to become Members of Civilian Society again, to take up as they find that duty calls, and a Chance to keep fresh their associations and memories of the days of their Service in the Armed Forces of their country.

Let's make our returned boys (now men) glad they call Floyd County their home and glad to come back to it.

Campaign—

test of stress and time and that returning servicemen are turning to it and adopting the Legion as their own.

The only difference between the present outlook and that of 25 years for the need of an adequate building is in the number of eligibles for membership of the post. Hundreds now will need the comradeship and the help of the post where scores before needed it, members of the committee point out.

More Than A Thousand
"It is not our intention to conflict in any way with the efforts of Landrum post at Lockney to build a home for service men at Lockney. There will be plenty of need for an adequate program there as well as at Floydada and we urge support for that Post in their efforts as well as our own," said Chairman Collins. "There are more than a thousand men who will be eligible for membership in the Legion in Floyd county. Our present facilities here and at Lockney combined could take care of only a baker's dozen of them, comparatively speaking."

The building contemplated here will be of brick and tile. It will have a much larger auditorium and other features on an enlarged scale over present quarters. Recalling that the Legionnaires of Floyd county who built and carried on in the present quarters, were 15 years at the job of getting their building built and paid for and that the organization often worked with big odds against them, the committee believes the people of the area will join with them in seeing that adequate provision is made for the returning service men of this day.

"The American Legion has been a bulwark of Americanism and straight-forward thinking during the past quarter of a century and we have the greatest confidence that these boys who will gradually step into our shoes and take over its responsibilities will carry on in the same manner," said J. C. Wester of the committee. "The minute they step back into civilian life they are going to begin to take responsibilities over and with responsibility leadership develops. So that they will be the American Legion of tomorrow and we know in our minds the people of the county are going to be with us in this campaign."

In addition to the naming of leaders in various communities W. G. Collins, building committee chairman, said that Floydada will be divided up into four sections and an intensive campaign carried on in this community.

Other Committees Named
In addition to the building committee, which will carry the limelight for the present in the Legior set-up, Post commander Henry named:

A membership committee composed of Harry Morckel chairman, Bobt. McGuire, T. P. Collins and J. H. Resgan;

Sick committee composed of E. L. Cornelius, chairman, J. C. Covington and Elmer Norell; and Program committee composed of W. L. Fry, chairman, Mrs. Harry Morckel and J. A. Arwine.

BUS SCHEDULE CHANGES

Change in bus schedules through Floydada to effect faster transportation and better connections will be made effective on October 1. It was announced this week by A. J. Cline, agent in Floydada of T. N. M. & O. coaches.

For the most part the time saved will come in reduction of time lost during the war at various stops en route.
