Castro, Parmer Counties Over Top USO Drive

Northwest Texas with twelve "over the top" counties is maintaining its lead for successfully completed drives in the Phinney, state campaign chair-Texas USO campaign, Col. Carl L. Phinney, state campaign chairman, announced in Dallas today.

This week five counties were added to the list which already includes Castro, Motley, Ochiltree, Throckmorton, Childress, Wichita and Roberts Counties, Colonel Phinney said.

The new counties and their chairmen are Parmer, H. Y. Overstreet, Farwell; Floyd, Cecil Hagood, Floydada; Baylor, O. C. Harrison, Seymour; Hempstead, Tom Abraham, Canadian; Swisher, J. Ross Noland, Tulla. The Texas USO campaign has now reached the half-way mark with 53 per cent of its quota raised, Colonel Phinney reported. Ten Community Chests which included USO in their quota have successfully finished their campaigns, and 30 separate USO drives have turned in completed reports.

The campaign throughout the state is off to a slow start as the appeal in many communities will not be made until January or February of 1947 because of conflicting drives at the present time, the USO state chairman said.

"We are confident, however, that Texas will not fall in this important project. Texas' share in the $19,000,000 National USO goal for 1947 is $800,000. Texas' men among the million and a half still in hospitals, overseas or beginning training approximate 25,000. We cannot let them down," Colonel Phinney said.

Airborne Hunters Spoiling Sport of Local Nimrods Hunting Duck, Geese

The modern age of aerial war fare is playing havoc with the ancient art of hunting.

Local Nimrods, scouring the Plains lakes for duck and geese, have been loud in their complaints since the opening of the season on November 23, that a few airborne sportsmen are not only violating the game laws but spoiling the sport for legitimate hunters.

Numerous reports have been received that light planes are being used, not only to scout the lakes for rduck and geese, but in some cases in an effort to herd the flocks to certain spots.

Government Loan On Grain Sorghum Is Available Now

Government loans on grain sorghums at the rate of $1.58 per hundred for No. 2 grades and better are now available at the County ACA office, F. G. Collier, secretary of the county ACA committee, announced this week.

The loans are scaled down for lower grades, but no grade lower than No. 4 is eligible for the loan.

These loans will be available to farmers until February 28, 1947, Collier said.

The same rate is made, whether the grain is stored on the farm or in the elevator. Moisture content of 13 on the farm or 12 in the elevator is acceptable.

All loans will mature on demand, but not later than April 30, 1947. The fee is two cents per cwt. for grain stored on the farm, 1 cent per cwt. if stored in the elevator. Interest rates are three per cent.

The loans can be paid off and the gain eased at any time. The gain released at any time the owner desires.

These are in effect, price support loans, since they enable the grower to realize cash from his crop while holding it for future sale on a rising market.

Applications for the loans may

Construction was started Monday on part of the quarter-million dollar 245-mile extension of rural electrification lines for which the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative let bids last May.

However, the contractors had on hand only enough materials for the construction of about 50 miles of line, and unless additional materials are secured, completion of the project will be further delayed.

Representatives of the Walco Construction Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma, the successful bidders on the project at $253,476.85, were in Hereford Saturday conferring with project manager Leo Forrest prior to starting construction.

Construction will be started first on the short extensions scattered through Deaf Smith and Castro counties.

The big part of the projected 246-miles of extensions is in the Bethel-Flagg community area in Castro county, and cannot be built until more materials are available.

The project also calls for construction of two substations, one a 30,000 KVA station to be located south of Hereford, and the other a 600 KVA station located south of Dimmitt.

The Deaf Smith Cooperative now has in Washington awaiting approval pre-alotment maps of an additional 216 miles of single phase line. Most of this extension is designed to fill existing gaps in the network covered by the Cooperative in Deaf Smith, Castro, and Parmer counties.

Jack Monroe, superintendent of construction for the Walco Company, was in Hereford Saturday supervising the preliminary phases of getting the current construction project under way.

Monroe said the chief hold-up now is in securing materials, particularly wire and transformers.

The plan is, however, to go ahead with as much construction as can be completed with the materials at hand. The 50-miles of construction for which materials are now available will be used up in completing some short gaps and tie lines, but the local office did not indicate just what sections would be completed first.

Civilians Warned Against Wearing Military Uniform

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30 — A friendly warning was issued today to faddists who might be wearing portions of armed services uniforms without authorization.

The law provides a heavy penalty for any person not an officer or enlisted man of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard who wears "a uniform any part of which is similar to a distinctive part of the duly prescribed uniform" of the military services, Eighth Naval District headquarters said.

Commenting on the recent fad among high school girls in New Orleans for wearing portions of uniforms brought back from service by friends and relatives, the district legal office quoted a section on "protection of the uniform" in the federal law governing military dress. It provides that convicted offenders "be punished by a fine not exceeding $300, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

The law allows for wearing of military uniforms by such organizations as the Boy Scouts, militia, and cadet corps, and by veterans on occasions of ceremony. Cmdr. I. N. Klein, USN, acting district legal officer, said. However, he warned, it specifically prohibits the wearing of insignia of the armed forces by civilians.

Truman is getting his fur turned the wrong way and that it bodes no good for Mr. Lewis. And from what I hear on the street corner and read in the papers, Mr. Truman is receiving very little criticism, if any, for the position he is apparently taking in the matter.

Not only is he receiving no criticism, but if I understand correctly what I read, Mr. Truman is receiving the solid backing of both the Democrats and Republicans in congress in the stand he has taken.

Since Uncle Sam has become involved as one of the chief litigants in this matter, the case will, in all probability be fought to "the bitter end" in the courts, and the people of our country will probably behold the greatest battle of legal wits and "hair-splitting" interpretations of law, of all time; and the results of this legal suit will probably prove whether or not and one man or small group of men, fired with the possession of too much legal power, and crazed by a love for fame and dominance can flout the United States government, or in effect tell Uncle Sam to "Go jump in the creek."

I do not believe that man or group of men does not have the right to quit work whenever the wages or the conditions of working do not suit them, but I do believe that such men have no right to hinder other men from working at the same job, for the same wages and the same conditions of labor, if they choose to do so. I am not saying that they do not have a right to strike in order to attain the ends from which they are striving, but it occurs to me that when the people of any trade or profession, or any labor organization has attained such a degree of perfection and power, that by their deliberate acts, such as a general strike they can bring upon practically all other people of the entire nation, pitiful, want and suffering from cold and starvation, even into death, or even any severe and unnecessary inconvenience, it is time that some power—presumably that of government—shall take immediate steps to thwart such callous-hearted steps.

No innocent person and especially little children, or persons who are in ill health should never be so imposed upon. There surely is and must be some more humane and less selfish methods of attaining the ends desired and yet just and fair to all concerned. Surely a copious use of the "Oil of Kindness," an abundant presence of the spirit of "Brotherhood," and a close adherence to and dependence upon and a practice by all concerned of the Golden Rule: "Whatever ye would that men should do to you," would accomplish the work, and the nice part about it is that it would cost NOTHING to any one, save, perhaps, a certain amount of pride, arrogance, selfishness, greed and obstinacy on the part of all, and would settle the account justly and satisfactorily with injury to none and an inestimable benefit to the whole nation.

Yes! But who wants to do all them durned things? Somebody will ask. I do not know. It seems that He has not been found yet, certainly not the labor chiefs, and this attitude may have been brought upon them by contact with a similar attitude on the part of those who oppose them.

But I feel, that if every adult Sunday school class and every social organization of men and women, and the members of all the secret orders, with which I have any thing like a substantial knowledge of, would get themselves down to some as serious thinking along this line, as did the few attendants at a Bible class, which I attended, Sunday, did, there could not but be some most hopeful progress made in the art of getting along together.

There was not much talking done in that class—just enough by one and another to keep the train of thought going, but it was easy to tell that there was some downright serious thinking being done by each one with, possibly, my own individual exception, or, you see, I could not do much thinking, least I lose tab on what the others were doing.

The time draweth apace and now is, when the neatly wapping of Christmas gifts will be one of the most popular of fads, the country over. The Christmas spirit is already in the air and will become stronger with each passing day and fiftal breeze. While Christmas is acknowledged to be the most popular festival of the year, it is still diverse in its effects and influence upon various people.

But, getting back to the subject of Christmas gifts: some of these packages will contain gifts of the rarest quality and the most costly that the means of the giver can secure, and still fall far short of conveying the deep feeling of love the giver has for the recipient. Other packages will contain something cheap and a mere shamitation of respectability, merely because of the feeling in the heart of the giver. Personally, I never give costly Christmas gifts, for three definite reasons, and "lack of funds," is ALL three of them.

Junior play, "Everything Happened To Us", December 19.

I think I have never received a gift that did not bring me thrills of delight, and I always receive gifts that are far above what I deserve. That has always been true. But there is one gift from any of my friends that I always prize, and which will not cost the giver much more than a trifle in cash, and that is a photograph of the friend himself. I sure do enjoy them, and they bring happy memories and pleasant reflections. But as is often the case with things that are cheap for others but almost priceless to ones self, I have a very few of such pictures.

Well, my space is all used up, and it is now bed time and I have merely made a beginning of the many nice things that one can say about giving and gifts, and the morrow will have care of its own.

Lamb County Farmers Organize To Fight Irrigation Control

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 2—In a county wide meeting at Amherst last week, irrigation farmers of Lamb County followed a pattern set by other neighboring counties in forming an organization to block threatened legislation for the control of irrigation water on the high plains.

Approximately 75 farmers, most of them well-owners, set up an organization to be known as the Lamb County Water Conservation Board.

Gus Parrish of Spring Lake was named chairman of the organization, and Tommy McFarland of Littlefield was named secretary-treasurer. Directors will be appointed.

Membership dues were set at $2. Approximately 40 members were signed up at the meeting.

Farmers of the irrigated districts of the South Plains are organizing to fight pro-irrigation legislation.

There has been some discussion already in legislative circles of measures to regulate and control the use of underground water supplies in irrigation areas, and many are predicting that such legislation will be introduced at the next session of the Texas Legislature.

A meeting was held in Lubbock recently, and an organization was formed in Lubbock county to fight the rumored legislation. Since that time, the movement has spread to other South Plains counties.

Some of the agitation for pro-irrigation legislation is based on the belief that the water supply may become exhausted by increased irrigation.

Lem Weaver, Lamb County agent, and Wade Frey, assistant, launched the Amherst meeting by explaining the purpose of the gathering. Weaver, using charts, presented the overall picture of irrigation in Lamb County.

After pointing out that there were 712 irrigation wells in Lamb County as of last August, Weaver presented data to refute the contention that the underground water supply was decreasing in Lamb County.

Quoting figures from a report compiled by state engineers, Weaver showed that there had been an average rise of 3.4 feet in 13 Lamb county wells, based on tests running from 1936 through February 1945. Tests carried through February of 1946 boost the average rise another foot.

Twenty-six Lamb county wells are under observation, Weaver said.

The Lions have also been discussing the possibility of having a Santa Claus to visit the city on Saturday prior to Christmas, and decided to seek aid on this project from other civic groups.

A plan to offer prizes for the best decorated home in the city during Christmas week has also been advanced.

Medley Collection Of School Books Goes to Library

A collection of old school books gathered by the late H. B. Medley, has been donated to the West Texas State College Library by his daughter, Mrs. Chris Wegner, according to Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The books were turned over to Mrs. Oliver to be presented to some state library or museum by Mrs. Wegner.

The College Librarian at Canyon has notified Miss Oliver that the library would be glad to accept the gift.

The books were those used by the Medley children, Paul, Martha, Luke and Ben, in their courses from the primer through McMurry College.

There are three large boxes of the old school books, many of which date back to the days before the free state adopted texts were supplied of Texas schools. Included in the collection is an old Family Bible which belonged to the Medley family.

Operation Duck

The new building will add an additional 26x84 feet of floor space to the plant.

Re-roofing of the present building is underway now, and plans are being made for moving the new building to Dimmitt. As soon as the architects plans are ready, work on interior remodeling of the structure will get underway.

Plainview Oil Well Test Looks Like Producer

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 26—Stanolind geologists and operators are hopeful that the Blackmon No. 1 test this firm is completing on Section 13 Block DT, HE & WT survey, in Hale county, will be a flowing producer. "It sure looks good for the time being," said a Stanolind employee.

The well flowed 257 barrels B&W in 14 hours on the first day, 104 barrels of oil and one barrel B&W in seven hours on the following day.

The pay is from the Clear Fork, the same structure that yields oil in the Anton pool five miles to the southwest. This test is an offset to the Lee Irish No. 1, Hale discovery well.

A Pure Oil Co. well northwest of the new Stanolind test flowed briefly but had to be placed on the pump.

Casing has been set on Stanolind's No. 1 Fisher, Sec. 5, Block CL, with pipe set at 4,358 feet, and the test will continue to 7,000 feet or production.

Defending Region 1-A Champs Are Favored to Retain Title

Coach Chesty Walker's Phillips Blackhawks have done it again. The Blackhawks rolled rough-shod over the District 1-A Co-champion Tullia Hornets last Thursday afternoon to annex another bi-district title and move within one game of retaining their Region 1-A title for another year.

The Blackhawks unleashed a powerhouse attack to shut out the Hornets 32-0 in the Thanksgiving Day battle on Younger Field at Tullia. Some 4,000 fans packed the temporary bleachers and jammed the sidelines to watch the slaughter.

Held to a pair of touchdowns in the first half, the Hawks took the field in the second half to slash the Tullia forward wall to ribbons and, by the time the final whistle sounded, had obliterated all traces of the stubborn Hornet defense.

The Blackhawks scored their first touchdown midway in the opening quarter after driving 50 yards to the Hornet 13 yard line. Means crashed off tackle, then lateraled to Eldridge to speed across the line for the score. Williams, Blackhawk center, dropped back to kick the goal for the extra point, and the Hawks led 7-0.

Late in the second quarter, after getting possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line, the Blackhawks roled up three fast first downs in a drive that carried to the 12 yard marker, and Henderson crashed through tackle to score. Williams kick this time was wide.

The Hornets launched a desperate passing attack in the closing minutes of the period, with Stark tossing a pair to Miller for long gains, but time ran out with the Tullia eleven in possession on the Phillips 30... their closest approach to a score in the entire game.

The Hawks scored twice in the third period, with Jackson scoring the first on an end run from the 25 yard line, and Henderson scoring 5 yards through tackle for the second; and missed a third counter by inches when Henderson, driving through center, fumbled on the goal line, the Hornets recovering in the end zone for a touchdown as the period ended. Williams kicked one extra point, missed the second, to run the count to 24.

The final Blackhawk score came in the fourth period after Love, Tullia halfback, had kicked out of bounds on his own 20

NAVY BOOSTS ELECTRONICS

Navy Day, 1946, heralds a new step forward in the United States Navy's expansion of its electronic development program, which is designed to equip it as a Guardian in Peace, just as electronic progress enabled it to emerge a Victor in War. The Bureau of Naval Personnel has announced that, beginning November 4, 1946, the basic course of Electronic Technicians' Mates and Aviation Electronic Technicians' Mates will be broadened from 20 to 42 weeks under a program aimed at filling 7,900 billets now open in these ratings. There are more than 3,700 different types of modern, complex electronic equipment aboard ships of the Fleet, in Navy planes and at shore stations. Baptist Minister Commutes Between Hemphill County Church and K. C.

CANADIAN, Dec. 2—The new Baptist minister at Locust Grove goes to school at Kansas City.

And the reason he goes to Kansas City, to the Baptist Seminary there, is that Fort Worth is too far away.

Rev. E. V. Johnson conducts complete services every Sunday in the Locust Grove schoolhouse near Canadian. His wife, Johnnie Marie, conducts the Wednesday night prayer meeting, while Rev. Johnson commutes to Kansas City for school.

Rev. Johnson is 32 years old, and was recently released from the army where he had served overseas as a chaplain with the Air Forces in Africa, Italy, Trinidad, and Puerto Rico. He was discharged with the rank of major.

A graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University and Fort Worth Seminary, he was ordained during his long-range commuting between the Panhandle of Texas and the metropolis of Kansas City to complete work on his doctorate.

He takes the Friday night Pullman train in 1935, and is now down from Kansas City, arrives in Canadian Saturday morning; and taking the Monday night train from Canadian, arrives in Kansas City just in time for Tuesday classes.

Members of the Locust Grove church, appreciative of their industrious parson, have already built a parsonage and are making plans for a new church. —Canadian Record.

Attorney General Rules Hill Could Not Fire Coaches

A dispute over the coaching situation at West Texas State College which resulted in the dismissal of Athletic Director Al Baggett and Assistant Coach Leslie Van Meter in October took a new turn last week.

The Hornets completed only three and had one intercepted. In the final quarter, the Hornet line gave way almost completely before the hard-charging Hawks, and Stark was dropped for losses time and again as he faded desperately to pass.

The Blackhawks passed only twice, completing one, but cut loose with a dazzling array of laterals that accounted for several long gains and one touchdown.

Nightwatchman Foils Robbery Attempt at Canning Plant

Texas and New Mexico police departments are still on the look-out for two men who attempted a robbery at the Deaf Smith County Food Products Company canning plant 3 miles west of Hereford last Friday night.

The robbery attempt was foiled by John W. Vines, nightwatchman at the plant, who said he believed that he had wounded one of the men, a Mexican, in the leg when he fired twice with a .45 calibre revolver.

Vines narrowly escaped critical injury himself when the Mexican attacked him with a razor, slashing his clothing to ribbons, according to Worth Ware, manager of the canning plant.

Vines told Ware that he had observed two men, a Mexican and a white man, back a truck up to the plant at about 10:30 Friday night.

Vines approached the scene to order the men off the property, and was struck on the side of the head by the white man. Dazed but not knocked out, Vines swung a heavy electric lantern which he was carrying and knocked his attacker to the ground.

Turning to look for the other man, he said he saw the Mexican coming at him with a razor. The Mexican slashed with the razor, ripping his clothing across the chest and stomach.

Vines, who was wearing several layers of clothing, said that the razor was deflected when it struck a spectacle case in his jacket pocket, and believed that that probably saved his life. The razor cut downward, ripping through his clothing and cutting his belt, but leaving him unharmed.

Vines then drew his gun and fired at the Mexican, and said that he believed that two bullets had struck him in the leg. He said the white man had gotten up by that time and dragged the Mexican into the truck and sped away.

Police were notified and given a description of the truck and the two men.

Canyon Has City Paving Project

CANYON, Nov. 25—A paving project is ready to go in Canyon, and is waiting only on the action of property owners.

Contractors have announced that they are ready to begin construction but must wait until the individual property owners on the streets to be paved either pay cash or sign liens for the paving.

The city is ready to carry out its part of the program. Paving can be completed in the next few weeks if property owners act.

SUNDAY LESSON

The Epistles Depict Imperfections of Early Christians

The International Sunday School Lesson for Dec. 8
Scripture: I Corinthians 11:20-27; Romans 13:13-14; Ephesians 5:18-21

THE notion that the early Christian church was composed of pure and perfect Christians is one that is soon dispelled when one reads in the New Testament the epistles that were written to the churches not only by Paul, but also by Peter, James, and John.

When one considers how unpopular and how subject to persecution was the new faith, it seems strange that any except the most sincere and unswerving should have joined the Christian group. But Paul's admonition against feeding those who would not work seems to indicate that there were in the early Christian community the sort of "converts" who in our time have been called "rice Christians"—idlers who sought to be parasites.

Paul was determined to check any abuse of the basic Christian principle of mutual love and mutual aid. Side by side with the tenet that Christians should bear one another's burdens, "and so fulfill the law of Christ," he laid down the principle that "every man shall bear his own burden."

The converts to the Christian church were largely Gentiles, many of them former idolaters, in cities full of licentiousness. No doubt many of those who were drawn to the Christian way were inherently good souls, averse to their licentious and evil surroundings; but others were converts from evil ways of living. When Paul describes the evil life of those corrupt cities, he says, in writing to the Christians, "and such were some of you."

But the fact that they had been washed of their sins did not prevent lapses into the evils of a tempting environment; and some apparently did not accept, or realize, the true nature of the Christian way. Always there have been those ready to corrupt the purity of Christian faith and practice with their own philosophies of ease and indulgence. The man who had "put on the Lord Jesus" had a strength that could not be easily corrupted. Hence Paul's Epistles are constructive, as well as reproofing.

fresh supplies were too small to meet the increased holiday demand last week. Current receipts ranged from 45 to 50 cents per dozen, depending on market locale.

Light cattle receipts accounted for the active trading at most southwest markets last week. Prices were steady to stronger under the pressure of improved demand. Small offerings of medium and good slaughter steers brought $17.50 to $21 per hundred at Wichita and $18.75 to $24.50 at Denver. Medium and good steers and yearlings ranged from $15 to $18.50 at Oklahoma City. Good slaughter steers and yearlings realized $20 to $25 at Fort Worth while cutter and common lightweight yearlings and steers brought $9.50 to $11 at San Antonio. Houston sold common and medium steers and yearlings $11 to $15.

Keen competition for small hog receipts carried prices higher at most markets last week. Top price for good and choice butchers was $25 to $25.25 per hundred pounds at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Denver, $25.75 at Wichita, and $25 at San Antonio.

Sheep and lamb prices were steady to strong at most southwest markets last week. Medium and good lambs with No. 1 and 2 pelts brought $17 to $17.75 per hundred pounds at San Antonio. Medium and good fat lambs realized $17.50 to $21 at Fort Farmers' stock peanuts sold mostly at the CCC support level last week and rice moved quickly under urgent demand at maximum OPA ceilings.

Grain markets were unsettled at the week's close due to the uncertainty of the effect the coal strike will have on transportation and industry. Wheat held about steady sorghums lost sharply and oats, barley and corn slipped some after the holiday.

Spot cotton prices advanced about $5 per bale last week as demand from all sources improved. Southwest offerings though small, were larger than the week before, and insufficient to meet the demand.

Bad weather hindered movement of Texas vegetables and citrus last week. Good demand for peppers held prices firm, but dull demand for tomatoes caused prices to weaken. Moderate onion and potato offerings from Colorado shipping points moved slowly at steady to lower prices.

McLEAN, TEXAS (Special)—The former Prisoner of War Camp here will be the scene of a sale of $300,000 worth of lumber, plus quantities of plumbing, heating, electrical wiring and 20,000 feet of critically short supply pipe, starting on December 16.

Floydada Whirlwinds Capture District 4-A Title Thursday

SPUR, Nov. 28—The Floydada Whirlwinds struck like a tornado here Thursday afternoon to bury the Spur Bulldogs' hopes for a district championship beneath a 26-0 avalanche.

The Whirlwinds became District 4-A champions and kept their conference slate clean with the victory.

The Floydada eleven scored in every quarter, with two long runs accounting for the first two touchdowns, and a sparkling aerial attack in the second half ringing up the second pair.

Glen Carmack, Floydada back, started the scoring when he crashed through the Bulldog line in the first period on a 60-yard touchdown jaunt.

Bill Womack, agile Whirlwind left end, accounted for the remaining three touchdowns.

Womack scored first in the second quarter when he took a Bulldog punt deep in his own territory and raced 70 yards for a sparkling touchdown return.

Womack scored again in each of the last two periods when he took passes from Billy Hale for 40 and 25 yards, and converted for the extra point on each score.

The Bulldog line held the "Winds during the first period, and kept in last year's bi-district play-off 32-6, and went into the Regional finals to be bowled over by Phillips, perennial Regional Champions.

Southwest markets saw improved holiday demand up the price of livestock, eggs, cotton and sweet potatoes to offset the lower tendency taken by most grains, turkeys and some vegetables last week. USDA's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Thanksgiving found plenty of turkeys at southwest markets but demand slow and prices weak. Young toms brought mostly 23 to 25 cents per pound and young hens 34 to 37 cents. Demand for chickens was brisk. Heavy hens held steady at 22 to 25 cents per pound and fryers at 37 to 40 cents.

Egg prices strengthened as the first downs for the initial half even at 4 all. Spur's attack bogged down in the second half however, and the Bulldogs failed to make a single first down, while the Whirlwinds ran their total to 11.

Carmack and Kelly Hagood shone brightly in the Floydada backfield, while Womack was easily the outstanding line-man.

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it, he sets aside a "worrying hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find... right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.
