Letters To Editor

BROWNING DAY CARE CENTER
Box 850
Browning, Montana, 59417
July 3, 1970

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Galloway,

This letter comes as a plea to you for help. We hope that you will see the cruciality of our situation and respond to our need. We do not ask you to respond alone, but perhaps with the help of some friends, a church school class, or a congregation.

As you know, we have worked long and hard to see the fruition of a day care center in Browning. In two years we have expanded from six to thirty pre-schoolers, and without an adequate building we cannot be licensed or expand. There are some nine hundred pre-schoolers here - many who need to be outside their home environment at least a portion of the time. We have purchased a building, but are at a standstill unless we can raise $10,000 by the end of August.

Would you please help us reach this goal by raising $200, either as a personal gift, or from among friends or groups that you know? If you cannot raise that much, any amount will be deeply appreciated. We do not ordinarily ask for money, but this need is crucial to the future of the Blackfeet reservation. I cannot stress strongly enough how much we need your help. Without your support we cannot see the project through. Thank you for your gifts and your prayers.

Grace and peace,
/s/ Gayle Himmel

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MURRY

Vows Read For Miss Wolf And Robert Murry

Wedding vows for Miss Janet Fay Wolf and Robert Dee Murry were read June 26 in the Christ Lutheran Church in Santa Ana, Calif. The bride is the daughter of Hettinger, North Dakota and the groom is the son of Lloyd Murry of Las Vegas, Nev., and the late Mrs. Murry.

Miss Lee performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock p.m. Carol Uildiden was organist and Gary Arnold, soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of peau de soie, covered with a cage of organza. Venise lace daisies accented the bodice and cuffs of the long tapering sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a cluster of net petals and Venise lace daisies. She carried a bridal bouquet of daisies and white glanetas. Miss Linda Wolf was maid of honor and Miss Ginger Wolf was bridesmaid. Both are sisters of the bride. They wore floor length sheaths of mase saki with tiny bell sleeves and carried white carnations and yellow daisies.

Tom Wentz was best man. Ushers were Rick Wolf, brother of the bride, Harry Agner and Larry Owens. Pegi Williams served as flower girl and Leigh Williams was ring bearer.

Wedding guests were registered by Sandi Gopin. A catered reception followed the wedding ceremony.

Following a trip to Las Vegas and Lake Tahoe, Nev., the couple are making their home at 718 S. Raitt Apt. 1, Santa Ana, Calif.

The bride is a graduate of Hettinger High School in North Dakota. Her husband is a graduate of Floydada High School. Both hold AA degrees from Santa Ana College, California. The groom is the grandson of Mrs. O. E. Murry and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith Sr., of Floydada.

Peggy's Meddlin's

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

JUST couldn't believe that DC-3 plane was spraying anything Tuesday morning. I stood outside and watched him make his perfect swaths across town, saw nothing coming from the plane nor did I smell anything. Some smarty said I just had the "West Texas nose drip" and wasn't able to smell. I found out the plane is spraying ultra-low volume Malathion, which by the way, smells to the high heaven. It's 95 percent, a mist, which can only be seen when the sun rays strike it just right. Pink dye cards were placed on the ground at intervals throughout Floydada and sure enough after the spraying, they turned red which indicated the Malathion was touching ground and the pilot was giving us a good cover. Authorities said mosquitoes would now be zero as the Malathion settles underneath shrubs, car ports, patios and such.

THERE is a new Federal law out, effective September of this year, that prohibits the sale of products made from skin of imperiled animals. There goes our alligator shoes and hand bags. While the alligators are being coddled, fashionables will have to switch to a new batch of skins which designers say will be imitation leathers from frogs, ostriches, elephants and anteaters. These animals, it seems, would be more worthy to us than the alligators. To me an alligator is about as necessary as a dinosaur.

ONE of our co-workers had laryngitis last week and it made me think of the little joke when the man asked the pretty waitress, "What flavors of ice cream have you?" She answered in a hoarse whisper, "Vanilla, strawberry, and chocolate." Trying to be sympathetic, the man said, "You got laryngitis?" "No," replied the girl, with an effort, "just vanilla, strawberry and chocolate."

AND then there was a nomad who returned to the desert after a trip to America. As he unpacked his treasures, friends gathered around to ask what had most impressed him in the Western World, tall building, wealth of America, the people or what? "The American salesman," declared the nomad, as he released an outboard motor from its wrappings and looked sadly over the bone dry desert.

THE custodian is doing a mighty fine job with the grass and shrubs around the Court House. If you haven't noticed, drive or walk by sometime and see for yourself. With the hot dry weather, just working a lawn as large as that one is enough to keep a person busy each day.

WHATEVER you do, don't miss the City-Wide Crusade Friday night. There is a treat in store for you besides the good sermon.

KEITH Thomas and his group of Army buddies and their wives are deep sea fishermen. One day last week they caught a 310 pound shark, 10 feet, 11 inches long. He promises to send a picture of some of his catches, but don't know if he has one of the shark.

RICHARD McPeak, who is here visiting relatives from his Marine Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif., noticed in last week's draft call that he was number 2 on their draft lottery, his birthdate being December 24. The young man will miss the draft summons however, as he enlisted in the Marine Corps last November.

OUR son, Danny, received his discharge from the Navy Wednesday of last week and needless to say after nearly four years of duty he is pleased to be out, but wouldn't take for his naval aircraft experiences while in. He plans to remain in San Diego and work for an airline. Wedding plans for the near future are also in the making and we are looking forward to meeting the young lady the latter part of this month in San Diego.

YOU don't spell misspelled with one (s) like I spelled it last week in my column, you spell it misspelled, however I think misspelled looks better regardless of the way Webster spells it. Whew!

THERE'S a new phrase I keep hearing in this world of business - the "executive crutch" or the modern computer. And there are all kinds, each designed to do one basic thing: Relieve the boss of making decisions. We don't have a computer at the Hesperian but we are glad our boss is back to make "those decisions."

Mrs. W. B. Hollums, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hollums, Jackie, Eddie, Rodney and Susan, Mrs. Janice Rocus and Sherry, Rhonda and Melissa Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Byrd, Ernest, Lee and Diane, Carl Hollums, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Strickland, Wayne, Debbie and Eddie, all of Midland;

John Hollums of Fort Worth; Mrs. Faye Reynolds, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bradshaw and Mrs. Margie Bradshaw of Rankin; Marjorie and Marliis Hollums, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollums, Brenda, Larry and Trena of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Yardley, Geri, Tammy and Pam and Mrs. Cecil Hughes, Randy and David of Odessa and Mrs. Floyd Linch and Lee Elton of Lubbock.

A. L. Hollums' Descendants Hold Reunion

Descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hollums met in Midland Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Strickland for a family reunion. Three of the children were unable to attend the event.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollums, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hollums, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moore, Debra, Donnie, Pam, Charles and Darla, all of Floydada; Mr. and

Dougherty Club Members Meet In Smith Home

Dougherty Home Demonstration Club met July 1 in the home of Mrs. G. W. Smith with the hostess, who is president of the club, presiding.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was given in unison by three guests, Janet Lloyd, Lois Jones and Myrtle Lloyd and by members, Mmes. Johnnie Cates, Earl Edwards, A. H. Kreis, R. H. Crawford, Dee Johnson, C. A. Caffee and Mrs. Carmel Eastham.

A patriotic program was presented by Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Cates and Mrs. Eastham.

Mrs. Smith then introduced her sister-in-law, Mrs. Janet Lloyd, who recently returned from a tour. She gave a delightful travelogue with pictures, starting from the U.S. to England where they toured all scenic points, then to France and from there to Johannesburg, South Africa. Picture scenes showed their flowers, cattle, farming industry, the mud huts and government buildings. Rhodesia was next on the itinerary, African cattle, termite mounds from which the bricks are made, beans being combined, ginnery and gold, diamond and emerald mines and pottery.

Mrs. Lloyd said they left South Africa for Portugal where they saw castles made of carved wood, china and Mother of Pearl; the Sundial which sounded like a cannon the 12 o'clock hour. From Lisbon they returned to the U.S. where they toured Washington, D. C.

In closing Mrs. Lloyd paid tribute to Betsy Ross and the Flag which meant so much to them as they looked upon it in their own USA.

Following the program refreshments were served to those attending.

The next meeting will be July 15 with Mrs. A. H. Kreis.

Mrs. Tim Rose Is Honored

Mrs. Tim Rose, the former Rebecca Lu Burns of Dallas, was honored with a gift tea Tuesday evening from 5:30 until 6:30 in the PCA party room in Floydada. Mr. and Mrs. Rose were married June 26 in the Oak Cliff Assembly of God Church in Dallas.

Guests at the tea were received by the groom's mother, Mrs. Alton Rose, and the honoree. Mrs. Bud Edwards presided at the guest register. The serving table was laid with a yellow cloth overlaid with white lace. The center arrangement was formed by a daisy ring and wedding candle. White milk glass appointments and aqua colored napkins completed the setting.

Mrs. Dale Kincer, Mrs. Jack Jordan, Mrs. Choice Smith, Mrs. R. L. Neil and Mrs. Harry Morckel alternated in serving.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Bud Edwards, Dale Kincer, Jack Jordan, Choice Smith, Carolyn Smith, Harry Morckel, R. L. Neil, Woodrow Baggett, Macon Ulmer, Jimmy Vickers, H. M. Redd, Bill Selman, Parnell Powell and Miss Sue Lindsey.

Their gifts included stainless steel flatware, an electric coffee maker and a toaster-broiler.

Your house should be as good -

ADEQUATE WIRING

Somebody once figured out that the automobile has more wiring than the house, for its size. Your car is adequately wired to serve the many purposes needed. And, so should your house.

LIGHTING

The same person figured out, too, that average car has more special purpose convenience, safety, and beauty than a house. But, for the same reasons, shouldn't your house have the right kind of lighting?

COMFORTS

And, how about comforts...heaters, air conditioning, convenience switches, steering, power brakes, tape recorders, windows, and lots more. Does your house measure up to your automobile? It should because you probably spend more time

When you're building a house...make it a home make it as good as your automobile...make it total electric, gold medalion!

P.S. Lots of electric power in our area. No worry about shortages. Use it...enjoy it!

who rededicated his life to Jesus Christ said, "I've played my best on this field for the Floydada team, now I'm dedicating my best to Jesus Christ."

Prayer groups are meeting in some 60 homes each morning to pray for the Crusade and many lives have been totally committed to Jesus Christ.

A fifty member adult choir sings a special each night, under the direction of Gene Moore. They are accompanied on the pianos by Bobbie Moore and Nina Copeland.

Pastors from Floydada churches have served as emcee each evening.

Sunday morning Rev. Robb will preach in the Methodist Church, the Moores will sing in the First Baptist Church.

The informal setting of the Crusade allows anyone to attend just as they are, and some have attended in their "working clothes." Mosquito control has been excellent, evenings are cool, and the crowd has responded to Gene's leadership with enthusiastic singing.

Lay counselors come forward each evening as the call for discipleship is made to counsel with those who come rededicating their lives or making an initial decision to follow Jesus Christ.

Should the services be rained out (and we need the rain) services will be conducted in The First Baptist Church.

ROTARIANS AND LIONS HEAR CRUSADE TEAM
 In a joint luncheon yesterday the Floydada Lions and Rotary Clubs heard Rev. Robb speak and Gene and Bobbie sing.

Rev. Robb spoke on "A Vital Christian". Rev. Robb outlined several different types of "Christians" and concluded that the vital Christian is one who is courageous, as Jesus was courageous. "Jesus was the perfect example of what we must live as Christians. . . a vital Christian is alive with the joy of fellowship with Jesus Christ. . . and a vital Christian knows a supreme loyalty to Jesus Christ," Rev. Robb concluded.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MURRY

Vows Read For Miss Wolf And Robert Murry

Wedding vows for Miss Janet Fay Wolf and Robert Dee Murry were read June 26 in the Christ Lutheran Church in Santa Ana, Calif. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wolf of Hettinger, North Dakota and the groom is the son of Lloyd Murry of Las Vegas, Nev., and the late Mrs. Murry.

Otis Lee performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock p.m. Carol Uldiden was organist and Gary Arnold, soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of peau de soie, covered with a cascade of Venise lace daisies accented the bodice and cuffs of the long tapering sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a cluster of net petals and Venise lace daisies. She carried a bridal bouquet of daisies and white glanetas. Miss Linda Wolf was maid of honor and Miss Ginger Wolf was bridesmaid. Both are sisters of the bride. They wore floor length sheaths of mazy saki with tiny bell sleeves and carried white carnations and yellow daisies.

Peggy's Meddlin's

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

JUST couldn't believe that DC-3 plane was spraying anything Tuesday morning. I stood outside and watched him make his perfect swaths across town, saw nothing coming from the plane nor did I smell anything. Some smarty said I just had the "West Texas nose drip" and wasn't able to smell. I found out the plane is spraying ultra-low volume Malathion, which by the way, smells to the high heaven. It's 95 percent a mist, which can only be seen when the sun rays strike it just right. Pink dye cards were placed on the ground at intervals throughout Floydada and sure enough after the spraying, they turned red which indicated the Malathion was touching ground and the pilot was giving us a good cover. Authorities said mosquitoes would now be zero as the Malathion settles underneath shrubs, car ports, patios and such.

THERE is a new Federal law out, effective September of this year, that prohibits the sale of products made from skin of imperiled animals. There goes our alligator shoes and hand bags. While the alligators are being coddled, fashionables will have to switch to a new batch of skins which designers say will be imitation leathers from frogs, ostriches, elephants and antelopes. These animals, it seems, would be more worthy to us than the alligators. To me an alligator is about as necessary as a dinosaur.

ONE of our co-workers had laryngitis last week and it made me think of the little joke when the man asked the pretty waitress, "What flavors of ice cream have you?" She answered in a hoarse whisper, "Vanilla, strawberry, and chocolate." Trying to be sympathetic, the man said, "You got laryngitis?" "No," replied the girl, with an effort, "just vanilla, strawberry and chocolate."

AND then there was a nomad who returned to the desert after a trip to America. As he unpacked his treasures, friends gathered around to ask what had most impressed him in the Western World, tall building, wealth of America, the people or what? "The American salesman," declared the nomad, as he released an outboard motor from its wrappings and looked sadly over the bone dry desert.

THE custodian is doing a mighty fine job with the grass and shrubs around the Court House. If you haven't noticed, drive or walk by sometime and see for yourself. With the hot dry weather, just working a

WHATEVER you do, don't miss the City-Wide Crusade Friday night. There is a treat in store for you besides the good sermon.

KEITH Thomas and a group of Army buddies and their wives are deep sea fishermen. One day last week they caught a 310 pound shark, 10 feet, 11 inches long. He promises to send a picture of some of his catches, but don't know if he has one of the shark.

RICHARD McPeak, who is here visiting relatives from his Marine Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif., noticed in last week's draft call that he was number 2 on their draft lottery, his birthdate being December 24. The young man will miss the draft summons however, as he enlisted in the Marine Corps last November.

OUR son, Danny, received his discharge from the Navy Wednesday of last week and needless to say after nearly four years of duty he is pleased to be out, but wouldn't take for his naval aircraft experience while in. He plans to remain in San Diego and work for an airline. Wedding plans for the near future are also in the making and we are looking forward to meeting the young lady the latter part of this month in San Diego.

YOU don't spell misspelled with one (s) like I spelled it last week in my column, you spell it misspelled, however I think misspelled looks better regardless of the way Webster spells it. Whew!

THERE'S a new phrase I keep hearing in this world of business - the "executive crunch" or the modern computer. And there are all kinds, each designed to do one basic thing: Relieve the boss of making decisions. We don't have a computer at the Hesperian but we are glad our boss is back to make "those decisions."

Mrs. W. B. Hollums, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hollums, Jackie, Eddie, Rodney and Susan, Mrs. Janice Rocus and Sherry, Rhonda and Melissa Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Byrd, Ernest, Lee and Diane, Carl Hollums, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Strickland, Wayne, Debbie and Eddie, all of Midland;

John Hollums of Fort Worth; Mrs. Faye Reynolds, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bradshaw and Mrs. Margie Bradshaw of Rankin; Marjorie and Marlliss Hollums, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollums, Brenda, Larry and Trena of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Yardley, Geri, Tammy and Pam and Mrs. Cecil Hughes, Randy and David of Odessa and Mrs. Floyd Linch and Lee Elton of Lubbock.

A. L. Hollums' Descendants Hold Reunion

Descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hollums met in Midland Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Strickland for a family reunion. Three of the children were unable to attend the event.

A patriotic program was presented by Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Cates and Mrs. Eastham.

Mrs. Smith then introduced her sister-in-law, Mrs. Janet Lloyd, who recently returned from a tour. She gave a delightful travelogue with pictures, starting from the U.S. to England where they toured all scenic points, then to France and from there to Johannesburg, South Africa. Picture scenes showed their flowers, cattle, farming industry, the mud huts and government buildings. Rhodesia was next on the itinerary, African cattle, termite mounds from which the bricks are made, beans being combined, ginners and gold, diamond and emerald mines and pottery.

Mrs. Lloyd said they left South Africa for Portugal where they saw castles made of carved wood, china and Mother of Pearl; the Sundial which sounded like a cannon the 12 o'clock hour. From Lisbon they returned to the U.S. where they toured Washington, D. C.

In closing Mrs. Lloyd paid tribute to Betsy Ross and the Flag which meant so much to them as they looked upon it in their own USA.

Following the program refreshments were served to those attending.

The next meeting will be July 15 with Mrs. A. H. Kreis.

Mrs. Tim Rose Is Honored

Mrs. Tim Rose, the former Rebecca Lu Burns of Dallas, was honored with a gift tea Tuesday evening from 5:30 until 6:30 in the PCA party room in Floydada. Mr. and Mrs. Rose were married June 26 in the Oak Cliff Assembly of God Church in Dallas.

Guests at the tea were received by the groom's mother, Mrs. Alton Rose, and the honoree, Mrs. Bud Edwards presided at the guest register.

The serving table was laid with a yellow cloth overlaid with white lace. The center arrangement was formed by a daisy ring and wedding candle. White milk glass appointments and aqua colored napkins completed the setting.

Mrs. Dale Kincer, Mrs. Jack Jordan, Mrs. Choice Smith, Mrs. R. L. Neil and Mrs. Harry Morckel alternated in serving.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Bud Edwards, Dale Kincer, Jack Jordan, Choise Smith, Carolyn Smith, Harry Morckel, R. L. Neil, Woodrow Badgett, Macon Ulmer, Jimmy Vickers, H. M. Redd, Bill Selman, Parnell Powell and Miss Sue Lindsey.

OBITUARIES

Ross Alexander

Funeral rites for Ross Alexander, 58 year old former Floydada man, were conducted Friday afternoon in the Park Hill Baptist Church in San Antonio. Alexander was found dead about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening of last week, in Comal Park at Canyon Lake, an apparent drowning victim. The lake is some 25 miles from San Antonio and near New Braunfels.

Floydada friends learned that Alexander had evidently gone to the lake for a swim after lunch Tuesday. He had left the family home earlier to return to his job as warranty service manager at Hemphill McCombs Ford Co. His wife related that he had told her upon leaving the house that he was planning to attend a shop meeting that night and would be home by 10:30. When found, Alexander had been dead approximately 24 hours, according to the physician's report to his family. They were told that the victim was apparently able to reach shore before collapsing. No marks were found on the body, according to a J.P. An autopsy was performed but results had not been learned here at press time. Officers said his body was found wedged between a concrete picnic table and bench, the lungs filled with water.

The deceased moved to Floydada from Spur in the 1930s and worked for Bishop Motor Company, later going into a garage partnership with the late Alva Sparks. He entered the U.S. Army during World War II serving in Europe, Africa and Italy. Upon his discharge he returned to Floydada and went to work for Oden Chevrolet as a mechanic and later was service manager. Following 15 years of employment at Oden's the family moved to Edmond, near Oklahoma City in 1964, then to Amarillo, then to San Antonio where they had resided for the past two years.

Survivors include his wife, Rene; one son, Jackie, who is school superintendent at Post; three daughters, Mrs. Bill (Ouida) Harkins and Mrs. Gary (Jan) Wilson, both of Amarillo; and Mrs. Gary (Sherry) Nance of Oklahoma; his mother who resides in Trinidad, Colo.; seven grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. B. N. Kidd of Plainview.

Jeff Feuerbacher Reports On Trip To Boys State

July 6, 1970

Mr. D. G. Ayers
Veteran Service Officer
Floyd County
Floydada, Texas 79235

Dear Sir:

When told that I was going to be one of the two boys to attend Boy's State in Austin, it literally scared me to death. I knew what Boy's State was because of friends who have been in the past.

I originally thought it was just where boys got together to learn about their government. This is true, but there is more to it than that.

Boy's State is sponsored by the American Legion. This is an organization of men who have fought for their country because they love it and care enough about it to keep it free. This is one thing I learned at Boy's State, to care enough about my country to be willing to fight for it.

Another thing I learned at Boy's State is the way our government is set up. I believe I learned more about our government in that one week, than I have in my entire life.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the American Legion for allowing me to attend Boy's State in Austin. I met many outstanding young men and learned about our government.

Sincerely yours,
Jeff Feuerbacher
/s/ Jeff Feuerbacher

AIR MEDAL AWARD - to Lt. Harvey J. Crawford. The award of an Air Medal was recently presented to Lt. Crawford for distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement while participating in sustained aerial flight as an Electronic Warfare Officer, 343rd Strategic Reconnaissance Squadron, Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska. During an eight month period the airman's accomplishment of these important missions, under extremely hazardous conditions, demonstrated his outstanding proficiency and steadfast devotion to duty. The professional skill and outstanding aerial accomplishments of Lt. Crawford reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force. Since the award Crawford has made Captain. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crawford of Dougherty and has been in service the past four years. Crawford is a graduate of Floydada High School and University of Texas Law School. Texas Musical Opens At Palo Duro

The first week of the "Texas" production of 1970 drew 7500 people to the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Paul Green's musical drama of early Texas life attracted many members of the families of the cast during its first days. On Friday alone, July third, relatives came from Colorado and New Mexico, from Irving, Texas and El Paso to visit various cast members and see the performance. Steve Garms of Plainview had the largest number of relatives - twenty-two. His brother Bradley and a friend, Kelly Baker, made it a special occasion by riding their bicycles to the theatre from Plainview, sixty-four miles. They arrived in good time for the production. This is the most unusual way of reaching a show noted so far.

Most of the performances moved smoothly, though a sudden small gust of wind sent the ranch house rolling toward the stage one night long before it was due. It was held back only by three cast members who happened to be standing near and grabbed it.

Swine Feeding Is Studied

The second swine feeding study got underway last week at the High Plains Research Foundation.

Past swine studies at the Foundation tested the economics of raising swine in portable pens. Another feeding study, released in the High Plains Research Foundation's annual report in March compared feeding sorghum and Triticale as a base of feeding rations.

This study will compare wet and dry feeding rations utilizing sorghum based feeds.

The test will be in portable, raised slatted floor pens. Used in the study will be 100 head of swine from the Fred Breugel SPF swine operation at Dimmitt.

Special equipment necessary to meter and mix the wet feed or "gruel" has been installed for the study. According to Dr. Tom Longmeyer, Foundation director, all water received by the 50 pigs on gruel feed will come from the feed and water mixture. The regular watering systems have been removed.

Ground Milo is being used as the base grain in both the liquid and dry rations along with the necessary protein supplement, minerals, vitamins, etc.

The box office crew is wondering whether the man who bought tickets to the "skit" was surprised when he saw the show.

For further information, write Box 268, Canyon, Texas or call 806-655-2182. The Box office in Canyon closes at 5 and then reopens in the Canyon at 6. The telephone in the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon is 806-Hu8-3100. Barbecue is served from 6:30 p.m. until 8:15 p.m.

EIGHTY-SIX-YEAR-OLD CYCLIST... W. H. Furrow recently took up the cycling hobby on this three-wheeler. Doctors recommended the exercise. (Staff Photo)

GREAT-GRANDFATHER CYCLES FOR HEALTH

"Just What The Doctor Ordered"

By James Huggins
W. H. Furrow is 86 years old, the father of six children, has 14 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren - and he rides a tricycle. Actually a three-wheel bike, the machine is just what the doctor ordered - literally. Doctors recommended cycling exercise for Furrow after he complained with his legs falling asleep. His son, R. T. Furrow of Lubbock, presented him with the bike last Friday.

Furrow said the exercise will give him "a little appetite," too, since he quit work, about three years ago, Furrow, farmed for 19 years at Pleasant Hill, southeast of Floydada. Born in Illinois, he lived in Oklahoma, and came to Floyd County about 1903.

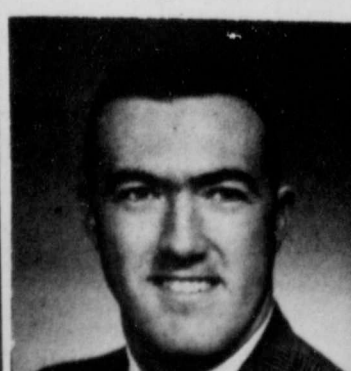

Furrow rides the three-wheeler to coffee at a cafe several blocks from his home at 411 West Tennessee in Floydada, and to the grocery store also several blocks distant. He has been unable to drive a car since failing eyesight kept him from getting a driver's license two years ago, but he's still an active man and needs a way to get around, and the three-wheeler seems to be the answer to the problem.

Troy Harris Is New FHS Ag Teacher

Furrow doesn't seem to have any trouble guiding the machine, though, as he demonstrated on the street in front of his house. "Just drive it like you would a car," he said; but that's hard to do on a vehicle that seems like it should steer like a bike.

But, as we said, Furrow has no trouble with the machine, actually getting along pretty well for an octogenarian, we thought.

Troy Harris will be a new Vocational Agriculture teacher at Floydada High School for the 1970-71 school year. He and his wife, Paulette, and their daughter Tamera have moved to Floydada and reside at 127 West Jeffie. Harris is a Methodist.

Harris is the son of Orville Harris, also a Floydada High School Ag teacher. The elder Harris began teaching at the Floydada school last year.

Harvest Is Underway In Area

able harvest began in the area last week. The onion harvest in the area is expected to be 400,000 sacks in the area, possibly yielding half a million sacks.

Louisiana Strawberry is the largest shipper of cucumbers and peppers in the world, operating in Floydada and in McAllen, and processing two crops a year from Mexico in the McAllen plant.

The local onion harvesting will continue probably through mid-August, when harvesting of cukes and peppers will begin and last through October.

"I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER"

Some Dreams Fade Away

Not all the people who came west to help settle the plains country stayed here. A certain percent failed to find a way of life that appealed to them, some left when Old Man Dry made the going too hard. And some returned to their former abodes simply because of the homesickness blues. A few of those who stayed did so out of sheer necessity. And then there were occasional ones for whom restored health did not materialize.

Sometime in the year of 1906 a young Missourian by the name of Charles E. Furr moved to Floydada. He was a lawyer and hung out his shingle, but remained here for less than three years, really, I think, for very little more than two years. The story of his brief stay here is a melancholy one.

He came southwest at the suggestion of his doctor, hoping to keep his health and carve out a career. His family had a history of lung weakness, he said. I was of the impression that he was elected county attorney, but he was not. He was employed by the county from time to time, however, to act as county attorney, according to the minutes of the Commissioners Court of the years 1906 and 1907.

CAPABLE AND RESOLUTE
Young Furr was capable and he must have made a big resolution to "make the grade", health-wise, so as to change the pattern of his fortunes. He attended the University in Abilene. The following is the schedule during the day of July 11.

10 a.m. Program - Mrs. Virginia Law, Rev. Jack Taylor.
12 a.m. Salad Luncheon for Ladies in the Church Fellowship Hall; Luncheon for Men at the Caravan Restaurant.
2 p.m. Afternoon Session - Mrs. Virginia Law; Rev. Jack Taylor.
8 p.m. Night Session - Mrs. Virginia Law, Rev. Jack Taylor.

had not been here many months until he felt justified in returning to his home state and marrying.

He had been living in the V.J. Hall residence as a boarder, but upon return from Missouri the couple established a home. He had a modest practice that was growing. It seems things were going to be rosy for them.

So many stories of this kind were success stories, like that of R.O. Scott, who came here as a weakling and lived out a long career, the husband of a pioneer ranchman's daughter and the father of a fine family of boys and girls.

I talked with Furr off and on. I hung around my father's office in the court house, and knew the young attorney from the time he came here until he left. In a few months his mood seemed to change. A warning from his doctor, the state of his health, or an inner sense of foreboding - something. Whereas he

The Best Way of Life

Buy . . . where your trade helps to sustain prosperity you can enjoy

It depends on what you like, of course. There is the warm neighborliness . . . the dignity and satisfaction of life in a community like ours . . . and there is life as it is lived in the cities . . . as one of the scrambling herd . . . where neighborliness is viewed with suspicion . . . and squalor is the lot of anybody who gets pushed aside in the rat race.

- Those of us who live here have already voted our preference . . . for this more tranquil smaller community unit as a way of living. We like churches where everybody knows everybody else . . . and schools where we know our children's teachers . . . and they know us. We like living that is more calm, easier, safer . . . and we like business dealings with neighbors we can depend on.

- But happy communities don't just grow . . . they have to be built. It takes revolving money . . . local trade volume . . . to build and maintain and enrich our chosen way of life.

It Pays to Buy where you Live

TRADE AT HOME WHERE YOUR MONEY BENEFITS YOU!

TIPS ON BLENDERS

When blenders were first introduced people considered them luxury items with few really practical uses. But now everyone is singing the praises of this versatile work saver. There's scarcely a mixture around that can't be made just a little bit better and considerably more quickly in a blender. In fact, many recipes can even be blender whirled from start to finish.

Blenders are renowned for being able to stir, puree, chop, whip, grate, mince, mix, crumb, shred, blend, grind, and liquefy. The key to successful blending is to use the correct speed for the job. Sometimes however, the name of the proper setting doesn't necessarily correspond with the job to be done. For example, cabbage for cole slaw might have to be shredded on Mince instead of Shred. A sauce might be prepared with Mix, Chop, Blend, or Whip setting. Bread crumbs might be made on the puree setting, chopped nuts or Li-quefy, and instant mashed potatoes on Chop. You can see why it is important to read the instructions that accompany each appliance. To get the most out of a blender follow those instructions carefully and don't be afraid to set off on some trial and error tests. Soon you'll be accustomed to your blender and use it as often and as easily as your toaster or electric skillet.

To be sure that you and your blender make a harmonious team, follow these pointers. Be careful not to overload foods. You can have frozen orange juice bubbling and ready for the table in a matter of seconds, but if you overdo you will have to serve orange foam. Many blender feature a built-in timer to stop the blender in the nick of time.

When preparing a complete recipe in the blender put in the liquid ingredients first, then the dry ones. Cut any solid foods, such as cooked meats, vegetables, or cheese, into one inch squares before adding them to the blender. Large bulky chunks of food slow down the motor and don't blend smoothly. If the motor seems to be laboring, try a faster speed - or turn the motor on and off to guard against motor overload.

Measure ingredients as you add them by using the markings on the side of the blender container. Four liquids and thin batters from the container; but remove heavy, thick mixtures from the bottom - if the bottom is removable.

Many container lids feature a removable center, making it easy to add ingredients while the blender is running.

If food becomes clogged in the bottom of the container, stop the motor, stir the food with a rubber spatula, and then continue blending.

Hundreds of recipes can be prepared in it, and the list of its uses truly is impressive. Keep in mind, though, that the less deluxe the blender, the less its versatility (a simple model can't necessarily handle all the things listed below). Blenders can:

- Puree cooked meats, vegetables and fruits
- Whip instant mashed potatoes
- Chop nuts and dried fruits
- Mix frozen juices and other beverages.
- Grind coffee beans and spices.
- Grate cheese and coconut.
- Make sauces, dips, spreads and many different salad dressings.
- Whip instant-pudding mixes
- Mix pancakes and waffle batters
- Crumb bread and crackers
- Take lumps out of gravies or sauces
- Blend flour and water for thickening gravy
- Chop raw vegetables and fruit
- Chop cooked meats and seafood.

Teacher Surplus

One of the most unexpected turn of events in this county just this spring is the sudden surplus of school teachers.

This surplus burst into being with no warning, and in just one school year, conditions have changed from a shortage to a surplus and school teachers over the country are getting worried about finding a job now.

For the first time in 25 years, public school teachers are having to scramble for jobs and there are more applicants for college teaching posts than there are jobs to be had.

At the school board meeting last month, Superintendent Gilbert Mize told the board members that he had more applicants than vacancies and remarked that it looked like we were entering a "buyers market" for the first time since he became superintendent more than 20 years ago.

Across the nation, it is estimated that the teacher surplus is general, but projections indicate that there will be three times as many surplus teachers in 1971 and this will continue for the next several years.

A teacher may naturally wonder what has happened to convert this profession from shortage to surplus with shocking suddenness.

New teachers entering the job market are finding few vacancies. But older, experienced teachers are feeling a strain, too, as some schools are hiring new teachers at less salary and letting the older ones go.

There are several reasons for the teacher surplus, most of them having to do with finances.

Rising costs of school operations have forced school districts to cut costs in any way possible. This has led to trimming of faculty staffs, of loading slightly larger classes on teachers and cutting out many of the non-teaching positions in a school program.

The Los Angeles school system will reduce teaching positions by 2,000 positions this year, as one example.

Texas schools are in the same financial bind, whether the school be large or small. The big city schools are desperate for more funds and the main reason big city legislators want a shift in taxes from urban to rural areas is because they believe they can get more money that way.

Our own school district has raised the tax rate to the maximum this year and has a property re-valuation program under way in order to boost tax income to cover rising school costs.

The pressure is now beginning to be applied to school boards and administrators to couple this struggle for more tax income with a similar struggle to reduce operating costs and since salaries are the largest single item of cost, it is a logical place to take the first look.

This is the reason some jobs are being phased out and others are not being filled.

Of course, there is a limit to reducing the number of teachers and a limit to the amount of money that can be saved on teacher salaries. And there will always be a demand for good teachers. In a time of a surplus, however, it is logical to assume that the good teachers will replace mediocre teachers, although there is no guarantee that it will work out that way.

This change, this shift from shortage to surplus, will have some effect upon the salary schedules in some areas. The Perryton school system has a salary schedule which is $1,000 per year higher than the state schedule. It has been necessary for many years to have a higher salary schedule in order to attract teachers from downstate to teaching positions out here on the plains where admittedly there are fewer recreational advantages than around urban areas.

But when jobs are scarce and applicants are many, that situation may well change. It may be that schools of this area will come down to the state salary schedule and still have applicants for these positions.

Under the state salary schedule passed into law last year, teachers in Texas will get an annual increase for the next several years until by 1975 a beginning teacher will get $10,000 for a ten month term.

A new college graduate with a $1,000 per month beginning salary is to be envied by a lot of workers, and this type of salary is very attractive to capable young men and women in the field of education.

Teachers for years have worked to get their salaries up to a standard of other professions and it appears they have succeeded. The only bitter taste left in this accomplishment is that now with attractive salaries, there are more people after the jobs than there are jobs to be filled.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Takes A Wry Look At Progress

Editor's note: The Floyd County Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm must have his television set back in working shape, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: Being unable to find a newspaper yesterday although I looked everywhere, that is everywhere I could see from my rocking chair on my front porch, I went inside the house late in the afternoon and turned on the television set for the first time in a long time and will admit I learned something I didn't know before.

Now I knew that in the summer time the networks re-run their winter and spring programs on the theory I guess that if Hamlet is worth seeing more than once so is Festus, but yesterday was the first time I discovered that they re-run their news programs too.

It's a fact, Here came Huntley and Brinkley telling us their names although I caught on to who they were years ago, and then they gave exactly the same news they gave months ago.

For example, the reported that Israel fought off an Arab attack with the loss of one Jeep and three cantens while destroying eight Arab planes, and in the same skirmish, which the Arabs said the Israelis launched, the Arabs said they destroyed ten Israeli tanks and shot down ten planes.

Then they switched to London where a newscaster in a trench coat standing in the wind outside some building reported a new proposal for peace in the Middle East is being discussed.

In Viet Nam they ran the film of the reporter dodging bullets, falling once more to tell us what was happening to the camera man.

Getting around to the home front, they reported the cost of living went up three-tenths of one percent last month, the stock market fluctuated, another freight train had derailed, Agnew had spoken, there was a riot in Memphis or Los Angeles, I forgot which, more studies are being made to halt inflation, pollution has shown up off the shore of whatever coast it was they had their camera trained on, the urban crisis is still the urban crisis, etc.

It's a fact, The networks are using reruns on their newscasts. All they're changing is the shape of David Brinkley's tie.

There's nothing to the report, is there, that the football leagues aren't going to play this fall, just re-run last season's games?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Exit Sukarno

The death of former Indonesian President Sukarno removes from the scene the Asian leader who almost sold out the world's sixth most populous country to Communism.

Though at 69 he was too old, and too ill, to pose a personal political threat to the present western-oriented government, nevertheless his existence always included the possibility that another leftist group, or a military group, might seize power in his name and attempt to reverse the trend in Indonesia.

The revolution which ousted Sukarno in 1965 was perhaps the most significant western victory in Asia since World War II. An Army coup overturned Sukarno's Communist-leaning regime at that time and since then Sukarno has been under house arrest. Trials of his aides implicated him in the Communist plot to take over the country.

His death removes from the scene an anti-democratic and anti-western force and personality which was to the last a problematical threat to Indonesia's developing western-oriented society.

Regulating Polls

The recent poll fiasco in England, reminiscent of the 1948 U.S. poll fiasco, suggests public opinion polls should be reorganized, to a degree, in the public interest.

Minimums as to the number of citizens questioned need to be established and when such minimums have not been questioned, the exact number quizzed should be a mandatory part of poll reports. In many polls today the polling organizations query only several hundred persons, or perhaps a thousand, or fifteen hundred.

This approach is defended on the theory that these people are representative of the various groups within the country. However, since there is always the likelihood of human error, this small number of selected citizens is obviously not always accurately representative of the population.

Questioning a larger percentage of the electorate would lessen the chance of error and probably prevent fiascos such as that in England in June, when all the polls predicted a Labor win up to the last minute, one swinging over on the last day. The Conservatives scored a solid victory, gaining over sixty seats while Labor lost sixty.

Religious Progress

Americans of all faiths long ago agreed to curb the power of churches over the people, to make religious faith a private liberty and choice of each citizen, and to treat all religions equally. This principle is embodied in the U.S. Constitution and in various state constitutions.

Because of this, and the fact that churches have not held legal power over the people in this country, Americans tend to forget the tragic history of earlier centuries, when religious differences and intolerance meant wars and mass murders, killings on the worst possible scale.

Unfortunately, some of this intolerance lives on in some of the older countries. The Vatican in Italy is still fighting vigorously to keep the Italian Government from taking away its legal authority; its marriage rules are now enforced as if publicly enacted law. The church has also carried on a pressure campaign against the Senate and Chamber of Deputies to keep the government from passing a divorce law. Until now the church has managed to keep Italy from having any divorce law at all, for all faiths!

In Northern Ireland Protestants marching in Dungiven recently were hit by stones and bottles, as were police protecting them, merely because they were marching to their traditional Orange Hall, which was burned to the ground some months ago. In many Latin American countries and in Spain Protestants are harassed, sometimes chased out of the country, as they seek to preach their faith. Some have been killed.

Americans of all faiths regret these bigoted acts, as they do acts against those of any faith. It is proper to mention this abuse of power by churches which gain a monopoly of power, however, because of the tragic cost to the western world of such abuses in the past, to remind us that America can and must set an example to all the world in the field of religious democracy.
