THE BABY SHOW

Last Wednesday night about 300 of Sanderson's citizens gathered at the Princess Theater to see the "Baby Show" that had been advertised for several days previous. More than 50 different pictures of the "cutest" babies in our little city were thrown on the screen, and their winsome smiles and quaint poses created quite a lot of fun and amusement among the vast audience. There were three prizes offered, first, second, and third. The first prize was a large handsome doll given by the Kerr Mercantile Co. The second prize was a silver child's set given by Max Bogusch. The third prize was a pass good for an entire family for 15 days admission to the Princess theater. Each baby picture thrown on the screen was numbered. A card was given to each person as they entered the theater and on this card you placed the number of the baby whom you wished to vote for. The cards were then collected and counted and the prize winners announced. The big crowd declared by their votes that David Paul Howard, aged 2 years and four months, was the prettiest baby in Sanderson; and Lurline Mussey, aged 10 years and six months, was the second prettiest baby; and Pat D. Lowry, aged 23 months, was the third prettiest baby in town.

Evidently most all of the pictures shown must have been those of girl babies, because they were all pretty. However boys might be pretty when they are small.

During the show a group picture of the bewitching Camp Fire Girls standing in front of their little Minnehaha Cottage on Blizzard Heights, was thrown on the screen. A number of young men in the audience wanted to cast their votes for these "beauties" but the manager wouldn't allow it.

BUCK-McLYMONT

On Sunday evening, December 24, 1922, Miss Kathleen Buck and Vance McLymont sprung a surprise on their many friends by getting married. The ceremony took place at five o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caldwell, Judge G. J. Henshaw tying the nuptial knot.

The bride is the lovely and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Buck, and has held a position with the Sanderson Drug Company for the past year. Her sunny disposition and friendliness won their way into the hearts of a large circle of admiring friends and she was very popular in the social life of the town.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McLymont, proprietors of the Sanderson Drug Co. For the past year he has been working for the J. M. Bassett Ranch Company, but at present is employed on the Pyle ranch near Longfellow. He is a young man of sterling quality, steady habits, and has a large number of friends.

The Sanderson Times joins with a host of friends in wishing the happy couple a long and joyous married life.

MORGAN-DYER

Miss Marie Morgan and Russell Dyer were united in marriage on December 1, 1922. The wedding took place at the home of the bride, 36 West 55th street, New York City, New York. The ceremony was performed at three o'clock in the evening.

Russell Dyer is a Sanderson boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dyer, prominent Terrell county citizens. Russell enlisted in the Navy during the world war and was stationed a part of the time near New York City, and it was during this period that he met and became acquainted with Miss Morgan. A friendship sprang up between them. After the war Russell came home and spent a few months and then went East and re-enlisted in the Navy. He again met Miss Morgan and their friendship was re-nued. This friendship soon ripened into love and they were married on December 1. Russell has a large number of friends in Sanderson and Terrell county who wish him every happiness.

The bride is a lovely young lady belonging to a well liked and prominent family of New York, where she has a host of friends.

The Sanderson Times joins friends in extending congratulations to the happy pair.

WEDDING BELLS.

On last Sunday evening, December 31, 1922, William C. Steele and Miss Minnie Farley were united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Judge G. J. Henshaw officiating. The marriage took place at the pump house at six o'clock.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Farley. For the past year she has held a clerkship in the grocery store of her uncle, W. H. Farley, where her accommodating manner and cheerful disposition have won her scores of friends.

The groom is a native of Scotland. He has been in Sanderson about one year and during that period he has been in the employ of the G. H. & S. A. Railway Co., as pumper. He is a young man of very industrious and steady habits and has won his way into a large circle of friends in Sanderson.

The Times joins a number of friends in extending congratulations to the happy young couple and wishing them a long and joyous wedded life.

H. L. Duke, who was hurt here about a month ago while switching in the yards here, spent several days the past week with his sister, Mrs. M. O. Edmiston of this place. Quite a lot of cotton has been sold at Gonzales recently, local buyers taking several hundred bales this week, since the price climbed back to a 23c basis.

A movement toward the holding of an election for the amendment of the city charter to provide for the adoption of flood prevention measures by the city of San Antonio has been started.

Figures just issued by the department of commerce reveal that prior to Dec. 1, 1918 bales of cotton were ginned in Victoria County from the 1922 crop, as compared with 3,941 bales ginned during the same period last year.

There will be no interruption in the work of eradicating cattle fever ticks in Milam County, according to an order issued by the commissioners court. A very strong protest was made by those opposing the dipping of cattle over the county.

The McKinney-Shreveport branch of the Missouri-Kansas Texas railroad was sold at Greenville Saturday to representatives of Cook & Nathan, investment brokers of New York. The price was $700,000, the minimum bid fixed by the federal court which ordered the line sold.

Bell County gins had disposed of 39,892 bales of the 1922 crop up to Dec. 1, according to government reports. This compares with 28,166 for the same period of 1921 and represents a gain of 11,726 bales or 41 per cent. The excess represents a monetary value of $1,250,000.

The Marshall, Elysian Fields and Southeastern Railway Company has been authorized by the railroad commission to adopt a rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds, less than cartloads, on classes 1 to 4, applying between points on that road. This rate became effective on December 15.

Galveston customs district came within $200,000 of handling one-fifth of the total exports from the United States during the month of October, according to statistics just received from the department of commerce. Exports from the entire country during October aggregated $370,720,154, of which $74,195,968 moved through Galveston and her suburbs.

Approval for the construction of thirty-six miles of road in Liberty County, to be known as Texas federal aid project No. 152, was granted by the bureau of public roads at Fort Worth. It was announced by A. R. Losh, district engineer. This road will be a graded earth road, and with drainage structures will cost $29,760, of which $100,000 will be federal aid.

The International-Great Northern Railway Company has been authorized by the railroad commission to continue in force to July 1, special low rates on stone, sand and gravel, when used for municipal purposes. The rate and points at which it applies are crushed stone from Dittlinger and New Braunfels, 7 cents per 100 pounds; sand and gravel from Austin, 6.5 cents; gravel from Martin, 5.5 cents.

The Southern Pacific Company has this week placed a large crew of men and equipment in the sidings at Columbus. Their work will consist of driving piling and the construction of protection against the washing of the high banks on the east bank near the river bridge. It is planned to build the deflectors so as to divert the water from the banks and to turn it into the center of the river and thus enable the railroad company to construct a new bridge, leaving the old one high and dry.

A new telephone line will be built from Columbus to the "Lausby Community," a distance of 15 miles.

That registrations of motor vehicles in Texas will reach 530,000 this year is predicted by the state highway department. This will mean an increase of approximately 60,000 over last year's total. Motorcycles to the number of 3,372 have been registered. Chauffeurs' licenses numbered 13,533.

An average of two persons a month have been killed on the paved highway between Electra and Wichita Falls since the thoroughfare was opened last January, according to Dr. R. E. Weller. Dr. Weller's records show that twenty-four lives have been lost on the road. According to Dr. Weller, at least 300 automobiles have been wrecked on the highway. Most of the mishaps occurred for some time near Iowa Park, where the road makes two sharp curves. Recently, however, most of the accidents have been on straight stretches of road.

Bodies of Aviators Are Found in Desert

San Francisco.—The charred bodies of the missing aviators, Colonel Francis N. Marshall and Lieutenant Charles Webber, have been found in the Pablo canyon reservations about 75 miles southwest of Tucson, Ariz., the Southern Pacific railroad officials at San Francisco advised Friday in dispatches from Tucson.

An Indian cowboy, the advices stated, came upon the bodies near what is known as Indian Oasis. The bodies lay in the wreckage of the flyers' airplane. It is not known whether Colonel Marshall and Lieutenant Webber were killed when they crashed or burned to death afterward.

The message to the Southern Pacific said: "Some cowboy found those two aviators near Indian Oasis. Both apparently were burned to death, about 75 miles south of Tucson on Papago reservation. No railroad there. It is on a wagon track. Suppose airplane fell to ground and aviators burned to death."

Colonel Francis Marshall, attached to the staff of the chief of cavalry at Washington and a brigadier general who served with distinction in the world war, and Lieutenant Charles L. Webber, of the air service, left San Diego at 1:15 o'clock Thursday, December 7, for a flight to Fort Huachuca, near Tucson, Ariz. Colonel Marshall had been on an inspection tour of cavalry camps throughout the country and had used airplanes extensively on this mission. He commanded a brigade of the first and second divisions in France from 1917 to 1919 and received the croix de guerre with palm for distinguished services.

Lieutenant Webber was an experienced cross-country pilot and was instructed to report by wire on his arrival at Fort Huachuca. Webber was 27 year old and a native of Denver, Colo., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Webber, now reside. Webber entered the aviation school at Berkeley, Cal., in 1917 and was commissioned at Mount Clemens, Mich., in 1918. He served two years in the Philippines.

NEFF SIGNS RULING ON STOCK CAR MOVEMENT

Austin, Tex.—Governor Neff Friday signed a proclamation adopting supplemental rules and regulations prescribed by the state live stock sanitary commission governing the movement of cattle and the use and movement of stock cars, to become effective January 1, 1923.

One principal change is to designate Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio as the places in Texas where "Southern" or exposed cattle may be shipped for dipping when destined to points in a clean county in infected territory. The rules provide that the cattle may not be driven across a county into a clean county without notice and without certificates. This is to protect clean pastures and places in infected territory or zones.

An important change in the rules governing the use and movement of cars is to provide that "Southern" or cars exposed to tick infection can be cleaned only at Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio, where federal supervision is maintained for cleaning and disinfecting cars as well as dipping cattle.

EXPERIMENTS FOR GROWING OF SUGAR BEET IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Tex.—The work of obtaining an acclimated sugar beet with a high per cent of sucrose and the determination of the best season for planting in Texas, according to H. M. Means, county agricultural agent, gives promise of profitable cultivation of the sugar beet on thousands of acres in the state.

"Factors in the growth of the sugar beet are warm days and cool nights," Mr. Means said, "and in most farming sections of the state beets of commercial purity and sugar content may be grown within a few years."

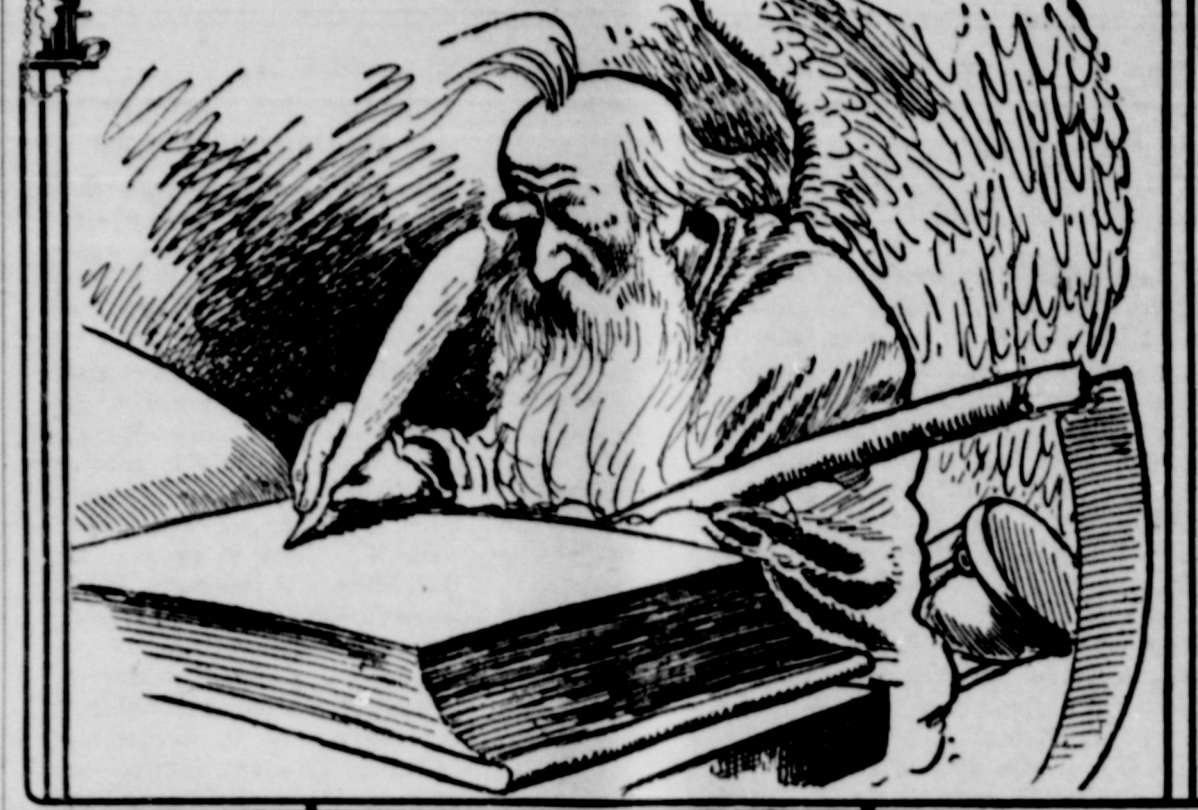

For the last three years Mr. Means has been conducting experiments on a small plot of ground in Riverside and has sent several samples to Washington for analysis. The seed used were obtained through the United States department of agriculture and were produced at a government station in Michigan. It will be some time yet before the experiments are concluded and an acclimated variety best fitted to Texas is obtained, Mr. Means pointed out.

Dedicate Shaft to Storm Dead.

Corpus Christi, Tex.—The American Red Cross will send representatives to Corpus Christi for the dedication of the monument erected a few weeks ago in memory of the unidentified dead who lost their lives in the September 14, 1919, storm.

Commissioners Renominated. Washington.—President Harding today renominated Interstate Commerce Commissioners Charles C. McCord of Kentucky and Joseph B. Eastman of Massachusetts, whose terms expire

"Good-Bye, Old Year!"

GOOD-BYE, Old Year!—the fickle World
Pursues another Flame,
And Time—the ruthless, changing Time—
Will now erase your name.

And yet your younger rival with
His aspect bright and new
Is but an unred version of
The hopes we had in you.

The apple-blossoms of his Spring,
The little seeds that lie
Deep buried in the Heart of Earth,
Will live again—and die.

He, too, will give the warmth of Sun,
And days of slanting rain,
As he deals out our yearly share
Of happiness and pain.

The big round moon and silver stars
That lighted up your skies
Will shine upon as many loves
In just as many eyes.

And he will bring the fragrant June
When crimson roses nod,
And hurry through the Summertime
To flaunt the goldenrod.

The painted pathway of his Fall
Will be with clouds o'ercast,
Because his Winter footsteps reach
The Portal you have passed.

Good-bye, Old Year!—we loved you well;
We found your treasures dear,
But you have died as monarchs die—
And so—Long live the Year!

—Non Terrell Reed, in N. Y. Times

NEW YEAR'S EVE

Customs and Their Origin; Happenings of Long Ago.

All Peoples Have Ways of Amusing Themselves on Special Occasions and at Fixed Seasons.

AN OLD philosopher, who was none the less a philosopher for his constant and close observation of men, remarked that we can best judge men's temperaments and ideals by watching them at their work and at their play. A keen observer would have very little difficulty in judging Americans by their work. One such has aptly called this country "The Land of the Strenuous Life." Even our sports partake so much of this strenuousness that the medical profession is beginning to warn us of overindulgence in the more violent forms of athletics.

But all peoples have ways of amusing themselves on special occasions and at fixed seasons after a manner so well established that it has come to be regarded a kind of ritual, says the New York Herald. This has come down to us from the ages when our forebears first pushed their way out of the dry tablelands of civilization. Even the mighty power of the churches has not been able to brush aside some practices that have their roots deep in paganism.

Old Customs That Continue.

Probably after Halloween and Christmas there is no festival of the year so glibly about with long-established customs as New Year's day. Among the best known of these are the auguries drawn from what was called the "Candlemas bull." In Scotland and other northern countries the term Candlemas, given to this season of the year, is supposed to have had its origin in religious ceremonies performed by candle light. The candles used were very large and highly ornamented, and were brought in at the midnight hour to the assembled guests, who, since the falling of dusk, had been drinking freely of the wassail bowl. Then, in procession, they marched out into the night, and to their imaginations the passing clouds assumed the shape of a bull. From the rise and fall and general motions of these clouds the seer foretold good or bad weather. Sometimes, too, auguries for the future were gathered from the state of the atmosphere on New Year's Eve, and also from the force and character of the wind.

In the imagination of most primitive peoples, especially those of the North, who were forced to battle against the elements of nature for life and sustenance, the eyes of great feasts were considered occasions when the spirits of good and evil were in deadly conflict. The moment of midnight on New Year's Eve was always considered a time of special activity for the spirits of evil. In order to overcome them holier and more powerful influences had to be invoked. The evil spirits, or gents, as can be gathered from the Icelandic and Anglo-Saxon folklore, and even from words in their dialect, could be overcome by an appeal to the good gent, the hognmen, or hilmenn.

Probably imported from Italy was the superstition that on New Year's Eve the "evil eye" was all the more malignant. Then, too, there was a widespread practice of the "setting of mete or drynke by nights on the benches to fede Allohde or Gobyln." In some of the dialogues of the famous medieval morality play, "Dives and Pauper," we find mention of this and many other New Year's customs intended to counteract the activities of the forces of evil.

Perhaps what contributed most to this general fear of sinister influences was the deep drinking among the people, which continued almost unintermittently from Christmas until New Year's day. Up to the ninth century, except in the Syrian and Coptic churches, New Year's was not celebrated as a special feast day, but was looked upon as merely the octave of Christmas. Therefore the Christmas cheer was continued throughout the entire octave without abatement. It flickered up for the last time on New Year's day, as is clear from the one hundred and ninety-eighth sermon of Augustine, bishop of Hippo.

In England on New Year's the young women went about carrying the "wassail bowl" and singing from door to door certain verses—a custom which had much in common with the hokmanny practice in Scotland. Her pint, the strange brew which in that country was carried about in the streets at midnight, was composed of ale, spirits, sugar, nutmeg or cinnamon. It was a powerful potion, the effects of which were almost immediately evident. Ritson in a collection of ancient songs gives us a few sung to the quaffing of this "prince of liquors, old or new." One such is:

A jolly wassail bowl,
A wassail of good ale,
Well fare the butler's soul
That setteth this to sale;
Out jolly wassail!

Notwithstanding the opposition which it has met since the year 1811, when many abuses were discovered in the practice, the custom of hurrying first across the threshold of his sweetheart has been practiced by many a young lad in Anglo-Saxon countries. The young lady listened attentively from the time the midnight bells ceased to ring to catch the first footfall on the floor.

The welfare of the family, particularly the fairer portion of it, was supposed to depend upon the character of the first corner after the midnight hour had sounded. Great care was taken to exclude all improper persons, especially as the midnight intruder enjoyed the privilege of imprinting a "hearty kiss" on the lips of the expectant lassie.

Bestowing Gifts.

The custom of bestowing gifts has become so inextricably linked with the New Year's celebrations in Paris that New Year's day is still called the Jour d'Etrennes. This custom seems to have had its rise in the conduct of the nobles of the late Middle Ages, who were in the habit of bestowing gifts upon their sovereign. Naturally the ruler, not wishing to remain under obligations to them, returned the gift in a princely fashion. In England, however, especially in the time of Queen Elizabeth, this custom became so burdensome that it occasioned general protest among the nobles. "Good Queen Bess" was not slow to indicate just what kind of gifts she expected, or rather exacted. She let it be known also what consequences would follow the withholding of the jewels and the silks which she looked for at the hands of her subjects. She was so niggardly in her own gifts that we can understand how the custom fell into disuse and in the time of George IV was abandoned.

The giving of gifts was also very common among the people. On Christmas, and often on St. Stephen's day, employers, parents and masters presented Christmas boxes to their dependents. It was a form of Christmas charity. On New Year's day, however, gifts were exchanged between friends and acquaintances as a sign of good will. This custom, perhaps, had its origin in the box which was taken aboard every vessel that sailed out of port during the octave of Christmas and which was not to be opened until the return of the vessel. Contributions were to be dropped into this box, large or small, according as the day had been propitious or otherwise. The person to whom the contents of the box were given was supposed to have a mass said for the mariners who had made the gift. Hence the name of "Christmas boxes," which were given up to and including New Year's day. Each one of these days became known as "boxing day."

JANUARY FIRST DRAWS NEAR.

The light and airy manner he had some weeks ago Has passed from him completely. His heart is filled with woe, For that day is approaching He great dreads to see, When Friend Wife will remind him Of promises that he Has made—those resolutions That will be hard to keep, Requiring such an effort, 'T would make an angel weep.

NAVY BILL PASSES HOUSE.

Washington.—The naval appropriation bill carrying a request that the president negotiate with foreign powers relative to limiting the construction of war craft under 10,000 tons was passed Tuesday by the house.

The bill, which carries a total of $225,000,000, stood up precisely as framed by Chairman Kelly's subcommittee and provides for an enlisted naval force of 86,000, the same as fixed last year.

There was a flurry of talk over the provision under which the president is asked to negotiate with Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, but in the end an effort to change the language was dropped in the face of overwhelming opposition to any alteration whatever.

As the house was ready to pass the bill, Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, sought to have it recommitted for the purpose of inserting a provision permitting the use of time measuring devices at navy yards, but it was defeated, 238 to 6.

Mexican Boundary Commission.

Washington.—The conference report on the state and justice appropriation bill adopted Wednesday gives $25,912 for work of the Mexican boundary commission and permits the employment of a civilian engineer in place of having one assigned from the army.

New Center Homes.

Center, Tex.—There are more new homes in Center than for many years past. Ten new ones are now under construction of an approximate value of $65,000, and contracts for several more are closed.

Postmasters for Texas Towns.

Washington. Texas postmasters nominated: James S. Mewhinney, Buc Holtz; Lou Gammill, Calvert; Rebecca White, Carbon; Joseph Wren, Normangee; Gustave Natho, Skidmore; Mary A. Haskell, Stockdale.

President of University Dies.

Berkeley, Cal.—W. T. Reid, former president of the University of California, died Sunday.

New Orleans Rice Market.

New Orleans, La.—While a holiday spirit pervaded the rice market Friday, the price of Blue Rose held firm at 4 1/2c for the top price and there were 2,550 pockets sold at 3 7/8@4 1/2c. There were very few inquiries however, and the receipts of clean rice were only 6,291 pockets. Mills are nearly all closed or operating on part time. With the slack demand for clean, they are not taking any large quantities of rough. Receipts of rough were 2,300 sacks, all for mills.

Merchant Now Eats Anything on Table

"By the help of Tanlac I have overcome a case of nervous indigestion I had suffered from for ten or twelve years." is the emphatic statement of Norman W. Brown, well-known wall paper and paint dealer, of 213 N. Cedar St., Charlotte, N. C.

"My stomach was always out of fix and everything disagreed with me. I was troubled with heartburn and dizziness, and at times there was a pressure of gas around my heart that almost cut off my breath.

"Since taking Tanlac my digestion is fine. My appetite is a wonder and I eat just anything I want. In fact, my stomach acts and feels just like a new one and my nerves are as steady as a die. To put it all in a few words, I am just the same as a new man. It's a pleasure for me to tell my friends about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. —Advertisement.

Foolish Advice.

The man had skidded on the slippery bridge and gone over into the river, crashing through the ice. A passerby noticed him floundering around in the chilly water and shouted: "Keep cool and I'll save you!" "Well," chattered the victim, "if I was as sure of your being able to save me as I am of my keeping cool I would quit saying my prayers this minute."

NEW GARAGE DEDICATED

The new Ferguson garage building was dedicated on Friday night, December 23, with a big dance given by the "Melody Boys." Admission was free to everybody and only a nominal sum was collected from the gentlemen who danced in order to pay for the music. A very large crowd was out, the capacity of the big room being almost taxed to the utmost to accommodate the big audience and the dancers. Music was furnished by the "Melody Boys," Mulkey, Lowry, and Wheaton, on the piano, drums and violin. Every one had a good time.

Trainload of Mennonites

A solid trainload of Mennonites stopped off in Sanderson for several hours, Sunday December 24th. The train was made up of one day coach and three Canadian Pacific sleepers built in a combination fashion with one end for women and the other for men, and nineteen freight cars loaded with farming tools, work stock, chickens, etc. The Mennonites left Canada on Sunday, December 17, and they said that there was four feet of snow on the ground and the thermometer 20 degrees below zero at the time they left. These people were enroute to the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, where they have purchased a large tract of land and will engage in the farming business. Very few of the men or women could talk any English, but those that could talk it were very free to converse. They said that there had been a very large flow of their race from Canada to Mexico during the past year. One reason of this migration, they said, was because of their religious belief and rules of living, both of which were obnoxious to the Canadian Government.

Building Addition to Store

On Tuesday, January 2, the Roach McLymont Co., broke ground for the building of a large addition to their store building in Del Rio. This new addition will be 75 feet wide and 120 feet deep.

This enterprising firm has for some time felt that their growing business needed more space and that it would be desirable to remodel the store to embody the most up-to-date and modern ideas in department store arrangement. When all these remodeling arrangements have been carried out and the new addition has been completed, it will give the Roach McLymont Co., one of the most modern and best equipped department stores in Texas.

The business of this firm has been steadily growing for the past several years until now their trade territory extends over a radius that embraces more than ten counties in south and west Texas. The members of this firm say that their wonderful success is, in a large measure, due to their system of constant advertising in country newspapers.
