

THE SANDERSON TIMES

Volume 17

Sanderson, Texas, Saturday, April 5, 1924

No. 8

SANDERSON MARKET

TIP FRAZIER, PROP.

Fresh Meats, Fruits, Vegetables.

Fish and Oysters in Season.

YOUR BUSINESS APPRECIATED

Phone 94.

Notice to Truck Drivers

Beginning April 1st, to all Licensed Truck Drivers Who Haul Freight We Will Make a 2c Reduction per Gallon on Gasoline For Cash.

Keefe Filling Station.

W. E. STIRMAN

Dealer in

WOOD and COAL

Will receive a car Dawson Coal in a few days.
$14.00 per Ton off the car.

Drayage.
Phone No. 2

Store Room.
Sanderson, Texas.

LEMONS & HENSHAW, ABSTRACTORS

Terrell County Lands

Lands Sold Property Rendered Abstracts Examined and Titles Passed Upon By an Efficient and Reliable Attorney. Office with County Clerk, Sanderson, Texas.

G. J. Henshaw, Mgr.

Ora E. Lemons, Sec'y

JUST RECEIVED A

CAR LOAD

1924 Model

FORDS

W. J. FERGUSON

--MONEY SAVED--

Each month makes a big saving at the end of the year. That's why it pays to buy from us.

We handle everything in the general merchandise line.

SANDERSON MERCANTILE CO.

School Election Today, April 5th

An election for one member of the school board will be held in this city today, April 5th. The election will be held in the Court House in Precinct No. 1. The polls open at 8 o'clock a. m. and will remain open until 6 o'clock p. m.

SCREEN STAR WILL STOP AT SANDERSON

A special train representing a number of Chamber of Commerce of Southern California with Barbara La Marr the beautiful screen star, Pearl Dules Bell author and writer, members of Miss La Marr's company, and many other prominent people of Southern California will arrive in Sanderson Monday evening, April 7th, as second No. 102.

Miss La Marr will present autographed photos of herself to the people at the train and she will also make a personal appearance.

J. Q. HENRY ENTERS DISTRICT JUDGE'S RACE

District Attorney J. Q. Henry, of Del Rio, announces this week as a candidate for district judge of the 63rd Judicial District, subject to the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Henry served in Val Verde county six years as county attorney, four years as county judge and is now serving his third term as district attorney of this district and that this service in all of these capacities has fully qualified him to fill the important office of district judge and to discharge fairly and impartially its many duties. He states that careful consideration of his candidacy should be given and assure each and every voter, if elected, his conduct and administration of the office will be such that the citizens will never have cause to regret their action.

"Human Wreckman," a staggering photodramatic drug expose that is thrilling the heart of the world.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Joe Kerr to R. Caldwell, warranty deed, lots 7 and 8, block 125, Wilson addition to Sanderson; consideration $275.

Joe Kerr to C. H. Mulkey, warranty deed, lots 5 and 6, in Block 125, Wilson addition to Sanderson; consideration $200.

James Kerr to Max Bogusch, warranty deed, north half lots 7 and 8, block 105, Wilson addition to Sanderson; consideration $275.

Joe Kerr to Marcelina B. Barrera, warranty deed, lot 15, block 120, Wilson addition to Sanderson; consideration $100.

F. H. Young to R. B. Mussey, warranty deed, lot 16, block 1, Young addition to Sanderson; consideration $350.

James Kerr to W. Crittenden, warranty deed, lot 7, block 25, front on Oak St.; consideration $500.

Joe Kerr to Max Bogusch, warranty deed, lots 4, 5, 6, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16, block 118, Wilson addition to Sanderson; consideration $875.

Russell Estate shipped 20 cars cattle Thursday to Blackland, Okla., via Southern Pacific to Sherman, Texas, and from there over the Frisco. The train left Sanderson Thursday, at 7 p. m. and arrived in San Antonio Friday at 7 a. m.

Judge Joseph Jones of Del Rio was in the city Wednesday on legal business.

S. P. FOREIGN AGENTS STOP IN SANDERSON

Foreign representatives of the Southern Pacific Lines arrived in Sanderson Monday evening and left Tuesday morning for El Paso; they were accompanied by L. H. Nutting, general agent in charge of the European department, and W. C. McCormick, general passenger agent with headquarters in Houston.

The tour was planned by L. J. Spence, traffic director of New York, who seeks to acquaint the foreign agents with the several cities along the Southern Pacific Lines, that they may advise patrons in their respective jurisdictions.

The representatives were as follows: Victor Mylrea, Liverpool; M. Merello, Genoa, Italy; R. G. Benson, London; Henri Besmidt, Paris; F. M. Giralt, Havana, Cuba, and George Ruhr, Hamburg.

HUMAN WRECKAGE

Physicians, Ministers, Board of Education, Parent Teachers' Association, Clubs, Fraternal Organizations, Women's Clubs and Parents are urged to see "HUMAN WRECKAGE," at the Princess Theater next Monday and Tuesday, to help stamp out the colossal narcotic evil. It is by this means Mrs. Wallace Reid made this picture by putting before the people, the stark gruesome truth—that the narcotic evil can be conquered.

Managers.

Track Meet

A track meet will be held about the middle of next week, the exact date will be announced later. Following will probably go to Alpine April 19th for the district

TRACK
100 yd. dash, Minton White; 1 mi. run, Hays Cavender; 50 yd. dash, Rufus McDonald; 440 yd. dash, Rufus McDonald and Wallace Henshaw; 220 yd. dash, Minton White; 880 yd. dash, Wallace Henshaw; 1 mi. relay, Walter Grishy, R. McDonald, Wallace Henshaw, Hays Cavender, Tom Williams and Malone Mitchell; high hurdles, Minton White.

FIELD
Broad jump, Minton, Rufe Wallace and Tom; shot put, Duffy and Tom; discus, Hays, Tom and Duff; high jump, Minton and Tom

TENNIS
Double: Tom, Minton and Walter, Malone; singles, Tom, Walter and Malone.

Girls tennis: doubles, Lolette Lemons and Grace Martin; singles, Lolette Lemons.

—You'll never forget Mrs. Wallace Reid in "Human Wreckage."

Miss Alene Beck and Mrs. Bertha Ferris of Marathon spent the week-end in Sanderson visiting friends.

The infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. VanZandt died Sunday morning after a few hours of life.

Your clothes will always look neat and clean if you have them pressed and cleaned at the Royal Tailor Shop. Phone No. 6, and we will call for your package and deliver when finished.

Henry Gates is able to be out again after a three-weeks seige of the grippe, accompanied by a painful rising in his ear.

Mrs. Tom Hollebeke left Friday for Valentine where she will visit friends and relatives.

JUDGE JONES ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

Judge Joseph Jones, of Del Rio, announces in this issue of the Times as a candidate for re-election to the office of district judge of the 63rd Judicial District.

Judge Jones has held this office since December 1st, 1915. He was licensed to practice law on September 5th, 1883 at Eagle Pass, Texas, and has been in active practice ever since. He has been a pioneer of this section nearly all his life and as he is so well known to the citizens of Terrell county no further introduction need be given and he states all support given him by the men and women voters will be highly appreciated.

TO OUR FRIENDS

It is at such a time as this that words fail to express the feeling of the heart. We feel obligated to our many friends who were so kind and thoughtful during the illness of my wife and death of our little baby.

Your words of condolence and sympathy and the beautiful floral offering made the sorrow lighter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. VanZandt.

J. R. Smith, representative of the Firth-Sterling Steel Co. of Pittsburg was a business visitor in the city last Saturday.

PRESTAGE

A Checking Account carried with this institution, furnishes a basis for confidence which can not be obtained so satisfactorily in any other way.

The Sanderson State Bank has a well established reputation as a conservative yet progressive bank, and any one who receives a check drawn on it, knows that your banking connections are of the best, and this in itself adds to your prestige.

We cordially invite your Checking Account, large or small.

SANDERSON STATE BANK

A Guaranty Fund Bank.

GROCERIES

Fruits, Vegetables, Ham, Bacon.

YOUR TRADE SOLICITED
W. H. FARLEY

CITY BARBER SHOP

and BATHS

FIRST CLASS SERVICE

We Carry Everything Handled In A General Store

DRY GOODS

The Season's New and Best Styles

DRESS GOODS,
MEN'S SUITS,
HATS, CAPS,
BOOTS AND SHOES.

GROCERIES

We Have Everything That's Good to Eat

Canned Vegetables and Fruits,
Jellies, Jams,
Teas and Coffee.

HARDWARE

We Are Headquarters for

Hardware, Oil, Paints
Stoves, Pipe Fittings,
Wire, Nails,
Studebaker Wagons

FURNITURE

We Have a Nice Line of

Chairs, Rockers, Tables,
Dressers, Beds,
Springs and Mattresses.

LUMBER

Anything You Want in Building Material, Sash

Doors, Cement, Lime

Brick, Roofing,
Fencing.

THE KERR MERC. COMPANY

CALUMET

The Greatest Baking Powder

35 years of un-failing service on bake-day has made CALUMET

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

Retains its great leavening strength in every climate to the very last spoonful. Always dependable and pure.

Sales 2 1/2 times as much as that of any other brand

BEST BY TEST

Free! Free! Free!

New Wall Paper Catalogue

Fix up your home nicely, but inexpensively. Free catalogue, showing wall paper from 1c per single roll up. Satisfaction or money back. Write today—FREE CATALOGUE

N. Y. Wall Paper Store
Beaumont, Houston, Dallas, Ft. Worth

Cautious Porter

The lordling had just arrived at the tiny North Wales railway station, and John Evans Jones, the porter, had dragged from the guard's van a store of luggage, which included several portmanteaux, a camera, fishing tackle and golf clubs and a particularly ferocious bulldog.

"Aw, portah," commanded his lordship, "just put—aw—my portmanteaux, camera, etcetera, on a cub."

John Evans Jones surveyed the bulldog dubiously.

"Yes, sir," he said slowly. "Er—the etcetera won't bite, will be, sir?"

Take It at Night Makes Morning Bright

St. Joseph's LIVER REGULATOR
for BLOOD-LIVER-KIDNEYS
The BIG 25¢ CAN

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

Alleviates irritation, soothes and heals throat and lung inflammation. The constant irritation of a cough keeps the delicate mucous membrane of the throat and lungs in a congested condition, which BOSCHEE'S SYRUP gently and quickly heals. For this reason it has been a favorite household remedy for colds, coughs, bronchitis and especially for lung troubles in millions of homes all over the world for the last fifty-seven years, enabling the patient to obtain a good night's rest, free from coughing with easy expectoration in the morning. You can buy BOSCHEE'S SYRUP wherever medicines are sold.

RUB YOUR EYES?
The Dr. Thompson's Eye-water.
Solely at your druggist's or 100 Bloor, York N. W. England.

W. N. U., HOUSTON, NO. 14-1924.

PITCHERS MUST GET BREAKS TO SUCCEED

Winner of 25 Games in One Year Is Very Lucky.

The showing of Ed Rommel in winning 27 games for a club that finished seventh in the American league is one of the greatest pitching feats ever recorded.

Any time a major league pitcher wins 25 games or more, he must not only pitch good ball but he must also be favored by the breaks. It seems the good pitchers usually get the breaks.

Good pitchers are often called on by their manager in a pinch. When there is a chance of winning a game for holding a lead, the star pitcher invariably is called upon.

That was the case with Rommel last year. With the score tied and the pitcher wavering, he having been removed for a pinch hitter, Rommel was the man Mack always called upon.

In perhaps 9 of the 27 victories scored by Rommel, he was returned the victor in games in which he pitched only from one to three innings.

If the Athletics tied the score in the eighth or ninth, Rommel would be the choice for relief work, and on many occasions the Athletics would go right out and get the winning run for Ed in the very next inning, which, of course, would give him credit for the victory.

Of course, when a pitcher takes up a tie game he has the same chance to lose or win, and is deserving of the credit for the game, considering it is a 50-50 proposition. However, one gets a big break when time after time the margin falls on their side. Rommel was blessed with that good fortune last year; otherwise he never would have been able to win 27 games with a seventh-place club.

Sporting Squibs

Japan is planning the formation of a national golf association.

F. S. Appleby holds the amateur billiard championship of the United States.

Ohio State has asked Oxford university of England to send a team to its relay meet.

Arne Borg, the Swedish swimmer, lowered the swimming record for a quarter of a mile to 5:11.

The highest run ever made in pool, with one ball always on the table, is 100—made by Ralph Greenleaf in 1922.

The recent championship series between Cleveland and St. Paul hockey teams in the former city played to capacity crowds.

Carroll Ebright, formerly of the University of Washington, has assumed the duties of head coach of the University of California crew.

It is surprising how many golfers can make themselves believe that the trouble with their game is the small size of the golf ball, when the real trouble is the large size of the opinion of their own ability.

Bob Moore is a coming sprinter. In the recent junior national A. A. U. two-mile run at Buffalo, Moore, Columbia university star, set a new record for the event at 9:33 1/5, thus lifting himself to stardom.

China may appear in the role of a Davis Cup challenger for 1924. Chinese athletic authorities have asked detailed information about international team championship competition and challenging procedure.

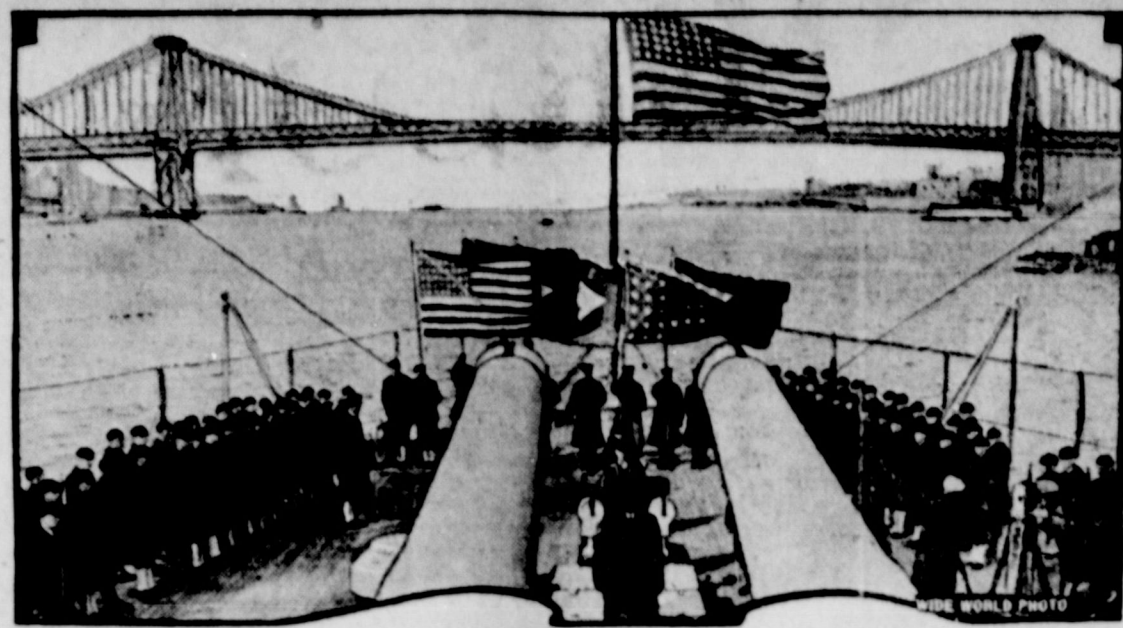

The high cost of golf in a few places has been solved and "25¢ a year golf" has been established as a practical institution. It should be remembered, however, that this does not include the cost of lost golf balls.

Crowding Eddie Collins

John Clifford Happeny, infielder of the Chicago White Sox, former college all-around athlete, is now trying to crowd Eddie Collins out of his second-base position. His career is interesting, as he dropped from the college diamond into professional ball. He was a student at Massachusetts Tech and the University of Illinois.

Battleship Colorado Entertains Governor Sweet

This unusual photograph snapped aboard the U. S. S. Colorado in the Brooklyn navy yard was made on the occasion of a visit to the dreadnaught by Governor Sweet of Colorado. The men are shown lined up at attention and beneath the 16-inch guns are Governor and Mrs. Sweet.

RICH BUT STILL SING

Neill (below) and Sara Kounds, who are still happily singing in the "two-a-day" vaudeville though they have inherited $4,000,000 from their father, the late Charles W. Kounds, former president of the Santa Fe railway.

BRAVEST FIRE FIGHTER

Jimmie McConnell, veteran Kansas City fireman, who has been declared "The Bravest of the Fire Fighting Braves" by a committee of awards of the National Safety council. McConnell is still active.

SHOWING ORIGINALITY

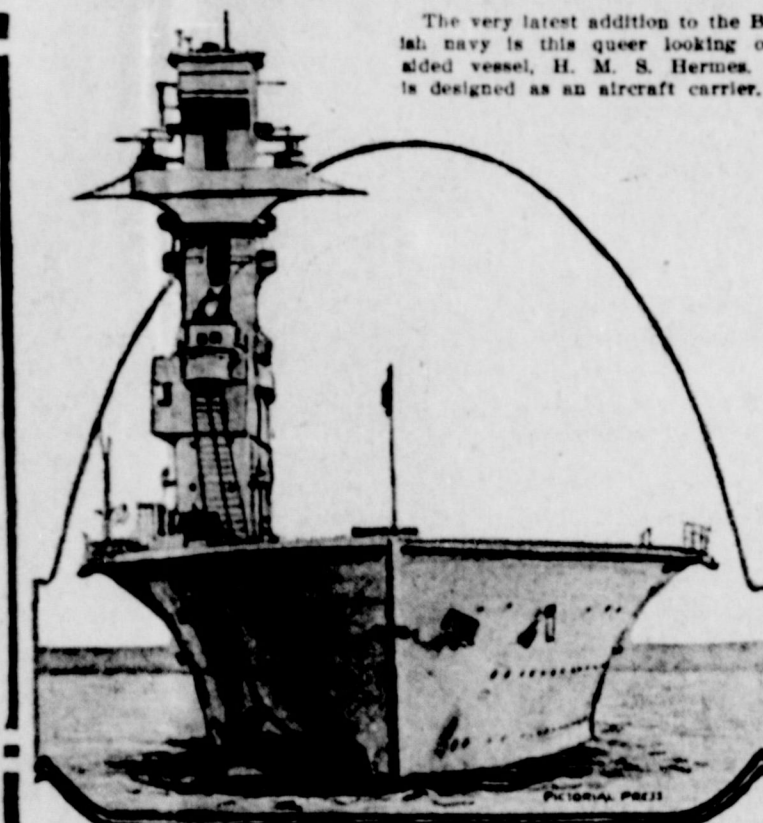

Miss Grace Everest, who has been voted the most original girl at Brenau college, Atlanta, Ga., in an interpretation of the Darwinian theory.

Leipzig Fair Attracts Crowds

This view of Peter street in Leipzig during the annual manufacturers' fair held there indicates the revival of industry in Germany.

British Navy Has Queer New Ship

The very latest addition to the British navy is this queer looking one-sided vessel, H. M. S. Hermes. It is designed as an aircraft carrier.

Arapahoes Make Bullard a Chief

Arapahoe Indians from Wyoming, on their way home from England, visited Governors Island and made Gen. Robert Lee Bullard a chief. He is here seen in his war bonnet shaking hands with Chief Go-in-the-Lodge.

WOMEN CAN DYE ANY GARMENT, DRAPERY

Dye or Tint Worn, Faded Things New for 15 Cents.

Don't wonder whether you can dye or tint successfully, because perfect home dyeing is guaranteed with "Diamond Dyes" even if you have never dyed before. Druggists have all colors. Directions in each package.—Advertisement.

Too Liberal

A doctor was pleased with a certain aerated water, and aided its sale by his recommendation. He acted solely in the interest of humanity generally, and expected no return.

To his surprise there came one morning an effusive letter from the company, stating that his recommendations had done them so much good that they "ventured to send him a hundred."

"There the page came to an end. "This will never do," said the doctor. "It is very kind, but I could not think of accepting anything."

Here he turned the page, and found the sentence run, "of our circulars for distribution."

Don't Take Calomel for Inactive Liver; Bond's Pills Are Better

They are a prescription intended solely for the Liver and Bowels and remove the bile and poisonous waste in a mild, yet effective manner. One pill is the dose. 25c All Druggists. Refuse substitutes.—Advertisement.

Paper Film Invented

A recent British invention, which may completely revolutionize the film industry, enables paper films to be projected on the screen by means of reflection from light placed in front of the reels, not behind them, as at present. These new paper films are said to possess many advantages over the ordinary celluloid kind. They are non-inflammable, they do not crack or tear, and last considerably longer than celluloid. They can also be made very cheaply, and may be sent through the mails in ordinary paper wrappers.

LOVE MAY BE BLIND

But before you can impress someone of the opposite sex enough to get them to share this happy state of mind with you, you certainly must keep your appearance pleasing and attractive. Pimples, blotchy, eczemic skin seems ten times worse to strangers and new acquaintances. And even husbands, wives, parents and kin feel sorry for loved ones who suffer from such skin diseases.

The way to get rid of all these drawbacks to unbroken affection and devotion from dear ones as well as new acquaintances, is to use the wonderful Black and White Ointment. It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—Advertisement.

Resourceful

A salesman was trying to induce an unsympathetic druggist to put in an assortment of valentines and displayed his offerings of gilt and paper lace with hopeful dexterity.

"No," stated the pharmacist, "I don't care much for stocking gimcracks and foderols. They may be pretty, but they ain't drugs. I keep stuff for sick people."

"These are for the lovesick," suggested the salesman gently.

If Worms or Tapeworms persist in your system, use the real vermifuge, Dr. Beech's "Dead Shot." Only 50 cents at your druggist or 112 Pearl St., N. Y. Adv.

As We Progress

Impressed by some "better business" literature, an English chemist in a market town placed several boxes of golf balls in his window. On next market day he found a countryman gazing at these globular exhibits with interest.

"We are making progress, Giles," remarked the chemist.

"Maybe so," responded the rustic, "but I vow I could never swallow a pill of that size, zur."

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. L. A. HOLFORD, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

Experienced

"Know anything about golf?" "I used to play shilly." "Then all you'll have to learn is the language."—Houston Post.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine is a Combined Treatment, both local and internal, and has been successful in the treatment of Catarrh for over forty years. Sold by all druggists. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Beware of Alcohol!

Any man or woman who suffers with kidney trouble should not take medicines that contain alcohol. There is an herb-balm called Hobo Kidney and Bladder Remedy, famous through the Southwest for its healing properties—it is made from a herb plant that grows in parts of East Texas and Louisiana. It contains no alcohol, opiates, or habit-forming drugs, but does carry a powerful purifying property that has been used for years in the treatment of serious organic ailments.

It gives relief when other remedies fail. A treatment of six bottles costs $1.00 and is guaranteed to give satisfaction even in the most serious cases. If your druggist does not have it write Hobo Medicine Company, Beaumont, Texas.

If one knew with accuracy when he would die, he could have a good deal more fun with his money.

Demand BAYER ASPIRIN

SAY "BAYER" when you buy—Genuine Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Colds Headache Neuralgia Lumbago
Pain Toothache Neuritis Rheumatism

Genuine Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Beware of "Bayer" boxes of 18 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturers of Mannesmannstrasse, Germany.

MICKIE, THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

By Charles Schmitz
© Western Newspaper Union

Pity Poor Mr. Bolivar!

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

TOWN PESTS

The Lady Shopper had the Poor Man drag out Everything in Stock, and has Spent a Pleasant Afternoon, which was All she Intended to Spend when she Came In. Merchants like Lady Buyers but Lady Shoppers are Why Drygoods Clerks Go Crazy and Start Running in Circles.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

By L. F. Van Zelm
© Western Newspaper Union

Everything Comes to Him Who Waits

Off the Concrete

Events in the Lives of Little Men

THE HAUNTED HOUSE

TURN ME OVER

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

The people who have things are often unhappy - I guess that reveals The fact you can't poltice a rich disposition With automobiles

A QUESTION

Professor Bug says there are over 10,000,000 germs on a dollar bill. That sounds imaginative, eh? It does. Where did the Professor get a dollar bill.

GOOD POLICY

I never interfere with other people's affairs. No? No, I stopped that years ago, when I checked up and found that all the money I had ever made came from minding my own business.

The Clancy Kids
No Wonder Timmie's Father Worries About Him
By PERCY L. CROSBY
Copyright by the McClung Newspaper Syndicate

RADIO RALF AND HIS FRIENDS

By JACK WILSON
Copyright 1911 by the McClung Newspaper Syndicate

FINE FOR HER
"In love, eh?"
"Oh, boy. Hands his wife the check book and tells her to write her own check."

The Kind
"What kind of a man do you want for this job?"
"One who was a bear in the past, who will be a bull for the future, and a horse to work."—Judge.

Joseph Greer and His Daughter

By HENRY KITCHELL WEBSTER

Copyright by The Robb Merrill Co.

THE OPEN DOOR

SYNOPSIS.—Joseph Greer, a black-headed pirate of fifty, having discovered a process of extracting fiber from flax straw, is made director of a big corporation. For years distrusting men of affairs, Greer has played a lone hand. Now holding what he considers the winning cards, he is willing to submit his will to wealth. To protect his own interests, Joe has foisted his own secretary, Jennie MacArthur, upon the company. Henry Craven, a bank clerk related to John Williamson, the millionaire backer of Greer's new company, is offered by Williamson the position of treasurer of the new company with the generally understood purpose of watching Greer. Craven accepts. Joe tells Jennie about his wife, who is about to divorce him, and his nineteen-year-old daughter, Beatrice, whom he has never seen. He is planning to force the divorce into Chicago society. Joe goes to a week-end party at Williamson's house, where he meets Violet, John's wife, who is strongly drawn to her. He fascinates her. Beatrice arrives and father and daughter get acquainted.

CHAPTER IV—Continued.

Beatrice contented herself with a single sip at her glass; then carried it over to her father. "I ought to have done this last time," she admitted, confidentially, and he squeezed her arm in approval. But when Margaret took a cigarette she helped herself to one also. She'd had a fortnight of assiduous practice and decided she could safely venture. He laughed at this bit of bravado, but didn't seem displeased. She felt it was a good beginning; her father's darling and the complete hostess were the two fronts she wished to present—a double warning to trespassers.

And as the evening advanced she gained confidence that she was succeeding with both. She sat very straight, in the high-backed armchair which faced her father's, and felt herself satisfactorily in the part. (The movies have their uses, after all. She'd learned a lot from Pauline Frederick and Elsie Ferguson.) Anson fortified her somehow; it was the first time she'd felt him clearly as an ally. But the great thing was her father's look. Something came into it, whenever he turned it upon her, that quickened her heartbeat. As long as he was on looking at her like that she was in no danger from anybody.

Their hour in the drawing-room after dinner was really rather jolly, and one of her few conversational ventures, made in the course of it, proved a distinct success. Miss Craven was admiring the big Sorolla, when Beatrice asked, "Did you ever hear of a painter named Carmichael Blair?" They'd all heard of him, it seemed. He'd had a show, only a few months earlier, at the Institute. But why had she asked?

"Some of his pictures are a little like that, I think," she said. "They—sort of sing, just like that does." In that moment she decided that, without reserve, she liked Henry Craven, just for the way his face lighted up over that remark. "You're perfectly right," he told her; "there's a real resemblance in just that quality." He added, "Blair lived out in California for a while, didn't he?"

She nodded. "He tried to teach me to paint once. But I wasn't much good at it." She had the satisfaction of feeling that she'd said that exactly right.

So the evening summed up to a real success. Her comments on their guests, after they'd gone, were enthusiastic; genuine, as they concerned Henry, and so nearly in the same tone as they concerned Margaret that she didn't believe her father could tell the difference.

But the little lunch Margaret had for her, a week later, didn't go off as well, and she came home from it depressed, vaguely resentful, and with her first misgiving of the woman's design upon her father wide-awake again.

Margaret's flat had been a shock to her. She'd assumed that these people were rich. She wondered, uneasily, if her father had been taken in. Beatrice was the first of the guests to arrive, and during those first few minutes while they were alone she had the uncomfortable sense of being under examination, on trial—to have it decided whether she would do. The questions themselves were friendly enough. How did she amuse herself during the long hours her father spent at the office? (Margaret knew how long they were, because of her brother.) Had she any trouble finding her way about? Had she been shopping? Margaret would go with her if she liked, almost any day, and show her where—well, the right sort of things were to be found. One could waste a lot of time—as well as a lot of money—in a strange city making all those discoveries for oneself. No, there was no harm in the questions—only the girl's answers seemed, always, somehow, to give her away.

The arrival of the other guests didn't improve matters either. There were only two of them (it wasn't a party, Margaret explained), young girls of about her own age. After the buzzer had announced them in the vestibule, her hostess told her, swiftly, who they were. One was Dorothy Williamson, whose father had gone in with hers in the new flax business. She had got back, only the week before, from her school, Thornycroft, in the East. The other was her particular friend, Sylvia Stannard.

When a telephone call took their hostess out of the room, for quite a long while, the vacuum got higher than ever. They didn't talk about men at all even with this opportunity, and Beatrice's attempt to introduce the topic was, as her instinct had warned her it would be, a blank failure.

"I think Henry Craven's a peach," Beatrice had volunteered, apropos of something that had been said about Margaret. "I had a lot of fun with him at dinner the other night." Then, uneasily aware that both the other girls were looking a bit blank, she added, "You know him, don't you?" "Rather," the Williamson girl answered. "He's my cousin. Yes, he's a lamb."

"He's My Cousin. Yes, He's a Lamb."

Beatrice flushed and looked away; it was as if a door had been shut in her face.

There broke over Beatrice a wave of something like homesickness. Home had never been a place she'd consciously loved. She'd never found much sympathy or security in it; nor anything better than meager and unsatisfying spiritual fare in the world that surrounded it. But its inhabitants and their codes and standards were, after all, familiar and intelligible to her. These people were aliens. They left her out, not so much from malice as from the lack of any connective medium. She glanced round, desperately, at the clock; it would be almost an hour before Burns would call for her with the car. Luckily, the other guests went earlier, and she experienced a certain relief at being left alone with Miss Craven.

Just as she was leaving, an invitation for a visit to the Cape Cod cottage was extended in a way to show that it was meant and must be, in some fashion, dealt with.

"Why, it's frightfully kind of you," Beatrice said. "I don't think father means me to go away again as soon as this—I've just come, you see. But I'll speak to him about it."

"Do," said Margaret. "If he's going to be away himself any time this summer, up in the Northwest where they're building their flax factories, it might just fit in."

Beatrice awaited his return from the office that evening with an emotion that was more filial and domestic than anything she had felt toward him before. She'd hoped he would be early—something he'd said that morning had led her to think he might be—but the latter part of an hour passed before she heard Anson letting him in, and by then she was on the verge of tears. Unluckily, too, he came to her full of something of his own. He was very jovial about it, whatever it was, and the hug and kiss he gave her, though vigorous and enthusiastic, lacked the tenderness she, for the first time, wanted. She released herself with a movement of petulance which caught his attention.

"What's the matter with you?" he asked. "Getting lonesome?" "I'll make it up to you now, though," he went on. "What can you think of that it would be fun to do? I guess we've seen most of the shows, but if you want to repeat on any of them, I'm game. And there's still time to go downtown to dinner. We won't stop to dress; you look great just as you are."

"You hate that red dress of mine—I know you do," she said. "I guess you're ashamed of me in it." Her voice broke over that and betrayed the fact that she was crying.

There was a long moment before he made any response at all. She had a sense of him, for she didn't turn to look, standing unnaturally still and not looking at her. Then, without warning, for he moved lightly and the rug was soft, she felt his hands upon her. Of her weak resistance and her broken, "No, let me alone," he took no account at all, but picked her up bodily, carried her to his special big chair, and sat down in it with her in his lap.

"Put your head down," he said, in his vibrant voice, "and cry as long as you like. And then, when you're ready, tell me all about it."

She didn't want to cry any more—indeed, surprised at being taken up like that had checked her tears—but neither did she want to talk. She had, for just that moment, no sense of grievance, against him or against the world. Everything else was swallowed up in the sensation of his comprehensive embrace; nothing even remotely like that had, in the whole length of her memory, happened to her before.

This didn't last long. Her consciousness, so deeply submerged in this new element, came floating to the surface again. She was aware of the prickle of his beard upon her wet face; she wondered if he was smiling.

"I expect it's just lonesomeness that made you feel that way," he said, and she noted, even then, something forced in his tone of reassurance, as if he were managing a small child.

"You've been sitting around by yourself all day, with nothing to do and nobody to talk to. We'll have to tackle that problem somehow."

She told him, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party.

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

"Did you wear the wrong sort of hat?" he asked.

"I guess so," she agreed, dully. "She told me, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party."

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

"Did you wear the wrong sort of hat?" he asked.

"I guess so," she agreed, dully. "She told me, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party."

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

"Did you wear the wrong sort of hat?" he asked.

"I guess so," she agreed, dully. "She told me, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party."

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

"Did you wear the wrong sort of hat?" he asked.

"I guess so," she agreed, dully. "She told me, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party."

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

"Did you wear the wrong sort of hat?" he asked.

"I guess so," she agreed, dully. "She told me, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party."

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

"Did you wear the wrong sort of hat?" he asked.

"I guess so," she agreed, dully. "She told me, without raising her head, that this was a bad guess. It hadn't been an unoccupied day at all. She'd gone to a party."

"Margaret Craven's lunch," he said. "I know." (She was sure, though, that he'd forgotten all about it.) "But I guess you can feel lonesome at a party that anywhere else, if things don't go just right. What went wrong this time?"

"Oh, nothing much," she said, over a catch that had come back into her breathing. She wished he wouldn't ask her questions; just go on, holding her still. She felt, from the movement of his beard, that he was smiling.

mother has had a talk with her, anyhow. And she probably is all right, though she may be a little high and mighty. They're all that, one way and another. But, with them, the point is, it isn't a bluff. They really are like that, not putting it on. They know they're solid, and they don't give a d—n for anybody.

"Take those Williamsons. I didn't understand 'em till I saw where they lived. They've got one of the most beautiful places I ever saw, up at Lake Forest. Acres and acres of it—I don't know how big it is. And a house as big as a hotel. But it might be a five-room cottage for anything they care. They have things as they like; no one dress as they please. There's no one to tell 'em what they shall do or what they shall't."

"Well, we're going to be like that ourselves. We are now, only they haven't found it out, altogether. Some day we'll have a place like Williamsons. I'm not as rich as he is now, but I'm on the way to be. I expect there's some of them we'll find pretty dull and stuffy, but there're others that aren't. I've found that out already. On the whole, once they see we're inside the fence, they're a perfectly friendly lot. And as good a lot to settle down among as you'll find anywhere. Well, and that's what we're going to do when I've polished off this flax business."

The girl stirred impatiently. She was standing at the window, looking out over the lake where a bank of heavy clouds was coming up with a summer shower.

Her father rose and came toward her. "How does that strike you?" he asked.

"I suppose it's all right to settle down some time," she said. "Only that isn't what I'd hoped I'd do with you. I thought maybe we'd go off somewhere together, exploring like you used to. Down in South America. I found some letters once that you wrote mother. Long ago that was, when I was a little girl, but I've never forgotten the things you told about. She'd have hated it all, of course, but I'd love it. Hiding over mountain-passes and crossing canyons on rope bridges. Finding out things, seeing things nobody else had seen. I wouldn't be afraid anywhere with you."

He was silent at that, and from a glance she stole at his face, thoughtful. For a breath-arresting moment she believed he was entertaining her plea seriously, but, at the end of it, he laughed. "Out in the middle of that," he said, with a gesture toward the lake, "with a gale blowing up, and a rotten, little, leaky dugout. Paddling for your cheap life; balling. And then a night on shore, without a fire—nothing to make it with and not daring to risk it if you had. He drew a deep breath. "No, this is better, when you've got your grip on it."

He turned to her. "Well, travel, Trix. We'll travel a lot. Don't you worry about that. We'll go to places I've never seen, any more than you Paris, and Madrid, and a place up in the mountains called St. Moritz, where they have winter sports. We'll have a grand time, little girl, as soon as I dare take my hands off this thing. For a while I'll have to stick tight. And that'll give you time to learn the game."

"Their game, d'you see, Trix? Because they've got one, and it has to be learned. You'll be able to play it, when you get the hang of it, better than those kids you saw today. They were born with it in their mouths; they don't even know it's a game. If they ever had to learn a different one they'd be lost. But you and I aren't like that. We can show 'em a few things they don't know, when the time comes. Well, how about it? Is that a bargain?"

Anson had come in to announce dinner, and was waiting, respectfully, and rather spectrally, in the doorway, for his employer to finish speaking. A serious reply wasn't possible, just then.

"Oh, I suppose so," she said, but without any idea that, in doing so, she'd signed a treaty.

But they hadn't been alone over the coffee-cups two minutes before her father, reverting to the abandoned theme, proceeded on the assumption that she had. "I'm glad you see it that way, Trix. It's no disgrace to be ignorant of things that can neither please you nor hurt you. But a thing that can please you or a thing that can hurt you, you want to know all about. Take this society chicken-feed. It may not seem worth while; it isn't, until it can get you somewhere you want to go, or keep you from getting there. If it can, it's important. I've had to study etiquette, of lots of different kinds. My life's depended on it, more than once, in some of the queer places I've been. On my knowing how to do the right thing with a mouthful of grub, for instance."

"Of course with me, now, it's different. They know I'm hard-boiled, and they suspect I'm dangerous. That's why they put Henry Craven into the company; to watch me. Henry! He's all right, at that. They know, some of 'em, that I'm a better man than they are, and they like me to be what they call 'unconventional.' They have to like it, because they know I can get away with it."

"But you—I want you to learn their game. You can do it; I've seen that already. But it'll mean watching 'em, learning their tricks."

Beatrice pushed back her chair and rose. "All right, Dad," she said. "I'll be good. I'll go with her to Cape Cod, or wherever it is." She paused to shoot an impudent grin at him. "You see, she invited me this afternoon. Made me promise to ask you if I might go."

Then, laughing over his look of blank discomfiture, she came round the table and kissed him. But it wasn't the sort of kiss she'd had waiting for him at five o'clock that afternoon.

CHAPTER V

A Detour.

Simone Grenville once spoke of a group of women, which had included Violet, as perpetual tasters of sensations, mostly mental; passive epicures, waiting to be made to feel. She said she didn't know whether their precocity had exhausted them before they were ripe or whether they had too many ideas to leave room for anything else, but she'd come to believe that an astonishing proportion of them, anyhow, went through life passionless, frigid, missing the great thing Altogether.

As applied to Violet, this was pretty good diagnosis, if by Violet one means merely what Violet meant to herself—the only Violet she knew or, until her thirty-ninth year, suspected the existence of.

When, on that notable Sunday morning in May, she'd had her first taste of Joe Greer, she'd consciously admitted nothing—really had been aware of nothing—that differentiated the experience from a series of forays to the country that went back twenty years, to her first experiment upon her boy cousin, Henry, undertaken during a summer tour the Prince and Craven families had made among the French chateaux.

Her experiment with John Williamson, while it got from the fact of their marriage a social significance that was revolutionary and, she assumed, permanent, was not, in its psychological aspect, very much more important than some of the others. The first weeks of marriage had given her some appalling hours, of fright, of revulsion, and of a wildly incredulous disappointment. But the subsidence of all this had been an acquiescence, a little ironic, but near, enough contentment to pass for it. So that was what it was like! Very well; now she knew.

John developed, under her spirited pruning, into really, an old dear; jolly, just a bit outrageous now and then, indulgent always and sometimes sympathetic. She had an immense pride in his weight and position in the community, and she was deeply impressed by the discovery, once in a while, of something she couldn't make him do. She was "terribly fond of him."

He was easily the most important item in her landscape, but he'd long been, also, the most familiar one. A new item—especially if strange, almost monstrous, as Joe Greer appeared to be—was, naturally, a subject for investigation. John, thank goodness, understood this perfectly. It would have been terribly silly of him, of course, to make a fuss, though there were husbands, Violet was well aware, who did.

Sophisticated as she believed herself to be and as, in the true sense of the word, she was, yet, in the valid experience of life, she was deficient to a degree that might fairly be called perverse, if her case were not so common among carefully nurtured American women. What she had told Joe, about going through life waiting for a door to open and coming to the conclusion that there was no door to the thing she was in, had been, so far as she knew, merely a part of her technique, a useful item in her standard repertory, which could be counted upon to get almost any man, even the most reluctant, started. She hadn't the dimmest notion how profoundly true it was.

"The trouble with you is that you think you are still in the jungle."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

Negligees for Easter Bride; Hats for the Wedding Cortège

IF SOME of the negligees that add so much grace and growing color to the lingerie departments of the big shops were moved over to the dress department they would pass for evening gowns. They are made of airy and supple fabrics, laces and nets.

The negligee is privileged to use flowing draperies and goes somewhat farther in the matter of picturesque designing than any other of our garments. Most women aspire to own wedding gown the item of next importance in the wedding cortège comes up for consideration. It is the choice of hats for her maids. The very best that the art of millinery hat to offer blossoms out in Easter and June

Put this year it is fashionable to be conservative; brides are choosing gowns for themselves with an eye to getting much use of them after their initial appearance, and hats for their

NEGLIGEE MADE OF FLOWING DRAPERIES

ing one of these beautiful and fragile affairs just once in a lifetime, that is, as a part of their trousseau, and a lovely model is pictured here for the benefit of bridesmaids' hats. Very often they are trimmed with flowers.

A leghorn with facing of georgette crepe and lavish trimming of narrow picot-edged ribbon appears at the top of the group of hats pictured. Crepe is folded about the crown and wide loops of ribbon are massed at the side.

When, on that notable Sunday morning in May, she'd had her first taste of Joe Greer, she'd consciously admitted nothing—really had been aware of nothing—that differentiated the experience from a series of forays to the country that went back twenty years, to her first experiment upon her boy cousin, Henry, undertaken during a summer tour the Prince and Craven families had made among the French chateaux.

Her experiment with John Williamson, while it got from the fact of their marriage a social significance that was revolutionary and, she assumed, permanent, was not, in its psychological aspect, very much more important than some of the others. The first weeks of marriage had given her some appalling hours, of fright, of revulsion, and of a wildly incredulous disappointment. But the subsidence of all this had been an acquiescence, a little ironic, but near, enough contentment to pass for it. So that was what it was like! Very well; now she knew.

John developed, under her spirited pruning, into really, an old dear; jolly, just a bit outrageous now and then, indulgent always and sometimes sympathetic. She had an immense pride in his weight and position in the community, and she was deeply impressed by the discovery, once in a while, of something she couldn't make him do. She was "terribly fond of him."

He was easily the most important item in her landscape, but he'd long been, also, the most familiar one. A new item—especially if strange, almost monstrous, as Joe Greer appeared to be—was, naturally, a subject for investigation. John, thank goodness, understood this perfectly. It would have been terribly silly of him, of course, to make a fuss, though there were husbands, Violet was well aware, who did.

Sophisticated as she believed herself to be and as, in the true sense of the word, she was, yet, in the valid experience of life, she was deficient to a degree that might fairly be called perverse, if her case were not so common among carefully nurtured American women. What she had told Joe, about going through life waiting for a door to open and coming to the conclusion that there was no door to the thing she was in, had been, so far as she knew, merely a part of her technique, a useful item in her standard repertory, which could be counted upon to get almost any man, even the most reluctant, started. She hadn't the dimmest notion how profoundly true it was.

"The trouble with you is that you think you are still in the jungle."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

Unnecessary Labor.

His Wife.—That clock's twenty minutes slow. Set it for at twelve. Mr. Neverwast.—Leave it alone. It'll get around to twelve if you only give it time.

maids that will have a career to look back upon when summer is done.

Those old-time and unexcelled favorites, leghorn and hair braid capelines, present themselves among the candidates for bridesmaids' hats. Very often they are trimmed with flowers.

Stars of the first magnitude, like this, are in a small minority in the negligee armament, but there are many beautiful negligees of plain and printed crepe de chine. They are shown in all the light colors and in black combined with brilliant, high color printed patterns. Black with American Beauty or black with orange are favorite combinations. In company with these are some very sedate models in sand, gray or beige made up with collars of tuck net and lace. Next to these rank pretty breakfast coats of plain and changeable taffeta. These are sometimes decorated with narrow laces, used for making fetching and frivolous looking pockets and for finishing neck and sleeves. Velvets in same colors as silks, are also available for these garments.

After the bride has settled, once for all, the vital matter of her

Light brown hair braid, moire ribbon and a jeweled pin contribute a lovely foundation for a soft lace drapery in the all-brown hat that finishes the group. Come to think of it, there is nothing prettier for bridesmaids, or more useful for dressy wear, than lacy brown hats.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

HATS FOR EASTER AND JUNE WEDDINGS

A bride and long hanging ends of ribbon proclaim it an ideal model for bridesmaids.

The shape at the right commends itself to the bride who is considering small hats for her maids. It is a crocheted straw, faced with crepe and trimmed with wild flowers. A beautiful hair braid, at the right, has a wide border of silk on the brim and rows of plaited narrow ribbon over the crown. A miniature tapestry piece in silk furnishes a front decoration and is placed in a frame of shirred ribbon and needlework.

Light brown hair braid, moire ribbon and a jeweled pin contribute a lovely foundation for a soft lace drapery in the all-brown hat that finishes the group. Come to think of it, there is nothing prettier for bridesmaids, or more useful for dressy wear, than lacy brown hats.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

HATS FOR EASTER AND JUNE WEDDINGS

A bride and long hanging ends of ribbon proclaim it an ideal model for bridesmaids.

The shape at the right commends itself to the bride who is considering small hats for her maids. It is a crocheted straw, faced with crepe and trimmed with wild flowers. A beautiful hair braid, at the right, has a wide border of silk on the brim and rows of plaited narrow ribbon over the crown. A miniature tapestry piece in silk furnishes a front decoration and is placed in a frame of shirred ribbon and needlework.

PE-RU-NA For COUGHS & COLDS And Every Catarrhal Allment The Family Standby for Over Fifty Years

FOR OVER 200 YEARS

haarlem oil has been a world-wide remedy for kidney, liver and bladder disorders, rheumatism, lumbago and uric acid conditions.

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

correct internal troubles, stimulate vital organs. Three sizes. All druggists. Insist on the original genuine GOLD MEDAL.

WARD OFF HEAVY COUGHS AND COLDS

PURIFY your blood and build up your strength with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will fortify you against colds; it will help you put on flesh.

Free Trial Tablets To see for yourself value of Gude's Pepto-Mangan, write today for generous Trial Package of Tablets.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Tonic and Blood Enricher

Our Choice We like to listen to sprightly talk by people with tongues of sand paper; but for long-time company, we generally choose those with tongues of velvet.

Easy Senior—Say, can you tell me how I can find the chemistry room? Soph—Sure! Ask somebody.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

BELLAN'S 6 BELLAN'S Hot Water Sure Relief 25¢ AND 75¢ PACKAGES EVERYWHERE

personal hygiene

Physicians strongly discourage the use of poisonous, irritating or burning solutions for personal hygiene. Zonite is non-poisonous, non-burning and non-irritating. It may be used regularly strong enough to destroy germs without harm to the sensitive tissues of the body.

Zonite KILLS GERMS

Teach Children To Use Cuticura Soothes and Heals Rashes and Irritations

Better Than Pills For Liver Ills

Nature's Remedy

LATEST HAPPENINGS News That is News, When It is News, For All.

STATE, NATIONAL, FOREIGN

Happenings the World Over of Important Events Condensed To Good Reading.

WASHINGTON NEWS Having disposed of Attorney General Daugherty, as well as Secretary Denby, the coalition senate attack on the administration Friday turned on Secretary Mellon with indications that more cabinet officers might come under the bombardment.

Indictments charging Representative John W. Langley, republican, Kentucky; Millard F. West, a former deputy commissioner of internal revenue, and four others with conspiracy to interfere with the operations of the government, were returned Friday by a federal grand jury.

Reference to an oil deal in which "five men made $33,000,000" in the fall of 1922, was repeated before the Daugherty investigating committee Thursday by Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the attorney general's friend, Jess W. Smith.

Disregarding party lines, the house Monday adopted a resolution to appropriate $10,000,000 for the purchase of food supplies for destitute women and children in Germany. Sent to the senate by a vote of 240 to 97, the measure stipulates that the foodstuffs are to be bought in the United States and transported to Germany in shipping boat vessels.

Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome, was certified Monday to the federal courts in Washington by the senate for contempt proceedings because of his refusal to answer any further questions put by the oil investment senate.

Senate inquiry into the alleged fraudulent sale of land in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas—newest of the many investigations in progress before congressional committees—got under way with a rush Monday.

A proclamation prohibiting the exportation of arms and munitions of war to Honduras was issued by President Coolidge Saturday. The action was taken under authority of a joint resolution of congress of Jan. 31, 1922, and the proclamation recited that the step was required because of conditions of domestic violence in Honduras, which are or may be influenced by use of arms or munitions of war procured in the United States.

Senator Sheppard of Texas introduced a bill Saturday granting authority to the farm loan board to make loans of permanent insured farm property up to 60 per cent of their insured value. Under the existing law such loans can not exceed 20 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon Saturday branded charges that companies in which he is financially interested had been given preference in tax refunds by the internal revenue bureau as "preposterous and unqualifiedly false."

STATE AND DOMESTIC NEWS.

A warning that candidates for school trustee must have lived in the district six months, be able to read and write English and not be related to any employee of the school board, was issued Friday by the state department of Education in view of the approaching school elections throughout the State of Texas.

Several persons killed, many fatally injured and property damage estimated at many thousands of dollars is the toll of the terrific windstorm which struck Shawnee, Okla., Friday.

J. H. Johnson of Oklahoma City, traffic manager of the Oklahoma Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, was re-elected chairman of the Southwest regional advisory board of American Railway Association at the fourth quarterly meeting held at Dallas, Texas, Friday. Committee reports showed business for the last quarter has increased considerably.

Twenty-six miners lost their lives in an explosion in the No. 2 mine of the Yukon-Pochontas Coal Company at Yukon, in McDowell County, West Virginia, Friday. The miners were killed as they were reaching their places in the mine to begin their day's work.

Events are shaping up with clock-like precision for the formation of a governing board of 100 of Texas' finest citizens to have charge of the celebration of the Texas Centennial, according to Cato Sells, chairman. Selection of election commissioners for each of the thirty-one senatorial districts in the state is rapidly proceeding. Plans for the county and senatorial district conventions and the selection of delegates and directors are being made with complete definiteness and nothing is being left to chance.

Ed Lockhart, last of a trio of notorious Oklahoma outlaws, was killed Thursday near Sperry, Okla., as he attempted to flee from a farmhouse where he had been trapped by a posse of officers. Lockhart went like his colleagues, "with his boots on" and in defiance of the law.

General E. W. Kirkpatrick, 80 years old, lieutenant general commanding the trans-Mississippi division of the United Confederate Veterans, died at Rincon, N. M., Monday, where he had gone on a business mission. His home was at McKinney, Texas.

The prison population of the state of Texas remains about the same, owing to the fact that approximately as many releases occur as entrants are received. Most of the releases are those of men who have served one-year sentences for liquor law violations. The population of the penal institutions at present is 3849.

Lease of the oil, gas and mineral rights of approximately ten acres of state lands in the bottom of Calcasieu river, Calcasieu parish, Louisiana, was signed Friday by Fred K. Grace, registrar of the state land office, and Governor Parker. M. J. Muller of Lake Charles will pay the state $160 cash bonus and will pay $50 annual rental for the next five years.

The state of Texas at present has more litigation on hand than ever in its history, according to Attorney General W. A. Keeling. Four hundred cases, some of them involving millions of dollars, and all dealing with questions of far-reaching importance to the citizens of the state, are pending in the attorney general's department.

Recreation of young and old of 475 cities of this country cost the municipalities nearly $10,000,000 last year.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The third expedition for the conquest of Mount Everest, highest peak in the world, started from Darjeeling, British India, Friday under the leadership of Brigadier General Charles G. Bruce, who headed the 1922 expedition.

Fifty persons have been killed in a landslide in the seaport of Amalfi, twenty-three miles southeast of Naples, Italy.

General Figueroa, Guerrero rebel chief, who went to Mexico City to negotiate his surrender, was arrested Tuesday following an interview with Undersecretary of War Mazo. With him were taken his brothers, Ambrosio and Francisco, also Crispin Samano and former Deputy Urbano Lavin.

A volcano on Babuyan Island, situated between the Philippines and Japan, was in eruption early this month and it is feared inhabitants have perished.

Great Britain entered the air race around the world against America at 12:19 p.m. Tuesday when an amphibian plane manned by a trio of royal air force aviators rose from Southampton water amid an escort of land and sea planes and turned its glistering nose toward the coast of France.

The elevation of Archbishop Hayes of New York and Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago to cardinals of the Roman Catholic faith, took place Monday in Rome at the moment of the delivery of the sacred "bignetti" by special emissaries from Pope Pius after a secret consistory, in which these two American prelates were formally raised to the purple of the cardinalate.

Messages received at Constantinople from Ankara set forth that the Turkish government has decided to engage a number of foreign specialists to work with the various ministerial departments. A sum of money to meet the expense involved appears in the 1924 budget. It is said that more than 20 such posts will be filled by foreigners.

Thirteen persons were killed and 16 others seriously injured when an express train left the track and over turned near Tashkent, Russia, due to malicious tampering with the rails by parties unidentified. Tashkent is the capital of Russian Turkistan.

Convicts in Germany have lately been employed in creating their own prisons. Monasteries and nunneries are being reconstructed for use as prisons. Penitentiaries throughout Germany are overcrowded. Hundreds of convicts have to wait for weeks and months due to the post-war crime wave flooding Central Europe, and partly to the fact that several big prisons have been seized by the French in the occupied territories.

General Robert George Nivelle, who commanded the French troops at Verdun during the European war, died Sunday in Paris.

Orient Road Sold.

Wichita, Kan.—The Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad, long the dream of Arthur E. Stilwell, builder for the shortest route from Kansas City, Mo., to the Pacific coast, but which in recent years has faced a veritable death by lack of financial support, was sold to the highest bidder at public auction Thursday. Clifford Histed, general attorney for the Orient and said to represent a group of American and British investors in the company, acquired the entire property on his bid of $3,000,000. The only other bidder was "E. E. Mullaney, wealthy Hill City, Kan., banker, and a director of the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank. His bid was for $2,764,000.

3700-Year-Old Harp.

Paris.—The Louvre has received from Syria a harp 3700 years old. It was unearthed on the banks of the Euphrates by the archaeologist Franz Cumont.

Thirteen Persons Are Naturalized.

Hallettsville, Tex.—There were 40 applications for final certificates of naturalization during the present term of district court at Hallettsville. Of the 40 applicants, 12 were granted citizenship and 10 were rejected.

BACK ACHY?

Lame and achy in the morning? Tortured with backache all day long? No wonder you feel worn out and discouraged! But have you given any thought to your kidneys? Weak kidneys cause just such troubles, and you are likely to have headaches, too, with dizziness, stabbing pains and bladder irregularities. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor.

A Texas Case Mrs. J. M. Keen, 100 Twyman St., Marshall, Tex., says: "My kidneys were all weak and I was all run down. My back was weak and lame and I had no energy and felt dull and languid. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Pills and they soon helped me by relieving the backaches and restoring my energy. I consider Doan's a good remedy."

DOAN'S PILLS 60c STIMULANT DIURETIC TO THE KIDNEYS

Might Break "May's fiance is supposed to be a dreadfully bad egg."

MOTHER! Child's Best Laxative is "California" Fig Syrup

Hurry Mother! Even a fretful, peevish child loves the pleasant taste of "California" Fig Syrup and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow.

A Mind Reader Wife—I have a surprise for you, dear.

Don't Forget Cuticura Talcum When adding to your toilet requisites.

The Most Modern Method "How did you get to know your wife?"

He who drifts with the tide is apt to go broke on the rocks.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Mr. Beaver is Leaving Shortly.

Temptation "I met our new minister on my way to Sunday school, mamma," said Willie.

Fast Work Pa had been telling Willie about the sun being millions of miles away from the earth.

Bad Manners to Pry Sunday School Teacher—What! Is it possible that you have never heard the story of Cain and Abel?

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic Destroys Malarial Germs in the Blood.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale by MARY GRAHAM BONNER NATURELAND NEWS

"Get the latest copy of Natureland News," said Billie Brownie.

"Get the latest copy of Natureland News," said Bessie Brownie.

"Get the latest copy of Natureland News," said Effie Elf.

"Get the latest copy of Natureland News," said the Fairy Queen.

"I'd like a copy, please."

"Oh, I'd like one, too," said Witty Witch.

"And I want one," said the Fairy Princess Joy.

"And so do I," said Fairy Princess Twilight Bell, in her clear, lovely voice.

"Dear me," said Billie Brownie, "now we are in a fix."

"Dear me, dear me," said Bessie Brownie, "I should just say we are."

"Indeed we are," said Effie Elf. "We're in a fix. That's what we are in."

"And what are we to do about it?" they all asked each other.

"There's only one thing to do," said the Fairy Queen.

"What is it to be in a fix?" asked the Fairy Princess Joy.

"You ask because you're not in one," said Effie Elf.

"Yes, any one who is in a fix never asks what one is, and any one who is not in a fix doesn't half begin to understand what being in a fix means," Billie Brownie said.

"But I don't understand it at all," said Fairy Princess Joy.

"Nor do I," said Fairy Princess Twilight Bell.

"Neither do I," said old Mr. Giant.

"Well, I know what it means to be in a fix," said Witty Witch, "but I don't know what you all mean now."

"You see," said the Fairy Queen, "we've been calling out to buy the latest copy of Natureland News. And now several of you want to buy it at the same time. We didn't think about that. We have only one copy."

"It's a bit embarrassing, but we'll do the same old way. Some one will read the birch-bark paper aloud and we'll all listen."

"Let Billie Brownie read it," Effie Elf said, "as he is editor-in-chief, anyway."

"So they all sat about while Billie Brownie read:

"Young Mr. Squirrel has taken Apartment House Number Three in Number Four of Tree Avenue, The Woods. It is said he leased it from Mr. Woodpecker, who has bought a new home in The Orchards."

"The view from the Hollow Limb Front Porch is said to be as fine a one as is to be found."

Billie Brownie cleared his throat and continued:

"Mr. Beaver is leaving shortly for the summer months. Pleasant journey and a fine vacation and our good wishes go along with Mr. Beaver."

"Mr. Skunk has sent out notices to warn those who annoy him that he will give them but three chances. First he will turn his back, then he will raise his plume and then he will stamp his feet. And if these warnings aren't taken by those who annoy him he will be forced to take harsh measures."

"But he wishes to inform the public he will not annoy them if they do not annoy him. He is particularly fond of minding his own business. He does not care to quarrel or pick a fight."

"Those are the items of local interest," Billie Brownie said, "and later I will read you the rest, after a drink of spring water."

"I'm sorry said, 'Get thee behind me, satan' and walked off and left him."

"Fast Work Pa had been telling Willie about the sun being millions of miles away from the earth."

"What I can't understand," said the boy, "is how the sun's light manages to get here so early in the morning without traveling all night."

"Bad Manners to Pry Sunday School Teacher—What! Is it possible that you have never heard the story of Cain and Abel?"

"Little Edna—Of course I haven't. My mamma says it is bad manners to pry into other people's family affairs."

Your New Home should be made artistic, sanitary and livable.

These walls should be Alabastined in the latest, up-to-the-minute nature color tints. Each room should reflect your own individuality and the treatment throughout be a complete perfect harmony in colors.

The walls of the old home, whether mansion or cottage, can be made just as attractive, just as sanitary, through the intelligent use of

Alabastine

Instead of kalsomine or wallpaper

It is absolutely necessary if you expect Alabastine results that you ask for and secure Alabastine.

Avoid kalsomines under various names and insist on the package with the cross and circle printed in red. That is the only way to be sure you are getting the genuine Alabastine.

Alabastine is easy to mix and apply, lasting in its results, and absolutely sanitary.

Alabastine is a dry powder, put up in five-pound packages, white and beautiful tints, ready to mix and use by the addition of cold water, and with full directions on each package. Every package of genuine Alabastine has cross and circle printed in red.

Better write us for hand-made color designs and special suggestions. Give us your decorative problems and let us help you work them out.

Alabastine Company 1655 Grandville Ave. Grand Rapids, Mich.

When a village youth makes a flying visit to the city he often has a good doctor first makes a friend of a new patient, and then the patient will mind him.

CHEVROLET

Will Your Family Be Happy This Spring?

Suppose you have definitely decided to buy a Chevrolet this Spring.

That does not necessarily mean that you are going to get it.

Anyone posted on conditions in the automobile business will tell you that thousands of families are going to be unable to get cars this Spring. That has been true almost every Spring for years, but the shortage in April, May and June, this year, is going to be more serious than ever before.

The only way to be sure of a Chevrolet this Spring is to order it NOW.

If you do not want to pay for it in full at this time, any Chevrolet dealer will arrange terms to suit your convenience, so you can pay as you ride.

You will be surprised to learn how easy it is to pay for a Chevrolet.

Will Chevrolet Advance Prices? Ten makes of automobiles have already advanced in price. In spite of increased costs of materials, the Chevrolet price is still the same. How long we cannot guarantee. To make sure of your Chevrolet at present low prices BUY NOW!

Chevrolet Motor Company, Detroit, Mich. Division of General Motors Corporation

Table with 2 columns: Model and Price. Superior Roadster - $490, Superior Sedan - $790, Superior Touring - $495, Superior Commercial Chassis - $360, Superior Utility Coupe - $440, Superior Light Delivery - $460, Superior 4-Passenger Coupe - $725, Utility Express Truck Chassis - $500.

$1 Saves Your Cotton From the Boll Weevil

We offer the Poison Bloom as the solution to this problem. We believe it is the only effective way to fight them. Cost of material about fifty-five cents per acre.

The increase from one weevil if only one-fourth inch, would destroy twenty-seven bales of cotton. Get the first weevil and you go a long way toward saving your crop.

Send us one dollar and we will send sample Bloom, together with full instructions on how to use, and the right to use same for the crop year nineteen, hundred twenty-four. Once applied, good for all seasons. No damage from rain, dew or wind.

BOLL WEEVIL CONTROL CO., Suite 401 N. Texas Bldg., DALLAS, TEXAS

Does a pipe help a man solve a problem or forget it? Only a fool would expect to get any fun out of a funnel.

Children Cry for "Castoria"

Especially Prepared for Infants and Children of All Ages

Mother! Fletcher's Castoria has been in use for over 30 years as a always bought bears signature of pleasant, harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Teething Drops and Soothing Syrups. Contains no narcotics. Proven directions are on each package. Physicians everywhere

CONSTIPATION Take a good dose of Carter's Little Liver Pills - then take 2 or 3 for a few nights after. They cleanse your system of all waste matter and regulate your bowels. Mild - as easy to take as sugar. Genuine bear signature - Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

...The Princess Theater...

MONDAY and TUESDAY—Don't miss the greatest photodrama ever produced—Mrs. Wallace Reid in "HUMAN WRECKAGE." It tears away a veil of shrinking reserve and huris on the screen the secrets of the seared soul of a wonderful woman—a woman who bares to the world her innermost feelings so that others may never be faced with the terrible curse of narcotics.

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY—Have you ever been in court? Have you ever sat on the edge of your seat eagerly, breathlessly awaiting each new development, any of which might mean life, love and happiness to someone? If you have, then see "THE ACQUITTAL" featuring Claire Windsor and a host of film favorites.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY—Herbert Rawlinson in "HIS MYSTERY GIRL." A rattling romance of love and adventure that takes the prize for novelty of situation and baffling complication. Also 2 reels Leather Pushers.

"SERVICE"

I am equipped with large TRUCKS, to HAUL for YOU ANYWHERE.

No orders are TOO SMALL, and none are TOO LARGE for ME TO HANDLE.

I make a specialty of carload lots by UNLOADING and HAULING the goods to YOUR BUSINESS HOUSE OR RANCH.

Will CRATE and PACK FURNITURE ready for shipment. Work guaranteed.

When in need of TRUCK SERVICE of any DESCRIPTION consult me.

F. M. Mansfield

LAURENCE & LEMONS
SANDERSON, TEXAS

Agents for Fire, Tornado and Automobile
Insurance.

Just arrived, Spring and Summer suit samples. Royal Tailor Shop.

All kinds of pleating done.
Mrs. N. S. Murphy, Box 195,
Alpine, Texas.

E. F. Howard

Agent For Good Reliable
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES
Your Business will be Appreciated

HERE'S TO THE LINE,

Let your ships fly where ever
they may,
And don't forget old

A. BANKHEAD

For your Shoe and Saddle Repair
Work Guaranteed

Plaiting: skirts, panels, ruffle; hemstitching; covered buttons, tailored buttonholes. Mrs.
H. B. Houston, Uvalde, Texas.

ELITE
Confectionery

HOT AND COLD DRINKS

SANDWICHES,

CIGARS,

CANDIES,

TOBACCO

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

We Want and Appreciate Your Trade

New Spring and Summer su
samples are open for your int pection at the Royal Tailor Shop

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health.
Sold by druggists far over 40 Years.
F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Church News of Sanderson

Tomorrow is Rev. M. F. Bell's regular appointment for Sande-son. Services at 11 A. M. and at 7:45 P. M. A hearty welcome to all.

Good attendance at the Methodist Sunday school last Sunday.

W. M. U. met with Mrs. Chester Smith last Tuesday with nine present. All reported a good time. Hostess served ice cream and cake.

Next meeting of the W. M. S.
will be Tuesday, April 22nd, a Bible and business meeting. All welcome.

The Ladies of the W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. Druse last Monday with nine members present. Next meeting with Mrs. J. J. Nance, April 7th, at 4 P. M. to resume Bible study.
All are requested to be present
if possible.

Mrs. Duke took her Sunday school class to the 3 Mile Well last Saturday for a sunrise breakfast. The children enjoyed the ride and eats, as all report a good time.

Presbyterian Sunday school opened with 80 present last Sunday and each class had a good report on special memory work.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Presbyterian church will have an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. H. R. Laurence on Monday, April 14th to seek to supply the needs of the little orphan girl. The Bible study will also be taken up so please all be prepared.

—Regular Correspondent

THE WEATHER

The month of April opens with blustering conditions, centering on the 2nd, followed by seismic disturbances and storm conditions on the 4th and 5th, passing across the country from West to East, clearing off colder, with more disturbances on the 8th and 9th. The next change falls on the 12th, prolonged over to the 14th, and this is followed by a change on the 16th, and a cold, raw period, centering on the 19th with intense seismic disturbance. The next change falls on the 22nd, with wind and storm conditions, followed by another change on the 25th, and a blustering change on the 27th, and the month passes out with storm conditions on the 29th and 30th.
Not-snare.

A. G. Livingston, Doctor of Chiropractic, left Thursday for San Antonio where he finish a course in Chiropractic at the San Antonio T. C. C.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Williams left Wednesday morning for El Paso where Mrs. Williams will receive medical attention.

ANNOUNCEMENT COLUMN.

For District Judge:
JUDGE JOSEPH JONES,
(Re-election.)
J. Q. HENRY.

For District Attorney:
JULIAN LACROSSE.

For County Judge:
G. J. HENSHAW,
(Re-election)

For Sheriff & Tax Collector:
W. J. BANNER,
F. N. HARRELL, (re-election)
J. J. NANCE,
JOHN F. CROW.

For County & District Clerk:
LUELLA LEMONS,
(re-election)

For Tax Assessor:
W. J. FERGUSON,
(re-election)

HENRY GATES,
BEN DAWSON,
B. GREEN.

For County Treasurer:
FRANK K. HARRELL,
(re-election)

For Commissioner Precinct No. 1
A. COCHRAN.

For Consable Preet. No. 1:
TOM PARSONS.

If you want to be dressed up wear made-to-measure clothes.
Call at the Royal Tailor Shop and let us fit you up to a nifty suit. The cost is low and satisfaction guaranteed.

Mrs. Wallace Reid, a Modern Joan of Arc, arrayed against all the evil hosts of the gigantic narcotic army in "Human Wreckage."

Take Calotabs
TRADE MARK REG
for the liver

Beware of imitations. Demand the genuine in 10c and 35c packages bearing above trade mark.

Notice to Contractors

FEDERAL AID HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION—
TERRELL COUNTY.

Sealed proposals addressed to Judge G. J. Henshaw, County
Judge of Terrell County, Texas, for the construction of Section B.
F. A. P. 324—Job 222-A, of State Highway No. 3 in Terrell County
Texas, will be received at the office of the Terrell County Clerk at Sanderson, Texas, until 10 o'clock a. m., April 24th, and then publicly opened and read.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK

Total length of Highway—6.1 miles—divided into four sections.
Length of second section—12.48 miles.

TYPE OF CONSTRUCTION: Gravel surfacing, 18' wide, 8" deep;
embankment, 20' wide; concrete bridges, culverts and pavement.

Item	Description	Quantity	Unit	Price
4.	Light Clearing	539.00	Stations
4.	Light Grubbing	29.00	"
4.	Channel Clearing	8.00	Acres
5.	Earth Excavation	29,308.50	Cubic Yards
5.	Solid Rock Excavation	33,013.80	"
5.	Loose Rock Excavation	16,590.40	"
5.	Earth Borrow Excavation	63,317.50	"
5.	Earth Haul Borrow Excavation	22,750.10	"
5.	Channel and Side Hill Ditching		"
	Earth	6,040.00	"
5.	Channel and Side Hill Ditching		"
	Rock	1,409.00	"
5.	Earth Overhaul	40,567.30	Station Yards.
5.	Rock Overhaul	42,299.60	"
10.	Gravel Pit Stripping	20,000.00	Cubic Yards.
10.	Gravel Hauled 1st-54 mile	29,681.27	"
10.	" " 2nd "	4,158.00	"
10.	" " 3rd "	4,158.00	"
10.	" " 4th "	4,198.74	"
10.	" " 5th "	4,191.59	"
10.	" " 6th "	4,222.27	"
10.	" " 7th "	3,111.93	"
10.	" " 8th "	3,785.54	"
10.	" " Add. "	1,014.00	"
10.	Screening Gravel	20,681.27	"
10.	Rolling Gravel and Sub-Base	900.00	Hours
10.	Sidling Rock Base-Heavy	220.00	Stations
10.	" " Light	55.00	"
33.	Wooden Guard Fence-8' sections	10,448.00	Lineal Feet
30.	Dry Rubble Wall	947.10	Cubic Yards
53.	Structural Excavation Dry Earth	2,708.00	"
53.	" " " " " " " "	409.00	"
54.	Concrete Bridges-Girder 1:2:4	538.60	"
54.	" " " " " " " "	1,287.11	"
54.	" " " " " " " "	56.15	"
54.	" " " " " " " "	696.50	Square Yards
14.	Reinforcing Steel	226,481.00	Pounds
62.	Bridge Railing Type C.	432.00	Lineal Ft.

Bids will be received on the whole or on earth work and surfacing items separately from all concrete items.

Detailed plans and specifications of the work may be seen for examination at the office of John Stovell, County Engineer, Sanderson, Texas.

A certified or Cashier's check for 5 per cent of the bid made payable without recourse to the order of G. J. Henshaw, County Judge of Terrell County, Texas, must accompany each bid or proposal, as a guarantee that the bidder, if successful, will enter into a contract and make bond in accordance with the requirements of the specifications.

The right is reserved by Terrell County to reject any and all bids or proposals or waive all technicalities. Proposals shall be submitted in sealed envelopes and marked "Bids for the construction of Sec. B. of State Highway No. 3 in Terrell County, Texas."
Payment for above work will be made in cash. All bids will be retained by the County.

Indulgences and Papal Infallibility

Do you want to know what Catholics believe about Indulgence and Papal Infallibility, write Catholic Truth Society,
P. O. Box 877,
El Paso, Texas.

A Hint to the Wise, Etc. See Manager For Contract

Why annoy your neighbor for the use of his Telephone when you can have one in your house for

$2 Per Month?

Sanderson Telephone Company

GROCERIES
Fruits and Vegetables, Meat Market in Connection
YOUR BUSINESS SOLICITED
ALEJANDRO MARQUEZ

RATTLE OF THE RAIL.

Efreman McGee was called to El Paso on account of the death of his grandfather.

Fireman R. M. Gillespie has taken a passenger run from El Paso to Sanderson.

W. Bleick, master mechanic of El Paso, was in Sanderson Friday.

W. C. Mc'ormick, general
passenger agent at Houston, passed through Sanderson last Wednesday on No. 110.

G. C. Ragsdale made a visit to
Del Rio Tuesday.

An impromptu affair was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S.
S. Daggett last Thursday night.

Engineer Kuntz made a trip to El Paso Tuesday.

Engineer Hankamar of El Paso has been assigned to the work train at Langtry.

Boiler maker Stoll returned to El Paso Wednesday.

Ybur.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Daggett spent the week end in San Antonio returning Monday.

The Sanderson Times

Official and Only Paper Published in
Terrell County

$2 per year payable in advance

MR. AND MRS. E. A. BOLING
Owners, Publishers & Editors.

Entered as second class matter July 2nd, 1908, at the post office, Sanderson, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

CLEAN UP SANDERSON

We are going to have a general yard, lot and street cleaning between now and the 15th of April. In the past we have had the hearty co-operation of nearly every family in town, but a few have promised or told the trash man that they would haul their own trash off, some have done so and some have not. We want every person in our little town to join in with us and let's have a genuine good clean up and thereby avoid considerable sickness
during the coming months.
Please co operate with us to swat the filth thereby avoiding the mosquito and the fly. Yours for a clean town.

P. F. Robertson,
County Health Officers

Fordson

Make this a Fordson Year

Have dependable Fordson Power ready when the fields are first ready for breaking.

Through all the year, use its steady, versatile power for bigger profits on every farm task that requires power.

To be sure of this, however, we must have your order now. Spring with its peak load of Fordson buying orders is almost here.

Don't wait. Order today. Make this a Fordson year.

Ford Motor Company
Detroit, Michigan

Small Cars and the World's Most Popular Tire

The largest factory of its kind in the world is devoted solely to the production of Goodyear
Tires, sizes 30x3, 30x3 1/2, and 30x4. Isn't this immense production, day after day, a positive indication to you of Goodyear's high ability of honesty of purpose in building the best Clincher tire on the market. THINK IT OVER. These tires, as well as other sizes, are here for your inspection. They cost no more than ordinary tires. Our helpful tire service will increase your mileage. It costs you nothing and saves you money.

MUSSEY BROS.