PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS

The first regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association for the year was held at the school auditorium last Thursday, September 15, with a good attendance. The installation ceremony, conducted by J. A. White, was very impressive. Seven little girls carrying the letters which spelled "Service," portraying the relationship of the Parent-Teachers' Association to our schools, made a pretty background for the following officers that were installed:

President, Mrs. J. W. McKee; first vice president, Mrs. Sim Wilkinson; second vice president, Mrs. James Kerr; third vice president, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell; secretary, Mrs. A. D. Brown, treasurer, Mrs. D. A. Pollard; musician, Mrs. J. A. White.

The new president appointed the following committees: program, Mesdames Sim Wilkinson, J. A. White and Mr. J. A. White; membership, Mrs. James Kerr and Mrs. E. P. Halley; ways and means, Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mrs. T. L. Williams, Mrs. Ed Downie and Mrs. Guy Nations; parents' day, Mrs. John Stovell, Mrs. H. D. Williams and Mrs. John Green; publicity, Mrs. W. E. Lea and Mrs. Addie Lee Boling; magazine, Mrs. J. E. Landers and Mrs. C. F. Haass.

The executive board consists of the seven officers and J. A. White, principal and Miss Ila Lowman, a high school teacher. An interesting program as follows was rendered: Reading, Mary Ferguson; piano solo, Miss Myrtle Harrell; a talk on the needs of co-operation of parent and teacher to successfully carry on the year's work was given by Mrs. J. W. McKee, the new president.

After the meeting adjourned an informal reception was held honoring the school faculty.

Off to College.

During the latter part of last week and the first of this week a large number of our young people have left for the various colleges and Universities where they will be students the coming year:

State University, Austin—Miss Mary Ellen Bohlman, Miss Tropha Fred, Miss Mildred Johnson and Minton White.

Southwest Texas Teachers' College, San Marcos—Miss Louise Williams and Miss Jack Banner.

Schreiner Institute—Kendrick Harrell. "Big Joe" Jansa has already been in Kerrville for the past month and will again be a student at Schreiner again this year.

Texas Tech, Lubbock—Roy Milton Bogusch. Baylor University, Waco—T. L. Williams.

Confectionery Opened.

The Empress Confectionery was opened for business last Saturday morning in the old Elite building, under the management of Mrs. R. H. Lewellen. Turn to their ad on the back page and see what this popular place has to offer the public.

PUBLIC SCHOOL HAS A LARGE ENROLLMENT

Considerable gain in the number of pupils have been made in the attendance at the school this week. The following number of enrollments by grade was given out by Prof. Williams, superintendent:

First grade, 12; second, 18; third, 28; fourth, 21; fifth, 21; sixth, 14; seventh, 11; eighth, 24; ninth, 17; tenth, 13; eleventh, 11. This makes a total of 190 enrolled against 165 last year. Some of the grades have a larger enrollment than they had last year, while others do not have as many.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Litton and children returned Monday from Abilene where they visited their daughter, Miss Gertrude, who is attending the Abilene Christian College.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Higgins are the proud parents of a daughter, Mary Nellie, which was born to them on Saturday, Sept. 17, at Bowie, Texas.

SUL ROSS OPENED ON SEPTEMBER 21

Sul Ross State Teachers' College began its eighth year on Wednesday, September 21. The reservations in the Girl's Dormitory and in the boarding houses indicate unmistakably that the institution will begin its fall term with the largest enrollment in the history of the college.

Football Prospects.

A large number of men have reported for the football training camp, and Sul Ross is already assured of two first-class teams. Practically every letter man of last season has already reported for training, and a number of unusually good men have joined the Lobos.

Under the direction of B. C. Graves, who took his M. A. degree at Stanford University this summer and who took special training under the celebrated "Pop" Warner, the Lobos are expected to make a fine showing against their opponents in the hardest schedule the team has ever had.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR STEALING A CAR

Four boys, giving their address as Houston, were placed under arrest here Sunday by Sheriff J. J. Nance, on charges of theft of an automobile from the Jack Neal Nash Company in San Antonio.

The car was identified from a sales tag which was pasted on the windshield and had not been reported as stolen. A deputy came for the boys and returned them to San Antonio.

Rainey-Wilson.

R. V. Rainey of Rocksprings and Miss Dorcas Wilson of Uvalde were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. A. Wilson, here Sept. 9, Rev. E. P. Kennedy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Rainey is in the employ of the Alamo Lumber Company at Rocksprings.

Mrs. Rainey is the daughter of Mrs. S. A. Wilson. Last year she taught in the Sabinal public school. She has lived at Uvalde for a number of years and is an accomplished and popular young lady.

The young couple left the following day for a visit at Corpus Christi after which they will return to Rocksprings to make their home. — Uvalde Leader-News.

At one time Mr. Rainey lived here. He is a nephew of Mrs. C. L. Surratt of this city. His many friends wish for him many years of happiness and prosperity.

Cactus Club Entertained.

Mrs. Prince Dishman was hostess to the members of the Cactus Bridge Club and a few invited guests at her home last Thursday. The living room was tastefully decorated with baskets of cut flowers.

After playing several tables of bridge scores were added, Mrs. T. H. Butler being awarded a beautiful hand embroidered buffet set as the high score prize. A boudoir pillow was the second high score prize, which went to Mrs. Jim Nance.

A delicious plate lunch consisting of creamed chicken en patte, olives, hot rolls, nabiscos, mint ice cream and punch was served.

Culture Club Meets.

A most interesting as well as helpful meeting of the Sanderson Culture Club was held last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. McKee. This was the first meeting of the fiscal year and several important business matters were disposed of. The leader for the meeting was Mrs. W. H. Savage, who ably and in a very interesting manner gave an interesting history of the short story, which was the subject of the lesson. She also gave a clear, as well as interesting lesson on the short story and the tale, as well as the novel, pointing out their differences.

Mrs. John Stovell told a very interesting short story, "The Shipwrecked Sailor." Mrs. Fred Montgomery also told the story of the "Book of Ruth."

Following the close of the lesson an interesting social hour was spent. The hostess served perfection salad, crackers, cake and fruit punch.

Water Service to be Improved

Messrs. J. H. Oglesby and J. H. Pearson of the Texas Louisiana Power Co. were callers at the Times office Thursday, and in conversation stated that they were here for the purpose of improving the water supply facilities of our city. Among the improvements that will be made are the following: The old wooden main pipe line will be taken up and a new main of cast iron pipe will be laid; an extension will be added to the main line also. The new well, which tests 10 gallons to the minute, will be put on the pump and the two old wells will be thoroughly cleaned out. All these improvements will be completed as rapidly as possible and will result, we believe, in giving Sanderson an adequate water supply. Mr. Oglesby will be in our city only a few days but Mr. Pearson will remain here until the work is completed.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. W. C. Barksdale was hostess to several friends when she entertained at her home last Saturday evening honoring her house guest, Mrs. Charles Gillespie and daughter, Miss Pauline, of El Paso.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening, several interesting tables being played. The ladies' high score prize, a box of stationery, went to Mrs. T. H. Butler, while Ray Gillespie won the deck of cards as the men's high score prize. Hot chocolate and cake was served.

JARDINE REPORTS ON COTTON BREAK

Has Issued Instructions To Prevent Similar Cotton Reports In The Future

Austin, Tex.—Governor Dan Moody Friday received from W. M. Jardine, federal secretary of agriculture, what the latter regarded as the probable explanation of Thursday's impromptu government cotton report that sent prices tumbling, and allegedly caused loss of millions of dollars.

Jardine promised efforts to prevent repetition of the occurrence.

The governor wired Jardine Thursday protesting the fact that the report or opinion, taken as "new stuff" in the stock market got out and caused the flurry.

"Fundamental factors affecting cotton as outlined in the September report," Jardine wired, "were recognized and made public a month ago in a similar statement. In my opinion widespread quotation of part of the statement has unduly disturbed markets. There have been no important developments since issuance of the last crop estimates, which place cotton in a more favorable position compared with the preceding month. Nevertheless, I have issued instructions discontinuing similar cotton reports in the future."

United States Senator Mayfield of Austin, United States Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas and Congressman J. P. Buchanan of Brenham added their voices to the widespread protest.

Answering a wire from Buchanan, Sheppard in Washington, said he will "take up the matter at once with the department of agriculture."

All the officials said the statement will cost Texas millions of dollars. Senator Sheppard estimated it will cost the South $100,000,000.

Buchanan also sent a wire of protest to Lloyd S. Tenny, chief of the federal bureau of agriculture economics.

A second precipitous descent of cotton prices was checked at the end of the market Friday at New Orleans by the announcement from Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine that the department would issue no more price trend predictions.

Hoover Pleads Flood Control.

Washington, D. C.—While 92 per cent of the Mississippi flood sufferers are now providing for themselves, Secretary Hoover told President Coolidge this week that the greatest measure of rehabilitation lay in the establishment by congress of effective flood control. He held that this would "greatly restore confidence, security and credit."

Stresemann Raps Army in Germany.

Geneva.—The occupation of German soil nine years after the end of the World war is hardly calculated to aid the German state of mind toward the work of the league of nations. Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, declared Friday before an assemblage of about 300 correspondents representing the press of all nations.

Special Session Lasts 109 Hours.

Baton Rouge, La.—Their work of passing flood relief and other measures completed in the record time of 109 hours, Louisiana's legislators Saturday left for their homes after a special session which was for the most part marked by its complete harmony with the plans of Gov. Simpson for a brief and inexpensive assembly.

Making International Morality as High as Individual Morality

By W. H. HADOW, Vice Chancellor of Sheffield University.

THE aspiration of the world should be to make the level of international morality as high as that which holds between individuals. When we do, there will be a lot less war in the world. Why is it that international morality lags so far behind individual morality? There are three reasons as I see the problem.

First, in private affairs, a man is solely responsible for his act. It is his and his alone. In public affairs, as a member of a government, he may share responsibility and so be less sensible to the weight of his own decision.

Secondly, the crises of public business are far more important and involve far higher stakes than those which occur in a man's private negotiations. The temptation to gain is greater.

Thirdly, and this is the only credible reason of the three, a man's private business concerns his own interests, his public business, the interests of other people. He cannot be generous with their property or unselfish in their cause. The public man is in the position of an advocate who must make the best terms for his client.

Whatever be the psychological explanation, there is only one practical remedy for making international morality as high as individual morality. Nations should meet together more often. The same forces of comradeship which molded and modified the conduct of individuals can eventually determine the relations of nations. Get the world about a common meeting place and standards of international morality will develop. Distance promotes thieving standards among nations.

Man's Work in the World Should Be Source of Satisfaction and Pleasure

By DR. LINDLEY, Chancellor University of Kansas.

Civilization has now come to be an earth conquest, and there has dawned a new humanism which proclaims that neither war nor worship nor contemplation nor the enjoyment of leisure are the chief ends of man—but the shaping of nature through human industry to realize human ideals.

Choosing of an occupation is too much by chance, the old-world tradition of following in a father's trade too often prevails, to the end that three-fourths of the men now in industry are badly placed. A man's employment should be such as will enrich rather than impoverish the personal life; it should be a source of satisfaction and pleasure.

Happiness in one's work comes from adjustment of task to aptitude. Scientific management is nothing less than the application of the arts and sciences to the problems of human industry. Chief progress in scientific management has been made in the perfecting of machine processes.

The bulk of the crude work of the world will eventually be done by machines. Plato despised labor in his day, just because it was rude of thumb, a routine, devoid of invention. Followers of Plato today, to be loyal to their high human ideals, must realize that a vast amount of creative intelligence of mankind is now engaged in industrial production and organization. This is the domain in which new human values are being wrought.

Church's Methods of "Conversion" in Great Need of Revision

By REV. ALFRED NEWBERRY, Chicago Minister.

The "hot house" method of converting the Twentieth-century man to Christianity is a failure; the church needs a new vocabulary, and a new approach. The old-fashioned idea of "winning souls" no longer fits in the religious approach to the average man. The trouble with the old technique of the church lies not in any unfitness to its own period, but in its unsuitableness for the present. It involves a vocabulary that is often meaningless or unattractive to the mind of the man outside the church. The picture of somebody working on him and "winning his soul" is by no means a winning one to his mind.

A new religion technique should meet these points. Do not seek to convince beyond the limits of personal experience of the man you talk to; seek for a willingness to see the reasonableness rather than the finality of your point of view; do not try to hot-house an individual into belief by an argument or a dilemma.

Seek rather to make him acquainted with a life of worship which will gradually demonstrate its indispensability.

God Loves a Good Laugh. He Wants a Song on the Lips of Men

By REV. CHARLES H. ROBINSON, Wheeling, W. Va., Minister.

All work and no play is bad hygiene and bad religion. God loves a good laugh. I know when I hear the the birds sing and see the flowers grow. He wants a song on the lips of men. A merry heart is good medicine, better than medicine.

God is not a tyrant Who sits on a throne making petty laws to govern our every move. He wants us to be happy. A mournful face and long hair are not proof of piety.

Our great national game, baseball, should be rescued from the gamblers and the Sabbath-breakers and turned to making people healthy. Golf and tennis have done a world of good in exercising men and regulating their digestion.

The last hope is the Christian citizen. The trouble with Christian citizens is that many of them, while exemplary in their homes and in society, when they go to the polls, forget their Christian ideals. They surrender Christ to party allegiance. Thus are the righteous sold out in their own house and the wicked rule the people.

Too Ardent Rooting for Favorite Baseball Team Is Not Good Sign

By DR. THADDEUS L. BOLTON, Temple University.

A man who would stand in line for hours for a seat in the bleachers and then shout himself hoarse rooting for his favorite baseball team, is not well-balanced mentally.

The well-balanced man will not become fanatical in his love for one particular sport. If he does, he is suffering from a mental hypertrophy. A hypertrophy is a growth. There are mental and physical hypertrophies. Physically they manifest themselves in the form of corns, bunions, boils, etc. Mentally, in the case of the baseball fan, by a tendency toward over-ardent, hysterical devotion to the one particular sport.

THE FAIRIES

The fairies had one of their fine balls just two evenings ago.

Among their guests were the brownies, elves, gnomes, many of the birds, butterflies, humming-birds, red lizards, grasshoppers, and crickets.

The crickets had arranged to sing for the dancing and the humming-birds said they would hum the tunes all the time that the crickets sang.

The robins sang some extra songs, and, of course, the other birds joined in the chorus.

Then came supper time. The table was made of daisies and moss, and such delicacies!

Well, it would have made your mouth water!

They had the goodies that every guest would enjoy most. Not a guest was forgotten. There were even little worms for the birds—and the other guests didn't mind that at all, as they knew the robins and orioles and other bird guests loved little worms.

They were given to the birds in special dishes made of grass.

But just as all the guests sat down to supper the Fairy Queen said:

"Come, all my fine waiters! And as she said this she waved her wand high in the air.

Then from far and near the blackest of black crows flew down and alighted all around the table.

They had promised the Fairy Queen to be just as good as gold could be, and to wait on all the guests before they had anything at all to eat.

They were quite willing to do this, for they had never been invited to a ball given by the fairies before and they were highly flattered.

Every time a guest said, "Thank you," when anything was passed, a crow would say, "Caw-caw," which they meant to sound like "You're welcome."

The crows always say "caw-caw" to almost everything, but it is just the tone they use that makes the "caw-caw" mean something quite different each time they want it to.

At the end of the supper, after the crows had had a feast, too, the Fairy Queen asked them if they wouldn't sing the old, old song about blackbirds in a pie.

At first the crows looked a bit sad, but then they said:

"Why, of course, we'll be happy to sing it."

"It's lots of fun to sing about such things after we have had a feast and know quite well that the Fairy Queen wouldn't bake us in a pie, even if we could get out afterward!"

How the guests did laugh to hear the crows singing about blackbirds in a pie—and stopping every minute to shout out:

"Not us, though, oh, no!"

And the Fairy Queen was very much delighted.

What creatures turn red when they get into hot water? Lobsters and small boys.

Why is not a distance at sea measured by miles as it is on land? Because it is knot.

All in Green Gowns

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)

"AND so you are wearing green?" remarked Ella Neilson as she looked at Kathleen's new dress for the party.

"Yes, you know it is my favorite color—perhaps I rather fancy it because my eyes are green."

"Are they green?" inquired her friend coolly. "I always thought they were grayish blue."

"No, indeed," laughed the other girl. "Mother has bought me a string of jade green beads—pretty, aren't they?"

"Lovely," murmured Ella indifferently, and presently she made some excuse and hurried on, but she did not go home then. She went to call upon several other girls of her set, and there was much laughter and giggling.

As for Kathleen, while she felt hurt about Ella Neilson's indifference, she did diagnose the case correctly. "I am afraid that Ella is a little jealous about my wearing the green dress," she told her mother that evening.

"You must not mind that, my dear," smiled her mother. "I am sure that Ella will wear a pretty frock and by that time she will have quite forgotten her jealousy. Did she ask you anything about Frederick?"

Kathleen shook her head. "I think that she was so upset about my dress that she never thought of my escort!"

"And she will take it for granted that Frederick will take her, as usual?"

"I suppose so, mother. I hope she finds it out before Thursday, though!"

Ella Neilson did find it out on Wednesday and she was furiously angry with both Frederick and Kathleen. She had met the young man near the town hall and she made the fatal mistake of taking it for granted that Frederick would be her cavalier as he had been several times in the past.

"What time will you come for me, Fred?" she asked when they were parting, and he had not mentioned the party.

"Ella Neilson!" he chided, trying to hide his embarrassment, "you know perfectly well that I am not coming to escort you to the party! Please do not tease a young man with political cares upon his shoulders!"

Ella smiled widely, nervously, and turned away. "That's a good joke on you, Frederick!" she giggled and went on, and Frederick, guessing her chagrin, and feeling somewhat guilty, went on his way, and in the midst of an important piece of work forgot all about Ella Neilson, though he did have a minute now and then to devote to Kathleen, who had quite stolen his heart.

That afternoon Ella Neilson called up several of her masculine friends at their places of business, and after several failures at last received an invitation from George Moore. "I am going in my car," he said, "and I'd like to take you, Ella—sure that I'm not butting in on Fred—or anything like that?"

"Very sure," said Ella sweetly, "and thank you so much, George. I will be ready at eight o'clock."

One of the queer things about the party that night was that eight o'clock sounded and went by and very few girls arrived.

There was the usual stag line of unattached young men, and there were some girls and their escorts. Pretty girls and plain girls in pink and yellow and blue and a few in white or black.

At a quarter after eight Ella Neilson arrived with George Moore, and she looked like a rose in a charming pink dress, and then in groups or by ones and twos came the other girls of her particular "crowd" and every girl wore green! Every shade of green silk, satin, or georgette in combination with another color was represented, and there was much laughter, while Ella Neilson was here, there, and everywhere in her rose-pink dress, like one lovely rose in a plain green garden of girls!

And then, just a little later, came Kathleen with Frederick Warner—Kathleen was all in green, too, but her dress was somehow "different" from the others—it was a beautiful shade of green, and she wore an odd string of jade beads.

"How odd that so many should wear green!" she confided to Fred as they danced. "Of course it is worn a lot—but our whole crowd is wearing green, all except Ella. Doesn't she look adorable in the pink?"

Frederick had keenly observed Ella Neilson, but he merely said: "Looks like a peony! Kathleen, you are like a cool green rush growing in a quiet pool."

Kathleen blushed adorably and smiled at him. "There are so many of us green rushes, Frederick—I am afraid we are like the wild flags in the creeks!"

"Never mind," he only whispered. "Among them all, Kathy, there is just one green. You!"

When the evening was over, and Frederick and Kathleen walked home under the early morning pale moon, it was then that Frederick confessed to Kathleen that he did not like any other girl except her—and she came out in just the way that all happily ending love stories do! As for Ella Neilson—it was something of a tragedy for her when she fell in love and married a man by the name of Green!

MRS. BASSETT ALWAYS TIRED

Now in Good Health by Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lansing, Michigan.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I needed it. When I first used it I was so bad I could hardly walk across the room without crying. I was tired all the time. I think my trouble was coming on me for six months before I realized it. I read of your wonderful medicine in the paper, and I bought a bottle, and after the first few doses I felt better, so kept on taking it until I was well and strong. I take it at times when I feel tired and it helps me. I will always have a good word for your medicine and tell anyone what good it has done me. I recommended it to my neighbor for her girl, who is sixteen years old, and it was just what she needed. She is feeling fine now, and goes to school every day."—Mrs. E. F. Bassett, 216 South Hayford Avenue, Lansing, Michigan.

Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sold by druggists everywhere. It is a root and herb medicine and has been used by women for over fifty years.

Fosters Nature Study

The move made by Rev. Joseph Murgas, pastor of a Slovak congregation in North Wilkes-Barre, to bring the children of the parish, and all others who care to avail themselves of the opportunity, into closer touch with nature, is worthy of special commendation. The pastor, says Nature Magazine, has secured a tract of 30 acres where bird and plant life are to be propagated and encouraged, and all phases of nature fostered for their educational inspirational value.

HUNTING DISTRICTS IN TEXAS CHANGED

New boundaries of hunting districts in Texas are made by an amendment to the regulations under the migratory bird treaty act, approved by the President on September 6, according to an announcement of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. The changes were made to harmonize the Federal regulations and the State law. This amendment has the effect of prescribing an open season on mourning doves from September 1 to December 15, and on waterfowl (except wood ducks and swans), coot, gallinules and Wilson snipe or jacksnipe from October 16 to January 31 in that portion of Texas lying west and north of a line beginning on the Rio Grande River directly west of the town of Del Rio, Texas; thence east to the town of Del Rio; thence easterly following the center of the main track of the Southern Pacific Railroad through the towns of Spofford, Uvalde and Hondo; thence to the point where the Southern Pacific Railroad crosses the International & Great Northern Railroad at or near San Antonio; thence following the center of the track of the I. & G. N. R. R. in an easterly direction to the point in the City of Austin where it joins Congress Avenue, near the I. & G. N. R. R. depot; thence across said Congress Avenue to the main track of the Houston & Texas Central Railroad where the track joins Congress Avenue at or near the H. & T. C. R. R. depot; thence following the center line of the track of the H. & T. C. R. R. in an easterly direction through the towns of Elgin, Giddings and Brenham, to the point where the railroad crosses the Brazos River; thence with the center of Brazos River in a general northerly direction to the point on the river where the Beaumont branch of the Santa Fe Railway crosses it; thence with the center of the track of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railroad in an easterly direction through the towns of Navasota, Montgomery and Conroe to the point at or near Cleveland where this railroad crosses the Houston East and West Texas Railroad; thence with the center of the H. E. & W. T. R. R. track to the point where it strikes the Louisiana line.

In that part of Texas lying south and east of the above designated boundary line, the seasons on mourning doves are from November 1 to December 31, and on waterfowl (except wood ducks and swans), coot, gallinules and Wilson snipe or jacksnipe from November 1 to January 31.

NOTICE!

Both our ranches have been made State Game Reserves. Anyone hunting thereon is subject to prosecution by State Law.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE TRANS-PECOS TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Whereas, the Trans Pecos Teachers' Institute has enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable meeting at Sul Ross State Teachers' College at Alpine, Texas, Sept. 5, 1927.

Be It Resolved, by the teachers of said institute:

1.—That we express our appreciation to the authorities of Sul Ross College for extending to us the free use of their splendid and adequate building, the library, swimming pool and college bus.

2.—That we express our gratitude to Mr. J. H. Head for his efficient service as conductor of the institute, and to Mr. R. J. Rathiff, Miss Seale and to the various leaders of the intermediate section.

3.—That we express our thanks to Rev. Williams, Col. Perkins, Rev. Davis, Mr. Cattle, Senator Berkeley, Rev. Irving, Mr. J. D. Jackson and Senator Thomas B. Love for their interesting and inspiring addresses.

4.—That we express our thanks to Miss Fleetwood, Miss Turner, Mr. Wood and others who have so delightfully entertained us with their music.

5.—That we express our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gilley of Berkeley Hall and to the other citizens of Alpine who have so graciously opened their houses for our accommodation and entertainment, and to the Mojave Theater for their free entertainment on Tuesday evening.

Whereas, the teachers of Mexican schools in this section have not the opportunity of taking a course preparatory for this special line of work and whereas they realize the urgent need for such a course; therefore, we the teachers of this institute suggest that a six weeks course of this kind be offered by the Sul Ross College during the summer sessions.

We further recommend that the Trans Pecos Institute at its next regular session provide a section and an instruction, for teachers of Mexican schools.

Whereas, conditions are such that more efficient campaigns for membership in T. S. T. A. can be made in September, October and November, and whereas teachers are accustomed to think and act in terms of the school year rather than in terms of the calendar year, we, the teachers of Trans Pecos Teachers' Institute, recommend that the T. S. T. A. at its next regular meeting, change the time of beginning of the membership year to September 1 rather than January 1.

Whereas, Captain Gillett has given to the public a true and worth-while story of frontier days, in "The Texas Ranger," and whereas the book is of such a nature that it would be of great interest and help to young readers and students of Texas history, we recommend that the State Text Book Commission give it serious consideration with a view to adopting it as a supplementary reader for Texas history.

Whereas the benefit of association and instruction derived from teachers' institute is of such vital importance to the success of the teacher's work during the school year, we respectfully request the Legislature to restore the five-day institute law.

Whereas, the last Legislature reduced by one-half the appropriation for the summer schools in the State Teachers' Colleges, and whereas it is impossible for many teachers to secure additional scholastic training except during the summer sessions, and whereas these teachers both desire and need this opportunity for advancement.

We, the teachers of Trans Pecos Institute respectfully request that the Legislature at its next regular or special session make sufficient appropriations to enable the State Teachers' Colleges to hold full time summer schools.

JESSE BLACKWELL.

Motorists are beginning to learn that there's a big difference in tires, although they all look pretty much alike.

Some are made with skimpy, short staple cotton. Some have an overdose of "filler" in the rubber of the tread. Some are long on looks and short on quality.

But you won't need a microscope to be sure that the Goodyear Tire you get from me is a real buy. Goodyear mileages tell the story.

Goodyears are performing so satisfactorily for my customers that they invariably come back—not with a kick but with a boost, and for another Goodyear when they need tire equipment.
