Baptists Break Ground For New Church Building

On Sunday, February 12, the Baptist church had the following inspirational program, the occasion being the breaking of the ground for the erection of their new church.

Song service.
Prayer, Rev. J. A. McMillan.
Special song, "It Pays to Serve Jesus"—Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAdams.
Sermon, "Breaking the Ground," by the pastor, Rev. I. E. Owen.

Duet, "Nearer the Cross"—Mrs. Roy Knox and R. H. Lewellen.

The congregation and friends then went to the lot, which is located just east of the W. R. Qualtrough home, where the breaking of the ground was made, the first spade of dirt being turned by Fred Savage, the only charter member present. Prayer by Rev. I. E. Owen concluded the program.

This occasion gladdened the hearts of the members for they have been without a church building for some time.

Announcement.

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Terrell County. I will appreciate your vote and influence and if elected I will attend to the duties of the office in a satisfactory manner and at all times work for the best interest of the whole county and all of the citizens.

Sincerely,
W. J. BANNER.

TELEPHONE COMPANY MAKES IMPROVEMENTS

The past several months the local telephone company has been very busy making numerous improvements and installing new and latest equipment. A standard copper metallic transposition circuit was completed late Tuesday, making complete connection with Marathon. Just recently this office was connected with Fort Stockton on the Southwestern Bell Company.

Soon line and cord repeaters will be installed which will complete the equipment for exceptional long distance calls. Sanderson will be the foremost toll center in West Texas, in as far as toll line connections. In fact, it is the largest toll station between Del Rio and El Paso.

MRS. LEMONS ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION.

The Times is authorized to place the name of Mrs. Luella Lemons before the voters for their consideration as to re-election to the office of county and district clerk.

Methodist Church.

The pastor will preach both morning and evening, Sunday the 19th. Subject 11 a. m., "The Nature and Design of the Lord's Supper," followed by the Sacramental service.

Subject 7:30 p. m., "Religion in Business." The following are some of the points discussed: First, religion is not something apart from the every day affairs of life, but it is life itself. Second, it is a mistake to think that we are doing religious work only when in engaged in so-called religious duties. Third, if a thing ought to be done it is religious to do it. Fourth, when a man finds his life work and enters upon it in the right spirit, he is engaged in religious work. We very much desire the presence of the men of all callings and professions of life.

We believe this sermon will help you. Come and let us try it out on you.

Faithfully,
CHAS. H. ARMSTRONG,
Pastor.

Mrs. Walter Gregory of San Antonio is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ed Downie.

Brown-Stavley.

Miss Bertha Helen Stavley and Ben H. Brown surprised their many friends here last Wednesday, February 8, by motoring to Alpine where they were united in marriage by the Rev. R. F. Davis, Methodist minister of that city.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stavley, prominent ranch people who have recently moved here from Juno.

Mr. Brown is a well-to-do ranchman of this county. They will make their home on the ranch of the groom which is located in the northeast part of the county.

The Times joins the host of friends in wishing for them the best and most prosperous future.

WOLF CLUB MAKES PROGRESS.

During the past four months that the Wolf Club has been in existence much good has been accomplished and several animals have been killed.

The club is composed of all the ranchmen who have organized for the purpose of clearing the county of all destructive animals. The ranchmen contribute so much money, the county so much and the State some, which goes into a fund that pays the trappers to kill off the animals. Since October 163 wolves and 108 bob cats have been caught at a total cost of $8,665. Toward this sum $1,359 was contributed by the State, $1,850 by the county and $5,446 by the ranchmen. Of the amount put in by the ranchmen they have received back $507.31 from the sale of furs.

It's the gas,

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.

OIL ROUTS WOLF FROM RANCH DOOR

Owner Once Offered 26,000 Acres at $3 Each.

San Angelo, Texas.—The wolf of want that had pursued Ira G. Yates, aged ranchman, since he was a lad of twelve seemed very close last fall when Yates tried to sell his ranch at $3 an acre—and failed.

A mortgage of $80,000 hung over the property of the seventy-six-year-old ranch owner and he had hoped to meet this by selling his 26,000 acres and his cattle.

And now the land that Ira Yates could not sell has made him a millionaire. Engineers say that there are 275,000,000 barrels of oil under his land.

Yates liquidated the debt that had loomed so large merely by leasing a small part of his real estate to an oil company. Then he sat back and let the oil companies bid against each other for the drilling rights on the rest of the land—no longer the Yates ranch, but now the Yates oil field.

Cattle and sheep no longer roam over the mesas and through the ravines, for the old ranchman fears that an oil derrick might fall and kill some of the animals.

But he is a ranchman still. He has bought a ranch of 23,000 acres in central Texas and moved his herds there. There is no mortgage over the new ranch and he hopes that he never may be compelled to offer his property at $3 an acre.

"Creditors used to be after me for money," said Yates as he mused on the changes that have occurred. "Now a lot of people try to get money from me, but it's a different sort of demand."

This is the first time, he added, that he has been "ahead of the wolf" since he was left an orphan at the age of twelve.

Prize Trophy Cup for Cleanest Town in 1928

New York.—Announcement is made by Mrs. Dolly Dean Burgess, chairman, that the division of community service, department of education, General Federation of Women's Clubs, is inaugurating a nation-wide "Our Town Clean Up and Beautifying Campaign" for 1928, in which a prize trophy cup will be awarded to the cleanest town in each state in the United States, 48 prizes in all.

In each state, the award will be based not upon the condition of the community at present, nor the number of communities competing but upon the progress made during the 1928 campaign, to be shown by "before and after" photographs, and specific reports of the achievements.

34,000 Names Listed in British Who's Who

London.—Britain's Who's Who for 1928 contains 34,000 biographies, 2,000 more than in the 1927 edition. The volume, described by the publishers as "144 cubic inches of facts," is actually one-quarter inch thinner than last year's owing to a considerable reduction in the gauge of the paper. George Bernard Shaw and other prominent individuals retain their usual humorous paragraphs under the heading of "recreations."

Seek to Find Trace of "Lost" Indian Tribe

Washington.—Hope of uncovering traces of a "lost" tribe of Indians, the Calusa, which disappeared about 100 years ago after having played a dominant part in the history of southern Florida, is taking a Smithsonian Institution expedition under Henry B. Collins, Jr., to that state to excavate newly discovered mounds.

An account of a battle in 1533, in which 80 canoes filled with Calusa braves prevented Ponce de Leon from landing his forces along their coast, is history's earliest mention of the tribe. Records disclose that later the tribe acquired great wealth in gold from Spanish galleons wrecked off the coast.

The Calusas were known to have made human sacrifice of their captives, scalped and dismembered the bodies of their slain enemies, and have often been accused of cannibalism.

To the Youth of the Nation Falls the Duty of "Saving" Society

By DANIEL L. MARSH, President Boston University.

THE youth of today faces the age-old problem of "saving" society. In order to accomplish its task the rising generation must succeed in rejuvenating a moral and social conscience which, despite the best intentions of society, shows unmistakable signs of "petering out" periodically. It is education that will help in the saving.

It is impossible to capitalize the good things of each generation so strongly that the accumulated moral strength will not subside and ultimately end in bankruptcy unless its strength is renewed with each generation. That means that each generation is faced with the necessity of saving society.

As a result, education must play its part and each generation must be taught certain fundamentals essential to an orderly state of society.

Among other things, America's youth must be taught to place only good and worthy men in positions of power, to enact just and equal laws and to enforce the laws upon all alike, without delay and without fear or favor, for delay causes fermentation of unsocial propaganda.

They must be taught to obey and reverence all laws as the political religion of the nation, for disrespect for law is a sign of social disintegration; to respect property as a divine institution, for by means of it the material wealth of mankind may be increased, the intellect developed and innumerable virtues exercised, and to recognize human rights as more important than property rights.

America's youth must learn to think clearly and not to confuse liberty with license, nor public opinion with mob psychology; to appeal to reason instead of to physical force and violence as a means of settling disputes, and to rise above all class and racial fear and hatred and jealousy and animosity.

Time for America to Declare to the World Its Definite Peace Policy

By DR. NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER, President Columbia University.

The time has come to take the outstretched hand of Europe that has been offered us and to declare the peace policy of the United States in terms that our people desire and applaud and that the whole world can understand.

If we join nations on a like plane of civilization in saying that in our dealings with each other we don't contemplate fighting, that we contemplate only discussion, only conciliation, only arbitration, and in the extreme case judicial settlement, and that we have reached a civilized point where we are not going to consider fighting them, believe me, so long as those nations and ours keep their word, war of a serious kind will have a much harder time in breaking out than it has now.

There are a large number of persons at the great diplomatic center of Washington who talk about peace but are alarmed when asked to do something definite. My appeal is to the public sentiment of America to say to ourselves and to the world that we are ready to this extent to manifest that will to peace which is the only thing that can establish the habit of peace.

Child Seldom Will Be Found Better Than Home From Which It Came

By DR. ALBERT PARKER FITCH, New York (Presbyterian).

The human race as far back as Plato has been trying to find a substitute for the home so we won't have to be bothered with the annoyance and care of children, but no one has ever succeeded. Fathers and mothers represent God to the child, who says nothing and sees so much, and in my 18 years of teaching undergraduate boys and girls I have come to know that you can expect the child to be just what the home was from which that child came.

There are two ways of loving your children. One is in the creative way, which sees in them the coming man or woman that should be fine and great, and the other is the lazy and indulgent fondness which a cat will give to her kitten. This kind of love makes a milkop of the boy and a shallow, inefficient woman.

If the parents never talk about God, read the tabloid newspaper and cheap literature, the boys and girls will never learn the supreme value of life. They will not get it anywhere if they don't get it in the home.

No Possibility That Movement for Christian Reunion Can Be Stopped

By BISHOP WILLIAM T. MANNING (Episcopal).

The movement for the reunion of Christendom cannot be stopped, despite the recent papal encyclical opposing the movement. No utterance can or will stop or retard that great movement. I don't think anyone seriously wants to stop it. It is going on and the Christians all over the world, Catholic and Protestant, are drawing nearer to each other.

Our own church and the Anglican communion throughout the world will continue to play a large part in that movement, because in the providence of God the Anglican church includes in itself those things which are true and essential for which Protestantism stands. It was for this reason our German brethren at Lausanne, at the world's conference on faith and order, last year, applied to the Anglican church the name "bridge church," because they recognized the fact that we stand in a unique relation with the Catholic world on the one hand and the Protestant world on the other.

Modern Father Shares With Mother Preschool Training of Children

By DR. LOIS HAYDEN MEEK, Educational Director.

Women are educating men to the point of taking an interest in the scientific training of children of preschool age. Formerly this particular form of education was considered the duty only of women. But the departure of many women from the home into the business and professional worlds has created a new situation. Both the mother and the father are at home and with the children an equal number of hours now. It is not as it used to be, when the mother's entire day was spent with her youngster.

With this greater equality, fathers have realized that the preschool training is as much their job as their wives. And as a result most prominent educators among men and in men's educational organizations are making a study of the problem with specific relation to the father in the home.

TO CIRCLE WORLD IN TWENTY DAYS

French Aeronautical Experts Say It Can Be Done.

Paris.—"Around the world in 20 days" will be practical in a few years, according to calculations of French aeronautical experts based on the number of flights from Paris to the Far East, accomplished in the last two years.

From a detailed examination of these flights it is apparent that the actual flying time over long distances was only a small part of the time taken, due to delays on the ground. Thus, Pelletier D'Olby, who flew from Paris to Saigon, a distance of about 7,000 miles, in 18 days, lost three days at Karachi, India; another day at Agra and three more at Calcutta. The Americans, Brock and Schlee, flew from Paris to Rangoon, 6,300 miles, in ten days, having lost one day at Constantinople, owing to passport formalities.

Of course, none of these men flew at night. It is therefore deduced that, even at present, the Paris-Java flight, of a little more than 8,000 miles, can be made in seven days. As the circumference of the earth is 24,000 miles, the entire circuit could be made in three weeks. But for this it will be necessary to arrange the various "jumps," each of which would be made by a different machine with a fresh pilot.

The airplanes of 1927 are vastly superior to those of three years ago as far as the motors and radius of action are concerned, but the limit of human endurance has not varied. This is especially the case when it is a question of a constant effort over ten or more days.

As far as commercial flying has progressed it may be taken that 1,200 miles a day is the average distance possible. When special measures have been taken to make night flights safe the time for the world girdling flight will be appreciably diminished.

If Child Grows Fat, Consider Baby Rabbit!

New York.—Mothers who are appalled at the bean-stalk speed with which children seem to grow out of their clothes can be thankful that little boys do not sprout up as fast as rabbits, cows and guinea pigs.

Charts comparing the growth of children with that of animals have been worked out by Dr. Samuel Brody of the Missouri agricultural experiment station. Reporting his results in Science Magazine, Doctor Brody shows that a child between four and fourteen years of age grows at the rate of only 10 per cent a year. Reduced to days, this means that in less than four days the young animal gains as much as the child gains in a year.

The juvenile period in man spreads over an enormously long period of time compared with that in domestic animals Doctor Brody states. Children who have not grown fast between four and twelve years often shoot up rapidly between twelve and fifteen. This appears to be in the nature of compensatory growth for an earlier deficiency. Doctor Brody concludes: Children who have grown more rapidly in earlier childhood do not seem to have this acceleration in their teens.

Dog Aids Dope Thefts Running Up to $50,000

Philadelphia.—A "drug-sniffing" dog, which is said to have led its masters to $50,000 worth of narcotics, jugged into a trap laid by police recently and its owner and his pal were captured. Detectives said that scores of druggists had been robbed by the man with the dog. According to the authorities, the dog and his master would saunter into the drug store and the man would order a soda. Suddenly the canine would yelp and dart to the rear of the store. The man would run after him and would loot the store of all the narcotics in sight before he left.

Complaint by a West Philadelphia druggist that the trick had been worked in his store during the last few months every time he left a new clerk in charge led to the arrest of Edward Seay, owner of the dog, and Thomas Gilmore, alleged "lookout."

Listen! That's Your Goldfish Raising Din

East Lansing, Mich.—If any care to know, they may find out how much noise a goldfish makes when it swims about in its glass bowl. The answer to the puzzle, which may or may not have worried folks for years, was given at the electrical show at Michigan State college during Farmers' week here.

Visitors were able to detect the slightest noise made by a goldfish as it swam around in its medium, which is noted for its lack of privacy. Detection was made possible by the principle of radio control.

Another new feature of the show this year was a radio-controlled car. The principle also will be worked out in relation to door bells. A receiving set recorded the rings from a sending set in another room through a special relay system.

HUDSPETH ACTIVE AT WASHN. TON

Washington, Feb. 16.—Representative C. B. Hudspeth of Texas addressed the House last week with respect to the bill authorizing the survey of the Mexican boundary near El Paso for the purpose of expediting, if justified, the proposed treaty between the United States and Mexico.

"This treaty," Mr. Hudspeth said, "brings to the United States about $50,000,000 worth of property which has been in dispute for many years. It settles all disputes with respect to certain strips of land from El Paso to Fort Quitman, and stabilizes the river so that in the future it will not change its course overnight."

"Senator Sheppard, our able Senator from Texas, and myself have worked for about six or seven years to bring about a settlement of these disputed matters, making dozens of visits to the State Department, the War Department, and the White House, and I want to state here and now we have had not only the active co-operation and assistance of the various secretaries of state, but the able and efficient assistants under them, and the President, who have worked in season and out to get a just and amicable agreement with our neighbors to the South of the Rio Grande, and I am lained by our own able and diplomatic boundary commission, Hon. L. M. Larson of El Paso, who negotiated this agreement, with the Mexican boundary commissioner, which, I understand, is just to all parties concerned.

"Also, able gentlemen from El Paso have come to Washington and lent splendid assistance, viz., Major Burgess, ex-Judge Jackson, Judge E. B. McCauley, Mr. Lawson, and many others. These gentlemen are patriotic Americans and deserve commendation at the hands of our Government and my city and county and the farmers and citizens in the valley below El Paso."

The bill was passed unanimously.

WASHINGTON NEWS—By William P. He m, Jr., Washington Correspondent of the Sanderson Times.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Washington stewed a fine mass of political porridge last week. Everything went into the pot and many cooks attended. In addition to the usual political concoctions, liberal quantities of mud were thrown into the broth. The result was an dubious dish as the public has had served it for many a day.

The lid blew off with a bang in the little private war waged in Ohio between Herbert Hoover and Frank B. Willis. Both were Ohio's 51 delegates to the Kansas City convention. Willis has claimed this block of delegates from the start, months ago, and until recently there has been a sort of hands-off policy, on the part of all other candidates. Representatives from Ohio, family of Ohio politics, took a hole in the Willis fence the other day and backed up Hoover to come on in and enjoy himself.

Seventy odd other Ohio voters quickly assembled their names on a petition and accented the Burton motion. That seemed to put it square up to Mr. Hoover, and his advisers, including William F. Brown of Toledo (assistant secretary of commerce, but reputed to be a leading campaign manager) got busy. As this is written it looks as if Mr. Hoover would jump in and give Senator Willis a thrashing on his own home grounds.

There was much discussion as to whether Mr. Hoover should be getting wisely. It is generally predicted that Hoover will take the special part of the campaign elsewhere. O'Brien is confident that he would not be the Senator. These said he had all to gain and virtually nothing to lose. Whatever the result, the fight, if held, will open the way to clearing up some of the fog which the Hoover opponents have attempted to place over his campaign.

Thus the battle than a reasonably sure of a treat in Ohio which will hang out considerable fun on the clothlines. The part Mr. Hoover played, if any, in fixing the price of wheat during the war; where he stands on the wet-and-dry question; whether he really was a Democrat in 1918; whether he believes Uncle Sam should pay all the cost of the food control program—these are things that won't wait for the presidential campaign if the pre-convention fight comes off in Ohio, as now seems likely.

There is no disguising the election in other Republican camps. To date the fight has been the field against Hoover. Now that the general secretary has climbed into the hot water, the disposition of the rest of the candidates is to regard his predicament with considerable glee.

In other camps, the Lowell movement came to a head with the filing of papers in the Illinois primary contest. Illinois congressmen from the rural districts endorsed Lowell; Governor McMillan of Nebraska suggested that Hoover take on Norris there; Al Smith continued to debate the idea of getting out of the race, it was said, though no word came from him; Curtis of Kansas opened New York offices; Reed of Missouri extended his campaign from his Washington headquarters.

The South is making a wry face. A Washington newspaper reporter discovered, over Al Smith and is trying to work up a boom for Senator George of Georgia. Southern Republicans started a parade to the Hoover headquarters.

Here in Washington, the House got its biggest money bill—one providing nearly $2,500,000 for the treasury and post office departments. Congress decided to spend another $100,000,000 for federal buildings. That means a good many smaller communities will get new post offices in time. In the realm of high finance, likewise, was the budget bureau's estimate of the cost of the proposed bigger and better navy—$144,000,000 a year for eight years, or $1,152,000,000 in all with annual upkeep cost of $10,000,000 thereafter. This figure came as somewhat of a shock to Congress.

FORECASTS SMOKE ALONG WITH FROST

Lighting of Orchard Stoves Is Announced.

Washington.—The weather bureau's frost forecasting service in the Pacific coast fruit belt, which enables orchardists to light their oil heaters and save their crops, is being extended to "smoke" forecasting for the benefit of near by cities.

With the demonstration in recent years of the amazing accuracy of the frost forecasting service, which is maintained jointly by the weather bureau and the orchardists, confidence in the artificial heating of orchards has grown until now it is utilized on a tremendous scale.

In the citrus industries alone, which brings California $100,000,000 a year, 2,500,000 oil heaters are used to protect about 50,000 acres of orange and lemon trees.

Makes Best of Smoke. Although thousands of suggestions have been made and numerous patents obtained, the records in the office of J. H. Kinser, chief of the division of agricultural meteorology of the weather bureau, show no satisfactory substitute for the oil heaters.

The frost and smoke forecasts are issued late in the day whenever dangerous temperatures are indicated and are distributed by telephone and radio in ample time to permit the orchardists to light their heaters.

Eight experts are employed in this forecasting, under the direction of F. D. Young, the meteorologist who heads it single handed. They base their calculations on study of the regular daily weather map in conjunction with a hygrometric formula which takes into consideration local humidity and temperature conditions.

Proves Highly Accurate. In one season, during which he issued 96 forecasts, Young has been within two degrees of accuracy 94 per cent of the time.

Most of the cold snaps which threaten the California fruit crop develop when an area of low pressure moves out of Arizona or southern California and an era of high pressure from Nevada swings in.

Sand Turned Into Gems Before Spectators' Eyes Paris.—With nothing of the faker characteristics about his demonstrations, George Claude, eminent French scientist, recently amazed an audience at Fountainebleau by turning a handful of sand into precious stones, turning iron into a state resembling melted chocolate, and after depriving flowers of their tints turning them into the consistency of glass.

M. Claude used no trickery to perform his wonderful transformations. Oxygen was the vehicle, and it bubbled in a tube on a table near him.

M. Claude explained many things to his audience; how the sea could be turned into many millions of pounds of horse-power; that water, which boils is not necessarily burning; that little mounds of sand, by a single whiff of the blowpipe, could be changed into sapphires, rubies and topazes.

Finally, the scientist amazed his on-lookers by turning their faces black by taking the red out of the sun's rays.

Man Without Country Wants Status Changed

Greensboro, N. C.—J. G. Scherf, former Concord business man, now residing in Andalusia, Ala., is a man without a country and is seeking naturalization in the Federal court here to unravel the tangle.

Some time ago he applied to the Federal court and asked for naturalization papers. When the facts were presented the papers were denied him on the ground that he was a child of American citizens and was a citizen himself in spite of his foreign birth.

CORN THOUGHTS

"Do you know that people have been improving of late, do you know that, or did you know that?" asked the first crow of the other crows.

"You see," said the first crow, "people have been getting more saving of late."

"They've been taking to saving for other people and for themselves, and they've been growing things to eat wherever they could, for they say it is very wicked to waste."

"Splendid idea," said the second crow.

"Caw, caw, splendid idea," said the other crows.

"I Thought You Would Agree."

"I thought you would agree with me," said the first crow.

"I most certainly do," said the second crow.

"We must certainly do, caw, caw," said the other crows.

"Well, well, after our talk of food, won't we?"

"Indeed, we'll enjoy it."

Some children driving along by the field said:

"Oh, see those crows sitting along there. What do you suppose they're thinking about?"

And little did the children know that the crows were thinking of the corn that had been planted and of the banquet they were going to have, nor that they were so delighted that people were planting more and not wasting.

The crows felt, too, they deserved a banquet once in awhile for they did their work in destroying really harmful insects.

CONUNDRUMS

Why is the letter P like a Roman emperor? Because it's Nero (near O).

What pudding is most serviceable in a game of baseball? A good batter.

Why are stars the best astronomers? Because they have studied the heavens since the creation.

Grasshopper is a long word. Can you spell it with two letters? It.

Why is a field of grass like a knife box? It contains many blades.

What flower if combined with bread and milk completes a lunch? Buttercup.

Why is a patch of sweet corn like a dunce? Because it is liable to get its ears pulled.

Why is a slippery sidewalk like a piano? Because if you don't C sharp you will B flat.

Valentine Bridge Party.

Mrs. S. S. Daggett was the charming hostess Saturday afternoon, in the dining room of the Kerr Hotel, to several tables of bridge. The room was beautifully decorated with red carnations, the Valentine motif having been used. The tallies, score pads, and luncheon cloths carried out the Valentine theme. A plate lunch of chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, olives, marshmallow pudding topped with whipped cream, and cherries and heart shaped cakes furthered the color scheme and motif. Plate favors were tiny heart shaped candy boxes containing red and white mints.

Mrs. C. C. Foster received the high score prize, a red satin quilted pillow. To Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson went the heart shaped taffeta pillow as second high score prize. Mrs. Carlton White was the lucky winner for the heart shaped box of candy as cut prize, while a novelty valentine was the booby prize that went to Mrs. J. C. Mitchell.

Miss Annie Lee Green of Overton, Texas, is visiting Mrs. J. S. Mason.

Mrs. Katherine Harrell, who is attending Draughon's College in Del Rio, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sharp, here this week.
