Oil Development Holds Much Interest

Vast interest is being taken in the development of various oil fields in this county toward the path of bringing in new oil. The Transcontinental Oil Company, a Delaware corporation, recently recorded an assignment of various oil and gas leases to the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, a West Virginia corporation, subject to the 148th Over Riding Royalty interest covering lands situated in this county, commonly known as the Fred & Callahan, and M. Goode Sr. ranches, both containing several thousand acres of land.

The Deed Records also reveal the facts that the Transcontinental Oil Company sold an undivided 116th interest in and to the oil, gas and other minerals in and under that may be produced from 3458.3 acres of land situated in the North-eastern portion of this county to the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company.

It is reported that the test well on section 26, Block 161, G. & S. F. Ry. Co. survey is now being drilled by the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, and a 300 foot sand has been encountered with a good showing of sweet oil.

Reports from other wells being drilled in the county indicate that vigorous progress is being made in the line of developments.

Mr. Roy A. Reynolds, an independent operator and consulting geologist of Fort Worth, Texas, who is now touring several countries in Europe for a group of New York bankers was heard from at Pescara, Abruzzi, Italy, last week stating he was seeing lots of country, but still thinks Texas a fine state. Mr. Reynolds has an eighty acre lease in section 120, block D-10, C. Ry. Co. survey, which has been estimated by a reliable geologist of a major company from the State of Oklahoma to be worth a million dollars ahead of development.

Local People Have Chance to Invest

C. A. Morland, manager of the Texas-Louisiana Power Co., today announced that a small block of the 7 per cent cumulative preferred shares of this company will again be offered to friends and customers in this community, beginning September 22. Many citizens of Sanderson are already shareholders in this local utility company and receive dividend checks quarterly.

This security has proven particularly attractive to local investors because it is not of a speculative nature but represents a sound investment in a stable industry, with properties located in the section in which the investor lives. The services of the company, which are well diversified both as to nature and geographic location, are electricity, gas, water, ice and transportation. The majority are electric properties, located in the states of Texas and New Mexico.

Another attractive feature of the Texas-Louisiana Power Co. preferred stock is the monthly savings plan, which enables the small investor to save systematically, by paying as little as $10 per share per month. These payments earn interest at 7 per cent from the time they are made and are converted into a 7 per cent dividend bearing stock when fully paid.

Customer ownership, or the sale of company shares to local investors, has proved of mutual advantage to the utilities and their customers. Stockholders gain by sharing in the earnings of the business; the company gains through a more friendly interest on the part of customers in its affairs, and the community gains because money paid as dividends remains at home.

Utility company preferred shares paying a 7 per cent dividend rate are becoming more difficult to obtain at a reasonable price, and officials of Texas-Louisiana Power Company state that it appears this will be the last offering of their 7 per cent preferred stock.

The shares will sell at $104 and accrued dividends. They may be purchased at the office of the Company or through any of the employees.

Mrs. G. B. Reese, sister of Mrs. C. L. Sims, has been visiting here the last three weeks from Corpus Christi. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Mamie.

The Sanderson Times office have just received a new line of Christmas folder samples. Come in and give us your order. We also do the printing.

Mrs. Bessie Brown came in from Sabinal, Texas Monday, and is now night operator at the Telephone office.

The reception which was to be given by the Parent-Teachers Association, October 4th on the lawn of the Joe Kerr residence, has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr and Mrs. Hurley Washburn and baby have returned from Marfa where they have been visiting the past week.

News and Notes From The High School

The program given by the members of the Junior Little Theatre and the fifth grade at the High School Auditorium last Friday night was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd. The first part of the program was a pageant entitled, "The Toy Maker," given by the students of the fifth grade. Following this, the play, "The Wedding," was presented by the members of the High School Public Speaking Department, who have organized themselves into the Junior Little Theatre. The characters of both plays were well suited to their parts, and the perfection with which the entire program was rendered gave proof of the interest that is being created among our students in the field of dramatics.

Seven of the students who graduated from the Sanderson High School this past May are now enrolled in some college or university.

Jack Smith and Griffin Lattimore are in Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine; Margaret Lattimore and Jack Stovell are enrolled in State University at Austin; Frank Jansa and John Green have entered Schreiner Institute at Kerrville; Myriam Carpenter is in Abilene Christian College at Abilene, and Elizabeth Sherrod is in College of Industrial Arts at Denton.

The Sophomores, sponsored by Misses Robinson and Weatherby, enjoyed a picnic at Sanderson Canyon Friday night, September 19. Each member of the class had the privilege of inviting two guests which greatly increased the number of the jolly crowd. A huge bon fire furnished light by which the delicious supper was eaten, and then games were played until about 10 o'clock when it was agreed that it was time to come home. Everyone had a good time, and they all seem to be looking forward with great enthusiasm to the time when they can have another such delightful occasion.

A picnic was given by the Senior Class on Wednesday evening, September 24, at Sanderson Canyon in honor of Aurora Robertson, who is moving to Uvalde. The picnic was sponsored by Miss Bonnie Cox, sponsor of the Senior Class; Miss Fleda Belle Jernigan, Miss Dorothy Weatherby, and Coach G. C. Knight. Those present were Novis White, Aline Haass, Lillie Strange, Aurora Robertson, Mattierue Newton, Mable Schupbach, Opal Shelton, Cecil Bradley, Ray Qualtrough, Jack Laughlin, Gus Kercheville, Alymer Griffith, Elmer Haass, William Lea, James Daniels and Andrew Henry.

Cactus Club

Mrs. Carlton White was hostess to the Cactus Bridge Club, Wednesday afternoon at her home. Mrs. Horace Fletcher received first prize. Mrs. Lewis Lemons second, both prizes were lovely pottery pitchers.

A delicious salad course was served to the following guests and members. Mesdames, S. C. Bodkin, Herbert Buchanan, Ed sterrett, Frank Robertson, J. C. Stansell, Wallace Henshaw, Horace Fletcher, Lewis Lemons, Kate Harrell, Misses Willie Mae Green, Louise and Novis white. The next meeting will be with Mrs. S. C. Bodkin.

C. A. Morland went to El Paso Thursday of last week to attend a meeting of the General Electric Refrigerator Dealers, which was held at Hotel Hussman. He was accompanied by his son, B. C. Morland.

Parent-Teachers Association Meets

The Parent Teacher Association of Sanderson met in the High School Auditorium Thursday afternoon, September 25, at 3:45 o'clock. Mrs. Goldwire, president of the organization, presided over the meeting. Songs were sung by the second grade, the third grade, and the High School Glee Club. Mr. Brannan discussed very briefly his vision for the Sanderson High School. A very applicable reading was given by Mrs. Lockhausen.

After the program, attention was turned to a few business items that were brought before the organization by the executive committee. Mrs. Johnson, secretary, read the minutes, and they were approved. It was decided that all business should be transacted by the executive committee, and only a brief report of the business given at the regular meeting. Room representatives are to be chosen this week by the pupils of each room, and a report of the representatives is to be given at the next meeting. It was decided that regular meetings should be held on the first Thursday of each month instead of on the last Thursday, thus making another meeting this week, Thursday, October 2.

Meeting Of The Missionary Society

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Lee Grigsby Tuesday afternoon, September 23, for their regular monthly social meeting. The Presbyterian Auxiliary, Mrs. John Neal, Vasbinder, Dyer and Vinson, were guests at the meeting.

Meeting opened by singing, "Take My Life and Let It Be." The devotional, "The Material Side of Life," was given by the leader, Mrs. Stuckey. Sentence prayers were said, followed by singing "Jesus Calls Us." Mrs. B. J. Brannan gave the Missionary topic, "Schools for Children in Cuba." Mrs. H. D. Johnson closed the meeting with a prayer.

During the social hour Mrs. Justice gave a reading, "An Aspiring Dishwasher." Several contests and games were played. A delicious salad course was served to Mrs. Garrison, Brannan, Goldwire, Grigsby, Halseff, Johnson, Justice, Landers, McKinley, Savage, Stuckey, White, Yates, Charlton, Newton, Nichols, Utterback, Clatfelter, Neal, Vasbinder, Vincent, Dyer, Williams, Brown, Thrift, Bodkin, Murrah, Haass and Lee.

Baptist Revival Progressing Nicely

Evangelist Starnes who with Rev. Ira Harrison is holding a revival meeting at the Baptist church this week give out a hearty welcome to all that will come and hear the wonderful sermons Rev. Starnes is giving.

The Pastor is anxious that the church membership get in the meeting. There has been two additions to the church at this writing (Thursday) others are coming. Come and get in the meetings, also the song service.

Subscribers to The Sanderson Times since August 15 are as follows: Joe F. Brown, Miss Glass, Geo. E. O'Neil, Jim Nance, Powell Laundry, Sanderson Garage, Dr. A. P. Utterback, E. B. Whitaker and S. C. HINTS ABOUT FOODS THAT WILL BE ENJOYED BY THE FAMILY

By NELLIE MAXWELL

There is no trait you can not overcome. Say not thy evil instinct is inherited. Or that some trait inborn makes thy whole life forlorn. And calls for punishment that is not merited.

Back of thy parents and grandparents lies The Great Eternal Will, that, too, is thine. Inheritance—strong beautiful divine: Sure lever of success for one who tries. —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Creamed dishes such as mushrooms, sweet breads, minced ham or chicken on toast or served with small biscuits are always in order. For some, marmalade and tea with a simple cake will be all they will care for. Fresh fruits, ice cream or ices are always favorites for dessert. All of the dishes may be prepared sometime before and if to be hot, reheated, so that the serving may be a very simple matter if all is well planned.

Spinach Mold.—Put fresh spinach through the meat grinder and pack solidly in a cup. For every two cups of spinach pulp add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, salt and pepper to taste, a dash of cayenne and a few drops of onion juice. Pack in a buttered mold, stand in a pan of water and bake until firm. Turn out the mold and garnish with horseradish and whipped cream.

Butter Taffy.—Boil two cups of brown sugar, one-fourth cupful of molasses, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of water and a teaspoonful of salt until when tried in cold water the mixture is brittle. When nearly done add one-fourth of a cupful of butter and before turning into the pan add flavoring. Cool, mark into squares.

Philadelphia Pepper Pot.—Wash a small veal knuckle, add one large onion and cover with three quarts of water; simmer for several hours. Skim off the fat after cooling. Add two potatoes cut into dice, one pound of cooked tripe cut fine, one bay leaf, tablespoonful finely chopped parsley and the meat cut into small pieces. Cook slowly, season with salt and pepper, rub flour to a paste with water or add noodles for thickening.

Fruit, Gelatin Combination Makes Nice Dessert.
Fruits in gelatin are always delicious for dessert. Tokay or Malaga grapes—the kind with firm flesh—are used in the following recipe for a mold made with grape juice from Concord grapes. As in most recipes containing fruit juices, a little lemon is added to intensify the fruit flavor. The proportions have been tested by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture:

1/2 the gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt

2 the lemon juice
2 cups grape juice
1/2 cup seeded Tokay or Malaga grapes

Soften the gelatin in the cold water for five minutes, add the boiling water, sugar, and salt and stir until dissolved. When cool mix with the lemon and grape juice, chill, and when partly set stir in the grapes, put into a wet mold, let stand until firm, turn out on a plate and serve with whipped cream.

Molasses Dumpling.—Add lard to dough taken from the bread bowl, make into balls the size of a walnut and place in a well greased pan to rise. Cook one cupful each of water, molasses and one tablespoonful of butter. Pour this sauce over the light dough just before putting into the oven. Bake in a moderate oven and serve with more of the sauce poured over them.

Maple Cream Sauce.—Boil one and one-half cupfuls of maple sirup until it makes a hard ball when dropped into cold water. Remove from the heat and stir in two well beaten egg whites, add two tablespoonfuls of cream and a teaspoonful of vanilla. One cupful of maple sugar and one-half cupful of water may be used instead of the sirup.

Pineapple Aspic.—Add enough orange juice to a large can of pineapple to make a pint of juice all together. Heat the juice, add one-quarter of a cupful of sugar, a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Soak one and one-half tablespoonful of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of water, dissolve in the hot juice. Cut the pineapple into small pieces and cover with aspic.

Allow to set. Chill thoroughly with cream and chopped pistachio nuts.

Southern Salad.—Peel and cut five oranges into very thin slices, divide each slice into quarters. Peel a medium-sized cucumber and dice into small cubes. Chop a green pepper and marinate the mixture with french dressing. Arrange on individual plates on beds of watercress and serve very cold. Use one-half cupful of french dressing for this amount of salad. (©. 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

Bluish-Purple Coffee Is Not a New Development

When a Cincinnati housewife noticed a bluish-purple fluid bubbling up under the glass top of the coffee percolator, her surprise can be easily imagined. She called her husband to verify her recognition of colors and he, too, saw the fluid a blue instead of the usual rich brown of coffee. Officials of the federal food and drug administration's Cincinnati station were called on to explain. Was this a new development in coffee color or was the product adulterated? Chemists carefully examining the ground coffee found small pieces of a blue substance and bits of wood which proved to be parts of an indelible pencil. It was decided that a grocery clerk's pencil accidentally fell into the coffee grinder as the coffee was being ground.

FAIRY TALE FOR LITTLE ONES AT THE BEDTIME HOUR

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The moon had been shining but now it was not so bright, and somehow Enty's conversation did not seem so interesting to David. He sang his words now in a slow sing-song fashion which made David want to move his head slowly from side to side without thinking very much about what was being said.

"So you're going to sleep right on my belt," Enty said.

David blinked and saw he had toppled over and that he was indeed on Enty's belt.

"You'd better have a night's rest," Enty added. "We all have to come to it even though it is a bore—at least all humans must sleep."

"But I'll tell you where there is a nice bed for you."

He took David by the hand, which was just as well, for David was stumbling in his sleepiness.

Before David scarcely realized it, he was lying down in the loveliest, warmest, snuggliest bed he had ever known. He did not care much where it was, he was too tired to thank Enty, he just went off to sleep and it wasn't until morning that he knew that he had been sleeping in a most beautiful field of cotton upon some soft white cotton.

As he looked about him a little creature with a cunning, jolly face, dressed all in fluffy, soft white, said:

"You had a pleasant night's rest, didn't you? In just another hour or so you've an engagement to have a swim and breakfast with the Gulf of Mexico, but if you'd like to have a look around, I'd be delighted to show you."

David hastily got up and now he was in a very different part of the country. Here he saw signs which pointed north to South Carolina and a little to the northwest was a sign

CALCIUM IN OUR DIET IS NEEDED TO BUILD STRONG BONES AND TEETH

Some Common Sources of Calcium in Diet.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

We need enough calcium in our diet to make strong bones and teeth while we are growing and to replace what is lost in everyday use when we are older. Children who have not been given foods to supply them with sufficient calcium have poorly formed, brittle bones and soft teeth.

During very early childhood the most important source of calcium is milk. As the diet increases many other calcium-rich foods are added. Cheese, for instance, which is made of milk, stands out as a very rich source. Calcium is also supplied by certain vegetables, notably spinach, cauliflower, endive, dandelion greens and cabbage, rutabaga, white turnips, turnip tops, parsnips, okra, carrots, rhubarb, and watercress; also by oranges, dried figs and some of the dry legumes such as lentils, cowpeas and others; and by molasses and maple sirup. Milk, however, should always be included as a source of calcium.

In a series of charts on good nutrition the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture shows how laboratory animals increase in weight when sufficient calcium is added to a diet otherwise adequate but lacking this necessary mineral. All of the above-named foods contribute vitamins or other factors as well as calcium, but when the diet is being scrutinized for mineral content, they may be regarded first as sources of calcium.

Cabbage Slaw Takes Place of Other Salads

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Sometimes in the winter months lettuce for salads is hard to get. Cabbage slaw takes the place of other salads very nicely under these circumstances. It may be served hot or cold, and may be used as an accompaniment to almost any kind of meat. It goes especially well with fried oysters and other sea food. The bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture suggests one or two slight variations that help to make cabbage slaw a little different from usual.

Select a hard head of cabbage, cut in quarters, and wash thoroughly in cold water. Drain, shred with a sharp knife, and set aside in a cold place until crisp. Pour hot dressing over the crisp cabbage and stir until well mixed. Serve hot or cold.

One cupful of chopped celery or half cupful of finely shredded green pepper, or one cupful of thinly sliced tart apple can be added.

Out of the Ordinary

A letter was delivered to a Baltimore address 35 years late. This is unusual as there are very few inside coat pockets that will wear that long under any circumstances, and very few husbands who could carry a letter around for 35 years without stumbling across it by accident.—Detroit.

Great Artist Self-Taught

Albert Hechman says that Velasquez—"one of the greatest painters of all times"—was virtually self-taught, save for a little instruction he received from some local painters in his birthplace.

MOLD MEAT LOAF WITH THE HANDS, BAKE IN WIDE, SHALLOW PAN

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Much better results are obtained, in making a meat loaf, if the ground meat is molded with the hands and baked in a wide shallow pan, than when it is packed into a smaller pan and baked like a loaf of bread. The picture shows a good way to shape a veal loaf so that when it is either hot or cold, attractive slices may be cut from it.

Molding a Veal Loaf.

A well-seasoned veal loaf is one of the tastiest dishes made from the less expensive cuts. Meat from the neck, shank, or other cuts not suitable for roasts or cutlets is excellent for use in this way. Cold sliced veal loaf is particularly good as a sandwich filling, with or without a leaf of lettuce or a few sprigs of watercress.

Rivers of Same Name

There are four Red rivers in the United States, one in Texas and Oklahoma, that empties into the Mississippi; one in Kentucky, emptying into the Kentucky river; one in Wisconsin, emptying into the Wolf river, and the other, a small stream in middle Tennessee, entering the Cumberland river at Clarksville.

BACK VIEW OF AUTUMN HATS HOBBY WITH THE MILLINERS

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Viewing many of the new hats from the front, nary a bow, a feather or a flower is in sight, but from the back, well, that is an entirely different story.

ing ribbon. The touch of white on the hat answers to the white pleated frill which enlivens the frock of black crepe. The idea of relating the hat and the frock in matter of color combination is one which receives encouragement throughout the style program.

The beret of feutre glace felt at the right above centers its attractiveness at the very peak of its crown where a bow of the felt and a crystal ornament are posed in a most clever manner.

One of the interesting things milliners are doing this season is to manipulate velvet in every possible way. They shirr it, they tuck it, pleat it, drape it and tie it in bows, making it serve in most instances as its own trimming. The self-trimmed velvet hat below to the left in this group brings its pointed bow ends to the rear, thus answering the call for attractive back views.

As to the little bright feathers which so smartly trim many of the autumn and winter hats, one may expect to find them posed almost anywhere on the hat, and therein lies the secret of their charm. Per example the positioning of the cluster of tiny quilts on the draped felt beret in the picture is daring even to the point of being amusing and yet that elusive quality which we call "style" has been achieved in no small degree. Which is true of all feather treatments this season—style achieved through unique pose.

It adds to the prestige of the models here illustrated that they have been approved by that group of American millinery fashion authorities who have associated themselves together for the purpose of promoting authentic and exclusive fashions in millinery.

Amazes Mother

"Bobbie's stomach was often upset and he suffered a lot from colds," says Mrs. P. S. Fletcher, Jr., 409 W. 30th St., Los Angeles, Cal. "We found he was constipated."

"Mother used California Fig Syrup, so we gave Bobbie some. He amazed me by the quick way he became strong, energetic, well again. His bowels act freely now, and his digestion is splendid."

The quick, safe way to cleanse and regulate the bowels of bilious, head-achy, constipated children is with California Fig Syrup. Every child loves it. It has the full endorsement of doctors. When Food Sour

Phillips Milk of Magnesia

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And so good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the least discomfort, try—

Every Little Cell In Your System Says Thanks
 For Nourishment

You've seen "flowers in the rain, lift up their heads again".
 Well! that's how it is with hungry little cells when you answer their cry for food. At first the call is a whisper; you're just a little restless, or languid and tired. This happens at mid-meal hours; around 10-2 & 4 o'clock. Go then. Don't wait. Drink a bite to eat and see how much better you'll feel.

A little nourishment at such a time tides you over 'til another meal; puts an edge on your brain and body; picks you up and puts you on your feet. Try it... at regular hours... for just one week. No kidding! It works. Not a thing in it can harm you. It's one good habit to get. It won't get you.

Can I Learn to Fly?

by William R. Nelson

Up in the Air

IN THE air for the first lessons, the student is "following through" on the controls as his instructor, puts the plane through "straight" flying maneuvers.

"Don't look at the controls," came through my earphones. "Watch out there on the wings and tail. See how little the control surfaces move each time we move the stick and rudder pedals. Keep a sharp lookout for other planes. Learn to pick them out against all backgrounds."

We were 1,500 feet up. My instructor pointed out the landmarks of the airport—a railroad, a brickyard, a large red building. Then he moved the stick backward slightly and we began to climb. Next the stick went forward to neutral and we leveled off. Next he pushed it forward and we "went over a hill" and began to lose altitude. A right turn, then one to the left, and then a message through the phones:

"Now you do it. I'll operate the rudder. Turn to the right."

I leaned the stick to the right three or four inches. The plane banked sharply, too sharply.

"Now bring the stick back to neutral," said my instructor.

Then as we leveled out he asked for a left turn. That, too, was so steep we seemed to be on our side. I leveled out again too quickly.

"Relax. Now pull back on the stick. Not too much. Now let go of the stick. Notice how the plane levels itself when you let go. Now push forward. Not too much. There!"

He shut the motor to idling and told me to pull the stick back as far as it would go. As I did so we shot skyward for a few feet, hovered for a second, then dropped downward. I felt the stick go forward, then come back slowly as it did so something began to lift up under me.

"That was a stall," my instructor explained. "Now we are gliding. Note this angle of glide. At this angle we do not pick up nor lose speed."

After we leveled off again I was cautioned about keeping the wings level, the nose of the plane aimed at horizon, and watching my instruments.

"Fly to that road, turn to the right and follow it," came through the phones. "Keep the road on your right."

On the ground the road was straight. It was a corkscrew the way I flew it.

Turning and Leveling

TURNING right and left, and level flight, were next taught. By instructions through the speaking tube connected to my helmet and by "deaf and dumb" signals, my instructor told me what to do.

Turns were taught at 2,000 feet, to which we climbed without word or signal. At that altitude he leveled off and wiggled the stick, the signal for me to take the controls.

"Relax. Look at your instruments occasionally. Enjoy the ride. Watch for my signals. You are in charge now," he said through the phones.

He had retarded the throttle as we leveled off at 2,000 feet. My tachometer read 1,450 revolutions a minute. The air was bumpy. Without warning the plane would drop suddenly. Then it would rise just as suddenly. At first those "bumps" bothered me. I soon learned to like them.

A jerk of my instructor's thumb over the right side signaled for a right turn. I moved the stick an inch or two to the right and we banked sharply to the right. Too sharply again. I moved the stick to the left of neutral and, as the plane came back to level, moved it to neutral.

A finger pointed skyward told me to bring the nose up. I had dropped it in the turn. I pulled the stick back an inch or two and the nose came up. Too much again. A downward movement of the finger said "bring it down," meaning the nose.

"Find the horizon and pick out some object on the fuselage ahead of you now while we are level that you can use as a sight," he advised. "To tell when the ship is level, look along your sights and if you see horizon you are level. If you see sky you are climbing. If you see ground you are diving."

Thirty minutes of right and left turn, straight flying, road following, and my instructor spoke again.

"You have the idea of turn now. You go into them too abruptly and you come out too fast. They should be made steadily and gracefully. I have been operating the rudder for you. Let me take the controls now."

He banked around for a look in all directions and cut the motor to idling for his glide to the field.

Make War on Pocket Gophers in October

Spread Out Poisoned Wheat in Systematic Manner.

Pocket gophers, pests of alfalfa fields, have life habits that tend to lull the farmers into allowing them more security than they deserve. In spring and summer when the alfalfa grower is in his field cutting his hay crop he finds new evidences of the multiplication of pocket gophers in the form of new mounds of loose earth thrown up from the tunnels they dig. It is not until late in September or until October that the mounds multiply. All during spring and summer the pocket gophers are rearing their young and working from the old tunnels, clipping and eating the tap roots and laterals of the alfalfa and causing scanty nourishment or death to the plants. The animals are out of sight, but they are really busy at work. Each pair of old pocket gophers is raising four or five youngsters that are intense individualists and that in fall will strike out for themselves, dig their own burrows, make the fields bumpy and difficult for the hay makers, and prepare for more multiplication the next spring.

The practical procedure for ridding the fields of pocket gophers is to let them make a fair start with their new burrows in the fall, and then put out poisoned wheat in a systematic manner so that all may have their fill. In the autumn fields the new burrows can be located easily and effectively, and this is the season when the pocket gophers are laying in their winter hoard of food.

Suggestions Made to Avoid Hog Flu Losses

The following suggestions are made as offering means of avoiding losses due to hog flu:

- Have animals accustomed to their winter quarters before time for unseasonable weather. Do not wait until cold rains or snow have fallen to provide good shelter. Herds that are hogging down corn should not be allowed to sleep in the open but should be trained to seek good sleeping quarters every night.
- Furnish an abundance of clean, dry bedding for sleeping quarters. Avoid dampness or dust by frequent change of bedding.
- Avoid closed, unventilated shelter. Overheated hogs are the ones most apt to contract respiratory diseases through chilling on leaving the house in the morning.
- Keep the hogs' bowels in good condition, not with drugs but with proper feed. Lined meal is laxative and may well be used for this purpose.

Feeding Soil Bacteria to Release Fertility

"Feed the bacteria and they will feed you," is a slogan that is true in relation to soil fertility, according to O. H. Sears, University of Illinois. Bacteria are largely responsible for the changes in soil whereby soil fertility is liberated to produce good crops.

"Plowing under straw just ahead of a corn crop has a detrimental effect on the corn crop, as the organisms that break down the straw use the nitrates of the soil that should go to corn, while if the straw is plowed under in the fall the straw may favor the utilization of nitrates by bacteria and thus prevent the leaching of nitrates during the dormant season of the wheat plants."

Rotating Clover

If a large field of clover is grown as a part of a crop rotation and hogs are moved from one field to another during successive seasons, as a part of a sanitation scheme, the crop may be handled in the following manner: A cultivated crop such as corn should preferably precede it but this is not necessary. It is most advantageous to follow sweet clover with a tilled crop to eradicate volunteer plants not desired in the rotation.

FARM FACTS

Plenty of exercise, less grain and more roughage, such as alfalfa, will tend to prevent a large amount of paralysis in pregnant ewes.

When the cows fall off in production rapidly it indicates lack of sufficient nutrients. Some supplement should be provided at once.

Sunflower seeds in limited amount make splendid winter feed for chickens. Because of the tough fibrous hull, it does not do to feed in great amounts.

Low prices for eggs and making room for the growing pullets are two good reasons for reducing the laying flock at the same time the roosters leave the farm.

One of the more common troubles on many farms is overcrowding in the hog house. Hogs compelled to pile up become too hot and the building will likely be damp and steamy.

The calf's digestive capacity is not large enough to allow it to consume enough grass alone to meet its need. Some grain should be fed all through the summer as well as in the winter.

Lesson for October 5

ZACHARIAS AND ELISABETH: LIFE IN A PIOUS JEWISH HOME

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:5-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Helping to Make Our Homes Good.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping to Make Our Homes Good.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What I Owe to My Home.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Makes a Home Christian?

I. A Godly Husband and Wife (Luke 1:5-7).

The name Zacharias means "Jehovah hath remembered," and the name Elisabeth means "A covenant maker."

- When they lived (v. 5).
"In the days of Herod the king." They lived in a day when godlessness was rife. The priesthood was corrupt, and the ruling classes most wicked.
- Their character (v. 6).
Both were righteous before God. Many appear to be righteous before man who are not righteous before God. They were so noted that they walked in the commandments of the Lord blameless. The highest in wedded life can be attained only when both husband and wife are united in Jesus Christ. Their practical living was manifested in obedience to God's commandments.
- They were childless (v. 7).
Though this godly couple were well mated and possessed the joy of the Lord in their souls, there was a real lack in their home. No home is quite ideal into which no child has come.

II. A Son Promised (Luke 1:8-23).

- By whom (vv. 11, 19)?
Gabriel, a special messenger of God, appeared and made known the good news to Zacharias.
- When (vv. 8-14)?
While officiating as priest this good news came to him. From verse 13 the implication is that Zacharias had been praying definitely about this matter. While he burned incense, which is typical of prayer, the multitudes without were praying.
- Characteristics of the child (vv. 15-17).
(1) Shall be great in the sight of the Lord (v. 15).
Though the people did not greatly esteem him, he was highly esteemed by the Lord.
(2) Shall drink neither wine nor strong drink (v. 15).
He was to be a Nazarite, separating himself from sensual things and dedicating himself unto the Lord (Numbers 6:1-4).

III. The Promise Fulfilled (Luke 1:57-61).

- Neighbors and kinsfolk rejoicing with Elisabeth (vv. 57, 58).
The child circumcised and named (vv. 59-61).
On the eighth day they circumcised the child and named him "John" (v. 13) by means of writing Zacharias made known the name which he would have by divine instruction.
- Zacharias praises God (v. 61).
At this time God opened the mouth of Zacharias, and he offered up praise to God.
- Zacharias prophesying (Luke 1:67-80).
1. Praising God for fulfillment of the promise of salvation (vv. 67-75).
This was according to covenant promise.
2. John to be called "The Prophet of the Highest" (vv. 76-79).
He was to go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways.
3. The growth of John (v. 80).
He grew and waxed strong in the Spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his showing unto Israel.

Our Own Sins

The world today is openly confessing other people's sins, but too few people see their own.—J. G. Ruth.

God Stamps Us

Only melted gold is coined and ready for the stamp. When melted, God stamps us.—Evangelical Visitor.

The Favorite Book

The Bible has been the favorite book of those who were troubled and down trodden.—Henry van Dyke.

Few Insect Fighters Able to Defeat Spider

The wasp and the hornet may be reckoned as formidable foes, but it would appear that the spider, for his size and weight, at least, is equal to anything he may come across. In a recent experiment a spider was pitted against a wasp in an inverted tumbler. The wasp scored the first point, biting off one of its opponent's legs; but in the next round the spider got in an effective bite, and the wasp died in a few minutes. Two other contests followed, and in each the spider came off victorious. The strong feature of the spider is its agility, and even in the unceasing environment of a tumbler it evades attack with unerring ease. With the added advantage of a web, which provides not only lines of retreat and attack, but also serves to entangle and embarrass the enemy, the spider is a foe whom even the boldest spirits in the insect world hesitate to attack.

Cold Insomnia Cure

One of the most amusing cures for insomnia that is discovered by Percival Boyd. He is a member of the Society of Genealogists and finding that he could not sleep, he embarked upon the task of compiling a complete index of the marriages that took place in England between 1538 and 1837.

He has already compiled a list of 1,900,000 in 179 volumes. So good is the index that the record of any marriage can be found in five minutes.

Boyd calculates that at the present rate of progress the work will take 100 years to complete. He can not go on any faster, because his task makes him so sleepy. He has found his cure.—Los Angeles Times.

Cheap Ice for City

A natural ice well, 172 feet underground from which crystal clear blocks of ice can be cut in hottest weather, is occasioning much interest at Rapid City, S. D. The well is located at the gypsum plaster mill at Black Hawk, seven miles north of Rapid City. In digging for gypsum at the plant, workmen sunk a shaft at the end of which a large hole was excavated in taking out gypsum. This filled with water to a depth of eight feet which freezes in summer and is coated with thick ice.

Freud Motto

The motto "Sic et deo" is from the Fairfax crest. It is old English, and means "Say and do."

Love at first sight is all right, but a second look wouldn't hurt.—Grand Rapids Press.

Castoria corrects CHILDREN'S ailments

WHAT a relief and satisfaction it is for mothers to know that there is always Castoria to depend on when babies get fretful and uncomfortable! Whether it's teething, colic or other little upset, Castoria always brings quick comfort; and, with relief from pain, restful sleep.

And when older, fast-growing children get out of sorts and out of condition, you have only to give a more liberal dose of this pure vegetable preparation to right the disturbed condition quickly.

Because Castoria is made expressly for children, it has just the needed mildness of action. Yet you can always depend on it to be effective. It is almost certain to clear up any minor ailment and cannot possibly do the youngest child the slightest harm. So it's the first thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue, is fretful and out of sorts. Be sure to get the genuine, with Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package.

Keep Honey in Dark Place

DRYDEN NEWS

Mesdames Daggett, Greene, and Laurence visited the first of the week in Dryden.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lemons visited Mr. and Mrs. Harrison on the ranch Sunday.

Mesdames Pollard, Nance, Stirman and Hollman visited in Dryden the first part of last week.

Clay Kitchens and Dee Finley have been shipping considerable live stock out of Dryden the last week.

Mr. Fredue of the Dryden Airdrome has gone back to civilian life. He left for San Antonio this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan were visitors in Dryden on Monday of this week.

Henry Mooney, of the Airdrome, left Sunday for Marfa where he will be operated on for appendicitis.

Mesdames C. L. Sims and G.
B. Reese and Mrs. Reese's daughter, Miss Mamie, visited
Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Carter Sunday. During their visit Mr.
Carter motored with the ladies to the Carpenter ranch.

Tuesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. Robert Duncan entertained the Tuesday Bridge club at her home on the ranch last week.
A wonderful afternoon was spent playing bridge, after which a delightful four-course dinner was served.

Those enjoying the afternoon
were as follows: Mesdames
Nance, Pollard, Stirman, Holman, Lindsey Hicks, Bustin Cannon, Burnside, P. E. Dishman, Hack Dishman, Davis, Dyer, and Banner.

Jim Kerr got a pretty good well on his ranch just north of town which was drilled recently by Mr. Stevenson. The well tested out about 16 gallons, and indications are that it will improve.
