Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principal of democratic government.

CHEATING OURSELVES

The story is told of a dishonest worker. He and his family were rootless, whereupon a certain good Samaritan decided to surprise this poor man with a comfortable home. So, without telling his purpose, he hired the builder at a fair wage to build a house on a sunny hill, and then went on business to a far-way country. The builder was left at work with no watchman but his own honor. "Ha," said he in his heart, "I can skip the material and scamp the work." So he went on spinning out the time, putting in poor service, poor nails, poor timbers.

When the good Samaritan returned, the builder said: "That's a fine house I built on the hill." "Good," was the reply. "Go move your folks into it at once for the house is yours. Here is the deed." The builder was thunderstruck. He realized that, instead of cheating his friend, he had been industrially cheating himself when he did not know it was his own house he was building.

That illustration reminds us vividly of the predicament our voters and taxpayers find themselves in today. They suffer under a burden that has become almost unbearable. They wail loud and long about the burdens of taxation, wasteful and foolish governmental expenditure, graft and cheap politics. But are they not criticizing the house they built themselves?

Back a short time ago when most of us had more money than brains and when we were drunk on the power of the almighty dollar, we openly voted for and supported candidates of a spendthrift character, knowing when we did so that we were "slipping in shoddy materials" in the governmental structure we were building. We knew that government, justly and economically administered, required our sober thought and honest action, yet we dismissed the thought with the snap of a finger and went right along with our own selfish pursuit of the dollar. We didn't have time to vote intelligently.

Now we are reaping the rewards. Of course the house we built leaks and cracks and threatens to collapse. But we can't blame it on the other fellow. We built it ourselves. Let us profit by our lesson and build the next house as it should be. Our democratic government isn't at fault. The fault lies with we voters who built it. We have been cheating ourselves.—Guide, Batesville Arkansas.

Lentzel Mystery Not Solved Says Ranger Captain

Ft. Stockton, Aug. 26.—Judge Howell Johnson is in receipt of a letter from R. D. Shinkle, Correspondent of the United Press, asking for any information he might have on the story of the robbery and murder of Chris Lentzel, supposed to have occurred twenty-five years ago near Sanderson, and brought to mind recently by the finding of a skeleton in the same vicinity. Captain Frank Hamer, of the Texas Rangers, believes that the murder was solved years ago, and gives this version of the story:

"About 32 and 33 years ago Lentzel, a wealthy rancher, who owned land near Sheffield, disappeared. A short time later, three men, since dead, appeared with a deed to his ranch and took charge of his properties. A few years after Lentzel's disappearance, a rancher named Rogers, who owned land adjoining Lentzel, became involved in an argument with a Mexican helper. The Mexican, named Augustine, shot Rogers and then tried to kill another Mexican who had been a witness to the shooting. Augustine chased the other Mexican into the Mountains. Both were followed by a posse.

Augustine took refuge in a cave and made the other Mexican start digging his own grave, it being Augustine's intention to slay him. It was while digging the grave that the Mexican uncovered a skeleton. Lentzel had had gold upper teeth. All of the upper teeth of the skeleton found in the grave had been removed.

Augustine was killed by the posse. The three who had turned up were arrested and tried for murder. Rangers were positive the skeleton was that of Lentzel, but could not make positive proof as the gold teeth, which were the chief marks of identification were gone.

The finding of the skeleton led to an extensive search. Several other skeletons were found, three of them being taken at one time from the Pecos River points into the Sheffield range of mountains. So many skeletons had been found near this spot in the Pecos that it became a common saying in the country that "so-and-so had been Pecos'd," the saying implying that "so-and-so" had been murdered and his body thrown into the river.

The three who had been tried for the murder of Lentzel have all been dead more than 20 years.

Mr. Shinkle incloses the following communication from Captain Wright in a letter to Judge Johnson asking for further information: Hon. R. D. Shinkle, United Press Correspondent, Odessa, Texas

Your letter of August 16 to hand today. Will say in reply that your letter was the first information that I received in regard to the skeleton being found near Sanderson. If any Rangers had anything to do with the case they were not mine. I suppose they belong at Uvalde under Captain J. B. Wheatley.

I have just read in the San Antonio Evening News an article from Captain Hamer of Austin which I inclose.

Hamer is mistaken about its being 25 years ago that this man Lentzel was missing. I remember well, and am certain that he was missing in November 1899 or 1900. This man visited the Fair at San Antonio, leaving his horse and saddle at Langtry while at the Fair. On his return to Langtry he got his horse and saddle and left for his ranch and was never seen alive afterward as far as I ever heard. The following June I was sent to Sanderson then Pecos County, now Terrell, to see a witness in a cattle case in Bandera County. While in Sanderson, the sheriff then Bob Neabors of Pecos County, had just arrived with a prisoner from the penitentiary of Texas. The prisoner had told them, so Neabors told me, that if they would bring him there, he would show where the ranchman was killed and get his body. Two of our Rangers, Com. E. Jim Moore and Charlie Sandher, went with them. Moore afterward told me that they never found the body.

I'll tell you who knows all about this case—Judge Howell Johnson of Fort Stockton. He was County Attorney at that time, and he and I have talked about this case many times.

Very respectfully, W. L. WRIGHT,

Captain Co. A, Ranger Force, Judge Howell Johnson, Fort Stockton, Texas.

Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of a letter from Ranger Captain W. L. Wright written at Marfa giving some valuable information on the quarter of a century old murder of a rich rancher by the name of Chris Lentzel.

We have carried several stories in the papers about the finding of a skeleton on the Wades Bros. ranch near Sanderson a few weeks ago, stating that it is believed to be that of this man. I wrote Captain Wright for the same reason that I am writing you. Time will not permit me to travel to your home to get this interview, and I hope that you will do as Captain Wright did and furnish us with whatever information you can concerning this mystery.

Ranger Captain Hamer at Austin states that the mystery has been solved years ago. Captain Wright says he believes that Hamer is wrong, and that you and he have talked this matter over several times.

I am inclosing Captain Wright's letter and ask that you read it, returning it to this office. I would greatly appreciate any story that you might have regarding this mystery. I have just wired Captain Wright's story and will be glad to give you full credit for yours. If you have a picture of yourself, would also appreciate it. Thanking you for this information and hoping to have the opportunity of meeting you real soon, I am,

Yours very truly, R. D. SHINKLE, Correspondent, United Press.

The Times in its issue of July 29 printed the story of the finding of the skeleton on the Wade Bros. ranch by J. H. Dickens an employe. The skeleton was seen by several citizens and all stated that there were gold teeth still in the skeleton's mouth and that after all these years they were very bright. Also there was a little hair to be found on the head and the hair was of a reddish brown and with this evidence old timers believe that the skeleton is Lentzel's.

As far as can be learned the mystery surrounding the death of Lentzel has never been cleared.

Mr. Dickens stated at the time that the skeleton was found that he had notified the proper authorities and was expecting Rangers to come and get the skeleton or to send word for him to send it into Austin. The writer has been unable to learn so far what disposition has been made in regard to the skeleton.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dawson, Miss Florene Dawson, Miss Annie Mae Williamson accompanied Mrs. Claudia Tanyge to Monahans last Sunday, and I hope that you will do as Captain Wright did and furnish us with whatever information you can concerning this mystery.

Ranger Captain Hamer at Austin states that the mystery has been solved years ago. Captain Wright says he believes that Hamer is wrong, and that you and he have talked this matter over several times.

Mrs. Davis continues her education

You know Mrs. Davis—the little bride. Two weeks before her marriage she graduated from college with high honors. But in one respect her education had been neglected.

Yesterday, for instance, she picked up the telephone and called the grocer. "I would like," she said politely, "to have some things sent up. A bag of flour—three packages of breakfast food—one can of baking-powder—six bottles of ginger ale—a pound of coffee—a package of—what's that? Oh, Why, I'm sure I don't know what brand. Just any kind, I guess!"

No wonder the storekeeper interrupted her. He gets few orders like that nowadays. For wise housewives buy things by NAME. Not merely groceries, but kitchenware and piece-goods and household appliances; shoes and shirts and garden seeds all the thousand and one things they need.

Mrs. Davis will complete her education. She will learn to study the advertisements in the newspaper, and to keep herself informed as to qualities and prices. She will take her place alongside thousands of other women as the efficient purchasing agent of her home.

Feeder lambs are being shipped out of here in great quantities the past week with most of them going to northern feeders. Several commission men have been here and it is understood that 3 cents were being paid for the lambs.

Last Friday 710 lambs were shipped out by Henry Duderstadt and were consigned to the Commercial Loan Company at Spofford. On Monday of this week the Woodward Smith Cattle Company shipped from Longfellow to Mesquite, N. M., 8 cars of lambs.

Russell Menzies, who has been purchasing ewe lambs through out this section and the San Angelo territory, purchased 2,000 ewe lambs this week from the Woodward Smith Cattle Company.

Jess Elrod, commission man from San Angelo, purchased 1602 lambs this week from Alexander Mitchell and Mrs. Helen Downie and these lambs were shipped out Wednesday night to Jacksonville, Ill.

Hugh Buie shipped a carload of horses from Mofetta last Sunday consigning them to points in Mississippi.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW

C. L. Beason, county agent of Brazos county, tells a good one. A 4-H club boy attending the annual short course at College Station found that his only shirt was too dirty to stay longer, so he walked home 10 miles, had the shirt washed, and walked back again to take in the program. The boy won the right to represent his club by the excellence of his corn demonstration.

Of the 30 Wichita county farmers cooperating with the county agent in raising alfalfa by demonstration methods, Fenton Dale of Iowa Park reported the highest July yield with 3500 pounds of hay per acre on 5 acres.

Soy beans continue to spread throughout the State, especially in East Texas, in the wake of demonstrations conducted by county agents for several years. The experience of J. H. Hauge of San Augustine county is typical of many. He harvested 1 1/4 tons of soy bean hay per acre from a 2-acre demonstration and finds his dairy cows relish this high protein feed.

For three weeks a canning laboratory equipped by a civic organization in Munday has been in use 24 hours daily by women who do not have canning equipment in their homes. The work is supervised by home demonstration club women.

The burner from an oil burning chicken brooder was brought into the house by J. J. New of Wharton county to furnish additional stove for the use of his wife during the busy canning season. The idea proved good.

Canning more than 500 containers of vegetables on halves for other people has supplied Mrs. C. E. Marsh, Menard county home demonstration club member, with enough money to buy paper and lumber to finish a bedroom for her boys.

CARDINAL SHIPS FIRST CAR OF OIL THRU NEW LINE

FT. STOCKTON, Aug. 26.—The first car of oil transported through the new pipe line from the Phillips pool, 12 miles northwest of Fort Stockton, to a loading rack here, was shipped by the Cardinal Oil Co. Wednesday to the Shell Pipe Line at McCamey.

The Cardinal bought a half interest and operating control in the Phillips Petroleum Co's holdings of 6,300 acres, and built a 3-inch pipe line to a loading rack here. The Shell Pipe Line Co. is handling the oil from McCamey. About 6,500 barrels of oil is stored on the lease and the Cardinal will move about 750 barrels daily until the storage is emptied.

When the first tank is emptied two wells in the northwest quarter of section 78 will be placed on the pump. On ten days' test several months ago the wells averaged 233 barrels daily. No. 1 Pryor-Courtney is 1,404 feet and No. 2 Pryor-Courtney is 1,397 feet. Later other tests will be drilled on the block of 6,270 acres.

Patricia canyon is 48 miles long and Long canyon measures 89. Except for the breaks made by San Francisco canyon at the border of Brewster and Terrell counties, and the few creeks in Terrell County, the 137 miles of the two canyons present on both sides precipitous walls from 1,500 to 2,000 feet high. Passengers of a wrecked boat could not climb out either side.

So before leaving San Antonio Friday Young and McGoldrick took a large supply of food, drinking water, fishing tackle, rifles, oil and gasoline. They also carried cameras, both for still photographs and moving pictures and an illustrated story of the voyage will be prepared by McGoldrick for the National Geographic Magazine.

Young's previous expedition in 1928 was reported in newspapers and magazines of Europe and America and even was described in one Japanese publication. Besides the adventure and the pictures the two men expect to gather data on water power sites and mineral resources. PROFESSOR STATES THAT REAL GOLD OFTEN NEGLECTED

AUSTIN, TEX., SEPT. 2.—"We worry about yellow and black gold, but we neglect our real gold—our water—until we are caught in a jam," declared Dr. E. P. Schoch, professor of physical chemistry and director of the Bureau of Industrial Chemistry at the University of Texas, in a recent talk before a civic club here. A simple method of controlling evaporation of surface water was explained by Dr. Schoch, who pointed out that evaporation during the hot months of summer takes place at the rate of seven inches to two feet each four weeks. Corn cobs soaked in crude oil and thrown onto surface water stores will retard evaporation sharply, Dr. Schoch declared.
