NO. 55.

16th Congressional District Committee Appointees Are Named By State Democrats

The campaign for the national Democratic ticket in the No. 16 Congressional District will be conducted by a Committee composed of Robt. L. Holliday, El Paso, who will be Chairman; Houston Harte, San Angelo; W. F. Boggess, Del Rio; Henry Russell, Pecos; Mrs. Lamar Davis, El Paso, and Mrs. C. B. Hudspeth, Comstock, according to an announcement received from Democratic Headquarters at Austin.

Complete responsibility for the success of the Democratic nominees in this district will be vested in the committee, it was indicated in a statement by Roy Miller and Senator Margie Neal, accompanying the announcement. Mr. Miller and Senator Neal are in charge of national Democratic activities in Texas. It will be the duty of the congressional committee to organize the district in such a manner as to bring out, as a tribute to John Garner, the largest Democratic vote it has ever cast, the statement continued. No doubt of the outcome was expressed, the only question being the "size of the majority."

The statement follows:

The plan of organizing has two purposes in view: first, to decentralize the activities of the campaign; and second, to bring into the active work of the campaign as many Democrats of our State as possible, both men and women. Of course, there is no doubt as to the result in Texas. It is only a question of majority. We feel that every Texas Democrat will take deep personal pride in doing what he or she can to make the result a fitting tribute to the ticket and more particularly to our own John Garner.

Harry Williams "Trails" Author Buried Sunday

The trail has ended for Harry Williams, veteran South Texas newspaper man, known to thousands as "Trails," who died at the age of 57 of heart trouble in the Robert B. Green hospital early Saturday.

Williams, one of the most widely known and loved newspaper men in the state, and author of the feature "Texas Trails" which ran for four years in The Light, was admitted to the hospital on August 8 and was under treatment until his death.

It was in his "Texas Trails" that Williams first featured John N. Garner as a presidential possibility. This was the first step in the path that led Garner to the vice presidential nomination.

Williams was the author of a book of early day facts which was published last spring. He had previously published several volumes of verse.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, Morris and Emory of Austin, and three daughters, Mesdames Branch Gillette, A. C. Gillette and E. C. Lewis.

The funeral was held at 4 p. m. Sunday from the Porter Loring chapel, with the Rev. C. L. Skinner of the Highland Park Baptist church officiating. — San Antonio Light.

NEW MEXICAN DECREE BARS ALIEN MONEY

U. S. Currency Must Be Exchanged for Peso

DEL RIO, Sept. 19.—Officials of Villa Acuna have lodged bitter protest against a recent Mexican decree which prohibits importation of money into the Republic.

Tourists are required to tell Mexican customs officers at the international bridge how much money they have in their possession, and to state whether it is foreign or Mexican. If foreign currency, it must be exchanged at the bridge for Mexican silver.

Already hard hit by prohibitive Federal taxes on liquor sales, a decrease in tourist traffic because of the depression and the Rio Grande flood which wrecked the international bridge and curtailed the flow of customers, Villa Acuna cabarets and merchants face bankruptcy if the new currency order is enforced, they declare.

The law was signed by President Ortiz Rubio before he resigned office September 5. As published in the Diario Oficial of Mexico, the decree reads in part as follows:

Article 1—It is prohibited to import foreign bank bills and all classes of foreign money, that is not of gold.

Article 2—With the exception that the Bank of Mexico and its associated banks may introduce bills of foreign banks, only for exchange operations.

Article 3—With the exception that tourists may bring, exclusively for the purpose of exchange into Mexican money, bills and silver of foreign banks in quantity not greater in equivalent than 3,000 Mexican pesos.

Article 4—Prohibits importation of all classes of Mexican money, not of gold, with exception that repatriates may bring in Mexican money not in excess of 50 pesos.

It is permitted to bring in Bank of Mexico notes, and to export any class of Mexican or foreign money.

The violator of this law is charged with bringing contraband and is subject to punishment by the Customs Department. His money shall be confiscated to the benefit of the State.

TEMPORARY DAM FOR MAVERICK WATER SYSTEM

Divert Canal During Repair Of Flood Damage Recently

EAGLE PASS, Sept. 17.—The big Maverick County irrigation canal, which has been dry since two weeks ago when part of the upper section was washed out by the Rio Grande flood, will again be transporting water within the next ten days. This news was imparted by water district engineers in announcing the start of construction, this morning on a temporary dam across Las Moras River. The dam will divert the entire flow of the river into the irrigation canal during the month or two that the upper canal is being put into shape.

The temporary dam is being constructed 700 feet upstream from the point where the Las Moras River crosses over the canal syphon. It will be 400 feet wide and 7 feet high. A levee along the bank, 700 feet long and also 7 feet high, forms a ditch that will conduct the river flow into the irrigation canal. It is estimated that approximately 50 cubic second feet of water will be diverted into the canal. While this flow is not strong enough to run the power plant, it will fulfill all irrigation needs.

The construction work is being done by Ross Denison's crew, using one dragline. They are being assisted by district workers. The dam will be ready within ten days, engineers believe.

THORN BABY ILL

The two months old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Eugent Thorne has been very ill since the latter part of last week when it was brought to town from the Appel ranch to the home of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Appel in this city.

The little one is suffering with erysipelas and its condition is serious.

Miss Kathleen Sullivan, who is teaching at Comstock, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Sullivan. She was accompanied to this city by Miss Mabel Zuberbueller who was her guest.

Ervin Grigsby left Wednesday morning for San Antonio where he will enter the Medical and Surgical Hospital for a minor operation. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bode who ranch near Carta Valley, Texas, spent last Friday and Saturday here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bodkin and attended the rodeo.

AUSTIN, Sept. 17. (AP)—Governor Ross Sterling today signed the bill enacted by the Legislature relieving counties of indebtedness incurred to construct highways now a part of the State road system.

The law was designed to remove from individual counties tax levies sufficient to take care of interest and sinking funds on debts aggregating between 80 and 90 million dollars incurred in building highways. Counties benefiting will accordingly reduce taxes.

The governor sent a message to the Legislature congratulating it upon "the fine work you have done."

With the signing of this bill it means that debts of 90 million dollars will be assumed by the State. The Bonded Highway indebtedness of Terrell County amounts to $167,000.00. This means that the 1933 tax rate for this county will be 35c less than it is for 1932. When the Commissioners Court set the tax rate in February of this year they reduced the road and bridge tax 15c on the $100 valuation, so in 1933 our tax rate will be 42c less on the $100 valuation. Our tax payers will not realize this reduction until they pay their 1933 taxes commencing October 1, 1933, at which time the tax reduction will be 57c less than it was under the tax rate of 1931.

Highway 90 Work Resumed After Delay By Rain

Work was resumed on the Highway that has been under construction west of Longfellow after a three weeks delay due to rains and high water. The washouts on the Highway have been repaired and drainage and structure work was resumed on Tuesday of this week.

All concrete bridges have been completed and it is expected that the work will soon be accepted by the State.

It will probably be the middle of October or the first of November before the road work will be completed and accepted by the State.

CHARTER GRANTED FOR WOOLEN MILL

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 17.—Another step toward securing the Texas Mohair and Woolen Mills for New Braunfels was taken this week when a charter was granted by the state to the Texas Mohair and Wool Mills Inc., New Braunfels; manufacturer of textiles; capital stock $104,000. Incorporators, James McDowell, H. A. Wagenfuhr and Bailey Jones.

In order to enable the new enterprise to put in operation a scouring plant within the next few months, plans are now under way to begin the sale of stock. The new project is being fostered by the local chamber of commerce and the Texas Goat Raisers Association. The old Landa Oil mill property was recently bought for the location of the mill.

The following clipping taken from a recent edition of the Big Bend Sentinel at Marfa, might well apply to Sanderson. Every once in awhile the Editor has inquiries from some person and invariably they ask for a copy of the paper to see what business houses are located here.

At least there is food for thought in this article for our business firms and it should make them realize that by advertising they are not doing so as an act of charity for the editor.

Menlen, Ark., Sept. 1, 1932. Mr. R. C. Mecklin, Editor Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa, Texas.

I received the copy of the Big Bend Sentinel and also the folder recently issued by the American Legion, for which I thank you most kindly. I have read the folder with the greatest of interest as well as the paper. I note quite a discrepancy between the folder and newspaper, though. In the folder I note that the town of Marfa has modern stores, electric lights, paved streets, hotels, etc. I have scanned the paper very carefully and I find that you have a few lawyers, very necessary in that frontier country I suppose, two dentists, no doctors, no dry goods merchants, no grocery stores, two hardware and lumber companies (also very necessary in a country that is building I suppose), no hospital facilities, no drug stores, no hotels, no railroads, only one bank. It is strange that you should have a laundry and an up-to-date picture show and not have a dry goods or grocery store in your town. I note that you have one cleaning and pressing establishment and seemingly an electric plant. My wife and I have just about decided to move from this section where we have lived all of our lives and gotten together a small amount of the world's goods. We heard of Marfa from our son, who attended the Legion convention at Corpus Christi. But we are along in years and do not care to undergo the hardships of frontier life. We, of course would not want to travel long distances for our grocery supplies, our few wants in the dry goods line and it is very certain that we could not afford to miss the drug stores we have been accustomed to here in our home. Now and then I need the services of a barber. I note that your town does not have even one barber shop. Will you kindly advise me, or have your chamber of commerce secretary do so, whether or not one can find ordinary necessities of life in any town near Marfa. I am attaching a stamped envelope for reply. I would want to purchase a home, or if this is not possible, a lot and build. Please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Very truly yours, ERNEST JOHNSON

Mr. Ernest Johnson, Menlen, Ark. Dear Sir:

I have your letter under date of September 1st. I regret that you have formed such an unfavorable opinion of Marfa from the newspaper I sent you. I really should have not sent it. Really we have dry goods and grocery stores, filling stations, barber shops, another bank, and most every line of business you will find in any town the size of Marfa. Somehow they prefer to keep their lights hid under a bushel; don't care to let the world know they are in existence. I am very sure that if you will come here you will find that we have just as modern a town as your own home town. If the stores here do not have what you want, it is only a short distance to Alpine or El Paso where you can be served. We have a wonderful climate, lots of pretty scenery, fairly good roads, splendid churches, good schools and life out here is not as wild as you would picture it.

In the meantime, if I can serve you further, please let me know. A newspaper is not always a representative of the community it serves. Marfa, if you decide to come out and look us over, will bear out the statements made in the folder you have received. You will not find all of the luxuries and pleasures of the larger city here, but you will find that your everyday wants can and will be met. I would suggest that you get in touch with our Chamber of Commerce. Just at the present time we are making an attempt to locate one of the Legion hospitals in Marfa. Our attempts in this direction so far have been productive of results. It is not at all impossible for real estate values to go higher in the event that the hospital is located in Marfa. Therefore I would advise you take immediate action if you are planning to locate here.

Very truly yours, R. C. MECKLIN, Editor

PROSPERITY ALWAYS RETURNS

During the past few weeks there has been a new spirit of optimism along the economic front. It is not an optimism of the "prosperity is just around the corner" variety. It is instead, well grounded in fact.

The seasonal influences have been favorable. Commodity prices have shown a steady upward tendency. Stocks of goods of all kinds are rapidly becoming depleted, necessitating new buying. The outward flow of gold has been checked and reversed. And, finally, conditions abroad have definitely improved.

Best of all, is the feeling of confidence that is growing in the public mind. There can be no recovery without that. And when, along with it, the economic indicators point the right way, we can look forward with a feeling of hopefulness.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW, Extension Service Editor

After saving $600 on grocery bills in the last year by cutting food expenditures from $60 per month to $6, Mrs. R. C. McFarlane of Port Neches Home Demonstration Club explains her system. "We have 58 varieties in our year 'round garden that cost us only $10, and I will have over 500 cans of food when the season is over. We buy only cereal, lard, bacon, sugar and flour from the store and raise the rest ourselves."

Twelve cars of tin cans sold in Coleman county this year, besides large quantities of glass jars, jar tops and tin lids, leads the home demonstration agent to estimate that a total of 884,000 containers of food will be put on farms there this year. Home demonstration club members report helping 486 women not club members with their food preservation.

With a total cost of $37.50, 12 Van Zandt county 4-H club girls have made their bedrooms attractive.

Double sale price for his feed is what Ernest Guillud, Hartley county farmer, says he made by selling his enormous feed crops thru 261 steers fed under county agent direction. The first 50 sold topped the Kansas City market. He became interested in feeding through his 4-H club-son who has fed baby beeves three years.

Seven Mason County farmers are creep feeding 525 beef calves as a result of last year's demonstrations which showed that creep fed calves put on from 100 to 150 more weight than other calves, at a feed cost of less than 4 cents per pound.

Hamilton county farmers have been shown by the county agent how to destroy beds of stinging red ants at a cost of about 3 cents per bed. A solution of sodium cyanide is poured in the beds when all the ants are at home.

Hogs on Camp county farms have increased 50 per cent in number and 25 per cent in quality since four years ago when 25 club boys began raising registered pigs, the county agent estimates.

M. T. Bellamy of Medicine Mound,

Hardeman county, got 4 bushels less wheat per acre and sold it for 5 cents less per bushel, on a 3-acre plot sowed with untreated seed last fall. There was no smut in the main field where the seed was treated, says the county agent.

A large increase in cowpea planting to build up the soil is reported in Gillespie county this year, due to the fact that low prices for farm products barely pay the cost of cultivation except on the best soils.

Over 200 people recently visited the first trench silo ever built in Washington county, constructed by Extension Service plans under supervision of the county agent.

Half the 4-H club boys of Tom Green county will have from 10 to 20 copons to sell when the carloads of copons on feed in the county are sold next spring.

One thing leads to another. Mrs. Eula Murray, president of Pleasant Ridge Home Demonstration Club in Wood county beautified her yard, an important step in which was the re-sodding of the grass which gave a lawn that adds $50 to the value of the place, she says. This led her to start inside improvements.

FAMOUS FLYERS WILL JUDGE MODEL CONTEST

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 22.—Among the famous flyers who have been invited to judge the model contest which is being held in conjunction with the Southwestern Aviation Exhibit at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8 to 23, are Major James H. Doolittle, famous stunt and racing pilot; James G. Hazlip, new holder of coast to coast speed records; Col. Art Gobel, stunt pilot and winner of the Dele Flight to Hawaii, and Lt. Lester Maitland, Hawaiian flyer, now stationed at Kelly Field.

Entries have been received in the contest from more than fifty cities in four Southwestern States, it has been announced here by Hugo Schoellkopf, state fair director in charge of the Aviation Exhibit. All models submitted in the contest will be on display throughout the exposition.

Judging will be done on Aviation Day at the exposition, at which time these famous flyers, as well as noted air men from all parts of this country and from Mexico, Canada and Cuba, will be in attendance at the air show. Winners in the contest will be named on Friday, Oct. 14.

By reading the ads in this paper you know what the stores of this city have to offer.

A clothes closet was built in her bedroom and the furniture re-finished for $2.61. In the meantime she filled a canning budget of 467 containers to feed the family during the winter, and helped 21 other women with their food problems.

WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW

Is popularly supposed not to hurt you. But it may cost you money . . . it may cause you inconvenience . . . it may tarnish the shimmering surface of happy living . . . in short—when all's said and done—what you don't know will often HURT badly.

When is ignorance bliss? When is wisdom folly? Surely not in this swift-moving commercial world of ours . . . When yesterday might as well be marked "B. C." and tomorrow is pushing impatiently to prove today passe. Now is the time for every one to be informed . . . to know what is going on—not merely in the political, social, and athletic world—but in the business and commercial world as well.

Your newspaper tells you what you ought to know . . . NEWS. Not simply local news . . . but shopping and manufacturing NEWS. It tells you—thru its advertising—what is the very latest and best. From its pages you learn where to shop and what to look for. Its advertisers are the backbone of national and local business: Their message to you is important knowledge that will save you money . . . make life easier . . . give additional happiness to you and your family.

It will HURT you not to know their message.

A SHORT SHORT STORY Some Are Jilted

BY PAUL HAWK

Money in the bank, a thousand dollar increase in salary, a powerful new car, and the most wonderful girl in the world—all these things combined to make Barney McIntyre feel certain of his position on top of the world as he urged the car forward. Wouldn't Kay be surprised to see him!

He could already see her shining eyes, eyes that had a delightful manner of becoming either blue or brown as the occasion demanded, when he would tell her the good news. He could hear already the note of pride in her low, throaty voice when she would greet him. And her brown head would be only a little lower than his when she came forward so gracefully to stand beside him.

He switched on his lights and stepped on the gas with a heavier foot. As soon as he arrived in town he went immediately to her home. "Coming for the wedding, sir?" the butler greeted him.

Barney's wide grin disappeared abruptly. "Wedding?" he repeated blankly.

"I supposed you knew Miss Cameron is marrying in the morning, sir."

Horror assailed Barney. What in the world had happened while he was away? Jilted! Kay.

Everybody was in a joyous mood except Barney when he joined the group.

"Why Barney!" Kay shouted "I didn't expect to see you!"

"No, I guess you didn't," Barney said drily—and grimly.

"You're just in time for the wedding, Barney," said Constance, Kay's sister.

Kay moved over and dragged a smiling young man out of the corner. "Out of there, bashful! Here's the groom, Barney."

Barney would have liked him, had it not been that Kay was going to marry HIM instead of Barney; so he hated the groom instead.

"What do you think of a sunrise wedding, Barney?" Mrs. Cameron asked him.

Barney still could not realize it! "Why—it's a fine idea, Mrs. Cameron," he said dully.

It simply could not be! Why, Kay loved HIM. And he loved her. It was all a terrible mistake. Well, he wasn't going to stand idly by and let anything like that happen.

So he said pretty soon, "Do you suppose you'd be allowed to take a spin in my new job, Kay?"

"Perhaps they can spare an important member of the party for a little while," she said.

"Don't let anything happen so she'll miss this wedding now, Barney," Constance shouted after them.

"She's rather important, you know."

That's just what he intended to do, Barney assured himself grimly. He put Kay in the new car, and while she was telling him how pleased she was with it, he headed out of town. It was two hundred miles to the next state, he figured mentally, where no application ahead of time was necessary to get a marriage license.

The speedy car had gone twenty miles before Kay said, "I guess we'd better turn around now, Barney. I should be getting back before they get worried."

Barney only drove the car faster. "Maybe it would be better to be getting back—I don't know—but we're not going to."

Kay sat up, startled. "Wh-what do you mean?"

Barney turned on her ferociously. "I mean just what I said. If you thing you're going back and marry that—that egg, you've got another think coming. You're going with me, and the only sunrise wedding you're going to participate in tomorrow morning is one with Barney McIntyre."

He thought he detected a smile playing about her lips. "Oh, don't get the idea I'm bluffing! My mind is made up, and the whole U. S. Army can't stop me!"

"But—"

"Don't argue with me!" he snapped. "I said I'm going to marry you, and marry you I will. I've never done any physical violence to a woman, but if I hear one more word out of you about that—that wedding back there, I'll not be responsible for what I do."

Kay's eyes were very wide and very blue, but she said nothing. Thirty miles on, she said softly, "Barney, it's a criminal offense to abduct a woman for the purpose of marriage."

Barney's eyes flashed. "I'll take my chances. There's also a law that says a woman can't testify against her husband."

"But the preacher has to ask me if I'll agree—"

"Yes, and you'll agree, too, or—"

Barney said between his teeth, "The next morning when they appeared before the clerk, Barney squeezed her arm until she answered the clerk's questions. Then they aroused a preacher, who was persuaded to get his Bible without going to the trouble of putting on his tie.

"Do you take this man to be your lawfully wedded husband?"

After this question, there was silence for a moment. Barney's face was very white from the suspense he was under. The minister looked at Kay. Barney looked at Kay, pleadingly. Then he nudged her so hard with his elbow that she blurted out "Yes!" before she had time to think. Then it was over, and they kissed, and they went outside once more.

Barney looked at Kay. Suddenly he felt like a brute. "Well, that's that," he muttered.

She didn't say anything.

Barney was getting worried. "I suppose you hate me," he said. "But I loved you so much I could not let you get away."

"Well—" Kay said judiciously. "What a wife she would be! Even now her voice wasn't harsh or shrill—it was soft, so soft it sounded like a croon. "I did want to attend that wedding, but it's too late now."

Something in her voice made Barney look around. "Huh?" he asked, bewildered.

Three curly rising citizens of that little town stopped to gaze fascinatedly at the spectacle of a beautiful young woman putting her arms around the neck of a handsome young man—and on the street, too!

"But—" Kay acknowledged, "I'd rather be the bride in my OWN wedding than be the BRIDES MAID in Constance's wedding."

Barney let out one yelp of understanding. "I thought you were the only girl in the world anybody would want to marry—I never thought about Constance," he said weakly.

DENTON, Sept. 22.—When the housekeeping allowance is moderate or restricted, one should plan in advance for making the best of the situation. Never hesitate to serve a platter of odds and ends.

If tastefully arranged, such an assortment of foods will appeal to those who are interested in food combinations rather than single foods. A few slices of ham, of cold roast beef, and of hard cheeses, a mound of baked beans and half a dozen stuffed eggs will have the added advantage of offering a choice.

MENUS

Breakfast: sliced bananas, in orange juice; rolled oats top milk and sugar; coffee.

Luncheon: tomato juice cocktail; cold platter; hot biscuits; spinach salad; apricot marmalade.

Dinner: baked liver with vegetables; apple cottage pudding; lemon sauce; coffee.

Breakfast: stewed prunes; cornmeal mush; top milk and sugar; coffee.

Dinner: baked ham roll with tomato sauce; baked cucumber; orange gelatin; cookies; coffee.

Supper: tongue and rice omelet; creamed peas; sweet potatoes; tea cakes; tea.

RECIPES

Baked Ham Roll: Prepare a moist stuffing. Mix 1 qt. stale bread crumbs, 1 pt. mashed potatoes, 1-2 t salt; 1 chopped onion, 1 c milk or broth. Use more liquid if needed. Spread stuffing on 3 large slices of ham 1-4 inch thick. Roll up and tie with string or gastern with tooth picks. Place in a covered casserole. Add 1 c hot water and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. for 1 1-2 hrs. Serve with tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce: Cook 1 slice onion with 2 cups canned or stewed tomatoes for 10 minutes. Put thru a strainer. Melt 3 T butter in a sauce pan or top of double boiler; add 2 T flour and 1-4 t salt. Mix well. Add tomato puree and bring to boiling. Simmer until thickened and well done.

Tongue and Rice Omelet: An omelet always makes a delicious supper dish. If something more than a plain omelet is required, left-over cereals, meats, or vegetables or a combination may be used. Beat 6 eggs until frothy. Add 1-4 c chopped cooked beef tongue, 1-2 c cooked rice; 2 T milk, 1 T minced parsley; and 1-2 t salt. Melt 2 T butter in a large frying pan over moderate heat. When hot, pour in the egg mixture. Stir slowly with a fork to prevent sticking to the pan. When quite set, spread evenly over pan. Fold and allow to brown slightly in a moderate oven. Serve at once.

Sweet Potato Tea Cakes: Cream 2 T butter with 1-2 c sugar. Add 1 well beaten egg; 1 c cooked and mashed sweet potatoes and 1-2 c chopped pecans. Sift together 2 c flour; 3 t baking powder; and 1-2 t salt. Add to first mixture alternately with 3-4 c milk. Bake in muffin pan.

TEXAS TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION HOLD MEETING AT WACO

AUSTIN, Tex. Sept. 21.—The Executive Committee of the Texas Tuberculosis Association met in Waco yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. O. Wilkes to consider a "Five Year Plan for the Study and Eradication of Tuberculosis in Texas." The plan was submitted by Dr. Elva A. Wright, Houston, chairman of a state wide committee appointed last May for the purpose of developing such a program. It was adopted as submitted.

Among other provisions, the plan outlines a suggested procedure for the examination of all school children in Texas for the detection of the early, or childhood, type of tuberculosis. Some 25,000 children in various sections of the State have already received this examination and it is believed that five years of intensive work among children throughout the State will result in greatly reduced death rates from tuberculosis.

Dr. John Potts, President of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, appointed a committee of three physicians to work out a uniform examination card to be used in the examination of children. Appointed on this committee were Dr. W. F. Hoehn, Waco, chairman, Dr. Henry Meyer, Houston and Dr. John G. Young, Dallas.

The cooperation of other state and local agencies in carrying out the Five Year Plan has been requested by the Texas Tuberculosis Association. Commenting on plan, Dr. J. C. Anderson, State Health Officer, stated: "I wish to reiterate what I have often said in the past, that the National and State Tuberculosis Organizations have put over a very valuable piece of work during the last decade, and after looking over the plan, I feel that it will bring even greater results in the next five years than have been accomplished during the five years in the past. Speaking for the Texas State Board of Health, I wish to advise that the entire health department is behind any plan or program which has for its object the control of tuberculosis."

The Five Year Plan has also the endorsement of Dr. J. B. McKnight Superintendent of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, who states that he thinks it is good and will get results.

The plan also has the approval of Mr. C. N. Shaver, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who pledges the cooperation of the members of the State Department of Education.

The Executive Committee of the Texas Tuberculosis Association authorized the use of funds raised by the annual sale of Christmas Seals to finance the Five Year Plan for the Study and Eradication of Tuberculosis in Texas.

Members of the Executive Committee are: Dr. John Potts, Fort Worth, President; J. W. Butler, Galveston, Secretary; H. A. Wroe, Austin, Treasurer; Mrs. W. O. Wilkes, Waco; Mr. Murray G. Thames, Beaumont; Dr. Z. T. Scott, Austin, Managing Director, and Miss Pansy Nichols, Austin, Executive Secretary.

PUBLIC SALE

Closing out sale of The Grand Old Party. As our lease with Uncle Sam will expire on March 4, 1933, and our titles to the political Jack Pot will be transferred to the "Sons of Wild Jackasses," we have decided to hold an auction sale on the White House Lawn in Washington, D. C., on November 8, 1932, and sell to the highest bidder all of our political machinery and our entire stock of supplies now on hand, to wit:

One Political Machine, 1921 model, badly in need of repair. Can only be recognized by its whistle.

One moss grown platform with all its farm planks broken.

One large-everbearing Melon vine with several small branches badly frost bitten. Classed as frozen assets.

One Billion Dollar crime wave, made to order. Old enough to wean. Sired by Volstead and damned by everybody.

Fourteen million moonshine stills, all operating to full capacity.

Seven hundred rum running vessels, just learning to swim, but know all the dives.

Eleven million dinner pails. All empty.

Twenty-one thousand miles of Bread Lines without a vacant space.

One seat on the Board of Trade good for any amount of wheat. No profits guaranteed.

Should the present prosperity continue, we reserve the right to sell under the Hoover moratorium plan.

Free lunch at noon. Doughnuts extra large hole will be served by the Farm Board.

The Board of Temperance, Prohibition, Public Morals, Society of Reforms will serve Roast Crow to the Wickersham Committee.

The Army, Navy, Coast Guard and all available stool pigeons will be in formation at the lunch to assure Dolly Gann of her rightful place at the table.

If the chief executive arrives in time to assist at the sale, it is respectfully requested that all present who still have a hat, stand uncovered while the band plays "God Help The King."

TERMS: See your bank before the sale. Positively no foreign bonds accepted, although they are okehed by the State Department. The boys just put that O. K. on them, so that Coon Lobo, Jaypee Mogun and some of the other international bankers could slip them out to the suckers. It really only amounts to fourteen billion dollars, and all of our Wall Street friends are rid of them, so we are no further interested.

Will Texas Continue To Grow Is Question By Monty's Monthly

Members of Progressive Texans' Inc., and other progressive Texans will be interested in an article from Monty's Monthly under the heading, "Will Texas Continue to Grow?"

In the matter of area Texans can claim truly adult proportions. Boasting Texans are constantly telling newcomers about its vast distances. They assure the tourist leaving Brownsville that he will be more than half way to Canada before he crosses the northern boundary of the Lone Star State. They tell him that his own native state could be tucked into one corner, and lost.

Progressive Texans as a whole, and that part of them known as Progressive Texans Inc., are concerned to see that Texas counts as importantly in commerce, industry and population as she does in size, but eleventh in the number of manufacturing, thirteenth in the value of products, fifteenth in the number of wage earners, and sixteenth in total payrolls. Yet Texas has natural resources, climatic conditions and development possibilities far ahead of any of her sister states.

Her stores of the essentials to industries—gas, coal, lignite, petroleum wood—are practically inexhaustible. She produces 90 per cent of the world's sulphur supply, but ships the raw product to other states for processing. She produces more cotton than any two other states, but ships it out in bales to buy back the finished product in bolts.

The boots of the Texas cowboy are famous the world over, but they are not made in Texas, despite the fact that this state produces more leather than any other state in the union. Last year the first Texas shoe factory began operation in Ft. Worth, and is putting out a product that compares favorably in quality and style with any produced in the country, but Texas hides are sent to other states for tanning and then returned to Fort Worth for manufacture.

Fully 20 per cent of the nation's wool, and 80 per cent of its mohair are produced in Texas, but there is not a single factory in the whole state for utilizing this raw material.

And so the story goes through a very long list. It would seem that Texas are asleep to their own possibilities, and that capitalists over the nation who are looking for safe and profitable investments, could find no better place in which to watch their dollars grow up with the country.

The name "Progressive Texans, Inc." tells the whole story. The organization, drawn from Texas Chambers of Commerce, is pledged to work for the industrial development of this huge state. They plan to do for Texas what the New England Council has done for New England. A few years ago that section of the country was going backwards. Then the Council was organized from business men, bankers and professional men. The results have been remarkable and today New England is one of the few sizeable "white spots" on the world's business map. It is up to Texans to see that Texas continues to grow.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wheeler and son were in town last Saturday from the ranch and visited Mrs. Luella Lemons and other relatives.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES

After a vacation period of two weeks, the Baker-Moise Hosiery Mills, Dallas, makers of women's hosiery, has resumed a full day and night schedule. The plant has been operating with a full force—114 wage-earners and twenty-two salaried workers and executives—since March, 1931.

Ninety-two thousand yards of cotton were used in building the Navy's giant dirigible, Macon—in a single strip one yard wide to stretch over fifty miles.

Unfilled orders in Texas textile mills at the end of June totaled 3,952,000 yards as compared with 3,020,000 yards at the end of May, according to the University Bureau of Business Research, which calls attention to the significance of the statement by citing the usual fact of a decline of 16 per cent between May and June.

New incorporations include the Tarzan Gin Co., $10,000, and the Thorndale Oil Mill Co., capital $50,000.

The Humble Oil Co., on the back page of its house organ, asks the question: "Did you know that the Humble Oil Refining Co. paid into the State (Texas) treasury last year $4,487,264.25 in taxes."

Fort Worth Well & Machinery Co. has purchased and moved to Fort Worth the plant of the California Meter Co., giving employment to twenty-five men in the manufacture of water meters.

The Fort Worth Spudder Co. is completing its plant for the manufacture of well drilling machinery, drilling tools, express tanks. A brass foundry is also a part of the new plant.

The Southern Cleanser Manufacturing Co., a Texas soap manufacturing concern, secured the contract for soap powder from Dallas County in competitive bidding and also from the Dallas public schools for their "Jiffy Aid" cleanser.

American Desk Co., Temple one of the largest desk manufacturers in the Southwest, has reduced its capital stock from $300,000 to $200,000.

OTHER PEOPLE'S FAULTS

In speaking of a person's faults Pray don't forget your own. Remember those with homes of Glass

Should seldom throw a stone. If we have nothing else to do Than talk of those who sin, 'Tis better that we look at home. And from that point begin.

We have no right to judge a man Until he's fairly tried; Should we not like his company We know the world is wide.

Some may have faults, and who has not? The old as well as young: Perhaps we may for all we know Have fifty to their one.

I'll tell you of a better plan And find it works quite well— To try your own defects to cure Ere other's faults you tell.

And though I sometimes hope to be No worse than some I know My own shortcomings bid me let The faults of others go.

Then let us all, when we begin To slander friend or foe, Think of the harm one word may do To those we little know.

Remember curses, chicken-like, Will often roost at home. Don't speak of other's faults until You have none of your own.
