WOOL-MOHAIR TAX OPPOSED BY RANCHMEN

Processing Tax Would Cost Producers Yearly $1,500,000

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 10.—Texas leading wool and mohair producing state in the union, with a yield of 45 per cent of the mohair and 25 per cent of the nations wool, yesterday protested the proposed processing tax of one and one half cents a grease pound on wool and mohair. The action was taken by J. Miles O'Daniel, president of the Texas Wool and Mohair Co., and secretary treasurer of the Wool Growers Central Storage Company, after a telephone conference with L. A. Schreiner of Kerrville and Jake Schwartz of Uvalde.

There is being held in Boston today a hearing to determine whether the government shall levy this tax sought by cotton producers to offset an asserted priority of demand for woolen and mohair goods caused, it is claimed by the cotton growers, by the 4-1-2 cents a pound tax on cotton goods. The telegram was addressed to A. W. Hilliard of A. W. Hilliard and Son of Boston, one of the committee from the Boston Wool Trades Association now in Washington with the protest.

Mr. O'Daniel said that the tax would have to be borne by the producer, that the manufacturers would pay the tax on the stocks they have today, but that in the future purchases they would deduct the tax from the price they pay for wools just as they now deduct the freight costs.

Other members of the Boston committee in Washington are: Joe Draper of Draper and Company, Robert M. Studley of Studley and Emery, and a Mr. Blake.

Mr. O'Daniel pointed out that the tax would cost Texas wool and mohair producers about $1,500,000 a year.

BORDER FIGHT FATAL TO ONE THEFT SUSPECT

Posse Engages Pair In Running Battle Near Alpine

ALPINE, Nov. 10.—Border officials increased vigilance today after the fatal shooting yesterday of one alleged horse thief and the apparent escape into Mexico of another.

Marcella Dominguez, 25, of Lajitas, Texas, was killed in a running gun battle near Chalk Valley, 30 miles south of here, by a posse which included Sheriff W. N. Gourley of Brewster county, deputies, immigration officers and Texas Rangers.

Two horsemen were sighted with stolen stock on the Jim Roberts ranch. They were heading toward Mexico. The two men whipped their horses into a run and opened fire on the posse. In the running fight which followed the man identified as Dominguez was shot through the neck as he went over a mountain top. None of the posse was injured.

The body was brought here. Dominguez had been charged with theft of horses from the Jack Mosley ranch and three mules from the Claude Hudspeth ranch south of Alpine.

Two horses seized were identified as having belonged at one time to Jack Mosley here. They were not the animals for which the posse had been searching.

Liquor Importing Laws Unchanged

Thirsty Texans hopeful of bringing liquor across from Mexico after repeal are doomed to be disappointed.

Captain Luke Dowe, deputy collector of customs, in a statement Monday said no changes in the customs forces would result from the repeal.

Customs officers will continue to be stationed at the bridge and officers of the same service will continue to patrol the highways with authority to search who they will.

"The duties of the customs force are not to enforce prohibition but to repel smuggling," Captain Dowe said.

Not only will it be impossible to bring over a flask or a "wee nip" but liquor cannot be bonded through a port where transportation facilities are not available. Captain Dowe pointed out that only in border towns through which railways pass could bonding arrangements be made.—Del Rio Evening News.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Day Is Fittingly Observed Here By Legion And Citizens

Armistice Day was fittingly observed here last Saturday when an appropriate program was held under the auspices of the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post, No. 160, American Legion.

Promptly at 10:45 the parade formed in front of the Court House and headed by the High School Band marched one block east, then two blocks south and on up Main street. Members of the Legion were back of the band followed by the Boy Scouts and then several cars and business firms being in the line. At 11 o'clock the parade was halted for a moment and taps was sounded.

At noon a bounteous barbecue, with salad, beans, chili, bread, pickles and coffee was served to about 1,000 guests. The members of the Auxiliary assisted in the serving. To Greene Cooke, goes the well deserved credit for the cooking of the meat, beans, chili and coffee. Mr. Cooke prepared and cooked the meat in the patented pit that he has in the rear of his market and it was certainly well cooked and seasoned.

That afternoon a football game was witnessed by the crowd at the local field. The Sanderson Eagles met and defeated the Marfa Yearlings in a good clean game the score being 26-0.

That night a dance was given at the Masonic Hall with music being furnished by a Del Rio orchestra.

This was the largest crowd to gather here in sometime and every one seemed to have enjoyed the day and the weather was ideal in every way.

ARMISTICE DAY

While Armistice Day was fittingly observed in this city last Saturday, there was a noticeable absence of flags not only in the business district but in the residential section of the city as well.

And the Editor's place of business is not excepted as we too were among the few that did not fly the flag all because we did not have or get one. By all means every public building should fly the flag and more so on special occasions.

One of the best things that the local Post, American Legion, can accomplish this year would be to see that plenty of flags are here and that they are properly flown.

THE PRIVILEGE OF LIVING TODAY

The year 1933 will go down in history.

Just as our grandfathers talked of the Revolutionary period and our fathers of the Civil War era, so our children will refer back to 1933. The greatest social changes in the history of our nation are now taking place. Europe sits spell-bound at America's daring. We ourselves are almost too dazed to realize the transition.

We are changing from an individualistic society to one of co-operation. There will be anxious moments in this changing process, but those who have adopted the philosophy of John Dewey in regarding each experience whether happy or sad, as something to enrich one's life, will benefit most from this experiment.

There is too much humanity in the world for this experiment not to succeed. We may falter on the way, but the American people have never known the meaning of the word fail.

Frankly, we would rather live in 1933 than in any period in the history of America. For the first time we have a patriotic goal without girding ourselves to kill. That in itself would mark out the year 1933 as an historic twelve months.—Independent, Littleton, Colo.

DOES THE CONSUMER PAY?

We hear some unfavorable criticism, usually of an involved nature, of the fact that the consumer must pay the bill for the degree of reemployment that will produce recovery. Occasionally a critic, who perhaps has not become adjusted to very materially changed conditions in our country, will leave the impression that this obvious fact constitutes some sort of unjust discrimination against a particular class of citizens. Let us consider a moment: Just as many industrialists have come to a realization during the past few weeks that the workers they laid off cannot continue as their customers and that they in fact had been their customers, so also the man from whom we buy foodstuffs, furniture, automobiles, radios, clothing, and anything else of the innumerable products we sorely need to buy, is also a consumer. He, likewise must buy his supplies from others. The manufacturer is not only a consumer of raw materials in his plant, but he is a consumer of all that all of us consume away from his plant.

So a little deduction brings us to the realization that when we say the consumer must pay the bill we actually mean that every American citizen and resident of American territory must carry his share of the increased cost incident to reemployment and business and industrial recovery.

Certainly no class is discriminated against. All are in the same boat.—Spirit of Jefferson, Charleston, W. Va.

A small fire that warms you is better than a large one that burns you.

Let us hope that full soon there will be nothing blue but the eagle.

Scarcely a day passes without the announcement from some business houses of national magnitude that is turning again to newspaper advertising to reach the public.

Why Uncle George needs MORE LIGHT than Billy . . .

Notice how much smaller the pupil of Uncle George's eye is than Billy's. But then, Uncle is sixty-two years old, while Billy just turned twelve.

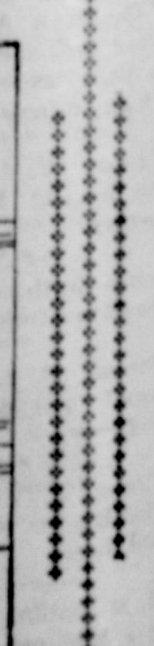

It only goes to prove that as people get older the pupils of their eyes shrink in size . . . and so they need better light than they did before. But Billy's eyes should not be neglected either, because he's in the growing stage and studying and playing in poor light now may mean poor sight later.

Why not give the whole family the kind of light that's good for them? We will be glad to consult with you on this all-important problem.

THE NEW LIGHT ANNUAL OFFER

RECIPES AND MENUS

DENTON, Nov. 16.—The use of fruit in the diet is no longer looked upon as a luxury but as a necessity. At least two fruits should be eaten daily. Fresh fruit is to be preferred but when they can not be secured, dried fruit may be used to a good advantage.

The use of dried fruit has many advantages. They are within the reach of everyone the year round. It is especially during the late fall and winter when fresh fruit is scarce that dried fruit holds an important place in the diet. They are inexpensive and for this reason can be used by everyone. They are important in the diet because of the valuable mineral salts and organic acids presents. They are a good addition to the diets of both children and adults. They may be combined with raisins, dates, and apricots.

Many people make mistakes in cooking dried fruits. In order to have a perfect finished product, they should be properly cooked. They should be washed thoroughly and then covered with cold water and allowed to soak for several hours, or over night. The fruit should be cooked in the same water in which it is soaked and kept at the simmering point until it is done. If sugar is to be added, it should be added when the fruit is nearly done.

Breakfast: Orange, cream of wheat cream, sugar, bacon, toast, milk, coffee.

Lunch: Cream of tomato soup, crackers, lettuce salad, dressing, whole wheat bread, butter, apricot whip with whipped cream, wafers, hot tea.

Dinner: Pork roast, dressing, gravy, candied sweet potatoes, apple sauce, pear salad, hot rolls, butter, caramel custard.

Breakfast: Stewed prunes, shredded wheat, cream and sugar, omelet, toast, butter, coffee, milk.

Lunch: Macaroni and cheese, cole slaw, buttered beets, whole wheat muffins, butter, chocolate pudding, milk.

Dinner: Sliced baked ham in raisin sauce, string beans, creamed potatoes, celery, olives, hot biscuit, butter, hot tea, fruit jello, whipped cream.

APRICOT WHIP: 1 lb dried Apricots, 2 egg whites, sweeten to taste. Soak the apricots until they are plump. Cook slowly for 20 minutes. Remove from fire, press through sieve. Sweeten to taste. Just before serving, fold in stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Serves six.

SLICED HAM BAKED IN RAISIN SAUCE: 2 slices of ham, 1 c boiling water, 2-3 c raisins, 1-4 c brown sugar, 1 tsp. mustard, 1 T butter. Place the slices of ham in a baking dish or pan and cover with 1-2 c water. Dot with bits of butter and bake about twenty minutes, basting frequently. If the water cooks away, add more. Pour over it a sauce made of the remaining 1-2 c water, brown sugar, mustard, and raisins. Cook until tender and brown.

The Livestock Situation

J. A. McNAUGHTON

LOS ANGELES, November 16, 1933—Now for the Winter Stock Show! After months of fitting, the curtain is about to rise on the great breeding herds of the country following the show circuit—Portland to Chicago, and the intermediate shows at the well-known places on the big circuit.

Los Angeles is looking forward to a good breed show this year after skipping last year, and the fat classes will be bigger and better than ever. Judging by the attendance at the State and County Fairs the people are keenly interested in livestock.

The latest word from the Herford Association justifies the statement that substantial part of the "Royal" exhibits will come to the Great Western Livestock Show, December 2nd to 7th. We will have several first strings, and registration inquiries indicate a good supply of quality bulls to be sold at private treaty.

These Annual exhibits are pretty much a fashion show where the best types and blood lines are in evidence and prospective buyers may take advantage of the opportunity to strengthen their herd. The value of good bulls has taken root among the southwestern cattlemen and the progress in better breeding within the past ten years is truly remarkable.

All of the southwestern states are now finishing some cattle on dry feeds and thus contributing more and more to the constant demand of Californians for good beef. Sections of the country that only a few years ago sold their production of stockers and feeders to be matured and fattened in the Corn Belt or other places where dry feed is available, particularly in the Panhandle and Southwest Texas large areas have been turned into raising feed and finishing the cattle at home, thus being in a position to get the greatest benefits out of their lands and crops.

Better breeding has made this condition possible and not withstanding the low prices prevailing the producers in the southwest who have paid attention to better breeding have produced a product that sold at the top.

Prices of breeding stock are low—yes—but it is worth something to make the turnover and to keep the industry going.

We must recognize, too, that breeding is the very foundation of production and must carry on.

West Texas sheepmen ought not to object to one and one half cent processing tax if it is necessary to keep government wheels turning, even if it is not needed directly to up wool prices, in the opinion of R. N. Allen, in town Friday from his Sanderson ranch. A government which has upped wool prices from 11c to 30c deserves whatever support required from sheepmen to repay governmental sums advanced to finance improving conditions. Mr. Allen says that good rains in October started a weed crop that will require but little additional moisture to provide good winter range. There is a little trading in old ewes at $1 and $2 a head at this time but all lambs have been sold in the Sanderson country. Mr. Allen realized 4 1-2 for muttons, and $c for ewe lambs.

Only three bunches of lambs left in Terrell County and they may have been sold now, as a buyer was telephoning on them this week. The buyer and seller were agreed on price but the seller wanted to deliver now and the buyer wanted them December 1.

From the way the thing looks now before the expansion of the sheep business is over there will be sheep all the way from here to El Paso. Range in all the Trans-Pecos is good, from here to El Paso.

Val Verde Wool and Mohair Company is reported to have refused an offer of 26 cents a pound for its entire line of fall wool.

Mr. and Mrs. Teil Bishop, of Del Rio, visited in the city Tuesday.

RED CROSS CLOTHES THE NATION'S NEEDY

Flour, Bread, Clothing Reach Into More Than Five Million Homes of Jobless

The greatest task ever undertaken by a relief agency in the history of private charity is drawing to a close with the final distribution of cotton clothing to more than five million families by the American Red Cross.

At the direction of the Congress, beginning eighteen months ago, the Red Cross undertook to convert the wheat and cotton surpluses of the Farm Board into food and clothing for the unemployed and needy. In the consequent operation, this relief agency entered upon a commercial enterprise greater than any single commercial firm has ever undertaken in the same period of time.

In the ensuing months the Red Cross converted $5,000,000 bushels of wheat into flour and bread and gave it to 5,803,000 families. The distribution was through 2,700 Red Cross chapters and hundreds of other charitable agencies. During the severe northwestern drought of 1931 the Red Cross also gave wheat in the form of food for livestock to 184,188 families.

The clothing—dresses, underwear, overalls, jumpers, sweaters and stockings for men, women and children, and even blankets and comforters—was distributed to 5,465,410 families. More than $4,000,000 ready-made garments and $2,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were given to the needy. This clothing came from $44,000 bales of cotton.

The wheat distribution was concluded in June, 1933, and final distribution of cotton clothing is occurring in the fall months.

In handling these tasks voted to it by Congress, the Red Cross will expend from its own treasury $735,000. At the same time the organization carried on its regular program of disaster relief; of service to the veterans of all our wars; of educational and welfare work through the Junior Red Cross; of health education and public health nursing and of life saving and first aid. Funds for this work come from the membership roll call the Red Cross chapters conduct from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, when every one is invited to join the Red Cross and aid in this vital relief work.
