QUASH

Attendance at the Mexican school dropped considerably this past week due to the presence of the County Health Officer who has been busy with his needle. A total of 263 Mexican children have been given diptheria and typhoid vaccinations to date.

There are no cases of either of these contagious diseases in Terrell County, according to the local health officer. These immunizations are given, not from necessity, but, as a measure of precaution and by the specific request of the parents.

Much speculating, prophesying and even racketing has been done lately on the weather. Some of the local men who claim to be in the "know" are ready to prophesy at any time just what kind of weather we will have on the morrow.

There is one prophesy that hasn't failed (to date), and that is—we are going to have a change. Sandersonites have this week basked in real tropical weather, then again we have had the unfailible March winds, then again, we have been the recipients of a breeze right off the Arctic circle. What next?

It is rumored that the faithful old horse that has pulled the ice wagon through Sanderson streets for the past number of years is to be retired with a pension. It is also rumored that in its place will be a mule with extra long ears. Incidentally, one of our prominent business men was seen riding this mule the other day. He was probably starting spring training.

Two of our local citizens visited ranches this past week-end and while there, tried their hand at riding steers. Steer riding must be quite an art judging from the bandages worn by the thrownees.

Several new cars have been purchased by residents of Sanderson this past week. Elmo M. Taylor and Dick Corder are driving new Fords and M. B. Wilson, Clyde Higgins and Jim Nance are driving new Chevrolets, obtained from local dealers.

Interest in track events seem to be at a low ebb among the athletes in the High School. The District meet is to be held in April and no contestants have started training. This event evidently follows too closely on the strenuous basketball season just ended.

The local troupe of Boy Scouts held an interesting meeting last Wednesday evening. The members engaged in a fire-lighting contest in which flint rock was used as the means of starting the fire.

Lloyd Gant won first place, requiring only 22 seconds.

Sanderson now has a library which promises to be very popular. With the latest books available it is probable that much mid-night oil burning will be in evidence.

Mrs. Vance McLymont spent last Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Buck, on their ranch north of Dryden.

Returns on the shipment received this week by Dolph Briscoe showed the net price at Uvalde to be 31 1/2c. The wool was from sheep on the Briscoe & Baylor pastures at Catarina.

Observers Expect Texas Senate Roll Will Change Little

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—A relatively small turnover in the membership of the Texas Senate in the next Legislature is predicted by political observers even though four of the 15 whose terms expire will not seek re-election.

Contests for the seats of the other 11 senators who are not "holdovers" are probable. Sixteen of the 31 members have two years remaining in the terms for which they were elected in 1932.

Of the four who will retire voluntarily, three will seek higher offices. The fourth, Miss Margie E. Neal of Carthage, the only woman ever elected to membership in the upper house, will not again be a candidate.

Senators Joe M. Moore of Greenville, and Walter F. Woodul of Houston, aspire to the office of lieutenant governor, which will be elected by Edgar E. Witt, candidate for governor.

Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, seeks to advance from the Senate to attorney general.

Tales of difficult campaigns ahead of those who want to return to their seats in the Senate were brought to Austin by many who came here for the recent special session.

In the State's Southernmost senatorial district, the senior member of the Senate, Archie Parr of Benavides is expected to have stiff opposition. Those who have seen him re-elected continuously for the past 20 years are confident he will again emerge the victor, however.

Conjecture was rife among the legislators on the possibility that Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, only woman member of the current House of Representatives, would oppose Senator George C. Purl, who will seek to continue as the Dallas County senator. Political friends and opponents of the senator and representative predict it would be a bitter contest if she entered the race.

Other senators whose terms end this year are W. R. Cousins of Beaumont, Julian P. Greer of Elkhart, T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, Cecil Murphy of Gainesville, Frank H. Rawlings of Fort Worth, and H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

Will Murrah was a week-end visitor in Del Rio.

KERRVILLE, Tex., March.—The first of the spring mohair clip is beginning to come in to the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company's warehouse here, and the market opened at 35c for grown hair, and 45c for kid hair. Unfavorable weather somewhat delayed the beginning of shearing. The first shearing crews went out from here last week. E. G. Wentworth, buyer for S. C. THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

Turning from city newspapers to small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these glaring shatterings of the decalogue. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things. Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little towns around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births and deaths, farmers' items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours. Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence.—Christian Science Monitor.

CHANGE ALWAYS

We of the twentieth century find it difficult to understand people who in generations past have bumped their heads fighting what was inevitable.

That they opposed railroads because trains displaced stagecoaches, is still remembered, but it is not so well known that back in the seventeenth century they fought stagecoaches. One Englishman of the period mourned in this key: "These coaches and carriages are one of the greatest mischiefs that hath happened to the kingdom. They effeminize His Majesty's subjects, who, having used themselves to travel in coaches, will possess no skill in horsemanship and become incapable of serving their country on horse-back in time of war."

In spite of all such laments, stagecoaches came, had their day, and in turn gave way to a score of modern means of transportation. What will be next? —Rotarian Magazine.

Commentable Comments

GOOD NEWS—From the "watchtower" of Geneva, Switzerland, where one has greater access to authoritative statistics than in any other city in the world, the indications give grounds for believing that: the commodity price trend is upward, unemployment's trend is downward, monetary stabilization is unescapable, and—the world has definitely turned the corner.—Rudolf Holsti, former prime minister of Finland, in the Rotarian Magazine.

CO-OPERATION IN THE AIR

It is my conclusion that two types of aircraft, airships and airplanes, are not competitive. Economic considerations and the natural limitations of each points to the eventual adoption of a jointly operated world wide transportation system. Overland and short over-water flights will be made by airplanes and flying boats, but the long trans-oceanic flights will be made by large rigid airships. Thus the two types of aircraft will work together to build up a combined service offering a safe, reliable world-wide aerial transportation system.—Dr. Karl Arnstein, designer of dirigibles.

HOW ENGLAND EMERGES

The secret of Great Britain's remarkable resistance to the forces of depression, even though she relies more than any other nation upon foreign trade and hence is more directly affected by world disturbances, lies in her congenial moderation which in business and finance, as well as in politics, takes the form of cautious but not too rigid conservatism.—Harold Callender.

WHEN EUROPE JUDGES AMERICA

When Europe tries to judge the New Deal, there is one thing she should never lose sight of, that is, the situation which rendered it inevitable. The majority of Europeans have never understood the distress of America in the early part of 1933. In spite of everything America remained for Europe the symbol of universal wealth.—Andre Maurois.

THE TREND OF TIMES

We have moved into an era when the consumer is coming into his own, a Consumer Society. I like to call it, where men in high place and positions of power will think of wealth, not as something to be produced, but rather as something to be used. Frederic C. Howe, in the Rotarian Magazine.

Texas Industrial Activities

Successful tests of frozen citrus fruit juice by the Federal citrus products laboratory at Weslaco are expected to be of material assistance in increasing the outlet for the product of the lower Rio Grande Valley. Juice of grapefruit and oranges frozen to 40 degrees below zero a year earlier were found to be in excellent condition.

Texas charters in January, 1934, were 35 per cent above those of December, 1933, and 4 per cent above those of January, 1933, according to the University Bureau of Business Research.

Farm income of Texas for 1933, including the sale of both farm crops and animals, is estimated at $412,527,042 by Victor H. Shoffelmayr, farm editor of the Dallas News, an increase of 43 percent over the 1932 total.

Construction of a modern cracking unit at the Henderson refinery of the East Texas Refining Co. is shortly to begin. This company, a pioneer in the East Texas field built the first refining plant at Longview. It has 260 wells of its own and its 125-mile pipe line serves a total of John Rocco escaped from jail last Saturday night about 7:30. The local officers or jailer did not learn of the escape for about an hour and a half.

Contractor W. J. Duncan returned from Sabinal Sunday and started work Monday on the residence to be built for Lewis Lemons.

Master James Wesley arrived Wednesday morning, March 5, to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Sims Wilkinson. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Bob Henshaw and Herman Paul are painting the Boozes rooming house and they also have the contract to paint the sheds and out-houses at the courthouse.

Jas K. Fulton and Doc Turk were in the city the first of the week walking around town like a couple of spring chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Jones were up from Dryden Friday, on business.

The Sanderson Ice, Water and Light Co. have been going through some rigid repair work on the pipe line on Oak street the past week. The new highway being built runs through Oak street and the water mains will have to be moved back off the road about a foot and some places more.

EVENTS OF SOCIETY

OLD-FASHIONED PARTY GIVEN

Mrs. Will Savage and Mrs. John Nichols sponsored a unique party for the young people of the Presbyterian Church when they were "at home" to their parents Friday night at Rev. and Mrs. John V. McCall's. The home was lighted with oil lamps. The center table with its family album and stereoscope was much in evidence. Also old quilts and coverlets.

A very old music box sent forth sweet strains as the guests arrived. The program began with the singing of old songs dear to the hearts of grandmothers.

Next, baby pictures of each guest were numbered and passed and there was much fun at guess ing—when a sweet face with long curls proved now to be a sturdy gentleman, etc.

The grownups jumped as fast as their children in the game of stage coach. And "weevily wheat" and "skip-to-my-Lou" found both interested alike.

Another game showed some real poets in the group.

Refreshments tasted of grandmother's day—boiled custard in large goblets, cookies from the family jar, and good molasses candy were enjoyed as much as they were two generations back.

The following guests were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Nichols, D. A. Pollard, Jesse Lochausen, John Nichols, A. F. Thrift, Lewis Lemons and Mesdames W. E. Lea, W. J. Ferguson, J. W. McKee, W. H. Savage and Dr. and Mrs. J. V. McCall, Beatrice and Bernice Nichols, Mary Ferguson, Adair Edmiston, Nelle Lea, Billy Ferguson, and Jesse Lochausen, Jr.—Reported

Lillian Harvey Makes Glorious Film Debut

Lillian Harvey comes to the American screen at the Princess Theatre Friday and Saturday, March 9-10, in a blaze of really unprecedented glory. Her first picture for our native film art is "My Weakness". And it is a production and a performance that will warm the hearts of movie-goers.

With Lew Ayres as the masculine lead opposite her, Miss Harvey has the perfect partner in her American film debut. Together they make one of the most attractive pairs it has been the privilege of the screen to present. There is freshness, vivacity, charm, esprit, dash and color in every sequence of the picture, and both Miss Harvey and Ayres figure heavily in the proceedings.

Fox Film has seen fit, and happily so, to surround these two young young players with a supporting cast that is rare in these days of mass production. There is Charles Butterworth, a comedian of another but no less hilarious school; and Sid Silvers, king of the "stooges" whose contribution to "My Weakness" speaks volumes for what may be expected from him in the future.

Henry Travers, Irene Bentley and Adrian Rosley have leading supporting roles, and each of them put forth a fine performance. Some of the most beautiful girls of Hollywood, that land of most beautiful girls, grace the production. Their list is headed by Mary Howard, the daughter of Will Rogers, Irene Ware, Barbara Weeks, Susan Fleming, Marcelle Edwards, Marjorie King, Jean Allen, Gladys Blake and Dixie Frances.

RECIPES AND MENUS

By Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women (CIA)

DENTON, Mar. 8.—Toward spring the stock of sweets is either exhausted or very low and the supply of fresh fruits is limited in quantity and high in prices. The following recipes will be found easy to make, economical and to have good keeping qualities.

The apricot recipes are fine for tarts and cakes and good to eat with hot breads for breakfast and lunch. Dried peaches can be substituted for apricots in any of the recipes given.

Since it will soon be time for fresh fruits and berries the quantity of jams and marmalades made from dried fruits should be limited; therefore small recipes are used.

Breakfast: Tomato juice, eggs a la goldenrod, prune jam, toast, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: potatoes scalloped with cheese, buttered spinach, whole wheat muffins, fruit gelatin, cream, tea, milk.

Dinner: Baked ham, mashed potatoes, brussels sprouts, biscuit, butter, ginger ale salad, apricot tarts.

Breakfast: sliced orange, wheatena with top milk, toast, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: welsh rarebit, hominy, green beans, whole wheat bread, caramel custard tea, milk.

Dinner: Swiss steak, baked potatoes, tomato and lettuce salad, hot biscuit, marmalade, date pudding.

Apricot marmalade: 1 lb dried apricots, 1 C shredded pineapple, 2 C sugar. Wash the apricots, cover with cold water and soak for several hours. Cook until tender, mash with a potato masher, add sugar and pineapple and cook until thick. Pour into jelly glasses and when cold cover with melted paraffin.

Apricot jam: 1 lb dried apricots, 2 C sugar, 1 oz. almonds, wash the apricots well and cut in small pieces. Cover with water and let stand several hours. Cook until fruit is soft, then add sugar and almonds blanched and cut fine. Boil until thick, pour in jelly glasses and when cold cover with melted paraffin.

Apricot marmalade: 2 C apricots, 1 T grated orange rind, 1 C orange juice, 1 1/2 C sugar, 1 T grated lemon rind, 1/2 C blanched and shredded almonds. Cover the apricots with water and cook them until soft. Mash the apricots with a potato masher until smooth, add the sugar, almonds, orange juice, orange and lemon rind and cook thirty minutes or until thick stirring frequently to prevent burning. Pour into jelly glasses and when cold seal with paraffin.

Prune Jam: 3 lbs. prunes, juice of 1 lemon, 4 C sugar. Wash prunes, cover with cold water and soak several hours. Cook until tender in the water in which they were soaked, remove seeds by pressing through a sieve retaining the juice. Add sugar, the lemon juice and cook until thick. Pour in jelly glasses and when cold, cover with paraffin.

Pete Crawford, game warden, and Edgar Dawson, deputy sheriff, of Al-pine, were business visitors in the city the latter part of last week.

O. T. Schupbach came in Tuesday evening from Abilene where he is attending High School, to spend this week visiting his parents, M. and Mrs. O. T. Schupbach, Sr.

RIGHT!

THAT'S just what we've been wondering. How can any business man expect to attract a bigger trade when all he does is unlock the front door in the morning, roll up the shades and 'wait for the customers'?

THE public doesn't buy that way. It wants to be "led to your bargains", it wants to know WHAT they are and WHERE to find them before it goes shopping. In other words, your best bet is to—

Mention was made some time ago of some new dresses; now these have been augmented by shoes for everyone except the Sergeant. Maybe civilian manufacturers don't make 'em big enough for him.

Spring is come again. Armed with pick and shovel, and crowned by a real Longhorn sun bonnet. Monty goes after some flower beds. Some optimistic. But this veritable amazon is undaunted. She sez with plenty of digging, and more water, she intends having a flower.

Larry put out the family wash last Sunday pm. But he can't take it. He spent all day Monday in bed, and doesn't look any too well yet. Better see the medical department, Larry.

Can't tell yet whether rose bushes or cactii will be planted in the flower section. Some say Texas roses (Cactii), but Mrs. Richardson very emphatically states she intends having real roses, and has ordered some. Well, with all this flower planting going on, and with hopes as high as they are, we are glad the Fourth of July only comes once a year, cause there might be enough water for a bath by then.

To have what one wants is riches; but to be able to do without it, is power. Jimmie sez he is in a bad way; can't do without what he wants is not rich, but is looking for the power so he can go see what he wants. Anybody want to sell a good car cheap?

What's the trouble, Biggs? Thought you could play bridge. Maybe it's spring getting you down. Rumor has it that the ball and chain in cahoots with Mosey came out on the winning side in the fracas the other night.

Surely wish we could print pictures. This column is most incomplete without a picture of the Corporal wearing boots. Can't tell whether he is coming or going.

Maybe Mr. Rogers can't take it, either. Immediately after last issue was on the streets, he announces his intention of leaving the air. Sorry, Mr. Rogers. Didn't aim to show you up.

Many receive advice; only the wiseproof by it.

So far Homer Jr., has failed to hear anything from the Federal Radio Commission pertinent to his amateur license. Maybe they have to take time out to consult with the archaeological department, thinking some one has sent in a copy of application with ancient hieroglyphics on it for answer.

Error will slip through a crack while truth will stick in the doorway; people yet inquire after the meaning of some things told in this column.

Perhaps Mr. Pinky hasn't heard that faint heart ne'er won fair lady, but he is no slouch for speed once he gets under way. Remember what the young lady said to John Alden? I wasn't there either. Must a been two other guys.

Language is the dress of thoughts. Well, some folks have been known to put on lots of frills.

We wonder what the phrase "snovelled show" means.

The world is loaded down with woman suffrage. Mr. Dillinger was sent to jail where there is a woman warden. Huh. He didn't stay long.

The President states the people have taken interest in the government, and this fact amazes him. Well, what does he think the government is for, that the people should take no interest in it?

France is building ships, and despairs of disarmament agreements. Why bother with agreements, they are only made to be broken.

According to some writers, the army air service is unequalled to carry the mail. Wonder what some said writers, and other critics, would do, should the duty devolve upon them. These army fliers are embarking upon a totally new, to them, yet highly developed business. They are asked to fly as they have never had to fly before, on a job which others handled by gradually working up to the present stage. Remember when commercial pilots first started transcontinental flying how dangerous it was pronounced, and how careful they were? They had no one giving them orders which they could not question, and had no swivel-chair ground pilot directing their actions.

And now you can wind up your automobile like a toy, and it runs for 7 miles before running down. Some folks never grow up.
