Or We Hope It Is

We'll have to chide several Sanderson citizens this week on what looks like delinquency in the matter of civic progressiveness, and of something that might mean profit to them personally. We refer to the service station operators, tourist camp owners, and kindred business-men. Last week a meeting of the highway association was held at Alpine. The majority of you failed to attend—and it was an important meeting—having for its object an all paved road to the borders, and connection with the Bankhead at Van Horn. Good roads bring tourists, and the latter spend money, and advertise the routes they travel. Service stations, hotels and camps could hardly exist if travel stopped. Here's one chance to help the country and incidentally, yourselves.

The other day we saw a photo in a newspaper. Some peace officers up north were proudly posed beside an assortment of guns, knives and other lethal weapons. What the public would like to see would be an assortment of public enemies of the Dillinger and Barrow ilk, suspended at the end of a rope. Then the officers would have something to look proud about.

Keep thinking about the unfairness of tax laws that permit all the money from university lands, with very little exception to revert to the fund of that institution, now of a proportion to take care of its needs for all time. None of it goes to the maintenance of public schools, and several West Texas counties, fabulously rich in oil found on university acreage, have not enough money to adequately maintain a normal nine months term. Voters will have a chance to rectify this blunder at the next general election.

Statisticians are up against it this year. They can figure out most any occurrence and its frequency, but they are up against it when they try to figure out which game is responsible for the most barked shins, hockey or bridge.

Hoover went fishing the other day says the Alpine Avalanche, and his companions were Messrs. Mudd, Hole, and Hyde. We've been wondering where he was, and only hope he pulled the hole in after him.

We were right proud of somebody—whether it was the commissioners or the sheriff, himself, when we noticed a "banjo" attached to his car, just under the windshield. "Banjo" is underworld for machine gun. The automatic was considered an advance in protection, but they are useless when you meet a bandit with a machine-gun. Of course, as in the days when the West was wild and woolly, it's all in getting the drop on the gentleman you wish to arrest or perforate. But placing our officers on the same basis as the modern outlaw, gives them the confidence of an even break, at least.

The average human today would rather pike at a crooked marble machine than put the pennies in the collection plate.

Our text for today: The rich get richer and the poor have children; but the Irish prefer pigs.

Optometrist Here Next Week
Dr. J. A. Swindell, eye specialist of Fort Stockton was in Sanderson several days this week, and stated that he would return again Monday, and remain the entire week. He will be located at the Kerr Hotel, where you may consult him about any eye trouble. Examinations are free, he stated.

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Green and son returned last Saturday from Fort Worth where, week before last, the Rev. Green attended the State Convention of Baptist Sunday schools. The past week was spent visiting with relatives and friends near Fort Worth and in Abilene.

Local Undertaker Adds Ambulance-Hearse to Service

VEHICLE WILL AFFORD COMFORTABLE TRANSPORTATION FOR SICK AND INJURED OF THIS SECTION.

W. E. Stirman, local undertaker, was a business visitor in Del Rio the past week, and while in that city made a deal through the Doran Funer Home for a modern ambulance-hearse, which he has put into service here.

This conveyance, product of the La Salle-Saville company, has many of the latest conveniences, and is readily convertible from hearse to ambulance for use in transporting sick or injured to local physicians' offices, or to hospitals in nearby cities.

This is a real, progressive move and Mr. Stirman is to be congratulated on keeping abreast the times.

Mr. Burke was a retired cotton gin operator and a native of Itasca, Texas. He was a member of Rio Grande Lodge No. 81, A. F. & A. M.

Deceased was well known in Sanderson, having at different times visited his sister, Mrs. L. A. Lowe.

Surviving are three sons: G. C. and Henry Burke of Medina City, and Earl Burke of Fort Worth; two daughters: Mrs. H. C. Stucke of San Antonio and Mrs. Guy B. Lawson of Dallas; one brother, Morris Burke of Millette; three sisters, Mrs. L. A. Lowe of Sanderson, Mrs. R. A. Norton of Covington and Mrs. Lulu Ladd of Marietta, Okla.

D. L. ("Stump") Duke Enters Race for County And District Clerk

D. L. "Stump" Duke, long time resident of this county, makes his political bow this week before the voters asking for election to the office of county and district clerk.

Mr. Duke is well and favorably known to a majority of our citizens as during the time he has made Sanderson his home he has been prominent in civic affairs and has always taken an active part in the community activities.

Following is Mr. Duke's statement: "Permit me the liberty at this time of announcing to the voters of Terrell county my candidacy for the office of county and district clerk. In filing for this office I feel it entirely proper to say that I have lived in Terrell county for the last 12 years, during which time I have at all times strived to take an active part in the civic betterment of my county. Touching the qualifications for office service, I wish to say that I have had considerable office experience: serving as cashier of the Texas & Pacific Ry. offices in El Paso some two years and, later, as assistant cashier in the offices of the T. & N. O. offices in the same city, as well as other office employment necessitating the careful preservation of records.

"After having spent so many years in Terrell county I feel its people are my people and their interests are matters requiring sincere and loyal attention.

"If elected to this office, I pledge to our people to discharge the duties of the office faithfully, public-spiritedly and efficiently. I therefore respectfully solicit the friendship and support of our people in the coming election.

"Most respectfully,
"D. L. (Stump) Duke."

PLAN MOVE TO FILL IN GAPS ALONG NO. 90, MAKING THIS ROUTE INVITING TO TOURIST TRAVELING IN THE SOUTH.

A fine representation of patriotic citizens from practically every town along Highway 90, between Del Rio and its terminal, Van Horn, were present at a meeting held last Saturday in Alpine, discussion being wholly confined to ways and means of supplying an all-paved highway between the border city and the Culberson county capital, connecting with State No. 1, or the Bankhead highway. The delegation from Van Horn, announced that the commissioners of the county were on record as favoring a junction of highways 80 and 90 at Van Horn, by paving No. 90 from that town in a southerly direction, to Valentine, Marfa, Alpine, Sanderson and Del Rio. This would create a "Y" at Van Horn, and tourists could take their choice, assured that travel in either direction would be comfortable and free from hazards encountered on unpaved highways. The Times understands that this move will be requested from the State highway department.

To Fill In Gaps

Hope for a system of all-paved highways in this section is revived by the announcement of the state highway department that all gaps on major highways will be filled in, finances permitting, before 1936, the year of the Texas Centennial celebration, when tourists and visitors can be expected from all over the United States and foreign countries.

With the gap from Marfa to Van Horn filled in, tourist travel through this section will be enhanced, and Sanderson people should cooperate with those of other towns to that end. Tourists spend money, and money banishes depression. They also advertise our town and section. With completion of No. 90, as outlined at the Alpine meeting, it will be just as inviting to tourists as No. 80 now is.

Sanderson citizens who attended the meeting were Messrs. Al E. Creigh, J. W. Downum, F. W. Charlton and Clyde Morris.

Ball Team Looming

Activities of the past week point to the fact that Sanderson will soon have a regular baseball team in the field, ready to meet all comers, win, lose or draw.

Forty-five loads of adobe dirt was hauled to Legion Field this week, and spread over the infield. This will be followed by sprinkling and packing, which should put the diamond in fine playing shape.

This coming Sunday a practice game will be played with the Mexican team. It is hoped that a game with a neighboring town team can be arranged for the first Sunday in May.

Sanderson Girl Will Represent School In Historical Pageant of the Big Bend

FOOTBALL GAME AND OTHER FEATURES ON PROGRAM IN HONOR OF EARLY SETTLERS IN BIG BEND.

Miss Dorothy Sullivan, who will represent the Sanderson high school as Duchess in Alpine Saturday, at the Historical Pageant of the Big Bend, will leave today for that city. She, with representatives from practically every high school in West Texas, will take part in a celebration, to be staged on a scale bigger than anything ever attempted in this section of the state.

During the past four months a little over $100,000 has been spent in improvements in and around Sul Ross college area, the most useful being a garden type of outdoor theatre, built of native stone, and with a seating capacity of 1,650 persons. Tomorrow this building will be dedicated by staging this spectacular pageant, honoring the pioneer settlers of the Big Bend country.

Special Trains Pass Through

Templin, of the Radford Schools for Girls, El Paso, and who was one of the principal speakers at the Parent-Teacher convention held here last week, arrived in Sanderson Tuesday from San Antonio, where she had been for the past week delivering lectures. She left for her home Wednesday morning, stopping at Marfa enroute, where she addressed the Parent-Teacher association of that city.

HOME TALENT PRESENT SHOW WITH ALL EARMARKS OF REAL PROFESSIONALS; BIG CROWD ATTENDED.

Patrons of the Princess theatre enjoyed a real treat Monday night the occasion being the presentation of a benefit show, consisting of the regular picture program and supplemented by vaudeville acts by students of the high school. The entertainment was sponsored by the girls of the home economics class of the Sanderson high school, the proceeds to be used to cover the floors of the kitchen and laboratory of the H. Ec. department. If this expense was not taken care of Monday night it certainly is some floor to be covered, for the house was packed to capacity, with many standing. Those fortunate enough to attend witnessed one of the best entertainments staged at the Princess in many a moon.

The first item was a picture program, the feature being a saga of the frozen North, pronounced by patrons as one of the best pictures shown in several seasons, from an educational as well as entertaining viewpoint.

But best of all, and that which the large audience came to see, was the program of vaudeville, presented by the students, and which revealed in most instances a latent talent that should be encouraged.

The opening act was an eccentric tap dance, "Three Old Farmers Come to town," by Campbell Kerr, Jimmie Wilkinson and Bobbie Mason. They "tapped" on the stage, in imitation of a rheumatic old man, to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw."

Next was Adair Edmiston, reader, who favored with "In a Cafeteria," and in response to well deserved applause, she encored with "Insults," an imitation of a dialogue between two darkies.

The third number was by the Rhythm Rascals—Hal Rowlett with the guitar and Eugene Banner with the mandolin. These young men deserve their title, and their several selections of popular tunes received quite an ovation.

Next was the vivacious Mildred Stavley, announced as Mae West, and though not as svelte as the movie actress, her dance was executed with much more eclat than could be expected of the original Mae. The round of applause so pleased this young lady that she invited the audience to "come and see me some time."

D. L. Duke, renowned local vocalist, was then presented in a new role—that of a hooper, and the rhythm of his "dogs" kept perfect pace with the music, proving him an old hand at this game. For an encore he tried to sing "By a Waterfall," but compromised by another tap.

The climax of this delightful entertainment was the acrobatic stunts of a sextette of high school girls, under the direction of Miss Sara Lee Morton, who took active part in the act. They presented a series of acts, singly, in teams, and in groups. Tumbling, contortions, pin-wheeling and a little of everything, closing the act with ensemble tableaux. All showed patient, persistent training, and under expert direction. Girls taking part were Misses Billy Harrell, Sammie Carter, Thelma Hale, Mildred Hurst, Florence Hurst, and Dorothy Lewellen.

Master of ceremonies was "Bud" Black.

On this occasion the theatre, picture program, and lights were donated by Manager Mrs. C. I. White, an act, we feel sure is highly appreciated by the sponsors of the show, and should be by everyone interested in our fine school.

Sanderson Mexes Rout Alpine

The Mexican team of Alpine traveled about 90 miles last Sunday to get shut out by the Sanderson team of the same tribe. Marquez, twirler for Sanderson allowed but one hit, a bunt down the third base line by Ogas, Alpine catcher. The game was devoid of any spectacular plays and wound up 4 to 0 in Sanderson's favor.

ABUSES OF THE LAW

At a recent annual meeting of the American Bar Association it was openly admitted by prominent members that public confidence in the courts and their administration of the law is being steadily weakened.

A report was adopted denouncing "the growing prevalence of the use of expert witnesses, with their conflicting testimony." This referred particularly to the use of alienists in criminal cases, where experts may always be secured to testify that the accused is insane, provided he has the money to employ them.

As a matter of fact, lawyers in convention very frequently criticize the prevailing method of criminal procedure, but so far they have done very little to correct it.

Legislators are also to blame for the present state of affairs, but as most legislators are lawyers the responsibility still rests almost wholly upon the legal profession.

By the passage of innumerable laws regulating everything under the sun, and imposing upon peace officers the task of enforcing trivial and often foolish statutes, the perpetrator of major crimes such as murder and robbery have all the better chance to escape punishment. If more attention were given to the prevention and punishment of the serious offenses, it might be possible to reduce their number.—Wellington Leader.

We're patriotic, but we'd prefer gold eagles to blue ones.

One thing that will greatly help solve the troubles of the country is for everyone to make things go well in his home town.

When Uncle Sam drives an individual out of business by selling below cost of production, who pays the taxes of the "evicted" business man? Ask us an easy one. The consumer is the "last man." He pays it.

Some things worth remembering. The value of time, the pleasure of working, the worth of character, the influence of example, the dignity of simplicity, the power of kindness, the success that comes from perseverance, the obligation of duty, the virtue of patience, the wisdom of economy, the joy of originating, and the profit of experience.

The humiliating thing about it is that the youth who thinks he knows more than his parents so often does.

Some use to say a constitutional amendment could never be repealed. Now we have nearly repealed the whole constitution.

Railroads Seeking Repeal of Sec. 4 of I. C. C. Regulations

CLAUSE DISCRIMINATES, AND PROHIBITS RAIL CARRIERS FROM COMPETING WITH WATERWAYS AND TRUCKS.

Sanderson would have from ten to fifteen more families, and the yearly payroll would be increased many thousands of dollars. Along the route of the S. P. in Texas thousands of new men would be employed and more than a million dollars would be paid in wages. No telling what the result for better conditions would be if Section 4 of the Interstate Commerce Commission's laws were repealed. This clause has the rail carriers tied hand and foot, insofar as competing with truck, busses, and especially waterway carriers are concerned.

This was the gist of a statement made by H. J. McGovern, legislative chairman of the B. of L. F. and E., who was a visitor in Sanderson last week. In company with Frank Ash, general chairman of the O. R. C., El Paso, he has spent much time in Washington in an effort to secure legislative action with a view of repealing this obnoxious section which gives the I. C. C. power to dictate rates by rail of tonnage and passenger traffic, without dealing similarly with waterways. The latter are not only abnormally low, but may be changed overnight. McGovern pointed out that in former years the railroads handled much of the fruit and lumber from the northern states; they also got their share of tonnage from the tropics. Now the majority of this tonnage is lost to the steamships, mostly consigned via the Panama Canal. The waterways rates are low, while the rail carriers' rates, dictated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, is high. Repeal of Section 4, simply means that the railroads, like practically every other business in the country, will run their own business, fixing rates as and when needed, and placing them in position to compete with other carriers. All of which sounds right and just.

If the railroads could get 10 per cent of the tonnage that goes thru

'Heat Lightning' Is Unique In Location Cast And Treatment

Warner Bros. is said to have produced a most unusual picture in "Heat Lightning", unusual not only in treatment, but in cast and location. The picture is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Princess Theatre beginning May 4th and 5th.

The Story

Olga, hard, cold, and a somewhat mysterious woman, runs a gas station in the heat ridden desert with her younger sister Myra, attending to the lunch counter. Myra is terribly dissatisfied with the life they lead, longing for gayety and romance. She thinks she is in love with Steve Laird, a loafer from a near-by town.

The older sister has forbidden Myra to have anything to do with Steve, so the latter arranges to slip out of the house after Olga has gone to sleep, to meet Steve and go to a dance.

Among the persons who stop at the gas station that day are George and Jeff, who are fleeing to Mexico after having robbed a bank and killed two cashiers. George finds that Olga is an old flame, a dance hall girl who had left him some years before. She tells him that she started the desert gas station to keep her younger sister from the life she had been leading.

George promises to keep her secret and says he is going right on, but when two divorcees from Reno drive up, loaded down with diamonds, he decides to stay long enough to rob them. The jewels are put in the safe for the night and George orders Jeff to crack the safe while he takes care of Olga.

Olga, still in love with George, can't resist his advances and he goes to her room. This gives Myra her chance to slip out and meet Steve. She returns home toward morning, somewhat intoxicated and completely disillusioned about Steve. She arrives just in time to see George slip out of her sister's room.

When confronted by Olga, who has heard her sister come in, Myra readily admits that everything her sister had warned her about had happened and accuses her sister of being just as bad as she is. Olga takes the sobbing girl in her arms and soothes her.

As she is returning to her own room she hears a noise in the lunch room. She sees George standing over Jeff with a revolver in his hand, forcing him to crack the safe. Jeff at last moment having refused. She gets a gun, shoots George and tells Jeff to beat it.

George dies gamely enough, telling Olga he had it coming to him. As Olga stands wearily in the doorway, Everett Marshall, a rancher, much in love with Olga, drives up. For the first time Olga's steely composure breaks and she asks Everett to help her out of the mess.

Countryside Broadcasting

Edited by Jno. V. McCall, Pastor Sanderson Presbyterian Church

August is the month for evangelistic meetings in many country churches. These annual revivals have in the past served to awaken whole countryside to the vital need of religion. Such times of emphasis seem to be necessary, but why not have in every country church a program that will maintain the revival spirit throughout the year?

The country churches which are dependent alone upon the annual revival and once or twice a month preaching have not succeeded very well. There are but few rural communities in which the churches are really functioning. It is true that there are many little buildings and many little organizations, but the country multitudes are as sheep—scattered abroad, having no shepherd. Most of these country churches have an occasional preaching service by an absentee minister, but there is no permanent program of teaching or evangelism. Why not maintain a resident pastor?

The need of the hour is to return to the New Testament method of the continual revival. One of the prime requisites for the building of the Kingdom of God among the country people is the three hundred and sixty-five day program of evangelism and religious education on the part of the country church.

It requires a higher type of Christian living to be able to carry on continuous activity in soul winning than to do personal work only during the period of an emotional meeting. The prime need of the church is not more members but Christians of a better type.

The church is what its members make it. A country church composed of deeply spiritual, praying, witness-bearing, Christianlike-living members will be a soul-saving institution. It is recorded in the New Testament that "there were added unto the church daily such as should be saved."

This station has been informed that steps will be taken to finish the hangar floor, one-third of which already has been laid, leaving a strip 60x66 feet. When this is completed we will have an ideal tennis and basketball court, and believe this will be an ideal location for all the league games, as a large crowd can be cared for. The space is 66 x 120 feet, and should accommodate a large crowd. It has been suggested that when this work is finished to stage an old fiddlers' convention and an old time dance. Everything will be free, each person bringing a lunch to care for the hungry.

It looks as if we soon will have another radio operator at this station. Private Skinner will soon depart for the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston for observation and treatment. He has been under the weather since coming to this station. Guess it is another case of not being able to take it. Anyhow we hope he will soon be his old self again, and able to carry on.

There is also another one of the bunch on the sick list. It seems that one of the families had some left-over pies the other day, and these were offered to this man. He took one, said it was extra good, but since that time he has been all bent over. Reminds me of the days when we would sneak out and eat green apples, fully knowing that the result would be pains in the tummy and (ugh!) castor oil. The boy is

Cash Prize of $15 To Be Given Away Free at Princess Every Monday Night

HOLDER OF LUCKY NUMBER AT END OF PERFORMANCE RECEIVES CASH PRIZE.

You've heard of the old saying: "It's like getting money from home without writing." haven't you. Well that's the way it's going to be every Monday night at the Princess Theatre, if you happen to hold the lucky number drawn. Here's how it will work, according to Manager Mrs. C. I. White of the Princess:

"We give $15 free every Monday night at 9:30, to the holder of the Lucky Coupon, provided the holder of the coupon is in the house at the time the number is drawn. If not, the money is lost and held over until the following Monday night, and added to the $15 given away that night, making $30 free; if the $30 is not won it is carried over, and the next prize will be $45, and so on until some one wins the pot. Only one coupon will be drawn on each 'money night' and if the person holding that coupon is not in the theatre, the amount is carried over."

Coupons will be provided in the lobby of the theatre at each performance during the eight weeks of the drawing. You sign the bottom stub, deposit it in the receptacle to be provided, keep the upper part, which has a corresponding number to that on the stub. These coupons are good until the last prize of the $120 is given away. So if you don't win one night, you still have a chance some other night. If your number is called you walk up and the only effort required is to reach out and get the cash. It's yours, without any strings. You can blow it in at Villa Acuna, buy a new dress, a piece of furniture or, if you can't make up your mind, drop it in the church collection box.

But remember, the holder of the coupon drawn must be in the theatre at the time, a parent cannot get the prize on a coupon signed by a child or a child the $15 with a coupon signed by a parent.

Mr. and Mrs. Collin Coates were in town Sunday from their ranch.

Mrs. W. D. O'Bryant, Jr., and Miss Willie Mae Green motored to the Joe F. Brown ranch last Friday afternoon where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Breeding and Messrs. W. D. O'Bryant, Jr., and Jack Laughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Turk were in town several days this week mingling with friends and shopping. They report that a 2 1/4-inch rain fell on their range the past week and everything is looking rosy now. They had very little hail, with no damage to speak of.

Mrs. Joe Wolf has returned from Del Rio and Langtry, where she had been called on account of the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. E. A. Burdwell.

Frank Gallagher of Pittsburgh, Pa., spent Saturday and Sunday in Sanderson as a guest of relatives. Mr. Gallagher is an uncle of D. L. "Stump" Duke and Mrs. L. H. Lemons. He left Sunday morning for San Antonio for a visit with a sister, Mrs. M. E. Duke.

Chevrolet to Have Assembly Plant At 1934 Chicago Fair

EVERY OPERATION IN CONSTRUCTION OF MODERN CAR INCLUDING "KNEE-ACTION," TO BE SHOWN VISITORS

Installation of equipment for the assembly of Chevrolet automobiles in the General Motors Building at the 1934 "Century of Progress International Exposition," Chicago, has already been started by Chevrolet Motor company, M. E. Coyle, president and general manager, announced this week.

Complete installation will be affected well in advance of the scheduled re-opening of the 1934 World's Fair on May 26, Mr. Coyle said, assuring early visitors that they will be able to see an automobile built up from the bare frame to the completed car, from the opening until the closing day of the exposition.

The machinery is identical with that used in Chevrolet's nine other assembly plants, with the exception of overhead conveyors. The latter have been replaced by floor conveyors to bring parts to the proper stations along the line. This slight change in factory procedure provides visibility for the thousands who will watch the assembly each day. Assembly machines will again be finished in silver with black trim and will be manned by approximately 200 workers in white uniforms.

A balcony seven feet above the assembly line and erected in circular form so that the maximum number of visitors may walk completely around the line and watch every operation in the building of a typically modern automobile, has been provided, Mr. Coyle said.

Production of 25 to 30 cars a day is planned. Two body types—the coupe and sedan—will be built on the Master Chevrolet chassis. Regular inspection posts will check every operation along the line, and the cars will be driven out under their own power, tested and put through final inspection right on the spot.

Additional interest will be furnished this year in the Chevrolet assembly plant by the installation of a "knee action" assembly, an outstanding feature of the 1934 Chevrolet. Visitors will see just how this remarkable development, which contributes so materially to riding comfort, is constructed.

Chevrolet is again the only company which will operate an automobile assembly line at the Fair, Mr. Coyle said.

Intelligence is what you get at home. Common sense you must develop yourself. Learning is what you obtain in school. Knowledge is what the world hands you. Judgment comes only with the years. Experience is a bitter medicine administered by life itself, and must be taken with a bit of conscience. Wisdom is a phantom often chased but seldom overtaken. Parent-Teacher Associations Sponsor Round-up For Healthier Children

URGENT THOROUGH PHYSICAL EXAMINATION FOR CHILD WHO IS ENTERING SCHOOL FOR FIRST TIME.

Austin.—The largest roundup in the history of Texas will be started in May when every Parent-Teacher association in the state will join in the annual campaign known as the Summer Round-up of Children.

Its purpose is to send to the entering grade of school only children who are free from remedial defects as possible.

Each local P. T. A. group endeavors to have the parents who have children ready to enter school visit their family physician and dentist for the purpose of having a complete physical examination made, and then encourage the corrections needed. It is teaching the parents the responsibility of having their children prepared physically for life in school. At this time parents should have their children immunized against diphtheria and small-pox.

Children grow very fast during the first six years of life, and during this rapid growth, physical defects are apt to develop which may cause permanent damage if they are not corrected. Poor posture in children is very often the result of faulty nutrition. Fatigue is also a factor, and in some instances there may be actual disease of the bone.

Inability to see or hear well is a serious handicap for the child beginning school. He cannot progress as rapidly as one who hears and sees normally. As a result the child is frequently held back, not because it is mentally slow, but because of these defects. The Texas State Department of Health lends their hearty cooperation to the Parent-Teacher association in this effort, as they have seen the value of it in the results obtained in past years.

Advisory Board is Named for Texas Centennial, 1936

Texas seems determined to go right on with its plans for a Centennial celebration, in spite of the apathetic attitude of the legislators at Austin who, repeatedly have refused to act in the matter of making an appropriation, and this despite the fact that an overwhelming majority of the voters registered in favor of such a celebration at the last general election. The celebration is to observe the one hundred anniversary of Texas' independence, and fittingly honor the heroes who brought this about. The occasion, though staged by the Lone Star State, is expected to draw visitors from every section of the United States and from foreign countries.

For the purpose of facilitating the plans for the extensive program of this Centennial, which will be launched in 1926, committees are being appointed in every county in Texas, which has been divided into districts. Terrell, Brewster, Maverick, Val Verde and Kinney counties form the 87th district, and E. E. Townsend of Alpine is district representative. To assist him in Terrell, he has appointed an advisory board of two—Mr. Joe Kerr, and Mrs. Addie Lee Boling. In company with other boards they will meet on different occasions with the Centennial Commission at Austin, and take part in discussions as to ways and means of launching a celebration in keeping with the glorious history of Texas, honoring the memory of those who made it.

McCrigh Add to Service Station

ANNEX 1832 FEET WILL BE USED AS OFFICE FOR HIS RETAIL AND WHOLESALE BUSINESS.

Adding materially to the appearance and convenience of his already fine service station is the new addition completed this week on the west side, of the E. H. McCrigh station. Like the main part of the building the new "L" is of all steel construction, and portable. Mr. McCrigh informed the Times that the new annex will be used solely as an office for his wholesale and retail trade in Texaco products. Contractor Westerman did the work of assembling the new addition, which will be painted cream and green to match the main section of the station.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative
Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?
The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.
The right dose of a liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.
The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.
A properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin brings safe relief from constipation. It gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given to the youngest child. WOOL SHIPPERS URGED TO TURN SACK SEAMS OUT

A drive is being made by wool buyers advising wool shippers to pack their wool with seams on the sacks turned out. The reason for this is that at the mills the sacks are not only opened at the end, but along the entire side of the sack, and with seams out much time is saved. It has been pointed out that it is just as easy for the shipper to turn seams out as in. It doesn't add a cent of expense, either.
Won't you do it?

DARK DOINGS AT CREEK CROSSING

A peculiarly marked hackberry tree over on Live Oak creek, near the Terrell county line, has natives and officers of Crockett county all hot and bothered, according to a recent story carried in the Ozona Stockman.

Recently two groups of strangers drove up to the Brown ranch making enquiries in regard to the topography of the country, with emphasis as to certain creek crossings. Satisfied with information received they left, but returned in a short time, on the verge of the jitters and asked for water, which they hastily swallowed and left for parts unknown.

This did not over-excite anybody. But, when another pair of hard-looking hombres drove up to the ranch two days later, and made enquiries about the other two, stating the first pair were dyed-in-the-wool crooks, bandits, etc. That they had robbed an Oklahoma bank, getting away with $16,000, which they hid on Live Oak. The second pair also stated they were high-powered detectives, were hot on the trail of the robbers. Receiving a description of the first pair from the family, they seemed satisfied, but not in the least contented. Their bristles rose, and were anything but cool under the collar, and on leaving swore to get their men.

When these facts became known officers and citizens overcome with curiosity, investigated along the creek banks, and found two marked hackberry trees. The first had a railroad spike driven into its trunk just above the ground, and cryptical marking, made with a pocket knife just above the spike. The other tree had several nails driven in the trunk, but no markings, and was allegedly a decoy to throw searchers off the scent. Near the

STATE TEACHERS OF TRANS-PECOS DIV. MEET IN ALPINE

The Trans-Pecos division of the State Teachers' Association convened in Alpine today for a two-day session. School superintendents, county judges, and many prominent educators will take part in the programs. At one of the sectional programs, to be held Saturday, County Judge C. J. Henshaw will preside as chairman of the school board members and county judges.

Into a huddle went the county's "brain trust" and their deductions were: That all four were bandits. That the money was really buried near the crossing. That the first pair, simply double-crossed the second pair, and beat them to the treasure cache.

Maybe so; maybe no. One good thing about the whole affair is the fact that not one of the four strangers has been identified as Dillinger or barrow.

E. H. McCright, Joe Matthews and Duane Puckett were business visitors in Pecos Wednesday.

Mrs. Annie McLymont spent Thursday in Del Rio visiting her brother, Dr. H. B. Ross.
