P. A. T.

And now comes Mr. Hoover, erstwhile chief executive of the U. S. ... His remarks would not be out of place were it not for the fact that policies during his administration are to be blamed for at least part of our plight today. As far as the United States was concerned his four-year reign was one of innocuous despotism. All his caterings were to Europe rather than to his own people. His defeat, one of the most overwhelming in American history, after but one term, should serve to remind him that his retirement, in speech and in person, would be displaying common sense.

School started this week in many places. Which reminds us that here is where you find one of the most important jobs in the country paying a wage that hardly allows of livable conditions—that of teaching. What, the faculty of the Sanderson schools were all on hand Monday, smiling, eager to begin their task of training our children. And some of them were blamed pretty, too.

"Women are the Backbone of the Nation," opined some sage. Yessir, and they don't mind proving that they have a backbone, either, these hot days.

Californian who killed poet pleads insanity. We didn't even know it was an offense to put poets out of their misery.

It's an interesting sight to watch students on their way to school. Some hurry, full of pep, anxious to have part in the few minutes of play preceding classes. Others there are who poke along, trying to defer, as it were, the misery as long as possible. And occasionally you find one (or more) taking a last drag at a cigarette. Rotten habit, one we all regret when it's too late to mend. But there were always two classes in the world—those who give advice and those who won't take it.

Many of us can remember the time when there was more baking powder sold than face powder.

Some are inclined to think that prisoners are coddled these days because in some prisons they have installed radio sets. If they have to listen to some of the programs it's dire punishment and will go a long way towards reforming them.

But what does burn us up is a bunch of dizzy dames making a fuss over a confessed murderer, such as one now in El Paso's jail. He brutally murdered a young woman, undressed the body and left it lying in the desert. Girls and women staged a bargain counter rush to see him. Sent him notes; exclaimed "Ain't he cute." Bah! and another bah!

Mother bragged about how many jars she could get out of a gallon of fruit. Daughter brags about how many miles she can get out of a gallon of gas.

Yes, my children, the headless horseman was a fairy tale, but the headless motorist is a stark reality.

At a church gathering in Kountze, Texas, I was killed and 15 hurt. Now, that's our idea of a wild party.

One of the most unselfish organizations we know of is the P. T. A. Their whole existence is concerned with the welfare of your child and mine. Every lady of Sanderson should have part in its program. We wish you'd clip the following, paste it in that thing on your left eyebrow, called a hat, and refer to it:

"Where do you fit in this P. T. A. of ours, With its hustle and bustle and work? Are you one of those who help it along Or one of those who shirk?"

County's Total Must Be Known in Order To Fix Quota

Activities are practically at a standstill in the sheep and goat buying program at present, and will be until every rancher with herds has registered his total with County Director Joe Kerr.

Up to Thursday morning eighty-nine ranchmen had made application to sell 63,000 sheep and 15,000 goats, out of the total of 323,000 head of sheep and 65,593 head of goats they have on hand and registered at the director's office. There are still many who have not registered their livestock, according to C. P. Peavy, in charge of registration, and he urges those who have not already done so to register at once.

According to figures available there are approximately 400,000 head of sheep and 70,000 head of goats in Terrell county. Whether you wish to sell to the government or not, it is imperative that you register these flocks.

Mr. Peavy also advises that shearing be held up at present, as nothing definite is known in regard to whether the government's plan to reject shorn sheep has been changed.

The actual buying will not start, it was stated, until all ranchmen have registered with the local director and a summary of the total offered for sale has been sent to G. W. Barnes, College Station. This estimate will then be forwarded to Denver, and, based upon available figures, the quotas for the various states and counties will be worked out.

Only ewes one year or over, and female Angora goats over one year old are to be purchased under the present program. Those animals fit for food and shipment will be purchased before those to be condemned as unfit for consumption.

Mrs. Montgomery, mother of Mrs. J. C. Mitchell and Mrs. Charlie Schauers, spent several days in Sanderson this week at the Kerr Hotel while undergoing treatment for an infection on her neck.

SCHOOL TERM OF 1934-35 OPENED MONDAY; 115 IN HIGH, 136 IN GRADE

The Sanderson public schools opened here Monday morning with a large number of the patrons out for the opening exercises which were held in the high school auditorium.

The program was opened by all singing "America, the Beautiful," which was following with a convocation of Divine guidance by Dr. John V. McCall. D. B. Kennedy, evangelist, then sang "Love's Old Sweet Song." An address to the students was then made by Rev. Philip Brown pastor of the Sanderson Baptist church, on the subject "What is Your Aim in Life." This was followed by a piano solo by Miss Bess McAdams.

Misses Mary Arrington and Beatrice Nichols with Mrs. Duane Smith at the piano, favored the assembly with two duets. Mrs. D. L. Duke, president of the Parent-Teacher Association made announcement of the organization's first meeting of the new school year, to be held Thursday afternoon, September 6.

E. W. Hardgrave, a member of the board of school trustees, made announcement that during the current school term all children who will be six years of age on or before January 1, 1935, would be permitted to attend, provided they were registered on the opening day. Students who graduated from our high school the past year, also will be permitted to attend the present term for post-graduate subjects.

Following an announcement by Supt. B. J. Brannan, benediction was pronounced by the Rev. T. M. Taylor, and the students filed out to the various rooms assigned them. Most of the day was taken up with registration, issuance of book and assignment of subjects to grammar grade pupils.

A total of 115 students have registered for the various courses in high school, with the grammar grades reaching an enrollment total of 136.

Monday was also opening day for the school at Dryden, where Miss Margaret Lattimore will teach the first three grades.

Miss Vera Wade will be the teacher at Independence, and that school is scheduled to open on Monday of next week.

"Ma" Asks Bill To Reduce Penalties, Interest on Taxes

Austin, Sept. 4—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today submitted a bill to the Texas legislature to remit the penalties and interest on taxes delinquent August 1, 1934.

The bill would apply to state, county and other political subdivisions, except cities.

A 1 per cent penalty would be levied if the taxes were paid before March 1, 1935. The penalty would increase to 6 per cent by October 30, 1936.

Efforts were planned to get the bill before the House tomorrow for passage.

JULIAN KESSLER HURT

Julian Kessler, who is employed on the Lozier canyon job, was hurt early Monday morning when a truck he was driving turned over throwing him out. Dr. Doty was rushed to the scene and treated him. On Tuesday he was brought to town for an X-ray examination, which revealed his right side badly bruised and his right hip sprained. He will be confined to his bed for about ten days or two weeks.

RE-INSTATED ON RAILROAD

Ray Caldwell, Jeff Sessoms and Gerald Grigsby received notices this past week of their re-instatement on the T. & N. O. Railroad in the train service after being off for more than a year. Following a medical examination they reported for duty and were placed on the extra board.

Self-Defense is Plea; Reported Will Ask New Trial

Jack West, 50, Brewster county rancher, who was tried in Alpine last week for the fatal shooting of John Tyler of Sanderson, was found guilty by a jury, and with the verdict assessed his punishment at two years in the penitentiary. West, it was reported, will appeal from the sentence.

West pleaded that he shot Tyler in self-defense.

The case was called for trial last Wednesday and lasted throughout the week, during which time many witnesses, both for the state and the defense testified. The testimony of Henry Turner, a witness for the defense, which, in effect, was that he had heard Tyler threaten West on a certain day, was impeached by the state. The conversation in which Tyler threatened defendant West, was alleged to have taken place in Alpine. The state placed San Angelo peace officers on the stand who testified that Turner was in the San Angelo jail at that specific time.

The state was represented by District Attorney Roy Priest of Rankin, and District Attorney Julian La-Crosse of Del Rio. Judge Van Sickle of Alpine was counsel for the defense.

Prospects Fine For '34 Football Team

Sixteen boys reported for work-out on the football team Monday to Coach Duane Smith and suits were issued the boys and practice began that afternoon.

Prospects are fairly good for a team this year as nearly all members of the squad are experienced players. Several new men were added this year. The team averages 150 pounds.

No definite schedule of games has been made as yet, but Coach Smith stated that he knew two games would be played each with the Marfa Shorthorns and the Alpine Bucks. In the spring game Sanderson won over Alpine by a 20 to 0 score. As soon as the season's schedule of games is made up it will be announced.

Following are the names of the boys who reported for work-out this week: Harry Newton, Elton Halley, Dick Sullivan, Carson Durbon, Bays Robertson, Welborn Short, Nelson Billings, Roy Deaton, Jack Bogusch, Gene Litton, Rueben Mussey, Jack Deaton, Savell Lee Sharp, Hollis and Richard Haley, and Jesse Lochausen.

Jack Hardgrave, a member of the squad, will be off the team this year due to a broken leg, and Benoit Carpenter and Herbert Brown will not be on this year's team, being lost through graduation.

Under the able coaching of Mr. Smith Sanderson turned out a good football team last year, losing very few of their scheduled games.

McKee Recuperating Nicely

Mrs. J. W. McKee returned home from Houston Sunday night where she went with Mr. McKee last Wednesday, the latter entering the S. P. hospital for treatment of a broken shoulder sustained when he fell from a train. She reported that he was doing nicely but would have to remain for several weeks' treatment and that it would be several months before he would be able to resume his railroad duties as brakeman.

Rosenbaum Ships 12 Cars Consigned to Colo. Feed Lots

Ranchers in this section have been busy the past few weeks, lining up their herds in preparation for the fall shipment of lambs, which got under way on Thursday of this week, with an initial shipment of 12 cars by S. P. Rosenbaum to Crooks, Colo. The lambs were purchased from various ranchers in this vicinity, and an average price of four cents was paid for mutton, which average around 63 pounds. They will be placed in feed lots in various points in Colorado.

Among the ranchers who sold to Mr. Rosenbaum were Alex Mitchell, Malone Mitchell and Tip Frazier.

On the same day Rosenbaum also shipped six cars of calves, consigned to Crooks, Colo.

On Wednesday night "Cotton" Whitehead loaded out from here 14 cars of sheep to Eagle Pass, where they go for pasturage on the Indio ranch near that city.

Seven cars of relief cattle, purchased by the government, were loaded out of here Tuesday afternoon, consigned to Los Angeles, to be canned at the federal cannery in that city.

Hi School Band is Organized With 16

Among other activities of the Sanderson schools, planned for the current term, was the continuation of the band, and already twenty-two students have signed as members of the high school band, according to an announcement by Elmo Low, the instructor. Of this number all were members of last year's high school organization, while six come from the band formerly maintained in the grammar grades.

Mr. Low, a former member of the famous Cowboy band of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, comes highly recommended as an instructor. He is highly pleased with the talent available, and stated that it was up to him to develop this talent to a point that would be a credit to the school and to the town.

The high school band was organized in 1930 and since that time has made wonderful progress.

Where Class of '34 Will Go to Study

Several members of the 1934 graduating class of Sanderson high school are taking advantage of the ruling made by the school board, whereby they may take a post-graduate course in the local school this year. The majority of these students are taking a commercial course. They are: Beatrice and Bernice Nichols, Mary Jane Carson, Mary Arrington, Richard and Hollis Haley and William Rodriguez.

Other members of the class who will attend the state's institution of higher education are: Dorothy Sullivan and Ellen Appel, Texas State College for Women (CIA), at Denton; Florene Thompson, Sul Ross, at Alpine; Benoit Carpenter, East Texas State Teachers college, Commerce; J. R. Black, who attended Baylor University, Waco, during the summer term, will again be a student in that institution; A. C. Clatfelter, planning to attend a school in radio, will probably go to Los Angeles. Billy Ferguson and Herbert Brown will attend Schreiner Institute at Kerrville.

Centennial Most Profitable Investment Texas Can Make

That the Texas Centennial celebration, planned for 1936, will be more than an expenditure of money and effort on the part of loyal and patriotic Texans—that it will attract a world-wide attention to our section, enlarge our marketing facilities and otherwise repay expenditure of money and effort was emphasized recently in a radio talk by Lowry Martin of Corsicana. His remarks are herewith reproduced:

"At this time it was expected that my distinguished friend, and that long-time friend of all Texas, Gen. John A. Hulen of Fort Worth, would be on the air to discuss with you the Centennial from a financial standpoint. "No Texan would have been better qualified to give you this accounting than General Hulen. Distinguished in civil and military life, and able executive and a far-seeing Texan he doubtless could have given you some food for thought which will not occur to me, but due to last minute and unexpected business engagements he was prevented the privilege of appearing before you. In my humble way and to the best of my ability I shall seek to discuss and explain to you the things that were uppermost in General Hulen's thoughts.

"In the first place let it be here and now emphasized that the Texas Centennial as envisioned by the far-seeing men and women of Texas who have faithfully, in and out of season, worked for its consummation, is no small affair.

"It is not a small affair because the State of Texas is no small affair. When this State entered the American Union it brought in more than 267,000 square miles of its own territory, and it made possible the acquisition of all that vast territory to the Golden Gate where the placid waters of the Pacific Ocean wash the most beautiful harbor on the American seaboard.

"Tonight I am going to talk to you about some of the economic aspects of this great Centennial that has been envisioned for all Texas and which now is so certain of consummation that it only remains for the central celebration cities to be named; the secondary celebration cities to be chosen, and then a united Texas with but one thought, and that the advancement of their State and the honoring of its past, will unite in forwarding the movement—Texans have never encountered failure.

"Some ten years ago that distinguished gentleman who is now the chairman of the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a Texas publisher and a patriot, the Hon. Jesse H. Jones, said: 'The Texas Centennial celebration can be made as comprehensive, and as magnificent and as fascinating as we are willing to back our imaginations with money and effort.'

"The effort is being expended. The result has been obtained. All Texas is Centennial-conscious as is evidenced by the fact that in the office of the publicity committee in Corsicana there are clippings from almost all of the daily, weekly and monthly periodicals of Texas, acclaiming their support of the Texas Centennial.

And again, Texas has just nominated a new governor and a new legislature. The present executive department and the present legislature has dealt most kindly with the Centennial movement. The governor who is to take office on the second Tuesday in next January, has (Turn to CENTENNIAL, Last Page)

A FEW EARNEST SOULS

WHENEVER any public event or public improvement is carried forward to accomplishment, the burden of effort is usually carried by a few earnest souls who see that there is a job to be done and then go ahead on it.

A small town that has a good city park, a good ball team, is well paved, has well-kept lawns, puts on a good 4th of July celebration, has adequate lighting, or has or does anything at all better than the average place usually owes it to the initiative of a few who have the ability and who will work.

One man's hobby is beautifying his home grounds. By the judicious use of trees and shrubs and painstaking care of them he sets an example to his neighbors and other householders which may have a marked effect on an entire community, even though few may have the time or patience to even approach the excellence he attains.

Another man may look with admiration on the first man's beautiful lawn and hedge, but as far as putting that much effort into having one himself he has never even thought of it. But he may take hold of the seemingly thankless job of managing a good ball team; he might even have the intestinal fortitude to try to be its umpire.

Another man may think baseball the bunk, and that a wonderful blue spruce tree in a pleasing setting is something to enjoy with only a fleeting glance as he drives by. But he possibly believes that good paved streets with plenty of bright lighting is a necessity for his home town, and he goes ahead and pushes through the improvement against opposition of the "do nothings" and the "pay nothings" with which every place is cursed.

With another it's a fine golf course, with another it's a better city hall or a better school system. Each man may have a different way of helping his community and help it in connection with some activity in which he takes a personal interest.

Give the boys a hand, whatever activity they try to put across! They are trying to do something in a creditable manner even though their way of doing it may not be exactly your way of doing it. At least recognize the fact that they are putting honest effort into the job. It takes a lot of different kinds of live people to make a live town.—The Star News, Medford, Wisconsin.

AMERICA'S OLD DREAM—SECURITY FOR ALL

JUST how far the fall congressional elections will turn into a national referendum on Mr. Roosevelt's new program for social security is a matter for the political wisacres to forecast.

At this distance, however, two things seem more or less evident: First, the argument is likely to be over the way of reaching this goal, rather than over the wisdom of trying to reach it at all.

Second, the tentatively outlined program looks very much like a simple extension of the oldest and most tenaciously held dream in American life.

Security for the individual in America, as Mr. Roosevelt sees it, seems to call for three things: Productive employment; protection against misfortune, and proper housing.

Over the details of this program there is room for vast argument; over the way of putting it in effect there is even more. The most conservative of capitalists and the reddest of radicals could endorse these general aims in complete accord, but they'd be apt to have a fine row trying to settle on the best way of attaining them.

Nevertheless it is a fine thing to have this very general goal set us as an objective. This kind of security is exactly the sort of thing that led most of our ancestors to come to the new world in the first place. They were under economic pressure in Europe, they felt themselves to be at the mercy of forces that they could never control; over here, in a new land, they hoped that they could construct a society in which human being could have less fear of hardship, of poverty and of hunger.

The belief in that dream has been responsible for most of the optimism which is so typical of the American spirit. We have felt, for more than a century, that we were building a society here in which the common man could get a better break than he ever got elsewhere.

Seeking to protect the common man against unemployment, against accidents, and against the traditional penalty of old age, and trying to guarantee that he shall have a decent home to live in—what is this but an effort to make the old American dream come true?

For the next decade, at least, we will be arguing about the best way of doing this. Maybe we'll try Mr. Roosevelt's way and maybe we'll try somebody else's.

But there can be little doubt that in one way or another we shall do our utmost to make the dream come true.—Sentinel, Bemdji, Minn.

MEN AGAINST DROUGHT

DROUGHT reports describe half the area of the United States as a "dry and thirsty land." They tell of cattle being shot to save them from suffering. They picture the once fertile fields as plains of dust. They record the shriveling of crops. They estimate 1,600,000 destitute as a result of rainless weeks. Agricultural sections are witnessing an appalling chapter in the history of mankind's struggle with adversity.

But the history is not complete without credit to men's heroic endeavors to meet the crisis. These include the sinking of wells to find subterranean streams, the assignment of tank cars to rush water to districts where animals are suffering, of government aid to 400,000 drought-stricken families, and of government cooperation in water projects. Outlets of mountain lakes have been lowered to continue supplies for irrigation. Nearly one million cattle have been bought for market, half the number being processed and canned for distribution to needy families.

The widely organized campaigns against drought as against other abnormalities of weather, are significant. They spring from men's need to conduct themselves as their brothers' keepers. They grow out of the recognition that men can do much for themselves when they bear one another's burdens, pool their resources of intelligence and activity, and plant their individual hope in the common good.—Christian Science Monitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hicks and son were in from their ranch on Independence and spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan at the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Coates were in town last Friday from their ranch in Pecos county and attended the dance here, given by the Sanderson Polo club.

Practical Methods Demonstrated at Tex-La Co.'s School

Many new and practical suggestions were given to the housewives of Sanderson who attended the one-day cooking school, held last Friday afternoon in the office of the Texas-Louisiana Power company. Mrs. M. Plauche, noted home economist, conducted the school, which commenced at 2:30 o'clock.

Many new recipes, menu charts and diet charts were given to the ladies in attendance, and Mrs. Plauche stressed the methods of dieting to reduce and to gain weight. Child rearing was also discussed.

Dishes prepared by Mrs. Plauche were presented to the following ladies whose names were drawn: Mrs. H. Wellen, buttered squash; Mrs. Fred Yeates, Rome chowder; Mrs. L. A. Lowe, peach pudding; Mrs. E. E. Fletcher, spiced pine apple; Mrs. Walter Grigsby, filled angel food cake; Mrs. Lee McCue, corn and tomatoes; Mrs. Joe Washington, meat loaf; Mrs. Bertha Winfield, tropical chicken.

The advantage of an all-electric kitchen, with the Kelvinator, the electric range, electric mixer and electric cooler, which were all used by Mrs. Plauche, demonstrated the simplicity of cooking for the modern housewife.

Some thirty-three ladies were present to profit by the new ideas and suggestions offered, and to enjoy the refreshments of ice cream and cookies which were served by Mrs. Plauche at the close of the school.

The attendance prize, an electric toaster, was won by Mrs. Charlie Baker.

Mrs. Lee Roy Grigsby spent Wednesday and Thursday as the guest of Mrs. T. D. Moore at her ranch.

Mrs. Tol Murrah returned Sunday from a visit in Del Rio with relatives and friends. She was accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Murrah and Mrs. Pauline Peterson.

Mrs. C. M. Breeding had a few friends in to spend the afternoon at her home on Tuesday and to renew friendship with Mrs. Lee Roy Grigsby of McCombe, who is spending this week here visiting relatives and friends.

The afternoon was very pleasantly spent and several games of bridge were enjoyed.

Friends who called to spend the afternoon with Mrs. Grigsby were Mesdames Mary Lou Keller, P. J. Holman, Jim Nance, T. D. Moore, Russell Dyer, Walter Grigsby and D. A. Pollard.

Mrs. C. D. Strange and son, Mike, are visiting her daughter, Mrs. Julian Kessler.

Introducing.... Revival Rounding Its Second Week

A son, born Sunday, September 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Austin Nance of this city at the Masonic hospital, El Paso. He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nance of Sanderson, and of Mrs. W. E. Lane of Marfa.

A son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Buster Edwards, born Friday, August 31, in Del Rio. The little lady is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whistler of this city, and of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Edwards of Del Rio.

A son, born Monday, September 3, in Del Rio, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gatlin, who ranch in the Dryden country. Mother and babe are doing nicely, according to reports from the bedside.

TO SAN ANTONIO HOME

Mrs. Helen Downie and sons, and her mother, Mrs. Walter Gregory, will leave the latter part of the week for their home in San Antonio, after spending the summer at the Downie ranch. Edward and Walter will resume their studies at the Texas Military Institute, and Jackie will be a student in the Travis school.

With a much increased interest and larger congregations the revival being conducted under the auspices of the Methodist church is rounding its second week. Getting off to an humble start in its own building and with its own members largely in attendance, increasing attendance made it necessary to hold services in a larger edifice, and since Sunday the night services have been held in the Baptist church. Though no report has been made by the resident pastor, it is understood that several additions have been made to the local congregation through reconsecration. The preaching is being done by the Rev. T. M. Taylor, pastor of the church, ably assisted by Evangelist D. B. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy, the former leading the singing and doing personal work among the young people, while Mrs. Kennedy is doing good work among the women and children.

Bays Robertson of Uvalde will be in Sanderson to attend our high school this term. Bays is a senior, and a member of the football squad.

At the Princess

Baffling Murder Mystery Picture

"Return of the Terror," one of the most unique and baffling mystery dramas ever screened comes to the Princess theatre Monday Night, September 10.

The story concerns a series of crimes, the first of which is the killing of a number of patients at a private sanitarium for which the superintendent is convicted and confined to an insane asylum.

Three other slaying and two attempted murders follow upon the escape of the asylum inmate, all taking place in a single night of terror at the very sanitarium at which the patients had been slain.

The picture also carries a double romance, one of the love affair of the feminine owner of the sanitarium and the accused superintendent, and the other that of a news reporter and a nurse in the institution. In addition there is said to be considerable comedy, which comes in as a relief for the terrific tension caused by the harrowing situations.

There is an all-star cast, headed by Mary Astor, Lyle Talbot, John Halliday and Frank McHugh.

The story is from the pen of the late Edgar Wallace.

Princess Presents Radio Romance

"Twenty Million Sweethearts," the First National romance of the radio, will be shown for the first time locally at the Princess theatre tonight.

The production is said to be a distinct innovation in film entertainment, giving, as it does, the behind the scenes picture of radio entertainers at their task of pleasing the public. The story, by Paul FINDER MOSS, and Jerry Wald, deals with the intimate romances of the radio folk, with their joys and tribulations, and their struggles and successes.

While the picture is said to combine drama, comedy and romance in a well defined plot, it is interspersed with catchy songs written by Warren and Dubin and other music, which gives it color as well as adding to the liveliness of the entertainment.

There is a strong cast of players of widely diversified talents, with Pat O'Brien in the leading role, a semi-comic part in which he plays a fast talking, though somewhat blundering talent scout for a radio company, who boasts others to fame while he himself is left out in the cold.

The picture introduces a new romantic team in Dick Powell and Ginger Rogers, radio sweethearts, who sing for the public and make love privately. The Four Mills brother's voices will be heard in catchy music, while Ted Fio Rito and his band will play the accompaniment to one of Powell's tuneful lays, as well as individual music.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frickleton, enroute to Fort Leavenworth, Kas., visited recently in the city with Mrs. Frickleton's sister, Mrs. Clyde Deaton. They were accompanied to their home by Misses Wilma Grace and Victoria Deaton, who will spend the winter with them and attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bodkin and children returned Tuesday from Pontotoc, Texas, where they spent the past week visiting relatives.

Mrs. H. G. Holt returned from Del Rio Tuesday where she was called last Thursday on account of illness in her family.

Mrs. H. P. Stanton and daughter, Margaret, stopped over Sunday, enroute from San Antonio to El Paso, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Savage.

Hints for the Household

By BETTY WEBSTER

"'Twas from Aunt Dinah's quilting party I was seeing Nellie home."

Back in the days of the foregoing lines quilting parties were the social events of the various neighborhoods. For some years past, however, they have been passe. Now, when everyone's attention is centered on antique things, quilting, even though there are no more "bees," has come into favor with a rush.

Quilted Pillow Easiest

There are quilted coats, quilted robes, quilted bed-coverings, quilted pillows, quilted bags, and even quilted hats. Quilting is easy to do, it works up quickly and is most effective. Perhaps the simplest thing for the novice to do is a pillow. The design may be purchased (or made if you are clever) and an ordinary running stitch can be used to work it. Taffeta, satin, sateen, calico or organdie will make a charming pillow, according to your need and desire.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

1. Kerosene oil used on a dust mop on the floors will help keep a house free of insects?

2. A coat of whitewash is a valuable disinfectant which preserves wood and, if properly prepared, is a fire retardant?

3. No grease will be needed and the bulk will be doubled if three or four tablespoons of milk are added to scrambled eggs?

4. Lemon juice will remove the smell of onions from the fingers?

5. A piece of paper stitched with seams in chiffon, georgette, organdie, voile or crepe de chine and torn out afterward will insure against puckering?

6. Beef is the only meat that cannot be cooked slowly?

7. A drop of glycerine will make cream whip.

RECIPES Coffee Cake

Save one heaping cup of bread sponge; add three tablespoons sugar, one scant teaspoon of salt, one egg, beaten, and one heaping cup flour. Let rise in a warm place for one hour; pour in cake pan. Put slices of apple or any desired fruit on top; sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon; dot with pieces of butter. Let rise for about an hour. Bake for thirty minutes.

Bread

Boil one large potato cut in small pieces in one quart of water until done; measure potato and liquid and add enough water to make 1 quart; press through a fine sieve; when lukewarm add one cake of yeast dissolved with one teaspoon of sugar in half a cup of lukewarm water; beat in quart (or more) of flour sifted; let rise in warm place until twice its bulk.

Sift two quarts of flour; add one tablespoon of salt and two tablespoons of sugar; work in two rounding tablespoons of lard; make depression in center of these ingredients; pour in sponge and mix thoroughly; mold on floured board until elastic.

Set to rise in warm place for two hours, mold again; let rise for one hour; cut in four loaves and place in greased pans. Let rise for about one hour; bake forty-five minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Scouts Qualify in Life Saving Tests

Three members of the local boy scout troop, Melvin Pollard, Dickey Mussey and Sam Barker, successfully passed the life saving tests recently held at Alpine, and now boast membership in the life saving corps of the organization, with medal and appropriate insignia, signifying their ranking as full-fledged life savers.

Requirements to be met before a scout can qualify are as follows: He must have met the Merit badge requirements for swimming and he must have spent at least six hours in preparation and practice, and must demonstrate:

1. In deep water, disrobe and swim 100 yards.
2. Surface dive 6 to 8 feet, recovering objects three times, and a 10-pound weight one time.
3. Correct approach, 30 feet, and head carry 30 feet; the same for the cross-chest carry and the hair or arm-lock carry.
4. Tired swimmer's carry, 30 ft., preceded by a 30-ft. approach.

In addition he must know how to release double grip on wrist, left and right; front strangle hold, back strangle hold, and be able to demonstrate prone pressure method of resuscitation, 1 1/2 minutes.

Grades made by these scouts were Pollard 88.5; Mussey and Barker, each 82.5.

Wording of Debate Subject Changed In Interscholastic

Austin, Sept. 7.—Wording of the debate question for the Interscholastic League for 1934-35 has been changed to restrict the subject to a discussion of government ownership of electric light and power utilities, rather than of all utilities, according to Roy Bedichek, chief of the University of Texas Bureau of Public School Interests. As previously announced, the question was "Resolved that the Government Should Own and Control All Public Utilities," and as amended, the subject is "Resolved, that the Government Should Own and Operate All Electric Light and Power Utilities." #### Mules Carry Food To This Tree Army

Pack Train No. 7, one of the few army transportation units still relying on the army mule for its motive power, will be sent to the south rim of the Grand Canyon of Arizona to carry supplies to a CCC army on the floor of the canyon during the winter months, according to reports from the 8th Corps Area headquarters.

The only means of reaching the camp is over a dangerous and difficult trail eight miles long, hence the sure-footed mules.

Plan Shelter for Needy Before the Advent of Winter

Austin.—The Texas Relief Commission's program to rural rehabilitation will be pushed to the limit during the next two months, it was announced today by J. E. Stanford, director of the department, as he issued instructions to his field supervisors to employ assistants to help them carry out the program during the next eight weeks.

It is the aim of the department to house every family possible and to supply them with capital goods before the winter season arrives.

Federal authorities have been asked for a grant of $800,000 for rural rehabilitation in Texas in September as against $250,000 for the month of August.

Stanford reported the program is now being carried on in 142 counties and said it will be extended to others as soon as rains break long existing drought in these counties.

Meat Shipment to Families on Relief

Austin, Sept. 1.—Issuance of fresh meat cuts, began two weeks ago in the metropolitan district, was extended to all families on relief rolls in the state today, by order of C. Z. Crain, director of commodities distribution of the Texas Relief Commission.

Fresh meat will be shipped to all relief food depots in Texas in 75-pound cartons, containing approximately 2 1/2 and 5 pound cuts, wrapped separately in parchment paper. Families of five persons and under will receive two of the smaller cuts per week, while families of 6 and over will receive two of the larger cuts per week. The meat will be kept fresh by packing each carton with dry ice, which will keep the meat fresh approximately 12 hours after delivery.

Families will be divided into three groups for the purpose of establishing a uniform flow of distribution throughout the week. On this group basis issuance will be made twice weekly to individual families as follows:

Group One: Mondays and Thursdays; group two: Tuesdays and Fridays; group three, Wednesdays and Saturdays. Case workers will ascertain the requirements in the various counties and meat will be shipped into the counties to meet the needs reported.

Counties are warned against ordering supplies to exceed demands, as none of the meat may be returned to storage after delivery at the food depots, Crain said.

The program will get under way ten days after state officials have received reports of requirements from county administrators, and "we hope to reach every possible family on the relief rolls of the State of Texas," Mr. Crain said.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dragoo of Marathon were business visitors in the city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kellogg motored to Alpine Thursday afternoon for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ratliff.

Centennial—

pledged himself whole-heartedly to support the Texas Centennial.

"Members of the legislature from all sections of Texas have given similar pledges; there is therefore no question but that the State legislature will go along, with the approval of the governor, in supporting that city that may be designated as the central celebration city.

"There is no question but that this support will be whole-hearted, and will be in such proportions that a minimum of $15,000,000, as envisioned by the finance committee, is a sum easy of attainment. In this connection some of the citizens of our larger cities are wondering perhaps just how there will be a return to them for the millions of dollars they likely will offer for the honor of being the central celebration city.

The Century of Progress in one season attracted some 20,000,000 people. This is a restricted area, difficult of access and seriously lacking in parking space and other accommodations.

"We will assume the successful Texas city attracts no more. Then there will be the general admission tickets. There will be the revenue from the concession. These, in themselves, as may readily be seen, will run into millions of dollars. The matter of a minimum of $15,000,000 as set by the finance committee of the Texas Centennial Commission, merely represents the initial investment in the financing of this big enterprise. Before it is completed there will be a plant which has represented an expenditure of possibly $80,000,000 taking in consideration the improvements to outlying territory and the city in general where the exposition is located.

"It means the employment of all local labor in that community over a sustained period of at least eighteen months. So these two factors are to be considered. It will be self-liquidating, as to the city, from gate receipts and concessions; it will show a profit as to worthy labor employment and the business impetus given over this long season. For instance, a billion and a half dollars was expended at the Century of Progress in a season.

"A billion and a half dollars expended in Texas means property to the city having the central celebration; it means prosperity to all the countryside because of the increased demand for butler, eggs, fat Texas beef; for the products of the orchard and of the far-famed Big Grande valley; and it means the employment of all our worthy artisans in all the skilled and unskilled trades thus turning loose another payroll of large proportions in this successful city.

"It may be said further that the Texas Centennial Commission will lend every possible cooperation to the successful city in the staging of this celebration. The commission is first and last simply desirous that the general plan of the Texas Centennial—a celebration portraying the history, culture and advancement of the State be faithfully carried out in a manner befitting the sacrifices of our forefathers and the achievements that will be our sons'.

Texas, in its Centennial, is going to deal in millions of dollars, because it involves the bringing into the State multiplied millions of dollars. It is not possible nor to be expected that all the people could or should be financed by private subscription.

"The celebration is in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of Texas. It will be the greatest event in Texas history; it will be a challenge to the patriotism, business judgment and common sense of every Texan. Texans have a reputation of doing things in a big way and the time is here when the acid test to our greatness will be made. "Texans never fail!"
