Seven Mexican vaqueros were dead last week—victims of "six-shooter law" that a band of Texas cowboys dug out of the past to use in recovering a herd of horses that were stolen from a Texas border ranch.

HISTORICAL SETTING

OLD FORTS STILL STAND AS MONUMENTS TO THOSE WHO MADE "LAST ROUND-UP" OF HOSTILE INDIAN TRIBES

Fort Davis, Sept. 25.—Plans for a regional secondary centennial in 1936 at Fort Davis were furthered yesterday when delegates from several nearby towns gathered here and formed an organization known as the Trans-Pecos Sub-Centennial association, with Jack Hawkins, Pecos editor president, and Marvin Hunter, Jr., Fort Davis editor, as secretary.

Towns having delegates present at this meeting were Pecos, Marfa, Alpine and Fort Davis, but the plan includes every town west of the Pecos that wishes to enter, and the plan is for a big Trans-Pecos show of some sort during the 1936 Centennial year, in the old fort here—a show, of whatever nature, to present the resources of the various towns and counties, their historical aspects, (See TRANS-PECOS Page 4)

Sheep Program Now Covers 76 Counties

The government sheep buying program continues in this county, with a large percent of the sheep being condemned. Last week 1,869 head of sheep were shipped out by the government out of 10,000 that had been purchased. Terrell's county's quota to be shipped is 3,000 head per week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Baze and son returned Sunday from Melvin, Tex., where they spent the past week visiting relatives and friends.

US Buying Sheep In 76 Counties

How "Lone Star" Became Emblem

First use of a 5-pointed star as the emblem of Texas was in 1835 when a brass button cut from an overcoat was used as a seal. The large button came from the overcoat of Henry Smith, provisional governor, elected by the Texans when events were shaping themselves for independence, but at a time when the main issue was as to whether the Mexican constitution of 1824 would be observed.

This historic button may or may not be in existence today. It would be a most interesting relic for exhibition in 1936, when the Centennial of Texas independence is to be celebrated.

Mrs. Pearl Manes, editor of the Big Bend Sentinel at Marfa, was among the visitors in the city last Saturday to see the football game between the Sanderson Eagles and the Marfa Shorthorns.

Eagles Win Opener From Marfa, 6 to 0

The game played here last Saturday afternoon between the Shorthorns of Marfa high school, and the Sanderson Eagles, proved one thing, if nothing else: That Coach Smith has material for a team that should work up to better than the average Class B squad. Well balanced—a squad that is alert, fast and well-conditioned.

Sanderson kicked off to open Saturday's game, but Newton's kick was bad. Marfa returned to the 55 yard stripe, and here they showed their only offensive work of the entire game by a steady march to the (See FOOTBALL, Last Page)

Eagles Point For Monahans Tussle Here Saturday

The second game scheduled for the Sanderson High Eagles will be played here Saturday afternoon with the high school squad from Monahans.

The majority of us natives saw the Eagles in action last Saturday against the Marfa Shorthorns, and, though they got off to a slow start, finished strong in comparison to the Big Bend gridders, managing to just nose them out by a lone touchdown.

Very little is known of the boys on the other side of the Pecos, as football, until about a year ago, was an unknown quantity at that place, due mainly to the fact that material was lacking. Last year they put out a team, that rated just a little under Class B. What they have this year—we'll have to wait and see.

The Eagles, since last game, have made several changes. This is due to the fact that it is just possible the squad will lose both Bays Robertson and "Dutch" Halley, both a power in his own right in the backfield.

As we go to press the lineup will probably be the same as last week, excepting Sharp may be seen at an end position and Captain Mussey in the backfield.

ROTARY GOVERNOR VISITS

D. C. Pearson, district governor of the 42nd district of Rotary International, with headquarters in Roswell, N. M., made an official visit with the local club on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Pearson was a guest at the regular luncheon and addressed the members. He also met with the various committees, discussed their various duties and outlined plans for the organization's work during the new club year.

Ford's Century of Progress Exhibit Shown by Ferguson

An interesting and educational exhibit is being shown just now at the Ferguson Motor company salesroom. Pictures of the Century of Progress are flashed on a screen, and as the scenes are projected a talking machine gives all the details.

While the whole affair is another advertisement venture of Mr. Ford, the scenes are such that all notion of publicity is forgotten and you become interested in the vast details of motor car manufacture. It is one of the most appealing innovations ever presented to the public, and if you don't come away satisfied that in a Ford V-8 you get the best value possible then you didn't see the pictures. Mr. Ferguson will only be too glad to exhibit these pictures to any interested person or group of persons.

Mrs. F. B. Pyle and cousin, Miss Gerry Coates left Thursday for San Antonio where they will spend the remainder of the week.

BIG PERCENT REFUSED

CATTLE BUYING PROGRAM IS ENDED IN OPINION OF RELIEF HEAD C. Z. CRAIN. MANY CANNERIES TO BE IDLE

Austin, Sept. 27th.—The government's sheep buying program was in full progress in 76 counties today. Commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief commission was notified by Federal Surplus Relief corporation officials of the designation of 32 additional counties to the original 44 in which the buying of sheep was authorized. These new counties are: Hamilton, Lubbock, Glasscock, Briscoe, Kent, Stonewall, Knox, King, Foard, Moiley, Cottle, Stephens, Lynn, Terry, Wise, Ector, Crane, Crosby, Throckmorton, Potter, Hale, Lamb, Young, Swisher, Castro, Donley, Collingsworth, Dimmitt, Wheeler, Hudspeth, Maverick, and Scurry.

Buying, it was reported, was in progress at the rate of 12,000 head per day for shipping to slaughtering houses. Unlike the cattle program, all processing of boned meat from sheep will be done in commercial plants, contracts already having been made between FSRC and packing company officials for the job. Thousands of cans of meat, however, (See SHEEP Page 4)

Alleged Hijackers Trial at Del Rio

Trial of Alfred Radley and John Zetterstrom, charged with robbery with firearms of the Rodriguez filling station in Comstock about two weeks ago, began in Del Rio Wednesday afternoon.

The youths and a woman companion were taken into custody at Dryden shortly after the holdup, the arrest being made by deputies Jim Nance and W. C. Blackwell of Sanderson, but only after the officers had put the car in which they were riding out of commission with a machine gun. The holdup only netted the young men $9.20.

Radley and Zetterstrom were indicted by a Val Verde county grand jury, but their companion, Marion Young was not billed.

NO LETUP IN LAMB SHIPMENTS DURING PAST WEEK; 39 Cars Noted

Over seven thousand lambs were shipped from Terrell county this week, many of them going to points in Texas for feeding; some to Arizona and New Mexico, while some were consigned to points in the East and North where they were placed in feed lots. The majority of these lambs were purchased by R. J. Ridley, buyer. Other heavy purchasers were Russell Menzies of this city, and L. G. Humphries.

Four cars of lambs were shipped from Longfellow last Friday by the Texas Livestock Marketing Association, consigned to St. Louis, Mo.

On Tuesday of this week the heaviest shipment in some time was loaded out from here, when 19 cars of lambs were shipped from Sanderson by Russell Menzies, 5 cars consigned to Smart & Howell at Ald-

Fine Stock Exhibits Will Excel Those Of Former Years

BIG TIME FOOTBALL

SANDERSON REPRESENTED AT FAIR BY DUCHESS AND HIGH SCHOOL EAGLES. WILL PLAY FRIDAY MORNING.

The Times is in receipt of the complete catalog, containing full details of the 7th annual Highland Fair, with program for each of the 4 days October 3, 4, 5, and 6.

It boasts of being the only stock show west of the Pecos and, despite the fact that this section is just emerging from the most adverse years since and before the creation of this enterprise, they promise one of the best fairs ever thrown open to the general public.

Of the area directly represented in the exposition, it is said that it is "a region of the largest and greatest State in the Union, and the fair presents to visitors exhibitions from a territory more vast than some whole states and with natural resources greater than some empires."

The Big Bend is a section of versatile resources, among which are fruits, vegetables, silver, quicksilver, gold, marble, unequalled climatic conditions, unsurpassed scenery, and lastly, their purebred White Hereford cattle, many of which will be on exhibition at the fair.

The exhibits will include every domesticated animal of yard, pen and range; artistry of brush and hand, and every science of the everyday kitchen.

And there will be the inevitable rodeo which, due to the fact that all professionals will be barred, it likely to attract many who otherwise would not compete. Then there will be two football games, one between high school, the other classed as "big time." In the latter Sul Ross Lobos clash with the A. C. C. Wildcats.

Sanderson interest in the fair will be wetted by the fact that on opening day, at the Queen's coronation, Miss Lillian Halley, will represent that place as duchess to Her Majesty. Also at 10 a. m. Friday, our high school Eagles will meet Marfa's Shorthorns on the gridiron.

Any exhibitor or performer interested, may call at the Times office and get needed information from the catalog.

CEMETERY MEETING

A meeting of the Sanderson Cemetery association is called for Friday afternoon, Oct. 5, at 3 o'clock, to be held at the Baptist church. Election of new officers will be held and other business transacted. All members are urged to keep the date in mind and attend this meeting.

Will Rogers Turns "Wild Boy" in His 'Handy Andy' Role

His wife wanted him to retire and play a little... but all play and no work makes Will a wild boy.

That, in brief, is the story of Will Rogers' latest picture "Handy Andy" which will be shown at the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday night.

Will is getting along comfortably in his drug store, when his wife, Peggy Wood, persuades him to sell out. First he takes up pigeon raising, but he has to stop that when his pets fly all over the house.

That's when things really begin to happen. Will begs off from attending the Conus costume ball. Wandering around he gets acquainted with a fellow druggist and his dashing girl friend, Conchita Montenegro.

Of course there's more to the story than that. Much more. Among a whole lot of other things Will serves as cupid in his daughter's romance with a young man his wife doesn't approve of.

Relief Commission To Issue Mattresses

Announcement was made from the Austin office of the Texas Relief commission that mattresses for the State's destitute would probably be ready for distribution about October first.

Due to slow production it will be impossible to reach all counties at present, but those in charge of the work hope to reach every needy family before real winter starts.

Where old mattresses unfit for use are substituted with new ones, county administrators are advised to see that old mattresses do not get back into circulation.

Actor Gambles to Catch Spirit of Role He is Portraying

This is a story that the late Emil Coue would have enjoyed in proving his power of suggestion story. And it actually happened.

It seems that Spencer Tracy, who plays the principal role in the Fox Film, "Now I'll Tell By Mrs. Arnold Rothstein," had been in a dice and poker game for three days.

One morning while waiting for the camera crew to get ready for the big scene, Tracy suggested to Director Edwin Burke that they match coins for $10. Burke agreed, won the first 10-spot.

Tracy reached over, picked up a card and held up the jack of hearts. Burke, talking with Jack Boland, his assistant, just picked up a card without looking, and flipped it over.

Spencer claims it's that losing influence he's been playing in the picture, but anyhow when the audience sees the scene in which he loses a quarter of a million dollars, they will know he is probably thinking of his sixty bucks.

Others in the cast of "Now I'll Tell By Mrs. Arnold Rothstein," which will be shown at the Princess Monday night, Oct. 1, are Helen Twelves, Alice Faye, Robert Glecker, G. P. Huntley, Henry O'Neil and Hobart Cavanaugh.

Many cities send their health workers to this meeting so that they may keep up with new developments in their field. This will be especially true this year, as much health work may be accomplished with relief funds.

Hints for the Household

By BETTY WEBSTER

I visited a most attractive home the other day in which there were several charming bedrooms. These, as well as the other rooms, were furnished in exquisite taste. I was mentally, if impolitely, calculating the cost of an adorable little chamber done in green and rose, when my hostess spoke up.

"This," she said, "is my greatest pride. I did it all myself and spent only ten dollars for the effect. Of course, I had the bed and two chairs were discarded of the sewing room and kitchen."

"How," I gasped, "did you ever do it? You must be a veritable fairy godmother."

"No," she replied, "anyone can do the same thing. I'll tell you how simple it was." And she did.

Of Ancient Vintage

The bed had been a marred wooden affair which had been stored in the cellar for years waiting to be thrown out, and the chairs were all scratched, and the rocker needed a new seat.

The furniture she laquered (with one of the new quick drying liquids) a cool green trimmed with rose and then coated two chili sauce bottle with the same green for lamps.

She covered the floor with a green linoleum and varnished it. Then, for the drapes, this clever person bought a cheap variety of chintz and lined them with unbleached muslin.

The dressing table she made of a wooden packing box, tacked some of the same curtain material around it and covered the top with pink oil-cloth.

The bedspread, chair seat and the tiny lamp shades were made of this same chintz. The lamp bases were wired for very little, and the room was complete.

I thought this sleeping room was the daintiest one I'd even seen and I intend to have one as near like it as I can make it. I thought maybe you would, too.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

Salt is a necessary and important constituent of the blood and other body fluids and has been found in the diets of all people from the earliest times.

Salt prevents the action of bacteria, mold, and yeast, and can, for that reason, be used as a preservative for many foods.

RECIPES

Creamy Sauce
1 cup powdered sugar.
1/4 cup of butter.
1 egg, beaten.
1/4 cup of boiling water.
1 teaspoon of vanilla.
Cream sugar and butter, add egg and beat well. Just before serving add water and vanilla.

Bellevue Pudding
1 cup of molasses.
4 Tablespoon melted shortening.
2 cups of flour.
2 cups of milk.
1 teaspoon of soda.
1 teaspoon of cinnamon.
1 teaspoon of cloves.
Dissolve soda in milk, add shortening, molasses, and dry ingredients. Turn into a greased mold, cover and bake with dinner. Serve with the creamy sauce.

This boy is going to be Near-sighted

THE above picture illustrates one of the very common causes of nearsightedness . . . one of the reasons why twenty children in every one hundred have defective vision today. What is happening in this picture may be happening in your own home . . . damaging the eyes of your children. The boy is reading in poor light . . . and in order to see the printed words, without effort, he has brought his eyes much too close to the book. Constant reading in this position will eventually cause nearsightedness.

If your boy holds a book less than 14 inches from his eyes, he needs more light, or glasses, or perhaps both. Remedy the lighting in your home by providing each member of the family with his own reading lamp . . . equipped with at least one 100-watt lamp, two 60's or three 40's, according to the number of sockets. Then see that these lamps are properly shaded to eliminate glare or shadows. We will gladly help you correct the lighting in your home.

Work of 4-H Club Boys Receiving Praise At Stock Exhibits at Pacific Coast Fairs

By J. A. McNAUGHTON

Nothing short of sensational has been the showing of the farm boys in 4-H clubs and high school Future Farmer classes at the Pacific Coast stock shows so far this fall. So adept have these young men become in selecting breeding stock and in feeding their animals that they have won champion ribbons in competition with veteran stockmen who have been studying breeding and feeding for many years.

Should the youngsters win a single championship at the show, it might not be noteworthy, but when, as in the case of California's State Fair, the youngsters consistently won blue and purple ribbons throughout the show, particularly in the dairy cattle and swine classes, it means that these boys really know what they are doing and it certainly indicates that livestock production of the future is bound to show the greatest improvement we have ever witnessed in our centuries of breed development.

The fact that these young men in their high school work are carrying out projects of real merit is also a tribute to the type of instructors in charge of the high school agricultural departments. The fact that a boy wins a purple ribbon in a Stock show is of course important, and the honor means a great deal, but more important than that is the fact that the boy's mind is being developed to have a keen appreciation of the value of good breeding and feeding practices. We must all appreciate that these young men will be the commercial stockmen of the coming generation. There has never been a time when good quality livestock did not have a better sales appeal than mediocre stock, and it is very probable that consumers will continue to have a better appreciation of quality products.

The time is not far distant when advertising of the meat business will be predicated to a great extent upon quality. There will be always be enough of the common and plain livestock—never to much quality stock.

The young men of today have been fortunate in being able to build up their foundations of flocks and herds with relatively small outlay of money. A purebred sow backed by generations of valuable breeding has cost him very little more than an ordinary old sow. The same has been true of beef cows, dairy cows, and ewes. Agricultural instructors have been keen to realize this fact and have encouraged the boys to enter the livestock business on a much higher scale than probably would have been possible when the prices of purebred stock were relatively high. These young fellows stand a good chance to be in excellent position to raise livestock on a very profitable basis when they become established on their own farms and ranches.

Mrs. Lucile Mason and son, Bobby, left Thursday afternoon for San Antonio where they plan to attend the Barnum & Bailey circus which will be in that city Friday.

SHEEP—

(Continued From Page One) will be delivered to Texas county administrators for delivery to the destitute as a surplus commodity, C. Z. Crain, head of the department, said. He has not yet heard anything about the contemplated goat buying program, he also stated.

Meanwhile, according to Crain, the cattle program appeared to be definitely ended. Crain said he had been informed by Geo. Barnes, representative of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, which supervised the program in Texas, that federal authorities had instructed him to dismiss his staff of buyers.

"I understand the total quota for Texas has been exceeded by 100,000 head, and the chances are that no more cattle will be bought in Texas," Crain said.

"Nearly of those we have bought have been shipped and we have enough meat in storage to run our 19 beef canning plants about a week longer. Then we will have to close these plants, at least temporarily. Later they may be used for a vegetable canning program under a system to control surplus of vegetables when the price has gone below production costs or when the market has been glutted with a particular variety of vegetable. Of course not all canneries could be operated under this program, and chances are none could be operated full time."

The distribution of fresh meat, likewise, begun recently, but also has been stopped. However, a bare possibility remains that veal may be shipped from Chicago for distribution in Texas, Crain said.

OPTOMETRIST HERE

Among the out-of-town visitors in Sanderson last Saturday was Dr. Monroe Slack, eye specialist, Marfa. Dr. Slack visited among several of his Sanderson patients, whom he has treated and fitted with glasses for several years. He is one of the most competent optometrists in West Texas, and his office at Marfa is fitted with the latest equipment for the proper treatment of eye troubles.

John Stovell of Alpine was a business visitor in the city Saturday.

Dallas—

(Continued from page 1) nial headquarters were in Austin, in accordance with the wish of the commission pending the legislature's designation, through the commission, of the city where the central exposition will be held.

Now that this city has been selected for that exposition and headquarters opened here, the entire citizenry has set to work to do its part in making the celebration of the first 100 years of Anglo-Saxon history in this state one that will be Texanic, both in its proportions and in its nature.

On every hand one hears expressions which reflect the deep sense of responsibility which the people here feel that the legislature, acting through the commission, has placed upon them. These expressions are marked by the determination that, with the aid of the other cities and towns, which has already been proffered, the celebration will be one of which not only every Texan, but every American will be proud.

BILL REMITTING INTEREST AND PENALTIES IS PASSED

On Tuesday of this week the Texas legislature passed a tax remission bill, effective immediately. It calls for the remittance of all penalties and interest on taxes delinquent August 31, 1934. The purpose of the bill is in line with relief of the tax burden of property owners. The intent is to forget all tax interest and penalties, due from delinquencies, until February, 1935. It includes all State and County, but in case of school districts enforcement is optional.

Football—

Sanderson 25-yard line, where they fumbled, Sanderson recovering.

In the same quarter they threatened again, for the last time, when snap from center, followed by a blocked punt placed the pig hide on Sanderson's 6-yard line. In turn Luke and Ramsey hit the line, a line through which they plunged at will in midfield, but in four tries they were still a distance of 1 yard to the promised land. The ball went over.

Sanderson's lone counter came in the second quarter aided by one pass and series of running plays with Robertson and "Dutch" Halley reeling off the yardage, aided by some of the best blocking seen this early in the season. With the ball on the 4-yard line, Halley plunged over right guard for six points. Try for extra point, on a line buck, failed.

Sanderson ignoring all opposition, continued its march, Halley making two beautiful runs. A fake spinner lessened the yardage to the Short-horn goal, and a short pass, Newton to Halley, placed the oval in striking distance. Bays on third down, dashed around end for a touchdown, but Sanderson was offside. A short pass, Newton to Halley, fell short of the receiver, and Marfa got the ball on downs. Seventy-five yards from the Sanderson goal, Luke attempted several long passes, all incomplete, and that's as close as they were to a touchdown when the final whistle of the referee sounded.

To credit anyone with isolated stardom in this game would hardly be fair, but we believe "Dutch" Halley outshone his mates just a little. But the line was grand, and it won't be long until their blocking and interference is going to deal opponents misery.

It is a little early to pass judgment on any one player, but we'll say for all of them that they have what it takes to win games—and that's FIGHT.

Officiating at this game would do credit to "big time" games. Elmo Lowe (Simmons), called them to the satisfaction of both teams, injecting the new 1934 rules.

Mrs. Ed Reeves who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. P. Halley, for several weeks, returned to her home in El Paso last Saturday.

In addition to the four towns represented, Sanderson sent word that though a delegate could not be present, they were "with you in this move."

Another meeting will be held in the near future, at which time it is expected more towns will be represented, and when further and definite plans will be composed to present to the State centennial committee, with the Trans-Pecos application to be considered for a centennial here.

The general plan that will be submitted to the State committee will state, it is expected, that during the centennial period each town joining in the regional celebration will be putting on an exhibition of some sort itself.
