Help Fight Tuberculosis

SALE OF SEALS OPENED HERE THANKSGIVING

The 28th annual Christmas seal campaign to aid in the nationwide fight against tuberculosis opened Thanksgiving day, and will continue until Christmas day. The seals were distributed among grammar grade students of our school, and the children are making a canvass of the town, offering the seals to the public.

The Kerr Mercantile company was first to make an advance purchase of these penny stickers for the 1934 Christmas Seal sale.

Mrs. C. L. Surratt, health chairman of the local P. T. A., stated this week that letters were being mailed to citizens who lived out of town, and have no children in school. The letters were placed in the mails to be received on Thanksgiving day, it was stated.

Funds from the sale of the seals will be used to support the Sterling Health camp and other work of the health association—to seek out and prevent tuberculosis among growing children.

The seal this year commemorates the 50th anniversary of the beginning of the sanatorium movement in this country. The one-room cottage depicted was the first American sanatorium for the modern treatment of tuberculosis. It was built in 1884 by the late Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau, "father of the sanatorium movement," and was the forerunner of the 600 institutions of its kind in the United States today.

By cooperating in the sale of the Christmas seals, our people are also helping the local Parent-Teacher association, whose work among our children includes the safeguarding of their health. Forty percent of the proceeds of the sales will be retained by the Sanderson association.

Mrs. R. M. Gant motored to Uvalde last Thursday where she spent this week visiting relatives and friends. She was accompanied home by her aunt, Mrs. J. L. Kincaid, who will visit here for some time.

Purchase of sheep and goats by the government will end in Terrell county on Saturday, December 1, according to information given the Times this week by C. P. Peavy, secretary of the Drouth Relief Emergency work in Terrell county. By that time, it was stated, all goats and sheep that have been listed will have been purchased.

Up to Tuesday of this week the government has purchased in Terrell county 57,000 head of sheep and 11,000 head of goats since the program got under way early in September. Of this number the larger per cent were condemned, and slaughtered on the range.

The local office, it was stated, has been distributing canned meats for some time, and expect to receive other commodities for distribution among its clients during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Henshaw motored to San Antonio Tuesday, returning home Wednesday by way of Kerrville, where they met Billie Ferguson and Herbert Brown, students of Schreiner Institute, who accompanied them home to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with home folks.

Eagles Wind Up Season With Official Loss in Game Played at Toyah Saturday

Last week end was an era of upsets in the football world. Teams rated as under-dogs—way under—emerged victorious as thousands of rabid fans sat, or stood, stunned.

A big upset was little Yale out-playing Harvard; another was T. C. U. smothering Rice; still another was Baylor cellar team of the S. W. conference, matching the best S. M. U. had to offer, and then some.

Caught in this current was our own Eagles. Two weeks ago they played Toyah here, and the game bore all the tarmarks of a massacre. Every sub was used to level the game, even the water boy being suited out to make the melee resemble a game. The final score was 35 to 0, Toyah admitting they were hopelessly outclassed.

Last Saturday, in a return game played at Toyah, the Eagles, seemingly, were hurled into the loss column, when the final whistle blew, the score being 7 to 0 against them.

Rules Were Discarded

The first quarter opened with the Eagles showing their usual punch at gaining through the line. After an exchange of punts Toyah received the ball on their 25 yard line and returned it to the 40, showing much better form than in the game played here, they made good yardage thru the Eagle line, and unleashed a pass that placed the ball on the 15 yard stripe. From here they worked it to the 2 yard line, where the Eagles held them for first down without (See FOOTBALL Page 2)

APPLICATIONS FOR CCC UNITS BEING TAKEN

L. A. Lowe, county relief director, received word from the Texas Relief Commission on Monday of this week, asking that he send in at once a list of young men from this county who desire to enlist in CCC units.

Mr. Lowe stated that any young man in this county who wants to enlist in any of the camps to call at his office at once and register so that the list can be made up and forwarded to Austin as early as possible.

Terrell county's quota for the January enlistment will be made known after the list has been compiled and sent to the state office, Mr. Lowe said.

OFF TO GET A DEER (?)

Elmo Low, a member of the school faculty, and director of the Sanderson high school band, left early Wednesday morning for Mason, and will spend the Thanksgiving holidays scouring hills in that section for deer.

James Robert Nation arrived in Sanderson Wednesday from his home in Kerrville to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and family.

HE'S MORE WELCOME THAN THE BLUE EAGLE

The Times reaches its readers a day earlier this week. For two reasons: First that the force—mental and mechanical—may enjoy the day without worry. Or at least part of the day. Second, so as to be able to convey to our readers the wish that the day will be replete with good things—a big, fat turkey with all the trimmings. Those in position to enjoy such a day truly should be thankful. In our thankfulness don't forget the less fortunate about us.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Miss Lucille Blount, high school student, suffered a very serious accident Monday afternoon as she was leaving the building. A classmate in front of her had passed thru one of the heavy glassed doors, and Miss Blount reached the door as it was closing, put out her hand to hold it open, when the glass gave way and her head and arms went through the aperture. Her right wrist was severely gashed by the jagged edges of the glass, the main artery being severed in several places. Luckily she was not cut about the face. Loss of blood left the young lady considerably weakened, but she expects to be back in school after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Maggie Smith spent Thanksgiving day in Langtry with relatives and friends.

GET TWO DEER

A party composed of Noble Latson, highway engineer, Joe Nichols, Johnny Bragg and F. Garrison hied to old Mexico last week end in quest of venison, and were lucky, bagging two deer. Latson, who never had the chance to shoot at deer before this trip, brought his quarry down at the first shot. Joe Nichols didn't get a thing and, besides the expense of the trip, was out the price of a bottle of liniment for his aching bones. Said he: "That's the roughest country in the world."

SCHOOLS CLOSE

The Sanderson schools closed on Wednesday at 2 p. m. for Thanksgiving, giving the students a holiday until Monday, Dec. 3, and the faculty an opportunity to attend the State Teachers convention in Galveston.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND TO GIVE CONCERT DEC. 7

Next Friday evening, December 7, the Sanderson high school band under the direction of Elmo Low, will give its first semi-annual concert at 8:00 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

In addition to the various numbers by the band as a whole, the program will be interspersed with solos, duets and quartets.

According to Mr. Low the band is composed of some 20 students of the high school and four from grade school. For several months they have been faithfully practicing, and he feels sure that our people will greatly enjoy this, the first concert in many months.

Under the direction of Mr. Low our little band has made fine progress, and in him they have a teacher and director thoroughly capable in every way. While attending Simmons University Mr. Low was a member of the famous Cowboy band and one year was voted the most valuable man in that organization.

So keep in mind the date and be on hand to hear these boys, and in hearing them you will enjoy the entertainment and at the same time encourage the boys and their director. Next Friday night at the high school.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION OF TEACHERS AT GALVESTON

Members of the faculty of the Sanderson schools who left Wednesday for Galveston where they will attend the annual convention of the State Teachers association, in session from Nov. 29 to Dec. 1, are as follows: Jason and Bernie Morgan, Misses Dorothy Wilson, Mary Baskin, Margaret Martin and Lorene Barker. Other members of the faculty are planning to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives and friends in the nearby cities.

VAUDEVILLE AT PRINCESS

An extra attraction at the Princess theatre this week was the presenting of the McGreevy and Jeffries company, direct from Dallas, featuring the Jeffries sisters, eccentric dancers, contortionists, violinists supreme.

In connection with the vaudeville which was given at the Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week, was the picture "As the Earths Turn", featuring the celebrated juvenile artist, Jean Muir.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Black, Sr., and son, Howard, left Wednesday morning for Beaumont where they will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives. Another son, J. R., Jr., who is attending Baylor University, Waco, will join them in Beaumont.

AUTHORIZED TO PURCHASE MORE CATTLE

The government's cattle buying program for relief in the drought areas, was again resumed in Terrell county this week when official notice was received last Friday to purchase an additional 1000 head, it was announced by C. P. Peavy, secretary, at the emergency relief offices here. The buying program was under way on Wednesday and cattle that had previously been listed were purchased on that day.

Terrell county ranchers who have cattle they wish to sell to the government are urged to list them at once, as it is very doubtful that the program will continue very long. Application blanks for listing cattle for sale may be obtained from Mr. Peavy at the office of Joe Kerr.

SWEATER FUND SWELLS TO $63

This week the football team of Sanderson high called it a day and hung up the old helmets and ragged suits. They had a splendid season, with a record of 9 games with but one defeat chalked up against them. Six men will be lost to the squad for next year, but at that we still have the nucleus of a strong team. Names of those who lettered this season will be available next week.

In appreciation of their fine record a subscription list has been started to buy the team sweaters. It is hoped that all who enjoyed the games, and who appreciate the entertainment they furnished, can all donate something. It will prove we are behind them, and ready to cooperate with them.

To date donations amount to $63 subscribed by the following: Dryden $10.00, by Mrs. M. Miller, H. A. Mooney, S. H. Buchanan, Bud Stevens, Larrrie LaMontagne, and Sgt. H. L. Richardson.

WE HAVE MUCH FOR WHICH TO BE THANKFUL

It's the season for thanksgiving. Many there are who think the cards have been stacked against them—they they have emerged to this period of a cruel depression mainly through their own efforts, and if they should thank anyone it should be themselves. That poor sportsmanship. One should look beyond self to find things for which to be thankful—our loved ones, our friends, all in whom we are remotely interested. If they have benefitted, even remotely, during this era in which the souls of men were sorely tried, we should be thankful that some were saved from the abyssal depths of misery and want. Man thrives only when he is tried. His life is made up of conquests—in some he wins, in others he loses. But take away the incentives for these conquests, place the average man on a level plane, from which he cannot move either upward or downward, and he will be the most miserable of human beings. So we can be humbly thankful for the fact that we still exist, with the God-given weapons of physical and mental balance that will make the fight upward keenly enjoyable. In a world such as our there is always something to be thankful for, and in the quest for such a thing, or many of them, one will not have to look very far. If our forefathers could be thankful while eating turkey as hostile Indians took pot-shots at them, surely we can be doubly thankful—in the midst of the family circle, with protective agencies on all sides, and enjoy a meal, no matter how humble, without one quail of fear from without.

MANY WOMEN IN N. K. A.

A large number of women in official capacities in the NRA is surprising to many men. Not only in the NRA are women numerous, but also in other departments of the Roosevelt administration.

It is natural for some men to resent seeing a woman in an official capacity, and some women are unable to stand authority, the same as some men. But no one will question the fact that the women picked for high offices by the administration are keen intellectually and are efficient to the nth degree.

Women of the nation have every reason for being grateful to President Roosevelt. He has given more recognition to woman than any of his predecessors.—El Paso Times.

SHIFT FROM RELIEF DOLES (Albuquerque Journal)

A gradual nationwide swing away from outright doles for the needy unemployed in favor of relief-financed work is reported with the Georgia Relief Administration setting the pace in announcing that direct relief is to be abandoned on December 1st and work provided for all able-bodied persons now on its rolls.

Washington dispatches announce a policy of making local and state governments entirely responsible for the support of mentally and physically handicapped persons, though it is not definitely stated whether a mandatory national policy along these lines has been agreed upon.

Previously it has been reported that President Roosevelt would make the relief policy the subject of another "fireside talk" early next month.

It is evident that administration officials are taking recognition of the criticism that has been heaped upon the relief work within the past few weeks, notably by Senator Borah, who charged waste and extravagance in administration with the result that funds that should go to the needy were going for other purposes.

It is evident that the administration is seeking to lighten the relief load that the government has been bearing and thrust more of it upon the states.

Involved in all these discussion has been the growing belief in the country that direct doles should be suspended for the more desirable relief financed work. The dole system has been criticized as sapping the morale of the people. It has been argued justly that it would be better to provide those physically able with work even if the government and states had to finance large public projects to provide that work. The government and states have had much to do in which to plan such work. They ought to be ready to proceed on a new relief program.

gain of an inch. On the second try Gaines, carrying the ball, presented his spikes to the Eagles line of defense, hurdling the squatting warriors waiting for him. Touchdown was allowed, try for point was converted from placement, and the natives whooped 'er up. The play was so raw that the Toyah coach remonstrated with the referee, and the touchdown was not allowed. The ball was put back in play, but on the 2-yard line, instead of on the 17-yard line, as hurdling carries a penalty of 15 yards. Not much effort was made by the Eagles to prevent the carrier going over—things like that take the sap of even red-blooded youths.

Eagles Were Outplayed

The next three quarters were a comedy of errors. The Sanderson backfield seemed to be able to make gains at will through Toyah's line, but always something happened just about the time they got in Toyah territory—a disastrous penalty for cause, or an intercepted pass.

Toyah on the other hand, had all departments clicking in fair shape, but only once in the last three quarters did they penetrate the Eagles' 20-yard line. The Eagles never got close enough to Toyah's goal posts to know whether they were made of iron or wood, the 35 line being their limit, where a pass was intercepted to halt them dead.

Toyah made 10 first downs, Sanderson 6. Three by the Eagles were discounted by penalties.

Toyah attempted 9 passes, completed four; one was intercepted. Sanderson attempted 10 aerials, but none were completed; two were intercepted.

Sanderson was penalized 5 times for a total of 55 yards; Toyah wasn't penalized.

Sidelights

A man permitted to referee who admitted he didn't know the rules. Penalizing the ball-carrier for holding (twice).

An umpire running among the players, patting them on the back after they made an alleged touchdown.

Refusing to measure when there was doubt about a first down.

A linesman coaching the players. On a fumbled ball which two players scrambled to cover, the umpire ordered the Sanderson man to let the other up or he penalize him.

The coach of the Toyah team, realizing the raw deal handed the visitors, (through ignorance of rules), was willing to call the game a tie. Officially the score in last Friday's fiasco goes on the records as 7 to 0, in favor of Toyah. But as far as this correspondent is concerned—and he witnessed the game, Sanderson's record of emerging undefeated at the end of the season still stands.

Buck Jones at Best In "Rocky Rhodes"

The battle of a stalwart young ranch owner and the beautiful girl he loves to protect their properties from the avaricious head of a small town gang, is the theme of "Rocky Rhodes," a Universal adventure picture starring Buck Jones, which will be shown at the Princess theatre on Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

In the picture Buck comes to a small western town from the recent disastrous Chicago stockyards fire, to find that a local land owner is trying to control the valley by shady means, within and without the law. This is the man who has killed Buck's father and his best friend. Buck sets out to save his property, that belonging to the girl, played by Sheila Terry, and to keep himself from being framed for murder and robbery charges.

With Buck in all of his adventures is a Chicago tough who has wanted to be a gangster, but never has had the chance. Played by Stanley Fields this character is one of the funniest and oddest characters ever to appear in an outdoor picture.

One of the most spectacular events is the blasting of an entire ranch house in the course of the production.

For excitement, thrills and suspense, see "Dusty Rhodes," one of Buck Jones' greatest pictures.

Presbyterian Ladies Present Pageant As Climax to Week of Self-Denial

The women of the Presbyterian Auxiliary had a most interesting week, studying the history and the growth of the Presbyterian church, since it was first established in America by Rev. Francis McKemie, 250 years ago.

The week of study, prayer and self-denial came to a climax Tuesday night when a pageant depicting the study book was given at the church.

The venerable leaders of the early church were represented by Dr. McCall and Messrs. Ervin Grigsby, R. S. Wilkinson and Walter Grigsby. Mrs. J. V. McCall took the part of the Southern Presbyterian church, and the 16 Synods were represented by the young women of the church.

Mrs. Ervin Grigsby, secretary of Home Missions, directed the week's study and the pageant. Mrs. Joe F. Brown was pianist for the program, and Mrs. McDuffy Kesler led the devotional feature.

Mrs. John Nichols and Mrs. J. W. McKee, with several members assisting, served hot chocolate and cookies during the social hour to a large attendance of members and visitors.

A liberal self-denial offering was given for Home Missions.

METHODIST CHURCH

"The Cradle and the Cross" will be the subject for the Sunday morning sermon, followed by the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. A cradle does not ordinarily suggest a gallows, an electric chair, or a cross. We can hardly associate anything but joy, happiness, and a bright outlook for the future with the birth of a child; hardly anything but cruelty, suffering and shame with a cross. Yet as we look back to the life of Christ we see that they are very close together.

Helpful Household Hints

By BETTY WEBSTER

Do you know that: Rich cheese can be sliced without crumbling if the knife is dipped into boiling water before boiling?

Potato soup, particularly if thickened with flour and made with a good deal of milk, needs a surprising amount of salt to redeem it from being insipid.

Meat steaks require far less salt when they contain only a little vegetable than when they include two or three potatoes or a good deal of carrot and turnips?

A piece of sick cinnamon broken into the milk used in making custard while beating the mixture will give a faint brown color without darkening?

A little Worcestershire sauce added to soup gives it a piquant flavor?

Beef should never be salted while cooking because the salt will toughen the fibres?

A pinch of salt added to the white of egg facilitates whipping it stiff and dry?

Cake batter should not be beaten after the baking powder has been added because beating is apt to make the cake fall?

The texture of a cake will be very fine if the butter and sugar are creamed thoroughly together?

RECIPES—Fried Prunes

Soak large prunes for several hours. Dry and remove the stones. Wrap prunes in thin slices of bacon sprinkled with cypress and salt and fry two minutes in hot fat. They make a delicious relish.

Baked Figs

1/2 pound of figs
1/2 cup of sugar.
Few grains of salt
Few gratings of nutmeg
Juice of one lemon

Wash figs and soak overnight in water to cover. Put in baking dish with remaining ingredients, cover and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) for about 45 minutes or until tender.

Potatoes Baked With Bacon

Wash and dry potatoes. Make a hole in each with an apple corer; roll a slice of bacon and insert it in the hole; bake in hot oven. These are delicious.

Scalloped Oysters

Place in casserole alternate layers of oysters, pepper, salt and bits of butter and cracker crumbs until the dish is almost full.

Mix one egg well beaten with one part of milk and pour over the oysters and crumbs, lifting lightly so that the liquid will mix thoroughly.

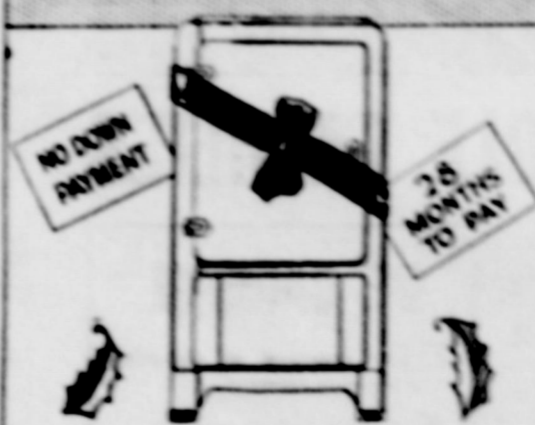

Cover the dish and bake for 45 to 50 minutes in a moderate oven. Just before removing from oven uncover the dish and allow the top to brown slightly.

Harves

Chop together two medium sized onions, three tomatoes, two green peppers and a little parsley. Cook in a tablespoon of melted butter in a frying pan for five minutes. Pour over eggs which have been fried on both sides. Serve hot.

Glowing Tribute to O. T. Schupbach Sanderson Boy With Abilene Eagles

AIRPORT CHATTER
By THE OLD MAN

Editor of the Sanderson Times: I have written a short account of the record made by O. T. Schupbach of your city who is playing an outstanding tackle with the Abilene Eagles this year. I, personally, and many others in Abilene, admire the boy for his attitude on the field and off. We are proud that such a boy can go to Abilene high school—both as an athlete and as a student.—Cordially, An EAGLE FAN.

Abilene, Nov. 26.—O. T. Schupbach, powerful 210-pound tackle, and Ray Moser, fleet halfback, loom as the most outstanding Abilene candidates for all-District honors in the Oil Belt circuit for this season. Three other members of the Eagle eleven, H. J. Jones, all-District center in '33, Eho Howell and A. W. Balfanz, both guards, will also probably receive positions on the mythical eleven.

The famed left tackle and left halfback scoring combination, featuring Schupbach and Moser, has accounted for more than half of the points that have been scored by the Abilene team. The big tackle's offensive work was one of the main reasons why the dopesters picked the Eagles to go so far in the State race at the beginning of the season. But lack of weight in the backfield eased their downfall.

Schupbach, better known as "Teeter," who is a transfer from Sanderson via Del Rio, is regarded as one of the best high school linemen in West Texas. His powerful defensive work has helped stave off many drives during the season; and he has developed into the Eagles' general hand-man as a punter, and even as a ball carrier when the necessity arrived.

Moser, almost the largest man in the Abilene backfield, weighing 145 pounds, is the fastest man on the Abilene squad. He has scored 59 points during the season, and is one of the most elusive men in the Oil Belt in open field.

The Eagles are holding down third place in the district standing, and if Ranger is ruled ineligible, the race will be thrown into a two-way tie with Abilene and Breckenridge. One more game remains on the Eagles' schedule. They invade the lair of their traditional enemy, the Big Dam Lobos, Thanksgiving day. The charges of Dewey Mayhew are expected to win easily over the last place Cisco eleven.

Homer and Lowell Schwalbe of Ozona visited in Sanderson this week with their brother, Elmer Schwalbe, and Mrs. Schwalbe.

Miss Russell Dee Henderson of Langtry spent the week end with Miss Grace Marie Billings.

Mr. and Mrs. Redmond, Miss Mildred Stavley and Joe Chandler spent several days on the McDougal ranch near Marathon this week on a hunting trip.

Lee Hardgrave arrived Wednesday from Alpine where he is attending Sul Ross college, to spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Creigh, Jr. and son, Al, left Thursday morning for San Antonio where they spend the remainder of the week visiting relative and friends.

Miss Ferde Corder, a student in Westmoreland college in San Antonio, arrived Wednesday night to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Corder during the holidays.

Miss Florene Thompson, who is attending Sul Ross college, arrived in Sanderson Wednesday and will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dawson.

Lynn Harrell left Wednesday for Gilmore, Tex., where he will visit relatives during Thanksgiving.
