SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1935

NUMBER 44

32 Enrolled in Local Education Project

Quite an interest is being shown in the educational program recently inaugurated in Sanderson, under the auspices of the Texas Relief Commission, and three classes now hold sessions in the local high school, according to Mrs. McDuffy Kessler, in charge of the program among the English-speaking residents attending. At present three English classes are being held daily: A class in grammar from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon; a second class in grammar from 7 to 8 in the evening, and a class in literature from 8 to 9 in the evening.

At the present time there are 32 enrolled, and others who may be interested are urged to start at the earliest possible time.

The literature class was started on Tuesday night, and one of Shakespeare's comedies was selected for the first project. The study will include, besides the drama, the life of Shakespeare; life and customs during the Elizabethan age; the development of drama from its origin in the church until the time of Shakespeare, and the Elizabethan theatre.

CENTENNIAL HALF DOLLARS FINDING QUICK SALE HERE

During the Christmas holidays 100 of the Centennial silver half-dollars were received at the Sanderson State Bank, and already more than 70 of these have been sold. A statewide campaign is being sponsored by the American Legion of Texas to dispose of the entire mintage, and the proceeds will be used to erect a state memorial museum at Austin. The coins are sold for $1.00.

Calls for the coins are coming from every section of the United States, according to a statement issued from the state headquarters of the American Legion at Austin.

MEETS WITH RAILROADERS

R. J. Mangano, division chairman of the Rio Grande Division Protective Committee of the S. P. lines, was a business visitor in Sanderson Monday and held a meeting with railroad employes in the Masonic hall. On this occasion Mr. Mangano stressed the importance of every employe of the road to write to their senators and congressmen, asking them to take favorable action on the repeal or modification of the Fourth Section of the I. C. C. law, governing rate schedules of the railroads. Read editorial, page 2.

LOCATES HERE

A newcomer to Sanderson this week is Alfred H. Hill, manufacturer and seller of a sheep and goat drench, which he has been using successfully for the last three years in Kimble county, and is in possession of recommendations from 30 of that county's prominent sheep and goat raisers, headed by the endorsement of Fayette Mays of Ft. Stockton, inspector for the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston.

Mr. Hill stated that his remedy is not an experiment, but has been used successfully for a number of years, and that results are positively guaranteed. At present he is located at Hotel Kerr, but stated it is his intention to bring his family here as soon as accommodations can be secured and make Sanderson his home.

The Times calls attention to Mr. Hill's announcement on last page.

Centenarian

Here is Mrs. Margaret Ann Bailey who recently celebrated her 100th birthday in El Paso. She claims honors as one of the oldest living Texans, having come to Texas in 1844, when it was still a republic, and making her home in the state since that time.

Sanderson Gagers Schedule Games

Eagle Quint In Fine Shape For Tough Schedule Of 1935 Season

For the past month Coach Smith has been putting both basketball squads through some strenuous grinds, preparatory to the playing season which, for Sanderson high, got under way this week with the game played Wednesday night by the boys' teams of Sanderson high and Fort Stockton high.

According to Coach Smith, the schedules is not complete, although some fourteen contests are in the offing, and their opposition will include McCamey, Ozona, Alpine, Ft. Stockton and Rankin. The squad is also preparing to take part in the invitation tournaments at McCamey on January 26 and 27, and the Ozona tournament on February 8 and 9.

The schedule for the girls' sextet is now being filled out, according to the coach, but he added that this program is hitting a snag due to the fact that many of the schools in our playing zone do not sponsor a girls' team.

McKnight Now Sole Owner of Company

A deal was consummated here this week whereby C. V. McKnight became the sole owner of the Sanderson Motor company, local Chevrolet dealer, having purchased the interest of J. W. Seigand in the business. McKnight advised the business in future, under the name of C. V. McKnight Chevrolet company.

Seigand continues in business as wholesale agent for Sinclair oils and gasoline.

Mr. McKnight stated that he expects to soon have one of the new Pontiac cars on display in his show room and that he also is expecting a carload of the new 1935 model Chevrolets by the last of this month.

COMMISSIONERS TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Terrell county commissioners' court will be held on Monday, January 14, at which time much business is expected to be presented for consideration. There will be three new commissioners serving for the first time: W. J. Banner, for precinct No. 1; Chester Smith, for precinct No. 2; and Bustin Canon, for precinct No. 4. J. C. Mitchell, commissioner of precinct No. 3, was re-elected, as was County Judge G. J. Henshaw. D. L. Duke, serving his first term as county and district clerk, will also be a new member of the court.

BAND AND PEP SQUAD LEND COLOR TO GAME

The Sanderson high school band, and the members of the girls' pep squad were out in force Wednesday night and filled in the gaps between play with their yells, songs and a fine selection of tunes. The band is making fine progress under the able direction of Elmo Low, and we anxiously await another of its series of concerts.

REPAIRING INTERSECTIONS

Maintenance crews of the highway department have been busy this week repairing intersections of all streets that lead into the highway through this city. Ruts and other bad places have been filled with gravel and dirt, then packed, putting them in first-class condition.

WINS $30 AT PRINCESS

Mrs. B. C. Farley, who was present at the Princess theatre Monday night when her name was called, was the lucky winner of the $30 free cash prize given away by the management that night.

On Monday night, January 7, the usual cash prize of $15 will be given away.

Allred Greets Mexico's Ex-President

Abelardo Rodriguez, who retired from the presidency of the Republic of Mexico last week, was welcomed to the United States by Governor-elect James V. Allred of Texas. Mr. Allred is shown at the left; at the right is Rodriguez, with Senora Rodriguez. The former governor of Mexico is flying to New York for treatment of his eyes.

Eagle Quint Nose Out Ft. Stockton In Opener

Deciding Points Come in Final Second of Thrilling Cage Contest

Fast and furious was the play in the curtain raiser of the 1935 basketball season, when the quintets of the Eagles of Sanderson high, and the Panthers of Fort Stockton high, entertained a good-sized crowd of fans here Wednesday night at the high school gym. If any one was not satisfied with the exhibition the admission script will be cheerfully refunded.

Play from the very start was at a gait that made the sidelines gasp, the Sanderson dribblers getting a 4 to 0 edge over the visitors early in the first quarter when Shelton and Falcon tossed a couple of ringers. Another by Halley made it six as the quarter ended, and left the Panthers trailing with a field goal by King and a free toss by Johnson for a total of three points.

In the second and third quarters the Eagle defense began to falter and the visitors unleashed an offense that put them out in front as the whistle sounded at the end of the third verse, 14 to 12. From this point on, with each team scenting victory, the play became even more furious—in fact, there was froth on top of the boiling pot, and every player, so it seemed, called on every ounce of his reserve stamina to forestall defeat. About half way through the final period, Falcon, whose playing was the outstanding feature of the evening, tossed a field goal from the center of the court to knot the count. The pace seemed a little too fast for the visitors as the end of the game neared, and although they had several chances to score, their aim was bad. Another field goal by Falcon, and one by Shelton ran the Eagles' score to 18. The visitors failed to ring during the last quarter.

High point man for Sanderson was Shelton, with a total of 7 points, followed closely by Falcon with six.

Outstanding for Fort Stockton were Lannom and King with 2 field goal each, and Blydes, who scored three points, and turned in a fine defensive game.

Association Elects Its 1935 Directors

Rufe H. Murrah, Joe Kerr, Albert Appel, J. C. Mitchell and G. J. Henshaw were elected directors of the Sanderson National Farm Loan association for the year 1935 at the annual stockholders' meeting, held at the offices of the association on Tuesday, January 8. At this time the reports of the board of directors and the secretary-treasurer of the business handled by the association were made.

The ranchmen of this section have been greatly benefited and, in addition to loans made by other associations in this county, our local association has loaned in excess of $600,000, it was stated.

Officers of the association will be elected at a future meeting.

Approval of 27 New Park Sites In Texas Is Sought

Location Near Marathon Is Included In Number In New Set-up

Austin.—Twenty-seven new state park development projects have recently been submitted by the Texas State Parks Board to federal authorities for approval in the April 1 tree army work program. These are in addition to 17 other state parks on which additional work may be asked.

Twenty-five state parks will be ready for public use by April first, out of the 59 developed under the emergency conservation program.

The new parks on which initial work has been asked include:

Lockhart park of 227 acres, near Lockhart; Bastrop park of 2,100 acres at Bastrop; Aransas Pass park of 500 acres at Aransas Pass; Kerrville park of 500 acres in Kerr county; Garner park of 470 acres at Uvalde; Tyler park of 598 acres at Tyler; Daingerfield park of 500 acres in Morris county; Fort Parker park of 1,200 acres at Groesbeck; Hamilton park of 50 acres at Hamilton; Cleburne park of 500 acres at Cleburne; Big Bend park of 225,000 acres near Marathon in Brewster county; the Stamford park of 110 acres in Jones county; Aspermont park of 320 acres in Stonewall county; Mackenzie park of 648 acres at Lubbock; Oasis park of 500 acres at Galsier, Hemphill county; Adobe Walls park of 640 acres at Spearman.

The annual report of C. J. Watts, agent for the T. & N. O. railroad in this city, shows that during the year 1934 there were shipped out of Sanderson 1,491,947 pounds of wool. This includes the number of pounds that was shipped not only by the Sanderson Wool Commission company, but by the various ranchers who shipped to warehouses elsewhere. This is somewhat a decrease in the amount of wool that was produced in 1933, as that year there was a total of 1,997,844 pounds shipped out of Sanderson.

Statistics available on the mohair shipped out shows that a total of 135,681 pounds were shipped from this place during 1934, as compared with 414,416 pounds shipped during 1933.

Livestock shipments in 1934 were about the same as in 1933. There were 687 cars of livestock shipped from Sanderson in 1934, as compared with 767 cars shipped in 1933.

From these figures it is revealed that 1933 was by far a better year for our ranchers than was 1934. During the year 1933 range conditions were better, and the stock in better condition, while during 1934 the ranchers have been faced with a drought the entire year and, due to this condition, the ranges were depleted, the federal government purchasing most of the stock.

Coke Stevenson Is Re-elected Speaker

The 44th Legislature of Texas convened on Tuesday of this week, with many new faces in both the senate and the house. At the first session 67 representatives and 10 senators took the oath of office for the first time. Then came what was predicted to be a hot battle for the election of a speaker of the house.

For several weeks past a little contest had been waged between the veteran Coke Stevenson of Junction and the youthful Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, the latter being Governor-elect, Allred's choice. Stevenson won the election by a vote of 80 to 68, for re-election.

After talking all day to anyone who will listen to them, many people complain that there is no free speech any longer.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Highlights of the Past Year, by Jon Edward Warfel in the
El Paso Morning Times

THE star of the 1933 Follies was a character by the name of Wall Street. For a good many years Wall Street had been stealing the show, saying the best lines, getting the applause. Several years ago the audience changed its mind.

There was an understudy in the cast called Washington and the people seemed to prefer this character. The crisis came last year when Wall Street met Washington out in the alley by the stage door and the two had a one-punch battle. Wall Street went out like last year's Christmas-bulbs and Washington took the star role.

The land's benevolent Uncle Samuel went into the real estate business and loaned billions on homes. Uncle became an active partner in the nation's commercial, financial and industrial enterprises. And Uncle's calling card, the dollar bill, was revalued. Bank deposits up to $5,000 were covered by insurance.

The reason Uncle Sam's calling card was revalued was to raise the prices, pep up purchases, and revive the gasping business. The dollar was revalued in this way: 59.06 per cent of its previous gold was chopped off by raising the price of gold from $20.69 an ounce to $35 per ounce. Just how the devaluation of the dollar has worked in raising prices is a matter of argument.

Storms are now rumbling in Congress. Loudest growls and protests come from Senator Carter Glass. He growls because the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has assumed authority on the interest rates of savings and time deposits. Some sage old members of congress wag their heads and fear that banks are fast becoming government institutions. In the meantime the banks continue to lower their interest. Presently, it is feared by many, the banks will charge rent for space in their vaults on deposits.

All in all, Uncle Sam, who has been suffering from anemia, has been taking his nourishment sitting up, and looks fairly spry again. And there's color in his face, sparkle in his eyes, and before long he will throw back the blankets and get on his feet again.

NEIGHBORS

And now, Uncle Sam's neighbors: Fat, pipe-smoking Germany, and sleek wise-eyed Japan. Both stated they were going to drop out of the League whereupon France and Italy put their heads together and worried. But despite hysterical outbursts on the part of France, Germany is still not isolated.

Japan went highhat very suddenly and considered itself master of all it surveyed. Early in 1934 Japan stated that it alone was responsible for the peace of Eastern Asia. Japan's determination to be master of Eastern Asia was shown when it asked for equal naval tonnage with Britain and the United States.

Uncle Sam's neighbors will have to stage a Saturday night card party and make intelligent agreements and contracts. This they will do before long without a doubt. The most important manifestation in Europe has been the new value of public opinion. European and United States public opinion is against war and for the first time in history the voice of public opinion is heard above the selfish whines of ammunition manufacturers and insane trouble makers.

DISCOVERIES

Science will list 1934 as the year in which artificial radio activity was discovered. It was found last year that any substance that if bombarded by sub-atomic particles under the proper conditions, could be made to give off rays like those of radium. Medical men who use radium to arrest cancer will appreciate this discovery. The discovery may lead to new knowledge of the nature of the atom—and perhaps a means of releasing atomic energy.

In 1934 for the first time the genes (tiny carriers of heredity located in the chromosomes of the living cells) had their picture taken. Before this time they were not visible under the microscope. New glasses and solutions made them visible.

Medical men last year discovered a successful way of preventing the disease infantile paralysis. Prof. Einstein waddled out before 450 members of the American Association of Science and declared that "matter is bottled energy."

ASTRONOMY

The year 1934 was a big year for astronomers. They learned that the number of stars in the galaxy was far greater than they had ever imagined, but that the dimension of the galaxy was smaller. They also solved the problems of the moon's composition and the atmospheres of the planets. Carnegie Institute now knows that the moon's surface is composed of pumice, a porous, froth-like volcanic glass. We now know that there is not enough oxygen on either Mars or Venus to support life. Jupiter has an atmosphere rich in ammonia.

SPORTS

Along Athletic Boulevard during 1934... the dramatic exhibitions staged by the brothers Dean, the drive of the American League baseball championship by the Tigers, the tipping over of tall boy Primo by movie-minded Baer, the capturing of the British and U. S. Amateur golf crowns by Californian W. Lawson Little, the winning of the U. S. woman's title in tennis for the third time by Helen Jacobs.

MIRACLE

In 1934 five babies were born to one set of parents—and all lived. The first case of its kind in history. An obscure reported was rocketed to fame because he "broke" the story, and a rearing little country doctor was made famous over night. The doctor, parents and reporter deserve little credit. All credit should go to Grandmother Nature who is and always has been the miracle provider.

PICTURES

In the last 12 months women have climbed new peaks. In filmland Garbo, Gable and Z Pitts have had to shove over and give the floor to five-year-old Miss Temple who acts more like a veteran than some of the oldsters.

Do you want your home town to go ahead? Then take hold and do a little pulling ahead yourself. Want your home town business to keep your home town people well employed? Then give that business your full support by buying your supplies at home. Want your business to grow? Then better demonstrate to the public, through advertising, that its good service, that it deserves such growth.

A politician cannot get elected without stating the reasons why he should get the votes. How can a business expect to be elected to success unless it tells the people the reasons why it should be patronized?

Quite a few children wouldn't be so bad if it weren't for the parents they have to live with. Other children wouldn't be so bad if their parents would stay at home long enough to live with them.

Whether one considers the world round, flat, square or crooked depends on the part he has bumped against.

The modern girl adores spinning wheels, but she wants four of them and a spare.

THE CASE OF THE RAILROADS

At the present session of the U. S. Congress one measure will be presented to the legislators that should provoke more than passing interest from our people generally. It is called H. R. Bill No. 8100, and its passage means life to the railroads, its defeat spells doom. Briefly, the measure calls for modification of the Fourth Section of the laws in force through the Interstate Commerce Commission, which prohibits the railroads from charging more for a shorter haul than for a longer haul over the same route without permission of the Commission.

FAIR PLAY IS ALL ASKED

The repealing or amending of this clause is sought so that the railroads might establish competitive rates with the steamship lines over water routes via the Panama canal in intercoastal traffic. In other words the roads desire to charge less for a long haul than a shorter haul when competitive conditions at distant points would justify, or make such action necessary.

It is fundamental that every function of the railroads is amenable to rules and regulations laid down by the I. C. C. Especially does this apply to rates charged from one point to another. Such regulatory measures, however, are foreign to the waterway carriers, the steamships. To sound-thinking, and fair-minded people this predicate is left-handed, and, directly or indirectly, leaves the gate wide open for unfair competition, with the railroads getting the worst of it, and with no means of defense—the only weapon they could use being taken away from them by the conditions of the Fourth Section. Modification, or repeal, of this section would place the railroads in position to make their own rates on a basis in keeping with the competitive methods of the unhindered carriers.

It would mean a larger volume of business for the railroads, the employment of more men, and a puff of prosperity that might well grow to appreciative proportions as the railroads recovered more and more of the business gradually lost to the steamship lines since the opening of the Panama canal. And all this would come to pass without in the least paralyzing, or even hurting the steamship lines.

Take the thing home. Not a single resident of Sanderson but can envision what prosperity to the railroads would mean locally. More trains, more men, more money, and a more rosier outlook for the future.

The railroads build up, and stay put—a big tax payer, and the sole support of many a rural school. Its employees, likewise, are builders and stayers. They build homes, support and are a part of every one of our local institutions. They are notorious for spending their earnings at home.

A comparison between these men and those of the steamship lines who, for the most part, lead a nomadic existence, could be made. But nothing would be gained thereby. The prosperity of the railroads would mean much to Sanderson and its people, and we should be interested in the fight they are making to unlace the shackles placed on them by the ICC regulations, and give them a fighting chance to compete for the business to which they are justly entitled.

The Times urges every citizen in Sanderson to write our senators and congressman and ask their support of H. R. Bill No. 8100. DO IT NOW!

Announcing

A new name for an old friend

ON JANUARY 1, 1935, the Community Public Service Company acquired the assets of Texas-Louisiana Power Company, which has rendered utility service in this city for the past several years.

The new company will continue to operate with the same facilities and the same personnel as at present. It will endeavor not only to live up to the high standards of service established by its predecessor, but will strive to offer a constantly improving service, while maintaining rates at a fair and equitable level.

Community Public Service Company fully realizes its obligation to the public which it serves and will endeavor to fulfill this obligation in a manner that will be satisfactory in every respect.

We look forward to a long and pleasant business relationship with the citizens of this community.

Mrs. James C. Sharp entertained with a luncheon-bridge at her home on Wednesday of this week, naming as her honor guest Mrs. T. M. Pyle of Van Horn. Other guests who enjoyed Mrs. Sharp's hospitality were Mesdames A. E. Creigh, Jr., Max Bogusch, Buck Pyle, Clyde Griffith, H. Laurence, Jim Kerr, and Bustin Canon.

IS HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON-BRIDGE

On Thursday, at her lovely ranch home, Mrs. Buck Pyle was hostess at a luncheon-bridge, given in honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. T. M. Pyle of Van Horn, who is her house guest.

Rebel Stands In Class By Himself

An extra-important member of the talented cast supporting Reb Russell in "Blazing Guns," the new Willis Kent Western which will be shown at the Princess theatre Monday night, is a four-footed actor—the celebrated horse, Rebel! The screen has known numerous equine stars, but none that excelled, or even equalled, Reb Russell's mount in intelligence and actual dramatic ability. Wait until you see Rebel galloping down the trail alone, actually tracking his master with the certainty of a bloodhound on a hot scent. Wait until you see him lend his resourceful aid to free Reb from the noose would-be lynchers have placed around his neck. Wait until you see all his other marvelous feats duly performed, and you will agree that there's only one Rebel, whether in or out of movieland.

B. & B. FOREMAN, T. & N. O. DIES AT VALENTINE

Bob Lee, B. & B. foreman for the T. & N. O. railroad, and who, for many years, made Sanderson his home, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning in Valentine, where he had been stationed with his crew. Mr. Lee was apparently in good health Monday night, as he was in the dispatcher's office in Valentine at 11 o'clock, and did not complain of feeling ill in any way.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT BISBEE, ARIZ., HOSPITAL

Word was received here Tuesday afternoon by Fred Savage telling of the death of I. E. (Shorty) Gartin, which occurred that morning in a Bisbee, Arizona, hospital. Mr. Gartin, for many years, was a resident of Sanderson, being engaged in the ranching business, owning at the time the ranch now owned by John Caruthers. After leaving here he went to Arizona, locating at Winkelman, where for a number of years he was interested in the mining business.

Mrs. E. H. McCright and little daughter, Dolores, returned Tuesday from a holiday visit with relatives in Anson and Fort Worth.

METHODIST CHURCH

Some one with a flair for mathematics figured that 95% of the energy used in making a crop comes from God—sun, soil, rain, seeds, power, machinery—all come from God. God gives the raw materials for man's use; man can only take what God has given and fashion the materials anew. Not a grain of sand, not a particle of ore, not a splinter of lumber can man himself create. "The Christian Stewardship of Life" will be the subject Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Mrs. Underwood's class of junior boys will be in charge of the Sunday school worship service at 9:45. We are making the effort to double the Sunday school attendance. Subject of the Sunday evening service at 7:30, "A Starred Conscience." Epworth League at 6:45. Leader, Mildred Underwood. The study class in worship meets Wednesday at 7:30. S. M. MIMS, Pastor.

Helpful Household Hints

By BETTY WEBSTER

Why not have a rose tea party? January is such a cold month and roses sound so nice and summery. For the hostess that needs a new tea set there are delicate pink glass or rosy luster ones which will make the simplest affair into a festive occasion. If she doesn't want a new one, any white service may be used for, with the exception of the beverage, the refreshments carry out the rose theme.

Perhaps the most unique of the rose colored accessories is the sugar which may be colored at home with almost any pure vegetable dye or can be done by your confectioner. Of course, candied rose petals and pink patties are essential and small cubes of cake frosted in pink and white add much to the attractiveness of the party.

If a maid serves, a dainty pink organdy apron will be most attractive over her black or white uniform and pink paper dollies on the tray and the plates will fit into the color scheme.

I say a tray of beautiful Venetian glass that looked good enough to eat!

And the colored confections you can get at the stores which make a specialty of unusual dainties.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

Windows ought never to be cleaned when the sun is shining on them because the glass will streak? White material can be kept from turning yellow by wrapping in blue paper? Cut flowers ought to be kept out of the wind?

The water should be changed daily on cut flowers? It is well to clip a small piece from the stem of each flower every time the water is changed?

RECIPES

Drip Coffee

A great many people, I have found have trouble in making good coffee. Of course, there are innumerable ways of brewing this seductive drink from the Turkish method which results in a sirupy liquid to the ancient boiling which is still clung to by a large number of otherwise up-to-date cooks.

The drip method, however, is the simplest, surest, purest and most economical method that I know. There are coffee pots especially manufactured for it but all that are really necessary are a covered pot of some kind and a bag (about three by six inches) of unbleached muslin. This bag should be wired to fit the top of the pot or fastened there in some manner (perhaps you have a better way).

Now to make the coffee. Have your coffee pulverized as fine as possible (until it is as fine as cocoa). The proportions to use are one rounding teaspoonful to each cup of water and one for the pot. The coffee is placed in the bag and the water, boiling, poured through it once. This method brings out the true flavor of the bean and does away with the poisonous tannic acid which is brought out if the coffee is boiled.

Shirley Takes a Bow In First Feature

Shirley Temple is certainly entitled to take a bow for her performance in "Baby Take a Bow," which opens at the Princess theatre tonight for a two-day run, January 11 and 12. The work of this five-year-old girl is really astonishing. She possesses the grace and intelligence of a grown person and a personality that will carry her far.

In "Stand Up and Cheer" she was delightful in a little sketch with James Dunn. In "Baby Take a Bow" she has an important part running the full length of the picture and she turns in a truly remarkable performance. She hasn't a trace of self-consciousness. Every gesture, every line is delivered with unstudied grace. She will steal your heart as soon as she comes on the screen.

And giving all this space to little Shirley is not to belittle the performances turned in by the grownup actors in the cast. James Dunn and Claire Trevor are excellent as little Shirley's parents. Alan Dinehart has his amusing moments as the blundering detective who is dogging Dunn's heels.

The picture is a comedy-drama centering around Shirley Temple and her young parents. Its theme is James Dunn's struggle for happiness in spite of the handicap of a prison record. Claire Trevor is the young wife who believes in him. Little Shirley is their adorable baby daughter who lends merriment to the action and turns the trick in the nick of time that makes her the heroine of the drama.

By all means see Shirley Temple in "Baby Take a Bow." It's a treat you owe yourself.

MRS. LOCHAUSEN'S MOTHER PASSES AWAY IN EL PASO

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of Kaster and Maxon, El Paso, for Mrs. Maud Baker Ross, 70, who died Sunday at Hotel Dieu in that city. The Rev. Aubrey B. Gregg officiated at the services, and interment was in Concordia cemetery.

Mrs. Baker was a pioneer resident of El Paso, having lived there since 1887. She was the widow of the late Capt. Robert C. Ross, Texas Ranger, and at one time police captain of El Paso, and a former deputy U. S. Marshal.

FORD V-8
FOR 1935

New Beauty and Comfort Zone Riding

THE new Ford V-8 for 1935 is here! It is not only new in appearance—with new streamlined body and luxury fitted interior. It introduces a new motorizing experience—Comfort Zone Riding.

The body of this new car is mounted on a new Full-floating Springbase. All passengers are cradled in the Comfort Zone between the springs. As a result even back seat passengers now enjoy "front seat riding comfort!"

Notice the many other new features of this Ford V-8 for 1935. More body room, with seats up to 5 1/4 inches wider. Safety glass all around at no extra cost. A luggage compartment in back of the rear seat. Bigger tires. New easy-acting brakes, and a clutch that will delight every woman who drives.

Remember—when you buy a Ford you get the basic advantages of a powerful V-8 engine, an all-steel safety body and the most economical car to operate Ford has ever built.

See this new Ford V-8 today.
