WOMAN JAILED ATTEMPTS TO KILL SELF

Is Arrested on Charge of Defrauding Hotel Here and Other Texas Towns

Commission OK's Hike in Freight Rates By R. R.

Austin, Aug. 6.—Railroads received permission from the Texas railroad commission today to increase rates on intrastate shipments to provide revenue to meet rising operating costs although the commission did not concur fully in advisability of the action.

An increase of 7 per cent in carload rates, not to exceed 5c per 100 pounds, with maximum of 1c to 4c on specified commodities, was allowed.

HAS ROOMING HOUSE

E. A. Blount motored to Del Rio last week end and purchased furniture which he is placing in the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Harry Sharp. The place will accommodate about nine roomers and is now ready, Mr. Blount stated this week.

COMMISSIONERS TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the county commissioners is scheduled for Monday, August 12 at which time regular routine business matters will be taken up and other items that may be brought before the court.

A woman placed in the Terrell county jail Thursday morning, on complaint charging she was trying to beat a hotel bill, and for threatening to kill Mrs. J. W. Downum, wife of the manager of the Kerr hotel here, was found later almost strangled to death by officers. The woman was found when Sheriff Steinmetz of Del Rio, asked to see the prisoner on the chance that he might identify her as the woman wanted in Val Verde county on a charge of trafficking in narcotics. On entering the cell-house her plight was discovered.

Makes Rope of Blanket
The woman, who appears to be about 40 years of age, had improvised a rope from one of the blankets in the cell. Stripping it and twisting it to size she tied one end over the cell bars and wrapped the other end about her neck. When found the woman was almost dead, her face horribly discolored. Quickly cutting her down the officers called a physician who rendered first aid treatment, and in a little while the woman was apparently all right.

The woman gave the doctor her name as Mrs. Bertha Chuzenberg but told contradicting stories in regard to her past life. One version told officers was that she was a nurse during the world war and that she had been in several government hospitals at different times receiving treatment for shell-shock.

Advices reveal the fact that she is wanted in San Antonio, Austin, and Fredericksburg on charges of defrauding hotels in those cities.

The following were present on Monday night when their names were called to receive a free pass, good for any night except Monday: Harvey Rogers, Marshall Cook and Griffith Lattimore.

CAR DAMAGED

A. F. Thrift and son, Raymond, returned last Saturday from San Antonio where they had motored on Wednesday. On Friday afternoon they had the misfortune of having their Hupmobile struck by another car as they were leaving San Antonio, and had to return to that city for repairs. The driver of the other car readily assumed responsibility for the collision and agreed to pay for the damage to the Thrift car.

104 New Laws Enacted By 44th Legislature Effective This Week

Austin.—Texas will have 104 new laws added to the already crowded statute books this week. Bills affecting public and private welfare in sundry ways will become laws Friday, the 90th day after adjournment of the legislature's regular session. The group constitutes about one-fourth of the bill crop of the 4-month meeting.

Thirteen of the laws will affect single counties, many of the 91 others, while general in terms, will apply to only small minorities. Still other will correct ambiguities and minor omissions in civil statutes.

Most important in interest and effect is the act creating a department of public safety as an agency to weld the ranger force and state highway patrol into a modernized state police system.

Bureaus of intelligence, communications, education, and identification and records will comprise the department. The rangers and highway patrol, retaining their identity, will form two of three departmental divisions—the third being the headquarters division.

Three commissioners of public safety will manage the department through a director. In advance of the acts becoming law, Governor Allred selected George W. Cottingham of Houston, Albert Sidney Johnson and Ernest Goens of Tyler to be commissioners.

Another new law for the safety of Texans will prohibit owners of livestock from permitting animals to run at large on highways with fenced right-of-way. Violators will face a fine of up to $200.

A new penal offense will be created, that of attempted burglary of a vessel, steamboat or

Two Arrested Accused Rifling Cash Drawer

Two youths, giving the names of Hugh Dallas and L. B. Burte, were taken from a westbound freight train about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and identified as the two persons seen coming from the local ice plant after it was discovered that about $1.30 was missing from the cash drawer.

After the train had been stopped a few miles west of here and the youths taken into custody, they were brought here by Sheriff Lee Cook, Deputy Jim Nance and Sheriff A. E. Steinmetz, who was here attending district court at the time the robbery was reported. The youths were placed in jail, but a search revealed only 10 cents between them, and this was wrapped in a handkerchief. Justice of the Peace Henry stated to the Times reporter.

After spending Monday night in jail the boys were given a lecture by the justice and told to leave town immediately and stay away.

The theft was discovered by Ben Estes, employed at the power plant of the Community Public Service company. The youths came to the plant which is located near the railroad tracks, and it is presumed the money was taken while Estes was waiting on an ice customer. They were seen leaving the plant by Clyde Morris local manager, who drove up to the plant about the time the theft was discovered.

NOTE—The Times, with the full cooperation of Gerald C. Mann, Secretary of State presents herewith a digest of Constitutional Amendments to be voted on at the special election in August. AMENDMENT NO. 5

Suspended Sentence or Probation Amendment

Proposition No. 5 on the ballot of the August 24th special election reads: "For (or Against) the Amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the courts to place defendants in probation."

Proponents claim that if this amendment is passed many who are now sent to the penitentiary for first offenses will be permitted to enjoy suspended sentences under restrictions of the court.

The only restrictions under the present suspended sentence law is the fact that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony—that is, a crime punishable by confinement in the penitentiary. The judge of court has no control nor can it set up or impose any other restrictions.

It is the understanding of those who have studied the amendment that if passed it would permit the legislature to pass laws giving the courts the right to suspend sentences and place defendants on such probation as the court might deem proper. In other words the court could suspend sentences subject to certain limitations. If those restrictions or limitations were not observed the court would have the authority to have the defendant committed to the penitentiary without further ado. Many courts now refuse to grant suspended sentences for the reason that they have no control over the defendant after the same is granted. It is also pointed out that this would prevent many first offenders from having to go to the penitentiary and reclaim many of them for society.

If a suspended sentence is given under the present law the only limitation is that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony. The court has no control over him nor can it impose other conditions.

Many Autoists Find Tires Unfit After Check-up

Thousands of automobile owners the country over are finding that their tires are unfit for the heat of summer driving conditions as a result of a checkup being made by tire dealers.

"In most cases, according to reports at the California offices of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., car owners themselves had not realized that their tire equipment was in need of replacement," declared W. J. Ferguson, local tire dealer.

"Our plan of making an absolute check of the tire's tread condition is by showing the customer an inked footprint of the tire, made by applying an inking medium to the tread and then running the tire over a white sheet of paper. Unmistakable evidence that tires either do or do not have a safe margin of tread and traction is plainly seen."

"In many cities local authorities have welcomed the checkup being made on tires in their area, because they realize that it helps reduce the number of accidents which are in the making with tires in need of replacement being driven on streets and highways."

Those who are not sure of the condition of their tires can have them footprinted at the Ferguson Motor company without any obligation. The evidence will be plain as to whether or not you can trust your tires on a hard drive in summer heat.

Properly Stowed Bags Add to Comfort

Comfort, pleasure, and safety on a tour depend largely on efficient loading of the luggage, and modern body designs have done much to ease the problem, as these views of Chevrolet models reveal. In the upper left view, the suitcases have been fitted in snugly, the adjustable front seat having been moved forward to allow extra leeway, and the driver is now pushing back the seat to clamp the bags in place for the day. Upper right, the tourist is utilizing the baggage space back of the rear seat. The two lower pictures show the loading of a coupe compartment and a sedan trunk.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin.—Members of the 44th legislature, who were criticized for their failure to enact much of the new tax program advocated when the session convened, took comfort from the action of the state automatic tax board in fixing the state tax rate for 1936 at 62 cents, a cut of 15 cents from the present maximum constitutional rate of 77 cents. Excellent condition of the school fund permitted the reduction, this fund absorbing all the cut. The auditors showed the anticipated Sept. 1 balance of the school fund to be $2,678,978 with an estimated income for the new year of around 22½ million dollars. The board anticipates a net deficit Sept. 1, 1935, of about 7½ millions, but the estimates are ordinarily pessimistic. The actual figures closely approximate the summary published in this column last January, which were used as a basis for the statement that no large sum of revenue from new or higher state taxes were necessary.

The Works Progress administration, newest baby of the federal alphabetical agency family is the center of interest among the public officials of Texas today. Through it the government hopes to get employable relief rollers permanently off the relief, and back on payrolls. In Texas 140,000—25,000 women and the remainder men—will be eligible for the work. Political minded local officials have been quick to see in WPA projects a golden opportunity, and they are going after the liberal federal grants vigorously. The extent to which Texas benefits permanently from the enormous spending of tax moneys which the WPA program involves, depends upon how closely local officials observe—or are forced by H. P. Drought, state WPA director, to observe—one provision of the law, which says that all approved projects, whenever "practical and feasible," shall be done under the contract system.

If contracts are let on construction, road building and similar WPA projects, under which responsible contractors post bond to guarantee completion of the job at stipulated prices, using relief labor, of course, local communities will finish the program with many roads, buildings, sewage disposal plants, and other permanent improvements, paid for out of the huge federal relief appropriation, that will serve them for generations to come. If, on the other hand, local authorities are unwilling to be satisfied with the political capital they can make by obtaining liberal WPA appropriations for the communities, but are greedy and want to parcel out the jobs on a day labor basis for political purposes, the Texas landscape is almost certain to be decorated for years to come with the skeletons of half-finished projects which will do no good for anybody except the people who collect wages for a few weeks or months.

The efficacy of the contract system, as opposed to the political force-account system, was beautifully demonstrated last year by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, which had a $2,000,000,000 road building appropriation to spend, and made an actual test in every state in the union. Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the bureau, testified before a house committee that the 48 test jobs, where a contract job and a force-account job were done side by side in every state, showed it cost an average of 30 per cent more to build roads by the political system than it did by the contract system. Citizens and editors who hope to see their communities profit by the WPA program should investigate the method favored by the local officials before the money is spent.

Col. E. O. Thompson chairman of the railroad commission, is a master of gentle sarcasm. He likes to exercise this gift when he takes the opposite view to that of public utility officials, as he frequently does. At the recent hearing in Austin to fix an allowable gas production for Texas wells, following enactment of the law to halt gas waste, a gas company attorney was cross-examining "Cap" Stanley, ex-chief of the commission's oil and gas division. Stanley had filed a long and technical affidavit, containing his findings concerning gas potential in the Panhandle field. It disagreed with the claims of the gas companies, and the attorney tried futilely to get Stanley to admit the affidavit meant certain things that it didn't say. Everybody was tired and bored by the cross-examination. Finally Thompson said to Stanley: "Is the affidavit written in the English language, Mr. Stanley?" "It sure is, Colonel," answered Stanley.

"Well, then," remarked Thompson, "let's end this cross-examination. If it is in English, as Mr. Stanley says, it is quite possible the commission can read the affidavit and understand what it means."

The hearing promptly broke up.

This column salutes Jno. Boyle of San Antonio who has proved over and over again that he is the friend of the press of Texas. He did it when the Texas senate tried to penalize a reporter who printed secrets that a member of the senate revealed to him, by a brilliant speech in defense of the reporter's right to print news that he had a right to print. Boyle did it again when he resigned from Walter Woodul's Centennial commission of control, declaring he would not remain a member of a commission that appointed an advertising advisory committee "without a newspaperman on it." To the press gallery in Austin, John Boyle is the No. 1 hero, and he rightfully deserves to be.

104 NEW LAWS—

railroad car. Law enforcement against this type of crime has been difficult, for only effected burglaries instituted a violation.

Venue for murder trials will be broadened by another act. A person charged with murder may, by the act, be tried in the county where the body was found, as well as in the county where the fatal injury was done or death occurred.

To enable a closer study of convicts' behavior and records, the board of pardons and paroles will be moved to Huntsville, site of the main prison, while another act will give prison guards a substantial salary boost.

Two businesses will be added to those under state regulation, but restrictions on a third will be relaxed slightly.

Funeral directors will be licensed and supervised by the board of embalming, while transportation agents, who conduct travel bureaus, will be regulated by the railroad commission.

Restrictions on nurses' training schools will be modified to permit such schools in small hospitals. That act will reduce the minimum size of hospitals permitted to conduct schools from that previously set by the board of nurse examiners.

Depression period refinancing by sundry sub-divisions will be aided by several bills validating issuance of bonds and tax levies, while another relief act will cancel all ad valorem taxes delinquent prior to Dec. 31, 1929. It will effectuate a constitutional amendment adopted several years ago.

Another hard time bill will expand the items of family property exempt from forced sale for payment of debts. Property so exempt henceforth will include not only the family homestead and kitchen pots and pans, along with a cemetery lot, two horses and a wagon, but also "one dog" as well as wearing apparel, "twenty head of goats" and flocks of chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese and guineas.

Texts for teaching the German language, expunged from Texas high schools during the World War, again will enter the approved list for which the text-book commission may make adoptions. The act will also permit adoption of texts for teaching Czech.

Fight Communism

A new law to safeguard patriotism in schools will become effective concurrently. Because of evidences of Communism and other un-American doctrines were being taught, Texas teachers in the future must swear allegiance to the constitution of Texas and the United States.

Three years will be added to the maximum age of persons given free tuition in schools, and another act affecting the educational system will permit consolidation of tax assessing, collecting and legal departments of two or more independent school districts.

The southern states "Jim Crow law" will be extended to motor buses, which will be required to provide separate accommodations for negroes. Segregation of the white and blacks may be effected by compartments within a coach.

In the field of political campaigns costs will rise for residents of large counties who aspire to become a representative or senator. County executive committees may charge a candidate up to $50, instead of a $1 maximum, to place his name on the ballot.

Stricter regulations also will apply to political advertising, for signatures of persons or parties authorizing its publication must be attached.

Devastating wind and dust storms in the Texas Panhandle last spring will make their mark in statute books.

County wide wind erosion conservation districts may be created for anti-dust storm work. Properties aided may be assessed pro-rata costs, while 1935 and 1936 state property taxes will be remitted in Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Sherman and Moore counties. One-half of the taxes will be released for the work in Lipscomb, Hansford and Ochiltree counties.

To facilitate condemnation of land for highway purposes, the state highway commission will have authority to institute such suits. By the act the commission will hold an upper hand over the county commissioners who, dissatisfied with a location, refuse to assist in obtaining a right-of-way.
