Column Right

Back on the job after several weeks layoff. Want to thank the many readers who said they enjoyed this column. We don't, and don't mind telling you so. Had a glorious Christmas holiday—it's rather late to tell about that, but was unusual. Went to Belen, N. M. and when old Mother Nature heard we were there, she proceeded to make our stay interesting by putting on a series of earthquakes. Had 26 in one day. Never worried us a bit. There were worse things than earthquakes. Got to see snow, and Santa Claus to our grand, or great-grandchildren. It was a grand and glorious holiday!

Our good women, anxious that Sanderson has on its best bib and tucker when the Centennial visitors start trekking over the state, are pleading with the commissioners for an enforcement of the lock law. At a recent meeting the subject was discussed pro and con, and left in status quo when I was said and done. Why both with cows, horses and divers vestock, who do nothing more than ruin the result of years of labor overnight. Looking at the ticks and rills on which this fine city is built we have come to the conclusion that anybody who cultivates grass and flowers is certainly entitled to full protection in their preservation.

The backwardness of Sanderson in civic affairs is way above average. No functioning C. C. or other organization that does things to bring the town in the limelight. Locally we have no organization who work deserving approbation and cooperation—the P. T. A. and the American Legion. Was afraid Sanderson was going to muffle celebration of the President's birthday. But no; for once a few live ones come to bat and the affair, with all the trimmings will be pulled off next Thursday night, January 30th. Let's be there—its the benefit of children doomed to a life of misery on account of mad infantile paralysis. Your cooperation at this dance will be step in stamping out this insidious plague.

Making a fire each morning entails the duty of emptying ashes, not a pretentious heap—in its hardly noticeable. But a few weeks ago that little heap, which can be removed with two scoopsful, was a ton of 2-2000 pounds—more or less, depends on who is selling it. How life. Many there are whose ambition is to wield the scepter of power, unyielding, overbearing, when comes the Grim Reaper, they yawn, swallows him and are not even an ash heap. So, mightily good practice to keep mind at all times the Golden Rule—"Do ye—". Well, we can't quote it, but we can sure practice it.

The action of the New Jersey governor in granting a stay of execution to Bruno Richard Hauptmann did one good thing. It gave the Idle's Club something to argue about for several weeks. To those who followed the case even usually, there is left no room for doubt as to his guilt. Others may be implicated. So what? That no defense for Bruno.

The Prince of Wales, while he is the Prince, could marry anybody he wanted, provided it was a man. Now his choice simmers down to five princesses, whose pictures appeared in yesterday's daily papers. If we were in his place we'd pick that slim one on the end.

The similarity of names may give something to do with the action of the New Jersey governor. Hoffman and Hauptmann. At that he cannot give no clear reason why he did not let the law take its course. Chances are he believes the Lindbergh child died the whooping cough.

Saw an advance account of the extra fashionable bathing suits for the other day. We can't get to details. Our only wish is our sight don't fail us until 1938.

It's got to be a grand steeplechase as to who is the biggest fisherman, golfer, or Italian or Ethiopian general.

THIS WEEK IN Texas History

Week of January 19

1824—To introduce a more uniform system, Stephen F. Austin published a set of "Instructions and Regulations for the Alcaldes" on Jan. 22. This constituted a brief civil and criminal code.

1836—Col. Francis W. Johnson arrived at Refugio on Jan. 20 and informed Gen. Houston that the council had deposed of Gov. Henry Smith, and had appointed Col. Jas. Fannin and himself agents to raise troops and invade Mexico by taking Matamoros.

1858—On Jan. 20 Gov. Hardin R. Runnels, in a message to the legislature recommended that resolutions be passed declaring the sentiment of the people of Texas in regard to the aggressions being made upon institutions of the South.

1860—Gov. Sam Houston called a special session of the state legislature on Jan. 21 for a discussion of state trouble with the Union.

Birthday Dance To be Held Here Night of Jan. 30

Plans have been completed for the president's birthday ball, according to D. L. Duke, who this year is chairman for Terrell county.

The ball will be given on the night of Thursday, Jan. 30 at the Masonic hall. The McGonigill orchestra, a snappy 8-piece dance orchestra from Alpine has been secured to play for the dance, to start promptly at 8:30, Mr. Duke stated. Tickets for the dance will be $1.50.

The object of these birthday balls, which will be held throughout the nation, is to create funds to help victims of infantile paralysis, and to aid in research work to eventually wipe out this disease. Seventy per cent of the proceeds from the ball will be kept in this community, the remaining 30% will be turned over to the national committee for the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Similar balls given in this city in the past have had good support with good crowds attending, and fairly good sums cleared after expenses were paid. It is to be hoped that Sanderson does as well this year, and that a large attendance will be at the dance in support of this worthy cause.

Grand Jury Panel For Sessions to Start January 27

The following is the list of those who have been summoned as grand jurors for the regular January term of district court which convenes here Monday morning, January 27:

N. M. Scott, C. H. Arvin, E. B. Carson, Tom Seale, H. V. Cox, Walter Grigsby, James Kerr, Joe F. Brown, Lee McCue, C. B. Cochran, M. P. Lester and Roy Barksdale.

A list of petit jurors was not available as the Times went to press.

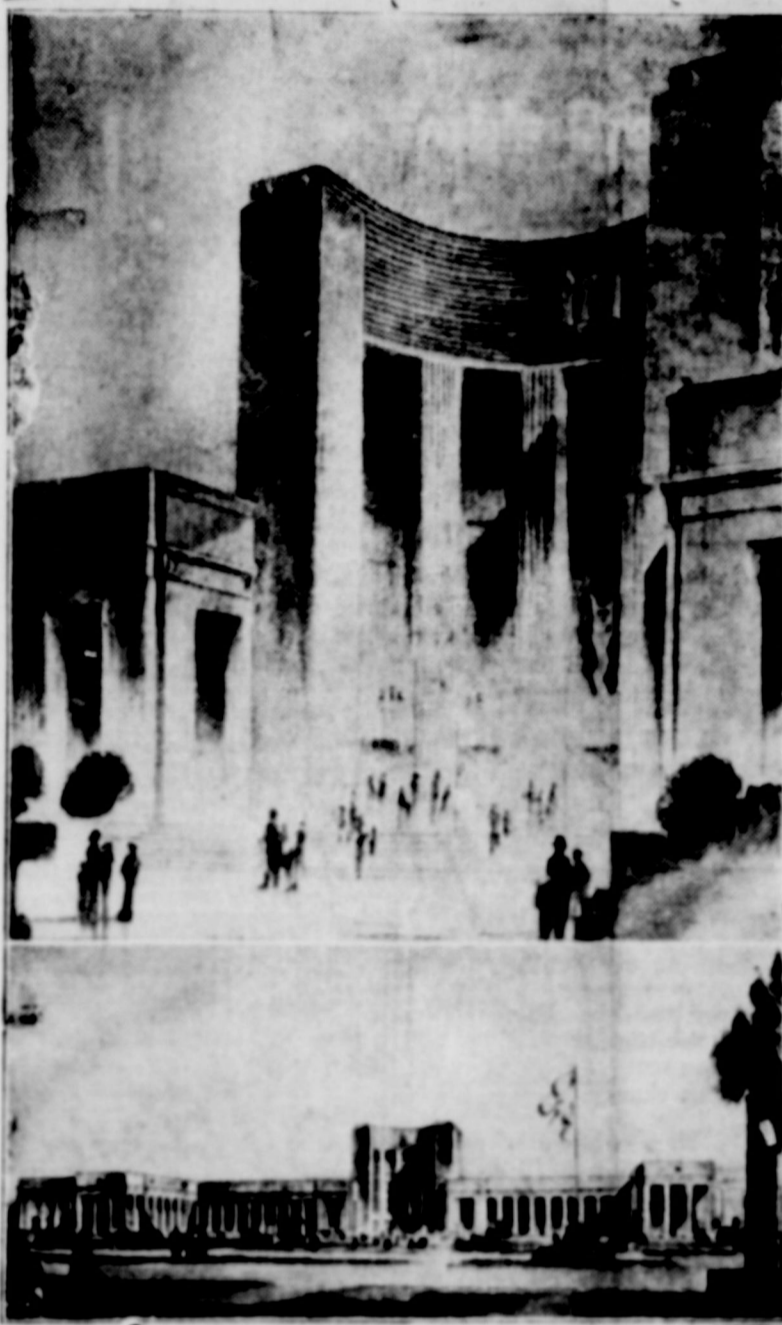

Slight Pickup In Payment of Poll Taxes Last Week

A gain of 129 poll taxes were recorded since last Thursday, according to a statement from the office of the tax collector.

At Thursday noon 273 poll tax receipts had been issued, which, however, is far below the average of what is termed an "election year." Exemptions during the week totaled five.

American farmers receive a bigger cash return from the sale of chickens and eggs than from either corn or wheat.

Texas Centennial Hall of State

The glories of Texas will be paraded before the eyes of millions of visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas in the great State of Texas building now under construction. Architects' conceptions of the facade and complete structure, shown above, give some idea of the magnificence of the project. Situated at the end of a beautiful esplanade of flags, the $1,200,000 building will afford one of the most breath-taking vistas at the Central Exposition of the Texas Centennial celebrations, opening June 6.

Third Dimension Film at Princess

Ranger District Changes in West Tex. Announced

On Friday and Saturday, January 31 and Feb. 1, there will be shown at the Princess Theatre the new principle third dimension sound film.

The title is "Audioskopis," and is a one-reel novelty which requires the use of special 2-tone spectacles, which will be furnished by the management to patrons on both nights. The third dimension creates unusual illusions, making the players appear to step from the screen and do all sorts of unusual and mystifying things.

Farming Shows An Increase Over Other Years

According to an announcement from the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, at Washington, there is a decrease in the number of sheep and cattle in Terrell county. The report is taken from the farm census taken in this county the first part of 1935 and the released report is as follows:

Terrell county, Texas, is primarily a grazing area, with 1,431,568 acres of farm and ranch lands used for grazing in 1934 and with crops harvested from only 251 acres. According to preliminary figures for the 1935 federal farm census released by Director William L. Austin, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce fewer sheep and cattle, including cows and heifers two years old and over, were reported in 1935 than in 1930.

On January 1, 1935, the number of sheep in Terrell county was 273,686, or 77,477 fewer than the number reported as of April 1, 1930. The number of cattle was 6,499, or 2,448 fewer than in 1930.

Corn comprised 140 acres of the 251 acres of crop land harvested in 1934. Hay and sorghums for forage accounted for 61 acres, and oats for 40 acres.

Terrell county had 128 farms and ranches on Jan. 1, 1935. Their average size was 11,200 acres and their average value $71,841.

The 1935 figures for this and for similar releases for all counties and the state are preliminary and subject to revision.

Clyde Morris, manager of the local branch of the Community Public Service Co., was a business visitor to the district office, Pecos, last Sunday, and was accompanied by his son, Charley.

Light Docket for January Term of District Court

The January term of the 63rd Judicial District court will open here Monday, Jan. 27, with Judge Brian Montague of Del Rio presiding.

A very light criminal and civil docket faces the court and unless several indictments are brought in by the grand jury, it is probable that the court will not be in session for its full term of three weeks.

Of the four cases on the civil docket three are for divorce as follows: Lee A. Cook vs. Alma Cook, Frances Breg vs. John Breg, and Francisco Arrendondo vs. Encarnacion Ponce Arrendondo. The other civil case is one for foreclosure of lien, C. H. Arvin et al vs. J. M. Corder et al.

The following are the criminal cases continued from the July term of court:

The State of Texas vs. Beasie Sharp, two indictments charging administration of poison with intent to kill.

The State of Texas vs. Enrique Cervantes and Raul Espinosa, indicted for receiving and concealing stolen property.

The State of Texas vs. M. N. Bobo charged with possession, and transportation of intoxicating liquor.

State of Texas vs. Harvey Anderson, indicted for burglary.

The State of Texas vs. Lee J. Starling, S. H. Mead, L. H. Bowie, W. M. Vick, and A. P. Garber, indicted for felony theft and swindling.

The grand jury has been summoned to appear Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and the petit jury is summoned to appear on Thursday morning.

R. D. Holt Chosen To Head Public Schools, 1936 - 37

At a meeting held last Friday by the members of the school board, R. D. Holt was re-elected to serve as superintendent of the Sanderson public schools for the 1936-37 term.

Mr. Holt is now serving his first term as superintendent, coming here from Eldorado, where he was head of schools in that city for eight years. During the time he has been here many worthwhile and progressive changes have been made in our school.

The school board is to be congratulated on re-electing such a splendid man to head our schools for the coming year.

League Sets Age Limit at 19 Years For Competition

The age limit for participation in activities of the University of Texas Interscholastic League was increased to 19 years, as a result of a referendum vote by member school. This announcement was made by the executive committee last Saturday. The schools also voted to retain the 8-semester rule.

The referendum was ordered when schools protested the action of the committee last May in reducing the age limit from 20 to 18. The 18-year-old limit would have become effective next September.

Strong opposition to the 18-year age limit was voiced last November at a section meeting of the league in San Antonio. Many football and basketball coaches and superintendents asserted it would result in scores of worthy students leaving school because they were denied the privilege of interscholastic competition. The group favoring the 18-year limit contended it was unfair to pit boys who progressed normally against the older ones in interschool contests.

Out of 1,065 ballots received 499 expressed a first choice preference for the 19-year limit retaining the 8-semester rule.

TOURISTS THICK

On three different nights last week and one this week hotel accommodations were at a premium and "Filled Up" signs stared at potential guests. No definite reason was given for the situation except that there are more cars on the highways and more people are traveling now than formerly.

VISIT LOCAL OFFICE

District manager Martin Michel, Martin Michel, district manager, Les Bevels of the meter and technical department, and Bond Bradford, of the accounting department of the division office of the Community Public Service Company at Pecos, were business visitors in Sanderson Thursday.

MITCHELLS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and son C. C., returned Sunday from San Antonio where they had been for several weeks. Mr. Mitchell, who underwent medical treatment in that city at the Nix hospital, is doing fine and his friends are glad to see him able to be around town again. He states he is feeling fine. Accompanying them home for a visit was Mrs. W. I. Preddy, who will be remembered as Miss Nora Boykin, a cousin of Mrs. Mitchell, and who visited here in 1920-21.

RECUPERATING

W. C. Durbon, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Del Rio hospital recently, was able to return to his home here Monday. Mr. Durbon is feeling fine, but it will be some time before he will be able to return to his duties in the car department of the T. & N. O. shops.

Dryden - Sheffield Road is One of Projects

San Angelo.—Inclement weather will hold no fears for West Texas ranchers and farmers when present lateral road projects, under supervision of the Works Progress Administration, are finally completed. John C. Burnside, district director, pointed out a current project in Upton county as a fair sample of shortening of distances and improving travel facilities over the district. A road project to the top of King Mountain, on which is located a producing oil field, will cut distance required for overland hauling considerably when completed. Construction equipment from McCamey had to be hauled for distances up to 40 miles to reach the field location. When the new road is completed the distance required to reach the field will be cut to a mere five miles. New oil wells are being drilled along the new route now.

Another area to be greatly benefited is the vast expanse of beautiful ranching country between Fort Stockton, in Pecos county, and Sonora in Sutton county, a distance of 200 miles, two of the units in District 19. Stockmen in this area have been unable to get a short route to rail outlets. A new WPA project that is sponsored by Terrell county, Still another unit in the district, is now surveying a new road from Dryden to Sheffield, a distance of 60 miles, which will give this vast ranching country more connections with two of the main trunk lines. Actual construction of this road, to be completed by county work, will furnish the ranchmen outlets to eastern as well as the larger Texas markets. Inter-county travel between Highways 3 and 27 will be cut many miles by this new route.

Very few persons in Tom Green county, another unit of District 19, will be unable to reach a good school, marketing place or church in any sort of weather, when the new county-wide program if improvement to lateral roads is finished. The program consists of 162 miles of better roads for, 82 miles of this road will be of concrete, with 20 miles of paving and when the work is completed thru aid of federal funds, the isolated class of people will have an open road to market, to church and to school.

Marketing benefits will accrue to more than 100 families in Pecos County when improvements to roads in the Leon farm section is completed. This road, which will be eight miles long, opens an approach to the markets for owners of 3,500 acres of the best farming land in West Texas. This road goes to all parts of this farming section and the producers will have an all-weather route to bring the cotton, hay and other foodstuffs, as well as cattle and sheep, to the markets at any time.

Director Burnside pointed out the benefits to be derived from the many WPA projects and cited these farm-to-market roads as examples of the work done by federal funds, as well as the many improvements on school and parks, and paved city streets. He also explained that more than 1500 relief clients had been placed at work in district 19 with jobs open for the remaining few persons who have not taken a place on the constructive program.

The end of direct relief has forced many of the clients into the ranks of workers, said Mr. Burnside, and he expects to have a job for every relief client who wishes to go to work.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

Austin.—The members of the legislature want to hold another special session right away. The large taxpayers and the business interests, particularly, don't want a session. The people generally are indifferent. The people who expect or hope to collect an old-age pension want the session to remove doubt about their being money available to begin their payment July 1.

There remains a tremendous volume of investigation and check up work to be done, after Feb. 14, when the old age pension law becomes effective before any payments can be made. The best estimates are that no payments can be made before July, and possibly the beginning date will be considerably later.

Liquor licenses and taxes probably will provide sufficient funds to pay maximum pensions to all entitled to them for several months after they start provided present estimates are not too inaccurate.

There is probably no other public business that would justify calling a special session if the pension problem can be worked out until the next regular session, in January, 1937.

This summarized the status of the special session matter over the week end, at which time no definite decision had been reached by Gov. Allred.

Those close to the governor believe that he wants, if at all possible, to avoid the session. If it becomes necessary, in his judgment, to hold the session, he probably will call it as soon as possible, and get it out of the way before the political campaign opens up, so the legislators will not waste too much time with political "investigations" and other matters with political implications. They believe he fears possible calamity if he should abandon the idea of a session now, and it later developed, between August and January, that a revenue session was imperative. A "lame duck" legislature, with many of its members already defeated for re-election, might pass a sales tax law—the last thing the governor wants.

Few Texans who have lived in our times have left behind them more useful or more enduring monuments to their public service than the late David F. Colp, of San Antonio, until recently chairman of the state park board. When Gov. Pat Neff named him as first chairman of the board, Texas had but a single significant state park. Due largely to his enthusiasm and zeal, the system has grown into hundreds of thousands of acres, embracing hundreds of individual parks—many in a highly developed state. Colp retired as chairman of the board a few months ago, being succeeded by Wendell Mayes, of Brownwood, but he continued his interest in the work in behalf of parks. Coming generations of Texans will enjoy the fruits of his labors, as the state settles up and open spaces are at a premium. The work he began will go on, but it was the vision of Colp that created the state park system in Texas, and his untiring work that made it a reality.

The death last week of another man, whom most Texans knew only as a kindly, cheery voice on the radio marked the passing of another whose labors profoundly affected the lives of millions of citizens of the Lone Star State. He was Samuel L. Rothafel, "Roxy" of the radio, the man who changed the motion picture theatre from a drab nickelodeon into a center for entertainment, education, culture. His super-theatres were built in New York, but their influence spread to the remotest hamlet in West Texas, and helped to make the movies a vital part of the daily lives of millions, instead of a novelty to be viewed occasionally. Under Roxy's influence the movie evolved into a community center,

Health Letter

Austin.—If Texas is going to entertain millions of visitors during the great Centennial celebration and have them think kindly of us, then every citizen must insist on complete sanitation, declared Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

Cities should see that their water systems are free of contamination, that proper sewage facilities are available, and that all public eating places and rooms are spotlessly clean.

Dr. Brown further stated: "Every home owner should start now to clean and beautify his yards, this would include also sanitating of water supplies and having the proper toilet facilities. The state department of health will furnish plans upon request.

"Many counties may secure labor for malaria control and rural sanitation. It is hoped that full advantage of this will be taken and that cities are kept sanitary in order that the celebration of one hundred years of independence will not be marred by any epidemic."

The X-ray, taken by Dr. A. E. Robertson, Fort Stockton dentist, showed a slight dislocation at the joint, and will be an aid to future treatment. Previous treatments were given on the supposition that the muscles at this point were badly wrenched.

Mrs. A. F. Thrift and son, Raymond, were here last Friday from Fort Stockton.

"Rendezvous Is Packed Full of Thrills, Action"

The startling dramatic story of the famous American Black Chamber, as told by the man who organized and headed it throughout the World War, is brought to the screen for the first time in M-G-M's new picture, "Rendezvous," which will be shown at the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday, January 24 and 25.

When Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer began looking for a star for "Rendezvous," it was improbable that any star could fill the role better than William Powell.

As Joel Carter, daughter of the Assistant Secretary of War, Miss Russell handles her role as Powell's heart interest with an unforgettable charm and finish.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

Denton. — How many women give no thought and very little attention to the appearance of their eyes? So many have remarked "Eyes are just eyes, and there's nothing you can do to improve them," that the statement has become fixed in the minds of people, and the idea of using eye makeup seems frivolous.

Girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) maintain that eyebrow grooming does wonders. Not plucking to a thin, harassed line, but simply making the most of the natural line.

Miss Willie Mae Green went to El Paso last Saturday night where she visited this week with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lewellen were visitors in San Antonio over the week end, Mr. Lewellen having some dental work done in that city while there.

PRACTICAL COOKERY

By the Home Economics Dept. Texas State College for Women

Denton (CIA)—Last week we spoke of dried fruits as a good mid-winter food item. That discussion in turn brings to mind the use of dried legumes, for they too are an economical source of food elements.

Many pantries contain a nice variety of home-dried peas and beans, or they are available at a low price in all groceries.

Breakfast: Stewed apricots, soft boiled eggs, whole wheat, coffee, milk. Luncheon: Baked lima beans, Harvard beets, turnip greens, celery hearts, corn muffins, cocoa.

RECIPES Baked Lima Beans 1/2 pound dried lima beans. 1/2 (No. 2 can) tomatoes. 1/2 teaspoon sugar. 1/4 teaspoon salt. 1 small onion, minced. 2 slices bacon, chopped. 2 hard boiled eggs, chopped. Pepper. Soak beans overnight. Boil until tender.

Good Lighting Does This... to your evening paper

YOU may not realize it, but reading a newspaper in poor light is a hard visual task. The combination of small type on newsprint makes for poor visibility. Good lighting can greatly improve this.

You'll enjoy your newspaper more with good lighting. To reduce otherwise annoying contrasts be sure to have other lights burning in the room.

NEW MUSIC FOR BAND

The high school band has received fourteen new overtures, a new book of marches, and other combinations of music.

Eagle Cagers to Compete in the Ozona Tourney

Coach Smith and his Eagle will leave this morning for their third invasion of the Ozona tournament to be held today and tomorrow at Ozona high school.

The first year, 1934, the Eagles attended this tournament they brought home all the honors. Last year they won the consolation trophy. This year they are very strong contenders again for all the honors.

Si Mussey made all-tournament guard in 1934 and 1935, but this year he will remain at home due injuries received during the football season.

The Iran team is defending champions in the Ozona tournament. There are not many schools to be represented, but it was not possible to learn the names of the school who will be represented at the Ozona tournament this year.

The main feature of this tournament is a game between the coaches. The coaches from west of the Pecos will play coaches on the east side of the Pecos river.

Coach Smith plans to take four veteran members of the team—Lochhausen, Halley, Deaton and Sullivan. It is doubtful yet whether Appel or Bogusch will start as guard in Mussey's place.

All the schools to be represented at this tournament drew for opponents in the preliminary tilts to be played Friday. The finals in all games will be played Saturday.

Senior Chosen as Candidate for the Washington Trip

Mary Ferguson was the senior girl chosen to represent Sanderson high school as a candidate for a trip to Washington, D. C., as a guest of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The high school students voted by secret ballot on their preference of the seven senior girls last week. Mary Ferguson, Lois Taylor and Anna Lee Allen received the largest number of votes. On Wednesday Supt. R. D. Holt drew by lot Mary Ferguson's name from the three, the members of the faculty being present at this drawing.

Mary's name will be sent to the district supervisor, Miss Sue B. Mann, at Alpine, with name from other first-class high schools in the district. Miss Mann will draw one name by lot, and that name will be sent to the State Superintendent at Austin. One name from each of the 23 supervision school districts will be sent to the State Superintendent. He will draw a name by lot and that name will be the name of the girl from Texas to make the trip to Washington.

Mary is chairman of the decorative committee in the senior class, does active work in dramatics and plays snare drum in the band. She has attended school in Sanderson all her school days.

HOW TO HELP YOUR CHILD

At this time of the school year when the mid-term reports are made and there is available an actual count of the number of students who are failing in Sanderson public schools, the following suggestions are made to parents to help students succeed in school. The suggestions, "How to Help Your Child Succeed in School" are the courtesy of the United Parents Association of the Greater New York Schools, Inc.

Arrange breakfast and lunch hours so that there will be no rushing at home or to school. Encourage punctuality and regular attendance, not permitting trifles to interfere.

See that the children are dressed simply, neatly, modestly and suitably, in accordance with the weather. Insist upon children under 14 having at least ten hours sleep.

Find out how much time should be devoted to home work, and see that it is done. Provide a quiet place for home study, with good light and ventilation.

Prevent interruptions as far as possible. Show an interest in the children's school work, athletics, and other activities. Visit the classroom during American Education week, and at other times, for a better understanding of conditions.

Do not criticize the teachers or school at all within the children's hearing. Always hear both sides of every question and ask the teacher about it. Instill in the children habits of obedience and respect for authority.

Picture the school as a happy, desirable place, rather than as one children should dread. Keep in mind that the school offers unlimited opportunities to those who take advantage of them—parents as well as pupils. Plan to meet the other patrons of the school. It will help you to understand your children better. Mothers should arouse the interest of fathers in the school activities and get their cooperation. If there is a parent-teacher association in your children's school join it. If there is not, why not form one? Intelligent cooperation brings splendid results to all.

Basketball News

Sanderson Defeats McCamey
The Sanderson high school Eagles defeated the McCamey Hi Badgers Friday night, January 17. This proved to be a very close game, and Sanderson was lucky to nose them out by a three-point margin, 26 to 23.

Elton Halley starred in this game, and was high point man, with 17 points. Hoffman, of the visitors, led the Badger attack with 11 points.

The game was sort of a "get back" as the Badger squad gave Sanderson its only defeat during the football season.

B Team Downs Marathon
The B team of Sanderson high school defeated the A team of the Marathon high school, with 27 points to spare. The final score was 38 to 11.

Jack Bogusch and Lloyd Gant were the stars of this game played Friday, at 6:30. Sanderson won from Marathon in every game played in the last few years. Now the B team plays them and come through undefeated.

Take Two From Rankin
Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the Eagles tangled with Rankin's basketball team, winning the first game from the visitors by a score of 28 to 11, and at night made it two in a row by beating them 31 to 19. Elton Halley and Lochhausen were star goal throwers in this particular game.

The B team played the entire last quarter of the first game with Rankin, and most of the final quarter in the night game. Those on the B team are Jack Bogusch, Albert Appel, Bob Lea, Pat Harris and Lloyd Gant.

Popular Song Hit Hits High School

The new song hit, "Music Goes Round and Around" has proved very popular among the Sanderson high school students. Between periods while walking down the hall, one may hear some one humming or singing the song. Even the teachers have to call the students down in class, just because they are humming it.

Before band rehearsal begins, everyone that can play "Music Goes Round and Around" are trying their hand at it. We give special attention to Lloyd Gant and Marion King, because they play the instruments that make the music go 'round and around.

While the volley ball goes back and forth, "Music Goes Round and Around." When a girl misses the ball, she blames it on this song. This is hardly fair, but just think how popular this song has become in such a short time.

Humming this song in typing class has become a great asset, because it has rhythm, and rhythm in typing helps to type faster. Here's hoping that some of the students don't start humming "St. Louis Blues," because they might find themselves at the foot of the typing class. Take this hint, typing students, and sing "Music Goes Round and Around."

Nice Collection in School Museum

Many interesting relics have been added to the American History museum during the past two weeks. The museum is used as a lab project for the students of the American History class and they are glad to put into the museum any donation of items of historical interest the public will make.

Roger Bassett has loaned two Spanish Mauser rifles made in Berlin, Germany. These guns were found in Mexico and probably were used by some of Profirio Diaz's men in 1910, because of the dates on them. Roger also brought the first branding iron to the museum. It is in the shape of a heart and was used on the "D-Heart" ranch.

W. J. Ferguson presented one Spanish or Indian lunch head that proved a mystery to the student. It is eighteen inches long, made of steel. The head is very rusty and old, by our observations. If it could talk, it may tell us that Coronado lost it when he traveled through this region, or it may tell of an Indian who roamed these plains after Coronado's expedition. This lance head was found on the Rio Grande in Terrell county.

The museum has many Indian arrow heads, grinding stones, magueite beads, basket work, bone knives, and other Indian relics.

Reverend Mims is Guest at Assembly

Considerable attention was given to Rev. S. M. Mims Tuesday afternoon when he spoke at assembly. Reverend Mims spoke on "The Cost of War." He had been scheduled to speak at the assembly Armistice Day, but Dr. Davis spoke on that occasion, as he was here holding a meeting at the Presbyterian church.

"We have given our very souls to war, and what has it given to us? Nothing! It has failed," said Reverend Mims, as he pointed out the hindrances and propaganda of war.

"The World War was waged to make the world safe for democracy. Did it? Certainly not!" He pointed out the fact that a large number of poor families could be provided with pensions with only a small part of the money spent in the World War. He also referred to the large number of school forced to close as a result of the World War.

The Rev. Philip Brown was a visitor at assembly Tuesday.

Your Schools

By R. D. HOLT
FAILURES IN SCHOOL.
With the first semester of the 1935-36 school year just completed, there is and should be some talk about failures in school. A considerable percentage of pupils in our school failed in one or more subjects. This percentage is far too large, but it is not greatly in excess of the average over the state for schools in the Southern Association. Since 1921 the percentage of failures in all the high school who are members of the Southern Association has been about 13 per cent. About twenty per cent of all freshmen who enter college each fall drop out before the end of the year, due to failure in their work.

When has a child failed in a grade in school? We usually wish the child to progress so rapidly that we consider he has "failed" if he has to stay in one grade for two years. We emphasize far too much the making of credits or grades and pay too little attention to the fact that the child should successfully accomplish his school work regardless of the time he may spend. The dictionary states that failure is to neglect or leave undone, or to be unsuccessful. Certainly no child has "failed" in arithmetic if he spends two years in the mastery of the subject. Whenever he accomplishes his task and whenever he completes his work or masters his work he has not failed. A teacher may promote the pupil in cases where the child does not have a mastery of the subject. That pupil may fail in later school life, or in business, due to the fact that he had no mastery of the fundamental subjects and had formed habits of half-done work.

What Are the Causes?
What are the causes of failures in school among pupils? There are, no doubt, many causes which may apply, but here are the probable causes given by teachers each week as to why the individual pupil is failing in his work, in the order of importance: Lack of study, lack of a definite goal or aim in attending school; lack of a thorough foundation in early school grades; improper outside influences; sheer laziness; mental immaturity; complacency in accepting failure or lack of ambition to succeed; physical causes such as sickness; absence; lack of proper study habits and home conditions conducive to study.

A Problem for All
Naturally, many other causes may be given as to why a pupil fails in school. Sometimes the tendency is for teachers, parents, and pupils to all pass the blame on to some one else, but this does not solve the problem. When the pupil fails in school it should be the concern of parents, teachers and pupils to find the reasons for failure and then work together to remove the causes. The problem of failure in school calls for the cooperation of all if it is to be solved. The easiest course open to a teacher is, perhaps, to pass all pupils, regardless of the record they make in school. But the teacher who really has the welfare of the pupil in mind is not going to pass those who do not know the subject, because of the later results; but the conscientious teacher is willing to do everything possible to help the pupil master the work which is before him in school. Neither the teacher nor the parent can do the work for the pupil. Let us all work to remove the causes of failure in school and thus reduce or eliminate failure.

"An education is not intended to get a person out of work. It is merely intended to prepare them to do more work and better work than could otherwise be done."
