Lots of women accumulate wrinkles by trying to avoid them.—Dorothy Dix

VOLUME XXIX

Column Right

For fear some will ask the why of an article missing from this issue, we'll tell you. Trying to get the details in tangible shape was a job of reporting that had us dumfounded. To print the many rumors floating around, might have worked an injustice. Then, too, we have oodles of consideration for the parties alleged to be implicated—and for their folks. If rumors were true, we will see nothing to be gained by airing through these columns.

The last report from the Ethiopian front is that Mussolini is ready to deal with the natives on a "give and take basis. Oh, yeah. We guess that means he will give them hell and take their country.

An authority on marriage (if there be such), says that mothers today do not cry when daughters have caught and led some poor fellow to the altar. Not much. If they were the mother of some of this wild flock of chickens of today, instead of crying over little laughter we'd laugh out loud at the bridegroom.

Conversation heard at the plant of the Community Public Service Co.—Tourist Lady: "Is this water good to drink?" Attendant on duty: "Good to drink! Why I only weighed six pounds when I came here; look at me now." Tourist Lady: "I don't believe I want any."

The Lindberghs were forced to leave their native country on account of reporters who are a disgrace to the press. Recently on a trip to France, they were forced to return to England for the same reason. If that's the price of being famous, we think we'll postpone our solo flight across the Atlantic.

"Volcano Vesuvius Erupting" screams a headline. Well, what in heck are volcanoes good for if they don't erupt?

Postmaster General James Farley says that "Happy Days Are Here Again" will be the Democratic theme song this year as it was in 1932. Jim, being Irish, is thinking of the fun he is going to have with the Republicans,—and Al Smith thrown in. A big fight like a presidential campaign creates, must be happy anticipation to the Postmaster General.

Which reminds us of a tale told during the late big melee, when the entire "civilized" world were reaching for each other's throat. An Irishman and an Englishman on patrol duty came up on a detachment of 20 Germans, sound asleep. "Let's tie 'em up and take 'em to camp," said the Englishman. "No sir, said the Irishman; let's wake 'em up and fight 'em."

At a recent convention of petite dancers, storm of discussion centered around fans. The little girls couldn't agree on just what would constitute a regulation sized fan. As far as we're concerned they can leave them off entirely. All those in favor say "I." And the eyes will have it.

Leaders are advising the labor unions to stay clear of politics. Ain't that nice! We've seen lots of organization founded on the precept of being non-political, but we have the first one to see that didn't soon forget and, if strong enough, serve notice on politicians that if they didn't legislate their way it would be just too bad.

Stock Market Report—"Silver jumping; while copper is quiet." Being as we don't own any of either we don't care what they do.

This is truly a season of drastic changes. Exit long-handled underthings, enter the alphabetical variety. Out for football, basketball, in for baseball, hard or soft. Exit once-a-week baths, enter the more frequent ablutions. It's outside for the wood and coal man, while the ice man has his inning. It's curtains for the season of sane speech; while the political spellbinder hold sway.

The dumbest cluck we know of is the gink who thought King of Kings, Selassie, was a burro buyer.

THIS WEEK IN Texas History WEEK OF APRIL 26

1718—Because of the scarcity of water in the Rio Grande, the San Jose Mission was removed May 1 to the west bank of the San Pedro about three-fourths of a mile northwest of the present parish church of San Antonio.

1822—On April 29 Stephen F. Austin arrived in Mexico to obtain confirmation of his land grant from the Congress. He remained there a year.

1832—The State legislature made an entire change in the colonization law on April 28. They repealed the general colonization law of 1825 and modified the terms of sale to Mexicans, extending the right of colonists and excluding natives of the U. S.

1846—The inauguration of the first state government took place on May 2 in the House of Representatives at Austin. President Anson Jones was retired and J. Pinckney Henderson was installed as the first governor.—Compiled by Texas State College for Women (CIA).

OIL NEWS

Every indication points to a more vigorous activity in the prosecution for a discovery well in Terrell county than at any previous time. One of the local drillers has signed a contract to drill a water well to supply water for a new location on the Sam Bell place, and with new leases coming in every day in all parts of the county, it certainly points to a renewed activity never before witnessed in this county.

Inasmuch as several large leases expire within the next twelve months, there is every possibility that quite a number of wells will be spudded in within a short time. Inquiries are being received daily for information concerning the geology, physical characteristics, and other information relative to the production of oil.

Rites Are Held For Mrs. Miller, Dryden Resident

Funeral services were held at 3:30 Sunday afternoon from the W. E. Stirman funeral home, for Mrs. Mabel Miller, 58, who passed away Thursday night. Dr. John V. McCall, pastor of the Presbyterian church, held the services.

Mrs. Miller passed away in this city Thursday night about eleven o'clock, after having been brought here from her home in Dryden for medical treatment. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Born in Jackson, Miss., August 14, 1877, Mrs. Miller spent her girlhood days there. Soon after her marriage to I. Miller in 1898, they moved to Fort Worth, Mr. Miller being engaged in railroad construction work. The family moved to Dryden in 1910 where Mr. Miller was employed as section foreman for the Southern Pacific. In 1914 Mrs. Miller was appointed postmistress of the Dryden post office, a position she held at the time of her death. One of the pioneers of this section Mrs. Miller had many friends, and was known for her good traits—a kind mother, and her passing is a regret to all who knew her so well and liked her.

Mrs. Miller is survived by her mother, Mrs. Clara Tate, who was making her home with her; two daughters, Mrs. Clara May Conway of San Antonio, and Mrs. Dulcie Barry of Dryden, and Ernest and Everett of Dryden, and Emmett of Los Angeles; 5 grandchildren, Janie Louise and Marjorie Conway of San Antonio; Dorothy and Betty Jean Reynolds of Dallas, and Theodore Franklin Miller of Los Angeles.

Active pallbearers were B. C. Farley, Raymond Farley, A. F. Buchanan, Jim Kerr, Joe Kerr, and Charlie Turk.

Yellow Gold—Texas Leads in Oil

Texas Centennial visitors will have opportunity to tour the oil fields of Texas, the greatest in the world, trained guides to be provided in the larger pools of east Texas. More than 20,000 wells have been drilled in the section around Kilgore, capable of producing enough oil in one day to supply the nation for 13 days and 19 hours, or enough to supply the needs of Texas for approximately 28 days.

FARLEY SELECTS HAPPINESS TUNE FOR DEMOCRATS

Washington.—Postmaster General Farley said that "Happy Days are Here Again" will be the theme song of the 1936 Democratic convention as it was in 1932, "unless we can think of a better one before the convention."

A reporter just back from a Philadelphia visit, told the Democratic national chairman that the convention hall organ is run by records but had no record of "Happy Days."

"If there isn't one there now," Farley laughed, "we'll see that there's one there when the convention opens."

State Is Urging Death Penalty For A. Carrasco

District Attorney Roy Jackson of El Paso, arguing before the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin Wednesday, urged that the court affirm the death penalty assessed Antonio Carrasco, for the slaying of Mrs. Mary Smith.

Mrs. Smith and her wealthy husband, Riley R. Smith, were found burned to death at their ranch southeast of Van Horn in Culberson county, June 2, 1934.

Carrasco was arrested and tried in Hudspeith county on a charge of murder of Mrs. Smith.

L. V. Dodson of El Paso, attorney for Carrasco, filed a written brief seeking a new trial, alleging that Carrasco did not receive a fair trial, and that Mexicans were discriminated against in the selection of the grand and trial juries. Jackson, in his arguments, denied all the allegations of error.

Carrasco at one time lived here and was employed on several of the surrounding ranches before he went to Van Horn to work on the Smith ranch.

MOVES TO HONDO

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thomas who have been making their home in Dryden for the past 20 years, where Mr. Thomas was employed by the T. & N. O. as section foreman, moved Thursday to Hondo where Mr. Thomas will hold a similar position with the railroad. It is with regret that their many friends hate to see them leave but wish them well in their new home.

Long Beach, Calif., April 24.— Dan (Alabama) Stewart, 70, a survivor of frontier days in Texas and the father of an American Olympic games athlete, started for New York City Tuesday, by horeback.

"I can't stand to ride on trains, planes or automobiles, and it's too far to walk," the shaggy mustached old man said.

"So, I'm going to make the trip on Old Red, my cow pony, taking my time, camping along the way and seeing the country."

"After I see New York I'm going to ride down to Tuscaloosa, Ala., where I was born and settle down for good," he added.

One of the last things Stewart did before leaving Long Beach was to say good-bye to Charles Paddock, former track star and known as the world's fastest human, now business manager for a newspaper.

"So long, Charley; I sure do thank you for the interest you took in my boy Jim," he said to Paddock.

Jim Stewart, former University of Southern California student, was an American Decathlon entry in the 1928 Olympic games. Paddock made the boy his protégé and helped him train for the games.

Stewart pointed Old Red's nose in the direction of San Bernardino. He said he expected to stop off in Las Vegas, N. M., and Kansas City, Mo., to buy supplies.

Stewart, who has a wife in Fort Worth and five sons and five daughters living in various parts of the country, with taken to Texas in 1867, he said. The family came in an ox cart.

His father settled west of Fort Worth, at Fort Griffin, in the Comanche Indian country. There were the usual frontier clashes and the Comanches proved extremely worthy opponents, Stewart said.

"When I was 7 years old I saw my first hanging, a cattle rustler," he recalled. "He was an old man with a long white beard. They had a lot of trouble stringing him up—his beard kept getting tangled with the rope."

Stewart went to the Texas-New Mexico border country when he became a little older and acquired a ranch in the Pecos river country.

Stewart, it is thought, was at one time a resident of this section and that the ranch referred to is what is known as the "Cocklebur" ranch.

Candidate For Gov. Favors Free Auto Licenses

Dallas, Apr. 25.—Beginning his first western tour, Pierce Brooks of Dallas, candidate for governor, on a platform calling for free license plates for private automobiles and immediate payment of old age pensions, will speak in Sanderson tomorrow, May 2.

Brooks is making the swing in a sound-equipped, snow-white automobile with a speaker's platform atop it. He and the mobile platform have attracted wide attention and large crowds in east Texas.

Brooks states that owners of small cars now pay out nearly 30 per cent of their car's value in licenses, fees, taxes and other governmental costs and, as a result, are often deprived of the use of their autos when they need them most. Reducing license costs to a mere nominal sum for registration and inspection will be more than offset in revenue by increased sale of gasoline and oil, Brooks declared in recent talks.

Brooks has adopted the slogan "Put the State on a Business Basis." He advocates establishment of a real estate and rehabilitation board to cooperate with local civic bodies to restore industrial prosperity. He urges tax reforms and the consolidation or elimination of many state bureaus and commissions.

NOLAN COUNTY LAD'S DREAM OF DROWNING COMES TRUE

Blackwell, April 27.—Saturday night Milton King, 18, dreamed he was playing on a swing over Eagle Creek, near here and was drowned.

And yesterday the dream came true.

His companions said he swung over the water with insufficient force for the return swing to bring him back to the bank, became exhausted and fell into deep water.

The body was recovered an hour afterward.

The youth had told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. King, of Blackwell, of the dream.

TEACHER ASSERTS MAN, 71, MADE LOVE IN CHURCH

Nicholas Schmittgen may be 71, but he's still an ardent wooer it developed in a Los Angeles court when Mrs. Annette Hordeemann, a music and language teacher sued him for $100,000 damages for alleged broken promises. Describing their first meeting in 1934 at the home of friends, Mrs. Hordeemann says he made love to her practically at once.

"I was alone in the room, he came in took me in his arms, kissed me without as much as saying hello. He said 'Sweetheart, I like you—won't you be mine?'"

He even tried to kiss me in church," the 39-year-old teacher snapped, "but I wouldn't let him."

Schmittgen met another woman and six months later was married.

Restoration of the Southern Pacific Limited on May 3, will give permanent employment to approximately 30 men between El Paso and San Antonio, who now are fighting extra board or being shifted from one end of the division or the other. The new train schedule, which was announced this week, will give Sanderson a four-passenger train service daily, the schedules being as follows:

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—Voters of Texas this week began to wonder a bit about the burning issues that will be raised in the governor's race, as the field of announced candidates reached nine. The obvious inference, when a governor is up for re-election for a second term, and eight candidates decide to buck the traditional Democratic second term custom would be that the people are greatly excited about some phase of the state's business and demand a change. This assumption is borne out by the fact that only twice in Texas has a governor who stood for re-election failed to be returned. In each case there was a burning issue, about which large blocs of voters were worked up.

PROSPECTIVE ISSUES—

The preliminary campaign skirmishing so far has produced but three issues. These, in the order of the importance they have been credited with by the candidates opposing Gov. Allred, are:

1. The propriety of the governor's policy of making numerous public speeches and appearances at local gatherings throughout the state.

2. The old age pension system which hasn't begun actual operation yet, and about which there is so little accurate information available at this time that no one is in position to criticize or praise it intelligently.

3. The sales tax issue, which was fought out thoroughly in the campaign two years ago, and again in the legislature last year.

SMART POLITICS—

So far as the first issue is concerned, the governor takes the position that he doesn't choose to be a cloistered potentate, locking himself up in the capitol, and granting interviews only to the favored few with pontifical generosity. Being an intensely human person, Allred likes people, and has lost no opportunity to meet and mingle with the citizenship generally. He knows more Texas voters—not political leaders and socially important people exclusively—but filling station operators, small storekeepers, taxicab drivers, and other plain "folks," than any governor Texas ever had. He has traveled more miles, made more speeches, shook more hands, and made more personal friends than any other governor. The only complaint that has reached Austin about the governor's traveling about has come from the other candidates. It's a safe bet that Allred has made ten friends for every critic he has on his policy of getting out and mingling with the people of Texas.

PRECEDENT—

Somebody here took the trouble the other day when Allred announced he would accept the Texas Press association's urgent invitation to ride on its Centennial train to Washington and New York, to look up the record of other governors. They found that Pat Neff made trips, while governor, to Cuba, Panama, Seattle, Washington and other cities. In the summer of 1894 James Stephen Hogg and a party of Texas leaders toured the North and East, speaking in Boston, Philadelphia and other eastern cities, to boost Texas. Dan Moody headed the famous All-Texas special which visited the industrial east and middle west covering virtually the same route the Press Special is traversing. Jim Ferguson, in November, 1915, made a three weeks tour of northern and eastern cities, and said on his return: "There may be some people who, through misinformation, would be inclined to criticize me for going up to New York and mingling with the Napoleons of finance. . . . But if all the people of Texas could know how eager these men are to learn about Texas conditions and the sentiment here, how eager they are to invest here, and be identified with the state, then Texas people, as a unit would demand closer relationships between this and other states."

POLITICAL PINWHEEL—

Observers here believed that Tom Hunter's decision to have a third try at the governorship relegated F. W. (Big Fish) Fischer to second place position, with Hunter, out of the publicity of his first two races, stepping into the top spot of the opposition to Gov. Allred. * * * Significance was attached to Jim Ferguson's recent announcement that he intends to take the stump for Roy Sanderford July 1. Most opinion here inclines to the belief that unless Sanderford has made much headway before July 1 Jim's help will come too late. * * * Judge N. G. Williams of the Criminal District Court No. 2, in Dallas, unknown to state politics except as an unsuccessful seeker after many appointive offices, including a place on the public safety commission, and a federal judgeship, is the latest and most optimistic candidate for governor. He is the third Dallas aspirant. * * * The bid of San Antonio, offering free hotel rooms for state committeemen and $1250 cash landed the state Democratic convention May 26, for the Alamo City, as exclusively forecast in this column 2 months ago.

This columnist regards as a high honor an invitation to make the trip east with the Texas Press association train and next week's column will be sent to readers of this newspaper from the eastern political front.

Texas Beauty Presents "Blue Bonnet Blue"

A new high note in fashions was struck last week when the Texas Centennial Celebrations presented beautiful "Blue Bonnet Blue" to the fashion world in a state show at the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York City. Scores of leading stylists, designers and fashion editors applauded when lovely Lorraine Jarratt, San Antonio girl known to the nation as America's most photographed girl, appeared in this striking Blue Bonnet gown designed especially for the occasion by Vogue. Decorating the luxurious lounge were 250 flowering Blue Bonnet plants gathered near San Antonio and Corpus Christi and air-expressed to New York.

Official adoption of "Blue Bonnet Blue" by fashion authorities has caused the lustrous State flower of Texas to be introduced into spring and summer fashions throughout the nation. This enthusiasm for the Texas Centennial Celebrations, already evident in many fields, motivates progress in the fashion world.

PROGRESS MARCHES ON

Items of Interest From Towns in the Southwest

Fort Davis.—A movement has been started by the ranchmen of the Davis mountains section to change the hunting season on bear to September 1 to October 15. At present open season on bear opens Nov. 15 and closes on December 1. Bear start hibernating at the first indication of cold weather, which usually comes to that section before November 15.

Marfa.—Vandals broke into the Marfa school building last week with the evident intention of robbery, but succeeded in only looting students' lockers, breaking the locks off and marring the building generally. As far as could be learned 25 cents was the total amount taken.

Fort Stockton.—A two-day motorcade is being planned by citizens to advertise the big Water Carnival to be held in June. It is proposed to take the Fort Stockton high school band in the school bus, accompanied by several cars of local people, and visit the surrounding towns, placing literature and to issue a personal invitation to attend the carnival.

Alpine.—Dates have been set and committees appointed to arrange the Brewster county Centennial exhibits to be held during the sessions of the Paisano and Bloys encampments this summer. The exhibits will be on display for three weeks in the windows of business houses.

Ozona.—A colorful pageant "Texas Through the Ages," elaborately staged on the school lawn here last week by the Ozona schools. The pageant was a representation of the outstanding events and places of historical interest in the development of Texas.

The Uvalde Leader-News last week celebrated its 38th birthday and the Times offers congratulations. The News is one of the best weeklies in West Texas, and we hope it will be functioning years hence.

Fort Stockton.—The high school band of this city made a remarkable showing last week-end at Big Spring, at the annual contest of high school bands. Fort Stockton band won second contest entered, and tied with Iraan band for the honor of tending the Texas Centennial Dallas. Final outcome on the had not been decided.

Alpine.—Negotiations for a right-of-way thru the part of this city for U. S. highway No. 90 re-routing have been completed and assurance has been given by the State highway department that work would start at an early date. A total of $175,000 will be expended on and other improvements.

THE SUMMER ROUND-UP

Austin.—One of the most interesting round-ups of Centennial Year in Texas is the summer round-up of children who will enter school next fall. The summer roundup of the children is the major health project of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The local Parent-Teacher group of each community endeavors to have parents who have children to enter school next fall take the children to their family physician for a physical examination so that any defects the might have may be corrected during the summer months. It takes the special knowledge which a physician has acquired to discover and remove any physical or mental handicap which threatens the child's well-being. A fall checkup is made of these same children, with the result that the child entering school for the first time may be as free from physical and mental handicaps as possible.

It is a most essential factor in the life of each child that he be free from all physical defects in order that he may do his best work in school. Each child entering school should first be immunized against diphtheria and smallpox. The health and well-being of our nation rests upon the opportunities given the children of today.

Mrs. H. D. Williams left Tuesday morning for Houston to be with her mother who is ill.

PRACTICAL COOKERY

By the Home Economics Dept. Texas State College for Women

Denton.—The meat and fish salads are perhaps the most popular of the more hearty salads that may be served as the main course for luncheon, supper, or for a small party.

Often when accompanied only with a hot bread and a beverage they make a satisfactory meal.

When preceded with a hot soup and finished with fresh fruit, the meal becomes quite complete when simplicity is the note desired.

Salad Luncheon No. 1: Cream of tomato soup, chicken and vegetable salad, cinnamon buns, and a baked apple.

Salad Luncheon No. 2: Shrimp salad, graham bread sandwiches with chopped olive filling, strawberry shortcake, hot tea.

Salad Luncheon No. 3: Cream of pea soup, ham salad, raisin muffins, iced chocolate.

Salad Luncheon No. 4: Salmon salad, buttered toast stuffed prunes, grape juice punch.

Salad Luncheon No. 5: Chicken noodle soup, country club salad, bread and butter sandwich, chilled fruit cup.

Country Club Salad 1 cup of cold cooked veal, 1 cup cold cooked ham, 2 cups chopped celery, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon paprika. Flake the salmon discarding the skin and bones. Add celery, lemon juice, salt and paprika. Stand in the refrigerator to chill. Mix with mayonnaise to moisten. Serve on salad green and garnish with a pickle relish.

Chicken and Vegetable Salad Two cups diced cold chicken, 1-2 cup cooked peas, 1-2 cup of diced beets, 1-2 cup string beans, 1-2 c cooked carrots, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, French dressing. Combine all ingredients and marinate in the French dressing. Let stand until thoroughly chilled. Arrange in lettuce leaves and top with mayonnaise.

Shrimp Salad Four cups cooked shrimps, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup paprika, sweet pickles, French dressing. Carefully remove the black line that runs the length of body of shrimp. Add salt and paprika and marinate in French dressing. Chill in refrigerator. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with celery curls and tiny sweet pickles.

Ham Salad Three-fourths cup cooked peas, 2 cups cooked diced ham, 2 tablespoons sweet relish, 1-4 cup of chopped celery. Combine ingredients, and chill in French dressing. Arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with Russian dressing made by adding chili sauce to mayonnaise.

Salmon Salad Two and one-half cups of cold salmon, 1-3 cup pickle relish, 1-2

Coming Attractions at the Princess

"NEXT TIME WE LOVE" "Next Time We Love" which will be shown at the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday, is the portrayal of a woman's emotional life. Margaret Sullivan, Universal star, contributes a performance that adds further proof that she belongs in the front rank of filmdom. She portrays the role of a wife who pursues her stage and screen career while her husband runs down "big news" in foreign countries. Marriage, to the wife, seems to be continually bidding goodbye and waving hello, until her husband's friend shows that he loves her.

But the friend is a square, decent fellow. The situations are tense with the wife's loneliness and the friend's tender longing. The husband becomes desperately ill and the wife goes to him in Rome. From that point, the story flames to its climax like a blazing Yule log sending sparks that vanish magically into the night.

And there is something akin to magic in the presentation of "Next Time We Love." Some of this may be attributed to Margaret Sullivan's portrayal; some of it is due to the splendid direction of Edward H. Griffith who preserved the pulsing warmth of Ursula Parrott's novel. The camera work by Joseph Valentine in another factor in weaving the spell which holds the audience entranced while the story develops. A fine supporting cast to Miss Sullivan rounds out what will prove an appealing picture.

THIRD "HOPALONG" STORY A new type of western villain, almost foppish in his dress, suave and shrewd in his dealings, yet capable of unspeakable cruelty, comes to the screen in the person of Harry Worth, New York stage star, who makes his moving picture debut in "Bar 20 Rides Again," coming to the Princess Theatre next Monday, May 4.

The picture is the third "Hopalong Cassidy" western drama to be made by Paramount, starring William Boyd and Jimmy Ellison, but the action revolves about the strange personality of the notorious outlaw "Nevada," played by Worth.

"Nevada" is a different kind of villain. His study in his ranch-house is lavishly furnished, the walls lined with books. He conceives of himself as another Napoleon and uses a snuff-box once owned by the Corsican. He even plays chess.

And though Worth's characterization in "Bar 20 Rides Again," has brought praise from all quarters, he also has a definite romantic appeal, not unlike that of William Powell.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY" Will Rogers' last and greatest picture, "In Old Kentucky" comes to the Princess Theatre for two days, next Wednesday and Thursday, May 6 and 7.

Adapted from the play whose humor, sunny romance and tingling horse race drama have made it a favorite of three generations of Americans, "In Old Kentucky" stars Rogers in a role that presents his rich, lovable, down-to-earth character in its best light.

In the picture Rogers enacts a shrewd and genial trainer of horses, whose homely philosophy and keen wit sets right all the troubles of the impulsive people about him.

Russell Hardie and Dorothy Wilson play the romantic youngsters. She is the daughter of old Charles Sellon who is feuding with Charles Richman. Although his daughter fights to win Hardie for herself, it is Rogers' shrewd aid that finally brings the boy to Miss Wilson.

Rogers' able assistant in this picture is Bill Robinson the tap-dancing genius, who teaches the comedian enough of his foot artistry to win a handsome widow, and thus provides one of the real comedy punches of the film.

Although "In Old Kentucky" is full of humor and drama in the feud situations and the wrangle with a crazy rainmaker, it reserves its great thrill for the climax in which racing thoroughbreds pound down the stretch carrying romance and drama in their saddles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McKnight and daughter, Vivian, were business visitors in Del Rio Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kellogg left Wednesday afternoon for San Angelo and other points, planning to be gone for several days.

Current Comment

Be sure to come to the Senior play. It's really going to be good. Anyway, if it isn't so elegant, we should pay our utmost respects to the seniors.

All the boys should come out for spring football, as it undoubtedly forms the foundation for our team next year.

We are more than proud of our future Home Makers and their rating at San Angelo. But just think, they hope to win first place next year. This year their competition was very keen.

Final examinations are getting getting nearer and nearer. We students had better get to studying with all our brain power, as this is the last chance we will have.

Sixth Graders Write On Texas For Dallas Pupils

Following a request of Miss Corinne Fox, ex-English teacher in the Sanderson system, members of the local sixth grade are writing articles on west Texas life and sending them to members of Miss Fox's junior high school English classes in one of the Dallas schools.
The Dallas children will answer with stories of the Texas Centennial which is to be held in Dallas this year.
The Sanderson class has prepared papers on four subjects: "Ranch routine," "ranch chuck," "branding," and "the round-up." The class members have also written letters to the Dallas class telling them how much they enjoyed furnishing them this first-hand information of West Texas ranch life and asking them to send them first-hand information concerning the Centennial. The Sanderson class also gathered snap shots of ranch life in this locality and will send the pictures with the stories. Some of the stories are printed in this week's paper.
Miss Evelyn Heatly is the sixth grade teacher and is sponsoring this work after receiving the request from Miss Fox.

Seniors to Present Annual Class Play Tomorrow Night

"College Cut-ups," senior play, will be presented in the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock by the members of the 1936 senior class.
The play, a three-act comedy of college life, possesses all the characters which make college so dear to students. Florence Hurst portrays Mrs. Cleo Hungerford, a boarding house keeper and makes that character live. Melven Pollard as the eccentric, absent-minded professor, Ichabod Crane Bunker, and O. T. Schupbach as rube farmer, Toby Parker, help make the play humorous as well as add serious notes.
There are nineteen member of the class which includes every member of the senior class. This is the annual play that is a part of each commencement at Sanderson high school, and proceeds from the play will help defray the commencement expenses of the class.

Ranch Chuck

Margaret Reed Arrington
Editor's Note: This is one of the articles that will be sent to the Dallas junior high English class.
The chuck wagon is one of the most important parts of ranch equipment. The chuck box is a large box fixed on the back of a truck where the cooking utensils are kept. It follows the cowboys in the seasons when they work out on the range.
A dutch oven is the most important part of ranch cooking utensils. The cowboys cook almost everything in it. It is about twelve inches wide and about six inches deep. A dutch oven is a large cast iron skillet with a lid on it.
Ranch chuck usually consists of frijoles beans, camp bread, and coffee, with the addition of beef or goat meat occasionally.
The cook makes a large fire and after it has burned to coals he is ready to cook. The beans, with the addition of water and salt

Faculty Attended Teachers' Sessions

Almost 100 per cent of the faculty of Sanderson schools attended the teachers' meeting at Alpine last week end, the exception being Miss Nell Kruger. It was the third annual meeting of the Trans Pecos division and the sessions were held in the auditorium at Sul Ross college.

The major part of the program during the morning consisted of lectures on education. Sectional meetings were held during the afternoon.

The main address was delivered by Alonzo F. Myers, professor of education at New York University. After the meeting there was a barbecue at Kokernot Lodge at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Holt stated that the meeting was very interesting.

Good Showing by H. E. Girls at the San Angelo Meet

Rosa Mae Clark
The Home Economics delegates returned Sunday evening from the Home Makers rally in San Angelo. The girls report winning the following events for our school: Helen Turner, first place on the tailored costume; Emma Fay Harris, second place in Rally Song writing; Adair Edmiston, second place in publicity play; Home Economics, second place on steps of progression in club work. The school won fourth place toward the total high score. Considering the fact that our girls competed against schools who were eligible in all three years of Home Economics, we made a fair showing.

Adair Edmiston directed and staged her own play in chapel last Tuesday. This was done without the assistance of a teacher.

The club girls will compliment their delegates to the state meet with a party tonight at the home of Adair Edmiston. This party will mark the close of our social year.

The next club meeting will be open to visitors who are interested in our work.

The second year H. E. class has been seen shining up the kitchen in preparation for the senior banquet. Preparing and serving this banquet is complimentary to the Junior and Senior classes.

WITH THE SENIORS
Commencement season begins this week end, starting off with the senior play. A senior party will be given at the ranch home of Mrs. Brown Friday night.

During the week of May 8 the Junior and Senior banquet will be held, and on the following Sunday the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered, and on the following Thursday graduation exercises will be held.

The senior class invites everyone to the senior play, Saturday night at 8, in the auditorium.

SPORTS

Dorothy Lewellen

Spring football training is coming along very nicely now. Coach Smith practices with the boys every afternoon in the ball park. The following are out for football this year: Albert Appel, James Allen, Joe Kerr, Bob Lea, Robert Lochausen, Houston Chandler, Marion King, Harry Lewellen, Wilburn Short, Howard Black, Essary Haines, Pat Sullivan, Malcolm Davis, Kenneth Litton and Bobbie Allen. Coach Smith says they may play the town team.

Girls' Baseball

The high school girls started to play indoor baseball last Friday. Miss Ruth Howell is the coach. They play during activity periods which are on Wednesdays and Fridays. They have been playing volleyball in their activity periods, but have now switched to baseball. The girls seem to have some hopes of reducing—(funny, girls, huh?)

Boys' Baseball

The high school boys have begun to play indoor baseball. On three day of the week the seventh and eighth grades play, and the rest of the high school play on the other days.

Up until last week they had been playing indoor baseball, now they are playing hard baseball.

Coach works out with the boys in their activity periods. He says they do have some really good baseball playing during the periods. The scores are kept pretty close as the keep the same teams every day. Before long, Coach says, they may play the town team.

Coach Smith, who attended the regional meet at Alpine stated it was hard to predict who would win, as it was a toss-up between El Paso, Bowie and Austin high schools of El Paso. Austin won first place, El Paso second, and Bowie third. Pecos district men made a good showing. They won the mile and half mile runs. It was reported that one boy from Van Horn garnered 15 points—in shot putting, javelin and discus.

About thirteen boys are out for spring football training, and the Coach says they are doing nice work at present, and that he has hopes of developing some star gridders from the group.

Senior play, tomorrow night!

MR. FROG

Can you imagine a frog not liking water? Well, Mr. Frog up in the biology laboratory evidently does not care for water. Besides not liking water, he possesses a streak of gypsy blood, we suppose.

A few days ago Mr. Frog felt like roving around. Instead of staying on the lab table where the students had placed him, he jumped off into thin air and landed on his chin. He is well able to take things on the chin, however, because he is fairly a good size measuring about 8 inches in length. He is doing very nicely with his exploring, though he is a stranger in these parts.

This little frog really isn't little. He is very large. When he first came here from east Texas, he was very fat. Maybe it is because he heard so many of the school girls talk about reducing, or it may be he just couldn't stand this kind of climate, but he has lost weight. Recently he showed signs of becoming stronger; perhaps that is because he is training to become a frog prize fighter. Who knows?

It seems queer, but this large, mischievous animal, so-called a frog, jumps around the biology laboratory all the time. At first he was placed in a pool of water in the lab, but that was so much like jail, the frog decided to go on his own, and left the pool behind. Quite frequently he leaves the pool behind during one of Mr. Smith's most serious lectures to the delight of all the students.

A mistake was reported recently about Mr. Frog being dead. Isn't it too bad that such a tale got out, because he really hadn't died at all.
