NUMBER 31

Body of Carl Happle, 34, U. S. Navy, Has Military Escort to Home; Laid To Rest With Full Military Honors

Full military honors and burial given here Thursday morning to Carl Happle whose death occurred at a hospital in Charleston, S. C., Wednesday, September 23, when he was stationed with the U. S. navy.

The body, escorted by S. D. Jones, machinist, first-class of the South Carolina navyyard, arrived here on the midnight train Tuesday, and was taken to the Presbyterian church where it lay in state until 10 o'clock Thursday morning. A military guard under the command of Sergeant H. L. Sanderson, from the Dryden airfield, formed a guard of honor following a short service and burial at the graveside by Dr. J. McCall, Presbyterian minister, American Legion post took charge of burial services. Sergeant F. H. Zygan in charge of firing squad, color bearers, guard, and a bugler from the headquarters of Battery 77th Artillery at Fort D. A. Russell, Marfa, held a very impressive military service, with the firing of a gun salute followed by M. L. Hopson, commander of the 18th district, American Legion, Department of Texas, directed the services for the late Halley Mulkey Post, 160, American Legion, of this city.

Carl was the only son of Mr. Mrs. J. W. Happle of this city who was born May 9, 1902 in Fort Stockton. He moved here with his parents in 1906, and spent the greater part of his young life here, graduating from the local high school in 1920. After attending the University of Texas for two years, he enlisted in the U. S. Army in 1923 and took up the duties of a petty officer, which position he attained last August.

A fine tribute was paid to Carl Happle by the boys of Sanderson by Pennington's Drug store. The bicycle is a Huffman, valued at $35, and any youngster will be proud to own it. You don't have to do a thing to win it, either. The plan: At first a ticket good for one chance was given with each purchase of Skrip ink, or with a 35c purchase of school supplies. For the next seven days a ticket will be given with every 13c purchase of any merchandise in the store.

The bicycle will be given away next Thursday night, and all that is required to win it is that your name is drawn. The lucky kid just mounts the wheel and pedals away to a season of happiness.

Pennington Drug To Award Bicycle Thursday Night

A chance to win an up-to-date, fully equipped bicycle is given the boys of Sanderson by Pennington's Drug store. The bicycle is a Huffman, valued at $35, and any youngster will be proud to own it. You don't have to do a thing to win it, either. The plan: At first a ticket good for one chance was given with each purchase of Skrip ink, or with a 35c purchase of school supplies. For the next seven days a ticket will be given with every 13c purchase of any merchandise in the store.

The bicycle will be given away next Thursday night, and all that is required to win it is that your name is drawn. The lucky kid just mounts the wheel and pedals away to a season of happiness.

Meeting at Local Church of Christ Begins Oct. 15th

Members of the local Church of Christ are preparing for a series of meetings which will begin here next Thursday, October 15.

Bro. Claude McClung, evangelist of Fort Worth has been secured to deliver the messages during the meeting. An interesting and forceful speaker, whose messages strike home, and Sanderson people will enjoy hearing him. The local congregation, it was announced, are inviting the public to attend these services, and ask cooperation of the other church in making it a success.

Bro. McClung, it was stated, is not stranger to Sanderson people, as he was here two years ago in meeting, and made many friends among our people. He will be glad to meet these friends and to make new ones. At the present time he is holding a meeting in Uvalde. Further announcements will be made next week.

THE BUFFET OPENS

The "Buffet," Sanderson's newest business, opened this first of the week in the building formerly occupied by Dr. Halbert. Holt & Holt are announced as operators. All kinds of short orders are being served, with all kinds of beverages including beer.

Mrs. H. G. Holt and Mrs. Felix Holt alternate as waitresses, and recent remodelings and floor covering make it an inviting place.

Will Preach During Ten-Day Meeting

CLAUDE McCLUNG, EVANGELIST

Who will arrive in Sanderson this week and, beginning Thursday, October 15, will preach at a series of Gospel meetings at the Sanderson Church of Christ.

Father Invented First Gas-Driven Car

D. A. R. Chiefs Honor President

Work of Sanderson Youth in Amateur Radio Given Praise

In Monday's El Paso Times was a feature article highly complimentary to A. C. Clatfelter on his work in amateur radio. The article is accompanied by a picture of A. C. at his set in the office of the El Paso police department. A. C. is a Sanderson boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Clatfelter, who reside in this city.

The article in the Time follows: "A. C. Clatfelter, 23-year-old El Paso police department radio operator, is one of more than 16,000 licensed short wave radio operators whose spare time is spent wrapped up in wires, pliers and screwdrivers in hand while, nearby, a loudspeaker raucously shouts "Calling CQ—CQ—calling CQ—CQ—calling CQ."

The El Paso police department has one of the best short wave transmitters in the country, but Clatfelter has built one half as large, a fourth as heavy and more compact. His experience with radio began when, as a small boy, he started tinkering with a set bought by his family. The radio, a huge mud-die of wires and tubes encased in a long box with several dials, was the first radio in Sanderson, Terrell county, Clatfelter said.

Later he became interested in short wave radio and has built many receiving and transmitting sets. His latest creation, licensed as station W-6-LRG, is operated with 250 watts on one of the ultra high frequency wave bands. The transmitter can be used for radio telephone or code transmission and is modulated by 125 watts of power developed from "input" speech equipment.

Get Quick Reply

A strange coincidence marked Clatfelter's first time on the air with the new set. Early in the morning of Sept. 10, he began to call "CQ," which in common terms means "c'mon you guys I want to talk," and a station in Los Angeles replied.

Operator of the Los Angeles station proved to be an old friend of Clatfelter whom he had not seen in several years. He learned from his friend this his new transmitter was the loudest and strongest signal on the entire 20 metre wave band. On the receiving set built with the transmitter he has heard from all parts of the world.

Livestock Shipments Continue Heavy To Market; Some Go to Feeding Pens

Eagles Drop The Second District Tilt to Big Lake

When bird meets bird, feathers are bound to fly. And that's just what happened last Saturday on the local gridiron, when the Owls of Big Lake invaded the Eagle's roost. It was the second conference start for the Sanderson flock and they were set back that many time when the feathers settled—the final score being 18 to 7.

From play it was evident that two inexperienced team were facing each other, but no one will question the fact that Big Lake poundage was the deciding factor of the game. Sanderson played a nice defensive game, but on offense, they made very little yardage through the line. At intervals they unleashed an aerial attack and marched down the field three consecutive times, once to the one yard line, twice to the 3-foot line. The half barked their chance in one instance, they were stopped cold in another try, and a 5-yard penalty killed another opportunity to enter the promised land. Their counter came in the third quarter when an air attack placed the ball in striking distance of the visitors' goal. Bogusch on the third try, powered it across, and a pass from Jack to Allen was good for an extra point.

Big Lake scored in the first, third and fourth quarters, their gains being made mostly on end runs, which the Eagle squad failed to stop. Their air attacks fell short, and were practically abandoned when two of their flings were intercepted.

The game was devoid of features, was well officiated, and will add greatly to the experience the Eagle squad sadly needs.

Tomorrow the Flock will fly to Iraan for their third conference tilt, and if reports are true, they will run into competition aplenty in the oil field town.

PRESIDING ELDER TO VISIT

Dr. Walter L. Barr, presiding elder of the El Paso District, will preach at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30. After the service will be held the fourth and last quarterly conference of the present year's work. The New Mexico conference, of which Sanderson is part, will meet in Clovis, N. M., October 21.

HOME GROWN PECANS

Mr. and Mrs. John Clark were exhibiting some fine pecans Tuesday, grown in their yard here. The samples were from three different trees. One of the trees, grafted trees years ago, bore a soft-shell pecan of unusual size; the yield from another was a pecan of medium size, while the yield from a third tree, planted from seed several years ago, bore a pecan much smaller than the other two. During the first year of growth the grafted tree bore only blossoms. All the pecans are of fine flavor, and proves beyond doubt that pecans can be grown to advantage in Sanderson.

A very active market continues in this section and many lambs have been shipped from this and adjacent points during the past week. All fat lambs are being shipped direct to market by the owners and buyers, while lighter stuff are being shipped to feed pens mostly to California points.

Last Thursday Russell Menzies shipped from this place 12 cars of lambs six cars of which were consigned to the Fort Worth market, the balance to Tovera, Arizona.

On the same day, R. J. Ridley, Del Rio buyer shipped out 2 cars consigned to Jamesport, Mo., and 2 cars to Standart.

Last Friday, N. M. Mitchell, who recently purchased the John Trent farm near Fort Stockton, shipped six cars of lambs from here to that place, where they will be placed on feed before being shipped to market.

From Longfellow Russell Menzies shipped 8 cars of lambs last Friday, consigned to Gonger, Arizona. On Tuesday Menzies loaded out four more cars, consigned to Conger.

Some cattle shipments, also, have been made from this point recently. E. G. Pope shipped one car of cattle to Hondo on the 4th. Van Casey, who ranches in the Longfellow country, shipped two cars of steers from that point on Monday of this week, to the Fort Worth stock yards. Another shipment Monday from the Sanderson pens was that of R. J. Ridley, who shipped six cars of lambs to Belle Center, Ohio.

Ford Coates, who has had the Jerry Monroe ranch under lease, moved his stock last week to the Glass mountains in the eastern part of Brewster county, where he has leased a ranch.

P. C. Coates, who recently sold 1,000 head of sheep, made delivery last week to Ralph Johnson, purchaser, who will place them on his Pecos county ranch.

Jerry Monroe is now stocking his ranch, which was formerly under lease to Ford Coates.

It is reported that Col Coates recently sold his wool, on the sheeps' back, for 26 1-2 cents, the terms being f. o. b. the ranch.

NOBODY HURT

Another one of those miraculous escapes from serious injury, or death, came to pass here Tuesday afternoon. Cars driven by Russell Dyer and Mrs. Bill Vaughan, traveling in opposite direction met at a street intersection. The impact swerved the car driven by Mrs. Vaughan over against the curb where it crashed into Rufe Murrain's parked car. The result was three badly damaged cars, but occupants disclaimed injuries of any kind. Andy Anderson, riding, with Dyer, sustained a pain in the neck.

Fort Stockton Set For Big Two-Day Rodeo and Frolic

Fort Stockton, October 5.—Enthusiastic response from the finest talent in the Trans-Pecos and Big Bend gives promise of making the Fort Stockton Cowboy Rodeo here October 17 and 18 one of the best in many years, and one of the fastest presented in west Texas this year.

Choice stock is being secured from Pecos. Steers belonging to the Pecos Rodeo association will be used, while the high-bucking bronchos of Curtis McElroy are being secured. Big husky calves, in choice condition, will be on hand for the roping events. The show is open to all classes of competition. Crack ropers, riders and bulldoggers will be here from the ranches of this entire section of Texas and New Mexico.

Cow pony and matched races are also being planned for the visitors. The complete daily card will include bronc riding, steer riding, calf roping, team tying, breakaway and bulldogging, with novelty and comedy specials.

Tommy Moore of Fort Worth is coming with his trope of trick animals. He will keep the crowds entertained during intermissions.

Dances will be held both Friday and Saturday nights at the new Fort Stockton airport, with swing music by Ken Allen's band from San Angelo.

Column Right

We've been missing the "Column Right" (on the left hand side of the page) of our old friend, Pat Moran in the Sanderson Times. What's happened Pat—ain't tired, are you? We enjoy reading Pat's column more than any other we know of and hope that he is just taking a vacation and has not quit entirely. Incidentally, the Sanderson Times is one of the best little newspapers on the Avalanche exchange list and deserves better patronage at the hands of the Sanderson merchants. (No charge for the boost, Mrs. Boling; we mean it).—D. M. Bennett in the Alpine Avalanche.

Thanks, D. M., but we merely reprint the item on account of the puff to the Times. It's true, every word. Hire a surveyor and see what side of the page we're on now.

Both major party boosters are getting a break this year. First comes the Literary Disgust straw vote—and Landon is president—without a struggle. The Democrats have pains. Then come the voice of America—another poll and the Republicans have a headache. Guess we'll just have to wait until old Vox Pop goes to bat Nov. 3, and we have a sneaking idea it will be a Yankee ninth inning for the Democrats.

Politically we're turning sissy. Time was when the major parties were indicated by emblems that represented an animal or bird of the hardy specie—the jackass, the elephant, rooster, camel, and so on. It remained for the Republicans to choose, this year, a sunflower. What flowers and politics have in common we don't know. Well, anyway, at best, the sunflower is just another stinkweed.

The north winds blow,
It's liable to snow,
The winter will be a hummer,
And alas and alack!
My thoughts wander back
To wages I spent in the summer.

A woman arrested for taking a couple of pot shots at a preacher, told officials that a "magic spell" compelled her to do it. The heck of it she missed both times.

We're still wondering how our high school Eagles lost that game last Saturday. They had about 60 coaches on the sidelines—kind of back-seat drivers, you know—who kept yelling "Tackle low," "watch that pass," "hold that line" until the kids didn't know what direction they were going. Like the nigger taking a message thru no man's land in the war. His officer told him to zig-zag when he got in the open. But he got shot all to pieces just the same. Visiting him in the hospital, the officer asked him why he didn't do like he was told. "Ah sure did, Cap'n," said the darkey, "but Ah must of zigged when I ought to have zagged."

A minister in Ohio is going to tell Landon how to conquer the drought. Nothing wrong with that for every pastor we've ever listened to warned us against that hot and dry climate.

Hollywood actors want holiday to go across to see the king of England crowned. Lots of us would travel a long way to see some of them crowned—with a beer bottle.

Sudden Death of Popular Student

Never was a community more shocked than yesterday afternoon when it became known that John Taylor Burdwell, high school student, residing at Dryden, had passed away.

Death was attributed to pneumonia. John Taylor was a member of the high school football team and played the entire game against Big Lake last Saturday. He was an unassuming, upright young man, popular with the students and faculty alike, and his sudden passing has cast a pall of gloom over the school and the entire community. Funeral arrangements had not been made as the Times went to press. Death occurred at 5:15 p. m. Thursday.

A detailed obituary will appear in next week's Times.

Sanderson Boy is Law School Prexy

Hubert Johnson, defeated William R. Brown in runoff election held Friday for the presidency of the School Law at Texas University. The count was Johnson 230, and Brown 131.

The voting for Law officers Thursday, Johnson, Brown, Donald Markle were candidates for the office. Although Johnson received the largest vote did not receive a majority and runoff was necessary. Markle withdrew from the race. The runoff ballot was used this year the first time in the history of the School of Law. D. Johnson is a son of Mrs. Garrison of this city.

CHECKING UP ON OUR NEIGHBORS

Progress of Towns in the Southwest, Reported by Our Exchanges

Teachers on 12 Months Basis
OZONA—For the first time in the history of the Ozona public schools system, teachers will be placed on a 12-months salary basis, according to the Stockman in last week's issue. The present salaries of teachers, now on a 9-months basis, will hereafter be divided into twelve equal installments and paid on that basis. The reason advanced is "to tide the teachers over the summer months which are non-earning for a majority of them."

All Set for Gas
MARFA—The Big Bend Sentinel last week reported that all the street mains have been completed relative to the installation of a Butane gas system. The line from the mixing plant to the distributing system is yet to be laid, awaiting shipment of pipe. The townspeople are piping their residences to use gas, and much interest is being shown in gas appliances.

Fire Fighting Equipment
FORT STOCKTON—A fire truck, recently ordered by the councilmen of this city, arrived recently and, after tests, was accepted, according to the Pioneer. The truck is a new model Seagraves, with booster pump equipment.

Apple Crop Short
FORT DAVIS—For many years housewives of the Southwest depended mainly upon the fine apple orchards near this city for a good share of their cobbler, pies, preserves and jellies. This year the crop will yield but 10,000 bushels, which is about one-fifth of the normal crop, due, reports the Dispatch, to early frosts. The prices run from 40c to $3 a bushel with Stark's Delicious bringing the top prices.

Hotel Opens
McCAMEY—The new Bender Hotel at this place, owned and operated by C. M. Bender of Breckenridge, is now open, the News reported last week. The housing problem in this city is acute, and it is hoped this 16-room annex will relieve the tension.

Lots of Water in Red Bluff
BARSTOW—The Red Bluff Power Control Board announced last week that approximately 8,000 acre feet of water is now stored in the Red Bluff reservoir. This was the result of unusually heavy rains in the Delaware hills, which is one of the main watersheds of the Pecos river, on which the reservoir is constructed, says the Ward County News.

Miss Della Kimball, who had been visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Haynes, has returned to her home in Marathon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Lester and son, Preston, were business visitors in Carrizo Springs Sunday.

Mrs. Bud Kimball and daughter, Mrs. Hal Sanson, of Marathon, were visitors here Tuesday with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Clyde Griffith and son visited in Camp Wood last Saturday. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Annie Ware, who had been visiting there for several months with her sister, Mrs. Jim Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Taylor and children of Bisbee, Arizona, visited Mrs. Fred Talbot Tuesday.

Mrs. Joe Pennington, accompanied by Mrs. Jones Pennington of Alpine, were visitors in El Paso last week.

Mrs. W. F. Bohlman returned the first of the week from El Paso where she went last week to be present at the marriage of her daughter, Mary Ellen. While in El Paso she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Pat Clifford.

It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO

This Week—Remember??

(From Times, October 8, 1926)
The largest stock shipment made out of Sanderson in a long time, was this week when 11,116 lambs and 1,107 ewes were shipped out of here to Imperial Valley, Calif., to the feed pens. The average price paid for the lambs were $6 per head.

The executive committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas will meet in Sanderson, Thursday, October 14.

Mrs. F. B. Carter is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mart Adams in Fort Stockton.

Ross Martin returned to El Paso last Saturday following several weeks visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Prosser and daughter of Los Altos, Calif., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brown several days this week.

CHAPTER VII

After listening to Barry's story of her life, told in the third person, Hal is more puzzled than ever. He is, however, sure of one thing—Barry loves him. What is the barrier she persists in building between them? His mind is in turmoil as the car starts its trip westward. On a detour there's a breakdown. Examination reveal that the battery is out of commission, and Hal is about to walk back for a new one, when Crack volunteers for the errand. Night comes and he doesn't show up. Why does he wish to return to town? Making the best of a bad situation, the party settled down to spend the night on the desert. Nearing midnight, footsteps were heard—some one was approaching the car.

The footfalls—made by heavy, stiff-soled shoes—brought their slovenly beat nearer and stopped. Hal got up and walked around the car. "Evening," he called into the dark.

"Evenin', evenin'," came a cracked voice after an interval. "You folks got the fire? I seen it from a way back and come to see what was goin' on."

He clumped up to the fire—a tall, ratty man, no hat on his tangled hair, shirt dirtily open at his throat, blue-jeans cut off about three inches above the top of his veteran cowboots. His grinning lips were stained at the corners and his bright, empty eyes watched the fire, not any of the three who were near to it.

"You folks stranded, 'ey?" he said cheerily in a minute.

"Looks it," said Kerrigan. "Didn't see a fella go out to the highway and get a lift into town, did you?" Hal said. "Late this afternoon?"

"No," said the man. "Last week I seen a feller get a lift out to the road, 'Goin' west, he was. But I mind these other folks was stranded there—over 'other side."

Then the last fence post fell apart across the low fire.

"D'y'ou s'pose that fella's building a battery?" Kerrigan murmured out of a silence; and he got to his feet in a stiff sort of aimlessness that ended in his lighting a cigarette and sitting down again.

"Hadn't honestly thought of the little-guy all night," said Hal.

He started to take his arm from Barry's waist—to shift his suddenly cramped position; but she stirred against him, murmured something, and he waited, watching for her calm again. Then he began a more careful maneuver in the middle of it Barry made a quick, plaintive moan, turned as if to hold him, and her sleepy whisper said, "Darling, don't go, don't go, there's time." Her eyes opened. Disappointment chased the dream out of them as she looked from him to Kerrigan, and the high moon. Then she sat up straight, her rueful smile on the last of the fire.

"So we're still here," she said. "Were there ghosts?"

"None," said Hal. "Was that what you were dreaming?"

"I think so—toward the end. Dear Kerrigan, are there ghosts?"

"I would have said," said Kerrigan in a subdued tone, "that it took a ghost to sleep as you have and wake up without a shiny nose. You're not a ghost, thank the Lord, if you allow me—and neither is your nose shiny. So I don't know."

She gave him a little slow smile of affection through her still disappointed drowsiness: "You've never seen a real ghost?" she said.

"I've thought I was just going to—oh, several times; but maybe I was trying too hard," said Kerrigan. "Usually about this time of night. In old countries midnight's supposed to be the time; but out here, I think before dawn—just when the east begins to gray."

There was a car coming from the direction of the highway—its loose noisiness advertised over a distance. They saw a pair of dim headlights stare up and down again over a rise.

"Splash with our battery," said Kerrigan subdued.

"If that's a bet I won't take it," said Hal moodily, and he looked down at Barry. She was staring into the embers, miles off in some somber thought.

The car lurched up over the rock outcrop and came to a chattering stop beside Rasputin, the motor racing under loud rattles and drummings in the old body. Neither Barry nor Kerrigan moved; Hal got up, stiff and reluctant and went around saying without welcome, "That you?"

"Yeah," said Crack lazily, somehow as if he had been gone a matter of moments.

And in that dismal pre-dawn hour, with a low stain of gray across the east and the sharp, mocking flash of the air-beacon in the gloom below it, Hal was heavily oppressed by the sense of ill impending.

CLUBS AND CHURCHES

Popular Sanderson Youths United in Marriage at Impressive Church Rites

STAVLEY-SCHUPBACH WEDDING SUNDAY

A wedding marked with simplicity was that of Miss Maybell Stavley and William E. Schupbach, which took place early Sunday morning at the First Baptist church. Dr. John V. McCall, the Presbyterian minister, read the impressive ring ceremony. The church was effectively decorated with ferns and Queen's death. Prior to the ceremony D. L. Stavley sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. O. H. McCall, who played the wedding music. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Oran Schupbach. She was dressed in a tunic of olive green, with collars and cuffs of ecru lace. Her hat was of black. She carried a shower bouquet of talisman roses and arisolds. Mrs. Bernie Morgan, matron of honor, wore a suit of gray crepe and a navy hat. Miss Beatrice Nicols, bridesmaid, wore gray wool with a red hat, and Miss Bess McCall, bridesmaid, wore olive green with brown hat. All of the bride's attendants carried bouquets of pink rosebuds. Bernie Morgan assisted as best man, and the groomsmen were O. Schupbach and Ernest Farley. The ceremony was followed by breakfast at the home of Mr. O. H. McAdams, for the bridal party and members of the brides. Mr. and Mrs. Stavley left for a week's stay in San Antonio and adjoining towns, after which they will return and make their home Sanderson.—Reported.

Airport Chatter

The Old Man's Cub

Well, here we are back on the air after an absence of more than a year. And back with a better airport and more men. When we were last on the air there were but six men here. Now there are nine. Of the original six all that's left is the "Old Man" and Corp. Mooney. The new men are Hawthorne, Hampton, Corp. Wogstadt, Wright, Gears, Jones, Harlin and Davis. Hawthorne is in charge of the weather bureau; Wogstadt, Wright, Gears, Jones and Harlin are radio operators, and Hampton and Davis mechanics. Of course, you don't have to be told what the Old Man does. The crew was pretty busy the first of last week when forty or fifty planes landed in two days. Harlin is temporarily station at Johnson's ranch, he was there for nearly two months, but was relieved Saturday by Gears, but he returned to the field there Wednesday. Everyone at the port, except Mooney and Gears have fairly good cars, but Hawthorne has to the extreme of getting a motorcycle, and every time he starts out on it we wonder where we'll pick him up. The sergeant is just back from Alabama and a little "birdie" tells me he is trying to go back again. (Wonder what he found in Alabama, or is it the climate). The little fellow in the Richardson family started to school this year (what a relief!) He says everything at school is all right except school. Evidently taking an early dislike. Just think how much he will not like it by the time he gets out of school if this feeling grows. Capt. Foster, former C. O., now stationed at Maxwell field Ala., dropped in to see us last week. We now have two Deisel tanks out here, and we would have Deisel power if we had some Deisel fluid, if we had a Deisel engine. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan accompanied by Mr. Duncan's aunt, Mrs. Tom Bond who has been visiting them here for the past ten days were visitors in Fort Stockton Tuesday. From there Mrs. Bond went on to San Diego, Calif., where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Fannie Duncan. Mrs. Clarence Haynes left for Marathon Tuesday where she is visiting relatives.

Coming Attractions at the Princess

TWO FAVORITES STARRED IN "TO MARY WITH LOVE."

A story that strikes deep and sure at love today comes to the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday in the 20th Century-Fox picture of Richard Sherman's sensational successful novel of modern romance "To Mary With Love." Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy together for the third time cinematically, are co-starred and their performances opposite each other are said to surpass the heights they reached in "Broadway Bill," and "Penthouse." A love letter romance "To Mary With Love," opens with the marriage of Baxter and Miss Loy. Best man is Ian Hunter who hides his regret with a grin at seeing Myrna's happiness in Baxter's arms. Making love lightly, yet loving deeply, they move thru their honeymoon and then return to New York where Baxter plunges into the stock market, intent on accumulating a fortune. Money doesn't bring happiness to the pair, however, for Myrna finds too much time on her hands and becomes intimate with a group of parasites and questionable friends. Just as it appears that their marriage must break up, the market crashes and Myrna finds that her husband needs her more than ever. Hiding their hurts and holding back their tears, Myrna and Baxter rise gallantly and splendidly from their misfortune and find a new and greater love to reward them.

SHIRLEY SINGS FIVE SONGS IN "POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL"

It's always an event when Shirley Temple comes to town. The tiny star will again be seen at the Princess Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, October 14 and 15, in her latest hit, "Poor Little Rich Girl." It will be great entertainment for, definitely, the talented Temple miss is said to give the performance of her life in this new film, and to top it off, she is surrounded by a veritable gallery of Hollywood's brightest stars including Alice Faye, Gloria Stuart, Jack Haley and Mike Whalen. Shirley, of course, plays the title role as the daughter of Michael Whalen, a wealthy young business man who is far too occupied making money to devote much of his time to his daughter. Waiting for a train, Shirley wanders off. The busy sidewalks of New York lures her on to adventure. She is entranced by Tony, the organ grinder and follows him home. Tony already has a large family but the new "bambina" so wins him that he lets her stay with his other children. Jack Haley and Alice Faye, an out of work vaudeville team, notice Shirley singing and dancing. They form a team, are successful and hired by a theatre manager. Shirley is said to perform some astonishing dances and sings five new songs. It's a picture that no one can afford to miss!

A ZANE GREY THRILLER OF THE CANADIAN MOUNTED

Zane Grey, America's outstanding writer of outdoor stories, has chosen a new and thrilling locale for his latest work, "King of the Royal Mounted," which comes to the Princess Theatre next Monday, October 12. Robert Kent is starred and Rosalind Keith and Alan Dinehart head a cast of favorite screen favorites. As the title indicates the story is of Canada's Royal Mounted Police, highlighted by spectacular action, scenic grandeur, hard riding romance and shooting thrills. Kent is seen as Sergeant King.

COOPERATION

Pep and cooperation are possibly needed most at school at this time. What's wrong with the student body? They are discouraging our boys. If they don't get some pep and fire behind them they cannot expect the pep squad alone to do all the talking for them.

Come on, student body and town people, show the boys that you appreciate their fighting ability and expect them to win at Iraan. Each and every one of you get together and cooperate, and let's have a lot of that "ole school spirit!"

We appreciate the way the town people came out to the game Saturday. It was probably the largest crowd that ever attended one of our football games, and we want you to go to Iraan with the rest of the school.

FIRE PREVENTION

SanderSON public school is taking part in the fire prevention program. This is to teach all children the ways of preventing fires such as keeping matches away from the smaller children or the practice of keeping gasoline in a house.

The second, fourth, fifth, seventh, ninth and eleventh grades will write theme on the prevention of fire.

Fire drills will be given at regular intervals in which the classes will pass from the building in orderly manner. This is to teach them not to run when fire breaks out, and will prevent some from getting trampled.

Every grade will make a poster on fire prevention and the best poster will be entered in the state contest. The oldest child in every family, that is in high school, was given a Home Inspection blank to fill out. After filling out the blank they were to take it home for the parents' signature and approval. The blanks issued have many questions of things that happen daily, but one seldom thinks of them. One that appealed to me is "Did you know you were not supposed to use gasoline in cleaning, if so, do you keep it away from fire?"

Another question which was a very good one, and I'll wager the most folks don't think of is "Is there any worn cords in the wiring in your house?" Most people seldom think of that.

Salary Vouchers Redeemed in Cash

The eighteen teachers in Terrell county were paid on last Friday, Oct. 2, for the first month of teaching during the 1936-37 session. The vouchers presented to the teachers were cashed at the Sanderson State Bank. This is news in Sanderson and Terrell county, for it has been some five or six years since teachers were able to receive cash for their salary warrants.

The fact that the salary warrants were payable to the teachers in cash is explained by the fact that the school board, the county superintendent, and the county school board had made arrangements with the bank to cash the warrants to pay the salaries for the first month. The bank merely loans the school board the money. It is expected that by the first of 1937 the school board will have sufficient funds on hand to repay the loans and actually be on a cash basis, provided that tax collection are good this year.

Eagles to Iraan For District Game

Tomorrow, Oct. 10, the Eagles will wing over to Iraan to repeat the victory of last year when they defeated the Iraan Braves during the last second of a hard fought game, 9 to 7.

It is to be hoped that as many patrons of the school and representatives of the school as possible will make the trip with the football team tomorrow. The pep squad will accompany the team.

Coach Duane Smith will take all the men out for football that are on the Interscholastic League eligibility list. They are: J. Allen, R. Allen, Appel, Billings, Bogusch, Burdwell, Carpenter, Carrasco, H. Chandler, R. Chandler, Dishman, Druse, Fierro, Haines, Hardgrave, Kerr, Litton, Lochausen, Sullivan and Short.

3rd Grade Wins Attendance Prize

The third grade won the attendance award again last Thursday night at the October meeting of the Parent-Teacher association. This makes the second time this year that this grade had the largest percentage of parents present at the monthly meeting. The prize this year will be a book, to be selected by the teacher and grade and will be bought by the P.-T. A. The book presented the third grade as the award for the September meeting was "The Runaway Goat," by Denton.

In the absence of R. N. Allen Mrs. Bill Dyal acted as leader of the program. The subject was "Intelligence." Dr. J. V. McCall gave a discussion on the subject. Other phases of the program included a vocal solo by Mrs. Malloy, taking and reporting room attendance by Mr. Bernie Morgan, a reading demonstration by the first grade, music by the band of the high school, two numbers by the high school choral club, and reading of the message of the state president of the P.-T. A. by Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave, president of the local organization. The sessions were opened with prayer by Dr. McCall.

Current Comment

Fire prevention is here. Some schools observe it in one way and some in another, but the main thing to remember is "Safety First." Try to understand what that means before it is too late and something happens in your own home to remind you of it.

Only two more weeks until we will become the owner of a little yellow card which tells us our average for the past six weeks. Be it good or be it bad, it is always what you make it. (That's what Mom and Dad say, anyway.)

Miss Leath tells the second year Spanish class that they are learning now what they should have learned last year. She sure has a big job on her hands—teaching them! If you are in doubt, just ask her.

Mr. Holt seems to be afraid (that is a little nap from 1 to 3:30 in the afternoon). Now, Mr. Holt, I'll bet you just happened to think how nice that would be.

Just one thing more: I want to take that back about the editor not working. I'm afraid some one might slip up and see what a predicament we're in when Sammie is not there!

The pep squad certainly does thank Albert Weigand, Pat Harris, and Homer Richardson for taking the bleachers out to the football field Saturday and bringing them back. It was a good example of school spirit.

TWO NEW TYPEWRITERS Two new typewriters have been bought for the typing classes, and they are distinctly different from the old ones, having the new tabulation key-set attachment which works entirely on the keyboard. The new typewriters are Underwoods.

CLOSED FOR FOOTBALL GAME

The following merchants and business men of Sanderson signed a petition and close their places of business last Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30, during the football game between the Sanderson high Eagles and the Big Lake Owls:

A. E. Creigh, Community Public Service Co., Sanderson Mercantile Co., Eveready Pharmacy, Kerr Mercantile Co., Holman's Barber Shop, J. R. Blackwelder, Border Service Station, W. J. Ferguson, James House, Greene Cooke, Loma Alta Cafe, City Barber Shop, Model Tailors, Royal Barber Shop, Sanderson State Bank, Joe Kerr, Max Bogusch, F. T. Holt, and George Turner.

Big Lake Owls Claw Eagles for 18 to 7 Setback

By Homer Richardson Last Saturday, Oct. 3 the Eagles took a clawing from the Big Lake Owls on the local field. At the end of the game the Eagle flock were on the light end of an 18 to 7 score.

During the game the Eagles threatened the visitors' goal three times, but scored only once. Their first threat was in the last seconds of the first half, when a pass from Bogusch to Allen landed the ball on the two-foot stripe as the referee's whistle ended the half.

The other two threats were in the second half, when they only needed inches to score. One touchdown was called back on an offside penalty.

The Owls scored in the first, third and fourth quarters, the last being made on an intercepted pass one second before the whistle ended the game. All tries for extra point failed.

The eagles, playing an aerial offense threw ten passes, seven being completed. They marched almost the entire length of the field three times only to be stopped cold at the goal line.

Jack Bogusch was acting captain Saturday. Coach Smith will probably use only men who have more experience in football as team captains this year.

Girls of SHS At Last Realizing This is Leap Year

By Nelle Lea It took the girls a long time to decide to have something in the style of Leap Year, but they finally did last Wednesday night. Four senior girls and one junior girl escorted five high school boys to the movies.

Some people didn't seem to remember that this was leap year, and they whispered around that the modern girls were terrible. Well, my friends, we want you to remember that it is leap year and still will be until after December 31st.

As far as fun was concerned—there was lots of it. The girls walked on the outside as they paraded down the streets. The also found seats for the boys and seated them before seating themselves. They went after and took the boys home.

Since this was the girls' first experience in doing the escorting they were a little green on the subject; so the boys really should not condemn them. After the girls did this much for the boys, one of them had the nerve to talk. He said that he didn't have any fun because the girls were so silly. He must have liked it, though, for they never did say they wanted to go home, so the escorts had to insist on taking them home early. Now the girls wouldn't have suggested going home so early (11) if it hadn't been on school night and most of the boys having football training.

Boys, you better not talk too much because there might be another time. In case there is another time, maybe you won't be bored so. How about it, girls?

The original constitution is kept in a glass case in the Library of Congress.

Large Crowd at Frist Home Game

Saturday the largest crowd that ever attended a football game in Sanderson saw majority of this year's pep squad attired in new uniforms. The uniform consists of orange curduroy tight-fitting jackets with black buttons, black berets, black skirts, and black oxfords. A black scarf will be worn with the jackets.

At the Eagle-Owl game last Saturday the pep squad was organized and gave yells during the game. At the half they marched on the football field and formed the letter "S" and left confetti in that formation.

The pep squad will attend the game at Iraan tomorrow in uniform.

First Grade

Anne Mims brought the first grade a bouquet of cosmos. Miss Leath gave the first grade some roses which came from Tyler, where the Rose Festival is now being held.

Lowell Jessup and his governess, Miss Macey, came to see the first grade last Thursday. Lowell told them about his two ponies and his donkey, Billy Murrath and his governess, Miss Farris, came to see them last Friday. Billy also has a pony.

Avis McDonald has gone to San Angelo to visit her grandmother. Edna May Rollen moved away a few days ago.

In connection with nature study the first grade has several pretty pot plants. The following pupils brought plants: Clarice Breg, Billy Carter, Treman Searcy, Edward Wheeler, Edward Chastain, and Miss Lee. The first grade is also interested in making a collection of insects. They are now preparing their nets and "killing beetles" in order to begin collecting the insects.

Willie Grigsby is a new pupil in the first grade.

They appreciate the kindness of the people at the stores who gave them pastebard boxes and other useful materials.

Algebra a Study For Centuries

By Inez Breg Algebra is not a new subject or science. The very beginning dates farther back than 1700 B. C. There were many centuries past during which the sciences were greatly neglected. It was not before the Middle Ages that the subject was again revived.

A solution to the cubic equation was discovered by Nicholes Tartalea, an Italian, in 1530.

Today, a beginner in Algebra probably knows more about the subject than the greatest mathematician in the Middle Ages.

A child in arithmetic almost knows the first steps in Algebra, as it is the continuation of arithmetic. Such a problem as "I need eighteen dollars to buy a coat. I have twelve dollars. How much more do I need?" This problem can be worked either in Algebra or in Arithmetic.

It was not until 300 A. D. that Greek Algebra attained any standing as a separate science. For several reasons Algebra flourished more in the Orient than it did in Greece. The first Hindu Algebraist was Aryabhata, who was born at Pataliputra on the upper Ganges in 476 A. D.

Pep Squad to Iraan

At the game last Saturday the pep squad was represented by about 27 girls in new uniforms. There was very little time when the pep squad was not either yelling or singing. Although the football team was defeated, the pep squad did not give up, but will be behind the boys at every game with plenty of pep and energy.

The girls are planning to be at the game tomorrow in Iraan in full uniform.

King Solomon is said to have been inspired by the Queen of Sheba to write the "Song of Songs."

Sale of Tickets Pay All Expenses Leave a Balance

As a result of a ticket selling campaign waged among the high school classes and the seventh grade, all expenses were paid for the Big Lake-Sanderson football game, and a balance of $7 realized as a profit. A total of $63 were the net receipts. This total almost exceeded the total taken in during the 1935 season for the two games played on the home field. That total was $76.65. The freshman class won the contest.

A financial statement of the proceeds for Saturday's game is as follows:

Table with Receipts: Freshman sales $23.50, 7th Grade sales 8.75, Senior sales 8.00, Junior sales 3.25, Sophomore sales 2.00. Total ticket sales $45.00, Gate receipts 17.50. Total receipts of game $63.00.

Expenses: Paid Big Lake $40.00, Paid officials 16.00. Total expenses $56.00. Balance on hand $ 7.00.

Mr. Holt, superintendent, stated at assembly Monday morning that there was still some ticket sales unreported at the time this statement was announced.

The ticket selling contest between the classes closed Saturday, Oct. 3, at 12 o'clock, noon.

The Snooper

"Who broke the lock on the hen house door?" In school it's "Who broke the window in the study hall?" It was broken during school, but perhaps the teacher was not in the study hall. Anyway, I'll let you guess when and how it was done.

Rings, rings, rings! All of the seniors are really proud of their new rings. It has been said that seniors get the big head, although we don't know what over, but this year it was the big finger because most of the rings fitted very tight even on the left hand.

Talking of the seniors again, they seem to be a rather dignified class as a whole. If they keep up their present behavior they will have a slate that is very clean. Here's to you, seniors, keep up the good "rep."

It seems that the two ex-grads are getting along pretty well together. That is, they are seeing the bright lights together.

Some of the upper-classesmen have set their caps for a few of the senior boys, but it seems that some of the lower classmen are trying to beat their time. Watch out, folks, there is going to be plenty of competition throughout this whole school term; but I'm betting on the winner!

Choral Club to Present Program

Miss McWhorter, the choral club leader, has a class of girls in her choral club. They have been singing "Take Me Back to My Boots and Saddle," "Indian Love Call," and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise." The club meets every Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the high school auditorium. Maria Bustamante accompanies Miss McWhorter on the piano. There are four altos and the rest are sopranos in this club.

The following girls compose the choral club: Connie Richardson, Laverne Halley Ruth Murrath, Marjorie Cannon, Adair Edmiston, Mary Cook, Bessie Mussey, Maria Bustamante, Elizabeth Brown, Margaret Higgins, Margaret Mims, Maxine Clatfelder, Ethel Laura Nance, Mary Bess Hardgrave, Roberta Lochausen.

The choral girls will present a program in chapel before the year is over. Be sure to be there and we will judge what good singers they are.

Seventh Graders Dedicates Plot

In a formal service last Tuesday at 9 o'clock before the general assembly, the seventh grade dedicated the cactus bed they have been working on as a project in their English work. Martin Bodkin, president of the class, announced the program in which all members of the class took part.

The cactus bed is located north of the gymnasium on the school grounds and planted in it are cacti that each student brought. The students found the plants growing around Sanderson, and transplanted them in this rock-enclosed bed. In the center of the bed is a rock with the following words carved on it: "Seventh Grade, 1936-37." This carved rock was prepared by Lee Hardgrave. The boys of the class assisted their teacher, Miss Bessie Chyle Leath, during activity period and on Saturday morning laying off the bed and carrying rocks.

The program consisted of songs by the assembly and the boys of the class; stories read about experiences and uses of cactus, and poems. Bobby Johnson illustrated his poem with cartoon drawings. Martin presented the cactus bed to the school, and Mrs. R. D. Holt responded with an acceptance.

Can U Imagine?

The high school girls living up to leap year ideas? Sammie not taking Jack up the stairs to his door?

Mildred Hurst jumping when Coach said "Funds." The seniors gaining so much their rings wouldn't fit when they came?

Freshmen still throwing spitballs in study hall?

Reginald Monroe being the "Romeo" of the school?

Adair and Nelle entering school last Friday night as Sara and Julia?

Adair coming to school with a swollen eye last Tuesday?

Some of the seniors not believing in magic?

Constance informing Nelle to leave her football captain alone?

LAST YEAR'S SENIORS

Several have asked "Where are last year's seniors?" Well, to answer briefly, they are scattered from Utah to Austin.

Florence Hurst is attending school in Utah. Lloyd Ray Gant is attending Texas University. Jesse Lochausen and Melven Polard are attending Schreiner Institute. "Cy" Mussey is attending John Tarleton, a junior college, to better prepare himself for senior college.

Anna Lee Allen is enrolled in Abilene Christian College. Roy Deaton is attending Texas Tech; Mary Ferguson is going to West-moorland College with her brother Billy. Jr. Lemons is attending Texas Tech, and Bernie Kerr is signed up at St. Mary's. O. T. Schupbach and Lois Taylor seem not to dislike Sanderson high, because we have them here again this year taking a post-graduate course. Lillian Halley has decided that she has enough education, so is staying at home learning to cook. Elton "Dutch" Halley is working in a copper plant in El Paso, while Dick Sullivan is trying to be a mechanic by helping at the McKnight Motor company. Vick Newton thinks he'll own a ranch some day, so he is working on ranches near Valentine to learn the business. Pete Deaton has learned too much already, so he is helping his father with their ranch. Olivia Gutierrez is also staying at home on account of having learned too much.

ASSEMBLY VISITORS

Visitors last Tuesday morning at general assembly were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Creigh, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave, Mmes. Sam Underwood, Lee McSparran, R. A. Hurst, Lee Cook, Joe Kerr, J. H. Lochausen, Fred Yeates, W. Car-gile, Sims Wilkinson, Clyde Morris and C. F. Stavley. The program was the presenting and dedicating of the cactus bed prepared by the seventh grade.

SENIOR RINGS ARRIVE

By Dorothy Lewellen

The senior class of Sanderson high school received its rings on Monday, October 5. Fifteen rings were ordered and received by the seniors. Three more rings had been ordered and will be here in a few weeks. The following seniors received rings Monday: Mildred Hurst, Mildred Underwood, Dorothy Lewellen, Sammy Cannon, Nelle Lea, Pat Harris, Joe Kerr, Albert Appel, Pat Harris, James Allen, Holden Murrath, Jack Bogusch. Can U Imagine?

The high school girls living up to leap year ideas? Sammie not taking Jack up the stairs to his door? Mildred Hurst jumping when Coach said "Funds." The seniors gaining so much their rings wouldn't fit when they came? Freshmen still throwing spitballs in study hall? Reginald Monroe being the "Romeo" of the school? Adair and Nelle entering school last Friday night as Sara and Julia? Adair coming to school with a swollen eye last Tuesday? Some of the seniors not believing in magic? Constance informing Nelle to leave her football captain alone?
