Hot Box Causes Train Wreck

14 Cars Stack Up At Friona Crossing

Mrs. F. L. Reed Dies Suddenly

Word was received in Friona early Wednesday morning of the unexpected death of Mrs. F. L. Reed, long-time resident of the Friona area.

Mrs. Reed was visiting in the home of a daughter at Albuquerque at the time of her death.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Claborn Funeral Home.

Sgt. Fallwell Transferred To Arizona

Staff Sergeant Glenn R. Fallwell, son of Mrs. Pat Fallwell of Friona, has recently been assigned to Davis-Monthan Air Force Base in Arizona for duty as an electronics technician.

Fallwell was graduated from Friona High School in 1950. He enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in 1951 and has just completed a course in electronics countermeasures equipment at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

The sergeant and his wife, Elizabeth, and their four children spent two weeks visiting here en route from Mississippi to Arizona. In addition to visiting in the home of Mrs. Pat Fallwell, the family group also visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Fallwell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fallwell and children and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boeckman and sons.

This winter has really been one of extremes, as we found out this column on our type-writer the wind is blowing in gusts from 40 to 70 mph and seems that every soil-bank tumbled in New Mexico and western Farmer County has caught in our front door today. Two wrecks have already been reported due to limited visibility, trailer houses have overturned and this is still early afternoon.

This time last week it was cold, threatening snow and rain and the temperatures dropping every minute.

Two days later we had what could've been a real good blizzard if the ground had been frozen or just been dry and then over the weekend we had a couple of the most beautiful days you could possibly ask for.

So--the old saying if you don't like Panhandle weather, just go drink a cup of coffee, it'll change, is really founded on fact, not fancy.

Last week we began in the Courts column again, and we tried to explain why etc.

But--seems that we caused some embarrassment to one of the local citizens in that his name seemingly appeared in the column.

Well, it was just because his name is the same as someone else's name.

But--anyhow the Alvin K. Gaines in the court column isn't the same Alvin K. Gaines who runs the Texaco station down on the highway.

Guess we will have to begin referring to the Gaines' like we do the Jones boys, George A. and George W., that is as George A. (East of town) and George W. (West of town).

Carl Fairchild had a lot of competition over the weekend. It looked like Friday that all the folks who usually decorate their premises had moved their headquarters to the railroad depot to help superintend the track clearing operations going on down in that vicinity.

Anyhow, all the vacant space around the depot that wasn't filled with wrecked railroad cars was filled with cars belonging to curious spectators.

But despite all this "help" John Santa Fe managed not to turn any cars over on the sidewalk superintendents and all went pretty well considering the mess that had to be cleared away.

This week another Friona merchant has taken advantage of The Star's ability to print color ads.

In the past Hursts, Jarrells, Production Credit Association and the Friona State Bank have taken advantage of this advertising medium which to our knowledge isn't offered but by only usually the larger daily papers.

But, if you will pardon us putting ourselves on the back and turn to the Piggy Wiggly ad this week we'll let you judge for yourself.

Dust Causes Wrecks, Building Unroofed

High winds blasted the Friona area Tuesday with a stream of flying dust and tumbling tumble weeds and was the cause of three minor wrecks on highways near here.

Two wrecks, both happening about noon during the worst of the duststorm, involved two out of town cars about two miles east of Friona and another similar wreck south of town involving two local women.

The wreck east of town involved a man from Amarillo and one from out of state, their names were not known at press-time. South of Friona Mary Lee Cass and Doris Sides were not injured when the dust obscured visibility and Mrs. Sides ran into the rear of the Cass' auto.

About 3:45 p. m. Larry Anthony, who was driving a 1959 two door Plymouth and Floyd Allen Osenbaugh, a salesman from Amarillo collided about 4 miles south of town on State Road 214.

The car being driven by Anthony struck the Osenbaugh car from the rear. Both vehicles were badly damaged but no one was injured.

In Friona the winds took a toll of plate glass and unroofed the south shop building at the Friona Motors west of town. The winds got under the roof and lifted it out across the street but fortunately no one was injured under the tide of tar paper and flying rocks.

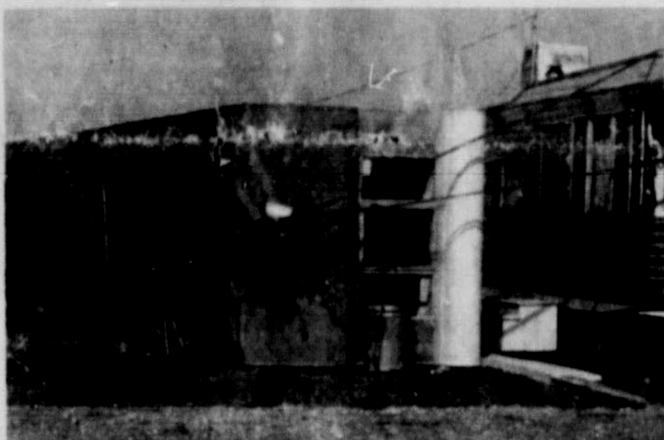

Out at the McGlothlin Trailer Court a trailer house belonging to Steven Stubbs toppled over. His wife was inside and was taken to the Farmer County Community Hospital for treatment and later released.

Other trailer house owners took this hint to stake down and brace their homes in that area.

Plate glass took a beating from flying stones and the front door of the Production Credit Association office blew out about noon.

Out on the loop a truckload of lumber took off and sailed down Fifth Street littering the area with two by twelves and composition shingles.

The wind blew for almost two hours at about 65 mph with gusts up to 75 mph according to reports from the wind gauge at Bengel Air Park.

HIGH WINDS CAUSE DAMAGE--Carrying dust and limiting visibility to only a few feet winds blowing from 40 to 70 mph blasted Friona Tuesday. Above a trailer belonging to Steven Stubbs located in the trailer park west of town toppled during the blow. Below, the roof over the shop section of Friona Motors took an urge to go places and ripped from its moorings on top of the building. Several wrecks and plate glass windows were also damaged during Tuesday's "blow."

School Trustee Election Slated For April 2

Members of the Friona Independent School Board of Trustees called for the regular school trustee election to be held at the Friona High School building, Tuesday, April 2.

Two places on the board of trustees will be filled at that time. At present these places are held by Hoyt Smith and D. C. Herring, president of the board.

Neither of these men indicated Monday night that they would seek reelection.

Deadline for filing for these vacancies is March 3.

Candidates for the two positions must file with County Judge Loyde Brewer in writing and the application must be signed by the prospective trustee.

In other business at the regular meeting Monday night in the superintendent's office board members heard reports by Alton Farr, superintendent, concerning the school's budget, transportation, activity and cafeteria funds and the month's bills were discussed and approved for payment.

Insurance again came to the attention of the board when members of the Friona Insurance Agents Association called attention to the board minutes of the April, 1959 board meeting when the school's insurance policy was changed.

Following discussion over the minutes, which left room for debate, the board voted to rescind the old action and voted to divide all insurance of the FISD, whether new or renewal from this date on among the four insurance agencies including Ethridge-Spring Agency, L&L Agency, Dean Bingham Agency and the Rushing Insurance Agency.

GIRLS IN DEADLOCK--

Squaws Downed

Tulia's Hornets defeated the Friona Squaws Tuesday night in the Tulia High School Gym by a score of 46 to 44 to deadlock the district girls' race with Tulia and Friona each having one defeat. In the event both teams win Friday night there will have to be a two out of three play off series to determine who will represent the district in bi-district play. The game sites and time will be announced later.

The contest was a tight scoring affair from start to finish with host team Tulia scoring nine points in the first period of play while holding the Squaws to eight points to move into the second quarter with Tulia boasting the one point advantage.

During the second quarter the lead changed hands with Friona scoring 13 points to Tulia's 11 to make a halftime score of 21 to 20 in favor of the Squaws.

The story continued in the third period, the lead once again changing hands with Tulia scoring 17 points to Friona's 15 to give the host team a one point advantage going into the final quarter with the score 37 for Tulia and 36 for the Squaws.

The Hornets managed to hold onto their slim lead as they scored nine in the final quarter to Friona's eight to come out on top by a final margin of two points with the score 46 to 44.

Scoring for Friona was Jacquelyn Magness with 21 points and Charlotte Bock with 15 points. For Tulia it was Vicky Culwell with 36 points.

In an interview with the Star, Coach Baker Duggins said, "I have the exactly the kind of girls playing for me I would want win or lose. I know the girls gave everything they had and there wasn't a girl there that wasn't trying to win with all they possessed."

"The outcome of Friday night's game with Canyon will determine whether we play again or not. If we win over Canyon, the play off games will be set later."

In the Chiefs' game which followed immediately, the Tulia boys downed the Friona team by a score of 51 to 28, placing the boy's district contest in a tie between Tulia and Dimmitt.

The first half of the boy's game was a close scoring affair with neither team breaking the game open. During the first quarter Friona scored 10 points and Tulia 11 to move into the second period of play.

In the second quarter, Tulia scored eight points and Friona scored five to make a halftime score of 19 for Tulia and 15 for Friona.

During the third period, Tulia came alive as they dumped in 22 points while holding the Chiefs to five to move into the fourth and final period with the score Tulia 41 and Friona 20.

In the final period Friona scored eight additional points and Tulia scored 10 to make the final score 51 for the Hornets and 28 for the Chiefs.

Scoring for Friona was Glendel Jones with 10 points and Gary Bradley with five. For Tulia it was Mitchell with 13 points.

Friday night's action will see the Squaws and the Chiefs playing host to the Canyon Eagles in the local high school gymnasium. Game time is set for 7 p. m.

No Injuries In Car Wreck Monday

No serious injuries were reported in a two car collision Monday afternoon at the intersection of 14th and Euclid streets in Friona.

Jo Eddie Scott, a teacher in the Friona schools, and Joe Nottebrock, manager of the Hick's Humble Station, were drivers of the cars.

Miss Scott was driving west on 14th street and Nottebrock was traveling south on Euclid when the cars met in the intersection.

Her auto, a 1958 Chevrolet Impala, struck the Nottebrock car, a 1956 Chevrolet tudor, in the left front and sent it spinning in the front yard of the Fred Carson home.

After being taken to the Farmer County Community Hospital for emergency treatment, Miss Scott was released. She was charged with failure to yield right of way following investigation by Officer Bill Morgan of the Friona Police Department.

Both cars were damaged to an estimated $600 each.

Awards to Highlight Chamber Banquet

Presentations of the awards for the Outstanding Man and Woman of the Year in the Friona area will highlight the awards program at the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet slated for Friday, February 19, at the Friona school cafeteria.

Charles Signor, vice president of the Lubbock National Bank at Lubbock will be guest speaker of the evening.

Tickets for the affair are currently on sale by all members of the local chamber at a cost of $2.25 each.

As Bill Nichols, president of the Chamber board pointed out recently, "This is about the only event I know of in recent years that has reduced the price of admission from last year's $3 to the $2.25 this year so we are urging everyone to take advantage of this bargain."

We Are Often Our Own Biggest Competitor

One of the favorite pastimes of small town merchants on the High Plains, and Friona appears to be typical in this respect, is sitting around the coffeehouse talking shop with one another, and slamming things that seem to stand in the way of progress and prosperity for local businessmen. One of the favorite targets of the typical small merchant's ire is his "big-time competitor" in Amarillo, Lubbock, or perhaps Clovis. The merchant means how it is just human nature for folks to want to go to the big city to spend their money, how they fall for all sorts of "bait" business-getting devices, and how, in general, he is given the royal run-around in spite of the fact he has a nice store, his merchandise is fairly priced, he supports community projects, etc., etc.

Such conversations often end up with a lot of shoulder shrugging, and a lot of palm upturning. Businessmen seldom get around to trying to find out the why of things, which is the whole meat of the matter. Instead, they often take a "so-what's-the-use" viewpoint, and abandon constructive thinking. In a way, their attitude is often one of self-pity. In adopting such an outlook, they block their minds to any avenue of improvement. Whenever this occurs, the merchant immediately becomes his own biggest competitor. His business is made all the more vulnerable if he assumes a position of defense. It is only through offense that battles are won.

The businessman who has the ingrown assumption that he can't offer the public things they can get in one of the larger cities needs a little bit of the "think big" ideology rubbed into him. For the few things small-town merchants may be unable to offer, there are enough counteracting virtues of small-town shopping to more than make up for the deficit. The elements of convenience and time are on our side if we will exploit them. Anyone who knows anything about merchandising in this country knows that either or both of these factors outweigh mere price in the minds of the American buying public. This has been demonstrated to an unquestioning degree in every line of retail business.

We are our own biggest competitors the moment we permit ourselves to feel that we can't keep up with our big-town brethren. The moment we drop our guard and stop TRYING to keep up is the same moment we begin to fall behind in the race. When we quit remodeling, expanding, adding new lines, improving service, upgrading quality, and increasing sales-getting efforts--just because we feel the city businessmen have trump cards in these departments--the game will start going their way, not ours.

An Arctic Adventure At Black Tonight

Members of the program committee of the Black community organization announced early this week that the film, "An Arctic Adventure" will be shown at the Black community house at 7:30 p. m. Thursday (tonight). This film is a documentary account of a triptaken last summer when Cotton John of KGNC directed a tour of Alaska. Bruce Parr, president of the organization, invites anyone in the area who is interested to attend the meeting. "Since the film is quite new and hasn't been shown in this area before, we hope everyone will avail themselves of the opportunity to see it," says Parr.

watched," Clark said.
Fortunately no injuries were reported and the trains passed the wreck by using the spur line which normally serves the Friona Wheat Growers elevator.
Clearing operations were hampered at first by a 2,400 volt service line belonging to the Southwestern Public Service Company which was knocked down near the wreck as flying boxcars snapped off a 75 foot service pole.
Electric crews from Hereford answered the call for help and soon had this part out of the way.

Hank Outland, local manager for SWPS had the service lines to the station killed out and crews with bulldozers and cranes began the job of cleaning up.
The job continued Friday and Saturday and trains began using the track late Saturday.

Brownies Host Annual Family Night

About 80 persons attended a Valentine covered dish supper at the Union Congregational Church Monday evening. Hostesses were members of Brownie Troop 105.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reeve, Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Russell O'Brian. Mrs. O'Brian spoke to the group on the Girl Scout and Brownie program in Friona. Mrs. Wilson introduced the guest speaker, Mr. F. W. Reeve, long-time Friona resident and civic worker.

She also recognized the leaders, Mesdames Watson Whaley, W. R. Riethmayer, Robert Hale and Billy Dean Baxter; and the troop committee members, Watson Whaley, Newman Jarrell Jr., Mrs. John Blackburn, William F. Bandy, E. G. Phipps, W. L. Hannold, Albert Cannon and Doyle Elliott.

Mr. Reeve gave a talk on pioneer life in Friona and related some of his experiences as a school board member and bus driver a number of years ago. He recalled that Mrs. Watson Whaley rode a bus hodgepodge when she was a first grader.

One of the most enjoyable experiences Mr. Reeve recalled was that pupils riding his bus sang "Three Blind Mice" in rounds. He requested the Brownies to sing this round. Mrs. Russell O'Brian, Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Newman Jarrell Jr. directed the singing.

Decorations were red and white valentines. Centerpieces were made by members of the troop under the supervision of Mrs. William F. Bandy and Mrs. John Blackburn. Table covers were runners of red and white crepe paper. A valentine arrangement complete with cupid, his bow and arrow and hearts centered the serving table.

Those signing the guest register were Mrs. J. S. Clark, Jill Riethmayer, Doris Hale, Mrs. John Blackburn, Mrs. V. M. Ferguson, Mrs. Walter Riethmayer, Billy Dean Baxter, Mrs. Newman Jarrell Jr., Greg Jarrell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. William F. ## LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Still's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

Drive it—it's fun-tastic! See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for fast delivery, favorable deals.

From Whence Came The Valentine?

Have you ever wondered where Valentine's Day originated? We wondered, so we decided to try to trace down some facts about it. No facts were found, but a few assumptions and logical conclusions were. The following information was obtained from a couple of the teachers, The Encyclopedia Americana, and The World Book, as well as American Holidays.

It seems that Rome in about 250 AD was full of 'wolves'. A festival originated in which these wolves were eliminated by having a drawing of lots once a year for sweethearts. This practice was observed about the same time as Valentine's Day is now observed and was called Lupercalia.

Some years after the beginning of this festival, St. Valentine appeared on the scene. According to some, he was a monk who secretly married various young Romans. (Roman law stated that young men could not be married until 30 years of age, in order that they might serve in the military.) Others say that St. Valentine was arrested because of his religious teachings and was a priest. At any rate, during the persecution of the Christians under Claudius II, he was arrested and thrown in prison.

In prison, some say, he wrote various papers which on being sent out were called valentines. Hence these were the first valentines.

Contradictory to this is that following St. Valentine's death (he was beheaded) his day was observed on February 14 as a saint's day.

It was on this saint's day that young people first started drawing lots for their valentine. As was the custom, those who drew each other's names, exchanged gifts. This custom was carried over to France and England where eventually only the gentleman sent his sweetheart a gift, usually accompanied with a verse. Finally the custom was narrowed down to only the traditional verse.

St. Valentine probably never suspected that many years after his death millions would be paying homage to his day. Again this Sunday, February 14, we Americans will observe this day adding one more to the nearly 2000 years.

Ingredients Chosen For 'Onions In The Stew'

Can You Beat This?

This poem proves that English is still a hard subject. Where can a man buy a cap for his knee, Or a key for a lock of hair? Can an eye be called an academy Because there are pupils there?

In the crown of your head What jewels can be found? Who crossed the bridge of your nose? Could you use in shingling the roof of your mouth The nails on the end of your toes? Could the crook in you be sent to jail

To Manitou Springs Or Bust!

BY CAROLYN WINES

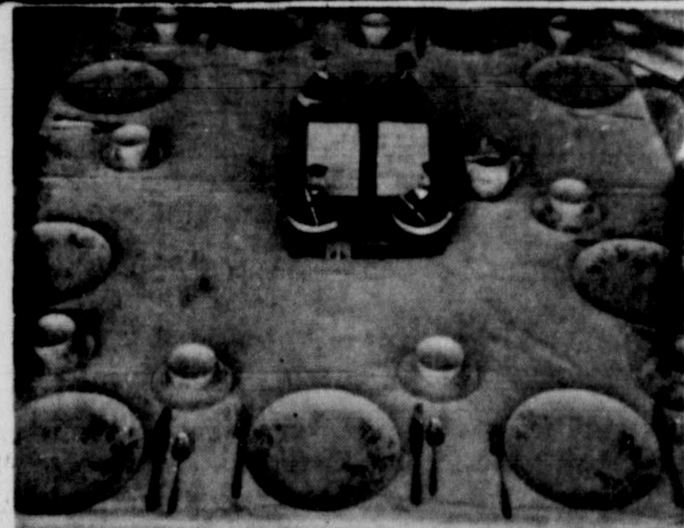

A decision has been reached, the senior class of '60 has decided to go to Manitou Springs on their senior trip. In a class meeting Thursday, Feb. 4, three resorts were presented, including Manitou Springs, Colorado. The class voted unanimously for Manitou Springs. ## FTA Representatives Selected

BY CAROLYN WINES

If you should happen to see two girls walking down the hall with smiles spreading across their faces, here is one reason for it. Geneva Floyd and Lawana Houlette have been selected as representatives for the Friona FTA chapter to the annual state FTA convention in Denton, Texas, Feb. 19-20. The chapter feels that they will be well represented at this convention. These girls were elected in the FTA meeting Feb. 5. Other matters discussed at this meeting were installation of officers, deadline for the pins, and national college scholarships for FTA members.

THE KEY TO SUCCESS is knowledge was the theme of the centerpiece prepared for the School Board's dinner. Home economics II girls were hostesses.

A Players Prayer

All the time, and all the way.

I don't want to be a whimperer, Lord, Or a quitter, when the game gets rough; I don't want to be a slacker, Lord, When the playing's hard, and the going's rough.

I don't want to be a cheater, Lord, Or a loafer, when the pressure's light; I don't want to be a winner, Lord, If I can't do the winning right.

I don't want to play for glory, Lord, Or retaliate for unfair play; I want to play it fair and clean, Lord,

I don't want to be an alibier, Lord, Or justify myself when I am wrong; I only want to give my best, Lord, And in thy strength alone be strong.

Community Plans Mortgage Burning

Members of the Hub community organization are making plans for a community wide meeting Saturday, February 20, at 7 p. m. Supper will be served and new officers will be elected. Highlight of the meeting will be disposal of the mortgage on the building which was recently paid off. This organization was formed in February of 1957 and work on the building began about one month later.

Reports indicate that the recent community sale was an overwhelming success and the proceeds from it were sufficient to retire the indebtedness on the building.

Since its completion in 1957, the building has served the community in many ways and has also been used by other communities, individuals and organizations.

Public School Week Slated

Superintendent Alton Farr has announced completion of plans for Public School week in Friona Schools. The special week will be observed the week of February 29 through March 4.

All parents and interested individuals are invited by Farr to participate in this event. Details of special activities planned during the week will be announced in a later edition of the Star.

Robason Named Outstanding Farmer

D. O. Robason Jr. of Siloam Springs, Ark., was named outstanding young farmer of the year at the annual Bosses Night Awards Dinner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city, Saturday night, January 23.

Robason, who lives north of the city, was given his award by Richard Hughes, Vo-Ag teacher in Siloam Springs High School. In presenting the award, he said, "I have known this young man for the past three years. He and his wife and two children came here from Texas. I believe he was one of the first in the area to put in a modern pipeline milking system with bulk milk tank."

"He is a progressive young farmer, a member of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of Benton County, and his herd of dairy cows produced an average of 10,000 pounds of milk per cow, which is very good for this area.

"He also raises broilers to supplement his dairy income. He is active in his church and farm organizations."

Young Robason is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Robason Sr., former Friona residents who now reside at Siloam Springs. He is a 1953 graduate of Friona High School and his wife is the former Carmel Fields.

Upon receiving his award, Robason said, "I feel that lowe any degree of success I may attain in my chosen profession to the instruction and encouragement of my vo-ag teacher in Friona High School. Any honors you confer upon me are a result of the influence of J. T. Gee."

L. M. Crow of Friona is Robason's grandfather and Mrs. Calvin Talley is his sister.

Community Plans Mortgage Burning

Members of the Hub community organization are making plans for a community wide meeting Saturday, February 20, at 7 p. m. Supper will be served and new officers will be elected.

Highlight of the meeting will be disposal of the mortgage on the building which was recently paid off. This organization was formed in February of 1957 and work on the building began about one month later.

Reports indicate that the recent community sale was an overwhelming success and the proceeds from it were sufficient to retire the indebtedness on the building.

Since its completion in 1957, the building has served the community in many ways and has also been used by other communities, individuals and organizations.

Public School Week Slated

Superintendent Alton Farr has announced completion of plans for Public School week in Friona Schools. The special week will be observed the week of February 29 through March 4.

All parents and interested individuals are invited by Farr to participate in this event. Details of special activities planned during the week will be announced in a later edition of the Star.

Robason Named Outstanding Farmer

D. O. Robason Jr. of Siloam Springs, Ark., was named outstanding young farmer of the year at the annual Bosses Night Awards Dinner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city, Saturday night, January 23.

Robason, who lives north of the city, was given his award by Richard Hughes, Vo-Ag teacher in Siloam Springs High School. In presenting the award, he said, "I have known this young man for the past three years. He and his wife and two children came here from Texas. I believe he was one of the first in the area to put in a modern pipeline milking system with bulk milk tank."

"He is a progressive young farmer, a member of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of Benton County, and his herd of dairy cows produced an average of 10,000 pounds of milk per cow, which is very good for this area.

"He also raises broilers to supplement his dairy income. He is active in his church and farm organizations."

Young Robason is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Robason Sr., former Friona residents who now reside at Siloam Springs. He is a 1953 graduate of Friona High School and his wife is the former Carmel Fields.

Upon receiving his award, Robason said, "I feel that I owe any degree of success I may attain in my chosen profession to the instruction and encouragement of my vo-ag teacher in Friona High School. Any honors you confer upon me are a result of the influence of J. T. Gee."

L. M. Crow of Friona is Robason's grandfather and Mrs. Calvin Talley is his sister.

Friona Collegians Make Honor Rolls

Margaret Mabry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mabry of the Hub community and a 1958 graduate of Friona High School, was one of the top 12 students whose names were listed on the Lubbock Christian College honor roll for the fall semester.

Her grade point average for the semester was 2.6, according to Dr. Jack Bates, academic dean of the college.

Miss Mabry is a member of the Girls' Sextet of LCC, reporter-historian of Kappa Phi Kappa Woman's Social Club and a member of the mission study class.

Bobby Sartain, junior from Friona at Wayland Baptist College is one of 43 students listed on the dean's honor roll for the fall semester with a 2.53 grade average, according to Dr. Cecil Cooper, dean of the college.

Sartain, son of Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Sartain of Friona, is a member of International Choir and program chairman of Wayland Science Club. He is a mathematics major.

Janice Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr. and a 1957 graduate of Friona High School, also made the dean's honor roll at Wayland Baptist College. Her grade average was 2.15.

Miss Miller, a junior mathematics major, is transferring from Wayland Baptist College at Plainview to Colorado State University at Fort Collins.

At the present time she is employed by Steve Messenger Bookkeeping Service, but will leave later this month for Fort Collins where she will enroll March 1.

Public School Week will be observed at the Lazbuddie school from February 28 to March 4, according to an announcement made this week by Superintendent Ward. An invitation is extended to parents to visit the school during this time.

Members of the Lazbuddie Student council met in the study hall of the school on February 2. Committee reports were given and during the business meeting a committee was selected to check on the possibility of having nine weeks tests instead of six weeks tests, and to also check the possibilities of getting out of school at 3:30.

Four boys and two girls have received their drivers licenses in the freshman class after having drivers education.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Watson visited in Littlefield on Friday with Mrs. Lore Bamberg who will be 106 years of age on April 23. Mrs. Bramburg fell and broke her arm last week. She is the grandmother of the Watson's son-in-law, Orbie Chandler.

Larry Donn Tims Born Friday A. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Donn Tims became parents of a baby boy at Parmer County Community Hospital at 1:16 a. m. Friday, February 5. He weighed 7 lbs. 11 3/4 ozs. and was named Larry Donn. He is the first child for the couple.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bails of the Hub community and G. E. Tims of Farwell.

Larry Donn's great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hadley of Friona, M. F. Bails of Ashland Ohio, Mrs. C. C. Tims of Hedley and Mrs. J. S. Harlin of Ulman, Mo.

Great-great-grandparents are F. H. Hadley of Friona and Mrs. Mary Bails of Sullivan, Ohio.

Mrs. Tims is the former Charlotte Bails.

FIVE GENERATIONS--The birth of Larry Donn Tims Saturday made five generations in the F. H. Hadley family. Holding Larry Donn is his mother, Charlotte A. Bails Tims. Seated next to her is her mother, Lottie Hadley Bails. A. H. Hadley, standing left is the father of Mrs. Bails and F. H. Hadley, right is his father.

On the bright side of the picture was the fact that no one was injured. Considerable damage was done to the house and late Tuesday the Stubbs family was apartment hunting.

Then in the afternoon a part of the roof of Friona Motors was blown off. Where does Steven Stubbs work? You guessed it--at Friona Motors.

An amusing incident occurred in the Star office one afternoon. A stranger came and asked for Dave McReynolds. Of course, McReynolds was making tracks up and down the street.

The man was invited to sit down to await the editor's return. After quite a long wait, he asked if anyone else could help him. He said, "I need to see him on some Lion's Club business."

At that moment Boss Lion George Jones passed the window, so was hailed in and the stranger soon had his business attended to and was on his way.

Needless to say, McReynolds was still out making tracks.

Our most asked question recently has been, "When are you going to move to town?" It seems everyone who reads the Floyd's had purchased a house in Friona.

Moving to town is a different thing. Soon Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Messenger will occupy the house and we plan to continue living in the country.

Perhaps the time will come when moving to town will seem like the thing to do, but right now too many "almost" members of the family might become nuisances to city neighbors. Don't know what we'd do with Tammy, a Boston bulldog; Fritz, a worthless tom cat; or Duke, a German Shepherd pup who is sure to make a good watchdog. Truthfully, we like living on a farm and at the present time have no desire to change.

Mrs. O. J. Beene occasionally has difficulty speaking. When asked how she managed to deal with first graders without any voice, during a recent voiceless day she replied, "That's no problem at all. When I have to whisper to them, they whisper back to me."

This is quite understandable because most of us react this same way. In fact, when the person asking the question of Mrs. Beene was talking to her, she whispered, also.

Maybe parents might capitalize on this psychology on their children at home. Practice speaking to them calmly and perhaps a calm answer will be returned.

Read in the Castro County News recently that Nolan and Mary Rainey, who formerly operated a cafe here, had sold their Steak House there. Visited briefly with Mary in a local store one day, but at that time they had not made definite plans for the future.

After the public sale was held Tuesday afternoon, Col. Bill Flippin probably feels the need of a personal weather forecaster when he sets dates for sales. Think the weather has been most uncooperative for the last few he has scheduled.

Our apologies this week go to everyone who furnished us information for a story that did not appear in last week's Star. There are times when the omission of stories is unavoidable and we do appreciate the consideration everyone shows us at these times.

It is especially unfortunate that at times there isn't room for Girl Scout Notes. Since these meetings are usually on Monday afternoon, we generally receive the information Tuesdays. As a general rule this is early enough, but then there are times when it isn't.

One of our most faithful Girl Scout reporters is Vicki Moorman and her interest in doing her job well is certainly to be admired. Congratulations, Vicki, and keep up the good work.

We've heard nothing but praise for Dr. Floyd Golden's talks. Since Friona feels that the president of ENMU is very special, the opinions may be slightly colored. However, the out-of-towners we know who have heard Dr. Golden seem to feel the same way.

He has slated one more speaking engagement here later this month. More about his trip to Russia will be heard when he speaks to the Parmer County Teachers Association February 22.

Of course, Cotton John isn't a native of Black or as far as we know, has never lived there, but it seems that residents of that community feel that he is one of them.

Tonight (Thursday) at the community house the film "An Arctic Adventure" will be shown. Everyone who listens to Cotton John at the "best part of a Golden Spread day" probably knows by now that the film will be shown.

If anyone reads this column that hasn't already learned about the showing, you still have time to go to Black and be a guest of the residents of that friendly community.

Seems that "Old Brother West Wind" kinda picked on Steven Stubbs Tuesday. About noon his mobile home at the trailer park west of town blew over on its side.

The way the story reached us was that Mrs. Stubbs was cooking dinner when a gust of wind upset her home. Someone remarked, "Well, I guess she spilled the beans."

Water Table Declines 4.69 Feet in 1959

By W. H. Graham Jr.

Measurements completed last week by the U. S. Geological Survey indicate that Farmer County's water table--like that of all of the irrigated Plains--is declining with continued pumping. The drop in the 1959 pumping season averages 4.69 feet.

A drop was anticipated, inasmuch as it has been conclusively established that for all practical purposes irrigation farmers are pumping water from storage in the saturated sands beneath their farms, and although the water resources of this area are enormous, they are not inexhaustible.

However, the size of the drop is looked upon with some surprise. That much of a decline wasn't anticipated. In the Farmer County area, use of the irrigation well to supplement natural moisture was thought to have been less in 1959 than in previous years since development of widespread irrigation. However, such may not have been the case.

If meters were installed on all Farmer County wells and records were kept, the truth would be known, but since that isn't the case, the only thing left to do is speculate. Here's the way the authorities figure the decline of 4.69 feet may be explained:

1. There are more irrigation wells than ever before. More water is pumped on land that is under irrigation because distribution pattern is more uniform.

2. There is more land under irrigation than ever before.

3. Probably the most important reason for continued heavy use in 1959; The moisture of last year did not occur before nearly all of the pre-watering had been done. The pre-planting irrigation is the biggest water user of all.

In general, both cotton and grain sorghum were saved from one irrigation in the 1959 growing season by the rainfall. Also, late-in-the-year irrigation of the 1960 wheat crop was avoided, or the most of it, anyway, with the snow and rain that has been a frequent guest in recent months.

PAUL RETTMAN of the U. S. Geological Survey takes a measurement to the water table of a Farmer County irrigation well. He runs in enough steel tape down the side of the casing to reach to the level of the water. The way he determines the level is to subtract the amount of tape found to be wet when the tape is reeled back up, from the amount of tape that was rolled down into the well.

It is interesting to note the average depth-to-water measurements since extensive records have been kept. Using 46 observation wells, the average depth to the table in 1956 was 181.30 feet. The next year it dropped to 185.04 feet, or a decline of 3.74 feet.

In 1958, the water was 188.33 feet below the surface, which was 3.29 feet lower than in 1957, and in 1959 the measurement was 190.22 feet, or a decline of only 1.89 feet from the previous year. Frankly, authorities are at a loss to explain why the decline was less than two feet during the 1958 pumping season. Irrigation well use in Farmer County was considered about the same as in the other years measurements were taken.

The present average depth to water in those 46 observation wells is 194.91 feet. The average yearly decline since record keeping has been 3.40 feet, or a total of 13.61 feet in four years.

Paul Rettman of the USGS office in Plainview made the measurements again this January. He comments that this is the best year he has ever seen for getting accurate statistics. One of the problems in measuring water levels is finding a time when irrigation wells are not in general use. In Farmer County that's sometimes hard to do, but this year Rettman lucked out. "Not a one of the wells I checked was pumping," he said. Usually, he is forced to omit measurements in from three to six wells because of irrigation schedules.

Measurements taken shortly after a well has been shut off are seldom indicative of the normal water table. The reason is that the pump pulls down a cone of depression around the bottom of the well, where water percolates through the sand. Until this cone levels out (and it usually takes several days for full recovery), an accurate measurement cannot be made.

Long-time readers of Farm and Home who may have clipped stories from previous yearly reports on well measurements may note some discrepancies in the figures given in this article. The reason is that the statistics have been revised for accuracy. Formerly, articles have been based on printed reports published by the State Board of Water Engineers. Usually, a few wells are omitted. The figures used this week are more comprehensive.

Farm and Home will soon publish a map of observation well locations in Farmer County, and the complete water table readings that have been compiled during the last five years. This will be some of the most significant information ever assembled on the Farmer County farm economy.

Vegetable Prospects Poor

With potato planting time here, High Plains farmers are wondering what is in store for them during the coming year. Prospects are slim, but many unforeseen events can change the market overnight.

The potato raising areas of California and Arizona, after a successful year, will be increasing acreage of the crop.

Shipping will reach its peak in those places before it begins in the Farmer County area.

If the shipping from those markets overlaps very much into the shipping season here, it could hurt the home market. This is the opinion of two Farmer County potato producers, Kenneth Neill of Friona Shippers and Growers and Buck Gregory of Lariat.

Neill says there is not much interest in potato planting because of bad weather.

"A lot of farmers have seed ordered, but they don't know whether they are going to get it planted."

"We really don't know what the potato acreage will be. I suppose we will have a 10 per cent cut in acreage from last year."

Neill says he does not expect a big change in the market from last year. He says most farmers are discouraged about the outlook.

"From all the reports we get, we should be in a good position, but too many things are involved because you can't ever know what other areas have."

"There are more hazards in growing." He says losses from hail and other weather increase the potato farmer's risk.

"All have grown potatoes before at least one year," Neill says of the 12 spud growers in the Friona area.

"From $2.00 to $2.25 a hundred is the average for potato crops over the years. A farmer should figure his crop on the average. About 100 to 150 sacks to the acre is the average yield."

The association manager says last year the market and yield were a good deal below average on everything but cabbage.

"It is seldom that we have an average, but prices are usually at extremes." Neill compares the weather extremes of the High Plains with potato prices.

"If you can get the average, you can stay in the business. We are not starting out under good conditions."

"It has been four years since we have had a decent deal on potatoes and two years for carrots."

"You can't gamble too much on vegetables because the law of averages does not apply to vegetables."

Area farmers will be raising carrots, cabbage and onions, Neill says.

"I imagine there will be about 300 acres of carrots, probably 75 acres of cabbage and probably 75 acres of onions."

"The biggest thing in this country is the sugar beet deal." Neill is optimistic about the possibility of a beet processing in this area in the near future.

Although only four farmers in the county are raising sugar beets, Neill thinks increased acreage this year will bring the industry here.

"It will promote cattle feeding like nothing else has ever done." Neill says feeding the pulp left from processing will replace ensilage, if there were a beet factory here.

"It looks to me like the greatest thing that could happen to this country. I predict that if they get one factory, in five years there will be another one." He says increased stock feeding would also help the price of milk.

"It's a little too early to tell," says Buck Gregory of Lariat about the summer potato prospects, but he does not think the outlook is very good.

"I imagine we will have 200 acres of potatoes this summer."

Gregory says he has done no planting, but some tilling. He says he just can't tell about the market yet.

"Price will probably be lower if California and Arizona do well."

"I am planting my own seed." The three varieties Gregory raises on his farm two miles south of Lariat are Red Pontiac, Red LaSoda and Early Gem, a white potato. He has a shed in Lariat that he uses in processing potatoes for shipping or planting.

"As far as I was concerned, it was a poor year," Gregory says of 1959.

"Hail did some damage, but price was pretty poor." He is planting about the same number of acres that he did last year. He mentioned that many other areas are raising about the same number of acres, although acreage is increased in California and Arizona.

"Our seed looks good that we carried over from the fall crop. The potatoes keep good," Gregory stored potatoes for seed during the winter.

Feeding Operation Largest In Area

Frank Hinkson, whose farm is near Lazbuddie, operates what is probably the largest and most unusual private cattle feeding setup in this area.

Hinkson has just recently completed construction on feed lots capable of handling 1000 head of cattle on full feed. He also runs cattle on wheat and permanent bermuda grass pasture.

The High Plains farmer says he runs the feed lots in conjunction with a ranch his brother operates in Arizona. Cattle are shipped from the ranch, where a mother herd system is in operation, to the lots where they are fattened for market.

"We don't run a year-round feed lot," Hinkson and his brother are partners in both the ranch and feed lot setup. "Sometimes it is more profitable to sell stocker cattle off the ranch than to fatten them up."

"I think I have a pretty efficient setup here," Hinkson and one other man do most of the work. He uses such special equipment as ensilamixer truck feeder, and tractors with various attachments.

Hinkson feeds ensilage for roughage and ground maize and cottonseed meal.

"I have my silos dug in the side of a hill so they will drain out," The huge silos on the Hinkson farm are probably the most unusual in this area.

"I am going to try to get all sloping land in bermuda grass. It's the best thing I have found to keep land from washing."

In addition to his feeding operations, Hinkson raises maize and wheat.

FRANK HINKSON, on horseback after working some cattle in his feed lots on his farm near Lazbuddie, has what is probably the largest and most unusual individual feed lot setup in this area. The new pens, just recently completed, are capable of handling 1000 head of cattle on full feed. Hinkson runs the feeding setup in conjunction with a ranch his brother operates in Arizona.

THESE VIEWS of Frank Hinkson's feed lots show only a portion of the large area covered by the newly built pens, that are capable of handling 1000 head of cattle on full feed. Hinkson had the pens built nearer to the rest of his farm for convenience. His old pens were located several miles from the Hinkson home, which is now almost adjacent to the lots.

Record Workshop Monday

The first meeting of farm and home record workshops for couples will be Monday, Feb. 15, at the courthouse, starting at 2 p. m. This is the first in a series of meetings to help farm families with record keeping. "You are to bring your January bank statement and receipts," says County Agent Joe Jones. "This meeting will be devoted to record keeping systems and to helping each family set up the method most suited to their needs."

"Record books will be available or you can bring the one you have been using."

Feed Lots Growing

The day may not be far off when nearly all of the heavy beef eaten in Texas will have been fattened, finished and processed in Texas--which is a complete reversal of a condition that has prevailed generally in the past.

Until recent years practically all of the heavy beef consumed in Texas, the nation's No. 1 cattle producing state, has come from feed lots in the Mid-Western corn belt. Texas cattle were sold as feeders to be shipped to the corn belt for fattening and processing, then shipped back at fancy prices in the form of U. S. good,

U. S. choice and U. S. prime beef.

But the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research now reports a tremendous growth in Texas feeding operations during the past four years. On Jan. 1, 1955, there were only 61 listed commercial operations in Texas with a feeding capacity of 1,000 head or more each, carrying an aggregate capacity of 160,000 head. On Jan. 1, 1959, there were 94 such feed lots on record, with an aggregate capacity of 240,000 head, developing an increase of 50 per cent in capacity in the four years.

This growth is still going on. An example is the Luck T. Cattle Co. which operates just west of San Antonio on the Edwards Plateau, now expanding its capacity from around 8,000 head to 13,000 head, including a completely automatic feed mill capable of turning out from 250 to 300 tons of feed a day.

Another is provided by Lewter, Inc. of Lubbock, which has expanded its feed lots to take care of 25,000 cattle at a time, along with a million-dollar beef slaughtering and processing plant. Construction is scheduled in 1960 in Houston of a $2 million livestock feeding plant to supply the new Armour and Co. beef processing plant there with from 400 to 1,000 cattle weekly.

In addition to the larger feeding operations, there are now hundreds of smaller pens which handle between 100 to 999 head each, and many more such feed lots with capacities of less than 100 each.

This means, the Bureau of Business Research finds, that increased interest in feeding among farmers and ranchers plus the rapidly growing investment in feed lot facilities is evidence that Texas is becoming a major cattle feeding state.

Choosing Spring Accessories
Have you ever brought home a bargain hat or bag--or shoes of a delightfully "different" color only to find that they didn't go with a thing you had? In that case, they may have been expensive accessories after all.

To get the most for your money, plan carefully before you buy--remembering the color and design of your basic dresses or suits. Accessories should accent or complement a costume, according to extension clothing specialists of Texas A&M. They can add spice to simple solid color dress or suit, or supply the unifying note with a striking print dress or plaid suit.

Avoid using too many different colors in one costume. The eye jumps from one spot to another, and you lose the effect of unity. A general rule for the use of contrasting color, texture or pattern in accessories is never to repeat more than three times--generally two are smarter; for example, shoes, bags and gloves, or shoes, bag and hat, or bag and hat.

Intensity of the color is important. Don't overdo it. The more brilliant or intense the color, the smaller the area it should cover. Unusual colors draw the eye just because they are complex in makeup. Use them with care.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

Accessories Around The Clock, a bulletin written by extension clothing specialists, gives lots of ideas and suggestions.

You can get a copy from my office. I am planning to give this demonstration, "Accessories Around The Clock," to the Home Demonstration Clubs this month.

SET OR MOVE SHRUBS NOW
This is a good time to organize shrubs into screen or foundation plantings around the home, according to Miss Sadie

Hatfield, extension homestead improvement specialist of Texas A&M. Any shrubs that dot the lawn and complicate mowing may be reset at this time.

Consider potential size of the tree or shrub, when choosing a location for setting or resetting. Large growing plants are not suited for planting around the walls or foundation of the average home. They do make excellent screen plantings to give privacy to the work or recreation area of the landscape. Some large plants that require little water are the althea, ligustrums, Arizona cypress, cherry laurel, crape myrtle, evergreen sumac and others. Nearly all of the hollies should be used in screen planting rather than placed around the house.

Shrubs for foundation plantings should be in proportion to the size of the house. For the low, ranch type house, which is popular now, true shrubs, that is, shrubs that will not grow over 8 to 10 feet, are best suited. There are many true shrubs that are drought, and pest resistant. Among these are rosemary, lavender, the dwarf junipers, spirea, dwarf pyracantha, nandina, abelia, native agarita and others.

Proper location of shrubs will save work in pruning and care, and add to the attractiveness and comfort of home grounds.

START THESE BUSY DAYS WITH A GOOD BREAKFAST-- You'll feel better, and work better. . . . A good basic breakfast pattern goes something like this: Fruit, cereal, eggs, toast and beverage. Breakfast should supply one-fourth to one-third of the amount of food needed for a day. . . . Studies show that if breakfast is neglected, the nutrients are not supplied in the other meals of the day.

PLANNING MEALS A WEEK IN ADVANCE HELPS-- in buying, using leftovers, and in adding variety to meals, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. Balance each day's meal by including foods from each division of the Texas Food Standard. Get a copy from your local home demonstration agent or write the Agricultural Information Office.

BRUCE BILLINGSLEY examines one of the 189 trees he and his father, Leon, are planning to use in a windbreak on the west side of their farmhouse, one mile west of Oklahoma Lane. Bruce is working with the trees as a part of his farm beautification 4-H Club project. The Billingsleys ordered the plants from the Texas Forest Service.

AFTER A FEW years growth, the trees in this three row windbreak are reaching a size large enough that they can begin to serve the purpose for which they were planted. The cedar trees shown are on the Donald Watkins farm one mile west of Oklahoma Lane. This type of farm improvement and beautification seems to indicate a trend among High Plains farmers.

Billingsley Plans Farm Beautifying

Like many other Farmer County area farmers, Leon Billingsley of Oklahoma Lane is beginning work this year to improve and beautify his farm. He is one of the fifteen farmers in this area who has ordered trees from the Texas Forest Service this year.

Billingsley and his son, Bruce, plan to set the trees out to form a windbreak on the west side of their farmhouse and barns. Out of 200 trees they ordered, 189 are still living. They are keeping the small trees in buckets, buried beside their house until more favorable planting time next May.

The Oklahoma Lane farmer says the plants are easier to water and that late planting will give them a chance to grow some and avoid the wind and sand of the earlier spring months. For the time being, Bruce and his father plan to plant only a straight windbreak on the west side of their house, but may later plant one on the north side.

Bruce is helping Billingsley because he has chosen farmstead beautification as his 4-H Club project this year. He cares for the small trees and will help set them out in the summer.

"I think it is a nice one, and it requires less work than other projects," Bruce says. The Billingsley Farm is one mile west of Oklahoma Lane.

The Billingsleys obtained their 100 ponderosa pine and 100 red cedar trees by sending in a Windbreak Planting Stock Application to the Texas Forest Service at College Station, Texas. The applications are available to all farmers or persons planning to use the trees on public property, at the county agent's office.

Joe Jones, Farmer County agricultural agent, says the trees may be ordered for any farm, church, school, but not for city residences.

"The trees are mainly for farmstead windbreak purposes, but it does amount to a landscaping project."

The program was started in 1951. Trees cost $1.50 per hundred, prepaid, and no order for less than a total of 100 trees of one species will be accepted.

"I would say orders run from 1000 a year in the county as high as 10,000," Jones says.

The county agent suggests that farmers ordering the plants, plan a windbreak around their farms to protect their houses from wind and sand and provide a place for children to play. Also, adult recreational facilities such as a patio or barbecue pit would be possible.

"They should have the windbreak back from the house to protect not only the house. Leave an area inside the windbreak to be used by the family."

"Some farmers park machinery, trucks and trailers inside and have bars inside their windbreak, and then screens are sometimes used to hide the view of the barns and trailers." Jones explains that screens are merely short, single rows of trees to obscure something from view, while windbreaks are usually planted two or three rows and sometimes surrounded the farmhouse.

Jones says tree applications may be picked up at his office on the second floor of the courthouse in Farwell.

MY GET UP AND GO HAS GOT UP AND WENT

How do I know
My youth is all spent?
Well, my get up and go
Has got up and went.
But in spite of it all,
I am able to grin
When I think of where
My get-up has been.
Old age is golden,
So I've heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder
As I get into bed,
With my ears in a drawer,
My teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table
Until I wake up.
Ere sleep dims my eyes,
I say to myself,
Is there anything else
I should have laid on the shelf?
I am happy to say
As I close my door,
That my friends are the same,
Only perhaps more.
When I was young
My slippers were red,
I could kick up my heels
Right over my head.
When I grew older
My slippers were blue,
But still I could dance
The whole night through.
Now that I am old
My slippers are black,
I walk to the store
And puff my way back.
The reason I know
My youth is all spent,
My get-up and go
Has got up and went.
But I really don't mind
When I think with a grin,
Of all the grand places
My get-up has been.
Since I've retired
From life's competition
I busy myself
With complete repetition.
I get up each morning
And dust off my wits,
Pick up the paper
And read the obits.
If my name is missing
I know I'm not dead,
So I get a good breakfast
And go back to bed.

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham Jr.

About a month ago we published an article in Farm and Home showing how the gross farming income of the Parmer County area is continuing to rise, and, in spite of the fact that (if dealing in percentages of gross) profit margins for farmers have become very thin, the local economy continues to expand.

There is no better way to illustrate just how this seemingly contradictory action takes place than at just this moment. Let's review the facts. The area has received an extraordinary amount of moisture during the winter months. The amount received may well be a record for this time of year. At least, we do know that it exceeds anything that has occurred since the start of the 1940's.

This should be cause for great rejoicing for the area as a whole. Wheat prospects are vastly improved. At least one winter irrigation has been avoided. Pre-watering, or a big part of it anyway, is going to be eliminated on the coming big grain sorghum and cotton crop. Land breaking plans have been curtailed or dropped entirely. Farms are in a fine shape.

But is everybody happy? Not on your life. The muddy fields and bitter cold days have interrupted all sorts of normal activities. The well service business has been bogged down. Pipe laying schedules have been dealt a hard blow. Fertilizer sales were brought to a standstill. New tractors weren't moving.

What was the matter? Nothing, really. Just some good old-fashioned rain and snow. Only, people haven't been used to it in recent years. We almost panic at what has happened for a few weeks, and yet before the year is out we all will benefit greatly from the generosity of Mother Nature at such an opportune time.

This spell of bad weather chased more farmers off to Mexico and other more temperate climes than we can ever recall. It's been wholesale evacuation, but it's about over. The weather is straightening out, the fishermen are returning home, full of the usual cock and bull, and in the meanwhile, farm work has been stacking up considerably. Farmers will soon "get after it" and we'll forget our temporary blues.

So, odd as it may seem, we don't appreciate the moisture at all. That used to be the easy way to farm, but we don't want the good old days back. We welcome the return of the treadmill. Such is human nature.

Treiders Make FU Trip to Washington

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Treider and Melvin Treider Jr. of Lazbuddie are among Farmers Union members making an annual Farmers Union sponsored bus trip to Washington, D. C. The travelers are in the nation's capitol this week.

The Union says it will call on members of the senate, house, and USDA in an effort to pass what it calls "a realistic bargaining power farm bill for family farmers."

Alex Dickie, Texas FU president, says this would be "Realistic production controls to enable farmers to demand and get a fair price for what they produce."

Another proposal would be for a nation-wide, low interest "REA-type" loan for farmer owned cooperative marketing and processing plants which would enable the farmer to supervise his product further along the line.

Still another approach advocated by Farmers Union is direct payment on farm commodities.

The greatest tyranny has the smallest beginnings. From precedents overlooked, from remonstrances despised, from grievances treated with ridicule, from powerless men oppressed with impunity and overbearing men tolerated with complacency, springs the tyrannical usage which generations of wise and good men may hereafter perceive and lament and resist in vain.--The London Times (1845) answer to the problem is to chisel, apply nitrogen fertilizer, and list. This should enable most farmers to make a needed cut in farm expenses and keep yields high.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A number of farmers have asked the question lately as to whether it would pay them to break their land this year. The main fact that has prompted them to ask this question as most of us know is the high moisture content of the soil, and being late in being able to start the plowing operation.

Nature has a better way of breaking down hardpans and poor soil structure than has yet been devised by man. This year we have an opportunity to see this in operation. Nature's way of filling the upper soil profile with water and then freezing and thawing will mellow and aerate the soil much better than mechanically.

This will then increase the intake rate of the soil and give a better penetration of moisture. On the other hand should we decide to plow the land with it as wet as it now is, we would not only lose the effects of nature but would place a hard pan at the plowed depth that would act as a seal. This would decrease the water intake rate.

Some have expressed fear that sorghum or corn residue will give trouble next spring at planting time and cultivating. This should not give too much trouble because a large portion of the residue is pulled back to the surface when listing anyway.

It appears that the best
