CARRIZO SPRINGS—The old rock jail which served Dimmit county for more than 50 years was torn down this week to make room for the new and modern structure authorized by the commissioners' court, the Javelin reports. The new structure will cost around $25,000 and will have the latest equipment. The Javelin further states that the old jail building was erected in 1884 by contractors Chapman & Deats, at a cost of $9,500. It was of native stone construction.

SONORA—H. V. Stokes Sonora business man, was named chairman of the Sutton County Farm Debt Adjustment committee, the prime purpose of which is to bring together "distressed" ranchmen and to aid them in solving debt problems in a manner satisfactory to them and to their creditors, the Devil's River News reports in last week's issue.

McCAMEY—P. L. Brown, McCamey's expert snake catcher, informed the News of this place he has already begun getting his snake books together, measuring nabbing distances, and making other necessary preparations in advance of putting on his second snake derby. Last year at McCamey's annual birthday celebration, Brown put on what was claimed to be the world first "rattlesnake derby."

PECOS—Wesley May, director of the Pecos high school band, has received an invitation for the Pecos band to participate again this year in the annual High School Band Festival, to be held in Abilene early in April by Hardin-Simmons University.

MARFA—Vital statistics in this city during 1936, reported by the Big Bend Sentinel were: deaths 83, and births 126, which included 4 sets of twins. The first birth of the new year was that of Elvira Duran.

FORT STOCKTON—The city council of this city has ordered paving of 11 blocks of its streets. Paving will start in the business section at Second street, and extend westward to the high school building, according to the Pioneer. Contract calls for an asphalt topping on good base.

BRACKETTVILLE—What the News-Mail labels as the largest cattle deal in several years was closed recently in Kinney County which involved 5,000 head of pure bred Hereford yearlings. The cattle, owned by Cardwell Clump & Gaebler, were purchased by J. H. Mundine of Uvalde, for April delivery. The cattle will be sent to pasturage in Kansas, the News-Mail reported.

OZONA—Contracts to pave the last gaps in highway 27 through Crockett county have been let by the highway commission, according to the Stockman. Low bid on one stretch was by H. B. Zachary of Laredo, involving 10 miles; and on a 7 1/2-mile stretch R. W. McKinney of Nacogdoches was low bidder. Both projects, it was estimated, will cost approximately $155,906.

Barbershop Harmony

ABOUT 3,000 years ago, a court barber was trimming the beard of the famous King Archclaus. "How shall I cut it, sire?" he asked.

"In silence," thundered the king. The silence that then ensued is the last ever known to have occurred in a barber shop.

Barbering establishments of one kind or another have served as gossip centers from time immemorial. They once were far more important than they are today. Up until the time of the French revolution, barbers not only cut hair but pulled teeth and performed surgical operations as well. Many a man boasted that he could "breathe a vein" as well as he could mow a beard.

In fact, the barber's pole is a tangover from the days when the town barber was also its surgeon. The two spiral ribbons painted around the pole represent the bandages used to bind up the wounds of patients. In those days, barbers used the same instruments for shaving as for surgical work. Customers were asked whether they preferred to be shaved with a curving knife or a pen knife.

In addition to that, barbers during the middle ages often held shaving competitions. Old records say that Robert Hardie of England still holds the all-time quick-shaving mark. He once won a $2,500 bet by shaving six men in one minute and 29 seconds. He claimed to be able to shave a man, no matter how harsh his beard, in 12 seconds. He could also do the job blindfolded, with a curving knife, in 45 seconds.

Joe Kerr returned Tuesday morning from El Paso where he was called Sunday to the bedside of his sister, Mrs. T. R. Kuykendall, who is seriously ill at her home in that city. Mr. Kerr stated there was very little change in his sister's condition.

M. Campbell, third-trick operator for the T. & N. O. here, returned Tuesday morning from El Paso where he had been for the past two weeks recovering from an attack of flu. Mr. Campbell reported for duty and went to work that night.

IN TRUCK LEGISLATION

Any change in existing Texas truck laws which will increase the present 7,000-pound load limit will affect adversely all communities in the state, both rural and urban. This statement is proved best by identifying the causes and effects upon Texas communities.

These are:

1. Increasing truck loads mean correspondingly increasing the distance which the truck can profitably carry its load.
2. Increasing the distance of profitable truck haul means bringing the small town wholesale houses and industrial plants, such as wholesale grocers, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators, cotton compresses and retail lumber yards, into direct competition with similar establishments in large cities.
3. Such competition will inevitably result in further drying up the small country towns by taking from them the payrolls, taxes and local purchases represented by their present establishments. Property values, both residential and commercial, will decline; volume of retail sales will grow smaller and former employees will migrate to the cities to reinforce the ranks of the unemployed and the bread lines.

4. Large cities, at first stimulated by increased trade territories, bought at the expense of the country towns, will be ultimately affected adversely because of the resulting unhealthy condition of the rural communities forming these trade territories.

5. Because of the consequent shrinkage of the state's tax revenues from country towns, taxes from the cities will have to be increased correspondingly.

6. The lower truck load limit of Texas now has the effect of acting as a barrier at Texas borders to the movement of the larger truck loads carrying merchandise from the metropolitan and producing centers of other states. Any increase in Texas truck load limits will break down that barrier and permit the free truck movement into the state of many commodities which unquestionably would be sold directly to the retailers, thus destroying, in a large measure, the business of wholesalers and jobbers now located in Texas cities.

Conditions which affect adversely the well-being of Texas communities also affect Texas railroads in identical manner and degree.

serious diseases are prevalent at this season of the year.

Thorough process of Dry Cleaning which

Beat a tune with your feet. No I'm not advertising tapping, I'm just saying that you would be popular like Nell and Mildred.

The six Junior girls are becoming actresses. Miss Martin can explain it.

Sammie Carter was caught giving the teachers advice about their personal affairs. Those silly senior girls!

Guess what I saw! Coach Smith riding a bicycle backwards! Why didn't you join the amateur hour?

"He's a crook, but he's a honest crook," said Juanita Sibley quoting literature.

DONTAES MAGAZINES

Mrs. Alex Mitchell donated to the school library last week two years' back numbers of the National Geographic Magazine, and one year of back numbers of the Nature magazine.

The magazines are complete for each year and will add to the shelf in the library. Mrs. Mitchell has contributed other magazines to the high school during the past two years, and this year donated a year's subscription of Nature Magazine as a Christmas gift.

H. E. NEWS

Emma Fay Harris

The second year Home Economics girls finished their first home project January 18. Each one felt that she had accomplished a great deal from her project, and that it would be very useful to her later on. The girls did not have to work a certain length of time, but each one reported that she had worked at least fifteen hours.

In the short oral reports, each girl told what she had planned to do, the time she worked, the results and what she accomplished. All these reports were enjoyed very much.

Since a project lasts only half a year, each girl must begin a new project right away. They hope they will be as successful in these as they were in the first.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

Last Saturday afternoon Coach Peyton Cain, of Alpine, brought his junior basketball players to Sanderson and met juniors from Sanderson in three games. The home teams were defeated in all three games.

The scores from the Saturday games were: sixth grade, 25-6; seventh grade, 13-11; and the eighth grade, 15-11.

VOLLEYBALL

The volleyball girls are still practicing every afternoon and they are getting better after every practice. However, they have not got a game with anyone. They hope to get a game with Marathon, Alpine or Fort Stockton sometime this next week end. We will have later news about these games and when they will be played.

Two New Courses Are Introduced

Two new courses in high school and a change in the schedule of high school and seventh grade work marked the beginning of the spring semester. The changes were made the first of the week.

Commercial Arithmetic and Texas history are the new courses in high school that will be taught. Commercial arithmetic taught by A. B. Caraway, is in two class groups, the first coming at the second period in the morning replacing solid geometry that was taught at that period last semester. The other group of the commercial arithmetic class is taught also by Mr. Caraway at the sixth period in the place of second year algebra. Mr. R. D. Holt is teaching Texas history at the first period, the original schedule for Civics during last semester.

In the seventh grade the arithmetic class has been divided and J. J. Hensley is teacher of one group and Duane Smith teaches the second group. Geography of Texas is replacing civics in the second grade and Mr. Hensley will teach this also. The seventh grade English has been divided into two classes. Miss Marjorie Thornton, teacher of both groups, will have one class at the fourth period and one class at the fifth period.

Other seventh grade teacher is Mrs. Leona Ulbricht, who will teach reading and spelling.

Sul Ross Fish Defeat Eagles

The Eagle quints suffered a defeat last Friday night on the home court at the hands of the Sul Ross Freshman team by a score of 31-18. Following the high school team an independent team played the collegiates and were defeated by one point.

Class Ballad

As part of the Sophomore English work last semester, a story was read by the teacher to the class. As a result, the class composed the following ballad from the story:

In France a long, long time ago
In a dungeon by the sea,
There lived a man whom no one knew,
Whose past was a mystery.
He lived there twenty years or more,
And sang each day his songs,
Which cheered the heart of every man
Who was paying for his wrong.
A cold and heavy mask of iron
He wore upon his face;
His past was dim and ominous
But symbolic of that place.

For more than twenty years he dwelt
There in that house of gloom,
But never a wail went up from him—
Lamenting of his doom.

He wrote on a golden dinner plate
His story he'd never told,
And threw it out the window high
To a fisherman bent and old.

Then after days and days of grief
His life was ta'en away,
And no one known until this day
The thing he wished to say.

After the masked man passed away
In the dungeon by the sea,
This tale of old on the plate of gold
Remained a mystery.

Cagers to Play At McCamey Meet

Nothing definite in the matter of a basketball schedule for this week end had been worked out as the paper went to press. There was discussion of a game with the Alpine team there tonight, and the Alpine team playing a return game here Saturday night, but Coach Caraway stated late Wednesday that no definite plan had been made with Alpine.

If the Eagle do not play with Alpine this week end they may attend the annual McCamey tournament which is being held there today and tomorrow.

EDUCATION SHORTS

Many parents who want their children to get good grades in college have insisted that they live alone so that they can get more studying done than they would if they were distracted by roommates. This opinion was battered last week in a report of the Journal of Higher Education, which stated "students with one roommate have higher scholarship ranking than students without roommates." Declaring that comfort and companionship add to the better achievement of scholastic ranking, the report said, that even when students live at home, if they study with a brother or a sister, they "have a much better ranking than the student who lives alone."

At South Bend, Ind., on Nov. 9, Lutheran ministers protested to the school board that evolution was being taught in several text books as a fact rather than a theory, and that the faith of the pupils was likely to be undermined. After many conferences, Supt. of Schools Frank E. Allen last week announced that explanatory notes would be pasted in the books stating evolution was a theory and not a fact.—Pathfinder
