VOLUME XXX

It's Times' Thirtieth Birthday!

With this issue, the Times entered a new year, and its 30th birthday anniversary. Thirty long years of continuous existence, serving to the best of its ability the best interests of Sanderson and Terrell county.

While we are observing this birthday without any undue celebration, we pause to look back over the many years of use and service the Times has been to Sanderson and Terrell county—the Southwest, in general. There have been times when the trail looked dark but eventually the sun would break through—words of encouragement, some kindly deed. We are truly thankful for encouragement of our business men, and deeply appreciate their partneships in a business way. Too, we are grateful for the list of subscribers whose loyalty cannot be questioned.

Many changes have been made in the Times since the first issue came from the press. Its policy has been to keep in step with the times, and with the progress of our city. We believe this has been done.

The policy is to give presents to the one whose birthday it is. The Times will reverse this custom, and offer the paper to subscribers and non-subscribers for $1.50 a year. This special offer will be good from March 12 thru Saturday, March 20.

Yours for a Greater Sanderson

Over 900,000 Acres Listed in Range Program; Fence Building Clause Clarified By County Agt. Williams

Discussing the soil conservation program, recently launched by the U. S. government in co-operation with the ranchmen of all and other counties, E. L. Williams, Terrell county agent, at the following statement:

There seems to be some misunderstanding among ranchmen relative to the fence-building provisions of the Range Program. Regulations state that payment will be made for fences that are built, where necessary, to carry out other phases of the conservation program. Briefly, this means that if a ranchman intends to defer grazing on up to one-fourth of his land and it becomes necessary to fence in order to keep the off that particular land, then the government will pay him at the rate of $96 a mile to construct a fence. The rancher will also be paid one-fourth of his total land to defer grazing on that for the six month period.

Deferred grazing is defined in the program as follows: Deferred grazing means withholding from a portion of the ranch the time range vegetation has matured in the fall for the purpose of permitting the regrowth of the range land.

The program, range fence building is outlined as follows: For the construction of range fences, where necessary in order to carry out other phases of the Range Conservation Program. (Payment will be made for when constructed of three or more wires, with posts not more than 20 feet apart, with the posts well braced and with the wires tightly stretched).

Mr. Williams stated there have been seventy ranchers, who own approximately 900,000 acres, who have asked for an appraisal of the grazing capacity of their land.

It is hoped," Mr. Williams said at every acre in Terrell county will be turned in for appraisal. Williams will help ranchers who participate in the program, but on the other hand, will not obligate in any manner those who do not wish to share in the advantages which the program offers."

Plan 2 New Tests for Terrell

Kerr and Gatlin Ranch Properties are Selection as Sites of New Activities

Two test wells will be drilled in the southern part of Terrell county, according to a report given to the Times on Wednesday of this week by Marion Briggs who, with Mrs. Briggs, arrived here the first of the week, to make their home here for some time.

Mr. Briggs stated that drilling would be resumed on the Kerr place south of Dryden as soon as possible, in the test well that was started some time ago. This well, already rigged, is located on survey 18, on what is known as the Jess Haley ranch. At the time it was shut down it had been drilled to a depth of 958 feet.

Leases have also been acquired from other ranchers in the vicinity, Mr. Briggs stated, adding that a test well would be drilled on the R. M. Gatlin ranch.

Mrs. Briggs, the former Mrs. Jessie McPhee, has long been interested in Terrell county and for a number of years has held several leases in the county. She is well known in oil circles and formerly lived in Los Angeles. Mr. Briggs, too, is well known and has also been interested in oil activities in Terrell county for a number of years.

It is reported that drilling will soon be resumed in the near future in the H. H. Sides No. 1, located on the Bates-Felps properties. This well has been shut down for several weeks.

Oil men are also interested in the Sam Bell ranch near Pumpville, and negotiations are underway to put down a test well there some time in the near future.

Oil leases, and assignments, while not as active and brisk as usual, continue to be placed on record at the county clerk's office.

GOOD RAIN FRIDAY NIGHT

Beneficial rains fell in Terrell county over the week end with the heaviest precipitation on last Friday night. Several parts of the county received as much as three inches of rain that night. The rain fell slowly and most of it soaked into the ground, insuring plenty of green weeds and grass in early spring. Between one-half and three-quarters of an inch was recorded in town.

The rainfall covered a wide area in Southwest Texas, according to press reports.

Goode No. One Shut Down at Depth of 9,140 Feet; Future Plans Unknown

After reaching a depth of 9,140 feet, the Goode No. 1 of the Ohio Oil Co. being drilled in the eastern part of the county, was shut down on Monday of this week, according to reports reaching here from the well.

Starting at a depth of 6,148 feet, several months ago, drilling continued in hopes that the Ordovician would be encountered. The first change was to a black sandy shale, and this formation continued until the shutdown this week.

This test first drew attention of oil men in February, 1931, when a gas flow gauged at 6 1/4 million feet was struck at the 5,606 level. The well was deepened to 6,148, then corrected from 6,120, without change in the gas volume, and

Car Registrations Far Behind Total Issued Last Year

With only 16 more days remaining in which to obtain 1937 car license plates, the number issued thus far in this county lags far behind the number which will have to be issued if this year's total reaches that of 1936.

April 1 is the last day for obtaining the license plates without penalty. After that date a 20 per cent penalty is attached if the vehicle is driven on the highway. Up until Tuesday of this week there had been only 22 cars registered, one truck and one farm truck.

License plates for 1936 issued up to and including the expiration date, numbered 352 passenger cars, 53 commercial trucks and 103 farm trucks.

National Army Day Celebration At Fort Russell

Marfa, March 10.—(TPN)—Announcement was made this week by Col. R. L. Lewis, post commander of Fort D. A. Russell, that the post would be open to visitors April 6, to celebrate national Army Day.

Visitors from the Trans-Pecos and Big Bend areas are invited to come and inspect their fort. Dinner will be served at the post, army style, to everyone visiting Fort Russell's "open house."

An interesting program of entertainment will be provided that will last all day and in the evening.

The big 155 guns will be on inspection. Fort D. A. Russell is the headquarters of the 77th field artillery.

The heart of the modern radio, the vacuum tube, was patented in 1906 by Dr. Lee de Forest.

Rotarians Plan Interesting Meet Wednesday, 17th

At the regular luncheon of the Rotary club to be held here Wednesday, March 17, the club's guest and principal speaker will be Arthur B. Mayhew of Uvalde.

Mr. Mayhew was born in Wellington, Kansas, in 1879, but has lived in Texas nearly all his life. He was a merchant for over 30 years, and when he retired from active business in 1934, was president of the Mayhew Lumber Co., Uvalde. For many years he has served as president of the board of regents for the seven Texas state teachers colleges and as a member of the advisory board of the Lumbermen's Underwriters.

Mr. Mayhew has organized a number of Rotary clubs, including the Uvalde Rotary Club in 1922, of which he was first president. He has served Rotary International as governor of the 47th district (Southwest Texas), as a member of the club service committee and as a member of the board of directors.

Plans are being made by the local club to have one of the most interesting as well as educational meetings it has had in some time, it has been stated.

Spring is Here: Circus Coming Next Thursday

King Brothers Big Three-Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus is to be in Sanderson Thursday, March 18th for an afternoon and evening performance according to B. C. McDonald, agent of the show, who was here last week.

"No groundhogs needed around here," McDonald said. "The coming of the circus is the greatest herald of spring we know of."

King Brothers circus, according to the advance billing, is among the outstanding better class circuses on the road, and it is said by many who have witnessed a performance of its program to be "The most gigantic trained wild animal circus in America today."

The program, according to McDonald, is not confined to wild animal acts, but includes a brilliant array of aerial talent that has won recognition in the States and abroad.

A special feature this season is Miss Bessie Conrad who thrills the spectators with her sensational "slide for life" across the peak of the mammoth waterproof main show. Others that are equally well known to the public include Mile. Vates, Kolar's performing elephants, King's jet black liberty and dancing horses. Also Capt. Robert Conrad and his "cage of fury," wherein he battles a group of male African lions that have as yet bowed to no trainer.

King Brothers Circus will exhibit in Sanderson, afternoon and evening, Thursday, March 18. Popular prices will permit every kiddie from 6 to 60 to enjoy the 20 clowns and other features of the circus.

The big tent will be located on the grounds behind the McKnight Motor company.

Thanks a Lot

Today the Times celebrates its 30th birthday. None but a publisher knows exactly the feeling of satisfaction when recalling the years of service to one community and section. Boosting for every worthwhile move, recording the comings and goings of friends, the births, marriages and deaths—in a way, sharing the joys and the sorrows to a certain extent.

Of course, like any other business, there are up and downs, but it matters not which of these tips harder on the scales, all is well in the thought that we've been in there, going to bat for our own people. And trials are forgotten when a letter is received like the following from the E. H. McCright family, at Sweetwater:

Dear Publishers—Friends: Perhaps you would like to know just how well an ex-resident of Sanderson enjoys the home paper. Well, you may laugh this one off: In a joking way I told my wife that inasmuch as we were a daily customer of the Ft. Worth Star Telegram, and our daily here, it might be a good thing if we did not renew to the Times. And HER answer: "You may leave off this daily or the Star Telegram, but the Sanderson Times is 'gonna keep on comin'!" Ha!

Have had lots of dust storms the past few days. There is lots of flu among young and old. Both Frankie and myself have been down, she for three weeks, while I had a lucky "13" days hitch. We are both better now. We both yearn for the wonderful climate Sanderson affords, and we perhaps can vouch for that fact better than some people, having lived in this region before moving there. And too, we would not overlook the opportunity of commending the grand people we met while living there.

Accept our remittance and send the "Times."

Sincerely,
The McCrights.

CREIGHS RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Creigh, Jr., who had been in Rochester, Minn. for several weeks, and where Mr. Creigh underwent a major operation at the Mayo Brothers clinic, returned to their home here Monday night. Mr. Creigh is very much improved in health and hopes to be able to be at his law office here within the next two weeks.

HOLD REGULAR SESSION

All four of Terrell county's commissioners were present for the regular monthly meeting of the court which was held Monday. Besides routine business, the only item before the court was selection of a county depository for the next two years, the Sanderson State Bank being named.

Cactus juice is used to clean rust in the heating plants and to kill growths in city water mains.

Column Right

Our President, in his radio talk, didn't mince words about those derelicts on the Supreme Court Bench, and we believe many will change their opinion about revising the court. To do away with the old and substitute the new, has precedent in the greatest of books—the Bible. The Mosaic law, guide of a chosen people for centuries, went out with the advent of Christ. An eye for an eye was supplanted with love your enemies. Under the old law if a man was smitten, he smiteth right back; the new law said to "turn the other cheek." People caught in certain sins—CAUGHT, we said, were stoned to death. The new law said "he among you who is without sin cast the first stone. So, if the Constitution, one of the greatest documents that ever emanated from the brain of man, is found to be inadequate with the problems that confront us today—change it. But, then, who said anything about changing it?"

El Paso chamber of commerce wants an insane asylum located there. From the antics of candidates in the current municipal race, they will need two.

Fort Stockton farmers plan to make a concerted move to rid the area of ravens, whose ravenous appetites for grain and tender shoots take all the profit out of labor on the farm. Well, we'll say that's an ambitious program—like swatting to rid the country of flies. For every one you swat there a hundred more waiting to be swatted. Of course, when you swat one and leave nothing more than a greasy spot, you experience a sense of satisfaction. On the other hand, if the Stocktonites succeed in establishing the raven in a class with the dodo, some scientist will come along and prove they were a great benefit to mankind.

Had a try at the ancient game of golf the other day (pasture pool). We like the liberties allowed golfers, especially the duffer class. For instance: If you come home at evening find a note on the table from the wife, explaining she won't be back, as she has eloped with the chauffeur, you take it on the chin in silence; if you step out of the bath tub onto a cake of soap, turn three somersaults in the air and crack you dome against the heater, you merely tell the lady of the house to be more careful in future; if you spend a day on the river, get wet to the skin, catch no fish, you just call it "fisherman's luck" and buy fish at the market. But, in golf—when you hook or slice one deep into the rough, or dub your ee shot, it is perfectly permissible to say d—n three times!

It is a rumor that radios in public places will be assessed a heavy tax, on the ground that it serves to entertain. We're not surprised at any fool law passed by legislators these days. We'll soon have to be giving a good excuse for living.

The fight on race track gambling goes merrily on, but it looks like gambling is going on, too. Most states, are taking a sensible view of gambling, realizing that it is one source of revenue that will take lots of worry away from a balanced budget. They reason, as the late Barnum did, that a sucker is born every minute and most of them live. They'll gamble in spite of laws, so why let the "sharks" trim them in secret, when gaming could be legalized and the state will get its take-off?

Nobody will contend that the days of the prophets are no more. Long time ago we knew a bright young, smart as a whip, made excellent grades in all subjects in high school and college. It was so noticeable that the neighbors predicted "that young feller will go a long way in life." He did, for the G-men have been chasing him for five years. For once the prophets were right, but with reverse English.

As advertisement asks, "Does Your False Teeth Come Loose?" To which we answer: "You're darn tootin'!" The other day, waiting for a car to pass, we sneezed. The darned things flew out and bounced from the pavement into the car, and we chased the car three blocks to get them back.

How are you "SYMPTOMS"

There are still a few of the old-timers who are continually developing new "symptoms" and trying to locate them with fashionable remedies. We modern sophisticated smile tolerantly—and some new health fad, but least the old-timers' remedies were probably harmful while some of our new-fangled "health" fads are downright dangerous. Before you take up any exercise or miracle medicine consult your doctor, guided by his counsel, promises may not be so good—but are a great deal.

It's farther between filling stations in the Ford "60"

The 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!

Jonah and the Whale
ACCORDING to the Bible, Jonah was swallowed by a whale. It was either a most unusual whale who swallowed Jonah or the Bible must not be taken too literally, because the throat of an ordinary whale is no larger than a man's wrist.

As a matter of fact, whales habitually feed on one of the smallest known types of sea life. It is known as plankton, a kind of floating shrimp so small that it can hardly be seen with the naked eye. Whales draw in great gulps of water, and strain these tiny organisms through the seivelike whalebone in their mouths.

In spite of its microscopic food, the whale is the largest living animal. So far as we know, the gigantic blue whale is the bulkiest creature that ever existed on this planet. They grow to a length of 100 feet, and there is at least one trustworthy record of one reaching 130 feet. Some weigh as much as 120 tons. The whale is larger at birth than most animals ever get, measuring usually about 22 feet. They may grow to 60 feet in a year, and reach full maturity when six or eight years old. But most whales are old at 20 and seldom live to be over 30.

Contrary to popular opinion, most whales cannot stay under water for more than 8 to 10 minutes at a time before returning to the surface for air.

New York World's Fair Site From 9,000 Feet Up

NEW YORK, (Special).—Photography and ingenuity combine to show about how the New York Fair will appear in 1939 to visitors arriving from the west in planes flying at an altitude of one and three-quarters miles. Cameraman made this "shot" from a plane over the New Jersey meadows. Shown in the foreground is the shipping along the Hudson—Manhattan with its towers grouped about the Empire State building (center) which houses present headquarters of the Fair—and in the middle distance the 1,216 1/2 acre site of the 1939 international exposition. To the right lies Brookly and, beyond, the hinterland of Long Island. At the extreme left, spanning the East river, is the new Triborough bridge over which many of the 50,000,000 visitors expected at the Fair will motor to the convenient parking lots. A photograph of the table model of the Fair has been superimposed on the negative of the air view to show the grid of the central exhibit zone, the boat basin being constructed on Flushing Bay and the lagoons that will feature the exposition's amusement zone.

Monument to Indian Emily, Heroine of Fort Davis Days, Being Sought

Roy Hudspeth Is Against Tax On Livestock

Del Rio, March 8.—Roy Hudspeth, president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' association, yesterday declared his strenuous objection to House Bill 113, favorably reported out of both houses of the Texas legislature, a bill which would permit the levying in the counties having a livestock population of 10,000 or more sheep, goats or cattle of a tax not to exceed two cents a head on sheep and goats and not more than five cents a head on cattle for the purpose of paying special officers to prevent livestock thefts.

The executive committee of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association at a called meeting in Sonora endorsed the bill, but Mr. Hudspeth, the president, was not there, due to illness, otherwise he would have spoken against it, he said.

Mr. Hudspeth said the bill, if it becomes a law, would mean that the counties would assess the maximum amount and that the cost would be entirely too heavy. "I do not think it necessary to force men to contribute money by taxation when they can form voluntary county livestock associations as we have done at Sonora, each man paying a certain sum toward the expenses and the system working well," he said. He thinks the voluntary plan much better than any plan that would add further taxes to the ranchman and does not believe in forcing men to come into these associations, if they do not choose to do so.

He said the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association plans to provide a system of inspection to help the sheriffs and that the taxation system seems unnecessary.

Barry Scobee, Alpine Avalanche

Request has been made to the Jeff Davis county Centennial committee to designate a spot for a Centennial marker for Indian Emily. The request came from a San Antonio firm that is making the markers. It is understood the foundation, then the monument, will be placed in the near future.

Indian Emily would probably be surprised at all this attention. She was an Apache Indian maiden who was found down Limpia canyon wounded following a fight between the soldiers and her tribe's people, in the late 1860's or earlier 1870's. She was taken to the home of a Mrs. Easton, in the old fort. Mrs. Easton had a son, Thomas, a lieutenant in the service. Emily became a member of the household, half servant and half companion, and fell in love with Young Tom Easton.

When Tom's engagement to a young white woman was announced, Emily disappeared between two sons. For some time she was not heard of, then one night she stole into the post, and failing to halt when challenged by a sentry, she was shot and soon died, but not before she could give the information that her people were preparing to attack the post. She did this, she said, to save Tom. Her information prevented a surprise attack, and possibly a tragic massacre.

For her courage and sacrifice, Emily was buried in the fort with the soldier dead, an unusual honor. When the soldier bodies were removed in 1891, the year the fort was abandoned, the orders said to "leave the Indian woman." Her grave was marked for years with a wooden slab inscribed, "Indian squaw, died by accident." It is this grave that is to be marked and honored by a granite and bronze monument.

Mrs. C. F. Stavley and sons spent last Friday at the Chandler ranch on the Independence, being guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chandler.

Outlook Justifies State Participation In New York Fair

Whalen Voices Opinion In Inviting Governor and People to the 1939 Exposition

NEW YORK, (Special).—In a letter of invitation to the governors of 47 states, Grover Whalen, President of the New York World's Fair 1939 Corporation, points out that the commercial consequences of the international exposition under construction in New York City are so great and important that they alone would justify the active participation of every state in the nation.

"Fifty million persons from every walk in life, from every state in the United States, from every country in the world, are expected to attend the Fair," writes Mr. Whalen. "The great American market with its tremendous consumer purchasing power will be represented by these visitors. They will comprise a true cross-section of America."

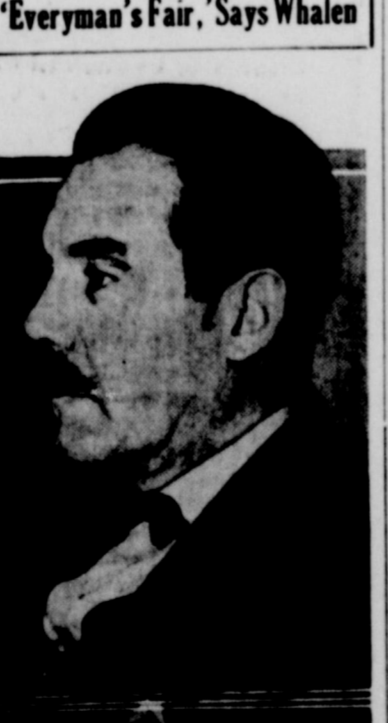

The World's Fair, according to Mr. Whalen, will be a magnificent spectacle, entertaining and instructive. It will attempt to answer the questions: "What kind of a world have we built? What kind of a world are we building? What kind of a world can we build?"

'Nation's Fair' Their Objective

Mrs. Vincent Astor

NEW YORK (Special).—Mrs. Vincent Astor, society leader and civic worker, has been appointed Chairman of a National Women's Advisory Committee for the New York World's Fair of 1939. Winthrop W. Aldrich, Chairman of the Chase National Bank, is heading the men's National Fair and other participants.

NEW YORK, (Special).—Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation, announced that official support and foreign participation in the New York World's Fair of 1939 are reaching new 'high's', and that here is an already obvious opportunity for every state to display advantageously its accomplishments and future possibilities and to join in making it one hundred percent "Everyman's Fair".

Coming Attractions at the Princess

Shirley in China Does as Chinese Do in Her Latest

Now she's in China! Who? None other than Shirley Temple! She even talks and sings Chinese, and she takes charge of a fascinating romance, faces danger in glittering Shanghai, performs in a Chinese theatre and, in short, she plays the most unusual role she's ever had, in her new and thrilling picture "Stowaway," which will be shown at the Princess tonight and Saturday, March 5-6.

It's a picture for your "must" list—with a gripping story, and a glamorous cast of great stars. Little Shirley plays the role of a little orphaned waif adrift in China, a victim of bandits. She becomes an unwitting stowaway on a cruise liner on which Robert Young, a bored millionaire, Alice Faye, and the latter's mother-in-law-to-be are traveling.

Shirley brings Alice and Young together much to the chagrin of the older woman, who promptly cables her son, Alice's fiance, to meet the boat at Hong Kong. In the meanwhile Shirley, Alice and Young go out to do the town and have a grand lark, Shirley winning a prize in a local theatre by singing.

The fiance, Allan Lane, then appears, but Alice refuses to marry him. When Chinese authorities threaten to take Shirley away from Young's guardianship, because he is a bachelor, and not considered a proper foster father for her, Alice agrees to marry him—in name only—to make the guardianship legal. She then departs for Reno for a divorce from Young, but he follows her, with Shirley showing the way; they realize they are truly in love and decide to stay married, Shirley making the third member of the family for a happy fade-out.

'Beloved Enemy' Features Merle Oberon as Star

Merle Oberon and Brian Aherne present Hollywood's newest romantic team in Samuel Goldwyn's production "Beloved Enemy," a vivid drama of love under fire, which come to the Princess Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, March 17 and 18.

The story casts Brian and Merle as a man and woman from two warring worlds who fall madly in love and follow their romance, carried on under fire, with both risking their lives to snatch a few hours together.

Against shifting backgrounds the story proceeds to a thrilling climax.

Karen Morley, Henry Stephenson, Jerome Cowan, and David Niven are featured in the supporting cast, which also includes other outstanding personalities of the screen.

Mrs. Charlie Gregory, who is now making her home in Del Rio spent the week end here with Mr. Gregory at the ranch. She reported that her mother, Mrs. M. E. Shely, is improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dodd of Langtry spent Saturday in Sanderson visiting with friends.

Mrs. J. M. Durdeen of San Angelo, arrived Sunday for a visit here with her father, Tom Shaffer, and sister, Mrs. Murray Hill.

Mrs. N. M. Scott, from the Scott ranch north of Dryden, visited in town this week with her sister, Mrs. Bustin Canon.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Turk are spending this week in San Angelo where they attended the rodeo and fat stock show.

Drummond Back In Action Packed Mystery Picture

"Bulldog Drummond," one of the most popular detectives of fiction and screen, has only eight hours in which to solve a series of crimes which grip London in his latest screen adventure "Bulldog Drummond Escapes," action-packed, light hearted film thriller which will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre Monday night, March 15, for one night only.

The role of the dashing young sleuth and soldier of fortune is handled by Ray Milland, the handsome young Englishman who soared to popularity as leading man in the "Big Broadcast of 1937," and "The Jungle Princess."

The supporting cast includes Sir Guy Standing, as Inspector Neilson of Scotland Yard, his rival in crime ferreting; Reginald Denny as "Algy," his pal and assistant; Heather Angel, as the woman in the cast, and Porter Hall, as the villain.

The latest Drummond adventure begins shortly after his arrival in London by plane. Landing in a deep fog at Croydon field he soon finds himself confronted with the most baffling crime of his career. His car is stolen from him by a beautiful woman when he stops to investigate a scream on the moor. The first thing he must find out is the identity of the mysterious beauty. When he does, he finds himself with two murders, a kidnaping and a counterfeit ring to contend with. And, as usual, Inspector Neilson is no help, whatever.

Mr. and Mrs. Col Coates and son, P. C., returned from San Angelo Monday where they went last Friday and attended the fat stock show and rodeo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whistler and son, Clyde, spent Sunday in Del Rio with Mr. Whistler's mother, Mrs. M. E. Shely.

Mrs. Lee Grigsby returned to her home here Tuesday after a week's visit in San Antonio with Mrs. M. Sherrod and Mrs. Bill Lamm.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chandler attended the fat stock show and rodeo held in San Angelo this week.

Current Comment

Let's all do the best for our school. The more events entered the more points brought home, and the harder we work the higher the honors—result and conclusion.

It's too late to brood over the report cards that came out today. The main thing to do now is to look forward to the next report card, trying to make it your best one.

We worry about the exams, but what if you had to sit for hours and hours grading papers and using up dozens of red pencils, and getting tired of writing poor grades? I'll bet you couldn't take it!

It's grand to be interested in the league work, but don't forget that school goes on just the same.

The typists may type after the close of school, and so may the shorthand students; so there certainly should be plenty of them up there every afternoon.

Some of the senior girls are trying to reduce. They eat on an average two bars of candy a day.

DEBATERS GET TECHNICAL WIN OVER MARFA TEAMS

Mildred Hurst Sanderson should be proud of her debaters. They can beat the sophomores and freshmen in that old type of argument—debate. On Thursday afternoon, at 2:00 Miss Martin took her debaters, Mildred Hurst, Mildred Underwood, Bert Herbert and Essary Haines to debate at Marfa. Joe Kerr took the debaters and their coach in his car.

Each team had one debate, and since there were no judges to decide the winners, we can safely contend that we won, because we never do anything unless we win. The debaters plan several other trips before the bi-county meet at Marathon. Marfa will return the debate here.

Second Tennis Court Finished; Ready for Play

Cement work was completed the first of the week on the second tennis court on the school grounds as part of the P. T. A. school improvement project.

Backstops were erected and the first tennis court was completed by Mr. Smith and the high school boys, and has been in use all this semester. Money was donated by the P. T. A. for its completion. More work had to be done on the second court and this had been going on for the past four weeks. Sand has been hauled and the court has been filled in. Antonio Garza was given the contract to put in the cement floor, and this work was completed Tuesday.

Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave, president of the P. T. A., stated the total of this second court would be $225. This money is being donated by the P. T. A. and contributed by local subscription. The P. T. A. has charge of the collections.

Mrs. Hardgrave announced that the second tennis court is completed with the exception of a caliche base around the court and this will be laid this week. She was of the opinion that the court would be ready for use during next week.

Other school ground improvement work the P. T. A. has done is the repairing of see-saws for the grammar school. The organization has also donated books and one set of encyclopedia for the two school libraries.

The Snooper

Can you imagine Pat Harris shunning the affections of one of the high school senior girls?

There have been a few Juniors and Seniors and probably a few more boys who have been trying to go just a little too far, prowling around home of respectable people at night. Boys, remember that there is punishment for that as well as anything else!

Vaunceil Henderson seems to be in the middle hall at all times of the day having a general conference of no particular discussion.

David Allen really has a good boss now—Pat Sullivan. Maybe some of the girls in this school think Pat should follow some of the advice that he has been giving David. Try it, Pat, and we believe you will have good luck.

For those students who have entered four or five events in the bi-county and district meets the problem is to find plenty of time to practice for each event.

I suppose it is just the spring fever, but everyone seems to be looking forward to the time when school is out. We'll blame it on the weather for the present, anyway!

Here's a few "What If's—What if Prince Dishman's name was Plateman; Mildred Fawcett's name was hydrant; Elizabeth Brown's name was Pink; Albert Weigand's name was Toupee; Nell Lea's name was meadow; C. G. Carpenter's name was Bricklayer; Vic Reyna's name was Snowy; Hicks Canon name was Poppun; Sammie Carter's name was Wagonner; Eugene McSparran's name was Me-Duck; Ross Underwood's name was Understeel; David Allen's name was Alout; Mary Beth Banner's name was Flag; Johnnie Bricker's name was Rocker; Vivian Earwood's name was nosewood; Jimmy Goodykoontz was named Baddykoontz; Allen Hardgrave's name was Soft-coffin; Vaunceil Henderson's name was Helpherson; Wilburn Short's name was Long; Helen Turner's name Twistim, etc.

This is news: Mildred Hurst made the highest grade on the 6-weeks exam in American History. People, bear this in mind, because it may never happen again!

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

By Ethel Breg
Saint Patrick was born about the year 386. Altho this well beloved person is the patron saint of Ireland, his birthplace is uncertain. Some say he was born in Scotland, France, or England.

At the age of 19 he was captured by pirates from Ireland and carried to that island. For six years he tended the flocks of an Ulster chieftain. During these years of slavery, he became a devoted Christian and, after his escape to France, entered monastic life. Directed by a vision to return to Ireland as a missionary, he obeyed the call in 432, and for the rest of his life worked faithfully in various portions of the island. There he founded over three hundred churches, and he personally baptized over 120,000 people.

March 17, his birthdate, is celebrated by feasts in Ireland to the present day.

Volley Girls Are Invited to Games At Fort Stockton

Dorothy Lewellen A invitation has been extended to the Sanderson volleyball team to attend the invitation tournament to be held at Fort Stockton tomorrow afternoon. Marathon and other closeby towns have been invited to attend also. The Sanderson team expects to attend if transportation can be arranged.

After the invitation tournament comes the bi-county meet, and we hope that the girls get some good practice, to put them in shape to win in bi-county.

A junior volleyball team has been organized that plans to play at the bi-county meet in two divisions. The coach, Mrs. Ulbricht plans to make a good team out of the junior teams. She practices with them every morning during their activity period. The senior team practices in the gym every afternoon at four.

SIX WEEKS EXAMS
The fourth six-weeks examinations are over and, in case you don't know it, there are only 12 more weeks of high school for the seniors. Judging from the happy faces last Tuesday everyone is passing in all the subjects he is taking and is just having a swell time going to school and will certainly sob when school is out.

But for the present we must think of getting up all the assignments the teachers are giving us and of work hard for the different league meets.

MISS HERNDON MEETS WITH THE H. E. CLASSES
Miss Isabel Herndon, representative of the Community Public Service company, and director of home service, spoke to the girls of the first and second year H. E. classes last Tuesday afternoon at the high school.

Fourteen home economics girls were present Tuesday, and Miss Herndon discussed stoves, refrigerators and indirect electric lighting. She demonstrated the I. E. S. lamp and pointed out its advantages. She also spoke of the work she did last summer at a home service school in Cleveland. Mrs. McDuffy Kessler introduced Miss Herndon to the girls of the high school.

THE FIRST GRADE
Anne Mims and Truman Searcy have the mumps.

Bob Reagan is a new pupil in the class. He moved here from Fort Worth.

The class is making splendid progress in script writing. Most of them can write their names in script. The first half of the year all their writing was manuscript.

CHORAL CLUB
Up until last Wednesday the Choral Club had not met for several weeks, due to illness of Miss McWhorter. They reviewed the songs they knew, and are ready for a program when one is needed.
