Livestock Shipments for August Was Record—Shipments Continue Heavy

Total of 211 cars of livestock shipped from Sanderson during the month of August, according to reports from the office of T. D. Watts, local agent for the T. D. railroad. Included in the above shipments from Longhorn and Dryden. Peak of the month, it was stated, has not been reached, as there are still thousands of lambs in this area yet to be delivered to the majority of Terrell county have been going to north-western pens, and to packers in North.

One of the largest buyers for this company that has made his home here is C. C. Barnett, who is buyer for the Kuhnert Co. of Muncie, Ind. Mr. Barnett has purchased more than 100,000 lambs in this section. The lambs have been placed with the Texas Livestock Association in Indiana through the agency of A. A. Wright, secretary and general manager of the Texas Livestock Marketing Association at Fort Worth, that Barnett came to Texas for the lambs. He has bought 100,000 but lambs from the customers of the National Finance Corporation of Fort Worth, with connection between the buyers and seller being made by Erhamilton of Del Rio. Savings commissions to the seller have been a big item.

Mr. Holmes, who ranches here, has purchased several hundred head of sheep from Cox, Jr., and delivery is now made. Monday around 3,000 lambs shipped from Dryden. Shipments from here include following:

Sept. 16, from Longfellow, M. Morris shipped 1 car of lambs to Nebraska, and on the same day from Sanderson shipped 12 consigned to Cozad.

Sept. 17, R. J. Ridley shipped here 2 cars of sheep consigned to Harpster, Ohio; 4 cars to Ottsville, Ohio, and 2 cars to Ohio.

Shipments from this place on Sept. 18 included 7 cars of sheep to E. White to Del Rio; C. C. Barnett, 4 cars to Industry, Ind.; the 18th R. J. Ridley shipped 2 cars to Middlepoint, Ohio, 2 cars to Bellecenter, Ohio, 2 cars to the same date S. S. Boyer shipped six cars to Bidwell, Ohio, 10 cars of sheep went out on the 19th, shipped by S. S. Boyer to Fort Worth, and 2 cars shipped from here to Mor-Kansas, and 2 cars to Louisiana, by A. G. DuMain.

Tuesday R. E. Cordeir shipped 2 cars from here, consigned to Dodge, Texas.

Art Terracing On Ranches in Terrell County

Side lines for pasture terraces have been run on the ranch of F. Brown, and actual work terracing has started. Water running from two small headers a long wide flat have been being together washing gullies and his house and through the flat. A long spreader dam and ace is being constructed to carry the water from the headers over the flat and spread it out where it will do the most good. Excess water will flow into creek. Water falling on the flat being controlled by small terraces running along the contours of the land to catch and hold the water where it falls.

Terraces on the Helen Downie, and Millard Holmes, Joe and Clyde Higgins ranches probably will be started after the work at Brown's is finished.

All inspection papers from Terrell county have been tabulated at the state office at College Station and sent to Washington for analysis. Only thirty-five of the counties had been completed when these papers were sent in.

MOTHER STILL ILL.
A letter to Rev. D. C. Bandy, pastor of the Baptist church, was received this week, in which the condition of his mother, who resides in Kilgore, is still serious. She is suffering from a heart ailment and com-

Bob Burns Will Star At Pan American Exposition

Bob Burns, bawdoo playing screen and radio star, will be presented by the Pan American Exposition, in Dallas, in two big free shows at the Cotton Bowl Sept. 25-26. The affair will be in the nature of a reunion of Burns' famous family, including Aunt Boo and Grandpa Snazy from Arkansas. Free to Exposition visitors, the show will be held nightly in the Cotton Bowl seating 47,000.

Milam Northcut Bruised, Cut, in Truck Collision

Milam Northcut received injuries about his body last Sunday afternoon when his truck ran into another in front of him, driven by J. Turner. The accident occurred about one and a half miles from the Tip Frazier ranch.

The two trucks were enroute from the Frazier ranch each with a load of lambs. Turner, who was in front, stopped his truck and, before Milam realized what had happened, he ran into the rear of Turner's truck. The force of the impact forced the engine thru the windshield, pinning Northcut under the steering wheel and the back of the truck which was torn loose. His forehead was cut in two places and he received a bump on the back of his head, as well as a bruised leg and injury to his right knee. The truck was completely demolished, only the trailer being left intact.

While the sheep in both trucks were knocked down and badly shaken up, only one was injured, suffering a broken leg.

Immediately following the accident Mr. Northcut was brought to town for medical aid. Outside of being badly shaken up and bruised he is able to be up and about.

Allen Sells Part of Ranch Holdings Near Christoval

San Angelo, Sept. 18.—S. N. Allen yesterday completed the sale of 4800 acres of his ranch holdings southwest of Christoval to Malcolm Moss of Berkeley, Calif., the total consideration being $67,920, cash.

Mr. Allen who, with Mrs. Allen had lived on the place for 31 years this coming December, said that he had leased the north place he sold to Mr. Moss for the next two years from October 15, and that he would operate the ranch until then and then retire. On Nov. 19, 1939, a month after the lease expires, Mr. Allen will have reached the age of 75.

"I believe I will be entitled to retire and take it easy then," Mr. Allen laughed.

The ranch sold to Mr. Moss is divided into seven pastures. There are extensive improvements, including two residences, a smokehouse, barn and other utility buildings. There are 60 acres in cultivation from which Mr. Allen recently harvested 25,000 bundles of hegarhi this year.

Mr. Allen retains seven sections of the ranch known as the south place. He also has a 16-section ranch in Terrell county, which is leased to R. N. Allen and E. W. Hardgrave.

Oil Portrait of W. J. McDonald to Be Hung in Observatory Memorial Room

Austin.—The McDonald Observatory, located on top of Mt. Locke in the Davis Mountains, is already in operation, several observers having begun activities some months ago. The observatory, built by the University of Texas with a $1,000,000 bequest from the late J. W. McDonald of Paris, Texas, is staffed by the University of Chicago, under the direction of Dr. Otto Sturwe, who is also director of the latter institution's Yerkes Observatory.

During the summer, as one of the first steps toward making the reception and consulting room in the observatory a memorial to Mr. McDonald, an inscription containing an excerpt from his will was painted on its circular wall by Paul Pressler, architect from the Brownwood State Park. Mr. Pressler is a graduate of the University department of architecture. The illuminated manuscript inscription, painted on the slate gray wall in tones of light blue, darker blue and terra cotta, reads:

Except from the will of the late William J. McDonald of Paris, Texas, making provision for this astronomical observatory. . . . All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, I give, devise and bequeath to the Regents of the University of Texas, in trust, to be used and devoted by said Regents for the purpose of aiding in erecting and equipping an astronomical observatory to be kept and used in connection with and as a part of the University for the study and promotion of the study of astronomical science. The bequest is to be known as the W. J. McDonald Observatory Fund. The Regents shall have full power and authority to handle, use and appropriate this bequest, the only limitation on their authority and power being that the bequest is intended solely for the use and benefit of an astronomical observatory. In handling the notes due my estate the Regents are requested to use the utmost liberality and leniency.

It is proposed that an oil portrait of Mr. McDonald shall grace one wall of this room, and that a display case shall contain some of his books.

School Faculty Is Banqueted By Local Rotarians

School Days was the theme of the Rotary banquet given in honor of the teachers Saturday night at 8 o'clock, in the high school banquet hall. There were fifty seven guests present.

The guests were called in by an old-fashioned school bell and, to make them feel at home, each had a slate as a place card. School memories were brought back by favors of marshmallows donning their dunce caps. Hickory sticks and log-cabin school houses were used as decorations. The Home Economics girls, wearing pig-tails and short gingham dresses, served as waitresses.

The following girls served the banquet: Mary Bess Hardgrave, Laverne Halley, Alice Van Cleave, Marjorie Canon and Maxine Holmes.

Harry McAdams served as the toastmaster. Each member introduced himself and his Rotarian. The program of the evening was as follows:

- Invocation, Bro. Bandy.
- Songs—Group singing led by D. L. Duke.
- Introduction of Teachers—Roy Holt, Rotarians and Rotarians.
- Address of Welcome — Harry McAdams.
- Response—Bernie Morgan.
- Vocal Solo, "Will You Remember?"—Mary Arrington.
- Reading, "The Waltz,"—Mary Ferguson.
- Instrumental Solo, "Play, Fiddle, Play"—Bess McAdams.
- Address, "School Teachers"—Al Creigh.
- Duet, "Can't You Hear Me Callin' Caroline?"—Duke and Duke.
- Parting Song.

Baptist Revival Well Attended at Daily Services

With large audiences at both services being held daily by the Sanderson Baptist church, the meeting is nearing its second week.

The Rev. D. C. Bandy, pastor of the church is doing the preaching. Unusually good musical programs of sacred songs are a feature of the revival, under the direction of S. E. Kidd of Memphis, Tenn., who had been directing song services in meetings all over the country during the summer months.

The Rev. Bandy stated that interest in the meeting is good, and that audiences are growing each night. "I wish you would again convey to the general public a cordial invitation to attend these services," he said.

The meeting will continue through Sunday, October 3.

Local Boys Earn Berth With John Tarleton's Squad

Special to the Times: Stephenville.—Among the husties working out on John Tarleton's Hays Field are Elton Halley and Jack Shelton from Sanderson.

The Plowboys play their first game against A. C. C. in Abilene on Saturday, Sept. 25. Their schedule includes games with the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Oklahoma; with Hardin-Simmons B team, Decatur Baptist College, Wesley Junior College, Greenville; Hillsboro Junior College, Schreiner Institute, Weatherford, and N. T. A. C. at Arlington.

Halley plays in the backfield, and weighs 165 pounds. Shelton weighs 160 pounds and plays end.

LOIS TAYLOR BETTER

Reports on Wednesday from the attending physician were that Miss Lois Taylor, who is ill in a hospital in Del Rio, was improving, but would not be able to leave the hospital for several days. Miss Taylor has been ill for more than two weeks suffering from pneumonia in her right lung. Her friends here are glad to know she is improving.

Attending Grand Chapter of O E S In Indianapolis

Mrs. Frank Cochran left Tuesday morning for Indianapolis, Indiana, to attend the meeting of the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, which will be in session from Friday, Sept. 24, through Wednesday, Sept. 29. Mrs. Cochran is chairman of the committee on Grand Officers Report of the State Chapter.

Following the meeting she will go to Springfield, Mo., to enjoy a family reunion with three sisters, the first reunion they have had in many years.

Valuable Prizes Offered by Local Utility Company

On page three, this issue, the housewives of Sanderson will find a message of importance from the Community Public Service Company. For a little originality, you can win valuable prizes, both cash and merchandise. The plan is simple, understandable, and is open to every housewife.

The plan is to write 100 words giving your reasons why "the electrical way appeals to you." For helpful literature, entry blanks, rules of the contest, and other literature call at the local office of the company. First, read the company's announcement on page three.

ROTARY AND TOWN TEAM IN BENEFIT SOFTBALL TILT

A benefit softball game will be played Saturday afternoon at the Legion field between members of the local Rotary club and a team picked from the town. The game will start at 3 o'clock and promises to be one of many thrills. Tickets are being sold by the local Boy Scout troop, the admission price being 25 cents for every one. Proceeds from this game will go to the Sanderson Cemetery Association.

A HUSKY BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morris are the parents of a brand new boy, born at their home at 5 o'clock, a. m. Thursday morning, September 23. The young man tipped the scales at eight pounds. The mother and babe are doing nicely.

Know Texas

Denton.—A whole town bottled up—such is the situation in Three Rivers, where over 100,000 bottles are turned out daily. Milk bottles, beverage bottles, food containers and medicine bottles are a few of the bottled good produced by the large glass factory located there. The necessary raw products are furnished by a heavy deposit of white, fine grained sand near the town, which is located midway between San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Three Publicity Needed Although the widespread plainlands with their romantic cowboy figures have received more publicity than any other aspect of Texas, its wooded areas could well claim their share of glory. In 1930 the total commercial forest area was 12,624,000 acres, and three state forests in Cherokee, Montgomery and Newton counties added 5,600 more acres. Principal kind of wood are yellow pine, oak, red gum and tupelo, but with the state forests as laboratories, experts are now making research toward growing new varieties.

Queer Names and Why Five towns in Texas have every right to be dirty—their names are Mud, Clay, Earth, Sand and Grit. Among the odd names is Round Top, so called because it has an old log house with a round dome situated on a round hill. Origin for one of the most optimistically named towns in the state, Rising Star, has never been discovered. And then there is a town named Floydada by mistake because some post office employe could not read the handwriting which designated it as Floydalia.

COLUMN RIGHT

These modern ice-boxes have made racketeers out of our restaurants. In them they keep the butter chips and the catsup, and when patrons try to use these on bread and food, it's just too bad! The butter is frozen solid, and any attempt to spread it results in tearing your bread into crumbs. The catsup simply will not flow. We tried hitting the bottle on the bottom, and only succeeded in ruining a lady's dress. However, we've had better luck with the butter. We remove the tiny chip and place the contained in our coffee, and when warm enough, fish it out and place the butter in it. In a few minutes it's in shape to spread nicely.

Chinks are mad at us because the U. S. ambassador at Nanking evacuated the embassy building. Don't blame them he should have remained, until at least one Japanese bomb hit the building.

In Texas during August the death toll from auto accidents was 188. No, sir, absolutely, we don't need another war!

President Roosevelt seems to be on the spot. His appointment of Sen. Black to the Supreme Court, has been the cause of much sniping on the part of his enemies. The senator it seems has been linked with the Ku Kluxers—and the white robes. So it's just a simple case of Black and White.

Hugh Johnson says the Duponts are a dumb family, except in business affairs. The making of money is the most important thing in the world. The man whose check is good is in better shape than the one who quotes Shakespeare and starves.—Prickly Pear in Del Rio News.

Some one remarked that a man seldom agrees with that wife. What's wrong with that? About the time you agree with a woman she usually changes her mind again.

There should be an open season on "experts." We're beginning to hate the word. The latest goof states that one out of every nineteen children born from 1929-31 will spend time in an institution for mental disorders. He should have taken into consideration the many others who will be allowed to run loose or drive automobiles.

A survey made at the College of Mines, El Paso, refutes the idea that red-headed gals are temperamental. We don't believe a word of it. We're mortally afraid of titian-haired dolls, and we don't trust blondes.

To paste in your hat:

Late hours are bad for one; fine for two.
Two is a petting party; three is just conversation.
The tower of Babel is where Solomon kept all his wives.

In New York an heiress, who has dollars, but no sense, spent $50,000 at a coming-out party for a dizzy debutante. It's against the law to mar or deface money—it should be a crime to wantonly waste it. Especially when most of those who partied had nothing to show for it next morning but a wet towel around their heads and a pitcher of ice water.

The appalling number of accidents since Sept. 15 has us up in the air. We don't know whether it's open season on doves or on hunters.

At the football game Friday we heard the following remark: "I don't want my boy mauled like that." Well, if we felt that way we wouldn't go out to see other boys "mauled." The kids love the game, and its safer than bathing in a bath-tub.

One of our citizens became the father of a fine boy this week, but has evidently run out of names. How about a cigar.

Dance posters on the telephone poles was interpreted "DANGER" by one of our business men. He inquired, "What's the danger?" Some one answered: "Nothing—just M. N. running loose in one of his trucks."

ADVENTURERS' CLUB

By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY!
I'll bet you'd have felt pretty tough, too, if this had happened to you. If you were lying at the door of death—depending for your very life on the efforts of two or three of your pals who were trying to save you—and you heard one of them say, "Aw, heck, fellows, we're not getting anywhere with this. Let's give it up for a bad job,"—well—in a case like that I wouldn't blame any man for getting discouraged. And so was Don Ward discouraged, on that day back in May, 1932, when that identical thing happened to him.

Don has a job now at the Pilgrim State hospital at Brentwood, N. Y. He doesn't go out any more to shoot electric trouble among the electric wires and cables of Long Island, but in 1932 he was a lineman employed by a firm of electrical engineers in Northport, L. I., and worked with a gang of six men, stringing wires all over the surrounding country.

Chris Anderson was the boss of that crew, and there's another lad in that outfit whom we might as well mention now as at any other time, because he played a big part in this story of Don's. His name is Kelly, and he had a couple of sore feet and a stubborn disposition, and if he hadn't had both those things it's a different yarn we'd be telling today.

Kelly's Sore Feet Started It All
The crew was running a new street light circuit in Stony Brook, L. I. Don and Kelly were working together. They had strung seven or eight sections of wire when Kelly began to complain about his feet. He had on a pair of new shoes that day, and climbing up and down the poles made them sore. So Don told Kelly to stay on the ground, and he'd make over the work that called for climbing.

Don went up the next pole. There were a lot of other wires strung on it—old ones from which the insulation had worn off until they were practically bare. Don admits he should have been more careful in tackling that mess. There were safety devices in their truck that he could have used. But the fellow that works on even the most dangerous job gets careless once in a while, and this was Don's day to do that very thing.

Don was passing one of the new wires he was stringing over the cross-arm of the pole when it happened. His left arm rubbed one of the worn live wires, and at the same time his right leg rubbed against an iron brace. It made a direct short circuit and it sent TWENTY-THREE HUNDRED VOLTS through his body.

"It held me fast," Don says. "I was powerless to break the contact. The only way to describe the feeling is to say that it seemed as though some monstrous being like King Kong had me held at arms length and was shaking the daylight out of me. I could hear the generator throbbing in my ears as though I was right in the power house. I struggled and wriggled with all my might, but it was no use."

In the meantime Don's partner, Kelly, had walked down the road a few hundred feet. Suddenly he heard a moaning sound and turned, to see Don hanging on that cross-arm, his clothes burning and his face contorted in a look of terrible pain. He raced back to the pole, climbed up and cut the wire that was feeding juice to Don.

They Thought Don Was Done For
Don, in the meantime, had slumped down unconscious, with only his safety belt holding him on the pole. Kelly took a rope from his belt, looped it under Don's arms, and lowered him to the ground. The other linemen came running from down the road a piece and gave Kelly a hand. They stretched Don out on the ground and looked at him. He wasn't breathing—and it seemed as if his heart had stopped. It looked bad for Don, but the boys went to work on him, giving him artificial respiration.

For twenty minutes they worked on Don, taking turns at pressing with their hands to force a little air in and out of his paralyzed lungs. Twenty minutes and no sign of life! But though there was no sign of it, life was still there. Just a few seconds before, consciousness had started to return to Don. He was trying to get his lungs to work again—doing his best to help those fellows who were doing his breathing for him. He couldn't move a muscle—couldn't speak or even open his eyes—but he knew he would be all right if his pals worked on him a little longer.

And then came the most disheartening moment of Don's life. Out of a clear sky Don heard one of his fellows say: "It's no use, boys. HE'S GONE. We might as well quit and take him back on the truck."

Saved By Kelly's Stubbornness
Don wanted to scream, but he couldn't breathe by his own efforts. Were they going to give up and leave him to die? All the terror of a lifetime was packed into his heart in that brief moment. But the man astride his back kept on pressing away, forcing the air in and out of his lungs. Again the first fellow made this terrifying suggestion: "Let's quit and take him to town." And this time Don could hear the man who was working on him reply. It was Kelly—and Kelly was sticking to his job.

For five minutes—ten minutes—Kelly worked on, stubbornly refusing to give up the battle for his friend's life. Maybe Kelly remembered that it was his own aching feet which had been the cause of Don's climbing up that pole in the first place. Maybe Kelly figured that the least he could do to a man who had almost died to do him a favor was to exert every effort to save his life. Anyway, Kelly kept on—and in another two or three minutes Don began to breathe.

They flagged a passing car and took Don to a hospital, and they kept him there seven weeks. Kelly was cited for bravery and received a medal from the company for saving Don's life. But I think Don ought to get some sort of a medal too, for living through a twenty-three hundred-volt shock of electricity. The electric chair up at Sing Sing, I'm told, only has twenty-two thousand. Current Comment

All the boys seem to think that we can beat Marfa, so I will join in with them. Furthermore, we have Essary Haines and Jimmy Cook back to help us win. So, come on Eagles, and claw 'em up!

The hand seems to grow by leaps and bounds. If publicity and perseverance will help this plan for an annual as much as it has helped the band we should be getting some more subscriptions. Come on, folks, and lend us a hand. An annual is something to look back over and remember the good ole' days and it is also good experience for the students. We want an annual!

It seems to me that there have been too many rumors getting out here in school lately. Let's talk less (unless you are in the Newspaper) and learn more. Let's not throw fat in the fire, as the old folks say.

SINGER ENTERTAINS

S. E. Kidd, director of singing at the Baptist meeting here, entertained the high school and the grammar school assembly Wednesday morning, Sept. 22. He led in "Row, Row Row Your Boat," "Chew, Chew, Chew Your Food," "Chew, Chew, Chew Your Gum," and "It Ain't Gonna Rain no More." Later he sang "The World is Waiting for the Sunshine," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Miss Taylor accompanied on the piano.

Sponsors Chosen To Aid Students In Club Work

Sponsors and advisors for the various club and organizations of the Sanderson high school have been appointed by Superintendent R. D. Holt. The activity program is carried on during the school day and consists of the various school activities such as the newspaper, science club, dramatic club, debate club, library club, and numerous others. One-fourth credit is given to a pupil for one year's participation in the activity program. One activity credit is required for graduation from high school.

The sponsors appointed for the organizations are as follows: Duane Smith for the science club; A. B. Caraway for the shop work group, Miss Mauryne Lindley for the home making club, Miss Marjorie Thornton for the foreign language club, Miss Hazel Owen for the debate and for the speakers club, Miss Lindley for the dramatic club, Miss Thornton for the library staff, Miss Louise Taylor for the girls' choral club, Miss Sammie Johnson for the boys' glee club, and R. D. Holt for the press club. Preparation for the various events in the Interscholastic League work is being made in the clubs, thus attempting to prevent the last minute rush for work just before the bi-county meet.

LONG-TIME OBJECTIVES FOR A GREATER SANDERSON SCHOOL

(Needs of School)

1. School athletic field.
2. Separate band hall.
3. A school bus to transport pupils who represent school in athletics, band, Interscholastic League, etc.
4. Vocational agriculture and shop work for boys in school.
5. Showers for gymnasium.
6. Sidewalks around the school.
7. Additional room for Mexican school. Three hundred pupils greatly overcrowd four small rooms.

High School Gets New Typewriters

The Sanderson high school is now the owner of five more new typewriters, having received that many new machines since the opening of school. Three of these are Underwoods and the others are L. C. Smiths. The school now owns sixteen typewriters. All of these are new with the exception of five. It is hoped that these will be replaced with new machines at an early date. All the new machines have been purchased within the last year. The old machines have been used for seven years in the school. Under the plan now in use, a fee of fifty cents per month is charged each student who takes typing and this is used as a replacement fund to maintain the machines and to purchase new ones after a period of three years. After a machine has been used for three years it may be traded in at one-half the original purchase price. The typewriter companies service the machines without cost to the school if the machines are never used for more than three years.

Piano Installed in Grammar School

A piano has recently been placed in the auditorium of the grammar school building for use in the public school music classes. This meets the need of the music classes which has been felt since the courses in public school music have been added to the school curriculum in the fall of 1935. The piano was rented from the San Antonio Music Co., with the understanding that the school may buy the piano later and apply all the rental fee on the buying of the instrument. This addition to the music department will be a great saving in time and convenience for all pupils in the grammar school. Miss Taylor and Miss Johnson teach the courses in music in the elementary grades.

Junior Band Has Big Membership

The Junior Band is being encouraged this year as much as possible. From this organization the school expects to receive its regular band members within a few years. Some who are now in Junior Band also are able to play with the Senior Band.

The following are members of the Junior Band: Clarinet—Jas. Kerr, Donald Smith, Ross Underwood, Margaret Mims, Katherine O'Connor and Wilton Murray. Cornet—Bob Ingram, Bobby Edwards, Roy Holt, Harold Surratt, W. T. Frazier, Wm. Talbot, Jack Buchanan, Earl Hurst, DeWain Hill and Ross Stavley. Saxophone—Edward Kerr, Edward Wheeler, Dan Murrach, Charles Rogers and J. D. Vincent. Trombone—Joe Cook, Sam Bell, Curtis Litton and Charles Trotter. Alto Horn—Francis Grigsby and Edward Chastain. Flute—Edna Mae McAdams and Lois Bea Osgood. Drum—Freddy Talbot, Mary Cook, and Mary Nell Higgins. Bass Horn—Clyde Earwood. Baritone—Jack Turner.

A lie has wings and can fly far but has no feet and cannot stand.—Chinese proverb.

Eagles Lose First Football Game to Fort Davis High

The Eagles were defeated by the Fort Davis Indians last Friday afternoon at the American Legion Field. Sanderson was simply outclassed by a heavier and more experienced team.

In the first half Sanderson received the kickoff, and ran the ball back twenty yards. Then after an exchange of punts, Sanderson was on the Indian 10 yard line, but they fumbled twice, the Indians recovering the second. They punted out of danger as the quarter ended.

In the second quarter there was an exchange of punts. A beautiful pass, Short to Weigand, on the Eagles' 40-yard stripe, looked like a touchdown, but Weigand was dragged down on the Indian's 20-yard stripe, where they were forced to punt. Fort Davis then began a march down the field, and finally crossed the Eagles' goal line for the first score of the game. The half ended with the score 6-0, in favor of the visitors.

At the beginning of the second half the Eagles came back into the game with a lot of pep. A lateral, Dishman to Weigand was good for 40 yards, placing the Eagles in scoring position. But hope faded when an Eagle back fumbled, and Fort Davis recovered. The Indian power house again got into action and, with a series of line bucks, spinners and end around plays placed the ball on the Eagle 5-yard stripe, and Fitzgerald plunged across. Try for point was good.

A pass by Beall in this quarter was also good for a score, and try for point good.

After an exchange of plays, the Indians were in possession of the ball on the Eagle 27-yard line. From there Fitzgerald plunged over left tackle and crossed the goal standing up.

At this point both teams began sending in substitutes. Eagles playing the first game of their lives were Malcolm Davis, Julian O'Bryant, Bert Herbert, Charlie Morris, W. C. Davis, and Robert Chandler, who was said to have made the hardest tackle of the game when he cut down Fitzgerald on a punt return.

The game ended with the Eagles on the short end of a 27-0 score.

The Eagles showed gameness in spite of their defeat. In the backfield Shorty Short looked fine on his quick kicks and broken field running. Weigand exhibited class in receiving passes and end runs, while Dishman and Lochausen played bang-up football at the halfback positions. In the line, B. Allen, Druse, Chandler, Litton, Glenn and Lewellen played heads up football.

Instead of defeat discouraging these boys, they insist they are going to win the next game which will be with Marfa.

This was the first game for Litton, Weigand, Lovellen and Glenn.

GIFTS TO PUPILS

Pencil and pen sets were given to each pupil in high school and in the elementary grades. They consisted of two pencils, a pen staff, one pen point, two blotters, a ruler and an eraser. They were the gift of J. F. Rosson, Coca-Cola Bottling Works, Marfa, Texas. There were 350 sets given in all.

A Texas Almanac and Guide book for 1937 were given to each room. The Dryden school is included in the gifts furnished to the pupils.

No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love.

NOTES FROM THE Grades School

The pupils of grammar school are back to reading, and writing and arithmetic.

There are twenty-one children in the first grade this year. They are as follows: Betty Jo Beckett, Joe Neil Brown, Joyce Cox, Doris Duke, Robert Dishman, Georgie Mae Hill, Nancy Lou Holt, William House, Ruth Ann Kelly, Larry Locke, Vivian McKnight, Melvin Newton, Joyce Nixon, Betty Ann Peavy Harriet Ann Pierson, Patty Jo Robertson, Carroll Talbot, Hanie Louise Turner, Herman Yancy and Betty Sue Yeates. The children of the first grade are telling about things based on actual experiences, and things brought from home.

There are twenty children in the second grade. Willie Grigsby brought a Victrola from his home to be used all year in his room. Janet Cobb brought a scarf to be used on it, and Carolyn Courtney brought a flower vase to be used in her room.

There are twenty-two pupils in the third grade, three of whom are new to this school: George Reynolds, Laverne Holmes, and Johnnie Luxton. The 3rd grade has been studying about birds and their nests. They are starting a project this week of planting vegetables in boxes. Each child has a vegetable plant to attend to. Two children were absent last week: George Reynolds, with a broken arm, and Betty Jo Kerr, with a cold.

There are twenty pupils in the fourth grade this year. Suzie Calwell and John Henry Rogan are new pupils. The fourth grade pupils are making posters about safety first.

There are twenty pupils in the fifth grade this term. They are writing and telling stories about pictures which they bring from home. They have fixed up their room with pot plants and fresh flowers. There are new pictures and a reading table in their room now. Individual pupils have been selected for different duties of the room.

The sixth grade consists of 29 pupils. There is one new pupil, Giles Holmes. They are working on transportation posters at the present time.

OBSERVES CONSTITUTION DAY WITH EXERCISES

Allen Hardgrave, representing the civics class of the high school, spoke at assembly last Friday morning, Sept. 17, on the constitution of the United States. This was in observance of the beginning of the Sesquicentennial celebration of the signing of the Constitution. The rights of junior citizens of the United States were contrasted to those of rights of citizens in other countries of the world.

Parents, visit your schools this year. Take an interest in your child's school work.

The value of an education increases every year.

Classes in High School Organize Elect Officers

Three classes, other than the senior, met last week and elected officers and organized for the year. The seniors had already met and completed organization plans.

The different classes of high school elected the following officers for the year:

Senior Class—President, Prince Dishman; vice President, Bertha Mae O'Bryant; secretary-treasurer, Vaunceil Henderson; Reporter, Albert Weigand; sponsor, Miss Lindley.

Junior Class—President, Hicks Canon; secretary-treasurer, Maxine Clatfelter.

Sophomore Class—President, David Allen; secretary-treasurer, Wilton Dishman.

Freshman Class—President, John Hardgrave; secretary-treasurer, Earl Hurst.

Girl Volleyists Start Practicing

Miss Johnson, coach of the volleyball team, reports that, following our first few practices, we expect to find material for a good team.

A large majority of the girls' physical education class have been meeting practices which shows the girls are interested. Most of them are coming out for volleyball as well as physical education. They are: Margaret Reed Arrington, Patty Billings, Mona Breg, Lois Bassett, Elizabeth Brown, Pauline Bell, Doris Cochran, Mildred Fawcett, Wilma Holmes, Marzee Haynes, Maxine Holmes, Mary Kelly, Roberta Lochausen, Lois Lewellen, Ruth Murrach, Marjorie Morris, Ethel Laura Nance, Lois Bea Osgood, Peggy Musgrave, Edith Walsh, Earline Stirman, Bernice Harris, Helen Ruth Harrell, Maxine Clatfelter, Marjorie Canon, Rosa Mae Clark, Vivian Earwood, Margaret Ann Gregory, Emma Faye Harris, Laverne Halley, Mary Bess Hardgrave, Margaret Higgins, Bertha Mae O'Bryant, Helen Turner, Mary Cook, Sarah Kelly, Bennie Mussey, Vaunceil Henderson and Lillian Harrell.

Regular volleyball practice is held after school and at certain physical education periods.

Subscriptions have been placed for eleven magazines for the high school library. Several other magazines are being received in addition to the ones ordered. The magazines ordered are Time, The American Boy, Boys Life, Scholastic, Athletic Journal, Careers and Hobbies, Correct English, Good Housekeeping, Popular Science Monthly, McCall's, and School Activities.
