Sanderson-Fort Stockton Citizens Join Close Gaps in U. S. Highway 285

Meeting held on Wednesday last week in Fort Stockton by interested citizens of the city and Sanderson, plans were made whereby the two would join forces to work on the completion of State Highway 285 between Sanderson and Fort Stockton, and State Highway 27, between Fort Stockton and Sanderson. The federal designation of this route is U. S. Highway 285.

Sanderson group met with the city club, and at the close of the meeting the Pecos county citizens thanked those from this city for their interest in this project and promised their wholehearted support.

Adequate right-of-way has already been provided across the line of Pecos and Terrell between Sanderson and Fort Stockton with most of the grading and concrete structures being completed some time ago, and all are anxious to secure final blacktop which will provide an all-weather route.

W. Downum, operator of the hotel here, and one of the county representatives at Wednesday's meeting, in a pointed out that at present one-third of the tourists coming in Sanderson and going to Fort Stockton, were from the city. He said that U. S. Highway 285 is one of the most important federal highways, also that it is the longest in the U. S., running from the Lower Rio Grande to Seattle, Washington. He stated that closing of the gaps would make it one of the most travelled of transcontinental routes.

Members from Sanderson who attended this meeting were G. J. Shaw, county judge; C. V. Wright and Odie Wickliffe.

Stock Shipments In This Section Light for Week

Stock shipments in this section have been very light this week, with the heaviest shipments being made from Longfellow and Haymond. With the splendid rains this week stockmen are very optimistic and plenty of grass for winter is assured.

Shipments from this section as reported by C. J. Watts, agent for the T. & N. O., are as follows:

Oct. 6, from Longfellow, M. L. Norris shipped to Galesburg, Ill., 10 cars of sheep.

On the 9th Albert Appel shipped from here 2 cars of cows and calves to the Fort Worth market.

Oct. 12, from Haymond, T. M. Shely and son shipped one car of sheep to the Ft. Worth market.

District Governor Of Rotary Visits Sanderson Club

Hon. John Chapman, district governor of the 42nd district of Rotary International, embracing West Texas and New Mexico, paid his annual visit to the Sanderson Rotary Club at its luncheon held at the Kerr Hotel Wednesday.

Governor Chapman arrived in Sanderson Tuesday evening and met with the directors of the local club, and at the luncheon Wednesday addressed the members on the value of Rotary to the citizen in relation to his community service. Governor Chapman delivered an excellent address in which he brought home the fact that of all the luncheon and civic clubs the Rotary clubs were indeed the only international club in its functions, and that Rotary International has active clubs in every nation in the world except Russia, and that no other group of men seeking world understanding has the widespread influence that characterizes Rotary.

Mr. Chapman likened the work of individual Rotarians to the cogs in the wheel (which is the emblem of Rotary), and that the failure of a single Rotarian to do his full part in his club for community betterment amounted to that Rotarian appearing in the wheel as a rubber cog of no force.

Governor Chapman's address was warmly received by the club and it is hoped that he will find it possible during his term as governor to again visit the Sanderson Rotary club.

The Deuce and the Joker

Italy's dictator Mussolini cements the bond with Dictator Hitler by visit to Germany. Both ridicule the League of Nations and democracy in speeches before 650,000 in Berlin, Mussolini declaring that "the Europe of tomorrow will be Fascist." Both have declared for peace, but more than any other of European nations, having taken stands that make world peace impossible.

County Purchases Road Machinery— Lets Contract for Concrete Reservoir

Purchase of three Diesel motor patrol road maintainers was ordered by the commissioners of Terrell county at their regular meeting Monday. The machinery will be used in Precincts 2, 3, and 4, for upkeep of county roads. W. K. Ewing & Co., San Antonio, is financing the purchase of this machinery.

C. M. Breeding was the successful bidder for the erection of a concrete reservoir on the court house grounds near the present well. The reservoir will be 20 ft. in diameter and 24 ft. high, and will have a storage capacity of 56,000 gallons, insuring plenty of water for use at the court house at all times.

The court also joined in an oil and gas lease with the owners of Terrell county's school land in Gaines county. The lease covers 1200 acres at $2 per acre, with 50 cents rental. This bonus and rental is to be paid to Terrell county to be applied on interest due the school fund on purchase price of said land.

Other business transacted at this meeting was allowing all current bills, and approving the quarterly report of Frank K. Harrell, county treasurer.

All commissioners were present at this meeting.

First Cold Wave of Ushered in With Moisture

Thunder, lightning, and strong wind, ushered what was the best rainfall in this section in many months Tuesday night, when a precipitation, estimated at more than two inches visited this immediate section of the Lone Star State. Overflowing ditches and swirling canyons was a pleasing aftermath of the downpour, and soon Sanderson draw, augmented by rains north of town, was running bank full.

Reports from sections north and west of here were that the rain was much heavier, all draws and canyons running bank full. East of here the rain was light, varying, according to reports from light showers to about one inch.

On Wednesday the sky remained overcast, with intermittent mists, but no rain. The thermometer on that day took a sudden nose dive, and the natives began rummaging among the moth balls for overcoats and heavy sweaters—which were very much in style Wednesday and Thursday. Also the coal and wood man became very popular, while the ice man momentarily fell from grace.

On Tuesday traffic on the Ft. Stockton highway was held up most of the day, and travel was slow over the muddy road.

Difficulty was encountered also on highway 90, and highway crews were posted three miles west of here to aid cars across the creek at that point, which ran four feet deep for several hours. It was late in the afternoon before the water had subsided sufficiently for safe crossing.

The rain, though late, will be of great benefit to the ranges. Besides settling the dust which has been a plague for many long months it will insure plenty of winter feed and water for livestock in this section.

Sul Ross Lobos Play First Home Game Tomorrow

The Sul Ross Lobos will open their home season by entertaining the Texas Wesleyan Rams of Fort Worth, tomorrow, October 16, at Jackson Field, Alpine at 2:30. The Rams have a 13-7 win over the West Texas Teachers, and are gunning for a victory over the Lobos. The Lobos are out for blood, also.

This game will not be interesting only because of the rivalry between the teams, but also because the opposing coaches, Gus Miller of the Rams, and Graves of the Lobos were once teammates at West Texas State at Canyon.

Plans are being made by the local athletic council to handle a big crowd because advance interest in the Lobos is gratifying this year. The Sul Ross band and the Scarlet Peppers have promised to put on a program between the halves, and they say that they are going to be good.

Admission for the game will be $1.10 for adults, including tax, and 40 cents for students.

"Under the seduction of ballyhoo, bribery and charm, we are moving away from the democracy imagined by the constitution and straight toward as rigid a dictatorship as there is on earth." Folks, Gen. Hugh Johnson said this—the first NRA administrator—the bird who said big business was coming to town, and that anyone who got out of line would be whipped back into alignment, and that soon the air would "be filled with cats and dogs." Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel indeed!

Ogden Mills, Republican high-light, and foe of the New Deal, is dead, and even his arch enemies in politics find many good things to say about him. Hypocritical? We wouldn't know. We do know that we're a bunch of sentimentalists. Hope we don't have to lie down and die before something good is said of us. Then it will be all lost motion, for we will not be in position to appreciate it.

Take sports, football, tennis, baseball—many a time have we seen the vanquished team huddle and rah, rah, rah the winner; the loser rush to the net and grasp the hand of the victor, when, as a matter of fact, they'd rather give them a kick in the pants.

Texas is in the red. The legislators are now trying to scratch out of their heads (most of them are bald), ways and means to cover the deficit. One bright senator proposes a law okaying sale of whiskey by the drink. Any cock eyed state that has to drink itself out of debt should be in the hands of a receiver.

Sale of liquor by the drink is okay for the guys in the money—those who should pay taxes. For thousands of others it would simply mean abject poverty for their families, and they would be paying the taxes on their own poverty.

Chinese killed 70,000, wounded 200,000. Japs killed 70,000, total of wounded 60,000—late reports from the Orient. At this rate, if the conflict lingers, the scare of a "Yellow Peril" will be a thing of the past. But there are plenty of them left. Which leads an El Paso Chink to philosophize: Said he, "Flifty China boys killed; one Jap killed; pretty soon no more Japs."

Now that we have a nigger heavyweight champ, it's time to resurrect a crop of white hopes. Chances are they'll have to buy Louis off like they did Jack Johnson, who did a nose dive to Willard in Havana.

This cold weather makes it hard to concentrate on a flip-flop column, when we're trying to think of what's become of our summer wags.

"Meat due to take a drop," will be good news to the housewives, and to all of us. Cuts from livestock are getting to be a luxury. The other day in a certain restaurant we ordered dinner, our choice of meat being pork. The platter, one of those tenement affairs cut into sections for the various items on the menu. In vain we looked for the pork. "Hey, you," we saluted the waitress, "where's the pig meat?" "What's the matter," she chortled, blind? Just raise that lima bean." Sure enough there it was.

Gent in Oakland, Calif., suicided and left a note confessing that he murdered his wife. "I strangled my wife to save her good looks." Very considerate, at the same time haywire thinking. We once saw a young man hanged, and we then and there formed the opinion that stangulation doesn't help the looks nary a bit.

Again we reiterate that football coaches are the biggest liars extant. If we believe half of the reports they are send the papers teams in the Southwest conference will be playing the game this week end on crutches, from stretchers and in wheel-chairs.

More rain, more rest, better business, and, best of all, it will make big ones out of little ones.

LARRUPING LOU

Lou Gehrig, "iron man of baseball, captain of the world champion Yankees. Out of 17 trips to the plate, Lou garnered 5 safeties—one a home run off Hubbell in the ninth inning of the 4th game.

Heart Attack is Fatal to Alpine Business Leader

F. E. Gillett, 74, pioneer Alpine business man and civic leader, died at his home in that city last Monday following a heart attack. He had been in failing health for several years, but had been able to be at his office at the Alpine Lumber Co., of which he was president, up until the time of the fatal attack.

Born in Dewell county, Texas, March 25, 1863, he moved to Marfa when a young man, and was associated with the Murphy-Walker company. At one time he engaged in the banking business in Del Rio, moving to Alpine in 1907, where he engaged in business. He was prominent identified with the civic and business life of that community.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Alpine on Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30, the Rev. Franklin Poage, pastor, officiating. Interment was at Elm Grove cemetery.

Besides the widow he is survived by six children: J. W. Gillett, Alpine; Edwin and L. W. Gillett, and Miss Thalia Gillett, El Paso; Mrs. Lee Hancock, Corona, N. Mex.; and Miss Frances Gillett, a teacher in the Midland schools. One brother, J. A. Gillett of El Paso, and three sisters: Mrs. J. W. Burns, Cuero; Mrs. J. N. Goforth, Comfort, and Mrs. E. W. Morton, San Simon, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Casey, who ranch near Longfellow, attended the Highland Fair held in Marfa last week end, where Mrs. Casey was the lucky winner of a six-year-old steer given away at the fair. Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Bandy are the proud parents of a son, born Saturday night, October 9. The young man weighed 8 1/4 pounds, and has been named David C. III. Mrs. Bandy was critically ill the first part of the week, but is improved now, and well on the road to recovery.

So. Pac. Railway Inaugurates Fast Freight Service

R. B. Powell, service supervisor for the S. P. Lines, with office in San Antonio, was a business visitor in Sanderson Monday.

In an interview with a Times representative Mr. Powell stated that the S. P. was inaugurating a new service for its customers at this end of the line, called the L. C. S., or loaded car service. He explained that in the past merchandise for Sanderson, which was not classed as a full car, was subject to delay at local stations along the route, from Houston, San Antonio, Dallas and Fort Worth. "In future," Mr. Powell explained, "cars containing merchandise for this point, whether full or part carload will come direct to Sanderson without stop—which will give local firms 1-day service from San Antonio, and 2-day service from Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas."

This is just another item of service to the public by the S. P., who, during the past few years have improved practically every feature of its service in both the passenger and freight service.

Mr. Powell signed practically every business house in Sanderson, who instructed their wholesalers in the above named cities to ship the "S. P. way."

Improving restaurant

H. G. Holt, proprietor of the Buffet Cafe, is making some interior improvements this week looking toward the comfort and convenience of his patrons.

The partitions in the main part of the restaurant have been taken out, and four booths, with individual tables have been installed. A neat linoleum on the floor greatly helps the general appearance of the place.

"A Day at the Races"—Marx Bros. in Dizziest, Daffiest Comedy of Year

"A Day at the Races," brings the Marx Bros., Groucho, Harpo, and Chico, to the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16, in what is called their maddest, merriest, most amusing piece of Marxmania that they ever presented to the public.

In the capable supporting cast are Maureen O'Sullivan and Allan Jones, tenor, who sings several song hits.

The picture has a novel and glamorous sequence. This takes place at a water carnival with the audience seated on rafts. And, of course, Chico plays the piano and Harpo does a harp number—with a little piano playing of his own thrown in.

Jones Family in "Hot Water" as Dad Hilariously Runs for Mayor

America's favorite family, the Joneses, go yell-bent for election in their most uproarious hit "Hot Water," at the Princess Theatre next Monday, Oct. 18, when Dad tries to clean up the town and gets mud in his eye for the effort. Jed Prouty as Dad Jones, tosses his hat in the ring for the mayoralty race, and what a tossing around he gets. The party wants Dad, the kids want a party and the opposition wants to put the whole family on the spot.

When Shirley Deane goes to the big city on a shopping spree for a trousseau, Dad suddenly becomes civic conscious and soon gets quite excited over the fact that the city's administration allows a notorious roadhouse to run unmolested. Blackmail, robbery and other criminal activities are known to originate in the place, although nothing has ever been proven.

With the enthusiastic aid of young Roger Jones, whose current craze is a home-print newspaper, Dad finds himself impressed into the candidacy for mayor in the coming election. Once he is nominated he decides to do a thorough job and soon has the whole family in "Hot Water."

Meantime young Jack Jones falls for a blonde in with the crooked owners of the night club. They attempt to frame the youngster and the trick almost costs the Joneses the election until Roger turns detective and exposes the entire criminal ring.

Know Texas

Bat Paradise Denton, October 7.—Even the best of huntsmen may not know the unusual laws tucked away in the state game regulations of Texas. Among the "don'ts" one finds that it is unlawful to kill or injure a bat, presumably because these birds are so destructive to harmful bugs and insects.

Deer hunters must remember not to use any sort of deer call except deer horns, which may be rattled. Nor can one hunt at just any hour during the season; between sunset and sunrise the huntsmen must forebear shooting at any game animal. Game animals must not be killed at any time are turkey hens, doe deer, fawn or spike buck.

Prey for Texas Hunters For conversational purposes the non-hunters may be interested in knowing just what kind of game lures their fellow Texans to the chase. Listed as game animals are deer, antelope, wild sheep, elk, bear an squirrels. Among the game birds are turkeys, geese, ducks, brant, grouse, pheasants, prairie chickens, quail or partridges, wild pigeons, doves, snipe, chachalaca, plover and the shore birds of all varieties.

Fur-bearing animals on which a tax must be paid include badger, civet cat, fox, mink, muskrat, opossum, polecat, skunk, beaver, raccoon and ring-tail cat.

Mr. and Mrs. John Northcut of Rankin spent last Friday here visiting in the home of his brother, Milam Northcut.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny Sullivan, who ranch in the Comstock section, spent the week end here visiting in the home of his mother Mrs. Maude Sullivan.

Miss Nelle Lea, who is attending Our Lady of the Lake college in San Antonio, came in last Friday to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lea. She returned to San Antonio Tuesday to resume her studies, her mother accompanying her for a few days visit in that city.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

The expression "school spirit" is often heard in many of the high schools and colleges. This is especially true during football season, due to the fact that football is one sport that has possibilities of uniting the students, teachers and the entire community into an activity where real love for school may be shown. It is a commendable thing to show love and respect for one's school and one's town. Such loyalty should be shown by all Americans.

But school spirit is far more than enthusiasm for school and for football during a short period of the year. Love for school and loyalty to school should be for twelve months and should be of that kind which wants the best school possible. Does your school give you the best advantages for your development? Do you take advantage of those opportunities? It takes love for school to have a good school.

SAFETY WEEK

"Last year, in the United States more healthy, useful people died needlessly than were killed in the A. E. F. during the entire period of the World War."—(U. S. Department of Commerce). This week school all over the nation are stressing safety education and the elimination of hazards to life. In the different grades of the Sanderson schools a study is made for the entire year in regard to home, highway, and crossing accidents. One-eighth of all the accidents last year were the result of crossing streets where there were no traffic signals; one-ninth of all the accidents befell children playing in the streets and one-tenth were the result of children stepping from behind parked cars.

ORGANIZE SAXETTE BAND IN THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

A saxette band is being encouraged in grammar school, the members being from the fourth and fifth grades. Mr. Pickard, sponsor for the band, reports the band will include the following members, who will buy their own instruments, which cost $2.70: Harvey Rogers, Frank Stavley, Marylyn Blackwelder, Mary Nell Higgins, Billie Joe Short, Maurine Frazier, Earl Pierson, Allister Dishman, Aubrey Harrell, Freddie Talbot, Rose Nell Wickliffe, and Jane Musgrave.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The fifth grade put on the assembly program for the grammar school last week. They had two harmonica solos by Bennie Uxton and Harvey Rogers. Some of the best stories that were told in the English class from Pictures were told in assembly. Pupils from the third through the sixth grades told these stories. James House told the story of "The Star Spangled Banner," and afterwards the audience sang it. The audience also sang "Solomon Levi" and "The Eyes of Texas." This concluded the program.

All Grades Are Studying Music

The study of music is rapidly becoming a part of the regular curriculum of the Sanderson public schools, as well as all over Texas. Everywhere there are reports of new school bands and increased interest and attention in music.

In the Sanderson schools the music study begins in the first grade with the study of note songs and with rhythm band training. Miss Sammie R. Johnson is the teacher in the Ward school and Miss Onie May is the teacher in the Mexican ward school. The music study is continued through the second grade along the same plane. Beginning in the third grade the pupils are given an opportunity to join the Junior band, which is under the direction of Mr. Pickard. This band now has some twenty-five members. In the third and fourth grades a harmonica band is part of the program. Through the first six grades of school the training in sight reading, singing, theory and appreciation are carried on. Miss Louise Taylor has charge of the music in grades four, five and six. In these grades the choral club singing, or group unison singing is a part of the program. Also in the fourth and fifth grades pupils are allowed to enter a new musical organization, the Saxette Band. This is in training for the regular band later.

In high school pupils are given the opportunity to receive vocal musical training in either the Boys' Glee Club or in the Girls' Choral Club. They have the opportunity to receive training in the regular high school band or in the new drum corps. A large per cent of all the pupils in school are thus being taught music in some form.

It is not the purpose of the school to make professional musicians of the students, but the real purpose is to train them to appreciate good music and its place in the world.

WHAT A THRILL!

Vivian Earwood reports she received the following letter from Bing Crosby:
Dear Miss Earwood:
Your kind words are fully appreciated, and I want you to know that I shall always welcome suggestions or information on how my efforts are received.
I sincerely hope you will like "Double or Nothing," which has just been released. I am fortunate in having Mary Carlisle with me again for the first time since we played together in College Humor.
The picture is being sent under separate cover. Best wishes and many thanks for your interest.
Sincerely yours,
BING CROSBY.

CHORAL CLUB

The choral club girls have their choice as to whether they wish to be altos or sopranos. This was decided at their last meeting on October 6. They practiced the song "Seeing Nellie Home," their club theme song, and were given the words to "Moonlight and Roses." Miss Johnson was a visitor to the class.

Report Sent to Sou. Association

The annual report of the Sanderson high school to the Southern Association committee was completed this week and, together with the membership fee of $10 was sent to the State Department of Education, Austin. This report contains considerable information concerning the Sanderson high school for it covers practically every field, including the preparation and work of the teachers, the work of the pupils, the kind of buildings and equipment, and the amount of money spent each year.

Some of the facts shown in the report recently completed are that there are now 45 boys and 49 girls in the four high school grades. All teachers hold a bachelor's degree, with one holding a master's degree. There are 18 pupils for every teacher in high school. The number of volumes in the high school library is 1966, with 85 of these being added last year. The average experience of the teachers in high school is six years. The school now has 26 1/2 credits of affiliation.

Shorty thinks Laverne Halley is a honey. Watch yourself, Shorty!

Rosa Mae Clark only has eyes for Leslie Cox. Is that right, Rosa Mae?

Bert Herbert can't see anyone but Elizabeth Brown.

Dick Mussey has found himself a new girl. He's always flirting with her in Spanish class.

We wonder why Maxine Clatfelter doesn't believe a certain boy when he says, "I will be over to study with you."

Helen sure did root for A. & I. at the football game at Marfa. We wonder if a letter had something to do with this.

Margaret Jane Higgins said she was going to ask Bert Herbert for a date. Be careful, Bert.

Advice to the Lovelorn
By "Lockinvar, the Great Lover"
One of my feminine friends asks me this week: "What would you do if you had two boys you thought a lot of—one was better looking than the other. The good looking one was unromantic and bashful. The other was very romantic?"
Well, my little friend, if I were in your place I believe I'd hang on to both of them.

Extra Teachers For Mex School

Miss Lila Christopher of Merton and Mr. Ted Baker, Marathon began work in the Mexican ward school in Sanderson this week in order to take care of the increased enrollment in that school. This brings the total number of teachers in the Mexican school to six. The teachers in that school still have nearly fifty pupils for each teacher, on the average.

Miss Christopher holds a B. A. degree from Sul Ross. Her specialty is art and handicraft work. She has had one year of experience in teaching. She comes to Sanderson from the Casa Piedras school in Presidio county.

Mr. Baker also holds a B. A. degree from Sul Ross. He comes to Sanderson from Tornillo where he taught for the past year.

The Sanderson school board has removed the C. A. C. hall for school purposes, and two teachers are working in that building. Under the present plan, every pupil is allowed to attend school for the entire day. This meets with the approval of the State Department of Education, while the half-day attendance of many pupils under the old plan did not.

"Safety" Theme Of October Meet Parent Teachers

Mrs. Roy Hurst was leader of the program for the October meeting of the Sanderson Parent-Teachers Association which was held Thursday evening, October 7, in the high school auditorium. CHECKING UP ON Sanderson Exes

In 1909 there were three pupils to graduate from the Sanderson high school. These were Jacques Lou Ross, Tina Ross, and Alline Stansell. This information is derived from a school catalogue for 1912-1913, now in possession of Mrs. J. W. Savage.

Mary Ferguson graduated from Sanderson high school in 1936. Mary took part in all the main activities in her high school work. She played a snare drum in the high school band for a number of years. She is now a Sophomore in the University of San Antonio.

Lloyd Gant (Curly), graduated from Sanderson high school in 1936. Lloyd's main activity was tennis. He also participated in the high school band. He represented the school in tennis at the district meet in 1936. Lloyd is now a sophomore in the University of Texas.

NOTE: Unfortunately records of Sanderson high school do not show the names of the graduates of the school, except for the past few years. Is there any person in Sanderson interested in helping the staff of the Eagle News collect the data concerning all of the graduating classes of the past and especially the first classes of the school?

SPEAKERS CLUB

The four members of the speakers club have begun their memory work for the year. They intend to memorize numerous selections and from them select their declamations. Miss Owen is their instructor.

"X-9"

By Bert Herbert

Two hundred thousand dollars worth of airplanes, and all they called it was "X-9."

This was the name given the experimental airplane that was owned by the Northwood Aircraft company. Ever since 1918, when the Armistice was signed, and all aircraft orders from the United States were cancelled, Northwood had been designing this ship.

It was made entirely of sheet metal, and when in flight represented a shining silver bullet. Today the chief test pilot of the army, "Crash" Allen, was to put "X-9" through the tactics that decide whether or not the airplane meets up to the army's exacting requirements.

In the office of the president of the Northwood Aircraft Company, Steve Northwood, designer of "X-9," anxiously awaited for "Crash" Allen, the army's best test pilot. To pass away the time Steve turned the memo on his desk over to June 20, and wrote, "If 'X-9' fails us, the Northwood Co. will go bankrupt, and—"

At that moment the head mechanic rushed into the office and fairly shouted: "Crash has just driven onto the field, Mr. Northwood. Shall I send him in?"

"Yes, and don't lose any time about it," Steve snapped.

"Howdy, Steve. Been a long time since I've seen you. How ya doing?"

"Just fine, Crash."

"Well, I guess I'll get this test over with, Steve," Crash said.

Then Steve and Crash walked out to where the mechanic had put "X-9" to warm up.

In a few minutes Crash was in the cockpit adjusting his safety-belt and chute. After glancing over all his instruments, Crash said: "Well, guess I'll give her the works, Steve."

"Okay, Crash. Now don't stay too long in her if she folds up in that 9-6," Steve warned.

"No worry, Steve."

With a final wave, Crash took the beautiful "X-9" to the end of the field and opened the throttle for the takeoff.

Once in the air he put the airplane into every known maneuver, all the while writing down the reaction of the ship and the report blank in front of him.

Climbing to an altitude of 22,000 feet, Crash prepared to put the "X-9" thru her final test.

This was the 9-G, meaning that when the pilot pulls the ship out of a terrific spin, the force exerted on it is nine times normal. If the ship stands this strain it will stand any strain that can be put on it while in flight.
