SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1937

Snow Blankets Large Area of Texas First of the Week

This Section Remain Cold and Dry With Temperature Range From 26 To 65: No Livestock Casualties

Showered in with the hunting season was the first cold weather of the year with the thermometer dropping to 26 and rarely exceeding a maximum of 65 during the mildest part of the day. Although snow was reported over a greater part of the state, Sanderson and vicinity remained with heavy frosts each morning for the past week. Reports from ranchers are to the effect that all livestock in this section are doing fine, and are in shape to stand a more rigid spell than we've had to date. Plenty of feed is the result of recent rains, and on many ranches they suffice for feed during an ordinary winter.

Snow Benefits Farming

The earliest snow fall in history reported from many sections, Monday night, which drifted into south Texas after covering most of the west and north sections. However, the fall is considered very beneficial to the farming communities of Texas.

At Dallas the fall measured a three inches. Waco reported a fall of the same depth. The first snow in 25 years fell in Houston county, near the Louisiana line, the fall at Crockett falling one inch.

In other cities registering snow were Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lubbock, Abilene, Brownwood and Corsicana. In the Rio Grande Valley snow was the order Monday. In many sections the snow and subsequent freeze, created a real problem, and many accidents were reported, the result of slippery pavements.

The first November snow in memory of old-timers fell at Sanderson. In this immediate section considerable moderation in temperature was noticed as the Times goes to press, Wednesday.

all Meeting of Terrell Ranchers For Tuesday at 10

A meeting of all Terrell county ranchmen has been called for Tuesday at 10 a. m. The meeting, called by County Agent L. Williams, will be held in the district court room at the court house. Rancher are urged to attend this meeting. At this meeting Mr. Williams will discuss and explain the 1938 conservation program, and a new county committee will be elected to serve during 1938. The program for 1938 will be longer and more beneficial in its scope than was the 1937 program, Mr. Williams stated.

PORT STOCKTONS VOTES SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Fort Stockton, Nov. 20.—Voters in Fort Stockton Independent School District today balloted 66 to 20 in favor of a $50,000 bond issue to construct a new building for the Mexican school. The new building is to replace a building which has been in use for thirty years, recently declared of doubtful safety. A combination auditorium-gymnasium and ten or eleven classrooms will be provided in plans for the new school.

SURVEYING LAND

W. A. Bandy, representative of the Southwestern Engineering Company of Austin, spent this week in Sanderson. Mr. Bandy is surveying the Downie-King ranch Co. properties.

O. T. Schupbach Junior President U. So. California

O. T. Schupbach, another Sanderson boy attending a faraway college, is not letting the matter of distance make any difference in his school work, nor is it interfering with his popularity as a student in the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

O. T. or "Teeter," was recently elected president of the Freshman class, and was also a pledge for Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, and that honors enough for any student during his first year.

O. T. graduated from Sanderson high school, class of '36. Previously he was enrolled in Abilene high, where he starred as tackle on the Eagle squad under Dewey Mayhew. However, he stated in a recent letter that he is not playing Freshman football at Southern California, due to a back injury, which he hopes will be okay by the time he is eligible for the varsity team.

How does he like California? Well, he likes it so well, or those movie stars out there, that he will not be home for the holidays. Instead he will have employment in one of the Los Angeles post offices for about four weeks, or until classes again open.

He gets the Times occasionally, and says he enjoys it—that he thinks of Sanderson and friends continually, and will always have a warm spot in his heart for everything connected with what he terms "Home, Sweet Home."

O. T. states that he has appeared in the "mob scenes" in some of the pictures filmed there, the pay being from $5 to $10 a day.

The Times is glad to hear from any and all of the Sanderson boys who are in faraway places, and wish them all the luck they can stand.

Del Rio Sheriff Here After Trio Box Car Thieves

Sheriff A. E. Steinmetz of Del Rio was a business visitor in Sanderson for several hours Monday, coming up to get two white men, apprehended by local officers.

The men, together with a negro, are alleged to have broken into a box car in the Del Rio yards, taking a typewriter. Soon after an employe of the railroad discovered that the car had been broken into, and a robbery committed. Del Rio officers were notified who, in turn, notified the Sanderson officers. The negro was caught at Langtry.

The trio were taken back to Del Rio and lodged in the Val Verde county jail to await trial.

DAUGHTER TO NANCES

A daughter, weighing 8 pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Austin Nance last Friday night, at their home. The little Miss is a granddaughter of Mrs. Edith Lane, and of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nance of this city.

JOE KERR HOME

After a two weeks stay in San Antonio where he had been under medical care, Joe Kerr was able to return to his home here last Sunday. Mr. Kerr is much improved in health, which is gratifying to everyone.

YES, SIR, HER FACE WAS RED!

Olene Hickey, efficient waitress at the Buffet, motored to the bakery Wednesday morning. Our genial baker Fred Schmidt, was in a jam. Would Mrs. Hickey push his car to the garage for repairs. She would. She started to her car, and Fred, instead of getting in his car, went back into the shop. Olene thinking all was o. k., gave it the gun, and headed for the garage, a block away. The car in front ran true as an arrow. At the entrance to the station Olene shut off, the car in front kept going, and would still be going, were it not for the fact that a truck barred the right-of-way, and Fred's car halted with a wham! Both vehicles met bumper to bumper, and the damage was nil. About that time Fred arrived and he was plumb peeved because Olene didn't wait for him.

"The Last Gangster" Here Dec. 3 & 4. O. K. Theatres Greatest Road Show

You've seen many pictures that told of the crime that led to the arrest and punishment of a criminal. You've had many pictures that had to do with mobs, gangs and rackets—but, you've never had a picture that told the story of what happens to the big shot King of the Underworld who goes to prison on a federal warrant—of what happens to him in prison—and what's waiting for him when he comes out of prison—a free man, having paid his debt to society—what is waiting for him from the gangs he double-crossed—pals of men he wiped out!

Here is a story that has never been told before, a story that blazes with sensational new twists and turns, with a new idea.

"The Last Gangster" is a new kind of thrill!

District 8B Winner Not Yet Decided; Ineligible Players Mess Up Records

Football in District 8B was in tangle last week, due to the discovery of alleged ineligible players on the McCamey and Fort Stockton squads. This, however, only applies to the north end of the district not affecting the south part, composed of Sanderson, Alpine and Marfa. In this zone the local Eagles, outclassed by both Alpine and Marfa, slipped off the padding and hung up their helmets until 1938, leaving the battle for zone honors to the Bucks and Shorthorns, who had previously emerged from a 6-6 deadlock. In a playoff game last week Marfa nosed Alpine out of zone honors by one point, 13-12, and will meet the winner in the north 8B zone when and if a winner is named.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee from District 8B charges and counter charges were the order of the day, and when the smoke cleared, the officials had ruled four McCamey players ineligible, and one Fort Stockton player. In McCamey's case, two of the exiled players were reinstated. So the big question is: who is the north zone's representative?

In the case of the Sanderson Eagles, it can be said without damaging rebuttal that they gave a good account of themselves—

although the scores would disprove this statement. They took the field with a squad, 85 per cent of which scrimmaged for the first time. There one fault, and in football it's the main fault, was their weakness on defense. Next year, with a team of experienced players, we are hoping for better things from this scrappy little bunch.

In strictly conference games the Eagles met Alpine and Marfa. In the Marfa game our boys were hopelessly outweighed, and the Shorthorns simply powerhoused their way to victory. Taking to the air the Eagles counted twice, piling up more points against the Marfaites than against any other team they played.

With Alpine the situation was different. In weight the teams were on a par, but the Bucks had an airtight aerial defense, and every pass attempted by Sanderson was either grounded or intercepted. The Bucks were fast, also, getting down under punts, and preventing gains on the returns. The Bucks goal is about the only one the Eagles didn't threaten during the season's play.

Considering the green material, and the multiplicity of injuries to Eagle players, Coach Duane Smith is to be complimented on the team's showing.

Smith Has Fine Record in Navy Radio Service

Mrs. Chester Smith of Dryden received a letter the latter part of last week from her son, Jack, who is with the U. S. Navy, on the SS Submarine 44. He wrote from New Orleans where he had just landed. He stated that following a return trip of the submarine to Cuba and other points it would return to its base at San Diego where Jack will receive his discharge next March after serving four years. He is in the radio department with a second-class rating.

He stated that after being discharged he would be home for a visit, and if he found he did not like being out of the navy would re-enlist.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

S. N. Allen, who ranches near Christoval, underwent an operation last Friday for mastoid trouble. Incidentally this was Mrs. Allen's 72nd birthday, and while he regretted spending the day in the hospital, his many friends are glad to know the operation was a success, and that he is recovering nicely, according to reports. His son, R. N. Allen, and daughter, Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave, of this place, motored to San Angelo Thursday to be with their father.

Green Has Fine Record as Coach In Laredo School

The following, taken from a recent edition of the Laredo Times, will be of interest to friends here of John Green, Jr., a graduate of Sanderson high school, and now head coach at Laredo Junior high school:

Head coach John Green and assistant coach Claude Notzon of Christen junior high school, have been working hard on the football team with the material on hand and up to the present have been doing fine, thank you.

Green has been at it since last year when he came to Laredo from Sul Ross College to take over the coaching position at Christen vacated when John Finger was promoted to Freshman coach at Laredo high school. With the Cubs last year Green put a team that finished the season with five wins out of seven starts, playing a tough class of junior and B class aggregations.

This year he hopes for a better record and up to now his team has not been scored on, although it was tied 0 to 0, by Mirando City, in three games played. These have been against Hebronville 0, Christen 6; Mirando 0, Christen 0; Wynn Feale (Corpus) 0, Christen 2. Games to be played include Edinburg Junior high here Saturday night, North Side (Corpus) Nov. 3 here at night, Benavides here Nov. 10, and the Tiger B squad the night of Nov. 17.

In addition to his coaching duties, Green teaches Civics and Hygiene at Christen. He attended Sul Ross, Schreiner Institute, and New Mexico A. & M., but graduated from the first named college. He lettered two years in football and basketball at Sul Ross, and he also played with Schreiner and New Mexico.

With the constant aid of Claude Notzon, Green has been shaping the destinies of the Cubs rather well, getting the proper equipment through Principal J. W. Nixon, enthusiastic Cub booster, who began as their coach. Sports activities have increased at the school since Nixon first brought the school into prominence with an undefeated football team four or five years ago.

Basketball, softball and track, in addition to football have been added to the sports calendar. Green takes charge of these too, and this year plans to start his cage season earlier, beginning around the first of December and using the old high school gym.

A scrappy bunch of players turned out for the football team this year and although most of last year's squad went over to the high school, a strong playing combination with worked out.

WORKING ON SANTA FE

Houston Chandler of Dryden was called to Slaton last week, and is now working out of that place on the Santa Fe railroad. Mrs. Chandler is driving the bus transporting school children from Dryden to Sanderson and points between the two places. A letter from Houston states that business is booming on the road up there, due, no doubt, to the holiday business, which increases at this time of the year.

EDITORS—A BOY'S ESSAY

I don't know how newspapers got into the world, and I don't believe God does, for He ain't got nothing to say about them in the Bible. I think the editor is the missing link we read of, and stayed in the bushes after the flood, and then came out and wrote the thing up, and has been here ever since. If the editor makes mistakes folks say he ought to be hung, but if a doctor makes mistakes he buries them and people don't say nothing, because they can't read and write Latin. When the editor makes mistakes there is a big lawsuit, and swearing and a big fuss, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anyone else knowing what it means, but when the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges for the visit, but if the editor goes he gets a charge of bucksot. Any college can make doctors to order, but editors have to be born.

The President has a toothache,
The nation heaves a sigh;
But nobody would give a d—
Should we lay down and die.

Consider the poor turkey
And pity his sad lot—
Today he's gobbling lustily,
Tomorrow he's in the pot.

Well, that's enough poetry (?). There is something else on our mind. For example: the where and why of two young men getting permanents. We can't figure it out. One is happily, or should we say scrappily, married, and the other is an avowed, hardshell bachelor. It's your guess.

We wonder how much longer the government is going to tolerate these so-called strikes that bob up without any say or action from the men employed. The leaders simply walk in, override the will of the employe and employer, and tell the men to squat—and place guards over them to see that the order is obeyed. And people think this country will some day have a dictator. We already have one in the person of Mr. Beetlebrow Lewis, or he'll do until a real one arrives.

We now have a faint idea of what it means when some one tells us we haven't a Chinaman's chance.

Now that the football season is over we hope all the wild animals—Wildcats, bobcats, panthers, etc. will crawl into their dens and hibernate, and the Eagles, Cranes, Buzzards, and Owls roost so high we can't see them.

Can't get excited over the war in the far East. The extermination of either China or Japan will remove some of the danger of a Yellow Peril.

An effort is being made to effect an armistice in Spain. If this is accomplished now, some say the conflict will be a draw. Funny the way some folk reason. Thousands of homes have been ruined, families disrupted, multitude of innocent children bomb-slaughtered, and millions of dollars wasted. Some draw!

Recent cold drafts from the north have been traced to the special session of Congress.

Glad to report no hunting casualties in this section—not even to a WPA worker. The weather was so doggone cold they had to keep moving to generate heat.

Mountaineer in Oregon is out with the statement that drinking whisky makes one tall. Wrong, again! If such was the case we know several whose heads should be hitting the ceiling.

McCAMEY—

Three players on the McCamey high school football team were declared ineligible by a committee from district 8B at a recent meeting of that body, states the McCamey News, which brings the list of players declared ineligible to four. The News further stated that a motion was made at the meeting to suspend the Badger team, not only from further competition during the current season, but during 1938, also. The motion, however, was voted down, it was stated.

PECOS—

Last week the Enterprise reported an all-time high cotton crop in the area adjacent to Pecos, in Reeves, Ward and Pecos counties. The estimated harvest this year is 15,000 bales. The large crop is due to the fact that the area is now being served with irrigation water from Red Bluff reservoir.

The D-V states that during the Thanksgiving season 10 cars were shipped from the county, each car netting $10,000. Plans are now underway for the Christmas turkey shipping season.

DEL RIO—

A coincidence worthy of mention in Ripley's "Believe It or Not" column popped up during a murder trial in Del Rio last week. The verdict of death was the second ever returned in the county, the first some 45 years ago. The defendant in both cases had the same first names—Jose Maria. The Hon. Joseph Jones, then a young lawyer, was special prosecutor in the first case, and his son, Walter Jones, was special prosecutor in the cast last week.

WEEKLY Health Letter

Austin.—A primary reason for the institution of Thanksgiving Day was health. The Pilgrim—the few of them left after that terrible first year of death and disease—wanted to publicly give thanks to God for all his mercies. And so was born the tradition of Thanksgiving.

We have come a long way since that time in the matter of health. Today very few people think of Thanksgiving in connection with the health they enjoy. We are so accustomed to good health that we hardly give it a thought—until illness arrives.

Since the first Thanksgiving the mode of transmission of many diseases have been discovered and the known preventatives of diseases has become common knowledge.

During the past half century the expectation of life has increased about fifteen years. This means that a baby born in 1937 can be expected to live 15 years longer than if it had been born 50 years ago. We have much more to be thankful for in the matter of health, than did our Pilgrim forefathers, so let us, in our individual Thanksgivings, be reminded of the strides preventive medicine is making in improving health conditions in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chandler were in town the first of the week from their ranch on the Independence.

BRACKETTVILLE—

PECOS—

At a recent meeting of the district school trustees, their okay was placed on plans for the new elementary school building to be erected in that city, according to the Enterprise. The present elementary building, due to an abnormal increase in scholastics has proven inadequate.

"HUMAN CONDUIT"

By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY!

Cosimo J. Mancino of South Beach, Staten Island, had an idea a while back. "I have been reading your column for quite a while," he writes, "and every time I read it I said to myself, 'Boy, that fellow had a close one,' without ever thinking for a minute about the close shaves I have had myself."

All I'm wondering about is why Cosimo didn't have that same idea before, because he is an electrician, and most any electrician has had a close call or two with a mess of current. Why, I've printed yarns in this column about lads who have engaged in boxing matches with upward of thirty thousand volts of the stuff. That's where Cosimo's yarn is different. In fact, it's a doggone swell warning to all of us, whether we're electricians or not. Cosimo had his scrap with just one hundred and ten volts of current—the same amount that lights the lamps in your house and runs your electric refrigerator.

"People will tell you that 110 volts is not dangerous," Cosimo says, "but don't let them fool you. Look at what happened to me!"

And what happened to Cosimo? Well, that's the story. If you live in Stapleton on Staten Island, maybe you know where Smalley's Lunch is. On July 15, 1934, Cosimo got a call to go there and fix a refrigerator that wasn't running properly. Cosimo got on the job and began looking for the trouble. The wires ran down through the floor and along the ceiling of the cellar. There they ran into a junction box, and he opened that up to pull the metal cables out and make a test to find out if they were grounded.

Juice Was Shooting Through Cosimo

Now Cosimo goes into a lot of detail about that job he was doing. He talks about ground legs, and secondary grounds, and of a polarized system and what-not, until I get so dizzy that I can't tell my right hand from my left. Maybe Mr. Albert Einstein could give you all the dope about that job, written so an electrician could understand it. But as near as I can figure out, Cosimo was fooling with a hot wire that was grounded on a water pipe, and at the same time he was standing on a cellar floor that was pretty wet. The motor was running, and juice was going through that wire about a mile a minute when a wire snapped.

Cosimo had his pliers on that wire when it broke—and all of a sudden his fingers tightened and his body went stiff. Before it broke that wire had been feeding current along its other half. Now it was feeding that same current through Cosimo. He had cut himself in on the circuit—turned himself into a human electric wire—and the motor went right on humming, run by the juice that was shooting through Cosimo's body.

The first thing he thought of was to try to fall. If he could drop to the floor he would break the connection. But falling was one thing he couldn't seem to do. His hand had tightened in a death grip on those pliers, and doggone if he could open it. And the pliers had a firm grip on the cable—a grip all the tighter because Cosimo was gripping them so hard.

Couldn't Even Call for Help

"I could feel every revolution of the motor as it passed through my body," he says. "Every time the motor turned over it hit me with a sort of jolt. I was all alone down there in the cellar, and I couldn't even yell for help. I tried to, but my voice wouldn't come. That current was paralyzing my vocal cords just as it had stiffened the rest of my body."

Every successive jolt from the motor felt worse than the last one—and Cosimo says that even the first ones were pretty tough. "My eyes felt as though they were popping out of my head. I had no strength left in my body. I was absolutely helpless. Then, all of a sudden I realized that the only thing about me that was working was my mind, and I also knew that if I didn't do something about my predicament soon my goose would be cooked. My mind would have to get me out of that jam, and do it right away while I still had strength enough left to fight."

So Cosimo began using that head of his, and the first thing he noticed was that his left hand was free. He was about all in there, and his heart felt as though it would burst any minute, but if only he had strength enough to lift that free left hand and bring it down hard on his right, he might break the connection and tear himself loose from the punishing current.

How He Knocked Himself Into Safety

"But it had to be done with a quick blow," he says, "for if I failed, my right hand would make a ground on the cable, form a complete circuit, and I would be absolutely helpless. I raised my right hand. If I wasn't holding my breath already I'd have held it then. It was my one chance for life. If it didn't work I was a goner."

Cosimo brought his hand down on that wrist and—it worked. His right hand, knocked clear of the wire, fell to his side, and Cosimo fell too. His knees buckled under him and he slumped to the ground, breathing heavily, and pale as a ghost. He was shaking like a leaf a few minutes later when he picked himself up and tottered up the stairs for a rest and drink of water, and he was still weak and nervous six or eight days after it happened.

And Cosimo's last word of warning is to repeat what you've already heard him say before: "Don't let anybody tell you that one hundred and ten volts isn't dangerous. Keep your fingers out of those lamp sockets."

'Wee Willie Winkie' Kipling's Great Story of India, Stars Shirley Temple

Adventure as only Rudyard Kipling could write it blazes from the screen in the 20th Century-Fox picturization of his "Wee Willie Winkie," which opens at the Princess Theatre tonight for a 2-day showing, Nov. 26 and 27.

"Wee Willie Winkie" starts off colorfully and excitingly in the railroad station at Rajpore, India, where Shirley Temple and her widowed mother Jane Lang, have arrived to take up residence at an army post on the frontier com- manded by her grandfather, the stern old C. Aubrey Smith. Be- fore their eyes, Khoda Khan, a fierce native chieftain is caught in a gun smuggling and arrested, losing from around his neck in the scuffle a treasured amulet, which is picked up by Shirley.

Unhappy at the post under the gruff discipline of the Colonel, Shirley decides to win his affec- tion by becoming a soldier, and Michael Whalen, a young lieuten- ant who has taken a fancy to both her and her mother, puts her un- der the care of the burly sergeant Victor McLaglen. The latter im- mediately dubs her "Wee Willie Winkie," because of the quaint way she has of screwing up her eyes when she asks a question.

Shirley's attempts to impress her grandfather only land her in more trouble, but she wins the gratitude of the imprisoned Kho- da Khan when she returns his amulet. The proud chieftain is freed in a surprise raid by the Pathans, and the border blazes in crimson warfare, which costs Mc- Laglen's life, among others.

Because she feels that both Khoda Khan and her grandfather would remain at peace if they could, Shirley takes a desperate step to end the bloodshed, and sets out at night for the Khyber Pass lookout of the tribesmen. When they discover her loss, the Highlanders set out grimly for Khyber Pass, determined to res- cue her or die in the attempt.

With the lives of those she loves at stake Shirley makes one last desperate gesture to save them and bring peace, in a remarkable sequence which brings the pic- ture to a thrilling climax.

Miss Bess McAdams, who is teaching in the Eagle Pass schools came in Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Mc- Adams.

Will Rogers in a Loveable Role As Judge Priest

A gavel in his hand a shrewd twinkle in his eye and, in his court, more laughs than you can shake a side at! This is "Judge Priest," one of the most loveable and laughable characters in Am- erican fiction, portrayed to per- fection as only Will Rogers could play it, in the 29th Century-Fox picture which comes to the Prin- cess Theatre next Monday, Nov. 29, for one day only.

An outstanding cast supports America's beloved humorist in favorite role, including Rochelle Hudson, Tom Brown, Anita Lou- ise and Stepin Fetchit.

When Judge Priest's nephew, a role played by Tom Brown, re- turns after graduating from one of the northern law schools, the judge watches with interest his romance with the lovely Anita Louise.

Tom's mother frowns on this affair, however, because of the mystery surrounding Anita's or- igin, and hopes that he will trans- fer his affections to Rochelle, the daughter of the prosecuting at- torney.

Unexpectedly Tom's first case before a jury becomes stirringly dramatic as long-dead wrongs are brought to light and the quiet village is thrown into an uproar. Calm and wise among it all, Will manages to restore peace and quiet in a manner that has en- deared him to millions.

'Wife, Doctor and Nurse' is Modern Entertainment, With 3 Great Stars

Drama with a twinkle in its eye and a catch in its heart for every wife whose husband works with other women; for every husband whose wife wonders about his absence; for every girl whose boss is handsome—and married—is found in "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," wise and witty 20th Century-Fox picture starring Loretta Young, Warner Baxter and Virginia Bruce, which comes to the Princess next Wednesday and Thursday, December 1 and 2.

The Doctor, Warner Baxter, has little time to notice the beauty and charm of his efficient nurse, Virginia Bruce. Called on an emergency case, in which a beau- tiful girl, Loretta Young, has dis- located her arm, he falls in love with his patient and marries her.

When he falls asleep after a major operation which had con- sumed the greater part of a night Virginia impetuously kisses the doctor. Then she realizes that under the circumstances she cannot continue working for the man with whom she is in love.

This departure of his most in- dispensable aide causes him to become restless and irritable. Suspecting that something is very wrong at the office Loretta goes to Virginia and, after hearing her story, tells the nurse that under such circumstances, she could not wish her to return to her position. Virginia, however, decides to re- turn and fight her emotions.

With Virginia back Baxter is once more the contented doctor. But when he explains to his wife that he needs his nurse only be- cause she is essential to his work, and that he really loves only her, Loretta believes he is being un- fair to himself, and plans to go to Reno for a divorce.

A compromise, dramatic, yet amusing and entertaining, is ef- fected and becomes the solution of one of the year's most excep- tional pictures.

Bernice Harris is the youngest pupil attending high school this year. Bernice hails from Valentine, Texas. She was born Nov. 1, 1925, and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Harris. Her brothers and sisters are Pat, Emma Fay and Jimmie. Bernice wears a size 6 1/2 shoe. Her weight is 90 lbs., and she towers 5 feet 1 inch in the sky. Her hobbies are volleyball and taking pictures. Her favorite food is banana ice cream. She claims the Ritz Brothers for her favorite movie stars. Perhaps she wants to become a good housewife because H. E. is her favorite course. Bernice is a freshman and this is her third year of school in Sanderson. Altogether, she has attended seven years of schools. As a freshman, Bernice is taking Typing I, English I, Algebra I, H. E. I, and Junior Business Training. She also belongs to a number of clubs at school.

Book and Good English Week is Observed in SHS

November 14 to 20 was observed in Sanderson high school as Book Week and Good English Week. The senior class members were given tags to pin on each underclassman who made an error in English. On Monday, Nov. 22, the president of the senior class, Prince Dishman, announced the number of mistakes made by members of each class.

The Freshman class made the least mistakes for the week, a total of 25. The Sophomores had 30 errors, and the Juniors made 30 errors. The purpose of the plan was to cause each pupil to notice his own errors and correct them.

The English classes also made posters which dealt with the use of correct English, and these were placed in the various rooms in the high school building.

Over 20 Report For Basketball

More than twenty players have reported to Mr. Caraway for basketball practice. After about a week of practice the boys are beginning to look very good.

Their first game is tentatively scheduled to be played on the night of December 3.

Those who are out for basketball are K. Litton, R. Fierro, A. Weigand, H. Lewellen, R. Lochausen, Troy Druse, John Glenn, W. C. Davis, Angel Coronado, A. Hardgrave, Manuel Ochoa, David Allen Campbell Kerr, M. Davis, M. Bodkin, Roger Bassett, Len Haines, Bill Cargile, Earl Hurst, and Julian O'Bryant.

Gant's Rating is High in Survey Made at Texas U.

Information has recently been received from Texas University, based upon a study of Freshmen there in 1936-'37.

Entering the freshman class in the fall of 1936 were 1086 men and 554 women. Of this number 258 men, or 23 per cent, failed to pass the minimum requirements, while 92 women, or 16.6 per cent failed in minimum requirements.

Only one student from Sanderson high school entered the university in 1936. This was Lloyd Gant. His score for his freshman year was 33.8. The general average for all schools was 29.1. In 1936-'37 Lloyd made the second highest average grade in the senior class, and the highest grade among the boys in the class.

Comparative scores made by freshmen who entered from other high schools in this section are:

Alpine (Sul Ross)	37.4
Sonora	19.7
San Angelo	32.5
San Antonio	32.7
McCamey	26.4
Pecos	36.6
Del Rio	24.5
Brady	19.7
Sanderson	33.8

Lloyd Gant is in his second year at the University of Texas this session. There are three other former Sanderson high school students also in the university. They are Melven Pollard, Jack Hayre and Billy Goldwire.

TO SCHEDULE GAMES

Attempts have been made the past week to arrange several volleyball games for the S. H. S. team with other teams in this section. Thus far none of the teams have agreed upon a definite time for games.

Prospects Bright For Strong Eagle Squad Next Fall

Prospects for the Eagles' team in 1938 now appear brighter than the prospects of one year ago, according to some of the S. H. S. followers. Lettermen from the 1937 squad are B. Allen, H. Cannon, M. Davis, W. Dishman, Harry Lewellen, R. Lochausen, J. Glenn and J. O'Bryant, all of whom are expected to be back in uniform next fall. In addition to these 7 lettermen, there are many boys who played some on the 1937 squad and are expected to be helpful next year. Among these are Jimmy Cook, Cyle Earwood, R. Chandler, D. Allen, K. Litton, Tom Billings, Len Haines, Charley Morris, Theo McDonald, Martin Bodkin, E. McSparran, Campbell Kerr, Jack Turner, R. Bassett, John Clark, Bill Cargile and others. Rafael Fierro, who lettered in both basketball and football in 1936, is again in school this session and should be valuable to the team in 1938. All in all, the prospects now are that some 24 or more will report for football this spring and next fall. The Eagles will again have their days of winning, provided the boys remain eligible and do not give up after losing some games in 1937.

FRESHMAN PICNIC

A picnic for the entire high school honoring the Freshmen was given Monday afternoon on the Bullis Gap road. The picnic was tendered as a reward for selling the greatest number of football tickets during the season. Other classmates pay a fee of 10c to attend the picnic, which was spent for refreshments.

Different committees headed by teachers were in charge of the affair. They were: Mr. Caraway, transportation; Miss Lindley, food; Mr. Smith, finance; and Miss Johnston, entertainment.

Games played were baseball, and Capture the Flag.

The students enjoyed weiners, buns, marshmallows, cinnamon rolls, bananas, and coffee.

About seventy pupils attended in spite of winter weather. Nine teachers in high school were also in attendance.

Town Cage Team Beats Ft. Stockton

A Sanderson team composed of J. Lochausen, Dawson, Caraway, D. Smith, Baker, and others, last Friday night, Nov. 19, defeated a Fort Stockton team made up of high school players and boys of that town. The score was 20-9. Gate receipts, which amounted to $7.20 were given to the athletic fund of the Sanderson high school and will help pay for football sweaters.

SISTERS IN HIGH SCHOOL

There are only three pair of sisters in Sanderson high school. They are Emma Fay and Bernice Harris, Martha and Lois Mae Bassett, and Maxine and Winno Jean (Tapy) Holmes.

Some sisters look alike, act alike, and are alike. There sisters are like all others. Emma Fay and Bernice Harris look alike and act alike. Martha and Lois Mae Bassett are alike in size, but their dispositions are quite different. Maxine and Winno Jean Holmes are also quite different in looks and actions.

The ideal situation would be if one sister could have all the good traits they both now have but "No es posible," so we'll skip it.

In the archives of the University of Texas library are over 300 files of personal and business correspondence, deposited by distinguished pioneer families of Texas.

Representative in Dist. 8B Football Still Undecided

Marked by protests and frequent meetings of the district executive football committee, the season has drawn near the close with no district winner yet chosen. Marfa and Alpine played a tie off in the south zone last Friday, Nov. 19, in which Marfa won by a score of 13 to 12. Marfa will play the winner of the north zone in the district.

McCamey defeated Iraan on the latter's home field last Saturday, Nov. 20, 20 to 7. Iraan and Fort Stockton previously had protested the eligibility of four players on McCamey's team, and the district committee had declared all four ineligible, but later rescinded this action and allowed two of the players to return to the game. McCamey then protested the eligibility of one Fort Stockton player and the committee declared him ineligible. Thus the question is "Who represents District 8B in football this season in district and bi-district games?"

Order Sweaters For 12 Lettermen

Football sweaters for 12 players on the 1937 football team were ordered Monday. Boys who will be awarded sweaters are Robert Allen, Hicks Canon, Malcolm Davis, W. C. Davis, Robert Lochausen, Julian O'Bryant, Wilton Dishman, Troy Druse, Bert Herbert, John Glenn Harry Lewellen and Wilburn Short. One of the requirements to secure a letter is to report for practice during the entire season and play in a large portion of the games.

Sweaters were ordered from Lowe & Campbell, Dallas, thru their representative, Bill Skeeters. They are slip-over style, of orange color, with black and burnt orange letter.

The sweaters are expected to arrive and be awarded just before the Christmas holidays.

A VISTOR'S VIEWPOINT

Slogans, mottoes, posters everywhere! What do they mean? Good English Week, of course, sponsored by the Seniors. See, that one says "Bad English Blocks the Road to Success." And what are those badges the pupils are wearing, some green, red and blue? Oh, I know now. They are tags representing errors made in English. The Sophomores seem to have the most tags—thirty-two to be exact—and the Freshmen have the least—twenty-five. Good for the Freshmen class! They have surpassed the Juniors with their thirty tags. It seems that this school is English-conscious. Let's hope that it remains so and that all pupils profit by their errors. Hurrah for Good English Week!

ENJOYING NEW TEXTBOOKS

There were 1,538 new textbooks received in the Sanderson school for the 1937-1938 session. This is an average of three books for every pupil.

All of these books were returned to Dallas, Texas. The old books were returned to Austin after being in use for five years. The total cost of the new books was $488.99, which is about 1 cent per book.

Each school has a separate storage room for its books.
