BULLETIN

In a phone conversation Wednesday afternoon with City Attorney Richard Collard...

The officials indicated to Collard that "we are willing to work this out with the city of Friona."

"We will slate a meeting between the city council and Santa Fe officials as soon as possible so that work can begin on the plant," Collard said.

Time Running Short on City's Sewer Site Problem

BUILDING PERMIT

The following building permit was issued at the City Hall in Friona during the week ending April 19:

Paul A. Hall, permit to move in a ready built house at 1309 North Main Street at an estimated cost of $6,000.

With time drawing near for letting of contract for the construction of the new sewer plant and still no definite site for the plant in sight a court settlement for the land southeast of Friona now owned by the Santa Fe railroad seems the only way out for the city.

The statement above just about sums up the situation as to just where the city stands in the struggle to provide a new site for a sewer plant.

Since last October the city council has been dickering with the Santa Fe Railroad for the purchase or the trade of a piece of land which the railroad owns down in the Friona draw about a mile and a half east of town.

At times the struggle seemed checkmated, but then a phone call, another visit, another letter plodded along and here, six months later the purchase or the possession of this parcel of land for the city seems as far away as it ever has been.

Last weekend the city queried Leo Potishman, of the Santa Fe Grain Company to see if he would sell the present sewer plant site to the city and then if he would the city would clear this land and swap it to the Santa Fe Railroad for the 25 acres east of town for the new plant.

But--three phone calls later--and this deal seems to have gone the way of the deals with the Santa Fe Railroad--around in circles.

The situation, which is reminiscent of the old Army game of passing the buck, leaves the City of Friona with their backs against the wall and no choice except to proceed with condemnation proceedings.

City Attorney Richard Collard says that he will try one last time to reach some sort of agreement with Santa Fe RR this week, but if they haven't done something by Saturday morning we'll (the city) will launch the condemnation suit.

The city has offered the railroad $100 per acre for the land which lies adjoining the Santa Fe tracks on the south side of just across the tracks from Bengier Air Park.

The land is down in the Friona Draw, and appears to be of value only as grazing land.

Santa Fe RR replied to the offer that "we need additional industrial sites in Friona" and don't want to sell this land.

Yet, in a letter from Amarillo last November the Santa Fe told city officials that "are you aware this land is in the flood area of the Friona Draw..."

The excitement of the tornado and the tragedy over at Sunnyside got widespread play in the press last week and Monday morning we received a letter from a resident of Friona who is now on duty with the U. S. Navy out at Honolulu.

He is Jerry Zachary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stokes of Friona who was kind enough to write us a note and send a couple of clippings from the Honolulu Star Bulletin dateline April 13, 1960, in which the lead story reads as follows: "Tornado Razes Texas Town." The sub-head reads "3 Die, 60 Hurt As Twisters Rip Panhandle."

The story is a familiar one to all around here and goes on into detail about Sunnyside and the damage in Friona. Zachary writes in his letter-- "I guess this may be quite a surprise to you there at home as it was quite a surprise to me here in Hawaii 3,650 miles away. I bet there isn't one person there that can guess what happened here. It may not seem so important to you folks there at home but when you see your home town mentioned in the headlines of a paper far from home it makes you feel sorta funny.

"I'll enclose the clippings from the papers and you can read them for yourself as I'm not much for putting words on paper as you can probably tell by now.

"I read your paper and enjoy it quite a lot but the news is usually forgotten by most people at home when I read it, in fact I got the March 24 issue today (the letter was post-marked April 15) slow mail service unless it is sent air mail.

The above is part of the letter written to us from Jerry Zachary who, according to his address is pulling duty at the Operating Terminal, Naval Air Station, in Honolulu, Hawaii. I gather from the way young Zachary writes that he is no different from anyone else who ever was in the service stationed half way 'round the world from home.

Sorta brings to mind an experience of mine while on board a transport headed for Korea. We were visiting (except we called it shooting the breeze then) with a bunch of guys in a different part of the ship and the subject of home came up... when they found out where I was from, one of them said why Mack, we have a kid in our outfit from Palestine.

Boy, it had been a long time since I'd seen anyone from home so off we went looking for this guy from "home." We found him, and he turned out to be one of the blackest Negroes you ever saw, but he sure looked white to me that day.

We sat around for the rest of the trip talking about East Texas. Circumstances and environment sure do change when a fellow is a long way from home. Jerry, when you get leave drop by The Star for a visit if you can. We sure enjoyed your letter and will take it by the house for the folks.

Scouts Sell Stars

Members of three Boy Scout of America troops in and around Friona are currently selling subscriptions to the Friona Star as a part of their annual fund-raising activities.

Both the troops in the Friona and Black troop are making plans to get the annual drive underway.

The two troops in Friona are sponsored by the Friona Lions and the Friona Volunteer Fire Department.

Anyone desiring to purchase a new or renew a subscription to The Star can give credit to the scouts by phoning Hayden Cason or Durward Taylor.

Those at Black, and in that area, can get their subscription credit to the Black scouts by getting in contact with Coy Patton.

This drive was a great success for the troops last year when the scouts made about $250 from the sale of subscriptions. The city will be divided into sections and the two town troops will each have comparative sized territories to cover during the drive.

Now is the time to renew or get your subscription to The Star, and at the same time help the local scouts with their finances.

Park Plans Take Shape

A new Little League Ball Park, built to official LL regulations and specifications, will begin shaping up on the block formerly occupied by the old Ag barns in the east part of Friona in the next week or two.

Definite action was planned at a meeting Monday night between representatives of the American Legion, Jaycees, Friona Lions and the Friona Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture.

After talking over various "rumors" and other speculations concerning the new park those present elected a board of directors for the Little League organization and each of the clubs was assigned definite goals in connection with constructing the new park in time for the summer schedule to begin the last of May.

Pinning down two rumors which had been holding up action on the park building--the new park CAN be used by others than the Little Leaguers provided permission is obtained from the commissioner; the park fence (centerfield) CAN have advertising on it.

These two items were causing some of the misunderstanding about the park, but after settling them the some 20-odd men present got down to business.

The following assignments were decided upon: AMERICAN LEGION: will be responsible for the construction of bleachers, moving poles from old field to new one and erecting these plus the installation of lights; FRIONA LIONS: will be responsible for construction and erection of all fences, from home base to left field, center field, right field and backstops plus three gates. This fence will be of chain link construction down foul lines, and sheet iron at center field.

FRIONA JAYCEES: will be responsible for construction of the two dugouts for the players of the teams, plus the construction of the diamond and infield;

FRIONA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE & AGRICULTURE: will have responsibility of providing a concession stand at the rear of the backstop and storage area for tools and park equipment.

Those present at Monday night's meeting included Sam Williams, post commander of the American Legion; George W. Jones, president Friona Lions club; Jarrell Wright, president Friona Jaycees; Newman Jarrell Jr., president, board of directors of Friona CoC&A; Floyd Brookfield, Kenneth Williams, Frank Reed, Bill Nichols, Wes Long, John Renner, Mick Mingus, Woody Fleming, O. J. Beene, J. P. Sims, Earl Graham, Earl Smith, Bill Raney, Hollis Horton Jr., Dave McReynolds, Bob Zetsche and Ralph Taylor.

Members of the Little League Board of Directors will include Long, McReynolds, Raney, Wright, Renner, Williams, and Jarrell.

Achievement Curtailed

Personal achievement is not a very popular goal in America today and the reasons for this condition are abundant. A government tax system and present day economic philosophies and convention have taken the luster from the trophy that once gleamed so brightly on the shelf of the American free enterprise system.

Oh to be sure, many persons seek personal achievement today, but for the most part they desire recognition and status symbols which to the masses signify achievement but which have become available to many without any genuine effort. It is only natural for a human being to want to better his lot. This is the motivating course behind all progress. It is the only force which has enabled the human race to do anything farther than provide food, clothing and shelter for itself.

Americans have for a long time realized that the power to achieve was within each of them. However, in the past 25 years they have been led to believe that achievement can be realized without individual effort and personal sacrifice and that in reality achievement for each person can become a by-product of society as it is benefited by technological improvement. Such teaching is utterly false. Achievement is not measured by material possessions alone. However, let us draw an example from that field to illustrate a point. As more and more people desire more and more material possessions as a symbol of what they think represents achievement, then these possessions are given to them either as a result of effort which they put forth, or at the expense of other persons. The trend toward the latter case has been increasing rapidly in recent years. Therefore, consider the lot of the more skillful, intelligent and energetic persons who see that less skillful, energetic and talented persons can occupy a level the same as theirs with the difference in true achievement between the two groups being a very large one. Small wonder that the enthusiasm for greater achievement is dulled by this inequitable condition.

Result of this imbalance is not to spur persons capable of greater achievement on to new heights, but instead to level out many groups of people into a homogeneous mediocre class. Thus, the curse of mediocrity feeds itself time and time again.

Reduced to grade school logic, the whole trouble is traceable to that venerable misconception that a man can get something for nothing.

Fields Have Baby Girl

City Manager and Mrs. Albert Field became parents of a baby girl at Parmer County Community Hospital Sunday, April 10. She weighed 8 lbs. 2 1/2 ozs. and was named Mary Lynn.

Older children of the couple are Terry 10, Randy 6 and Rhonda 3. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tim Field of Dalhart and James Chambers of Santa Monica, Calif. Mrs. Walter McNabb of Lubbock is a great-grandmother.

Friday afternoon after making a visit to an eye specialist's office we decided to look around awhile. Upon driving downtown a very convenient parking place was vacant, so we parked and made a tour of windows up and down Polk Street.

Of course, we looked too long and didn't return to the parking meter to put in more money. The ticket we got was a courtesy ticket and it came as a surprise.

Every word printed on it seemed to indicate that visitors were welcome in the city.

Thursday afternoon April 28 at 2:30 third grade pupils of Miss Jo Phillips, Mrs. June Rhodes, Mrs. Wana Brewer and Mrs. Zana Walker will present "Snow White And The Seven Dwarfs" in the auditorium.

This presentation will be of special interest to pre-school age children and is open to the public. Anyone interested in seeing home grown talent present a program especially appropriate for younger children is cordially invited to attend by these teachers.

ENMU Dramatic Students Present Club Program

Highlighting the Tuesday evening meeting of the Progressive Study Club at the club house was a program by dramatic art students of Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

Orville Nix, Susan Riches and Carolyn Cantrell presented Scene 3 of St. Joan. Dennis Williams presented The Highwayman and Nita Thompson presented a speech by the late Christopher Beene.

Betty Jarboe directed the devotional. Hidden talent was presented by Beegie Jinsburg and Anne Spring. An Easter egg tree decorated with ribbons and peach blossoms and an Easter bunny formed the centerpiece of the serving table. Punch, cake, nuts and mints were served by the hostesses Fern Sanders, Jane

WITH JUNE

Spring is here and we love it. Tulips are blooming, irrigation motors are humming, farmers are busy and crop prospects have never looked brighter at this time of year.

There's even activity at "the old fishing hole." There's hardly a day that we don't see someone fishing at the double lakes west of town. Pete Lawton has apparently decided that fishing isn't as good as it should be.

According to the grapevine Mr. and Mrs. Lawton are selling their house and moving where the fishing and squirrel hunting is better.

About the middle of last week someone remarked that it would be wonderful if we could have year around weather like the first few days of the week. On the surface, that seems like a wonderful idea. However, upon closer concentration about the idea, it wouldn't be so good.

If all of our days, or even the greater part of them, were like the first few days of last week, there wouldn't be standing room for people who would come here to make their homes.

Even though we don't like sandstorms and severe weather, we do have them occasionally. Perhaps this serves its purpose. Having patience and perseverance to stay here during such things may explain why such wonderful people live on the High Plains of Texas.

Squaws Win Four Events In Track And Field Meet

Friona's female athletes, under the direction of Coach B. E. Duggins, held their second annual girls' track and field meet Friday in Chieftain Stadium and came out on top in four of nine events. The visiting girls from Tulia topped the Friona females by one event, winning five of the nine.

The track and field events were not held under the competitive auspices of the Interscholastic League and team points were not considered. Rather, the meet was held for individual performance.

Mary Ann Boggess, speedy Friona sophomore, won two first-place events for the hostesses, as she came out in the lead in the 100 yard dash and the baseball throw.

Tommy Lewellen, Friona junior, won a first place ribbon for the Squaws as she took first place in the basketball throw.

The fourth first place victory for the Squaws went to the 200 yard relay team. Friona also won second place in this event.

The 50 yard dash was won by Love of Tulia and Ewing of the same school took first in the 75 yard dash.

Weiss of Tulia captured first place honors in the high jump and the broad jump event went to Love of Tulia, with Boggess and Buckley of Friona taking third and fourth place respectively.

Tulia's fifth win was the 440 yard relay with a time of 55.6 with the Friona team coming in a close second with a time of 56.6.

The track and field meet for the femes is getting good response from this area and will, in all probability, become an annual part of the girls' athletic program.

The Bible Teaches ...

that there is one church, but many members (I Corinthians 12:12-27). There is a certain unity among the members which moves them toward the same goal. They speak the same thing because they presume to speak as the "oracles of God," (I Peter 3:11).

They are of the same mind and judgment because they seek the good of the body of Christ, which is the church (Colossians 1:18). Seeking the good of the body, the individual member cares not which member receives the glory for the member knows that when "one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it."

Since Christ is the head of the church and it is his body, it must be singular in number. It is made up of individual members who have been saved (Acts 2:47). They have been saved when they obey Jesus' instructions (Mark 16:16).

League Rules Discussed At Bowl Meet

T. I. Burleson, president of the Friona City Bowlers Association, men's division discussed league and team rules and organization at a meeting held Tuesday night in the Friona School cafeteria.

Several questions were discussed concerning the organization of teams in the leagues and how the leagues worked with the city association.

Joy Hall, president of the women's division announced that a meeting of the women's association would be held Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the offices of the Production Credit Association in Friona.

Purpose of this meeting will be to discuss women's league organization and the election of a city secretary.

Several samples of howling shirts were passed out to those present Tuesday night and sponsors began picking out the shirts for their teams.

Although there have been quite a few businesses and organizations to indicate interest in sponsoring bowling teams, before activity begins it is recommended by the city association that sponsors turn in their team members names and the night they prefer to bowl either to T. I. Burleson, Dave McReynolds or Dean Bingham at the Bingham Land Company offices.

This will simplify the association's job to schedule the bowling for the week.

Sponsors are urged to do this as soon as possible.

Attorney General Will Wilson today urged Texas voters to "begin weighing carefully the issues in the Attorney General's race--because the Democratic primary is closer than you might think."

In a statement issued through his State Campaign Headquarters in Austin, Wilson, campaigning for re-election today in Fort Worth, said:

"I think it is appropriate at this time to remind Texans that for the first time in history, the Democratic primary election will be held in balmy May instead of torrid July--on May 7th, to be exact.

"This means that it's time now to begin thinking about the qualifications of the people seeking the Democratic nominations for public offices in Texas.

"I am seeking re-election as your Attorney General. My platform is based on my qualifications, experience and record while in office.

"I believe that my record as the state's chief legal officer speaks for itself. I have exerted and am exerting every effort to maintain vigorous law enforcement in our state, in addition to the many other duties and responsibilities of the office.

"It is my firm belief that the responsibilities of the Attorney General are of such magnitude as to require the services of only a seasoned lawyer with experience in the field of law enforcement.

"In my career, I have served as an assistant Attorney General, District Attorney of Dallas County, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, and as Attorney General of Texas.

"As Attorney General, I have used every means at my command to suppress organized rackets and vice in our state and I believe my efforts have been effective.

"I believe that the foundation of good law enforcement is at the local level, with the state cooperating wherever necessary.

"Your Attorney General's department at this time has several vital projects underway, notable of which are the continuing fights against loan sharkism, professional gambling and anti-trust law violations.

"Texas has taken a leading role in anti-trust law enforcement; big-time syndicate racketeering is being held at bay; and loan sharkism is constantly under fire as our injunction suits continue to shrink this form of economic exploitation of our people.

"At the present time we have several loan shark cases in the appellate courts which will have direct bearing on many of the cases now pending for trial, and we are pushing them to final decision as quickly as the judicial processes will permit.

"These are some of the basic issues of the race for Attorney General this year. We are running on our record; we are being fought by a rich slush fund raised by loan sharks who want us out of office; well-heeled professional gamblers and racketeers are naturally against us; and we are being attacked by our opposition with wild and irresponsible charges which are not in the public interest."

The foreman of the gang of linemen sent in an accident report with the following note attached:

"Here is the accident report on Smith's hand when he hit it with the sledgehammer. Now under remarks, whose do you want--mine or Smith's?"

Early Crash Totals Car No Injuries

A 1957 Oldsmobile was a total loss and slight damage done to a Mack truck about 6:45 a. m. last Thursday at the corner of Highway 60 and Euclid in Friona.

There were no injuries. Steve Struve of Friona, driving the Olds, was turning left off the highway onto Euclid and was struck by a Mack tractor which was headed north on the highway.

The Olds was caught in the left side and slung into the parking lot at Bainum Butane.

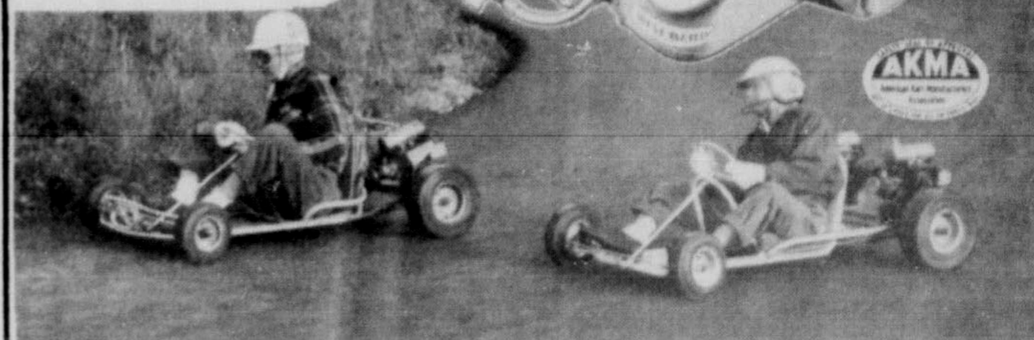

Struve was taken to the Parmer County Community Hospital by Claborn ambulance but was examined and released.

Investigating officer Ben Moorman charged Struve with turning without safety and charged Bobby Edward McMillin of Clovis, N. M., driver of the tractor with speeding.

DOES IT PAY?

Is it really worthwhile to have a Christian home? Some will say it is a waste of time without ever giving it a try. I think the influence of the Christian home is well illustrated by the family of Andrew Murray. Five of his six sons became ministers, and four of his daughters married ministers. Ten grandsons became ministers, and thirteen of them missionaries. You can make your home a Christian home! I think you will find it is indeed, well worth your effort.

No Insurance Problems says Stan-the-Man Musial

Stan Musial, one of baseball's greatest hitters, believes in practical solutions. He owns a car, home, and a thriving restaurant; but he never worries about insurance.

Stan's solution: "I buy my insurance through an independent insurance agent." Stan feels that his confidence is well-founded, too. "I know that because he's independent, he's free to choose the best insurance for me from the oldest and most reliable insurance companies in the country."

Stan says that if his car is ever damaged in any way he won't have to bother with all the forms involved in settling the claim. His independent insurance agent takes care of all the details. Stan believes that most people—with a practical point of view—sensibly buy their insurance from an independent agent.

You, too, can buy insurance with confidence from the man who shows this Big "I" Seal. To meet professional standards designed to protect you.

Easements Complete For Farm Road 145

All resident property owners signed right-of-way easements for the new Farm Road 145 project in the Lazbuddie community last Friday.

Earlier in the week, County Judge Loyde Brewer worked with Precinct 4 Commissioner George Crain in contacting owners along the two-mile strip which runs from the end of the present pavement (east of the "Lazbuddie corner") to the Castro County line. Judge Brewer reports everything went smoothly.

Two non-resident property owners are yet to be contacted, but the county does not anticipate any difficulty.

This project will help fill a gap in a long stretch of east-west FM roads that cross the irrigated High Plains almost in the center. Beginning at Farwell, the road will run due east (with a few jogs) through Lazbuddie, Hart, Kress, and hook in with Highway 86 about seven miles west of Silverton.

The biggest unpaved gap is the section now in Castro County which fords Running Water Draw. The entire project is due to be completed this year, but the short two-mile stretch in Parmer County will very likely be built before the larger project in Castro County can be finished, completing the linkage.

Under the farm-to-market road plan, counties provide the right-of-way to the state at no expense. The state, in turn, provides the paving and maintenance at no expense to the county.

A "weaver" is a horse that employs a peculiar weaving motion and whose feet never strike the ground in a straight line when bucking. This motion is most disconcerting to a rider. A pot-rack outfit, according to cowboys, is a ranch crew which uses no tents on roundup when it is the custom of the country to do so. "Owlhead" is cowboy terminology for a horse that can not be trained to work or to be ridden.

The tires were found in his possession by officers last week, but the workman says he purchased them and they are not stolen property. Carr at first consented to a polygraph test at Lubbock but later declined to go.

Value of the tires missing by the firm was set at $400.

Carr's arrest was the only one by the Parmer County sheriff's department during the past week.

8th Graders To Visit Paris

Joss Wind To Clown At Piano

Once upon a time there used to be a very popular song titled "Breezing along with the Breeze." Breezing along with the Wind (Joss Wind, that is,) is no less popular now with audiences all over the USA who are clamoring for more and more of this versatile and unique artist.
 Born in the Netherlands, he first became amateur tennis champion of that country, which title he kept for two years, representing Holl and at Wimbledon, England. With a natural talent for music and clowning, he became a professional entertainer in his early teens and through the years won himself a reputation as being one of the foremost European comedians.
 Behind his clowning at the piano, one discovers immediately that he is a gifted pianist who can adapt his style from Liberace to Earl Garner; moreover he is an excellent violinist and plays a progressive electric guitar.
 His imitations of famous personalities such as Arthur Godfrey, Louis Armstrong, Nat King Cole, etc. are superb and up to date. His imitation of an air raid is spine chilling and you may have seen him do this on the Herb Shriner Television Show, where he appeared together with Zsa Zsa Gabor and Gisele McKenzie.
 He has just returned to the U. S. from a tour of Germany and France where he appeared at the request of the American Army Special Services.

BY BRENDA DEATON
 That grand time of the year is here again! Every spring parties, proms and banquets come into view. This season is no exception.
 The first of a series of banquets highlighting spring will take place April 23, when the eighth graders have their annual banquet.
 The banquet which will take place in the school cafeteria will be carried out with the theme "Paris in Springtime." Principals Tom Jarboe and Raymond Cook will be the speakers at this grand affair.
 Providing entertainment will be seven girls from the graduating eighth grade class singing "Last Time I saw Paris." These girls are Marla Massie, Diana Taylor, Carolyn Herring, Myrna Bennett, Kay Coffey, Mary Ethel Wilson and Lois Moyer.
 Ronald Autrey, Billy Edelman, Gary Moorman, David Carson, Edwin Taylor, Richard Fortenberry, and Everett Geewill also sing "Sugartime" and "Girl of My Dreams."
 This banquet is the first for most of the eighth grade and will long be remembered by all of the students.

Don't Accept It - Examine It

It's just like some people to get upset over something and then to find out that there was nothing to disturb them in the first place. By the same token some people make a big "thing" of something and then find out too late they were on the wrong foot. For example Saint Patrick is the Patron Saint of Ireland but was born in England. Yet we annually celebrate his birth on March 17 as "the Irishman to end all Irishman." Yet he was as English as crumpets and tea. The reason behind this false idealism is simply a form of propaganda. We have often heard how this great man drove the snakes out of Ireland. For this he gains an Irish name and a celebration day and becomes a false image, formed in ignorance and lack of serious thought.
 This is not a dogma of distrusting the communication systems of America. It is simply an exclamation of outrage over the fact that we don't take time to think things out, and really find out things for ourselves. We are satisfied to sit back and let others do our real thinking for us without even lifting a nerve ending to inform ourselves. True we can't rush to each new crisis in the world and find out the truth ourselves, but we all can weigh carefully and assort the facts presented us from several sources rather than accept as "the gospel" the first commentary to confront us. The Americans today are simply to lazy to think and the sly and advantage seekers are making the best of it.

FHS Invaded By Worms!

BY JANETTE JOHNSON
 Bulletin! Friona High School has been invaded by an army of inch-worms! These aren't the ordinary kind--they're much bigger measuring by feet instead of inches. It began when Earl Smith, the plane geometry instructor began teaching his students the fundamentals of trigonometry and has spread throughout all his classes, even trigonometry.
 Tuesday, upon the reopening of school after the holidays, Smith sent his plane geometry students to the football field to survey it and find the distances diagonally across it. Reliable sources inform us that this happens every year. Not only does the football field become infested, but also the lakes, flag poles, grain elevators, and the antenna for the television cable. The trig students are laying out the little league baseball field.
 Notice! You needn't be alarmed. These worms aren't at all dangerous. They're just having fun.

FTA Holds Regular Meet

Friday, April 15, the FTA Chapter held a regular meeting in the room of Mr. Wilson. Geneva Floyd called the meeting to order and a report on the candy sale was given. All dues are to be in by this Friday.
 Installation of officers was decided upon; it will be held April 25, at 7:30, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Welch. Parents of the members and teachers have been invited to attend.
 A notebook will be kept of members who practice teach. It will include the names of those who teach, when he or she taught, and what grade was taught.
 The FTA, a newly organized organization in FHS, is and will continue to be an important function of our school system.

Track Boys To Go To Regional

The Regional Track Meet will be held on the 22nd and 23rd of April, at the Texas Tech College stadium. There are two boys from Friona who will participate in the meet. They are Gary Bradley and Butch Barker.
 The preliminaries will be held Friday afternoon and the finals on Saturday. These boys will leave Friday morning and stay for the finals on Saturday.
 Gary Bradley will enter in the pole vault and Butch Barker will enter in the high hurdles.

 Do you know what physical and occupational therapy are? There are several girls in FHS that could tell you lots about these subjects.
 Tuesday, April 12 at the Future Nurses meeting these topics were discussed. Sally Hough led the discussion on physical therapy and Brenda Collier led the discussion on occupational therapy. Qualifications for a specialization in these fields was the main topic considered at the meeting.
 If you don't know what physical and occupational therapy are, see a future nurse and your questions will be answered.

 The freshmen class of 1960 had a bake sale Saturday April 16 at Piggly Wiggly and the drugstore to raise money for the class party and to start a fund for their senior trip.
 The class made $115.50 on the sale but some of the class failed to bring their sweets. When these people bring their money, it will be about $140.50.
 The class hopes to have more sales and money raising projects to come.

Ghosts, Satire Enhance Two New Novels In Library

BY BETSY FRYE
 TOO MANY GHOSTS By Paul Gallico
 Lord Paradine's lovely ancestral home had become a tax-blighted burden, and a haunted one as well.
 What whimsical poltergeist amused himself by depositing dead rabbits on plates at dinner-time? Who was the foot-loose nun who paid unerving nocturnal visits to the guests' bedrooms? And what about the harp that played only when disaster was imminent?
 Here Alexander was summoned from London to exercise the premises, but Hero had his own disturbing effect on the ladies of the house before he completed his de-ghosting duties. How Hero outwitted Lord Paradine's other worldly visitors and at the same time committed some alarming errors where human emotions were concerned is the delightful, spine tingling climax of Paul Gallico's newest novel--
 THE WALK DOWN MAIN STREET By Ruth Moore
 The people--the young McIntosh boys, their mother and their grandfather; the teachers--the town politicians and eccentrics--are the people on Main Street USA.
 "Owing a championship high school basketball team put the town in a fever and turned their values upside down.
 There is a science teacher, Alfred Berg, that is ready to defend Mind over Muscle; and even comes to blows with another man over a girl named Ellen.
 The Chamber of Commerce said champions were good for the town and the Board of Education agreed, though it might come to maiming the star player physically and morally.
 The setting could be any town in America--but specifically, it is a charming old river town in Maine.

Books, Books And More Books!

BY BETSY FRYE
 THE COUNT OF MONTE-CRISTO By Alexander Dumas
 The Count of the Monte-Cristo is the masterpiece of the greatest master of swash-buckling romance, Alexander Dumas. The story opens in Marseilles in 1815 with the return of the young sailor Edmond Dantes, who is elated at his approaching marriage to the beautiful Catalan girl, Mercedes. On the eve of his marriage, however, he is falsely accused of treason and is carried off to the Chateau d'If, a gloomy fortress in the sea.
 There he remains imprisoned for nearly twenty years. His only companionship secret one with the old Abbe Faria. He makes his miraculous escape by substituting himself for the dead body of his friend and is thrown into the sea for dead.
 On regaining his freedom Edmond makes his way to the island of Monte-Cristo where he finds the fabulous treasure of which the Abbe had told him after some time he returns to France and as the wealthy and mysterious Count of Monte-Cristo sets out to accomplish a subtle and complex plan of revenge against the three men who had betrayed him so many years before.

 Why do girls carry purses, a suitcase would work just as well? For instance a boy was looking through a girl's purse the other day and he found some interesting things. Five tubes of lipstick, postage stamps, and grocery tickets are not unusual; but to use a stamp for a pin cushion is a little odd. Toothless combs, aspirin, chewed up straw, pencils, pen, and assorted notes and bric-a-brac are just some of the things that were found. Sounds like everything but the kitchen sink.

QUILTING IS AN ART--When Mrs. Bertha Hurst gets out her quilting frames, works out a quilting pattern and takes up her needle and thread, friends and neighbors know that when she finishes the quilt it will be beautifully quilted. Pictured here she is working on a Double Wedding Ring quilt for Mrs. L. M. Crow. The designs on the larger pieces are first drawn out on a piece of cardboard. Then, when Mrs. Hurst is ready to transfer the design onto the block, she marks around the pattern lightly.

Mrs. Hurst Keeps Busy

When Mrs. Bertha Hurst started work on a quilt early this week, she was unaware that this is National-Do-It-Yourself Week. Even so, she has been an avid "do-it-yourself-er" more years than the term has been known.

This native born Texan grew up in Montague County and moved to the Rhea Community in Parmer County from Wheeler County in 1938. Early in life Mrs. Hurst learned that keeping busy with her hands was her way of life.

Being the wife of a farmer and mother of three children offered many challenges to Mrs. Hurst in the pursuit of her hobbies. Her favorites were growing flowers, vegetables and making quilts.

After the death of her husband in 1948, Mrs. Hurst moved to town and started an orchard in her backyard. Even though she doesn't have much space for growing things, she always grows a garden and puts in a great deal of time taking care of her fruit trees. She also grows pot plants.

Children of Mrs. Hurst are Leo Hurst and Mae Green, both of Pampa, and Christene Mann of Friona. Grandchildren are Joe Bob, Carla Sue and Joy Lynn Mann of Friona and Patsy, Norman and Sandra Day Green of Pampa.

First Baptist Church Votes To Establish New Mission

The membership of the First Baptist Church voted the first Sunday in April to start a new mission church in Friona within the next few weeks. A recommendation to this effect from the church's mission committee was adopted by an overwhelming majority.

The temporary location of the mission will be the American Legion Hall, but later a new building will be erected just north of the city limits on a four acre tract purchased for this purpose in 1959.

This new mission church will be part of a movement by Southern Baptist to start 30,000 new churches and preaching stations in the period from 1959 to 1964. A group of people from the parent church will form the nucleus for starting the new work.

Crackdown Imminent On Water Wasters

In a recent meeting of the board of directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District it was decided that a procedure would be adopted to strictly enforce the district's rules against waste of irrigation water.

The district has in the past approached the problems of waste from an educational standpoint, preferring to present facts about the underground water and its efficient use rather than invoking more harsh and drastic methods.

However, the willful and habitual waste of water by a minority of irrigators has become increasingly more serious. With the continued decline of the underground water level in the southern High Plains area, coupled with increased public opinion against willful waste, the water district has come to the conclusion that the time is now upon us to supplement education with strict enforcement.

In the future, violators of the district's rules concerning waste will be notified that they have 24 hours in which to correct the situation and stop the waste. This does not mean that the district would want any farmer to stop irrigating, but only to put a halt to continued waste.

The notice will be delivered to the farm operator by a deputy sheriff, constable or by some other official person in the county where the waste has been observed.

At the end of the twenty-four-hour period, district personnel will check to see that the irrigation water is under control and is being retained and used on the land where it is produced.

Should the waste continue beyond the twenty-four-hour period granted to the violator by the district, then legal action will be taken through the courts to stop any further waste.

By far the large majority of area irrigators recognize that their underground water is one of the most precious of all resources, and they care for it as best they can; however a minority continue to promiscuously run water off their land into roadways, creating not only a situation described as waste in the rules of the water district but also a definite public nuisance and a hazard to human life. The multitude of reasons why underground water should not be wasted have all been discussed in much detail.

All who are even remotely interested in conservation can explain why waste is detrimental to continued prosperity in our area. Even the school boy knows that waste is a bad practice. All are aware that water should not be wasted, but rather it should be put to beneficial uses.

Put an end to any waste that originates from your land—do it today.

Report Safflower Prospects Poor

With planting time nearing for a relatively new Parmer County area crop, T. O. Lesly reports that prospects this year for the crop, safflower, are poor. Lesly, who farms near Lazbuddie, is president of the Farmer's Union.

"This year they are urging it on dryland," he says of the companies selling seed.

"The P-1 variety, that we grew last year, doesn't yield enough for irrigation. It didn't respond to irrigation," Lesly says this variety usually produces the best crop where it is seeded and watered the lightest.

Lesly is trying to get some seed for a new irrigated variety of safflower, Gila (pronounced hila), which was developed and tested in Arizona and California.

"There are very few growers in Parmer County since we don't have any dryland," he knows of only one farmer, Wiley Bullock of Lazbuddie, who plans to plant dryland safflower. Bullock will have about 20 acres.

If Lesly is able to get irrigated seed, he and one other farmer will have small acreages of about 20 acres each.

Main growing areas in Texas are Crosby, Hockley and Hale Counties, Lesly says. He thinks there may also be some of the crop in the south of Bailey County.

"Last year I had about 17 or 18 acres," Lesly's yield on the oilseed crop was poor last year, netting him only about 700 to 1500 pounds an acre.

"We should make 2500 to 3000 an acre to make as much as maize and be easier on the land and water," Lesly says. "Last year, we started planting about the middle of April, but best results came from some planted later.

"It is a crop that will make if you have moisture when you start." Safflower is used in paints and varnishes. It is the only oil that will not stain or turn yellow in paint. It is also recommended in cooking for people who have heart ailments.

Lesly says the crop has a short growing season of about three months. It harvested with a combine like milo.

"The Farmer's Union is marketing the safflower that will be grown through the Farmer's Union Co-op. The Co-op will market seed and put a mill in if the number of acres justifies it.

"Safflower is not an expensive crop to raise. Seed cost $12.50 for 100 pounds. Recommended planting rate is about 10 pounds for dryland and 18 to 22 for irrigated."

A pre-watering and one follow-up is all the irrigation that is needed, Lesly says. Fertilizer required is about the same as grain sorghum.

Current market price of the seed crop is $62 a ton. Lesly says the distance to the mills has kept the farmers' profit low.

"The same mill could probably mill sesame and soybean. A hot dry climate is needed to raise safflower. Most of the safflower was hulled out last year."

Safflower seed is a small seed about the size of apple seed with a white hull on it before it is processed.

Parmer County area farms have been sliced open in many places during the past 10 years, with natural gas feeder lines and underground concrete tile lines. The caliche-topped mound of dirt left by a ditching machine is a familiar sight.

Gas Line Crosses Parmer

Many strange-looking machines are necessary to efficiently install a large distribution line such as is now crossing the Parmer County area.

Cutting a 10-yard swath from the northeast to the southwest corner of Parmer county is a section of what will be a 2500 mile long natural gas pipeline. Work in this county is already finished. Workers of the Houston Construction Company, that is laying the line for Trans-

Western Pipeline Company, have moved on into Curry County, N. M.

The line originates near La Verne, Oklahoma and will, upon completion in about three or four months, end in Los Angeles, Calif.

Although it is hardly discernible from the ground, the path, left by the fresh earth on the recently covered pipe, from the air resembles an extra wide dirt road cutting across wheatfields, pasture and recently cultivated fields.

The last section of pipe to be laid in Parmer County was set down just after noon Saturday.

One worker at the work site just adjacent to the state line said the line would not interfere with cultivation or irrigation since the construction crew was running water in the pipe ditches to pack the loose earth down so further sinking would not occur.

The line probably will not interfere too much with cultivation; however, it could possibly result in some difficulties in wheat watering. This has apparently already happened since only a few of the wheatfields the lines crosses had been watered, or were being watered.

About a dozen large Caterpillars, dozers and other large construction vehicles and a number of large and small trucks were being used by the pipe laying crew.

The Houston company had planned to do most of the field work during the winter so it would not interfere with farmers' work, but severe weather kept them from working.

High winds and blowing dust hampered workers some Saturday as they were winding up the work in this county.

along soon. Extension foods and nutrition specialists say that freezing keeps the natural color, fresh flavor and food values of most vegetables and fruits better than other methods of food preparation.

For best results, select fresh, tender vegetables right from the garden while they are at the right stage of maturity for eating.

Other factors that influence quality are preparation, packaging, freezer loading and length of storage.

Latest information on how to freeze, and how to cook frozen foods is given in extension bulletin, "Frozen Foods." Get a copy from your county home demonstration agent's office.

Freshen iron furniture by removing soil with warm soapy water, a brush and cloth. Rinse with warm water and dry. Remove rust with 2/0 steel wool and apply a metal pain or an exterior sealer.

To repair loose bindings on rattan furniture, soak them in warm water, rewind carefully and tack. Coat with clear varnish or a clear penetrating tung oil sealer.

Redwood furniture can also be finished with a tung oil sealer. The kind designed for outdoor furniture will dry in the presence of moisture, according to the specialists.

Replacements of sail cloth and canvas covers for director chairs and butterfly chairs can be found ready-made, or you can make them yourself if you are fairly skilled at sewing jobs. Plastic backed vinyls, webbings and easily washable fabrics are available by the yard for use on different kinds of outdoor furniture.

Then there was the Texan who bought his son a cowboy outfit: a 20,000-acre ranch, 1,000 head of cattle and 200 horses.

TIME TO SPRUCE UP YOUR OUTDOOR FURNITURE...

With warm weather already starting, this is a good time to get outdoor furniture in condition for summer use.

Extension home furnishings specialists of the A&M College System give some timely suggestions.

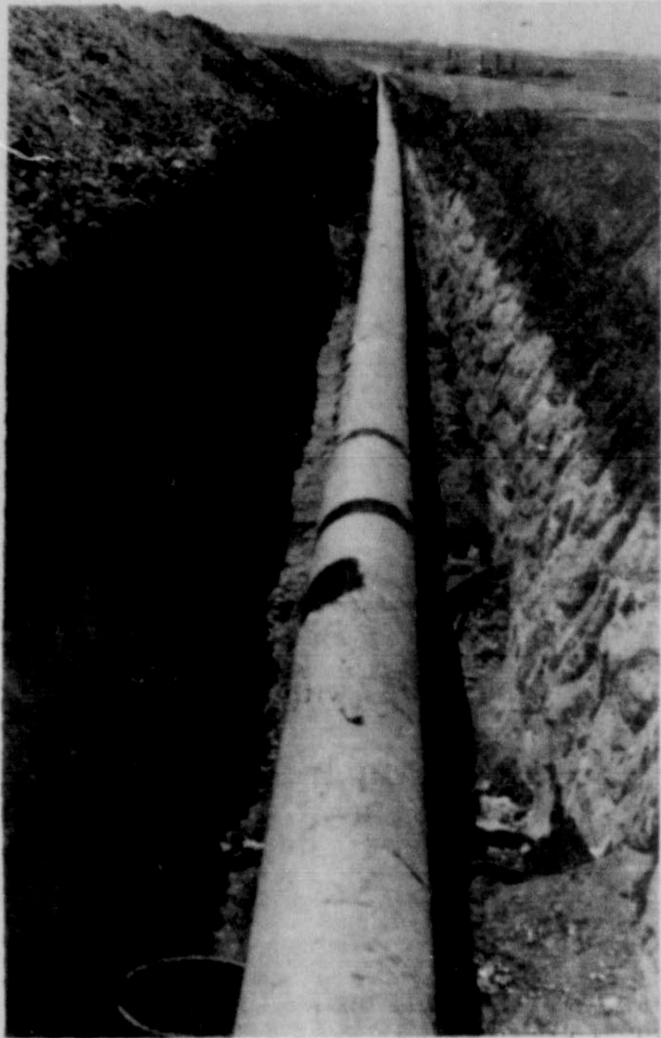

If you have nonanodized aluminum outdoor furniture that has started to pit, rub with 2/0 steel wool and oil the hinges vide enough of the vitamin daily.

Vitamin C is not stored in the body, remind the specialists. That's why you need to include it in your diet on a regular day-to-day basis.

FREEZE SURPLUS SPRING VEGETABLES...

Freezing is a quick, easy way to preserve fresh greens, asparagus and other spring vegetables that will be coming

The pipe as it looks before being covered. Note the deep cut in the earth.

A food consumption survey carried out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture showed that among more than 6,000 U. S. families whose food purchases were studied over a week's time, one in four was not receiving recommended quantities of vitamin C.

Citrus fruits are rich enough in vitamin C to yield a day's supply in one average serving such as a whole orange or a half grapefruit. Potatoes, tomatoes, peppers, brussels sprouts, and cabbage, as well as greens such as spinach, mustard and turnip tops also contain vitamin C. However, more than one average serving of these other foods is needed to pro-

Top Corn Hybrid Yields 86 Bu. In Halfway Test

Corn yield tests at the High Plains Research Foundation during 1959 included a test of thirty-eight hybrids and a comparison of three hybrids at four different planting dates.

Since the production of corn on the High Plains is increasing, there is more demand for information concerning adapted varieties and production practices. The hybrid corn yield test conducted at the Foundation showed a wide range of adaptation among hybrids by the variation in yields from 30.2 to 86.2 bushels per acre. Likewise, the date of planting test varied from 53.1 to 95.7 bushels per acre between two planting dates.

A previous test indicated that lodging also varies greatly with planting date. Therefore, the right combination of adapted varieties and optimum planting date could result in high yields and decreased lodging.

One of the hazards of corn production on the High Plains is lodging (as a result of the southwestern corn borer) which generally occurs at maturity. If corn could be harvested mechanically before lodging occurs, corn production could be more profitable. This would mean that moisture content of the grain would be high (about 25%) and would have to be dried. These are problems which need further study.

These tests were conducted on Pullman Clay loam soil, which was in grain sorghum production the previous year. Seed bed preparation included deep breaking to a depth of ten inches, followed by disking and listing on forty-inch centers. All plots in both tests received 95 pounds of nitrogen per acre in the form of ammonium nitrate (33.5% N), sidedressed June 17. A severe hail on June 22 damaged the plants considerably, which decreased yields an estimated ten per cent. All plots were hand harvested in September and later threshed separately with a combine. Moisture percentage for each hybrid was determined and all yields were then adjusted to 14 per cent moisture.

HYBRID CORN YIELD TEST
This test, made up of 38 hybrids, was planted April 17 in two-row plots twenty-two feet long and arranged in a randomized block design with four replications.

An application of 3.68 inches of water was applied to secure uniform stand on all plots. Two subsequent irrigations of three inches each plus 15.75 inches of rainfall from April through August made 25.43 inches of moisture available during the growing season. Yields reported in Table 1 are based on 56 pounds of shelled corn per bushel and are the average of four plots for each hybrid.

DATE OF PLANTING EXPERIMENT
In this test three hybrids (Northrup King KT6, Asgrow 104, and Texas 30) were planted on the following dates: (1) April 17, (2) May 1, (3) May 15 and (4) May 21.

This test was planted in a split-plot arrangement with the dates of planting being the main plots and the three hybrids planted on each date.

Irrigation during the growing season amounted to 9.68 inches. Rainfall from April through August was 15.75 inches, which gave a total of 25.43 inches of moisture available during the growing season.

Table 2 reports the yields of each hybrid at each date of planting, the average yield for each variety, and the average yield for each date of planting. All yields are based on 56 pounds of shelled corn per bushel at 14 per cent moisture.

Are you interested in learning more about the business side of your cow-calf operation? Do you know what items need to be considered to determine your income from your labor and management ability and the return from the money invested in the business?

A guide for estimating annual return for labor, management and capital on a cow-calf operation in Central and East Texas has been released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It was prepared by Tom Prater, extension farm management specialist and L. A. Maddox,

Stilbestrol Shows Effect In Calves

Choice Hereford steer calves implanted with 12 milligrams of stilbestrol when approximately three months of age averaged 19 pounds more per steer at weaning time than their non-implanted mates. Too, A. A. Melton, animal husbandman, at the Trans-Pecos Experiment Station, Balmorhea, said the implanted calves had an advantage in condition which was reflected in a slightly higher grade.

Forty-one choice Hereford steer calves were implanted and the same number not implanted in the test. The implanted calves weighed 521 pounds per head at weaning time, about October 1, 1959, compared with 502 pounds for those not receiving the implant of 12 milligrams of stilbestrol, Melton said.

In continuing the comparison, one group implanted as suckling calves was reimplanted with 24 milligrams of stilbestrol on November 19. This group showed a daily gain of 1.12 pounds from November 19, 1959 to February 24, 1960. Another group, first implanted in November, had a gain of 1.16 pounds daily. The group implanted at any time gained 1.03 pounds daily, Melton said.

The steers will be placed in drylot for fattening about May 1 and implants again used to provide comparisons between 3, 2, 1 and no implants, respectively. The steers are expected to reach slaughter weights by August or September.

As seen from the air, the pipe is laid in the open trench by men and machines. It is a highly specialized, systematized operation with no wasted time and effort.

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham, Jr.

Even though relations between the United States and Cuba continue to be more than just a little frayed at the edges, it appears that the great furor stirred up about a month ago over the Cuban sugar situation is going to die down. As a matter of fact, we haven't noticed the subject in any newspaper within the past week. The U. S. and Cuban sugar agreement will be renewed probably for four years and it does not appear at this time that there is any possibility for a revolutionary break through for domestic beet sugar producers. Even the president of the United States Beet Sugar Producers advocates renewing the agreement with Cuba under which that government is guaranteed a good price for about one-third of the sugar requirements for the United States.

This appears to be just another one of those ridiculous situations that appear whenever governments attempt to regulate the interchange and exchange of commodities.

Walter Rogers, our congressman, is at bat for us in the sugar beet problem. He introduced three bills last week which would all help establish sugar beet raising on our irrigated farmlands--which need new crops badly.

Rogers proposes that the quotas for domestic production be increased and that acreage restrictions be removed. The wording of the bill is such that acreage for new areas (with fewer than 20,000 acres) would receive priority. Doubtless he is thinking of Hereford and their hopes for a mill there if 20,000 acres can be drummed up.

In spite of Walter's good intentions, there is little likelihood that this legislative relief will come to pass. The administration is not disposed to a drastic overhaul of the sugar program right now. In fact, even inland sugar beet producers want the act continued without any great changes.

The best we can hope for is a modest, but regular increase from year to year. In spite of Fidel's tantrums, Uncle Sam isn't going to junk the old program overnight.

More politics and farming. They just don't mix well.

Not only have farmers crabbled about the rain, but we have heard lots of bellyaching already this spring about what a "tough" winter it was and about how a'! that snow and cold weather had just about ruined them.

Naturally, we can understand and appreciate the disappointments that a farmer is sure to feel when his plantings are washed out or his crops are beaten flat during a hail storm. Just the same, it looks to us as if it would be only fair to remember some of the good things that have been sent our way when the coin turns its other

Now, being unhappy with the weather has been stylish since the days of Mark Twain, who declared that everyone talked about it but that no one ever did anything about it. As a matter of fact, man's preoccupation with the elements probably dates back a lot farther than that. Just the same, we are of the opinion that farmers as a whole are unnecessarily and often unjustly critical of the things which Mother Nature chooses to send their way.

From 1950 until 1957 we had built up the belief that farmers of this area would never again complain about getting moisture; however, when the drought was broken and it finally did begin to rain a little, we find that it is always rains at the wrong time or the rain comes down in the wrong way, or there is too much of it, or not enough of it.

Not only have farmers crabbled about the rain, but we have heard lots of bellyaching already this spring about what a "tough" winter it was and about how a'! that snow and cold weather had just about ruined them.

Actually, the winter of 1959-1960 has been one of the most beneficial that nature has ever sent us. It is true that many winter time farm chores, such as disking, plowing, fertilizing and other land preparation activities have been unexpectedly delayed because of the severity of the weather. However, the moisture which has been stored in the soil profile that was brought by the snow, sleet and rain this past winter will be of inestimable value to all crops through the growing season this summer.

We have just come through what old timers would fondly refer to as a wonderful "underground season."

In spite of the schedule interruptions and awkwardnesses which this past winter has caused, this writer is of the opinion that we are in a poor position to be complaining about what has been sent us.

Naturally, we can understand and appreciate the disappointments that a farmer is sure to feel when his plantings are washed out or his crops are beaten flat during a hail storm. Just the same, it looks to us as if it would be only fair to remember some of the good things that have been sent our way when the coin turns its other side toward us.

Someone told us the other day they had heard or read the High Plains got more snow this year than did many Rocky Mountain areas including the city of Denver.

Now we don't have any statistics to support this statement, or to disprove it either for that matter. However we are inclined to feel this could certainly be the case. As a matter of fact, we'd be willing to bet if you measure the amount of snow we have received during the winter and compare it with what is an average snowfall for many cities that consider themselves to be in the area of a pretty rough winter climate, we'd be right up there with some of the best. Now whether you think this is something to brag about or be ashamed of, we don't know, but it sure does make good conversation.

The man with money to burn will always meet a woman who is a match for him.

A better life for Rural Texans

The Electric Cooperative turned the fabled Little Red School house into a modern training ground for our future rural leaders, and provided many advantages their parents were denied.

On the average, today's rural young people will be bigger and healthier. They will have a longer life expectancy. But they will also have responsibilities.

Their mothers and fathers borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems in rural areas. In most instances, they are ahead of schedule repaying principal and interest on their loans. But, an expanding population and increased rural industry will require heavier lines and equipment to insure continued good electric service. These rural young people are the future member-owners of the electric cooperative serving their area.

Thanks to the Electric Cooperative, they will be far better equipped, mentally and physically, to assume their share of the continuing task of Providing Partnership Power For Progress.
