Proteins Scarce, Soybeans Gain in Popularity
 HALFWAY - A severe protein shortage in parts of the world has brought the soybean into prominence. The soybean provides oil and protein for industrial uses, human foods, and as a valuable feed for poultry and livestock.
 Because of the importance of oil and protein in soybean production, the High Plains Research Foundation has studied and is continuing to study varietal performance and response to many different cultural practices.
 Dr. Earl Gollister, Executive Vice-President of the Foundation and a registered state licensed soybean breeder, reported that the variety of soybean grown by the farmer will largely control the oil and protein levels than others. The Patterson soybean, released in 1965 by the High Plains Research Foundation, produced an average oil content of 18.1 percent and a protein level of 35.7 percent when grown at six different locations throughout the West Texas area. THE Hill soybean grown at the same six locations under identical cultural conditions, produced an average oil content of 16.9 percent and a protein level of 34.9 percent.

 Research studies at the Foundation have shown that the earlier blooming varieties have higher oil content than varieties with delayed blooming and maturity. Scientists working in the genetic research program at the Foundation are selecting earlier blooming types with high oil and protein characteristics.
 Planting date is very important in producing the highest possible oil protein content from a given variety.
 Research results at the Foundation indicate that oil content of the seed decreases as planting is delayed, irrespective of locations and varieties tested. Oil content of the Hill variety dropped from 18.6 percent when planted April 30 to 14.4 percent when planted July 6. A similar downward trend in oil oil content with delayed planting was obtained with the Hinn variety. When planted on April 30, it produced seed with an oil content of 18.5 percent, but the oil content dropped to 13.8 percent on a July 6 planting date. The protein content varied very little among the different planting dates for these two varieties.

Fire Department Here Aids Flight At Cotton Plant

Bayley county fire department joined fire-fighters from Littlefield and Sudan in battling a stubborn cotton compress blaze at Sudan Wednesday. The fire left damage estimated at around $1 million.

The fire, billowing black smoke visible for miles, apparently started from a hot exhaust on a fork lift.

C. E. Hollaman, a foreman, said an employee, Raul Gonzales, was attempting to pull one of the 7,400 cotton bales in the building with the fork lift when the bale caught fire.

"It flamed up immediately," Hollaman said. "The cotton was very dry and the fire spread rapidly. We had to get out rather rapidly. By the time we

Sewing Schools Slated Here

A sewing workshop with Martha Smith as leader, was set for June 2.
 The Progress Home Demonstration club met with Gertie Meyers with the program being on senior citizens. Roll call answer was "What I want to do after 1 am 65, or what I am doing."
 An additional sewing school was set for June 10 at the High School with all interested home makers invited to attend. Items such as belt making, setting in sleeves, attaching a collar and putting the waist together will be demonstrated at the school.
 The program on senior citizens was based on 1 - Geography - where to live, 2 - Money - invest your money so you will have a steady income, 3 - Something to do with your time, 4 - Housing and 5 - Public welfare - for help it needed.

Peery Reviews Library Status

Editors Note:
 The Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First Methodist Church and long a strong booster for library service, spoke to the Muleshoe Rotary club this past week. Below are excerpts from his talk.
 "In the midst of today's information explosion, The state of Texas has adopted the theme "Library Excellence, Today's Necessity".
 At the present time Texas ranks 37th in the states in the giving of public library service to its citizens.
 Twenty eight counties have no public library and 10% of the total population is affected.
 Texas has 342 public libraries; 126 have less than 10,000 books on the shelves.
 These 342 libraries offer to the people in Texas less than one book per person. Actually it figures out to be .72% of one book.
 Texas spends $4.84 per person annually for public library service. The national average is $1.50. The American Library Association recommends $3.50 per person. At the present time Muleshoe is spending $38 per citizen in Bailey County. Comparison - Illinois spends $1.57, Oklahoma spends $6.11, Ohio spends $2.70.
 In Texas there are 700,000 school children without central library service. Whatever, the girls per family should be turned in to Department Chairman Bessie Vinson for the Brownie Scouts and Melba King for the Girl Scouts, or to Jessica Hall, assistant camp director-business manager, Mrs. Chahk said.

 The Brownie Day Camp staff also includes unit leaders Mrs. Vinson, Tina Williams, Betty Dearing and Holly Millsap, assistant leaders Mildred Knight, Norrine Stallings, June Vinson and Roxa Rangel, and program aides Monica Griffiths, Janice St. Clair, Gerrie Cowan and Dana Damon.
 Girl Scouters staff, under Mrs. King, includes Ann Gunter, Jane Griffiths and Eddie Mae Weeks, with assistant leaders Edna Cooper, Pat King, Doris Lambert, Wanda Harmon and Rosaline Julian, and program aides Karen St. Clair, Pam St. Clair, Debbie Parks, Drucilla Damron. A Papoose unit for younger children of all leaders is being organized additionally.
 A one-day camp will be held Wednesday, July 20, for pre-Brownies with Ann Haynes as director and Margaret Cochran, assistant. A small registration fee will be required.
 Jean Haskins will serve as camp song leader.
 Other volunteers are asked to contact Mrs. Chahk or unit leaders if they are interested in assisting the day-camp program.

teacher can bring is all they have. In Muleshoe approximately $7,700 has been spent this year in our school libraries. Which represents approximately 20,000 new books (dollar wise) added to our public school libraries. In Junior High and Senior High are over 2,000 pieces. We can well be proud of our school administration and school librarians for the keen insight.
 It should be noted that 1/2 of all the public libraries in Texas add less than 500 volumes per year.
 In Muleshoe the Public School Libraries and the Muleshoe Area Library and the High Plains Bookmobile Library have a fine working relationship.
 At the present time the Muleshoe Area Public Library has approximately 2,600 volumes. The High Plains Bookmobile has approximately 9,800 volumes and since there is a working agreement among the children, young people and adults in the Muleshoe area have excess to well over 12,000 volumes.
 Now that the school is closing and school libraries will be out of action for 3 months the Muleshoe Public Area Library and the High Plains Bookmobile Library are preparing to meet the tremendous demand during the summer months. The summer reading is expected to reach 500 children.
 In the year 1965 the Muleshoe Area Public Library and the High Plains Bookmobile handled approximately 17,000 check-outs.
 As we look forward to the continued service of the Bookmobile in 1967 which on January 1st will become the sole responsibility of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb and Farmer counties with a total population of $2,825 up against the operating cost of $14,000 it cost each citizen only $5.37 to maintain the service for the year.
 On the local scene the Muleshoe Area Public Library for the year 1966 - 1967, has a budget of $4,085.36. Of the amount the city of Muleshoe carries in its budget $3,255 and Bailey county carries $822.86.
 In Texas it cost $5,100 to send a student through 12 grades. In the 50 years beyond high school $42,00 is spent on the person for library service not per year but for the 50 years. Actually more is spent on the person in the 1st 5 weeks of the 1st grade than is spent on him for public library services for the rest of his life. No wonder Texas ranks 37th in the nation in public library service to its citizens.
 Muleshoe is seeking to render one best service possible.

METHODISTS REVOLT
LEEDS, England (AP) — Methodists who oppose plans for their Church's reunion with the Church of England have formed a Methodist Liaison Committee which aims at reversing the decision at next year's Methodist Conference.
 The group claims about 50 per cent of British Methodists support it and warns that "if union is urged on the present Catholic lines... the Conference must bear the responsibility if the division in the Church ensues."

Baseball Title For Lazbuddie

Behind the pitching of Bobby Morris who started the game and then went the whole way, Lazbuddie defeated Darrouzette 11-3 to win bi-district in a game played in Pampa last week. Steve Jones was behind the plate.

Bobby walked two, gave up six hits and struck out nine. Lazbuddie had been 2-B champion, and Darrouzette had captured the district 1-B title. The B schools carry their championship battles only through bi-district play.

Lazbuddie got eight hits, all of them singles except for a double by Hopy Jennings. Lazbuddie scored two in the second and third each, six in the fourth, fifth and 7th.

This left Lazbuddie, coached by Bruce Rhodes, with a 3-1 record for district play. Lazbuddie lost to Bovina after the district championship had been won.

Losing pitcher was Ken Garrison and catcher was Louis Pruitt. Lazbuddie had only five seniors on the club.

The June luncheon was changed to June 29 at the Country Club.

Books In Brief

Editor's Note: The following information was prepared May 1966 by the Muleshoe Area Public Library.

Watch The Wall, My Darling by Jane Aiken Hodge - Here is a novel of romantic suspense set against a background of smuggling and spying in England. Christina had come from America to her grandfather's house to fulfill a promise to her dying father. By the terms of her grandfather's will, she was to marry her cousin, Richard, or his half-brother, Ross. She could not love Richard, and Ross was a spy and smuggler. He was also dashing and brave. "Watch the Wall, my Darling" is an exciting blend of heroism, romance and suspense. Donated to the library by J. Frank Peery.

er's ink, from the Texian Press.) This book is an important contribution to Texas history. It contains hundreds of biographical sketches on early settlers of Texas as well as descriptions of the leading towns. It also affords the reader a rare insight into the character of this great Texas. In his final note from the doomed Alamo, he wrote: "Take care of my little boy; if the country should be saved I may make him a splendid fortune. But if this country be lost, and I should perish, he will have nothing but the proud recollection that he is the son of a man who died for his country." Ideal Marriage - by T. H. Van De Velde, M.D. This is the one book on marriage and sex life that has received the unqualified approval of the medical profession and the lay public alike.

Sanford - The author, has been out for herself a unique niche as an inspired interpreter of the American West. This volume contains selections from the "Great Plains" Series, and from her trenchant study of a great people. "These were the Sioux," conated by J. Frank Peery.

Leave Her to Heaven by Ben Ames Williams. A romantic novel of an extremely jealous woman. This book was made into a popular movie which moved audiences to copious tears. Donated by Mrs. Bill Pierce.

Forty-five magazines donated by Mrs. Fred Johnson; among these is an issue of Leisure Living; the new magazine for those who have time for a hobby, sport or the money to build a lake side vacation house.

Four paperback books given by Connie Connell. Paperbacks have been very popular. Especially mysteries and western stories. Anyone having good paperbacks, the library would be glad to have them. We can have a good binding put on them for 15¢.

Gibson Chain Spends 85¢ of Every Advertising Dollar With Newspapers

Editor's note: The following article appeared in the Big Spring Herald this past week after the Herald and other newspapers in the Harte-Hanks papers entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gibson of Gibson's Discount Centers.

DALLAS - H. R. Gibson, Seagoville, head of the fastest growing chain of discount stores in the nation, has been presented with a plaque "in recognition of the outstanding advertising and merchandising" he has done through the Texas Harte-Hanks newspapers at a dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, members of their family and top Gibson Company officials at a Dallas Holiday Inn. The presentation was made by A. B. Shelton, publisher of The Abilene Reporter-News on behalf of all of the Harte-Hanks newspapers, including the Big Spring Herald. The bronze plaque had the following words engraved on it: "To H. R. Gibson in recognition for outstanding advertising and merchandising in Texas Harte-Hanks newspapers. Presented by Harte-Hanks publishers at the annual toy market, Dallas, Texas, May 9, 1966."

64 Present - Publishers of most of the papers were in attendance at the luncheon at which 64 persons were served. Shelton told of the growth of the Gibson stores since the first one was established in Abilene some eight years ago. He expressed the appreciation of all of the publishers for the advertising and the spirit of co-operation that has existed between the newspapers and the Gibson organization.

Gibson responded by reminding about the opening of the first discount store in Abilene and delighted his listeners by recalling the very first full page advertisement that he purchased and how he had worried about how he was going to pay for it.

300 Stores - The tall, aggressive good natured head of an organization that plans to have 300 stores in operation from coast to coast by the end of 1966, told his audience about how much money his company spends in some of the key cities in which Gibson stores are located.

He said the company's advertising budget provides for the expenditure of 85 per cent of each advertising dollar in newspapers and the other 15 per cent in other media. The Gibson company now spends about $200,000 per week and soon will be spending a quarter of a million dollars per week for advertising and promotion work.

"I think every dollar we have spent in newspapers has gotten good return," the head of the chain said.

Gibson proudly introduced his wife, three sons, two daughters, and their husbands, his wife's sisters, L. C. Smith of the Brookhollow store in Abilene, Lynn Lowe, of the Seagoville headquarters and others.

Toy Fair - The Harte-Hanks publishers presented the luncheon on the first day of the Gibson five-day toy fair at which between 600 and 1,000 manufacturers displayed merchandise in Market Hall, a huge building which the Gibson company rents for the duration of this particular fair. Smallest of several fairs which the Gibson organization presents in Dallas each year, this one is the smallest although it included toys, Christmas decorations, groceries and back-to-school items.

Other fairs include: in February, spring market at which hardware and sporting goods are placed on display by hundreds of manufacturers; August, Christmas market; and October, spring goods.

Managers of company-owned stores and owners of franchise stores were notified in advance about what to expect to see at each of the fair presentations and come to purchase their merchandise from manufacturers that have been chosen by the Gibson buying office.

Millions of dollars worth of merchandise is ordered at each of the fairs by the managers and franchise owners.

New Rye-Wheat For High Plains Cross Possible

HALFWAY - Will a rye-wheat cross give a new profitable crop for the High Plains of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico and the wheat growing area? That's what the scientist at the High Plains Research Foundation hope to or will find out.

Forty-one experimental strains of this new wheat-rye feed grain crosses, known as Triticale, were planted at the Foundation on November 23, 1965 along with Tascosa wheat as a comparison crop.

Dr. B. Charles Jenkins of the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada has been experimenting with crosses of these two grains for years. With different pairs of chromosomes in wheat and rye, this cross has not been considered possible by some scientists.

Dr. Arthur F. Gohike, Principal Soil Scientist and Administrative Assistant of the Foundation communicated with Dr. Jenkins and secured the forty-one different crosses for testing at the High Plains Research Foundation. The Foundation is the only place in the United States where the testing is being conducted. Dr. Jenkins has a winter nursery for testing near Oregon City, Sonora, Mexico.

The Foundation will determine the wheat-rye crosses yielding ability and the quality of the new possible Triticale crop in cooperation with Dr. Jenkins.

Only two of the forty-one crosses or strains failed to make it through the winter months here, Canada apparently is too cold and therefore winter kills most of the new strains. This experiment is a part of the Foundation's program to find new and profitable crops for the High Plains of Texas and possibly for the wheat growing area. What will its value be? Time and further testing will give the answer.

By Vern Sanford
Untangling Hooks - One way to separate a tangled cluster of treble hooks is to drop the mass on a hard surface. Several will bounce free on each drop.

It saves punctured fingers from trying to untangle the mess by hand.

Colors Tempt Fish - Carry several finishes of your favorite lures in your tackle box. Fish can distinguish colors. Colors they strike at one day may be ignored the next day.

Use Ample Line - Keep your fishing reels filled to capacity with line. You'll get better casting distance and fewer backlashes.

Also with each turn of the reel handle on a bait casting or surf reel, you will pick up more line. It also saves wear and tear on the reel.

Fishing Murky Water - For an extra flash in murky water use two spoons rigged in tandem. Remove the hooks from one spoon and attach it to the other with a ring clip.

These tandem spoons will give the rig a darting action that produces a lot of flash. This extra weight also is ideal for casting into a strong wind.

For Marina Directories - Going on an extended cruise in your boat? You can obtain from most major oil companies marina directories listing facilities and accommodations at marinas along the way.

Shadows Spook Fish - When fishing a river when the water is down, approach all likely holes in such a manner as not to cast any shadows across the pool. Shadows spook fish.

Don't Tempt "Guess" Shooters - Never carry anything white when camping, hunting or fishing in deer range country. Trigger - happy hunters have been known to fire at the flash of a white handkerchief guessing it to be the "flag" of a white-tail deer.

Watch The Horizon - Keep your eyes on the horizon when quail hunting. Note where the dog is pointing and walk to that spot.

But don't look at the ground. By keeping your eyes on the horizon you can focus them quicker and better pick up individual birds as they flush.

Man, Machinery Chemicals to War Cotton Insects

LUBBOCK - Boll weevils and other cotton insects in the area from the Caprock east through the Rolling Plains will meet head-on this season with a mass of men, machines and programs all designed to reduce the economic threat of the pests in the region.

There probably has never been an area where cotton insects will face so many control efforts, says Entomologist Don Rummel, of the Extension Service staff here.

Starting June 1, Rummel will supervise 15 teams monitoring insects in the eight-county zone where the Massive Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program has been waged for the past two years.

Ten similar teams, sponsored in part by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Association and supervised by Extension Entomologist Emory Boring of Vernon, will be working in 31 other Rolling Plains counties through the summer to learn more about weevil infestations there.

Others involved in the cotton insect war will be the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division and a number of farmer organizations and groups.

Rummel's teams will be making intensive surveys in the control zone to learn such things as the rate of population build-up and movement of weevils in the area and to identify those areas where heavy infestations exist.

Plains Cotton Growers Inc. will pay for part of this sur-vance. Wagon, Jimmy Curtis, Hobbs, N.M.; Earl Schmitz and Dessie Hardwick, Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. John Renner, Friona; Babe Barbour and Tony Forbes and Heath Nuchols, Amarillo.

vey because findings from it should lower spray costs of the full Diapause Control Program which their members have helped to finance.

The control-zone survey will also provide fast, accurate weevil information to county agents and farmers to improve effectiveness of in-season control efforts, Rummel said.

The survey will be particularly valuable to a relatively new organization of farmers called the Cotton Insect Control Association.

Leaders of the association include Reuben Waddell of Spur, Lloyd Stafford of Roaring Springs, and Dumont Bridge of Afton.

Motley County Agent Bill Palmeyer describes the control association as "a kind of cooperative where farmers have banded together to set a uniform planting date and to gain strength of numbers to get lower prices on insecticides and aerial spraying."

The insect association is made up primarily of farmers in the eight county diapause control zone. (Counties in the zone are: Borden, Hall, Floyd, Motley, Crosby, Dickens, Garza and Kent.)

Palmeyer said a few farmers in other counties have joined the association in hopes of lowering their in-season spray expenses.

Meetings were held throughout the winter by the association and May 10-20 was selected as the cotton planting date in the control zone, Palmeyer said. "I don't know about the whole area," he said, "but here in Motley County there was no cotton planted before May 10."

Palmeyer believes cool, wet weather may force extensive planting after May 20 in his county.

Garza County Agent Syd Conner, of Post, reports a similar situation in that area.

"There was no April planting here," Conner said. "I'd estimate that less than five percent of our county crop was planted on Tuesday (May 17) of this week, so I expect some portion of the cotton to be planted here after the 20th."

Entomologist Rummel said the late-planted cotton will not reduce the effectiveness of the uniform planting date as much as early planting.

The theory behind the uniform planting date is to delay the time when cotton squares are available to support weevil build-up through reproduction, Rummel said.

Reception Honors Jesse T. George; 400 in Attendance

Well over 400 persons attended a reception in Brownfield Monday night in honor of State Representative Jesse T. George, climaxing an officially proclaimed Jesse T. George Day in Terry County. Twelve from Bailey county attended.

The crowd proved too large for the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hinson, and the event was moved to the outdoor patio where the honoree was publicly lauded for his outstanding record as a legislator and predictions were enthusiastically made for a bright and promising future.

The occasion was attended by many dignitaries, and hundreds of telegrams, letters, and phone calls were received by the honoree throughout the day and evening.

Ben Barnes, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, made the trip to Brownfield from Austin by plane in order to personally laud the legislator before "home folks." Barnes, in addressing the groups, said, "The pages of history will reflect the name of Jesse T. George on many occasions," and touched briefly on the many honors and recognitions already received by the honoree as well as the high esteem in which he is held by his fellow lawmakers.

Other distinguished guests included Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard and Mrs. Blanchard of Lubbock, as well as city and county dignitaries from Terry, Hockley, and other areas, and telegrams of best wishes were received from Gov. John Connally, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, U. S. Congressman George Mahon, Attorney General Waggoner Carr, Sen. Jack Hightower, and many other notables.

T he entertaining rooms of the Hinson home were highlighted with elaborate floral arrangements with pictures or mementoes of the honoree as focal points. Two full walls were covered with news clippings and memorabilia, chronicling George's legislative career as well as his outstanding record in Texas Jaycees and other activities.

Upon the fireplace mantle was the spotlighted replica of the Nation's Capitol, made of stitched white felt on a green background, and topped by glittered numbers "1984" above which waved the American flag. A glittered white felt pathway, emblazoned with "A Goin' Jesse - By George," extended from the floor to the Capitol.

For the brief program, Mrs. C. E. Williams, president of the Terry County Women Democrats, extended a welcome and Mayor C. E. Ross read the official proclamation which was then presented to George.

Howard Hurd, Terry County Democratic Chairman, introduced Sen. Blanchard, who in turn introduced Speaker Barnes.

Following Barnes' talk George gave a brief but heartfelt thanks in an emotion-charged voice, describing the event as the highlight of his career, and saying, "I feel this is the highest honor that ever could be paid a public official, everyone of the five counties in my district have made me feel I could make it a 'home' county." He expressed his deep appreciation to the Terry County Democratic Women, hosts for the event.

Post Grad School

By MYRON K. MYERS
Associated Press Writer

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Cambridge University's fledgling Lucy Cavendish College is the first in Britain catering exclusively to post-graduate women.

It is a college without the traditional towers, turrets, porters, chaplain or endowment fund. Two dingy offices under a brick archway form the entire campus. "You might call it an embryo college," suggested Mrs. Cicely Bertram, college tutor (adminis-trating officer) and wife of a Cambridge zoologist. "We decided to start with the group first and then worry about brick and mortar," added Dr. Anna McClean Bidder, college president and herself a zoologist. In fact, Lucy Cavendish College is an experiment. It is an experiment in that the university reserved the right to revoke its recognition last July when it gave official sanction to its establishment. And it is an experiment in that the 22 women who founded it seek to determine if and how married women can be brought back into the profes-

WORK PLUS WORSHIP

CHICAGO (AP) — "Service in the world ratifies our service in the sanctuary," the Rev. Michael Daves writes in the Methodist magazine. Together, but he challenges the argument that it makes no difference whether a person goes to church or not so long as he lives right.

"Worship at stated times... affects our lives in the world," he says. Worship "reminds us that God has claimed us for himself," and "in worship we are called to give the only acceptable gift to God, ourselves."

 Patrol Seeking Recruits

Texas Department of Public Safety is in need of patrolmen — jobs of the, and every man in the department is being recruited himself as a recruiter until June 6 at least. That's the deadline for accepting applications for the next training school, according to Col. Homer Garrison, director of DPS.

Muleshoe's patrolmen James Freeman and Freddy Jack, Friday suggested that anyone interested in joining the patrol drop by the patrol headquarters at D and 2nd and secure an application blank.

"We have several new benefits to offer qualified young men," Garrison said. "For instance, the pay during training has been increased from $375 to $400 per month, and upon graduation this is increased (effective September 1, 1966) to either $468 or $484, depending upon the branch of service to which the patrolman is assigned."

"Also, for those who prefer one branch of the uniformed service over another, we can let the men select their service (Highway Patrol, Driver Licensing, License & Weight, and Motor Vehicle Inspection) and they can also choose the geographical area of the state where they will be assigned, consistent with openings."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, a man must be between the ages of 21 and 35, not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in sound physical condition with good vision and must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of Texas for at least one year immediately prior to the date of application.

"Among the many benefits that patrolmen enjoy," Garrison pointed out, "are two weeks annual vacation, all holidays provided for by the Legislature, modern liberal retirement systems and group hospitalization and life insurance plans, traveling expenses and longevity pay, and they are furnished with uniforms and all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

Those men who are accepted for the position of patrolmen go through an intensive training program at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin for a period of 16 weeks. Upon graduation they are assigned to duty stations throughout the State.

TAXES JAM UP WEDDINGS
CRAWLEY, England (AP) — Clergy at Crawley New Town in Sussex want the tax laws changed to put an end to their peak period wedding worries. They have asked their member of parliament, Peter Horden, to seek all-the-year-round tax concessions for young couples marrying instead of restricting them so that couples queue to get married in the spring and fall. "The twice-a-year rush makes things very hard," said the Rev. Charles Williams, a local Anglican priest. "Our main worry is that we cannot devote as much time as we would like in preparing people for marriage."

County's Water Level Declined Slightly in '65

High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 which includes this county, reported that the decline of water table in Bailey county for 1965 was 1.1 feet. This is, however, below the 13-county district No. 1 region of 2.06 feet. Highest decline for the 13 counties was in Parmer county which had 3.98 feet.

Potter county's decline of only a half-foot was the lowest in the area. Floyd county had a decline of 3.77 feet, and Deaf Smith county's drop was 1.39 feet. Hockley county showed a dip of 2.44 and Lamb 2.51. Cochran was down 1.27 feet and Lubbock county declined 2.74 feet. Armstrong dipped 1.84 feet.

The organization's own publication, "The Cross Section," summed up the decline with these words:

"When one's bank account declines sharply one takes steps to control the decline. Water is money to the High Plains and everyone needs to take steps to conserve water. Start today to do your part."

General Offers 2 New Services To Patrons Here

Two additional services are to become available to Muleshoe telephone customers according to District Manager, A. W. Waldrop.

Effective, Monday, Muleshoe customers can pay telephone bills locally at both Muleshoe Banks. There are a number of customers in every town which are somewhat inconvenienced in having to forward payments by mail. This new service is particularly designed for these, however, all Muleshoe customers wishing to use this service may do so. A special telephone is being installed in the Muleshoe State Bank for customers who have questions on their bills or new customers who are applying for service so that they might contact the business office.

The second service being added for the convenience of Muleshoe customers is the installation of a direct line to the business office. Customers having questions on telephone bills, wishing changes in their service, or making application for new service may do so by dialing a standard Muleshoe number 272-4202 which is the number shown in the current directory. This service is to take the place of the procedure of dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise number 192" which was a specially designated collect call.

Waldrop said these services are a part of a continuing program of improving telephone service and adding the latest conveniences for the citizens of Muleshoe.

RESTORATION UNDERWAY
BANGOR, North Wales (AP) — Bangor cathedral is in grave danger and an appeal for 125,000 pounds ($350,000) has been launched for its restoration.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY

GOOD HABITS

Sound teeth, sound bones, good muscles, strong body — all of these things are in large measure dependent upon the good habits a parent cultivates in his child when she is very young. But even more important than a strong body is a strong spiritual understanding of life, which depends in large measure also on her early habits. Start building in your child now the good habit of regular worship of the God who gives her her very life. Go to Church with your child this Sunday and every Sunday.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restlessness, dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.

Through the church God has committed the provisions and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in every one!
