Squaws Take Tulia

This has been a most confusing week, seems like trouble always comes in bunches like bananas. But now that this part of the week is over, perhaps we can find the time to breathe easier and enjoy living a while.

Friona's never-say-die Squaws came from behind to defeat a hard fighting Tulia Hornet's team to win the right to meet the Abernathy Antelopes in bi-district playoff at the Plainview High School, Gym Tuesday, March 1, at 8 p. m. The final score in the close, action-packed tilt was 50 for Friona and 49 for Tulia, with the multitude of fans sitting on the edge of their seats until after the final whistle.

with the forward being fouled in the attempt. Making good her free throw, Tulia pulled into a very early three to nothing lead. Maintaining their advantage, Tulia continued to score ahead of the Squaws and the score at the end of the first quarter of play was 15 for Tulia and 10 for the Squaws.

good enough as the clock ran out with Friona 50 points and Tulia 49 points. This win was the second for the Squaws of a two out of three series against Tulia to decide the district representatives since Tulia and Friona had tied for district championship.

represent the district in bi-district play off against the winner of the Abernathy-Muleshoe playoffs. The second game of this series will be held Tuesday night in the Tulia High School gymnasium at 8 p. m. In the event a third game is necessary, it will be held Thursday night in Canyon at 7:30 p. m. instead of Olton as previously reported.

This week the Star has recognized that organization which helps mold tomorrow's farmers and ranchers. We are proud to have had a small part in pointing the spotlight on this group of fine youngsters who work pretty hard at learning to be better farmers, citizens and yes, better students.

As in all previous contests between the two teams Tulia scored first on a field goal of 3 points. However, during the final two minutes, the Squaws pulled to a four point lead which proved

During the fourth period, the Squaws managed to pull into a lead, but this final quarter saw the lead changing hands several times as one team would score to take the front, then the other would forge ahead.

During the first quarter of Friday night's action Tulia scored first and maintained their lead throughout the first period with the score 13 to 12, the opponents on top. However, the second quarter was a different tune as the Squaws found the mark for 15 points and held the visiting Hornets to only five, to create a halftime score of 27 for the Squaws and 18 for Tulia.

In third period action, Tulia's Hornets closed the gap as they came within four points of the Squaws with the score 36 for Friona and 32 for Tulia to move into the final quarter of play. The final period was a nerve Don't Let Anything Happen To Fidel Now!

Fidel Castro, that bearded Mongolian hillbilly who is running things down in Cuba has finally breached the last ditch in using good sense.

In our opinion his last act which was to swap sugar for jets with the Russians may possibly be the most expensive horse trade he ever made.

Castro, who was billed when his faction first got into power as a "Friend of the people" supposedly had an education--but we think that he can't even read.

How can any man with the power to read, and observe be so short sighted to accept anything from the Reds.

They are the folks who invented the old saying--give an inch, then get a mile.

How can Castro lead his people down this road to slavery and still sleep nights?

But--right now we are selfish in that we hope Castro can stay alive for a couple of months.

Why? Simply because we are selfish to want our farmer friends up here on the Plains to show some folks they can supply the sugar beets to produce the sugar that we are used to getting from Cuba.

That is our reason for wanting Castro alive.

Yes, while he is alive we feel that our farmers have a chance to "sell" the USDA on the idea of increasing sugar beet production in this area.

We attended a meeting in Hereford last weekend and heard this idea of urging legislation for securing acreage increases here.

Personally, legislation is a poor way to do anything in our books. Anytime you have to go this route you are asking for trouble, and especially in this, an election year.

No, we are selfish in our feeling, for we would like to see the people of Cuba free to choose their leaders as they see fit, but for the folks I live with, I'd like to see Fidel stay alive just long enough to sign a few more contracts with the bears... and by that time they will take care of him.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."

—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . ."
—Tom McCahill, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . ."

—L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Truck

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . It is a great car."
—Don Stewart, Motor Life

Public School Week Activities Outlined

Plans for the observance of Public School Week beginning Monday, February 29 and running through Friday, March 4, have been outlined by Superintendent Alton Farr.

Due to the severe weather sometime ago it was necessary for semester tests to be moved up one week. This has automatically caused six weeks tests to be one week later than originally scheduled.

Since it will be necessary for tests to be conducted Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Mr. Farr has requested all persons interested in visiting classrooms to do so Monday or Tuesday.

Adults will be served noon meals at the cafeteria between 11 a. m. and 12:15 all five days for 35 cents per person.

Members of the junior high classes will present an assembly program at 1 p. m. Friday. Members of the senior class will present "Onions In The Stew" in the auditorium Thursday evening and Friday evening.

Mr. Farr joins the classroom teachers in inviting parents and friends of all pupils to visit any classes on the two days specified.

Minor Burglary At Felts Grocery

The Parmer County sheriff's department is investigating a burglary at Felts Grocery in Lariat. The break-in occurred Saturday night in the southern Parmer County community.

Sheriff Charles Lovelace reports that it is difficult to establish the time of the burglary, since the store was closed about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Charley Felts, store owner, discovered the incident early Sunday morning.

Taken in the burglary was a small amount of change not kept in the cash register, which had been emptied and been left unlocked. Three cartons of .22 caliber rifle shells were found missing also.

The burglar obtained entrance to the store by breaking the padlock on the door.

Nothing else was believed to be missing, although the burglar did a thorough job of rifling through drawers in a vain attempt to find more money.

It has been seven or eight years since the store has been disturbed.

In other law enforcement activities, Celestino Juarez, 32, was arrested at Lariat Friday for the sheriff's department at Corpus Christi.

He is wanted there on a child desertion charge. The Gulf Coast officers picked up Juarez Sunday.

There is power in prayer provided the requirements are met. Just to pray as a duty has little power. To fall on one's knees and give orders to God is not prayer. To rush into the presence of God and immediately rush out again is not prayer. Real prayer costs thought, a sense of God's love, a deep need of right relations with God, a penitent heart, a need of divine help, a surrendered will and, above all else, to know God's will with a determination to do it.

modest to say "We're going to win state."

A new development we learned of through reading the Wellington Leader last week had to do with telephone equipment. Unless we misunderstood the explanation, it will soon be possible for everyone to answer telephones without having to pick up receivers.

This will come in handy in a lot of ways, but then it will also have disadvantages. How will a person ever get on a party line when other users can just sit and visit with the neighbors without any interruptions in knitting, ironing or dishwashing?

Every time we go to a meeting in the Black community, we leave with a firm resolution to go back more often. The Thursday evening meeting was no exception. In addition to showing Cotton John's film "An Arctic Adventure," filmed in Alaska, Bruce Parr also showed a film he made in that state last summer.

If you enjoy seeing local students perform and enjoyed reading "The Egg And I" or "Onions In The Stew" by Betty MacDonald, be sure to keep March 3 or 4 open to see the senior play. It is an adaptation of "Onions In The Stew" and will be presented two nights.

Squaws-

racker for the fans as Tula would pull within one point of the Squaws only to see the valiant and pace setting Squaws hit for the gilded two to maintain their slim lead. This slimness of lead managed to pay off, however, as the final score was 48 for the Squaws and 46 for Tula.

Scoring for the Squaws was as even as you could have without tying as Tommy Lewellen hit for 18 to pace the home team, Jacquelyn Magness hit for 16 and Charlotte Bock had 14 points to account for the Squaws' scoring. Excellent floor play, all-around hustle and desire was shown by Lewellen as she came through in many, many clutches as did Bock and Magness.

Defensively, the Squaws were crouching well, with Lawanna Houlette, Judy Bock and Eleanor Dodson handling that end of the situation, with Gwen Green and Mary Ann Bogness aiding in the final analysis when two starting guards fouled off.

Daffynition: Drill Sergeant--An Army dentist.

Wilson was not present at the banquet due to confinement to his home where he is recovering from a recent operation.

The invocation at the program was given by the Rev. Hudson Phillips of the Union Congregational Church of Friona.

The welcome and guests were introduced by Bill Nichols, retiring president of the board.

The meal was served by members of the Friona Future Homemakers of America chapter while musical selections were presented by the High School Choir under the direction of Frank Smith.

The speaker was introduced by Charles Allen.
An estimated crowd of 200 persons were present at the banquet with visitors coming from the neighboring towns of Dimmitt, Amarillo, Lubbock, Littlefield and Hereford.

ALL STATE MATERIAL--There is no question on the part of area fans and opposing coaches that these three Friona Squaws are definitely All State material. Shown holding some of the many trophies the Squaws have won are, left to right, Lawana Houlette, guard, and Jacquelyn Magness and Charlotte Bock, forwards.

3 Squaws Pushed For All - State

Three Friona Squaws who are being boomed for All-State honors and a berth on the North high school All Star girls' team that will play the All Stars from the South during the summer's coaching clinic for girls' coaches this year are Lawana Houlette, guard, and Charlotte Bock and Jacquelyn Magness, forwards. Houlette is the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Houlette, Bock is the 17 year old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Blaylock and Magness is the 18 year old daughter of Mrs. H. T. Magness.

Coach B. E. Duggins, who has coached these three girls for four years, explained that only senior girls are eligible for those positions and that he feels these three girls are certainly deserving of these honors.

Houlette has been a starter for all four years of her high school career. She has been selected as an all tournament guard on four different occasions; Olton, Claude, White Deer and Stratford. Last year, she was an All-District selection and seems destined to repeat this year.

Concerning Houlette's ability, Coach Duggins had this to say. "Her outstanding point is her rebounding ability and also to analyze an opponent's team of offense and cause them to do things they don't want to do." Bock has been a starter the past three years and has been selected to three all tournament teams; Olton, White Deer and Stratford. Her average points per game this season is 24 points.

"If Jacquelyn Magness isn't the best all-around forward I've had since coming to Friona, then Charlotte is," said Coach Duggins. "She is a good shooter, drives both sides, a good jump shooter and an excellent rebouncer.

"However, her best asset is feeding the post girl."

Magness has been a starter the past two seasons and was selected to the Olton all tournament team and was an All-District selection last year. Her average points per game this season is 26 points.

"Her friendly rivalry with Jonnie Hand has caused her to become the area's outstanding pivot player," Duggins said of Magness.

"Her outstanding characteristic is her ability to compete with herself and her teammates and keep this competition on a very high level.

"I feel the best thing that ever happened to me was the competition between Hand and Magness and it is a high tribute to both players that they have remained close friends to this day."

At the time Coach Duggins was interviewed by the Star concerning these three girls, the Friona Squaws, for the past four years, held an impressive 116 won against 12 lost record. Four of these losses were at the hand of Lazbuddie when that team was the area's biggest and most experienced squad.

The other losses were either in exhibition games, district play offs, bi-district games, and one was in Regional competition when the Squaws were defeated by White Deer who went on to win second in state that season.

Coach Duggins says this record is due to the excellent character, team play and desire possessed by his girls, and the three seniors being boomed for All State honors have certainly added their part.

How Good Is Your Opinion?

Much argumentation has been passing among the upper class students in high school over the subject of a Catholic president as well as capital punishment. It is well and good for each of us to think on these things because they are serious issues; however it might be well if we knew what we were talking about.

Maybe you think you do know what you are talking about and perhaps a few do, but there are probably only a few. Some of us expose our ignorance by arguing with our fellow man about what we feel ought to be and why—but how much research has any one of us done on the subject? It would be our wiser that not one of the hotheads who gets mad when someone doesn't agree with him on an issue has done any research on the matter of which they happen to be talking.

How many know enough of the real facts on either Catholicism or capital punishment to really have an intelligent opinion? Have you been to the library to look into these subjects? (It doesn't mean you are an expert if you've read two or three articles, either.) Are you well enough indoctrinated with the principles of your church to know how much the Catholic doctrine may conflict with your own? Most of the ones who get the "hottest" are those who know the least about the subject being debated.

We are the voters of tomorrow. We can't rest on the laurels of our parents. We've got to have enough initiative and interest about us to know what we believe and why we believe it? If we don't, one of these days America will be in serious trouble and you can blame yourself.

We can't wait until we are 21 and eligible to vote before we start taking an interest in our government. If we do, we may be voting the Communist ticket! Not because we don't know better, but because this may be our only choice.

It's time for us to think for ourselves and form intelligent opinions backed by facts. No one can do it for you, it's up to you. Stand up on your own two feet and face up to the future. It's time we quit being babies and became mature, well-informed young Americans.

Knight To Succeed Magness

BY CLARE SAVAGE
 Going along with the idea that this is the year for elections, the FHA elected Gayle Knight to succeed Jacquelyn Magness as their president.

Girls, except freshmen, counted and totaled their points, determining which ones will accompany the freshmen to Lubbock for the area meeting.

All of this took place in the third called meeting of the year on February 17.

Jeff Hays Cartoonist

JEFF HAYES, cartoonist and entertainer, creator of "CHIP", shows you how you might look in the "Comics." "IT'S ALL IN FUN . . . HOW CARTOONING IS DONE."

Mr. Hayes is one of the busiest cartoonists in the business. During his regular lecture season he gives about 500 programs and then in the summer you find him going overseas to entertain servicemen and women. In 1954 he went to Alaska with a group of famous cartoonists. The previous summer found him in Korea entertaining the troops there.

Wherever he is in the United States or near the servicemen Hayes meets the deadline for his cartoon. As he explains, he must draw them weeks ahead but must be very careful to consider the season of the year when each cartoon will appear in the papers. For example, if he draws a cartoon in August that will be printed in November, then he must not indicate swimming, summer clothes, etc., but keep in mind fall weather and clothing.

Hayes is one of the few left-handed cartoonists in the business and he tells about this in his program. He also tells about famous cartoonists of today and stresses how important comic strips are for children and the great influence that they are having on our youth—thereby making the cartoonists ever aware of the importance of their work.

He is known for his cartoons, a few of which are "Silent Sam," "Witty Kitty," "Seems Like Yesterday," "Pop," "Adamson's Adventures," and now his latest and popular, "Chip," which is syndicated by Consolidated News Features of New York City.

A look over the shoulder at one of America's most versatile cartoonists . . . see how he gets his ideas and how he prepares for his comic strip. He will make quick sketches of many in the audience and show you how you look to a comic cartoonist. Laugh with Jeff and "Chip." It's all in fun!

SFC Writes Handbooks

BY BRENDA DEATON
 Do you have a student handbook? There are many students in FHS who have never had or even know what the student handbook is. The handbook contains helpful information about classes, activities, and organizations.

For those interested the last handbook was printed in 1954. The SFC has the responsibility of publishing a new handbook for the student body. At their meeting Wednesday, February 17, this topic was discussed. Several members were given paragraphs to write for the handbook.

Here's wishing the SFC luck on the handbooks.

THE SCARLET SAIL BY BETTY CAVANNA
 So this was Cape Ood Andrea sighed and wished she were at home, especially because today was her fifteenth birthday. But she would never be at home again--the home she knew--for her widowed mother had remarried and home would be Boston, where Andrea would be a "new girl."

Her biggest birthday present was a sailboat, which Andrea received with mixed emotions. It was beautiful, but she didn't know how to sail it. Mike, the boy who brought it over, was going to give her sailing lessons, but he was a local boy and Andrea thought he was unfriendly and too bossy. The boat had a scarlet sail, which delighted her at first. She called it cute, but Mike coldly told her it was a safety precaution. I would help her parents keep track of the boat at a distance. A sissy sail Andrea thought, and suddenly the thrill of ownership was gone.

Betty Cavanaugh, writing with her inimitable sure touch, has created a flesh-and-blood heroine whose emotional problems will be recognized by every girl who reads this warm, lighthearted young novel.

Question of the Week

BY DEWAYNE HOLLAND GARY GOETZ

School spirit has been talked about more the past few weeks than ever before but the students have expressed their feelings toward this at the game between Canyon and Friona. The faculty noticed the change of the students at the game as well as the parents and other fans.

The question for the week is, how do you feel about our school spirit?

Most of the students expressed the same thought about school spirit. They all agreed that we definitely need more school spirit at the games and other activities.

Here are two of the typical suggestions: "I have always felt like we have had a lot of school spirit, but we always need a little more. It has improved since last Friday and I think that it is up to the boys to take over from here and lead a while." "If everyone would participate in the activities planned for the student body and do it in the right spirit I think it would help."

"What three possessions would you take with you if the earth were being evacuated?" This was the question put to the students at Kerrville High School. There were various answers to this far-fetched question. What would you take?

A three weeks vocabulary expansion program in Fred Brown's junior English class was the brunt of many loud complaints. Daily pop tests became common, and low grades even more so. Skip Trammel, after taking one of the famed tests, dejectedly claimed, "I did pretty good on this test. I only missed five out of four."

Dear Milly:

I have a problem. I know a woman who has a problem with her daughter. She wants me to help solve it.

Her daughter wants to go everywhere with this boy. She is with him nearly every night of the week. She doesn't make very good grades in school because she is with this boy continuously. Her mother doesn't know what to do. She doesn't want to hurt her daughter, but the only thing she can think of is to make her quit seeing this boy.

Helpful

Dear Helpful:

In the first place, the mother should be able to control her daughter. The mother should sit down and have long heart-to-heart talk with her. She should explain the situation to her as others see it. Then if the daughter refuses to co-operate she should make her quit seeing him so much. However, I don't think she should force her to quit seeing him completely because this could bring her more trouble than she already has.

Milly

Dear Milly:

I have a friend who has a problem. Her mother won't let her go with this boy who she has been going with for quite a while. Her mother won't let her see him at school. She was going to call the school and tell the principal not to let her daughter off the campus at noon to see him. The trouble is that she hasn't any reason to do this to her daughter.

Mother Problem

Dear Mother Problem:
 Parents usually do things for the good of their children. The mother probably has a good reason for her actions. However, if the daughter is really upset about the matter then she should talk to her mother and try to see both sides of the story. The mother should do the same.

Milly

Dear Milly:

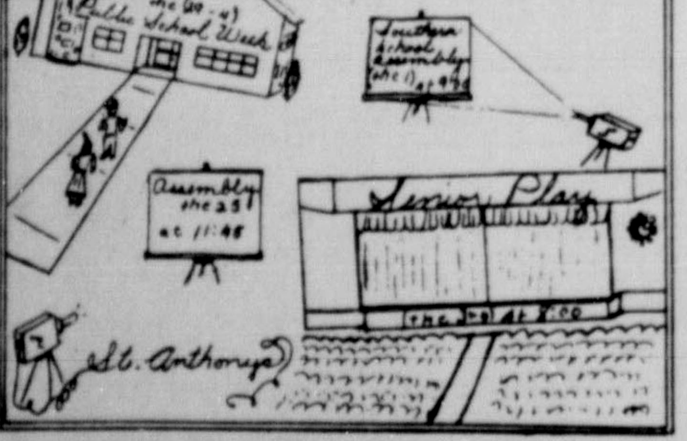

I go with this boy who wants to cause a fight about every little thing. Then after it is all over he just laughs if off and says he doesn't mean it. What should I do? Should I fight with him or just ignore him?

Trouble

Dear Trouble:

If you like to fight then fight and if you don't then don't.

Milly

The young couple had been a little hard pressed for money, and the bride had been preparing chopped meat in as many different ways as she knew. During the second week she served still another version. As the husband surveyed it wearily, he murmured: "How now, ground cow?"

Teacher: "Do you have your news report, Jack?"
 Jack: "Yes, Miss Bates. I read where a sailor saved the entire crew of his ship."
 Teacher: "That's fine. And just how did he do that?"
 Jack: "He threw the cook overboard."

WE'RE ALL SO HAPPY! Bill Wooley, holding the mortgage, and Wes Long, with the lighter, speak for the entire community. This mortgage covered the Community Center, of which residents are justly proud. The building has been equipped with facilities for any community or other public meeting and has been paid for in less than three years.

Hub Community Celebrates Paying Off Of Mortgage

About 80 persons attended a covered dish supper and mortgage burning ceremony at the Hub Community Center Saturday evening. Members of the community organization were celebrating the payment of the mortgage on the community building.

Three years ago an organizational meeting was held in the Friona club house. Officers were elected and the present Community Center building was planned. At the initial meeting Bill Wooley was elected to serve as president and has served in that capacity during the past three years.

Construction of the building was started several weeks later and in the spring of 1957 the building was ready for use. Since that time it has been used for a number of community meetings as well as for county-wide meetings and private gatherings.

After supper residents of the community and their guests gathered in the social room for the ceremony during which Bill Wooley held the mortgage while Wes Long started a fire which consumed the paper.

During the business meeting T. I. Burleson Jr. was elected to serve as president. Other officers include A. L. Black, vice president and Mrs. T. I. Burleson Jr., secretary-treasurer. Directors elected include Burleson, Black, T. O. Lesly, Albert Cannon and Jack Tomlin. Outgoing directors are R. E. Snead and James Mabry.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Well Drilling Takes Big Jump During '59

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has announced that in 1959, commercial well drilling within the Water District increased almost two-fold over 1958. In 1959, a total of 1518 wells were drilled, as compared to 879 wells in 1958.

Officials of the Water District explain that because of the need for pre-planting irrigation water on crop land in the spring of 1959, the first six months of that year showed a tremendous increase in drilling activity when compared to the first six months of 1958. The latter half of 1959, however, was about equal in number of wells drilled to the last six months period of 1958.

The District reports that very little new land is being placed under irrigation for the first time, even though additional wells are being drilled. Most new wells are drilled to obtain additional water with which decreasing irrigation supplies may be supplemented.

Wells in the southern High Plains of Texas are generally decreasing in capacity, consequently, new wells added to an irrigation system are used to regain quantities of water originally pumped from fewer wells.

Another factor which probably had a bearing on increased drilling activity in 1959 is that generally excellent crops were harvested over the southern High Plains area during the fall of 1958. The good harvest not only re-filled the area's sagging pocketbook, but it was also instrumental in creating an optimistic feeling within individuals toward making additional capital investments.

Over 98 per cent of the water pumped from wells in the southern High Plains is pumped for agricultural irrigation purposes.

In Parmer County, 101 irrigation wells were drilled in 1959. That was almost a three-fold increase over the total of 39 wells which were installed in 1958.

Parmer County Game Management Association will meet at the West Hub Gln Thursday night, Feb. 25, 1960 at 8 p. m. to inform the people of that area of the newly organized Parmer County Game Management Association. An hour long film on the Bobwhite quail will be shown by the SCS office in Friona. Those interested in promoting wildlife in this county should by all means be present.

A man was walking down a street and suddenly two men pulled him into an alley. The man put up a terrific fight. After the men had gotten the best of him they found only 30 cents.

One of the men said: "You mean you put up that fight for 30 cents?"

He replied: "No, I thought you were after the $500 in my shoe."

My father's name was Ferdinand. My mother's name was Liza. When I came along, they named me Fertiliza.

THE OUTSTANDING FFA BOY IN PARMER COUNTY this year is Jerald Gober, right, who was honored at a special meeting Monday night. Jerald is a member of the Farwell FFA Chapter. Presenting him with the award is Cary Joe Magness of Graham-Magness Insurance Agency, sponsor of the contest.

Gober Wins FFA Award

Jerald Gober, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Gober of Farwell, was named the county's outstanding Future Farmer Monday night.

The award was announced at a meeting of the Lions Club in Farwell.

Jerald, who is a member of the FFA Chapter at Farwell High School, is in his third year of vocational agriculture. His main project has been hogs, and this year he has a registered Poland-China sow with an 8-pig litter.

He hopes to expand his registered hog project with the purchase of two more sows before he finishes his high school studies.

In addition to swine, the young Farwell farmer is interested in crop raising. He had a 5-acre plot and produced hegar seed this year. The land has been in milo previously.

Jerald helps his father work the 500 irrigated acres that they farm in the Oklahoma Lane community northeast of Farwell.

The selection of the outstanding FFA boy award has been established as an annual tradition for Parmer County chapters. Graham-Magness Insurance Agency in Farwell is the trophy donor.

A Bovina boy, Duane Rea, won the award last year, and another Bovina boy, Arlin Kriegel, was runner-up in the 1960 contest.

Redlan Top Yielder In 1959 Halfway Tests

Redlan Kafir topped hybrids in a preliminary test at Halfway Experiment Station in 1959, the organization has announced. It produced 5706 pounds per acre in the test. Texas 601 was second highest with 5485, and PAC 665-S was third with a yield of 5314. These were results obtained from one of three variety tests last year at the station. The tests were in clay loam that had been in cotton. Land preparation was deep plowing to 10 inches, discing and leveling. Bedding was on 40-inch centers. Planting was June 18, and seeding rate was seven pounds. Four inches of rain fell in June before planting, so no pre-irrigation was required. Irrigations of about three inches each were applied August 5, August 24, and September 8. Rainfall from June 1 through October 31 was 18 inches, making 27 inches of moisture available during the growing season. The crop was sidedressed with anhydrous ammonia July 15 at the rate of 95 pounds of nitrogen per acre. The tests were harvested November 18 and 19. In average yields over a three-year period, AMAK R-12 is leading at the Halfway station, with 5710 pounds. Texas 611 is second with 5700, and RS 660, 5669; Texas 601, 5585 and Redlan Kafir, 5536, follow. The table below is on results obtained in 1959 for the top 20 varieties. Note that some identical figures have been obtained in last year's test.

Breeding Livestock Depreciable Item

Farm and ranch operators should not overlook annual depreciation on purchased livestock. Depreciation is allowable on breeding or dairy animals used in the business, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Observations show that most farm and ranch operators claim depreciation on buildings and equipment, but few take this deduction on livestock. Claims for allowable depreciation are of greater tax consequence when cost of the animals is well above their "salvage" value.

Generally salvage value is the estimated market price of animals after they have passed normal "useful life" to the taxpayer, says Bates. Thus, replacement cows or bulls bought for relatively high prices would be entitled to greater depreciation allowance, normally. Higher than average prices prevailed during late 1958 and through 1959, so this item is very important for animals bought in this period.

For example, let's assume that 10 young range cows were bought in January 1959 for $225 each and the operator plans to use them for six years, barring disease or accident. Let's use $75 per head salvage value for this group; therefore, $150 may be depreciated for each cow over the 6 years. This would mean $25 per cow or $250 annually for the 10 head. If greater numbers are involved, the depreciation deduction would be proportionately greater.

If allowable depreciation is not claimed each year, the operator loses the deduction. Every ranchman or livestock producer should discuss this question with whomever makes his tax report. Many tax accountants have devised sheets for keeping continuous depreciation records on the same animals for a period of years, the specialist says.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

We commend Walt Disney, who had charge of opening ceremonies for the World Olympics in Squaw Valley. He included religious ceremonies (a rare thing in world wide ceremonies), justifying the inclusion by remarking that since we, the United States of America, inscribe on our coins of exchange, "In God We Trust," it seemed only fitting that he should be recognized in this event at which we are hosts to athletes of the world. We believe some of our national leaders could take a lesson from Mr. Disney.

Farm Bureau opposes the elimination of the loyalty oath required of students applying for Federal aid for their higher education. We seriously question either the intelligence or motives of those determined to remove this requirement. Why should our country assist in educating individuals who have no scruples against destroying our country?

Our own Texas Senator (now retired) Tom Connally was successful several years ago in inserting an amendment at the end of a United Nations World Court agreement by the United States, a short phrase that leaves the decision as to whether a case involving the United States, or one of its citizens, to the United States. There is a campaign, upheld by several of our congressmen, underway to eliminate this safeguard too. They say it would be "an example to other nations" to place more confidence in the UN World Court. We feel that the best example we can set to all nations is to retain our sovereignty as a nation under God, with no bending to a Godless United Nations court.

Though not surprised, we were disappointed to note that both of our Texas Senators in Washington voted "Yes" on the Federal Aid to Education bill. This is certainly in opposition to the expressed sentiments of our state legislature.

Donald Christian and his workers will be out to see those of you, who are not Farm Bureau Members the latter days of this week. Donald expresses his appreciation to those members coming due in March who are paying dues a little in advance. You will not be contacted on the drive, which is for new members.

on red cedar trees, and Jones stated that March 1 is the deadline for ordering the trees. Murry Cox will give a demonstration on gun safety at the next meeting.

Kickoff Meeting

Surface Lake Water Again Emphasized

Thursday

The kickoff meeting for the annual membership drive of Parmer County Farm Bureau will be Thursday night, February 25, announces Herman Gerics, president.

The meeting will be in the Hub Community Center, and will begin at 8 o'clock, he says.

Warren Newberry, field representative of the American Farm Bureau, will speak to the group, and refreshments will be served following the meeting.

"This meeting is mainly for workers and captains in the drive," says Gerics, "but we want all members to come out too."

Agriculture in the High Plains of Texas is faced with the problem of a declining water table. In the twenty year period of 1938 to 1958, the water table has been lowered as much as 20 feet in some areas, and as much as 80 feet in others. Many wells have decreased in production, and others have been completely lost due to this declining water table.

At the present consumption rate of approximately 5 million acre-feet per year, the 200 million to 400 million acre-feet of underground water, as reported by the U. S. Geologic Survey, will be depleted in 40 to 80 years. Their studies also indicate that natural recharge, in most cases, is insignificant.

Of the approximately 1.4 million acre-feet of water caught in an average year in the 37,000 playa lakes, it is induced that no more than 10% and in many lakes less than 1/2 of 1% is recharged naturally. If the future agricultural economy of the High Plains is to be assured, all possible measures must be undertaken immediately to conserve this underground water.

Such measures include the use of recharge wells to drain the lakes, more efficient irrigation and farming practices to make the water go farther, and land management to prevent run-off of rainfall and irrigation water on slopes.

An experimental recharge well has been installed at the High Plains Research Foundation to study the various problems connected with recharging. The effect of silt, the movement of water underground, and the effect of chemicals on the water are being studied. The effect of the recharge on the immediate area water level will be included in the studies.

To eliminate surface runoff, level benches have been constructed on 25 acres having a slope of 1% to 3%. Comparison studies are underway to determine yields, production costs, and water efficiency on this benched area with a similar area having rows running down the slope.

During the period from June 16, 1959, to November 1, 1959, 25,894,200 gallons or 79.5 acre-feet of water have been recharged from a 25-acre lake. Valued at $65 per acre-foot when applied to cotton, $5200 in water have been placed underground for future use.

During the same period, 5,830,820 gallons or 17.9 acre-feet were pumped. Recharge is March is a good time to shop for air conditioners, according to Wanda Barkley, extension home management specialist of Texas A&M. She suggests some points to consider as you shop.

Consider cooling capacity of the different brands. Ignore horsepower and tonnage. Look for rated cooling capacity expressed in "btu's per hour." The higher the btu capacity the more heat will be removed from the area you are cooling.

Efficiency of operation also depends on the amount of cooling you get for each watt of electricity used. Simply divide number of btu's by number of watts. Then, to determine the amount of cooling per dollar of cost, divide btu's by the cost of the unit. Check name plate or unit for btu's and watts.

Like automobiles, different models and makes come with different special features. For your own satisfaction take time to shop carefully, to read advertising and to talk with salespeople or your friends. The specialist suggests that you check on controls for humidity, air velocity, thermostat, construction and insulation, and ease of operation.

In checking the humidity controls, remember that part of the unit's capacity is used for cooling, part is used for dehumidifying. The portion used for cooling is expressed as a fraction of 1. A desirable fraction is .7 or .8.

Controls for air velocity should have both high and low speeds.

more than 3 times the amount of water pumped.

The average cost of an irrigation well will vary from $6,000 to $7,000, and to make it into a "dual purpose" well or recharge-irrigation well will add from $300 to $1,000, depending on the system used.

Assuming the total cost of a recharge well at $8,000, the water recharged in the 5-month period will repay more than 50% of the initial cost.

Studies on the recharge well and soil and water management will be conducted on a long-time basis, and results and data will be published periodically.

They should also operate to fan only, and to exhaust air in stuffy rooms.

Good insulation prevents outside sweating of the unit. Check the advertising or ask the sales person about this. A rust-proof covering on the outside portion will add to the life of the unit.

Check to see if the thermostat is constructed to control inside as well as outside temperature changes.

A good air conditioner can increase the comfort and efficiency of family or office members. It can also improve dispositions and morale. Take time to select yours carefully. CORRECT IRONING TEMPERATURES IMPORTANT FOR NEW FABRICS . . .

Today's fabrics include so many different fibers, blends of fibers and finishes that home-makers are often puzzled about temperatures suitable for the different ones.

The best general rule when pressing blends of fabrics is to set the iron so that it is suited to the fiber requiring the lowest temperature, according to extension clothing specialists of Texas A&M. However, when using a damp pressing cloth and a dry iron, the moisture in the cloth reduces the temperature.

Because the synthetics call for lower temperatures, blended fabrics of synthetic and natural fibers complicate the pressing problem. In the case of wool blends, they may be pressed successfully with a steam iron or with a dry iron and a damp pressing cloth.

Cotton blends are a different story. Combinations of cotton with synthetics can be a difficult problem because cotton will not always press smooth at a low temperature, yet many synthetics are damaged at high temperatures. One answer to this problem is to check each garment individually by ironing on a sample of the fabric or on an inconspicuous place like the edge of a wide seam.

NEW SPRING HATS ARE HERE . . .

New spring hats are blossoming in shop windows these days. The spring collection includes cloche types that fit the head snugly and many variations of bretons or beret types to be worn like a halo—slightly back on the head and centered.

A hat puts the finishing touch to an ensemble, according to Rhea Merle Boyles, extension clothing specialist of Texas A&M. It should also serve as a lovely frame for the face. With the great variety in style, color and size, there has to be a hat perfect for you.

Consider the hat in relation to your figure as well as your face, suggests the specialist. Also notice the profile. You want the side view to be pleasing, too.

To add length to the face and figure, wear hats with brims that turn upward. Hat decorations with an upwept air will also tend to keep the eye moving in a vertical direction.

To shorten the face and figure, wear hats with drooping brims or fitted close to the head. Hats in bright, contrasting color or with horizontally placed decoration will stop the eye.

What Should A Farmer Pay For Delinting Cottonseeds ?

$20 - $35 - $50 per ton ?

Five years ago when our delinting plant was built, we had only the saw delinting process. This was the safest method known and the most reasonable in price; only $20 per ton for cleaning, delinting, treating and sacking. Now five years later, the price remains the same for this process and we haven't ruined a seed yet. We were skeptical of any other method of delinting seed due to the number of complaints farmers had about ruining seed delinted by any other process.

The complaints still exist. Two years ago, we investigated a new process of acid delinting seed known as the "wet acid" process. At that time there was one other wet acid plant on the Plains, but several plants of this type in the El Paso Valley. The machine used in the "wet acid" process was patented and we obtained a franchise for one of these machines.

The advantage to the farmer in having acid delinted using the "wet acid" process is that the method is safe. Why, over similar processes? Because the seed stay in contact with the acid for only a minute or so and then they are washed with enough water whereby there is no trace of acid left. The sacks will not show up with holes.

The disadvantage is that the price is ordinarily about $15 per ton higher than the "dry acid" or "gas" method. Ours, the "wet acid" process, is a continuous process. The seed are not run in batches and we use several times as much acid in the delinting process.

We have a gravity table which floats out most of the light seed that do not germinate, anyhow.

In our two years of operation, we haven't had one complaint about ruining seed or that the sacks were eaten up by excess acid.

More of the certified seed growers are switching to the "wet acid" process each year. There are several "wet acid" plants on the Plains now. Their price is like ours. None have had complaints and not one has ever had to replace a farmer's seed. The $15 per ton difference amounts to about 20 cents per acre more.

We are in a position to either "saw" delint or "wet acid" delint your seed anytime.

For an appointment call Hub 2705 or bring them here.

It would be difficult to count the blessings the electric cooperatives have brought, and impossible to list them in order. For how can you choose between running water, or electric lights, or refrigeration, not to mention literally hundreds of home appliances and work saving devices.

But there's no argument that rural Texas is a far better place to live because of the member-owned electric cooperatives that are paying their way with interest.

The Electric Cooperatives of Texas borrowed money to build their own electric systems. And they are paying back principle and interest with honesty and industry, while providing PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS.

J. C. Lane No Stranger to Vo Ag

BY DON WATKINS

Although this is his first year in Friona, J. C. Lane, Vocational Agricultural instructor in Friona High School is certainly not new to the teaching profession nor to the Agricultural industry.

Lane, who is 32 and the father of two children, Jane, aged nine, and Dennis, aged nine months, came to Friona in September of 1959 to take over the high school agricultural department vacated by J. T. Gee. He and his wife Dorothy took up housekeeping on the Hoyt Smith farm about 15 miles north of Friona.

From 1947 to 1950 Lane attended college at Oklahoma A. and M., now Oklahoma State College, in Stillwater where he was awarded a BS Degree in agriculture.

After graduating from that institution he taught four years in the Anadarko high school agricultural department and from there moved to Olton, Texas.

Accepting the position of vocational agricultural teacher in the Olton Public Schools, Lane taught four more years, and then resigned to devote his full time and energy to farming his own land.

However, as Lane says, "Working with boys got next to me and I just had to get back in the profession so here I am in Friona."

When asked what he thought the over all aim or goal of the ag departments in public schools were, Lane replies.

"Our first and foremost idea is to build in the boys the quality of leadership and character. Then, we attempt to teach them not only how to farm, but also the ability to step into any of the allied industries of agriculture which could include tractor selling to managing grain elevators and even banking in farming communities.

"The agriculture industry has the largest segment of working people in the United States today. There are 33 million people in agriculture and its allied industries.

During the interview, Lane went on to say that he believed his greatest pleasure in taking over the local ag department was the fact that he followed a man of J. T. Gee's character, and that the ag department was such that very few changes, if any, had to be made.

Lane further stated that it has certainly been pleasurable working with the boys in Friona and that he and his wife have enjoyed being in the community very much.

Lane, who came to Friona with high recommendations, is sure to continue to build the local ag department to a place of high respect and esteem in the public schools throughout the state.

FFA ADVISOR AT WORK--J. C. Lane, vo ag instructor at Friona High School talks over project paperwork with Larry Drake during an instructional period at FHS. The boys keep accurate and up to date records on all their projects and have such things as price per pound of gain, total feed costs etc. all at their fingertips during their project periods.

GOVERNOR PRICE DANIEL presents proclamation proclaiming FFA Week February 20-27 to James Prewitt, State FFA President; and Elaine Pennington, State FFA Sweetheart.

FFA Covers The Nation

The Future Farmers of America is the national organization, of, by, and for farm boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools which operate under the provisions of the National Vocational Education Acts. It is an educational, non-profit, non-political farm youth organization of voluntary membership, designed to develop agricultural leadership, character, thrift, scholarship, cooperation, citizenship, and patriotism. Boys must be enrolled in vocational agriculture to become eligible for membership. They may retain their membership for three years following their graduation from high school, or until they are 21 years of age.

Pam: "Why are you taking your math paper to the Gym?"
Sam: "I have to reduce these fractions."

The FFA Creed

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds--achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associates which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights and practices and policies that are fair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so--for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

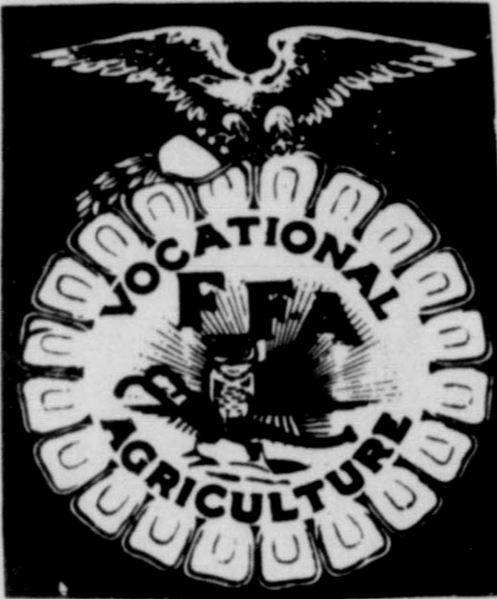

AIM AND PURPOSES OF THE FFA

The primary aim of the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. The specific purposes for which this organization was formed are as follows:

1. To develop competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership.
2. To create and nurture a love of country life.
3. To strengthen the confidence of farm boys and young men in themselves and their work.
4. To create more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupations.
5. To encourage members in the development of individual farming programs and establishment in farming.
6. To encourage members to improve the farm home and its surroundings.
7. To participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of agriculture.
8. To develop character, train for useful citizenship, and foster patriotism.
9. To participate in cooperative effort.
10. To encourage and practice thrift.
11. To encourage improvement in scholarship.
12. To provide and encourage the development of organized rural recreational activities.

Friona Future Farmer Seniors

Of the seventy odd members of the Friona Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, 16 are graduating seniors.

These seniors, most of whom have been members of the FFA Chapter since their freshman year, have been the guiding hand among the chapter members for the local FFA activities.

Their projects have been varied, their records are good ones.

A short resume of their activities is as follows:

has worked four years in the FFA chapter in Friona and has served the organization in the position of secretary and district vice president.

An Emblem Of INTEGRITY

What a fine thing for our youth Future Farmers Of America

Not only does the FFA program prepare our youngsters to take over from their elders when the time comes, but it gives them a fellowship that they find in the fine training for the better things in life.

THE FFA CREED

I BELIEVE in the future of farming with a faith born not of words but of deeds -- achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I BELIEVE that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I can not deny.

I BELIEVE in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I BELIEVE in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the products of our toil. I BELIEVE we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I BELIEVE in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so -- for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I BELIEVE that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

Friona FFA Chapter Enjoys "Big" Year

The Friona Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has had and still has a long list of activities and a full schedule for the 1959-1960 school year, according to J. C. Lang, ag teacher.

Beginning in the month of September, the FFA members began making plans for their yearly projects and planned their program for the coming year. Then, as in the past, the local future farmers took part in the annual Maize Days Parade and sponsored the tractor rodeo during this annual celebration.

During the next month, October, the animals chosen for individual projects were fed and groomed and otherwise taken care of and it was also the month that is long awaited by the upper classmen. This is the initiation month for new freshmen members, known as greenhands.

November proved to be a full and busy month for the FFA boys as they began developing leadership teams for the yearly district contests. A freshman chapter conducted one such team and a senior chapter made up of upper classmen sponsored a team.

Also, November saw the Senior Farm Skill team and the junior Farm Skill Team place second in district competition. It is a high tribute to these teams that the skills that beat them went on to win state. In the district judging, there were only five points difference between the first place winners and Friona's second place winners.

The fourth month of the school year was also a busy one as December saw the boys lining out their projects, developing livestock judging teams of upper classmen and freshmen and attending the district FFA banquet held in Littlefield. A Friona member had the honor of being elected the district vice-president. The boy so honored was Jimmy Bainum.

January was no exception in the parade of months of hard work for the local department as the boys entered a livestock show in Hereford, which was the first of the season for the local members. In this show, Maynard Greeson showed the grand champion barrow; Larry Potts showed the champion hampshire barrow; and Floyd Reeve showed the reserve champion Chesterwhite barrow. All the other boys who exhibited made excellent showings in the livestock show.

In the lamb division of this show, Dwight O'Brian showed the champion Southdown lamb and all the other FFA members did well.

The livestock judging team, consisting of E. C. Wilson, Craig Coon, Johnny Miller and Tom Gee placed 10th out of a field of 30 contestants, and this was their first outing as a team, which was highly commendable.

Also, a few of the local boys showed livestock in Amarillo this year and six members placed pigs in the money.

During the present month, February, the National FFA week is being held and all the boys are taking full participation in all activities. Not only are they working hard grooming their animals for the livestock show to be held March 11 and 12, but, the weather permitting, they are tree pruning and topping.

On February 27, there will

MONKEYS UP A TREE--In reality members of the Friona FFA Chapter are shown busy trimming trees around the school last week. Larry Potts is holding Rex Bracken so he can get hold of a worrisome limb in this shot. The boys earn money for the FFA chapter by this service to area residents. Those desiring to have their trees trimmed are invited to notify J. C. Lane, vo ag instructor at FHS for an appointment with the tree doctors.

Why I Like FFA

BY JAMES PREWITT, PRESIDENT, TEXAS ASSOCIATION, FFA

In the FFA, boys are given the chance to participate in many enjoyable and profitable activities. Perhaps the most important of these activities is our Leadership Contest. The training that they receive while preparing for these contests greatly improves their knowledge in parliamentary procedure and teaches them to think and speak while standing on their feet. I know many important men who would give half of what they own if only they could stand before people and express themselves as these boys can after they have trained for a leadership team.

I sincerely believe that the FFA does more toward the development of the individual's abilities than any Youth organization in the entire world. The training that these boys receive will help them for the rest of their life.

The FFA is an organization that provides unlimited opportunities for the rural youth throughout the United States of America to further develop

In metal working, the boys learn to use the acetylene and electric welding equipment and some boys have built nice projects including bunk feeders and two boys have built trailers which have been receiving a lot of praise.

In woodwork, the projects have consisted mostly of feeders and other items necessary for farm use.

Lane has also stated that they hope to get into some tractor maintenance and simple mechanics before the year is out.

With these kind of activities, and with the busy schedule kept by the FFA members, it is a wonder they get around to doing as much as they do, but the FFA boys usually seem to get it done.

FFA Enjoys-

be three livestock judging teams in competition. Two of these will be at Olton invitational contest and one at the southwest Duroc type conference at Lubbock.

Then, in March, the big event will be the local livestock show held on the 11 and 12 with the local members trying for top honors against many contes-ants.

During April, the local chapter will enter the Tech contest and they hope to have a dairy judging team, a livestock judging team and a land judging team. Also, the area FFA meeting will be held in either Amarillo or Lubbock and the local chapter hopes to have applicants during this time for Lone Star Farmer.

In May, the annual FFA banquet will top off the year's activities, as far as the school calendar is concerned, but Lane points out that the FFA program is a year round program, with the members continuing their crop projects and livestock breeding projects.

Lane further pointed out that the year's program included work in the ag department's shop with the work covering two main areas. One area is in metal working and the other woodworking.
