New events at the Pecos rodeo this year were the cigar race and the "ribbon roping" contest. In the cigar race, the contestant lopes his horse to a box in the middle of the arena, where he dismounts, takes a cigar and a match out of the box, lights the cigar, remounts, and hurries back to the finish line. HOLIDAY ACCIDENTS TAKE TOLL

With each holiday we see a number of deaths piled up against the automobile. During the Fourth of July 322 deaths were recorded and of that number 183 were chalked up against the automobile and its driver. There are drivers who, even after pleas and warnings have been issued, fail to see the danger of fast driving, driving on the wrong side of the road, failing to observe crossing, and the many other rules that drivers are prone to break. In an editorial appearing in the Rotarian Magazine we find some sound advice. The editorial follows:

We still have to learn how to live with the automobile. Both as pedestrians and drivers we are much at the mercy of other drivers. At the wheel, we are also at the mercy of ourselves, when our driving skill is inadequate. And in a sense, we are at the mercy of the For County Attorney: machine

For one thing, many modern motorcars can go faster than many modern drivers can think-and act. "Cannonball" Baker, profes- For County Treasurer: sional record-smasher, who has driven more than 3 million miles, often at forced speeds, and who has had only one accident and that when his own car was standing still, says: "The average man's reflexes are not fast enough to handle the top speeds of today's automobiles."

Each driver has a "safe" speed. It is a balance of his personal reflexes against his car's speed. It is a speed that is right for him, given his physiological and mental makeup. For some exceptional drivers this "safe" speed may be high, but for many it is certainly not more than 40 or 45 miles an hour.

But the campaign for highway safety-while it focuses chiefly on eliminating auto deaths and maimings, as, patently, it ought tohas other aspects. For instance, bad conduct on the highways can pump up the blood pressure, perhaps can harden the arteries, and surely can upset the digestion, and with it one's peace of mind.

Here is a d iver-and where is he not?-who feels that that car of organization and the electing shead, moving a little slower than his own, must be passed at all of officers. COOLS BY EVAPORATION Here's How It Works

A powerful but quiet fan (A) pulls outside air through the cooling mat (B) which is kept moist by water dripping from a copper tube at top of cabinet. As the air passes through the mat, it is cooled by evaporation and then blown into the house, through the house and out again through windows left slightly open at the top. A three-position control (C) permits increasing or decreasing the fan speed to suit weather conditions. convenient control valve (D) regulates the flow of water. The amount of cooling varies with the humidity. With an outside temperature of 100 degrees and a 40 per cent relative humidity, the cooler delivers air at approximately 83 degrees.

Low priced Efficient Quiet Economical to Operate

Here is the cooling unit that is bringing relief from heat to thousands of Southwestern homes. Low priced, quiet and efficient, the Arizona Cooler provides lake breeze comfort at low cost by scientific application of the principle of heat removal by evaporation. It not only cools the air from 10 to 20 degrees below outside temperatures but also removes dust and pollen.

A self-contained unit, the cooler is easily installed in a short time by placing the cabinet on the window sill and lowering the bottom sash until it engages in the channel on the face of the cooler. Especially designed for quiet operation, it provides a pleasant movement of cool air without objectionable noise. The operating cost is extremely low -approximately one cent per hour for most

Two types of coolers are available—the propeller fan type (illustrated) and the blower type, which is used to force air through ducts to point of discharge. There is a size for every applicationfrom small homes to large stores and offices. Prices range from $59.50 up, depending upon the amount of space to be cooled. Water and electrical connections cost from $2.00 to $3.50 extra.

We shall welcome an opportunity to give you more information about the Arizona Cooler and to submit estimates based upon your requirements. No obligation is involved.
