Welding Class For Adults Set Here

A welding class for adults will be offered at the vocational agriculture shop beginning Monday February 1 at 7:30 p. m. announced J. C. Lane, vo ag instructor this week. The course will cover welding fundamentals as well as cover the high spots of hard surface, aluminum cast iron and high carbon welding and brazing, Lane says.

The school will cost $5 for each interested adult to cover cost of welding supplies.

Anyone interested in attending the school is asked to contact Lane or be at the Vo Ag office at 7:30 p. m. February 1.

Varner On Leave

Airman 3/C James Varner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Varner, currently stationed at Turner Air Force Base at Albany, Ga., is home on leave. Varner reports there was quite a contrast between the warm sunshine he left in Georgia and the snow and low degree temperature here.

Crash Victim Dies Tuesday

A Lubbock man critically injured in a one-car accident near Farwell last week died Tuesday, reports Sheriff Chas. Lovelace this week.

William D. Crawford, 25, received severe head injuries in the wreck after he lost control of his car and skidded sideways on the wet pavement into a tree on Highway 70-84 last Wednesday night.

Ironically, another wreck of similar circumstances occurred in almost the same spot Sunday afternoon.

Fish Boys, 8th Girls Win First Round Of Tourney

Friona's freshmen boys and the Friona eighth grade girls defeated their opponents to win first round tournament play while the Bovina eighth grade boys and the Lazbuddie freshmen girls downed their opponents to advance to the finals.

The local freshmen boys defeated the Sudan ninth graders by a close score of 37 to 33 in a high fouling affair that saw three Sudan players leaving the game via the foul route and the Sudan cagers finishing the contest with only four players.

Scoring for the fish boys were Billy Don Thomas and Robert Houlette with nine points each while Joe Bellar of Sudan had 16 points.

In the local eighth grade girl's game, the home team defeated the Farwell eighth graders by a score of 45 to 27 in the junior high gym. Scoring for Friona was Marca Lynn Massie with 16 points followed by Charlotte Nettles and Rose Ann Greeson with 11 points each.

In the fish girl's game, the Lazbuddie girls defeated the Bovina fish girls by a score of 40 to 20 while the Bovina eighth grade boys defeated the Lazbuddie eighth graders by a score of 23 to 12 with Kelso of Bovina taking scoring honors with eight points.

Thursday night's (tonight's) actions will see the Friona eighth grade boys meeting the Farwell eighth grade boys in the junior high gym at 5 p. m. and the Friona freshmen girls meeting the Farwell freshmen girls at 5 p. m. in the high school gymnasium.

The Championship games begin at 5:30 p. m. Saturday in the high school gymnasium while the consolation games begin at 12 noon, also in the high school gym. All fans are urged to attend the sessions of the eighth grade and ninth grade basketball tournament being held here.

THURSDAY NIGHT -
Quail Importation Group Meeting Set

The newly-formed Parmer County Game Management Assn., defeated in its pheasant importing project, will attempt to launch a similar program for quail at a meeting Thursday night.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 in the American Legion Hall in Bovina. Efforts are being made to get interested people from throughout the county to attend.

A suggested constitution for the organization will be presented at the Thursday meeting.

"We have been told by game authorities that quail can be obtained easier and cheaper than pheasant," Al Kerby, acting president of the association, said.

At the last meeting, plans to bring pheasants to this area were abandoned when A. S. Jackson, state biologist from Canadian, said pheasants would not survive here.

Jackson said quail might be imported successfully and the association immediately changed its objective.

The proposed constitution sets up as objectives the improvement of wildlife cover and food, pond management, hunting regulations and others that will promote the welfare of imported birds.

The association, under the constitution, will plant trees, construct shelters, fertilize cover areas, leave some crops unharvested for the birds, and guard against range fires and over-grazing.

The articles call for a "regulated harvest" plan instead of the long-range "closed season" program.

Kerby says that Bobwhite quail will be the type imported. Bobwhites thrive in Central and South Texas and club members believe with proper management they will do well in this area.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out--Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem--Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles--'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions--all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs--Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

Snow Paints Picturesque Sights In Friona

SNOW SCENES -- The above three pictures were taken during the snow which fell a week ago but failed to appear in last week's Star. The long icicle was formed by melting snow and cold weather on the new home of Dr. George Anderson in the Lakeside Addition. The long taper reached practically to the ground and was about eight inches around at its base. Above, left, C. L. Lillard's back yard caused much comment around town as the big cedar trees bowed almost to the ground under the weight of the snow which was eight inches deep on some of the branches. Below, left, Carl Maurer's home located on West Loop was typical of the many homes which received a covering of snow. The snow had drifted on the roof of the home and hung over the eave of the house almost a foot on the south side.

try won't work in this case. But -- Price says "the people" have asked him to run again. Haw -- that's a laugh, we didn't ask him to -- did you? Personally we had it all figured out to do our lowly best to help two Plainsmen get elected to important state offices this year -- Marshall Formby for governor and Waggoner Carr for attorney general. Formby has been "running" for governor for almost a year. Will Wilson, our present attorney general, was supposed to have thrown his hat into the governor's race, thus leaving the path open for Waggoner Carr of Lubbock to run for the AG office.

But -- good ol' Price has spoiled all that now. He had to go back on his word and run for reelection, and as Wilson didn't see fit to fight it out for governor will seek reelection thus forcing Carr to fight him for that position. Now don't get us wrong, we didn't think it would be easy to get Formby elected governor, nor Carr elected attorney general.

But you all know it would be a lot easier if the two men in those offices didn't seek reelection. We don't blame Will, but we are sorta peeved at Gov. Daniel. But if we, up here on the High Plains ever get anyone to represent us down at Austin we are going to have to work at it, so we might as well pay our poll taxes and get down to work. What do you say, let's give Price and Will a hard way to go here in Farmer county this year and support Formby and Carr.

This is your fight and it will take all any of us can do to make it a successful one for the Plains.

Squaws--

(Continued from page 1) first period was 20 for Friona and 13 for the visitors. Playing the sophomore alternates from this stage of the game the Squaws outscored their opponents in the third period of play. In the second quarter, the Farwell Steers scored 11 points while the Squaws scored 10 to make a halftime score at 30 to 24. During the third quarter, the Squaws outscored their rivals as they hit for nine and allowed only six to go into the fourth period of play with the score at 39 for Friona and 30 for the visiting team. In the fourth and final period the Squaws hit the basket for seven points and allowed 11 to make the final score at 46 for Friona and 41 for Farwell. Scoring for Friona was Su Zan Harper with 12 points followed by Jacquelyn Magness who had nine points for only one period of play and by Charlotte Bock and Pam Roden who had eight points each. For Farwell it was June Ritchie with 18 points. In the boy's game which followed immediately, the Farwell Steers took a quick first quarter lead and maintained this advantage throughout the remainder of the game although the Chiefs fought hard in the fourth quarter and scored a whopping 23 points in the final period.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 12 for the Steers from Farwell and eight for the Friona Chiefs. Holding the Chiefs to a mere four points in the second period while they scored 14 additional points, the Farwell Steers had a halftime score of 26 to 12. In the third quarter the Friona Chiefs hit the mark for eight points but Farwell once again outscored them as they hit the bucket for 11 to go into the fourth period of play with the score 37 for Farwell and 20 for the Chiefs, a 17-point advantage.

In the fourth and final period the Chiefs came alive as they scored the large 23 points, but the rally proved to be too late in the game as Farwell scored 11 this period to come out on top by the margin of 48 to 43. Scoring for Friona was Ronnie Wood with 15 points followed by Ronnie Castleberry with 11 points. For the Farwell Steers it was Larry McDorman with 14 points.

Friday night the local boys and girls will again resume district play as they play host to teams from Tulia. This is to be the third district contest for each team. The Squaws now have a two win record while the Chiefs boast a one win and one loss record. After the Tulia contest, the teams will play Canyon to complete the first round of district play. Game time Friday night is 7 p. m. in the local high school gymnasium.

Riddle, Clayton Win FFA Contest

Jon Lin Riddle and James Clayton, both of the Bovina chapter, captured honors in the Future Farmer crop growing contests at the annual awards night at Hub this week. Riddle, with a yield of 9964 pounds of grain sorghum from his five-acre test plot, won the first place milo award, and Clayton, who produced 925 pounds of lint, took first in the cotton contest.

Laymen Lead Program At Awards Night

It was laymen's night at the annual meeting of the Farmer County Grain Sorghum Association and the Farmer County Cotton Improvement Association at Hub Monday evening, when local association officers did a creditable job of "standing in" for speakers unable to be present.

Dub Anthony of Friona appeared in lieu of Bill Nelson of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and Arlin Hartzog of Farwell took the floor when George Pfeifferberger of Plains Cotton Growers called to say he couldn't make it.

Presiding over the meeting was Robert Wilson of Bovina, president of the county grain sorghum group.

This is an annual meeting, and both organizations sponsor production contests for 4-H and FFA boys in the county for their respective commodities. Winners, their parents, and adult leaders, teachers, and other ag officials were in attendance.

Anthony told the group that the main concern of grain sorghum producers at the present time is development of markets. He reviewed the CSPA history and explained its method of operation.

hauled a load of grain sorghum to the elevator and kicked out the gates and dumped it, I was through with it," he told his audience. He added, however, that today things are different. "We have to 'follow through' with our crops today," he said, indicating the importance that marketing and commodity use have taken in the picture in recent years.

Hartzog reviewed the history of PCG and touched on some of the organization's accomplishments. He made special mention of the recent inclusion of cotton classified as light spot, into the government loan program, and estimated that this alone was worth more than $10 million a year to Plains farmers.

He also touched on classing problems, and the work of PCG to gain recognition for High Plains short-staple cotton in world markets.

Holland Parmer County's Pioneer In Sheep Feeding

John Holland has probably been in the sheep business longer than anyone else in Parmer county. He first began sheep feeding and raising in 1947.

"I was in the business before they ever thought of having a sheep market in Clovis," he says.

In his feed lots east of Farwell, Holland presently has about 100 head of ewes and feeder lambs. He does not run a mother herd operation, but runs mostly stockers and feeders. He says the ewes he has that are lambing were bred before he bought them.

"Last week I had nearly 500 head of feeder lambs in here. I buy and sell these things all the time."

Holland buys sheep in large numbers and sells them in small numbers to area farmers. He finds this more profitable than fattening them for market. He is getting set up to buy wool from his customers. He plans to ship it to San Angelo.

"Feeder lambs are worth about 16 cents a pound. That's what I get for them. I paid 14.75 cents and 15 cents a pound for these sheep."

"You can't make anything on one sheep. It's volume, because you haven't got anything invested in one sheep."

Suffolk and Ramboulett are the breed of sheep Holland handles. He says the Suffolk is a rare breed raised mostly in Canada, but there is much crossbreeding. "Crossbreeding gives a more vigorous lamb."

When a customer is dissatisfied, Holland often buys back the sheep he has sold and sometimes handles the same sheep several times. He usually buys lambs from those farmers who run a mother herd operation.

"I like to fool with sheep." He says sheep are a little more trouble than cattle but the profit is better.

"Statistics rate sheep 3 to 1 over cattle in profit and the government is now rating them at 4 to 1." He explained that every $100 invested in sheep would make from $3 to $4 more than an equal amount invested in cattle.

"Year before last I lacked 67 head handling 10,000 sheep." Holland does sheep handling just "on the side." He says he made about $2500 to $3000 profit last year and even more the previous year, but his income tax was excessive then.

"About seven sheep will take the place of just one cow in the feed lot or pasture." Holland was in the cattle business prior to 1947. He doesn't have any pasture, but runs a feed lot set-up.

He says sheep are a very cold weather animal.

"As far as price is concerned, during the holidays it went up some, and packers think the price is going to be higher yet."

Every farm should have a little flock of sheep because they will live off waste and what you make is total profit."

JOHN HOLLAND feeds some Suffolk ewes at his feed lots east of Farwell. The ewes are all lambing. He says the Suffolk is a cold weather breed raised mostly in Canada. They are distinguished from other breeds by the black faces and legs. Holland has about 100 head of sheep on hand.

FEEDER LAMBS crowd around John Holland as he feeds them at his lots east of Farwell. Most of the lambs in this picture are crossbreeds between Suffolk and Ramboulett. The Suffolk has black faces and legs while the Ramboulett is all white. Crossbreeding gives a more vigorous lamb, Holland says.

A. L. Black of Friona received a sterling silver serving tray at a state convention of the Soil Conservation Service in Galveston last week.

The award was made to Black for "Outstanding Service as a Soil Conservation District Supervisor" during the year 1959.

Black was one of five men in the state to receive such recognition.

One supervisor from each of the five areas in the state was awarded silver trays. There are about 50 districts in each area.

The awards were made possible through the Texas Bank and Trust Company of Dallas.

Black was entered as outstanding in soil conservation work by the Friona State Bank and a scrapbook was prepared and entered by the Progressive

We received a few commu down the street on our opti concerning politics in the s last week.

In running through some of papers published each w over the Golden Spread noticed the following art from the Hansford Plainsma in Spearman, Texas.

Editor Buri McClellan, some of you may remember one of Cotton John's staf KCNC-TV until recently, this to say about politics:

Now-a-days it is the faal to talk about how soft younger generation has beco and how they are always lo ing for security and not portunity. This same critic is beginning to fit some of state politicians.

When Price Daniel made decision to try to stay in present employment, the w political train came to a s den stop and the boxcars ban together for hours.

It would appear that "have to be in the family" to run for office. If you w the job, you wait until it cor your time to run, and if senior man decides not to m you just wait.

Gone are the days when th were five or six strong car dates seeking the job. G are the days when the travel campaigns provided enterntment and something to do o hot summer's afternoon. Ma not all the candidates had m to offer except more old pensions, but they did give
