MY TURN

By Carol Ellis

FALL HAS BEEN official for only about a week, but already Summer tans have faded, youngsters are wearing new sweaters to school, and those efficient folks among us have begun to think about their Christmas lists.

I realized that the season change was enroute to Maple Street when, back some three weeks ago, I noticed that the Burnhams were no longer sitting out on their front lawn after supper anymore, and the Robertses had donned light jackets for their evening constitutional around the block.

We haven't heard the repertoire of our resident mockingbird for several weeks now, and the pair of barn swallows which built their mud nest under the eaves of our house, have raised their little family and left for warmer climes. We were grateful for their swooping presence as they kept our backyard free of mosquitoes all Summer long.

But our real messengers of Autumn are the flock of a dozen or so robins which show up in our yard every time the seasons change. You may have thought robins were only harbingers of Spring. Not so. This is most likely the same robin flock which stops by for a week or so every year, both in early Spring and late Summer, and they are always accompanied by their friend, the flicker. To the non-ornithologist, that's a sort of woodpecker. So much for "birds of a feather flock together." This lone flicker follows our flock of robins around all the time. That's how I know it is the same group which enjoys dining on worms in our yard for a few days twice each year. I guess we have a very wormy yard or something.

We've also had visits from a little green hummingbird and a couple of pairs of goldfinches. But presently, the only feathered friends still hanging around are some loud blue-jays and squawky grackles.

If I were asked to redesign the world, I would make Summer last for six months long.

Summer has a certain state of mind. We drink more lemonade in the Summer, but we switch to iced tea with our meals for the rest of the year. We don't make homemade ice cream except in the Summer months. I don't know why it wouldn't be possible to enjoy lemonade and homemade ice cream during the other seasons of the year, but it just doesn't seem right, does it?

We tend to eat richer, heavier foods during the cooler seasons of the year. The average American gains between eight to twelve pounds between the beginning of Fall through December.

Another Summer delight that I hate to give up is line-dried sheets. I realize that there are a lot of adult people alive today who have never even seen a clothesline, and they think that clothespins are for keeping skirts from falling off the hangers in their closets. They are missing out on one of the absolute sensual pleasures of life... that of slipping into bed between sheets that have been dried out-of-doors, and laying their head down on a pillow case that smells of sunshine. No detergent or fabric softener has ever captured the true essence of the Summer sun.

Summer is steadfast. You know every day is going to be hot and the pace of life is going to be languid. People don't expect you to get anywhere exactly on time and if anything important comes up, you can usually convince yourself to put it off until the weather gets a little cooler.

Fall is just a bridge between warm sunshine and those short gray days of Winter when your nose and toes are seldom warm and it is already dark outside when you get off work. In the Winter, "fresh" fruits and vegetables taste like plastic, you can't back up to a central heating system to warm yourself, and Summer seems an aeon away.

I'm already looking forward to next Summer.

New Entrant Getting Hang Of Grid Event

For a contestant who has only entered the Friona Star Football contest twice in all, Ruben Garza is probably wishing he had been entering for a long time.

Last week, Garza placed second in his first-ever effort in the contest. This week, with the one-week's experience under his belt, he moved up a notch and claimed first place.

Garza, who is a sophomore student at West Texas State University, was the only contestant entering the fourth weekly contest to pick as many as 13 of the contest games, missing three. He receives the weekly cash prize of $10.00. His misses were Green Bay-Minnesota; Houston-Los Angeles and Cleveland-Indianapolis.

Seven contestants correctly picked 12 contest games, and from this group the second and third place winners were chosen by the tie-breaker system.

Dianne Morgan and Steve Gartin tied for second and third place, after missing the New York Jets-New England tiebreaker score by "only" 24 points. Mrs. Morgan picked the Jets, 34-20, and Gartin picked the Jets, 27-13. The score was 45-7. Each contestant received $6.25 for their efforts.

Other contestants likewise picking 12 but missing out on a cash prize were Shirley Fangman, Jesse Morales, Bobby Wied, Eufemia Torres and Tonya Gartin.

Eleven other contestants had scores of "11," just a point away from being in the race for a weekly prize. These were Don Max Vars, Dwayne Acker, Mark Zachary, Claire Brown, Donnie McDonald, Steve Shrode, Mark Walker, Alesia Tucker, Frances Gonzales, Landon

Wiseman and Antonio S. Duran, Jr.

In the race for grand prize, three contestants ended the week tied for the top spot. Roddy Berend, Sandra Berend and Myrtle Melton hold down the top spot with scores of 48. Larry Rogers is a point back with a score of 47.

Rick Carr, Courtney Carthel, Shirley Fangman, Steve Gartin, Jerry Hinkle, Mal Manchec, John Seright, Bobby Wied and Mark Walker are next at 46.

Scores of all leading contestants may be found inside this issue. Contestants are vying for the $100 grand prize to be awarded at the end of the contest.

Plans Made For 1993 U W Drive

Members of the Board of Directors for Friona United Way met at the Friona State Bank on September 18.

At this time dates were set for the following activities: (1) Next meeting, October 7, (2) Business Drive chaired by Keith Black during the month of October, (3) Annual Phone-a-Thon, Monday, November 8. This event will be from 7-9 p.m. Hi-Pro Feeds will furnish their phones for use by volunteers.

It is hoped that residents will support the drive--United Way supports Friona.

Annual German Sausage Dinner Set October 3

St. Teresa's Ladies Society is planning their annual German Sausage Dinner. The group has the sausage prepared and homemade sauerkraut is canned.

"The Ladies Society hopes everyone will come join them for some good home-cooked German food," said a spokesperson for the group. Serving time is Sunday, October 3 from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. at St. Teresa's Parish Hall.

The price is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under ten. Take-out plates are available.

Also, a country store with lots of crafts and good food, as well as quarts and pints of sauerkraut and German sausage will be for sale.

Anti-Crime Group Meets On Oct. 12

Parmer County's new Crimestoppers organization will meet Tuesday, October 12 at Friona State Bank, beginning at 7 p.m.

Any person interested in being a director for the group is urged to attend.

There have been two preliminary meetings, and by-laws for the organization have been proposed.

A show of interest is needed from Friona. The organization will be monitored through the Parmer County Sheriff's Department.

Large Crowd Views Annual Art Exhibit

Nearly 300 people toured through the Old Depot building in the City Park last Saturday to view the Annual Fall Art Show sponsored by Friona Art Association in conjunction with the Tri-State Art Association.

Thirty paintings were entered by artists from Amarillo, Canyon, Dimmitt, Colorado City and Friona. Marie McCubbin of Amarillo took "Best of Show" honors with a pastel portrait. Bobby Wied of Friona won the "People's Choice" award by popular vote of those who visited the art show. Wied's painting was a landscape-water scene.

Carolyn Walker of Colorado City took first place in the oil and acrylics division with a painting of Palo Duro Canyon. Other winners in this division were: Carol Ellis, Friona, 2nd place, with a painting of a white rooster; Marie McCubbin, Amarillo, 3rd place with a fishing scene; honorable mentions went to Bobby Wied and Carol Ellis of Friona, and Joan Fowlkes of Amarillo.

In the watercolor division, Marie McCubbin took first place with her picture of prairie grassland. Other winners in this division were: Maxine Crockett of Canyon, second and third places with a floral and a landscape; honorable mention to Joan Fowlkes.

In the pastel division, Eva Kimbrough of Friona took first and second place with her roses.

Co. Amends Rural Fire Motion; City Issues Protest

Just when it appeared that the problem of the payments for rural fire protection had been settled, Parmer County Commissioners amended the motion they had passed on September 13, and their amendment caused concern by the City of Friona, which is now questioning the change.

(In the meantime, with the October 1 deadline having arrived, the city will continue to respond to rural fires, according to City Manager Paula Wilson, until the details of the reimbursement can be worked out.)

The city had requested that payments be made earlier than the end of calendar 1994, as the original motion had stated.

The amendment stated that in addition to the $5,000 to be allotted to the Rhea-Hollene Fire Department, the remaining four departments were to also receive $5,000 as an advancement on their pro-rata share. This payment is to be issued at the first regular 1994 meeting of the Commissioners Court. Then in December of 1994, the total moneys will be pro-rated and disbursed to Bovina, Farwell, Friona and Lazbuddie, based on quarterly reports submitted by these departments.

However, the initial $5,000 will remain with each department, regardless of their pro-rata share, according to the amended motion, and this has caused some raised eyebrows by City of Friona officials.

"In 1992, Farwell only responded to six per cent of the rural fires. That would figure out to roughly $2700, based on six per cent of $45,000," pointed out Paula Wilson, City Manager.

The problem seems to be, if Farwell gets to keep their $5,000 advancement, regardless of the percent of rural fires answered, that's potentially $2300 less from the overall "pie," which all of the departments were supposed to be splitting.

According to the figures, in 1992 the rural fire calls in the county were divided up as follows: Friona 37 per cent; Farwell, 6 per cent; Bovina 32 per cent; Lazbuddie 19 per cent and Rhea five per cent.

Club Members Hear Program On Health

On Tuesday evening, September 21, 1993, members and guest of Modern Study Club enjoyed a program on Home Health Services.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge to the U.S. flag and President Sandra Turner read a poem entitled "Kind Words."

Entertainment was provided by Charles Allen and Geary Brogden who sang a medley of favorite hymns, accompanied on the piano by Eva Miller.

Roll call was answered with "Something I might do to help or encourage a shut-in."

Program Director Kathrine Blackburn introduced Chriss Dennison, Home Health Director, who presented the program on Home Health Services in Friona and the surrounding area. Chriss is a Registered Nurse and has worked in all fields of nursing for the past 24 years. She came to Friona in March of this year to fill the Home Health Director position.

Guests were Judy Rhodes, Mary Moseley, Wanda Jones, Raymond Cook, Karene Kravel and Hazel Britt of Bovina.

Hostesses Lois Miller and Barbara Symank werved refreshments to 15 members and six guests.

The club meeting was adjourned following the reading of the Club Collect, led by Elizabeth Gore.

Thompson's Sister's Rites Are Held

Funeral services for Alene Thompson Nislar, 76, of Lubbock, were held Saturday, September 25 at Lemons Funeral Home Memorial Chapel of Plainview, with Michael Passmore, pastor of First Christian Church of Lubbock officiating.

Letters To The Editor

Bill Ellis, Editor
The Friona Star
Friona, Tx. 79035

Dear Editor:

It was my pleasure last weekend to visit Friona as a judge of the Miss Friona Pageant. What a wonderful day it was! I had such a good time.

There were some fine young women in the pageant and they were well prepared by the Miss Friona Pageant Committee. They were all excellent representatives of your community and it seemed as though each one felt that Friona was the greatest place in the world to live and to grow up.

Every person that I met during my day there was so friendly and helpful. Carol Boyd and her committee did an excellent job with the pageant itself. Janet Buske was great in looking after the judges. Doris and Reba Buske were such warm and hospitable hosts in their lovely home. Teresa Buske was a charming representative of the Chamber of Commerce. Kevin Welch and Pamela Pauling were delightful as the master and mistress of ceremonies.

Friona is a fortunate community to have the talent that your Chamber of Commerce evidently does to emphasize those things which are good and positive in the area--especially those commendable qualities in the young women on whom you focus for the pageant. It is refreshing to see this positive goodness reflected in these young ladies of whom you should be so proud. It is these positive qualities that we desire for our students at Wayland Baptist University as we strive to produce the best in Christian citizens.

Congratulations, Friona. You have much for which to be thankful and much for which to be proud! Thank you for letting me see that first hand.

Sincerely,
Joe Provence
Director, Alumni Services

Dear Bill,

What a wonderful way to start my year as Chamber Manager!

The people in Friona really know how to come together. The attendance throughout our Maize Days Celebration was at an all time high.

Friona is represented by an outstanding Chamber Board, that consists of Sylvia Ingram-president, Bill McCoy-vice-president, Karen Harelson-treasurer, Troy White-officio; directors: Pamela Pauling, Marca Herring, Hugo Benavides, Tom Randolph, Byron Boyd, Danny Campbell, Andrew Zamora, Carol Aistrup, Robert Jones and Terry Wilcox.

Each one of these people needs to be commended for the endless hours volunteered for this project.

These volunteers, along with community support is what makes FRIONA A PROUD AND PROGRESSIVE COMMUNITY. A Big THANKS to the people of Friona for your support!

Sincerely,
Teresa Buske
Executive Vice-president
Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture

Dear Editor,

We just wanted to express to the newspaper how great the people in Friona are.

On August 19, we were in Friona when my husband Edd Walker had a heart attack.

Mr. Gary Brown helped with getting him to the hospital. His wife Barbara helped me while he was there.

The hospital doctor and staff were so kind and good to us. Mr. Brown even sent someone from his bank to help us during our needs.

If you ever need help while out of town, the town of Friona is where you want to be.

My husband is home and doing well after having two balloon angioplasties. Again Friona and your residents are the greatest!

We will never forget all your help in our time of need.

Country Cooking Satisfies Appetite

By CARLA McKEOWN
I visited my grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Vick, in Breckenridge last week. After all of my low-fat, low-cholesterol broiled chicken breasts, it was nice to have some old-fashioned country cooking for a change.

The first night I was there, we had roast beef with carrots, potatoes and gravy, biscuits, turnip greens and iced tea. The next night, it was fried round steak with mashed potatoes and gravy, potato rolls, cucumber salad and iced tea. For dessert both nights, we had cake and ice cream.

Of course, each morning we had fried or scrambled eggs, bacon and ham, toast with homemade plum jam, coffee and milk.

Needless to say, I haven't ventured over to the scales since I got back home.

These foods, as well as the favorites my mother fixed when I lived at home, are my comfort foods. Although I have developed my own cooking style since I've been cooking for myself, I still return to the foods of my parents and grandparents from time to time.

I tend to use very little fat—especially shortening—and not much sugar in my everyday cooking. But, on one of those gloomy, homesick kind of days, I'm apt to serve up a platter of fried chicken with Apple Surprise for dessert.

By all means, if you're on a special diet, follow the advice of your doctor, but if you can afford to splurge every now and then, try the following recipes for an old-fashioned Texas meal:

FRIED ROUND STEAK
1 large round steak
Worcestershire sauce, to taste
Salt and pepper or lemon-pepper seasoning, to taste
1 cup flour
Oil for frying

Tenderize the steak and cut into serving-sized pieces. Sprinkle each piece with Worcestershire sauce and seasonings, and dip into flour. Heat 1 inch oil in a large skillet. Cook the steak in the oil, turning once, until dark brown and cooked through.

GRAVY

1 cup flour
2 cups milk
Salt and pepper, to taste

Note: if you are making the fried round steak recipe above, you can use any leftover flour for the gravy.

Mix the flour and milk in a glass or bowl. Drain any excess oil from the frying pan. Pour the flour mixture into the pan and cook, stirring, until it is of the desired consistency. Season to taste. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MASHED POTATOES

6 to 8 potatoes
Milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Salt and pepper, to taste

Peel the potatoes and cut into quarters. Put the potatoes in a large saucepan and cover with water. Boil until soft. Drain the potatoes and place in a mixing bowl. Add a splash of milk, butter, salt and pepper. Whip with an electric mixer or mash by hand. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

APPLE SURPRISE

1 can apple pie filling
1 box yellow or white cake mix
1 stick (1/2 cup) butter or margarine

Pour the apple pie filling into a well-greased 8-inch or 9-inch square baking pan. Spread the dry cake mix evenly over the pie filling. Cut the stick of butter into thin pats and place the pats on the top of the cake mix. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until the top is golden brown and the mixture is bubbly around the edges.

I am planning several trips to visit the areas which receive this column. While out in the region, I would like to interview some of the area's best cooks to include in upcoming columns. Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

BERENICE---DAUGHTER OF KING HEROD!

THE ELDEST DAUGHTER OF HEROD AGRIPPA SEEMS TO HAVE DONE HER PART IN KEEPING ALIVE THE TRADITION OF VILLAINY FOR WHICH THE HEROD LINE WAS FAMOUS OR "INFAMOUS"! SHE WAS FIRST MARRIED TO MARCUS, SON OF ALEXANDRA THE HEAD MAGISTRATE OF THE JEWS IN ALEXANDRIA. AFTER AN EARLY DEATH OF "POOR" MARCUS SHE THEN HURRIEDLY MARRIED HER FATHER'S OWN BROTHER, HEROD CHALCIS, WHO SOON AFTERWARDS, ALSO DIED! THENCE, SHE WENT TO LIVE WITH HER BROTHER AGRIPPA AND THE SCANDAL THAT AROSE FROM THIS RELATIONSHIP EVEN THE HIGH-BORN BERENICE COULD NOT OVERCOME! SHE THEN TRIED TO ALLAY IT BY YET ANOTHER MARRIAGE, TO POLEMO, KING OF CILICIA. BUT SHE SOON BECAME TIRED OF HIM AND DESERTING HIM, RETURNED TO HER BROTHER AGRIPPA. HER CLAIM TO RECOGNITION IN THE BIBLE, CAME WHEN AGRIPPA HEARD ST. PAUL'S DEFENSE (ACTS 25:23-26) WITH BERENICE AT HIS SIDE. SHE WOUND UP HER CAREER, FIRST BECOMING THE MISTRESS OF VESPASIAN, AND THEN HIS SON TITUS--WHO, WHEN HE BECAME ROMAN EMPEROR, DISCARDED HER!

WOLVES CORRALED....In a dramatic tackle by #13 Jay Belcher and #99 Colby Carthel, two Dalhart Wolves were brought to their knees. The final score against Dalhart was Friona 35, Dalhart 15. (Photo by Chieftain Yearbook Staff.)

QUEENS ON PARADE---Miss Friona, Lana Fangman, and Friona's Little Miss, Breann Barnett, enjoyed riding in the Maize Days Parade last Saturday. See other pictures of the Maize Days events on page 7.

HOMECOMING WIN

Chieftains Scalp Wolves By 35-15

By the Chieftain Yearbook Staff

"They did great! I'm real proud of them!" said Homecoming Queen, Teresa Taylor of the Chieftains. It was the first time since 1987 that the Chiefs have pulled off a Homecoming victory, and they did it big: Friona 35, Dalhart 15.

Everyone did his job. The offense totaled 378 yards, and the defense allowed the Wolves 234 yards. "That was too much, but we'll do better next time," said Colby Carthel. According to head coach James Morton, "The offense completely dominated the game with running and throwing keyed by blocking by the offensive line."

In the first quarter, the Chiefs took an opening drive and went 78 yards. It was capped by a four-yard run by Juan Gamboa, which netted the first touchdown of the game. Cory Hamilton and Colby Carthel also had big catches.

The second touchdown of the game came when Juan Gamboa blocked a Dalhart punt and Chris Hanna picked it up and ran it in.

Dalhart scored in the second quarter, but the Chiefs roared back before the half. Luis Rodriguez stripped the ball from #12 James Harris and Blair Burney recovered it. Chris Hanna scored again just before the end of the second quarter.

The third quarter brought a key play to the game. After the Chiefs held Dalhart on offense, a penalty gave the ball back to Dalhart. The Wolves were moving the ball when Jimmy Arias made a big interception to change the momentum.

"The guy tipped the ball and I caught it. Then I guess he put his legs up because I flipped right over him!" said Arias.

Another touchdown by Chris Hanna made the score 28-7 at the end of the third quarter. "The blockers made it so easy!" said Hanna.

Dalhart scored one more time in the fourth quarter, and Friona answered with a late score to put the game out of reach for the Wolves. Chris Hanna flew in from 28 yards out for the final touchdown of the game.

Kit Preston was perfect on extra points, scoring five for the Chiefs. "I was pretty nervous on the first two. After that I knew I could do it," said Preston.

This recent win brings up a lot of questions for the Chiefs.

Why was the score so high? Luis Rodriguez said, "They just didn't make an effort." Teammate Jason Medrano added that the defensive players "Made a line surge on the Wolves and drove them off the ball."

And what happened to Wolf superstar #12 James Harris? Dale Perez simply states, "We shut him down. He gave up too easy." Jon Goddard said, "I don't guess he wanted it after we hit him."

What can we look for next week when Sanford-Fritch, a team that has not lost a game all season visits? Dale Perez knows it's going to be a "good, close ball game."

They run primarily a running offense and they have a big, mean tailback, Usiah Garcia. "It's gonna be smash-mouth football," answered Chris Hanna. According to Jon Goddard, "The real challenge will be not getting down."

It's true that Sanford-Fritch will present a real challenge for the up-and-coming Chieftains. But the Chiefs will walk into their stadium prepared to answer that challenge. Let's go for "three", hey fellas?

H'coming Win First Since 1987

Friona's 35-15 win over the Dalhart Wolves was the school's first Homecoming win since 1987, and was the school's first two-straight wins in quite some time.

Dalhart had been homecoming opponents in 1989 and 1991, and earlier in 1983. Friona's record against the Wolves in homecoming games is now 2-2.

Here are Friona's homecoming scores for the past 13 years:

"THANK YOU FRIONA," FOR YOUR SUPPORT DURING THE MAIZE DAYS CELEBRATION

The Friona Girl Scouts want to thank the many people who ate with them at the Maize Days celebration. We appreciate your standing in line and being so patient with us. We know that it was hot, and the line was long, but thanks for sticking with us! We will see you next year.

A special Thanks to all the parents and leaders who worked at the booths and helped build the float. There were too many to try and list here, but you know who you are: THANK YOU!

Your Support Is Appreciated!

Card Of Thanks

We want to express our appreciation to everyone for your prayers, for the kindness to us during the past few months.

Thank you so much!

Love,
John & Debra Baxter

SCENES FROM MAIZE DAYS '93

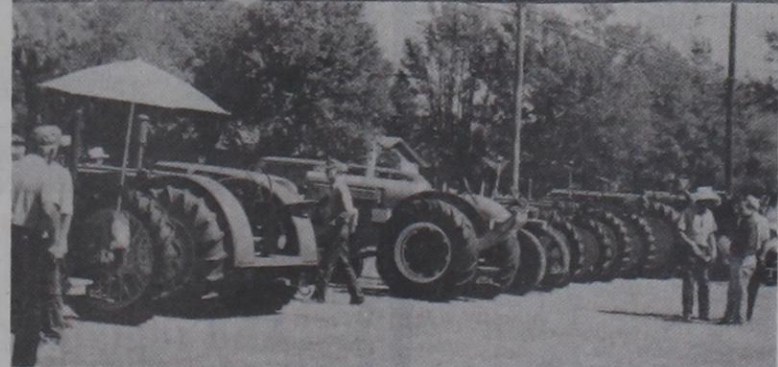

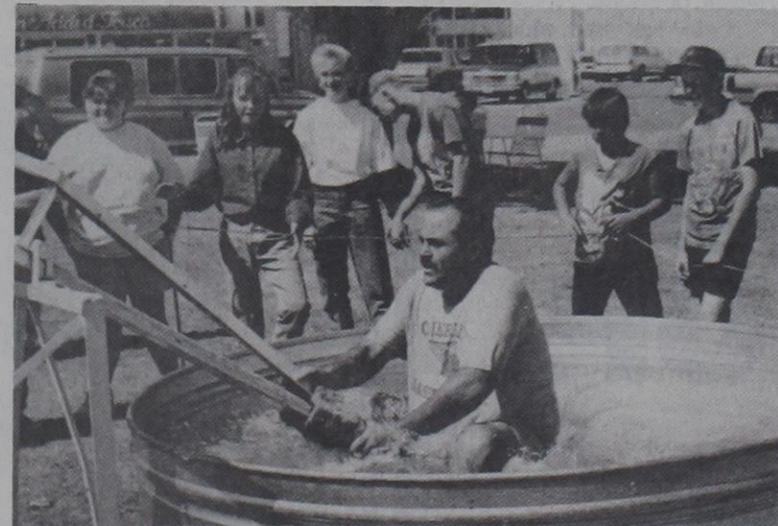

THE FLOATS WERE GREAT

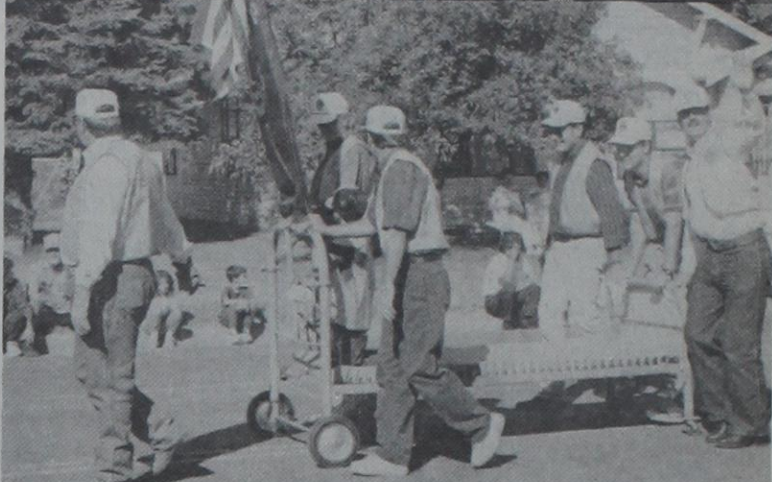

THE BAR-B-QUE---Colby Carthel and Cory Hamilton piled their plates high. Over 700 people were served barbeque, provided by D.L.'s Thriftway.

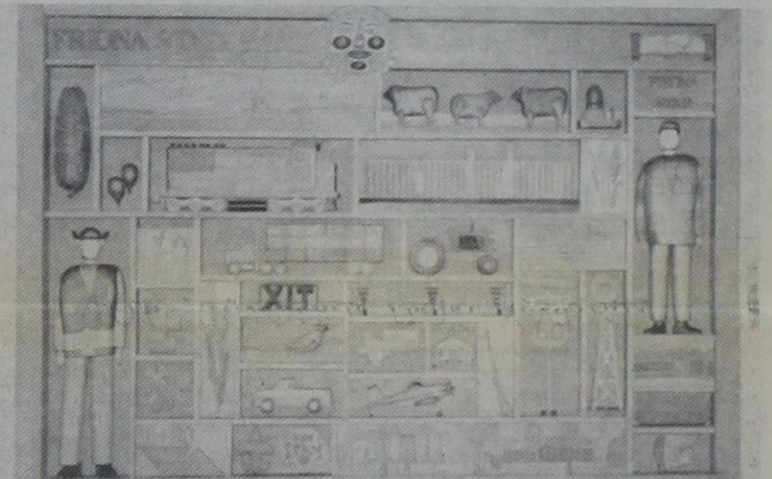

PRAIRIE ACRES OPEN HOUSE---Charles Allen and David Goddard visited at the Open House while Charles Turner provided background music.

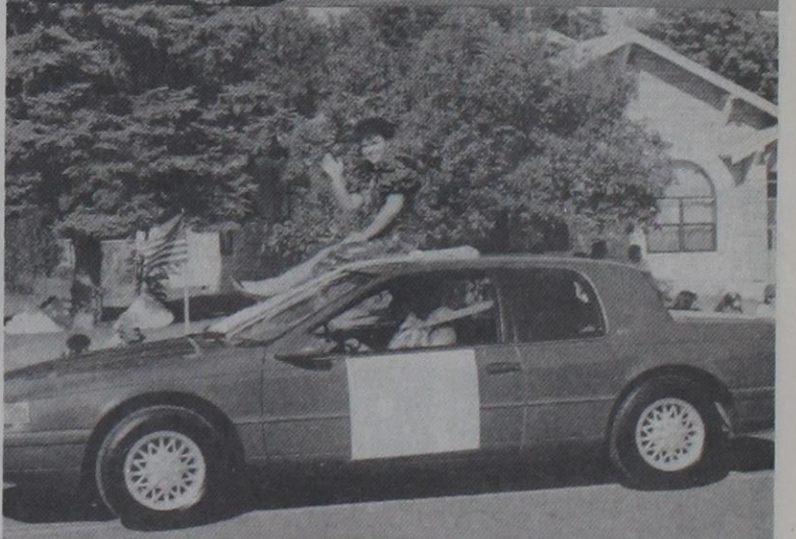

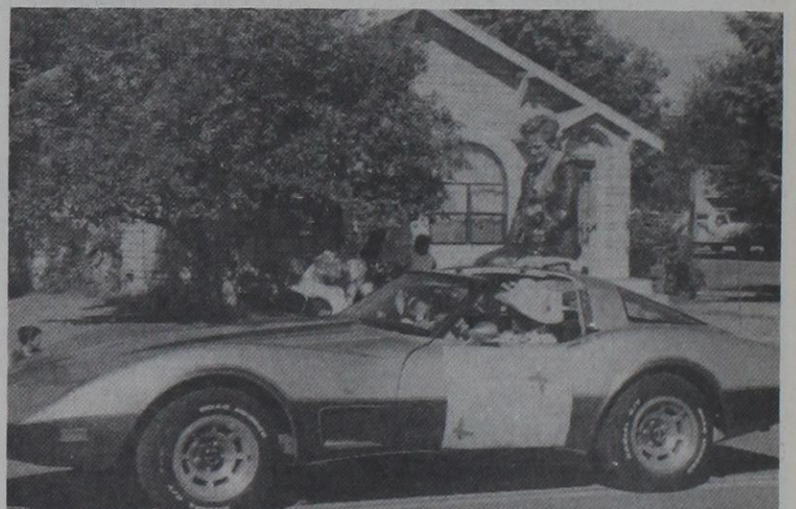

IN THE PARK--Coach Herbert got dunked and antique tractors were on display.

PARADE HIGHLIGHTS---The Annual Bed Race and the Unicycle Drill Team were crowd favorites.

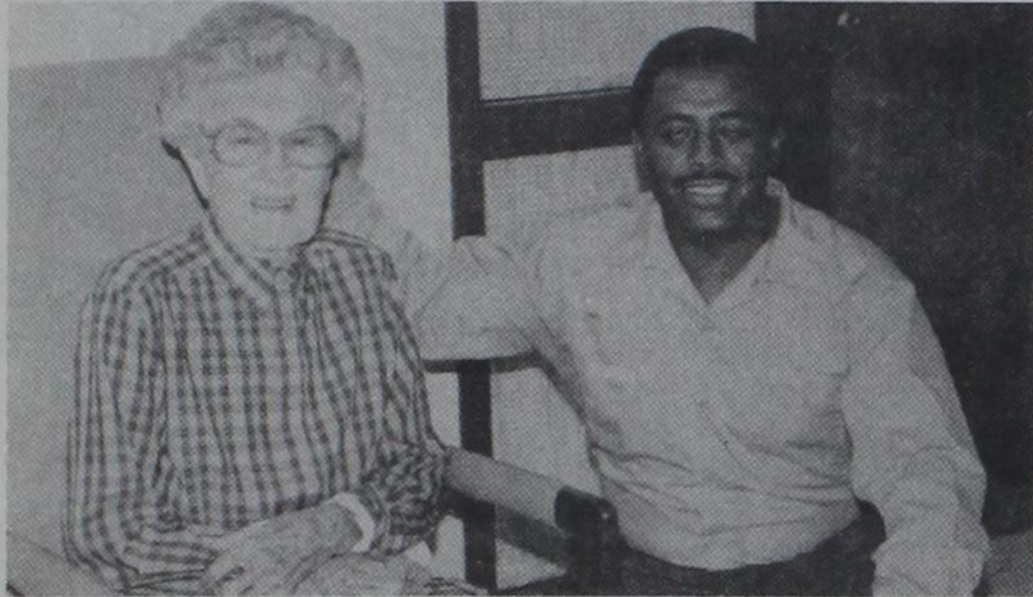

WOOD ART AT THE BANK---Friona State Bank unveiled an interesting collage carved from wood at their Open House. The work depicts business and agriculture around Friona and can be seen in the lobby of the Bank.

QUEEN CONTESTANTS RODE IN THE PARADE!

GRESHAM HONORED....Wendell Gresham, left, was presented a special certificate last Thursday by Jay Dufur, Lions' Zone Chairman. The certificate recognized Gresham for 26 years of securing and working with the Friona Lions Club's carnival project.

HONORED....Prairie Acres Nursing Home singled out Roger Graham (right) as its Employee of the Month, and Velma Hodges as Resident of the Month. Graham, who has served as maintenance foreman at P.A. since April of 1987, is leaving for a new position in Lamesa. Mrs. Hodges has been a resident since March 29 of this year.

Save Hot Water Cost Without Switching To Cold Showers

A water heater fueled by propane could save the average Texas family nearly $200 a year compared to the cost of heating water electrically, while at the same time, benefitting the environment and creating jobs in Texas.

That's the message of the Railroad Commission's new newspaper and radio advertising campaign that kicks off statewide this week. The campaign is part of the Commission's legislative mandate to educate Texans about propane's benefits as an environmentally beneficial alternative fuel.

Commission studies show the initial expense of installing a propane-fueled water heater is no higher than other types, but the return on investment is much faster. According to James E. (Jim) Nugent, chairman, fuel-cost savings recoup the initial purchase price in about two years. "That's about a 50% annual return on investment," Nugent said, "which is considerably more than you get at the bank." Assuming typical delivered costs of 82 cents per gallon for propane, savings over the ten-year life of the water heater could total more than $2,000, Nugent added.

Ex-Resident Is Buried In Midland

Funeral services for Virginia T. Campbell, 73, were conducted Thursday at the First Baptist Church Chapel in Midland, with Dr. James Denison and Dr. Jim Burgin, both of First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was at Resthaven Memorial Park, under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

Mrs. Campbell died Monday, September 27 at a Midland hospital.

She was born June 23, 1920 in Celeste, Texas. She was raised in Friona and graduated from Friona High School in 1938. She attended Howard-Payne College in Brownwood and Texas Tech University.

She married Clifford Campbell June 15, 1951, in Las Cruces, N.M. She operated a dry cleaning business while living in Colorado. The Campbell family lived in several towns prior to January of 1954, when they moved to Midland, where they have lived since.

She had worked in the accounting departments of several independent oil companies, and also did income tax work. Mrs. Campbell retired in 1982 due to declining health. She was a member of First Baptist Church of Midland, the Midland Woman's Club, Sagebrush Club, Eastern Star and Desk and Derrick Club.

Survivors include her husband, Clifford of the home; two daughters, Gail Rentschler of Atlanta, Georgia; and Charlotte DeAngelo of Newbury Park, California; one brother, Billy Turner of Friona, and one sister, Jeane Coker of Amarillo.

Two grandchildren, Scott DeAngelo and Julie DeAngelo of Newbury Park, California; and Eric Rentschler of Atlanta, Georgia, also survive, along with several nieces and nephews.

The family requests memorials be made to First Baptist Church of Midland.

Baby Born To Penas

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pena of Cotulla, Texas are the parents of a baby boy who was born Monday, August 9 at the Methodist Hospital in San Antonio.

Named Cole Daniel, the new arrival weighed 6 lbs. and 13 ounces and was 20 inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tongate of Friona.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Pena of Cotulla.

Great-grandmother is Naomi Tongate of Friona.

Cole has one older sister, Arianna who is 4 1/2 years old.

RECEIVE GEDs....Among the adults receiving their G.E.D. (high school equivalency) certificates recently were (l-r) Debbie Miller and Linda Rando. Shown is instructor Sheryl Weatherley. Others receiving their certificates were Patricia Lanier, Suann Escobedo and Luisa Rodrigues.

PAY LESS PER FILL UP.

Now you can fill the tub again and again without getting soaked. Because a propane water heater can save you $2,000 over the life of the heater. And a propane water heater pays for itself in about two years. It heats twice as much water as an electric water heater in the same period of time. And propane is better for the environment. So get more hot water for less cold cash. Switch to propane. For more information call 1-800-64-CLEAR.

D. Procter Takes Part In Exercise

Navy Seaman Darran W. Procter, son of Dewayne and Cheryl Procter of Friona, recently participated in exercise Ulchi Focus Lens aboard the amphibious command ship USS Blue Ridge, flagship for the U.S. Seventh Fleet, forward deployed to Yokosuka, Japan, while off the coast of South Korea.

USS Blue Ridge, the flagship for the U.S. Seventh Fleet, and its crew of 720 trained with more than 12,000 U.S. armed forces in this, the largest computer simulated military exercise in the world. The objective of the simulation was to allow military units to evaluate and improve the coordination, procedures, plans and communication systems necessary for combined and joint contingency operations in defense of the Republic of Korea.

Ulchi Focus Lens gave Procter the opportunity to visit Chinhae, South Korea.

The Navy and Marine Corps operate from the sea to project a positive American image, build foundations for international partnerships, strengthen diplomacy, reassure friends and demonstrate U.S. power and resolve. Naval forces are prepared to fight promptly and effectively, but they serve in an equally valuable way by operating day-to-day as peace-keepers. They are unique in offering this form of international cooperation.

The 1990 graduate of Friona High School, joined the Navy in January, 1993.

CLEAN-UP DAY...Friona Girl Scouts and helpers are shown at the clean-up day at the old Congregational Church. The church is being renovated and will house the Pioneer Heritage Chapel and Museum.

Girl Scouts Have Clean-Up Day

Saturday, September 18, the Friona Girl Scouts held a clean-up day at the old Congregational Church, the future home of the Pioneer Heritage Chapel and Museum.

The workers met at 7 a.m. to begin the clean-up project of trimming trees, cutting weeds and hauling off trash and worked until 1 p.m.

The Girl Scouts present for the clean-up were: Alicia Smith, Jennifer Stafford, Shonda Bentley, Nikki Elam, Jessica Lopez, Melodee Lamb, Erika Rivera, Wendy Garner, Elisha Aistrup, Crystal Tafoya, Dana Simmons, Tina Aragon, along with adults, Mike Lamb, Nancy Shrode, Rhonda Bentley, Tammy Richards, Laura Field, Reba Holt, Lori Stafford, David Stafford, Dawn Widner and Steve Shrode.

There were also Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts on the scene to lend a helping hand. These included Nick Shrode, Boy Scout; Roy Loya; Webelo; Jose Prieto, Webelo; Timothy Padron, Webelo; Nathan Shrode, Webelo; Sam Shrode, future Cub Scout; Nathan Nunley, Boy Scout; Anthony Nunley, Wolf Cub Scout; and Eric Rubio.

Glenna Holt furnished donuts, coffee and orange juice for the hard-working group.

"If you haven't noticed the church lately, next time you're by it, take time to give it a good look. You can see the windows now, and the grounds look much better. Good job girls! The Girl Scouts

GS Troop Has Kidnap Breakfast

Girl Scout Troop #146 was surprised with an early morning Kidnap Breakfast at the Dairy Queen on Saturday, September 11.

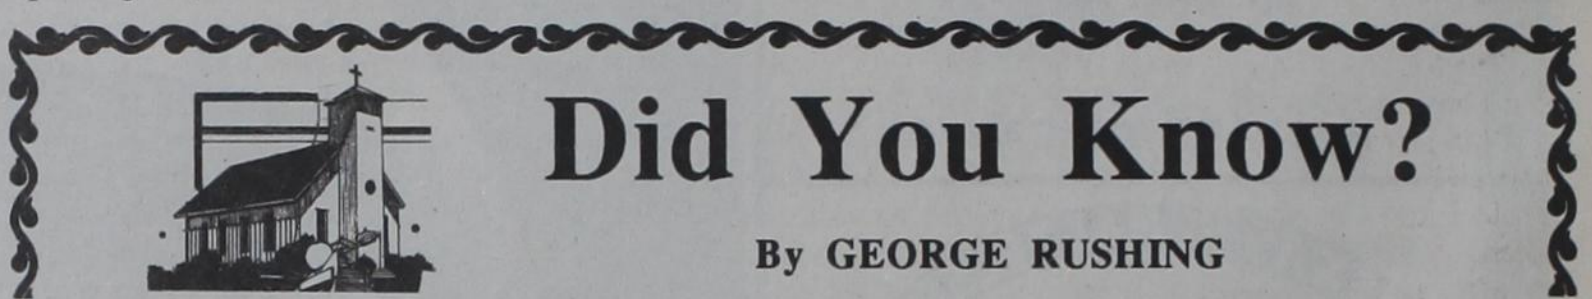

Leaders, Rhonda Bentley and Laura Field, began picking up the members of the troop at 6:30 a.m. and "kidnapping" them from their beds and still in pajamas for breakfast.

The breakfast was a re-registration party and the kick-off meeting for the Scouting year.

Girl Scouts attending were: Shonda Bentley, Katy Field, Jennifer Echevarria, Monica Santellana, Alice Allen, Christy Nava, Tina Aragon, Jessica Lopez, Jennifer Stafford, Christina Porter and Felicia Lafuente and special guest, Cara Evans.

ATTEND BREAKFAST...Members of Girl Scout Troop #146 are pictured here at a "kidnap" breakfast held recently at the local Dairy Queen.

Fanny Crosby was speaking before a group of down-and-out men at a crowded downtown mission. She had written many hymns that were sung in churches across the nation, but she enjoyed telling people in person about her Savior. Many of the men were alcoholics, unemployed, and without hope in the world. It was also not the place where the prim and proper of society were to be found.

On this night, as she began to speak, she sensed the Lord wanted something else. She waited on Him and then responded, "It seems there is a young man here tonight who has turned his back on the things of God and his parent's teaching. Would that young man please see me after the meeting tonight?"

She wondered what she would tell the man if he came forward. "Miss Crosby? I believe I'm the young man you mentioned." The voice was slurred as the man had been drinking.

"I have a feeling young man, that your mother is a Godly woman. You must love her." Fanny led him in prayer as they knelt together.

The young man stood and said, "Now I can meet my mother in heaven, for I have found her God."

That night Fanny rocked in the quiet and put together the words to another hymn. This one was not for the lost, telling them of Jesus, nor for the saved, telling them to wait for the promised hope. It was for all Christians, telling them to reach out to the lost.

"Rescue the Perishing"
"Rescue the perishing, care for the dying, Snatch them in pity from sin and the grave; Weep o'er the erring one, lift up the fallen, Tell them of Jesus the mighty to save."

Thirty-five years later, as she related the story to her audience, a man came forward to shake her hand. He said, "I am that boy. I'm the young man you talked about tonight." Fanny asked, "And is her God still your God?" "Oh yes," he said, "I love the Lord more than ever."

"But go and learn what this means, 'I desire compassion, and not sacrifice,' for I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners." Matthew 9:13.

"For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost." Luke 19:10.

Except for a difference in time and place and some of the circumstances, that young man could have been me. But Jesus came and brought me up out of the pit of destruction, out of the miry clay; He set my feet upon a rock, making my footsteps firm. And He put a new song in my mouth, a song of praise to our God. The Bible says Jesus came to call the sinners. It is man (me) who has gone astray, not God.

"Rescue the perishing, duty demands it! Strength for thy labour, the Lord will provide; Back to the narrow way patiently win them! Tell the poor wanderer a Savior has died."

Call 247-3681 With Your News Items

Every once in awhile when I'm in a group, someone will ask, "When are you going to write a book?" or "Why don't you write a book?"

After giving the idea considerable thought, I'm thinking about starting just such a project, but am in a quandary about the right way to go about it.

Perhaps some of our readers may be able to assist me in making the proper decision.

The question, which bugs me is, "Should I accurately report names and places or should these facts remain anonymous?"

The following is an example of what I have in mind.

Now, remember, this really happened recently to a couple of people I know as do most of our readers.

Mr. and Mrs. A., a farm couple, were in the process of doing some much needed repair to their home. One of the most needed things were new screens on the windows.

As they were drinking their first cups of coffee early one morning, Mrs. A. announced that she was going into a larger nearby town to do some shopping.

Mr. A.'s reply to her announcement was the question, "How would it be if I just worked around here for a few hours then loaded the window frames in the pickup and drove over to meet you for lunch?"

Then, he added, "After lunch we could go together to find a place where we could get them re-done."

That sounded like a workable idea to Mrs. A., so the couple made arrangements concerning time, place, etc. before going their separate ways.

Everything went as planned and they had a leisurely lunch at a place both of them enjoyed. After lunch, there was some discussion about proceeding further.

Mrs. A. had located a repair place in the Yellow Pages but neither of them was familiar with the location, which was in the warehouse area of town.

Finally, it was decided that Mrs. A. lead the way with her husband following. Again all went as planned until Mrs. A. spotted the place they were looking for. Immediately, she turned on her turning signal and checked her rear view mirror to see that he was right behind her.

"He's right there and there's no one coming from either direction, so we're in good shape."

As she started to execute a right hand turn, WHAM BANG BOWIE!!!! She heard a crash and felt a jolt at the same time.

After she realized what was happening, she immediately drove forward and on down the street without saying a word.

Before she had driven very far, a policeman caught up with her and signalled for her to stop.

As he approached her vehicle, she rolled the glass down and sat still waiting for him to start asking questions.

When he asked why she had driven away from the scene of a rear ending, she was at a loss for words.

His next words were, "That was his fault. Don't you want to file charges for insurance purposes?"

Of course, her answer was an emphatic "No!"

"Do you know him?" was his next question.

By that time, she had gained control of her emotions enough to smile and say, "Yes, he's my husband. He's a wonderful husband, good father and good provider, but he's sure a lousy driver."

The policeman's next question, "Is he angry?"

A polite negative answer ended the episode.

Now, what do you think? Would it be more interesting if you knew the names of the people and places?

Dimple is home again after an absence of about ten days. Her first stop was in Duncanville, Texas, where she spent some time visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Dub and Levada Bush.

Then, she and a friend, Helen Cotton, who also lives in Duncanville, drove down to Fredericksburg and spent a few days in that area.

These two also visited one of Dimple's nieces, Floy Smith Burnett, and her husband, Jerry. Other visitors in the Burnett home at the same time were Tony and Scotty Lombardie and daughter, Julia Ann, of Abilene and Lee Ann Burnett and daughter, Rebekah, who live in San Antonio.

Scotty and Lee Ann are the Burnetts' daughters.

Before Dimple returned home on Wednesday, she and Levada made a trip to the Mulberry-Van Buren, Arkansas area.

Four members of the 1935 graduating class of Friona High School, Martha Slagle Rutherford and Geraldine McFarland Taylor of Friona, Virginia Short Loflin of Canon City, Colorado, and Ann Terry Houlette of Dumas, were accompanied by Katherine Blackburn to Corpus Christi on Friday.

They met in Amarillo, then flew to the Texas coast for a class reunion. Kathrine's husband, the late John Blackburn, was also a member of the class.

Other Frionans attending were Forrest and Dottie Osborn. Forrest was also a member of the class.

The ladies flew back to Amarillo on Sunday and the Osborns returned early this week.

D.L. and Ruth Harguess returned home Monday after spending a long weekend in the Dallas area. They drove down and spent some time with their son-in-law and daughter, Steven and Tammy Smith, who moved from Amarillo to Coppell some time ago.

Then, the Harguesses met six other Frionans, Tommy and Kristi Carr, Clay and Tamela Bandy and Leon and Jeffie Talley, at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

This group then attended a "Save The American Family" seminar, which ended at noon Sunday.

The Carrs, Talleys and Bandys flew home on Sunday and D.L. and Ruth drove back on Monday.

Lloyd and Betty Louise Rector returned home early this week after an absence of about ten days. Their first stop was in Zapata, Texas, where they usually spend the winter months.

Enroute home, they came by Austin and spent several days visiting in the home of Roy Don and Sherri Jo Rector and children, Tara and Ty.

Betty Louise had a birthday while they were in the capital city, so Lloyd treated the group to dinner at Pancho's.

Then, they drove to Garland and visited in the home of Sheri and Ricky Keaton and daughters, Christi, D'Wann and Natasha.

Barry Procter observed his thirteenth birthday on Sunday. In the evening, he was honored with a family party in the home of his paternal grandparents, James and Sue Procter.

Others present were Barney and Jean Castleberry; Dewayne and Cheryl Procter and Darla; Ted, Glenda and Charlotte Procter; and Ron, Libby and Jeff Procter.

A special treat during the party was two long distance phone calls from cousins. Jenny Procter called from Oklahoma City and Darran Procter called from Japan.

Mike and Betty Greer of Baytown, Texas, returned to their home early this week after spending ten days visiting in the home of Alan, Leigh, Kely, Jordan and Caleb Ray Monroe.

The Greers came up especially to welcome the newest member of the Monroe family into the family circle. They are Leigh's parents.

After having been gone more than five years, Jeff Procter is calling Friona home again. He's a 1992 graduate of Lubbock Christian University and spent last year working on a master's degree.

However, he's decided to postpone that project awhile and get some experience in the work-a-day world. He's an employee of Hi-Pro Feeds and is working in the mill.

He reports, "My long range goal is to go into selling, but right now I have an opportunity to learn the business from the mill up, so I'm taking advantage of it."

He's the son of Ron and Libby Procter and is presently living at home again.

Nelda Bengé and her mother, Mildred May, were both in Taos, New Mexico last weekend. However, they did not make the trip together. Nelda drove up on Saturday and returned home Tuesday evening after visiting in the home of Kent and Amanda Miller and children, Lanette, Emile, Ross and Masy.

Mildred accompanied Doug and Sally Whatley of Amarillo and Ilene Osborn on a sightseeing trip and this group spent one night in Taos.

Kent and Amanda and the children and Amy Mason, Amanda's mother, who also lives in Taos, visited with them in the evening.

Mildred reported, "We had such an enjoyable time and the colors were spectacular."

This group returned to Friona, Sunday afternoon.

Linda and Owen Houston of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Gee, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Seale of Midland, Texas were weekend visitors in the home of his mother, Clara Seale.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Appel of Shattuck, Oklahoma recently observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a reception there.

Frionans attending were John, Lavon, R.J., Betty and Gertrude Renner. Mr. Appel is a first cousin of the late R.J. Renner, Sr.

Guanda and Raymond Cox, who live at Lafayette, Colorado were here last weekend. They visited Martha Russell, a resident of Prairie Acres and were overnight guests in the home of Lloyd and Betty Louise Rector.

Norma Lee Mayben of Houston and Mary Sue Coleman of Amarillo were Friday visitors in the home of their aunt, Katy Osborn.

The Faith Sunday School Class from Calvary Baptist Church traveled to Amarillo, Thursday, September 16. While there, they toured the American Quarterhorse Museum.

Following an interesting tour of the museum, the group had lunch at Shoney's Restaurant. The group spent their time visiting.

Those attending were Ruth Parsons, Eddie Mays, Pat Martin, Weltha Niebert, Deloris Bailey, Martha Hamilton, Ruby Hassenpflug and Joyce Veazey from Friona; Denise Hill, Myra Fithen and Casey from Amarillo.

Five Qualify For Program At Duke

Five students from Friona Junior High School have qualified for participation in this year's Talent Search for mathematically and verbally advanced students sponsored by Duke University's Talented Identification Program (TIP). The program identifies highly able seventh graders from a sixteen state region in the south, southwest and midwest.

To be eligible, students must have scored at the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement test. They will take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or ACT Assessment (ACT), normally taken only by college-bound juniors and seniors, in December, January or February.

Many of these students score as well as or better than the average college-bound senior on these measures. All participants receive Certificates of Merit and some become eligible for state-wide recognition ceremonies or a variety of educational programs.

TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options. The purposes of the program are to help academically bright students develop their special abilities, to assist schools in working with their brightest students, and to understand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability.

Students from Friona Junior High School eligible for the 1993-94 Talent search are: Clint Burney, son of Chick and Wanda Burney; James Evans, son of Brian and Linda Evans; Justin Grimsley, son of Jayson and Jyl Grimsley; Kayla McCoy, daughter of Bill and Page McCoy; and V'Lynda Wilcox, daughter of Terry and Varla Wilcox.

—YOUR EYES—

The Big "E"

To certain people who remember World War II, the big "E" was the U.S.S. Enterprise, but for most of us, the big "E" was the one on the top of the eye chart, followed by rows and rows of letters that got smaller and smaller.

Indeed, for some of us, the big "E" was the only one we could see clearly.

That famous old chart, the Snellen Chart, was designed more than 100 years ago to test the ability of school children to see the blackboard. It's still in use today in some places to test simple distance vision, but it doesn't really measure how well we see.

A complete professional eye examination does include checking visual acuity, but your optometrist goes on to examine the condition of your eyes and whether you are using them properly to see well. The retinoscope measures what lenses might be used to improve acuity. Precision instruments including the ophthalmoscope, slit lamp and tonometer are utilized to check for any signs of eye disease.

Understand Your Retirement Plan and Options

Everyone thinks about retirement, but only a select few plan for it. According to Walter Klores of Life Span Communications, a marketing firm specializing in the needs of older consumers, there are three personality groups when it comes to retirement planning.

Optimists think of retirement as a wonderful time to enjoy doing what they want. Pessimists think they'll never have enough money to retire. The rest are avoiders. Even if you are an optimist, Klores warns you can still run into trouble if you don't plan properly.

One of the first steps to providing for a secure retirement is to consider your sources of retirement income.

A company-sponsored retirement plan will be a major source of income for most retirees. For that reason, it is important to understand the type of plan you have and the benefits it offers. Some of the most common types of retirement plans include profit sharing plans, money purchase pension plans, 401(k)s, employee stock option plans (ESOPs) and 403(b)s. Check with your employee benefits manager or request a summary plan description to get the answers to the following important questions:

Can you make contributions to the plan?

Making pre-tax contributions decreases the amount of tax you pay on current income. Your contributions also grow tax-deferred. After-tax contributions don't reduce your current income, but the earnings do grow tax-deferred.

Is your employer required to make annual contributions?

Some retirement plans require your employer to make annual contributions, and some do not. If an employer contribution is not required, you may need to set aside additional dollars for your retirement.

What investment options are available?

Some plans allow you to choose how your contribution will be invested. If this is the case, you'll want to gather as much information as possible about each option so you can make the choice that best suits your needs and objectives.

What is the vesting schedule of your employer plan?

A vesting schedule tells you how long you must participate in a plan to be entitled to the full retirement benefit. This is particularly important if you are considering early retirement or switching jobs.

How will you receive your benefits?

Most plans offer a choice between a monthly pension or lump-sum payment. Request an estimate of your anticipated pension benefits. New rules regarding lump-sum distributions went into effect Jan. 1, 1993. Before requesting a lump-sum, ask your employer to provide details on the new rules.

If you are an optimist who looks forward to retirement, you owe it to yourself to become familiar with these retirement basics. Don't assume you know the rules. Seek the advice of a reliable professional before you make any major decisions regarding your retirement plans.

ONE LESS THING TO WORRY ABOUT.
