Stock Scales Purchased By Ranchmen

Meeting last Wednesday local ranchmen, a new set of scales was purchased for the stock yards. The ranchmen purchased shares in the scales which are large enough to weigh livestock at one time.

Scales arrived Thursday and will begin next week. The railroad will build sheep pens for handling the livestock and will build them to suit the requirements of the ranchmen.

There will be a bonded weigher to weigh all weights and keep records. The old scales had a capacity of only 50 head while the new scales will weigh 150 head.

GE EAST OF TORN DOWN OF WEEK

Bridge on Highway 90 east of town proper, has been damaged and torn away to make way for the bridge that is to be placed there.

The last of the four bridges to be built under the contract, with the three other bridges, will probably not be completed before November. Work is steadily being done on them.

Work will be started on the next few days for the bridge which will be lengthened and which will also be improved for pedestrians.

DALE VUELTA

Walter "G" Downie

Here we are back again. The Dale Vuelta will contain rodeo and livestock, and anything else that printing. So don't miss what appears in this issue. Our readers can get a great deal if they will buy any news, no matter how small, that will be of interest to the public. Many Sander's fifth rodeo is scheduled for July 5. So far as we know it does not interfere with any other West Texas rodeos of last year's season. Therefore we should have a good crowd in town for the rodeo. Let's planning and right now to give the rodeo money's worth in entertainment, and to make the rodeo a success from every standpoint.

The rodeos of the south-western part of Texas are organized. At San Antonio representatives of 21 West Texas rodeo associations met and formed the West Texas Rodeo Association. The purpose of the association is to promote the welfare of the southwestern part of Texas and to sponsor a cowboys' association.

At Texas shows, namely El Paso and Houston, belong to the Rodeo Association of America. It is about time that the rodeos of this section be organized. In Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, the M. T. Ramsey, of the Abilene Fair Rodeo, is president.

Shows include Pecos, Big Bend, Junction, Sweetwater, and others.

Turk Sanderson roped for second money in the roping event at the Big Bend rodeo last Friday. He was 15 2-5 seconds. Kenney of Del Rio was 13 3-5 seconds.

NEW MEXICAN SCHOOL BUILDING—

Above you see the picture of the new Mexican school building which has just been completed at a cost of approximately $45,000. The building is a modern four-room classroom with folding partitions so that it can be made into one large auditorium. Terrell county voted bonds to cover 55% of the building cost and a PWA grant covered the other 45% of the cost. J. S. Clements of San Angelo was the general contractor, and P. H. Fagen, engineer inspector for PWA, had charge of inspection.

Ranchmen's Annual Picnic Set for Thursday, July 6th

The Annual Ranchmen's Picnic which is held each year at the Hargrave's ranch is scheduled for Thursday, July 6.

Ranchmen from all over this part of the country gather once a year to enjoy the fellowship and especially the big barbecue dinner. The barbecue is furnished by E. W. Hargrave who also furnishes the bread to go with it. Visitors from the ranches bring a basket of "trimmings" to go with the barbecue and spend the whole day visiting and eating.

T. P. TRAINS ARE ROUTED OVER T. & N. O. ROAD

Because of flood waters which washed out the Texas Pacific Railway bridge at Colorado City, T. P. trains were routed over the T. & N. O. lines from Sierra Blanca to Fort Worth Tuesday and Wednesday. There were four freights and one passenger routed in this manner.

Beginning Thursday, the T. P. diverted all perishable and fast freight to be handled by T. & N. O. trains. Passengers of the T. P. were also handled by the local road.

Louis William Lemons, who has spent the past two years at Belleville, Ill., attending school, returned home last Saturday night. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lemons and his sister, Jo Ann met him in Del Rio.

Sellers as brothers. If we're not badly mistaken, they're father and son, with Earl the father and Jack the son.

The height of something or other is reared by the college boy from San Antonio who said that he "would like to go to West Point this fall if it wasn't for the military part of it."

Shorty Robertson and Charlie Turk are among the ropers at the Ozona rodeo this week-end.

Twenty-six cars of sheep have been billed out of Sanderson and Longfellow during the past week by C. J. Watts, agent.

Should Sanderson Be Incorporated?

(EDITORIAL)

With an order for an election to decide whether or not our town should be incorporated, in effect we feel that the majority of the citizens would like to be informed as to some of the advantages that can be derived from such a move.

It is generally known that Sanderson has no fire protection; that Sanderson has no paved streets although bids are asked for paving of seventeen blocks of streets on July 1; that we have no sanitation laws; that we have no building laws; that we have a very high insurance rate; and that we do not have ample water. These are just a few of the things that are needed in Sanderson for us to have a city that will compare with other small towns in this section of the country. And to obtain these benefits we must have a united front and be willing to pay for them.

With the incorporation of our town we would be provided with a means of financing and providing fire protection, and reduction of insurance rates which would result in savings that would go far toward paying administrative expense. Incorporation makes possible many types of civic improvements which cannot be financed in other ways. It makes the town eligible for types of federal financial aid and work projects that cannot otherwise be had. It gives a means of regulating utilities rates and practices; it provides additional control over undesirable types of business and amusement activities such as peddlers and cheap shows. It gives a town and its citizens the opportunity to own and operate such utilities as they feel can best be managed in that manner. Promotes health and sanitation, both through regulation and through services which the city can provide. It is a necessary step in sustained growth and progress of a town because of the improvements which it permits, and it gives a town a trading unit, a means of dealing and doing business as an organization.

The present fire protection is a deplorable thing. The insurance key rate is 95 cents on the hundred, which means that after your insurance base is figured then 95 cents per hundred is added to that. This key rate is built up in Sanderson in the following manner: no waterworks, 50 cents; no fire department, 30 cents; no building law, 8 cents; no fire marshal under city ordinance, 3 cents, and two or three items with a one or two cent charge which brings the rate to 95 cents.

In towns where they have no more advantages than Sanderson, the key rate is much less. In Sonora the key note is only 37 cents; in Fort Stockton, 38; in McCamey, 49; in Del Rio, 32; in Marfa, 47. This means that if the basic rate on a frame building is 60 cents on the hundred no matter where it is located, we would add 95 cents to that if it were in Sanderson, making a total of $1.55 a hundred. If it were in Sonora we would add 37 cents, making a total of 97 cents on the hundred. This example shows a saving in key rate alone of 58 cents on the hundred. That means a saving of $5.80 on a thousand or $58.00 on 10 thousand. That amount would go a long way toward offsetting the taxes paid.

The main objection that we hear to incorporation is that it will increase the taxes. That is true. There never was nor never will be a time when we can get something for nothing. If we want protection from fire we must pay for it, but how much better to pay for something with which we can save what we have, rather than pay a high rate for insurance that will only pay you three-fourths of the value of that lost no matter how much insurance you carry. How much better to pay for a fire department than to pay for a fire which, perhaps, cost several times the amount required to maintain the fire department. How much better to pay for a sanitation department than to lose the lives of our loved ones because of no way to prevent or control sanitary conditions.

The people of the entire proposed city limits who are qualified are entitled to vote on the question of incorporation, but only property owners can vote on whether or not bonds will be issued to cause an increase in taxes. The law limits the tax rate in a city, and unless that city votes to issue bonds on itself, the tax cannot be increased. In other words, the voters of the town who own the property can add more taxes if they want to build a park; to buy fire-fighting equipment, or to do anything else they like provided a majority of them feel it is a worthy cause.

Think this thing over, and if you have objections other than the one mentioned above, these columns are free to you to tell the people about them. If you know of benefits of which we have failed to mention, we will be glad to give you room to discuss them here. But whatever you do, don't make up your mind until you have studied the matter from all angles.

"Im From Missouri" Swell Burns Picture

They've decked out Bob Burns in a top hat, white tie and tails and set him up against the British nobility in his new picture, "Im From Missouri," which opens at the Princess Theatre. But whether in full dress or good old fashioned overalls, the sage of Van Buren is still a match for the best of 'em, and comes out winner in this heart-winning story of the adventures of a rough-hewn Missouri mule dealer abroad.

The trend started by Burns in his recent "The Arkansas Traveler," which marked his change from musical comedy to the portrayal of native Yankee characters, is continued and even carried to a higher level in "Im From Missouri." In this good-natured and down-to-earth story the popular humorist plays a Missouri mule magnate out to save his friends from bankruptcy. He's also the tolerant and devoted husband of a social climbing wife, and the man who straightens out the love affair of a confused young couple.

"Im From Missouri" charts the adventures of Burns, the leading citizen of a small Western community, from the moment he determines to do something of a British army order mechanizing the mule corps. When he leaves for London, to take care of the matter in person, his wife, played by Gladys George, goes along to fish in the waters of British society.

Setting Burns down right in the middle of the Mayfair "409" gives him the perfect opportunity to display his dry, homespun wit, his heart-winning devotion to the sincere things in life and, in the climax, his Yankee ability to strike a good bargain. Miss George, in one of her rare comedy roles gives an excellent account of herself as the typical American woman, dead set on crashing society.

The contrast between Burns' effort to close his deal in a hurry and get back to Missouri and Miss George's frantic efforts to scale the social ladder provide hilarious situations against the background of London. Among them are Burns' introduction of his pampered mule into a Turkish bath, his feud with a manufacturer of farm machinery, his efforts to elude a beautiful society girl who has set her cap for him and, finally, the grand ball given by Miss George for "the 400." Just at the moment when Burns' ignorance of etiquette threatens to turn the party into a fiasco, the night is saved by the unexpected arrival of an old friend.

For "Im From Missouri" an important supporting cast has been selected. In addition to Miss George, it includes Gene Lockhart, as the machinery magnate, George P. Huntley, as a British diplomat in love with Burns' lovely young sister-in-law, Patricia Morison, Paramount's newest star "find," plays the society woman whose attentions to Burns give Miss George many an anxious moment during the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haley and Misses Ruth Murrah and Ethel Laura Nance were visitors to Monahans Thursday of last week. They returned Hollis Haley here after he had been there several weeks connected with the highway department.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Murrah and son J. R. spent from Friday to Sunday in Sanderson visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Tol Murrah.

"Four Girls in White" Showing at Princess Monday-Tuesday

Drama, romance, thrills, chills and comedy are expertly blended to make "Four Girls in White," which opens Monday and Tuesday at the Princess Theatre, one of the most satisfyingly entertaining pictures of the year.

Featuring Florence Rice, Una Merkel, Ann Rutherford and Mary Howard in the title roles, and Alan Marshal in the male lead, the picture comes as a worthy successor and companion play to "Men in White" and the more recent "Young Dr. Kildare," glorifying the nursing profession as those two dramas glorified the medical calling.

"Four Girls in White" deals with a group of young women who enter training to become nurses for four varied reasons. Specifically, it deals with Norma Page, played by Florence Rice, whose only purpose in becoming a nurse is that she believes it offers a chance for marriage to a wealthy doctor or patient. Her scheming results in the death of one of her fellow nurses and she is shunned by the others until the dreaded "disaster call," following a train wreck, gives her a chance not only to win back the respect of the girls but also the heart of a young doctor, enacted by Alan Marshal.

One of the most spectacular train wreck sequences ever filmed forms the background for the climax of the picture. "Four Girls in White" is based on an original story by Nathalie Bucknall and Endre Bohem. The screen play is by Dorothy Yost. S. Sylvan Simon directed and has achieved his most outstanding picture.

Health Doctor Urges Vaccination For Typhoid Fever

If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the past two to three years, go to your family physician and have him give you the three "shots" that will protect you against that disease.

This advice comes from the Texas State Health Department, and addressed particularly to those persons planning vacations away from home or those who regularly go on camping, fishing or such trips.

Typhoid is contracted by way of the mouth. Each case comes directly or indirectly from some previous case. You eat or drink the germs that cause the disease, in food, water or milk contaminated by the discharges from persons who are ill with the disease or who have had it at some time.

Modern medical and public health practices have greatly reduced the occurrence of typhoid, but it is still a menace to those unprotected against the disease. Protection of public water supplies from pollution, pasteurizing of milk, inspection and supervision of food supplies, improvement in household sanitation and hygienic habits, better sewage disposal and careful investigation of typhoid outbreaks to determine the source of the disease are measures which have contributed to the diminution of the incidence of typhoid in Texas. But there are still sources of infection to which individuals are exposed that cannot be reached by public measures, and for which vaccination affords additional protection.

Persons who are apparently well, but who have had the disease at some time, may continue to discharge the typhoid germs. Such persons are known as "carriers" and if they are not careful in their personal habits they are liable to contaminate any food they touch. Flies carry germs from contaminated sources to food, and are another source of typhoid infection.

Health departments, state, city and county are waging constant warfare against typhoid all the year. Special efforts are made during the vacation period through the sanitary supervision of summer camps, parks and public eating places to reduce any possible danger of vacation typhoid from such sources. But the only means to personal safety against the disease. So see your physician today for a vaccination and summer unmarred by typhoid.

Intestinal Disorders Result From Foods Being Unwholesome

"It is a matter of vital importance, particularly during the warm season that sanitary measures be applied to prevent the contamination of perishable foods," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Various intestinal disorders result from food which has in some way been rendered unwholesome. Diarrhea, colic or "summer complaint", affecting young and old, is a serious type of stomach and bowel condition. So called "ptomaine poisoning", in nearly all cases, is none other than a food infection due to the presence in food of harmful bacteria or germs.

Perishable food, if contaminated, endangers human health. This hazard is greater in warm weather because germs or their products multiply or develop more rapidly at high temperatures. Some of the most valuable foods are of perishable nature. Such foods demand the exercise of safeguards. Among well known precautions which need to be used if perishable foods are to be kept wholesome, are the following:

1. Some form of modern refrigeration or cooling is necessary to preserve food from day to day. Lack of effective cooling process causes meat to spoil and milk to contain a dangerously large number of bacteria.
2. Resort to thorough cooking or boiling is the simplest and yet most useful method of preventing illness of food-borne character. This precaution applies especially to food prepared for infants or children.
3. Contamination of perishable food is avoided through the constant exercise of cleanliness on the part of those who handle the food.
4. Pastries and other food products make a far greater appeal to the consumer or patron if there is an entire absence of flies. Adequate provision for screens and application of every known means of fly and insect extermination are worthwhile.

COLD MEAT PLATTER FOR SUMMER

For the hostess who wishes to entertain a larger group of friends than her dining room can comfortably accomodate, the fashion of serving buffet meals solves the problem.

Remember that the appetites of the guests must be satisfied, says Inez S. Willson, home economist.

It is decorative. See to it that the menu is well balanced. Have all the little "extras" you desire, but also serve the food that will really satisfy as well as tempt.

A platter of assorted cold meats and one hot dish, such as a creamed vegetable, will serve as a good basis for your buffet meal.

Remember that the appetites of the guests must be satisfied, says Inez S. Willson, home economist.

buttered bread so that the guests may make sandwiches if they wish.

Slices of cold meat and meat loaf, cooked at home, may be used, along with an assortment of ready-cooked meats and various sausage slices.

TEXAS HIGHWAY SYSTEM ISSUES NEW ROAD MAP

Julian Montgomery, State Highway engineer, announced that the Spring Edition of the 1939 Official Map of the Texas Highway System was issued.

New features include the designation of National Forests in light green, reproduction of colored photographs of the Main Building of the University of Texas and a scene in a citrus grove in the Rio Grande Valley to make up the frontpiece, reproduction of a colored photograph of a forest fire to serve as a warning and to help prevent forest fires, and a list of all State Highway Patrol Stations with their locations and telephone numbers.

The back of the map has been arranged in artistic form and is printed in two colors. Photographs of the various activities, industries, recreational spots, maritime shipping, and bridges are arranged in symmetric form to present a composite representative picture of Texas as a whole.

As an aid in the use of the map a system of indicating mileage has been used which shows the distance between larger cities or more important points in accumulated figures and printed in red, while the mileage between towns is shown in black. This map is free to the public and copies may be obtained by addressing the Texas Highway Department in Austin or any District office of the Department.

TEXAS COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES HAVE SAFETY COURSES

Austin—Ten Texas colleges and universities—more than ever before—are including traffic safety courses in their curriculum this summer, a state police survey showed today.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., state police head, commended the schools for an important contribution to traffic education.

"Most of those taking the courses are teachers themselves—a happy fact that solves one of the problems of getting safety education into more schools. In the past it has been hard to find teachers already trained in safety work," he said.

Most of the safety education courses offered this summer embrace first aid, general safety, including safety in the home, and traffic safety. At the University of Texas, where safety education now is being offered for the first time, John Lawther, assistant professor of physical education at Pennsylvania State College is teaching the traffic safety phase and Dr. R. M. Muirhead of the American Red Cross is giving instruction in first aid.

Other schools offering such instructions are:

Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos; East Texas State Teachers at Commerce; Sam Houston State Teachers at Huntsville; Southern Methodist University; Texas Tech; West Texas State Teachers at Canyon; Texas A. & M.; North Texas State Teachers at Denton and Stephen F. Austin State Teachers at Nacogdoches.

The Sanderson Longhorns were defeated by a score of 6-2 at Fort Davis Sunday by the team from that town.

The Longhorns go to Del Rio Sunday afternoon to meet the Del Rio Merchants' team. The game is scheduled to start at 3:00.

DOROTHY ADERHOLD WEDS STILLMAN LONG SATURDAY

Miss Dorothy Aderhold became the bride of Stillman Long in an impressive double ring ceremony Saturday at 6:30 a. m. in the First Methodist Church. Rev. H. M. Ratliff, pastor of the church, read the marriage lines.

The bride wore a frock of rose sheer with pleated skirt, lace blouse and brief bolero. Her accessories were white and she wore a shoulder bouquet of pink carnations.

She entered the church with the groom as Miss Josephine Forman played the wedding march. Miss Forman offered as the prenuptial solo At Dawning and during the ceremony she played I Love You Truly.

White shasta daisies and large green ferns formed the bridal decorations for the ceremony. Shasta daisies were arranged in the floor stands on either side of the altar while fern and the daisies decorated the choir rail.

Following the ceremony J. P. Aderhold, father of the bride, and Mrs. Dan Abbey, her sister, honored the couple at a wedding breakfast in Mr. Aderhold's home at 700 Avenue C.

Members of the families, relatives and a few close friends attended the breakfast. They were received by Mrs. Jno. Y. Long, mother of the groom. J. P. Aderhold, Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Long and Mrs. Dan Abbey.

Mrs. Jno. Y. Long was attired in rose pink crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was of lavender asters. Mrs. Abbey wore a navy blue aplaca suit and her corsage was of pink asters.

A profusion of flowers was used in decorating the home for the breakfast. In the living room, a low basket of peach toned gladioli adorned the mantel while rainbow asters were arranged on a table and a bowl of white gladioli and Easter lilies was placed on the radio.

The breakfast table was laid in an exquisite hand-crocheted cloth, the work of the groom's mother, and was centered with a double ring white wedding cake embossed with sugarspun flowers in pastel tones. After the bride cut the first slice, Mrs. Jno. Harrison, of Dryden, sister of the groom served the cake.

Rainbow asters were placed on the buffet.

Those assisting in the serving included Misses Lois Nell Whitehead and Josephine Forman. Mesdames E. D. Palmer of San Benito, Roebuck Daughtrey and J. S. McWhorter.

After the breakfast the couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico and possibly Colorado.

Mrs. Long was reared in Del Rio and attended the local schools. She was graduated from the Del Rio High School in 1931, later attending Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos. A registered nurse, Mrs. Long took her training at the Methodist Hospital in Fort Worth.

Mr. Long, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Y. Long, was also reared in Del Rio and was graduated from the local high school. He took training at Randolph Field and secured a transport pilot's license. He is employed in the water department of the City of Del Rio. Del Rio Evening News

300,000 Jobless Compensation Claims Paid in District

More than 130,000 jobless benefit claims have been disapproved during the seventeen months of unemployment compensation, Orville S. Carpenter, chairman-director of Texas Commission, said today.

"Although we have approved 300,000 and paid out more than fourteen and a quarter million dollars, the reasons are significant why individuals filing 130,000 claims could not receive benefits", the Director commented.

District Supervisor Jack Lundy today explained why there have been disapprovals in the twelve counties of El Paso district:

1. Some claimants were not able to work. To receive jobless benefits claimants must be physically able to work and must have registered with the employment service. Unemployed workers must be available to take suitable job.

2. Other claims were disapproved because claimants had not worked for covered employers. Benefits go only to those whose former employers have paid taxes on them. Generally employers of eight or more men are subject to the tax, which insures their workers.

3. Also some claims were disapproved because the jobless workers had not earned enough money from their tax-paying former employers. During a set 12-month period a claimant must have earned at least $80. For a claim filed in June, the 12-months considered are those ending in with December, 1938. Whether or not a claimant is eligible depends upon his prior earnings from tax-paying employers.

District Supervisor Jack Lundy pointed out that employees do not pay any part of the jobless benefits tax in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbens of Uvalde was here Saturday and Sunday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. George Nunn and Mr. Nunn.

Mrs. Helen Downie and sons, Edward and Jack and Mrs. Downie's mother, Mrs. Walter Gregory, arrived at the Downie ranch last week after spending the school term in San Antonio.

Wildlife Notes

The new duck stamp to be issued on July 1 for the year 1939-1940, sixth in a series chosen each year from the board of a well known artist, will be from a drawing by Lynn Bogue Hunt, the U. S. Biological Survey has announced. The subject chosen for the Federal stamp is a male and female green-winged teal standing at a marsh edge. In the background five teal are descending for a landing. The Federal duck stamp will be available at all first and second class post offices. Every migratory bird hunter must have one of these attached to his State hunting license. The duck stamp series was inaugurated in 1934 and has become familiar to all migratory bird hunters philatelists and conservationists throughout the country. Nearly twice the size of a special delivery stamp, it costs $1 and must be purchased by all hunters over the age of sixteen.

The money realized from duck stamps is used by the U.S. Bureau of Biological Survey to supplement other funds for the purchase and maintenance of water fowl refuges throughout the country. According to word received by the Texas Game Department, it is likely that three new refuges will be established on the coast within the next few months. In 1934-35, the first year of issuance, 635,000 stamps were sold. Last year the total was 783,000 and already in the current year more than 900,000 stamps have been purchased by hunters, bird lovers and stamp collectors throughout the country. Since 1935 more than a $3,000,000 has been obtained through the sale of these stamps.

Are you a baseball addict, a football fan, a follower of skeet or a bug on stamps? If so you are not numbered among the leaders in the pursuit of hobbies. However, if you are a hunter or fisherman you are in the class leading them all.

A recent investigation conducted by the Ross Federal investigators in Indianapolis and Bostch, two representative cities showed that 15.1% of the men queried as to their favorite hobby were followers of Ike Walton or tramped the fields and woods with the old blunderbuss on their arm.

Golf was the second leading hobby, polling 13.9. When it is considered there were fifty favorite hobbies listed by the nearly 2,000 men queried in the poll the percentage of hunters and fishermen appears amazing.

The poll is consistent with one taken a few years ago by the Southern Newspapers Publishers' Association in which more than 3,000,000 readers of southern newspapers were queried. It was found that hunting and fishing led all the others.

A large buck which ranges in Comal County must depend upon shrubs and small trees for all its sustenance. The deer, it is reported by Game Warden W. F. Sumbling, has an antler grown downward and it is long enough that cannot get its mouth within ten inches of the ground to graze on the short grasses. However, he isn't so badoff because 75 per cent of deer food is obtained from trees and shrubs.
