Italian Masterpiece At Fair

This work of Andre del Sarto, one of the Italian Old Masters on display in the Palace of Fine Arts at the California World's Fair, is the "Virgin and Child with Infant St. John." Thousands upon thousands will view the famous paintings and sculptures on Treasure Island, where they will remain until the Exposition closes.

an ropers from Rankin, won first both days in the team tying event and finished first in the finals.

Dee Harrison and Andy Bode of Del Rio were also among the heavy money winners.

Sue Savage, girl roper in the Terrell County Boys event got a big hand when she caught her calf on the second loop in Saturday's contest and "quit" her horse like a rodeo veteran.

David Duke was by far the most outstanding feature of the parade, dressed like a woman, and riding a burro with pants, shirt, belt, etc. on. It must have been a big job to dress the animal.

Evert "Bab" Townsend and family were in town from their Fort Stockton ranch for the rodeo.

Frank Jones of the Fort Davis section, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert West from Marfa were among the rodeo visitors. Mr. West is an ex-sheriff of Bexar county and is now a ranchman near Marfa.

Homer Adams of San Antonio, who formerly lived in this section, was here during the rodeo.

More interest should be shown in the parade that is held each year in connection with the rodeo. Maybe a contest for the most typical or best dressed cowboy and cowgirl would help out next year.

The programs that were printed for Friday's show added a great deal to the rodeo. They helped spectators to know what was going on and simplified the keeping of time in the roping events.

The big crowds of both local and out-of-town people at the rodeo dances showed that what West Texans really want at a dance is good music. Many people who were not interested in the rodeo came to Sanderson just to hear Mack Rogers and his orchestra. The only thing that was lacking was a cool open-air platform instead of the hot, crowded hall.

Matched for a three-calf roping at the end of Saturday's show were Edward Downie and Hicks Canon, winners of first

GOOD RAINS BOON TO RANCHMEN; TELEPHONES OUT

Good rains which covered most of this section and stopped traffic over Highway 90 for several hours, started falling Sunday and continued Monday and Tuesday, with the heaviest fall Monday night.

With a total of 2.34 inches of precipitation in Sanderson, a bout 2 inches at Dryden, and the fall somewhere near that mark over most of the rest of this section, traffic was stopped over Highway 90 in both directions Tuesday night. The fall was lighter in the northern part of the county according to reports here, but ranchers in all sections state that great benefit to the ranges have resulted.

During the electrical storm Monday afternoon a bolt of lightning struck a telephone cable near the Sanderson Drug Co., putting practically every telephone out on ranches out of order and many of the business telephones in town. It also struck a neon sign belonging to the Sanderson Drug Co. at the same time, putting the sign out.

Highway workers worked until 2 o'clock Wednesday morning pulling cars across the high water near Sanderson where it was too deep to cross because of detours made necessary by the building of the new large bridge which will span Sanderson Canyon when completed. Traffic was well under way again Wednesday and telephone service has been resumed.

Birth Certificates Should Be Obtained for School Children

Parents of children starting to school for the first time this Fall are urged by the State Department of Health to make sure they have a birth registration certificate regarding their child and if not, to take the proper legal steps as soon as possible to obtain this record.

Parents who do not have registration certificate of the birth of their child are advised to contact their local registrar of vital statistics with whom the certificate was originally filed.

In many Texas school districts, a notification of birth certificate is required to prove the child is old enough to enter school. As the Vital Statistics Department will be called upon to answer numerous requests for school certificates, securing this record early will speed up the process of securing the needed forms before school opens.

Acquiring a record of birth is not only an important task of getting the child ready for school but is an essential item in the larger job of preparing the child for the future. The time will be here when he will need a record of his birth. Proper registration now will prevent difficulty in his later life.

In addition to its importance at the time of admission to school, birth registration may be necessary for obtaining a work permit, an automobile driver's permit, the right to vote and the right to marry; for proof of parentage, inheritance of property, settlement of insurance and establishment of identity.

DAUGHTER TO HENRY'S

R. L. Henry of Del Rio arrived Monday and is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackweider. He reports that his son, Andrew F. Henry, has advised of a new granddaughter which arrived July 17 at Portsmouth, Va., Navy Yard hospital. The little Miss weighed six and three-quarter pounds at the time of birth, and mother and baby were doing well at the last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lemons of Lubbock spent the week-end here visiting relatives. They were accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. Luella Lemons.

Dryden Rodeo Plans Nearing Completion With Stock Secured

Mack Rogers to Furnish Music For Rodeo Dance

Plans for the Dryden Rodeo, big free barbecue and dance are nearing completion, according to Joe Chandler and Roger Rose, rodeo directors.

Announcement was made this week that a contract had been made with Mack Rogers and his orchestra from the Gunter Hotel of San Antonio to furnish the music for the big dance at the Dryden airport which will climax the day of events. This orchestra is well known here, having furnished the music for the two big Sanderson rodeo dances Friday and Saturday nights of last week.

Advertising matter is being distributed to all neighboring towns this week, and the livestock to be used in the roping matches is on hand. The wild goat milking will be one of the feature events on the program with a cowboy doing the roping and a cowgirl doing the milking. Another feature will be the saddle horse races. Only local saddle horses will be allowed in the races, as the show is strictly amateur. No professional performers will be eligible for entry in the contests.

An event which should attract much local attention as announced by the directors is a matched calf roping contest between Sanderson and Dryden, with Jim Nance and Carl Cochran representing Sanderson and Charlie Gregory and Bert Beckert representing Dryden. Other matched ropings will also probably be arranged.

The big free barbecue will be held at noon with the rodeo events scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock. Events for the afternoon besides the wild goat milking and horse races will be calf roping, goat roping and possibly steer breakaway, although this event is not definitely arranged for. The dance is to start at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. S. S. Daggett Hostess to Bridge Party Wednesday

Mrs. S. S. Daggett was hostess at a bridge party in the home of Mrs. Mary Lou Kellar Wednesday afternoon. Bouquets of roses, zennias, dahlias and queen's wreath were used in decorating.

Mrs. Walter Grigsby was winner of high score prize, Mrs. D. A. Pollard won second high score prize and Mrs. Helen Downie was awarded high cut prize.

The hostess served a salad plate to the following guests: Mesdames Max Bogusch, J. C. Green, A. E. Creigh Jr., Clyde Griffith, R. D. Holt, W. H. Savage, John Reininger, Steve Stumberg, Tol Murrah, R. S. Wilkinson, Austin Nance, Jim Nance, Mary Lou Kellar, Walter Grigsby, J. C. Kern, C. M. Breeding, Denny Sullivan, D. A. Pollard, B. F. Pyle and D. M. Wells. Tea guests were Mrs. Helen Downie, Mrs. Walter Gregory and Mrs. Cherry Craig.

348,000 LBS. TRANSFORMERS SHIPPED VIA SANDERSON

The Texas and New Orleans railroad handled four carloads of transformers and three carloads of transformer parts through Sanderson Tuesday. The shipment was made from Sharon, Pa., and was en route to Los Angeles, Calif.

The loads of transformers weighed 348,000 pounds, the largest known shipment handled through here at a cost of approximately $22,900.

Murray Hill is in Tuscon, Ariz. where he has entered a hospital there.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND SANDERSON'S ANNUAL SHOW

By Dale Vuelta
Big crowds, good purses, and a fast, snappy course of events were the features of Sanderson's Fifth Annual Rodeo held last Friday and Saturday at the American Legion Park.

Time in the roping events were not as fast as they have been in previous years, mainly due to the fast-running, hard-kicking livestock used. The Brahma calves and Mexico steers that were used in the show gave the ropers in the various events plenty of competition for their prize money; and the brons which were ridden in exhibitions proved to be hard to sit.

Son Turner, arena director, and Shorty Robertson, promoter, kept the events moving in the arena. Paul Patterson announced the show, and Bill Stavley was arena secretary. Clarence Jesup and Francis Mansfield acted as time keepers. Tip Frazier, Charlie Turk, and Jim Espy were judges for the various events.

The arena was sprinkled each day in an effort to keep down the dust.

There was some delay caused on the second day by the steers.

Gonzalez Found Not Guilty On Assault Charge

Euliojo Gonzalez, charged with assault with intent to murder, was found not guilty Monday evening in Sixty-third District Court with Judge Brian Montague presiding on the bench. After testimony established the fact that both parties had weapons capable of producing death or serious bodily harm Judge Montague instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

Gonzalez was charged with assault with intent to murder in an indictment returned a week earlier by the Terrell County grand jury. This was the only indictment returned.

The case of R. R. Baker, who is charged with swindling was continued by operation of law, and the case of Frances Rodgers Stegall et al vs. Levi Garrett Turner et al, was settled out of court by agreement of all attorneys for plaintiffs and defendants. Four delinquent tax suits were disposed of Tuesday and several divorce suits will come before the court next week.

ABILENE MINISTER TO FILL BAPTIST PULPIT SUNDAY

Announcement has been made here that Rev. Douglas Crow, of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, will preach from the Baptist church pulpit Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Crow comes here in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Taft Hollaway, who is engaged in a revival meeting at Fort Hancock.

Mrs. M. L. Kellar Entertains The Tuesday Club

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Mary Lou Kellar entertained the Tuesday Bridge Club in her home. The rooms were beautifully decorated with dahlias, zennias and queen's wreath.

The high score prize was won by Mrs. Austin Nance and second high score prize went to Mrs. S. S. Daggett.

A salad plate was served to the following: Mesdames R. D. Holt, S. S. Daggett, W. A. Nunn, Denny Sullivan, D. M. Wells, W. H. Savage, Austin Nance, D. A. Pollard, Jim Nance, Walter Grigsby, J. C. Kern, and C. M. Breeding.

Prince Dishman Jr. of Bryan is here this week visiting with relatives and friends.

which, having learned the significance of entering the chute, at times refused to go into it. The delay was soon straightened out however, with the help of several of the contestants.

A shower during the afternoon of the second day interrupted the last section of the calf roping event, but was soon over and the show continued on a slick and treacherous arena.

Large crowds were in attendance at the rodeo dances held each night in the CAC Hall, with many out-of-town people present who came to enjoy the music of Mack Rogers and his orchestra.

The rodeo parade held on Friday morning was smaller than it has been in several years, and appeared to create little interest among the townspeople.

Rodeo programs issued on the first day added to the show and helped spectators to keep track of the various events and contestants.

A matched calf roping contest on Friday between Jack Sellers of Del and Waldon Poage of Stiles, was won by Sellers.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Phil Goodrum, director of research and education for the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, will be one of the principal speakers at the regional meeting of Boy Scouts of America which will be held near Marathon in the Big Bend August 15. In addition to addressing the Scout meeting, Goodrum will confer with a number of state Boy Scout officials concerning the organization's wildlife program. He will also confer with Dr. Lee Fisher of Alpine, regional game manager for the department, concerning Pittman-Robertson projects proposed for West Texas.

A ten inch bass and a three foot perch may be alive today in Panhandle streams because Ted Houghton, a ranch owner on the plains, prevented the pair from dying and at the same time kept the bass from making a meal of the perch.

Mr. Houghton, while fishing, saw a bass floating stomach up on a stream, but paid little attention to it, believing the bass dead however, he saw the same bass an hour later and it was attempting to swim. Investigating more closely, Mr. Houghton saw that the bass, in attempting to swallow the perch, had got it crossed in his mouth. The sportsman extracted the smaller fish, released both and each swam away.

The recent regular session of the Legislature passed 94 new game and fish laws, but sportsmen of extreme West Texas towns won't have to be walking libraries when they go hunting or fishing for only two of the many local laws enacted apply to that section of the state, the Game Department announced.

Recently discovered in the extensive University of Texas archives was a document, lost more than two centuries ago, which granted in the name of King Phillip V of Spain title of Spanish nobility to 400 descendants of the original settling families of San Antonio.

One of the most important of the general laws gives the Colliard Peccary, or Javalina, the status of a game animal. Javalinas may not be killed now except during an open season of from November 16 to December 31, both dates inclusive, and the bag limit is two per season. Sale of javalinas or their hides, except those imported from other states or from Mexico is forbidden.

Other general laws include those placing the starling on the unprotected list; forbidding, in the interest of safety, fishing from bridges maintained by the State Highway Department, and requiring that out-of-state trappers purchase licenses costing $200 each before engaging in trapping in Texas.

By allotting the 4-H Club of the Catrina High School and the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission the use for a period of two years of several hundred acres of land in the Catrina Farms Co. of Dimmit County Texas has provided students the "working tools" with which to help restore the game of the state and to also learn the practical side of game management. The procedure is a new departure in Texas and is being watched by game officials throughout the state.

The large tract of land is to be utilized by the 4-H Club members as a school demonstration area for bobwhite quail demonstration project and has been designated a wildlife sanctuary for birds and animals. Students will assist in providing suitable habitat for several species of wildlife and will also plant crops suitable for providing feed. The practical knowledge derived from the project by the 4-H Club boys is expected to result in increased conservation and game throughout Dimmit County.

Arrangements for the working agreement, believed to be the first of its kind in the Southwest, were made by H. A. Dillon, manager of Catrina Farms; C. D. Landolt, superintendent of Catrina high and Herbert Ward, state game warden.

Winners of the three prizes in the contest will be the boys who can identify the largest number of birds and animals who can name the best food for the various species of wildlife in that section of the state, who name the game laws of Texas and who know the relative values of all game.

Having determined to their satisfaction that the armadillo does very little damage to quail nests and eats practically no eggs, if any, experts of the game department have been concentrated upon a study of the food habits of the roadrunner, that long-tailed bird so familiar to South and West Texas.

Examination of the contents of stomachs of roadrunners show that there was no evidence of quail or their eggs being eaten. On the other hand, it has been definitely proved that 85.6 of all foods of the roadrunners is insects. Reptiles, most of which were lizards, totaled 6 per cent. Vegetable matter composed 2 per cent and birds made up 64, they including cactus wren sparrow and meadowlark.

That the roadrunner deserves protection for its aid in destroying insects has been ascertained. The greatest good these birds do lie in the number of grasshoppers they eat. 62 per cent of the entire stomach contents consisted of grasshoppers. Other insects included many noxious and poisonous insects.

BETTE DAVIS SCORES DRAMATIC TRIUMPH IN "DARK VICTORY"

Bette Davis and George Brent head the cast of "Dark Victory," the brilliant romantic drama which comes to the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

If there really was any doubt, after "Jezebel" and "The Sisters," as to just who is the greatest actress on the screen today, there can certainly be no more argument on the matter after everyone has seen—and they will—Bette Davis in her latest Warner Bros. picture, "Dark Victory," which comes to the Princess theatre, Wednesday and Thursday.

The new film is fully worthy of the talents of its lustrous star. It tells a love story of transcendent beauty and deeply moving poignantly and it provides a central character upon whose portrayal Miss Davis can lavish every resource of her consummate art. Of course, while every happening in the picture revolves about the girl—played by Miss Davis, the production is by no means a monologue for her. An exceptionally able supporting cast, numbering in it such luminaries as George Brent, Humphrey Bogart, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Henry Travers and Warner Bros., and the superlative to have inspired them all to attain a degree of ensemble excellence which has rarely before been achieved either on stage or screen.

In this screen play, based by Casey Robinson on a stage play by George Emerson Brewer, Jr., and Bertram Bloch, Miss Davis is presented as a 1939 model of all that is best in American girls: good breeding and great wealth. She is the gay popular belle of a hard-riding and hard drinking set of "horsey" society folk, but she is decent, unselfish and altogether likeable. Her only fault is that her life has been an aimless pursuit of pleasure.

Then love and accompanying tragedy come into her life and change her into a mature woman, whose courage conquers life itself. The role, as can be seen from this brief summation, ranges across the whole field of human emotions. And Miss Davis is equally facile and convincing in the depiction of every emotion from the most light-hearted whimsicality to the utterest and darkest despair. But above and beyond this pyrotechnical display of sheer acting skill, she imbues her performance with a deep sincerity which makes it impossible to resist her. Impossible to remain cold to her.

As the young surgeon, Brent has a role of rare sympathy and charm, and he plays it with an honesty and a restrained intensity that makes the romantic passage between him and Miss Davis scenes long to be remembered. Bogart has a role altogether unlike any he has ever done on the screen before and he fairly revels in it. He is the Irish horse trainer employed by the ill-fated heiress, and he is a vigorous, earthy fellow, crude, disturbingly frank and even insulting at times, but with a sentimental heart that makes him dare to love above his station.

One of the most interesting features of the production is that it marks the American screen debut of Geraldine Fitzgerald. This Irish lass, who obtained her training at the Gate Theatre in Dublin and then made a sensational New York stage debut in "Heartbreak House" last year, is obviously being prepared by Warner Bros. for stardom soon, and in a role that is second in importance only to that of Miss Davis in "Dark Victory," she demonstrates that the opinion of her employers is more than justified.

Travers is an appealing figure as the family physician of the stricken heiress, young Reagar is charming as an irresponsible society youth whose only important feeling about anything is his deep affection for the heroine. Lesser roles are expertly handled by Cora Witherspoon, Dorothy Peterson, Virginia Brissac, Charles Richman and Herbert Rawlinson.

Easy to Remove Stains If Immediate Attention Is Given

Summer stains from the fruits and beverages, auto grease and rust or mildew require immediate attention if they are to be removed. Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service specialist in clothing, advises.

It's best to begin work on removing spots immediately she says, for old stains which have been "set" by improper treatment are frequently hard to remove. She says that cold water should be used first because it does no harm and may do wonders for it sets no stains, endangers no dye, and a water spot may be cleaned out.

In removing a fruit stain coffee or tea, stretch the stained part over a pan and then pour boiling water on it from a height so that the water will strike the stain with force.

Many stain removers had best be purchased compounded, but a number can be made at home. Among some are Javelle water, oxalic acid and potassium permanganate. In making Javelle water dissolve one pound of sal soda or pearl ash in one quart of boiling water, and dissolve one-half pound of chloride of lime in two quarts of boiling water. Strain both liquids and combine when cool. Bottle and keep in a cool dark place. When applying a chemical, use a medicine dropper, she advises.

For automobile grease, or tar, use kerosene then wash the article in soap and water. Clothing affected by mildew should be soaked in lemon juice or vinegar and salt then placed in the sunshine. In removing iron rust use any of the following: Lemon juice, salt and sunshine; Javelle water, or commercial iron rust eradicator.

Raft-Ellen Drew Film Brings Many Race Track Thrills

The thrilling drive of thoroughbreds through the stretch, the roar of crowds urging them on, the love story of a gambler and a thoroughbred lady of the Blue Grass country, and the quaint antics of two of the screen's foremost comedians combine to make "The Lady's From Kentucky" one of the best romantic dramas of the season. Co-starring George Raft and Ellen Drew, and featuring Hugh Herbert and ZaSu Pitts, the picture coming to the Princess theatre.

Fast-paced right from the start the picture opens with a series of shots which show how George Raft tries to make his way in the world by gambling—helped more or less by his sidekick Hugh Herbert. He gets a new stake by giving a blood transfusion, and then starts one series of gambling maneuvers which lead him to the ownership of a betting establishment. Trained in the ways of taking money away from the suckers, the gambler is soon prosperous.

His prosperity holds until the day when all the bettors have their money riding on the right horse. The horse wins—and George pays off. Broke, he goes through his few remaining assets, trying to find a way out. The way out turns out to be a race horse named Roman Son. George finds that he had accepted a half-ownership in the horse as payment for a debt.

George and his pal make their way to Kentucky, and find that the other half-owner is Ellen Drew a Southern girl who has inherited her father's stables. At first George wants to sell his half ownership, but when Roman Son demonstrates his calibre by winning his first race, George changes his mind. He decides to find out all there is to know about race horses. Ellen Drew is amused but patient, and George seems willing. Hugh Herbert is distressed at having to get up at half-past five, but consoles himself with the thought of seeing ZaSu Pitts, a Southern belle to whom he has been introduced by Ellen.

The story reaches a turning point when George decides to race Roman Son in a big race against the wishes of Ellen Drew. A real thoroughbred, Roman Son fights his heart out to win the race, and almost winds up his racing career because the distance was too great for a young-

Half of the clutch of twenty quail eggs which was tumbled out of a nest on the Elm Creek Watershed project of the U. S. Conservation service eighteen miles from Temple were saved recently and in the process one of the men employed on the project got the surprise of his life.

L. S. Summers, engineer on the project, noticed the clutch of eggs when the nest was destroyed by a terrace machine. A Miller, who lives on a farm nearby and who works on the project, gathered up all the eggs. He put them in a lunch box and on the way home that evening he heard chirping in the box. Investigating, he found two of the eggs had hatched and 6 of them were pipped. Upon arriving home, he put the entire clutch of eggs under a setting hen. The six eggs which had pipped in the lunch box and two more hatched making a total of ten quail saved. At the last account, the birds were all doing nicely.

and third places, respectively, in the boys calf roping on Friday. The purse was $17.00. The match was called off because of the rain.

The willingness of many of the rodeo contestants to help when trouble arose in the chute should be praised. Several times, when the steers refused to enter the chute the ropers risked their necks to get down into the pens and help iron out the difficulty.

Noticeable in the program of this year's rodeo was the absence of bronc and steer riding from the list of events. These events add much to a rodeo, and should be included in every rodeo program.

1940 RANGE PROGRAM OUTLINED

Spokesmen for livestock producers of Texas, who went to a national conference in South Dakota and helped draw up the AAA range program for 1940, came home last week with feathers in their caps.

Out of the conference came two recommendations with a special bearing on Texas; one, that pasture mowing be added to the list of conservation practices drawing payment under the program and the other, that the rate of assistance for furrowing of range land on the contour be sizeably increased.

An avowed tribute to West Texas ranchmen who have popularized improved run-off control techniques, the furrowing recommendation would set the payment rate for that practice at 2 cents a hundred linear feet, instead of 50 cents per acre.

Mowing of pastures to kill no-account woods and brush, an operation found to be of particular benefit to grazing areas of South and East Texas, should earn 25 cents an acre, the conferees decided.

Both moves had been recommended earlier by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee, which had five representatives at the meeting.

Report of the conference, which called for no fundamental alterations in the range program but did provide for higher allowance of funds for deferring grazing, was expected to gain the ready approval of Secretary Wallace, whose signature is needed to put the recommendations into effect.

As usual, participating ranchmen next year will receive range-building allowances, to be earned by a wide variety of conservation practices. No practice was dropped from the list. Deferred grazing, which now qualifies for 60 percent of a ranch's range-building allowance where supplementary practices are recommended and carried out, will qualify for 75 percent of the allowance next year. The separating process is thus simplified so that the coarser surplus hay is easily removed by hand. Fanning is then effective in the removal of the smaller trash particles. Neither the floating process nor the fanning need be done if the seed are to be planted by the collector.

Lawn Mower Is Used in Harvesting Buffalo Grass Seed

Temple—Buffalo grass seed were harvested successfully at the Temple Station this season during the last week in June, at the rate of about one pound per man hour cleaned unhusked weight. A lawn mower was prepared for the job by removing the cutter bar, taking off the roller attaching an ordinary grass catcher, and placing a shield on top of the mower and up the handle to deflect the scattering seed into the catcher.

This economical method of collecting Buffalo grass seed will make possible the seeding of pastures to this grass, that has not been practicable because of the difficulty in securing the seed supply.

Majority Texas Criminals Under 25 Years of Age

The greatest single age group in the Texas crime world is made up of young people under 25 years of age, state police noted today from a six-month survey based on fingerprint cards received by the division of identification and records.

Of 16,079 persons charged of various offenses ranging from murder to vagrancy, 38.6 per cent of the male offenders were under 25 years and 48.2 per cent of the female offenders were under 25 years of age.

Because it is the policy of some agencies not to fingerprint juveniles, the percentage of youthful offenders were probably understated, state police pointed out, but nevertheless more than 17 per cent of the boys and 18 per cent of the girls were under 20.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., state police director, pointed to the fact that the percentage of young offenders is virtually "fixed"—that is, it does not vary impressively from one six-month period to another.

"It's illuminating, though scarcely reassuring, to follow the progress-in-crime of these age groups. The youngsters under 20 are most likely to steal automobiles. Those under 25 are still mostly engrossed with crimes against property, but by the time they are edged toward 30 they are being arrested for such crimes against persons as rape, murder, robbery and aggravated assault."

under 20. Slightly more than 25 per cent of car thieves are between the ages of 20 and 24, and thereafter the percentage drops as age increases until it dwindles off almost entirely past the middle age.

Burglary shows the same trend although not so decidedly. Percentages for this offense range from 39 per cent for boys under 20 to 24.2 per cent for young men between 20 and 24 and then down as the age increases.

Although more than 22 per cent of the offenders arrested for robbery are youngsters under 20, the percentage grows to more than 25 per cent for the next age-group of 20 to 24, is still at more than 20 per cent for young men between 25 and 29, and declines only to 14.3 per cent for men between 30 and 34. In other words, it becomes a career, Col. Garrison observed.

Murder grows in percentage from slightly more than 10 per cent for the youngsters under 20 and 24 years of age, 20.6 per cent for those in their early 20s, 14.7 for men between 35 and 40.

Both drunkenness and while intoxicated are offenses with high percentages in groups between 25 and 40.

Among female offenders, titution claims more than 20 per cent under 20 years of age, cent between 20 and 24, cent between 25 and 29, per cent between 30 and 34.

The largest per cent of forgers are those between 30 years of age. The large percentage of petty thieves are men in the same age group.
