Dry Cleaners Blasted by Fire Friday Morning

Second consecutive Saturday morning fire broke out and destroyed the savings of residents. The fire broke out in a building owned by W. E. (Bill) Stavley. The fire was just a week later than the one that destroyed the building at 110 West 1st street. Mr. Stavley reported the fire started just before 7 o'clock and was thought to have started from an electric switch or from a heater in operation. The fire broke out in the cleaning room and soon spread over the main floor. A bucket of naphtha was used to try to stop the fire. The fire was extinguished by firefighters from a regular garden hose. There was no insurance on the building. The equipment was damaged and the building was repaired and repainted. Stavley states that he is open for business within a few days.

TO ORGANIZE ROPING CLUB HERE SATURDAY

A meeting is called for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the courthouse in Sanderson for the purpose of organizing a Poor Boys' Roping Club, according to cards mailed to interested parties by Sid Harkins. Mr. Harkins stated that if anyone interested in such an organization should fail to receive a card they were not to feel that they would not be welcome at the meeting, but simply that they had been overlooked in the rush to get the cards out in time. Then, too, he says, he doesn't know all the ropers in the surrounding territory. The organization is to be a no-profit organization for the purpose of getting the ropers together and having a lot of fun. Plans call for goats to be purchased by the club with fees paid in for such purpose, and for leasing or buying an appropriate ground for the purpose.

CHINA TRAFFIC RULES DESCRIBED

R. A. Peterson, with the U. S. Navy recruiting office in El Paso, says that he received a letter from a buddy in China with the following interesting statements concerning automobile traffic: "At the rise of the hand of a policeman, stop rapidly. Do not pass him by or otherwise disrespect him. When a passer of the foot hove in sight, tootle the horn trumpet at them, melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with vigor and express by the word of mouth the warning, 'Hi! Hi!' Beware of the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explode the exhaust box at him. Go soothingly by, or stop by the roadside till he pass away. Give big space to the festive dog that makes sport in the roadway. Avoid entanglement of dog with wheel spokes. Go soothingly on the grease mud as there lurk the skid demon. Press the brake of the foot as you roll the corners round to save the coilapse and tie-up." Mr. Peterson states that automobiles are few in that part of the world, and that if traffic rules were as stringent in America we would still be in the High Wheel era.

Mr. Howe was enroute to Del Rio and had pulled out to go around the car driven by Hernandez when it cut out directly in front of him. The cars were so close, and the Hernandez car turned so quickly that Howe was unable to either stop or avoid hitting the Model T. The impact carried the lighter car down the road several yards, scattering the family of Hernandez about. Although none were seriously injured, they received scratches and bruises. Both cars were brought back to Sanderson, badly damaged, although Mr. Howe was able to continue to Del Rio after a few minor repairs had been made.

Tea Given at Goldwire Ranch For Recent Bride

One of the most delightful social events of the late summer was the tea given by Mrs. Henry Calhoun Goldwire in her home, the Alambre de Oro Ranch, on Saturday, September the second, from three-thirty until five-thirty, honoring Mrs. William Harvey Goldwire, who was before her marriage last month, Miss Mary Louise Price, daughter of Mrs. Marvin Price of San Antonio. The beauty of the spacious living room of the Goldwire home was further enhanced by bouquets of roses, pink regina corona, snow-on-the-mountain, and painted daisies. The mantle was banked with ferns. The guests upon arrival were received by Mrs. Goldwire and the honoree. Indirect Taxes In Clothing Bill Produce $7,839,970

Brownsville—Indirect taxes buried in the cost of clothing sold in Texas apparel stores last year produced an estimated $7,839,970 for local, state and national governments, the National Consumers Tax Commission reported today. "This tremendous burden of hidden taxes was paid by shoppers as unseen parts of their apparel purchases," Mrs. Melville Muckleston, president of the NCTC, stated in the report. "These are taxes against producers, manufacture, shippers, and distributors which, of necessity, must be passed along to the consumer. Studies at our Chicago headquarters show hidden taxes take nearly 10 per cent of clothing costs." Mrs. Muckleston, leader in the commission's nation-wide program to "arouse tax consciousness and to oppose consumer-penalizing taxes," pointed out the taxes refer to clothing sales in apparel stores only and do not include clothing sales in department and general stores. The study was made public through Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, national committee member, who leads NCTC study groups in nearly 879 Texas communities. Groups in approximately 5,200 cities and towns throughout the country are active in the tax education program. The clothing tax figure was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 apparel store sales in the state at $82,526,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC pointed out.

Excavation of Meteor Crater Started At Odessa

Odessa—Evacuation of one of the nation's largest known meteor craters, eight miles south-west of here, was started last week by a crew of 20 men under joint supervision of The University of Texas and WPA. Measuring 600 feet from rim to rim, the Ector County crater is known to be exceeded in size only by the famed mile-wide Canyon Diablo pit in Arizona, Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University's Bureau of Economic Geology and in general charge of evacuation, said. It was Dr. Sellards who first announced in 1927 that the largely filled-in Odessa crater was actually caused by an "iron" meteorite, which appears to have smashed into the earth "thousands of years ago." Dr. Sellards said evacuation was being pushed to study the effects on the earth under the impact of a large meteor. The Canyon Diablo crater has never been completely evacuated, he said. The bureau director added that he was unable, as yet, to estimate the actual size of the original meteor—other than it was "quite large"—or whether evacuation would yield any of its projectile imbedded deep under the ground. "It may easily have exploded at impact," he explained. We have already found and examined several fragments." In accord with University-WPA plans to make the evacuation accessible to the public for its educational value, Ector County officials are constructing a two-mile road from U. S. Highway 80 to the crater's edge. Dr. Sellards said. "IN NEW HOME" Mr. and Mrs. John Reininger are now located in their new modern home in the northeastern part of Sanderson. The home has five rooms and bath, and is com letely modern in all conveniences. Miss Maxine Clatfeiter left Friday night for Las Cruces, N. M., where she will enter New Mexico A. and M.

He also states that the company will handle feeds and ranch supplies and invites the ranchmen of this section to visit him at any and all times for any service that he might render. Mr. Williams announced the sale of 40,000 pounds of eight months wool Saturday to Jack Allison, representative for Monroe, Kincaid and Edgehill, Boston, at 23 1/2c per pound. The program opened with the high school band rendering several numbers after which Superintendent R. D. Holt introduced the teachers. He also discussed the twelve grade system which has been installed in the schools, explaining that it would not affect the students who have already attended one year, but was added at the beginning of the lower grades. Talks were also made by Coach Duane E. Smith, Paul Patterson, Judge R. S. Wilkinson and R. N. Allen. Potatoes Not Fattening Says Food Specialist

An Irish potato, bugaboo of persons trying to lose weight, is no more fattening than a large apple, yet it provides the diet with valuable vitamins and minerals at low cost.

Nora Ellen Elliot, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, the authority for this statement, also says many persons throw away dollars in health value because they peel potatoes instead of using the whole potato. Potatoes baked or boiled in their skins save money and health, since the part of greatest health value is nearest the skin, she explains.

Moisture absorbed during the cooking is the primary cause of soggy potatoes. Steamed potatoes, the specialist says, absorb less moisture than boiled ones, therefore are healthier, though not as mealy as baked potatoes. Mature potatoes are recommended for baking purposes.

Food specialists consider potatoes the first vegetable to buy when a low cost health food is to be bought, and they advise serving this economical food at least once a day.

A carburetorless-car may be the handwork of one University of Texas student engineer. He has devised a "mechanical injector" which will outlast and out-perform the ordinary carburetor, he believes.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

The Game Department today took steps on two fronts to combat deadly salinity in the upper Laguna Madre along the Texas Gulf Coast, which last year destroyed millions of fish in what is considered one of the greatest spawning grounds in the world. Advice reaching the Department indicate fish by the thousands are again dying in the lagoon.

A. E. Wood, chairman of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission, today issued orders for the earliest possible dredging of an artificial pass through Padre Island at Murdock's Landing to allow Gulf waters to freshen the lagoon waters, and also announced that bids had been received on a project to construct a bulkhead at Corpus Christi pass recently reopened by the Commission's coastal dredge.

The dredging of the Murdock Landing Pass, long advocated by coastal sportsmen and others interested in the protection of marine life, will be made possible by enactment of a law, sponsored by the Commission, which gives the Game Department the right to condemn lands for construction of passes leading from one body of tidal water to another. While fish were being destroyed wholesale in the lagoon last year, Wood explained, the Commission was powerless, to dredge the Murdock Landing pass because it could not secure the necessary easements on the required land. Some coastal sportsmen at that time even discussed the feasibility of dynamiting a channel through the island to save the fish.

Enactment of a recent law, will be made subject to the defendants right to redeem the said property by complying with the provisions of law in such cases made and provided.

Wood said gave the Commission a free hand to remedy a situation that long has been the concern of Texans living on the coast.

The Commission's dredge which recently completed the Corpus Christi pass and thus in some measure relief to the Laguna Madre situation, was thereafter moved to Cedar Bayou, where a channel three miles long is now being opened. Wood today said the dredge would move to Murdock Landing location and begin work as soon as possible. Earlier action toward the dredging at Murdock Landing was impossible because the commission first had to institute and complete condemnation proceedings. Meanwhile the dredge was ordered into action at Cedar Bayou because of a popular demand.

Wood said the Department and interested citizens of Corpus Christi would co-operate in the bulkhead project at Corpus Christi pass. It would cost $7,500, of which the Department will contribute $5,000. Corpus Christi citizens had agreed to furnish the remainder. Wood said a contract for the bulkhead work was being drawn up by the Attorney General.

Purpose of the bulkhead is to keep sand from choking up the pass, which allows fresh gulf waters to enter the northern portions of the upper Laguna Madre. Not enough fresh water gets into the lagoon from this source, however, Wood added, thus making the Murdock Landing pass an acute necessity.

The bulkhead is to be constructed of 2 x 12 creosoted sheet piling, and will extend 150 feet into the Gulf from the water's edge at zero tide, and will extend 500 feet inland, Wood said. The gulf

Dunne, MacMurray Co-Star for First Time in Drama

Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray will be co-starred for the first time in the Paramount drama, "Invitation to Happiness," which opens on Wednesday at the Princess Theatre.

"Invitation to Happiness" is a human drama that should appeal to all the filmgoers for it deals with the sort of problems that face Mr. and Mrs. John Doe.

Fred MacMurray is an ambitious prize fighter who works for, dreams about, and hopes to become champion. Then one day his comfortable routine is upset. He meets charming aristocrat Irene Dunne.

Fred and Irene are as utterly different as two people can be. Fred never got beyond grade school, his parents were poor, his outlook on life is naive and self-centered. Irene, on the other hand, had been sent to the best and most expensive schools in the world, her folks are wealthy, and her attitude is anything but naive. Though they know how foolhardy they are, Fred and Irene get married. For a while, they are as happy as the story book prince and princess. Then the clouds of reality begin to gather.

Fred goes into training for his next fight. Then he has to travel to another town for other bouts. The years slip by, and Fred is not yet champ. His home is almost on the rocks, for he has little time to see his wife or boy. In fact, his son has begun to hate him for the misery and anxiety his father causes his mother.

Rarely has the cinema told the story so dramatically and yet so simply as in "Invitation to Happiness." Women will like the Dunne-MacMurray film for the sympathetic handling of a family problem; men will like the picture, too, for it will give children a deeper understanding of their fathers.

Wesley Ruggles has come with another of his directorial triumphs. The acting is first rate, too. Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray make an excellent dramatic team. Charles Ruggles is no mean hand at the heavier side of drama either. William Collier, Sr., is as smooth as ever. Billy Cook and Marion Martin are also okay. Claude Binyon wrote the screen play.

Two years of research in University of Texas laboratories has resulted in the development and testing of a 15-inch square box which will filter a room clear of hay-fever pollens. Developed by a student engineer, the device can be built at little manufacturing cost, its designer states.

COLOR AND BUGS Did you ever wonder if insects ever cared about the finer things in life, such as color? Other countries have made a study of color and insects and we learn from their research Canadian Soldiers, or June bugs, will swarm around white bulbs but not colored ones. Moths prefer the white light, too. Tests were made where they found one fly on blue paper where 18 gathered on the clear green. A fly likes rose better than red or yellow. Certain French clinics and hospitals have painted their walls blue to repel flies. In Denmark they have erected slaughterhouses and factories with blue interiors. An Englishman painted the walls and ceiling of his kitchen a powder blue to free his house of the pests. This is an idea if housewives care to follow it.

Al Jolson Re-lives Colorful Decade In Stirring Drama

Just wait, folks! You ain't heard NOTHING yet!

In Al Jolson's own words preview critics have called "Rose of Washington Square," 20th Century Fox production starring Tyrone Power and Alice Faye with the veteran Broadwayite, as the entertainment highlight of 1939.

Jolson's famous phrase is a fitting one to apply to the film which is to open next Monday at the Princess Theatre, since his role in the picture is almost identical with the story of his own career, from the first theatre job as candy butcher in a Fourteenth Street burlesque to his sensational success singing "Mammy."

In his renowned blackface make-up and familiar kneeling posture with outstretched arms, Jolson repeats his former triumph in "Rose of Washington Square," which is highlighted by many of the heart songs and song hits of yesterday.

The romantic stars of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," the first film to bring old time popular songs to the screen, co-starred with Jolson in the new film, Tyrone Power and Alice Faye enact the deeply human story of Rose who loved only as some women can.

Revel's latest hit in the swing of today, "I Never Knew Heaven Could Speak" the film includes such memorable melodies as "My Man," "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry," "The Curse of an Aching Heart," "Mammy," "Rose of Washington Square," and "Avalon."

Direct Contact Spreads Dreaded Infantile Paralysis

Austin—Infantile paralysis, like typhoid fever and intestinal disturbances of infants, is largely a summer disease. Although cases may occur during any month of the year, over half of the total number occur during July, August, September, and October. To date, 109 cases of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) have been reported to the Texas State Department of Health in 1939.

Direct contact between persons is regarded as being the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis. Because of the seasonal prevalence of the disease, flies and other insects have been suspected of conveying the virus or germ. Insect transmission has not, however, been scientifically proven. Although animals are subject to paralysis, they are seemingly not susceptible to the human type of this paralytic disease. Carriers are difficult to determine; this fact makes advisable the reduction to a minimum of human contacts during an outbreak.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis comprise headaches, fever, vomiting, intestinal disorder, drowsiness and irritability, followed by neck or back stiffness. Prompt medical care, early recognition and reporting of cases to health authorities make possible the use of valuable preventive and control measures.

After the acute state of the disease has passed and walking is permitted the patient, under no circumstances, must the affected part be fatigued. It is thus observed that the secret of successful rehabilitation lies in continuance of professional guidance and large doses of patience.
