ROTARY-TEACHER BANQUET FRIDAY EVENING AT SCHOOL HOUSE

Prepared by Miss Williams and Girls

The banquet held by the Club of Sanderson on Friday evening was a success. The room was decorated with colors of autumn. Large leaves of many different hues were used to decorate the walls and the tables were also centered with autumn leaves and red berries. Tapers were burning in candle holders fashioned from logs which had been split in the center and placed drilled for the candles. Centerpieces for the three large tables were huge cornucopias or Horns of plenty. Place cards were made from twigs with thorns upon which were placed a candle and leaf-shaped card bearing the name. Nut cups were also in autumn colors.

TRIAL IS MOVED TO COURT

The trial of C. A. McMahon, charged with murder and kidnapping, was continued to the court when the attorneys representing the state and McMahon, who is being defended by W. J. Wiggins, were traveling with McMahon on the time he is accused of kidnapping a truck after Hiram Peoples and son, Pete Radich into Hiram Peoples, owner of the truck, slipped out one of the doors and got into the truck. Peoples and Radich were forced to accompany McMahon on a wild drive until he overtook the truck. As McMahon started around the truck which jumped resulting in Peoples also jumping out of the truck. Peoples was not injured. Brian Montague of Del Rio is charged with the murder of the Sixty-Third District. The case continued.

The organization of the United States Army and the field program upon which it is working marks the most important step taken in vitalizing the forces probably in the near future. Part of this true of the plan to divide the divisions out into the units they can "work out" No one realizes this more than the Army, for just as the Army is adopted on the approval of our greatest General Pershing, the Army of the Armies, so is his plan reflected through all ranks and down to the private. The field program of the Army has been a link in our preparedness. (You in West Texas are in the largest concentration of troops in your vicinity.)

NEW REFLECTOR ARC-LAMPS HELP REDUCE EYE STRAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton White, managers of the Princess Theatre, announce that they have installed new and improved reflector arc projection lamps in the projection booth of the theatre. These new lamps produce a clear, blue light on the screen and makes it much easier on the eyes of patrons by eliminating glare and shadows cast by many lamps. They now boast a picture thrown on the screen that will equal in brightness any projection in the big theatres.

with colors of autumn. Large leaves of many different hues were used to decorate the walls and the tables were also centered with autumn leaves and red berries. Centerpieces for the three large tables were huge cornucopias or Horns of plenty. Place cards were made from twigs with thorns upon which were placed a candle and leaf-shaped card bearing the name. Nut cups were also in autumn colors.

As guests marched into the dining hall they were directed to their places by members of the Future Homemakers Club who served the tables during the banquet. Prayer was offered by O. H. McAdams after which Toastmaster A. E. Creigh, Jr., made the station identification and announced that a test of talent would be given with everyone present taking part in the contest. A song followed, sung by the entire group and led by Mrs. Duane E. Smith with Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson at the piano.

While plates were being changed for the second course the toastmaster introduced the Rev. Taft Holloway as Kay Keyser. He conducted a series of questions to be answered to be right or wrong, introducing Rotarian and Rotary Ann with a question. Announcer Creigh then introduced the trustees and wives who were present. Rotarians also introduced the guests at this time.

Professor I. Q. (Paul Patterson) introduced members of the faculty and their wives with quiz questions. It took sharp wit as well as a smattering of knowledge to correctly answer the majority of these questions which were greatly enjoyed by all those present. After the third course was served, Miss Anna Lee Hall rendered two vocal solos and was accompanied at the piano by Miss Anita Harrison.

The announcer then asked that all the candles be lighted and the Rotary parting song was sung by the entire group accompanied by Mrs. Wilkinson.

Girls who served at the tables were dressed with aprons in the shape of leaves in various colors and also wore an autumn leaf on their caps. Those who assisted in serving were Misses Lois Bea Osgood Nina Follis, Marjorie Morris, Adeline McConaughy, Winno Jean Holmes, Patty Billings, Billie Rae Bowden and Reba Burleson.

Others who assisted in the preparation of the banquet under the direction of Miss McWilliams were: Misses Anita Cardenas, Vima Cash, Billy Jo Corder, Maurine Haynes, Wilma Peoples, Carolyn Bodkins, Lois Burleson, Mary Carruthers, Mary Corder, Carmen Puentez, Alma Gutierrez, Ernestine Hernandez, Betty Hurst, Wilma Moorefield, Catherine Nance, Frances Nevens, Margaret Pierson, Elouise Suidham, Janice White, and Willie Peoples.

Texas Tax Bill And Texas Crop Value Compared

Total amount of taxes paid by the people of Texas during the fiscal year 1938 was equivalent to more than the value of all the field and non-field crops produced in the state that year, plus the value of all wool and mohair, plus all cash income from cattle and calves, according to the current issue of the Taxpayers Digest, Dallas.

The new tax publication for Texans, published by the Taxpayers Research Bureau, Dallas, and edited by Peter Molyneux, widely known journalist, author, and economist with Booth Mooney as associate editor, points out these facts in its first regular issue, dated November 1. The total tax bill of Texans for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938, was not less than $454,000,000. The Taxpayers Digest explains, while the combined value of all state crops, all wool and mohair, and all cash income from cattle and calves amounted to $462,200,000.

"The revenue of the state Government of Texas raised by taxation during that period amounted to $111,650,527," the paper says "and that of all the local governments of the state amounted to $120,283.86. The Taxpayers Research Bureau estimates the Federal taxes paid by the people of Texas during the year as not less than $221,600,000, an extremely conservative estimate. The total of these figures is $454,000,000, and certainly the 1938 tax bill of the people of the State of Texas was not below that sum."

Value of all the crops produced in Texas in 1938 was $324,400,000 that of all the wool produced that of that year was $19,100,000, that of all the mohair was $6,750,000, and cash income from cattle and calves amounted to $101,950,000. "The total of these figures," The Taxpayers Digest concludes, "is $452,200,000. That is $1,800,000 less than the tax bill paid by Texans during the 1938 fiscal year."

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Glass of Sterling City arrived Friday and visited until Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grigsby. They are parents of Mrs. Grigsby.

More Livestock Shipped This Year

Texas ranchers shipped nearly a fourth more livestock on a carload basis during September than during the same month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

All classes of livestock gained substantially as the equivalent of 10,509 rail cars moved to both interstate and intrastate points last month. Only 949 cars were shipped to Texas points. Largest out-of-state shipments of cattle went to Illinois and Iowa; calves to Illinois and Kansas; swine to California; and sheep to Kansas and Missouri.

P.-T.A. Carnival Tuesday Evening Draws Large Crowd

A large crowd was in attendance at the Parent-Teacher Association carnival put on Tuesday night for the purpose of raising funds for purchasing new uniforms for the high school band and for the association.

A big parade composed of the band and school students in Halloween costume started the events. Following the parade supper was served for those who wanted to eat in the basement of the Masonic Hall. As the evening meal of chili, hamburgers, coffee and doughnuts, or a big slice of cake, the crowd moved to the outside where they were entertained with side shows and other booths. This continued until 8 o'clock when a floor show was staged, followed by a dance.

The carnival proceeds amounted to approximately $190 according to Mrs. Tol Murrah, finance chairman. This of course was not all profit as expenses connected with the show had to be paid from the fund. Parent-Teacher officials were well satisfied with the results, however, and expressed their appreciation for the aid and support given by the public.

Red Cross Roll Call Dates Set Nov. 11-30

Twenty-one years ago peace was declared after one of the most bitterly fought wars in the history of civilization. The American Red Cross had played a major part in that war, from the day of its beginning in August, 1914, when ambulance units, doctors and nurses had been sent impartially to belligerents. After April, 1917, when our own nation was involved, the American Red Cross became literally "the greatest mother" to the four million men engaged in the conflict at home and overseas.

The American Red Cross has similarly discharged its obligations under its charter to the men who served in the Spanish-American War in 1898. As an impartial and neutral organization, the American Red Cross, as you well know, for 58 years has been this nation's expression of mercy—an organization which has carried its strength to the scene of all forms of human suffering, whether in peace or in war.

Today after 21 years of peace, Europe's great powers are again at war. Apprehension and uncertainty along with the threat that entire populations may be bombed from the sky sullenly hangs over Europe like an ominous cloud. Already casualties have amounted into thousands.

Unconcerned with the origin of this conflict, the American Red Cross already is pursuing the duties set down by the treaty of Geneva. That obligation, fundamentally, is to relieve human suffering—impartially. Already medical supplies have been sent to Poland. More than 3,700 chapters are taking part in a production program to make garments for the war areas. While a designated number of metropolitan chapters have started the production of surgical dressings.

Yet the problems confronting the American Red Cross are not confined to war relief operations. Here in the United States suffering is a stern everyday reality. The Red Cross which you and millions of other Americans support each year with your membership (Continued to page four)

COMMITTEE URGES THAT ALL PROPERTY OWNERS DO THEIR PART IN PROVIDING PROTECTION FOR THEIR HOMES

The fund being provided by donation for the purpose of purchasing fire-fighting equipment for Sanderson is growing rapidly in daily according to reports from the committee in charge of securing the funds. No personal drive has been made as yet although donations were only about $50 less than the $1,000 mark Thursday. Appreciation was expressed for the enthusiastic response that was received from property owners and the splendid manner in which the donations have come in without the necessity of a personal call. Eagles Meet Marfa Shorthorns At 3:30 Friday

The Sanderson Eagles meet the Marfa Shorthorns here Friday afternoon, at 3:30. The game was originally scheduled at 2:30 but was changed to 3:30 at the request of the visiting school officials.

The Eagles have played five games to date, having defeated Fort Stockton by a score of 6-0 and Fabens by a score of 8-6, and having been defeated by Iraan 27-6, Grandfalls, 24-2 and Big Lake, 7-0. Marfa has defeated Alpine by a score of 7-6 and have been defeated by Fort Stockton by a score of 19-13. In addition, the Shorthorns have lost the other league games played.

The game on Friday afternoon promises to be full of action for both teams are in good condition and are old rivals in football. The band and pep squad will be on hand to help the Eagles. The Eagles have three games remaining on their schedule, including the Marfa game. Alpine is to play here on Saturday, November 11 and on Nov. 18 the Eagles go to Rankin for the last game of the season.

Finances for the football season are in good shape, according to Coach Duane E. Smith. To date total receipts have amounted to $407.29 and the total expenses have been 400.81. Only one game has been played at home and thus most of the expenses have been incurred on trips. A total of $149 has been spent on equipment and a balance of $106 is still owed for this item. It is hoped that the close of the season will see all expenses paid and enough remaining to pay for the awards for the players.

The officials for the game are Parks and Connelly of Fort Stockton and Fowler of Grandfalls. Boosts Football Award Fund. The Haley Drug Store recently donated a radio to the Eagle football squad to be sold to buy awards for the team at the end of the season. This radio was sold by John L. Newton for the amount of $25 and the money deposited to the credit of the High School athletic fund. The members of the squad express their appreciation for this and all other aid.

Mrs. Theresa Friend who spent the latter part of last week with relatives in Sonora, was accompanied home Sunday by her sister, Mrs. N. M. Stokes of that place. Mrs. Stokes will also visit with her daughter Mrs. A. P. Prater and family.

and notified some of the committee that their donations would be forthcoming soon. It has also been understood that many people are still at a loss to know what kind of equipment is to be purchased with the funds after they have been received. As stated in earlier issues of the Times, it is proposed that the equipment be comprised of a new truck, equipped with a tank of 500 or 600-gallon capacity. A booster pump will be installed on the truck with which water can be applied to a fire at a pressure of 250 pounds. This pump, according to reliable sources, will be ample for throwing a stream of water over a three story building were it ever to become necessary.

Questions have also been raised as to the efficiency that can be obtained with a 600-gallon tank of water. Statements from different fire chiefs over this section will explain this satisfactorily. In a discussion with Ed White, fire chief for San Angelo, the following answer was received when he was asked as to the amount of water usually used on a fire: "We usually use from 50 to 200 gallons of water. We have a truck equipped with a 450-gallon tank and another with a 600-gallon tank. I would say that a 500-gallon tank is ample and under no circumstances would I recommend more than a 600-gallon tank." The fire chief of Del Rio stated that they have a new 200-gallon tank truck and that they are able to put out 80% of their fires with that truck.

To purchase equipment of the type mentioned above, it will be necessary to raise about $1,800. And to provide a fire siren or alarm of some kind and furnish adequate housing facilities for the truck will cost approximately $750 or $800 more. This will mean a total outlay of approximately $2,500. Operation expenses of the truck will have to be added to this amount, so it can be readily seen that every property owner will have to do his or her part if the project is to be a (Continued to page four)

ONE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK NEAR ANACACHO FRIDAY

A train wreck Friday morning of last week took one life and tied up traffic over the road for some eighteen or nineteen hours.

There were 25 loaded cars of the freight train wrecked when a broken truck side on an oil car tore up the track and derailed the balance before the air went into emergency and stopped the train. A transient riding the freight was killed when the cars were derailed. No trainmen suffered injury.

The wreck tied up the main line for about three days, making it necessary to build a track around the wreckage to care for the traffic. The wrecker from Sanderson spent five days on the scene picking up cars and repairing damages. Those from Sanderson with the wrecker were D. B. Herbert, John Clark, C. I. White, H. E. Fletcher and Frank Lopez.

Code of Society
Says Clean Slate
Is Necessary

He craved only the wages of shooting straight. She wanted only to fulfill their dreams of a home.

Millions have had the same ambitions. And society applauds heartily.

But the code of society is that one must have a clean slate to warrant the desire.

In "I Stole a Million," the Universal terror romance, co-starring George Raft and Claire Trevor, which starts tonight at the Princess Theatre, there was a blot on the romantic escutcheon of a young couple. The blot spread like a thunderstorm into a whirlwind of desperate adventure.

George Raft plays the man whose heart was hungry for love and independence. Claire Trevor is seen as the girl who saw the chance to mother him with the right influence.

She was working in a flower shop when he came in to hold it up! That was when she started to try and kill his thirst for thrills and correct his belief that everyone was out of step but him.

He had really never committed a crime, but the social records said he had. "Let 'em go hang," he thought—"here's happiness."

Eventually came the trail of the law with the brand of the past.

What happened after that forms the premise for what critics have unanimously acclaimed one of the grandest pictures of the years.

"I Stole a Million" skyrockets both Raft and Trevor to new heights.

George Raft is proud because he proves his contention that screen stories must do more than prove that crime doesn't pay—they must point a finger of understanding of how to steer clear of it.

Claire Trevor is proud because she believes that it is a grand follow-up to her role as the feminine lead in "Stagecoach" which had all the Hollywood studios begging for her services—until she read the script of "I Stole a Million."

Corrosion in ice plant brine tanks is actually caused by "battery action" in the brine solution, University of Texas engineers report. Premature loss of the tanks by rusting is being fought by artificially induced electrical charges set up in the solution.

A little girl when told that she was much better looking than her daddy said: "Well, I oughta be—I'm a later model."

Hedy Lamarr and Robert Taylor in a scene from "Lady of the Tropics"

Hedy Lamarr and Robert Taylor in
"Lady of the Tropics"

An adventurous romance teaming with the drama of life and love under the overhead sun is to be seen in "Lady of the Tropics," showing at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Two of filmdom's most glamorous stars, Robert Taylor and the eagerly-awaited Hedy Lamarr, making her second motion picture appearance, play the lovers in the dramatic story.

Any doubts that might have been held because of Miss Lamarr's overnight jump to fame with her American debut in "Algiers" will be dispelled by "Lady of the Tropics." Not only is she more beautiful than ever, but she plays the difficult, many-sided role of Manon with such a rare combination of sympathy and dramatic force that her position as the star is brilliantly affirmed.

Robert Taylor, cast as Bill Carey, young American who falls madly in love with the gorgeous Manon, adds even more stature to his high standing as an actor. He achieves a deft balance of humor, plausibility and drama in his characterization.

To Jack Conway, director of such outstanding hits as "Viva Villa!" and "Too Hot to Handle," must be given added laurels for his masterful handling of this picture. He makes the most everyone of its drama-packed moments.

The action revolves around the love of Bill Carey, a penniless playboy, for Manon, whom he meets in Saigon, Indo-China. They are married, despite the warnings of friends that the inscrutable East is strongly in Manon's veins. Then Bill finds it impossible to get a passport for his wife to leave the country. For Pierre Delaroch, an influential half-caste, is himself in love with Manon and exerts his powers to keep her in the country.

Reduced to abject poverty, Bill's fruitless search for work ended when he obtains a job on a rubber plantation through matchinations of Delaroch. But this is only a ruse on the latter's part to try to reach Manon. This is discovered by Bill, but to give away the conclusion of the picture would be to forestall the pleasure of seeing one of the greatest climaxes of the sound screen.

Joseph Schildkraut, already an Academy Award winner, wins fresh plaudits for his characterization of the vicious yet without pathetic Delaroch. A lighter note is introduced by Gloria Franklin, a new-comer who expertly handles the part of a delightfully uninhabited friend of Manon. Other strong performances are turned in by Mary Taylor, who plays Taylor's American fiancée, Ernest Cossart as a sympathetic priest, Charles Trowbridge, Frederick Worlock and Paul Porcasi.

With Carrillo

Gay Jane Withers and care-free Leo Carrillo are partners in "Chicken Wagon Family," the 20th Century-Fox picture opening Monday at the Princess Theatre that promises to make us all a lot happier for a long, long time.

Based on the heart-warming Barry Benefield story that stirs the wanderlust in us all, Jane's new film is about a family that tosses its cares into a red bandanna and heads the call of the open road—with daughter Jane and Daddy Carrillo in the driver's seat.

Rolling around the country in their mule-drawn wagon, they trade any and everything for chickens, which they market they hit a big town. And of course Jane runs into plenty of mischief and fun, both en route and after they reach the city.

Marjorie Weaver plays Jane's big sister, Spring Byington, the famous mother of the Jones family series, plays Jane's ma; and Kane Richmond is seen as the handsome cop who helps little Jane out of her difficulties—and falls head over heels in love with Marjorie Weaver. Furniture Should Be Kept Well Oiled
To Insure Long Life

Giving furniture a semi-annual bath is suggested by Miss Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement for the A. and M. College Extension Service. No says frequent dusting, no matter how thorough, may not be sufficient.

A good oil bath is advocated as a helpful treatment for most furniture since the dry air in many modern homes is as bad for furniture as it is for people. Drying, cracking, and warping, or loosening of the veneer may be reduced by the oil bath. However Mrs. Claytor warns that if the furniture has been waxed it is necessary to remove the wax before the oil is applied.

Mixture of two-thirds boiled linseed oil and one-third turpentine will provide a satisfactory oil bath. The oil feeds the wood while the turpentine loosens the dirt and helps the oil to penetrate the wood.

"Apply the mixture with a soft cloth," the specialist suggests, "and wipe off all excess polish with a clean cloth. To pol-

Texas Youth Builds a Place to Worship

"This chapel in the Woods" on the campus of Texas State College for Women was constructed of native gray limestone by NYA boys ranging from 18 to 25. Primarily a place for individual worship and meditation the chapel will also be used for many ex-student weddings.

Over 500 art students of the college, supervised by Miss Dorothy A. LaSelle, director of chapel art projects, have contributed to the design, decorations, fixtures, and furnishings. General theme of the art work is woman ministering to the needs of the world. Critics pronounce this one of the nation's outstanding amateur art projects. Miss Marilyn Yates, Houston, is shown working on window sketches.

Sammy Tate, Ennis, designed and constructed the main lighting fixtures of brass, saw-pierced and riveted.

Mrs Franklin D. Roosevelt will take part in the dedication ceremonies November 1.

(Inset) President L. H. Hubbard who made his dream of such a chapel come true. Funds for the materials came from a $15,000 gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Nicholson of Longview who have had three daughters in TSCW and a like sum raised by the students, alumnae, and faculty members.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Racketeering in the name of wildlife restoration was branded here today by the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission as criminal as selling gold bricks. The executive secretary pointed out that reports to the Game Department office indicate persons are attempting to collect money from communities on the pretense of being able to influence allocation of federal aid to wildlife projects.

Such projects in Texas are under the jurisdiction of the Game Commission and no one has been authorized to raise fund for such projects, nor any other work the Department is doing. Claims, it is said, are being made that local financial assistance is necessary to qualify for projects financed through the Pittman-Robertson funds. However, this is untrue as the Game Department will give careful consideration to suggestions of sportsmen, landowners, or nature organizations without their contributing any money, he emphasized.

A black fox an extremely rare animal, is being sought in Comal County. Several persons, including the state game warden there, have seen the animal, one of the few, if not the only one in Texas.

White-winged doves, as predicted by the Game Department before the hunting period opened, were more plentiful this season than in many years. The Department's wardens in the Rio Grande Valley estimated that 250,000 were killed the first three weeks of the season.

Mourning doves were also plentiful throughout the state and were remaining in the northern portions of Texas later than usual reports to the Game Department indicate.

Concho Lake gave up a gold fish thirteen inches in length and weighing more than one and a half pounds. It was caught by J. W. Revel of San Angelo while he was fishing with a pole and a line. Goldfish are members of the carp family.

The Georgetown Country Club may be able to lay claims to being the only golf club in Texas which is raising wild turkeys. That club has two hens, a gobler and thirteen young roaming its course and the surrounding woods and the big birds are being protected. There will be no open season on those birds if the club members can help it.

Texas has four species of poisonous snakes, but three of them have a variety of subspecies. Largest number of subspecies by the rattlesnake family. There are ten, namely pigmy or ground rattler, Willard's, Prairie, Western diamond back, green velvet, diamond back, green rock, mountain black tail and cane brake. There are two varieties of Copperheads and three of coral snakes but there is only one member of the moccasin family which is poisonous. It is cotton-mouth.

Snakes need not spoil the fun of a hunt or a tramp through the woods. Game Department officials point out, but warn sportsmen to be on the alert. A good pair of boots is the best protection. Never sit down in the woods or fields without looking, nor rest your hand on a rock without first scanning it.

One Chambers County landowner, following the recommendations of the Game Department is flooding 20,000 acres of marshland by means of wells he has drilled and plans to make more money from his leasing of the land to duck hunters than he will through all other means on other land plantings. He planted $300

Cloth Label Is Session Aim

Means of effecting passage by Congress of a bill which would require manufacturers to place on cloth a stamp stating the fiber and fabric content will be the principal issue before the second annual convention of the woman's auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association in Fort Worth December 7 and 8. Mrs. Willie B. Whitehead, of Del Rio, auxiliary president, said Saturday.

Mrs. Whitehead was in Fort Worth to arrange for the women's meeting, which will be held at Hotel Texas in conjunction with the sheep and goat raisers' convention and to attend the TCU-A&M football game.

"No honest reason can be offered in opposition to the passage of a law by Congress which where possible will require the manufacturers of cloth to stamp in a clear and understandable manner its fiber and fabric content," Mrs. Whitehead declared.

Mrs. Whitehead pointed out that the collection of wool from rags increased until today it equals in volume one-half the wool produced each year in the United States.

"The rag man visits the back yards, alleys, highways and byways gathered rags which contain wool, pure or mixed," she explained, "The rag buyer purchases them on a basis of the wool content, always at a price much less than the market price of virgin wool."

"The wool recovered from rags is inferior to virgin wool and is further deteriorated by the process of separating other fibers from it. That wool is known as 'shoddy'."

More than 100,000,000 pounds of shoddy wool are used in the manufacture of cloth in the United States each year the auxiliary head stated. She said that cloth made from the second hand shoddy wool is capable of withstanding one-third as much strain as cloth made of virgin wool.

The proposed law, which has been pending in congress for four years, already has been passed by the Senate.

The auxiliary formed at last year's meeting, already has a membership of 200. An extensive membership campaign will be launched among the wives of the men attending the meeting this year Mrs. Whitehead said. There are approximately 8,750 members of the present organization.

This will be the first time Fort Worth has entertained a convention of the sheep and goat raisers association in its 24-year history. —Star Telegram.

grain cars on his train he would make use of the bums riding by having them sweep out the cars at a place where he knew turkeys were ranging.

There are approximately 40 turkeys in this bunch that are being fed in such an unusual way.

The State Game Department has issued a warning to hunters that erroneous information concerning the bag limits on ducks and geese has been printed on the backs of the State hunting licenses. Between November 15 and December 29, the season on ducks and geese in Texas, sportsmen will be allowed 10 ducks in one day or 20 in possession. They will also be allowed 4 geese a day or 8 in possession. However, canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads and ruddy ducks have special limits. Only three of any one kind or an aggregate of 3 of them may be taken in one day and 6 is the possession limit.

Wife: Not at all. You may not remember it, but when you came home you didn't have a black eye.

worth of seed to produce plants for duck food last spring and the Game Department is watching the experiment with considerable interest. Last year without the aid of additional plantings, the owner cleared $2,000 the first two days of the duck hunting season. Dry weather forced him to flood his marshes, but the cost was negligible considering the profits he expects to take.

Fishermen living in jack rabbit infested counties of Texas will find the livers of big rabbits make excellent fish bait.

When a train conductor stops his string of freight cars almost daily and uses the hoboos riding the train to sweep out grain so that wild turkeys may be fed, the Game Department feels that it is getting cooperation of the highest caliber. That is exactly what is happening in Archer County. The State Game Warden at Wichita Falls recently noticed the train halted near a river and dust flying out of the doors of several cars. Upon investigation he found that the conductor had about a half a dozen hoboos sweeping out grain from a grain car to feed a bunch of wild turkeys that use that area. Questioned, the conductor said that he had heard the warden's plea last winter when snow was on the ground, about feeding wildlife and he decided that every time he had any empty

To whom the responsibility of soldiering, even with its backbreaking marches, its field rations, its bivouacs, and all the attendant discomforts, comes as a gift from the gods. To it they will give their best and from their efforts the United States will have a more effective assurance of peace for it will provide a strength and readiness for action which all nations will be wary of provoking.

ROLL CALL—

is fighting suffering and death 24 hours a day in every state in the Union.

The following facts show graphically why you, the people of America, must keep your Red Cross ready—maintain it at full strength to meet the challenge of accident and disease.

The United States has more accidental deaths per capita than any other nation. Every five and one-half minutes there is a preventable fatality. Each third second someone is seriously injured. Disaster strikes in America every third day. And communicable disease—the social accident of too many people living too closely together, of carelessness and ignorance and poverty—takes an annual toll of nearly 200,000.

Only by taking the causes of death singly can we show how desperate is the need for an augmented Red Cross membership. At many points along the battle front accident and disaster have been checked; they must be stopped at all points and driven back relentlessly.

killed 32,400, men, women and children. Crippled numbered 90,000 and injured 1,150,000 persons. If cold figures alone can shock, certainly these must. Is an automobile fender more deadly than the armaments of war?

Express highways and improved roads have resulted in accidents at scenes far removed from medical care. What more could be done to eliminate the "wait that killed"—to cut down too of ten fatal time-lag between the occurrence of the accident and arrival of physician or ambulance?

The answer was to bring emergency first aid skill to the roadside; and this, the Red Cross did. Emergency highway first aid stations were established at police sub-stations, rural fire departments, gasoline service stations—usually at dangerous intersections on through highways between towns and villages. These stations were stocked with first aid equipment and their owners and operators given first aid training.

Now there are more than 5,000 highway stations and Red Cross mobile first aid units functioning from coast to coast. Every day in the year a Red Cross highway first aid gives emergency care to some traffic victim. Arterial bleeding is stopped, fractured limbs splinted, and the injured person delivered into the hands of the medical profession in the best possible condition.

The efficiency of these highway stations has been proven time and time again. The need for increasing the number of these trained samaritans is apparent. Tomorrow a member of your family, your neighbor, your friend may be the victim of a traffic accident far from medical aid. Perhaps your membership dollar will be instrumental in establishing the Red Cross highway first aid station whose attendants, through prompt application of special skill and knowledge, will keep the spark of life glowing until an ambulance arrives. This is one way to keep your Red Cross ready—ready in your community and throughout the nation.

By joining between Armistice Day and November 30 you can keep your Red Cross ready to combat all accidents on land and water. Since 1910 the American Red Cross has qualified two million first aiders, concentrating on persons engaged in hazardous occupations and those responsible for public safety. The accident fatality rate in industry has dropped, but the task of equipping laymen to deal intelligently with emergency accident problems has only begun.

America needs the Red Cross today as it has rarely been needed before. On behalf of the people we ask you for your help in keeping the Red Cross ready. Join through your local chapter between Armistice Day and November 30.
