Grand Mother of Mrs. W. C. Cargile Passes Away

Mrs. Clarinda Crogan Dulaney passed away at her home in Leaky Friday, March 21, at one o'clock after an illness of many months at the age of 93 years.

"Aunt Wren", as she was called by many who knew her, was a devout Christian, having been a member of the Church of Christ since 1908. Born in West Virginia, Sept. 4, 1847, she married John Wesley Dulaney Jan. 1, 1868, and moved to Southwest Texas in March 1869 where she and her husband were prominent ranch-and-mercantile people. Her husband died in 1914.

She is survived by seven children, 20 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Services were held at the Church of Christ there with burial in the Leaky cemetery Sunday. Grandsons were pall bearers and the granddaughters, one of whom is Mrs. W. C. Cargile, were in charge of floral arrangements.

Mrs. Cargile and daughter, Mary Lou, attended the funeral from Sanderson, and continued to Blanco for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, and brother, Tom Lane, before returning home.

Dr. and Mrs. William Aston spent from Friday until Monday in Dallas and Wichita Falls. They visited his sister, Miss Esther Aston, while in Dallas.

years ago! The statutes prescribe that after each 10-year census, the legislature must redistrict the State for electoral districts according to population. The last such redistricting was accomplished in 1920. It failed in 1930, because members refused to sacrifice any of their counties to another district. Also, according to law, the big cities would receive several more representatives, and the country districts would lose that many. Under the proposal now about to be passed by the House, the big cities of San Antonio, Dallas, and Houston will each get two more representatives to give them seven each. They cannot have more than seven representatives.

Don't Sell Your Auto When You Report, You May Not Go

Texas' Selective Service local boards today were urged by General J. Watt Page, State Director, to warn every registrant ordered to report for induction under the Selective Service System to arrange his affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship in the event he is rejected later at the Army induction station.

General Page said that there are instances when men sent to induction stations by local boards are rejected on physical or other grounds by Army examiners, and that State Headquarters is extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by registrants in such cases be reduced to a minimum.

"Probably more often than not," the Director said, "when a registrant is ordered to report for induction, he disposes of his automobile at a sacrifice since he has been instructed that he cannot take it with him. He either sells or gives away his civilian clothes and gives up his lodging accommodations."

"But, more serious is the possibility of inequity to rejected registrants centering on the fact that they have severed their employment connections when ordered to report for induction. When a registrant is notified by his local board to report for induction, he should point out to his employer the possibility that he will not be accepted at the Army induction station. The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted." General Page said, "or to continue his employment if he is rejected."

"It is difficult to find an immediate cure-all for this problem, but it is hoped that through a closer coordination between the employer and the prospective inductee much of the hardship and suffering in these cases may be alleviated. Employers should feel a 'moral obligation' to hold a registrant's job for him until he has actually been accepted at the Army induction station. Even though he is rejected, surely he has fulfilled his duty to his country by responding to the call for service."

"Of course, registrants should be cautioned to notify their employers immediately whether they have been accepted or rejected by the Army examiners," General Page said.

ENTIRE DISTRICT CONDUCTS EMPHASIS WEEK

Throughout the Roswell District during the weeks preceding Easter Sunday "Religious Emphasis Week" has been conducted. The plan was made in order that pastors of the various churches in the District would have an opportunity to fill neighboring pulpits and visit with the church members.

Last week the local church members and friends were privileged to hear the Rev. G. H. Corry of Goldsmith, and the Rev. C. Y. Butler of Iraan during a week of services. The Rev. Mr. Corry conducted the morning worship periods and the Rev. Mr. Butler the evening services.

This week the Rev. J. Y. Bowman is conducting services at the Grandfalls Church.

STOUT GAS TO BE OFFERED TO USERS

Omer F. Oathout has announced to the public this week through the Times that he will be ready to service citizens of this vicinity with butane gas under his new business name of Stout Gas.

Mr. Oathout states that he will be his own manager, truck driver, service man and salesman, and that he will sell only for cash at his advertised prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Pugh and daughter came down from El Paso Saturday returning Sunday accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. White, who will visit there.

TWO VETERANS MAKE LAST RUN TOGETHER MON.

When the Sunset Limited No. 2 left Sanderson Monday night headed down the hill two old-timers, who had been working together for many years, were in charge of that train on their last run.

Passenger Engineer Ed McGinley and Passenger Brakeman C. E. Haydon, ended their services on the S. P. Lines with the completion of the run, both retiring at their home terminals. Engineer McGinley finished his run at Del Rio and Brakeman Haydon completed his at San Antonio.

Railroad men here believe it is the first time of record that two men have retired off the same crew, at the same time. And with these two old-timers go the best wishes of all who knew them and worked with them during their years of service.

TAFT HOLLOWAY POPULAR ON SUL ROSS CAMPUS

This is how we on the campus know Taft Holloway. He is the man who knows everyone, and whom everyone knows. There is no one that he does not like and the same thing may be said for him.

He is at home in all places. He seems to enjoy equally the saddle, the pulpit, or the stage. There are many things he does not do because he does not believe in them, but he does not object to other people enjoying themselves as they see fit.

Taft's latest achievement to put him in the public eye was the winning of a plaque for the best play in the Inter-mural Play contest. The play was "He" and two of Taft's cast won honors. But this is no work for him. Taft was on the production staff at Wayland and Baylor, and has done much work here. He was stage manager for "Leave It To Fsmith", and acted as stage manager during the operetta "The Marriage of Nannette." He has been recently named as stage manager for a pageant showing the history of Presidio county that will be presented shortly.

Taft has used his voice to advantage since coming here. During Spiritual Emphasis Week, he assisted Dr. Lee with the music and sang solos on several occasions. When Bill Marshall visited here a few days ago, Taft led the singing and gave the closing prayer.

When a good speech has been made, one knows that Taft Holloway probably had something to do with it. He has distinguished himself on the rostrum in debates and talks in chapel.

Wherever there is the sound of horses, there you will find Taft. As head of the Sul Ross Riding Academy, he is constantly on the job. Not only must he ride with the students, but he must take excellent care of the horses. Taft is one of the best horsemen on the campus. In the course of one afternoon's ride he can duplicate almost all the tricks the movie stars do. As a teacher, he believes the best way to learn to ride is to ride; if someone will point out the student's faults in a friendly manner, he will be constantly improving. Taft has made a good progress with his class, many of the girls who had never been on a horse before are now able to keep up with the best of them and love to take the hurdles.

There is much more to Taft's activities. He belongs to Lambda Kappa Delta, Theta Gamma Chorus and Terrell County Club. Besides all this extra-curricular work, he attends classes regularly, makes good grades, and holds services in Sanderson weekly. It has been thought he should be voted "The most Energetic Man on the Campus."

LITTLE MAN—

Pictured above is O. T. "Teeter" Schupbach, 260-pound giant center of the "Tallest Team In the World" from Sanderson. Schupbach and the tall Texans recently returned from Kansas City, Kansas, and the National Basketball Tournament where the Buffaloes won third place out of 32 famous teams entered. Schupbach received his letter in football and basketball at West Texas State. This 6 foot, 5-inch giant was also named All-Alamo conference tackle in football and while with the Buffs in Kansas City, was elected the "Baby Doll" of the basketball tournament by the 10,000 fans in the Municipal Auditorium.

Local Boy Wins Honors At El Paso Livestock Show

First in the medium weight class and third ranking calf of the show were the honors won by Billie Joe Short's calf "Sleepy" at the Southwestern Livestock Show of El Paso that ended Tuesday. The calf, a polled hereford raised by N. M. Mitchell, sold at auction Tuesday to the Hilton Hotel for 17c per pound, according to Ernest Williams, county agent, who returned from the show Wednesday. The calf weighed 827 pounds. With the $28 prize money won at this show and at the one in Fort Stockton last month the calf returned $168.59 to the 4-H Club boy for his first year's work.

Billie Joe states that he plans to feed two calves next year for the show.

MILITARY INSPECTOR

Lt. Maurice E. Speer of Tucson, Ariz., was a visitor in Sanderson Monday night enroute to Texas A. & M. College where he will be Military Inspector. Lt. Speer is well known here being a nephew of Mrs. Luella Lemons and Mrs. Mary J. Mansfield of this city, and a grandson of the late Mrs. J. H. Lemons. Lt. Speer is with the AAA in Tucson and in 1938 he graduated with the highest honors from the University of Tucson. He will be joined later by Mrs. Speer and their infant son, James Edmund.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. O'Conner and daughter, Miss Catherine, and son, James, left Tuesday for a short visit to his parents at Marshall, Texas, the occasion being a family reunion.

weekly. It has been thought he should be voted "The most Energetic Man on the Campus."

Miss E. Peterman Reports On Nursing Service

The Past three months starting on January 2, Terrell County had an active public health nursing service conducted by Miss Edna Peterman, Red Cross Public Health Nurse. This service is made available to Terrell County through joint funds, part is donated through the Delano Fund of the American Red Cross and the remainder by the local chapter.

The greatest portion of the nurse's time was taken up in Maternal and Child Health. It is felt that this period in a child's life is most valuable in building strong, healthy bodies and minds. This was taken up through home visits at which time the nurse would discuss the health problems in the family and advise accordingly. Many demonstrations such as giving a baby a bath, preparing his formula, or orange juice or inspecting the child's teeth or throat were utilized whenever possible as we know we learn much easier by doing than through just verbal explanations or reading the instructions in books. Maternal health was especially stressed since a newborn's health depends so much on the care of the mother during this period.

A great deal of the nurse's time was given to Tuberculosis prevention. Much education needs to be done to fully have the cooperation of our people. Our daily habits are just as important in the prevention of this disease as the tuberculin test and X-ray. Many home visits were made chosen by the nurse from records or from referrals made by local doctors, neighbors or relatives. All homes were contacted in which one member had a positive tuberculin test reaction. The nurse carefully chose the ten persons who seemed most suspicious and referred them to the doctor for X-rays which were paid for by the local Tuberculosis Association. If financially able more will be X-rayed later.

Home nursing and adult service was given as the nurse was called to do so. Classes in Home Hygiene and are of the Sick were conducted by Miss Peterman for two groups. The Mexican mothers met every Monday and Friday from 2:00 P. M. to 3:30 P. M. The Mexican girls met every Tuesday and Thursday from 4:00 P. M. to 5:30 P. M. Certificates were granted to those students who have successfully completed thirty hours of work and favorably passed the examination. These classes are sponsored throughout the U. S. by the Red Cross and especially now as a national self defense program.

School health included inspections of students health talks, contagious, special inspections of students referred to nurse by teachers, eye hygiene, dental examinations by dentist, preventive disease clinics and first aid. Parent were contacted relative to correction of defects. The Mexican P-T. A. paid for two pair of glasses. Both of these school children had very poor vision.

Statistical report of the three months service:

Engagement of Miss Sue Graham and Hal Elder Announced

One of the cleverest announcement parties in some time was that given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Thomas H. Graham, Jr., to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Sue Graham, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Graham, to Hal Elder of El Paso, son of Mrs. J. Hoene, also of El Paso.

Mrs. Graham's entertainment took the form of a Mexican dinner in her cottage at Lake Walk. The living room was decorated with snapdragons while calendulas and petunias in hanging baskets and calendulas on the mantel brightened the dining room.

The table was centered with painted gourds and peppers, accenting the Mexican motif. Places were marked with cards bearing Mexican clay figures.

Guests were served tomato juice cocktails in the living room before the dinner. A box of graham crackers bearing the legend, "Try Graham's; they're dated," was passed to the guests. Each cracker had a slip affixed on which appeared "April 12, 1941. Inspected and approved by Hal Elder."

Those attending the unusual party Wednesday evening and taking of Mrs. Graham's hospitality included Mesdames Virgil Cauthorn, Bobby Cauthorn, Huslie Miers, George Whitehead, Wayne Love, Aubrey Rowland and Claude Ray; Misses Floy Cochran, Alma Williams, Virginia Coleman, Jacklyn Grannis, Myrtle Walters, Irene Mills, Annette Holman, Virginia Summers, Iris Brennan, Maurine Adams and Sue Graham—Val Verde County Herald.

Mrs. J. C. Green Hostess to Club Party Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. J. C. Green was hostess to the members of her bridge club as well as several guests. Bouquets of stocks and snapdragons were decoratively placed throughout the entertaining rooms.

High score prize went to Mrs. Clyde Griffith and Mrs. Walter Grigsby was winner of second high score prize.

The hostess served a salad plate to the following: Mesdames James Kerr, R. D. Holt, C. P. Peavy, Tom Murrah, Clyde Griffith, and W. H. Savage, members; Mesdames Mary Lou Kellar, Lee McCue, Walter Grigsby, Hugh Rose, John Harrison, and J. S. Nance, guests.

tion for the fine support and cooperation given me by the Nursing Activities Committee, the local doctors and dentists, the press and all other individuals. My stay in Sanderson was indeed very pleasant and much too short.

Jackie Cooper Again As Famous Henry Aldrich

"Life With Henry," the Aldrich Family picture which again features Jackie Cooper in the role of Henry Aldrich, which will be the attraction on Monday, Tuesday at the Princess Theatre, was made following his great success in the first Henry Aldrich picture adopted from the Broadway play, "What A Life."

"Life With Henry" is an original story resulting from the collaboration of playwright Clifford Goldsmith and scenarist Don Hartman. It continues the comic, sometimes heart-tugging, but always well-meant misadventures of the hapless Henry, a typical high school lad with a faculty for getting into difficulties, "because," as he will explain, "of a misunderstanding." Its action takes place in the Aldrich household, roams his home town of Centerville, and goes afield to Chicago for a sequence.

The story concerns Henry's activities and tribulations in trying to qualify for a trip to Alaska, as offered by a Chicago philanthropist, to high school youths who can earn $100 through their own initiative, and furnish him with three letters attesting to his good character and intelligence. At first Henry thought the $100 was an insurmountable barrier, but the money proved easier than the letters for anyone of Henry's reputation living in a small town.

"Life With Henry" introduces his whole family and a number of his close friends, where in the previous picture only his mother appeared. As previously, his mother is played by Hedda Hopper. His father is Fred Niblo, Sr., the director of "Ben Hur" and other important silent pictures. His sister is played by winsome, dark eyed Kay Stewart, formerly a cheer leader at Northwestern University. His Aunt Harriet is played by Josephine Whittell. Their amusing colored laundress is played by Etta McDaniel, sister of the well-known Hattie.

The most important additions to the cast in this picture are Henry's girl friend, played in her screen debut by Lella Ernst; and his pal, "Dizzy," played by fright-wigged Eddie Bracken. Both Miss Ernst and Bracken were recruited by the producer-director Jay Theodore Reed from the Broadway musical comedy, "Too Many Girls," and placed on long term contracts by Paramount.

"Assembly Programs—Good and Bad"

Assembly Programs—Good and Bad, was the bi-county first place Junior Essay winner written by Billie Savage—Editor's Note.

Assembly programs! What joy they give to the student body especially to those who do not have their lessons completed for the next periods work. But any time an assembly program is welcomed—if it is good.

There are good programs that make one think and laugh. The ones that make you think are usually about patriotism. These programs are mostly plays and sometimes speeches. A play may be like this:

A boy named Jim is in a school and this school asked his father to pay a little more taxes and donate some money so the school might have a gymnasium for the boys and girls of the school to play in. Jim's father did not like to pay taxes, so he had some men vote against having school in that town. This law was passed and school turned out. Everybody was glad at first, but when they tried to get jobs, it was different. The businessmen wanted boys who had finished high school to work for them. Then Jim joined a Nazi organization that was trying to stir up trouble in the United States. Jim's father had dreamed all of this had happened. When he woke up he called the business men of his town to donate money for a gymnasium. This kind of play makes one think ahead of what would happen if there were no schools. Other plays make one think of different things. Speeches make one think of similar things. The programs that make you laugh are very popular ones. A play usually makes one laugh if it is comical. Once, in a program, a man known all over town as "Stump" led the program. Toward the end he sang a solo. Oh, what a solo! By the time he finished I thought the roof would come down because everybody was cheering and laughing so much.

The bad assembly programs are sometimes speeches made by men and women about something that is boring to the student. Everybody is glad when this sort of program is over. Personally, I don't like a program where students say their declamations or something like that. Many are the times that I would much rather be in my own room studying arithmetic than listening to a speaker make a talk.

I have seen students get their lessons during an assembly program. If the program was bad I would say it was all right, but if the program was good—well, I would say something was wrong mentally with the person who was getting his lessons.

I think that assembly programs are necessary to give the students something to laugh about during the school week and students need practice in making other people laugh.

All in all, I wish there were more assembly programs, but I also wish there was a law against bad ones.

LIFE OF A SENIOR

Robert Raymond Phillips was born September 23, 1921 in Rock-springs, Texas. He has curly hair, bluish-gray eyes, and a good disposition. To S. H. S. students he is known as "Ray." He likes horses, Hedy Lamar, fruit salad, Zane Grey novels, ice cream, going fishing and girls with long brown hair. (That's where Patty comes in.) Furthermore, he is one of the trio of Phillips brothers, consisting of Ray, Joe Ross, and Bob, popular members of the vicinity. His favorite sport is football, in which he excelled at Junction. Ray's lofty ambitions are to either be a school teacher or to be a ranchman and get married. We know just the girl for you Ray! Another favorite palate tickler of Ray's is fried chicken. (This should be very helpful to brown-haired girls. It ought to be a cinch to please the old boy now!) However, he has a few other interests. For instance, his hobby is collecting pictures of livestock—horses, and so forth. Fishing and going to Dryden manage to occupy some of Ray's time when he isn't already occupied. We'll presume that he likes a certain degree of social life—he's quite

Along with the revival of heart bracelets came the same piece of good fortune to the more than ever popular friendship bracelets. Bracelets are really getting the rush. Flash—Cute lapel pins and other sorts of pins—Kat showed up Monday with a battle ax on her shirt—gosh, she must have an ax to grind! Janice has a cute drum major on her coat—maybe I'd better add that it's a pin. Patty came to school last week with a pin in the shape of a mountaineer on his favorite donkey carrying the Little Brown Jug. Doris has a key with indescribable trinkets all over it.

Jerkins went over big in S. H. S. Joyce the Yeates has a jerkin dress; also the Cochran has one. There are probably more; but the just mentioned ones are the loudest, therefore, the most noticeable. The seniors surely have colorful tastes—heh, heh!

—And the latest! Sunburns are all the vogue now. Your columnist succeeded in bringing home a well one over the weekend. Other victims: Pauline, Betty, Doris, Joyce L., Mickie, and some more giddy senior girls—honestly, they mess up everything!! They simply have to break out into the head lines, with the type at least three inches high! That's a laugh—the expression—a "dignified" senior.

that she spent the first days of her life. How could you waste such precious moments when we were waiting in the home burg? Oh well, everyone of us has a few misfortunes—and happily, the Lassie now resides here—but definitely! Her tastes in life run from convertibles to cokes to pimento cheese to art to clothes—and back to convertibles. When Billie gets out of this school, she plans to go to Pippin Academy and study art. She's awfully good now! Some specialties are bathing beauties, boudoir glamour girls, and beauteous clothes horses. She draws architecture and landscapes, too. Billie's ambition is to be a designer. Her favorite color is red, and her favorite sports are swimming and riding (in cars). Like many another girl, Billie is crazy about clothes and stuff. What does she look like? Bronze-curly hair, blue eyes, cute figure, infectious smile and giggle, a brain and many other conveniences. Heart interests? Oh, gee, people! Don't you keep up with anything?

Senior Track Meet Results

By mistake our sport news-column failed to report the results of the senior track meet. Even though they are not so important it may be interesting to see who some of the boys are and what they can do.

The rules of the meet won't allow us to say who is the winner but we can show individual achievements. By allowing five points for first place, four for second, three for third and two for fourth we can get an idea of the score.

The highest score of the entire meet goes to Bill Cargile with twenty-seven points. Ross Stavley second with nineteen points. Joe Ross Phillips third with fifteen points. Of course there were other close races for high score but you will have to do the figuring. Here are the results of the senior track meet:

120 high hurdles—Roland, Alpine first; Crawford, Alpine, second; Phillips, Sanderson, third; Swartzell, Alpine, fourth.

100-yard dash—Cargile, Sanderson, first; Weston, Alpine, second; Phillips, Sanderson, third; Babb, Sanderson, fourth.

Pole vault—Babb, Sanderson, first; Stavley, Sanderson, second; Cargile, Sanderson, third; Swartzell, Alpine, fourth.

440-yard dash—Hineman, Marathon, first; Stavley, Sanderson, second; Phillips, Sanderson, third; Billeter, Alpine, fourth.

880-yard run—Davis, Sanderson, first; Fry, Alpine, second; Hamilton, Alpine, third; Hurst, Sanderson, fourth.

SNOOPER

1. Just ask Margaret Ruth how it feels to be protected by a big strong man from being soaked by some mean old boys.

2. Pauline wasn't doing so bad Saturday night with two handsome escorts—Kenneth and Bill—to take her to the dance.

3. Monday morning we expect Edna Mae and Janice to be cutting each other's throat but instead they were gaily smiling at each other and letting by-gones be by-gones. Bill Cochran ought to feel proud.

4. From some little birdie old snooper learned that Helen Ruth is liable to be in a jam at the end of school if both her boy friends show up for graduation.

5. Any boy that makes any kind of a team in SHS is a hero. I guess that is why Wilma Lois keeps smiling at James House who is a member of the Debate Team.

6. Perhaps our eyes are getting bad but I'd swear I saw a bigger Senior ring on Doris's finger the other day. It sure looks swell there.

7. From the way Yvonne and Martin are smiling at each other you would think that something was up.

9. We wonder if Dewain would tell us what happened at the stockpens Tuesday night?

10. What is this we hear about Margaret Pierson and James Shurley. So Wilma Lois is really after James House, huh?

11. Billie Jo seems to be beating Maurine Cox's time on Sunday evening and Bernice, the night before. Maurine, you shouldn't have gone to Austin.

12. When Curtis tossed his 1st Class Badge in the air, it official-ly broke up a romance between him and Clara Alice. At spells it looked good but then other times it was awful. Maybe it was the right thing to do. Anyway Curtis was rating Kathryn Nell Nance that night anyway, so I guess there was no love lost.

14. Doris had to break a date to the dance because she was "sick" Saturday night. All right, Doris, no one said you weren't.

15. Adeline is now a camera fan. She meets the bus every Sunday to take pictures of the handsome bus driver, and then tells everyone it is for her sister.

16. Quote Bill Davis. "Charles Rogers, do you really like Marzee Haynes?" unquote. Then for a reply we get "Why that would not be hard to do."

17. Why was Earl so mad at Bernice Sunday morning? Oh, you didn't like it because Ross took her to the dance, is that right? P. S. (no it is not)

Famed Mesquiteers Starred in New Republic Offering

Local fans of Republic's "Three Mesquiteers" will flock to the Princess Theatre on Friday and Saturday, April 11, 12 when "Oklahoma Renegades," latest of the series starring that intrepid trio, Bob Livingston, Raymond Hatton and Duncan Renaldo, makes its bow.

In this latest adventure, the Mesquiteers return to Oklahoma at the close of the Spanish-American war, in which they participated, and decide to stake out homesteads, taking advantage of a Government offer giving preference to war veterans.

Not only do they plan to become homesteaders themselves, but they write urging their disabled pals, now convalescing in a veteran's hospital to join them.

When the veterans arrive in Oklahoma they meet a very hostile reception. The cattlemen resent the influx of "nesters" and are determined to do everything in their power to drive them off the land, leaving it free range, as it has been in the past. A sinister faction, led by Mace Liscomb and his brother Orv, plan to doublecross not only the "nesters" but the cattlemen as well, gaining title to the range lands exclusively for themselves.

The Mesquiteers managed to win some vantage of good will from the cattlemen when they present a riotously funny minstrel show starring two veterans who were former song and dance men, but what good will they do establish is quickly destroyed by the skulduggery of Mace Liscomb.

Marian Carter, an attractive young ranch owner and champion of the rights of cattlemen over homesteaders, appears on the scene to add romantic complication, and the boys have many a hair-raising adventure before they ultimately establish a relationship of good-will and friendship with their adversaries.

Commencement Exercises, with Mr. A. E. Creigh as speaker, will be held in the High School Auditorium. The Senior class is adopting a new plan this year by having a local speaker address them at Commencement. Twenty-five seniors expect to receive diplomas at this time. The diplomas, which have already been received, are in patriotic colors. The covers are white, lined with red satin, with a blue ribbon on the inside. They were ordered from the Clint W. Lee Company in Seattle, Washington.

The Senior Class Play, "Lunatics at Large," by James Reach, will be presented Friday night, May 2.

TRUCK LOAD LIMIT LAW IS EXPLAINED BY LYNN B. SHAW

Austin — The overall gross weight allowed by the new Texas truck load limit law is 38,000 pounds, which includes the weight of the vehicle and the load, according to Lynn B. Shaw, general manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association. However, Shaw said that this does not mean that all trucks may be operated with a gross weight of 38,000 pounds.

In order to determine the authorized gross weight on any vehicle or combination of vehicles, the first thing to do is to measure the distance in feet between the front axle and the rear axle, and then add 40 and multiply this sum by 700, Shaw explained.

For instance, using an ordinary four wheel vehicle, if the distance between the front axle and the rear axle is 12 feet you add 40, which makes 52. Multiplying this by 700 gives you 36,400, the total gross weight for which this particular vehicle may be registered.

If it is a truck-tractor and semi-trailer combination, it will be necessary to measure the distance in feet between the front axle of the truck-tractor and the rear axle of the semi-trailer, add 40 and multiply by 700. As an example, Shaw pointed out that if the distance between the first and last axles of the combination is 24 feet, you add 40, which makes 64. Then multiply by 700, which gives you 44,800, the total gross weight. However, the act provides that the gross weight shall not exceed 38,000 pounds, so in this instance you could not register the vehicle for more than 38,000 pounds.

Shaw cited these as examples, but the explanation applies to any vehicle or combination of vehicles. In each instance you add the number 40 to the distance between the first and last axles, and multiply by 700.

The law also provides that the gross weight shall not exceed 18,000 pounds per axle where low pressure tires are used, or 16,000 pounds per axle where high pressure tires are used; and such gross weight shall not exceed 9,000 pounds per wheel if low pressure tires are used, or 8,000 pounds where high pressure tires are used.

Furthermore, the weight shall not exceed "600 pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway and using high pressure tires, and a greater weight than 650 pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway and using low pressure tires." Shaw said the tire width referred to means the tread of the tire as stated by the manufacturer.

"Christmas In July" Looms As Another Sturges Hit

"Christmas in July" which opens Friday, April 11, at the Princess Theatre co-starring Dick Powell and Ellen Drew, is the second picture to be written and directed by Preston Sturges. His first picture was "The Great McGinty," a political comedy that was hailed with enthusiasm throughout the country as a masterpiece.

His current picture is another equally hilarious farce developed from a simple story of a boy and girl in love trying to get enough money ahead to get married. The hero is addicted to solving national contests as a short road to fame and fortune. He has never won one, but figures that everyone he loses makes his chances so much greater the next time.

Some practical jokers send him a wire announcing that he has won the $25,000 slogan contest for a nationally known brand of coffee. Taking the wire to the president of the company he collects the check, although the committee checking the entries is still trying to make up its mind about a winner.

Armed with the check he goes on a spending spree buying presents for everyone, even the neighborhood children. The department store is unable to cash so large a check but let him have the merchandise on credit. The coffee president finds his mistake, notifies the store and both proceed with haste to his home. It is impossible to get the presents back, but the coffee executive does get his check and tears it up. How they get out of this embarrassing situation goes to make one of the funniest pictures of the year.

Sturges selected the supporting cast for Dick Powell and Ellen Drew with an expert eye for comedy. It includes Raymond Walburn, Ernest Truex, William Demarest, Alexander Carr and Franklin Pangborn.

Among the touches that distinguish a Sturges picture is, in addition to the naturalness of the situations and dialogue, the great care he exercises in making the smallest detail perfect. He will work for several hours with a cat to get just the right scene. He will spend the same time with children. Often he will not be found behind the camera during the making of a scene, he will be at the other end of the set or in the rafters intently watching the work from various angles.

Mrs. F. L. Charlton of Austin is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Charlton. The Mrs. Charlton's left Thursday and Mrs. N. E. Charlton will visit in El Paso and Mrs. F. L. Charlton will continue to New Mexico for a visit.
