Storm Causes Damage

The above pictures show part of the damage caused at Dryden by a wind storm Thursday night of last week. In the top picture is shown the debris scattered when the wash house and shower house belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith was blown away. Looking toward the house in the back of the picture one can see the concrete floor where the wash house stood. At the left is the washing machine turned bottom up.

The lower picture shows a portion of the Smith home with the roof turned back. The house on its side is a part of the wash house and the concrete floor is where the shower room stood.

It was completely demolished. The wind also lifted the tin building, once housing the power plant, from over the school bus and scattered it across the country some 4 or 5 hundred yards. Only damage to the truck was three broken window glasses.

Other damage was to the windmill belonging to J. M. Bassett which was blown from the tower. Windchargers belonging to A. F. Buchanan and Johnnie Williams were blown down, the door of Pete Billings home was completely gone, chimneys were blown from the Houston Chandler and Preacher Hill residences. A hole was blown in the roof and a door and two windows were blown out of the Chester Smith Store building.

The most freakish incident of the storm happened when A. F. Buchanan went into his store, leaving the keys hanging in the door as he entered. While he was inside lightning struck the keys, tearing them from the key ring and scattering them over the floor.

The storm, which occurred at about 9:30, damaged practically every roof in the town and caused an estimated damage of $5,000.00.

Twenty-first Call Issued; 27, 050 Men In Training

State Selective Headquarters today announced the Army's twenty-first call on Texas for 446 selectees for induction August 4th and 28th.

Texas' readjusted gross quota, fixed on May 15 and projected into the future as a part of "bank account" upon which the army forces may draw from time to time, is 136,488 men, according to General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director.

As of May 15th Texas had 27,050 men actually in training under Selective Service, and National Headquarters had given Texas a credit of 80,140 men, representing members of the armed forces from this State, exclusive of those inducted through Selective Service. The total of these two figures, when deducted from the gross quota, left Texas' net quota for future calls 29,298.

By June 30, General Page added Texas had received credit its net quota for 1,887 men inducted under Selective Service since May 15.

COLLECTION OF ALUMINUM TO BE LAUNCHED MONDAY

Terrell County, with Judge R. S. Wilkinson heading a committee as chairman, will do its part toward the collection of aluminum for U. S. Defense needs during the coming week in connection with the nationwide campaign.

Judge Wilkinson stated that persons who had worn-out aluminum pans, pots, etc., or those which were still usable although little needed could do their part by turning them in. The aluminum utensils will be gathered at the courthouse in Sanderson or those who prefer may call number 25 and have them picked up. At Dryden the aluminum will be gathered at the Chester Smith Store; at Independence, at the school house, and those in precinct 3 will deliver what they have to J. C. Mitchell.

The purpose of the campaign, as communicated to Governor O'Daniel, chairman of the Defense Committee for Texas, by Mayor Laguardia, director of Civilian Defense, is to help remedy a temporary shortage of aluminum in national defense production by conducting a nationwide campaign for donations of used aluminumware. Scrap aluminum in large volume is required to prevent a slow-down in the defense program.

No aluminum collected in the campaign can be used for non-defense purposes, by virtue of a priorities order effective June 10th.

An attempt will be made to canvass every house in the nation to ask housewives to donate the used aluminumware which can be spared without replacement.

Aluminum so collected will be taken to the yards of waste dealers for sorting, classifying, baling; then shipped to the smelters.

The waste dealers have been asked as a patriotic service to contribute their supervision and facilities without profit, the governor was advised.

The metal will be sold to the smelters at a special uniform price fixed by the government. The smelters will pay directly by check to "National Scrap Aluminum Fund," care of the nearest Federal bank. The entire net proceeds will be available to the Office of Civilian Defense, and any expenditures required for the proper defense of the civilian population.

It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO This Week—Remember?

The Times published as a 1st page leader, a story of the hard-surfacing through Terrell County, of a portion of Highway 90, and told of the State Aid of $41,000 granted for use on Highway 3 from the eastern part of Brewster, west to Fort Davis. Many dips were to be eliminated along the route, which was already under construction. The Times went on to say that "most all of Highway 90 through Terrell County has black topping and the balance is in good condition. In fact, the highway in our county cannot be beaten and the roads are in excellent shape. "As soon as improvements are completed on the Border Route, we should have much of the East-West tourist traffic, for our scenery cannot be beaten."

D. H. Cunningham who ranches north of Dryden was a visitor in the city several days this week, having come in to serve on the grand jury. While here Mr. Cunningham had us to

The Livestock News—More interest is shown in mining in Hudspeth county within the last three months than ever before.

Many claims are being filed on and some leasing taking place. Actual mining operations, development work and taking out ore for shipping is in progress. Several claims are now being worked. Some of these by men with plenty of financial backing to carry on.

The war has speeded up operations in the mining industry here as well as elsewhere.

The Iraan Herald — The big oak tree was a treacherous shelter during the height of a cloudburst in Austin recently. A total of 198 sparrows and one blackbird were found dead under the tree after it had been struck by lightning. The birds had sought shelter from the storm in the big tree.

The Big Bend Sentinel—The following sign, a copy of one posted by an irate farmer, for years has hung in the Austin office of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission:

It occasions so much comment and produces so many requests for copies that the Game Department has published it in its Monthly Bulletin, published in the interest of the field force and other employees of the Game Department and all other interested sportsmen and conservationists.

The Monahan News — And here's something to watch for—a "Yankfrank" — a frankfurter with its own built in mustard container — a tube imbedded in its center containing mustard which can be either spread or discarded.

Van Alstyne Leader—A mistaken idea with some people is that the newspaper is an individual proposition.

They do not realize that the local paper is as much a part of the community as the school, churches, or anything else. The newspaper is different from any other business—it is a community affair. It is for the services of the people and not for an individual.

You may not like the editor and the editor may not love you any too well—but the paper he is responsible for does as much for you as the services rendered others. There is nothing personal with it. It is here for a purpose—to do what good it can in every way it can, and the greater the support of those it undertakes to serve, the better service it can render.

It takes the people to make a good newspaper, and without the help of the people no one can run a successful newspaper. It requires money to operate any kind of business—even the churches—and the papers are no exception, and for this reason they must have the financial support of the business interests as well as the good will.

Few newspapers make more than a comfortable living and scarcely any are reported rich from money made in the newspaper business. They deserve to be trusted and to be understood by the people, and a liberal patronage is necessary if the paper is to be a credit to the community.

The State Observer—Total of new oil wells for which the Railroad Commission issued permits dropped to 181 during the week ended July 11, according to the weekly report from commission records by R. W. Byram, oil statistician for the Texas State House Reporter.

This was a decrease of 201 from the previous seven-day period.

Leading district of the state was Southwest Texas, where 42 new wells were planned. Jackson County was at the forefront of this area, listing 10 new wells.

In West Texas, operators obtained 38 new permits to drill Hockley county ranking No. 1 with 10 of the total. Hockley and Jackson were the only two counties in the state with as many as ten locations.

In East Texas, five permits were granted to drill, with exceptions of which in Gregg County and Rusk.

Totals for the other districts: East Central Texas, 18; North Texas, 17; Central Texas, 17; and die 23.

The Fort Davis District Texas petroleum industry now pays 45 per cent of taxes, exclusive of such as gasoline tax, paid by the consumer.

In speaking of signs the Giddings Star says: "A Fort Worth cafe, with a very lofty ceiling, has a sign high in a corner, 'What are you looking away up here for, anyhow?'"

And another squib in the same paper says: "A sign in Kingsville must have been written by someone with a poetical mind: 'Canaries in full sing.'"

Maybe, the writer of that sign had the same "poetic mind" as did the fellow who ran a grocery store near Austin, and had to contend with a bunch of loafers who wandered around over the store promiscuously and got in his way generally. His sign read: "Don't go behind counter unless said so." No doubt neither of the sign writers knew enough English to properly clothe their thoughts.

There is a sign down on Highway 90, near one of the towns through which 90 passes. It reads: "This is God's country, so don't drive through it like Hell!" Maybe the mind producing this sign is the one poetically endowed, whoever the originator.

The Fort Stockton Pioneer—Lloyd D. White, Fort Stockton Rambouillet sheep breeder, Wednesday set the highest price paid for a sheep in the United States for 1941 when he sold to Monte Corder of Sanderson a yearling buck for $500.

The record-price ram was the one which won first place in March at the San Angelo Stock Show in Rambouillet ram lamb class. Mr. Corder, who has been raising breeding stock for many years has an excellent reputation as a breeder of range bucks, will use the ram on his ranch between Fort Stockton and Sanderson.

Mr. Corder, at the same time bought 13 other rams from the White herd at an average price of $121.

The Brackett News-Mail—In the special election held on July 28th, to name a successor to the late Senator Morris Sheppard it was a significant fact that not a single communistic or socialistic vote was cast in the county.

In these days of confused ideals and beliefs, it is gratifying to note that in Kinney County at least, we have a people capable of clear thinking and possessing the qualifications of true Americans—faith in our government, belief in the Democratic way of life and pride in their country. Freedom from the taint condition and we all hope it may continue thusly.

BILL HICKOK WESTERN HERO, LIVES AGAIN!

In all the peril-packed annals of American's frontier days, on one name stands out more than that of Wild Bill Hickok. His manners were soft and his voice was mild but Wild Bill was the most feared man in the savage west. His constant alertness, his coolness under fire, his uncanny swiftness in drawing and his deft precision as a marksman gave him a reputation which will never die in American history.

"Prairie Schooners," opening Friday, July 25, at the Princess Theater, stars cowboy Bill Elliott in the first of a series of Columbia picture dealing with Hickok's exciting adventures. Born to religious Illinois parents, Wild Bill Hickok reaches the zenith of his career in Abilene, Kansas, where he served as United States Marshal. Abilene, terminus of the hoof-grooved Chisholm Trail, had only a small permanent population but a turbulent turnover of cattle drivers who came into town for will relaxation after their tortuous trek.

Abilene's saloons, gambling houses and dance halls helped create the town's reputation as the toughest on earth. After every marshal, who accepted the job, had been killed immediately upon taking the oath of office, a panic-stricken populace appealed to Bill Hickok for help. Wild Bill had ruled Hays City for years and during that time had been known to kill more than thirty-five men. It was said that he was willing to accept a challenge from any two people who dared draw against him. Taking over the job of Marshal in Abilene, Hickok's reputation as Hays City Marshal, government scout, duelist and frontier guide, so impressed the gunmen, rustlers, and renegades that in eight months he was only required to kill two men.

After cleaning up Abilene, Bill went into vaudeville for awhile but quit when they wanted him to use blank cartridges instead of real bullets. It was in Kansas City during the Fair of 1872 that the aging hero nipped a raid of the James Boys on the cash receipts. Wild Bill has long since passed on, but the stories of his dangerous exploits will live forever in American history and on the motion picture screen.

Jane Turns Glamor Girl In Very Young Lady

The mischievous tomboy of last year has become the glamorous young lady of today. Jane Withers has really grown up, so that she has a "crush" and is kisser for the first time on the screen in her 27th starring film for 20th Century-Fox, "A Very Young Lady," which comes Friday, July 25, to the Princess Theatre.

Blue denims gave way to full-length organdy dance frocks in this film, centered about a fashionable girls school. Jane's father, who wants to make a well-mannered lady of her has sent her to the boarding school run by John Sutton. But Jane learns more than row to drink tea and munch crumpets.

A secret "crush" on Sutton and an equally secret kiss from Richard Clayton, and of the boys from the military academy across her road, almost finished Jane finishing school education. Jane isn't fickle, it's only that love upset her. The sympathetic advice of her beautiful teacher, Nance Kelly, who also is secretly in love with Principal John Sutton, makes that advice doubly effective.

There are tears and laughter, heartthrobs and moonstruck glances as Jane grows up. But it's been worth waiting for, especially to watch Jane make a grand entrance in her new evening gown with a corsage of orchids.

Included in the cast of "A Very Young Lady," are Janet Beecher and Jane Carlson. Robert T. Kane was the associate producer and Harold Chustler directed from a screen play by Ladislav Fodor and Elaine Ryan, based on a play by Ladislav Fodor.

KNOW TEXAS?

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin.

Memorable Passage:—"Knowledge and free and independent thought are indeed the invincible foes of all tyranny."—Ben B. Hunt in Knowledge and Patriotism in Texas.

Q. Can you settle a controversy as to whether or not there were even any buffalo in East Texas.

A. According to notations in a diary kept by J. M. Allen who was surveying land for Stephen F. Austin on the lower stretches of the Brazos river, buffalo were plentiful in this East Texas area. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, quotes from Allen's diary for February 25, 1833, as follows: "Killed two buffaloes and one bair and found a panther."—Allen's diary failed to note what the surveyor did with, to, or for the panther.

Sports:—The University of Texas Longhorns played Notre Dame for the first time in 1913. The late Knute Rockne was captain of the visiting Fighting Irish. Gate receipts for the game were approximately $8,000.

Q. Was Mills county named for an early day settler?

A. Mrs. R. M. Thompson, editor-published of the Goldthwaite Eagle, is the authority for the answer to this question: "The county of Mills was created and organized in 1887 from Brown, Comanche, Hamilton, and Lampasas Counties. It was named for Judge John T. Mills, although it is generally thought to be named for Roger Q. Mills. The City of Goldthwaite was named for a Mr. Goldthwaite who helped build the first railroad through the community and who resided some time here. The high school, known as the Ella Goldthwaite High School, was named for Mr. Goldthwaite's wife." What's In a Name?—"Texas" combine to make "Las Vegas Nights," the Paramount comedy with music which opens Wednesday, July 25 at the Princess Theatre, a snappy, tune-filled thoroughly pleasing picture.

Featuring Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra, one of the best aggregations of music-makers in the country, and Bert Wheeler, the comedian who is seen all too rare, on the screen to suit his many admirers, and a host of other very pleasant people, "Las Vegas Nights" sets out to be entertaining and succeeds nicely. Among those who contribute their excellent talents to making the picture merry and lively are Constance Moore, Phil Regan, Betty Brewer, Lillian Cornell, Virginia Dale and Red Donahue and his mule, "Uno."

The g a y, always-bubbling town of Las Vegas, Nevada, with its exciting gaming tables, its wide-open night clubs, and frontier life merging with modern refinements, serves, of course, as the picture's locale. The story concerns the adventures of a vaudeville troupe, consisting of Bert Wheeler, Constance Moore, Virginia Dale and Lillian Cornell, who come to Las Vegas to collect an inheritance. They are befriended by Phil Regan, who plays a singing rancher. He helps them make their stake and has time to further his romance with Miss Moore.

FSA LOANS BIG BENEFIT TO BORROWERS

Farm and ranch families in Texas who are borrowers of the Farm Security Administration have increased their average annual net income 42 per cent it is revealed by a new nationwide survey comparing the status of FSA borrowers in 1940 with their condition before coming into the program.

Results of the survey, just completed in Washington, were received by Herbert A. Dodd, County FSA Supervisor, from C. T. Watson, acting State Director of the FSA.

Total annual income of the 29,658 Texas FSA borrowers in the survey was increased by $5,899,273 the survey showed. This growth in prosperity and purchasing power, Mr. Dodd said, is reflected on the books of merchants and other business men in Texas.

The families are making satisfactory progress in the repayment of their long-term loans. They have already repaid $17,188,077 on loans totaling $35,912,207, although much of this does not fall due for four or five years.

Mr. Dodd said that none of the borrowers were able to get adequate credit anywhere else and that many of them were in dire circumstances. In view of this fact, the repayment record of Texas FSA borrowers is a tribute to the honesty and industry of these needy farm and ranch people and there is ample evidence that the majority of them are getting back on their feet and becoming permanently self-supporting.

Their progress is due in a large measure to the advice and technical guidance in sound farm and home management, which accompanies each FSA loan. The local unit with headquarters in Alpine, Texas serves Brewster, Jeff Davis, Presidio and Terrell Counties and has been making rural rehabilitations in these counties since 1935.

During 1940 the average Texas FSA borrower produced $295 worth of good, for home consumption. Goods produced for home use included 423 gallons of milk per family, 388 pounds of meat and 287 quarts of vegetables and fruit canned for winter.

Another important phase of the Farm Security's rehabilitation program is the adjustment of the family's old debts. Local Farm Debt Adjustment Committees are set up for this purpose. They have no legal authority to compel adjustments, but by bringing the farmer or rancher and his creditors together, they usually are able to help both parties reach a friendly understanding and settlement. This service is available to all farmers and ranchers, whether or not they are FSA borrowers, and creditors as well as debtors may apply for assistance.

In addition to its rehabilitation program, FSA is carrying out the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act. This act provides a limited number of loans to competent tenants to enable them to buy family size farms and ranches. During the first three years of his program, 1,048 tenant purchase loans were made in Texas and the program is to be expanded during the coming season.

In the local unit, Jeff Davis County was designated as a tenant purchase county in 1940 and one farm has been purchased. The county has been redesignated this year and applications are being accepted.

Farm Security Administration has been designated as a National Defense Agency. Mr. Dodd, RR Supervisor and Mrs. Ella R. McBride, Home Supervisor have recently returned from a four day short course at A and M College of Texas where technical knowledge and current problems were discussed and definite information was given as to the responsibility of the organization during the present world situation.

Mrs. Gladys Crane, Clerk Typist left Tuesday of this week for Abilene where a similar meeting for clerk-typists of Regional VIII is in progress.

Mr. Dodd states he will be glad for anyone interested in the Farm Security to call on him at his office located in the Fuller Building in Alpine.
