

With Nikita keeping everyone all shook up, and mad and now with all his fellow gooney-birds falling in line to decry the U.S. over the U2 incident this has been a rather exciting week.

But--here in Friona we had what to us was a world shaking event--

Uncle John came and visited us on his ninety-second birthday!

For some of you who may not know who Uncle John is, well, he is John White, founder of The Friona Star and the first Mayor of Friona.

Until only a year ago Uncle John kept busy at home in his own printing shop located behind his home north of Friona.

But--Uncle John has been hit by ill health this past year and has had to give up his printing.

Due also to his health, he had never been through our plant here at The Star since the printing part of our operation was moved to Friona from Farwell some two years ago this August.

But Monday Uncle John observed his 92nd birthday and after dinner came by for a short visit with us and to see how his fledgling newspaper has changed in the last 34 years.

We enjoyed hearing of the first time Friona had a newspaper from Uncle John and some of the knocks that went along with his being the first Mayor of the then "small-time trading center" which attracted mostly cowboys from the nearby ranges.

As luck would have it, a member of Uncle John's first city council, Jesse Osborn, now of Muleshoe came wandering in the office during the visit and those two had quite a time recalling the first hog ordinance which the city council passed.

"At that time everyone had a pig pen right behind his house, and in the summer it was pretty much of a stench," recalled Uncle John.

"So we (the council) voted to have all the hog pens moved out of the city and at first we had quite a hassle on our hands," he says.

But apparently Uncle John and his commissioners were pretty good politicians or diplomats and after explaining the situation, most of the hog owners moved their charges away from the dwellings.

The third member of that first council was Jerry Blackwell, recalled Uncle John and Jesse.

We have another story about Uncle John and some pictures taken during his visit with us this week and we sure hope we can be here for his visit on his 93rd birthday.

Bowling Begins At Friona Lanes Friday

Friona Lanes, Friona's newest addition to the skyline along Highway 60, will officially open their doors for bowling enthusiasts at 8 a. m. Friday morning.

This opening, although not a Grand Opening which will come later when the bowling center will have a nationally known bowling figure on hand for exhibition bowling, will mark a milestone in construction efforts in Friona.

During opening day only, Friday, Friona Lanes will offer one free line of bowling for all comers, plus free coffee and donuts in the Center's restaurant, the Honeysuckle

Room. It was only a few months ago that the first rumors of a bowling center began to be heard then construction began on what the owners believe is "the nicest, and best equipped 12-lane bowling Center in the Panhandle."

The 75 by 150 foot building is located just north of the Golden Spread restaurant on Highway 60. The building is constructed of brick and concrete and completely refrigerated air conditioned.

Owners Dean Bingham, Doyle Elliott, Ed and Gary Hicks have made an effort to provide the bowlers of this area with a plant in which it will be a pleasure just to lounge, plus the relaxation and pleasure of bowling.

Friona Lanes will be managed by Ed and Gary Hicks, formerly of Muleshoe who moved to Friona only recently.

Ed, father of Gary, managed the bowling lanes at Muleshoe until a short time ago.

The new building will offer the ultimate in bowling equipment with AMF automatic pin-spotting machines, plus the AMF Magic Circle and Score Projection equipment.

A total of 60 spectator seats in the most modern decor, and constructed of fiberglass, are available for those watching the game. In addition the pits can accommodate a total of 60 bowlers at one time.

The new Center will have available a nursery for those mothers who wish to bowl and leave their children in the company of Pat Ready of Friona who will be in charge of this during the summer.

Inside the Center can be found the nicest restaurant and short order surroundings in Friona. The Honeysuckle Room, which can seat 40 diners at one time, will be managed by Bill and Carolyn Raney and will offer short orders and fountain drinks.

Hicks points out free instructions will be offered to bowlers during the mornings in order that the new keggers may be able to try out the sport without feeling self-conscious.

In addition, he or his son Gary, will be on hand to help bowlers in any way possible.

In keeping with the modern, up to date, Center's lanes, there will be available ball drilling and cleaning machines. Also Friona Lanes will carry in stock a full line of bowling balls, bags, shoes and other bowling accessories.

Rental shoes can be obtained at the desk for those who don't wish to purchase their own. Also lockers will be available for personal bowling equipment and will be installed as soon as they are delivered.

Plenty of parking space is available at Friona Lanes with spaces for 60 automobiles on a hard-surfaced lot east of the front door.

League play will get underway at Friona Lanes June 6.

An organizational meeting, the final one before play begins, will be held at the high school cafeteria Saturday night at 8 with plans for four leagues to be organized. (See story this issue.)

League play will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights at the lanes with four lanes being held in reserve for open bowling at all times.

The lanes will be closed all day Sundays. Opening daily at 8 a. m. the lanes will run Monday through Saturdays.

In addition to Ed and Gary Hicks other employees of Friona Lanes include Lee Kimbrough, night counterman and Valton Howard and Darrell Buske, machine operators.

"We have tried to obtain the best possible bowling equipment in the finest building on the Plains," say the owners, "and we hope everyone will come by and visit us soon."

Awards Day Ceremony Honors Top Students

'Best' and other 'outstanding' awards will be given to 16 students in the Friona school system at an Awards Day program to be held Thursday morning in the high school auditorium.

These students are selected each year for their outstanding abilities in several fields of endeavor and ability to get along with their fellow students while making "good" marks in their scholastic work.

Jacquelyn Magness and Gary Bradley took the Best All 'Round awards for the high school girl and boy in this category.

The Scholarship awards for high school went to James

Perkins with an average of 97.66 for the boys and as The Star goes to press there is a dead heat between Kay Struve and Judy Smith for the top scholastic marks for this school year.

Judy Smith and Bob Sanders took the Citizenship awards for the high school. Eric Vance Rushing and Carolyn Herring were named the Best All 'Round Boy and Girl in the junior high school.

Moving on down to departmental awards which are given

92nd BIRTHDAY-- Uncle John Feted With Paper Party

Members of the Friona Star and Plains Publishers staffs honored J. W. (Uncle John) White with a birthday party Monday afternoon. This "grand old man" of the Star was observing his 92nd birthday.

He was accompanied on a conducted tour of the plant by a long-time friend, Floyd W. Reeve, and his daughter, Mrs. Bill Flippin. A birthday cake, baked by Dottie Osborn, an employee of Plains Publishers, was presented to Uncle John.

Mr. White came to Friona from Illinois about 35 years ago. He was the first editor and publisher of the Friona Star. The first issue was printed July 5, 1926.

In addition to being a pioneer newspaper man, Uncle John served the community in many ways. Serving as the first mayor of the town.

Despite a recent stay in the hospital, Uncle John declined to use a wheelchair for his tour of one of the most modern up-to-date publishing plants in the area.

"Many changes have been made in newspaper printing since I first began setting type by hand and I appreciate each new labor saving device," says Uncle John.

Since Uncle John went into semi-retirement a few years ago, he has operated a small print shop near his home. In a recent conversation with a Star employee, Uncle John made the following statement:

"It is hard to keep a good man down. Many people keep busy trying to keep me out of the shop, but occasionally I do get down there yet. One day I went down just to look around and several little jobs came in before I got out. I did them, too!"

Mosquito Control Slated

A county-wide meeting for the purpose of fighting the summer's mosquitoes will be held in Friona Thursday, June 2, announced Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer.

The meeting will be in the school auditorium, with the time and more detailed account of the plans to be announced in next week's paper.

Dr. Spring says that "on account of the encephalitis which threatens us each year this season we hope to get an all-out effort on the way toward controlling the mosquitoes."

Watch next week's paper for details of the meeting.

Harsh Reminder For Political Spenders

Despite the best efforts of politicians to ignore the fact, it is still impossible to get something for nothing. The turmoil in Argentina proves it once again. For 13 years under the Dictator Juan Peron's government the working people never had it so good. There were paid holidays for every occasion, yearly automatic pay raises, a month's pay as a bonus every year. There were elaborate welfare programs, government jobs for most anybody who wanted one, and on top of all this, prices were artificially held down, by price control.

A U. S. News and World Report article points out that: "All this was highly popular with the country's working classes, but Argentina practically went broke as a result The only way the Government could meet its bloated payrolls was by printing paper money. Industry and cattle raising came almost to a standstill."

President Arturo Frondizi's efforts to salvage something from the wreckage have been a bitter pill to people used to many years of easy living on government hand-outs. Wage increases have been frozen except as they could be tied to increased productivity. Luxury imports have been cut and government payrolls were slashed. As price controls and subsidies have been dropped most people are limited to buying essentials.

The process of reversing the growth of big government takes time. Nearly 10 per cent of the 20 million people who live in Argentina still work for the government and payrolls take about 80 per cent of the budget. Nationalized railroads, airlines and merchant shipping are inefficient and deep in the red. Inflation goes on as government prints money to pay its bills. But according to U. S. News and World Report signs of recovery are showing up. Private capital has boosted oil production 30 per cent for the first 5 months of this year. Cattle raising and farming are coming back along with industrial production.

Every politician, business, or organization in our country, tempted to promote or accept some non-essential public spending for selfish benefits is paving the primrose path to national bankruptcy.

Funeral For Ira Miller Thursday

Final rites for Ira Miller, 87, long time Friona resident who died at the Parmer County Community Hospital about 5 p. m. Tuesday will be at 2:30 this afternoon at the First Baptist Church. Rev. L. Aston Sartain, pastor, will officiating minister. Miller moved to Friona from

Pioneer Day Slated Tuesday

Plans have been completed for the annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day, which will begin at 10 a. m. in the Hereford Community Center. "Goose" Ramey of Dimmitt, president of the organization will call the meeting to order.

The invocation will be by Rev. H. L. Thurston. Mayor Woodrow B. Wilson will deliver the welcome address and Fred W. Baird will give the response. During the business session there will be an election of officers, recognition will be made and awards will be presented. Mrs. Clara Shore will read the minutes and treasurer's report. Lunch will be served in the Curtis, Okla., in 1925 and was a retired farmer. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge No. 386 at Mooreland, Okla., and also a member of the First Baptist Church in Haskew, Okla.

Survivors, besides his wife, Grace, include two sons, Melvin of Woodward, Okla., and Claude of Friona; six daughters, Irene Highfill of Mooreland, Okla., Birdie Griffin of Denver, Martha Cummings of Dallas, Maesie Flynn of Laredo and Grace Parr of the Black Community.

Also two sisters, Mrs. Jodie Darling of Pratt, Kans., and Mrs. Edna Hawks of Arkansas; and one brother, John Miller.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, Iva Miller, on January 4, 1914.

Burial will be in the Friona cemetery under direction of Claborn Funeral Home.

An open mind is an asset, but don't let your mind become so open that nothing stays.

The Taft Lovetts have joined

Most Frionans got through Friday the thirteenth without any accidents or serious injuries. One of the third grade teachers, Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes, was one of the unlucky ones. She had the misfortune of getting a finger in a car door. This wouldn't have been so bad had she not closed the door without realizing her finger was in it.

The way we heard it Stan Benge came in for some good natured ribbing. Since Stan and Jane had two daughters and were expecting another addition to the family, Stan thought a baby boy was just what the Benge family needed.

When Sharla Beth was born, his friends told him he made a mistake by taking Jane to the hospital on Friday the thirteenth. After getting a good look at her, though, some of Stan's cronies agreed with him that perhaps he wasn't so unlucky after all.

Monday at noon the Glenn Floyds met Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downs, a couple from Ohio. In chatting with them ten minutes or so we learned a lot of things about Ohio and answered some of the questions they asked about Texas.

This was the first time they had ever been in the Southwest. They had traveled the "66" all the way until reaching Amarillo and had chosen the "southern route" in order to include Carlsbad Cavern in their sightseeing.

When asked about farming in Ohio, Mr. Downs said, "We used to farm a lot and feed out lots of cattle, but now people are so thick there isn't much room left for farms and feed lots."

Mr. and Mrs. Downs live in a small village in the vicinity of Cleveland and were on their way to California to visit relatives and friends.

One thing that has attracted the attention of these visitors was the large number of tanks being pulled behind pick-ups. Those of us who live here and have become accustomed to seeing farmers going one way and another with fertilizer and fuel, think very little about it, but it is probably an unusual sight to many visitors in this section of the country.

Early this week we've thought a lot about the Egyptians. Our plague has been millers, candleflies or whatever they are called. Of course, we have them every spring, but it seems as if there have never been so many before.

There must be at least six different kinds and there's an endless number of them. A few have been spotted here and there around the office, but no where have we seen so many as at home.

We're wondering if they are attracted by the wheat. At any rate, there are clouds of them flying over the wheat fields at night and almost that many in our house and on the screens. Just wish someone would

We're wondering if the pictures this year were selected for laughs. Some of them are several years old and most seniors feel that eighth grade or freshmen pictures are something to be laughed at.

Needless to say, some of the parents have been amused by looking at the older pictures, too.

There is always a certain amount of confusion with spelling of names. The eighth grade class this year has a special problem. Two members of the class have almost identical names.

Diana Taylor, valedictorian of the class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor. Dianne Taylor, daughter of the Gwin Taylors, is another class member. Our attention has been called to our inconsistency in spelling these names.

Friona To Observe Memorial Day

Memorial Day will be observed in Friona with services slated to be held in the city park at the Veteran's Gold Star monument and following at the Friona Cemetery.

The town's businesses for the most part will observe the day as a business holiday with stores being closed down for a long weekend.

Services at the city park will be under the auspices of the Ira Benger American Legion Post 206.

These services will begin at 7:30 a. m.

Color guard members will be drawn from the membership of the Legion post.

Charles Baldwin, educational director of the First Baptist Church of Friona will give the Chaplain's message followed by the invocation by Rev. Bill Phillips, of the Union Congregational Church of Friona.

Taps will be played by Floyd Reeve and as the color guard and firing squad retire the services will end.

develop a light bulb that could be mounted on a post outside that would kill insects.

There have even been a few mosquitoes already. It seems almost too cold for them and they are not very numerous, but their presence is a reminder that we must do everything possible to eliminate breeding places if possible.

If you haven't joined the cemetery association yet, it isn't too late. Much work has been done on improvement of the local cemetery, but there's much more that needs to be done. Membership fees of $10 are being asked for by the association.

Anyone who feels able to contribute more, the additional money would be used to a good advantage and would be greatly appreciated. Making the cemetery attractive and keeping it that way is a big job and is important to most of us.

When you think about shopping for graduation gifts, remember a subscription to the Friona Star for a school term costs only $3 and will be welcomed by any senior planning to enter college this fall.

Phone 2291, give us the person's name to whom you wish to give a gift subscription and we'll do the rest. An attractive card will be mailed to the student with a request to advise us when the subscription should begin and his or her mailing address.

Modern man has been very aptly described as "A person who drives a mortgaged car over a bond-financed highway on credit-card gas."

Music will be presented by the High School Boys Quartette and the Memorial Day Message will be given by the Rev. H. A. Stroebe, of the Rhea Lutheran Church.

This will be followed by a minute of silent prayer for veterans of the wars of our nation and the placing of the wreath on the monument by Mrs. E. E. Taylor, Gold Star Mother.

Following the benediction the services will move to the Friona cemetery where the Legion, assisted by members of Cub Pack 56, and both the city's Boy Scout Troops and the Legion Auxiliary will be in charge of the services.

The colors will be advanced, a memorial prayer offered and a Roll Call of the Dead read. This will be followed by the decoration of the graves and a salute to the fallen by the firing squad of the Legionaires.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Troop 53 Camps In New Mexico

Boy Scout Troop 53 went to Fort Sumner on a camping trip. We left Friona at 3 p.m. Saturday. We were supposed to leave at 1:30, but had a flat. On the way up there we had another flat. We got it fixed at Fort Sumner.

While we were having the flat fixed, some of us went over and looked at the football field. It was real nice. When we got back we got in the car and went on. We got there and Lester Harrelson's son, Lester, told us where the lake was.

We met Mr. Harrelson at the first gate and he told us to go on to the lake. We saw about one thousand rabbits in all. When we got to the lake, we set up camp and then looked around.

Then Lester came down in the pick-up truck. Then some boys went with him to get some wood. When they got back, they had to go get some water. It was dark when they got back, but they had killed a rabbit.

Lester cleaned it and then they roasted it and then ate it. It wasn't very good. We finished eating hot dogs and then went to bed. The next morning we got up and started a fire then some of us went fishing.

Garry Moorman caught the first fish. Then Bobby Sims caught the second one and L. D. Taylor caught the third one. We caught seven fish in all. We ate breakfast then most of us went hiking. Some of us found some arrow heads.

When we were going back we had to wade water up to our ankles. When we got back to camp, we took off our shoes and sat and let them dry. When they dried, we took down our tents and went to the old ghost town. When we got there we looked the old building over.

They had a church there and the scenery in it was beautiful. We ate dinner in one of the old buildings. We had steak sandwiches. We left the ghost town and started home.

We stopped at Fort Sumner and went through the "Billy The Kid Museum." It was real interesting visiting the museum. When we finished looking, we came on home. Everyone was tired when we got here, but everyone had fun.

--Garry Moorman

Letters to the Editor

In order to make Friona Cemetery in Friona, Texas, the final resting place of your loved ones and friends, a more beautiful place in memory of those we have lost, we have formed a new Friona Cemetery Association.

The City of Friona is spending several hundred dollars each year in the maintenance of our cemetery, and plans to continue this same approximate expenditure.

However, the cemetery is in need of many other improvements, such as a better roadway, a more attractive approach to the cemetery, more landscaping, grass, etc. In addition, work on surveying the lots needs to be done, and accurate records need to be obtained of the graves and kept up to date.

Following the drive for funds last year the work on the well was completed and water is plentiful. Plans are underway for the planting of shrubs, sowing of grass, and for placing caliche on the drives.

All of these things require more money than the city is able to furnish. As a result, we have formed this Friona Cemetery Association, in the hope that many of you will want to become members and pay an annual fee for the upkeep of the cemetery.

We are starting out this year asking a membership fee of $10.00 per year. Should you feel able to contribute more, we would certainly appreciate the added money to our funds. We want to stress the fact that we plan to continue the association's work throughout the years, and will need your membership fee annually.

If you do not want your lots grassed or watered will you please write us immediately. Some people do not like grass on the lots, and others do not want water on the stones. So please let us know at once if you do not.

Thank you so very much for your help in this cause, one which we feel is most important to all of us.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Ralph Wilson
President

Trax--

on down there that we're amazed by the neatness, plus the plushness of the new establishment in Friona.

In fact last month during a couple of trips to East Texas we passed by about five of the new bowling lanes under construction and the building in Friona would put every one of them to shame, and these buildings were in cities of 20,000 population and larger (two of them in Fort Worth alone.)

Inside the owners have done themselves proud also and spared nothing to make the plant one to really admire and take pleasure in having in our city.

We are proud to have such a nice addition as Friona Lanes in our fair city and we'll be proud to point it out as one of the outstanding things that have happened hereabouts of late.

Next Monday is Memorial Day--and as a national holiday will be observed by most of the businesses being closed. In addition the American Legion will observe the event with Memorial Services at the park and cemetery.

In addition Poppy Day will be observed here Saturday with the Auxiliary selling poppies, so don't miss an opportunity to help out a vet!

Cub Scout Picnic Slated

All Cub Scouts and members of their families are invited to attend an outdoor picnic at the City Park Monday, May 30, at 6:30 p. m. Activities of the evening will be directed by J. P. Sims and Joe Mann.

Each family is to bring a freezer of ice cream or a cake and a wire or other suitable item for roasting weiners, it will also be necessary for each family to furnish bowls and spoons for its own use.

FORMER FRIONAN POSES WITH WYATT EARP--Chris Houlette, 16 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Houlette of Morton, is being held here by Hugh O'Brian, better known as Wyatt Earp. This television star visited the Cerebral Palsy Clinic at Lubbock recently. Chris is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Houlette of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Phipps of Muleshoe. He is also the great-grandson of Mrs. George McLean of Friona. Chris makes regular visits to the clinic. 32-3tp

Ayers Completes Course

Army National Guard Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, 49, whose wife, Flora Mae, lives in Friona, completed the 16-week associate course at The Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., May 5.

The course is designed to prepare selected officers for duty with general staffs of combat divisions or logistical commands and to familiarize them with the duties of the general staff at corps and Army level. Colonel Ayers is assigned as assistant executive officer of the 36th Infantry Division Artillery, an Army National Guard unit in San Antonio.

The good old days were when the police didn't hide at the side of a busy road, but took their chances in traffic like everyone else.

Magnetic ear clips would top the list in the "What Won't They Think Of Next" department for a little while. If they are not available locally, they will be in the near future. Think they will probably be the fastest selling item on the market since the advent of the hoola hoop.

It's about time for another fad to take the country by storm. Guessing what it will be would be almost impossible, but it is interesting to ponder the subject.

Taxes-Same Song But Different Verse

AUSTIN, Tex.--Gov. Price Daniel's money raising proposals indicate that many of next year's tax battles will be fought on familiar terrain.

Basic program submitted by the governor to the State Finance Advisory Commission is the same as the one he submitted in 1959. Even the goal is nearly the same.

In 1959 the Legislature passed a bill aimed at raising $185,000,000 in new money. Governor Daniel estimates 1961 new-money-needs at $193,000,000. This is to cover an expected deficit of about $68,800,000 and increased annual spending of about $62,527,000.

To raise this money, the governor suggests revising the corporation franchise tax formula and increasing the liquor tax, gross receipts tax on utilities and the auto sales tax. He also suggests passing the abandoned-property act (allowing the state to take over unclaimed bank accounts, property, etc.) and putting a tax on beer and cigarettes sold on military bases.

Governor Daniel also told the Commission of four other tax ideas which he said had been suggested by others.

- These include:
1. A 10 per cent increase on all items in the Omnibus Tax Bill except cigarettes, tobacco and franchises.
 2. A 1-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax.
 3. A tax of 1 cent per thousand cubic feet on the processing of natural gas.
 4. A 3 per cent tax on gross receipts of gas pipeline companies.

Governor Daniel said he knew his proposal would be criticized as "riding the same old horses." But he said the affected tax sources would not be taxed any heavier than those in neighboring and competing states. Finance Commission is to begin committee work this month and hold another joint session of its 34 members--all leaders in their fields--in June.

TAX EXEMPT SALES JUMP-- Texas apparently is losing some tax revenue through sale of tax-exempt cigarettes on military posts, reports State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. Calvert told the State Finance Commission that since the state tax increased to eight cents a pack last year, cigarette sales at federal installations have jumped almost a million packs a month.

He said sale of tax-exempt cigarettes in March, 1960, was up by 1,500,000 packs over what it was in March, 1959. Military officials denied that non-taxed cigarette - selling - privileges had been abused.

DEMO HOUSING PROBLEM--

Austin hotel and motel facilities will be stretched beyond capacity when an estimated 5,000 come here June 14 for the State Democratic Convention. It's more people than Austin can accommodate. To ease the problem a little, the State Democratic Executive Committee has ruled that no room reservations will be made for persons living within 75 miles of the Capital City.

Also in preparation for the big day, SDEC has named a credentials committee whose job will be to decide which delegates shall be admitted. Four counties had "rump" conventions and will send two rival delegations to Austin. Governor Daniel, pooh-poohing the "rump" groups, said they were all too small to be a threat to the official delegations.

"There is more harmony in the Texas Democratic Party now than ever before," said the governor.

BEAUTIFUL MAPS READY-- Texas' new 1960 official highway map, illustrated with 11 dramatic full-color pictures, now is available for the asking. It's not only handsome, but informative. It shows the 1,933 miles of multi-lane divided highways not completed. Also, 26,378 miles of state and U. S. highways and 20,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.

Lakes, state parks and roadside parks are indicated. Texas' history, geography, and present opportunities are summarized.

In line with the state's tourist-seeking policy, it is headed, "All of Texas Welcomes You." To get the map, write the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14.

The Bible Teaches ...

that the wages of sin is death (Romans 6:23). All men die physically. All sin, but do not have to receive the wages of sin which is death. There is a way provided through God's love for us wherein we are forgiven. If we suffer spiritual death it is by our choice.

God offers eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord as a free gift (Romans 6:23). Will you receive it? The choice is personal. The decision you make has eternal consequences because where you spend eternity depends on your response to God's offer. If you refuse his offer the payment of wages for your sin is death. If you accept it he pays the cost and you go free.

A NATION'S GOD

The Scriptures say, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." In this time of national and international crises we are in need to be reminded that a nation survives only as it serves the one true God and is protected by Him in all that it does. Our nation claims that it trusts in the Lord even with that statement written on our coins. Yet we are reminded that a nation makes God its Lord only as each individual person in it makes that so in his life and lives daily the kind of life taught in God's Word.

Senator Robert C. Byrd (D., W.Va.) recently commended the Bible for the nation in a speech before the United States Senate. Quoting the entire 19th Psalm he pointed out that "the Bible is an astonishing miracle." "Written fragment by fragment, over the course of many centuries, under different states of society and in different languages, by persons of the most diverse temperaments, talents, and under differing conditions, we can only marvel at the whole sublime and momentous work."

"Lawyer and merchant, physician and diplomat, statesman and soldier, rich and poor--all may derive from it alike measureless treasures untold... It was divinely inspired and it reveals God's wondrous plan of salvation for erring mankind."

Let us take heed and follow in the footsteps of the Savior as revealed in His Word. Then our nation will stand because He stands with those who stand with Him.

Members of the Friona Women's Bowling Association met Friday, May 21, at 8 p.m. in the Production Credit Association office for further instruction on bowling leagues and woman bowlers in general.

Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. Amy Pitt, state director in the Texas Woman's Bowling Association, and Grace Baker, sister of Mrs. Pitt, both of Amarillo. Miss Baker is the treasurer of the Amarillo Woman's Bowling Association.

These two ladies discussed at some length the formation of the City Association and rules governing this body. Mrs. Pitts made some additional suggestions regarding rules for the City Association and also discussed league rules.

The City Association is planned before league play gets underway. Time and date of the next meeting will be announced later. Mrs. Eddie Hall, president of the local association, encourages all women interested in bowling to attend this meeting.

Hadley Family Has Get Together

The gathering of the A. H. Hadley family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beavers of Bovina Sunday had a three fold purpose. First, it was Mother's Day; second, Alfred Beavers was having a birthday; and third, James Pope was also observing a birthday.

Those present besides the host couple were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hadley and Mary; Mr. and Mrs. James Pope, Gary and Michael; Mr. and Mrs. Donn Tims and Larry; Mr. and Mrs. Windle Sikes; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bails, Harold, Becky and Kenny; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Hadley, Shena, Shasta and Sheri.

Brownie And Girl Scout Camp Begins

Plans have been completed for a Brownie and Girl Scout Day Camp to begin at 7:30 a.m. Monday, May 30 and run through June 3. Sessions will be held daily from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Ralph Wilson farm west of Friona.

Theme of the camp will be "Wagon Train." Meeting place to join the wagon train will be the Friona club house. Cost for each girl is $1.50. Transportation will be ranch wagons.

Each girl is to bring a tin plate and cup, fork and spoon, pocket knife, tuna can, cotton gloves and a bandana. All of these should be brought in a knap sack of dipping bag. The girls will be cooking their breakfast each morning over a camp fire. They will then wash their own dishes and set up a camp site. Girls are encouraged to wear jeans, shirts, hats and oxfords. A family program will follow this day camp and parents are invited to visit the camp at any time. Scout leaders expect to set up ten or eleven camp units on the camp site.

Three Get Fines On DWI Charges

Trouble usually comes in bunches for the Parmer County sheriff's department, and that's the way it was with drunk drivers over the weekend.

About noon Sunday Sheriff Charles Lovelace was called to help investigate an accident about a mile east of Farwell on Highway 70-84. Seward W. Schoolcraft, 59, Muleshoe, was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated.

Schoolcraft, driving a pickup and headed toward Muleshoe, collided with the rear end of another pickup driven by Senforaso G. Sanchez, 38, an employee of Gifford-Hill Western in Farwell.

Damage to Schoolcraft's vehicle was estimated at about $100, and damage on the other pickup was thought to be around $50.

Schoolcraft pled guilty before Judge Loyde Brewer in county court Monday afternoon after spending the evening in the county jail. He was fined $100 and costs, given three days in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

and turned that case over to the Clovis sheriff's department.

In other official activities, a jury list is being prepared for grand jury duty. District Attorney Bill Sheehan has about 15 cases on file for investigation, and Sheriff Lovelace said this week that a session will probably be called some time in June.

About 9 o'clock Monday morning Sheriff Lovelace received a call from Lazbuddie reporting a car thought to be occupied by a drunk driver. Sure enough it was, and the sheriff picked up Nathan Brown, 60, Muleshoe, who works on a farm in that area.

Charged with DWI, Brown pled guilty Monday afternoon, and was fined $100 and costs and given three days in jail by Judge Brewer.

While Sheriff Lovelace was returning to Farwell with Brown, he spotted the irregular movement of another car, and stopped for a check, with the result that Dewey Nash, 25, farm laborer near Lariat, was arrested and also charged with DWI.

He was picked up near the Oklahoma Lane intersection on the east-west farm road. Nash also pled guilty and was fined $100 and costs and given three days in jail by Judge Brewer.

In addition to those three cases in less than a 24-hour period, the sheriff stopped another drunk driver in Texico Sunday (shortly after the wreck)

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

Early Season Insect Control will pay three out of five years and in one of these three years it is likely to pay big. Its seldom costs over $5.00 per acre for three applications when applied by a custom operator. In most instances it cost less when the farmer applies his own insecticide. Extra profits in some years will pay for several years early season insect control. It is time now to make arrangements to get the job done whether you plan to do it yourself or hire it done.

Don't miss the advantage of setting early fruit by waiting too late to get started on insect control. Normally the four-leaf stage is the time to start but begin earlier if thrips are damaging the young cotton. Early season control should stop by about the last week in June or July 1 to give beneficial insects a chance to build up before the bollworm normally shows up around the last part of July. Be sure to check the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects 1960. Toxaphene alone is not included as of the recommended chemicals in 1960.

If you plan to seed alfalfa this spring or fall you might well consider using Zia, a New Mexico variety, or Lahontan. Both these varieties show more aphid resistance than the varieties we have been growing. In tests conducted by New Mexico A&M where no insect control was carried on, Zia produced 7.35 tons per acre, 1957, and 7.86 tons per acre in 1958. Lahontan produced 6.96 in 1957 and 6.48 tons in 1958. The next high variety was Ranger with 4.29 tons in 1957 and 5.2 tons in 1958. Several of the other varieties produced less than three tons and some less than one ton per acre. With the spotted alfalfa aphid in the picture, looks like using a variety with some resistance to this aphid is a must.

A lot of people are becoming more interested in putting in permanent grass of some kind. Midland Bermuda is attracting the most interest at present. This grass has done well up here the last three years and those who have it that I have discussed it with think it is alright. None claim it will do what some of the reports on the grass have credited it with. If you want to see some growing, Frank Hinkson between Clay's Corner and Lazbuddie has a small acreage and one strip comes out to the farm-to-market road. If you will talk with Frank he can tell you what he thinks of it after growing it two years.

The irrigated wheat crop is looking good. The problem of getting rid of the straw will soon be facing us again. When deciding how to handle it, better keep in mind that organic matter is the key to any rich productive

Recommend Planting Practices

Maize planting time is well underway as many farmers are busy planting grain sorghums throughout the High Plains area. Farmer County's agricultural agent, Joe Jones, recommends to farmers that slow maturing seed such as DeKalb A-63 and Amak R-12 and others should be planted by the first of June. "Earlier maturing varieties should be planted from June 10 to 25," Jones says. "By later seeding, you can do a better job of weed control and in many instances you can save one watering, since the shorter days and cooler nights of the fall will be the time of maturity.

"Seed should be treated for control of diseases and soil insects. "Narrow row seeding is becoming more widespread. Advantage of narrow seeding is that it better utilizes plant food and water, because you have better plant spacing when the seed rate per acre is kept the same." The agent explains that seeding eight pounds an acre in 40 inch rows will be putting one seed per inch of drill furrow. Using the same amount of seed, eight pounds, with 20-inch rows will be putting one seed for every two inches, thus giving better spacing.

Don't Forget Herbicide Law

A reminder to Texas farmers and ranchers was given by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reminding them that the use of hormone herbicides is regulated by state law and that each applicator must obtain a permit before application. White said the hormone herbicide is more popular than ever, and while it is a good chemical, it can be highly injurious to broadleaf crops, especially cotton. White urged the applicator to be sure he understands the nature of the herbicide he uses, the physiology of the weed as well as the crop plants he is treating, and the various methods of application available. Approximately 300,000 acres of crops and brush will be sprayed this spring and summer including such crops as rice, wheat, and milo. Herbicides are also used to kill unwanted brush. Herbicides usually are classed as one of three types depending on how they affect the weeds and crops being treated: (1) contact herbicides, (2) translocated herbicides and (3) soil sterilants. A single chemical may be classified in more than one way depending on the method or rate of application.

soil and find some way to get your land ready to put back to wheat other than burning the straw. No one claims your 1961 wheat crop will hurt by burning the straw but when the organic matter in the soil is depleted there is trouble ahead. It takes longer to build it up than it does to take it out and with a reasonably good supply to begin with like the soils on the plains it is usually several years before it is depleted to the point where it will puddle and form excessive crust that small seedling cannot come through. A good supply of nitrogen fertilizer applied immediately after harvest will aid in decomposing the straw when turned under and help get it ready for seeding in the fall.

There is no profit in farm accidents. It is often hard to place a dollar value on a farm accident, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, because of the indirect as well as the direct costs which must be taken into account. But, they add, most accidents are preventable and farm profits can be increased by keeping accidents from happening.

THE DRYEST SPRING IN YEARS is really rough on cotton farmers. Most are disturbed about the difficult time they are having getting their cotton crop off to a good start. Quite a few have begun irrigating, in spite of the fact that the plants are very small and they would normally wait before the first irrigation.

An Accident Can Take Farm Profits

There isn't any profit in farm accidents, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The Council goes on to say that it is difficult to place a dollar value on the cost of a farm accident because there are many indirect as well as direct costs which must be taken into account.

The costs of farm work accidents—like an iceberg—are largely hidden. The small portion of the iceberg above the water line can represent the direct costs which in case of a farm accident will be largely medical.

The large portion of the iceberg below the water line represents the indirect or hidden costs. Some of these indirect costs are: time lost by the injured worker, cost of hired help to do the necessary farm work, possible loss of farm crops due to delay in harvesting, and damage to farm equipment.

In addition to these monetary costs, there is the physical suffering, discomfort and inconvenience associated with every major accident. The Council hastens to remind farm families that farm and home accidents are preventable. Farm profits, they add, can be increased by reducing the number of accidents on the farm.

A GOOD STAND of cotton east of Farwell is a beautiful sight to see "shining in the row," particularly since this is a difficult spring to get a good, healthy stand. This crop looks good right now, but the soil is powder dry, and it will soon start hurting--unless a shower comes or the field is irrigated.

H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Waincott

Only two more weeks--and it will be 4-H Roundup time, again on the campus of Texas A & M College. Dates for this year's 4-H Roundup are June 7-9, according to Floyd Lynch, State 4-H leader.

4-H Roundup time is a time of friendly competition for 4-H demonstration and judging teams as well as for individuals who will represent their districts in the various contest eliminations in agriculture, home economics and related subjects. More than 2,000 members, adult leaders and county extension agents are expected on the campus this year for State 4-H Roundup. Special guests will be the friends of 4-H, which include the donors of the various contests and members of press, radio and television.

Back of the 4-H members who get to attend State 4-H Roundup are the thousands of boys and girls who take part in club, community and county 4-H activities and events. They too are winners--making use of the skills they have learned and the poise and confidence they gain working with others. Many of you as parents and leaders are helping them to "learn, live and serve through 4-H," as this year's Roundup theme challenges boys and girls to do.

As June 7-9 draws nearer, you'll be hearing and seeing more of the county and district preparations for State 4-H Roundup. You are invited to take part in the 4-H activities in your own community, town or county.

Judy Billingsley, county and district Dairy Foods demonstration winner will represent Parmer County. Mrs. Leon Billingsley, her mother, and I will accompany her to the roundup.

ground beef, stew meat and round steak. . . Pork values include ham, loin roasts, end-cut pork chops and sausage. Fryers are also one of the better values in the meat department, and grade A large size eggs are the egg "bargain."

Fresh fruit items in good supply at most markets include bananas, lemons, oranges, pineapples, avocados and strawberries.

Fresh vegetables at pleasing prices include green onions, collards, mustard greens, turnip greens, green beans, yellow squash, celery and carrots.

Save time and money by planning menus ahead and by preparing a shopping list before you go to the grocery store.

PLAN A CHICK-N-QUE
If you're looking for a quick, tasty and economical meat dish or an outdoor meal, try having a Chick-n-que.

Chick-n-ques are fun for the family and they also fill a need for groups such as civic organizations, church groups and all types of social gatherings.

To get that really tender, tasty flavor, you need to organize your materials and equipment ahead of time--then, follow some simple but essential steps in cooking the chicken. Extension poultry marketing specialists offer suggestions on how to do this in their bulletin MP-312, "Let's Have A Chick-n-que."

The new bulletin tells what size chicken to buy, gives several recipes for barbecue sauce and makes helpful suggestions for serving larger groups. Also included are directions for making a barbecue pit using concrete blocks.

With lots of warm days ahead, you'll want to plan more outdoor meals for family and friends. Get your copy of this special bulletin now. Copies are available from your county extension agent's office.

THE FARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham, Jr.

One of the continuing wonders of modern farming methods in this part of the country is the irresponsible use of irrigation water. Persons who visit our area from elsewhere never cease to be amazed at the reckless abandon we have with this natural resource.

Their first thought is that it must be an inexhaustible supply; that we don't have to worry about depletion.

When they find out that this is not the case, and that, in fact, practically all farmers now agree that their underground resources are being slowly but surely mined away each pumping season, they cannot hold back the question, "Why?"

This is a very difficult question to answer. Why do men throw beer cans on the highway shoulders when they could as easily toss them in a nearby container? What makes a man deliberately ruin his health in a hell-for-leather business pace when the doctor, his family, and his friends throw out caution after caution?

What makes people forget what can happen when they drive their car while sleepy or intoxicated? With the USSR's threat to overcome the world, how can we sit complacently at home and spend our time worrying about the outcome of a baseball game?

Future generations are sure to indict us for our shortsightedness in this matter of conserving our underground water supply. Consider the evidence:

1. Our resources have a definite limit.

2. As a practical matter, they cannot be replenished.
3. Their depletion, or conservation, is a matter wholly within our control. Facing these facts, it is pretty hard for any of us to reconcile our irrigation practices. Water in the ditch is the most visibly offensive misuse of these resources, but that is not the only waste; it is not even the greatest waste.

Farmers in areas where irrigation water has become very limited have proved that it is possible to raise large crops of BOTH cotton and grains with much less irrigation water. In fact, they approach our production standards on about a third of the water that we use.

In later years, historians will judge our actions with criticism. Whoever originated the saying certainly made a point for us: We'll never miss the water 'til the saints run dry.

THE PITY OF IT ALL--One of the most disturbing sights to persons concerned with preservation of the High Plains' most valuable natural resource is a bar-ditch full of "tail-water" from an irrigated field. While practically all conservations are quick to say it is virtually impossible to keep from losing any water at all from a field during a pumping season, the wanton and willful practices of many farmers go far beyond the limits permissible to common sense. This water will never be seen again on Parmer County cropland.

ing fact that our losses among the industrial uses are declining and that the total trend of our clothing and household markets is strongly upward. The wash-and-wear finishes are helping us. A lower support price next season apparently will give us a new margin of competitive strength in many cases.

NEW DEFENSE

... thinking about a competitive strategy for cotton, we have been recognizing the great danger of rayon-cotton blends, based on the fact that in net cost to the mills rayon has a price advantage of six to ten cents a pound over cotton. But last year the cotton industry threw up one big defense against this when it obtained passage of the fiber labeling law ... prices of cotton will be substantially lower ... rayon raises its price. Nothing like this every happened before ... cotton is showing new competitive strength ...

16, 18, 20 MILLION BALES ... our competitors are not unbeatable and American cotton has a lot of competitive strength and a great potential for the future ... the declining production is the thing that has been felt by our farmers and ginners and merchants, but the future holds more promise than you would judge by this experience. We can see the trend of our market ... toward 16, 18, 20 million bales and more if we go forward with a wise longrange campaign of competition for the market, not with price alone, but with price, research, and promotion combined."

Now don't you feel better???

As little understood as any function in the cotton industry is the role of the cotton merchant ... yet without him the industry would be in about the same predicament as if all gins closed down ... after all, there is nothing so useless as a bale of cotton until it reaches the manufacturer ... without the merchant (often known as a shipper) the cotton would have an almost impossible trip ... here's what the merchant does -- or at least part of what he does -- he buys cotton of all kinds and assembles the different kinds into even running lots for sale to spinners ... since his livelihood depends upon cotton markets, he seeks and develops new markets ... and he has taken American cotton to markets all over the world ... since the merchant does business on a "year-round" basis the farmer has a market when he wants and needs it ... also the merchant offers the spinner a constant source of supply ... and he guarantees that the spinner will receive the cotton he wants ... and guarantees quality, weight and delivery ... and the merchant, or shipper, not only pursues markets but by his services encourages the spinners to use cotton in preference to other fibers ... for all of this the merchant makes a profit of about one per cent.

Getting discouraged with cotton?? ... maybe a few words from a report of the National Cotton Council will cheer you ... the report was given the early part of the year, and it is a long range outlook based on sound economic research ... we like to keep it around just to read when we get a little discouraged about the cotton business ... the title of the report is "The Economic Outlook for U. S. Cotton's Markets" ... here are some of the things it points out ... Dr. M. K. Horn Jr., chief economist for the NCC is speaking:

LOTS OF HOPE ... Looking at the whole thing, I would like to say that there are plenty of grounds for hope that we can start the long-run trend of our market rolling upward. On the domestic market we have the big, encourage-

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MANAGING RANGELANDS FOR TOP PRODUCTION

The margin of profit or loss is usually dependent upon the type of management given. This is true for ranchers as it is for any other business. A high-producing ranch will sell more pounds of beef than a low-producing ranch. The measure of production, then, is in terms of pounds of beef per acre. Good management will aim toward developing the range grasses into a high state of vigor by: (a) removing unnecessary competition, such as woody plants (b) seeding good grasses in suitable locations (c) eliminating overgrazed areas by developing additional water facilities or by the placement of salt (d) chiseling, furrowing, or pitting areas when normal rainfall tends to runoff, yet the soil is otherwise capable of growing good grass, and (e) developing a system of grazing with the proper number and class of livestock.

A conservation plan should be the basis for the needed treatment. A plan is developed following a survey of the land on the ranch. A range site and condition survey is made on rangeland which will show the general condition of all sites found on the ranch.

The major grasses, woody plants, and perennial forbs will be shown and will form the basis for range management practices. A system of grazing or plan can be worked out by the rancher and the SCS technician assisting the Soil Conservation District.

A decision will be made as to the class, age, and number of livestock to run on the rangeland. Any number that is decided upon will be only a starting number for range improvement and should be as flexible as range production.

The grazing plan will probably include deferred grazing of all pastures needing improvement to allow the grasses an opportunity to regain vigor and to produce seed. The grazing plan will show where the cattle will graze when various pastures are deferred. This may include cropland fields planted for summer grazing or wheat for winter grazing.

With a plan such as this, all of the rangeland should be shown as to the year getting the deferment, the approximate starting and ending dates, and the number of livestock being carried.

The rancher will be in a position to anticipate the amount of range improvement that can be expected and can plan for the enlargement of his herd.

Ranchers need to learn the growth habits and characteristics of the important native plants. After a knowledge is obtained of these important plants he will know how long a period of deferment is needed and by watching his better plants he will note the improvement being made.

Range improvement will result when the desirable grasses are used properly and given timely rest periods. Proper use of range grasses is ac-

Vegetable Prospects Are Looking Good

Most vegetable planting has been finished and farmers are hoping for a successful year in two of Parmer County's vegetable growing areas, according to Buck Gregory of Lariat and Otto Ables of Bovina.

"I imagine I have around 210 acres of potatoes," says Gregory.

"They are coming along nicely." The Lariat farmer is raising a new variety of spuds this year. It is the Norland which is a red potato that matures eight to ten days earlier than other varieties.

"They claim it is the only one that will chip," he says. Gregory is also raising Early Gems, a white variety; Red LaSoda and Red Pontiacs.

"We are in hopes our harvest will start about the first of July." Growing season for the Pontiac is about 120 days and 110-15 for the LaSoda.

The vegetable grower feels the market is pretty good now, running about $4, and it has been as high as $6.

"Costs have been about average. I haven't dusted or sprayed." He says using most of his own seed has kept costs down.

Gregory has been farming potatoes since 1952. He thinks his best year was 1956, when he had a good yield and the price was good.

"I would say there are 1,000 acres of cantaloupes in Parmer County," says Otto Ables, representative of Salt River Produce Company in Bovina.

Ables says he has also contracted for 96 acres of potatoes and about 500 acres of lettuce. All potatoes are a red variety.

"I have about 18 growers, altogether." The agent says the potato outlook is good, but it is hard to tell about the cantaloupes yet.

"We will plant lettuce from about the 15th of July to the 15th of August. We will harvest that lettuce about the first of October, because frost doesn't hurt lettuce.

"I'm nearly through planting cantaloupes. I've got just about 500 acres planted. I'm going to start thinning Monday for early growers.

"Our earliest harvest of cantaloupes will be July 25 to Sept. 15. Planting is spread intentionally to lengthen harvest. From April 25 to May 25 is usual planting date.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

BY RAYMOND EULER

All of you members receive the NATION'S AGRICULTURE publication, and perhaps most of you read some of it. In the June issues, (with the cows at the edge of the water pool on the front) we urge you to read the editorial, The Quest For The Holy Grail.

When you have read it, we suggest that you read the first paragraph and skip immediately to the last and see what kind of impression it makes on you.

We had word ten days ago that some very important Farm Bureau legislation had been favorably reported out of the house agricultural committee and would be acted upon within ten days. It was legislation that would prevent federal regulation of wages, hours or prerequisites for domestic farm workers.

It would also extend the Mexican labor program for two more years. We haven't heard the outcome at this time, but hope it went through. Strong and vigorous opposition to the bill was exerted by labor unions and the Department of Labor.

Farm Bureau legislative representatives feel that they have been successful in heading off any radical revision of the basic farm program for this session. The "family farm income" bill introduced by Congressman Poage, of Texas, became bogged down in the house agricultural committee, and apparently was going to stay there.

He has, however, introduced a similar program with more general wording, in an effort to eliminate some of the opposition he found before. This bill would just about give the secretary of agriculture absolute power in the handling of farm production and marketing.

Farm Bureau has been concentrating on efforts for passage of a wheat program to get this commodity and its producers out of a very bad spot. Five hundred thousand Farm Bureau members are wheat farmers, and it is believed there is possibility of getting action on a program to keep the wheat farmer in business.

The weed committee will meet Monday night in the Farm Bureau office. You are welcome to attend this important seasonal meeting for action in noxious weed control.

CONSIDER THIS: "It is not for kings, O Lamuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink: Lest they drink and forget the law, and pervert judgment of any of the afflicted." Proverbs 31:4-5.

It is almost time to begin early insect control applications says Joe Jones, Parmer County agricultural agent. "It's time to start getting equipment ready for chemical applications," he says. The agricultural agent has

A tourist stopped where a farmer was erecting a building. "What are you building?" he asked.

"Well," answered the farmer, "if I can rent it, it's a rustic cottage. If I can't, it's a cowshed."

"Will you love me when I'm old?" she sighed. Her guy was carried away. "Love you? I'll idolize you!"

two warnings for cotton farmers. They are: "Under any circumstances, do not use equipment that has had 2-4D in it, because that chemical cannot be washed off; and Toxaphene alone is not recommended as one of the early I'll worship the ground under your little feet. I'll-er-you're not going to look like your mother, are you?"

The best "top salesman" we ever heard of was the one who sold two milking machines to a farmer with only one cow and then took the cow as a down payment.

control insecticides in 1960." Toxaphene is being recommended for use when mixed with certain other chemicals.

"It doesn't cost much. If the farmer does it himself, it will cost about $1 an acre," Jones says of the control program.

"It takes three applications to be effective.

"Lubbock Experiment Station 1954 tests to determine the value of early season control show that yields with seed cotton was increased 727 pounds per acre with three applications of Toxaphene, and an increase of 934 pounds with three applications of dieldrin.

"Gross value of the increase on Toxaphene was $96.46 per acre. Gross on dieldrin was $108.33.

"The greatest yield and income occurred in 1954. In 1955 the average gross value of the increased yield was $50.44 from three applications of early insect control.

"Reason for the increased yield was earlier setting of the fruit, and more of the cotton matured.

"Some years, early season control doesn't pay; when it does, it pays enough to pay expenses for several years' control. Research to date shows it pays three out of five years.

"The program normally begins when the cotton is in the four-leaf stage and continues at weekly intervals until three applications have been made.

"It should always stop at least 30 days prior to the time when boll weevils are expected to show up. This is usually the last part of July. This means an early control program should stop about the last part of June or the first part of July.

"In the past, farmers have often waited too late to start their program. In many instances, they are just beginning when they should be stopping."

Jones recommends that all cotton farmers pick up a copy of the "Texas Guide For Controlling Cotton Insects, 1960, at his office or at a gin or insecticide dealer. All have a supply of the guide.

Planned Decisions Aid Profits

BY C. H. BATES Extension Farm Management Specialist

The margin of potential profits from present day farming and ranching is narrow. Sometimes small savings are of tremendous importance. With the trend toward larger volume of business, there are increased risks from lower prices or higher costs.

For example, a few cents less per hundredweight on 200 steers marketed means a reduction of thousands of dollars in return. Similar variation on prices for a cotton or grain crop will influence profits materially. Not all risks can be avoided, but careful planning may help reduce their impact on profits.

Individual operators may benefit more from planning by concentrating on their "recurring" and high-cost items. This emphasizes the reduction of per unit costs.

On crop enterprises, the aim should be to minimize labor costs through the economic use of machinery. Often adverse weather causes costs to increase for weed control, combating insects and for certain harvesting operations. Planning should include alternate methods of handling these practices under adverse conditions.

Timeliness of many operations often means the difference between a fair crop and a larger one. Also, the unit cost of products is higher with a reduced yield such as often results from poorly timed insect control measures, for example.

For the livestock producer, economical gains or lower unit costs are important. Here again the well planned operation must reduce labor needs. Full use should be made of mechanical feeding and automatic devices which reduce costs.

A small reduction in important production items may bring sizable savings in total annual costs resulting in more profit. For example, feed costs comprise about 75 per cent of the outlay for pork production. Thus, a small saving of $4 per ton on the ration needed for 500 market hogs would total almost $1,000. Similarly, the use of feeders designed to avoid waste can reduce costs because of the cumulative saving.

Other considerations which involve planning in livestock operations may include: carefully scheduled breeding to fit market demands; shortening or prolonging feeding periods as justified by changes in feed-price ratios; and contracting for delivery of commodities at a pre-determined price. This may include feed items to be purchased as well as the animals to be marketed.

In short, no business requires more careful study and management than does farming and ranching. The carefully planned operation should net a wider margin of profit.

Edna Smith phoned for advice in cleaning the oven. Poor Edna was in tears because she forgot to set the automatic timer on her built-in oven and a fruit pie bubbled over and made a terrible mess. I advised Edna not to despair, that a little effort would have the oven looking spanking new again. Here's my advice for oven-cleaning: Sponge off lining with warm soapy water just as soon as the oven cools. If spots prove difficult to get off, leave 1/4th cup of ammonia in the oven overnight. Then wipe off spots the next morning with a damp cloth.

How much of your food dollar gets back to the farmer? Economists say it is about 38 cents. The remaining 62 cents goes for the costs of getting the food in the form you want it, at the time and place you want it. Food costs less now in terms of minutes of work necessary to buy what you need to eat than ever before in history.
