School Opens Monday With New Superintendent, Teachers

Enrollment was disclosed yesterday as Terrell County opened for the 1942-43 school year with a program held in the high school auditorium. The program was opened by the presentation of the flag by the Scouts who also led the song of allegiance to the flag. The program was given by the Rev. Byrd followed by group singing led by D. L. Duke. Band music was given by the school band under the direction of the band director, Miss Marion Brieger, and new teachers were introduced by Supt. Holley. Supt. Holley gave a short talk and made announcements pertaining to school activities. The program continued until noon with books being issued.

Use of V-Mail to Arm Forces Road Urged

Chief Chester W. Nimitz, under-in-Chief of the Pacific Fleet, has issued an appeal for the use of service personnel to the new, fast V-Mail system. Correspondence from the front to forces afloat and back should be sent by Fleet V-Mail authorized out that speed, reduced economy should make this microfilm service attractive to the armed forces.

Regular airmail from Hawaii area to Pacific points often takes many days when going by convoy. Airmail is unusually slow. V-Mail to these same points averages only four days.

For East Coast points only six days from the time of posting to arrival at its destination.

Fleet mail clerks have applied with special V-Mail. Letters written on banks and posted for center are not read again unless they reach the addressee.

Hawaii area V-Mail is posted on 16-millimeter microfilm in Honolulu. These are of which contain as many as 25 letters as an ordinary mail. They are available by air transport. They rate highest priority and go immediately.

Mail train, completed in ten days to reach who get 4-by-5 1/2 inch envelopes of the tiny negative envelopes—without delay.

Officers, who are correspond with men afloat or men on land obtain their V-Mail from any postoffice. Full names appear on each letter and are sent to the V-Mail center for forwarding by air to the soldier, sailor or marine concerned. Letters are saved, and valuable space is conserved for war goods.

It is urged that service users request their correspond to take advantage of the new V-Mail system. V-Mail now is available on duty in all post offices and in intermediate stations.

Average Mexican Lukewarm to Mexico's Participation in War Says Ozona Man

(From Ozona Stockman)

The average Mexican man on the street in Mexico is not particularly enthusiastic about his country's participation in the present war, although our neighbor to the south is making a considerable contribution to the United Nations war effort in many ways. Joe Ripple, high school Spanish and history teacher, who spent the summer in Mexico attending the University of Mexico, told members of the Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday.

Many Mexicans will argue that their country is not at war, Mr. Ripple said, and back up their argument with the assertion that President Avila Camacho's proclamation declared only a "state" of war with the Axis, which they interpreted as not "actual" war. Although Mexico has recently banned the exportation of automobile tires and sugar to the United States, there is no slow-down of traffic within Mexico to conserve tires nor is there any difficulty in obtaining tires for use in that country.

Mr. Ripple said that among the most "amusing and confusing" things to a stranger in Mexico City is their traffic rules. "In Mexico City a green light

All Drivers Licenses Must Be Renewed By November 1

Austin—This is for the special benefit and relief of all those Texans who've been worried these months about when to renew their drivers' licenses.

Come November 1, all original licenses will expire. The operator who hasn't obtained a renewal by then will be without a license, State Police Director Homer Garrison warned today.

Automatic renewals are granted where the application is made on time. Drivers License Chief J. B. Draper explained. But once an original license has expired, the driver must take an examination in order to obtain a new license. Anyone who drives without a valid license is liable to arrest and fine.

Application forms are available from State Police district headquarters, by mail from the headquarters in Austin, and at most county courthouses, either from sheriffs or tax collectors. Renewed licenses are good for two years, and cost 50 cents.

Employers Warned of Social Security Law Violations

Employers were today reminded by Frank Scofield, Collector, First Texas District, Bureau of International Revenue, Austin, that tax returns under the Social Security Act for each calendar quarter are due to be filed during the month following the end of the quarter. At the same time Scofield warned employers to exercise the utmost care in reporting all Social Security account numbers.

"Most employers in the First Texas District are complying with International Revenue regulations by furnishing correct names and account numbers on their returns," Scofield stated. "On the other hand, a small number of employers are not complying with the regulations which means that they must be contacted in order that missing numbers may be obtained."

Mr. Scofield emphasized that this negligence on the part of a very few employers adds greatly to the normal work load and consumes the time of his limited personnel when their services are required on work more closely connected with the war effort. Carelessness in reporting account numbers also results in loss of time on the part of the employer since it is necessary for him to make a search for missing numbers or locate employees who have already left his services and secure the numbers from the workers.

"Employers who do not have all account numbers for all employees who worked during the months of July, August and September should immediately take steps to obtain these numbers in order that they may be included on tax returns for this quarter," Scofield added.

"While we prefer to have the cooperation of employers in complying with Bureau of International Revenue regulations, Scofield explained, "it is necessary at times to remind some employers that there is a penalty which may be assessed for failure to maintain records or supply prescribed information on tax returns. An indexed record of employers who consistently fail to report numbers is being maintained and steps will be taken to insure that all of their employees' account numbers are reported in accordance with regulations," the Collector said.

Alpine Boy In U. S. Air Force Writes of Conditions and Customs In Far-off India

(From Alpine Avalanche)

1st Lt. Vick Winter, U. S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Vick Winter, Alpine, in a letter written from India August 11th said, "There is plenty going on here now! But no action for us as yet." In an earlier letter he wrote "This country is much worse than any picture that I have ever seen. You simply cannot imagine the ignorance, and the filth, and the smells. A child up to five years of age never wears any clothes, and the women work just like men. They carry their babies along with them and leave them under the trees while they work. It is nothing unusual to see 10 naked babies, from two months to three years old, lying under a tree with no one to watch over them or to keep the flies away. If a baby in the States had to live under these conditions, he wouldn't last a week."

Due to the distance the packages must go it is absolutely essential that all articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappers of sufficient strength not only to resist pressure of other mail in the same sack, but to withstand the weight of other sacks of mail. Each parcel is also subject to censorship and should be secured so that ready inspection may be made of the contents. Health Officer Urges Drastic Fight Against Texas Typhus Fever

Austin—With an incidence of 134 cases of Typhus Fever reported in Texas last month and 83 cases reported last week alone, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, this week made an urgent appeal to all citizens of the State to help control the spread of Typhus by assisting in exterminating rats.

"There is only one way in which Typhus can be controlled," Dr. Cox said, "and that is by as nearly as possible completely exterminating rats in the State, since fleas from infected rats transmit the disease to man. We can begin to visualize the extent of the needed extermination campaign when we realize that there is estimated to be 13,000,000 rats in Texas."

There has been some confusion concerning the type of Typhus Fever which is occurring in Texas, but Dr. Cox pointed out that this disease is entirely different from the old world type which has followed some of the armies in Europe. Ordinarily the kind of Typhus which makes its appearance in this section of the country is not a fatal disease, although there has been a death rate of about 2 per cent from Typhus this year.

The poisoning and trapping of rats throughout the State will help to control the spread of this disease although these are obviously temporary measures. In order to be permanently rid of rats they will have to be starved out, which means that buildings housing food supplies must be rat proofed.

On the first day of September, the greatest war the world has ever known entered its fourth year. Those three years have witnessed a series of almost uninterrupted triumphs for Hitler and his satellites. The timetable of conquest makes almost incredible reading—Poland fell in 28 days, Denmark in one day, Norway in two months, Belgium in 18 days, France in 43 days. Of all the nations Hitler has invaded, Russia alone remains. It is very likely that the historians of the future will write that Russia was the savior of the free world. Whatever happens, the magnificent resistance of the Red Army will mark one of the brightest and bravest pages in the long and sanguinary history of combat.

On December 7, 1941, Japan joined hands with the Axis. The Jap timetable of conquest is comparable to that of Hitler. Guam was taken in five days. Wake Island was conquered in 14 days, after a superb defense by a handful of United States Marines. The Philippines were forced to surrender in a little less than five months. In short, the war so far has consisted largely of a series of disasters for United Nations' forces—and a series of great victories for the dictators. That is simply a matter of record, and it does no service to the democratic cause to attempt to hide the truth.

Basically, the cause of all this is simply explained: The enemy was ready for war, and we and our Allies were not. The enemy understood precisely what total war means—and we did not. In Germany and Japan there are no strikes. There is no shilly-shalling on the part of the officials of the government. There is a grim and all-encompassing efficiency. The Axis means to destroy us utterly, and every resource at its command is devoted completely to that end.

So much for the debt side. The quality of the United Nations' fighting men is first class. Only a little of the long and bloody story is now known—but that little is magnificent. The RAF after Dunkirk, the Russians before Sevastopol, the Dutch airmen and sailors in the East Indies, the U. S. Army in Bataan, the Marines in the Solomons—in those campaigns free men wrote with their blood a glorious saga of courage and achievement. The Germans and the Japs have paid tremendous price for their victories.

There is much to be said also for American War production. The burden of supplying the troops of all the United Nations falls squarely on us. No other nation has even a tithe of our potential productive capacity. It can be said to the everlasting credit of American industry that the changeover from production for peace to production for war, was generally made swiftly and effectively. But there are many bad spots still. We have not yet achieved, in many vital lines, the essential production goals which have been laid down. There has been mismanagement in labor, in government, and in industry itself. These bad spots must be erased before we can carry the war fully to the enemy. No American should feel optimistic today. He should feel, instead, that infinitely more must be done before victory can be assured. He must not forget that this war can be lost if we fail to coordinate our efforts.

It is a favorite saying in Washington that "the American people don't yet realize the gravity of the situation." But, as many columnists have been

It's real puzzlin' when you stop to think about it...

I mean the way the human race has worked out a whole set of cut-an'-dried alibis for its misdeeds and shortcomings.

Some of them's harmless alibis—like the office boy's grandmother who always passes away just before the big baseball game.

Here's some others. "My alarm clock didn't go off." "I left my money in my other suit." "I was settin' up with a sick friend."

And then the one about the two beers. Now that one is downright exasperatin'.

Because there's not a shred of truth in it.

Every once in a while I read in the papers about some ornery cuss, who never did know the meanin' of moderation, gettin' himself into trouble——and then protestin' that all he had to drink was "a couple of beers."

He knows it isn't true. He's just sayin' that because he knows that

"A couple of beers" sounds ate and sensible-like—

Personally, I don't ever see a couple of good beers, enjoyed without hurt any normal, sensible person.

If you won't get in trouble out beer, you aren't going trouble with it.

Matter of fact, it's been reservation right along that a glass of beer in plain liability leads to just the of trouble.

It goes along, seems to be good companionship, and tion, and tolerance for the fellow.

Yes, sir, from where I sit like the fellow that you're in trouble, and that it all on a "couple of beers" really foolin' anybody.

But he is bein' mighty unfair to the people that are right to a sensible moderation like beer—yes, includin' of beers."

pointing out. Washington officialdom has created confusion and indecision in the minds of the people. The conflicting "official reports" that still seep out of Washington concerning such basic issues as rubber, fuel, gasoline, the draft, etc., have attained the stature of a national scandal. Only lately, through Elmer Davis' Office of War Information, has a start been made toward clarifying official policy. Every poll indicates that the American people are willing, ready and even eager to make any necessary sacrifice—if only their leaders will tell them simply and clearly what sacrifices are needed.

We are just beginning to feel the economic effects of war. Non-essential businesses are closing fast. Whole occupations—such as that of salesman—are being virtually wiped out. As store inventories run down, it will be impossible to buy such once-plentiful commodities as radios, stoves, water heaters, and any number of other conveniences. Taxes will be even higher next year than they are now, and it seems inevitable that a sales tax and some form of enforced savings will soon be adopted. In many fields, the labor shortage is acute. These are but a few of the consequences of total war.

As the war enters its fourth year, Germany and Japan dominate an immense part of the globe. They have gained through conquest, gigantic quantities of vital raw materials. Despite its losses, the German army is still the most potent military machine on earth. But, at the same time, America's growing military power is at last being felt. The U. S. Army is increasing fast in numbers, and it is being superbly equipped. The U. S. Navy and Air Forces have demonstrated that they have splendid striking power and brilliant leadership.

Rain, rain, go to Spain. And never come back again.

Is the way that Sanderson citizens are now feeling after experiencing a period of almost two weeks in which time 7.31 inches of rain has fallen here in the city. The rain has been steady most of the time with occasional hard rains. The canyon south of the town has been on a rise, and several times threatened to flood the lower part of the city.

Sanderson has been isolated since Tuesday afternoon at which time there was a washout on the T. & N. O. at Maxon.

Tom Breeding, who has been on Devil's River for several weeks, came in last Saturday night. Tom reports that when the river came down on the big rise last Thursday that his brother, C. M. M. Breeding has a contract to furnish gravel for the road and bridge work that is to be done at Devil's River.

"TOP SERGEANT" IS FAST MOVING ARMY CAMP FILM

The drama within the drama of one of Uncle Sam's huge Army camps is brought to the screen with sock, punch and speed in "Top Sergeant" featuring Leo Carrillo and Andy Devine, showing Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18-19. Carrillo and Devine are right "in the groove" as a couple of old-time non-coms who have fought a dozen wars together, battled each other a hundred times, and battled with the book of army regulations continually. The story of "Top Sergeant" revolves about these two when an underworld rat tries to pin the guilt upon them for the murder of several soldiers. During war game maneuvers, a bridge which supposedly is to be demolished with fuse powder, actually is dynamited by the gangster.

Carrying the feminine role of the picture is pretty Elyse Knox "America's favorite magazine cover girl" who is launched by her studio as a stellar "new face".

THE DRAFTEE'S LAMENT

This ungodly army sure makes a mess Of a young man's future and happiness. He is forced to enlist in the time of his life When he should be out seeking a wife.

If all were drafted, it would not be so bad, There would be no competition from the civilian lad. We would all then be equal and in the same boat, With no one on the outside to laugh and to gloat.

When seventy percent of the men are deferred, The guy in the uniform is no longer preferred. He is greeted and welcomed for maybe a day, But the civilian takes over when he goes a way.

A uniform, they say, a girl can't resist. That may be true, but still I insist That against a job, good wages and car A poor soldier can't compete and get very far.

His doom is sealed when he has to enter Those big open gates at the reception center. He is brought there in a government bus; If he knew what he was in for, oh boy, how he'd cuss.

His girl comes to see him to bid him adieu But who do you think brings her? I'll leave it to you. She wishes him luck and cries in remorse, But who drives her home? The civilian of course.

If to some distant station the draftee is sent Things are taken over by the luckier gent. The soldier can write, plead and debate But who gets the break? The guy who escaped.

The soldier who close to home must stay Still loses all because of his pay. For what chance does a poor soldier stand When he never has any cash in his hand.

The photograph he leaves her when he has to entrain Is placed on the mantle, and there it remains. The civilian just laughs, for well does he know That to dances and parties a picture can't go.

With his girl the soldier may make a date But often this would be a fatal mistake. "On guard you will be" the civilian may boast, "And I'll take her out while you're walking post."

A soldier never knows when he will be free When a holiday comes, he might be on kp. The civilian can applaud as he stands in the shade; But the soldier, no doubt, will have to parade.

The civilian will say that this story's all wrong, That the life of a soldier is only a song. "I would not complain", he says with a sigh; "You can enlist any time", is our only reply.

Inspection of rifles, clothes and the like. Left face, right face, drill, or maybe a hike. To the civilian who thinks that this is just play, Let me repeat, "They may get you some day".

The soldier, most people will claim Has no right about the food to complain. The menus they've seen in magazines or books. The menus are fine, but have they seen the cooks.

Most of his friends have managed somehow, Not to be drafted, and I'm wondering how. Flat feet, dependents, or national defense, Yet they are still on the right side of the fence.

The soldier has been given a job to be done. It's not a game that he's playing, and it is not for fun. He will do this job without any doubt. But some day he will get even with the guy who stayed out.

Tire Quotas Descend As Shortage Appears For 1942 Allotment

J. M. Hayre, chairman of the Terrell County War Price and Rationing Board, made it plain this week that all motorists are going to have to intensify tire conservation, and that many persons on the eligible list for tires and retreads are going to be disappointed, because of the quota shortage.

"Both truck and passenger car tire allotments have been reduced sharply for September," Mr. Hayre explained, "and we're obliged to make these reduced quotas serve only the most essential needs."

He pointed out that these reductions come at a time when all vehicles, especially trucks, are working overtime to meet the heavy demand for the fall movement of farm crops, and for wartime construction and industrial production.

"The result will be that our Board will have to apply the eligibility preference yardstick with even more severity," he said. "The shoe will pinch in many cases, but we hope everyone will take these decisions with a wartime spirit of patriotism, and know that we are trying to do our duty honestly and impartially in a national emergency."

The State Office of Price Administration headquarters has advised the Terrell County War Price and Rationing Board that from now on, monthly quotas will reflect a sharp downward trend, in order to stay within the year's quota.

"It is no longer possible to carry over unfilled applications from month to month," Mr. Hayre explained. "There will not be sufficient quotas in future months to relieve such carryovers. We must now eliminate all applications that are not essential to the war effort and to the public health and safety."

School buses that carry football teams to games, or transport school bands, debating teams and other such groups on excursions will lose their eligibility for tires, the Terrell County War Price and Rationing Board was advised this week by the Office of Price Administration state headquarters.

The State OPA office has pointed out that under the tire rationing rules, school buses must be used exclusively to transport teachers and children from their homes to school and back again.

Miss Billie Corder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Corder, left today, Friday, for Tucson, Ariz., where she will attend the University of Arizona.

Pvt. Walter "G" Downie left Friday for San Antonio to enter civilian pilot training as an aviation specialist. He plans on serving his country as a ferry pilot or as a glider pilot.

Mrs. Press Nichols left Thursday for San Antonio for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Roberts, who is ill. She will also visit with Dr. and Mrs. Z. F. Robichaux, her uncle and aunt.

Plaintiffs allege that on or about January 1, A. D. 1942, they were the owners in fee simple and entitled to possession of said lands, that thereafter on or about January 2, A. D. 1942, the defendants unlawfully entered upon and dispossessed plaintiffs of the above lands and now withhold from them the possession thereof to plaintiffs' damage in the sum of $5000.00.

Plaintiffs further allege that they have had continuous, peaceful and adverse possession of said lands under title and color of title for more than 25 years prior to January 1, 1942, that said lands have been continuously enclosed under good and substantial fences, that they have made valuable improvements thereon, and that they, the plaintiffs, have good title to said lands under the 25, 10, 5, and 3 year statutes of limitation of the State of Texas.

Plaintiffs pray for judgment for title and possession of the premises, for damages, costs, and general and special relief, as is more fully shown by Plaintiffs' First Amended Original Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

JAPANESE NAKAJIMA "93" FIGHTER

The Japanese Nakajima "93" navy fighter, a two-place plane equipped with floats, is shown above as the seventeenth in a series of silhouettes of enemy aircraft prepared by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America. Among its recognition points are the slightly tapered leading edge of the wing, the rounded and somewhat blunt wing-tip, and the rudder which extends above and below the tail plane. The trailing edge of the rudder is almost vertical. The plane is powered by a radial, air-cooled engine and the pilot sits somewhat aft the center line of the wing.

Safflower Prospective New Crop for Pecos County Irrigation District

(From Fort Stockton Pioneer)

Introduction of a new crop into the Fort Stockton farming area seems likely with the successful report from an experimental plot of safflower grown this year by G. H. Crone in Leon Valley.

An average yield of 2172 pounds of safflower seed per acre was Mr. Crone's yield from five acres planted. He will sell the seed and replant more acreage to this crop this fall and winter. Other farmers of Leon Valley and Block One have become interested in this new and profitable oil crop, which can be used as a drying oil or edible oil.

The seed can be crushed in cottonseed oil mills and refined much the same as cottonseed. The meal from the seed can be used as a meal for feed.

D. S. Beeman of Webb Farms brought the seed here last year from Deming, N. M., and has been interested in the success of the crop for Pecos County production. Enough safflower will be planted here next year to be shipped out by the carloads, Mr. Crone expects.

The thistle-like plant can be planted in the fall through to spring and is harvested in July and August. It makes a bright yellow and orange plant, creating a colorful spectacle in the fields. The plant is easy to grow, Mr. Crone reports, requiring about as much water as grain. It can be harvested with grain machinery. Other experiments with the crop have been made in New Mexico and the Panhandle of Texas where it has proved equally successful. About 1,000 acres were put into the crop in the Deming area.

The seed yield about 24 per cent oil, used as a drying oil in paint, varnish and linoleum. The meal contains about 41 per cent protein. It is said to be palatable to livestock, but research in its particular feeding qualities is yet to be done.

A TELEPHONE CONVERSATION

Adolph called old Satan on the telephone one day, and the operator listened to what they had to say:
"Hello," said Hitler's voice, "is old Satan home?"
Just tell him this is Adolph who wants him on the phone."
"Hello Hitler," said Satan, and Hitler said, "How are you?"
"I'm raising here a hell on earth, so tell me what to do."

"If there's a thing that I can do to help I surely will, But what can I do to help you, the helpless ones to kill?"
Old Adolph said, now listen, and I will try to tell The way I am running on earth a modern hell.

"My army went thru Belgium shooting women and children down.
We shot up all her country and blew up all her towns. I started out for Paris with the aid of poison gas, But the . . . Belgians didn't want to let us pass.

"My submarines are treacherous, you ought to see them fight;
They go sneaking thru the ocean, sinking foreign ships on sight.

I was running things to suit me until about a year ago, When a man named Roosevelt wrote me that I had better go slow.

"I paid him no attention at his home across the sea, So now a million soldiers are coming after me. That's why I called you, Satan, for I need advice from you, I believe that you can help me, so tell me what to do."

SATAN'S REPLY

"Why, listen, dear old Adolph, there's little I can tell, The US will make it hotter for you than I could here in hell. I've been a mean old devil, but not half as mean as you. And the minute you get down here I'll give the job to you.

"I'll be waiting for your coming; I'll keep the fires all right, I'll have your room all ready when the US begins to fight. The boys from the US will get you; I've nothing more to tell, So hang up the phone, get your hat and come on down to hell.

"You and Benito might as well cut out all the yaps, For Uncle Sam will get you like he's going to get those Japs."

Your Invitation---

THIS IS YOUR INVITATION TO JOIN WITH ME IN PREPARING A PLACE WHERE THE MEN AND BOYS WHO ARE FIGHTING FOR US MAY COME IN AND FEEL AT HOME. A PLACE WHERE THEY CAN ENJOY GAMES, DANCING, WRITE LETTERS, READ, AND BE MADE TO FEEL THAT THE PEOPLE OF SANDERSON ARE INTERESTED IN THEIR WELFARE.
