The same time also came to the attention that Alfred J. and W. F. Harrell, coming from the board of the governor approv- ing with which they are placed. J. C. PURCHASING OF LANDS FOR BIG BEND PARK AREA IS COMPLETED

By Glenn Burgess

The people of Texas, more particularly those of Alpine and nearby towns, are exhibiting once again a smile of victory, a victory in keeping with the size of Texas, or of Brewster County, September 1 marked the close of the land purchase program of the Big Bend National park, and those who have followed recent activities declare that this feat will add another accomplishment to the first place list that Texas are so often accused of bragging about.

The purchase of 750,000 acres of land, with a time limit of one year attached, was enough to stagger the ambition of almost any group. Subtract from those 12 months five months of restraining injunctions preventing the state of Texas from spending any money for the purchase of lands and practically any person would have thrown up his hands and quit. Yet the land has been purchased; that is, with the exception of 15 scattered sections.

Other Programs Studied

When the Texas legislature appropriated the $1,500,000, very few people believed this amount would handle the proposition. The law gave the task of land purchase to the Texas State Parks board. This group, with Frank D. Quinn, executive sec-

Theo C. McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McDonald, who was killed in action with the United States Navy according to announcement received from the Chief of Navy Personnel. He volunteered for service with the Navy Oct. 10, 1940, and was last heard from July 9, 1942. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDonald of Sanderson and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wallace of Hext.

BIG BEND MAP TO RECEIVE NATIONAL DISTRIBUTION

W. J. Newell, president of the Newell Oil Company, has announced that the new Gulf road map of Texas is now available throughout the area at all their stations.

This map marks an innovation inasmuch as it is designed to give particular publicity to the West Texas area and has included as an insert a large-scale map of the Big Bend International Park, showing all roads, trails, ranches, mountains, and points of interest as well as indicating the places where meals and other accommodations are available.

It is expected that this insert map will help promote the tourist travel into this area since it will receive national distribution and a circulation of over a million copies.

ROYAL SERVICE PROGRAM

A Royal Service program and a social event of the Baptist Church will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Grigsby Monday September 21, at 4 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

retary, and his staff, held long conferences. Study was made of other land-purchase programs in Texas. Then the National Park service was consulted and surveys made of such projects as the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. The attorney general of Texas came in for his share of advice as well as the state land commissioner. People who knew the Big Bend area and its land owners were sought out.

On September 1, 1941, an office was opened in Alpine under the name of the Big Bend Land department with Eugene Thompson of Breckenridge in charge. With Thompson were a group of men skilled in land appraisals, land titles and legal work, and men who knew the country. The attorney general of Texas and the National Park service furnished constant advisors. Although unable to purchase land for the first five months, the time was spent in appraising searching for land owners and getting the legal machinery ready to function.

Start Six Months Late

Actually, the go ahead signal was not given until the last of February, and in a short period of six months records were piled up. No other large tract of land had been purchased in so short

PARENT CLUB FOR RECREATION CENTER TO ORGANIZE MON.

Mrs. R. H. Haley, who announced last week that a recreation center for the entertainment of men in the armed services was to be created, has called a meeting for Monday afternoon, Sept. 21, to be held in the county courtroom at 4:00 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a club to direct the operations of the recreation center. She stated that good response was obtained from the appeal made last week and that ever better response was hoped for Monday in the organization of the club. She stated that it was hoped that the teachers of the school, as well as the young people and older people of the town would join in this effort.

All persons who are interested in such an organization are urged to be at the courthouse at 4:00 o'clock for the meeting and to bring someone with them.

VOLUNTEER WAR BOND NO 'FAILURE' SAYS MORGENTHAU

Following is a statement issued by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau regarding a false impression concerning the voluntary War Bond campaign:

"The impression seems to have spread that I regard the voluntary War Bond program as a 'failure'. This is not only a distortion of anything I have said on the subject but it is also an injustice to the hundreds of thousands of devoted volunteers in all parts of the country who are working night and day to enlist the nation's savings for the war. In view of our swiftly

For the first time Terrell County failed to meet its monthly bond quota when it fell about $2,000 short of the Bond quota of $12,500 set for August. Always before the quota had been more than met. Red Cross drives, USO campaigns, Navy funds, all calls have been met and bettered.

The Bond quota for September remains at the same figure, $12,500. Every person in the county should do his part and put 10 per cent of his monthly earnings into Bonds. If this is done there will be no additional shortage to mar the record which has been maintained until last month by Terrell County rising war expenditures I have said that the voluntary War Bond program alone cannot close the gap between the amount of money available for consumer spending and the supply of goods available for civilian use. I have said that it must therefore be supplemented by more drastic and comprehensive tax program, including a tax on savings, a part of which would be treated as a debt to the taxpayer and repaid after the war. We shall, however, continue to rely upon voluntary lending for a large part of our financing. The mounting requirements of the war demand that our sale of War Bonds be continued and intensified. As I said to the Senate Finance Committee last week, it is my belief that the voluntary War Bond program has produced a great contribution to the nation's war effort. Regardless of the other measures that are needed, the voluntary savings program will be essential until the war is won. To our hundreds of thousands of War Bond volunteers, I should like to say that the nation is counting on them more than ever to carry on the magnificent work in which they are so unselfishly engaged."

Mrs. J. W. Leatherwood and Mrs. Roy Kennemer spent Friday visiting in San Angelo, Eden and Osona.

Salvage Campaign Successful With 126 Pounds Per Person

STORES CLOSE FOR FIVE HOURS TO JOIN IN EFFORTS

Practically all stores of the town were closed at 10:30 for the parade which marked the opening of the concentrated five-hour drive to bring in all possible salvage materials.

At the same time the parade appeared on main street with the American Legion members in the lead as flag bearers. Following came the high school band and the fire department with the fire truck. Classes from the schools were marching in order and the entire parade was brought up by members of the Home Defense Guards who were marching in full uniform.

The parade marched up the street to the Alamo Lumber Co. and around the block to return to the salvage depot on main street where they were dismissed by the playing of the National Anthem. Miss Marion Brieger band director, should be commended on the excellent showing of the band and band members should be proud of the impression they made. Special thanks are extended by the salvage committee and citizens of the county for the aid given by the entire school system in making the Rally Day really successful. As soon as the parade was dismissed trucks from different concerns of the town went into action and scrap materials began pouring into the salvage depot. Boy Scouts were active in the drive and county trucks were also put into service for gathering in the salvage.

CUTTING AND LOADING NOW UNDER WAY

In keeping with the past records of Terrell County when called upon for special efforts to be put forth citizens of the county set up a record in their drive for scrap iron and steel that will probably not be bettered by many counties of the entire state.

Conservative estimates by R. E. Corder, Terrell County chairman of the Salvage Committee, and the dealer here to purchase the scrap, placed the amount gathered on Rally Day, Friday of last week, at 225,000 pounds. This is equal to three cars of scrap, two of them at Sanderson and one at Dryden, and means that 75 pounds of scrap iron and steel was brought in for every one of the citizens in the county on that day.

To be added to that figure is 163,000 pounds of scrap iron and other metals which have been shipped from the county before the big campaign was started. This brings the total scrap iron gathered from the county to 388,000 pounds, or 126 pounds for each person in the county.

Work of cutting the large pieces into proper lengths and loading out was started the first of the week and all will be moved as soon as possible.

People who reside in Terrell County should be proud of this record although they should not stop simply because of the good showing. The salvage campaign must go on and on until the end of the war. Special commendation should go to members of the salvage committee, R. E. Corder, Robert Duncan, and Hugh Rose, and to each of the Victory Zone chairmen for their efforts in making the rally such a success. Mrs. Dorothy W. Mey, with the AAA office, should also receive special thanks for her efforts.

Great changes have taken place in this country since Pearl Harbor. New and unprecedented economic controls have been imposed. A considerable proportion of the nation's manpower has either entered military service or left peace industry for war industry. Very heavy increases in taxation have been applied to industries and individuals. In short, we have definitely moved in the direction of a "total war economy".

But, as many authorities are now pointing out, this is only the beginning—and a comparatively small beginning at that. Inside the next year, unless the world military situation changes radically and unexpectedly, the adjustments that will take place in American life will be absolutely revolutionary.

The manpower situation is a case in point. High selective service officials have recently said flatly that within about a year, the great majority of able-bodied men under 45 and over 18 will be in the army, the navy, the coast guard or the marines. Already the nation's reserve of 1-A men is about exhausted and in many areas draft boards are calling married men without children into service. By the first of the year, many boards will probably begin calling married men with children. Men who were previously classified as 1-B (that is, handicapped by minor physical disabilities) are being reclassified into 1-A and inducted. It is believed certain that, directly after the elections, if not before, the draft law will be extended to include 18 and 19 year olds. That, however, will not increase the 1-A class as greatly as might be anticipated, for the reason that a considerable percentage of the youngsters have enlisted with the consent of their parents.

War industry has been told to start training draft-exempt people to take the place of physically-fit technicians now employed. That means that a big share of war production will fall in the future on the shoulders of women, of men physically unfit for military service, and on men past draft age. That will require great retraining, and an immense expansion of vocational training facilities. War industry executives, in this connection, say that women have done surprisingly well in jobs that were once considered the exclusive prerogatives of men, such as welding, wiring, pipefitting, etc. The new and strict "anti-inflation" controls which the President announced on Labor Day have long been expected. Inflation comes when consumer purchasing power exceeds the volume of goods available—and that is precisely what has been happening to an ever-increasing extent in this country. Past OPA price policy was not adequate because many commodities were exempt from control and because wages, farm prices and other costs continued to rise merrily. Excess purchasing power led to the establishment of a growing "black market," which bootlegged proscribed or scarce goods to the highest bidder. Many economists are convinced that inflation cannot be prevented unless the most stringent kind of restraints are placed upon wages and salaries—and in addition, wage-earners in the low-income as well as the higher-income brackets are taxed to the limit.

Soon after the first of the year, widespread commodity rationing is to be expected. In most warring countries, as food or clothing ration coupon is far more desirable than mere money, and that may come to pass here.

The future of what is called "non-essential" business is shrouded in mystery. The official list of "critical" and "essential" industries is brief, and involves only businesses which produce war materials of basic civilian supplies and services. The worst blow is falling upon small businesses which were unable for one reason or another to adapt themselves to war business or secure war orders. Thousands of businesses have closed their doors, and it looks like a great many more will have to follow suit in the future. The small-industry problem is one of the worst that war has produced, and no one, despite all the talk, has appeared with a solution.

How far taxation will go is any man's guess. Some influential members of Congress are alarmed at what pending taxes may do to the American industrial structure—the proposed excess-profits taxes, for instance might make it impossible or next to impossible for some big war industries to keep on operating as private enterprises. There is no question but what more and more legislators are reluctantly turning to the sales tax

STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeeters

This is Mr. McSmerkie, our head statistician as one way out. And the enforced savings idea is also gaining headway.

These are but a few of the revolutionary influences now at work. Never in history has war demanded so much of a nation's money, resources, energies and manpower. From an economic as well as a military point of view, this war is without precedent. It is swiftly reaching into every home, and directly touching the life of every citizen. It is a rash man indeed who will forecast what the ultimate consequences will be.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Monahans News—Construction was about to swing into full form at the Pyote Flying School this week as the construction companies moved into offices at the site, and calls for a few men were issued through the United States Employment Service office here. Only a few construction workers were hired during the past week, but large quotas are expected to be called for within the near future.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—A vital blow to the economic life of the Presidio County portion of the Highland area was struck the last day of August when workers of the American Metal Company of Texas laid down their tools at the Presidio mine in Shafter, with the closing of the property by the mining organization probably the writing of the final chapter to a history of many years of silver mining.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—The rains came, as did the waters from up the river, and as a result of turbulent Conchas River and Rio Grande streams an astounding amount of property in the form of crops and real estate has been wiped from the economic life of people in the farming, Presidio Valley section of Presidio county.

A Sentinel representative in Presidio Wednesday was told that there was five to six feet of water in the U. S. Customs House on the American side of the river and that only concrete corner posts of the customs house on the other side of the Rio Grande remained. It had been nearly two weeks then since the last car went over the bridge. Not all of the bridge has been washed away. Instead "two sections and a vent" are gone, according to Merle Decker U. S. Customs Inspector, who with Theodore Knight, Customs Guard, was stationed at the water's edge on U. S. Highway 67 quite a way back from the bridge.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—A committee of interested ranchmen and business men from all parts of Pecos County decided Wednesday that the 4-H Club program of lamb and calf feeding and breeding demonstrations should be carried on regardless of the conflict of other activities for youth, since improved methods of production in the livestock business are vital to the American war effort, and every encouragement should be given youth interested in agriculture.

Consequently, arrangements will be worked out for 4-H Club boys of the county to secure lambs suitable for feeding, and a county show will be held next February just prior to the regional 4-H show in El Paso.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Fort Stockton's Defense Guard Company Thursday was given official status as a unit in the Texas Defense Guard, on receipt of a telegram from Gen. J. Watt Page, Adjutant General, by Capt. Loyd Ligon, commanding officer.

The Fort Stockton unit will be Company "E" in the 46th Battalion, headquarters at Pecos and commanded by Major Earl Bell

It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO

This week—Remember?

September 16, 1932

The Seep Well, located about 8 miles east of the ranch home of Frank K. Harrell, was completely destroyed and the windmill over it washed away by the flood waters that came down Sanderson Canyon last week. Not that the water was so high but the creek ran so long and washed around its banks until it finally reached the well taking the windmill with it and covering the well over with gravel until it cannot even be located.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAdams and daughters returned here last part of last week from a visit with relatives in Sabinal.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whistler and their two grandsons received serious injuries when on Tuesday afternoon the Chevrolet coach they were in overturned on the highway a few miles east of Dryden. The accident was due to a blowout in one of the tires and in trying to stop Mrs. Whistler, who was driving, put on the brakes causing the car to turn around and turn over.

Miss Mildred Shurley of Barksdale and Elton Secret of Sanderson were quietly married in Rocksprings Saturday. The young couple arrived at the Goldwire ranch last Friday where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Stirman and her mother, Mrs. V. J. Sheffield, who have been in Del Rio for several weeks where Mrs. Stirman has been receiving medical treatment, were able to return home last Sunday. Mrs. E. J. Chastain and son drove to Devil's River and met them after they had crossed over in a boat.

Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and children, who have been visiting with friends and relatives in Greenville and San Antonio, returned home last Saturday after having been marooned several days due to high waters west of San Antonio.

Mrs. J. D. Nichols and daughters, Misses Bernice and Beatrice, who have been visiting relatives in Clovis, Santa Fe and Albuquerque, N. M., returned home last Saturday.

"PIERRE OF THE PLAINS IS ACTION-PACKED DRAMA

Pierre, beloved cogue of the famous stage play, comes to the screen in new adventures in the Canadian Northwest of today in "Pierre of the Plains", swash-buckling romance of the wilds which shows Tuesday at the local theatre. John Carroll plays the sanguinary French Canadian adventurer, teamed with Ruth Hussey, who puts glamour into her first outdoor adventure role.

The new story follows the adventures of Pierre, as he befriends the Indians, breaks up a marriage for the heroine, whom he later wins, helps her brother falsely accused of murder, to escape from the Royal Mounted Police, and, after other escapades, fights and comical episodes, extricates himself from a murder charge by his native wit. Carroll and Bruce Cabot stage a thrilling hand-to-hand battle, and other thrills interlard the romance and comedy.

Carroll plays his roll with an engaging braggado, and Miss Hussey is convincing as well as beautiful. Cabot is menacing as well as the hero's arch enemy and Evelyn Ankers, as a society girl vacationing in the wilds, figures in a hilarious fishing sequence in which Carroll rescues her from a river with her own fishing rod. Philip Brown is appealing as the boy accused of murder and Reginald Owen at the bibulous village attorney Frank McVey plays the Mounted Police sergeant who trails but still admires the hero.

"EAGLE SQUADRON" INSPIRED BY CHRONICLE OF COURAGE

In "Eagle Squadron", the new Universal film which shows on Wednesday and Thursday on the local screen, producer Walter Wagner has notably achieved the screen's first authentic story of the great war both in the air and on the land.

From the English fighting front comes this story of American fighter pilots who joined the Royal Air Force long before their own country's entrance into the war. Their swift Spitfires have written many a heroic chapter in the war of the clouds since then.

The fact that many incidents in the picture are based on exploits of the real Eagle Squadron lends to the Wagner production a dramatic authenticity seldom achieved on the screen.

The long and imposing cast of players contributes performances fully as noteworthy as the theme of their story. In the leading role, Robert Stack portrays a young Californian who joins the Eagle Squadron, and through his adventures and his romance the story is unfolded.

Opposite him, in the character of a member of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force, is Diana Barrymore, who makes her screen debut in this picture. Miss Barrymore, daughter of John Barrymore and the youngest member of the famous "royal" family of stage and screen proves by her performance that she is a notable newcomer to the cinema.

The authenticity and realism of the film has its counterpart in the warm human story of the fighter pilot and the WAAF girl. In their line of duty, the screen unfolds modern war in the clouds, a night raid by the dreaded British Commandos of headline fame, and the women in this war who fly transport planes, operate radio communications to the fighter and bomber pilots, and fire anti-aircraft guns.

Not the least gripping feature is the forward written and spoken by Quentin Reynolds, noted American war correspondent who returned from England for this task. His first sentence sets the feeling of the entire picture: "This is the story of some of our countrymen who did not wait to be stabbed in the back."

JEAN GABIN ROMANTIC DYNAMITE IN ROLE OF BOBO

A dynamic new personality has come to the screen in the person of Jean Gabin, whose first American picture, "Moontide," comes to the Princess Sunday and Monday.

Long a French star, Gabin won the praise of movie critics with his expert portrayals in such French pictures as "Pepe Le Moko", "Grand Illusion" and "Port of Shadows." American motion picture companies offered him fabulous sums to come to Hollywood and make a picture, but they were met with refusal.

However, when Paris fell to the Nazi hordes, Gabin was forced into exile, and came to the motion picture capital and signed with 20th Century Fox.

He was given the right to choose his own stories, and he read through some fifty scripts before he decided to make his debut in "Moontide," a best-selling novel by Willard Robertson. "Moontide" is tailor-made for Gabin. Most of the action takes place on the Southern California waterfront, with a rugged romantic, adventure-seeking dock worker as the central character. Much of Gabin's life had been spent on the docks in France, so the role was a "natural" for him.

"BLUES IN NIGHT" NOVEL DRAMA WITH MUSIC

Sweet and low-down. The soft wail of a muted trumpet. The dull pulsating rhythms of a bass drum. Music of the people, the streets. Of slamming doors and roaring trains. That's the sort of music you hear in "Blues in the Night," showing at the local theatre Friday and Saturday September 25 and 26. It is a down to earth story of a barnstorming jazz band whose musicians have their own idea of what "swing music" means.

In the starring roles are newcomer Richard Whorf, lovely Priscilla Lane and Betty Field. This is not a film about a lot of beautiful girls in a night club dancing on extravagant sets. To the music of an orchestra that

by Joe Marsh

WILL FROST dropped over last evening and we had a glass of beer on the back porch. I could see Will was bustin' to say something...

"Well," he finally remarks, holding up his glass to the light of the settin' sun. "I paid my income tax today—third instalment."

There was a note of pride in Will's voice that some folks might have found amusing—if they didn't know Will...

Wasn't amusing to me though. I happen to know this is the first year Will's filed an income tax return, and I suspect the payment wasn't very big... probably in the general neighborhood of $3.26. But I know how it made him feel...

Made him feel good... because he was doing his part as an American citizen... holding up his end.

Made him feel proud... to mail that money direct to Uncle Sam—for things that's needed to win this war with.

That's the way Will would feel about bein' able to pay income taxes... kind of citizen he is.

And speakin' of taxes... the other day that during years since beer came back taxes have brought in two and a half billion to the government.

Then it went on to say beer industry provides a million dollars a day in some of that federal, state and some's local. But any describe it, it's a lot of money.

Right here in Texas, for the taxes from beer last year were enough to pay for the 4-engine bombers, one hundred and fourteen fighter planes, 285 anti-aircraft guns.

(And it wasn't so long ago that money was going to sets of bootleggers and gangsters.)

"There," I thought to myself when I saw Will holding up to the light, "pay that Americans that they can't make Will Frost and beer."

BANDS! FLAGS! PARADE! FUN!

The entire school system of Sanderson cooperated with the other civic organizations to make the salvage drive a success. The drive began with a parade. The band members, led by Drum Major James Albert Mansfield, and impressive in their orange and black uniforms, were second only to the American Legion which carried our flags, and the fire truck with its siren.

The high school and grades lined up by classes behind the band. Some classes displayed flags and posters which added to the spirit and color of the occasion.

The school band furnished suitable music at various stages of the parade and dismissed everybody at the Salvage Depot by playing our National Anthem. These students are due considerable praise, as is the director, Miss Brieger, for the splendid showing they made on such short notice.

The Home Guard, of which we are very proud, added much to the parade as they came along in new uniforms carrying their guns.

THREE CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

Three of the high school classes have elected officers for the coming year. The others will do so very soon.

The seniors elected the following:

President, Margaret Ruth Yeates; vice-president, Bill Davis; secretary, Betty Frazor; and treasurer, Joe Ross Phillips. Mrs. Holley was chosen sponsor.

Junior class officers elected: President, Jay Tom Holley; vice-president, Maurine Cox; secretary, Maurine Frazier; treasurer, Dan Murrah; reporter, David Duke. Mrs. Bradford was chosen as sponsor.

New Faces Appear On Our Campus

The entire student body and faculty wishes to welcome the new students to Sanderson High. In the ninth grade the new students are: Douglas Bell of Santa Rosa, N. M., Arthur Calk of Woodsboro; Beulah Lindley of Abilene; and Mrs. Alberta Courtney.

In the tenth grade are: Diana Hampton of Pumpville; Margaret La Forge of Breckenridge. In the eleventh grade are: Bill Calk of Woodsboro; Jay Tom Holley, of Pleasanton; and Wilma Woodruff of Campwood.

LIBRARY NEWS

This week the library news column is being dedicated to Mrs. R. E. Corder and the work and interest she gave to the library this summer. With the help of several girls, Mrs. Corder was able to keep the library open for an hour every Saturday afternoon.

A number of new books were bought for the library and many books were donated. The circulation statistics kept for the summer certainly denote the popularity of the library.

The library committee and the community wish to express sincere thanks to Mrs. Corder for the splendid work carried on in the library during the summer months.

"Mamma," said little Pete, "don't men go to heaven?"
"Why of course. What makes you ask?"
"Because I never see any pictures of angels with whiskers."
"Well," said the mother, "some men do go to heaven, but they make it by a close shave."

Program Offered for Training of Teachers

Austin—To help fit Texas high school students for their future work—either in the armed forces or in other war activity—the University of Texas is carrying on a widespread program of training teachers to pass vital information on to the public school classroom.

This summer the University held a class in pre-flight aeronautics for 34 Texas teachers, and will offer a similar course during the 1942-43 session.

It held a special Navy Pre-Flight Physical Fitness Training School for 150 Texas coaches and physical training teachers.

It conducted special refresher courses in mathematics in a half dozen Texas school centers to qualify teachers to teach math in high school so as to fit high school boys for Navy requirements, and will offer similar refresher courses in the strategic field of physics.

"Chookie" McAdams left Sunday for San Marcos where she will attend San Marcos Academy.

Don't Let Poor Eyesight Lessen His Chances for Leadership

Give Him Better Light for Better Sight

Most children are born with perfect eyes. But it is an appalling fact that by the time they leave grade school, one out of five has defective vision. At college age, two out of five have faulty eyesight.

Why risk your child's eyes and his chances of future success? Give him enough light and the right kind of light for safe seeing. Put an I. E. S. Study Lamp on his study table. And have plenty of light elsewhere in your home—well shaded and free from glare. Light all of each room, too, not just part of it.

Remember: eyes are priceless; good light is cheap! Have better light tonight!

He has only one pair of eyes to last a lifetime. Safeguard them with better light.

Homework's a snap with an I. E. S. Study Lamp equipped with 100-watt bulb. Its white glass diffusing bowl sifts out harmful glare... provides an abundance of both direct and indirect light. Ask for free trial.

 You feed your body 21 times a week, whether it is hungry or not. Then why not throw your soul a bone once a week at least even if it doesn't seem hungry? The poor thing may be too weak from starvation to make it wants known.
 Don't wait to DIE before YOU go to church! I would prefer holding a service with YOU; not over YOU.

Fight, End War, Then Home, Is Desire of Soldiers Overseas

How do our soldiers overseas feel, especially those who have been sent to the British Isles to await combat duty? Information received indicates that they are eager to get into action, have the war over with and return to the United States.

This attitude is not one of dissatisfaction with the Army. They realize they have a job to do, but many of them feel that they have received all the training which they can get until they actually start fighting. Time does not exactly drag on their hands because they are too busy for that. There is no denying some of them have a longing to see the old home town and the folks that center around it.

There is no complaint about army food because it is good and there is an ample supply of it. Little by little the soldiers have been adjusting themselves to the lack of conveniences which they found on that side of the Atlantic. In fact, some of them are compelled to live in an unpleasantly primitive way yet they put up with this condition without complaint. They realize it is all part of the war toward checking totalitarianism even though but a preliminary part.

The newspapers on the far side of the Atlantic are carrying only the headline type of news. Naturally, the soldiers would like to see some of the papers from this side of the big pond. They miss things American and they have come to an appreciation of things in the United States that they once complained about.

But foremost in their feeling is their desire to get into the war and finish it quickly so they can return home to their normal life once more.

Nazi Education In Holland Severe

The youth in Germany have been driven into a vicious and violent school training, creating "Hitler's Youth" which completely undermines the whole family and social life in Germany. Many parents or near relatives in Germany were imprisoned or sent to concentration camps because of their children's betrayal to Gestapo agents the next morning what their parents or relatives had said at home against the existing regime.

Before the war, this Nazified youth was scattered, like a swarm of locusts, all over Europe, under the cover of maids, servants, governesses, waiters, lift boys, and so on. They had just one aim. To raise the Nazi regime, propagate its blessings upon the superior German race. This Nazified youth was so fanatic that they could not keep their temper before a severe critic and openly declared that it was their sacred and sole duty to deny, with their utmost power, the blunders and atrocities of their Fuehrer, to justify him and praise him whenever or wherever it need be.

So, the Nazis, with their iron-handed repression, now try to corrupt, with the same vile me-

Changes Made In Terms Treasury Tax Savings Notes

Secretary Morgenthau Monday announced changes in the terms of the Treasury Tax Savings Notes, which have been on sale since August 1, 1941, for the convenience of taxpayers and which are receivable at par and accrued interest in payment of Federal income, estate, and gift taxes.

The changes are effective in the new Treasury Notes of Tax Series A-1945 and Tax Series C-1945, which will be offered for sale beginning September 14, although the new notes will not be ready for delivery before the latter part of the month. The notes of Tax Series A-1944 and Tax Series B-1944, which have been available since January 1, 1942 were withdrawn from sale at the close of business September 12, 1942.

The New Notes of Tax Series C are adaptable for dual purposes: (1) for the accumulation of tax reserves and (2) for the temporary or short-term investment of cash balances which are at present idle. This new series of Treasury Notes, the Secretary said, will furnish a security well adapted to corporations and other investors for the mobilization of their idle funds for the war program. The new terms provide greater flexibility, and, through provision for cash redemption with interest, permit holders of Tax Series C Notes to realize on the notes without loss of interest.

The notes of Tax Series A-1945, like those of prior Series A notes are intended primarily for the smaller taxpayer. The new notes will be dated September 1, 1942 and will mature September 1, 1945, thus providing a maturity of three rather than two years from issue date. The limitation on the principal amount that may be presented on account of any one taxpayer's liability for each class of taxes (income, estate or gift) for each taxable period has been raised from $1,200 to $5,000. The new limitation will also apply to prior Tax Series A-1943 and A-1944, of to any combination of the three series. In other respects the terms of notes of Tax Series A-1945 remain the same as those of A-1944. Interest will accrue (from September 1942) at the rate of 16 cents per month per $100, equivalent to a yield of approximately 1.92 percent per annum. The notes will be issued at par and accrued interest. If not presented in payment of taxes, the notes will be redeemed at the purchase price only, either at or before maturity, without advance notice. The notes will be available in the denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

The new notes of Tax Series C will be dated as of the first day of the month in which purchased, will mature three years thereafter, and they will be issued at par. Interest on the notes will accrue each month from month of issue, on a graduated scale, the equivalent yield if held to maturity being approximately 1.07 per cent per annum.

Army Makes Special Offers to Men 18 - 19

Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durette, District Recruiting and Induction Officer at Lubbock, stated today that in view of the possibility that all young men may soon be in uniform, it is the belief that the earlier a man gets into service the better his opportunities for promotion. That explains why 18 and 19 year old men are enlisting now. They know if they get in now, they can be eligible to apply for Officer's Candidate School at the end of three months, and they may be commissioned long before they reach the advanced age of 21.

No boy is advised to quit high school for any purpose. But if he is 18 or 19, and has graduated or has quit for some other reason, then he is a man in a man's world—and one that recognizes that a man of 18 is better able to fight in this war than an old timer. That's why the Army is offering him these opportunities and why he should take advantage of the opportunities open to him to rise as high and as fast as his own ability and hard work will take him.

Young men who are 18 and 19 can enlist at once and pick out any one of the eight combat branches in which they wish to serve. After attaining the age of 20 there will no longer be such a choice.

The Army offers young men the privilege and honor of serving their country now when they are needed. More than that, it provides them with an opportunity to learn and develop. The statement that "the U. S. Army builds men" is no idle slogan. It's a solid fact. The Army is in reality one of the world's greatest industrial colleges. And many thousands of young men will come out of this war with training which will be valuable to them all their lives.

"You'll find the Army ready to help you learn," says Col. Durette, "for the greater skill you have, the better soldier you will be." Men 18 and 19 can now win commissions in the Army, and if they show that they have intelligence and qualities of leadership, they will have an opportunity to attend an Officer Candidate School. By doing good work there they may be commissioned a second lieutenant and find themselves in command of some of the men of their own age who decided to wait until they were called for service.

Army recruiting stations are located at Amarillo, Plainview, Pampa, Big Spring, El Paso, Fort Bliss, Lubbock, Odessa and Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Murrah and daughter, Miss Ruth, went to Abilene Saturday where Miss Ruth entered Hardin-Simmons for this term.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Southall and daughter, Frances Adell, of Eagle Pass visited here last week with her mother, Mrs. Maude Sullivan.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Winter flying jackets for both the Army and Navy Air Corps are regular equipment for our aviators. They cost from $12 to $18 and are made of horsehide leather lined with sheep shearing.

Purchase of one $18.75 War Bond, for which you receive $25 in 10 years, will pay for one of these jackets so necessary for our airmen flying at high altitudes and in northern climes. So you and your neighbors can do your bit by investing at least 10 percent of your salary every pay day in War Bonds to help pay the cost of this equipment for intrepid American flyers. Join the parade, and help top the War Bond Quota in your county. U. S. Treasury Department

Stalingrad, Unique City of Soviets, Now Battling for Life

Stalingrad, popularly called the "Detroit of Russia," is a city about which much is not generally known. In fact, until it became one of the focal points in Hitler's drive to the east, it is a safe prediction that perhaps not one in a hundred could tell where it was. Yet today it constitutes one of the most important defense areas in all of the vast Russian territory.

It is the heart of the tank industry of the Soviet Government. Because it was located with reference to the use of the Volga for both incoming and outgoing freight, its wharves are often stacked with timber and grain, heavy duty machinery of all kinds and firearms, rolled steel, refined oil, canned goods and boots.

Stalingrad used to be known as Tsaritsyn. One house in the city bears a memorial tablet stating that, in 1918, Joseph Stalin worked there. In those days, Stalingrad was being held against the white guard troops

This city is full of revolutionary traditions, but its citizens are not basking in the light of reflected glory of the past decades. They are proud of the fact that they are realistic and are living in the present and planning for the future, for themselves and for their children. They have built block on block of buildings. They have laid out and paved broad thoroughfares and public squares. Modern new theatres have been built and museums opened to the public. Up to the time that Stalingrad was forced to fight for its very life, thousands of Russians from every section of the Soviet Union streamed through its streets and boulevards. Stalingrad to many Russians is more than just another factory town. It is their home city, their industrial center, a beacon of light to the rest of the world as to how a vast manufacturing and trading metropolis can be planned and built so as to banish ugliness and filth, to make it combine the utmost in utility with artistic attractiveness.
