A QUESTIONABLE POLICY

The attitude of the government toward the retail distribution industry is becoming more unreal and nightmarish. Merchandise costs are in many cases no longer permitted to govern retail prices.

freight train in the local Southern Pacific railroad yards. Questioning revealed that Douglas Valentine, the 33 year old negro who admitted ownership of the machine gun, had served two terms in the St. Quintine penitentiary.

Mrs. John Whistler and grandson, John Lewis, left Sunday for San Antonio where they are visiting relatives.

Mrs. J. W. Downum and brother, Travis Horton, were Del Rio shopping visitors last Saturday.

W. D. Hunter left Wednesday for Uvalde where he will spend the remainder of the week visiting with his brother, Jim Hunter.

Bill and Howard Stavely and Jack Haines left Wednesday morning for Menard and Brady where they will attend a rodeo and fair to be given this week and next in those two cities.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

It is only right that willful violators should be punished. But there is so much chance for error and unfairness in this official promotion of amateur sleuthing, that it seems un-American and beneath the dignity of a great and powerful government to promote such tactics to enforce its orders.

Admitting that government agencies have a tough job on their hands in these trying times, and after making full allowance therefore, the fact remains that political opportunism plus plain bungling within government has reached shameful proportions and is largely responsible for the present crucial cost-of-living problem.

Monahans News—The first major wreck in the history of the Western Division of the Texas and Pacific Railroad occurred here yesterday (Thursday) morning about 4:30 o'clock when an east bound freight, identified as Manifesto No. 65, consisting of 47 cars and the engine, was derailed just outside the switches on the main line east of town.

Twenty-eight of the 47 cars were derailed, according to officials of the railroad. Twenty of the cars were completely off the rails, and many were off the roadbed.

Damages were estimated to be at least $125,000 to equipment and cargo.

No one was hurt in the accident, and the locomotive was undamaged and proceeded to Toyah early in the morning under its own power.

Ozona Stockman—Arthur Byrd Phillips, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phillips of Ozona became a hero in true Western style last week when he leaped from the back of his own mount to bulldoze a frightened horse and thus saved the life of a companion, Neal J. Reed of Sterling City, who was being dragged at the end of a lariat rope by the bolting horse.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—A scalp laceration and a state of unconsciousness for three hours was the price paid by St. Sgt. Edgar L. Good of Grand Saline, stationed at Marfa AAF Advanced Flying School, when he suffered as a result of radiation from a bolt of lightning at the Flying School Friday night.

A gun carried by Pfc. Jose Duarte of Benson, Ariz., who, with Sergeant Good was guarding planes on the flying line, was damaged when the bolt of lightning ran through the firearm.

knocking Duarte to the ground. Duarte was under a plane wing when the lightning struck and Good was felled as he ran for shelter under the same plane wing. Duarte was not unconscious when Flying School men reached him.

The plane was not damaged.

Alpine Avalanche—Good local rains and showers were reported in many parts of the Big Bend-Davis mountains country the past week, but moisture to date this year seems to have been spotted with no general rains falling.

West of Alpine rains have covered most of the country and ranges are said to be mostly in good shape all the way to Sierra Blanca and South to the Rio Grande. In southern Brewster county most of the range is also reported to be in fair to good condition. In the area around Christmas mountains the moisture is said to have been unusually good.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—A contract for the building of 26 government financed furnished family dwelling units in Fort Stockton has been let and work will be started within the next two weeks if materials arrive in time.

Director J. M. Webster and Assistant Director Dan A. McMillan, Jr., of Pacific Air School, Ltd., were informed Saturday by A. D. Hawley and Ivan H. Riley, building contractors.

AT THE PRINCESS—

JACK BENNY, PRISCILLA LANE ARE STARRING IN COMEDY

Jack Benny, that amiable comedian, is amiable no more. In "The Meanest Man in the World," which opens Sunday and Monday at the Princess Theatre, the nation's number one gagman, it is being whispered, is a scourge to kiddies and a veritable ogre to old ladies.

Jack Benny had been left alone, this picture might very well have earned the title, "The Kindest Man in the World," on the strength of its star's genial nature. Ah, but there's the rub! Benny was not left alone.

Moonlight and roses! Jack Benny, the past master at romance, in love with Priscilla Lane, and she with him. Then, outrageous misfortune! Priscilla's prudish pop! it develops, has someone else in mind for her, a man more successful than els of peaches to the tree on dry land irrigated from a tank. He only has four trees, but forty bushels of peaches at $5 a bushel—$200.00.

But Mr. Keen does not sell peaches, he gives them away to his neighbors and friends.

Uvalde Leader-News—More than seven million persons entering the United States from Mexico during the fiscal year ending June 30, broke all records for entries during the fiscal year, a preliminary report issued by Harry P. Hornby, collector of customs for the 23rd district, shows.

Miss Betty Parker of Lexington, Texas arrived last Friday for a visit with Miss Elizabeth Brown. They attended Baylor University at Waco together.

Benny and more unscrupulous, too. Leaving behind him no practice whatsoever, Benny and his faithful man, Rochester, remove the law office to New York. A man of the world, Rochester convinces his naive chief that in this world kindness and success just don't mix. Gotta get tough, he declares.

Benny sees the light and strives to become "The Meanest Man in the World." With Rochester egging him on, he embarks on a wave of "meanness" calculated to make moviegoers guffaw!

NEW COMEDY IS GAY, SPARKLING,

Crowded with as many laugh-filled situations as there are strangers in war-time Washington, George Stevens' "The Merrier" opens on Thursday at the Theatre. Co-starring Joel McCrea and Charles Coburn, the delightful comedy is one of the gayest, timeliest pictures seen this season.

The story is all about little Washington, played by Jean Arthur, sublets one room in a day or so of sharing a management, Coburn realizes landlady is not in love with a new boyfriend.

From the Frying Pan Into the Firing Line

Saving waste fats and greases is more important than ever these days. Strained to remove solids, they are made into ammunition for America's soldiers. It's another way the 1943 Victory Home is waging its "win at home" campaign. Ask your Defense Council about a V-Home pledge and display its emblem proudly.

EVERY DRIVER CAN HELP

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

WAR, 1943 style, is war on wheels. Men, weapons and materials vital to victory must be moved swiftly, safely and without delay.

But each day accidents at grade crossings in America injure or kill 19 motorists and delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a drain on manpower and time that a nation at war simply cannot afford.

Will you, as a patriotic driver, assist in the nationwide campaign now under way to stop these accidents? Here's how you can help.

- 1. Be extra careful—war-time careful—in all your driving.
2. Be especially alert when approaching a grade crossing.
3. Be sure the way is clear before you cross the tracks.
4. LOOK, LISTEN and LIVE!
Help keep 'em rolling for victory!

One Step Closer to VICTORY

Tom and I figure that every War Bond buy is another step toward Victory—that all-electric kitchen we've wanted so long. Of course, our main purpose in buying bonds is to lick the Axis. That comes first of everything else. But just the same, we're nice to know that when the war's over we'll have a nest egg built up with which to carry out our plans for post-war better living. We're buying bonds to guarantee freedom from oppression today—and freedom from household drudgery tomorrow!

There's a great incentive for making every sacrifice you can today. For after the war, new materials and new production methods, now being perfected, will bring finer electrical appliances and better electrical living for everyone.

Under his deft handling the scenes along at a merry pace alternating between moments of tender, poignant and hilarious situations are chock full of uproarious laughs. In an effort to make the picture more interesting, Coburn goes to such lengths that he finally is forced to leave the apartment. He is gone the F. B. THE VICTORY IS IN THE AIR—
A FILM OF DECISIVE BATTLE ENGAGEMENT!

On the night of October 23rd the African desert burst into flames and fury and the United States heard the electrifying news that the British Eighth Army, General Bernard Montgomery commanding, had launched an all-out offensive against the Afrika Korps and his Italian Legions, who for only a scant sixty miles from Alexandria, had menaced the Suez Canal and the Middle East.

Only days later, the British pliantly marched into Tripoli, 400 miles across the blood-red desert, having put to rest the "Invincibles" in one of the decisive battles.

In the most remarkable picture ever made, the exciting story of that conquest has been set to the eyes of the world in "The Desert Victory" the feature which opens Sunday at the Princess Theatre.

"The Desert Victory" is the photographic story of that military achievement, the time that General Alamein, Commander-in-Chief of the Middle East, received Minister Churchill's dispatch until the climatic moment when the General could say "your orders fulfilled." See, in all its awesome clash and impact of two armies meeting head-on in a tremendous gun duel at staggering distances... you feel the suspense as the iron-clad "tappers" clear a mine... your heart pounds with the excitement as opposing soldiers in hand-to-hand combat

Tricks with Fats

That not even grandmother knew

Fats are important in your diet — for the energy and flavor they give to foods. Nutritionists say that four out of the sixteen red stamp points per person per week should be used for fats.

— but every ounce of fat you can save will give you more red stamps for the proteins of meat, cheese and fish.

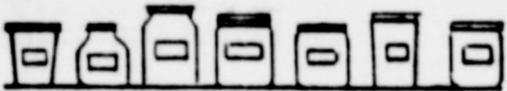

Practice the tricks described here and your red stamps will go farther — in good nutrition and good eating too.

SAVE THE DRIPPINGS

Don't throw out any fat from meat. Have you saved all of these?

- |        |              |
|--------|--------------|
| Beef   | Pork Sausage |
| Veal   | Bacon        |
| Lamb   | Ham          |
| Pork   | Chicken      |
| Mutton | Goose        |

STORE DRIPPINGS IN REFRIGERATOR

Keep in covered containers, and mark them so you'll know which is oldest and use it first. (If you put them in a big jar, and use from the top down, the bottom fat becomes rancid and flavors the jarful before you can use it.)

CLARIFY DRIPPINGS

Fresh pork, beef, lamb, goose and chicken fat are best clarified.

Cut a raw potato in thin slices (use one potato for each pound of cold fat) and heat fat with potato slowly over low heat until potatoes are well browned. Strain through several thicknesses of cloth, and discard settlings. Cool and store.

Pork sausage, bacon and ham drippings, which are excellent for seasoning, should not be clarified. The tiny brown bits in them add to their flavoring value.

Render extra suet or other fresh meat fats from roasts by heating gently until melted. Then strain through a cloth.

Heat bacon or ham rinds gently to remove the fat before discarding the rind. (Use as you do bacon drippings).

USE ONLY AS MUCH FAT AS YOU NEED

Spread butter and margarine thin. Use smallest possible amount of fat, when you fry food or season vegetables.

Limit your deep fat frying. Do it only when you have a planned use for the remaining fat. (If the fat has not been allowed to smoke, it may be strained or clarified and re-used for frying or for some shortening uses).

Fat used for frying mild flavored foods picks up little food flavor and can be re-used for any frying purpose. Fats used for frying strong-flavored foods like onions or fish retains some of their flavor and can be re-used only for frying the same foods. (Or it can be put in the salvage can.)

Use no extra fat for browning meats which have fat of their own. Cut off a small piece of the fat, oil the pan with it, then brown the meat.

PROLONG THE LIFE OF FATS

Never heat a fat until it smokes. (When fats burn or smoke they have an acid taste and are indigestible. Burned fats and rancid fats have outlived their kitchen usefulness, but are still good for ammunition. Sell them to your meat-man as waste fat.)

Most cooking fats burn at relatively high temperatures. They can be used for all frying as well as baking.

Butter, margarine and drippings that contain some sugar and salt — such as bacon drippings — burn or smoke at relatively low temperature. Take extra care in using them for frying. Use them principally for baking and seasoning.

USE DRIPPINGS THESE WAYS

Sausage, salt pork, ham and bacon fats

As seasoning for vegetables, such as green beans, lima beans, Brussels sprouts, asparagus, broccoli.

In salad dressing for hot potato salad or wilted greens.

As the fat in cream sauce for scalloped or creamed dishes, such as creamed meat, fish, vegetables, in thickened soup, in cream sauce for croquettes.

For frying potatoes, eggs, French toast.

As shortening in biscuits or pastry to be used with meat.

Clarified drippings

For frying.

As shortening in biscuits, cornbread, short-cakes, muffins, plain cakes, cookies, pie crust. (Use 2 tablespoons less than 1 cup when 1 cup butter or margarine is specified. If lard is specified, use same amount as of lard.)

Fresh or cured pork drippings

In lima or baked beans.

Lamb or mutton fat

Is hard and has a distinctive flavor which some people do not like. Can be clarified, mixed with softer pork fat and used for shortening or in gravies or pastry to combine with leftover lamb. If only a small part of the mixture is lamb or mutton fat, there will be little lamb flavor. If your other fat supplies are ample, you may prefer to turn it in as salvage.

SALVAGE ALL UNUSABLE FATS

When fats are no longer usable for any cooking purpose they are ready for the salvage can and for use in making explosives. (It doesn't matter if the fat is darkened in color.)

Warm the fat. Pour it through a cloth into a large clean tin can. Do not use glass or paper containers.

Keep fat in cool place until you have at least one pound (2 cups).

Take the fat to your meat dealer, who will buy it at the established price.
