LOOK AT THE RECORD

One social planner recently expressed the opinion that socialized medicine, as advocated in legislation now before Congress, would be as logical as our public-operated, tax-supported educational system.

Secondly, the assumption of the planner in question that the educational system has been a resounding success, while the medical profession has been lacking in accomplishment, is certainly not based on fact.

fact that most people can read and write.

Any doctor who had the temerity to suggest that medicine reached eternal perfection with the discovery of anesthesia, would be laughed off as a lunatic.

Measured by service to humanity, the private medical profession need not take a back seat for any other activity.

It Happened In Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO This Week - Remember

January 5, 1934

Sanderson has a good soil and a wonderful climate that is adapted to the growing of most any kind of shrubbery, trees, or even to the producing of a garden if only we had plenty of water.

This week Mrs. McKee brought to our office a leaf from a head of cabbage which is certainly the largest yet and one that would be a subject for Ripley's Believe it or Not Column. This leaf measured 21 1-2 by 19 1-2 inches and the head of the cabbage, from which it was taken, measured 12 inches across.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims Wilkinson are the proud parents of a son that was born to them at 5 o'clock, Thursday, January 4th. The little fellow weighed 9 1-4 pounds and has been named Robert Wilson. Both mother and baby are doing fine—and so is the father.

Just as the New Year was being ushered in a very quiet home wedding was solemnized in this city when Judge G. J. Henshaw united in marriage Mrs. Carmen Kirchner of Rocksprings and Mr. Johnnie Whistler of this city. The wedding, which was performed at the home of the groom's parents, was witnessed by a few intimate friends and relatives of the groom.

Miss Bess McAdams left the first of the week for Waco where she is a student at Baylor University. Miss McAdams spent the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAdams.

Jack Hayre and Leo Daniels have returned to Henderson, Tenn., to resume their studies at the Freed-Hardeman College after spending the holidays here with their parents.

Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and children returned Monday from Greenville, Texas where they spent the past week visiting relatives. William Lea and J. C. Green, Jr., were Del Rio visitors Monday.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Fort Stockton Pioneer — Miss Hortense (Jiggs) Brannon Tuesday night was appointed by the Fort Stockton City Council to become city secretary and tax assessor-collector effective January 1.

Miss Brannon will replace Marvin Butz, who has held the combined post for 13 years, and who resigned when he was recently placed in 1-A selective service classification.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa — A resident of Little Rock, Ark., until she went to work for Safeway Stores, Inc., in February, Mrs. Mabel Lewis has assumed the duties of manager of the food system's Marfa unit.

Mrs. Lewis succeeds W. C. Stephens who resigned recently to enter school in Fort Worth, next month.

Uvalde Leader News — Movement of the 1943-44 crop of spinach from irrigated farms in the Uvalde section, which was started late last week, inaugurates a busy season for the coming months and is a forerunner of what is expected to be the heaviest shipments of the crop ever seen from this station.

Alpine Avalanche — Snow, sleet and rain which fell over a wide area of the Big Bend-Davis mountains country last Thursday night brought precipitation totaling 4 1/2 inches, according to the government gauge at Sull Ross college.

The greatest depth of snow on the ground at one time was one inch, the college records show. It melted quickly and clear weather has prevailed since.

Fort Stockton Pioneer — Paul W. Willoughby, 64, well-known West Texas rancher, died in his sleep Sunday morning, Dec. 26, at his home following a year's critical illness. Funeral services were conducted from the residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. J. Arthur Schooley of the Christian Church.

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. Control of prickly pear, drilling water wells and laying of pipelines for ranch waterings constituted the bulk of work done in this county under last year's program, although deferred grazing, bitterweed control and construction of earthen dams and tanks were among other practices carried out.

AT THE PRINCESS-

"DESTROYER" IS A SAGA OF FIGHTING SHIP AND CREW

Reports coming in ahead of "Destroyer," the picture which will be presented at the Princess Theatre on Sunday and Monday, indicate that it is a vivid screen story of a group of average fighting Americans aboard a ship they help build and which they grow to love. It is said to be an exciting sea drama, but one that does not sacrifice the tender emotions for the sake of sheer spectacular effects, preferring, evidently, to give us a heart's view of men at war and men in love.

Edward G. Robinson is the star of the picture, in the role of a Chief Boatswain's Mate called Boley. He is an old Navy man who is working as a welder on a new ship that is to replace the old John Paul Jones, which went down fighting. When the new "Jonesy" is launched, Boley gets back in the Navy so that he may be part of her crew and help give her the "soul" of the old ship—the one that had become as much a part of Boley's life as his home and lovely daughter.

Marguerite Chapman, Glenn Ford and Edgar Buchanan play the featured roles in support of Mr. Robinson, Miss Chapman as his daughter and Glenn Ford portraying the fresh but handsome young sailor, who falls in love with her, Edgar Buchanan is the star's buddy in the picture, even joining the navy to be near his idol, though he hates the sea.

REVOLUTION OF 1906 STARTS STALIN AND COUNTERPART

Because he looks acts and speaks like Josef Stalin, Manart Kippen was chosen from a score of candidates for the role of the Russian leader in the film version of Ambassador Davies' best-seller, "Mission to Moscow," which shows at the Princess Theatre on Tuesday.

But behind this routine casting item is a dramatic story, a strange pattern woven by Fate for each of them and starting with the same event. For the same political upheaval that launched Stalin on the political career that brought him to the leadership of a great people also launched Kippen on the theatrical career that has brought him to the impersonation of Stalin in that role of leadership.

"It is a strange thing," the actor mused, "but if the 1906 revolution had succeeded, Josef Stalin might never have been head of the Russian government—and certainly I would never have been portraying him on the screen."

Stalin was born in the Russian province of Georgia in the nearby Caucasus. Kippen planned a notable career. But both became revolutionists, inspired by the man's cruelties and inspired by the Tsarist regime.

It was in the Revolution of 1906 that Stalin first displayed his reputation as a rager, determined, and a successful leader, even though the revolution failed. It was too, that caused Kippen to leave his native land and come to the United States.

In Chicago, the young man abandoned medicine for a theatrical career. He attended the Chicago Conservatory and later the Fine Arts Institute, making his professional debut in 1910.

Scoring a success in the United States, Kippen moved on to New York where for many years he

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The men overseas don't mince any words about the way they want to find this country when they come marching home... do they, Judge?"

"They certainly don't, Herb...and they shouldn't. They're doing a masterful job fighting over there to protect our rights and they have good license to expect us to protect theirs back here at home. One thing they're mighty clear on is their stand on prohibition."

"I saw in the paper just the other day the results of a poll taken among American service men in England by the British Institute of Public Opinion. They asked hundreds of men point blank how they would vote on prohibition. 85% of them stated, in unmistakable terms, that they would vote against it. There's no doubt about it, Herb...the men overseas don't want any action taken on that subject while they're away."

"And they're 100% right, Judge, because I know how I felt when I came home after the last war—only to learn that we had been over there fighting for so impractical a thing as Prohibition."

Wartime Lighting Suggestions HOW TO GET MORE LIGHT FROM YOUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT

Keep Lamps Turned Off In Unoccupied Rooms

Leaving lamps burning in unoccupied rooms not only wastes light but shortens the life of lamp bulbs, which use tungsten—a critical war material. Turn off all lamps and fixtures promptly when not in actual use. Your lamp bulbs will last longer, you'll get more useful light at less expense and you'll help conserve electricity and vital materials for the war effort.

SIX OTHER WAYS TO CONSERVE LIGHT

- 1. Remove and clean lamp bulbs and lamp bowls regularly. Dry thoroughly before using again.
2. Keep shade linings light. Clean or brush regularly. Repaint or reline dark-colored paper or parchment shades.
3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs by using shades deep enough and wide enough.
5. Arrange furniture so one lamp can serve two people. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
6. Eliminate amber or flame-colored bulbs. Inside-frosted bulbs of same wattage give more light.

Electricity is vital to war production. Use all you need but don't waste it just because it's cheap and isn't rationed. BUY WAR BONDS

Why was Gene Earwood so sad a while back? Wonder if the departure of a certain party had anything to do with it? Have you seen the lovely Christmas presents some of the young lovelies are sporting? And the sweet odors of those Christmas perfumes!

Some of the young fry stepped out to the holiday dances we hear.

It seems that Miss Kinkler and Brieger had interesting experiences on the train trip Christmas. Let us in on the dope, girls.

WOULDN'T IT BE WONDERFUL IF —

There were about three more William Suttons in the Freshman class?
 Certain girls would keep hands off some other girls' boy friends?
 Kids could get education without having to study so hard?
 We could see ourselves as others see us?
 Christmas would come more often?
 Everyone would buy his share of bonds and stamps?
 All of us were kind and thoughtful of our fellow students?
 The students would always study as they are this week?
 We could chew gum without fear of being caught?
 We could wake up and find that the war is over?

A great drama of the great love of a small boy and his dog provides heart throbs, smiles and suspense in "Lassie Come Home," story of a gorgeous collie's thousand-mile journey to find and join her young master, playing at the Princess Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday.

The tale deals with Lassie, a golden brown and white collie owned by Sam Carraclough (Donald Crisp) in Yorkshire, and idolized by his young son Joe (Roddy McDowall). Poverty for-

Battle of Tarawa Told In Pictures

Many valuable pictures were taken by daring Marine Corps combat photographers during the bitter Battle of Tarawa, including the three reproduced above. Upper photo shows a group of Marines assembling on the beach after surviving terrific gunfire. American dive-bombers are overhead. The brave group, center, advances toward Jap machine-gun nests which they succeeded in wiping out shortly after the picture was taken. A squad leader points out direction of Jap nest. In lower photo, two Marines man a machine-gun amid wreckage as a third Leatherneck lays aside his rifle to assist them.

J. Patrick O'Malley, as the brutal dog trainer; Bruce as the Duke, gruff but kindly at heart, are among other principals delivering capital performances.

Seeing this devotion, the Duke solves the problems of Lassie and the Carraclough family.

The collie, Lassie, is certain of dog stardom after this picture. Crisp and young McDowall are reunited in this picture after their roles in "How Green Was My Valley." Elsa Lanchester plays the boy's sympathetic mother with affecting sincerity. Dame May Whitty and Ben Webster, as an old Scotch couple who befriend the dog when it reaches their home starving, play their roles with gripping effect. Edmund Gwenn, as a kindly peddler who also befriends the dog, has an engaging character role. Elizabeth Taylor, as the Duke's granddaughter;

ADDRESS RATION BOOKS

Hundreds of lost ration books dropped in the mail by the finders are being sent to the Dead Letter Office every month because owners failed to fill in their addresses on the covers, according to OPA. Every holder of a ration book should make certain that his current address is plainly written in the space provided for that purpose on the cover.

TIRE, TUBE SUPPLY LOW

Tire and tube quotas for January reflect the continuing shortage. The quota of 276,029 new truck tires is 13,890 less than the December figure. Similarly, a lessening in demands which usually occurs during the colder months accounts for lower January quotas for farm tractor and farm implement tires and tubes. The tire quota is 27,600—lower by 4,600 than the December figure, while the January tube quota is 23,000—lower by 9,200.

Store leftovers when practical, together in one dish. A dab of carrots, a bit of corn, a couple of potatoes pushed in the refrigerator are likely to be forgotten and use up necessary space.

Part of Sgt. Edward Straube's left foot was shot away at Ferryville near Bizerte, North Africa. At Halberan General Hospital, Staten Island, N. Y., they are building up his foot again. Sgt. Straube, from Perth Amboy, N. J., buys War Bonds regularly.

Sgt. Bernard Kelle, 22, of New York, was wounded by snipers during the Sicilian campaign. His grandparents live in Naples, and he has a brother in the army. Both buy War Bonds regularly. Do you do as much?

Technician 5th Grade John A. Wisniewski, 25, of Dear, Mich., lost his right eye, three fingers and suffered chest wounds from shrapnel in the fight to capture Tunis. He is now recovering at Halberan and is a regular War Bond purchaser.

Pvt. Bernard Heidemann's left leg will be two inches shorter when he is discharged from Halberan. He was wounded by a German bullet during the operations in Sicily last August. His home is Chicago. He has been in traction since Sept. He's buying bonds.

The nickname of Pvt. Milton Liberman, 27, of Brooklyn, is "Gable." He was wounded in Italy last August and has been at Halberan since October. Every pay day $12.50 is taken out for War Bonds Liberman is buying. How many do you buy?

Precautions to Be Used In Shearing Spring Clip Mohair

Defective Hair Should Be Placed In Separate Sacks

Safeguarding the lives of goats and raising a kid crop are essential to the mohair industry, but the spring clip should not be sacrificed in doing so. For instance, says W. R. Nisbet, animal husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, delaying shearing until late spring may result in crotching, and the practice of shearing the goats piecemeal—leaving an unsharpened strip along the back to be removed after kidding—should be avoided.

Reviewing some of the problems of production and marketing of mohair, Nisbet says that a high percentage of coarse and otherwise poor type of hair lowers spinning quality, reduces the number of users and weakens the position of producers in meeting competition. The half million pounds of defective mohair, such as burry, cotted, heavily stained, and kempy which is placed in circulation each season further increases the low quality grade.

Many of the checks upon good quality mohair may be avoided by taking precautions ahead of shearing. Among these Nisbet suggests keeping goats out of fields and lots not regularly used or grazed and where bur-producing plants have grown up. This would reduce the volume of mohair contaminated by burrs just prior to shearing. Another good practice is to dispose of goats with kempy and gray fleeces ahead of shearing.

Muddy lots, and shearing floors and pens which readily become wet and slick should not be used. Fleeces shorn in such surroundings become stained excessively, and animal moisture stain will not scour out. Nisbet admonishes further against shearing on the ground because the mohair accumulates straw and other refuse.

The specialist says that the practice of sacking mohair in two lots—kid and grown—is desirable, especially in the fall, even though it is to be graded. He suggests, however, that it would be wise to make a separate lot of defective hair. Producers should continue their interest in the mohair until it is properly graded and offered to dealers and manufacturers on that basis. Every sale should give producers some information as to what manufacturers want.

John W. Richardson of Rock-springs spent several days here the first of the week assisting at the Alamo Lumber Company while R. V. Raney, local manager, was down with the flu. Mr. Richardson returned to his home Wednesday.

Pilot Boards Life Raft

One-man rubber life rafts are standard equipment in all Navy single-seat fighters. The raft is packed and stowed below the turtle back immediately behind the pilot's seat. After a landing at sea, the pilot pulls out the raft, turns the valve on the bottle of carbon dioxide, and the raft inflates in 1 minute. To get onto the raft, the pilot grabs the opposite side and throws himself horizontally across the boat.

PLENTY OF ANTI-FREEZE
The nation's motorists are being oversold on anti-freeze and told of shortages that do not exist, according to the OPA. Production of alcohol anti-freeze for this winter is 50 percent more than last, WPB said, and asked motorists to watch their own needs and not overload. Alcohol from which anti-freeze is made is a critical war material.

TWO MILLION FLATIRONS
A program to make two million flatirons for civilian use in 1944 has been approved by WPB. This amount will not come up to normal production but it will ease the hardships caused by two years of almost no production. It will probably be six months before many of these irons will reach dealers' shelves.

SUGAR RATION IS SAME
Sugar rations for home use will remain the same for another two and one-half months according to the OPA. Sugar stamp number 30 in war ration book four becomes valid on January 16, and will be good for buying five pounds of sugar through the end of March.
