VOLUME XXXVII

FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

Sergeant Elton H. Stirring, who died last August 22 in action in Europe, was recently awarded the European theatre, has been posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stirman of Alpine, were presented with the Distinguished Service Cross recently. Sergeant Stirring served with an infantry company of the Texas-Oklahoma National Guard and went overseas in the fall of 1942. A sister, Mrs. R. T. Key, also lives in Alpine.

Letter dated January 4th recently received by Mr. Mrs. Frank Warren from Joe Kerr, Jr., USAAF, of Mrs. Joe Kerr, who lately promoted to that rank from Lieutenant. Joe serves with the 38th Fighter Group, based in an ex-Nazi air field in Belgium very close to the front.

Letter reads in part: "I received your Xmas card, and it was very nice. From the Mrs. of Daisy (the Warrens) whose photograph was in their 1944 Christmas cards, looks as though you all have a same snow, and I mean there is certainly plenty of it here. Sure did hate to see deer season this year, but getting Jerry's sorta made up to me. I hope you all had a very Merry Xmas and Happy New Year. I have been on several missions over Germany, and we did some bombing and strafing. I certainly get plenty of mail. The first time I was shot at, it scared the devil out of me. This P-47 is really a wonderful airplane, and will do all kinds of punishment. The field is just a few miles in front, so you can imagine our living conditions aren't most comfortable. I was in there for a few days on the way, and boy, that is some town. The most beautiful city that I have ever seen and the people are so swell. I can't speak French, but that doesn't make any difference. Really had a big time, but I suppose it is overrun by now. Wish I could write more—really have to tell, but it will have to wait. This thing isn't nearly so bad as you think. Last Sunday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram carried a story on the Hell Hawks of the 355th Fighters. Texas men dominate in the outfit, it is for the roster of names that the correspondent gave was on Texas towns and cities. Sanderson was one town, represented by Captain Kerr."

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Grigsby were Marfa visitors Sunday.

Harry Hunter, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davison, writes that he is still in good health, and that his Sanderson Times started coming to him. He says, "I hope it comes regularly. I enjoy reading it a lot."

Second Lieutenant Robert C. Chausen, USAAF, was graduated February 5th from the Training Command's B-24 operator bomber co-pilot school at Keesler Field after completing an intensive five-week course in four-engine aircraft and technical training. He is the husband of Marjorie Lockhausen, Atacosa, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chausen.

Lieutenant Pat Sullivan, USAF, co-pilot on a B-17, stationed in the 8th Air Force in England, writes his mother, Mrs. Pat Sullivan, telling how he took part of the way back on a mission, taking a week return to his base. With their gasoline badly, the crew was ordered to make it over the top, as they supposed was friendly territory, since they couldn't be seen. They jumped. Pat landed some trees, tripped over and the ground sideways. Snow

Alpine Falls to Eagles Friday; Sal. Marfa Wins

Three Out of Four Taken By Eagles on Week End

The Eagle cagers journeyed to Alpine Friday of last week to take victories in both games in that town. Alpine's "A" team fell to the Sanderson "A" by a score of 38 to 17 in the second game. The Eagle "B" team had already defeated Alpine's "B" 24 to 9 in the first game of the evening. Dishman of Sanderson led as high point man for the "A" with 18, Jessup in the "B" with 11.

From Alpine the Eagles went to Marfa Saturday, defeating Marfa's "B" team 21 to 20, Jessup again being high point man with 12. Sanderson "A" fell to Marfa's "A" team in the second game, 43 to 22, the only defeat of the series for our school. Dishman placed as high point man for Sanderson with 9; Franco of Marfa led with a score of 16.

Saturday, February 17, marks the date for the contest of the District 72 Championship. Marfa will play Alpine Friday night before the tournament, and at two o'clock the Eagles take on Marathon. At three the winners of the Alpine-Marfa game play Fort Davis; at seven o'clock that evening is scheduled the game between the losers of the two afternoon games, in which they will vie for third place. The winners of the afternoon games will play for first and second places at 8 o'clock.

In the round-robin play-off Marfa took first place, Sanderson took second. Should Sanderson beat their opponents in the first game of Saturday afternoon, the Eagles would be cinched for second place and given a trophy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Grigsby were Marfa visitors Sunday.

KILLED IN ACTION—

Private Senon C. ("Sammy") Hernandez, Infantry, has been reported killed in action on January 11 in Luxembourg, according to a wire received from the War Department by his wife, Mrs. Ryenalia M. Hernandez, week before last. J. A. Uilo, Adjutant General, added in the wire that a letter would follow confirming the report.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollins received a letter Thursday (February 8) from Proctor & Gamble Co. that all members of the Laurence family were safe in the Philippines.

Reports of liberation of thousands of American prisoners from Jap prisons in the Manila area have enlightened hopes of the members of families of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Laurence known to be prisoners in camps on the Philippines following recent receipt of a postal card by Mrs. Hattie Laurence of Austin and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rollins of Fort Stockton, parents of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence.

Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Sid Stephen heard an early short-wave broadcast which mentioned by name among liberated prisoners, Jack R. Laurence, identified as an employee of Proctor & Gamble, for whom he worked in the Philippines before the outbreak of war. There was no mention of other members of the family, however.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

Mexican President Gives Green Light Signal To the Big Bend Park Project

President M. Avila Camacho of Mexico stated in a recent letter to President Roosevelt that he had "already given special instructions to the Department of Foreign Relations and to that of Agriculture Fomento in order that, within the spheres of their respective functions, they may pursue as actively as is suitable the studies that have already been initiated for purposes of the creation of the Mexican section of the (Big Bend National) park, as well as for the regulation of its services, and, in general, so that all measures conducive to the accomplishment of such aims may be adopted."

The letter from the Mexican president to Mr. Roosevelt was in answer to a communication from the U. S. president advising the Mexican official that the deed to the park land had been officially accepted by the United States.

"I fully share, it goes without saying, the opinions which you are good enough to express concerning the great benefit which our respective countries may expect from an opportune inauguration of the above-mentioned park, the eminently civilizing and beneficial character of which will undoubtedly be understood and be availed of by our respective fellow citizens, and will symbolize that fruitful Mexican-American cordiality in

Monopolies Thrived

Government managers eliminated new and growing industrial plants. Huge monopolies grew larger still. It was the easy way for government because a few big concerns are less trouble to manage than a large number of small ones. Competitors entered into cartels to hike prices and hide incompetence. They divided markets like pies and traded customers as if they were sheep.

Like a Drug Habit

We have Planned Economy in America now, a powerful weapon for rough work such as we are doing. But Planned Economy is still a habit-forming medicine. If America is to be prosperous again, this drug must be used sparingly. Rationing is effective if it's necessary, poisonous if it's not. Rationing, in its only safe form, is held to an irreducible minimum—not taken for effect.

America's defenders and her allies must be fed. Also must the people at home understand that their government is still a power that's friendly to them.

Returning now to the easy rationing rules of last September and October would yield more support voluntarily than Hitler himself could get with his three-speed machine: (1) Planned Economy, (2) Regimentation, (3) Dictatorship.

Bill Tisdale was in San Antonio Monday, where Mrs. Tisdale has been receiving medical attention for the past five weeks. She has improved greatly, and accompanied Mr. Tisdale home Wednesday.

THE APPROACH

Planned Economy was advocated in Germany by a small group of theorists as long ago as 1880. The large mass of politically minded Germans considered them harmless cranks and toyed with their ideas abstractly for all of ten years before they saw danger in them. People who were loyal to the old Germany and its ways learned suddenly that Planned Economy was gaining popularity.

Serious consideration of Planned Economy started among conservative thinkers in Germany about half a century ago. Deliberate, Tuetonic minds almost universally opposed the thought of manhandling economic laws which they recognized as natural laws, worthy of respect in any orderly society. Just the same, they saw in Planned Economy a powerful tool for rough work.

Something Different

Fifteen or 20 years passed without much outward change. Planned Economy was still in the background. Everybody seemed conscious of it. More and more people admitted believing that parliaments had a right to enact written laws against the workings of competition as they understood it. In fact, every time a German became dissatisfied with conditions he thought about Planned Economy.

Finally 1914 came, bringing World War I. Germany quickly went all-out for Planned Economy. It was a shrewd political move. People reasoned feebly that open competition must cost something, and accepted the new order in the name of efficiency; to win the war. All industry went hurriedly under government control, and the dreams of yesterday's unpopular minority became the rule.

Monopolies Thrived

Government managers eliminated new and growing industrial plants. Huge monopolies grew larger still. It was the easy way for government because a few big concerns are less trouble to manage than a large number of small ones. Competitors entered into cartels to hike prices and hide incompetence. They divided markets like pies and traded customers as if they were sheep.

Defeated in World War I, burdened with reparations, lame of man-power, Germany took a still bigger dose of government control. By 1935 Hitler was dictating to a race of conservatives who could still remember laughing at the economic planners and saying, "It can't happen here." Planned Economy had given way to National Socialism: in other words, plain dictatorship.

Like a Drug Habit

We have Planned Economy in America now, a powerful weapon for rough work such as we are doing. But Planned Economy is still a habit-forming medicine. If America is to be prosperous again, this drug must be used sparingly. Rationing is effective if it's necessary, poisonous if it's not. WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Brackett News-Mail, Brackettville—Last week the last of the military use of the former army post here by regular army men was concluded when the Prisoner of War camp at the Fort Clark reservation was emptied of German prisoners, who with their guards were sent elsewhere. The small group of prisoners here were used in up-keeping of lawns in the old post, repair work and similar tasks.

Most of the old Army Post, the new area buildings and the railway branch are still in excellent condition.

Alpine Avalanche—Alpine's new modern fire truck is due to arrive here some time today. Fire Chief J. C. of town is being cleaned out. The Clark Mining Co. is operating this mine. Mr. Clark erected a mill at the mine, which separates the lead and zinc. He worked the dump for a while. He said he had been out there a year before he saw the vein of ore underground, and that he is well pleased with it.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—Only eleven ranchmen reported January precipitation on their ranches according to Jack Griffin of the U. S. D. A. Soil Conservation Service office.

Rainfall ranged from .91 of an inch to 1.22 inches. The average for the month was .27 of an inch.

Ozona Stockman—Twelve shrubs donated by interested citizens, have already been planted as a starter in the highway beautification plan, under taken here under the direction of Mrs. Scott Peters, county chairman.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—The probability of a thorough test of Presidio county's potentialities from a standpoint of production is seen in the recent leasing to Stanlind Oil and Gas Co., Tulsa, of a block of county land totaling some 133,000 acres in the southwest part of the county.

Lessors, according to records in the office of the county clerk, are Mrs. L. C. Brite, Mrs. Hester Brite Dunkle, S. E. Bunton, and C. E. Conring. The Stanlind organization is the production one of the Standard Oil Co. The bulk of the acreage is in the names of the first two property owners.

AT THE PRINCESS—

The comedy hit, "Arsenic and Old Lace," which, with a cast headed by Cary Grant, Raymond Massey, Jack Carson, Priscilla Lane and Peter Lorre, plays Wednesday and Thursday at the Princess Theatre, is very much ado about Brooklyn and a handful of its zanier inmates.

Murder and comedy, the ingredients from which the film is brewed, might appear at first glance to be an incongruous formula. But judging from the continuous laughter which has greeted its appearance elsewhere, a better combination of clowning, suspense and frantic activity would be hard to find. Adapted from the Broadway stage success which ran for more than four years, "Arsenic and Old Lace" sets forth the collective careers of the Brewster family of Brooklyn, said might have continued to be thus decimated were it not for another nephew, Mortimer Brewster, who unwittingly stumbles over corpse No. 12 in the window-box at the home of his Aunts Brewster. Newly married to lovely next door neighbor Elaine Harper, a pretty girl with absolutely no insanity in her family, Mortimer fairly flees from his bride's embrace, determined to have no part in introducing more mad Brewsters into the world.

Add to Mortimer's dilemma still another undesirable Brewster, his brother Jonathan, criminally insane, and recently escaped from the hands of the law to take up residence in peaceful Brooklyn, and you've some notion of the number of corpses that begin to pile up on the screen. With aunts and Jonathan vying for the family championship, it almost looks like the battle will end in a tie for each, until resourceful Aunt Abby produces a full baker's dozen under the agonized nose of nephew Mortimer. The mad fracas that results ends happily, incredible as it sounds, for all.

LAUREL AND HARDY IN "BIG NOISE" AT PRINCESS TUES.

Hang on to your funnybone! Hold on to your hat! Get a firm grip on your ribs because Laurel and Hardy will hit this town Tuesday with a load of TNT comedy that sets off the biggest blowout of fun and laughter ever to bulge the walls of the Princess Theatre.

"The Big Noise" has film goes rocking with laughter from start to finish as the screen's zaneist comedians, aided and abetted by blonde and beautiful Doris Merriek, Arthur Space and Veda Ann Borg take over in what is by all odds their most hilarious hit yet.

Always the masters of comedy, Stan and Oliver have in "The Big Noise" a vehicle that gives their sure-fire rib-tickling technique an all-out opportunity for all-out fun, and it is this reviewer's happy duty to report that they make the merry most of it.

"The Big Noise" finds them cast as two frustrated mail-order superslueths who finally get their big chance when inventor of a secret, war-important explosive gives them chore of guarding the valuable and extremely sensitive device. From there on it's catch-can, with anything bound to happen—and, of course, happening—as the weepy Stan and roly-poly Oliver themselves into one side-acting situation after another. To add to their troubles, it appears on the scene a gang of desperadoes who are determined to snatch the secret explosive and sell it to the enemy. Laurel and Hardy, entrusted with getting the sensitive explosive to the War Department, follow gangsters in a mad rush to Washington, become the unexpected passengers of a remote controlled plane sent up by an army as a practice target, end up with the entirely unmeditated capture of an enemy submarine, makes for the hilarious film climax of year.

CAN GIVE YOU UP TO 30% More Light

You'd be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your reading lamp. Just by washing the bulb and reflector bowl you can get 25 to 30% more useable light. So don't let accumulated grime rob you of needed eyesight protection. Clean bulbs, bowls, reflectors and enclosing globes regularly. (Always disconnect lamps before washing and be sure bulbs and sockets are dry before reconnecting.)

Other Ways to Conserve Eyesight and Light

Shades that are dark or yellowed inside may absorb up to 50% of the light. Clean or brush shades regularly, or if they are too bad relime them or replace them with fresh ones. Replace blackened bulbs with new bulbs of same wattage and you'll get up to 25% more light at no additional current cost. Place lamps to make light more useful. By rearranging furniture, one lamp can often serve two people. But don't place it too far away from either. A difference of a few inches the wrong way can mean 25 to 30% less light.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

Fifteen first grade pupils visited the Homemaking A class Tuesday, February 6 in the class period. The reason for this was to observe children.

Lizzie Belle Phillips told the story of Little Black Sambo and Jo Ann Lemons read the story of "The Kitten who Wouldn't Wash His Face." The children started playing "I Spy" but they got too loud. They played "Button, Button". They sang "This Old Man", "Down to the Station" and "The Star Spangled Banner" which were all selections of the children.

The class observed that children like games that they already know how to play, by watching them play you can find which are special friends, they all appeared to be interested in stories and like one better than the other but couldn't give a reason.

Did you notice at the dance Friday night that all senior girls were dancing with junior boys? Nice going girls!

In a conversation Friday, Hut was overheard saying, "I have been counting the seconds, not the days, until February 3." Why is Francis always saying "Why can't I get started with you?" to Joan.

Say, Doyce, what's the matter with you? Don't you know when you are getting a good deal? The seniors really did enjoy a swell party Sunday afternoon at Bill's house honoring "Admiral Boyd".

Al really seems to be crazy about Clara. No wonder! Who would question why? The seniors really had a swell time at the Junior Party. A million thanks to the juniors!

It looks as if Hazel has decided she likes Johnny best of all. Tough luck, Joan. Say, Hazel and Johnnie seemed to enjoy the dance at Dryden last Saturday night. I wonder why?

What junior is it that Lavell wants to talk to? Gee, but Ora Mae and Temple are keeping Snooper confused these days!

We wonder who Lowell and Pop were fighting about at the dance? Snooper sees Doris and Buddy back together again.

Snooper thinks Betty Pearl and Sammy are getting along fine. Nice work, kids! Betty Jo Beckett seems to have a new interest. Yes, it's Bado.

Joan, why did you run to see Doyce Friday night at the hall? Remember, he's a "took" man. Charles and Jeanette made a very cute couple Friday night.

Who was the cute girl Dudley danced "Home Sweet Home" with Friday night at the dance? Gee, it sure was nice of the juniors to give us the dance Friday night! Swell bunch.

One of the outstanding couples are Harvey and Marilyn. But where was Marilyn Saturday? What two girls had a wonderful time at Dudley's after everyone else had gone?

Bill M. seems to be quite a hit with the Juniors nowadays. J. M. seems to have been the life of the party Friday night. Everyone missed a certain cute Junior girl Friday night Ah—ranch life.

Look, look, look, girls, Dagger and H. H. are home. Watch out boys, wolves on the loose. Who was the cute Junior boy the girls were simply crazy about at the dance Friday night? Could it have been Bill M.?

Wilma and J. M. surely do make a cute couple. Don't you think kids? Why don't people leave them alone? Could be certain freshmen girls trying to interfere. Can't you guys take a hint? Hands off!

Earline received a beautiful Valentine today. Looks like Gene is losing out. Dudley, Cooke seems to be lonesome lately. Can't you do anything about it?

What certain junior boy stretches the truth? For instance about a certain event a week ago Thursday nite. A junior hint: People have the wrong idea of our Snooper. It's to bring them together instead of breaking them up. I mean this puppy love of the students of the S. H. S.

Lloyd, Lloyd, Lloyd, is all we hear from Earline; if she doesn't dry up she is going to drive us mad.

The class is enjoying a new reader. They also enjoyed making a large Eskimo in art. They are now having a lot of fun making valentines. Colleen Pierson brought the valentine box for the post office.

Colleen Pierson and Sidney Louise Harkins brought violets. Miss Ella Savage brought a lamb shaped flower pot with a plant growing in it for the first grade. Jacqueline Milam has moved away.

Now, more than ever... your RED CROSS is at his side

As wounded American boys come back from the battle fronts they find American Red Cross workers in all military and naval hospitals ready to help them. This year there will be more need than ever before for Red Cross service in domestic hospitals.

Symbolic Red Cross Emblem To Appear In Windows Again

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Once again, next month, the scarlet emblem of the American Red Cross will appear in the windows of American homes, symbolizing the financial support of the nation in supporting the manifold services of that organization to American fighting men overseas.

In every nation of the world, this red cross has long been the symbol of universal humanitarianism, both in peace and in time of war. Today it is worn by medical corpsmen of all armies and navies serving the wounded. It protects hospital tents, ships, planes and trains. Painted on each of the International Red Cross ships bearing food parcels to prisoners of war and exchanged prisoners homeward, it is a guarantee of safety from acts of war.

To the giver doing his part to fulfill the $200,000,000 goal of the American Red Cross in 1945, it represents his personal part in supplying the material things which add to the morale of the American serviceman, whether hospitalized or able-bodied.

"The window sticker means, more than dollars contributed to the Red Cross," Chairman Basil O'Connor declared. "It means service clubs, canteens, recreation rooms and club mobiles for the men in war theatres." To the American Red Cross, each window sticker is a family's request to the Red Cross to continue its responsibilities on behalf of the son in Italy, the neighbor's boy half a turn around the globe in the Philippines, and the brother fighting on the Western Front. It is the expression of faith of the American people.

Once again this year, in March, the world-known scarlet symbol of mercy will appear in windows throughout the nation, indicating that Mr. and Mrs. America are solidly behind the 1945 American Red Cross War Fund campaign.

That Red Cross will maintain the supplies of surgical dressings, blood plasma and whole blood, kit bags and comfort articles to the battlefronts. It is a vote of gratitude for the millions of food parcels reaching American men in enemy prison camps.

Opening March 1, the third American Red Cross War Fund campaign for $200,000,000—the same as last year—will continue throughout the entire month. More than 3,000,000 volunteers will distribute the familiar window emblems, conducting a house-to-house canvass to fulfill the 1945 quota. Along with the window emblem, each contributor will receive a lapel tab fashioned after the Red Cross flag—the flag known to all as a sign of aid and comfort.

cushioned his fall to some extent. Feeling certain that he had not been seen coming down through the heavy overcast, Pat started walking and came to a road. It was an isolated part of the country. He hid in some bushes by the roadside and watched a few cars go by. Finally he saw two Negro soldiers in a jeep and knew he was on the right side of the lines. The next jeep that passed he flagged down and rode in to the driver's headquarters with him. There was a lot of trouble there about his identity. So many German soldiers had been caught wearing American uniforms in the vicinity that Pat was almost sent home as a prisoner of war! But the matter was eventually straightened out, and Pat caught a ride to Luxembourg and waited for his crew there. They arrived shortly afterwards and together continued on to Paris and their base.

Flight Officer John P. Clark Jr., left last Thursday for his base at Savannah, Georgia, after spending several days here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark. "Tunny" flies a B-26, and had been receiving training at Lake Charles, Louisiana until recently, when he was transferred to Georgia.

Loyd Smith, seaman second class, U. S. Naval Reserve, is training at Norman, Oklahoma, as a mechanical engineer and gunner. In a letter received Wednesday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, Loyd says that he likes his work very much.

In a letter received from her recently by this column Mrs. W. A. Powell shares with us her son's (Pvt. Paul D. Powell) narrative of a day's work on the Western Front: "I was walking by a stone wall . . . a bullet hit my helmet and creased it for me. I thought I was low, but I really got low after that . . . crawled on my belly to a fox-hole . . . stayed there till dusk (Then) I rose up and . . . looked around, and I saw a Hun about fifty yards from me. I aimed and fired. There wasn't any Hun."

Stanley Jeffers, gunner's mate second class, U. S. Navy, visited here Wednesday and Thursday with his aunts, Mrs. Lottie Miller and Mrs. Lee Haines. With him were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jeffers of San Antonio. Stanley is attending a naval training school in Washington, D. C.

W. T. Frazier, fireman first class, U. S. Navy, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tip Frazier, that he has "been busy". W. T. is in the submarine service. According to a cablegram received by his sister, Miss Maurine Frazier, on January 28, W. T. says that he is somewhere in the South Pacific.

Private and Mrs. Jean Thompson and son Jean arrived here Tuesday from Houston where they have been visiting relatives. Private Thompson left Thursday to report for reassignment in California.

Corporal Dick Sullivan, U. S. Marine Corps, writes from the Pacific that he was surprised and glad to run into another Sanderson Marine, Pfc. Jack Turner, the other day, who is stationed on the same island as he (Dick) is. They spent the afternoon together and had a good talk about home and the happenings in Sanderson, according to a letter received from him by Mrs. Maude Sullivan, his mother.

From somewhere in France comes word from another son of Mrs. Maude Sullivan, Pfc. Denny Sullivan, Army Combat Engineers. He writes: "It will be swell to have a current exchange of letters with each of you again . . . I had a letter today written December 23, but letters written that late seem recent to me. I will also be glad to get the Sanderson Times and the Junction paper."

Pfc. Julian Perez, Jr., Army Combat Engineers, arrived here

★ TERRELL COUNTY HEROES ★ IN SERVICE ★

TRINIDAD M. RUBIO

Was born August 13, 1922, in Shafter, Texas, living in Val Verde County and in different localities in California before moving with his family to Terrell County in 1942. Trinidad went to school in Langtry for several years, and before his induction into the Army at Fort Bliss, Texas, January 12, 1943, he was employed in several cities in California. From Fort Bliss Trinidad was sent to San Luis Obispo, California, for infantry training. He later received training at Camp Rucker, Alabama, and then volunteered for the paratroops, going to Fort Benning, Georgia, for paratroop training. After he was stationed at Camp Mackall, North Carolina, and Fort Meade, Maryland, Trinidad was sent to New York and an embarkation point. On January 28, 1944, he left for overseas duty in the European Theater. Trinidad landed in France with the invasion forces on D-Day, June 6, 1944, and was soon afterwards reported missing. On September 19 he was slightly injured in action in Holland, and in Belgium on December 20. Trinidad was wounded. He died December 25 from wounds received on the 20th. Private Rubio is survived by his mother, Mrs. Dorotea Ramos, and wife, Mrs. Delfina Rubio, and a baby son.

3 WAYS TO FILE TAX RETURNS ARE GIVEN BY NUNAN

Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has explained that taxpayers whose 1944 income was less than $5,000 have a choice of three different ways of filing their 1944 income tax returns. Taxpayers whose income was $5,000 or more must make "long-form" returns on Form 1040.

The three methods open to persons whose income was under $5,000 are as follows:

1. Fill out the withholding receipt, Form W-2 (Rev.), received from their employers.
2. Make a "Short-form" return on Form 1040.
3. Make a "Long-form" return on Form 1040.

The easiest way to file is to fill out and mail in a withholding receipt, but this method is permitted only if the taxpayer's income was virtually all from wages from which tax was withheld. If, in addition to his wages subject to withholding, a taxpayer had more than $100 of dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding, or he had an income from any other source, he would have to use Form 1040. If the withholding receipt is used, the collector will figure the tax and give the taxpayer credit for the tax he has already paid, and send either a bill or a refund for the difference. If Form 1040 is used, the taxpayer must figure his own tax.

In choosing which Form to use (for incomes under $5,000), Nunan said taxpayers should ask themselves this question:

"Did I spend more than 10 percent of my income last year for deductible charitable, contributions, interest, taxes, casualty losses, medical and dental expenses and other deductible items (QM)."

If the answer to this question is "yes", the taxpayer should make a "long-form" return on Form 1040, so that he can itemize and claim the actual amount of his deductions.

If the answer is "no", the taxpayer should consider filing on his withholding receipt or on a "short-form" Form 1040. Both these methods of filing give the taxpayer a standard allowance of about 10 percent of his income for the type of deductions mentioned in question 2. The 10 percent allowance is made through a tax table. This table is arranged according to brackets of income: For instance, one line in the table is for incomes from $2,300 to $2,325, another line is for incomes from $2,325 to $2,350, and so on. Nunan explained that the 10 percent standard allowance is figured at the middle of each bracket, and therefore the allowance is somewhat less than 10 percent below the middle of the bracket and somewhat higher than 10 percent above the middle of the bracket.

In most cases, Nunan commented, taxpayers spend far less than 10 percent of their income for deductible items, and benefit by filing either a withholding receipt or a short-form return on Form 1040.

Nunan added that persons who had more than one job during 1944 and wish to file on a withholding receipt need to fill out only the last receipt received, but should be sure to attach all their other withholding receipts.

Also, the Collector explained that if wage earners file Form 1040, they need not fill out their withholding receipts but must attach their receipt to their Form 1040 returns.

Bonds Over America

GOVERNOR'S MANSION

South Carolina's governor's mansion at Columbia is clothed in history and romance that links the old and the new Souths. Built in 1855, it was originally the officers' barracks of the Arsenal Academy. It escaped the fire that swept part of the city that year and came through the War Between the States unscathed. Simple in construction, it is cooled by dense foliage of the beautiful trees surrounding it. War Bonds have maintained a defense against injury to this historic gem and will guard it safely to peace.
